A nervous looking girl consulted a doctor, who asked her what she was suffering from. Her answer was as follows: "I'm a telephone girl, doctor, and the work is a terrible strain on my nerves. The monotony of having a receiver constantly at my ears, and saying 'Hello!' tells upon my nerves. When off duty I am always having 'Hello!' ringing in my ears, and I am constantly saying it. When I go to bed, I wake up from sleep saying 'Hello!' And even when I kneel down to say my prayers I instinctively say 'Hello!' before I commence them."

Marriage Not a Failure.

Old Friend—Was your daughter's marriage a success? Hostess—Oh, a great success. She's traveling in Europe on the alimony.—"N[illegible]

PEN PICTURES OF PEOPLE YOU MEET

ON A BELLEVILLE STREET.

MR HENRY CORBY, EX-M. P.

There goes a gentleman behind a spanking team, sure. Who is he? My dear fellow, you must be a stranger here, or you'd never need an introduction to "Harry" Corby. He's on his way now to Corbyville, the village where his big distillery is situated. Popular in this district? Well, rather. Democratic and urbane. Looks like a sportsman, eh? Well, he is. Nobody in this vicinity has a keener appreciation of a nice bit of horseflesh than the gentleman who makes I.X.L. In his younger days he was a cricketer and a fireman, perhaps that accounts for his athletic appearance now. The cricketers used to say that nobody made fewer runs than "Harry." The firemen used to say that no one made faster runs; in fact, they used to say jokingly that they believed he stayed up all night, he got to fires so quickly. An amateur actor he was, too, in days gone by, being counted among the band of noble Thespians who wore the sock and buskin under the management of Mr. (now Ald.) Allan McFee. In short, always ready for anything that turned up, so long as it was fair and above board. See him now, as he steps out of his rig. Square shouldered and straight, hair tinged with grey, forehead high and fast getting higher, bright eyes that look everybody in the face, regular features and a general air of sturdy independence that sits well on a man who has the good opinion of all his fellow-men—and deserves it. No plan for the advancement of Belleville has ever lacked Mr. Corby's support, either moral or financial; no appeal in the name of charity or public-spiritedness is ever made to him in vain. But don't run away with the idea that he is "easy" in business matters. Oh, dear, no! Nobody in this goodly, pleasant land has a better idea of the carrying power of a dollar than the subject of this sketch, and those who deal with him will tell you that in business matters he is keenness personified. Being by nature a generous man, Mr. Corby has a characteristic generally found in that class—a decidedly quick temper—they say he inherits it from a long line of English ancestors, which is very likely true. His age? He was born in this city on the 2nd of May, 1851, and has, you will see, just passed his 52nd milestone. Mr. Corby was educated at the Public schools and at Rockwood Academy. He afterwards took a commercial course in Toronto. He is a Free Mason, Oddfellow, Son of England and, best of all, a Conservative. Mr. Corby's political career, of course, is known to everybody in this district, he having entered Parliament as member for West Hastings in March, 1888. He held the seat continuously till ill-health compelled his resignation in 1900. Mr. Corby was married in 1872 to Miss Maria Courtney, daughter of the late John Courtney. Three daughters blessed their union, two of whom are now married. Mr. Corby is an adherent of the Anglican communion, and a member of St. Thomas' church. No better summary of his character could be given than that made by the Toronto Mail and Empire some years ago, which has described him—"A popular and honorable man."

Misconceptions.

"A good story comes from Sydney," says the London "Globe," "where letters have been received from two American business firms asking whether communications to Australian merchants should be written in English or 'in the language of the country.' It recalls an astonishing trade circular received a short time ago by a business firm in Glasgow from a German manufacturer, also written in what his versatile clerk had apparently taken for the language of the country. It was in the best 'kailyard' style, and spoke of a 'muckle consignment o' chemicals.'"

POOR GIRL, PITY HER.

Growing! Yes, into weakness, but not strength. Studies—plenty of them. Tired, of course she is, and weak too. Does not eat enough and digests far less than enough. This condition is so frequent, but how seldom noticed even by fond parents. Give her Ferrozone, then watch her appetite improve, her cheeks and lips grow ruddy, her step elastic, her spirits bouyant. All this simply the result of eating and digesting enough, making blood, and thereby strengthening the nerve and brain power. Ferrozone gives a woman's strength to weak girls. Your daughter or wife needs Ferrozone. Get it to-day.

The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.—Napoleon.

The more you speak of yourself the more you are likely to lie.—Zimmerman.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S CATARRH CURE ... 25c.

is sent direct to the diseased parts by the Improved Blower. Heals the ulcers, clears the air passages, stops droppings in the throat and permanently cures Catarrh and Hay Fever. Blower free. All dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Toronto and Buffalo.

It is established by a century's experience that the MAGI Caledonia Waters used as a beverage maintain health. J. J. McLaughlin, sole Agent, Toronto. Best dealers everywhere.

It takes money to voice the opinion of a lawyer.

A GUARANTEED CURE For All Forms of Kidney Disease.

We, the undersigned Druggists are fully prepared to give the following guarantee with every 50 cent bottle of Dr. Pettingill's Kidney-Wort Tablets, the only remedy in the world that positively cures all troubles arising from weak or diseased kidneys: "Money cheerfully returned if the sufferer is not relieved and improved after use of one bottle. Three to six bottles effect astonishing and permanent cures. If not relieved and cured, you waste no money."

J. S. McKeown, Druggist, Belleville, Ont.

R. Templeton, Druggist, Belleville, Ont.

The best way to get even is to forget.

AT ALL TIMES OF YEAR Pain-Killer will be found a useful household remedy. Cures cuts, sprains and bruises. Internally for cramps and diarrhoea. Avoid substitutes, there's only one Pain-Killer, Perry Davis'.

GORMAN'S

THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE

Our large, bright, new stock of reliable Foot wear is daily making many new friends for THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE.

Just step in some time, when out shopping, you will also say that our shoes are deserving of THEIR GREAT POPULARITY.

Come in any time we will be pleased to serve you.

You will find here excellet lines of Ladies' Lace Boots selling at $4.00, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Our men's department is well stocked with stylish, comfortable, durable boots, in various leathers, selling at $5.00, $3.75, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Special Great Mid-Season Sale

Beginning Saturday, May 16th, 1903.

Just a Moment, Don't Fail to Read.

The dollar rules the commercial world—to a very great extent. Prompt dollars bring us merchandise that enable us to sell to you at extraordinary prices. To prepare for a further new stock of Summer goods, we find we can clear off a quantity of spring materials, new ideas and fresh goods are continually being introduced. We must have them. We therefore invite you to this Great Sale, where you will find that facts speak with greater force than elongated statements. So come and see for yourself. The goods and prices do the talking.

A Few of the Lines

Men's English Blue Serge Suits, all sizes 34 to 40 at -	$3.50
Men's Spring Suits, Dark Grey Halifax Tweed, made single breasted with French Facings, worth $7.00, our price -	$4.00
Men's spring Suits, Black or Blue twill serge suits, made single breasted with French facings, worth $8.00 our price -	$4.50

The finest and nobbiest assortment of Boys' two and three piece suits in the city. All sizes and at low prices.

The Globe Clothing House

Up-to-date Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers.

390 FRONT STREET. LOOK FOR THE GLOBE OVER THE DOOR.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M.D., C.M., M.R. C.S., England.

Office and Residence — Corner of Bridge and George streets — three streets East of Post Office.

DR. J. F. MATHER

Has removed his office to Pinnacle St., three doors north of Hotel Quinte. my29-6mw

LEGAL.

WILLS & WRIGHT,

Barristers, Solicitors, Notary Public, &c., Belleville.

Office—8 Campbell Street.

MALCOLM WRIGHT. J. FRANKLIN WILLS.

Money to Loan at Lowest Rates.

W. C. MIKEL, B. C. L.,

Barrister, &c.

Solicitor for the City of Belleville.

Office—Metropolitan Block, Corner Front and Campbell Streets.

PORTER & CARNEW,

Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc.

Offices — Robertson Block, East Front St., Belleville, Ont.

'Phone 87.

E. G. PORTER. WM. CARNEW.

WILLIAM N. PONTON,

Barrister-at-law, Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge Street, Belleville.

Money to Loan — Private Funds. Solicitor Sun and Hastings Savings and Loan Company of Ontario.

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE,

Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.

Barrister, Solicitor, Conveyancer, Etc. Office, McAnnany Building, corner Front and Bridge Sts., Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 5 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security.

Charges moderate.

INSURANCE.

Fire Insurance.

Guardian	Est'd 1821
The North America,	Est'd 1792
Quebec,	Est'd 1818

City, Town and Village Property insured at lowest rates.

R. W. ADAMS. Agent.

Office opposite Post Office.

FIRE, LIFE & ACCIDENT INSURANCE

At Lowest Rates The Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Perth Mutual on farm and city property. Also money to loan at 4½ per cent, upwards.

JAMES A. CHISHOLM,

Office Ashley Block, Front st., Belleville

PERSONS desiring Life insurance cannot do better than consult

W. J. THOMSON,

who is the Agent for the following well-known and old established Assurance Companies:

ROYAL. ALLIANCE.
OCEAN ACCIDENT STANDARD LI

Office at Rathbun Co., Bridge St. ocs-d&w

THOS. STEWART,

Insurance and Commission Agent

Agent for the Norwich Union Fire In- Society and Scottish Union Nations Ins. Co.

Bridge St.

Money Saved is Money Earned

can earn you money by saving it for you in your Fire Insurance.

The Anglo-American Fire Ins. Co
The Merchants Fire Ins. Co.
The Equity Fire Ins. Co.

Are all strong Canadian stock companies and insure Farm and City Property at lower rate than other stock companies Call and see me before placing your fire insurance.

Office—Bridge St., same entrance Quinte Laundry, Belleville.

H. FREEMAN KETCHESON

Fire, Life & Plate Glass Insurance

Liverpool & London & Globe of England.
Waterloo Mutual, of Waterloo, Ont.
Lloyd's Plate Glass.
Home Life Association, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile.

Farm and City Property insured in First-class Reliable Companies, and at lowest current rates. Losses promptly settled. Land valuation, and transact general Real Estate business and sale or purchase and renting of property. Appraiser for the Hastings Loan & Investment Society. Money to Loan.

W. P. HUDSON, Office above Rathbun's office, cor. Bridge and Pinnacle Sts., opposite Postoffice and Hotel Quinte, Belleville.

'Phone 168.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. G. NORTHROP,

Issuer of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville, Ont.

CHAUNCEY ASHLEY,

Issuer of Marriage Licenses.

Private Office, Bridge St., Belleville, opposite the Post Office.

Residence, first house east of W. W. Chown's Mfg. Co., Station St.

Appointments made.

The wildcat's teeth are close to its purr.

Lost chances never leave any trail.

DAISY GORDON'S FOLLY

—OR—

THE WORLD LOST FOR LOVE'S SAKE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY,

Author of "The Crime of Hallow-E'en," "The Flirtations of a Beauty," "Willful Gaynell," "Little Leafy," "Only a Mechanic's Daughter," etc.

What could have put such a notion into her head?

"Nothing but death could part us, my love," he murmured gently.

She laughed aloud, and that laugh startled him as the bitterest sob could not have done, it was so full of repressed agony, of terrible pain.

Nothing but heaven could part them. Why, the man she had left standing by the fountain had power to sever them if he uttered but one word.

God pity her, if Aleck but knew!

She crept closer to him, winding her white arms round his neck and looking up into his dark eyes.

"If I were to kneel at your feet, Aleck, my love, and ask you to grant me one favor, would you do it?"

"There would be no need to kneel to me, darling," he answered. "Have you ever expressed the slightest wish that I have not been most eager to fulfill? Tell me what it is that you wish, dear?"

"I want to go away from here, Aleck," she breathed, faintly, "at once—this very hour. Oh, God, every hour I spend beneath this roof will be a torture to me!"

He drew back and looked at her in amazement.

"I have always heard that women were puzzles," he declared, "but you, my dear, are the greatest puzzle of them all. Only yesterday you were telling me how delighted you were with the place, and how sorry you would be when the time came to leave. Now you are quite as anxious to go away."

Suddenly another idea came to him.

"Daisy," he cried, "has anything happened to cause you to change your opinion of the place? has—has—any one insulted you in any way? If that is the case, I will have his very life for it!" he cried, hoarsely.

"No, no; it is not that, Aleck," she sobbed. "I—I—can assign no reason for it, only I want to go away."

He looked much relieved.

"It is only a whim, then—a caprice, my darling?" he answered laughingly.

"It is only that, Aleck, but you must leave here," she sobbed, clinging closer to him.

He clasped the little ice-cold hands in his, and gazed earnestly down into the fair young face.

"Wouldn't next week or the week after do?" he asked slowly.

She shook her golden curls.

"If you love me, take me away within the hour, Aleck," she moaned.

"Do not put it upon that basis—my love for you, Daisy," he said quietly. "You know I love you as man never loved woman before—with all my heart and soul—but really, dear, this is a very foolish whim. If I should indulge it, it would be at a great loss. Say to yourself Aleck knows best; he will stay a fortnight longer, then he will take me away anywhere I wish to go. I do not like to fill this pretty little curly head up with business affairs. If there is one thing I abhor in this world more than another, it is a hard, practical business woman. I should much prefer that you knew nothing about it; but I must tell you this much: if I went, it would be at a great loss just now.

"All these pretty fixings you are, like the rest of your charming sex, so very fond of, cost money, and it is a husband's affair to provide it. You would not like me to lose a large amount. I am interested in a big speculation here, and a few days will determine how the matter will terminate. Most of the parties interested stop here, so you see, my darling, it would be very unwise to yield to your whim in this one instance—don't you think so?"

She slipped from his arms, and knelt at his feet, clasping her little white hands.

"It is my prayer, Aleck, if you love me, to take me away," she moaned piteously. "If you refuse, you will remember through the long after years of bitter pain this hour in which I knelt at your feet, praying you, pleading with you by the love you bear me to come away."

"If you could advance one reason for it, Daisy, I would not object," he said distressedly; "but really, my darling, I fear that I must refuse; we cannot go for at least a week—or, possibly, ten days."

No moan, no cry fell from the white lips.

Daisy threw up her hands in the bitterest despair, and fell at his feet in a deep swoon.

CHAPTER XIII.

Married Once—Married Forever.

In the greatest consternation, Aleck sprung forward and raised the slight figure in his arms, ringing the bell hastily for Janet.

"Your mistress is very ill," he said. "I have seen it for some little time past; a doctor must be sent for at once."

When Dr. Morgan came, he looked earnestly at his beautiful patient for some time, then turned suddenly to Aleck.

"This is not a common case," he said. "I can discover no bodily ailment here; rather a mind diseased. Has she had any recent shock, any great trouble?"

"No," replied Aleck, in astonishment. "I assure you she has never had one care in her young life; on the contrary, she has been particularly free from it."

"I cannot be mistaken," said the doctor; "I have seen too many such cases, but none worse than this. There has been silent brooding here, and a stress on the heart and mind, which before now has led to insanity.

"But you must not let this affect you too deeply," he added, seeing the handsome young husband turn pale to the lips. "Change of scene and bright company will work wonders. It is better than all the medicine I could give her."

Long after he took his departue, Aleck pondered over the matter.

Daisy, his darling, grieving over some secret trouble which he did not share? Why the idea was simply preposterous. Suddenly the thought came to him that perhaps it was his refusal to take her away which affected her so.

Let the speculation and the loss which would ensue go; what was all the money in the world to him compared to Daisy? When she awakened from the deep sleep which the potion the doctor had given her had caused, he would tell her, that he would take her away at once.

Bidding her maid call him when she awakened, he quitted the room.

Janet looked long and earnestly at the white face lying so still and white against the pillow.

"The doctor is right," she muttered; "my lady is guarding some deep secret. If I could but find out what it is, my fortune would be made. She is so rich and I am so poor. ...Why shouldn't she pay me well to keep it? If I could but find it out! I will! I will watch her day and night. I shall——"

The sentence never was finished. Daisy opened her blue eyes with a low moan.

Then she sprung from the couch.

"Leave me—leave me to myself, Janet," she cried, nervously. "If I want you, I will ring for you."

"But Mr. Hamilton, ma'am; I was to tell him when you awoke. We did not think it would be so soon."

"Do not call him yet. I—I could not bear it," she muttered under her breath, "not for an hour at least; do you understand me?"

"Certainly, ma'am," answered the maid. "Mr. Hamilton must not be called for an hour yet; you wish to be alone by yourself."

"I am going out," said Daisy, "my—my husband must not know it; he might think me too weak and object."

"Let me go with you, my lady," said Janet. "I am very discreet; you may trust me."

Daisy turned a pair of startled eyes upon her. What did the girl know?—what did she suspect?

Janet's stolid face did not betray her thoughts.

"I will go alone," she said nervously, dismissing the girl with a wave of her little jeweled hand.

"I must find out for myself whether Harold St. John could claim me or not, if I do not wish to go," she sobbed, as she hurried to the wardrobe and took down a long dark cloak and a thick veil.

Donning these and drawing the veil down closely over her face, she swiftly quitted the room, taking the precaution to lock the door after her.

Walking a little distance down the street, Daisy hailed a passing cab.

"Take me to the office of one of the best lawyers," she said, taking her seat in the vehicle.

She was quite unconscious of how far she came or how time was passing; she was startled from her thoughts by the cab door suddenly opening and the driver announcing that he had brought her to the office of Simpson & Brown, they were considered the best in the profession.

Daisy was ushered into the private office, where she found Mr. Simpson, the senior member of the firm, bending over huge piles of legal documents.

He arose with a low bow as the slender figure entered, and handed his veiled visitor a chair.

"I have come to see you upon a very important matter, sir, in the interest of a young lady friend of mine, and, oh, sir, the happiness of two lives depends upon the answer you shall give me," faltered Daisy, clasping her little white hands piteously together.

"I trust I may be able to give you a very encouraging answer, and just the answer you wish," said Mr. Simpson, pleasantly, noting the richness of her dress and the jewels that shone like stars on the lily-white hands.

He caught but a faint outline of the face hidden by the thick veil, but judged that it must be very fair.

"I scarcely know how to begin," faltered Daisy. "It is surely the most pitiful story that was ever heard."

To be Continued.

The Most Trying Time For Teachers and Pupils

After the Winter's Confinement They Are Pale, Weak and Exhausted and Quite Unfit for the Excessive Mental Exertion of Examination Time.

Early and late teachers and pupils have been bending over their books, contracting their lungs and exhausting nervous energy at an enormous rate, and spring finds them weak, languid and run down. The air of the crowded school room is bad enough at any time, but where the dry air system of heating is used the atmosphere is still further vitiated and seems to entirely lack life and all invigorating qualities.

If your boy or girl is weak, puny or nervous, do not suppose for one moment that the trouble will wear away of itself. It will not. External assistance is necessary if you would prevent St. Vitus' dance, epilepsy, paralysis, brain congestion or some dreadful form of brain or nerve disease. What is the use of education if the health of the body is to be ruined in getting it? If the health of the children is neglected they can never develop into healthy, hopeful, robust men and women.

MASTER BRISBIN.

Mrs. George F. Brisbin, Lake Street, Peterboro', Ont., states:—"One of my children, a boy of about fifteen years, did not have good health for a year or more. He seemed to have no energy, was weak and languid and suffered from nervousness. The doctors said that he was growing too fast, but we became alarmed about him, and began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It was not long until we noticed a great change in his condition. His appetite improved, he had a better color and soon became stronger and healthier. He is still using the Nerve Food, and we are perfectly confident that he is improving right along under this treatment."

Mrs. T. Dalzell, 21 Charles Street, Kingston, Ont., states:—"One of my children suffered very much with headache, caused no doubt from over-study and a run-down condition of the nervous system. These attacks of headache were very trying on her, and I noticed that she was gradually growing weaker and more nervous. About two months ago I got her a box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and since she has been using this preparation we are more than pleased with the improvement which has been made in her health. She looks one hundred per cent. better, her nerves are steadier, she is not bothered with headaches and is gradually increasing in flesh and weight."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

contains in concentrated form the very essence of the most effective blood and nerve restorative to be found in nature. Not only is it the most satisfactory spring medicine obtainable, but it is especially suited to the use of children because of its gentle and natural action on the system. Note your increase in weight while using it.

50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box of his remedies.

☞ We will forfeit $500.00 if these testimonials are not genuine.

BABY'S HEALTH.

Mothers all over the Dominion will be spared many an anxious hour if they will keep always at hand a box of Baby's Own Tablets and give them to their little ones as occasion may require. These Tablets have saved thousands of little baby lives and grateful mothers everywhere acknowledge the good they have done their little ones. Mrs. E. J. McParland, Wylie, Ont., writes: "I cannot praise Baby's Own Tablets enough. When I got them my baby girl was very bad with whooping cough, and cutting her teeth besides. With both these troubles at the same time she was in a bad way and slept but little either day or night. After the second dose of the Tablets I found there was already a change for the better. She slept well through the day and nearly all night, and this was a great relief to me, as I was nearly worn out losing so much rest at night. She cried almost incessantly before I began giving her the Tablets, but in a short time the cough ceased, she cut six teeth, grew cheerful and began to gain wonderfully. In fact, I believe I owe her life to Baby's Own Tablets, as I do not think she would have pulled through had it not been for them. I can recommend the Tablets to any mother who has a cross, fretful, sickly child.

These Tablets will cure all the minor ailments of little ones; they are guaranteed to contain no opiate, and can be given with advantage to the youngest and most delicate child. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail, at 25c. a box, by writing to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Life has no blessing like a prudent friend.

Few Flies last year

No Flies this year

if you use

Wilson's Fly Pads

A Great Artist's Little Tricks.

THE great English artist, Turner, not only took strange liberties with the topography and architecture of the landscapes he painted, but with the materials he employed. Some truly masterly effects he obtained in ways which, although amusing, were questionable, since they were not permanent, and must in time impair the value of his pictures.

On one occasion he clapped in a setting sun by means of a common red wafer, and finding it looked as he desired, left it there and painted up to it. Again, wishing to secure the contrast of some animated figure upon a terrace in silhouette against a golden sky just put in, he cut out a barking dog in black paper and applied it by way of experiment. It proved successful, and the canine paper doll was not afterward removed nor replaced.

Still more extraordinary is the anecdote, related by Mr. Samuel Palmer, of Turner's invitation to three children to collaborate with him. The artist was staying at the house of a friend at Knockholt, and had brought with him a fine drawing of which the distance was already carefully outlined, but the foreground remained blank.

One morning, instead of resuming work himself upon this drawing, he called in his host's children, and rubbing in three separate saucers three cakes of paint, red, blue and yellow, gave one to each child, telling them to dabble their fingers in the bright colors, and then amuse themselves by making prints and marks upon his unfinished picture. Of course they accepted the unexpected invitation with glee, and presently he was gravely looking on while thirty smeary finger-tips did their ecstatic best to convert his exquisite sketch into a crazy rainbow.

Suddenly, in the midst of the frolic, he cried out, "Stop!" They stopped, and he took back the drawing, added imaginary landscape forms suggested by the accidental coloring, and rapidly completed a striking and beautiful whole.

Shortly afterward, at dessert one day, he amused himself by arranging some varicolored sugar-plums upon his plate. When suddenly disturbed and the pattern scattered, he cried out in vexation:

"There! You have made me lose fifty guineas!"

He had been evolving a color scheme in candy for his next landscape.

The engineers digging the wonderful tunnel that runs through the great Simplon mountain to connect Switzerland with Italy are experiencing great difficulties because of the presence of boiling water in the mountain. The water comes from the top of the mountain and is heated almost to boiling point by the friction and pressure of its percolation through the limestone beds of the mountain. Before the tunnel had been dug very far on the Italian side the heat became so intense that it was impossible to live in it. The mountain was piped, and soon fifteen thousand gallons of steaming hot water were flowing out of the south end of the tunnel every minute of the day and night. The immense flow was harnessed and made to drive refrigerating plants and cold air blowers. To-day the temperature of the tunnel has been reduced from a height that would have roasted a man in a minute or two, and the atmosphere now has the pleasant warmth of a June day. The hot water also drives pneumatic drills and boring machines, so that it helps to dig the tunnel as well.

"They say," began Miss Twitters, "that there is a fool in every family. Do you believe it, Mr. Saunders?"

"Well, er—I hardly know," stammered Saunders. "You see, I am the only member of our family."

MORTGAGE SALE OF WILLIAM STREET PROPERTY.

Under and by virtue of the Power of Sale contained in a certain Mortgage made by Jason S. Tice, and assigned to the Vendors, which will be produced at the time of sale, default having been made in payment, there will be offered for sale by PUBLIC AUCTION, on SATURDAY, the THIRTIETH DAY OF MAY, 1903, at two o'clock in the afternoon, at the ALBION HOTEL, in the City of BELLEVILLE, the following property, viz.:

All that certain parcel or tract of land and premises situate, lying and being in the said City of Belleville in the County of Hastings, containing one-eighth of an acre, be the same more or less, and being composed of the North half of Lot number Twenty-seven, on the west side of William street, in the said City of Belleville, and which said lot may be better known by reference to a plan of lots laid out upon the south half of lot number Five, in the First Concession of the Township of Thurlow, and now in the City of Belleville, registered in the Registry Office of the County of Hastings, on the twenty-eighth day of June, in the year of our Lord One thousand eight hundred and fifty, together with a right of way twenty-one feet five inches wide, extending from the west side of William street and along the Southern boundary of the said land above described and thence westerly to the depth of fifty-one feet four inches, forming a continuous way from William street westerly to the depth of fifty-one feet four inches, the said way to be used in common by the owners and occupants for the time being (their servants, agents and workmen) of the lands on either side thereof forever, a plan whereof is endorsed on the deed from A. B. Falkiner to one Moody, and the same was registered in the Registry Office for the County of Hastings, on the 16th day of August, 1875, as number 3143 Book (M) and was agreed thereby to be construed and accepted as incorporated in and as part of that conveyance.

On the said premises (conveniently situated near and north of Victoria avenue), is erected a comfortable roughcast house with outbuildings.

Ten per cent. of the purchase money to be paid in cash at the time of sale, when easy terms for the balance can be arranged.

For further particulars and conditions of sale, Apply to

W. N. PONTON,
Bridge St., Belleville,
Vendors' Solicitor.

Belleville, May 1st, 1903. 2,9,16,23

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS.

Pond's Extract

Over fifty years a household remedy for Burns, Sprains, Wounds, Bruises Coughs, Colds and all accidents liable to occur in every home.

CAUTION—There is only one Pond's Extract. Be sure you get the genuine, sold only in sealed bottles in buff wrappers.

Worth it's Weight in Gold
BABY'S OWN SOAP

BABY'S OWN SOAP

keeps the most tender skin, soft, smooth, and free from chaps.

No Other is just as Good.

ALBERT TOILET SOAP CO., Mfrs. Montreal.

You May Need

Pain-Killer

For Cuts
Burns	Cramps
Bruises	Diarrhoea
	All Bowel Complaints

It is a sure, safe and quick remedy.

There's only one PAIN-KILLER.
PERRY DAVIS'.
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.

An Old Soldier Tells What O. R. Kidney Cure Did for Him.

Belleville, Ont., July 25, 1902.

The O. R. Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.:

Dear Sirs,—While suffering severely with pain in my groin from kidney and bladder trouble, I was strongly advised by several of my neighbors to use the O. R. Kidney Cure. Before I had taken one bottle it fully satisfied me that I had secured the right thing, and since being cured, I, like my friends, have told others of this wonderful remedy for all diseases of the kidneys and for urinary troubles.

I remain, dear sirs,

CAPTAIN A. PETERSON.

O. R. Kidney Cure is put up in a liquid form, quickly assimilates and gives instant relief. Price 50c bottle. O. R. Liver Pills 25c bottle. O. R. Dyspepsia Tablets 25c box at druggists or write.

The O. R. Medicine Co., Limited,
Toronto, Ont.

THEY DROVE PIMPLES AWAY.—A face covered with pimples is unsightly. It tells of internal irregularities which should long since have been corrected. The liver and the kidneys are not performing their functions in the healthy way they should, and these pimples are to let you know that the blood protests. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will drive them all away, and will leave the skin clear and clean. Try them, and there will be another witness to their excellence.

The best wheel of fortune is honest labor.

HAD LA GRIPPE.—Mr. A. Nickenson, farmer, Dutton, writes: "Last winter I had La Grippe and it left me with a severe pain in the small of my back and hip that used to catch me whenever I tried to climb a fence. This lasted for about two months, when I bought a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil and used it both internally and externally, morning and evening, for three days, at the expiration of which time I was completely cured."

Wedding rings in St. Kilda used to be made of worsted.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed 'Perfection.'

Coral is a talisman against thunder and evils by flood and field.

AT DEATH'S DOOR.—DYSPEPSIA CONQUERED.—A GREAT MEDICAL TRIUMPH.—Gentlemen,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 118 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the Vegetable Discovery consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen Vegetable Discovery since it cured me, as I am well-known and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured, they are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed, JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P.Q. General Merchant

A woman never knows where the match box is.

Very many persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer complaints, who might have been saved if proper remedies had been used. If attacked do not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, the medicine that never fails to effect a cure. Those who have used it say it acts promptly, and thoroughly subdues the pain and disease.

When one gets hopping mad his reason goes on a crutch.

Use the safe, pleasant, and effectual worm killer, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator; nothing equals it. Procure a bottle and take it home.

The average watch represents but 12 hours of human labor.

Have you tried Holloway's Corn Cure? It has no equal for removing these troublesome excresences, as many have testified who have tried it.

If thy friend is honey, do not lick him up altogether.

FOR INFLAMMATION OF THE EYES.—Among the many good qualities which Parmelee's Vegetable Pills possess, besides regulating the digestive organs, is their efficacy in reducing inflammation of the eyes. It has called forth many letters of recommendation from those who were afflicted with this complaint and found a cure in the pills. They affect the nerve centres and the blood in a surprisingly active way, and the result is almost immediately seen.

Attend no auctions if thou hast no money.

If you have a cough or cold do not neglect it; many without a trace of that hereditary disease have drifted into a consumptive's grave by neglecting what was only a slight cold. Had they used Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup before it was too late, their lives would have been saved. Mr. A. W. Levy, Mitchell, writes: "I think Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup the best preparation on the market for coughs and severe colds. About six years ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs, and for three months I had a cough. I had a physician attending me, but gradually grew worse until I was on the verge of Consumption, and had given up hopes of being cured, when I was induced to try Bickle's Syrup. Before I had taken one bottle I found myself greatly relieved, and by the time I had finished the second bottle I was completely cured. I always recommend it for severe colds and consumption."

Many a man's self-conceit is due to his ignorance.

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, and disordered stomach.

Over 250,000 copies of Charles Dickens' novels are sold annually.

Do not despair of curing your sick headache when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

Bank of Montreal

ESTABLISHED 1817

Capital and Rest, All Paid Up.

$20,000,000

(Twenty Millions.)

Savings Bank Department

Interest on sums of $4.00 and upwards allowed at current rates.

A. G. PARKER.
Manager Be

GREAT SALE

—OF—

Boys' Shirt Waists

We purchased at a big sacrifice, 50 doz Boys' Shirt Waists for ages 5 to 12 years. These goods are the best value at 75 cts. each, but our buying has enabled us to place them before the public at

50c each

The assortment is complete at present. Come at once and secure what you want for the season.

OAK HALL

Sole Agents for Sanford's Celebrated Clothing.

In the Front Rank

STAND OUT--- our medium grade

MEN'S

Dongola and Box Calf Lace Boots

For style and wearing qualities they rank first and foremost at the prices—$1.50, $2.00 and $2.50.

SEE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY.

Heavier grades at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 & $2.00.

MEN'S PATENT LEATHERS

to suit all feet, styles and pocket books.

The J. J. Haines

SHOE HOUSES at Belleville, Napanee and Trenton

TELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE

R CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

Daily Intelligencer.

GAMEY INVESTIGATION

STRATTON REQUESTS WITNESS TO FORGET THINGS.

"Truth, like murder will out," is a very old saying.

What does the reader think of the request of Mr. Stratton to a witness "to FORGET some of the things," which said witness had made in a statement to Stratton's lawyer? Yet such was the request made by Stratton to Mr. Hammond, a Toronto Globe reporter.

Mr. Hammond had been asked by Stratton to prepare a statement detailing what he knew of the Gamey affair. This he did and handed it to Mr. Johnston, Stratton's lawyer, after this was done. Hammond swears, in answer to questions put by Mr. McPherson:

"Mr Stratton asked me if I couldn't FORGET some of the things in my statement."

"What did you say?" asked Mr. McPherson.

"The matter didn't go further!"

"Give the purport of the conversation."

"I said I might forget things I wasn't asked about."

"What was said then?"

"I think Mr. Stratton AGAIN said 'Can't you forget some of these things?'"

Does not this request to "forget things" throw a flood of light upon other portions of the evidence given by witnesses for the defence?

The statement made by Mr. Hammond and given to Mr. Johnston was then demanded, but Johnston objected, and declared he had destroyed it.

People can draw their own inferences.

"Dead men tell no tales!"

CONSTIPATION

is probably the most common of all ailments. When neglected it becomes chronic, and frequently leads to hemorrhoids and other serious consequences.

CONSTIPATION IS CURED BY

IRON-OX TABLETS

This Remedy is not a purgative, but by mild action upon the organs restores their natural functions, thus entirely avoiding the debility following the use of cathartics, which, if taken frequently, are almost always harmful.

Fifty Tablets for 25 Cents

Feet Swollen, Could Not Walk.

"I have had Rheumatism for two years, principally in the legs, and the disease was aggravated by my work, which necessitated standing up all day. About six weeks ago I was particularly badly affected; my legs and feet were swollen up so that I could hardly put my shoes on. I secured a vial of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure, and it was wonderful the relief I obtained. The swelling is all gone, and I have not suffered a bit since. I am cured."—J. B. Robinson, 55 Clarence street, Ottawa.

Your druggist will recommend Munyon's Rheumatism Cure; ask him about it. Only 25c a vial. 111

TIMELY TOPICS

"Hon." Mr. Stratton found it so easy to forget things himself that he thought all men were built on the same plan. He found an exception in The Globe reporter, Mr. Hammond, whose evidence yesterday was a body blow to the Provincial Secretary. Dear me, it looks to be all up with Stratton.

• • •

"Hon." Mr. Stratton was slated to lay the corner stone of a church, but surely he will decline the job now, even if the people would allow him to do it!

• • •

This seems to be an era of strikes. Scarcely a day passes, but accounts of strikes in every part of the globe are recorded. The strike in Montreal was, and is, a serious menace to the Trade and Commerce of Canada, and has cost the city $5,000 for military protection alone. This state of things will continue just so long as party politicians of the Mulock stripe play to the gallery.

• • •

The lawyers in Montreal are squabbling over the bill of costs in the Bergeron-Brunet election trial. The petitioners want $1,100 and the defendants say they are only entitled to $300. The question is before Judge Loranger to decide. The decision will be an interesting one to corrupt election litigants.

PERSONAL ...AND... SOCIAL.

The Intelligencer invites all its readers to contribute to this column all items of a personal nature, such as the arrival or departure of guests, the movements of well-known people, business men, etc. All that is required is to send a post card to or telephone The Intelligencer.

Ald. Panter was able to be out to-day.

Mrs. (Judge) Lazier, son and daughter, left to-day for a sojourn in Virginia.

Miss Furnival left by the Alexandria this morning to spend the summer at Cleveland, Ohio.

Miss Annie Eustace returned to-day to Canandaigua, N.Y., after spending some days here with her parents.

Mr. Ed. Bowen will spend Sunday in this city with his parents and will leave at night for Quebec.

J. P. Ashworth of the Bank of Montreal, St. John, N.B., is appointed Manager at the Deseronto branch, Bank of Montreal.

The commencement exercises of the Memorial Hospital and the Memorial Training School for Nurses of New York City, is to be held on Monday evening, the 18th inst, at Clinton Ave. Congregational Church. The graduating class numbers nineteen, and on the programme the names are arranged in order of merit. A Belleville young lady heads the list—Miss Mabel Victoria Fairfield—daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Fairfield. Miss Fairfield has had an exceptionally successful record from year to year. The Intelligencer unites with many friends in congratulations.

Run Off at Mallorytown

A run-off occurred on the line of the G.T.R. yesterday afternoon, at Mallorytown. Some cars of a freight train were derailed and blocked the track for some time. The express, due from the east at 5.05, did not arrive until 8 o'clock at night. The auxiliary from here cleared the track.

"A Grave-yard Cough" is the cry of tortured lungs for mercy. Give them mercy in the form of Allen's Lung Balsam, which is used with good effect even in consumption's early stages. Never neglect a cough.

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

The Oak Hall are having splendid success in the special sale of boys' shirt waists at 50 cents each. We have all sizes from 5 to 12 years of age. These waists are of superior quality and not to be compared to inferior grades sold for less money.

Sidewalk Riding Again

Master Allan C. Meagher, son of Mr. John Meagher, who resides on Octavia street, was playing on the sidewalk yesterday afternoon near his home when he was knocked down by a bicyclist who was riding upon the walk. Fortunately for the little fellow he escaped with a few bruises.

A Pleasant Event

A very pleasant event took place last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Boldrick, College St., it being the 37th anniversary of their wedding day. A goodly number of their friends and neighbors were present by invitation to share their hospitality. At 6.30 o'clock the guests were invited to the dining room, where a magnificent repast was partaken of, after which they repaired to the parlor where social intercourse and speeches were in order. Mr. and Mrs. Boldrick are ideal entertainers. All voted it a most pleasant evening. After wishing the bride and groom many happy returns of their wedding day the party broke up at an early hour.

ALBERT COLLEGE FIELD DAY.

Friday, May 22nd. Interesting programme of sports on the fine new college campus, beginning at 1.30. Concert and distribution of prizes in the evening. Concert will be given principally by young ladies' Physical Culture Class, and will include an extremely pretty march, statue posing, etc. Admission to concert 10c and upwards. Sports free to all.

In the Justice Shop

Alleged Assault.

The result of the investigation of the alleged assault upon Manley Tripp, of Trenton, by John Orr and Wm. Mattise, was that the accused were acquitted. The evidence was to the effect that whatever these men did it was in self-defence, and they did not inflict the injuries Tripp sustained.

HOW ONE MILLION IS SPENT.

Not less than one million dollars is annually spent by people seeking an absolute cure for catarrh, bronchitis and Consumption. Numerous are the remedies, but the one standing preeminently above all others is Catarrhozone. It cures these diseases because it is sure to reach them. Catarrhozone is inhaled into the lungs, throat and nasal passages, and bathes every part of the diseased membrane with its germ-killing, healing vapor. You simply breathe Catarrhozone and it cures. Price 25c and $1 at druggists, or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Little Bad Boys

Three small boys, named George and Charles Babcock and Robt. Keegan, yesterday afternoon stole some articles of provisions out of a buggy which was in a yard on Front St. The parents of the children brought the articles to the police station and they were claimed by Mr. D. Poucher, of Poucher's Mills. This morning the lads, after being reprimanded by the Magistrate, were allowed to go, owing to their tender age.

PAIN IN THE JOINTS

may be muscular or rheumatic. The joints are hard to get at, and it requires a powerful, penetrating remedy to reach the affected parts. Polson's Nerviline exactly meets the requirements, for it is both powerful and penetrating. The pain is expelled as if by magic, for one drop of Nerviline equals in strength five drops of other remedies. You won't often call the doctor if Nerviline is in the house. Price 25 cents.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Advertisements under this heading TWO CENTS A WORD; subsequent consecutive insertions ONE CENT A WORD. No ads charged at less than twenty-five words.

"The Mark of the Beast, or What Unionism and Combines are fast Coming To." Bethel Hall, Sunday evg.

Shelly's "Saviour, When Night Involves the Skies," for five voices, will be sung during the offertory at St. Thomas' to-morrow night.

The press agent of the Ringling Bros.' Circus was in the city yesterday, making arrangements for the appearance of that aggregation here on June 6th.

There was music in the air at the park last night. The harbor was full of it. In one boat was a mandolin and banjo; in another young ladies sang tunefully. The music was enjoyed by many listeners on the park.

Many complaints are made of vagrant dogs which snap and bark at passers-by. In some parts of the city they are a nuisance.

The police at 11.15 last night found a Front street business place unlocked and the key in the door.

A solitary tramp occupied the cells last night.

The various bill boards about the city were to-day decorated with circus pictures.

Please Mr. Druggist give me what I ask for—the one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. I know it is the best thing on earth for summer complaints. So do you. Thank you; there is your money.

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat Co.,

(LIMITED)

"The Bay of Quinte Route."

Str. "ALETHA"

Leaves Belleville on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 a.m. for Bay of Quinte ports and Kingston. Returning will arrive at Belleville on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10.30 p.m.

Belleville-Rochester Route

Str. "North King"

Commencing 31st May will leave Belleville on Sundays at 11.38 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. Returning arrives at Belleville on Sundays at 3.25 a.m. and leaves for Bay Ports, Kingston and 1000 Islands.

During July and August service will be daily except Monday.

Right reserved to change time with or without notice.

For passage and freight rates and other information, apply to

THE RATHBUN CO., } Agents.
U. E. THOMPSON, }
E. E. HORSEY, G. P. & F. Agent,
Kingston.

Montreal, Rochester & Quebec Transit Co'y.

Str. "Alexandria"

Service in effect 25th April.

Leaves Rathbun Co.'s wharf, Belleville, every Saturday at 11.00 a.m. for Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Every Monday at 7.00 a.m. for Montreal and all River Ports.

Thousand Islands by daylight.

Runs all St. Lawrence River Rapids.

Quebec excursions commence July 5th.

LOW FREIGHT RATES.

A. W. HEPBURN, General Manager, Picton, Ont.
THE RATHBUN CO. Agents. Belleville.

The Deseronto Navigation Co

TIME TABLE.

Taking effect April 13, 1903.

Belleville, Trenton, Picton & Napanee

Str. "ELLA ROSS"

Leaves Belleville for Trenton at 10 a.m., daily, Sundays Excepted, returning leaves Trenton at 1 p.m., leaving Belleville at 3 p.m. for Deseronto, Napanee and Picton.

Quick and Superior Service to NEW YORK CITY

Steamers RESOLUTE and RELIANCE will leave Deseronto for Oswego after arrival of Str. Ella Ross connecting at Oswego with the New York, Ontario Western Ry.

Fare to New York, Single, $8.40
Return, $13.85

For further particulars apply to THE RATHBUN Co., Local Agents

J. F CHAPMAN,
Asst. Gen. Frt. & Pass. Agt., Deseronto.
A. C. CARTER General Manager Deseronto.

Just What You Want

Paint Brushes 7, 10, 15, 20, 25c.
Whitewash Brushes 10, 13, 15, 20, 25, 35, 45c.
1,000 Parlor Matches for 5c.
600 pairs Ladies' Bl'k Hose 5c pair.
500 printed Platters and Bakers, regular 25, clearing at 10c.
300 pairs Men's Sox, special, 4 pr. for 25c.
D. K. Blue Cups and Saucers, 35c 1-2 dozen.
1200 Dinner Setts for $8.00.
Curtain Poles, complete, for 20c.
Carpet Tacks, 2 for 5c.
Carpet Whips 10c each.
Kitchen Mirrors 12, 15, 20, 25, 30c.
Best Oil Blinds 30c.
6 Cakes Moss Rose Toilet Soap 15c.
3 Cakes Cold Cream Toilet Soap 5c.
6 Bars Eclipse Soap 25c.
Large variety of odd Wallpaper der, clearing at 1c yard.
50 varieties of Wallpaper, clearing at 5c Roll.
Large varieties 5, 7, 8, 10c Ceiling Papers, clearing at 3c Roll.

Be sure and visit our Wallpaper Department; it is the most complete, and has the best selected stock to choose from in the City.

Our Prices are 1-2 what other stores ask for same quality.

AT THE BEE HIVE

Chas. N. Sulman

Much talk, many lies.

All trails are long to the lazy.

A man should be getting on well in life when he is getting well on in life.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

VICTORIA DAY

MAY 24th, 1903.

Return Tickets will be issued at—

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE,

Between all stations in Canada; also to Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, N.Y., Detroit, Pt. Huron, Mich., etc.

GOOD GOING MAY 23rd, 24th, or 25th. Valid returning from destination on or before May 26th, 1903.

COLONIST EXCURSIONS.

One way tickets at low rates on sale until June 15th, to points in Montana, Colorado, Utah, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and California.

For tickets, and all information apply to

U. E. THOMPSON, City Agent, Bridge Street,
T. H. COPPIN, Depot Agent,
J. D. McDONALD, Dist. Pass Agt., Toronto.

CANADIAN PACIFIC Ry.

Until further notice, weather permitting, Upper Lake Steamships "Alberta," "Athabasca" & "Manitoba will leave Owen Sound, about 1.30 p.m., Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, on arrival of train due to leave Toronto at 8.25 a.m.

Read Down.

Lv. Owen Sound (Tue., Thur., Sat.) 1.30 p.m.
Lv. S.S. Marie (Wed., Fri., Mon.) 10.00 a.m.
Ar. Pt. Arthur (Thur., Sat., Mon.) 7.00 a.m.
Ar. Ft. William (Thur., Sat., Mon) 8.00 a.m.

Read Up.

Ar. Owen Sound (Sun., Tue., Thur.) 8.30 a.m.
Lv. S.S. Marie (Sat., Mon., Wed.) 12.00 noon.
Lv. Ft. William (Fri., Sun., Tue.) 9.00 a.m.

Steamships connect at S.S. Marie for Duluth and Minneapolis, and at Ft. William for Winnipeg and all Pacific Coast points.

S. BURROWS, C.P.R. and General Ticket Agent, Front St., Belleville.
A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Genl. Passr. Agent, 1 King St. East, Toronto.

NEW YORK CENTRAL

& HUDSON RIVER R. R.

THE FOUR-TRACK TRUNK LINE.

SHORTEST Route to the United States via Cape Vincent, N.Y.

GOING EAST AND WEST.		After 1st May
Lv. Belleville (G.T.R.)	12.22 p.m.	1.30 a.m
Arr. Kingston "	1.47 p.m.	3.12 a.m
Lv. Kingston (stage)..	2.30 p.m.	5.00 a.m
Arr. CapeVincent (stage)	4 30 p.m.	7.00 a.m
Lv. Cape Vincent N.Y.C.	5.05 p.m.	7.25 a.m
Arr. Watertown "	5.55 p.m.	8.25 a.m
Arr. Oswego "	9.05 p.m.	11.55 a.m
Arr. Syracuse "	9.25 p.m.	12.07 p.m
Arr. Rochester "	1.05 a.m.	2.20 a.m
Arr. Utica "	9.45 p.m.	12.35 p.m
Arr. New York "	7.25 a.m.	6.00 p.m

Convenient train service in opposite direction.

Pullman Sleeping and Parlor Cars.

2c a Mile.

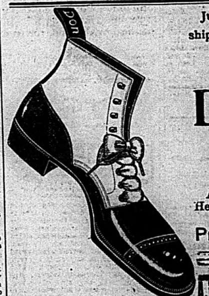
Books for 500 miles of travel on New York Central and leased lines within State of New York, cost only $10 while books for 1000 miles over New York Central, Boston & Albany, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, Philadelphia & Reading and C. R. R. of New Jersey cost $20. Secure further information and purchase tickets from F. A. Folger, N.Y.C. Agent, Kingston, Ont.

GEORGE H. DANIELS, Gen'l Pass'r Agent, New York.
A. H. SMITH, Gen'l Supt., New York.
G. C. GRIDLEY, Gen'l Agent, Watertown, N.Y.

The longer you halt the steeper the mountain grows.

The various countries of the world use 13,400 different kinds of postage.

Only 24 per cent. of doctors reach 70 years, but 42 per cent. of clergymen do so.



Just received another shipment of

THE SWELL

Don Shoe

Always glossy, Rubber Heels, on every pair.

Price - $4.00

A.W. VERMILYEA & SON.

At Wallbridge & Clarke's

Fancy Biscuits

Christies fine biscuits in many varieties. Fresh supplies every week. Popular prices.

Cheese

Fine Old Cheddar Cheese
Canadian Stilton Cheese
MacLaren's Imperial Cream Cheese
MacLaren's Roquefort Cheese (in crocks)

Pickles

Crosse & Blackwell's
Mixed Pickles
Chow Chow
White Onions
Walnuts
Girkins
Soho Pickles.
Heintz's
Sweet Midget Gherkins
Sweet Pickles
Sweet Mixed Pickles.
Williams'
Sweet Mixed Pickles.

Sauces and Relishes

Lea & Perrins' Worcestershire Sauce
Yorkshire Relish
Soyer's Sultana Sauce
Harvey's Sauce
Mushroom Catsup
Anchovy Sauce
Pepper Sauce.
Curtice's Blue Label Ketchup
Tabasco Ketchup
Celery Salt
Mango Chutney
Bombay Chutney, etc.

Kkovah Jellies

Kkovah Jellies (made in England). A ten cent package makes a pint of delicious jelly. Real fruit flavors. In the following:
Raspberry, Strawberry,
Cherry, Pineapple,
Lemon, Orange,
Vanilla, Pistachio,
Apricot, Sherry,
Madeira, Port, etc.

Finest Imported

Macaroni
Spaghetti
Vermicelli
Soap Pastes, etc.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Bridge St. Stores | Front St. Store
Tel. 139. | Tel. 157.
Established 1871.

RAILWAY TIME TABLES.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

Time of departure from Belleville Station:

Going East.

No. 16—Local, for Brockville, 7 a.m., arrives back from Brockville 9.30 p.m.
No. 2—1.30 a.m., Mail and Express, (Flyer), Daily.
No. 6—11.40 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.
No. 4—12.22 p.m., International Limited, Daily.
No. 12—5.55 p.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

Going West.

No. 5—3 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily except Monday.
No. 3—4.10 a.m., Limited Express, Daily.
No. 9—5.50 a.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.
No. 11—11.22 a.m., Passenger, Daily except Sunday.
No. 1—1.50 p.m., International Limited Daily.
No. 7—5.10 p.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

Taking effect 12.01 o'clock, Sunday, June 15, 1902.

MIDLAND RAILWAY.

Belleville and Peterboro.

Going West.

	Leave.	Arr. Peterboro
Mail	5.40 a.m.	8.10 a.m.
Mixed	5.55 p.m.	9.05 p.m.

Going East.

	Arr.	L've Peterboro
Mixed	11.20 a.m.	8.20 a.m.
Mail	4.25 p.m.	2.05 p.m.

Belleville and Madoc.

Going North.

	L've	Arr. Madoc
Mixed	12.20 p.m.	1.20 p.m.
Mixed	6.30 p.m.	7.40 p.m.

Going South.

	Arr.	L've Madoc
Mixed	9.10 a.m.	7.30 a.m.
Mixed	5.00 p.m.	3.45 p.m.

None of the above trains run on Sunday.

New Hats

READY-TO-WEAR HATS
DRESS HATS.

New Veilings

Latest styles—Best work.
We will surely please you.
Come and see them.

MISS M. CAMPBELL.
P.D. Corsets. 'Phone 117

Western Beef.

Prime Western Beef together with all kinds of choice meats, supplied by the district, at

C. GREEN'S
257 Front St., 'Phone 109.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM
Cures Deep seated Colds
Coughs - Croup - Bronchitis
LARGE BOTTLES $1.00
MEDIUM 50¢ TRIAL SIZE 25¢

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS

SITUATIONS WANTED, HELP WANTED, LOST OR FOUND, FOR SALE OR TO RENT, &c

(Auction Sales not included in this list)

TERMS.—Twenty-five words or less. 25c first insertion; two insertions, 50c; four insertions, 75c; one week $1.00, two weeks $1.75, three weeks, $2.25; one month, $2.50. Strictly cash in advance.

WANTED.

Mrs. Campbell, Teacher of Music, &c., has vacancies for a few more Piano pupils; also for Vocal pupils who wish an accompanist for their practice. Mrs. Campbell would also take orders for Embroidery or other kinds of needlework. For terms apply at No. 5, Metropolitan Block, Campbell St. 13-4t

A good cook for Mrs. W. D. Chisholm. Apply in the evenings to Miss Bell, corner of Queen and George streets. 15-4t

The present whereabouts of Theodore Morden and Elizabeth Morden, the children of John Morden, late of the Village of Milltown, in the County of Hastings, cabinet-maker, deceased. Any person able to give any information as to the present place of abode of Theodore Morden or Elizabeth Morden or any of the children of either of them will communicate with Charles Morden, 25 Russell St., Kingston, Ont. 15-16-18

Not fakes nor fads but household needs. Used everyday by everybody. Can't you sell them? Others do and make fortunes. Still room. Write at once to G. Marshall & Co., London, Ont.

A few men and women to work for us at home during spare time. Pleasant work. Liberal pay. No canvassing. Imperial Company, London, Ontario. m12-1m

By S. Langbort—Scrap iron, metal, old rubber, etc. Will pay the following prices: Old iron, 50c, 60c and 70c. per 100; mixed rags 50c per 100; copper 9c lb.; heavy brass 9c lb.; old rubber boots and shoes 6c lb.; lead and zinc 2c lb. Remember the place, Powell's Old Stand, Mill St., corner Brown. ap21-1m

Young men ambitious to learn lucrative trades, of which there are eight in connection with the business. Apply The Belleville Hardware Company, Belleville, Ont. a7dtf

Competent men to appoint agents, whole or spare time. Commission paid. Apply JOHN DOYLE, Drawer 531, London. a27-1yr

WANTED Reliable Men in every locality throughout Canada to introduce our goods, tacking up show cards on trees, fences, along roads and all conspicuous places, also distributing small advertising matter. Commission or salary $60.00 per month and expenses, not to exceed $2.50 per day. Steady employment to good, honest reliable men. No experience needful. Write for full particulars. THE EMPIRE MEDICINE CO., London, Ont.

TO-LET.

The dentist rooms at present occupied by Dr. Clarke. Apply to P. C. JONES. a20dtf

FOR SALE OR TO-LET.

The house occupied by Mrs. L. W. Yeomans, cor. Bridge and John Sts. a20dtf

FOR SALE.

Comfortable, well built, seven room frame house and lot, situated on North Front St., in vicinity of Albert College. Apply to Mrs. Wm. McCreery, Belleville. my15-d1mem&iw

Stone house, 11 rooms, coal furnace, stable, barn. Large grounds. Cor. Frank and Moira Sts. north. Terms reasonable. H. Bull, on premises or Fred Bull, 2 1-2 Queen St., Toronto. ap18-dtf

Contractors and masons any any person requiring lime may procure it from E. G. STAPLEY, Canifton Road, Belleville. New lime always on hand. a9-d&w6m

Dressed and Matched Lumber of all kinds, at ALFORD'S factory, Market Square. j12-tf

REMOVAL.

Dr. Clarke will shortly remove to the offices formerly occupied by the late Dr. Ward, over Burrows', and opposite Scantlebury's Book Store. a27dtf

SANTAL-MIDY
Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.
MIDY

Orders for bookbinding should be left at this office. It is surprising how nice a volume can be made of these magazines, even though they are somewhat soiled from much handling. Books, magazines, or periodicals bound or rebound in any style at very reasonable prices. Blank books, such as journals, ledgers, day books, with any kind of ruling, made to order. All work warranted first-class. THE INTELLIGENCER, Belleville.

Married in Cobourg

Cobourg Post: A quiet wedding took place on 31st March, at the home of the bride's brother-in-law, Mr. E. Bunnett, Spencer street, when Miss Laura E. McGowan was united in marriage to Mr. Myrle Rosevear, of Cold Springs farm. Rev. Mr. Saunders performed the ceremony in the presence of a few invited guests. Immediately after tea the young couple left amidst a shower of rice, for a visit to the bride's father near Belleville. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Rosevear a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Fresh Roll Butter

20 cents per lb.

J. C. Hanley & Co
GROCERS
Telephone 214

New Perfumes

LAZELL'S (New York)
TRICARNO
CARNATION PINK
GOLDEN
CHRYSANTHEMUM
60c oz. (Bulk)
"The Very Latest."
WATERS'

Greenleaf & Son

Would like to show you one of the finest lines of

Bicycles

shown here in some time.

PRICES ARE RIGHT.

We are catching up gradually with our work, so will be better able to give your job prompt attention.

GOOD VARIETY OF FISHING TACKLE ON HAND.

The New Wall Paper Store

sells borders by the roll, same price as the papers.

THE BEST TALENT in the world is employed to design the paper we sell.

We select only the beautiful and harmonious designs because those are the kind that please our patrons.

New Spring designs, delicate flower-like tints, all conceivable patterns, many exclusive designs, scrolls, ingrains, etc., ceiling and border to match. Prices to suit all pocketbooks.

JOHN CORNELIUS,

Decorator, Painter, Grainer, and Paper Hanger, all work guaranteed first class.

The Sun & Hastings Savings and Loan Co. of Ontario.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL
$5,000,000.

3 1-2 per cent. allowed on Deposits payable on Call.

4 per cent. on Deposits for one year or over.

Money to LOAN upon favorable terms.

OFFICE, No. 46 Bridge St., Belleville.

J. P. C. PHILLIPS,
Manager Belleville Branch.

The biggest brave does not always make the best chief.

What made your linens coarse? Common soap! Sunlight Soap saves linen.

SUNLIGHT SOAP REDUCES EXPENSE

Ask for the Octagon Bar

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

"Things Worth Seeking,"
"A Noble Life in Ruins,"

Will be the subjects of the sermons by the Pastor, the Rev. W. J. Crothers, M.A., D.D., at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m., tomorrow. in

BRIDGE ST. METHODIST CHURCH

Music by large Choir.

2.30 p.m.—Sunday School — Mr. J. Frith Jeffers class in church at 3.

Strangers in the City, students at Albert College, Ontario Business College, Belleville Business College, and all other visitors welcomed.

JOHN ST. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Corner of Victoria Avenue and John Street.
REV. A. H. DRUMM, Pastor.

Sunday services at 11 a.m., and 7 p. m.
Sunday School at 3 p.m.
Pastor's Class for Bible Study—Sunday at 3 p.m.
Young People's Guild—Monday at 8 p.m. Prayer meeting—Wednesday at 8 p.m.
Service at 11 a.m., and 7 p.m.

THE TABERNACLE METHODIST CHURCH.
Church St.
Joseph H. Locke, Pastor.

11 a.m. and 7 p.m. sermons by the Pastor.
Sunday School and Bible Classes at 2.30.
Strangers and visitors conducted to seats by obliging ushers.

VICTORIA AVE BAPTIST CHURCH,
Cor. Victoria Ave. and Pinnacle St
REV. G. C. ELLIOTT,
Pastor.

May 17, 1903.
Prayer meeting—10.30 a.m.
Services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.
Sunday School at three o'clock.
The Pastor will conduct both services.
Young People's meeting Monday evening at 8.
Regular meeting for prayer and praise on Wednesday evening at 8.
A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the above services. All seats are free.

BELLEVILLE NORTH (BLEECKER AVE) METHODIST CHURCH.

11—Rev. M. J. Bates; also at 7.—Subject "The Momentuous Question."
Monday night—Union rally of the Leagues, junior and senior.
Wednesday night—Prayer and Societies meetings.
Kingston Road—Rev. M. J. Bates at 2.30. Thursday night League.
Centre St. 2—Rev. Mr. Whitehall. 3—Sunday School.

BETHEL HALL, Front St.

11 a.m.—Lord's Supper.
3 p.m.—Sunday School.
7 p.m.—Gospel meeting.
Subject for evening, "The Great Combine Shortly to Come, Unions and Combines a Sign of the Times." What saith the Scriptures.
ALL WELCOME.

May 17, 1903.
Fifth Sunday After Lent.
EMMANUEL REFORMED EPISCOPAL CHURCH.
(Free Church of England).
Victoria Avenue, between Church and Pinnacle Streets.
Rev. William J. Gilliland, Rector.

SUNDAY SERVICES—Morning at 11. Evening at 7.
Sunday School and Bible Classes at 3 p.m.
Young People's Meeting Sunday 8 p.m.
Midweek prayer meeting, Wednesday 8 p.m.
Strangers and visitors in the city welcome.
All seats free.

Excellent Papers Read

The Norwood correspondent of the Peterboro Review has the following to say of two former residents of this city, Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Howard:

"The Epworth League of the Methodist Church held a very successful and enjoyable service here on Sunday and Monday last. On Sunday morning Rev. Mr. Howard, of Blairton Mission, preached a good sermon on the league motto, "Look up and Lift up for Christ and the Church." In the evening the service took the form of a platform meeting. Rev. R. Taylor, the pastor, took the devotional part which was followed by papers by Miss Fanny Squire, Miss A. Peters, and Mrs. (Rev.) Howard, interspersed by solos and duets.

"The papers were all exceptionally good and it is only due to those reading them to say that we believe they have never been surpassed in this church."

The Market

There was a large market to-day, and an immense quantity of garden produce was offered for sale. Prices were good, being as follows: Butter 22 to 24c, eggs 11 to 12c per dozen, chickens 45 to 90c per pair, turkeys about 13c per lb. Potatoes sold at $1.10 and $1.15 a bag.

Curious Bits of News.

A train of twelve refrigerator cars, carrying nothing but eggs—about two millions of them—recently made the run from Newton, Kansas, to San Francisco.

One of the most remarkable clubs of modern times has its headquarters in Almeda, California. It is known as the "Old Men's Singing Club," no one being admitted to it who has not the gift of song and who has not passed at least his sixty-fifth birthday. The club has 101 members, with an aggregate age of 6,666 years.

The great Simplon tunnel under the Alps from the valley of the Rhone into Italy is about half finished, and it is now believed that it will be ready for traffic within two and a half years. Its cost will be $14,000,000, and this enormous expense has been incurred to shorten the road between Paris and Milan only 50 miles and to save grades of fifteen hundred feet. The length of the completed tunnel will exceed twelve miles.

An editorial writer with a taste for statistics has given to this waiting world a statement in which women may feel some interest. He declares that he recently stood in a crowded thoroughfare of a large city and listened to "scraps of conversation" of fifty women who passed him. Of these fifty women, four were talking about cooking and recipes; seven, about babies; twelve were discussing men and love affairs; and from the lips of twenty-seven rippled remarks about clothes.

Miss Ellene Jaqua, a well-known vocalist of Brooklyn, N.Y., is the first person to possess a glass gown which can actually be worn and not once only. It is of spun glass, made in Dresden, Germany, and was modelled and cut in Paris. At the Chicago Exposition in '93 there was a glass dress exhibited, which became the property of the Infanta Eulalie, but it was only for show and could not be worn. A full description of Miss Jaqua's glass gown is given in the "Strand Magazine" for February.

The Chicago "Tribune's" record of legal executions and lynchings in the United States in 1901 shows that 118 persons were executed and 135 were lynched. Of those executed 71 were negroes, and of those lynched, 107. The executions were one fewer than in 1900, and the lynchings were 20 more. It is noticeable that of the lynchings only 39 were for murder and 19 for criminal assault, leaving a remainder of 77 persons lynched for minor crimes. It is noticeable also that the number of lynchings in the Northern States increased from 8 in 1900 to 14 in 1901.

Chief Engineer Emil Prillwitz of the North German Lloyd steamship "Kronprinz Wilhelm," is experimenting with a new arrangement which he has placed in the ship for use in case of a collision. A small wheel abaft the pilot-house is turned, and instantly hydraulic pressure closes twenty water-tight doors in the lower part of the ship, making sixteen water-tight compartments. The fact that all the doors are closed is instantly shown on an electric dial, on which the numbers of the doors and their location are printed. The sixteen water-tight rooms are more than enough to float the vessel in case any part of her hull is punctured. The experiments show that not more than two minutes is required to render the "Kronprinz Wilhelm" unsinkable.

Anticipated the Permission.

MINISTERS have many interesting and amusing experiences.

A clergyman of Duluth, Minn., was engaged in conversation with a number of friends the other day, when each started telling stories of weddings he had performed. One of the party had this to offer:

Some time ago a great big fellow, roughly dressed, and a wee mite of a young woman came to him. They had no witnesses, and, in fact, did not care to have any. Nevertheless, a bridesmaid and groomsman were selected from the household and the ceremony began. They had promised to love and obey and all the rest of the service, when the preacher announced: "Kiss the bride."

The bridegroom, on bended knee, hesitated a little, tried to say something and couldn't.

"Kiss the bride," said the pastor.

"Why, parson, I did, afore I come here at all," replied the bridegroom, whose face had taken the color of a June rose.

The witnesses burst forth in laughter, while the minister had all he could do to retain the serious expression which he always wore when wedding people.

Old Age.

PROFESSOR JOWETT, the great master of Balliol College, had wise words to speak on the crucial topic of growing old. He wrote to a friend:

"The later years of life appear to me, from a certain point of view, to be the best. They are less disturbed by care and the world; we begin to understand that things really never did matter so much as we supposed, and we are able to see them more in their true proportion, instead of being overwhelmed by them. We are more resigned to the will of God, neither afraid to depart nor overanxious to stay. We cannot see into another life, but we believe, with an inextinguishable hope, that there is something still reserved for us."

It is worth while to remember his hints for old age, full, as they are, of a practical wisdom:

Beware of the coming on of age, for it will not be defied.

A man cannot become young by overexerting himself.

A man of sixty should lead a quiet, open-air life.

He should collect the young about him.

He should set other men to work.

He ought, at sixty, to have acquired authority, reticence and freedom from personality.

He may truly think of the last years of life as being the best, and every year as better than the last, if he knows how to use it.

Mrs. McVicars—Aye, my Jennie's wee Johnny went wi' the Sabbath-skill's picnic, and he got awa doon by the wather-side and fell in, and they haven'a found his body yet. Mrs. Paterson—Oh, lost me! And he'd have his best claes on, tae.—"Moonshine."

In Introducing FERROL

FERROL
A Perfect Emulsion of Iron, Cod Liver Oil and Phosphorus

to the public we wish it to be distinctly understood that FERROL is not a patent medicine, its constituents being fully published, and for some years the medical profession of Canada have prescribed and endorsed it. With this authority we can confidently recommend FERROL for the treatment of Consumption in its early stages, Bronchitis, Chronic Coughs and Colds, Anæmia, General Debility, Loss of Weight, Scrofula and kindred diseases.

As a general nutrient FERROL is absolutely unequalled.

Sample and literature free.

75c. a Bottle. At all Druggists, or from

THE FERROL COMPANY, Limited
Toronto, Ont.

Laboratory and Offices: 124 King Street West

LATEST NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS

As Furnished to The Intelligencer by H. R. Beattie, Stock Broker.

New York, May. 16

Stock	Op'g	H'st	L'st	Close.
Twin City.....	111½	....	....	....
Atchison	78¼	78¼	77⅝	78⅛
do. pref ..	96⅞	96⅞	96¾	96¾
St. Paul.. ..	158½	158½	157⅞	157¾
Mo. P.	111⅛	111⅛	110½	110½
Union Pac. .	88⅛	88⅛	87⅞	88
C.P.R.	130⅛	130⅛	129⅝	129⅞
South Pac. ..	53⅛	53⅛	52⅞	53
Sou. Ry.....	29½	29½	28⅞	28⅞
Texas.... ...	34⅛	34⅛	33	33⅛
B & O.......	91⅛	91⅛	90⅛	90⅝
N. Y.C.	127½	127½	127⅛	127¾
Penna	128⅞	128⅞	128½	128⅝
Reading	52¾	52⅜	52	52⅛
Ills.	137¾	137¼	137	137⅞
Erie	33⅞	33⅞	33½	33½
do. pref. ...	67	67	66⅛	66⅛
O. & W.	28⅛	28⅛	28⅛	28½
C. O.	42	42⅛	42	42⅛
Manhattan ..	140¾	140½	139⅞	140
W. C.	23¾	....	....	....
L. & N... ..	116⅛	116⅛	115	115
Nor.	70	70½	69⅝	70½
C. G. W. ..	22	22	21⅞	21⅞
W.U.	84¾	....	....	....
T.C.I.	60⅛	60⅛	60	60⅛
U.S. Steel ..	34	34	33¾	33¾
do pref. ..	83½	83⅞	83½	83⅞
Sugar......	124½	124¾	124½	124¾
A. C. P. ..	64⅛	64⅛	63⅛	63⅞
Po.........	101½	101½	100¾	101
B. R. T......	65	65	63¾	64
Met..........	129⅞	130	129⅝	129⅝
do pref. ..	47⅞	47½	47¾	47¾
Soo	64¾	65½	64¾	65⅝
R. I.	42	42	41½	41⅝
A. F.	39	39⅛	39	39
Ak.	25⅛	25⅛	25	25

He who foresees calamities suffers them twice over.

AFTER 6 MONTHS' CHASE

Bad Indian W . . . . One of His Own Tribe . . Captured.

Cornwall, May 16.—Jake Sawattis, the bad redman from the St. Regis Indian reserve, who has given the provincial detectives the slip for the past six months, has at last been arrested by one of his own tribesmen, Mitchell George. Sawattis became jealous of his nephew, and during a dance at the wigwam of an Indian named Cook, shot him; the ball entered the hand and the young brave has been laid up since. A warrant was issued, but Jake has a number of friends in the tribe who kept him posted. The warrant was placed in the hands of Mitchell George, who caught Sawattis on the Canadian side Thursday, handcuffed him and took him to Dundee. Policeman Morris took the prisoner to Beauharnois yesterday morning, and lodged him in jail.

THE CRAWLING OF CANCER

One of the Symptoms by Which The Disease May be Distinguished.

A characteristic of a cancerous growth, distinguishing it from other lumps and growths, is a peculiar sensation of creeping or crawling which comes over the part affected.

Anyone suffering from a growth attended by such symptoms, should hasten to procure treatment without delay. The most effectual remedy that can be used is our Constitutional Treatment. It eradicates the cancer germs and poisons from the system and completely cures the disease without the necessity of resorting to painful operations. Send two stamps for full particulars. B. I. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont.

GOLD MEDAL AWARDED, WOMAN'S EXHIBITION, LONDON, 1900.

Neave's Food

For Infants, Invalids, And The Aged.

Nearly 80 Years' Established Reputation.

DR. BARNARDO says:— "We have already used Neave's Food in two of our Homes (Babies' Castle and the Village Home), and I have no hesitation in saying it has proved very satisfactory."—July 27th, 1901.

Manufacturers: JOSIAH R. NEAVE & CO., FORDINGBRIDGE, ENGLAND.

Wholesale Agents:—THE LYMAN BROS. & Co., Ltd., Toronto & Montreal.

HOW IS YOUR LIVER?
USE
BEECHAM'S PILLS

For Bilious and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain in the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness and Swelling after meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Blotches on the Skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c. The First Dose will give Relief in Twenty Minutes. This is no fiction. Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one Box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be "WORTH A GUINEA A BOX." BEECHAM'S PILLS, taken as directed, will quickly restore Females to complete health. They promptly remove any obstruction or irregularity of the system. For a

Weak Stomach; Impaired Digestion; Disordered Liver

they act like magic—a few doses will work wonders upon the Vital Organs; Strengthening the muscular system; restoring the long-lost Complexion; bringing back the keen edge of appetite, and arousing with the Rosebud of Health the whole Physical Energy of the human frame. These are "facts" admitted by thousands, in all classes of society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous and Debilitated is that Beecham's Pills have the Largest Sale of any Patent Medicine in the World. Full directions with each box.

Prepared only by THOMAS BEECHAM, St. Helens, England.

Sold Everywhere in Canada and U. S. America. In boxes, 25c.

No cheap paint is as good as Ramsay's Paints, nor is there a good paint so cheap.

Every can and every color has the same high quality.

Send us a post card, mentioning this paper and we'll send our booklet showing how some beautiful homes are painted with our paints.

A. RAMSAY & SON, Paint makers, MONTREAL.
Estd. 1842.

CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY

CAPITAL

10,000 Shares 7 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 each, $1,000,000
50,000 Shares Common Stock, par value $100, issued and fully paid 5,000,000
TOTAL CAPITALIZATION $6,000,000

Issues of $1,000,000.00 7 p.c. Preferred Stock in 10,000 Shares of $100 each at par.

This stock is preferred both as to Assets and Dividends.

The shares are entitled to cumulative preferred dividends from the net earnings of the Company, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the first days of April and October. They may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged for common shares. They are subject to be called in, in whole or in part, by the Company, at $115.00 per share, at any time after 1st January, 1909.

The total issue of Preferred Stock is only $1,000,000.00, the whole of which is now offered.

Subscriptions for 10,000 Shares of $100 each of the 7 per cent. Preferred Stock of the CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY will now be received at par, that is $100 Share, as follows per cent on application,

25 " " on allotment,
35 " " 30 days thereafter.
35 " " 60 days thereafter.

One share of Common, par value $100, given with each share of preferred.

The whole of instalments remaining unpaid at any time may be prepaid in full. A discount of one per cent will be allowed upon the par of each share if prepaid at time of allotment.

Notice of allotment will be sent promptly by ordinary letter.

COAL

PROPERTY IN FULL OPERATION

Company owns 9,600 acres of coal property known throughout the coal trade as the New Campbellton Colliery, located on Bras D'Or Bay, County of Victoria, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia. Mine is fully equipped, producing and marketing tons of coal a day at a net profit of $1.00 a ton. Improvements are now being made that will increase the output to over 1,000 tons a day. On present output, figuring 300 working days in year, the net result will more than pay interest on entire issue of preferred, with output of 1,000 tons a day net result will be $300,000 per annum.

IRON

RICHEST ORE IN THE WORLD

Company owns in fee simple, free and clear of all incumbrances, 4000 acres of iron ore deposit, located at Natashquan (tidewater) situated on North shore of Gulf of St. Lawrence, in the County of Saguenay, province of Quebec.

Deposits contain 20,000,000 tons of ore ABOVE SEA LEVEL ALONE.

Quality of ore is highest ever discovered, running from 69 per cent to 72 per cent in metallic iron.

More orders for the sale of this ore has been received by the Company than can possibly be accepted, and at a price netting the Company a profit of $2 a ton F. O. B. vessels at Company's docks.

Send for prospectus giving full information as to earnings, reports, etc., etc.

Address all communications and send subscriptions to

COLONIAL SECURITIES CO.,
62 Wall Street, New York City

OR

W. L. MARSTON & COMPANY
110 State Street, Boston

The SAWYER COMPANY.
351 Temple Building, Montreal, Canada.

Corticelli SPOOL SILK

Admitted by dressmakers to be the best sewing silk made. As Corticelli costs you no more than poor silk, why don't you buy it? Ask for "Corticelli" and politely, but firmly, refuse all substitutes, which some clerk may say are just as good.

Corticelli B. A. ASIATIC DYES Wash Silks

IN PATENT HOLDERS.

The colors are fast—the silk the best. Put up in Patent Holders, which prevents waste by tangling or soiling—keeps each shade separate, and automatically measures a correct needleful.

Recommended as the only proper way to put up Filo and Floss Silks, and used by art societies everywhere. Over 400 different shades of silk to select from.

Corticelli .....Skirt..... Protector

Peculiar Wearing Qualities and Perfectly Straight Selvage.

Corticelli Skirt Protector is of firm and even texture. When soiled a sponge or brush makes it clean again, and no damage done. Corticelli Skirt Protector is a great favorite with fashionable and careful dressers.

☞ If you are not already a subscriber to Corticelli Home Needlework Magazine, become one now. Full information on application to Corticelli Silk Company, St. Johns, P. Q., or any other Corticelli office.

Anecdotal.

On one occasion Governor "Dick" Oglesby of Illinois went down to Joliet to inspect the State prison, and in one of the cells he found a very ugly man. "How did you get in here?" asked Oglesby. "Abduction," was the reply; "I tried to run off with a girl, and they caught me." "I'll pardon you as soon as I get back to Springfield," said the governor; "I don't see how you could expect to get a wife in any other way."

When he was plain Professor Thompson, Lord Kelvin invented the mirror galvanometer and siphon recorder, which made submarine telegraphy commercially practicable. It is related that one day when he was engaged on his deep-sea soundings work, he was discovered by a visitor experimenting with a long coil of wire. "What is that for?" enquired the visitor, pointing to the wire. "Making sounds," replied the professor. "Ah," said the guest, jocularly, "what kind of note does it give off?" "The deep C, of course," came the answer, like a shot, accompanied by the well-known twinkle in the professor's eye.

Not many years ago there was a veteran teacher in an Ontario high school who often made his classes wince under the lash of his bitter sarcasm and ready wit. One day a little half-starved yellow cur strayed into the school and the boys thought they saw a chance to express their feelings toward "Fussy," who was temporarily absent from the room. The frightened mongrel was picked up, fitted with a pair of spectacles and tied yelping on the teacher's chair. "Fussy" entered the room, walked to the desk, calmly surveyed the work of his pupils, and then turning to them said pleasantly: "In my absence, I see you have held a business meeting and elected one of your number chairman."

The late Professor Blackie, who was familiar to everyone in the streets of Edinburgh, had long, venerable, white locks. He was one day accosted by a very dirty little bootblack, with his "Clean your boots, sir?" The professor was impressed by the grime on the boy's face. "I don't want my boots cleaned, my lad," said he, "but if you'll go and wash your face I'll give you sixpence." "A' richt, sir!" was the boy's reply. Then he went over to a neighboring fountain and fulfilled his part of the bargain. When he returned he held out his hand for the money. "Well, my lad," said the professor, "you have earned your sixpence. Here it is." "I dinna want it," replied the boy, with a self-important air. "Ye can keep it and get your hair cut."

It is scarcely credible that so faithful a servant and so good a courtier as John Brown of Balmoral could ever deliberately have kept his sovereign waiting, but the London "Tatler" relates an anecdote which shows that he had a very human side. Brown was very fond of fishing, and one day, when he had a fine salmon on his hook, there came a message from the castle on Deeside, desiring his presence at once. Queen Victoria was going for her afternoon drive, and it was Brown's duty to attend her, as he always did, sitting in the rumble of the carriage. "Tell Her Majesty that I'll be quickly," he said. But the salmon was strong and could not be landed at once. Another and more urgent message reached him. "Tell Her Majesty that I have a salmon on, but I'll be in in a few minutes." Still the salmon held out, and a third and imperative command arrived. "Tell Her Majesty," shouted Brown, "that it's not possible for me to leave without the salmon!" Nor did he. But whether the Queen knew enough of fishing and fishermen to appreciate the circumstances is not told.

The Original Mr. Squeers.

THE thoughtlessness of writers in caricaturing people for grotesque purposes in their novels has been the cause of much annoyance and suffering to sensitive persons. Both Dickens and Thackeray sinned in this respect through their perfectly evident portraiture of persons who could easily be identified.

A writer in the "Literary Era," after citing the offences of Thackeray, Disraeli and others, brings up the notable case of the schoolmaster in "Nicholas Nickleby," and says:

The grossest injury which Dickens ever inflicted on a fellow-being was his too accurate portrait of an innocent man in his Squeers. That Yorkshire schoolmasters were, as a rule, cruel and wicked enough, it is true. But the particular schoolmaster, who was recognized and who recognized himself as the original Squeers, seems to have been an exception to the rule.

It will be remembered that Dickens and his illustrator traveled together to the north of England for the purpose of collecting material for "Nickleby," and especially for the Dotheboys episode. At Great Bridge they visited a boarding-school known as Bowes Academy. The master, William Shaw, received the strangers with some hauteur, and did not as much as withdraw his eyes from the operation of pen-making during the interview.

"Phiz" sketched him in the act. "Boz" described the act. The personal peculiarities of William Shaw were recognized in Squeers. Shaw became a butt of popular ridicule, lost his pupils, and finally died of a broken heart. Yet there is abundant evidence to prove that he was a really excellent and kind-hearted man, who was made to suffer for the misdeeds of his neighbors.

A Pretty Broad Hint.

AN anecdote is told of one of the smaller South American republics which illustrates the methods which are adopted when it comes to a question of making war. The "navy" of the particular power referred to consists of a single, old-fashioned, side-wheel steamer, armed with one gun. In time of peace she is engaged in hauling freight up and down the river which runs close to the capital. At the outbreak of one of the periodical wars, not so very long ago, the president of the republic took charge of the steamer and started up stream on a recruiting expedition, leaving his senior general in charge of the military preparations at the capital. A couple of days later the steamer returned, and some seventy miserable-looking natives, each firmly bound with a strong rope, were marched off and turned over to the general, with a note from the president, which read: "Dear General—I send you herewith seventy volunteers. Please return the ropes at once."

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

SUPERIOR FLOOR COVERING

The best is always the cheapest—even though the cost be a little more—much cheaper when the cost is no more than for the inferior grades.

"Nairns" name marked on Linoleum, places it as "BEST"—it costs no more than the other kind.

Years of merchandising have given us ample time to try all makes.

This test has proven conclusively the "Nairn" superiority in every way.

Giving greatest satisfaction to our customers and strengthening our reputation for "BEST AT LOWEST CASH PRICES."

The new patterns are here—direct from the factory in Scotland—in latest spring designs varied to suit every purpose and taste.

If you buy—buy the best—buy "Nairns."

—"Nairns" Scotch Linoleum 4 yds. wide, per sq. yard 50c to $1.12
—"Nairns" Inlaid Linoleum, pattern cannot wear off, per sq. yard $1.25
—New designs in Oilcloth, 2 yds. wide, per sq. yard 25c to 35c

NEGLIGE SHIRTS

The Neglige Shirt man will soon be the most comfortable. Are you prepared to join this class? If not our assortment holds all that is necessary to qualify you for admission.

We like to do a little better each season if possible and aim at larger assortments—newest designs and better values.

Your opinion will be appreciated on our Neglige assortment—we think it our best effort yet.

—Men's fine white Tussore Matting soft Neglige Shirt with fine pearl buttons, ... $1.00
—Men's Fine Gingham Shirts, dark medium and light shades—fast colors $1.00

BOY'S SWEATERS

For Summer nothing answers the boy for all round use like a sweater.

Made in the neat styles such as we are now showing in our Furnishing Department they combine good appearance with their wearing qualities which makes them more than ever desirable.

We are always looking out for the boys and have this season a larger and better assortment of these than ever before—better in choice and quality.

—A better Sweater than you would expect for 50c
—Finer Grades in plain and fancy designs to $1.50

ECONOMY AND COMFORT

The comfort obtained and money saved by the use of summer clothing is making this style of Ready-to-Wear goods more popular each season with the men.

By purchasing one of our inexpensive Stylish Flannel or light weight Tweed suits for the hot and dusty weather you will not find the summer as trying and will easily save the cost by relief of your better garments.

You will be pleased with the small prices we are asking for "correct" summer suits. See our window.

—Men's Grey and Navy Flannel Suits with neat stripes—desirable in every way, Norfolk or Sack styles, ... $5.00 to $7.00
—Men's Fine Norfolk Outing Suit of fine Halifax Tweed $6.50
—Odd Coats in Lustre, Flannel and Serge—Navy, Black and Grey—plain and striped .... 75c to $4.95
—Odd Trousers in newest flannel styles .... $1.75 to $2.50

GINGHAMS

"WASH GOODS" is probably your present problem.

A look at this line of pretty and inexpensive Ginghams we have just opened might be a timely help to you.

Neat stripes in all newest colors—fast—every pattern desirable.

—Neat stripes in Fast Color Gingham, Green, Blue, Red, Pink .... 15c yd.
—New White Mercerized Cotton Cheviot—latest for waists—28 in. wide 35c
—Fancy open work white Pique Vesting, 28 in. 30c

LISLE GLOVES

Popular for their durable qualities, Lisle Gloves hold an important part in our stock for summer wear.

New arrivals place the assortment in the complete stage. Of course it will not stay there long, so to be sure of your size you had best come as early as possible.

Also a full line of Silk and Taffeta Gloves.

—Ladies' Lace or plain Lisle Gloves in Grey, Mode, White and Black shades, ... 15c to 50c
—Silk, qualities plain and colored, ... 25c to 75c

APPLIQUES

Ladies will be pleased to hear that we have obtained a new and desirable supply of the scarce Medallion Applique.

These are in squares and circular sections and are among the prettiest we have shown this season.

They will go quickly—to get a choice you will need to come at once.

—New Medallion trimming up to $2.00

Agents for Standard Patterns.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

CLOTHING BOUGHT HERE PRESSED FREE OF CHARGE

SUITS FOR MEN

The Entirely Different Sorts.

Not satisfied with equaling in style, fit and excellence of workmanship the made-to-measure garments the best tailors produce, our makers are now fashioning their suits from the same fabrics which have heretofore been exclusive with the Custom Tailors.

Our showing of these suits is very extensive.

They are suits that the average man wants—they give him the style and exclusiveness he seeks without the extra cost of the tailors.

Even the most expert criticism will fail to discover that these suits were not custom made.

The broad showing we make including as it does every size for men of different propotions practically assures a perfect fit for every man.

But in some cases an exact fit cannot be secured immediately and then we do as the tailors would do at a try on—make the necessary alterations that would secure perfection of fit.

Fancy mixed cashmeres—neat effects in Cheviots—three and four button sack styles including the new straight front.

$6.50 to $15.00

And by the way you can better judge the unassailable quality of these suits if you'll do a little comparing.

Top Coats $5.00 to $12.00

CHRISTYS LONDON

NEW SPRING HATS

All the latest American and English styles, see our celebrated Christys' Hats at $1.00

Christys' Hats

QUICK & ROBERTSON

Exclusive Agents for Johnston's Famous Clothing for Men and Boys.

Just What You Need

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets

When you feel dull after eating.
When you have no appetite.
When you have a bad taste in the mouth.
When your liver is torpid.
When your bowels are constipated.
When you have a headache.
When you feel bilious.

They will improve your appetite, cleanse and invigorate your stomach and regulate your liver and bowels. 25c.; all druggists.

Specials in Millinery

Sale of Sailor Hats.

We bought too many.
15 doz. cleared at
HALF PRICE.
White and Colored.
ALL NEW.

Also some very choice Dress Hats just received.

GET FIRST CHOICE.

MISS IRWIN

Millinery and Corset Specialist

SPECIALTIES

Nurses' Red Cross Chatelaine, 6 pieces.
Hypodermic Syringes from $1.25 to $2.50.
Clinical Thermometers from 50c to $1.50 (latter with guarantee certificate.
Medicine measuring glasses, leather cases, 25c each.
Paroubek's Soft Leather Wrist Bands (for golfers and cricketers) 25c.
Paroubek's Leather Finger Pads, laced, 10c each.
Cuticle Knife, ivory handle, 59c.
Nail Scissors 59c.
Ivory and Steel Nail Cleaners 15c
Rubber Sponges 75c to $1.00.
SATURDAY, Special Bargains on Rubber Goods and Paints.

ALEX. RAY

When faith is lost and honor dies the man is lost.—Whittier.

The man who thinks his wife is blind to his faults is entitled to another think.

THE CIRCLE OF GOLD

Fashioned daintily and set with a Pearl, Opal, Turquoise or Diamond, according to choice, that we can sell you for from $5 to $20 will be a revelation.

Quality alone means nothing, beauty of design, fine workmanship, or price mean nothing. But a combination of all these means a great deal, and we shall give them with quality at the high point, and price at the low point ratio. And although this statement applies to rings in particular, it also applies to our entire stock of jewelery.

Angus McFee.
Jeweler & Optician
310 Front St.

Flowers & Vegetables

Of all kinds in season.
...AT...
J. D. COLLIP'S.
'Phone 285.

It takes a long time to tell of what you have not done.

You will drink dirty water if you roil your neighbor's spring.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Advertisements under this heading TWO CENTS A WORD; subsequent consecutive insertions one cent a word. No local charged as less than twenty-five words.

Don't miss the Boys' Brigade entertainment Tuesday evening. 19th inst. Fancy Drills, Girl Bugler. Vocal and instrumental selections. Opera House. Tickets 25 cents. f4-16-18

It helps the hurt when you have an accident if you know you have something to pay expenses with. We furnish the needful when it is worst needed. S. Burrows, Gen'l Agent. City.

Young courage and old caution make a strong pair.

KIDNEY "SIGNALS"

Nature posts her signals all along the line. If the kidneys are faulty she gives the sufferer the sign—and it's an unmistakable one always.

The world owes loyalty to the science which points at life's gravest dangers—and tells her to avert them. South American Kidney Cure is a certain preventative and an unfailing cure for any and all forms of Kidney disease from the most incipient to the most stubborn and deep-seated cases—a liquid specific that never fails. It relieves in six hours. 70

Sold by D. M. Waters.

The turkey does not tell the fox the way to her nest.

Never is time more precious than when some member of the family is attacked by colic, dysentery or any bowel trouble. The doctor is distant but if Perry Davis' Painkiller is near all danger is soon ended.

Those who live in yesterday's wigwam are always a day behind.

If the rattlesnake did not stop to talk he would be ten times more dangerous.

CIVIC COMMITTEES BUSY LAST NIGHT

New Proposition Submitted re the Gas Works—Mr. Noxon Drops Out

Mr. Kirkwood Wants Council to Return $2500 if the Rolling Mills Start

New Water Main to be Laid on Cedar St. —Assessment Matters

At the meeting of the various civic committees, held last evening, the Mayor and all the Aldermen, with the exception of Ald. Panter, were in attendance.

WATERWORKS.

Ald. Galbraith in the chair.

The committee recommended that a 4-inch main be laid on Cedar St., from Henry to Moira Sts. The Manager, Mr. Hulme, was instructed to have the work done by contract. It was also decided to place a hydrant on the corner of Henry and Cedar Sts.

On motion the salary of Engineer McCrudden, at the pump house, was fixed at $42 per month.

The matter of the purchase of a quantity of soft coal for the pump house was left in the hands of the Mayor and the Chairman.

The accounts passed were as follows:

Pay Sheet No. 9	$31.74
Greenleaf & Son	15.00

PUBLIC WORKS.

Ald. Sinclair presided.

The following accounts were passed:

Pay Sheet No. 10	$193.33
Rathbun Co.	23.97
M. Sine	1.00
J. Lafferty	1.00

Damage to the Crusher.

Mayor Graham asked what it would cost to repair the crusher, which had become broken.

Ald. Marsh stated that a new frame could be made. It would cost $250 or $300 to make the necessary repairs.

The matter was allowed to drop for the time being.

Mr. Lazier's Drain.

A communication was read from Mr. N. Lazier, stating that he had put in a drain on Burton street and made proper connection with the ditch. He asked that the city fill in the excavation which had been made.

The Mayor moved that the Street Surveyor be requested to fill the same in provided Mr. Lazier pays 40 per cent. of the cost.—Carried.

Mr. W. H. Deacon asked that a cement crossing be laid across Coleman street in front of his new building.

On motion the request was granted.

The Gas Question.

At this stage of the proceedings a deputation consisting of ex-Mayor Johnson, W. J. Thomson, R. Thomson S. Wood and F. Dolan were introduced. Their visit was in reference to the gas works.

Mr. Johnson stated that a conference had been held between the special committee of the Council, Mr. Noxon, the lessee, and the Gas Company in reference to the gas works. Whilst the company had not been able to secure Mr. Noxon as a lessee, he was pleased to state that one of our citizens, Mr. Frank Dolan, with some others, had a proposition to offer to the Council in reference to the leasing of the works. It was intended to lease the works from the 1st of June of this year for a period of three years, and at the end of that period another lease of 7 years was contemplated. It was intended to extend the system, and an expenditure of at least $3,000 was contemplated. The mortgages amount now to $33,000, and the new lessees ask that the city guarantee the mortgages, amounting to $36,000. They also ask that the assessor be instructed to assess the plant at a nominal sum. The speaker said that Mr. Dolan intended to extend the system and bring fuel gas to as many citizens as possible. The city would be protected in the matter.

In answer to a question as to the probable cost of fuel gas, Mr. Dolan said that he expected to furnish it at about $1.35 per 1000 feet.

Mayor Graham asked if the Council had the right to guarantee the mortgages without first going to the people.

Ald. Chown—"We would have to submit a by-law to the ratepayers to obtain their sanction."

Ald. Marsh asked what was the present assessment of the Gas Company's property.

Mr. Dolan—"$20,000."

Ex-Mayor Johnson said there was considerable machinery there that was obsolete and not used.

Mayor Graham—"Would it be necessary to submit the By-law at once?"

Mr. Johnson said that Mr. Dolan was willing to run the work until the Council took some action and the sanction of the ratepayers was obtained. This should be done as soon as possible.

Ald. Chown thought that there was no disposition on the part of the Council to oppose the scheme.

Ald. Sinclair said the Council were in favor of the proposition. The question of rates for lighting was an important matter to be considered.

Mayor Graham suggested that a by-law be prepared for submission to the people. He moved that the proposition be endorsed by the Council and a by-law be prepared for submission to the ratepayers.

It was decided that the City Solicitor and the solicitor of the Gas Company should meet to prepare a suitable agreement and a by-law, said by-law to fix the maximum rate for gas, the same not to exceed that at present charged.

The proposition was voted upon and carried unanimously and Ald. Pope, Chown and Sulman were appointed to act with the Solicitor in this matter.

The Crusher.

Mr. Robinson, representing the Sawyer-Massey Company, addressed the members in reference to the City purchasing a portable crusher. The price was $1,075 with 50 foot screen. Without the elevator it would be $900.

Ald. Chown—"We are not prepared to buy a crusher to-night."

MARKET.

Ald. Sulman, chairman, presided. The accounts passed were as follows:

Mary Seams	$ 9.00
N. Allen	14.00
W. Blaind	10.50

PARKS.

Ald. Pope, chairman, presided. The accounts passed were as follows:

Rathbun Co.	$ 2.58
E. McGrath	16.20
S. Sheehan	4.00
E. Caton	4.50
Frost	.75

Ald. Pope stated that some trees which had been put out on the West Belleville park were not straight and he did not feel like paying for them.

The matter was left in the chairman's hands.

A communication was read from Messrs. Greenleaf & Sons, asking the Council to allow the starting of a bicycle race from the roadway of the park and the racers to use Dundas street. This would be on May 25.

On motion the prayer of the petition was granted.

The chairman asked what speed was allowed by the by-law for bicyclists using the park road.

Ald. McFee—"Six miles per hour."

Ald. Pope stated that some bicyclists were riding about the roadway around the park at a rapid rate.

The Mayor—"Find out who the guilty parties are and summon them before the Magistrate."

On motion two more lights were ordered to be placed on the roadway leading to the park.

Music on the Park.

On motion the matter of securing the band for concerts on the park was left in the hands of the chairman, the expense not to exceed $200.

LIGHT.

A communication was read from the Trenton Electric Company in reference to complaints as to defective lights. This was the first intimation the Company had received as to any defect. The company suggested that the chairman drive some evening with some of the officials over the city and inspect the lights.

This matter was left in the hands of the chairman.

A petition was presented from a number of ratepayers on John street south, asking for a light on the lower portion of that street.

On motion no action was taken in the matter.

The Crusher.

Ald. McFee said that something had to be done in reference to the crusher. Either we had to buy a new crusher or repair the old one.

Ald. Marsh said he would advise the building of a new frame. It would cost about $250 and about $50 to put it together. The present crusher cost, complete, $850.

Ald. McFee said it would cost $300 to make a new frame and about $100 to move it to the island. We should come to some conclusion in reference to this matter.

Ald. Pope moved that the matter of the crusher be left in the hands of a special committee composed of Ald. Panter, Marsh, Cooper and the Mayor, with power to act.—Carried.

EXECUTIVE.

Ald. Chown, chairman, presided.

The accounts passed were as follows:

Treasurer's disbursement	$ 8.81
T. S. Carman	71.86
J. G. Evans	45.00

Y. M. C. A.'s Taxes.

A communication was read asking the Council to remit the taxes excepting the school taxes on the premises occupied by the Y.M.C.A.

Ald. Pope—"We have no power in this matter."

Ald. Chown—"It is done in other places."

The matter was on motion referred to the Solicitor.

A communication was read from Mr. Michael Kelleher, asking the Council to assist him in securing the necessaries of life, as he was unable to procure them himself.

The matter was referred to the Woman's Christian Association.

A petition was presented for watering Mill street, and the petition was referred to the City Solicitor to prepare a by-law for submission to the Council on Monday evening.

The Rolling Mills.

The following letter addressed to the Mayor was read:

Toronto, May 7th, 1903.

To His Worship Mayor Graham:

I notice by your papers that there is some dispute with the bank and Council about the $2500.

If you and your Council will agree to use the $2500 in paying for coal and scrap that we will order for the mills we will be in a position to operate the rolling mill and nail plant.

We have not fulfilled our agreement in operating the mills on or before April 1st, the reason was because we lost this time in trying everywhere to induce capital to co-operate with us, you know, so that mills would be operated to their full capacity day and night.

We have decided to operate mills with our own capital as far as practicable and will commence as soon as you say that the $2500 can be used by us to pay for the raw material.

If this is agreeable we will ask you to place the money in the Bank of Commerce and arrange with bank to pay it out only for coal, scrap iron or steel and sand until used.

Hoping that this will be done, so as to help us with a proposition that we have faith in, and which is hard to induce capital to believe as the general complaint is the location. If the Council will stand by us we will do our utmost with what capital we have.

Yours,
T. M. KIRKWOOD.

Ald. Pope thought that if the granting of the $2500 to Mr. Kirkwood would mean the operating of the mills the proposition should be favorably considered.

Ald. McFee was opposed to the scheme. The city had acted all through in good faith in this matter and the money had been forfeited.

Ald. Pope said it would cost Mr. Kirkwood some thousands of dollars to operate the mills, and he would be in favor of refunding the $2500.

Ald. Sinclair was convinced that the majority of the citizens would vote to have the money refunded, especially if it would start the mills. A reply might be sent to Mr. Kirkwood to the effect that the money would be refunded when the mills were started.

Ald. Galbraith asked Ald. Sinclair if he had received any communication in reference to the running of the mills.

Ald. Sinclair—"I have not."

Mayor Graham said that he had received a communication from a gentleman in Paris, France, in reference to forming a stock company to operate the mills. The writer suggested that His Worship the Mayor and Sir Mackenzie Bowell be provisional directors of the new company if one was formed. Mr. Kirkwood had been asked by the gentleman to go to Paris in reference to the matter.

Ald. Chown said he understood that Mr. R. Arnott had been requested by Mr. Kirkwood to purchase all the scrap iron he could in this district at $12 per ton.

Ald. Galbraith thought that Mr. Kirkwood meant business and should be encouraged. The communication should be answered in such a way that Mr. Kirkwood would realize that the Council had faith in the undertaking.

Ald. McFee—"Pass a resolution stating that the Council will be prepared to consider the proposition favorably when the mills are started."

Ald. Chown said it was in the jurisdiction of any ratepayer to issue an injunction against the city in reference to the matter.

Ald. Galbraith moved, seconded by Ald. Sulman, That the Mayor be authorized, in reply to Mr. Kirkwood's letter, to inform him that the Council and city have acted in good faith in all matters connected with the contract with him re the rolling mills, and that when the mills are put in operation to the satisfaction of this Council they will be prepared to favorably consider his request for the refund of the $2,500.—Carried.

The G.T.R. Bonus.

The Mayor stated that when Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson was in the city recently he had a conversation with him in reference to the bonus which the city gave the G.T.R. some years ago, part of which was not paid because the company had not carried out their agreement in the matter. The question of making Belleville one of the centres for the manufacturing of cars was discussed with the President and Mr. Norris, another prominent official. He (the Mayor) said there might possibly be something come out of this, especially if the proposed new system was built.

Assessment Matters.

Mayor Graham stated that there was now before the Legislature an Assessment Bill, which, if it should become law, would affect this city. It was proposed to appoint an assessment commission of three parties, whose duty it would be to assess railways, telegraph, telephone and other such companies. The expenses of the commissioners are taken out of the tax, a proportion goes to the Government and the municipality gets the balance. Where Belleville gets to-day $2,500 from these corporations, under the new system we would probably get $500. It seemed to him an unjust weapon in the hands of any Government and municipalities should protest against it.

As to what action should be taken in the matter was left to be decided by a special committee, composed of the Mayor, Ald. Chown, Galbraith and Pope.

The committees then adjourned.

The wise are polite all the world over; fools are polite only at home.—Bacon.

Half-Sick If you feel run down, are easily tired, if your nerves are weak and your blood is thin, then begin to take the good old standard family medicine, Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If constipated, use Ayer's Pills. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

Sports and Pastimes

SPORTING COMMENT.

Representatives of the clubs in District 12 of the C.L.A. met in Port Hope yesterday afternoon, and Belleville's representative, Mr. J. S. Winchester hands us the following summary of what was done. The Campbellford club withdrew, leaving six clubs in the district, namely, Belleville, Peterboro Athletics, Peterboro T.A.S., Hastings, Oshawa II. and Port Hope II. The six clubs were formed into two groups, made up as follows: Group A, Belleville, Hastings and Peterboro Athletics. Group B, Peterboro T.A.S., Oshawa II. and Port Hope II.

Following is the schedule for Group A.:

June 3.—Belleville at Hastings.
June 17—Belleville at Peterboro.
July 1.—Hastings at Belleville.
July 13—Peterboro at Hastings.
July 22—Peterboro at Belleville.
Aug. 5—Hastings at Peterboro.

The winners of group A will play home and home games with the winners of group B, the last game to be played not later than August 15.

It will be noticed that "Winnie" did not get the short end of the schedule. Both Belleville's home games are on Wednesday, the first on Dominion Day and the other on a half-holiday. They should both draw good gates.

The colors of the various clubs are: Belleville, red and white; Oshawa, green and white; Port Hope, old gold and black; Peterboro Athletics, light blue and white, Hastings, navy blue and white; Peterboro T.A.S., red and black.

It will be noted that there is only a little over two weeks before Belleville plays its first league game, and it behooves all prospective players to get down to consistent practise. The regular practices will start on Monday evening next, on the old Cricket field.

The Life Giving Virtues of

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Rescued a Lady Who Was Drawing Near the Grave

THE LIFE-BUILDING MEDICINE THAT WIVES AND MOTHERS NEED IN MAY.

Paine's Celery Compound does a wondrous work for sick and half-dead women in May. The conditions of winter have been detrimental to the health of women and girls everywhere; they have declined in nervous vigor, the blood is reeking with impurities, the excretory organs do not perform their work, and the digestive machinery is sadly out of gear. The human machine must be cleansed repaired and strengthened in May. Paine's Celery Compound does the work surprisingly fast, and gives a guarantee of permanent health and long life. It is the one spring medicine that truly nourishes, regulates and invigorates the entire nervous system from the brain to the minutest nerve filament. It gives a full, rich supply of energizing blood, it clears the muddy, unhealthy skin, it gives an increase in weight, and more refreshing sleep. Whatever be your condition, unhappy sufferer, we give you a blessed assurance of a new and lasting health through the use of Paine's Celery Compound. Mrs. Flora S. Brantley, Levis, P.Q., writes thus:—

"Eighteen months ago I was terribly afflicted with daily headaches and was despondent, nervous and weak. Medical assistance and patent medicines failed to bring me relief. My sufferings increased, and I was told I would not get better again. I was suffering so much that I was satisfied to die if it was God's will. A neighbor kindly suggested the use of Paine's Celery Compound, and to please her, I consented to try it. The first few doses seemed to send a feeling of new life into my blood, and I went on using the compound. I have taken five bottles and can honestly say I am fully cured. I am sleeping well, appetite in good condition, getting back lost flesh, and feel as active as a girl of fifteen. I think my cure is a permanent one. I thank God for Paine's Celery Compound it saved my life to my husband and children."

Doing good is the only certainly happy action of a man's life.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

SEE OUR

BORSALINO

HIGH GRADE ITALIAN SOFT HATS.

S. A. HYMAN & CO.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

HOSIERY FOR SATURDAY NIGHT.

We have just made a very fortunate purchase in

Ladies' Fancy French Lace Lisle Hosiery.

348 pairs of as good hose as was ever retailed at 50c a pair.

Every pair stamped Pure Lisle Thread.

OUR PRICE

Saturday Evening for these goods will be

15c a pair.

On Sale 7.30 Saturday Evening

Laidlaw & Ketcheson

DIRECT IMPORTS

Daily Intelligencer.

THE INTELLIGENCER IS SOLD AT
J. W. London's and G. Wardhaugh's.

Local Reading Advertisements.
words 50 cents; 2 cents per word first insertion,
per word subsequent consecutive insertions.
Headlines count as 12 words; contracts for ing periods made at office

Two New Things In Corn Confectionery

Krinkle Korn and Saratoga Corn
Each 20 cents lb.

We also have fresh
POPCORN CRISP FRITTERS, 5c a pkg.

CHAS. S. CLAPP

RUBBER GOODS.

Our Line of Rubber Goods is Very Complete.

They are one of the lines that have special attention here, and there are few lines that need it more. When you need Syringes, Water Bottles, Ice Bags, Air Cushions, Atomizers, Elastic Stockings, Bandages or any item of Sick-Room Supplies, remember this is the Store that always has it—and the quality and price is right.

McKeown's DRUG STORE

NEW SPRING GOODS

LATEST DESIGNS IN
SPRING TROUSERING.

Spring Overcoating. A nice Line of Waterproof Overcoating, Tweeds and Serges at reasonable prices by the yard.

Call and inspect my stock before ordering your Spring Clothing.

ARTHUR McGIE,
Merchant Tailor.
Front Street.

A long portage makes a heavy canoe.

Sterling Silver and Cut Glass.

Particular attention is directed to my stock of the above goods, which at present is most attractive. I handle the renowned Gorham Silver and Hawkes Cut Glass Ware, being sole agent for this city. These are the best and prices are moderate.

T. BLACKBURN.

Hammocks

$2.50, $2.00, $1.25, $1.00, 75c

Croquet Sets

4, 6 and 8 Ball, 85c, $1.10, $1.25

GO CARTS—all kinds,
SMALL WAGGONS
80c, $1.00, $1 25, $1.50, $2.00

PATENT MEDICINES—all at the lowest possible prices

McINTOSH BROS.

CARNEGIE'S DREAM.

An Anglo-Saxon Union to Rule the World in Peace.

Sydney, N. S., May 16.—Mayor Richardson received the following cablegram from Andrew Carnegie yesterday morning:

"London, May 15.—Mayor Sydney: I am very sorry that a few detached words should have given offence. The word 'Mirage' was used in replying to the question as to whether Sydney's operations menaced the United States lead in steel production. I had no reference in my remarks to your patriotic efforts to develop your resources, in which I wish you abundant success. My wish is to restore union of North America and Great Britain instead of making two separate divisions. We would then rule the world in peace. If you come to Skibo Castle I could convert you sure. Meanwhile pray accept my expressions of deep regret at anything offensive that may have arisen.

(Signed) "Carnegie."

The Mayor sent the following reply: "Andrew Carnegie, Skibo Castle.—Your explanations are satisfactory. Canada is a young nation, but is impressing the world. Sydney's future is bright beyond peradventure. (Signed) A. W. Richardson."

Conservatives Retain Seat.

London, May 16.—The bye-election held yesterday at Preston to fill the seat in the House of Commons made vacant by the death April 28 of Robert W. Hanbury, Conservative, resulted in Mr. J. Kerr, the Conservative candidate, defeating Mr. J. Hodge, labor candidate, by a majority of 2,149.

Manslaughter Dismissed.

Bracebridge, May 16. — The four young men, Edward Hunter, Samuel Burley, Albert Laking and Edward Dunn, found guilty of the manslaughter of Robert Johnston, were dismissed yesterday morning by Judge Britton on suspended sentence.

Drowned in Lumber Slide.

Ottawa, May 16.—Fred Dagenais of Hull, aged 13 years, was drowned in one of the Chaudiere Lumber slides yesterday morninge. He was playing tag in the bulk-head building and fell through, the stop log opening in the floor.

Economy and Better Health

Malt Breakfast Food

A TRUE NOURISHER AND NOT A FAD.

One package of Malt Breakfast Food costing 15 cents will make as many meals for the family as can be obtained from three packages of any of the ready-to-eat fad foods put up in bulky containers, which have more weight in cardboard than in food. A still stronger point than the economical one, is the fact that Malt Breakfast Food is the most nourishing, most appetizing and most easily digested of all breakfast foods. Thousands of physicians who have watched results obtained from use of Malt Breakfast Food, recommend it with pleasure and great satisfaction as a diet for dyspeptics, and maintain that it has no equal for keeping well people strong and hearty. Your Grocer can recommend Malt Breakfast Food with confidence.

GARDEN HOSE

We have two specials in Garden Hose which we will sell while our stock lasts at 8 & 10c

A FOOT.

This is extra good quality for the price and it is already moving rapidly.

The W. W. CHOWN Company Limited

Anecdotal.

It is related that once, when a captain in the army was cornered by the enemy, he addressed his men as follows: "My men, fight like demons until your powder gives out, then run. I'm a little lame, I'll start now."

An English rector on coming into a new parish, asked the clerk if there were any Puseyites (followers of Dr. Pusey, a high churchman) in the community. "No, sir," replied the clerk; "there used to be some, but for the last two years the boys have took all their eggs."

Mark Twain was recently chaffing Sir Wemyss Reid on the vagaries of English pronunciation. "You spell a name B-e-a-u-c-h-a-m-p, and pronounce it Marchbanks," he said. "And you do precisely the same thing," replied Sir Wemyss. "What do you mean?" asked Mark Twain. "Well, you spell your name C-l-e-m-e-n-s, and you pronounce it Twain."

An error of a new clerk in the mailing department of an English publishing house was responsible the other day for the mailing of a prospectus to a world-famous statesman, who had been dead for some years. The letter was returned a few days later, with the following endorsement: "In Heaven, ——, 1901. Gentlemen: As your publications are not permitted to circulate here, I believe it would be useless for me to subscribe for them. Yours respectfully," and here followed the name of the famous statesman.

When asked what he thought of a certain captain who frequented the Essex links, a Scotch caddie said: "Weel, sir, he's a verra nice gentleman an' a good gaufer, but he's awfu' nerra—awfu' nerra." "Narrow! What do you mean, Donald?" "Weel, sir, it wis this way. Efter the game was ower, and I had carried his clubs up tae the house, he says: 'Donald, will ye hae a draw?' and I said: 'I do be verra pleased,' so he gets the bottle, an' he pourin' awa' intae a glass, an' I wantin' tae be genteel, says: 'Stop! stop'—an' he stopped."

What to do with Jefferson Davis should he be captured, was a problem that puzzled Lincoln's Cabinet not a little. In speaking of it to General Grant one day, the President remarked: "There was once an Irishman who had signed the Father Mathew temperance pledge. Going into a saloon to get a glass of lemonade to quench his thirst, he leaned over and whispered to the barkeeper: 'And couldn't you put a little brandy in it unbeknownst to mesilf?' So," continued Mr. Lincoln, "let Davis escape all unbeknown to yourself if you can."

L. R. Stockwell, the popular actor, says that some years ago in San Francisco, when Peter Jackson, the colored pugilist, was a feature in a revival of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Bill" Nye was to have lectured at the Baldwin Theater, but was greeted by so small an audience that he excused himself and went over to hear Jackson talking of the pearly gates to Little Eva. After the performance Stockwell met Nye in the lobby of the theater, and he exclaimed: "Hello, Nye! What did you think of Peter?" "Well," responded the humorist, dryly, "anatomically he was great, but Uncle Tomically he is the worst I ever saw."

Dr. Varnadoe, a noted professor of Greek, is very fond of flowers, and some days ago, on returning from his college duties, he found in his front yard a pestiferous calf belonging to a neighbor. The doctor gave chase, and the animal plunged toward the flower-pit, and in another instant crashed through the glass cover and mixed at random with the pots and plants below. When another professor passed a few minutes later, he said, gravely: "I do not understand, Dr. Varnadoe, why you should object so seriously to having a modest cowslip added to your fine collection of plants." The doctor's frowning face relaxed. "Ah, Sanborn," he retorted, "you see, this was only a worthless bulrush."

Not long ago a tourist in New Orleans went to see the statue of Andrew Jackson in that city, on the pedestal of which is inscribed, "United We Stand; Divided We Fall." Seeing an old colored man standing by, he asked, "Uncle, did that inscription stay there all during the Civil War?" "No, sah," responded the old uncle, "hit didn't stay dar endurin' de wah. In de fust place, dem letters was standin' out laik dey was plastered on. Den de wah bust loose, and de Confed'rate gin'ral down yere, he tuk a chisel and cut dem letters off smooth. Den ol' Gin'ral Butler, he come erlong wid his Union sojers, an' he tuk a chisel an' cut dem in deep, laik dey is now. An', Lordy, how de folks down yere did sw'ar when ol' Gin'ral Butler brush de dus' off'n his clothes an' git up from his wu'k an' say, 'I'se a-gwine to hang de fus' Johnny Reb what cuts dem letters off ag'in.'"

When the late President of the United States and party went west not many months before he was shot, Mrs. McKinley, it will be remembered, went too. While talking one day with Mr. Scott, the man who built the battleship "Oregon," relates a writer in the Boston "Journal," Mrs. McKinley said: "Oh, do you play cribbage, Mr. Scott?" "Yes," was the great shipbuilder's answer. "Well, so do I," said Mrs. McKinley. "I wish you would play a game with me." "I should be delighted to do so," was the reply. Later, as President McKinley and Mr. Scott were looking over the latter's big plant, Mrs. McKinley not being present, the President said: "Oh, by the way, Mr. Scott, didn't I hear you and Mrs. McKinley arranging to play cribbage some time?" "Yes," said Mr. Scott, "we are going to play." "Well, what kind of a player are you?" asked the President. "Oh, pretty fair, I guess; I play a pretty good game." "Well, so do I," said Mr. McKinley. "But, do you know, it may seem strange, but it is a fact, that I have never been able to play well enough to beat Mrs. McKinley." As he said this he looked at Mr. Scott with a significant smile. Their eyes met. It was enough. Mr. Scott understood, and it was safe to say that he did not beat Mrs. McKinley.

A Great Whispering Gallery.

With the increase of cable, telegraph and telephone communication, and especially with the introduction of the marvels of wireless telegraphy, the world has been converted into a huge whispering gallery.—"Herald," Sydney.

Artist—I guess I'll make it a half-nude. Model—Which shall I put on—my ball dress or my bathing suit?—

THE MARKETS.

Grain Markets Are Firm—Liverpool Wheat and Corn Higher—Live Stock Markets—The Latest Quotations.

Friday Evening, May 15.

Liverpool wheat futures closed ¼d higher to-day than yesterday, and corn futures ⅛d to ⅜d higher.

At Chicago to-day July wheat closed ⅛c higher than yesterday, July corn ¼c higher, and July oats ⅜c higher.

LEADING WHEAT MARKETS.

Following are the closing quotations at important wheat centres to-day:

	Cash.	May.	July.	Sept.
New York	....	....	78¼	75⅝
Chicago	....	78⅝	72½	70⅜
Toledo	76	76	72½	....
Duluth, No. 1 N.	78½	78⅝	77⅝	70⅝

TORONTO ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Grain—

Wheat, red, bush	$0 74 to $....
Wheat, white, bush	0 74½	....
Wheat, spring, bush	0 72	....
Wheat, goose, bush	0 67	....
Barley, bush	0 42	0 45
Beans, bush	1 30	1 50
Beans, hand picked	1 75	....
Peas, bush	0 78½	....
Rye, bush	0 42	....
Oats, bush	0 35½	0 36
Buckwheat, per bushel ...	0 43	....

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Firmer for Cattle and Easier for Sheep.

London, May 15.—Live cattle firmer at 12c to 13c per lb. for American steers, dressed weight; Canadian steers, 11½c to 12½c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9c to 9½c per lb. Sheep, 13c to 14c, dressed weight.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock were 64 carloads, composed of 1113 cattle, 448 hogs, 361 sheep and lambs, with 106 calves.

Exporters—Best loads of exporters sold at $5 to $5.20 per cwt., medium to good at $4 to $4.25 per cwt.; good bulls sold at $3.50 about $4.80 to $4.90.

Export Bulls—Choice quality bulls sold at $4 to $4.25 per cwt.; good bulls sold at $3.50 to $3.85 per cwt.

Export Cows—Export cows sold at $4.00 to $4.25 per cwt.

Butchers' Cattle—Choice picked lots of butchers, weighing from 1125 to 1200 lbs. each, equal in quality to best exporters, sold at $4.65 to $4.80; picked lots for local use sold at $4.35 to $4.60; loads of good sold at $4.50 to $4.65; fair to medium, $4.25 to $4.45; common, $3.65 to $3.75; rough to inferior, $3.40 to $3.60 per cwt.

Short-keep Feeders—Good steers, 1100 to 1300 lbs. each, are worth $4.80 to $5.05 per cwt.

Feeders—Steers of good quality, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, are worth $4.00 to $4.50 per cwt.

Stockers—One year to two-year-old steers, 400 to 700 lbs. each, are worth $3.60 to $4 per cwt.; off-colors and of poor breeding quality of same weights are worth $3 to $3.25 per cwt.

Milch Cows—Milch cows and springers are worth $30 to $60 each.

Calves—Calves sold at $2 to $10 each, or from $4.50 to $5.50 per cwt.

Yearling Lambs—Lambs sold at $5 to $6.00 per cwt.

Sheep—Prices, $4.25 to $5 per cwt. for ewes, and bucks at $3.25 to $4.

Hogs—Best select bacon hogs, not less than 160 lbs., nor more than 200 lbs. each, off cars, sold at $6.10 per cwt.; lights and fats at $5.85; sows, $4 to $4.50 per cwt., and stags $2 to $3 per cwt.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, May 15.—Cattle—Receipts light, steady.

Veals—Receipts, 1375 head; steady; tops, $6.75 to $7; common to good, $4.50 to $6.70.

Hogs—Receipts, 6800 head; pigs steady; others 5c to 10c lower; heavy, $6.70 to $6.80; a few $6.85; mixed, $6.70 to $6.75; Yorkers, $6.55 to $6.65; pigs, $6.70 to $6.75; roughs, $5.65 to $5.85; stags, $4.50 to $5.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 13,700 head; steady; top lambs, $7.25 to $7.40; culls to good, $4.50 to $7.15; yearlings, $5.50 to $6.25; ewes, $4.75 to $5. Sheep, top mixed, $5 to $5.25; culls to good, $2 to $4.90.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.

New York, May 15.—Beeves—Receipts, 4374; steady; common to choice steers, $4.55 to $5.45; distillery fed, $5 to $5.10; bulls, $3.60 to $4; cows, $2 to $4. Exports to-morrow, 1207 cattle and 3300 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 368; active; firm to 25c higher. Veals, $5 to $7.50; buttermilks, $3.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 5380; sheep 15c to 25c lower; lambs 15c to 35c lower; spring lambs firm; common to prime sheep, $3.25 to $5.50; lambs, $6.25 to $7.25; spring lambs, $9.

Hogs—Receipts, 2831; state hogs, $6.85; rough, mixed western do., $6.10.

BASEBALL THURSDAY.

The Eastern League.

Toronto	1 1 0 2 1 1 2 1 0	—9
Worcester	0 2 0 2 0 1 0 0 0	—5

Home run—Rickert. Three-base hits—Kuhns 2, Toft. Two-base hit—Golden. Sacrifice hits—Miller, Carr. Stolen bases—Wrigley, Delehanty. Struck out—By Briggs 7 (Steelman 3, Dupee, Rickert 3; by McFall 2 (Miller, Briggs). Hit by pitcher—Downey. Passes on balls—Off McFall 3 (Miller, White, Toft). Double play—Delehanty to Madison to McAuley. Left on bases—Toronto 9, Worcester 6. Umpire—Kelly.

Baltimore	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—	0	4	4
Jersey City ...	0 0 1 0 0 0 3 0 1—	7	16	1

Batteries—Souders and Robinson; Barnett and McManus. Umpire—Latham. Attendance—1025.

		R.	H.	E.
Buffalo	0 0 2 0 0 1 0 0 1—	4	7	2
Providence	0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 1—	3	8	1

Batteries—Atherton and Shaw; Yerkes and Diggins. Umpire—Shannon. Attendance—3972.

		R.	H.	E.
Rochester	0 2 0 2 1 0 2 0 x—	7	10	6
Newark	0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0—	2	10	3

Batteries—McAleese and Lilly; Hesterfer and Shea—Umpire—Brown. Attendance—506.

National League Scores.

At Boston—		R.	H.	E.
Boston	4 2 0 2 2 0 0 0 x—	10	9	1
St. Louis	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—	0	6	4

Batteries—Malarkey, Moran and Kittredge; Hackett and Weaver. Umpire—Moran. Attendance—2519.

At New York—		R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	0 0 0 0 2 0 0 1 2—	5	8	2
New York	1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 2—	4	12	2

Batteries—Suthoff and Bergen; McGinnity and Warner. Umpire—O'Day. Attendance—7135.

At Philadelphia—		R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	5 0 0 0 2 1 5 0 0—	13	18	5
Philadelphia ..	0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1—	2	9	7

Batteries—Leever and Smith; McLaughlin, Dooin and Zimmer. Umpire—Johnston. Attendance—2044.

At Brooklyn—		R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	0 2 1 0 0 0 0 0 1—	4	9	2
Chicago	0 0 3 2 0 0 2 0 0—	7	11	1

Batteries—Garvin, Evans and Ahern; Taylor and Kling. Umpire—Emslie. Attendance—2000.

American League Results.

At Detroit—		R.	H.	E.
Boston	1 0 1 3 0 0 0 1 0—	6	10	2
Detroit	3 1 2 0 0 1 0 1 x—	8	15	3

Batteries—Hughes and Smith; Kitson and Buelow. Umpire—O'Loughlin. Attendance—4298.

At Chicago—		R.	H.	E.
Chicago	1 1 0 4 0 0 0 1 x—	7	13	2
Washington ...	0 0 0 1 0 2 1 0 0—	4	6	2

Batteries—Dunkle and Sullivan; Townsend, Lee and Drill. Umpires—Hassett and Carruthers. Attendance—2875.

At Cleveland—		R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	0 0 1 0 1 3 0 0 x—	5	7	3
New York	0 0 0 1 1 1 0 0 0—	3	9	2

Batteries—Wright and Bemis; Tannehill and O'Connor. Umpire—Connolly. Attendance—2870.

At St. Louis—		R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—	2	7	0
Philadelphia ..	0 0 0 2 0 1 1 0 0—	4	11	2

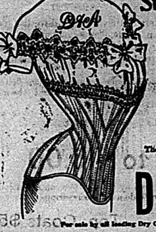
Batteries—Sievers and Kahoe; Waddell and Schreck. Umpire—Sheridan. Attendance—1400.

Copenhagen, May 16.—Henrik Ibsen, the Norwegian dramatist, is again seriously ill.

Are You a Japan Tea Drinker?
If so, ask your grocer for

"SALADA"

Ceylon GREEN Tea. It is absolutely pure and far more delicious than Japans. It will displace Japans just as "SALADA" Black is displacing all other blacks. Sold in sealed lead packets only. 25c and 40c per lb. By all grocers.



This Long Hip Straight Front

Is the very latest Corset. The extra pieces at the side, cover and fit the hips with perfect smoothness, rounding off the lines into an exquisite curve. In no other makes of Corsets will you find this very latest Paris model.

The new tight skirts demand that you wear it.

These are the numbers and prices:

D&A

310 LONG HIP, $1.25
425 DIP HIP, - 1.00
110 DIP HIP, - 1.00
208 DIP HIP, - 1.00
CREST - - - 1.25

For sale by all leading Dry Goods Houses.

Goods for Summer Wear

The warm weather is at last here and now is the time for muslins, and Summer goods. You will do well to see our goods before buying.

Muslins

In these you will find the very best quality of goods, latest styles, fancy patterns ranging in prices from 10c to 25c a yard.

Valenciennes Laces

Never before have we had such a variety in laces as this season, both in Valenciennes and Torchons with insertions to match.

Linen Batiste

Come in and see our linen batiste goods in plain and fancy stripes 15c, 20c a yd.

Blouses

We would again remind you of the large assortment of White Blouses we have, in prices from 75c to $1.35, also our Black Mercerized Blouses from 75c to $1.75.

NATHAN JONES.

The Finnegan Carriage & Wagon Co.

—FOR—

Stylish and Durable Turnouts.

—Surreys
—Corning Buggies
—Piano Box Buggies
—Rubber Tire Buggies
—Micadoes

—Phaetons
—Bike Buggies
—Democrats
—Grocer Wagons
—Butcher Wagons

Cheese Factory Milk Wagons.
Steel Tubular Axle Lumber Wagons.

Rubber Tires put on your old wheels at reasonable prices.

Mill St, - - Belleville.

For pure blood, a bright eye, a clear complexion, a keen appetite, a good digestion and refreshing sleep, TAKE

BRISTOL'S Sarsaparilla

It arouses the Liver, quickens the circulation, brightens the spirits and generally improves the health.

Sixty-eight years trial have proved it to be, the most reliable BLOOD purifier known.

All druggists sell "BRISTOL'S."

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL — LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL — CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 37. BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, MONDAY, MAY 18, 1903 NO. 15

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE IVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

Flimsy Frame Houses.

Ottawa, May 18.—Rev. Father Whelan, in St. Patrick's Church yesterday, delivered a stirring sermon on the big fire of last Sunday. While admitting that the lumber piles were a menace, he scored the City Council for allowing the erection of flimsy frame houses in the city.

Wants Papers Returned.

Albany, May 18.—Roland B. Molineux, acquitted after two trials for murder, now demands of the State Prison Department the return of his photographs, Bertillon measurements and other personal records.

Raised Insurance Rates.

Ottawa, May 18.—The insurance agents of the city have been notified that the underwriters have raised the rates 50 cents per hundred dollars.

CANADA WAS THE PIONEER

Conservative Party Old Advocate of Inter-Imperial Trade.

In Chamberlain's Speech Mr. R. L. Borden, Dominion Conservative Leader, Sees Endorsation of His Policy—Have Fought For Mutual Preference For Over Ten Years—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Fielding Are Pleased.

Ottawa, May 18.—Although up to the present, members of the Government decline to express any opinion whatever upon Mr. Chamberlain's announcement of a preferential trade policy, it is evident that the proclamation by the Colonial Secretary is received by both Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Fielding with satisfaction. To the Finance Minister, the new departure in Great Britain must be a source of extreme satisfaction, for Mr. Chamberlain's reference to Mr. Fielding's budget speech conveys an acknowledgment of Canada's lead in the matter of inter-Imperial preferential trade. Mr. Fielding, however, declined all requests for interviews.

Mr. Borden's Opinion.

R. L. Borden, the Conservative leader, when pressed for an expression of his views, was able to point with pride to Mr. Chamberlain's pronouncement as a complete endorsation of the Conservative policy. Mr. Borden said yesterday:

"Mr. Chamberlain's utterance, although important and significant, is not unexpected. We have long believed that there is in Great Britain a strong force of public opinion favoring preferential trade within the Empire, and the modification to that extent of the fiscal policy of the Mother Country. We have believed, whether rightly or wrongly, that the force of public opinion needed only to bring it into activity the sanction of a strong leader in the political world. At this distance, it is difficult to thoroughly appreciate the currents of public opinion in Great Britain, but it seems to us that the hour has come, and, with it, the man.

Fought For Ten Years.

"For ten years the Conservative party in this country has been fighting the battle of preferential trade within the Empire. Going out of power in 1896, we, nevertheless, continued to advocate that policy as one calculated, not only to develop commerce within the Empire, but to bind more closely together by the firm ties of closer commercial intercourse, all parts of His Majesty's dominions. Our policy, as laid down in 1900, was as follows:

"'This House is of the opinion that a system of mutual trade preference between Great Britain and Ireland and the colonies would greatly stimulate increased production in and commerce between these countries, and would thus promote and maintain the unity of the Empire, and that no measure of preference which falls short of complete realization of such a policy should be considered as final or satisfactory.'

Often Reaffirmed.

"This policy has since been affirmed by resolutions which we have subsequently proposed in the House of Commons on several occasions.

"All such resolutions met defeat at the hands of the Liberal party, because the leaders of that party in Canada, up to a year ago, could never be persuaded that the realization of such policy was more than a dream. Happily, they are now enabled to see more clearly, so that all parties in Canada at the present time seem united, not only in affirming the wisdom, but the practicability of the great policy of inter-Imperial trade. Those who set their faces against Imperial preferential trade, and who also believe that Canada should base her fiscal policy upon free trade ideals, little realize that the adoption of such views by this country would undoubtedly result in its commercial and political absorption by the great neighboring Republic."

Suicide at Brantford.

Brantford, May 18.—E. M. Pettibone, of New York, a stranger, who has been in Brantford since Saturday, committed suicide at the Commercial Hotel, late Saturday morning. He left nothing to show what had driven him to the desperate end, but there is every indication that he had his death most carefully planned. He had been drinking all week, and took an overdose of morphine.

Fatal End of Election Row.

St. John, N. B., May 18.—John Mangan, a fisherman of Musquash, St. John County, died from the effect of injuries received in a quarrel on municipal election day. Mangan got into an altercation with one Devine, a smaller man, whom he seems to have followed about with threats and attacks. Devine's brother, coming to the rescue, struck Mangan, who fell into a ditch.

A Fatal Runaway.

Peterboro, May 18. — Saturday morning about 10 o'clock, a fatal runaway accident occurred in South Monaghan, resulting in the death of Arthur Rowe, a farm hand employed by Mr. Robert Fisher, ex-Warden of Northumberland and Durham, who resides in South Monaghan, near Bensfort. The deceased, who was 19 years of age, belong to Garden Hill.

Abandon Newfoundland Shore.

Paris, May 18.—The people of Brittany are excited over rumors that the Government is about to abandon the French Shore in Newfoundland to Great Britain in exchange for concessions in Gambia, Western Africa. The Breton fishermen will be ruined if the Newfoundland fisheries are closed.

Buried in Windsor.

Windsor, May 18.—The funeral of the late William McGregor, ex-M.P., yesterday, was largely attended.

CANADA ASKED TO AID.

In the Relief of the Jews Who Are Oppressed in Russia.

St. John, N. B., May 18.—The Jewish congregation here, with Mayor White as chairman, held a public meeting here yesterday afternoon to protest against the atrocities against Hebrews in Southern Russia, and to take relief measures. A resolution was passed, calling on the Government of Canada to represent to Great Britain that it use its good office with the Government of Russia to the end that protection be extended the Jewish inhabitants of that country, so that the horrors of Kishineff shall not be repeated. A copy of the resolution will be sent to the Prime Minister of Great Britain. Among the speakers were Senator Ellis and Hon. H. A. McKeown. The meeting subscribed $125.

Jews Must Be Defenceless.

St. Petersburg, May 18.—Lieut.-General Von Reaben, Governor of Bessarabia, the capital of which is Kischineff, has been summoned to St. Petersburg. A Ministerial circular forbidding the Jews to defend themselves has been issued. Three thousand suits for damages have been instituted against the state at Kischineff. The damages demanded amount to $2,500,000.

Hon. Mr. Tarte Quits.

Montreal, May 18.—Hon. J. Israel Tarte, having been notified by E. Marcil to the effect that F. Riopel had given notice of motion to the effect that the ex-Minister's name be struck from the list of honorary presidents of the Marcil Club, Mr. Tarte has written seconding the motion, and says he has not the least objection that he name should disappear from the association's roll.

Six Years Hard Labor.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 18.—After listening to the appeal of counsel for former May or A. A. Ames for mercy, Judge Elliott Saturday sentenced the once-powerful political leader to spend six years at hard labor in the State Penitentiary for municipal corruption.

Bay Yields Up Its Dead.

Toronto, May 18.—The body of John Van Fleet was found floating on the Bay on Saturday afternoon, near the spot where he and his nephew were drowned about a month ago. An inquest at the Morgue has been ordered by Coroner Greig for to-night at 8 o'clock.

RESISTED IMPERIAL TROOPS.

Misunderstanding Results in Killing of Albanians and Turks.

Constantinople, May 18.—The report that many men on both sides were killed or wounded during the engagement which constituted the Albanian resistance to the advance of the imperial troops on Ipek has been confirmed. The Albanian chiefs explain that the encounters were the outcome of a misunderstanding. In the course of an audience with the German Ambassador here last Friday, the Sultan said that with the occupation of Ipek a general pacification would ensue. A number of Albanian chiefs at Ipek, however, refuse to submit, and their families are being held as hostages.

Forty Peasants Shot.

Vienna, May 18.—Reports received here from Sissek, Croatiadoa, are that notwithstanding the denials of the Hungarian Government, the stories of fierce encounters between peasants and the military in the village of Krisewachsich have been confirmed. Forty peasants are said to have been shot.

Palestine For the Jews.

London, May 18.—At a meeting of Jews, held in Shoreditch Saturday night, under the auspices of the English Zionist Federation, Israel Zangwill, the author, seconded a resolution declaring that the establishment of a home in Palestine was the only practical solution of the Jewish question. The resolution was carried.

Two Fishers Drowned.

Charlottetown, P. E.I., May 18.—Joseph Christian and Oliver Williams, lobster fishermen, each aged thirty, and unmarried, were drowned Saturday. The men were returning from their traps, when a squall struck their boat, and it capsized, and, as neither of them could swim, they soon sank.

MOB VS. STRIKE BREAKERS

Fifteen of Latter Injured in Riot at Bridgeport, Conn.

Angry Mob Stoned the Six Cars Which Were Run Out—The First Car Had Completed Its Third Complete Trip Before the Infuriated Strike Sympathisers Found Vent For Their Rage in Stone Throwing.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 18.—The attempt made by the officials of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting Company to run their cars with non-union men yesterday resulted in a riot, in which at least 15 men were injured. The Sheriff hopes that it will not be necessary to call out the State troops, but says that another such outbreak will make that step inevitable. At the present time it is possible that the County Sheriff will supercede the police in the control of the city.

Shortly before noon six trolley cars were started. There were large crowds in the vicinity of the car sheds when operations were commenced, but no violence was offered at this time. The cars were manned by twelve of the 130 strike-breakers brought here Saturday by the Trolley Company. There was no disturbance of any kind until two hours later.

Stoned the Car.

The first car had completed its third round trip, and was directly in front of the Wheeler & Wilson factory, where a crowd of at least 1,000 persons had gathered. The car was running slowly owing to the crowd, when stones began to fly. Deputy-Sheriffs Hendrue and Plumz, who were on the car, saw a man in the crowd hurl a stone. They had the car stopped, and plunged into the crowd to get the offender. The stone thrower was a large man, and struggled so fiercely that a policeman went to the assistance of the Sheriffs.

Immediately Mayor Mulvihill went to the policeman and ordered him to keep his hands off the prisoner. He then went to the Deputy-Sheriffs, and told them that they had better let the man go. During the argument, the stone thrower wrenched himself free, and was soon lost in the crowd.

Mayor Bruised on Head.

In the meantime the stones were flying in a shower, and one of them struck the Mayor on the head, causing a large bruise.

The two Sheriffs then jumped on the car, and ordered the motorman to proceed to the car sheds, a quarter of a mile distant. The bombardment did not abate. The stone-throwing soon became so furious that the Sheriffs drew their revolvers, and fired five shots in the air, and toward the ground. Five other cars received the same treatment before reaching the barns.

Called Out the Firemen.

When the last car had passed within the doors, there was a crowd of 4,000 people gathered in a vacant lot opposite, and violence once more broke loose. Brickbats, stones and everything that could be thrown were hurled at the barns and anything that belonged to the company, in the vicinity.

The Fire Department was called out, and several streams scattered the mob. Not one of the twelve men operating the cars escaped injury. Another attempt will be made to run cars to-day.

Tension Is Very Great.

Toronto, May 18.—Friendly negotiations are still pending between the Toronto Street Railway Company and their employes. The tension is very great, but at the worst, no strike can come for several days. A mass meeting of employes, lasting until daylight Sunday morning, was held at the Star Theatre. Nine hundred employes were present. By a unanimous vote, a revised agreement was ordered drafted to be sent to the management. The men will hold a mass meeting Wednesday night and receive the report of the committee. The principal item wanted is recognition of the Union.

DISSATISFIED WITH LEADERS.

Strikers on Government Road Dissatisfied With Peace Terms.

Melbourne, Victoria, May 18.—A large majority of the locomotive drivers and firemen, who were recently on strike here, are intensely dissatisfied at the surrender of their Executive Committee to the conditions imposed by the Government in the matter of the resumption of work on the lines. Because of the objection thereto, Premier Irvine consented to waive the non-employment of certain men and to employ all the strikers with the exception of the actual leaders, on short time. The men still, however, object to the conditions imposed, and they have formed a strong committee to arrange for a resumption of the strike unless better conditions are conceded.

Ocean-Going Turbine Yacht.

Edinburgh, May 18.—The Lorena, an ocean-going turbine yacht, made 21.88 miles an hour at her trial on the Firth of Forth Saturday.

Found Dead in Bed.

Collingwood, May 18.—Malcolm McNicol of Nottawasaga died Saturday night in bed. His wife found him dead.

AN UNEXPECTED DECISION

Mr. Gamey is Ordered to Produce the Borrowed $1,200.

An Alleged Missing Package of Money—Tracing the Bribery Money—Bank Officials and Others Give Evidence—The Stratton Alibi of Sept. 11 Again to the Fore—The Evidence in Rebuttal Closed—Argument Thursday.

Toronto, May 18.—During the sitting of the Gamey Bribery Commission Saturday morning the Chancellor said that he and his brother Falconbridge had consulted with one another as to Mr. Gamey's statement that he had borrowed $1,200 of the alleged bribery money from Mr. Frank Sullivan. Since it did not appear that the money had been returned, and since Mr. Sullivan denied the existence of such a fund, they thought it incumbent on Mr. Gamey to place the money in the hands of the court.

No reference was made to the matter by counsel on either side.

Results of Bank Investigation.

Geo. C. Bartlett, teller of the Ontario Bank, who has been in the witness-box on several occasions, was recalled by the prosecution Saturday morning to produce the results of the investigations into the bank's books. He submitted a statement of transactions in sums over $1,000, which was privately examined. Mr. Ritchie also asked some questions as to who had access to the treasury of the bank. Mr. Bartlett said that the general manager and himself had such access.

Mr. Gamey Recalled.

The Chancellor then recalled Mr. Gamey as to his memorandum book, which he had deposited with the court since his previous examination. It showed payments, but not receipts. The receipts were recorded by his bank book. It covered a period from October, 1900, to March 1, 1903.

"Then there is nothing to throw light on the enquiry!" said the Chancellor.

"Nothing, except with regard to the payment of $900 into the Crossin Company's account," said Mr. Gamey.

Missing Package of Money.

Mr. Henry T. Butler, a clerk in the Dominion Permanent Loan Company's office, was then called, and Mr. Ritchie asked him if during September last, or at any time there had been any enquiry as to the disappearance of a large package of money.

The witness denied knowledge of any such matter.

"What I am instructed is that while enquiry was being made, Mr. Stratton came in and said he had taken it out and neglected to put in a voucher. Does that recall anything to your mind?"

"No!" said Mr. Butler.

Mr. V. Atkinson, paying teller for the Dominion Permanent Loan Company, could throw no light on the story either.

Mr. Wm. Northgrave, a clerk in the office of the Trusts and Guarantee Company, the office of which adjoins the loan company was also in entire ignorance of the matter.

Stratton Signed Blank Checks.

Examined by Mr. Riddell, he said that Mr. Stratton was in the habit of signing blank cheques for use by the loan company in advance, and that because a cheque bore date of Sept. 11 it would not follow that it was signed that day.

The alibi of Sept. 11 was then reverted to once more.

Patrick Mahar, a livery stable keeper of Bloor street, was called. He testified that on Sept. 11 last a Victoria was ordered for Mr. Stratton for 9.30, and it was returned to the Parliament buildings at 11.30. On the same day a carriage was also ordered for Mr. Stratton, and it was used from 9.15 to 10.30 a.m.

Identified Mr. Stratton.

Weston Green, who was a driver for Mahar in September last, and drove the rig that was out from 4.30 to 11.30, was called. Mr. Stratton was asked to stand up and Green identified him as a gentleman who had occupied the hack for two hours with two ladies. They visited several places, and he had a faint recollection, though he would not swear to it, that Mr. Stratton had returned to the Parliament buildings, arriving there about 11.20 a. m.

Memory Vague.

Cross-examined by Mr. Riddell, Green's memory of the morning proved vague. He remembered that they visited Bennett & Wright's and Robertson's Saw Works. He did not recall a visit to McConkey's, which, is recorded on Mahar's books.

Mr. Riddell said: "Mr. Green, let me tell you something. The persons who were driven on that day were three ladies. Do you swear that is not so?"

"Yes!"

Green could not fix the date as Sept. 11, except by what Mahar's books showed. He thought it was about a week after the Exhibition. Asked who he was driving last night, he said Mr. W. D. McPherson and Mr. Sam Price, but said that they had not told him what to say. He had been discharged by Mr. Mahar for being late, and now drove for G. W. Verrall.

Mahar Asked Him First.

Re-examined by Mr. McPherson, the witness testified that he had had no conversation with either him or Mr. Price until called into consultation with Mr. and Mrs. Mahar, to whose office he had driven the two lawyers. It was Mr. Mahar who first asked him if he had driven Mr. Stratton. He then told the story to the lawyers, substantially as he had told it in the witness box to-day.

The witness showed himself to have mixed up Mr. Stratton with Mr. Strathy by mentioning the address 71 Queen's Park. He testified that he had been sent to the latter address once or twice, and had thought that it was Mr. Stratton's house. He didn't know Mr. Strathy to see him.

Witness Didn't Know.

Hugh D. McCulloch, secretary of the Bennett & Wright Company, testified that last autumn and winter the firm was doing work under contract for Mr. Stratton at Peterboro'. He didn't recall whether the latter visited the warerooms in September last.

Mr. Hall, receiving teller of the Ontario Bank, was put in, and gave some technical evidence.

Thomas Horder, bookkeeper at the Walker House, was called, and produced the entries of Dr. Arthur of Sudbury. The latter swore that he talked to Gamey on two successive days at the Walker House in January. The books showed that he had registered an the morning of Jan. 13, and that Gamey left on the same evening.

Rebuttal Ended.

This ended the prosecution's reply, and Mr. Johnston called Charles Tweedie, a clerk in the Observatory, who produced the records to show that it was raining throughout the morning of September 9, when Robert Armstrong, of Gore Bay, swears that he was with Gamey at the Exhibition. Armstrong, in his testimony, was not asked as to the weather.

Cross-examined by Mr. McPherson, Tweedie said the charts showed that the heavy rain had been from 6.45 to 8.30, and from 12 to 1. From 8.30 to 12 it had been merely drizzling with the exception of a very brief shower about 10 o'clock.

In Rebuttal of Green.

Mr. Johnston also announced that he proposed to call some evidence in reply to the hackdriver Green by bringing three ladies, two of whom were in Peterboro' and one in Winnipeg. To admit this evidence the court adjourned until Wednesday at 2 p.m., argument to begin at 10 a. m. Thursday.

HAD QUICK CONSUMPTION.

"Three doctors said I had quick consumption. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion was prescribed. In six months I had gained fifty-nine pounds in weight, had no more night sweats or hemorrhages. Am now in perfect health."—B. H. Walton, Medford, Mass.

AIDED GIRL'S SUICIDE.

Leland Dorr Kent Adjudged Guilty of Manslaughter at Rochester.

Rochester, N. Y., May 18.—Leland Dorr Kent was Saturday afternoon found guilty of manslaughter in the first degree, as charged in the indictment against him for the slaying of the beautiful young Canadian nurse.

The jury retired at 12.30 and at 4.10 o'clock filed into the courtroom and answered their names.

Asked for their verdict the foreman said "guilty." The young young medical student never stirred, and the hundreds of eyes fastened upon him could not discover a tremor of the eyelid or a flush pass over his pale face.

"Gentlemen, do you find the defendant guilty on all the counts of the indictment, or only on one count?" was the next question.

"On one count, the third count of the indictment," replied the foreman.

This count charges that Kent "assisted Ethel Blanche Dingle to commit suicide, and that for the purpose of carrying out her suicidal purposes, he, the defendant, inflicted the mortal wound, she consenting thereto."

After the jury was dismissed, Attorney Raines moved for a stay of proceedings pending application for a new trial. The argument will be heard to-day, after which Kent will be sentenced.

Gave $51,900 in 20 Minutes.

Toronto, May 18.—In twenty minutes on Saturday afternoon subscriptions amounting to $51,900 were received to assist in the work of the Victorian Order of Nurses. There had gathered at Government House a number of the city's prominent citizens, who listened to Lady Minto as she outlined the workings and needs of the Victorian Order of Nurses and the Cottage Hospitals in connection with the order. Then the subscription list was passed with the above satisfying result.

Temiskaming Railway.

Ottawa, May 18.—Hon. Frank Latchford, who is in town, stated that great progress is being made by the Temiskaming Railway. The line has been graded for fully thirty miles from the south, and this summer twenty miles from the north will also be graded, something that was altogether unexpected.

He who foresees calamities suffers them twice over.

SINCLAIR'S AD SINCLAIR'S AD.

Ladies' Fancy Neck Ruffs

We have just received a German maker's set of samples in Ladies' Fancy Silk Neck Ruffs. These include Forty-one different styles of Ruffs in Blacks, Black and White, White and Black, White, Cream and Champagne. We mark these samples ⅓ less than regular prices from $2.00 to $12.50 each.

Dress Linen Batistes

These are among the most popular Wash Goods for Ladies' Summer Dresses and are shown in very handsome embroidered effects from 25c to 65c yd.

LINEN WASH WAISTS

Beautifully made in styles that cannot be imitated by home made Waists are now being shown at prices from $1.00 to $4.00 each.

BLACK UNDERSKIRTS

We have just received another lot of our popular priced Ladies' Black Sateen Underskirts to sell at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, and $2.00.

FANCY PARASOLS

This season's Fancy Parasols are decidedly pretty and are shown in a great variety of styles from $1.00 to $5.00 each.

SEE OUR STYLES IN

Ladies' Silk Waists,

at $3.00, $4.00, and $5.00 each.

D. V. SINCLAIR & CO.

Marine Notes.

The schooner Rutherford is unloading coal at the dock.

The sloop Lia is in the harbor, laden with bunch wood.

On Saturday the steamer Alexandria did not arrive until late in the afternoon. After discharging her cargo she left for Trenton and Charlotte.

The steamer Spartan, of the R. & O. line, called here on Saturday afternoon.

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

We have just received a big lot of Empire Shirt Waists for boys 6 to 12 years of age that we are selling at 39 cents each. These garments have stiff collars and cuffs, and are in the regular way worth almost double the price asked. We have also a lot of boys' blouses as low as 25 cents each. Quick & Robertson, Belleville's Best Clothiers.

A Pretty Broad Hint.

AN anecdote is told of one of the smaller South American republics which illustrates the methods which are adopted when it comes to a question of making war. The "navy" of the particular power referred to consists of a single, old-fashioned, sidewheel steamer, armed with one gun. In time of peace she is engaged in hauling freight up and down the river which runs close to the capital. At the outbreak of one of the periodical wars, not so very long ago, the president of the republic took charge of the steamer and started up stream on a recruiting expedition, leaving his senior general in charge of the military preparations at the capital. A couple of days later the steamer returned, and some seventy miserable-looking natives, each firmly bound with a strong rope, were marched off and turned over to the general, with a note from the president, which read: "Dear General—I send you herewith seventy volunteers. Please return the ropes at once."

GORMAN'S

THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE

Our large, bright, new stock of reliable Foot wear is daily making many new friends for THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE.

Just step in some time, when out shopping, you will also say that our shoes are deserving of THEIR GREAT POPULARITY.

Come in any time we will be pleased to serve you.

You will find here excellent lines of Ladies' Lace Boots selling at $4.00, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Our men's department is well stocked with stylish, comfortable, durable boots, in various leathers, selling at $5.00, $3.75, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Special Great Mid-Season Sale

Beginning Saturday, May 16th, 1903.

Just a Moment, Don't Fail to Read.

The dollar rules the commercial world—to a very great extent. Prompt dollars bring us merchandise that enable us to sell to you at extraordinary prices. To prepare for a further new stock of Summer goods, we find we can clear off a quantity of spring materials, new ideas and fresh goods are continually being introduced. We must have them. We therefore invite you to this Great Sale, where you will find that facts speak with greater force than elongated statements. So come and see for yourself. The goods and prices do the talking.

A Few of the Lines

Men's English Blue Serge Suits, all sizes 34 to 40 at $3.50

Men's Spring Suits, Dark Grey Halifax Tweed, made single breasted with French Facings, worth $7.00, our price $4.00

Men's spring Suits, Black or Blue twill serge suits, made single breasted with French facings, worth $8.00 our price $4.50

The finest and nobbiest assortment of Boys' two and three piece suits in the city. All sizes and at low prices.

The Globe Clothing House

Up-to-date Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers.

390 FRONT STREET. LOOK FOR THE GLOBE OVER THE DOOR.

Daily Intelligencer.

THE REDISTRIBUTION BILL

HOW IT WORKS OUT !

The proposed redistribution scheme has already seen the light of day through the columns of the press, in addition to which the manoeuvring of the local Grits of this County has transpired, showing to what lengths the "faithful are prepared to go in gerrymandering iniquity in order to accomplish their object.

The fact that the whole scheme of cutting and carving of the province was prepared by the Government, proves that the proposition of Sir Wilfrid to leave the whole scheme of redistribution to a special committee was a transparent fraud. All that that committee will be asked to do is to "receive the Ministerial scheme and give it the necessary endorsement."

The scheme as published abandons the principle of representation by population, a principle for which the Liberal party in the days of Brown and Mackenzie fought long and desperately. If compared with the census of 1901, it will be seen, as pointed out by a contemporary, that "there will be constituencies of 16,000 and constituencies of 40,000 people, worse than any now existing. Here are a few examples of what is proposed:

"Carleton County, which is Conservative, is allotted one member for a population of 36,976. Kent, which has Liberal proclivities, is given two members for a population of 33,015. London has one member for 39,183 people, and Brant two for 38,140. Huron gets three members for 61,820 people, or one for every 20,910, while Toronto gets five members for 208,000 people, or one for every 41,708. Lambton, with 50,642 people, has two members, and Middlesex, with 54,756, has three."

"All through the distribution, as proposed, party interests are kept well in view, the purpose evidently being to produce a condition as striking as that effected in the Ontario gerrymander, which secures for the Government a majority of six in the House in the face of an ADVERSE popular majority of SIX or SEVEN THOUSAND. The departure from the principle of representation by population is a decided aid to the gerrymandering process. It has been skilfully used. But the indignation it is calculated to arouse may be counted upon to frustrate the purpose at which the Government aims."

Hastings, with a population of 58,756, is robbed of one member, though it has a population of 3,563 More than Middlesex. Why?

Middlesex is Grit; Hastings is Conservative.

Lemon Sour Drops 20c lb

Fresh to-day.

J. ARTHUR MARSH.

TIMELY TOPICS.

The English and Scotch papers are not taking kindly to Carnegie's late utterances about Canada. A Scotch paper reproduces his article upon Canada, and denounces it as "the bastard individualism of his Pittsburg carrot bonus philanthropy."

The Canada Gazette, published in London, in an article entitled "Carnegie Vinegar," shows that Carnegie is ignorant of even the elementary facts of Canada's present position, and prays "that Canada may ever be delivered from Carnegie's benefactions." The world will soon learn, if it has not already learned, that the multi-millionaire is only seeking notoriety.

• • •

Cablegrams from England say that "British insurance companies are congratulating themselves that their claims on account of the Ottawa fire only reach $300,000, as compared with $2,850,000 for the fire of April, 1900." They are not alone in their congratulations.

• • •

Colonial Secretary Chamberlain announced in the House of Commons that as a result of the British military operations in the Sokoto and Kano districts, ending with the capture of the Emir of Kano, 100,000 square miles of territory had been added to the Northern Nigeria and would be administered by the Government of that territory. This does not look very much like a decaying Empire which some people delight in predicting.

• • •

The twelfth annual report of the United Empire Trade League points out in connection with the corn duty that the imports of wheat in 1902 amounted to 108,000,000 hundredweight against 5,000,000 in 1845 and 51,000,000 in 1872, or the largest on record. India and the colonies sent 26,000,000 hundredweight.

• • •

No trouble to keep warm yesterday, eh?

• • •

We got April weather in March; now we're getting June weather in May. What we'll get in July only the stars can tell.

• • •

For the benefit of people who stayed at home we would state that the most comfortable place we found yesterday was in church.

• • •

Things are very dry, and the ground is badly baked. We heard of a market gardener who was planting potatoes with a pick-axe.

• • •

"I hope they'll hurry up and extend the fuel gas system round my way," said a housekeeper who had been reading what transpired in the Committee meetings on Friday night.

• • •

If the people who were on the park last night had been in church there would have been very few empty seats in any of the sacred edifices.

• • •

What we would like to know is—will the old d.s.b.g. be fixed up this summer or not? This suspense is something fierce.

• • •

A clergyman of this city complains bitterly because, as he says, nearly every milk wagon or grocer's rig which comes his way is accompanied by a couple of canines which, with cheerful impartiality, bark and snap at everybody they see on the street. He wants to know if this nuisance can't be stopped. Certainly it should. People who own dogs should teach them that a mouthful of minister is forbidden fruit.

• • •

The display of "plug" hats yesterday was most impressive. Fine tile, the silk. Makes a plain man look handsome and a handsome man handsomer. The English stability of character, many deep thinkers affirm, comes from the universal English habit of wearing the stove-pipe hat. There is a lot in the theory, too. Who could be frivolous or undignified while wearing a silk hat? Impossible. One would as soon expect to see the City Council going in a body to the circus. Long live the plug hat. May it grow in fashion and continue to crown the domes of many good people in Belleville.

• • •

If the Hon. Tom Pepper, Esq., had not crossed the Styx, what a witness he would have made for the defence in the Gamey investigation!

• • •

"A Business Man" writes: "Just a word to protest against the fireworks habit which a large number of boys in this city have at present. Everything is very dry just now, and firecrackers are a source of danger. I would not rob the boys of the pleasure of setting off fireworks on holidays, but I think they should be prohibited from doing so on ordinary days. Can the authorities not take some steps in this matter? I really think it is time."

• • •

The authorities should certainly take some steps to stop the use of fireworks on our principal thoroughfares. On Saturday it was simply outrageous, the way farmers' horses were frightened by boys with fire-crackers. The police should stop the use of fireworks on principal streets, and stop it at once, before serious consequences ensue.

• • •

The Ottawa Citizen is philosophical with Mr. Carnegie. It thinks his spiteful and jaundiced remarks are prompted by the green-eyed monster. "Ten years ago," says the Citizen, "Carnegie would not have abused and slandered Canada. It would not in his opinion have been worth while. Give thanks when your business rival despitefully uses you—with his tongue. It is a sign that we are getting there as a nation."

• • •

That was a nice sample shower, and we'll take about six more off the same piece, please.

• • •

"Here is another point in favor of the city assisting the Gas Company by guaranteeing the interest on its mortgages," said a gentleman today; "If the city will take the action spoken of, the other shareholders will give the City's representative proxies on a sufficient number of shares to give it the control." The above statement, it may be pointed out, was made by a gentleman who is in a position to know whereof he speaks. The action spoken of would practically give the City control of the Gas Works.

• • •

Belleville ladies these days are in the same category as the weather—"generally fair and warm."

• • •

That miserable mortal, Kent, has been found guilty of manslaughter, and if he broke stone in a striped suit for the rest of his life he'd just about get his deserts. What a lot of conscienceless scoundrels that poor Canadian girl, Miss Dingle, ran up against! In a moral sense, they'd all be dear at ten cents a dozen.

• • •

Fire insurance rates in Ottawa have gone up 50 cents per $100. The insurance men must think Ottawa is a risky risk.

More than half the battle in cleaning greasy dishes is in the soap you use. If it's Sunlight Soap it's the best. CB

HOW TO GET UP AN APPETITE.

Distaste for food often follows grippe and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease and by removing the cause cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. All druggists and medicine dealers sell Ferrozone.

Ping-Pong Banned.

Ping-pong has at last fallen under the ban of the law keepers of Scotland. In the city of Dundee the police magistrates have decided that this latest fashionable game is detrimental to the morals of a sober city. It seems that all public houses of that town, or nearly all, have provided ping-pong tables for their patrons, and the custom of playing for drinks has grown so rapidly that the jails are not large enough to accommodate all the victims of the game. Consequently, greatly aroused by this sudden increase of intemperance, the magistrates have decided that henceforth ping-pong may not be played in places where liquor is sold.

MY wife's brother, seven years old, was surely in France with his mother (said Mr. Leroy Durand of the St. Maurice Club), for we had received a cablegram on their arrival, but his voice seemed to be screaming on the shore of Lake Pazhegouki, in the St. Maurice Wilderness of Quebec. That scream first reached our ears as we paddled around a bluff and lost hearing of the cascades. My wife, kneeling in the bow of our small canoe, stopped her paddle midway in the act of dipping it and turned her eyes about to me. They are always big, as you know, but they were twice as big then. That was the first time I had seen her look scared, and we had hunted together, east and west, north and south, for five years past. When we left New York two weeks earlier the voice of her little brother in a delirium of pain seemed still sounding in her ears, she told me, although he was so far convalescent as to have sailed on the "Etruria" a fortnight before we left for Quebec.

"Did you hear anything?" she asked me now.

"It was some tree creaking." I was trying to reassure her.

"Nonsense! There's no wind."

In fact, the lake was so calm that the up-side-down shores were as distinct as the right-side-up ones, except where trout wallowed in the mirror or a darting kingfisher touched it with spreading circles. White clouds were as fleecy in the lake as in the blue above us, and a perfect silence seemed to hold all the void between the counterparts, while our canoe ran on with a lessening gurgle as we listened for more than twenty seconds. Then the childlike, the almost infantile screams came again, seeming to reach from the far opposite shore by force of some poignant emotional quality of agonized weakness. They ended with a short note like a wail choked off by faintness or despair.

My wife knows the woods, and now she said, "It must be a young bear—a yearling—in a trap."

"Exactly. Chief Josef."

She took to paddling without a reply. She herself had given Chief Josef the order for a backrobe.

On we went at a faster stroke than she usually sets, straight for the bluff of the screams. For intervals of about a minute they lingered in our ears, and then spread through the blue.

"Come right along up and set him free," said my wife, as she landed.

"And what will his teeth and claws be doing while I'm springing the trap open?" I asked, when I had made the canoe secure.

"Then come and put him out of his pain."

"Certainly, my dear, I'll go. But you'll stay here in the canoe. It won't do you any good to see that bear."

"It might," she said, with self-reproach. "But, anyway, I'll never let a trap be set on my account again. Come!"

"But the old she bear may be up there, and you didn't bring your gun."

"Go up at once!" said my wife, who had never imagined that a man with a magazine rifle could get into serious trouble with bears.

So up I went; and as my wife always obeys my wishes when I'm not there, she got back into the canoe and pushed off a few yards to be ready, as I told her, in case I might "find bears too plenty on the hill."

But there was only the one, a young bear, as my wife had guessed—not a cub, not an infant, but a child—one of about seventeen or eighteen months. I wish I could quite forget that picture of despondency.

He was caught by the right fore-paw; he had dragged the trap till the clog caught between two small trees; then he had pulled the trap back and forth and round and round till the earth was worn bare of grass and twigs and the little bushes within his reach were stripped of bark. His mouth was down, biting gingerly at the twisted leg and muttering most piteously, as if that way of getting free were too unendurable. Then, as the crescendo of wailing screams began once more, his head was raised toward the sky as if the creature were veritably appealing to the Eternal Judge between man and beast.

At that instant I fired, and he sank down in death with a sense of relief, I do believe. He did not struggle in the least, so much had his strength been exhausted by the long ordeal. His trapped leg I found to be broken and twisted as a towel is twisted in wringing it; the edges of the bone had torn the muscles and tendons to a fibrous pulp.

I went back to the canoe, told my wife, "The bear was a yearling," and had no questions from her.

On the way to camp we passed the Montagnais wigwams, and I stopped to tell Chief Josef of shooting his bear.

"Dass good t'ing," said Josef. "I glad you keel heem. He's not hot' 'nough for mek good robe for de lady sleigh, but he's good maybe two dollar. Me, I hain' had no lucky wis bear since de lady is tol' me for trap some good skin. Tudder day, what you t'ink? I'll find in one udder trap great big paw what de sacre bear he's twist off, or bite off, maybe—anyhow, he's get away. Hese's dat paw, lady," and he took the hideous relic from behind one of his wigwam poles and offered it to my wife.

She turned away, hit hard, and so pale that I put my arm around her to help her down to the canoe. Without a word we started—there seemed nothing to say. But when we had paddled a mile she stopped the stroke and turned her head over her shoulder with, "Leroy, did you understand about trapping before?"

"I didn't realize what it meant to the animals."

"I'm glad you didn't—or I shouldn't like to think I'd married you," she said, in a conclusive tone.

Since that day she has never worn fur.—E. W. Thomson in "Youth's Companion."

Tate's Date.

There was a young person named Tate,
Who dined his best girl at eight eight,
But I am unable to state
What the person named Tate
And his tete-a-tete ate at eight eight.
—Ex.

An Error in Anatomy.

The King—Varlet, thou liest in thy throat. The Knave—Pardon, Your Majesty, but that is impossible. I always speak through my nose.—"Judge."

LOSING FLESH.

Are you losing flesh? If so, better consult your doctor at once. He will tell you the cause. We can provide the remedy, which is Scott's Emulsion of cod-liver oil.

A young woman in Batavia writes us she had lost twenty-five pounds in three months, and her lungs were seriously affected. She took three bottles of Scott's Emulsion and gained fifteen pounds, and was able to resume her work.

Send for Free Sample.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto

THE WEATHER.

To-day's Probs—

Fine and warm, a few scattered thunderstorms. Tuesday, moderate to fresh southeast to south winds, some local thunderstorms, but generally fair and warm.

To-day's Temperature

As Registered by The Intelligencer's Guaranteed Thermometer:

8 a.m.	65
12 m.	81
2 p.m.	86
3 p.m.	86

There is not a foreign water that one of the MAGI Caledonia Waters does not advantageously replace for either as a medicinal or table use. J. J. McLaughlin, sole Agent, Toronto. Sold everywhere.

THE CIRCLE OF GOLD

Fashioned daintily and set with a Pearl, Opal, Turquoise or Diamond, according to choice, that we can sell you for from $5 to $20 will be a revelation.

Quality alone means nothing, beauty of design, fine workmanship, or price mean nothing. But a combination of all these means a great deal, and we shall give them with quality at the high point, and price at the low point ratio. And although this statement applies to rings in particular, it also applies to our entire stock of jewelery.

Angus McFee.

Jeweler & Optician

310 Front St.

Specials in Millinery

Sale of Sailor Hats.

We bought too many.

15 doz. cleared at

HALF PRICE.

White and Colored.

ALL NEW.

Also some very choice Dress Hats just received.

GET FIRST CHOICE.

MISS IRWIN

Millinery and Corset Specialist

FOR MANSION OR MODEST COTTAGE

S.W.P. is safest, best, and most economical and not without reason.

It's best because made from best materials—pure lead, pure zinc, and pure linseed oil.

It's safest because the materials it is made from are all carefully tested both chemically and practically before being used to insure their being right and best for the purpose.

It's most economical because it covers most surface to the gallon and wears longest.

WATERS DRUG STORE

You will drink dirty water if you roil your neighbor's spring.

The man who thinks his wife is blind to his faults is entitled to another think.

When faith is lost and honor dies the man is lost.—Whittier.

The best way to get even is to forget.

The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.—Napoleon.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M.D., C.M., M.R., C.S., England.

Office and Residence — Corner of Bridge and George streets — three streets East of Post Office.

DR. J. F. MATHER

Has removed his office to Pinnacle St., three doors north of Hotel Quinte. my29-6mw

LEGAL.

WILLS & WRIGHT.

Barristers, Solicitors, Notary Public, &c., Belleville.

Office—8 Campbell Street.

MALCOLM WRIGHT. J. FRANKLIN WILLS.

Money to Loan at Lowest Rates.

W. C. MIKEL, B. C. L.,

Barrister, &c.

Solicitor for the City of Belleville.

Office—Metropolitan Block, Corner Front and Campbell Streets.

PORTER & CARNEW,

Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc.

Offices — Robertson Block, East Front St., Belleville, Ont.

'Phone 87.

E. G. PORTER. WM. CARNEW.

WILLIAM N. PONTON,

Barrister-at-law, Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge Street, Belleville.

Money to Loan — Private Funds. Solicitor Sun and Hastings Savings and Loan Company of Ontario.

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE,

Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.

Barrister, Solicitor, Conveyancer, Etc. Office, McAnnany Building, corner Front and Bridge Sts., Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security.

Charges moderate.

INSURANCE.

Fire Insurance.

Guardian	Est'd 1821
The North America,	Est'd 1792
Quebec,	Est'd 1818

City, Town and Village Property insure at lowest rates.

R. W. ADAMS. Agent.

Office opposite Post Office.

FIRE, LIFE & ACCIDENT INSURANCE

At Lowest Rates The Norwich Union Fir Insurance Society and Perth Mutual on farm and city property. Also mone to loan at 4½ per cent. upwards.

JAMES A. CHISHOLM,

Office Ashley Block, - Front st., Belleville

PERSONS desiring Life insurance cannot do better than consult

W. J. THOMSON,

who is the Agent for the following well-known and old established Assurance Companies:

ROYAL. ALLIANCE.

OCEAN ACCIDENT STANDARD LIF

Office at Rathbun Co., Bridge St. oc-d&w

THOS. STEWART,

Insurance and Commission Agent.

Agent for the Norwich Un Fire In ociety and Scottish Union Nationa ns. Co.

Bridge St.

Money Saved is Money Earned

can earn you money by saving it for you in your Fire Insurance.

The Anglo-American Fire Ins. Co

The Merchants Fire Ins. Co.

The Equity Fire Ins. Co.

Are all strong Canadian stock companies and insure Farm and City Property at lower rate than other stock companies Call and see me before placing your fire insurance.

Office—Bridge St., same entrance Quinte Laundry, Belleville.

H. FREEMAN KETCHESON.

Fire, Life & Plate Glass Insurance

Liverpool & London & Globe of England.

Waterloo Mutual, of Waterloo, Ont.

Lloyd's Plate Glass.

Home Life Association, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile.

Farm and City Property insured in First-class Reliable Companies and at lowest current rates. Losses promptly settled. Land valuation, and transact general Real Estate business and sale or purchase and renting of property. Appraiser for the Hastings Loan & Investment Society. Money to Loan.

W. P. HUDSON, Office above Rathbun's office, cor. Bridge and Pinnacle Sts., opposite Postoffice and Hotel Quinte, Belleville.

'Phone 168.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. G. NORTHROP,

Issuer of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville, Ont.

CHAUNCEY ASHLEY,

Issuer of Marriage Licenses.

Private Office, Bridge St., Belleville, opposite the Post Office.

Residence, first house east of W. W. Chown's Mfg. Co., Station St.

Appointments made.

The wildcat's teeth are close to its purr.

Lost chances never leave any trail.

ON TRUE RELATIONS

BETWEEN MAN THE DEBTOR AND HIS DIVINE CREDITOR GOD.

WHAT HE OWES THE ALMIGHTY

Full and Grateful Acknowledgment of Immeasurable Obligation and a Loyal and Loving Surrender of His Life and Actions to the Divine Will—Honest People Will Wish to Pay the Bill Presented.

Entered according to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1903, by William Baily, of Toronto, at the Dep't of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Chicago, May 17.—In this discourse man, the debtor, is shown in his true relation to his Divine creditor, to whom he owes not only a full and grateful acknowledgment of immeasurable obligation, but such a loyal and loving surrender of his life and actions to the divine will as shall prove the genuineness of his professions. The text is Matthew xxii, 21, "Render unto God the things that are God's."

Many people talk as if this world was full of rigues. I do not believe any such charge. There is more honesty in the world than it gets credit for. Indeed, it is my belief that most people are honest, that most people want to do right. This is not a world of hypocrites. All men are not scoundrels. If you have not found this kind of a world, there is something wrong with your own principles. The man who declares that all men are rogues at heart is practically making confession of his own dishonesty. If you tell me that all men cheat, I conclude that you yourself would cheat if you had the chance. It sometimes takes a thief to catch a thief.

If most people were not honest it would be difficult to explain some of the customs of the business world. In many of our cities lunch buffets have been started, where you can go to a large counter and help yourself. You can eat as much as you want. Practically no one watches you. The proprietor leaves it to your own honesty to tell how much you owe. Does not this prove that most people are honest!

Taking this premise, then, for granted, I shall boldly present to you a bill which I know you will try to pay. It is from my Lord and Master. It is a statement of the debt which every man, woman and child, to more or less extent, owes to God. I do not demand payment of it, for it is greater than you could ever pay, though you lived on earth a thousand years and worked as hard as you could: but I want you to feel your obligations and to resolve that you will do all that is in your power to show your gratitude to your Heavenly Father for all the mercies and comforts with which he has surrounded you during your life. Therefore, what you are to do, you must start to do right away, and in order to do it, you must serve Christ from now on with your whole heart.

A big bill for good health is charged up against most of us in the divine ledger. We may be growing old now and have here and there a rheumatic twinge; we may be unable to eat as heartily of indigestible foods as we did when young, or to work as rapidly or as long, but most of us have had years and years of good health. We have had years with two stout lungs and two keen eyes with good digestive organs and good nerves. Now comes the question: What have we accomplished with this God given blessing called good health? Have we done anything more with it than to eat and sleep, and brutelike, physically to enjoy ourselves? Have we placed that good health at the service of the Master, as we know we ought to have done? If you had been very sick, and I should come into the room just after the crisis was past, and say, "Well, Mr. So-and-so, how are you feeling to-day?" You would answer, "Thank God, I am better: I hope I shall soon be well," you give by that answer all the credit of your convalescence and health to God. Can it be that God is not expecting you to do anything for him on account of this blessing?

"But," answers some one, "you cannot blame the average person for not being more grateful for his good health. A healthy man does not think about his health. If that good health was taken away from him it would be different. Then the individual would realize what he had lost. But how can you blame a man for not being grateful for a healthy liver or kidneys or spleen when the mere fact that these organs are healthy proves that he never knew he had a liver or spleen or kidneys?" In one sense, my brother, your answer is right. When a man loses his good health he is ready to give up almost everything he has to win it back. If his lungs are diseased he will sell out his business to go and live in Los Angeles, Cal., or San Antonio, Tex., or in some mild climate in Arizona. But in another sense, my brother, your answer is wrong. Though most of us may be healthy, yet there was a time when nearly all well persons have been sick, and awfully sick. We know what it is to have the temperature run up to 104 and 105 and the pulse, like a trip hammer, beating 130 times to the minute. We know what it is to have pneumonia or typhoid fever or appendicitis. And from the past experience of those sicknesses we should fully realize the blessing of good health and be willing to pay a great debt of service to God for that health. When visiting the Isle of Wight in 1885 we saw the Queen's physician every morning ride up to the royal palace. He did not go there because the Queen was ill, but in order to prevent her from becoming sick. If the royal courts of Europe have their attending physicians, who are paid large salaries to keep the rulers well, shall we not pay in service anything to our Heavenly Physician for the physical strength with which many of us are endowed?

"Oh," said a poor laborer to a missionary one day, "I do not owe any debt to God. He has done nothing for me." "Nothing for you!" exclaimed the missionary. "Would you be willing, poor as you are, to take one million dollars cash for your two eyes?" "No," answered the laborer, "I would not." "Would you be willing to take a million dollars for your two legs, and all the rest of your earthly days have to be wheeled around as a cripple? Would you be willing for a million dollars to exchange your good lungs for those of a consumptive?" "No," said the laborer, "I would not." "Then," said the minister, "you owe to God gratitude and service to the amount of at least $3,000,000 capital for good health."

A big debt, for food and clothing and house rent, I find charged against us in the divine ledger. A noted French statistician has compiled the following summary of how an average man, fifty years of age, has spent his past life: He has slept 6,000 days; played 4,000 days; was eating 1,500 days and has been sick 500 days. During his 1,500 days of feeding, he has eaten a whole car load of bread—17,000 pounds; a whole car load of meat—16,000 pounds; 4,600 pounds of vegetables, eggs and fish, and has drunk 7,000 gallons of liquids. He has worked only 6,500 days out of the 18,250 days which he has lived. In other words, he has slept nearly as long as he has worked. Then when you further estimate all the expense of a man's clothing and cost of travel during his life, you can to some extent compute the financial value of the food and clothes with which God has endowed one of his children up to the half century milestone.

But though the divine debt for food and raiment may be very great are you going to try to cancel it by merely estimating, dollar for dollar, how much the beefsteaks and the chops and the potatoes and peas and barrels of apples and the garments have cost? Oh, no. That would not be right. You, a strong man, with the earning capacity you now have, owe to God financially more than that. You have a moral debt as well as a financial one. If I should come to you in a business crisis of your life and help you, you would never forget it. If I should say: "Mr. So-and-so, I hear the banks are beginning to push you. Never mind, I will see you through this crisis. Bring your notes to my office, and I will indorse them," what would be the result? Tears would come into your eyes. You would perhaps cry like a little child. You would say to me: "I can never forget your kindness. It means more to me than money. If any trouble ever comes to your home, you can always count upon me as your friend."

Suppose your father and mother died thirty years ago and left you penniless. Suppose at that time I should have gone to a foundling's home and found you and brought you into my house and adopted you and reared you as my son, what would be the result? Would you estimate the sacrifices I have made for you by the dollar and cent measure? By how much I spent for your clothes and board? Oh, no! You would estimate it by the extent of my love. You would give back to me more than money. You would feel that all you are and all you have you owe to my paternal kindness and that I have claims upon you that all your devotion cannot repay. What, then, are your obligations to God for all the comforts you have enjoyed? If you give yourself to him, body, mind and soul, is that more than your duty? We must remember all the days he has cared for us in our infancy. Think how he has guided and protected us all through the struggle of life. We must pay installments on that bill by caring for God's helpless children, by feeding God's hungry and clothing God's naked and bending over God's sick.

We can never get away from this responsibility. One day a gentleman stood waiting for a friend at the New York entrance of the Brooklyn Bridge. While standing there he saw a little street urchin go up to an ash barrel and pick out of the refuse a piece of bread and begin to eat it. The gentleman turned to an old woman who was tending an apple stand near by and said, "Have those little boys nobody to care for them at all?" "No one," grimly answered the old woman, "except God, and he does not always seem to be around." Yes, as we look at distress unrelieved, at lives in which there is no brightness, it does seem as if God were not always around. But has that thought no message for us? Are not these very cases opportunities placed in our way of repaying some of our obligations to Him? We cannot pay him, but when as his children we relieve the destitute or lift the burden from the weary shoulders we are acting as his almoners and are doing his work. We should care for others in Christ's name because God has so long cared for us.

A big bill for church privileges I find charged against us all in the divine ledger. Why all? Because the church of Jesus Christ is not, as some people suppose, a small building dedicated for a few weddings and funerals and a place in which are to be gathered a few Sunday school teachers. It is not, as a great preacher once described it, merely an "ecclesiastical Flying Dutchman," with a dead minister in the pulpit and dead hearers in the pew and a dead deacon passing the collection plate.

The church is the greatest purifier of the community. It is the great preventer of crime. I knew of a keen, shrewd business man who lived in a small Ohio city. Every year he sent a large donation to all the different churches, "not," said he, "because I am a professing Christian, but because I believe the church does more to empty our jails and poorhouses and criminal resorts than any other power on earth." The church of the Lord Jesus Christ is the great cornerstone of a pure home. We do not have to argue here for one moment to try to prove this statement. It is an axiom, a self evident fact. Now, my brother, if the church of God makes your clerks more honest and keeps the messengers of crime from off the streets, where they might destroy your sons and daughters; if it is the foundation stone of a strong national government as well as that of the home; if it is the great enemy of ignorance and the leader in all movements that look to the purifying and spiritual elevation of the human race, do you not believe that you should cast your influence into its work? Do you not owe it an inestimable debt? Should you not try to broaden its teachings and through it to try to disseminate the gospel redemption which will save men this side of the grave as well as upon the other side?

A big debt for gospel education I find charged against us all in the divine ledger. The struggles of poor boys for a college education offer some of the most pathetic of illustrations. Harry is a farmer's boy. He lives in the country and wants to go to school, but how can he? Try as hard as the family may, they can just make ends meet and no more. But get an education he will. He works on the farm during the summer and teaches school during the winter. After awhile, by night study, he fits himself for an academy. His little savings he hoards like a miser. He enters the university. Then perhaps he comes up to graduation with a hacking cough or ruined eyesight and with his physical health wrecked. Ah, that is pathetic! That is a sacrifice that is being made in every part of the land.

But if it is pathetic to see a poor boy struggling for an intellectual education how much more pathetic is it to see one struggling for a spiritual education when he has been born in the cradle of sin? When I go down the street and see men and women whose faces from early childhood were scarred and marred with sin, I often say to myself: "What chance have those poor mortals? Their fathers perhaps were jailbirds. Their mothers were dissolute and deserted them perhaps on the day they were born. Their companions from youth have been thieves and robbers. And yet some of these poor wretches, born in sin, have struggled up by the grace of God into the light. They have by slow and painful stages, won a hard earned spiritual education. They struggled on and up, battling their way step by step, fighting against all the inherited tendencies of their past lives. They struggled up out of the hovel and the saloon and the gutter and the poorhouse. Like the demon possessed Mary, at last they became the sainted Mary, as spotless and pure as the driven snow.

But, thank God, none of us—no, I believe not one—ever had to go through such a struggle for a spiritual education. We had that in the days of our childhood. We were born at the knee of Christian mothers. Shall we not be willing to pay God back for this education? Because he has given us that spiritual education free, so that we can discriminate between right and wrong, shall we not now be willing to pay something at least for our past Christian tuition?

How can we pay God back for this spiritual education of our childhood? I will tell you. In the same way I expect my children to pay me back for their intellectual education. Some years ago I had my life insured on the tontine plan. These premiums at times have been very hard to meet. But when we come up to them I always say to my wife: "This money will come due when I am forty-four years of age. That is just the time we shall want to send our boys and girls to college. Then, after they have had their education, as well equipped men and women they can go forth to the battle of life and be intellectually good men and women." I am going to get my pay back in the good that I hope my children may be able to do. And so God expects his pay for our spiritual education in the moral, pure, consecrated lives we should, by the grace of God, live for his service. Are you and I, my friends, doing what we ought to do? Are we truly living the Christian lives which our early bringing up should justify?

A big debt we also owe to God for the blessings which come to us from our living loved ones. Strange is the fact that we rarely appreciate a dear one until she is gone. There are plenty of monuments and memorials erected for dead men, but very seldom any for the living. We would be willing, if our finances would warrant it, to endow a hospital or library or foundling home to the memory of a dead child. Do we not owe God any debt of gratitude to the loved ones who are still by our side? Shall not the father and husband feel that he needs to make some acknowledgment for the children and the wife who now sit with him at the table and bow with him at the family altar? Oh, my Christian friends, I do not believe we are intrinsically mean. I do not and will not lower myself to the belief that we have intentionally gone to God heretofore only as beggars. Most of us have stopped to think with how many blessings God has surrounded us. Therefore I have today tried to show you the joys of Christian giving, the joys of paying back to God at least a little of what we owe.

The simple fact is that but few of us have ever begun to taste the sweetest nectars which come from the gospel vineyards. We have only selfishly looked at the gifts which God has given to us. But when we honestly try by a consecrated life to pay back God for what he has done for us then we shall have a joy which increases in value as we delve into it. Oh, my brother and sister, will you be honest with God? Will you try to repay him by a consecrated life's service for all the mercies with which he has surrounded you? I to-day present this bill of debit from my Divine Master and King.

Curious Bits of News.

The growth of Dawson City is indicated by the fact that the First Methodist Church of that city has called to the pastorate the Rev. James Livingstone of Windsor, Ont., at a salary of $3,000 a year and a parsonage.

A prize of two hundred thousand dollars offered by the management of the coming world's fair in St. Louis for the successful operation of a dirigible airship will stimulate effort among inventors, and may have important results. The competition will be the first aerial tournament ever held in the world.

Among the unconsciously grotesque tributes paid to the late Queen Victoria at the time of her death by the Indian press, was this unique expression from a Hindoo scribe: "Her Majesty loved her subjects with the strong, maternal affection which a cow feels for her offspring." The simile would only be pleasing to the Englishman who remembered the honorable position of the cow and calf in the Hindoo religion.

A professor in a Western university lately made a list of the best-hated words in the English language by ascertaining the dislikes of a large number of correspondents. It seems that the most unpopular word is "victuals." Of course it is merely a matter of taste. That is to say, victuals do not taste so good as food. Hawthorne may have felt the antipathy to the word when he wrote that no sort of "victuals" seemed to come amiss to his pig.

Dr. J. W. Seaver of Yale says that there are fewer smokers in the Yale freshman class than ever before, and that the average lung capacity is five inches greater, which he believes is a direct result of the abstinence from tobacco. The class contains many athletes, and the fact that these students give up smoking when they begin athletic training, and, in most cases, never resume it, is advanced as one of the reasons for the smallness of the percentage of smokers. The average lung-capacity among Yale freshmen this year is two hundred and sixty cubic inches.

A novelty in the way of luncheons was that given by a New York photographer a few days ago. The room was dimly lighted by ruby dark-room lanterns. The menus were printed on dry plates, and the guests found placed before them what were apparently a box of dry plates, a jar of paste, a tin can of platinum paper, and a small glass tube labeled with skull and crossbones. The box contained a plate of oysters; the paste jar, crackers; the tin cans, celery; and the glass tubes, salt. Other courses were served in much the same manner, and the wine was drunk from graduates. Welsh rarebit was served in porcelain developing trays, and coffee in porcelain jars.

Dr. A. L. Wood is a strong believer in water as a rejuvenator, and in a paper on "The Influence of Water Upon Health and Longevity," read at the meeting of the New York Vegetarian Society, recently, he said that, during the past year, he had taken about one gallon of distilled water a day, with the result that he had become stronger, healthier and more elastic and flexible in joint and muscle, although sixty-two years of age, than he had been since boyhood, and he demonstrated his flexibility by placing the palms of his hands flat upon the floor without bending his knees, and by standing on one foot and putting the other to his face. He had stood on a box eight inches in height and touched the floor with his fingers. The results were produced by the powerful solvent properties of distilled water in removing from the system the deposits of lime and other earthy salts and minerals, which bring on premature hardening of the tissues.

A Man's Loss.

TO-NIGHT, as I climb the long stairs that stretch their tortuous way up to the dull rooms I call home, I am weary at heart, and a thousand little blue-devils are hammering on my brain with maddening reiteration.

Ill-luck has pursued me all day with an unflattering partiality, and the thought of my solitary fireside fills me with an unutterable longing for you. If you would only be there, waiting to cheer my heart with the sight of you—to fill my soul with peace as the quiet sympathy of your presence pervades the atmosphere of unrest!

The misery of the past night comes back to me with an overwhelming rush as I drag my heavy feet skyward. I remember how I leaped up these same stairs with a light heart, my one thought being of you—only to find you gone. Upon the table lay cigars, cigarettes—the solace of some men—but I touched none of these, for I wanted only you—the one love of my manhood.

When I brought you here you were spotless and unsullied, your delicious mouth had never been touched by a man's lips, and no spark had ever kindled the fire of life within you. Now, women would turn from you with a shudder, saying that your presence contaminates the atmosphere, but to me you are dearer than anything on earth, —and I've lost you.

Once, when you first came to me, my father visited my rooms, and, knowing his horror of you and your kind, I hid you in my closet, and there you remained until he had got halfway downstairs. Then, with a shameless appreciation of my own duplicity, I brought you out and laughed to think how the governor never suspected your nearness.

And once Brewster gave me to understand, half in jest and half in earnest, that you were the only thing necessary to his happiness, and that if I ever grew tired of you— But I resented that, and told him nothing should ever part us.

Oh, if I could but go in and pick you up and carry you to the big Morris chair! With my lips upon your mouth and the fragrance of your breath upon my face, the worries of the day would become as bubbles of air, floating away into unreality before the exquisite assurance of the present.

"Marse Maurice," said the maid, passing him at the top of the stairs, "I done foun' yo' pipe what yo' los' las' night. It went an' los' itself behind dat heathen Chinee on de bookcase, an' de old sinner grinnin' at me c'ase he know'd all de time whar it was. De Lawd knows I'se po'ful glad to fin' it, c'ase I says to myself, Marse Maurice, he done set mo' store by dat ole pipe dan mos' men does by dey wives."—

ADVERTISING RATES

Measurement Nonpareil—12 lines to th inch.

Display advertisements, 10c pe line.

Subsequent consecutive insertions, 5c.

Reading advertisements, 15c per line.

Preferred position, 20 per cent. advanc upon ordinary or contract rates.

Minimum space, 10 lines.

Marriages and deaths, 50c each insertio

Births, 25c each insertion.

Rates for Condensed Advertisement will be found in 1st column of 2nd page.

All advertisements are subject to th approval of the Publisher of the Intelligencer.

Address all communications to the Intelligencer Printing & Publishing House Limited, or to Charles J. Bowell, Managing Director and Treasurer.

Canadians in London will find The Intelligencer on file at E. & J. Hardy & Co.'s Office, 30 Fleet Street, London, E. C.

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS

SITUATIONS WANTED, HELP WANTED, LOST OR FOUND, FOR SALE OR TO RENT, &c.

(Auction Sales not included in this list)

TERMS.—Twenty-five words or less, 25c first insertion; two insertions, 50c; four insertions, 75c; one week $1.00, two weeks, $1.75, three weeks, $2.25; one month, $2.50. Strictly cash in advance.

WANTED,

A good cook for Mrs. W. D. Chisholm. Apply in the evenings to Miss Bell, corner of Queen and George streets. 15-4t

The present whereabouts of Theodore Morden and Elizabeth Morden, the children of John Morden, late of the Village of Milltown, in the County of Hastings, cabinet-maker, deceased. Any person able to give any information as to the present place of abode of Theodore Morden or Elizabeth Morden or any of the children of either of them will communicate with Charles Morden, 25 Russell St., Kingston, Ont. 15-16-18

Not fakes nor fads but household goods. Used everyday by everybody. Can't you sell them? Others do and make fortunes. Still room. Write at once to G. Marshall & Co., London, Ont.

A few men and women to work for us at home during spare time. Pleasant work. Liberal pay. No canvassing. Imperial Company, London, Ontario. m12-1m

By S. Langbort—Scrap iron, metal, old rubber, etc. Will pay the following prices: Old iron, 50c, 60c and 70c. per 100; mixed rags 50c per 100; copper 9c lb.; heavy brass 9c lb.; old rubber boots and shoes 6c lb.; lead and zinc 2c lb. Remember the place, Powell's Old Stand, Mill St., corner Brown. ap21-1m

Young men ambitious to learn lucrative trades, of which there are eight in connection with the business. Apply The Belleville Hardware Company, Belleville, Ont. a7dtf

Competent men to appoint agents, whole or spare time. Commission paid. Apply JOHN DOYLE, Drawer 531, London. a27-1yr

HOUSE FOR SALE OR TO-LET.

(On Dundas street (north side). For particulars apply to Miss McCrudden, at Foster's restaurant, Front street, after 6 p.m. 18-6td

TO-LET,

The dentist rooms at present occupied by Dr. Clarke. Apply to P. C. JONES. a20dtf

FOR SALE OR TO-LET.

The house occupied by Mrs. L. W. Yeomans, cor. Bridge and John Sts. a20dtf

FOR SALE,

Stone house, 11 rooms, coal furnace, stable, barn. Large grounds. Cor. Frank and Moira Sts. north. Terms reasonable. H. Bull, on premises or Fred Bull, 21-2 Queen St., Toronto. ap18-dtf

Contractors and masons, any any person requiring lime may procure it from E. G. STAPLEY, Canifton Road, Belleville. New lime always on hand. a9-d&w6m

Dressed and Matched Lumber of all kinds, at ALFORD'S factory, Market Square. j12-tf

Valuable Farm Properties for Sale

TERMS TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

Lot 4, and part of lots 44, 45, 153, on Big Island, Co. of Prince Edward.

Part lots 32 and 33, on Big Island, County of Prince Edward; 74 acres.

East half lot 19, 2nd Con. Township of Ameliasburgh, 100 acres, County of Prince Edward.

West 1-2 lot B, 2nd Con. Township of Sidney, County of Hastings, 100 acres.

Lots 30 and 31, 3rd Concession, township of Faraday, County of Hastings, 200 acres.

Apply to

W. N. PONTON,

Belleville.

Belleville, May, 1903. 18-1md&4w

REMOVAL.

Dr. Clarke will shortly remove to the offices formerly occupied by the late Dr. Ward, over Burrows', and opposite Scantlebury's Book Store. a27dtf

Those who live in yesterday's wigwam are always a day behind.

If the rattlesnake did not stop to talk he would be ten times more dangerous.

Young courage and old caution make a strong pair.

It takes a long time to tell of what you have not done.

THEY DROVE PIMPLES AWAY.—A face covered with pimples is unsightly. It tells of internal irregularities which should long since have been corrected. The liver and the kidneys are not performing their functions in the healthy way they should, and these pimples are to let you know that the blood protests. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will drive them all away, and will leave the skin clear and clean. Try them, and there will be another witness to their excellence.

The best wheel of fortune is honest labor.

HAD LA GRIPPE.—Mr. A. Nickason, farmer, Dutton, writes: "Last winter I had La Grippe and it left me with a severe pain in the small of my back and hip that used to catch me whenever I tried to climb a fence. This lasted for about two months, when I bought a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil and used it both internally and externally, morning and evening, for three days, at the expiration of which time I was completely cured."

Wedding rings in St. Kilda used to be made of worsted.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed 'Perfection.'

Coral is a talisman against thunder and evils by flood and field.

AT DEATH'S DOOR.—DYSPEPSIA CONQUERED.—A GREAT MEDICAL TRIUMPH.—Gentlemen,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the Vegetable Discovery consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen Vegetable Discovery since it cured me, as I am well-known and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed, JEAN VALCOURT,

Wotton, P.Q. General Merchant

A woman never knows where the match box is.

Very many persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer complaints, who might have been saved if proper remedies had been used. If attacked do not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, the medicine that never fails to effect a cure. Those who have used it say it acts promptly, and thoroughly subdues the pain and disease.

When one gets hopping mad his reason goes on a crutch.

Use the safe, pleasant, and effectual worm killer, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator; nothing equals it. Procure a bottle and take it home.

The average watch represents but 12 hours of human labor.

Have you tried Holloway's Corn Cure? It has no equal for removing these troublesome excrescences, as many have testified who have tried it.

If thy friend is honey, do not lick him up altogether.

FOR INFLAMMATION OF THE EYES.—Among the many good qualities which Parmelee's Vegetable Pills possess, besides regulating the digestive organs, is their efficacy in reducing inflammation of the eyes. It has called forth many letters of recommendation from those who were afflicted with this complaint and found a cure in the pills. They affect the nerve centres and the blood in a surprisingly active way, and the result is almost immediately seen.

Attend no auctions if thou hast no money.

If you have a cough or cold do not neglect it; many without a trace of that hereditary disease have drifted into a consumptive's grave by neglecting what was only a slight cold. Had they used Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup before it was too late, their lives would have been saved. Mr. A. W. Levy, Mitchell, writes: "I think Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup the best preparation on the market for coughs and severe colds. About six years ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs, and for three months I had a cough. I had a physician attending me, but gradually grew worse until I was on the verge of Consumption, and had given up hopes of being cured, when I was induced to try Bickle's Syrup. Before I had taken one bottle I found myself greatly relieved, and by the time I had finished the second bottle I was completely cured. I always recommend it for severe colds and consumption."

Many a man's self-conceit is due to his ignorance.

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, and disordered stomach.

Over 250,000 copies of Charles Dickens' novels are sold annually.

Do not despair of curing your sick headache when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

SAVE MONEY

By JOINING The

MUTUAL LITERARY-MUSIC CLUB OF AMERICA

25 Cents pays for three months' membership. Each member receives the official club organ every month, including 6 pieces of high-class vocal and instrumental new music each month, 18 pieces in all; also a Certificate of Membership which gives the privilege of Club Room in New York City, and of buying literature, music or musical instruments of any description at wholesale prices, saving you from 20% to 60% on your purchases. Don't fail to join at once. You will get much more than your money's worth. MUTUAL LITERARY-MUSIC CLUB, Dept. , 150 Nassau St., N.Y.

GREAT SALE

—OF—

Boys' Shirt Waists

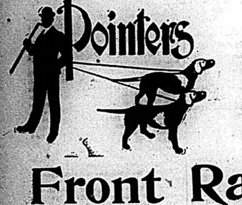
We purchased at a big sacrifice, 50 doz. Boys' Shirt Waists for ages 5 to 12 years. These goods are the best value at 75 cts. each, but our buying has enabled us to place them before the public at

50c each

The assortment is complete at present. Come at once and secure what you want for the season.

OAK HALL

Sole Agents for Sanford's Celebrated Clothing.



Pointers In the Front Rank

STAND OUT--- our medium grade

MEN'S

Dongola and Box Calf Lace Boots

For style and wearing qualities they rank first and foremost at the prices—$1.50, $2.00 and $2.50.

☞SEE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY.

Heavier grades at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 & $2.00.

MEN'S PATENT LEATHERS

to suit all feet, styles and pocket books.

The J. J. Haines

SHOE HOUSES at Belleville, Napanee and Trenton

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE

FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

Daily Intelligencer.

TIMELY TOPICS

The doctrine of protection is growing stronger every day in England. The proposition to remove the grain tax is being strenuously opposed. A Montreal Star's London cablegram of the 14th, says: "The British Government is expected to compromise on the cereal duties question, by repealing the duty on grain, but retaining it on flour."

• • •

Canadian three per cent. stocks stand in the London market at 103, while Australian, South African and other Colonial stocks range from 90 to 96.

• • •

The arrivals of Canadian cattle in England have advanced from 10,163, in the first four months of 1902, to 27,300 in the first four months in 1903. A good showing.

• • •

A Montreal Star cablegram from London of the 14th inst. says: "The heads of the Hamburg-American Line have decided to grant $125 to $150 per head to assist ex-convicts to emigrate after six months' trial. The United States being barred against the immigration of criminals, Canada is especially favored by the society as their dumping-ground." There is one way of meeting this attempt to flood Canada with German ex-jail-birds, and that is for Parliament, now in session, to pass an Act imposing a heavy penalty upon every ship that lands one of the ex-convicts upon our shores.

• • •

Mr. Stratton, it is announced, is to lay the corner-stone of a church on the 1st of June. It is suggested that the Mail and Globe, containing a full report of his affidavit in the Gamey investigation, one of the curiosities of the 20th century, be deposited in the cavity of said stone, as evidence of simple innocence and want of knowledge of all officials connected with the Liberal Election funds of 1902, though he was left in charge of the protesting branch of the Ontario Liberal party.

Some idea may, by, comparison, be formed of the magnitude of grants of lands made in the Nor' West to railway enterprises. As an illustration:

	Acres.
Area of Scotland	19,000,000
Assessed area of Ontario	23,000,000
Cleared area of Ontario	13,000,000
Area granted to Mackenzie & Mann	30,000,000

Thus it will be seen that Mackenzie & Mann have been given within two or three million acres of the combined area of Scotland and the cleared part of Ontario.

• • •

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is becoming overbearing and altogether too self-important. The fact is he has been spoiled by flattery and slavish adulation received from the claquers by whom he is surrounded. His sunny smiles have been turned into peevish invectives against those who dare to doubt or question his policy or consistency. This trait in his new role was strongly exhibited in his reply to Mr. Monk, the member for Jacques Cartier, who dared to ask a question as to the expenditure of public money. Sir Wilfrid will learn ere long that he is not that heaven-born statesman that the sycophants who worship at his footstool have made him believe he is.

• • •

Let us paraphase the editorial item in the Globe, in re the settlement of the Longshoremen's strike in Montreal, and make it read truthfully. The Globe shows a disposition to magnify the services of Sir William Mulock in bringing to a close the dock laborers' strike at Montreal, and to minimize those of Sir Thos. Shaughnessy and Hon. Mr. Tarte. It is a petty way to make political capital, and is, moreover, unwarranted by the facts. It is well know that Sir Thomas and the ex-Minister succeeded in bringing the parties closer together, and are entitled to credit for it.

• • •

If Globe editorials and Ottawa correspondents can make Mulock a great man, he will shine in history. It is now announced that "Sir William Mulock is now able to speak the French language with facility." Wonderful man is this Sir William. He is much "greater than has been."

TRAIN THROUGH BRIDGE.

Ten Cars and Engine Destroyed—Engineer Probably Killed—Fatal Collision East of St. Thomas.

Quebec, May 18.—At about noon a freight train coming east over the Great Northern Railway, while passing over the Grand Mere bridge, went through the bridge, which was burning at the time. The train consisted of ten cars laden with grain. The cars were consumed and the engine totally destroyed. Engineer O'Brien is missing and was probably killed. The rest of the crew escaped injury. The bridge was a wooden tressel structure.

PASSED BLOCK SIGNALS.

Fatal Railway Collision About 90 Miles East of St. Thomas.

St. Thomas, May 18.—A serious and fatal railway collision occurred Saturday morning on the Michigan Central, about one mile east of Perry, a small station 90 miles east of the city. Engineer W. McIntyre of this city lost his life in the wreck, and Fireman Alexander Robinson, also of this city, had his foot badly crushed. A driver was slightly injured.

The wreck occurred at 3.44 o'clock, and was caused by Conductor Oatman's extra eastbound freight passing the block signals, and, while under a full head of steam, crashing into the rear end of Conductor Lucas' eastbound train. Conductor Oatman's train was manned by Engineer William McIntyre and Fireman Alexander Robinson. The latter saw the danger and jumped, but had his foot badly crushed. The former met death at his post of duty, and it was not until about 10 o'clock in the morning that his charred remains were found by the wrecking crew in the cab of the engine.

SHOCKING STATE OF THINGS.

Engineer Copeland of the Intercolonial Will Be Prosecuted.

Ottawa, May 18. — Instructions have been sent to the Attorney-General of Nova Scotia to prosecute Engineer Copeland, who is alleged to have been responsible for the train wreck on the Intercolonial Railway near Windsor Junction. The investigation conducted by the Government reveals a shocking state of affairs. It is charged that not only was Copeland himself asleep in his cab, as the result of a drinking bout the night before, but his fireman and the brakeman of the train were under the influence of liquor. In fact, all except the conductor are said to have been incapable of performing their duty. Mr. Blair has dismissed all the guilty parties.

"THE TERRIBLE TWINS"

Rheumatism and Sciatica are thus well named.

South American Rheumatic Cure relieves in 6 hours and cures in 1 to 3 days.

South American Rheumatic Cure is the open door to a perfect cure—it goes directly to the seat of the trouble—drives out of the system the uric acid—the effete matter—the poisons which fasten themselves in the joints and muscles—retard circulation—induce inflammation and the intense suffering that follows such derangement. Relief from the first dose—marvellous cures have been made in from one to three days. 76

Sold by D. M. Waters.

In an article in the "Arena" for February, Eltweed Pomeroy writes of English and French national traits as shown in their deliberative assemblies—the House of Commons and the Chamber of Deputies respectively. Describing a visit to the latter, Mr. Pomeroy writes:

"The hands of the two big clocks—there must be one on each side to balance—approach two. A minute later the ushers, in full dress, each with a metal chain around his neck, arrange themselves in a row; the head usher announces in a loud voice to the few Deputies already there: 'Monsieur le President!' and the elegant Paul Duchanel enters and ascends to his seat on the third platform. The hall fills with Deputies. The audience quiets down. Without any roll-call, reading of minutes, or other preliminary, the President announces that Deputy Berry will speak.

"A stocky, businesslike Frenchman ascends the tribune. At first he speaks calmly, but, soon warming up, he expostulates, implores, entreats, commands, exhorts. Gestures are frequent and emphatic. It is an oration. A sharp remark starts a question from one side. M. Berry answers it. Another and another follow in rapid succession. A member stops walking in front and begins an excited explanation. Twelve or fifteen Deputies are talking at once. M. Berry shrugs his shoulders with an eloquent gesture of despair—as only a Frenchman can shrug. The President raps hard on the table; he rings his bell again and again, rises, and calls out: 'Attention, gentlemen!' The hubbub subsides and then renews. The President pleads with them: 'It is Monsieur Berry who speaks, gentlemen! Hear him!' His hands are extended in entreaty. His voice has tears in it. He assumes the most graceful, nonchalant, and pleading attitude. The speaker below him has stopped with a most patient and resigned air. A stalwart usher comes to the front and shouts 'Silence!' In the lull that follows, M. Berry makes the mistake of saying he could sing something that would convince them. At once the shout, 'Chantant! Chantant!' ('Sing! Sing!') goes up all over the house. Nothing can be heard in the din till M. Berry begins to talk in stentorian tones and gesticulates wildly and ends in an eloquent climax, which brings silence out of mere curiosity to hear him. A vote is taken and his motion is carried. Despite the noise, oratory, and hubbub, the body moves and action is taken. An Englishman is bewildered and scandalised by the tumult. He does not understand the French love of a sensational effect and of display.

"President Duchanel has just been married. A little later, a witty Deputy in the course of his speech said, 'I am a benedick,' with a significant wave of his hand backward. At once a fusillade of questions were fired at him—why was he a benedick? how long would he stay a benedick? was it good to be a benedick? The President arose, explained, pleaded, expostulated in a most pathetic and heart-rending manner. The orator talked below. The witty questions, bon-mots, and laughter scintillated across the floor. The audience in the boxes applauded and watched the actors through their opera-glasses. Ushers came out and shouted, 'Silence! Silence!' but no one paid any attention to them. It was as good as a circus. They were all actors, and acting with a verve, grace, and effectiveness utterly alien to the Anglo-Saxon."

Turning to the British House of Commons, Mr. Pomeroy says that a policeman points the visitor through a magnificent hall into an equally magnificent octagonal lobby without any seats in it. Halls leading out of it have seats, but a policeman tells you visitors are not allowed to sit on them. Policemen are everywhere, and they act as if they were the chief ornaments of the building. Even a member of the House must get a special permit to take a lady with the visiting party into the House restaurant. "While we are discussing the Parliament-toasted buns and tea, we notice a sentry pacing up and down on the outside terrace. On enquiry we find he was put there years ago, when the dynamite outrages stirred parliamentary sloth. The idea was that dynamite might be thrown from a boat on the river and destroy the buildings. He still paces."

Illustrating this characteristic worship of precedent, the writer says that his friend, Mr. Corrie Grant, member for Leicester, cited a couple of interesting facts. On entering the chamber, every member bows three times. At first Mr. Grant thought they were bowing to the Speaker, as representing the dignity of the House. But one day he noticed the Speaker himself bowed three times on entering. He enquired, but no one seemed to know the reason for this rule. The English in him became aroused and he went digging to find out. After a good deal of antiquarian research, he found that centuries ago, in the time of Henry VIII., the House of Commons met in St. Stephen's chapel, which of course was Roman Catholic, as that was then the State and all-prevailing religion. At the upper end was an altar, and everyone coming in bowed three times to the Holy Trinity—to the Father, to the Son, and to the Holy Ghost. They no longer meet in St. Stephen's chapel; the religion is gone; the altar is gone; the real reason for the rule is gone—but they still bow three times on entering.

Again, "in the House of Commons the members sit on benches without any desks. These benches run up and down the hall, and an aisle runs up the center. The Government members sit on one side and the Opposition on the other. They thus face each other. There are only enough seats for about a third of the members. That also is English. The arrangement of seats is awkward for speaking, but it is 'old.' Down each side of the aisle runs a narrow strip of red carpet. Should a member in talking overstep this red carpet, he is called to order and moves back. The two strips of red carpet are just a little farther apart than the length of a sword and the sword arm. They are a relic of the time when the armed knights sat on either side of the house and a member was forbidden to overstep this red carpet lest in the heat of debate he should draw his sword and injure or be injured. The swords have gone ages ago, and the violence of that mediaeval debate, but the red carpet and the rule without reason remains."

No laborer who puts thought into his work need have any fear of ever being displaced by a machine.

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat Co.,

(LIMITED)

"The Bay of Quinte Route."

Str. "ALETHA"

Leaves Belleville on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 a.m. for Bay of Quinte ports and Kingston. Returning will arrive at Belleville on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10.30 p.m.

Belleville-Rochester Route

Str. "North King"

Commencing 31st May will leave Belleville on Sundays at 11.38 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. Returning arrives at Belleville on Sundays at 3.25 a.m. and leaves for Bay Ports, Kingston and 1000 Islands.

During July and August service will be daily except Monday.

Right reserved to change time with or without notice.

For passage and freight rates and other information, apply to

THE RATHBUN CO., } Agents.
U. E. THOMPSON, }
E. E. HORSEY, G. P. & F. Agent, Kingston.

Montreal, Rochester & Quebec Transit Co'y.

Str. "Alexandria"

Service in effect 25th April.

Leaves Rathbun Co.'s wharf, Belleville, every Saturday at 11.00 a.m. for Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Every Monday at 7.00 a.m. for Montreal and all River Ports.

Thousand Islands by daylight.

Runs all St. Lawrence River Rapids.

Quebec excursions commence July 5th.

LOW FREIGHT RATES.

A. W. HEPBURN, General Manager, Picton, Ont.
THE RATHBUN CO. Agents. Belleville.

The Deseronto Navigation Co

TIME TABLE.

Taking effect April 13, 1903,

Belleville, Trenton, Picton & Napanee

Str. "ELLA ROSS"

Leaves Belleville for Trenton at 10 a. m., daily, Sundays Excepted, returning leaves Trenton at 1 p. m., leaving Belleville at 3 p.m. for Deseronto, Napanee and Picton.

Quick and Superior Service to NEW YORK CITY

Steamers RESOLUTE and RELIANCE will leave Deseronto for Oswego after arrival of Str. Ella Ross connecting at Oswego with the New York, Ontario Western Ry.

Fare to New York, Single, $8.40
Return, $13.25

For further particulars apply to THE RATHBUN CO., Local Agents

J. F CHAPMAN, Asst. Gen. Frt. & Pass. Agt., Deseronto.
A. C. CARTER General Manager Deseronto.

Just What You Want

Paint Brushes 7, 10, 15, 20, 25c.
Whitewash Brushes 10, 13, 15, 20, 25, 35, 45c.
1,000 Parlor Matches for 5c.
600 pairs Ladies' Bl'k Hose 5c pair.
500 printed Platters and Bakers, regular 25, clearing at 10c.
300 pairs Men's Sox, special, 4 pr. for 25c.
D. K. Blue Cups and Saucers, 35c 1-2 dozen.
1200 Dinner Setts for $8.00.
Curtain Poles, complete, for 20c.
Carpet Tacks, 2 for 5c.
Carpet Whips 10c each.
Kitchen Mirrors 12, 15, 20, 25, 30c.
Best Oil Blinds 30c.
6 Cakes Moss Rose Toilet Soap 15c.
3 Cakes Cold Cream Toilet Soap 5c.
6 Bars Eclipse Soap 25c.
Large variety of odd Wallpaper der, clearing at 1c yard.
50 varieties of Wallpaper, clearing at 5c Roll.
Large varieties 5, 7, 8, 10c Ceiling Papers, clearing at 3c Roll.

Be sure and visit our Wallpaper Department; it is the most complete, and has the best selected stock to choose from in the City.

Our Prices are 1-2 what other stores ask for same quality.

AT THE BEE HIVE

Chas. N. Sulman

Much talk, many lies.
All trails are long to the lazy.

A man should be getting on well in life when he is getting well on in life.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

VICTORIA DAY

MAY 24th, 1903.

Return Tickets will be issued at—

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE,

Between all stations in Canada; also to Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, N.Y., Detroit, Pt. Huron, Mich., etc.

GOOD GOING MAY 23rd, 24th, or 25th, Valid returning from destination on or before May 26th, 1903.

COLONIST EXCURSIONS.

One way tickets at low rates on sale until June 15th, to points in Montana, Colorado, Utah, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and California.

Tickets sold in accordance with above will not be good on train No. 1 or train No. 4.

For tickets, and all information apply to

U. E. THOMPSON, City Agent, Bridge Street,
T. H. COPPIN, Depot Agent.
J. D. McDONALD, Dist. Pass. Agt., Toronto.

NEW YORK CENTRAL & HUDSON RIVER R. R.

THE FOUR-TRACK TRUNK LINE.

SHORTEST Route to the United States via Cape Vincent, N.Y.

GOING EAST AND WEST.			After 1st May
Lv. Belleville (G.T.R.)		12.22 p.m.	1.30 a.m
Arr. Kingston	"	1.47 p.m.	3.12 a.m
Lv. Kingston (stage)..		2.30 p.m.	5.00 a.m
Arr. Cape Vincent (stage)		4.30 p.m.	7.00 a.m
Lv. Cape Vincent N.Y.C.		5.05 p.m.	7.25 a.m
Arr. Watertown	"	5.55 p.m.	8.25 a.m
Arr. Oswego	"	9.05 p.m.	11.55 a.m
Arr. Syracuse	"	9.25 p.m.	12.07 p.m
Arr. Rochester	"	1.05 a.m.	2.20 a.m
Arr. Utica	"	9.45 p.m.	12.35 p.m
Arr. New York	"	7.25 a.m.	6.00 p.m

Convenient train service in opposite direction.

Pullman Sleeping and Parlor Cars.

2c a Mile.

Books for 500 miles of travel on New York Central and leased lines within State of New York, cost only $10 while books for 1000 miles over New York Central, Boston & Albany, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, Philadelphia & Reading and C. R. R. of New Jersey cost $20. Secure further information and purchase tickets from F. A. Folger, N.Y.C. Agent, Kingston, Ont.

GEORGE H. DANIELS, Gen'l Pass'r Agent. New York.
A. H. SMITH, Gen'l Supt., New York.
G. C. GRIDLEY, Gen'l Agent, Watertown, N.Y.

The New Wall Paper Store

sells borders by the roll, same price as the papers.

THE BEST TALENT in the world is employed to design the paper we sell.

We select only the beautiful and harmonious designs because those are the kind that please our patrons.

New Spring designs, delicate flower-like tints, all conceivable patterns, many exclusive designs, scrolls, ingrains, etc., ceiling and border to match. Prices to suit all pocketbooks.

JOHN CORNELIUS,

Decorator, Painter, Grainer, and Paper Hanger, all work guaranteed first class.

Orders for bookbinding should be left at this office. It is surprising how nice a volume can be made of these magazines, even though they are somewhat soiled from much handling. Books, magazines, or periodicals bound or rebound in any style at very reasonable prices. Blank books, such as journals, ledgers, day books, with any kind of ruling, made to order. All work warranted first-class. THE INTELLIGENCER, Belleville.

Just received another shipment of

THE SWELL

Don Shoe

Always glossy, Rubber Heels, on every pair.

Price - $4.00

A.W. VERMILYEA & SON.

DAISY GORDON'S FOLLY

—OR—

THE WORLD LOST FOR LOVE'S SAKE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY,

Author of "The Crime of Hallow-E'en," "The Flirtations of a Beauty," "Willful Gaynell," "Little Leafy," "Only a Mechanic's Daughter," etc.

"Every one thinks his own lot the hardest to bear," said Mr. Simpson, with a smile, which encouraged Daisy to proceed.

"It is about a young girl," she began, with great embarrassment, "who made a most unhappy marriage."

"A very common occurrence nowadays, I am sorry to say," observed Mr. Simpson.

"She was so young— this friend of mine— when she married that she hardly knew what love meant. She was coaxed into it. A handsome stranger who came to the village persuaded her to marry him— without the consent of her relatives and friends, and it was to be kept a secret for a little while."

"The same old story," thought the lawyer, but he made no comments; he put on a very sympathetic look and seemed profoundly interested.

"She was so young, so very young she did not know that this was wrong— all wrong." Daisy went on in a low voice, half choked with sobs.

"Quite as soon as they were married, a strange fate separated them; but their secret was never found out—they drifted apart.

"She found out what he was, this handsome stranger who had wooed and won her; a scoundrel of the deepest dye, whom it were mild to call a villain.

"And then—— Oh, sir, how she abhorred him from the very depth of her heart.

"It became the one great secret trouble of her life that he would come back some time and claim her. She would have died before she would have gone with him."

"Poor child, that was a hard secret to bear," mused the lawyer, sympathetically, pretending not to notice her great emotion, and the sudden stop she had come to.

"It was indeed a bitter secret," Daisy went on, piteously; "but after awhile her fear grew less, and she dared to hope he could never find her if she were to go away— destroying every trace by which he might search for her.

"Then she met another whom she had in the meantime learned to love with all the fervor of her heart and soul, and— and he asked her to marry him.

"Her whole soul went out to meet him. She loved him so well that she could not give him up. She believed he would never find out—never know the horrible secret that darkened the past, and one sunny summer day she married him."

The old lawyer's face had suddenly grown grave; this was worse than he had thought. Still, he would not interrupt her.

"She married him," continued Daisy, faintly, "and their life was one dream of happiness until suddenly in an unexpected moment she met the first one face to face.

"My— my friend cannot tell whether he recognized her or not. She turned and fled as though an arrow had pierced her heart. What I want to know is this, sir. Could the scoundrel claim her? Can he force her to go with him?

"Remember she hates him with all her heart. She would rather die than go with him; yes, rather die a thousand times.

"It would break her heart to be parted from the husband whom she loves."

"I am to tell you the truth, the whole truth, no matter for the pain it may bring you?" questioned the lawyer, slowly.

"Yes," said Daisy, piteously. "Tell me the truth. Could he, the scoundrel, claim my—my friend?"

"Yes, he could claim her.. She is his wife before God and man!" he responded, slowly. "She committed one of the greatest sins as well as one of the gravest of crimes by disobeying God's law by marrying again; in the eyes of the law she is guilty of bigamy, that is punishable by the prison doors closing upon her. A woman who would lend herself to such a sin ought to be sent to prison. I am too honorable a man to lift my voice to save her."

CHAPTER XIV.

"I Know Your Awful Secret, My Lady."

The words fell upon poor Daisy's ears like the voice of doom.

It was a terrible and cruel awakening; only heaven knew what she suffered as she listened.

The full meaning of his words had not reached her— she realized, understood but one thing— Harold St. John could claim her— he could part her from Aleck— her love— the other half of her soul.

How she ever left the lawyer's office and entered the cab again she never remembered.

The lawyer looked after the slim figure with keen eyes.

"I should know that form and that little white hand anywhere again," he ruminated. "Poor child, it is a great sorrow, and she has brought it upon herself; the friend whose case she cites—is herself.

"How strange that love should be called a blessing when it brings so much misery to one-half of the world," thought the bachelor lawyer. "How much sin and folly is brought about all through love's sake, and it seems that the most beautiful women are the most prone to it."

He turned with a sigh to his books, but the vision of a fair face framed in sunny, golden hair which he caught but an imperfect outline of, haunted him— he could not tell why.

Swiftly the cab which bore Daisy rolled on through the sunlit streets, but it seemed to her darkness reigned.

Of course Harold St. John had recognized her as she rose from her seat and hurried away; surprise must have held him spellbound for a moment, then he must have gone in search of her; he was searching for her even then.

What should she do? That was the agonized cry of her heart.

When she reached the hotel a sudden faintness seized her; what if she should meet her foe in the corridor. He would cry out in a voice like a bugle blast:

"I have found you at last—you are mine—you shall go with me!"

Oh, the horror and disgrace of it; what would Aleck do if he knew?

Trembling with excitement she gained her own suit of rooms; she met no one; she thanked heaven for that.

"How white and ill you look, my lady," cried Janet, springing to her side. "You should not have gone out alone."

"Has any one —called for me—any one been here to see me?" asked Daisy, asking the question with apparent calmness, but the girl could detect a subdued intentness in her voice.

"A stranger called —who refused to leave his card," she answered, telling the falsehood boldly; but she was greatly dismayed at the effect upon her mistress.

Daisy threw up her hands with the bitterest moan that ever fell from human lips.

"At last—the sword has fallen at last!" she muttered.

"Did he say he would call again?" Daisy asked with a most piteous quiver in her voice.

"Yes; and soon," replied the girl, boldly.

Sending her maid from the room, for an hour or more she paced the floor in an agony of mind words are too weak to describe.

"I cannot see him," she muttered. "I must write to him all that I have to say."

"Would that my pen was a dagger," she moaned, as she seated herself before her writing-desk. "I would plunge it through my heart and end it all. The world is narrowing down to a grave."

The lines seemed to waver before her tear-blinded eyes; but with a desperate effort she began her letter, which ran as follows:

"Harold St. John, the hour has come in which we have stood face to face at last. You have hunted me down, I can but confess all now, and then die, for death would be preferable to going with you.

"You wooed and won me through the most cruel of frauds; but I never loved you—I realized that—but too plainly as we stood before the altar together. I will not dwell upon how cruelly you deserted me then and there, nor the horrible scene that followed on the heels of it, for you remember all but too well.

"I will confess the truth now, taking the consequence of my folly in my own hands. I learned to love another, and thinking the past would never be found out, I married.

"If you part me from my love it will kill me. There is no love between you and me. There never was. For this reason I pray you to spare me— spare me because I am so young to face and live down the world's scorn. Have pity, have mercy. Go your way and let me go mine, I implore you."

She could write no more, her tears fell so thick and heavy on the page.

Should she send it or should she not? Would her prayers or pleadings touch his heart? She thought not.

No, she would not sue for mercy—she would stand bravely and face the sword as it fell on her head. She crushed the letter in her hand and flung it from her, then it suddenly occurred to her that it would be best to destroy it, but how?

If she should tear it into shreds and trust it to the breeze, into whose hands might the fragments fall? "Ah, no, there was too much of a risk in that," she told herself.

Then it occurred to her that the safest way would be to burn it. Yes, that was the only way.

She gave the bell-rope a violent pull, and when her maid entered, she startled the girl by ordering a fire started in the grate.

"A fire!" repeated the girl, in wonder, looking at her strangely.

"Yes," said Daisy, nervously.

"But," objected the girl, "it is so warm —it is quite a hot day. I am afraid the heat will be too much for you."

"I am as cold as death," said Daisy, shuddering.

It was a strange thing to order a fire built on a September day. "It was unnatural," the maid told herself. Still the fire was lighted; but it went out. Three or four attempts proved quite unsuccessful.

"How bent she is upon having a fire," thought the girl. "There is an air of mystery about it— yes, it looks as though there was something she wished to burn." At last a bright flame burst out, and the fire gave promise of burning, and the maid quitted the room.

Daisy secured the door, then knelt down before the grate, separated the glowing coals, and placed the paper which bore such pitiful evidence against her between them.

She shook it from her white hands as though it had been the clammy coils of a serpent, and gazed at it with fascinated eyes; the heat seemed to shrivel and harden it instead of burning it.

A moment more and the flames seemed to have claimed it, and as the thick, dark smoke enveloped the crumpled ball, she turned away.

And in that instant she heard her maid calling at the door:

"Oh, my lady, my lady, open the door—quick! I want to speak to you."

With trembling fingers, Daisy flung open the door.

Janet's cunning eyes took in the startled expression of face; also the curling, smoking, blackening mass in the grate at first glance.

"Oh, my lady!" she panted, "you should come down to the parlor at once. Mr. Hamilton has just come in, and he looks so white I am sure he is ill. He fell back into a chair, and did not answer me when I spoke, so I am sure he is ill."

"Aleck ill!" cried Daisy, in great alarm.

She did not wait to hear the rest of the girl's story, but flew with desperate, breathless haste down to the parlor. As she hastened away, she did not notice that she had left the girl in the room behind her.

Ten minutes later Daisy returned to her rooms; the maid was still there.

"What could you mean by telling me my husband came home ill, Janet?" she asked impatiently. "He has not been home since luncheon. No one in the house has even seen him."

Daisy never noticed that the girl's face was flushed and her manner strange.

"I was so sure it was Mr. Hamilton!" she declared, murmuring something about being sorry she had made such an awkward mistake; "but I am very glad to know he was not ill."

Glancing toward the glowing bed of coals in the grate, Daisy was thankful to see that no trace or fragment of the letter remained.

There was a terrible load lifted from her heart; she had seen Harold St. John leaving the hotel in the hack that went to meet the noon train.

He had not recognized her then; heaven had spared her.

Aleck was surprised at the wonderful change in her when he returned an hour later.

She threw herself into his arms with a hysterical sob.

"It is going to be as you wish, Aleck, my love!" she faltered. "We will not go; indeed I— would rather stay here."

Aleck was puzzled as well as being amused.

"I had just come to tell you, darling, that I have bought tickets back to New York," he said gayly.

A strange smile passed over the maid's lips.

"Ha! my lady, I will go with you; the terrible secret I have discovered shall be converted into a little gold mine. You shall pay me handsomely, or ere tomorrow's sun rises Mr. Hamilton shall know all!"

CHAPTER XV.

The Price of Silence.

No one ever yet took a first step in the downward path of concealment and folly, but was forced by necessity still further down the broad road that leads to a precipice.

"Oh, what a tangled web we weave,
When first we practice to deceive."

Poor hapless Daisy had sinned too deeply and too piteously to retrace her steps now— she was recklessly following the hand of love that led her on to her doom.

Amidst new scenes and new faces Daisy told herself she would once more be happy, even though she knew her danger.

There was one thing, however, that puzzled and annoyed her, and that was the great change that had come over her maid Janet.

The French maid was no longer deferential to her wishes; there was a look in her black eyes that Daisy could not comprehend, and there were occasional hints of secrets she had discovered in the lives of many of the dainty ladies who had employed her, and her words were always accompanied by a pleasing smile and a peculiar nod that made Daisy's blood almost turn to ice around her heart.

"Can she suspect? Ah, surely not," Daisy assured herself over and over again, for the very thought terrified her.

The girl's manner was becoming intolerable to her, and she concluded to dispense with her services at once.

To be Continued.

RAILWAY TIME TABLES.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

Time of departure from Belleville Station:

Going East.

No. 16—Local, for Brockville, 7 a.m., arrives back from Brockville 9.30 p.m.

No. 2—1.30 a.m., Mail and Express, (Flyer), Daily.

No. 6—11.40 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

No. 4—12.22 p.m., International Limited, Daily.

No. 12—5.55 p.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

Going West.

No. 5—3 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily except Monday.

No. 3—4.10 a.m., Limited Express, Daily.

No. 9—5.50 a.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

No. 11—11.22 a.m., Passenger, Daily except Sunday.

No. 1—1.50 p.m., International Limited Daily.

No. 7—5.10 p.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

Taking effect 12.01 o'clock, Sunday, June 15, 1902.

MIDLAND RAILWAY.

Belleville and Peterboro.

Going West.

	Leave.	Arr. Peterboro
Mail	5.40 a.m.	8.10 a.m.
Mixed	5.55 p.m.	9.05 p.m.

Going East.

	Arr.	L've Peterboro
Mixed	11.30 a.m.	8.20 a.m.
Mail	4.35 p.m.	2.05 p.m.

Belleville and Madoc.

Going North.

	L've	Arr. Madoc
Mixed	12.20 p.m.	1.20 p.m.
Mixed	6.20 p.m.	7.40 p.m.

Going South.

	Arr.	L've Madoc
Mixed	9.10 a.m.	7.30 a.m.
Mixed	5.06 p.m.	3.45 p.m.

None of the above trains run on Sunday.

At Wallbridge & Clarke's

Fancy Biscuits

Christies fine biscuits in many varieties. Fresh supplies every week. Popular prices.

Cheese

Fine Old Cheddar Cheese
Canadian Stilton Cheese
MacLaren's Imperial Cream Cheese
MacLaren's Roquefort Cheese (in crocks)

Pickles

Crosse & Blackwall's
Mixed Pickles
Chow Chow
White Onions
Walnuts
Girkins
Soho Pickles.
Heintz's
Sweet Midget Gherkins
Sweet Pickles
Sweet Mixed Pickles.
Williams'
Sweet Mixed Pickles.

Sauces and Relishes

Lea & Perrins' Worcestershire Sauce
Yorkshire Relish
Soyer's Sultana Sauce
Harvey's Sauce
Mushroom Catsup
Anchovy Sauce
Pepper Sauce.
Curtice's Blue Label Ketchup
Tabasco Ketchup
Celery Salt
Mango Chutney
Bombay Chutney, etc.

Kkovah Jellies

Kkovah Jellies (made in England). A ten cent package makes a pint of delicious jelly. Real fruit flavors. In the following:

Raspberry, Strawberry,
Cherry, Pineapple,
Lemon, Orange,
Vanilla, Pistachio,
Apricot, Sherry,
Madeira, Port, etc.

Finest Imported

Macaroni
Spaghetti
Vermicelli
Soup Pastes, etc.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

Bridge St. Stores | Front St. Store
Tel. 139. | Tel. 157.
Established 1871.

The Sun & Hastings Savings and Loan Co. of Ontario.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL
$5,000,000.

3 1-2 per cent. allowed on Deposits payable on Call.

4 per cent. on Deposits for one year or over.

Money to Loan upon favorable terms.

OFFICE, No. 46 Bridge St., Belleville.

J. P. C. PHILLIPS,
Manager Belleville Branch.

Flowers & Vegetables

Of all kinds in season.

. . . AT . . .

J. D. COLLIP'S,

'Phone 205.

Laid Up With Kidney Disease

BACKACHE, LUMBAGO, AND CONSTIPATION—YEARS OF SERIOUS ILLNESS—A PERMANENT AND THOROUGH CURE BY

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

Such cases as the following cannot but prove interesting to all who suffer as the writer did from kidney disease, and its many distressing symptoms. This is merely an example of the great good Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are accomplishing almost daily in nearly every community in the land.

Mr. J. G. Kirkby, head miller in the large flour mills of Munro and Roantree, Thorold, Ont., states: "I can scarcely say too much in praise of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Some years ago I was laid up by a severe attack of kidney disease, which was later complicated with other bad symptoms, such as headache, lumbago, backache, constipation, indigestion, and insomnia. I became reduced in flesh and was very much discouraged Professional medical treatment was of no avail; other remedies were resorted to, to no purpose. My appetite diminished, and I was losing hope of recovery.

"Fortunately my attention was called to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I derived much benefit from the first box. By the time I had used four boxes I was again enjoying my former good health and vigor, as the bad symptoms all passed away, and I was then able to resume work. That was in 1899. I have waited now for about four years to see if the cure would be permanent, and now am convinced that it is, and feel justified in giving this testimonial for the benefit of others."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills positively and promptly cure kidney disease, liver complaint, biliousness, backache, lumbago and constipation. One pill a dose; 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

8

Fresh Roll Butter

20 cents per lb.

J. C. Hanley & Co
GROCERS
Telephone 214

New Hats

READY-TO-WEAR HATS
DRESS HATS.

New Veilings

Latest styles—Best work.
We will surely please you.
Come and see them.

MISS M. CAMPBELL.
P.D. Corsets. 'Phone 117

Western Beef.

Prime Western Beef together with all kinds of choice meats, supplied by the district, at

C. GREEN'S
267 Front St., 'Phone 109.

Bank of Montreal

ESTABLISHED 1817

Capital and Rest, All Paid Up.
$20,000,000
(Twenty Millions.)

Savings Bank Department

Interest on sums of $4.00 and upwards allowed at current rates.

A. G. PARKER,
Manager Belleville Branch

A System that Will not keep You waiting

Whether you want Painting, Paper Hanging, Decorating, Graining, or anything in our line, we will not keep you waiting. WE WILL NAME THE DAY, and that very day you will find us at your work, with an excellent staff of workmen—the very best mechanics that can be secured—workmen that we can rely on and that please our customers every time.

OUR WALL PAPER TRADE this year is so far the largest in the history of this house, and there are reasons behind the increased trade, and here they are—

FIRSTLY—Times are good, people have money and know where to spend it to advantage.

SECONDLY—By comparison with other lines our customers find our prices much lower and our styles of Wall Paper much higher than the ordinary.

THIRDLY—We give free two yards of bordering with each double roll of the Wall Paper it matches.

We hang our paper at very reasonable prices and always please our customers whether in papering, painting or anything else.

C. B. Scantlebury

Belleville's Decorator

Outside Painting. Inside Painting.
Paperhanging.

Wall Paper, Wholesale and Retail.

CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY

CAPITAL

10,000 Shares 7 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 each, $1,000,000
50,000 Shares Common Stock, par value $100, issued and fully paid 5,000,000
TOTAL CAPITALIZATION $6,000,000

Issues of $1,000,000 00 7 p.c. Preferred Stock in 10,000 Shares of $100 each at par.

This stock is preferred both as to Assets and Dividends.
The shares are entitled to cumulative preferred dividends from the net earnings of the Company, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the first days of April and October. They may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged for common shares. They are subject to be called in, in whole or in part, by the Company, at $115.00 per share, at any time after 1st January, 1909.
The total issue of Preferred Stock is only $1,000,000.00, the whole of which is now offered.

Subscriptions for 10,000 Shares of $100 each of the 7 per cent. Preferred Stock of the CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY will now be received at par, that is $100 Share, as follows

per cent on application,
25 " " on allotment,
35 " " 30 days thereafter.
35 " " 60 days thereafter.

One share of Common, par value $100, given with each share of preferred.

The whole of instalments remaining unpaid at any time may be prepaid in full. A discount of one per cent will be allowed upon the par of each share if prepaid at time of allotment
Notice of allotment will be sent promptly by ordinary letter.

COAL

PROPERTY IN FULL OPERATION

Company owns 9,600 acres of coal property known throughout the coal trade as the New Campbellton Colliery, located on Bras D'Or Bay, County of Victoria, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia. Mine is fully equipped, producing and marketing tons of coal a day at a net profit of $1.00 a ton. Improvements are now being made that will increase the output to over 1,000 tons a day. On present output, figuring 300 working days in year, the net result will more than pay interest on entire issue of preferred, with output of 1,000 tons a day net result will be $300,000 per annum.

IRON

RICHEST ORE IN THE WORLD

Company owns in fee simple, free and clear of all incumbrances, 4000 acres of iron ore deposits, located at Natashquan (tidewater) situated on North shore of Gulf of St. Lawrence, in the County of Saguenay, province of Quebec.
Deposits contain 20,000,000 tons of ore ABOVE SEA LEVEL ALONE.
Quality of ore is highest ever discovered, running from 69 per cent to 72 per cent in metallic iron.
More orders for the sale of this ore has been received by the Company than can possibly be accepted, and at a price netting the Company a profit of $2 a ton F. O. B. vessels at Company's docks.
Send for prospectus giving full information as to earnings, reports, etc., etc.
Address all communications and send subscriptions to

COLONIAL SECURITIES CO.,
62 Wall Street, New York City

OR

W. L. MARSTON & COMPANY
110 State Street, Boston

The SAWYER COMPANY.
351 Temple Building, Montreal, Canada.

COMING TO BELLEVILLE Saturday, June 6, Second Tour of Canada

RINGLING BROS. WORLD'S GREATEST SHOWS

ONLY RHINOCEROS IN CAPTIVITY.

LITTLE BABY Bee

ONLY PAIR OF FULL GROWN GIRAFFES IN CAPTIVITY.

THE BIGGEST SHOW ON EARTH TO WHICH IS NOW ADDED WITHOUT ANY ADDITION IN PRICE, THE SUBLIME SPECTACLE JERUSALEM AND THE CRUSADES 1200 CHARACTERS IN THE CAST. 300 DANCING GIRLS. 60 MUSICIANS. 200 CHORUS SINGERS. 32-STOP PIPE ORGAN. 2000 COSTUMES.

COPYRIGHT 1903 BY THE COURIER CO. BUFFALO, N.Y.

INAUGURAL SCENE, SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.

ABSOLUTELY AN ADDITIONAL TRAIN OF CARS ARE REQUIRED TO CARRY THE SCENERY, WARDROBES, ARMORS, WAR IMPLEMENTS, ACCESSORIES AND PEOPLE OF THE NEWLY ADDED AND ENORMOUSLY GRAND SPECTACLE OF, JERUSALEM AND THE CRUSADES

85 DOUBLE LENGTH RAILROAD CARS	40 BIG AND LITTLE ELEPHANTS
1280 PEOPLE	108 WILD ANIMAL CAGES
650 HORSES	40 FUN-MAKING CLOWNS
$3,700,000 CAPITAL	$7,400 ACTUAL DAILY EXPENSE

BALLET SCENE SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.

BIGGEST CIRCUS ON EARTH 375 PERFORMERS 6 BIG ARENAS

3 LONG MILES OF NEW AND COSTLY

2 TROUPES ACTING SEALS

A PARADE SUCH AS THE WORLD HAS NEVER SEEN BEFORE

PARADE GLORIES FREE UPON THE STREETS EVERY MORNING AT 10 O'CLOCK

TWO PERFORMANCES DAILY AT 2 AND 8 P. M. DOORS OPEN AT 1 AND 7 P. M.

ONE 50-CENT TICKET ADMITS TO EVERYTHING. CHILDREN UNDER 12, HALF PRICE

Admission and numbered Reserved Seat Tickets sold on show day at | Riggs' music store at same prices as charged at ticket waggons on show grounds. | Belleville, Saturday, June 6

GOOD evidence of the power of communication among our speechless friends is given in the following very human story told by a writer in the Boston "Herald:"

"The fact that dogs have a way of communicating news to one another was demonstrated to me in a very singular and amusing fashion about four years ago. It was in South Georgia, where as yet little provision is made for the comfort of domestic animals. One of these bitter nights, such as a cold wave often brings, I heard at our front door the unmistakable sounds of scratching and whining, and found upon opening two of my little neighborhood friends, a pug and a little terrier, asking admission. In the face of the cruel cold it was granted them, and they were made welcome to share the comfortable quarters of my own two dogs. In the morning they took their departure; but how great was my astonishment to see them return the following cold evening, this time accompanied by a large Irish setter, who likewise wagged admission to the warm quarters of which he seemed to have knowledge. If there were any doubts as to whether these hospitable night lodgings were discussed among the shelterless dogs of the neighborhood, the doubts were removed on the third night, when my three tramps returned, their number still further increased by another pug and an old pointer. The mute but eloquent language of their wagging tails, the humble appeal in their sincere eyes were at once amusing and pathetic. With my own two pets and these five tramps I had now seven dogs stretched out comfortably before my dining-room grate; but their irreproachable behavior and their many ingratiating ways had insured for them a welcome at our house as long as the cold wave lasted, which was nearly a week. As soon as the cold subsided they returned no more."

Are You an Appendicitter?

THE question that men in Kalamazoo ask each other is not, "Are you a Buffalo?" but, "Are you an Appendicitter?" The interrogatory is intended to elicit information as to whether the person addressed is a member in good standing of the Kalamazoo "Appendicitis Club." A person who has had his vermiform appendix removed, of course, is not presumed to be eligible to membership in this club. As medical and surgical science has never been able to discover any use for the vermiform appendix in man's anatomy, it is popularly understood that it was placed there principally for the benefit of the doctors. Many a poor but deserving young physician gets his start in practice by removing a man's vermiform appendix, and then removing a good portion of the man's estate afterward. The appendicitters in Kalamazoo, however, have played a sharp turn on the mercenary doctors. Too many of them wanted to get rich out of this "fifth wheel of man's anatomy." They have worked a corner in the appendicitis crop. Seven hundred persons have formed an organization to protect their collective vermiform appendices from the knives of mercenary surgeons, who desire to carve their way to fame and fortune in one short hour. The doctor who breaks into this vermiform combine—this community of intestinal interests—will have to accept the tariff of the association. There will be no more fancy fees for cutting out the vermiform appendix in Kalamazoo. The poor as well as the rich can have appendicitis in the famous celery town. Doctors and nurses will be paid reasonable fees from the funds of the club. The Kalamazoo idea is a good one, and likely to spread.

Why the Czar Wears a Beard.

COMMENTING on the statement by a foreign correspondent that the Czar of Russia wears a full beard because he is afraid to have himself shaved, the Chicago "Record-Herald" says: "He fears that he might get into a Nihilist barber's chair some morning, and—swick! The rest may be imagined. Therefore, to avoid the danger of having his throat cut by one of his loving subjects, his Imperial Majesty is compelled to go through life with a beard, which he has trimmed as seldom as possible, because he is inclined to shy away from shears as well as from razors. It is said that the royal whiskers never are trimmed, save in the presence of four tried and true grand masters of the court, who stand ready to pounce upon the barber and eat him up if he dares to make a suspicious move. Moreover, in order to further increase the safety of his most exalted Majesty, the office of royal barber has been made hereditary in the family of Guelabovaki—a name which in itself might be regarded by some people with misgivings. But the Guelabovakis are said to be very loyal, and, of course, being ennobled for their services as trimmers of the imperial whiskers, it isn't likely that they will deliberately cause trouble by using dull shears or nipping the skin appertaining to the royal Adam's apple. Yet the Czar mourns because all his children are girls. Foolish, short-sighted Czar! He should consider the advantage they have in being members of the gentler sex. They will never have faces to shave or whiskers to trim. Being a man is no snap—if one belongs to the Russian royal family."

Fewer Candidates for the Ministry.

THAT there is foundation for the alarm recently sounded in the religious press over a dearth of candidates for the ministry is evidenced by the annual catalogue of Princeton Theological Seminary, just out, which shows that that institution has twenty-three students less than it had last year. It is stated in this connection by "Leslie's Weekly" that in 1896 there were 1,500 students in the Presbyterian seminaries of the United States, whereas there are now about 900, a falling off of more than one-third. Other denominations are complaining of a similar lack of recruits for the ministry. It is said that the seminary authorities at Princeton ascribe the falling off in candidates largely to the opening of the new possessions of the United States, which seem to appeal to the business instincts of the American youth. This may have something to do with the case, but we fear, says the "Weekly," there are other reasons larger and of more serious significance in their bearing on the future of the Church.

LATEST NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS

As Furnished to The Intelligencer by H. R. Beattie, Stock Broker.

New York, May. 18

Stock.	Op'g	H'st	L'st	Close.
Twin City	111¼	....	....	....
Atchison	77⅞	78¼	76⅞	77½
do. pref.	96½	96½	95¾	95½
St. Paul	157¼	158½	155½	155¾
Mo. P.	110¼	110½	108¼	10 8
Union Pac.	88¼	88¼	86¾	87
C.P.R.	130¼	130¼	129¼	129¾
South Pac.	53	53	51½	51⅞
Sou. Ry.	29	29	28⅛	28⅛
Texas	33⅛	33¼	32	32
B & O.	91	91	89½	89¾
N. Y. C.	127¼	127¼	125	125½
Penna.	128⅞	129	127½	127½
Reading	52	52½	50⅞	50⅞
Ills.	137	137	136	136
Erie	33⅞	33⅞	33¼	33¼
do. pref.	66⅞	67	66	66⅞
O. & W.	28⅛	28¼	27½	27⅞
C. O.	42½	42½	41	41¼
Manhattan	139½	139½	138⅞	139¼
L. & N.	115⅞	115⅞	114	114½
Mex.	69⅞	70	69	69
C. G. W.	21¼	21¼	20¼	20¼
T.C.I.	59⅞	61	58⅞	59
U.S. Steel	33⅞	33¾	33¼	33⅞
do pref.	83⅞	83¾	82¾	82½
Sugar	124⅞	124¼	122¾	123⅞
A. C. P.	63⅞	64⅛	63¼	63⅞
Po	101	101¼	100¼	101
B. R. T.	63⅞	64¼	63⅞	63⅞
Met.	129⅞	127⅞	129	129¼
Wab.	27¼	27¼	25¾	25¾
do pref.	47⅞	47¼	46⅞	46⅞
Soo	65	65	64	64
R. I.	41¼	41⅞	39½	40½
A. F.	39⅞	39⅛	38¼	38¼
Ak.	25	25	24⅞	24⅞

July wheat opened at 73 3-8c, closed at 73 1-4c.

July corn opened at 44 5-8c, closed at 44 1-2c.

RECOMMENDED BY PHYSICIANS.

Pond's Extract

Over fifty years a household remedy for Burns, Sprains, Wounds, Bruises Coughs, Colds and all accidents liable to occur in every home.

CAUTION—There is only one Pond's Extract. Be sure you get the genuine, sold only in sealed bottles in buff wrappers.

A man should be getting on well in life when he is getting well on in life.

Civilization.

"I SEE the ships," said The Eavesdropper, as he stole round the world to me, "on a dozen sides of the world. I hear them fighting with the sea."

"And what do you see on the ships?" I said.

"Figures of men and women—thousands of figures of men and women."

"And what are they doing?"

"They are walking fiercely," he said—"some of them—walking fiercely up and down the decks before the sea."

"Why?" said I.

"Because they cannot stand still and look at it. Others are reading in chairs because they cannot sit still and look at it."

"And there are some," said The Eavesdropper, "with roofs of boards above their heads (to protect them from Wonder)—down in the hold—playing cards."

There was silence.

. . . .

"What are you seeing now?" I said.

"Trains," he said—"a globe full of trains. They are on a dozen sides of it. They are clinging to the crusts of it—mountains—rivers—prairies—some in the light and some in the dark—creeping through space."

"And what do you see in the trains?"

"Miles of faces."

"And the faces?"

"They are pushing on the trains."

. . . .

"What are you seeing now?" I said.

"Cities," he said—"streets of cities—miles of streets of cities."

"And what do you see in the streets of cities?"

"Men, women, and smoke."

"And what are the men and women doing?"

"Hurrying," said he.

"Where?" said I.

"God knows."—Gerald Stanley Lee in "Critic."

A Matter of Color.

Chromatopseudopsis is the medical term for color-blindness, and statistics show that men are much more chromatopseudopsically inclined than women. The man invariably succumbs to chromatopseudoptitude when he tries to match a ribbon.—"[illegible]."

Piles To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles, the manufacturers have guaranteed it. See testimonials in the daily press and ask your neighbors what they think of it. You can use it and get your money back if not cured. 60c a box, at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Curse —OF— DRINK

CURED BY

COLONIAL REMEDY

No taste. No Odor. Can be given in a glass of water, tea, or coffee, without patient's knowledge.

Colonial Remedy will cure or destroy the diseased appetite for alcoholic stimulants, whether the patient is a confirmed inebriate, "tippler," social drinker or drunkard. Impossible for anyone to have an appetite for alcoholic liquors after using Colonial Remedy.

Indorsed by Members of the W.C.T.U.

Mrs. Moore, Superintendent of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Ventura, Cal., writes: "I have tested Colonial Remedy on very obstinate drunkards, and the cures have been many. In many cases the Remedy was given secretly. I cheerfully recommend and endorse Colonial Remedy. Members of our Union are delighted to find a practical and economical treatment to aid us in our temperance work."

Sold by druggists everywhere and by mail. Price $1. Trial package free by writing or calling on Mrs. M. A. Cowan (for years member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union), 2204 St. Catherine St., Montreal.

Sold in Belleville by F. Chas. Clarke, Front St. and D. M. Waters, Bridge St

Relieving Muscular Strain

Of the eyes that rob the vigor of the rest of the body, is our profession. Glasses are intended for more than the aiding of vision. Some of the most distressing diseases have been relieved by glasses after doctors and surgeons had doctored and cut to their heart's content. Do not procrastinate in the matter of having your eyes examined.

ALEX. RAY

The wise are polite all the world over; fools are polite only at home.—Bacon.

Doing good is the only certainly happy action of a man's life.

The turkey does not tell the fox the way to her nest.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

SUPERIOR FLOOR COVERING

The best is always the cheapest—even though the cost be a little more—much cheaper when the cost is no more than for the inferior grades.

"Nairns" name marked on Linoleum, places it as "BEST"—it costs no more than the other kind.

Years of merchandising have given us ample time to try all makes.

This test has proven conclusively the "Nairn" superiority in every way.

Giving greatest satisfaction to our customers and strengthening our reputation for "BEST AT LOWEST CASH PRICES."

The new patterns are here—direct from the factory in Scotland—in latest spring designs varied to suit every purpose and taste.

If you buy—buy the best—buy "Nairns."

—"Nairns" Scotch Linoleum 4 yds. wide, per sq. yard 50c to	$1.12
—"Nairns" Inlaid Linoleum, pattern cannot wear off, per sq. yard	$1.25
—New designs in Oilcloth, 2 yds. wide, per sq. yard 25c to	35c

NEGLIGE SHIRTS

SUMMER SHIRTS

The Neglige Shirt man will soon be the most comfortable. Are you prepared to join this class? If not our assortment holds all that is necessary to qualify you for admission.

We like to do a little better each season if possible and aim at larger assortments—newest designs and better values.

Your opinion will be appreciated on our Neglige assortment—we think it our best effort yet.

—Men's fine white Tussore Matting soft Neglige Shirt with fine pearl buttons,	$1.00
—Men's Fine Gingham Shirts, dark medium and light shades—fast colors	$1.00

BOY'S SWEATERS

For Summer nothing answers the boy for all round use like a sweater.

Made in the neat styles such as we are now showing in our Furnishing Department they combine good appearance with their wearing qualities which makes them more than ever desirable.

We are always looking out for the boys and have this season a larger and better assortment of these than ever before—better in choice and quality.

—A better Sweater than you would expect for	50c
—Finer Grades in plain and fancy designs to	$1.50

ECONOMY AND COMFORT

The comfort obtained and money saved by the use of summer clothing is making this style of Ready-to-Wear goods more popular each season with the men.

By purchasing one of our inexpensive Stylish Flannel or light weight Tweed suits for the hot and dusty weather you will not find the summer as trying and will easily save the cost by relief of your better garments.

You will be pleased with the small prices we are asking for "correct" summer suits. See our window.

—Men's Grey and Navy Flannel Suits with neat stripes—desirable in every way, Norfolk or Sack styles,	$5.00 to $7.00
—Men's Fine Norfolk Outing Suit of fine Halifax Tweed	$6.50
—Odd Coats in Lustre, Flannel and Serge—Navy, Black and Grey—plain and striped	75c to $4.95
—Odd Trousers in newest flannel styles	$1.75 to $2.50

GINGHAMS

"WASH GOODS" is probably your present problem.

A look at this line of pretty and inexpensive Ginghams we have just opened might be a timely help to you.

Neat stripes in all newest colors—fast—every pattern desirable.

—Neat stripes in Fast Color Gingham, Green, Blue, Red, Pink	15c yd.
—New White Mercerized Cotton Cheviot—latest for waists—28 in. wide	35c
—Fancy open work white Pique Vesting, 28 in.	30c

LISLE GLOVES

Popular for their durable qualities, Lisle Gloves hold an important part in our stock for summer wear.

New arrivals place the assortment in the complete stage. Of course it will not stay there long, so to be sure of your size you had best come as early as possible.

Also a full line of Silk and Taffeta Gloves.

—Ladies' Lace or plain Lisle Gloves in Grey, Mode, White and Black shades,	15c to 50c
—Silk, qualities plain and colored,	25c to 75c

APPLIQUES

Ladies will be pleased to hear that we have obtained a new and desirable supply of the scarce Medallion Applique.

These are in squares and circular sections and are among the prettiest we have shown this season.

They will go quickly—to get a choice you will need to come at once.

—New Medallion trimming up to	$2.00

Agents for Standard Patterns. | The Ritchie Co'y. Limited | CLOTHING BOUGHT HERE PRESSED FREE OF CHARGE

SUITS FOR MEN

The Entirely Different Sorts.

Not satisfied with equaling in style, fit and excellence of workmanship the made-to-measure garments the best tailors produce, our makers are now fashioning their suits from the same fabrics which have heretofore been exclusive with the Custom Tailors.

Our showing of these suits is very extensive.

They are suits that the average man wants—they give him the style and exclusiveness he seeks without the extra cost of the tailors.

Even the most expert criticism will fail to discover that these suits were not custom made.

The broad showing we make including as it does every size for men of different propostions practically assurs a perfect fit for every man.

But in some cases an exact fit cannot be secured immediately and then we do as the tailors would do at a try on—make the necessary alterations that would secure perfection of fit.

Fancy mixed cashmeres—neat effects in Cheviots—three and four button sack styles including the new straight front.

$6.50 to $15.00

And by the way you can better judge the unassailable quality of these suits if you'll do a little comparing.

Top Coats $5.00 to $12.00

NEW SPRING HATS

All the latest American and English styles, see our celebrated Christys' Hats at $1.00

Christys' Hats

CHRISTYS' LONDON

QUICK & ROBERTSON

Exclusive Agents for Johnston's Famous Clothing for Men and Boys.

Screen Doors 75c

complete with spring hinges, screws, hook and eye and wire pull.

Adjustable Window Sreens 20c

The W. W. CHOWN Company Limited

Orders for bookbinding should be left at this office. It is surprising how nice a volume can be made of these magazines, even though they are somewhat soiled from much handling. Books, magazines, or periodicals bound or rebound in any style at very reasonable prices. Blank books, such as journals, ledgers, day books, with any kind of ruling, made to order. All work warranted first-class. THE INTELLIGENCER, Belleville.

THINUS LOOK BRIGHT AT MELROSE OIL WELL

DRILL IS NOW IN REAL OIL-BEARING ROCK AT A DEPTH OF 1558 FEET.

Mr. Rosenzi writes from Melrose this morning that the magnesian limestone (dolomite) was penetrated on Saturday night between 10 and 11 o'clock, after the drill had gone through 438 feet of it, which is 12 feet shorter than was expected. They are now down 1558 feet, and have entered on the real oil or natural gas formation, which is generally 500 feet thick, though pay streaks are often found 40 feet thick, or less, therefore from now on they are looking for a lucky strike at any time. The present formation is called Trenton limestone.

The driller, Mr. Rosenzi says, is happy, and prophecies a good strike "pretty soon."

Here's hoping he's a true prophet.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough, which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by all Druggists.

Death of Mrs. Force

The Louisville, Ky., Courier-Journal, contains an account of the death of Mrs. Flora N. Force, which occurred on May 8. The deceased lady was a most estimable person, possessing many attractive traits of character. She had, in company with her son, resided at various times in this city, and to those who had met her the news of her death will bring grief and regret. She was nearly 83 years of age.

IF YOU STAND ALL DAY

Feet Get Tired, Sore and Swollen. Try Foot Elm in Your Shoes, and All Your Foot Troubles Will Be At An End.

People who are on their feet a good deal often play out before the day is done. Their feet get tired and swollen, ache and burn, so that work becomes a veritable burden.

To relieve all these troubles of the feet there is nothing equal to Foot Elm. It imparts a cool, restful feeling to the feet, and enables you to stand all day without your feet aching or playing out.

Foot Elm is the original remedy for the feet. Be sure you get it. Price, 25 cents, at druggists or by mail. B. I. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont.

FORMER RESIDENT DEAD

MR. ALEX. HAMILTON PASSED AWAY IN TORONTO ON FRIDAY.

Mr. Alexander Hamilton, who was for many years a resident of this city, and a gentleman well known and highly respected, died at Toronto on Friday. The remains were brought here to-day for interment. Deceased was 87 years of age and was born at East Killbridge, Scotland. When a young man he came out to this country and resided in Brockville, Trenton and Belleville. Whilst here Mr. Hamilton was interested in the lumber industry, and also had an interest in some sailing vessels. Some years ago he removed to Toronto, where he resided until his demise. He was a former member of the John Street Presbyterian Church, being for some time an official. He was also identified with the St. Andrew's Society and was a Mason. His wife preceded him to the tomb some years ago. A family of three sons and two daughters survive.

CONVINCING EVIDENCE OF CANCER CURES

No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success as the new constitutional treatment for cancers and tumors. The fact that it acts on the principle of destroying the cancer germs and purifying the blood of cancer poisons, has established it the only rational remedy for cancers, tumors and malignant growths. There are dozens of people in Canada who have been completely cured by this new, painless method of treatment, and if you will send two stamps to Messrs. B. I. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont., full particulars of these cases will be sent to you.

Horses Ran Away

A lively runaway occurred on North Front street this morning, but no person was injured and the damage done was not great. A team of horses belonging to a Mr. Laurence, of Sidney, were attached to a load of straw, and in crossing the overhead bridge became frightened and off they started down North Front street. They ran into the premises occupied by Mr. W. R. Gill, near the upper bridge, when they were brought to a standstill. One of the windows in Mr. Gill's place was broken, and, also, the tongue of the wagon.

ALL DRUGGISTS WARRANT EVERY BOTTLE.

If troubled with rheumatism, give Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. It will not cost you a cent if it does no good. One application will relieve the pain. It also cures sprains and bruises in one-third the time required by any other treatment. Cuts, burns, frostbites, quinsy, pains in the side and chest, glandular and other swellings are quickly cured by applying it. Every bottle warranted. Price, 25 and 50 cents. For sale by all druggists.

CHURCH CHIMES OF YESTERDAY

NOTES OF SERVICES IN DIFFERENT PLACES OF WORSHIP YESTERDAY.

Bridge St. Church.

"A Noble Life in Ruins" was the subject discussed by the Rev. Dr. Crothers last evening. The text was from Judges, 16th chapter and 20th verse:

> "And she said, the Philistines be upon thee, Samson. And he awoke out of his sleep and said, I will go out as at other times before and shake myself. And he wist not that the Lord was departed from him."

The Rev. gentleman referred to Samson's noble life, his marvellous strength and how he was eventually overcome by confiding in the woman Delilah. His strength was continuous by pursuing a certain course, but when he departed from that course he became weak as other men and fell into the hands of his enemies. The preacher made an earnest appeal, especially to the young, to take God as their guide and to develop true manhood and womanhood. During the offertory the choir sang an anthem entitled "Saviour, When Night Involves the Skies."

Emmanuel R. E. Church.

At the above church yesterday morning the Rector, Rev. Mr. Gilliland, preached an excellent sermon on "Faith." More faith was needed everywhere before either the religious, social or political life of this country could be bettered. If people would have faith and show it by their works, the world would soon be a better and a brighter place.

St. Andrew's Church.

Rev. M. W. Maclean, pastor, occupied the pulpit yesterday and preached two thoughtful sermons. In the morning Mr. Mouck sang a solo entitled "The Golden Pathway," and in the evening the choir sang "Rest in the Lord," the solo being taken very acceptably by Mr. P. Detlor.

Christ Church.

Rev. Prof. Howard conducted the services both morning and evening. In the evening his text was a portion of the 2nd verse of the 9th chapter of St. Matthew:

> "Son, be of good cheer, thy sins be forgiven thee."

Baptist.

Good congregations were present at the services yesterday, and the sermons by the Pastor, Rev. O. C. Elliott, were able efforts. In the evening the text was from St. Luke, 18th chapter and 14th verse:

> "And the publican standing afar off would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner."

St. Thomas'.

At this place of worship last evening, during the services, Shelly's "Saviour, When Night Involves the Skies," was sung. Mr. A. Northrup took the solo and others who sang were, Messrs. Chambers, Austin, B. Hudson and D. Bleecker. The Rector, Rev. G. R. Beamish, preached, his text being a portion of the 2nd verse of the 14th chapter of Hosea.

A FARMER CURED OF RHEUMATISM.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time, for it cured me.'" For sale by all druggists.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Advertisements under this heading TWO CENTS A WORD; subsequent consecutive insertions ONE CENT A WORD. No less charged as less than twenty-five words

A collision between two bicyclists occurred on Front street this morning, but neither were injured.

The Minstrels will have full rehearsal at Catholic Order of Foresters' Hall, for Picton, to-night.

Two ladies fainted during the service in St. Michael's Church yesterday morning.

There was no business for the Police Magistrate to-day.

A regular meeting of the City Council will be held this evening.

Victoria Park was yesterday patronized by many citizens.

Mr. Chambers will sing at the Boys' Brigade entertainment to-morrow evening. Don't miss it. Only the dress circle will be reserved. Plan open now.

A number of citizens yesterday visited Point Ann, and were interested in the cement works which are in course of construction there.

A BIG QUARTER'S WORTH

is always found in a bottle of Polson's Nerviline, the best household liniment known. It cures rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, headache, sick stomach, in fact is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for. Mothers find it the safest thing to rub on their children for sore throat, cold on the chest, sprains and bruises. Never be without Polson's Nerviline. It will cure the pains and aches of the entire family and relieve a vast amount of suffering every year.

PERSONAL ...AND... SOCIAL.

The Intelligencer invites all its readers to contribute to this column all items of a personal nature, such as the arrival or departure of guests, the movements of well-known people, business men, etc. All that is required is to send a post card to or telephone The Intelligencer.

Mr. H. Beattie was in Toronto on Saturday on business.

Miss Louise Fleming left on Saturday for Rochester, N.Y.

The condition of Mr. Wm. Kelly, Front of Sidney, is serious.

Mayor Graham was called to Brockville to-day on business.

Miss May Denyes, of Bethel, is spending a few days in the city.

Mr. C. M. Reid will leave shortly on a business trip to the Old Country.

Mr. H. A. Ackerman has returned to the city, after spending some days in Montreal.

Miss Annie Vandewaters has returned home, after visiting friends at Picton, Wellington and Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. U. C. Miller, of Montreal, have been spending their holidays with Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Woodley, Murney St.

Mrs. F. M. Clarke and daughter, Mrs. W. H. Reed, and two children, arrived home this morning, after a sojourn of seven months in the Old Country.

Miss Beatrice Scott, of this city, graduated last week with first-class honors as a nurse from the Cornwall General Hospital, taking the Hamilton silver medal and the Hospital gold medal. Miss Scott, with the Ritchie Co., is her sister.

Miss Evalyn McCarthy, granddaughter of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, on Friday evening last, entertained a large number of her friends in honor of her birthday, which fell on Saturday. Music and games were interspersed by dainty refreshments, and the conversation seldom flagged. The guests voted Miss Evalyn an ideal hostess.

Miss Elizabeth Cunnington, formerly of this city, is to give a piano recital on Friday next, May 22, in the Conservatory of Music Hall, Toronto. Miss Cunnington will be assisted by Miss Agnes Hanley, of this city, violinist; Misses Kathleen Flood and Emily Selway, vocalists. (We see by the programme that Miss Cunnington is now studying with Dr. Edward Fisher, and Miss Hanley with Mr. H. Klingenfeld. Miss Hanley's contribution to the programme will be Beethoven's Romance in G. Miss Cunnington's numbers include compositions of Beethoven, Moszkowski, Chopin and Liszt, concluding Mendelssohn's Capriccio Brilliant.

At the Quinte: W. O. Labelle, S. Harris, C. H. Haensel, P. de Gruchy, W. T. Fisher, T. L. Vineberg, Montreal; C. E. P. Hughes, Kidderminster, Eng.; R. O. Lott, Stirling; F. W. Fraser, London; G. Mann, Kingston; P. R. Ballard, Boston; A. B. Thompson, Orillia; E. Jones, Trenton; A. M. Dougall, Lindsay; J. Sedwell, Thornbury; J. D. Henike, Picton; J. A. Vandervoort, City; J. C. O'Beirne, O. J. Smillie, A. J. Little, L. F. Moneypenny, J. H. Stowe, R. C. Haggarty, L. Rose, Toronto; D. E. K. Stewart, Madoc; J. E. Lewis, Hamilton.

WONDERS OF THE WORLD

Ringling Brothers' Menagerie is Replete With All That is Rare In Animal Life.

The menagerie presented for inspection and study this year by the Ringling Brothers is the greatest zoological collection ever brought together. As an important department in the biggest show in the world, it offers not only features of interest and wonder, but recommends itself pre-eminently as a superior source of study and information. In point of size as well as in rare and exclusive features it is beyond comparison with any other animal collection in Europe or America. It possesses so many specimens of rare animal life not to be seen in any other collection that it is the most distinctive menagerie in the world, and will be seen in its entirety when the Ringling Brothers exhibit in Belleville, Saturday, June 6. The giraffe, now almost extinct, is represented by two beautiful types, a male and a female. The rhinoceros is another feature that cannot be seen with any other show. Explorers say this species of beast has disappeared with the solitary exception of the one owned by the Ringling Brothers. The only baby elephant ever born and successfully reared in captivity in America belongs to this remarkable exhibition. It was born January 8, 1903, and stands no higher than its mother's knee. This little midget of elephant life is a playful as a kitten and is the pride and pet of the great herd of forty elephants in this extraordinary tented organization. Naturalists, scientists and students will find many other specimens of almost extinct types of animals, like the eland, the black vlarck of South America, the yak from the highlands of Thibet, hippopotami, as heavy as a good-sized elephant, huge polar bears—all that is rare and interesting in zoology—is here exhibited. Some idea of the immensity and completeness of the Ringling Brothers' menagerie may be formed from its comparative statement that no other menagerie contains more than forty cages, while the Ringling Brothers actually possess 106 cages, tanks, lairs and dens containing three times the largest zoo the world has ever seen. Nor is this menagerie the only wonder of the World's Greatest Shows. Ringling Brothers have 375 of the most finished performers known to the amusement world, a new and glorious three-mile free street parade, a sublime and beautiful spectacular production of Jerusalem and the Crusades, shown on the largest stage ever used for exhibitional purposes—the whole being transported from city to city in eighty-five double length cars, equal in carrying capacity to 170 ordinary cars.

On show day admission tickets and numbered reserved seats will be on sale at Riggs' Music Store at same prices as charged on show grounds.

PEN PICTURES OF PEOPLE YOU MEET ON A BELLEVILLE STREET.

MR. THOS. RITCHIE.

You are not liable to meet Mr. Ritchie on a Belleville street to-day, because he is out at Salmon Lake, indulging in the sport which he takes great delight in—fishing. What Mr. Ritchie does not know about fishing and hunting is not worth knowing. Old Izaak Walton himself, were he living now, and in Canada, would surely have a fellow-feeling for the quiet, self-contained gentleman who may often be seen taking a constitutional on the back streets of Belleville. Mr. Ritchie would no more think of missing his daily walk than he would of missing church on Sunday. A stranger, seeing him on the street, with his quiet air and sober dress, would almost be inclined to take Mr. Ritchie for a minister. And it wouldn't be a bad guess either, you know, for the subject of our sketch, in early life, was meant for a "sky pilot," and took the theological course at Knox College, Toronto. Perhaps, if he'd kept on, he might have been a D.D. by this time. However, circumstances led Mr. Ritchie to embrace a mercantile life, and it is not necessary to tell any of our readers about his success in that direction. The business in this city which bears his name is a monument to his ability and commercial acumen. What may not be known to many of our readers, however, is the fact that Mr. Ritchie is the son of a veteran who fought with Wellington in the campaigns which gave Britain much glory and helped—nay, served—to give Europe lasting peace after the Iron Duke had smashed the Corsican. Robert Ritchie, Esq., was the father of the gentleman in question, and the subject of our little sketch first saw the light of day in Bytown, now Ottawa, in the year 1838. Wouldn't think he was 65 years old, would you? Mr. Ritchie received his early education in his native place, afterwards matriculating into Toronto University. As before stated, he also studied at Knox College. Mr. Ritchie is an adherent of the Presbyterian Church, being a "pillar" of John St. church, of which Rev. Mr. Drumm is the pastor. He has always been prominent in philanthropic work, and as a citizen has ever shown himself to be public-spirited and energetic. Many years ago Mr. Ritchie took a leading part in securing the formation of the local Board of Trade, which, in earlier days, was more of a power in the city than it has been in recent years. He was president of the company which undertook the construction of the Bay Bridge, and also had a share in the erection of Hotel Quinte. Mr. Ritchie declined municipal honors many times, but in 1896 ran against Mr. H. Corby for the House of Commons. The vote was: Corby 1836, Ritchie 1591. And it was no small feather in Mr. Ritchie's cap that he got within 245 votes of the most popular gentleman in West Hastings. Mr. Ritchie wields a facile pen, and has written several brochures, including "The Unequal Distribution of Wealth," "The Church and the Labor Question," etc. As might be guessed, Mr. Ritchie is something of a socialist; in fact, he holds that all those things which are naturally monopolies ought to be brought under state control as speedily as the advance of social enlightenment will permit, and the income therefrom applied to public revenue. Politically he is a Liberal, which is about the only flaw in his make-up. In 1873 Mr. Ritchie married Miss Mary Holden, daughter of the late Dr. Holden, and Bellevillians, one and all, will unite in the hope that they may long remain, as they are now, among the most honored residents of this city.

Long Hair "One year ago my hair came out very fast, so I tried Ayer's Hair Vigor. It stopped the falling and made my hair grow, until now it is 45 inches long."
—Mrs. A. Boydston, Atchison, Kans.
$1. All druggists. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

JUST WHAT YOU NEED.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are just what you need when constipated; when you have no appetite, feel dull after eating and wake up with a bad taste in your mouth. They will improve your appetite, cleanse and invigorate your stomach and give you a relish for your food. For sale by all druggists.

Stole Fireworks

Ald. Sulman reports to the police that some time Friday afternoon $8 worth of fireworks were stolen out of the cellar of his store. It appears that the lads, Babcock and Keegan, took them and hid them in an old fanning mill near by, where they were subsequently found.

TENDENCY OF CATARRH IS TO SPREAD.

Just a slight matter at first, and because slight, neglected; but the seed sown brings forth a dangerous harvest, consumption, which is the harvest of death. Better spend a few moments each day inhaling Catarrhozone, an aromatic antiseptic that relieves at once, clears the nasal passages, and restores lost sense of taste and smell. The immediate effect of Catarrhozone is magical, so prompt and efficient. Cure is certain and permanent if you use Catarrhozone. Price $1. Small sizes 25c, at druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

A SHIRT SALE.

We are having a special sale of men's soft shirts at the Oak Hall. Pretty patterns, fast colors, separate cuffs, regular $1.00 line, clearing at 50 cents. All sizes, 14 1-2 to 16 1-2. These goods were purchased at a sacrifice price, and are worthy your attention.

Life has no blessing like a prudent friend.

Anecdotal.

In "Lives of the 'Lustrious," a biographical dictionary just issued in England, it is said that when Hall Caine, whose resemblance to Shakespeare is well known, landed in New York on a trip to America, he was accosted by the late Ignatius Donnelly, a stranger to him, with the words: "Lord Bacon, I presume."

Some of the late Lord Randolph Churchill's friends once tried to have Lord Salisbury reinstate his erratic lieutenant. Salisbury listened to them patiently, and then asked: "Have any of you ever had a carbuncle on the back of your neck?" "No," was the reply. "Well, I have," retorted his lordship, "and I don't want another."

At a dinner-table in London the conversation turned on speaking. Curran stated that he could never speak in public for a quarter of an hour without moistening his lips. "I have the advantage of you then, Curran," said Sir Thomas Turton, a pompous and pretentious member of Parliament. "I spoke the other night in the House of Commons for five hours on the Nabob of Oude, and never felt in the least thirsty." "That is very remarkable, indeed," replied Curran, "for everyone agrees that it was the driest speech of the session."

Dr. Gordon, who was the first minister of the church in Jamaica Plain, about the year 1771, was a Scotchman, very stern and arbitrary in his manners, and precise and orderly in his own habits. The following anecdote of him is recorded in the family journal of one of his old parishioners: One Sunday, while preaching, he had begun to develop his theme with the usual "firstly," and got through that and "secondly." Then, turning the leaves of his manuscripts he said: "Thirdly," a second time "Thirdly," and again in great embarrassment, "Thirdly!" Just then a little girl in one of the front pews stood up and said: "Please, sir, thirdly flew out of the window some time ago."

John Townsend Trowbridge, one of the few surviving intimates of Walt Whitman, relates these anecdotes in his "Reminiscences" of the "good, gray poet" in the "Atlantic Monthly": "When, at dinner, preparing my dish of salad, I remarked that I was employed as his critics would be when his new edition was out, he queried, 'Devouring Leaves of Grass?' 'No,' I said, 'cutting up Leaves of Grass'—which amused him more, I fancy, than the cutting up did which came later. As the afternoon waned, and he spoke of leaving us, somebody placed a book before the face of the clock. I said: 'Put Leaves of Grass there. Nobody can see through that.' 'Not even the author?' he said, with a whimsical lifting of the brows.

The more you speak of yourself the more you are likely to lie.—Zimmerman.

It takes money to voice the opinion of a lawyer.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

SEE OUR BORSALINO

HIGH GRADE ITALIAN SOFT HATS.

S. A. HYMAN & CO.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

HOSIERY

FOR SATURDAY NIGHT.

We have just made a very fortunate purchase in

Ladies' Fancy French Lace Lisle Hosiery.

348 pairs of as good hose as was ever retailed at 50c a pair.

Every pair stamped Pure Lisle Thread.

OUR PRICE

Saturday Evening for these goods will be

15c a pair.

On Sale 7.30 Saturday Evening

Laidlaw & Ketcheson

DIRECT IMPORTS

Daily Intelligencer.

THE INTELLIGENCER IS SOLD AT J. W. Landon's and G. Wardhaugh's.

Local Reading Advertisements, [illegible] words 50 cents; 2 cents per word first insertion, [illegible] per word subsequent consecutive insertions. Headlines count as 12 words; contracts for long periods made at office.

Two New Things In Corn Confectionery

Krinkle Korn and Saratoga Corn

Each 20 cents lb.

We also have fresh POPCORN CRISP FRITTERS, 5c a pkg.

CHAS. S. CLAPP

RUBBER GOODS.

Our Line of Rubber Goods is Very Complete.

They are one of the lines that have special attention here, and there are few lines that need it more. When you need Syringes, Water Bottles, Ice Bags, Air Cushions, Atomizers, Elastic Stockings, Bandages or any item of Sick-Room Supplies, remember this is the Store that always has it—and the quality and price is right.

McKeown's DRUG STORE

NEW SPRING GOODS

LATEST DESIGNS IN SPRING TROUSERING.

Spring Overcoating. A nice Line of Waterproof Overcoating, Tweeds and Serges at reasonable prices by the yard.

Call and inspect my stock before ordering your Spring Clothing.

ARTHUR McGIE,
Merchant Tailor.
Front Street.

A long portage makes a heavy canoe.

Sterling Silver and Cut Glass.

Particular attention is directed to my stock of the above goods, which at present is most attractive. I handle the renowned Gorham Silver and Hawkes Cut Glass Ware, being sole agent for this city. These are the best and prices are moderate.

T. BLACKBURN.

WRAPPERS & BLOUSES

This week we will devote our entire time and energy in disposing of the finest lot of Ladies' Print Wrappers and Black Sateen Blouses ever seen in this or any other city.

Ladies Print Wrappers, flounced and beautifully trimmed at $1.75, $1.50 $1.25, $1.00.

Ladies' Wrappers.................................. 85 & 75c

Black Sateen Blouses

Ladies' Black Sateen Blouses at $2.25, $2.00, $1.50, $1.00, 75c.

We would call special attention to our $1 Blouses.

McINTOSH BROS.

Curious Bits of News.

Mr. and Mrs. John Williams of Danville, Kentucky, lately celebrated their golden wedding, and one of the gifts they received was a handsome tombstone with their names engraved upon it. This was from J. E. Wright, a local monument dealer, and, strange to say, the old couple were delighted with the unique gift.

The authorities of the city of Rouen, the home of the famous cathedral, are considering a plan to utilize the street trolley wires for the extinguishment of fires. The scheme is to place electrically driven pumps at suitable points along the electric tramway system which covers the city, and then, in case of fire, to switch on the current from the trolley wires to drive the pumps.

A quantity of jewels and trinkets which had played important parts in murders and other crimes were sold at auction by the police authorities of Paris the other day. Most of the articles brought prices far above their intrinsic value, their worth being enhanced in the eyes of the morbid because of the grewsome associations connected with them. Those which were bloodstained were in great demand.

The Hong Kong "Daily Press", says that the Tartar General of Canton having been troubled by an evil influence in his yamen, which in one month caused the death of his wife and daughter, as well as of a former Tartar general, a fung shui professor was finally called in. He looked over the city, and decided the evil influence was the roof of the library of the Government school for foreign languages. The roof, which was a peaked one, was at once removed, and is now being replaced by a flat one.

Mr. Charles Frohman, at the commencement of Kubelik the violinist's American tour, insured the latter's right hand against injury for $10,000. It might be supposed that the chance of a musician getting his hand hurt was remote. Yet when Raffael Joseffy first came to Chickering Hall and made a sensation a felon on his thumb interrupted his engagement. Josef Hofmann fell from his bicycle and hurt his hand under similar circumstances. Ole Bull, Wienawski and Paderewski were also subjected to accidents that interfered with their tours.

A lively debate has taken place in the Senate of the Australian confederation, as a result of a statement of Senator Sargood's that he had seen women ploughing in South Australia. A gentleman from that State doubted the assertion and hotly resented it, but it was backed up by another senator, Pearce. A writer in the Sydney "Bulletin" adds that he has often seen women ploughing in South Australia. "The last occasion was near Mount Gambier. The plough-lady was wearing Wellington boots, and her husband, a fat German gentleman, sat on a fence near by, complacently smoking."

The people of Galveston, Texas, are perfecting plans to protect themselves from another invasion of the sea, such as the one which devastated their city over a year ago. These plans provide for a sea-wall, to be built on the beach, and to extend the whole length of the city limits; and for raising the grade of the entire city. It is a mammoth undertaking, which will cost the already impoverished city millions, and involve considerable additional outlay by each property-owner. The city is to fill in, with sand pumped from the Gulf, an area of ground on the Gulf side of the city, four miles long and one mile wide, to an elevation of ten feet. The city will also raise all the streets and alleys.

Her Love For Her Lions.

AN instance of the affection felt for wild beasts by their tamers cited by "St. Nicholas" is the case of Madame Bianca, the French tamer, who in the winter of 1900 was with the Bostock Wild Animal Show giving daily exhibitions in Baltimore, where her skill and daring with lions and tigers earned wide admiration. It will be remembered how fire suddenly descended on this menagerie one night and destroyed the animals, amid fearful scenes. And in the morning Bianca stood among the ruins and looked upon the charred bodies of her pets. Had she lost her dearest friends she could scarcely have shown deeper grief. She was in despair, and declared that she would never tame another group; she would leave the show business. And when the menagerie was stocked afresh with lions and tigers Bianca would not go near their cages. These were lions indeed, but not her lions, and she shook her head and mourned for "Bowser," the handsomest lioness in captivity, and "Spitfire," and "Juliette," and the black-maned "Brutus." Nor could money tempt her. And the outcome was that this most successful woman lion-tamer in the world retired into private life—gave up her career simply because of her grief for these dead animals.

Past His First Youth.

THE swan is said to be excellent eating when young; but as it is one of the longest-lived of all creatures, it is well to learn if possible how old your bird is before you cook it.

A gentleman in Lincolnshire, England, sent a dead swan to the Athenaeum Club, addressed to the secretary. A special dinner was to occur that week, and the committee without question turned the bird over to the cook.

At the dinner the swan, resting on a great silver dish, was a delight to the eye; but when it came to carving and eating the bird, no knife seemed sharp enough to cut it, and of course eating it was out of the question.

A few days later the donor met the secretary and said, "I hope you got my swan all right."

"That was a nice joke you played on us," returned the secretary.

"Joke? What do you mean?"

"Why, we had the thing boiled for thirteen hours, and even then we might as well have tried to cut through the Rock of Gibraltar."

"You don't mean to say you had the swan cooked!"

"Why, of course."

"Man alive! I sent it to be stuffed and preserved as a curiosity in the club. That swan has been in my family for two hundred and eighty years. It was one of the identical birds fed by the children of Charles I.—you've seen the picture of it. My ancestor held the post of 'master of the swans and keeper of the king's cygnets.' Well, I have no doubt it was a bit tough."

Curious Bits of News.

Mark Hanna's secretary says that since 1896 over five hundred children have been named after the Republican "boss."

At the time when the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall were in Victoria, B.C., there were three families living in Quebec street named respectively "George," "Cornwall," and "York," and the eldest Miss George had the Christian name of "May."

An official decision of the much-discussed question whether there is such a condition of affairs in the Philippines as constitutes a state of war, has been given by the United States War Department in connection with a pending claim. The Department holds that the islands are still in a condition of war.

An important step has been taken toward the abolition of slavery in German East Africa by the publication of an imperial edict which permits every slave to end his condition of servitude by the payment of a sum of money, the amount of which is to be determined by the authorities. Every slave is to be permitted to work for himself two days in the week, or to use for his own purposes the corresponding proceeds of his labor. This will give the slaves an opportunity to accumulate the purchase money. It is further decreed that masters shall not transfer ownership without the consent of the slave.

It is understood that Seth Low, shortly after he was elected mayor of New York, sold a million and a half dollars' worth of securities owned by him in various banks that are doing business with the city, so that he might not in the least embarrass the city. He is determined that the conduct of New York city affairs shall not be liable to the slightest suspicion so far as lies in his power. Many of the stocks sold had been held by him for years, and were gilt-edged securities. His friends say that in disposing of those permanent investments Low made considerable of a sacrifice, as he can not find the equal of some of them as income producers.

The strange story of the elopement of an ordinary milch cow with a bull moose comes from Lake Onawa, a pretty sheet of water in the hills of Piscataquis County, Maine, much frequented by sportsmen from the big cities. The cow was the property of Dr. A. T. Sanden of New York, whose cottage is located on the shore of Onawa, and she was kept in a pasture enclosed by a rail fence. A big moose had been several times seen hanging around the cottage grounds late at night, displaying great boldness. One night he came close up to where the cow was, and the two seemed to be good friends. Late at night a tremendous crash was heard, and next morning the fence was a wreck and the cow gone. Neither she nor the moose has been seen since.

Too Much Parent.

IN these days of strenuous parentage, it may not be amiss to suggest mildly that there may be, in the constitution of a family, such a thing as too much parent. Time was when being a parent was incidental to other business in life. Our grandfathers brought up children, a dozen at a time, with a careless familiarity that takes away the modern breath. Each of the dozen was disciplined and duly chastened. They were whipped when they told lies, and occasionally when they did not. They learned to read at four; were put to work at five, as a matter of course; and developed, in due time, the stuff that men are made of. There was never any particular fuss about it. The larger the family, the more whippings it took. But there were always enough to go around, and no one the worse for it. The advertisement, "Boy missing. Run away from home," was not an uncommon feature of the weekly newspaper. But of the remnant who had the courage to stay at home and grow up, it may be said that they made admirable citizens. They had the rare privilege of passing their childhood and youth in the presence of men and women who had other and more important business in life than that of being parent to offspring. They grew up with a chastened sense of their own unimportance in the scheme of being, and a philosophic expectation of taking the hard knocks of life as they came.

We have changed all that. We have listened to the voice of Froebel, "Let us play with our children;" and to the educational moralist, "A father should be his boy's best friend;" and to our most famous and most unpractical poet, "The child is father to the man;" and the whole business of child-raising is turned other end to. We no longer raise them by the dozen. One or two at a time is as much as we dare venture, and very cautiously at that. We study the development and take notes on the bumps, phrenological; the other kind the modern child is never allowed to have. We agonize over our relation to his moral growth, and drop tentative, trembling seeds into the ground of his being, and exchange specimens if anything comes of it. The result, as a whole, is not, it must be admitted, altogether unpleasing. There is something about the well-born, well-bred, wholesome child of to-day that makes glad the eye and the heart. But the poor parent! We protest that he has never had a chance in life. Ten to one his own parents belonged to the old school, and disciplined him within an inch of life. And now his children belong to the new. He is ground between the upper and the nether stone. Only in scattered, precious moments does he dare call himself his own. Late in the evening, perhaps, when the all-important child has been adequately played with and encouraged and developed and put to bed on his hygienic pillow, there comes a moment when the exhausted parent may sit down before the fire and draw a comfortable, grown-up breath, and gather strength and wisdom for the morrow.

As we watch him, we are reminded of the pleasant old gentleman who, across the reception-plate, is accosted by the genial young girl: "After all, sir, there's nothing so delicious as the wing of a chicken, is there?" And the old gentleman: "I don't know, my dear. When I was young the old people always ate the wings, and now I am old the young people eat them. I have never tasted the wing of a chicken."—From the "Contributors' Club."

Minister—I am sorry I didn't see you at church yesterday, Tummas. Tummas—Weel, ye see, it was siccan a wet day it wisna fit tae turn oot a dog in, but I sent the wife, sir.—Ex.

THE MARKETS.

Wheat Markets Firmer Saturday—Chicago Futures Make Good Advances—The Latest Quotations.

Saturday Evening, May 16.

Liverpool wheat futures closed ½d lower to-day than yesterday, and corn futures ⅛c higher.

At Chicago to-day, July wheat closed ⅝c higher than yesterday, July corn ⅜c lower, and July oats ⅛c higher.

LEADING WHEAT MARKETS.

Following are the closing quotations at important wheat centres to-day:

	Cash.	May.	July.	Sept.
New York	....	....	78¼	75⅝
Chicago	....	79⅝	73⅝	71
Toledo	76	76	73½	....
Duluth, No. 1 N.	78⅝	78⅝	78¼	71½

TORONTO ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Grain—

Wheat, red, bush........	$0 74 to $....
Wheat, white, bush......	0 73	0 74½
Wheat, spring, bush.....	0 72	....
Wheat, goose, bush......	0 67	....
Barley, bush.	0 43	0 46½
Beans, bush.	1 30	1 50
Beans, hand-picked	1 75	....
Peas, bush.	0 78½	....
Rye, bush.	0 42	....
Oats, bush.	0 36½	....
Buckwheat, per bush.....	0 43	....

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—New York, Chicago and Other Quotations.

London, May 16.—Live cattle steady at 12c to 13c per lb. for American steers, dressed weight; Canadian steers, 11½c to 12½c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9c to 9½c per lb. Sheep, 13c to 14c, dressed weight.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Prices for live hogs took another drop of 20c per cwt. on Saturday. Selects sold at $5.90 and lights and fats at $5.65 per cwt.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, May 16.—Cattle—Receipts, 75 head; fair demand; steady.

Veals—Receipts, 70 head; steady; tops, $6.75 to $7; common to good, $4.50 to $6.65.

Hogs—Receipts, 4800; slow; strong; 5c lower; heavy, $6.70 to $6.75; a few, $6.80; mixed, $6.65 to $6.70; Yorkers and pigs, $6.50 to $6.65; roughs, $5.50 to $5.85; stags, $4.50 to $4.90.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 6100 head; dull; 25c to 30c lower; top lambs, $7 to $7.10; culls to good, $4 to $6.90; yearlings, $5.25 to $6; ewes, $4.50 to $4.75; sheep, top, mixed, $4.75 to $5; culls to good, $3 to $4.65.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.

New York, May 16.—Beeves—Receipts, 38; no sales. Exports, 1207 beeves, 3300 quarters beef. Calves—Nominal. Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 3392; steady; sheep, $3.50 to $5.75; lambs, $5.75 to $6.75; Southern spring lambs, $7 to $9. Hogs—Receipts, 1644.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, May 16.—Cattle—Receipts, 1001; market nominal; good to prime steers, $5 to $5.50; poor to medium, $4 to $5; stockers and feeders, $3 to $5; cows, $1.60 to $4.40; heifers, $2.50 to $4.75; canners, $1.60 to $2.75; bulls, $2.30 to $4.25; calves, $2.50 to $6; Texas-fed steers, $4 to $4.60.

Hogs—Receipts, 11,000 head; Monday, 40,000; left over, 2000; market steady to 10c lower; mixed and butchers', $5.60 to $6.60; good to choice, $6.60 to $6.75; rough, heavy, $6.35 to $6.65; light, $6.10 to $6.35; bulk of sales, $6.40 to $6.60.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 1000; sheep and lambs steady; good to choice wethers, $4.90 to $5.50; fair to choice, mixed, $3.75 to $4.75; live lambs, $4 to $4.75.

BASEBALL SATURDAY.

The Eastern League.

Worcester ..... 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 2—3
Toronto .... 3 0 2 0 0 1 3 1 *—10

Two-base hits—Connaughton, McAuley, Toft 2, Miller. Three-base hit—Applegate. Sacrifice hits—Madison, Downey, Kuhns. Bases on balls—Off Pappalau 1. Struck out—By Hardy 4, by Pappalau 4. Passed ball—McAuley. Wild pitch—Pappalau. Stolen bases—White, Madison, Massey, Carr. Left on bases—Toronto 6, Worcester 3. Time—1.40. Umpire—Kelly. Attendance—7300.

Rochester ...... 0 0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0—2
Newark .... 1 0 0 2 2 5 3 0 2—15

Two-base hits—Castro, Dillard, Lawlor, Wagner. Stolen bases—Thiery, O'Brien 2, Devlin 2, Dillard. Double-play—Castro to Lepine; Hayden to Castro; O'Brien to Wagner to Dillard. Left on bases—Rochester 4, Newark 6. Time—2.10. Umpire—Brown.

Buffalo .... 0 0 1 0 3 0 1 0 0—5
Providence ..... 0 0 3 0 2 0 0 0 1—6

Three-base hits—Crisham, Shannon, MacGamwell, McIntyre. Two-base hit—Coogan. Sacrifice hits—McIntyre, Diggins, Gettman, Stafford, MacGamwell. Stolen bases—Nattress, Shaw 2, Hartman, Grimshaw. Left on bases—Buffalo 9, Providence 5. Double-play—Francis to MacGamwell. Umpire—Dan Shannon. Time of game—1.50.

Baltimore .... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 1—3
Jersey City .... 0 0 1 0 0 2 0 0 1—4

Two-base hits—Shearon, Voorhees. Three-base hit—Myers. Home runs—Clement, Woods. Stolen base—Jones. Double-plays—Myers; Bean to Doolin and Cassidy. Time—1.40. Umpire—Latham.

National League Scores.

The New York Nationals did themselves proud Saturday before an immense crowd, and vanquished the Pittsburgs. The Chicagos improved their hold on second place by winning from Boston. St. Louis downed Philadelphia, and Brooklyn gave Cincinnati a setback. Results: New York 7, Pittsburg 3; Brooklyn 8, Cincinnati 4; St. Louis 6, Philadelphia 2; Chicago 6, Boston 1.

American League Results.

The New Yorks broke their losing streak Saturday and finished one run to the good in their game with Cleveland. Chicago won from Washington by the same margin. Philadelphia was shut out by St. Louis, and Boston turned the tables on Detroit. Results: New York 3, Cleveland 2; Chicago 4, Washington 3; St. Louis 2, Philadelphia 0; Boston 9, Detroit 6.

Sunday Baseball.

At Newark—By a rally in the ninth innings the Baltimores tied the Newarks, but that was the best they could do, for in the tenth the home team won out. Score:

R.H.E.
Newark .... 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 1—3 9 0
Baltimore ...... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0—2 9 1

Batteries—Schurman and Shea; Mills and Robinson. Umpire—Swartwood. Attendance—8000.

At Chicago (American)— R.H.E.
Chicago .... 0 0 1 1 0 1 0 0 0—2 11 1
Washington ..... 1 0 1 2 1 0 0 0 1—6 13 3

Batteries—Patterson and Sullivan; Patten and Clarke. Umpires—Hassett and Carruthers. Attendance—16,200.

At Columbus (American)— R.H.E.
Cleveland .... 3 3 0 0 0 2 0 1 *—9 14 2
New York ...... 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—2 8 3

Batteries—Joss and Abbott; Griffith and Beville. Umpire—Connolly. Attendance—4882.

At St. Louis (American)— R.H.E.
St. Louis .... 0 0 3 3 0 1 2 0 *—9 13 1
Philadelphia .... 0 1 0 0 2 0 0 0 0—3 14 3

Batteries—Donahue and Sugden; Plank, Henley, Powers and Schreck. Umpire—Sheridan. Attendance—11,500.

King Edward Plans Cruise.

Portsmouth, Eng., May 18.—It is reported that the royal yacht Victoria and Albert has been ordered to be ready on June 18. It is said that His Majesty will visit Germany and Russia in midsummer.

Rain in Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, Man., May 18.—The weather throughout Manitoba was showery yesterday. The rain comes at a very opportune time, and will prove great good to the wheat fields.

Loss of $30,000 in Halifax.

Halifax, N.S., May 18.—Fire on Saturday night destroyed Gordon and Keith's three-storey brick furniture factory with all its contents. The loss is $30,000.

Mrs. Richard Stethen.

"I have been troubled with Rheumatism for two years in my arms. The pains would commence in the elbow joints and work down to the hands. My hands would swell so that I could not close them. One vial of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure has relieved me so much that I hardly ever have any pain, and I can now close my hands in a perfectly natural manner."—Mrs. Richard Stethen, 35 Besser street, Ottawa.

Your druggist will recommend Munyon's Rheumatism Cure; ask him about it. Only 25c a vial. 188

Breaking the Bank at Monte Carlo.

SENATOR CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW recently visited Monte Carlo on his wedding journey, and watched Lord Rosslyn attempt to break the bank. "Everybody," he says, "is laughing at the earl's so-called system. He announced in England that he had an infallible system, and only needed $50,000 to make it go. People tumbled over each other to give him the money. He began playing with thousand-franc notes. When I left he was playing with five-franc pieces. I was told that all but about $5,000 of the $50,000 was gone. There is no such thing as breaking the bank at Monte Carlo. A man who has lived in the place merely as a resident for years told me the gambling-house paid returns as regular as dividends on the New York Central Railroad. I suppose there are ten roulette-tables, and each table is a bank with a capital of $120,000. If you win all its capital that particular table closes for the day to get a change of luck. That is all the bank-breaking there is. You would have to go through all the other tables—roulette, rouge-et-noir, and trente-et-quarante—before you close up the concern, and there are several of each. They are a dismal looking lot—the players. I never saw one of them smile, and the winners looked as miserable as the losers. Nobody gets away with any money, no matter how much he wins. At least it is very rare. I saw one man begin with a thousand-franc note—$200. He played and won—doubled his money; played, and won again, and again doubled. He kept on until he had won about $24,000. Then he started resolutely to go out. At the door he stopped, hesitated, and turned back. He sauntered over to the table, and looked on at the game for a while. Then he buttoned up his coat again, with great decision, and started out with a firm stride. But he could not—positively could not get through the door. The last I saw of him he was playing away again, and the $24,000 was going pell-mell back into the gambling-house coffers. I did see one man, however, win and go away with his money. He was a very rich man, as I happened to know, and just played for fun, not caring whether he won or not. He had astonishing luck. The same number came up five times in succession—an unusual thing. It made a great sensation in the room, and people gathered about. At the fifth turn of the number he swiped in everything from the table, and poked away the wads of French banknotes into his pockets right and left. He won about $6,000 in a very few moments."

BIG

CLEARING SALE

—OF—

Carpets, Curtains and Wall Paper.

Our Wall Paper is the Cheapest in Belleville.

WE GIVE 2 Yards of Border FREE with every roll of Wall Paper.

See our New Lace Curtains—nothing to compare with them in the city.

T. P. BROWN.

White Blouses

Now is the time for Summer Blouses. Just received another large shipment of Fancy White and Black Blouses. These have been delayed on account of getting the latest styles.

SEE OUR PRICES

Our Plain Waists with Insertion fronts................ 75c

Also Valenciennes and Embroidery Insertion fronts at .. .. $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50

Our special line of Embroidered fronts, very stylish, prices .... $2.00 and $2.25

Medallions and Drop Ornaments

A fine assortment of these for trimming, in cream and black. Prices 10, 15 and 20c.

White Gloves

Gloves for summer at attractive prices. See our Fancy Taffeta Silk Gloves, two dome fasteners. Prices 25c, 40c and 50c.

NATHAN JONES.

The Finnegan Carriage & Wagon Co.

—FOR—

Stylish and Durable Turnouts.

—Surreys
—Corning Buggies
—Piano Box Buggies
—Rubber Tire Buggies
—Micadoes

—Phaetons
—Bike Buggies
—Democrats
—Grocer Wagons
—Butcher Wagons

Cheese Factory Milk Wagons.
Steel Tubular Axle Lumber Wagons.

Rubber Tires put on your old wheels at reasonable prices.

Mill St., - - Belleville.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL — LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL — CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 37. BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, MAY 19, 1903 NO. 16

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

To Crush Labor Unions.

Chicago, May 19. — Arbitration boards, employers' associations and labor commissioners were denounced in the Chicago Federation of Labor yesterday afternoon as being "snares, humbugs and industrial pitfalls, designed to crush labor unions."

C.P.R. Earnings.

Montreal, May 19.—The C. P. R. earnings for the traffic week ending May 14 were $904,000; for the same week last year they were $730,000.

May Wear Straw Hats.

Ottawa, May 18.—A militia order today notes that units performing their annual drill in camps may bring to camp and wear a straw hat, with puggaree, in accordance with a pattern approved and deposited in the Quartermaster-General's Department.

MR. PUTTEE'S LABOR BILL

Much Amended by Sir William Mulock and Passed.

Cigarette Bill Thrown Out as It Was Not Properly Introduced—Offers of Preference Talked of in the House—Mr. Monk's Insolvency Bill Voted Out, the Government Declining to Father the Measure—Mr. Guthrie's Bill.

Ottawa, May 19.—Mr. Guthrie's bill to amend the Railway Act was read a second time in the House yesterday, and referred to the Railway Committee. It is designed to place railroad employes in the same position as ordinary citizens in regard to accounts, and to prevent the railway companies from contracting themselves out of their common law liability to their employes.

Mr. Bickerdike's bill, respecting incorporated companies, was withdrawn.

Anti-Cigarette Bill Killed.

The bill fathered by Mr. Bickerdike to prohibit the importation, manufacture and sale of cigarettes was declared out of order by the Speaker, and so goes by the board.

"I have to declare in regard to this bill," said Mr. Speaker Brodeur, "that I do not consider it has been properly introduced.

"By Sec. 41 of our rules it is provided as follows: No bill relating to trade or alteration of the laws concerning trade is to be brought into the House until the proposition shall have been first considered in the committee of the whole House, and agreed to by the House."

Mr. Walter Scott's bill to regulate the sale and provide for the inspection of textile fabrics was ruled out on the same grounds as the Anti-Cigarette Bill.

Insolvency Bill Killed.

On the second reading of Mr. Monk's insolvency bill, Sir Wilfrid Laurier said that some of the provinces had amended their insolvency laws so as to make them satisfactory, and he hoped the other provinces would do likewise. He sympathized with the object of the measure, and said the subject of insolvency was under the consideration of the Department of Justice, but he would not promise to take any action even next session. Under the circumstances, if Mr. Monk insisted upon pushing the bill he would ask the House to vote it down.

Mr. Monk replied that the commercial classes were anxious for a uniform insolvency law throughout the Dominion. He had a letter from the secretary of the Board of Trade of Montreal, strongly urging the matter upon the attention of the House. He had also a set of resolutions to the same effect passed by the Chambre de Commerce. "I do not think," said Mr. Monk, "that under the circumstance I would be justified in abandoning the bill at this stage."

Mr. Guthrie thought the bill was not wide enough in its application, as farmers should be included as well as traders within its purview.

Mr. Lennox said that in the absence of a Government measure he would favor the passage of the bill now before the House. The absence of an insolvency law had hampered our trade with Great Britain.

Mr. Monk asked if the Government would not take the bill over as a Government measure.

The Prime Minister declined to do so. He said the Government had the matter of an insolvency act under consideration. A vote was then taken. The bill was knocked out by 74 to 41.

Mr. Brock's Bill Laid Over.

The House went into committee on Mr. Brock's bill, providing that cattle cars be provided with partitions to separate smaller animals, such as sheep or hogs, from cattle or horses, and after some objections had been pointed out by the Minister of Justice, Mr. Brock said he would accept the suggestion of the Minister of Justice, to consider the re-casting of the bill. It was accordingly laid over.

Mr. Campbell's bill, to constitute a milk can a vessel of eight gallons, was referred to a committee.

To Prevent Intimidation.

Mr. Clancey's bill to amend the Elections Act was considered by the House in Committee. The Minister of Justice submitted an amendment which it was agreed would meet the objects of the promoter. It provides that any person who, by force, abduction or false pretense, interaduction of false pretense, interferes with or prevents anybody from voting, shall be liable to a penalty of $200, collectable by any person who takes action. A similar penalty is imposed on a person convicted of telling an elector, for the purpose of intimidation, that the Dominion ballot is not secret. The bill, as thus amended, was read a third time and passed.

Offers of Preference.

Dr. Sproule brought up the subject of Mr. Chamberlain's speech in the matter of preferential trade between Great Britain and her colonies. He wanted to know what were the further offers of preference from Canada to which Mr. Chamberlain referred. He also enquired whether there had been any recent correspondence with the Imperial Government regarding threatened retaliation by Germany.

The Minister of Finance replied: "We have already taken the House into our confidence on the subject for the offer which was made for further preference is published in the conference blue book as an Imperial paper to which access is easily had, and the memorandum was fully read by myself in the budget speech. My honorable friend will find in that speech the offer made to the Imperial authorities at the Colonial Conference.

"That is the only offer?" Dr. Sproule asked again.

"Yes," Mr. Fielding replied. "With regard to the second part of my honorable friend's request we have had no recent correspondence with the Imperial Government on the action of Germany."

The Convicts of Germany.

Mr. Charlton asked whether the attention of the Government had been called to the alleged intention of the German Government to unload upon this country a supply of ex-convicts.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied: "We have no official information that the German authorities contemplate any such policy. If we had we would take immediate action to prevent any such policy being carried out. My impression is that we have sufficient power under existing laws to deal with such a question, but if our powers should not be adequate, we shall have no hesitation in asking Parliament to supplement them."

A number of private bills were passed.

Case For Criminal Courts.

Replying to a question by Mr. Clarke, Mr. Blair said that the attention of the Government had not been called to the verdict of the jury in the West Lorne accident on the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway, April 23, last, and by which it is said three trainmen were killed. But, if the facts are as stated, it would appear to devolve upon the Provincial authorities, as charged with the administration of criminal justice, to take any action which might be proper in the premises. The Government has not yet been able to select a person possessing the precise qualification for taking charge of investigations in case of railway accidents, but is on the alert to secure such a person as is required. In the meantime, a temporary appointment has been made, and an investigation held in the case of the I.C.R. Mr. Blair forther said that he was informed the Lake Erie and Detroit Railway Company had submitted no rules for the approval of the Government.

Puttee's Labor Bill.

The House went into committee on Mr. Puttee's bill to amend the Conciliation Act, 1900.

On Sir William Mulock's suggestion the second clause was amended to replace the word arbitrator by the words conciliator or board of conciliation. The next clause was amended to provide that the fair basis of settlement, suggested by the conciliators shall only in cases when it is not accepted be published in The Labor Gazette.

The sixth clause as amended reads: "In no case shall a conciliator stipulate, nor shall it be stipulated in any agreement promoted or recommended by a conciliator that any employe shall relinquish his membership in any trades union or labor association, nor shall an agreement subject any employe to a penalty on account of such membership or discriminate against persons who are not members of trades unions or labor associations."

The discussion in committee lasted about two hours and at times waxed warm, but the bill as amended went through and stands for third reading.

Liable to Abuse.

Mr. Charlton's bill to amend the Allen Lbbor Act so as to permit the importation of skilled labor whenever such labor is unobtainable, was talked out in the House last night, but may come up again. Sir William Mulock expressed the opinion that it would be liable to abuse.

Barbarities Not Exaggerated.

London, May 19.—Dr. Herman Adler, the chief rabbi, in the course of a pastoral charge to his congregation last night, referred to the "Jewish riots at Kischineff." The accounts published by the press, he said, had not exaggerated the extent of the barbarities committed. He had to-day received a letter, sent by a number of leading citizens of Kischineff, which fully corroborated what had been published. An indignation meeting of East End Hebrews was held last night.

Cheaper Postage to Australia.

Ottawa, May 19.—Sir William Mulock has received a cablegram from Sir Edmund Barton, agreeing to allow Canadian newspapers and periodicals to enter Australia at the Canadian rates of postage. Australia has thus fallen into line between Great Britain, Bermuda, the Bahamas and New Zealand. This is an enlargement of the Canadian publishers' field of enterprise which should bring considerable profit to him.

BOARD OF CONCILIATION

Mr. Latchford Introduces Bill to Settle Labor Disputes.

Provision to Refer Strikes to Three Conciliators, With Power to Make Awards For Two Years—The Smallpox Scare of 1902—Hon. Mr. Stratton Defends the Ontario Board of Health and Vaccination.

Toronto, May 19.—Yesterday was private members' day in the Legislature, and half the members duly observed it by staying away from the Parliament Buildings. It required only an hour's time to get through the order paper, and there was hardly a discordant note in the chamber during that time.

Board to Settle Disputes.

Hon. Mr. Latchford introduced a bill to create a Provincial Board of Conciliation and Arbitration for the settlement of difficulties between employers of labor and employes.

The board will consist of one employer of labor, one employe, and the the two will select a third arbitrator. The secretary of the Bureau of Labor will be secretary of the board.

In case of disputes, the secretary is authorized to proceed to the scene and try to arrange the difficulty. If he does not succeed, the board will then intervene. A request for intervention must, however, come from both the parties directly interested. If the board makes an award, it shall be binding for two years, but can be terminated at the end of one year, on 60 days' notice from either party.

The bill provides for a penalty of $500 in the case of an employer breaking the award, and $50 in the case of an employe.

When a strike is deemed to be one that affects the general public, such as a street railway strike, the board may intervene, of its own motion, but the parties are not bound to accept the award.

For the purpose of the act, the Minister of Public Works is styled Minister of Labor.

Lien Notes Bill.

Mr. Hoyle introduced a bill respecting lien notes and other like contracts.

A number of private bills were advanced a stage.

Smallpox Epidemic of 1902.

Mr. Barr moved for a return of papers concerning the smallpox epidemic during the year 1902; also, concerning vaccination during the same period. The doctor said he did not think that everything had been done that should have been done by the Board of Health during the past year to prevent the spread of the disease. He spoke against vaccination, and favored the appointment of a commission to enquire into the subject.

Mr. Stratton did not know whether it would be wise to bring down all the papers, but he promised to give Dr. Barr every assistance in obtaining all the information in the hands of the department. There was a variety of opinion among medical men themselves, and he believed that the best opinion was that vaccination was efficacious in preventing the spread of smallpox. He did not know of any province or state that has handled the smallpox epidemic as well as the Ontario Board of Health.

Dr. Barr withdrew his motion.

Mr. St. John moved for a return of copies of the reports of Inspector of Apiaries, for the last five years, provided for, under the Act for the Suppression of Foul Brood among Bees. The order was granted.

Lakes Leased For Net Fishing.

Mr. Latchford replied to Mr. Hendrie that Lake Manitou was leased to the Manitou Fish Company. The lakes the Government were considering the advisability of leasing were Rabbit Lake, Nipissing; Black Sturgeon Lake, Thunder Bay; Lake Wahnipitae, Nipissing, and Lake Geneva, Algoma. Leases for several other lakes have also been applied for. Rod fishermen have the right to fish in Lake Nepigon and Manitou and in Lake Nepigon the Government has reserved the right to grant licenses or permits to bona fide settlers to take fish for domestic purposes with nets. The rights of rod fishermen would be protected in all future leases.

Replying to Dr. Nesbitt, the Premier furnished the House with a statement of the balances to the credit of the province in the current accounts in each month of the year 1902 in the Commerce, Ontario, Traders and Union Banks.

Mr. Latchford read, at the request of Dr. Nesbitt, a statement of the moneys remitted on colonization roads account during April and May, 1902.

County Clerk of York.

In reply to a question from Mr Lucas, the Attorney-General said Hon. A. M. Ross, County Clerk of York, died Sept. 30, 1900, and the office was still vacant. H. E. Irwin, Clerk of the Peace, was acting County Clerk.

The net income received from both offices was as follows: 1900, $5,652.53; 1901, $5,039.17; 1902, $4,926.74. The net income as Clerk of the Peace was: 1900, $3,029.13; 1901, $2,997.73; 1902, $2,873.10.

Mr. Gibson hoped the position would be permanently filled in the early future.

OPPOSE OVATION TO KING

Scenes of Extreme Disorder at Dublin Monday Night.

Members of the Gaelic League and Former Miss Maud Gonne Cause a Disturbance — John O'Donnell, Member of Parliament For South Mayo, Badly Injured, While Many Persons Fled the Hall Terror Stricken.

Dublin, May 18.—Scenes of extreme disorder were witnessed at a meeting of citizens here to-night in the rotunda in support of the Irish parliamentary fund owing to the presence of members of the Gaelic League who are opposed to giving King Edward a friendly welcome on his coming visit to Ireland. Timothy Harrington, Lord Mayor of Dublin, was in the chair.

While John Redmond was addressing the audience Mrs. McBride, formerly Miss Maude Gonn, advanced to the platform and interrupted the proceedings by asking Lord Mayor Harrington whether he intended, as head of the municipality, to oppose the presentation of an address of welcome to the King. Mr. Harrington replied in an evasive way. Mrs. McBride insisted on a direct answer, whereupon scenes of the wildest disorder occurred and prevented John Redmond from continuing his speech.

The members of the Gaelic League tried to storm the platform amid cries of "put them out." Fierce collisions between the Gaelic Leaguers and the other members of the assembly ensued. Chairs were hurled to and from the platform, and many persons were injured in the desperate efforts made to eject the disturbers and restore order.

John O'Donnell, member of parliament for South Mayo, was badly injured in the head during the scuffle. Many persons fled terror stricken from the hall.

John Redmond continued his speech and eventually a semblance of order was regained and a resolution in accordance with the object of the meeting was carried.

HUNDREDS WERE SLAIN.

Desperate Engagements in Venezuela—Over 1,000 Men Were Lost.

Washington, May 19.—Advices of a thoroughly reliable character received in Washington under date of May 1 show that the Venezuelan revolutionists are not only holding their own but are making considerable headway. The advices say: "Within 60 miles of La Guayra, in the Rio Chico district, the revolutionists are holding forth, and, although the Government a few weeks ago sent an expedition there to drive them out, they succeeded in only making them retreat, and in a few days they were back again. A battle took place in which the Government lost over 1,000 men, and about 300 wounded were brought back to La Guayra after a two days' fight. On the other hand, the revolutionists have not succeeded in ousting the Government or in winning any particular fight."

WRECKERS OFF NEWFOUNDLAND.

Try to Loot a French Schooner, But Are Driven Off.

St. John's, Nfld., May 19. — The Norwegian steamer, Norkap, Captain Loud, which sailed from Boston on May 21, for Tilt Cove, has arrived here. She was unable to reach Tilt Cove, where she intended to load copper ore, owing to a heavy ice pack. Other incoming ships report having met with enormous ice floes and bergs, extending 200 miles seaward. The French schooner Navarisse has been driven ashore by the ice on the west coast. A number of local craft tried to loot her, but the French cruiser, Trude, appeared on the scene and compelled them to surrender their plunder.

ALBANIANS NOW SUBMISSIVE.

Probably as Result of Heavy Fighting With Turkish Troops.

Constantinople, May 18.—The Turkish officials observe much reserve regarding the details of the fighting which occurred during the advance of the Turkish troops on Ipek, Albania which was occupied May 15. Several hundred Albanians are now reported to have been killed or wounded.

The Albanians, it is declared, have telegraphed to the Sultan announcing their submission, and expressing their fidelity and readiness to accept the measures necessary for the pacification of Albania.

Drowned in a Well.

Kingston, May 19.—Robert, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Smith, Lansdowne street, was drowned on Saturday night. Parents and child visited relatives at Mallir's Corners. In the evening, they found the boy missing; his hat was picked up outside, and investigation showed that he had fallen into a deep well.

G.T.R. Responsible.

Detroit, Mich., May 19.—The coroner's jury yesterday rendered a verdict, finding the Grand Trunk Railway responsible for the accident at the corner of Canfield and Dequindre streets, the night of May 3, when a Grand Trunk train ran into a number of Polish excursionists from Toledo.

Cut Down in Time.

Hamilton, May 19.—Miss Kelly, a young woman who lives at 57 North East avenue, is the latest victim of the suicide mania that seems to prevail in the city. Yesterday morning she tried to hang herself, but fortunately was cut down before she had finished the job.

THE REASON WHY.

Heals the throat, cures the cough, makes breathing easy,—that's why Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is prescribed by physicians for bronchitis, acute or chronic. It is pleasant to take, agrees with the stomach, and is better than emulsions made from fish oils or other fats.

Montreal Murderer Extradited.

Washington, May 19.—The State Department has issued a warrant for the surrender to the British authorities of Pasquele Parise, charged with murder, committed in Montreal and now under arrest in Boston.

20 YEARS FOR DR. KENT.

Application For New Trial Denied—Wife and Friends Expected Acquittal—Wife Has Gone Insane.

Rochester, N. Y., May 19.—Leland Dorr Kent was yesterday morning sentenced to Auburn Prison for twenty years by Judge Sutherland.

In sentencing Kent, Judge Sutherland said: "For myself I will say that I concur entirely in the conclusion which the jury arrived at as to the manner by which Miss Dingle met her death. Under the statute making the act of aiding another in the commission of suicide, manslaughter in the first degree, the supposition is that she was the principal actor and that your part in it was subsidiary and incidental only. But I have no doubt that her wish to die, her consent to die, and her participation to some extent in the preliminary preparations for death would not have necessarily absolved you from the graver charge of murder, because you wilfully and knowingly inflicted the mortal wound.

Wife Has Gone Insane.

Buffalo, May 19.—Mrs. Leland Dorr Kent has gone insane as the result of the conviction of her husband. Her physicians describe her condition as acute dementia, and offer no hope for her recovery. While her life is not in danger, it is extremely probable that she will spend the balance of her days in an asylum. The Kents had confidential hopes for acquittal, in which case Mrs. Kent had agreed to forgive her husband and resume their home life as it was before the Kent-Dingle tragedy.

MR. MISCAMPBELL UNSEATED.

Court of Appeal Unanimously Upholds Decision of Trial Judges.

Toronto, May 19.—The appeal of Andrew Miscampbell from the decision of the Judges who tried the petition against him and declared his election void, was dismissed yesterday, and Sault Ste. Marie is now vacant.

The learned Justices fully concur in the opinions of the trial Judges and express surprise at the appellant having any hope of convincing the court that the election should not be voided. They concur in the finding of the trial Judges, that there had been sufficient corruption to override any majority. This disposed of any hope from the saving clause. The payments to Roy and Delargey were held to have been proven, and the denial of Morreault regarding Roy is not credited.

Other Illegal Practices.

Several acts of bribery having been established, it lay upon the appellant to discharge the onus of satisfying the tribunal that, notwithstanding such acts, the election should not be voided. There were other illegal practices not of a personal nature which cannot be overlooked in considering whether the appellant has succeeded in discharging the onus. It is not possible to say that the acts of bribery were of a trifling nature in themselves. They were committed under circumstances showing deliberation and intent. The importation of Morreault from Montreal and his participation in this election contest in the manner in which he did participate are not satisfactorily accounted for. What has been shown as to the appellant's part in the supply of money increases his difficulties. His account of his dealings in regard to them demonstrate an entire disregard for the plain directions of the act. The moneys were not paid to his financial agent; no account was rendered to that gentleman, and they did not appear in his published statement.

We quite agree that the illegal practices of which they received such vivid impressions in the course of the trial makes it impossible to give the respondent the benefit of the saving clause of the act. The appeal must be dismissed with costs.

MILNER ON ASIATICS.

Exclusion Should Be Based on Social Economy Grounds.

Johannesburg, May 19.—Lord Milner, High Commissioner of South Africa, addressing a meeting yesterday on the native question, contended that natives who raised themselves to a civilized level with the whites were entitled to equal privileges. He sympathized, he said, with the feeling in South Africa against an influx of Asiatics, but that influx could be resisted on social economy grounds, and not on the score of color.

SINCLAIR'S AD SINCLAIR'S AD.

Ladies' Fancy Neck Ruffs

We have just received a German maker's set of samples in Ladies' Fancy Silk Neck Ruffs. These include Forty-one different styles of Ruffs in Blacks, Black and White, White and Black, White, Cream and Champagne. We mark these samples ⅓ less than regular prices from $2.00 to $12.50 each.

Dress Linen Batistes

These are among the most popular Wash Goods for Ladies' Summer Dresses and are shown in very handsome embroidered effects from 25c to 65c yd.

LINEN WASH WAISTS

Beautifully made in styles that cannot be imitated by home made Waists are now being shown at prices from $1.00 to $4.00 each.

BLACK UNDERSKIRTS

We have just received another lot of our popular priced Ladies' Black Sateen Underskirts to sell at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, and $2.00.

FANCY PARASOLS

This season's Fancy Parasols are decidedly pretty and are shown in a great variety of styles from $1.00 to $5.00 each.

SEE OUR STYLES IN

Ladies' Silk Waists,

at $3.00, $4.00, and $5.00 each.

D. V. SINCLAIR & CO.

"PURE, HEALTHY, TASTY"
Their sale proves their worth.

"SALADA"

Ceylon GREEN Tea is displacing Japans just as the "SALADA" Blacks are displacing all other black teas. Sold only in sealed lead packets. 25c & 40c per lb. By all grocers.

GORMAN'S
THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE

Our large, bright, new stock of reliable Foot wear is daily making many new friends for THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE.

Just step in some time, when out shopping, you will also say that our shoes are deserving of THEIR GREAT POPULARITY.

Come in any time we will be pleased to serve you.

You will find here excellet lines of Ladies' Lace Boots selling at $4.02, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1 50 and $1.25.

Our men's department is well stocked with stylish, comfortable, durable boots, in various leathers, selling at $5.00, $3.75, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Daily Intelligencer.

NO TEMPERANCE LEGISLATION.

Notwithstanding the large majority recorded in favor of Prohibition, when the famous referendum was submitted to the people, and the pledge given by Premier Ross to introduce more restrictive liquor laws, he now tells his brethren of the Alliance that there will be no temperance legislation this year, and the Grit prohibitionists sing in chorus, Amen.

The Toronto News tells its readers that "the notice of the deputation's visit to Premier Ross was kept quiet, and that the newspaper men were not informed of it." And that when the reporter asked Mr. Ross the result of the interview "he was shut off with the terse statement, I have nothing to say."

Getting no information from the Premier, the newspaper man interviews a number of politicians, clergymen and others.

Mr. Whitney was asked what he thought would be the result of the Premier's action, replying: "Possibly another vote of thanks will be offered the Premier. You will remember that when the deputation of prohibitionists waited on Mr. Ross, some time ago, he told them his first duty was to secure a Parliamentary majority, and that he would go just as far in the matter of temperance legislation as his supporters would allow him to go. The deputation then retired to an ante-room, drafted a resolution of thanks, and presented it to the Premier. The question of adopting a policy because it was right, or of refusing to adopt it because it was wrong, did not seem to have occurred to the Premier. The question of a majority evidently overshadowed everything and in the light of other events, which have occurred since, we can easily understand this view on his part."

Mr. Crawford, M.P.P., said: "The temperance legislation is as important as any that can be brought in, and equally deserving of consideration. At any rate there is no reason why the proposed bill should not be at least introduced this session and the provisions made known to the public. Then if necessary the bill could be left over till next year."

Col. Matheson remarked that it seemed an excellent political way out of a situation embarrassing to the Government. "Probably they had no intention of bringing in the bill at all," he added.

"Pledges have often been broken before," interjected Mr. Smyth, of Algoma.

Rev. Dr. W. A. MacKay, of Woodstock, president of the Ontario Alliance, spoke as follows: "If the Premier has announced that no bill dealing with the liquor traffic will be brought into the Legislature this session it will be a sore disappointment to the friends of moral reform in Ontario."

Rev. J. E. Starr thought the temperance people could not expect anything more from Mr. Ross.

A meeting of the Temperance League followed the interview with the Premier, and the following resolution was passed:

"This branch of the Temperance League desires to express their emphatic protest with this further trifling with the wishes of the electorate, as expressed in the recent referendum vote, and calls the attention of the people to this fresh evidence of the need of independent political action."

The discussion at this League meeting was interesting.

Mr. Nicholls, of Montreal, declared that the postponement was an insult to the 200,000 men who voted for the Liquor Act, and to the temperance sentiment of Ontario.

Chairman Rev. J. E. Starr remarked that a "self-appointed deputation had acted in a very irresponsible way, so far as the Alliance was concerned." And he added, "there were some things of which they had not heard."

Mr. W. H. Orr, a red-hot Grit, one of the deputation, was asked to give the provisions of the draft bill as announced by the Premier, but Mr. Orr said HE was under no obligation to say nothing about it, and as a much better Grit than prohibitionist, he kept the secret.

Mr. L. Duncan had strenuous objections to the smallness and character of the deputation which waited on the Premier. They might have had 10,000 with them. The balance of the clan had got situations with the Government and had said good-bye to the cause. He severely criticized the so-called temperance leaders who were ever ready to respond to the crack of the party whip.

Of course, the practical mode of obtaining justice was suggested by Miss Lottie Wiggins, who declared that "If she went on another deputation she would like to go like Carrie Nation. She did not believe in going up praying and getting insulted."

Lottie must not forget that she is in Canada, and that Carrie Nation's methods would land her in jail. But so long as Lottie confines her weapon of attack upon the Premier to her tongue, it will be all right.

A little more humbugging and the people may possibly understand Ross, the Vice-president of the Temperance Alliance; most people do, but the Grit Prohibitionists don't want to.

TIMELY TOPICS.

Soldiers in camp may wear straw hats this year. Shades of General O'Grady Haly!

• • •

Kent got a sentence of twenty years. And it wasn't a day too much. Hope he serves it.

• • •

These are the days that make the housekeeper long for a gas stove.

• • •

Break it gently to mother: Work has commenced on the old d.s.b.g. At last!

• • •

The Topics man hereby gives notice that if his den is not fixed up like Mr. Corby's office he may catch the prevailing fever and go on strike.

• • •

Is it possible that the Dominion Day celebration is going to be allowed to peter out? Why don't the Sons of Scotland and Sons of England tackle it together. Between the Highlanders' Band and the Sons of England Fife and Drum Band there ought to be a great day.

• • •

Everybody will be glad to hear that action has been taken by the Council in the matter of securing a public bath for this city, and the Topics man, in the name of many children and their parents in this city, hereby moves a vote of thanks to Ald. Panter and Pope, the mover and seconder of the resolution. Here's hoping the expense may not be found too great, and that the prospective bath may become a reality. Just think what a boon it would be these warm nights!

We Would Like to Remind You

If the weather is to warm for you to walk home to your dinner—just drop in here and get a ten or fifteen cent Lunch.

We are ready to serve you any hour you may come.

J. ARTHUR MARSH.

Special Great Mid=Season Sale

Beginning Saturday, May 16th, 1903.

Just a Moment, Don't Fail to Read.

The dollar rules the commercial world—to a very great extent. Prompt dollars bring us merchandise that enable us to sell to you at extraordinary prices. To prepare for a further new stock of Summer goods, we find we can clear off a quantity of spring materials, new ideas and fresh goods are continually being introduced. We must have them. We therefore invite you to this Great Sale, where you will find that facts speak with greater force than elongated statements. So come and see for yourself. The goods and prices do the talking.

A Few of the Lines

Men's English Blue Serge Suits, all sizes 34 to 40 at $3.50

Men's Spring Suits, Dark Grey Halifax Tweed, made single breasted with French Facings, worth $7 00, our price $4.00

Men's spring Suits, Black or Blue twill serge suits, made single breasted with French facings, worth $8.00 our price $4.50

The finest and nobbiest assortment of Boys' two and three piece suits in the city. All sizes and at low prices.

The Globe Clothing House
Up-to-date Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers.
390 FRONT STREET, LOOK FOR THE GLOBE OVER THE DOOR.

HERE'S A PALATIAL ESTABLISHMENT.

Elegant Fittings Go Hand in Hand With Good Taste in

Mr. H. Corby's Front Street Offices—How it Struck a Reporter.

In response to an invitation from that genial gentleman, Mr. H. Corby, a representative of The Intelligencer yesterday afternoon paid a visit to his offices on Front St., just below the City Hall. It will be remembered by our readers that The Intelligencer some time ago, in mentioning the fact that the Corby offices were going to be changed, hazarded the opinion, after seeing the plans, that the new offices were going to be something elaborate. After yesterday's visit the writer is prepared to stake his journalistic reputation that the prophecy was as near correct as any Moses ever made. To use the vernacular, it's a "swell place." The writer entered through a front door faced with iron grill work, covering chipped plate glass. Inside were marble steps, the sides of the hall being of the same material. The entire floor of the lower story, with the exception of Mr. Corby's private office, is of tesselated marble, and highly polished. Those mosaic floors, somehow, have a richness possessed by nothing else. Passing through the hall, the visitor reaches, first, Mr. Corby's private office, and on entering there, it strikes one that he has stumbled into a chamber furnished in a style worthy of being characterized as the acme of solid elegance and good taste.

"Sit down," said Mr. Bird, the manager, who was acting as conductor, "and tell us what you think of it."

"It has the King Edward Hotel beaten in a walk," said the visitor, feebly. He was not used to such luxuriance. Let's try a little bit of description. To begin with, the floor is inlaid with oak, maple and cherry, known as the parquette pattern. It seemed a pity to cover such a floor with rugs, even though they were costly and beautiful Turkish ones. The furniture is of mahogany, upholstered in dark leather, and the big arm chairs and sofa look, oh! so comfortable! The panels on the walls are of mahogany, upholstered with green tapestry. On the south and east sides are six "Lunettes"—or paintings in a kind of subdued finish, which are peculiarly attractive without having a suspicion of glaring colors. The first is a French scene, representing peasants gathering grapes. Next comes a scene from sunny Italy; stalwart monks are bearing grapes to the wine press. Following this is a German scene—merry peasants and their sweethearts dancing on the green. A scene from Austria follows: men and women gathering grapes which, in the size of the bunches, remind one of those brought back by Joshua and the advance guard who went to spy out the promised land. Next comes a Spanish scene, where a gay crowd are drinking lemonade—or something else—and dancing a fandango to the strains of a light guitar which a fellow with the traditional Spanish mutton chop whiskers is playing. The last scene—the best of all—is descriptive of Canadian lads and lasses gathering hops in Mr. H. Corby's hop yards at Corbyville. This is painted from a photograph.

The upper walls and ceiling are finished in old ivory, giving a tasteful and refined effect. There is a grey brick fireplace and mantel 12 feet high. Surmounting the fireplace is a scroll bearing the legend "A. D. 1859," which the writer learned, on enquiry, was the date of the establishment of the Corby business. The furniture and panellings are finished in the style of Louis Quinze. All the inside hard wood work was done by Charles Rogers and Sons, Toronto, and the decorations by the Elliott & Son Company, also of Toronto. The "Lunettes" were painted by Gustav Hahn, with the Elliott & Son Company. On a table in the corner stands a picture of Sir John A. Macdonald, of memory dear, while in another corner stands, on a mahogany table, a statuette of Faust and Marguerite. The dainty maiden holds a flower aloft, she being depicted in the act of murmuring "He loves me; he loves me not." In the centre of the ceiling is a ventilating dome.

Passing out to the general office, one goes by the sample room and lavatory, finished with marble fittings and tile walls.

The general office is finished in green oak, with furniture, desks, etc., to match. In the northeast corner is a grey brick fireplace. The rugs on the floor are also Turkish. Below the panelling the walls are finished in green burlap, the upper part in old ivory.

In all the ceiling and wall decorations the same design is adhered to—the egg and dart pattern.

In the waiting room there are wall decorations of old copper, the design being cornucopias. The partition between the waiting-room and general office is formed of magnificent steel grill work, with old copper finish. There is a marble base around the walls, the panels being of burlap, with panelling of green oak. Swing doors of plate glass divide one room from another. The windows have prismatic tops, the windows and doors being all of chipped plate glass. Electric lights, with delicately tinted shades and globes, appear everywhere with prodigal profusion. The effect at night, when all the lights are turned on, and the subdued tints are thrown on the rich furnishings and decorations, must be superb.

Five telephones are in use in the office, one long distance, one general, and the remainder connecting the office with the various warehouses.

A spiral staircase of bronzed iron connects the first story with the second. The entire second flat is elegantly fitted up as a Board room. The furnishings are luxurious, the carpet one of the kind that your foot sinks into, while from the walls look down the faces of Conservative leaders, past and present.

"Come up in the cupola," said Mr. Bird, and up we went.

Yesterday was a warm day, and the atmosphere in the cupola was intensely comfortable. There is a fine view of the harbor and park on the south side. The cupola is furnished with "crex" carpet and furniture, which gives it a kind of rustic effect.

Descending to the ground floor again, the writer was shown through the warehouses, which are furnished with elevator, electric lights, and all up-to-date improvements. All the ceilings are of iron. A glance through the various warehouses showed a stock of "wet" goods, in and out of bond, comprising every known variety of drinkable—a multitude of Timothies could have found something for their stomachs' sake there. The marks on the barrels and boxes showed that they had come from Oporto, Bordeaux, Amsterdam, Dublin, Aberdeen, London, Corbyville, and many other places. It is a rather unique display.

Passing through the gangway once more one notices that the roadway is paved with cement. Not a detail seems to have been forgotten. From beginning to end the establishment is up-to-date in every respect. But really, it must be seen to be properly appreciated.

This article would not be complete without some description of the exterior of the building. The first story is of cut stone, the upper story of Don pressed brick, with terra cotta trimmings from Chicago. Solidity and thoroughness of finish mark every detail, even to the flagstaff which surmounts the cupola.

The architect was Mr. F. H. Herbert, of Toronto, Mr. J. H. Moon, of this city, being the overseer. Local men prominently identified with the construction of the building are Messrs. Thos. Hanley, J. M. Truaisch, the Belleville Hardware Company, Geo. Johnson, Thos. Thompson and Thos. Manley.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Advertisements under this heading TWO CENTS A WORD; subsequent consecutive insertions ONE CENT A WORD. No locs charged as less than twenty-five words.

Two prisoners last night occupied the police cells.

There were very few in attendance at the market to-day.

Victoria Park was last evening thronged with citizens, who enjoyed the balmy breezes from off the bay.

The Fax-Chambers Concert will take place Monday, June 1st, in the Carman opera house. Popular prices will prevail. 35c for best seats.

It helps the hurt when you have an accident if you know you have something to pay expenses with. We furnish the needful when it is worst needed. S. Borrows, Gen'l Agent, City.

Slater Shoe Advertising

Selling the first pair

Short talks by the Slater Shoe ad. man, No. 2.

Advertising may induce a man or woman to buy the first pair of "Slater Shoes" but if that first pair be a failure no amount of advertising will induce the disappointed wearer to buy a second pair.

If every man and woman in Canada bought a pair of "Slater Shoes" through advertising and ceased wearing—or buying them after the first purchase, the entire Canadian market for "Slater Shoes" would be exhausted in less than two years.

Yet the sales of "Slater Shoes" have gone on increasing for many years.

The same people have been buying the "Slater Shoe" year after year and constant advertising is making new wearers every season proving that it is as good a shoe as its makers claim it to be.

The Slater Shoe

Goodyear welted. Made in Canada 40 years. $3.50 and $5.00—for men and women.

Sole Agent
J. J. HAINES, BELLEVILLE.

THE WEATHER.

To-day's Probs—

Moderate to fresh south to southwest winds, decidedly warm, thunderstorms this evening and to-night. Wednesday, fresh south to west winds, showery and thunderstorms.

To-day's Temperature

As Registered by The Intelligencer's Guaranteed Thermometer:

8 a.m.	72
12 m.	86
2 p.m.	89
3 p.m.	00

JEWELRY

THE CIRCLE OF GOLD

Fashioned daintily and set with a Pearl, Opal, Turquoise or Diamond, according to choice, that we can sell you for from $5 to $20 will be a revelation.

Quality alone means nothing, beauty of design, fine workmanship, or price mean nothing. But a combination of all these means a great deal, and we shall give them with quality at the high point, and price at the low point ratio. And although this statement applies to rings in particular, it also applies to our entire stock of jewelery.

Angus McFee.
Jeweler & Optician
310 Front St.

There is not a foreign water that one of the MAGI Caledonia Waters does not advantageously replace for either as a medicinal or table use. J. J. McLaughlin, sole Agent, Toronto. Sold everywhere.

Specials in Millinery

Sale of Sailor Hats.

We bought too many.
15 doz. cleared at
HALF PRICE.
White and Colored.
ALL NEW.
Also some very choice Dress Hats just received.
GET FIRST CHOICE.

MISS IRWIN
Millinery and Corset Specialist

The wise are polite all the world over; fools are polite only at home.—[illegible]

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M.D., C.M., M.R., C.S., England.
Office and Residence — Corner of Bridge and George streets — three streets East of Post Office.

DR. J. F. MATHER
Has removed his office to Pinnacle St., three doors north of Hotel Quinte. my29-6mw

LEGAL.

WILLS & WRIGHT,
Barristers, Solicitors, Notary Public, &c., Belleville.
Office—2 Campbell Street.
MALCOLM WRIGHT.
J. FRANKLIN WILLS.
Money to Loan at Lowest Rates.

W. C. MIKEL, B. C. L.,
Barrister, &c.
Solicitor for the City of Belleville.
Office—Metropolitan Block, Corner Front and Campbell Streets.

PORTER & CARNEW,
Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc.
Offices — Robertson Block, East Front St., Belleville, Ont.
'Phone 87.
E. G. PORTER. WM. CARNEW.

WILLIAM N. PONTON,
Barrister-at-law, Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge Street, Belleville.
Money to Loan — Private Funds. Solicitor Sun and Hastings Savings and Loan Company of Ontario.

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE,
Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.
Barrister, Solicitor, Conveyancer, Etc. Office, McAnnany Building, corner Front and Bridge Sts., Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security.
Charges moderate.

INSURANCE.

Fire Insurance.

Guardian . . .	Est'd 1821
The North America, .	Est'd 1792
Quebec, . . .	Est'd 1818

City, Town and Village Property insure at lowest rates.
R. W. ADAMS. Agent.
Office opposite Post Office.

PERSONS desiring Life assurance cannot do better than consult
W. J. THOMSON,
who is the Agent for the following well-known and old established Assurance Companies:
ROYAL. ALLIANCE.
OCEAN ACCIDENT STANDARD LIFE
Office at Rathbun Co., Bridge St. oc-d&w

THOS. STEWART,
Insurance and Commission Agent
Agent for the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Scottish Union National Ins. Co.
BRIDGE ST.

FIRE, LIFE & ACCIDENT INSURANCE
At Lowest Rates The Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Perth Mutual on farm and city property. Also money to loan at 4½ per cent. upwards.
JAMES A. CHISHOLM.
Office Ashley Block, - Front st., Belleville

Money Saved is Money Earned can earn you money by saving ¼ for you in your Fire Insurance.
The Anglo-American Fire Ins. Co
The Merchants Fire Ins. Co.
The Equity Fire Ins. Co.
Are all strong Canadian stock companies and insure Farm and City Property at lower rate than other stock companies Call and see me before placing your fire insurance.
Office—Bridge St., same entrance Quinte Laundry, Belleville.
H. FREEMAN KETCHESON

Fire, Life & Plate Glass Insurance.
Liverpool & London & Globe of England.
Waterloo Mutual, of Waterloo, Ont.
Lloyd's Plate Glass.
Home Life Association, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile.
Farm and City Property insured in First-class Reliable Companies and at lowest current rates. Losses promptly settled. Land valuation, and transact general Real Estate business and sale or purchase and renting of property. Appraiser for the Hastings Loan & Investment Society. Money to Loan.
W. P. HUDSON, Office above Rathbun's office, cor. Bridge and Pinnacle Sts., opposite Postoffice and Hotel Quinte, Belleville.
'Phone 162.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. G. NORTHRUP,
Issuer of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville, Ont.

CHAUNCEY ASHLEY,
Issuer of Marriage Licenses.
Private Office, Bridge St., Belleville, opposite the Post Office.
Residence, first house east of W. W. Chown's Mfg. Co., Station St.
Appointments made.

The wildcat's teeth are close to its purr.

Lost chances never leave any trail.

Jim Dumps' great aunt, infirm with gout,
Had worn a good digestion out—
Could take no food—or sour or sweet.
Jim sent her "Force," which she could eat!
So grateful was his aunt to him,
She left her all to "Sunny Jim."

"Force"
The Ready-to-Serve Cereal will postpone the will.

Sweet, crisp flakes of wheat and malt.

I. Take It to School with Them.
"It is the food of all others for me. Some time ago I heard a lady say that she did not know what to get for breakfast any more. I told her to try 'Force.' She says her children like it so much they take it to school with them.
T. R. BARRY."

WHEELING AGAIN POPULAR

Bicycling is on top again—the only practical form of exercise for the twentieth century man—a good outing and an economic means of transportation. The aristocracy of Europe have adopted it for social outings, and the "400" of the big American Republic have followed "their leader."

Many improvements have been recently introduced to the bicycle, and probably that accounts for this big revival.

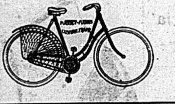
Our Hygienic Cushion Frame is the largest of these. It is responsible, almost entirely, for the regingering—it has made all roads smooth roads. It is to wheeling what the "Pullman" is to railroading. A simple device that makes the rider independent of rough roads, that does with all vibration.

In the country it makes an ordinary road a city pavement, doing away with vibration and permitting long distance rides without fatigue.

A bicycle thus equipped is the wheel par excellnce for 1903. It is the correct thing "In Bicycledom."



Massey-Harris
Have the New Cushion Frame.
Write for our New Catalogue.

M. LALLY & CO.
BELLEVILLE.

Canada Cycle & Motor Co., Limited.
Head Office and Works—Toronto Junction.

Among the interesting animals in Ringling Brothers' zoological display this season is "Baby Boo," the only baby elephant born and successfully reared in America; two splendid specimens of the practically extinct giraffe, two horned horses, several Royal Bengal tigers, a bi-horned rhinoceros, the only one in captivity, and many other animals, including forty trained elephants.

Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

INTFLLIGENCER JOB OFFICE
FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

AMONG the eminent scientists attending the recent convention of the American Naturalists' Association at the University of Chicago little disposition was shown to enliven the reading and discussion of papers on profound topics, hence the gathering had little attraction for persons not familiar with the sciences.

In the recess following a morning session one of the learned bacteriologists indulged in a little light talk with others of his class. They were inspecting an exhibit of instruments. The professor, growing reminiscent, told of a practical joke he had played on an esteemed member of the medical profession. The latter did not believe in the germ theory and refused to pursue any study in that direction, holding that it was all bosh. The more the bacteriologist insisted the more doubting the doctor became.

"Dere is no such ding as germs in tuberculosis. I vill not belief it," declared the physician, a native of the Fatherland.

"Yes, but I have bacilli which I can show you under the microscope and prove my assertion," replied the professor.

"Und id has head und tail?" queried the doctor.

"Certainly. Come to my laboratory and I'll show it to you," said the bacteriologist.

The doctor visited the laboratory and the scientist showed him the specimen under the microscope. A peculiar looking, wiggling object with the head of a monster and feathers sticking forth like the warpath headgear of a savage Indian was presented.

"Mein gracious! Und dot ding is alive?" cried the doctor. "No vonder the germs can ravage a man's lungs. I shall get me a microscope at vonce."

The doctor was converted to the germ theory, but the wicked bacteriologist failed to reveal to him that the bacillus shown in the microscope was a common flea obtained from the body of the scientist's pet house dog.

FIGURES ARE CONVINCING.

They Demonstrate the Magnitude of Ringling Brothers' Wonderful Circus.

While every reader of this paper is satisfied that Ringling Brothers circus and menagerie is the biggest and best on earth, a few facts and figures concerning this wonderful tented amusement enterprise attract more than usual interest. The big show with its three miles of parade glories, its famous menagerie, its beautiful spectacular production of Jerusalem and the Crusades and its unexcelled arenic attractions, including the flower of the world's greatest performers and the most remarkable trained animal exhibition ever presented to the public, calls for the assistance of 1,280 employes. The canvas tents that enclose the wonders of this great circus cover fifteen acres of ground. Six hundred and fifty horses, all of them perfect specimens of the equine race, are used to draw the numerous wagons and to act in the three circus rings and on the monster quarter-mile hippodrome track. In the sublime production of Jerusalem and the Crusades, 1,200 characters are shown. These characters are richly costumed in the finest fabrics obtainable and a small fortune alone was expended for the silks, satins, velvets cloth of gold and silver and for the armour, coats of mail, shields, spears, lances, horse trappings and accoutrements. The scenery used in Jerusalem cost another fortune and was painted especially for the production by the most famous artists the country affords The entire production is given on the largest stage ever used for exhibitional purposes. In the colossal menagerie are 108 lairs, dens, cages and tanks filled with beasts of the forest, plain and jungle and a host of queer water fowl and animals whose natural element is the water. The features of the menagerie include Baby Boo, the first baby elephant ever born and reared in America, a pair of full grown giraffes, the last of their kind and the only rhinoceros in captivity. The Ringling parade is one of the finest ever attempted and is a glittering picture of color, action and entertaining novelties that never fails to feed the eye. The circus is transported in five long trains of 85 cars, each car being from sixty to seventy feet in length. Their carrying capacity is equal to 170 ordinary cars. The parade and two performances will be given in their entirety in Belleville, Saturday, June 6. The first performance starts promptly at 2 o'clock and the second at 8 o'clock. The doors will open an hour before performance time in order that planty of time be time in order that plenty of time be given visitors to view the immense menagerie Numbered reserved seat tickets and admission tickets may be secured on the date of exhibition at Riggs' Music Store at same prices as charged on show grounds.

Greenleaf & Son
Would like to show you one of the finest lines of Bicycles
shown here in some time.
PRICES ARE RIGHT.

We are catching up gradually with our work, so will be better able to give your job prompt attention.

GOOD VARIETY OF FISHING TACKLE ON HAND.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Measurement Nonpareil—12 lines to the inch.

Display advertisements, 10c per line.
Subsequent consecutive insertions, 5c.
Reading advertisements, 15c per line.
Preferred position, 20 per cent. advance upon casual or contract rates.
Minimum space, 10 lines.
Marriages and deaths, 50c each insertion
Births, 25c each insertion.
Rates for Condensed Advertisement will be found in 1st column of 2nd page.
All advertisements are subject to the approval of the Publisher of the Intelligencer.
Address all communications to the Intelligencer Printing & Publishing House Limited, or to Charles J. Bowell, Managing Director and Treasurer.
Canadians in London will find The Intelligencer on file at E. & J. Hardy & Co.'s Office, 30 Fleet Street, London, E. C.

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS

SITUATIONS WANTED, HELP WANTED, LOST OR FOUND, FOR SALE OR TO RENT, &c.
(Auction Sales not included in this list)

TERMS.—Twenty-five words or less, 25c first insertion; two insertions, 50c; four insertions, 75c; one week $1.00, two weeks, $1.75, three weeks, $2.25; one month, $2.50, Strictly cash in advance.

WANTED.

A girl to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. S. A. Hyman, 264 George St. 19-5t

A good cook for Mrs. W. D. Chisholm. Apply in the evenings to Miss Bell, corner of Queen and George streets. 15-4t

Not fakes nor fads but household needs. Used everyday by everybody. Can't you sell them? Others do and make fortunes. Still room. Write at once to G. Marshall & Co., London, Ont.

A few men and women to work for us at home during spare time. Pleasant work. Liberal pay. No canvassing. Imperial Company, London, Ontario. m12-1m

By S. Langbort—Scrap iron, metal, old rubber, etc. Will pay the following prices: Old iron, 50c, 60c and 70c. per 100; mixed rags 50c per 100; copper 9c lb.; heavy brass 9c lb.; old rubber boots and shoes 6c lb.; lead and zinc 2c lb. Remember the place, Powell's Old Stand, Mill St., corner Brown. ap21-1m

Young men ambitious to learn lucrative trades, of which there are eight in connection with the business. Apply The Belleville Hardware Company, Belleville, Ont. a7dtf

Competent men to appoint agents, whole or spare time. Commission paid. Apply JOHN DOYLE, Drawer 531, London. s27-1yr

WANTED Reliable Men in every locality throughout Canada to introduce our goods, tacking up show cards on trees, fences, along roads and all conspicuous places, also distributing small advertising matter. Commission or salary $60.00 per month and expenses, not to exceed $2.50 per day. Steady employment to good, honest reliable men. No experience needful. Write for full particulars. THE EMPIRE MEDICINE CO., London, Ont.

LOST.

On Sunday, on George St., between Bridge and Queen Sts., a pair of gold rimmed eye glasses. The finder please leave at this office.

FOR SALE OR TO-LET.

House on Dundas street (north side). For particulars apply to Miss McCrudden, at Foster's restaurant, Front street, after 6 p.m. 18-6td

FOR SALE.

Comfortable, well built, seven room frame house and lot, situated on North Front St., in vicinity of Albert College. Apply to Mrs. Wm. McCreery, Belleville.
my15-d1mem&iw

Stone house, 11 rooms, coal furnace, stable, barn. Large grounds. Cor. Frank and Moira Sts. north. Terms reasonable. H. Bull, on premises or Fred Bull, 21-2 Queen St., Toronto. ap18-dtf

Contractors and masons any any person requiring lime may procure it from E. G. STAPLEY, Canifton Road, Belleville. New lime always on hand. a9-d&w6m

Dressed and Matched Lumber of all kinds, at ALFORD'S factory, Market Square. j12-tf

REMOVAL.

Dr. Clarke will shortly remove to the offices formerly occupied by the late Dr. Ward, over Burrows', and opposite Scantlebury's Book Store. s27dtf

Relieving Muscular Strain

Of the eyes that rob the vigor of the rest of the body, is our profession. Glasses are intended for more than the aiding of vision. Some of the most distressing diseases have been relieved by glasses after doctors and surgeons had doctored and cut to their heart's content. Do not procrastinate in the matter of having your eyes examined.

ALEX. RAY

He who foresees calamities suffers them twice over.

A Sure Cure for Headaches. — Bilious headache, to which women are more subject than men, becomes so acute in some subjects that they are utterly prostrated. The stomach refuses food, and there is a constant and distressing effort to free the stomach from bile which has become unduly secreted there. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are a speedy alterative, and in neutralizing the effects of the intruding bile relieves the pressure on the nerves which cause the headache. Try them.

The best wheel of fortune is honest labor.

Will be Found an Excellent Remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

Wedding rings in St. Kilda used to be made of worsted.

The Well Known Strengthening Properties of IRON, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

Coral is a talisman against thunder and evils by flood and field.

There is nothing equal to Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator for destroying worms. No article of its kind has given such satisfaction.

A woman never knows where the match box is.

Some persons have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhoea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change of water, cooking, and green fruit, is sure to bring on the attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed no further trouble will be experienced.

When one gets hopping mad his reason goes on a crutch.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which causes difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of "Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup," and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

The average watch represents but 12 hours of human labor.

Will positively cure sick headache and prevent its return. Carter's Little Liver Pills. This is not talk, but truth. One pill a dose. See advertisement. Small pill. Small dose. Small price.

If thy friend is honey, do not lick him up altogether.

Holloway's Corn Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

Attend no auctions if thou hast no money.

To Those of Sedentary Occupation. —Men who follow sedentary occupations, which deprive them of fresh air and exercise, are more prone to disorders of the liver and kidneys than those who lead active, outdoor lives. The former will find in Parmelee's Vegetable Pills a restorative without question the most efficacious on the market. They are easily procurable, easily taken, act expeditiously, and they are surprisingly cheap considering their excellence.

Many a man's self-conceit is due to his ignorance.

UNTOLD MISERY — WHAT A WELL-KNOWN COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER SUFFERED, AND HOW HE WAS CURED.—Gentlemen, About five years ago I began to be troubled with Dyspepsia, and for three years suffered untold misery, from this terrible complaint. I was at that time travelling for Messrs. Walter Woods & Co., Hamilton, and was treated by some of the best physicians in the country, but to no purpose. I continued to grow worse, one day I was induced to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and to my great surprise and joy, I soon began to improve. I continued using this medicine and when the third bottle was finished, I found I was entirely cured; and as a year has elapsed since then, I feel confident that the cure is complete and permanent. To all afflicted with this distressing complaint I heartily recommend Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery believing that the persistent use of it will cure any case of Dyspepsia.
(Signed),
T. S. McINTEE.

Over 250,000 copies of Charles Dickens' novels are sold annually.

He Has Tried It.—Mr. John Anderson, Kinloss, writes: "I venture to say few, if any, have received greater benefit from the use of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, than I have. I have used it regularly for over ten years and have recommended it to all sufferers I knew of, and they also found it of great virtue in cases of severe bronchitis and incipient consumption."

The Sun & Hastings Savings and Loan Co. of Ontario.
AUTHORIZED CAPITAL
$5,000,000.

3 1-2 per cent. allowed on Deposits payable on Call.

4 per cent. on Deposits for one year or over.
Money to Loan upon favorable terms.
OFFICE, No. 46 Bridge St., Belleville.

J. P. C. PHILLIPS,
Manager Belleville Branch.

GREAT SALE

—OF—

Boys' Shirt Waists

We purchased at a big sacrifice, 50 doz Boys' Shirt Waists for ages 5 to 12 years. These goods are the best value at 75 cts. each, but our buying has enabled us to place them before the public at

50c each

The assortment is complete at present. Come at once and secure what you want for the season.

OAK HALL

Sole Agents for Sanford's Celebrated Clothing.

Pointers In the Front Rank

STAND OUT --- our medium grade

MEN'S

Dongola and Box Calf Lace Boots

For style and wearing qualities they rank first and foremost at the prices—$1.50, $2.00 and $2.50.

☞SEE OUR WINDOW DISPLAY.

Heavier grades at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 & $2.00.

MEN'S PATENT LEATHERS

to suit all feet, styles and pocket books.

The J. J. Haines SHOE HOUSES at Belleville, Napanee and Trenton

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE

FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

Daily Intelligencer.

TIMELY TOPICS

The Mail and Empire's Ottawa correspondent says that, in the Redistribution Bill, "South Trenton" is to be attached to East Northumberland. It will be interesting to know what this means. What is no doubt meant is West Trenton, thus cutting the municipality of Trenton in two, which in either case would be a direct violation of the County boundary theory. But nothing they may do will surprise us.

• • •

The latest summary of the late fire in Ottawa shows the losses to have been more than first anticipated, and is as follows: Buildings burned, 240; persons homeless, 1,200; lumber destroyed, 14,000,000 feet; total loss, $625,000; total insurance about $484,000. Look out for lumber piles.

• • •

Old Ontario, says a Montreal paper, loses practically nine members by the redistribution—counting the one that goes to Toronto—and yet it is not saying a word. Ontario has learned to possess more political patience than any unit since Job.

• • •

On Saturday, 16th May, 2,350 more Denver workingmen were ordered out on strike, a large number of trades being affected. The strike fever is epidemic in the Colorado city, and will result in loss and suffering to the men.

• • •

Dr. Ames, a late Mayor of Minneapolis, has been sentenced to six years in the penitentiary for boodling while in office. He is not in the penitentiary yet, because an appeal has been taken to the Supreme Court. Should the court sustain the sentence he goes to jail. It will be well in the interest of justice if the State has not a Minister who will inferentially justify the crime by pardoning him.

• • •

The Insurance Companies have raised the rate on all policies in Ottawa one-half per cent. Lumber piles the cause.

• • •

The Quebec Government is equal in its financeering ability to Ontario; it now claims a surplus of $44,337, which is the result of large receipts from the sale of timber limits. Had the whole timber area of the Province been sold the surplus would have been much larger. The proceeds of these sales in 1891 were $403,197, and in 1892, $201,483, making a total in two years of $604,680. A surplus obtained by this process is like to that which a man might secure by selling a slice of his farm each year. It would not make him rich, but in a short time, if he spent annually the money received from the sale of portions of his farm, would make him poor. This is what Ontario and Quebec are doing.

• • •

The cartage strike in Montreal, says the Gazette, has been settled in the way in which the companies demanded that it should be settled. It was not a victory over the men that the companies sought, but merely the acknowledgment of their rights. When the men struck they grossly violated these, and the knowledge that they had done so probably did more to settle the strike than anything else. The men were not dishonest. No doubt the men were misled by designing agitators who live by stirring up strife between labor and capital, assisted by a pandering Minister of Labor, like Mulock.

• • •

The Toronto Telegram says: "The local bar, though pleased, is somewhat surprised that Mr. Nesbitt would accept a judgeship, considering the salary that goes with that position. 'It means a sacrifice of $10,000 a year at least,' said one. But a close friend of Mr. Justice Nesbitt declared that the attraction of the Supreme Court bench and the opportunity it offers to be of greater public service would, with Wallace Nesbitt, easily outweigh any monetary consideration."

This is the spirit which should actuate the judges who occupy seats on the Supreme Court Bench; but that is no reason why the country should not pay such men liberally.

THE MARKETS.

Liverpool Wheat Closed Higher Than on Saturday—Chicago Wheat Lower—Live Stock—The Quotations.

Monday Evening, May 18.

Liverpool wheat futures closed ¼d higher to-day than on Saturday, and corn futures unchanged to ⅛d lower.

At Chicago July wheat closed ⅜c lower than Saturday, July corn ⅛c lower and July oats unchanged.

THE VISIBLE SUPPLY.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has decreased 1,791,000 bushels; corn decreased 998,000 bushels; oats decreased 728,000 bushels. Following is a comparative statement for the week ending to-day, the preceding week and the corresponding week of last year:

	May 18,'03.	May 11,'03.	May 17,'02.
Wheat, bu. ..	30,655,000	32,446,000	33,577,000
Corn, bu	5,212,000	6,210,000	4,870,000
Oats, bu. ..	5,574,000	6,302,000	3,014,000

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 66,815,000 bushels, against 67,006,000 bushels a week ago, and 81,419,000 bushels a year ago.

LEADING WHEAT MARKETS.

Following are the closing quotations at important wheat centres to-day:

	Cash.	May.	July.	Sept.
New York	....	....	78⅞	75⅞
Chicago	....	79⅝	73⅜	70¾
Toledo	75¾	75¾	73⅞	....
Duluth, No. 1 N.	78½	78¼	77⅛	71

TORONTO ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Grain—

Wheat, red, bush.	$0 74 to	$....
Wheat, white, bush.	0 73	0 74½
Wheat, spring, bush.	0 72	....
Wheat, goose, bush.	0 67	....
Barley, bush.	0 43	0 46½
Beans, bush.	1 30	1 50
Beans, hand-picked	1 75	....
Peas, bush.	0 78½	....
Rye, bush.	0 42	....
Oats, bush.	0 37	....

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Slow—Trade Brisk at Easier Prices at Montreal.

London, May 18.—Live cattle slow at 12c to 12½c per lb. for American steers, dressed weight; Canadian steers, 11¼c to 12c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9c to 9½c per lb. Sheep, 12½c to 13½c, dressed weight.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, May 18.—There were about 550 head of butchers' cattle, 400 calves, 200 sheep and lambs and 50 store hogs and small pigs offered for sale at the East End Abattoir to-day. Trade was fairly brisk, but the prices of cattle are lower than at last week's market, and hogs have declined considerably. Prime beeves sold at from 5c to 5¼c per lb., medium cattle at from 3¾c to 4¾c and the common stock at 2¼c to 3½c per lb. Calves sold at from $1 to $8 each, or from less than 2c to over 4c per lb. Shippers paid 4c per lb. for good large sheep, and the butchers paid from 3¼c to 4½c per lb. for the others. Lambs sold at from $2 to 4c each. Fat hogs sold at from 6c to a little over 6¼c per lb., weighed off the cars. Store hogs sold at from $6 to $10 each. Young pigs sold at about $1.50 for those five weeks old and from that up to $3 for ten weeks old pigs.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, N.Y., May 18.—Cattle, receipts, 3000 head; slow; generally 10c to 15c lower; prime steers, $5.10 to $5.25; shipping do., $4.85 to $5; butchers' do., $4.40 to $4.80; heifers, $4.25 to $4.85; cows, $3 to $4.50; canners, ——; bulls, $3.25 to $4.40; feeders, $3.75 to $4.50; stockers, $3.25 to $4.35; stock heifers, $3 to $3.75; fresh cows and springers, steady for choice, $2 per head lower; good to choice, $45 to $55; medium to good, $35 to $43; common, $25 to $32. Veals, receipts, 1000 head; 50c lower; tops, $6.25 to $6.50; common to good, $4.50 to $6.15. Hogs, receipts, 28,900 head; 20c to 25c lower; heavy, $6.40 to $6.50, a few $6.55; mixed, $6.30 to $6.40; yorkers and pigs, $6.15 to $6.25; roughs, $5.25 to $5.75; stags, $4.25 to $4.75. Sheep and lambs, receipts, 2800; lambs 10c, sheep 25c lower; top lambs, $6.90 to $7; fancy, $7.20; culls to good, $4 to $6; yearlings, $5 to $5.75; ewes, $4.25 to $4.50; sheep, top mixed, $4.50 to $4.75; culls to good, $2 to $4.40.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.

New York, May 18.—Beeves—Receipts, 4448; steady; steers, $4.20 to $5.40; bulls, $3.10 to $4.35; export bulls, $4.50; cows, $1.80 to $4.10. Exports to-morrow, 1110 cattle, 1200 sheep and 4800 quarters of beef. Calves, receipts, 8091; lower. Veals, $3.50 to $6.75; tops, $7; buttermilks, $3 to $3.05. Sheep and lambs, receipts, 12,407; lower; sheep, $3 to $4.25; extra and export sheep, $5.30 to $5.50; culls, $2.50 to $2.75; lambs, $5.50 to $7.25; spring lambs, $2.50 to $8.75; by the head, $2.75 to $4.50.

Will Augment Permanent Force.

Ottawa, May 19.—Legislation will be brought down providing for the creation of two new military depots, one at Montreal, and one at Edmonton, N.W.T., of mounted infantry. Provision will be made for the increasing of the permanent force from its present establishment, one thousand men, all ranks, to fifteen hundred.

Pains in Chest The Danger Signal

THAT TELLS OF APPROACHING PNEUMONIA OR SERIOUS LUNG TROUBLE — PREVENT FURTHER DEVELOPMENTS BY USING

DR. CHASE'S SYRUP OF LINSEED AND TURPENTINE.

When it hurts to cough, when coughing or a long breath causes pain or a feeling of soreness in the chest, when the linings of the throat and bronchial tubes feel raw and sore, when you feel that the cold which you expected to wear away is getting the better of you, turn to Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and you will get prompt relief and cure.

Mr. John Clark, coachman, Port Hope, Ont., writes:—"Being exposed to all sorts of weather, I frequently catch cold. Last winter I was so bad with a cold I could not speak above a whisper, and had great pains in the chest. At last I feared it would develop into consumption if I did not succeed in getting proper treatment.

"A friend advised me to try Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine, and I began to improve before I had taken half a bottle. One bottle cured my cold, which, I believe, would have proven very serious if I had not used this medicine."

As a prompt cure for croup, bronchitis, whooping cough, asthma and all throat and lung affections, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is wonderfully effective. It is not a mere cough mixture, but a thorough and far-reaching medicine, which acts on the whole system and drives out disease; 25 cents a bottle, family size (three times as much) 60 cents, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto. 9

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat Co.,
(LIMITED)
"The Bay of Quinte Route."

Str. "ALETHA"

Leaves Belleville on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 a.m. for Bay of Quinte ports and Kingston. Returning will arrive at Belleville on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10 30 p.m.

Belleville-Rochester Route

Str. "North King"

Commencing 31st May will leave Belleville on Sundays at 11.38 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. Returning arrives at Belleville on Sundays at 3 25 a.m. and leaves for Bay Ports, Kingsron and 1000 Islands.

During July and August service will be daily except Monday.

Right reserved to change time with or without notice.

For passage and freight rates and other information, apply to

THE RATHBUN CO.,
U. E. THOMPSON, } Agents.
E. E. HORSEY, G. P. & F. Agent,
Kingston.

Montreal, Rochester & Quebec Transit Co'y.

Str. "Alexandria"

Service in effect 25th April.

Leaves Rathbun Co.'s wharf, Belleville, every Saturday at 11.00 a.m. for Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Every Monday at 7.00 a.m. for Montreal and all River Ports.

Thousand Islands by daylight.
Runs all St. Lawrence River Rapids.
Quebec excursions commence July 5th.

LOW FREIGHT RATES.

A. W. HEPBURN, General Manager, Picton, Ont.
THE RATHBUN CO. Agents. Belleville.

The Deseronto Navigation Co

TIME TABLE.

Taking effect April 13, 1903.

Belleville, Trenton, Picton & Napanee

Str. "ELLA ROSS"

Leaves Belleville for Trenton at 10 a. m., daily, Sundays Excepted, returning leaves Trenton at 1 p. m., leaving Belleville at 3 p.m. for Deseronto, Napanee and Picton.

Quick and Superior Service to NEW YORK CITY

Steamers RESOLUTE and RELIANCE will leave Deseronto for Oswego after arrival of Str. Ella Ross connection at Oswego with the New York, Ontario Western Ry.

Fare to New York, Single, $8.40
Return, $13.25

For further particulars apply to THE RATHBUN CO., Local Agents

J. F. CHAPMAN, Asst. Gen. Frt. & Pass. Agt., Deseronto.
A. C. CARTER General Manager Deseronto.

When faith is lost and honor dies the man is lost.—Whittier.

Life has no blessing like a prudent friend.

The New Long Hip Model

D&A

425 Long Hip

A graceful figure may be spoiled by a rigid Corset.

A poor figure may be made graceful by the proper Corset. D. & A. Corsets beautify, aid and correct according to individual needs, developing in each figure that indefinable personal grace that is the keynote of style.

The New Long Hip model comfortably encompasses the entire hip, showing no ridge or line even through an unlined skirt.

D. & A. Corsets are the BEST

The Finnegan Carriage & Wagon Co.

—FOR—

Stylish and Durable Turnouts.

—Surreys
—Corning Buggies
—Piano Box Buggies
—Rubber Tire Buggies
—Micadoes
—Phaetons
—Bike Buggies
—Democrats
—Grocer Wagons
—Butcher Wagons

Cheese Factory Milk Wagons.
Steel Tubular Axle Lumber Wagons.

Rubber Tires put on your old wheels at reasonable prices.

Mill St., - - Belleville.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE'S

English Breakfast Tea

FRAGRANT AND DELICIOUS.

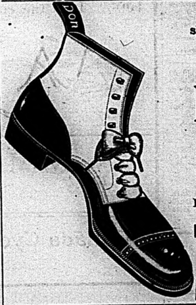
IN HALF-POUND LEAD PACKETS --FULL WEIGHT

20, 25 & 30 cts. per packet— 40, 50 & 60 cts per lb.

The choicest growths of India and Ceylon. A sample free for the asking.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

BRIDGE ST. BRANCH STORE, FRONT ST.



Just received another shipment of

THE SWELL

Don Shoe

Always glossy, Rubber Heels, on every pair.

Price - $4.00

A.W. VERMILYEA & SON.

Flowers & Vegetables

Of all kinds in season.

...AT...

J. D. COLLIP'S.

'Phone 205.

Western Beef.

Prime Western Beef together with all kinds of choice meats, supplied by the district, at

C. GREEN'S

267 Front St., 'Phone 109.

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE

FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

Sick Headache—
Lack of Appetite.

Its glorious to feel right in the morning—ready for work. But how seldom one does. Sick headache, lack of appetite, disagreeable taste in the mouth—these are the usual morning feelings of most people—even of careful livers. This morning illness shows that the organs of digestion are not working properly. They need a tonic. Take a teaspoonful of in half a glass of water as soon as you rise—you'll be ready to do justice to a good breakfast.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt

Abbey's Effervescent Salt cleanses the bowels and intestines, invigorates the fagged out stomach and energises the torpid liver.

At all Druggists.

The New Wall Paper Store

sells borders by the roll, same price as the papers.

THE BEST TALENT in the world is employed to design the paper we sell.

We select only the beautiful an harmonious designs because thos are the kind that please our patrons.

New Spring designs, delicate flower-like tints, all conceivable patterns, many exclusive designs, scrolls, ingrains, etc., ceiling and border to match. Prices to suit all pocketbooks.

JOHN CORNELIUS,

Decorator, Painter, Grainer, and Paper Hanger, all work guaranteed first class.

Flies
Carry Contagion

Wilson's Fly Pads

kill the flies and disease germs too.

Just What You Want

Paint Brushes 7, 10, 15, 20, 25c.
Whitewash Brushes 10, 13, 15, 20, 25, 35, 45c.
1,000 Parlor Matches for 5c.
600 pairs Ladies' Bl'k Hose 5c pair.
500 printed Platters and Bakers, regular 25, clearing at 10c.
300 pairs Men's Sox, special, 4 pr. for 25c.
H. K. Blue Cups and Saucers, 35c 1-2 dozen.
1200 Dinner Setts for $8.00.
Curtain Poles, complete, for 20c.
Carpet Tacks, 2 for 5c.
Carpet Whips 10c each.
Kitchen Mirrors 12, 15, 20, 25, 30c.
Best Oil Blinds 30c.
6 Cakes Moss Rose Toilet Soap 15c.
3 Cakes Cold Cream Toilet Soap 5c.
6 Bars Eclipse Soap 25c.
Large variety of odd Wallpaper der, clearing at 1c yard.
50 varieties of Wallpaper, clearing at 5c Roll.
Large varieties 5, 7, 8, 10c Ceiling Papers, clearing at 3c Roll.

Be sure and visit our Wallpaper Department; it is the most complete, and has the best selected stock to choose from in the City.

Our Prices are 1-2 what other stores ask for same quality.

AT THE BEE HIVE
Chas. N. Sulman

Bank of Montreal
ESTABLISHED 1817
Capital and Rest, All Paid Up.
$20,000,000
(Twenty Millions.)
Savings Bank Department
Interest on sums of $4.00 and upwards allowed at current rates.
A. G. PARKER,
Manager Belleville Branch

Much talk, many lies.
All trails are long to the lazy.

DAISY GORDON'S FOLLY

—OR—

THE WORLD LOST FOR LOVE'S SAKE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY,

Author of "The Crime of Hallow-E'en," "The Flirtations of a Beauty," "Willful Gaynell," "Little Leafy," "Only a Mechanic's Daughter," etc.

Janet received her dismissal with a sneering smile.

"I have that to say which may change your decision, madame," she said, and to Daisy's great surprise the girl glided swiftly across the room and turned the key in the lock.

"Why do you do that?" she asked, in amazement.

"Because I want to talk to you without interruption, my lady," answered the girl.

Daisy rose to her feet in haughty displeasure.

"You behave very strangely," she said. "I do not like it."

She looked fixedly at the girl, whose face was not pleasant to see— there was a lurid light in her eyes, and an air of cringing, yet defiance, in her whole manner.

"You may as well be seated, for you must listen to me, Mrs. Hamilton. I hold a secret of yours, and it would not be well to make an enemy of me. I intended to leave your service long ago, but I must not go away empty-handed. You must pay me well if I keep your secret!"

"You can know no secret of mine," returned Daisy bravely. "How dare you insinuate such a thing?"

"But I do," persisted the girl, "and could very soon convince Mr. Hamilton that it was a very dark secret, too. If you want it kept from him you must pay me a thousand dollars for it."

"You— you have taken leave of your senses," cried Daisy, clutching nervously at the marble mantel, her lovely face paling, and her blue eyes expanding in guilty terror.

"You will find, on the contrary, that I was never more sane in my life, Mrs. Hamilton. Let me tell you what I have to say."

Daisy leaned heavily against the cold marble and looked at her.

Had this girl in any way found out the terrible secret which was wearing her young life out like a blighting canker at the heart of a rose? Ah, no, she had been too careful, too guarded for that. Even the register in the dim old church could not reveal what had happened there —fate had screened her name in so curious a way at the expense of poor Lillian Ruthven, the heiress.

Daisy collected her scattered thoughts by a great effort.

"Say what you have to say quickly," she said. "I suppose I must listen. Let this unpleasant scene terminate as quickly as possible."

The maid rose from her chair and glided toward her.

"Do you remember what happened yesterday, my lady?" she asked.

Daisy started, her face paling to a dead white.

"Say what you have to say very quickly," she replied, steadily. "I cannot comprehend what you are getting at."

The girl returned her gaze with glittering eyes.

"Do you remember, my lady, how excited you were when you came back from your walk yesterday? How you cried out to be alone, and how, half an hour later, you rang the bell sharply and ordered a fire to be built in your room, although the day was very warm!"

No answer fell from Daisy's ashen lips, and the girl went on steadily:

"I said to myself that it was not natural to call for a fire on such a hot day, when the sun was shining so brightly. There must be a reason for it, and that reason was that you had something to burn."

A bitter cry fell from Daisy's lips; but the French girl continued rapidly:

"I may just as well admit the truth to you, Mrs. Hamilton. I did not go away when you sent me from the room. I—I stayed and watched through the keyhole; then I knew my surmise had been correct — you had something to burn!

"I saw you take a letter, and after glancing hastily around as though to make sure you were unobserved, place it on the glowing coals.

"I was wild to know the contents of that letter, and trusted to my ingenuity to find out. It was then that I invented the excuse that Mr. Hamilton was ill down in the parlor, just to get you away from the room.

"You know how well I succeeded.

"The door had scarcely closed upon you ere I sprung into the room and rescued the burning letter from the flames, and hid it in my bosom.

"That night, when you slept in fancied security I was reading that letter in my room; the flames had barely scorched it. Every line was visible.

"You never thought when you went over the past in that letter in such minute detail, what it was to lead to. I was amazed at the revelation, used as we French are to the intrigues of beautiful women.

"I said to myself:

"'So this is the history of my lovely lady, eh! How horrified master would be if he knew it; but know it he shall, unless my lady buys my silence with gold.'

"So there the matter rests, my lady."

The agonizing horror on the white face was horrible to see.

The great wonder is that she did not fall down at the girl's feet dead.

She had fancied herself so securely free; and now, the sword had fallen. Yet, slowly she crested her golden head.

She would never acknowledge that there was anything wrong—she would die first; but if she could temporize with this girl in any way, she would do it.

"I do not wish any harm to come to you, Mrs. Hamilton," interposed the girl, quickly. "I know full well how you love your husband; I know it would be more bitter than death for you to part from him. You love him, and you abhor that other one. Give me the money I ask for, and I will return you the letter you thought you had burned: I will keep your secret. Not one word shall ever pass my lips. Mr. Hamilton will never know. You can trust me, I——"

"Stop!"

The voice that broke the sunlit, summer silence was like nothing human— more like the moan that one sometimes hears among the trees.

"Stop!" Daisy cried again, though this time there was the recklessness of terrible despair in her tone. "I —I will give you the money you ask for, not because I admit there is anything wrong, but because I do not wish this story repeated— it is so absurd," and again she crested her beautiful head, turning a face as pallid as death itself on the maid. "Tomorrow I will give you the money."

"You are wise, madame; I knew you would take a sensible view of the matter," returned the girl, and the covert meaning in her words made Daisy's eyes flash fire, and her face glow with hot anger.

She pointed to the door, and the scheming French girl who had done her terrible work but too well glided from the room.

The summer sun in all its round since first the flight of time began, surely never fell upon a sadder sight than the beautiful, golden- haired girl standing alone in that luxurious room.

"Let me try to realize what has happened to me," she gasped; "let me grasp the position if I can, although my brain seems reeling, and my heart on fire.

"Am I a sinful, scheming woman, who has lost the world, all for love's sake— the same creature who, but a few short months ago, was only a happy child, dreaming my idle dreams in the old orchard of the farm— the idolized child on whom the rude winds of the world had never blown roughly?

"Oh, if I had had strength enough to tell Aleck all, and turn away! But I could not; it seemed like tearing my heart asunder, the very thought of giving him up.

"While I rested secure in Aleck's love, while I believed the cause of my terror set aside, while I believed myself safe, fate was tracking me down, my doom was settling darkly around me like a funeral pall. Let me try to think clearly what has happened to me. My sin has found me out."

She thought of the lines she had read only that very day and trembled over:

"I know that each sinful action,
As surely as night brings shade,
Is some time, somewhere punished,
Tho' the hour be long delayed."

Poor, beautiful, hapless Daisy! surely those lines must have been written as a warning to her, for the hour of her punishment had come upon her at last.

She must raise the money this girl had demanded of her as the price of her silence, or she would go to Aleck with the letter.

A thousand dollars— where should she get it? Aleck would wonder what she wanted with so much money. Supposing the girl's demands upon her should increase?

"Great heaven, where will it end?" she moaned, wildly.

It was well she could not foresee her horrible future.

CHAPTER XVI.

Daisy's Desperation.

Daisy never remembered how that day passed; it always seemed like a confused, horrible dream to her.

Before nightfall she must nerve herself to ask Aleck for the money. Never had she exerted herself so much to look pleasing in his eyes, never had she been so tender and loving in her manner. She clung to him, burying her golden head on his breast, asking him to tell her over and over again that he loved her with all his heart. There was something pitifully pathetic about the wistful manner in which she asked the question.

Aleck threw back his dark, handsome head with a hearty, good- humored laugh.

"I wonder if every man's wife is as fond of love- making as mine!" he said quizzically. "It seems to me you ask me if I shall always care for you almost every day. Why should you imagine there could ever be any change in my great love for you! The sun could easier change its course, the darkness of night obscure the glad light of day."

"Oh, Aleck!" she sobbed, clinging to him closer, "if anything should ever happen to part us, I should die. You will always remember those words— it would kill me!"

He kissed the lovely face so like the petals of a white rose.

"Nothing but the death of either you or me could part us," he said.

"Look into my face and swear that to me, Aleck," she said, "then I will know that whatever happens you will, you must keep your solemn vow."

An older and wiser man than handsome, gay Aleck would have looked into her words more closely, and found a strange meaning there, a terrible, haunting fear.

Youth never weighs actions and words where love is concerned. Aleck only laughed, thinking that this dainty, sweet little golden- haired bride of his only wanted to be made love to.

"There is no need to repeat it, my darling," he answered smilingly, "for I promised all that on the day we were wed; and there is nothing on earth as solemn and as binding as a marriage vow, you know."

"Nothing on earth so solemn or so binding as a marriage vow!" Heaven help her! It was a wonder she did not fall dead at his feet when she heard those terrible words.

"What if any one were to break a marriage vow, Aleck?" she breathed faintly. "What should you think ought to be done with him?"

To be Continued.

Special Notice

Send to us at once your name and address.

On receipt of same we will forward to you, entirely free of cost, our new handsomely illustrated Folder.

This Folder illustrates the most concise list of extra value Wedding Gift offerings ever shown in Canada.

Write Now

RYRIE BROS.
JEWELERS
118, 120, 122 and 124
Yonge St., Toronto

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

VICTORIA DAY

MAY 24th, 1903.

Return Tickets will be issued at—

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE,

Between all stations in Canada; also to Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, N.Y., Detroit, Pt. Huron, Mich., etc.

GOOD GOING MAY 23rd, 24th, or 25th, Valid returning from destination on or before May 26th, 1903.

COLONIST EXCURSIONS.

One way tickets at low rates on sale until June 15th, to points in Montana, Colorado, Utah, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and California.

Tickets sold in accordance with above will not be good on train No. 1 or train No. 4.

For tickets, and all information apply to

U. E. THOMPSON, City Agent, Bridge Street,
T. H. COPPIN, Depot Agent,
J. D. McDONALD, Dist. Pass Agt., Toronto.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN

Homeseekers' 60 DAY Excursions

To The Canadian North-West at Return Fares.

Winnipeg, Waskada Estevan, Elgin Arcola Moosomin, Wawanesa Miniota, Binscarth, Grand View Swan River	$28	Regina, Moosejaw, Yorkton,	$30
		Prince Albert, Macleod, Calgary,	$35
		Red Deer, Strathcona	$40

Going JUNE 4th, returning until AUGUST 4th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going JUNE 18th, returning until AUGUST 18th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going July 4th, returning until SEPTEMBER 8th (all rail or S.S. Manitoba). Tickets are not good on "Imperial Limited." For tickets and pamphlet giving full particulars, apply to your nearest Canadian Pacific agent, or to

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Genl. Pass. Agent, 1 King St. East, Toronto.
S. BURROWS, C.P.R. and General Ticket Agent, Front St., Belleville.

NEW YORK CENTRAL
& HUDSON RIVER R. R.

THE FOUR-TRACK TRUNK LINE.

SHORTEST Route to the United States via Cape Vincent, N.Y.

GOING EAST AND WEST.			After 1st May
Lv. Belleville (G.T.R.)		12.22 p.m.	1.30 a.m
Arr. Kingston	"	1.47 p.m.	3.12 a.m
Lv. Kingston (stage)..		2.30 p.m.	5.00 a.m
Arr. Cape Vincent (stage)		4.30 p.m.	7.00 a.m
Lv. Cape Vincent N.Y.C.		5.05 p.m.	7.25 a.m
Arr. Watertown	"	5.55 p.m.	8.25 a.m
Arr. Oswego	"	9.05 p.m.	11.55 a.m
Arr. Syracuse	"	9.25 p.m.	12.07 p.m
Arr. Rochester	"	1.05 a.m.	2.20 a.m
Arr. Utica	"	9.45 p.m.	12.35 p.m
Arr. New York	"	7.25 a.m.	6.00 p.m

Convenient train service in opposite direction.

Pullman Sleeping and Parlor Cars.

2c a Mile.

Books for 500 miles of travel on New York Central and leased lines within State of New York, cost only $10 while books for 1000 miles over New York Central, Boston & Albany, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, Philadelphia & Reading and C. R. R. of New Jersey cost $20. Secure further information and purchase tickets from F. A. Folger, N.Y.C. Agent, Kingston, Ont.

GEORGE H. DANIELS, Gen'l Pass'r Agent. New York.
A. H. SMITH, Gen'l Supt., New York.
G. C. GRIDLEY, Gen'l Agent, Watertown, N.Y.

You will drink dirty water if you roil your neighbor's spring.

The man who thinks his wife is blind to his faults is entitled to another think.

Fresh Roll Butter

20 cents per lb.

J. C. Hanley & Co
GROCERS
Telephone 214

New Hats

READY-TO-WEAR HATS
DRESS HATS.

New Veilings

Latest styles—Best work.
We will surely please you.
Come and see them.

MISS M. CAMPBELL.
P.D. Corsets. 'Phone 117

FOR MANSION OR MODEST COTTAGE

S.W.P. is safest, best, and most economical and not without reason.

It's best because made from best materials—pure lead, pure zinc, and pure linseed oil.

It's safest because the materials it is made from are all carefully tested both chemically and practically before being used to insure their being right and best for the purpose.

It's most economical because it covers most surface to the gallon and wears longest.

WATERS DRUG STORE

SANTAL-MIDY
Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.
MIDY

It takes a long time to tell of what you have not done.

A System that Will not keep You waiting

Whether you want Painting, Paper Hanging, Decorating, Graining, or anything in our line, we will not keep you waiting. WE WILL NAME THE DAY, and that very day you will find us at your work, with an excellent staff of workmen—the very best mechanics that can be secured—workmen that we can rely on and that please our customers every time.

OUR WALL PAPER TRADE this year is so far the largest in the history of this house, and there are reasons behind the increased trade, and here they are—

FIRSTLY—Times are good, people have money and know where to spend it to advantage.

SECONDLY—By comparison with other lines our customers find our prices much lower and our styles of Wall Paper much higher than the ordinary.

THIRDLY—We give free two yards of bordering with each double roll of the Wall Paper it matches.

We hang our paper at very reasonable prices and always please our customers whether in papering, painting or anything else.

C. B. Scantlebury

Belleville's Decorator

Outside Painting. Inside Painting,
Paperhanging.

Wall Paper, Wholesale and Retail.

CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY

CAPITAL

10,000 Shares 7 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 each,	$1,000,000
50,000 Shares Common Stock, par value $100, issued and fully paid	5,000,000
TOTAL CAPITALIZATION	$6,000,000

Issues of $1,000,000 00 7 p.c. Preferred Stock in 10,000 Shares of $100 each at par.

This stock is preferred both as to Assets and Dividends.

The shares are entitled to cumulative preferred dividends from the net earnings of the Company, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the first days of April and October. They may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged for common shares. They are subject to be called in, in whole or in part, by the Company, at $115.00 per share, at any time after 1st January, 1909.

The total issue of Preferred Stock is only $1,000,000.00, the whole of which is now offered.

Subscriptions for 10,000 Shares of $100 each of the 7 per cent. Preferred Stock of the CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY will now be received at par, that is $100 Share, as follows

per cent on application,
25 " " on allotment,
35 " " 30 days thereafter.
35 " " 60 days thereafter.

One share of Common, par value $100, given with each share of preferred.

The whole of instalments remaining unpaid at any time may be prepaid in full. A discount of one per cent will be allowed upon the par of each share if prepaid at time of allotment

Notice of allotment will be sent promptly by ordinary letter.

COAL

PROPERTY IN FULL OPERATION

Company owns 9,600 acres of coal property known throughout the coal trade as the New Campbellton Colliery, located on Bras D'Or Bay, County of Victoria, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia. Mine is fully equipped, producing and marketing tons of coal a day at a net profit of $1.00 a ton. Improvements are now being made that will increase the output to over 1,000 tons a day. On present output, figuring 300 working days in year, the net result will more than pay interest on entire issue of preferred, with output of 1,000 tons a day, net result will be $300,000 per annum.

IRON

RICHEST ORE IN THE WORLD

Company owns in fee simple, free and clear of all incumbrances, 4000 acres of iron ore deposits, located Natashquan (tidewater) situated on North shore of Gulf of St. Lawrence, in the County of Saguenay, province of Quebec.

Deposits contain 20,000,000 tons of ore ABOVE SEA LEVEL ALONE.

Quality of ore is highest ever discovered, running from 65 per cent to 72 per cent in metallic iron.

More orders for the sale of this ore has been received by the Company than can possibly be accepted, and at a price netting the Company a profit of $2 a ton F. O. B. vessels at Company's docks.

Send for prospectus giving full information as to earnings, reports, etc., etc.

Address all communications and send subscriptions to

COLONIAL SECURITIES CO., 62 Wall Street, New York City OR W. L. MARSTON & COMPANY 110 State Street, Boston

The SAWYER COMPANY.
351 Temple Building, Montreal, Canada.

COMING TO BELLEVILLE Saturday, June 6, Second Tour of Canada

RINGLING BROS
WORLD'S GREATEST SHOWS
ONLY RHINOCEROS IN CAPTIVITY.
LITTLE BABY BEE
ONLY PAIR OF FULL GROWN GIRAFFES IN CAPTIVITY.
THE BIGGEST SHOW ON EARTH
JERUSALEM
AND THE CRUSADES
INAUGURAL SCENE, SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.
ABSOLUTELY AN ADDITIONAL TRAIN OF CARS ARE REQUIRED TO CARRY THE SCENERY, WARDROBES, ARMORS, WAR IMPLEMENTS, ACCESSORIES AND PEOPLE OF THE NEWLY ADDED AND ENORMOUSLY GRAND SPECTACLE OF JERUSALEM AND THE CRUSADES
85 DOUBLE LENGTH RAILROAD CARS
40 BIG AND LITTLE ELEPHANTS
1280 PEOPLE
108 WILD ANIMAL CAGES
650 HORSES
40 FUN-MAKING CLOWNS
$3,700,000 CAPITAL
$7,400 ACTUAL DAILY EXPENSE
BALLET SCENE
SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.
BIGGEST CIRCUS ON EARTH
375 PERFORMERS 6 BIG ARENAS
3 LONG MILES OF NEW AND COSTLY
2 TROUPES ACTING SEALS
A PARADE SUCH AS THE WORLD HAS NEVER SEEN BEFORE
PARADE GLORIES FREE UPON THE STREETS EVERY MORNING AT 10 O'CLOCK
TWO PERFORMANCES DAILY AT 2 AND 8 P. M. DOORS OPEN AT 1 AND 7 P. M.
ONE 50-CENT TICKET ADMITS TO EVERYTHING. CHILDREN UNDER 12, HALF PRICE

Admission and numbered Reserved Seat Tickets sold on show day at | Riggs' music store at same prices as charged at ticket waggons on show grounds. | Belleville, Saturday, June 6

RAILWAY TIME TABLES.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

Time of departure from Belleville Station:

Going East.

No. 10—Local, for Brockville, 7 a.m., arrives back from Brockville 9.30 p.m.
No. 2—1.30 a.m., Mail and Express, (Flyer), Daily.
No. 6—11.40 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.
No. 4—12.22 p.m., International Limited, Daily.
No. 12—5.55 p.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

Going West.

No. 5—3 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily except Monday.
No. 3—4.10 a.m., Limited Express, Daily.
No. 9—5.50 a.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.
No. 11—11.22 a.m., Passenger, Daily except Sunday.
No. 1—1.50 p.m., International Limited Daily.
No. 7—5.10 p.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

Taking effect 12.01 o'clock, Sunday, June 15, 1902.

MIDLAND RAILWAY.

Belleville and Peterboro.

Going West.

	Leave.	Arr. Peterboro
Mail	5.40 a.m.	8.10 a.m.
Mixed	5.55 p.m.	9.05 p.m.

Going East.

	Arr.	L've Peterboro
Mixed	11.20 a.m.	8.20 a.m.
Mail	4.25 p.m.	2.05 p.m.

Belleville and Madoc.

Going North.

	L've	Arr. Madoc
Mixed	12.20 p.m.	1.20 p.m.
Mixed	6.30 p.m.	7.40 p.m.

Going South.

	Arr.	L've Madoc
Mixed	9.10 a.m.	7.30 a.m.
Mixed	5.00 p.m.	3.45 p.m.

None of the above trains run on Sunday.

The Whole Story in a Letter:

Pain-Killer
(PERRY DAVIS'.)

From Capt. F. Loye, Police Station No. 5, Montreal:—"We frequently use PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER for pains in the stomach, rheumatism, stiffness, frost bites, chilblains, cramps, and all afflictions which befall men in our position. I have no hesitation in saying that PAIN-KILLER is the best remedy to have near at hand."

[illegible] Internally and Externally.
[illegible], 25c. and 50c. bottles.

Corticelli SPOOL SILK

Admitted by dressmakers to be the best sewing silk made. As Corticelli costs you no more than poor silk, why don't you buy it? Ask for "Corticelli" and politely, but firmly, refuse all substitutes, which some clerk may say are just as good.

Corticelli B & A ASIATIC DYES WASH SILKS IN PATENT HOLDERS

The colors are fast—the silk the best. Put up in Patent Holders, which prevents waste by tangling or soiling—keeps each shade separate, and automatically measures a correct needleful. Recommended as the only proper way to put up Filo and Floss silks, and used by art societies everywhere. Over four hundred different shades to select from.

Corticelli SKIRT PROTECTOR

Peculiar wearing qualities and perfectly straight selvage.

Corticelli Skirt Protector is of firm and even texture. When soiled a sponge or brush makes it clean again, and no damage done.

Corticelli Skirt Protector is a great favorite with fashionable and careful dressers.

If you are not already a subscriber to Corticelli Home Needlework Magazine, become one now. Full information on application to Corticelli Silk Company, St. Johns, P. Q., or any other Corticelli office.

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE
FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

LATEST NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS

As Furnished to The Intelligencer by H. R. Beattie, Stock Broker.

New York, May. 19

Stock	Op'g	H'st	L'st	Close.
Twin City.....	109	....	....	....
Atchison	78¼	78¼	76¾	77⅞
St. Paul.. ..	155½	157½	155⅜	156⅜
No. P.	108½	110	108½	109½
Union Pac. .	86¼	88¼	86¾	87⅞
C.P.R.	129¼	130⅜	129¼	130⅜
South Pac. ..	51⅜	52⅜	51¼	51⅞
Sou. Ry.....	28⅛	28⅜	27⅞	28⅜
Texas..... ...	32	33¼	32	32⅜
B & O.	89⅜	90⅜	89⅜	90
N. Y.C.	125¼	126⅛	124⅞	126
Penna	127¼	128	127⅛	127⅜
Reading	50¼	51¼	50¼	50⅞
Ills.	136¼	137⅛	136	137
Erie	33¼	33⅞	33¼	33⅝
do. pref. ...	66¼	67	66¼	67
O. & W.	27½	27¾	27⅛	27¾
C. O.	41⅛	41⅞	40⅞	41⅛
Manhattan ..	139	140	138½	138¾
W. C.	22½	22¼	22½	22⅜
L & N	114½	115⅜	114½	115¼
Nor.	68⅞	69½	68¾	69½
C. G. W. ..	20¼	21⅛	20½	21⅛
T.C.I.	58⅜	59¾	58¾	58⅞
U S. Steel ..	33½	33⅞	33	33½
do pref. ..	82⅞	83⅜	82½	83⅜
Sugar.... .	123	124	123	124
A. C. P.	64⅜	65	63⅞	64¼
Pe	100½	101	100	100⅞
B. R. T......	63⅛	65	63½	64⅛
Met...........	129⅜	130½	129¼	130
Wab.........	26	26⅛	25¾	26¼
do pref. ..	46¼	47⅜	46	46¼
Soo	63	63½	62	63⅛
R. I.	40½	41⅛	39¼	40⅛
F.	38⅛	38½	38	38½
Ak.	24⅛	24½	24⅛	24⅛

July wheat opened at 73, closed at 74 1-4.

July corn opened at 44 1-2, closed at 44 7-8.

A GUARANTEED CURE For All Forms of Kidney Disease

We, the undersigned Druggists are fully prepared to give the following guarantee with every 50 cent bottle of Dr. Pettingill's Kidney-Wort Tablets, the only remedy in the world that positively cures all troubles arising from weak or diseased kidneys: "Money cheerfully returned if the sufferer is not relieved and improved after use of one bottle. Three to six bottles effect astonishing and permanent cures. If not relieved and cured, you waste no money."

J. S. McKeown, Druggist, Belleville, Ont.

R. Templeton, Druggist, Belleville, Ont.

Why Women Can't Throw Straight.

It has often been a source of wonder to married men that their wives should invariably hit the cat, or some other inoffending object, when aiming bootjacks and other missiles in their direction. An explanation is now to hand, which, it is hoped, will add enlightenment, as well as consolation, to any benighted Benedict who has experienced this idiosyncrasy. It appears that the reason a woman cannot aim straight is on account of her collarbone being too large to enable her to acquire a free swipe of the arm. This simply shows that when kind Providence sent woman into the void for man to lavish his affections and earnings upon, everything was beautifully and systematically thought out. Had woman been physically constructed so that her shying powers were equal to those of man, husbands would have had a mighty busy time of it dodging things generally. Thanks to that same Providence, however, woman can still throw her lily-white arms round our manly necks and hit the bull's-eye every time.

No matter what the world may say
About a woman throwing straight
Dame Nature built her just that way
That man might dodge her when irate.
Her collar-bone consoles her still
In formulating little plans
To "collar" and to "bone" at will
'Most everything of simple man's.

A BIG QUARTER'S WORTH is always found in a bottle of Polson's Nerviline, the best household liniment known. It cures rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, headache, sick stomach, in fact is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for. Mothers find it the safest thing to rub on their children for sore throat, cold on the chest, sprains and bruises. Never be without Polson's Nerviline. It will cure the pains and aches of the entire family and relieve a vast amount of suffering every year.

Doing good is the only certainly happy action of a man's life.

RUBY LIPS

And a clear complexion, the pride of woman—Have you lost these charms through Torpid Liver, Constipation, Billousness or Nervousness?

Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills will restore them to you—40 Little "Rubies" in Vial—10 Cents.

A pleasure to take them. Act like a charm. Never gripe. Pleasant laxative doses, and a certain cure. 25c. size contains 100 pills. 77

SOLD BY D. M. WATERS.

The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.—Napoleon.

DR. A. W. CHASE'S CATARRH CURE ... 25c. is sent direct to the diseased parts by the Improved Blower. Heals the ulcers, clears the air passages, stops droppings in the throat and permanently cures Catarrh and Hay Fever. Blower free. All dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Toronto and Buffalo.

The best way to get even is to forget.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

SUPERIOR FLOOR COVERING

The best is always the cheapest—even though the cost be a little more—much cheaper when the cost is no more than for the inferior grades.

"Nairns" name marked on Linoleum, places it as "BEST"—it costs no more than the other kind.

Years of merchandising have given us ample time to try all makes.

This test has proven conclusively the "Nairn" superiority in every way.

Giving greatest satisfaction to our customers and strengthening our reputation for "BEST AT LOWEST CASH PRICES."

The new patterns are here—direct from the factory in Scotland—in latest spring designs varied to suit every purpose and taste.

If you buy—buy the best—buy "Nairns."

—"Nairns" Scotch Linoleum 4 yds. wide, per sq. yard 50c to	$1.12
—"Nairns" Inlaid Linoleum, pattern cannot wear off, per sq. yard	$1.25
—New designs in Oilcloth, 2 yds. wide, per sq. yard 25c to	35c

NEGLIGE SHIRTS

The Negligee Shirt man will soon be the most comfortable. Are you prepared to join this class? If not our assortment holds all that is necessary to qualify you for admission.

We like to do a little better each season if possible and aim at larger assortments—newest designs and better values.

Your opinion will be appreciated on our Neglige assortment—we think it our best effort yet.

—Men's fine white Tussore Matting soft Neglige Shirt with fine pearl buttons, ...	$1.00
—Men's Fine Gingham Shirts, dark medium and light shades—fast colors	$1.00

BOY'S SWEATERS

For Summer nothing answers the boy for all round use like a sweater.

Made in the neat styles such as we are now showing in our Furnishing Department they combine good appearance with their wearing qualities which makes them more than ever desirable.

We are always looking out for the boys and have this season a larger and better assortment of these than ever before—better in choice and quality.

—A better Sweater than you would expect for	50c
—Finer Grades in plain and fancy designs to	$1.50

ECONOMY AND COMFORT

The comfort obtained and money saved by the use of summer clothing is making this style of Ready-to-Wear goods more popular each season with the men.

By purchasing one of our inexpensive Stylish Flannel or light weight Tweed suits for the hot and dusty weather you will not find the summer as trying and will easily save the cost by relief of your better garments.

You will be pleased with the small prices we are asking for "correct" summer suits. See our window.

—Men's Grey and Navy Flannel Suits with neat stripes—desirable in every way, Norfolk or Sack styles, ...	$5.00 to $7.00
—Men's Fine Norfolk Outing Suit of fine Halifax Tweed	$6.50
—Odd Coats in Lustre, Flannel and Serge—Navy, Black and Grey—plain and striped	75c to $4.95
—Odd Trousers in newest flannel styles	$1.75 to $2.50

GINGHAMS

"WASH GOODS" is probably your present problem.

A look at this line of pretty and inexpensive Ginghams we have just opened might be a timely help to you.

Neat stripes in all newest colors—fast—every pattern desirable.

—Neat stripes in Fast Color Gingham, Green, Blue, Red, Pink	15c yd.
—New White Mercerized Cotton Cheviot—latest for waists—28 in. wide	35c
—Fancy open work white Pique Vesting, 28 in.	30c

LISLE GLOVES

Popular for their durable qualities, Lisle Gloves hold an important part in our stock for summer wear.

New arrivals place the assortment in the complete stage. Of course it will not stay there long, so to be sure of your size you had best come as early as possible.

Also a full line of Silk and Taffeta Gloves.

—Ladies' Lace or plain Lisle Gloves in Grey, Mode, White and Black shades, ...	15c to 50c
—Silk, qualities plain and colored, ...	25c to 75c

APPLIQUES

Ladies will be pleased to hear that we have obtained a new and desirable supply of the scarce Medallion Applique.

These are in squares and circular sections and are among the prettiest we have shown this season.

They will go quickly—to get a choice you will need to come at once.

—New Medallion trimming up to	$2.00

Agents for Standard Patterns. | The Ritchie Co'y. Limited | CLOTHING BOUGHT HERE PRESSED FREE OF CHARGE

SUITS FOR MEN

The Entirely Different Sorts.

Not satisfied with equaling in style, fit and excellence of workmanship the made-to-measure garments the best tailors produce, our makers are now fashioning their suits from the same fabrics which have heretofore been exclusive with the Custom Tailors.

Our showing of these suits is very extensive.

They are suits that the average man wants—they give him the style and exclusiveness he seeks without the extra cost of the tailors.

Even the most expert criticism will fail to discover that these suits were not custom made.

The brood showing we make including as it does every size for men of different propostions practically assurs a perfect fit for every man.

But in some cases an exact fit cannot be secured immediately and then we do as the tailors would do at a try on—make the necessary alterations that would secure perfection of fit.

Fancy mixed cashmeres—neat effects in Cheviots—three and four button sack styles including the new straight front.

$6.50 to $15.00

And by the way you can better judge the unassailable quality of these suits if you'll do a little comparing.

Top Coats $5.00 to $12.00

CHRISTYS LONDON

NEW SPRING HATS

All the latest American and English styles, see our celebrated Christys' Hats at $1.00

Christys' Hats

QUICK & ROBERTSON

Exclusive Agents for Johnston's Famous Clothing for Men and Boys.

Screen Doors 75c

complete with spring hinges, screws, hook and eye and wire pull.

Adjustable Window Sreens 20c

The W. W. CHOWN Company Limited

A TURN FOR THE WORSE.

MR. JAMES HOWATSON, FORMERLY OF THIS CITY, NOW IN A PRECARIOUS CONDITION.

It will be remembered that, some time ago, The Intelligencer published letters bearing upon the sad case of Mr. James Howatson, formerly of this city and Rossmore, who had met with a serious accident in Anaconda, Montana. The last heard from Mr. Howatson he was believed to be steadily getting better, but a letter from the secretary of Colfax lodge, I.O.O.F. of Anaconda, to Mr. J. T. Osborne, secretary of Mizpah lodge, this city, conveys the sad intelligence that lately Mr. Howatson has taken a turn for the worse, and it will take but a few more days to determine the case. He has been on the sick list of Colfax lodge for 19 weeks, but Mizpah lodge, of this city, will pay the benefits, as Mr. Howatson is still one of its members. Oddfellows of this city will regret to hear of the bad news which comes concerning the injured man, who was a favorite with all who knew him.

BOY HAD NARROW ESCAPE

YOUNG EDDIE BOYCE NEARLY FURNISHED THE UNDERTAKER WITH A JOB.

A lad named Eddie Boyce, whose home is on Albion street, last evening had a narrow escape from receiving painful if not fatal injuries. He was riding on the back of a conveyance when in going over a crossing on Mill street he was jolted off the rig. Another rig was following close by and the boy was unable to get out of the way before the horses were upon him. Fortunately the horses did not step on him, but one of the wheels grazed his body. Had the wheels passed over his body the result would have been serious as the conveyance was heavily laden.

A Real, True Food and Good To Eat

The best people in every town and city of Canada are users of Malt Breakfast Food; they begin the day with a steaming hot dish of delicate and delicious nourishment. The thousands who now use Malt Breakfast Food each morning instead of oatmeal preparations and cheaply prepared fad foods, have found Malt Breakfast Food to be a real food—satisfying, appetizing, energizing and nutritious, supplying perfectly all the elements necessary for vitality and physical strength. Malt Breakfast Food has the indorsation of the most noted food experts and the most eminent physicians, because it is made according to nature's plans. All Grocers sell it.

Orders for bookbinding should be left at this office. It is surprising how nice a volume can be made of these magazines, even though they are somewhat soiled from much handling. Books, magazines, or periodicals bound or rebound in any style at very reasonable prices. Blank books, such as journals, ledgers, day books, with any kind of ruling, made to order. All work warranted first-class. THE INTELLIGENCER, Belleville.

MR. THOMAS HUNTLEY WALKED DOWN CELLAR

PECULIAR ACCIDENT WHICH MIGHT HAVE HAD MORE SERIOUS CONSEQUENCES.

Mr. Thomas Huntley, who resides alone on Grier street, on Sunday evening opened the door leading to his cellar and left it in that position whilst he was absent from the house for some time. Upon returning home he forgot about the door being opened and unthinkingly walked to the door and fell into the cellar, where he lay for some hours until found by a neighbor. His injuries consisted of a broken rib and severe bruises about the head, which rendered him unconscious for a considerable period. He is, however, improving, and was able to walk about the house to-day.

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

We have just received a big lot of Empire Shirt Waists for boys 6 to 12 years of age that we are selling at 39 cents each. These garments have stiff collars and cuffs, and are in the regular way worth almost double the price asked. We have also a lot of boys' blouses as low as 25 cents each. Quick & Robertson, Belleville's Best Clothiers.

The Cadet Corps

To the Editor of The Intelligencer:

Dear Sir,—Youn suggestion that the High School Cadet Corps should take part in our celebration on Dominion Day, cannot be carried out, as the time is too short to make the necessary arrangements, even should the Board of Education decide to form the corps. As convener of the special Committee appointed to consider the subject, I shall be pleased to hear from the parents of the boys in the High School, their opinion as to the forming of the corps and to lay the same before the committee which meets on Thursday evening.

Yours truly,
ALBERT L. GEEN.

ED. NOTE.—Opinions may differ as to whether the time is too short or not. If there is to be a Dominion Day celebration, the boys would be a splendid feature in the procession, even though they marched in plain clothes and carried only flags. By so doing they would set a good example to other boys, thus inculcating a spirit of loyalty, something which is at times lost sight of.

ALBERT COLLEGE FIELD DAY.

Friday, May 22nd. Interesting programme of sports on the fine new college campus, beginning at 1.30. Concert and distribution of prizes in the evening. Concert will be given principally by young ladies' Physical Culture Class, and will include an extremely pretty march, statue posing, etc. Admission to concert 10c and upwards. Sports free to all.

CITY COUNCIL IN REGULAR SESSION

Waterworks By-law Took Up a Lot of the City Fathers' Time Last Night

Dominion Day Celebration Looks as Though it Was Going to Fall Through Committee Struck to Obtain Estimates for Construction of a Public Bath

At the Council meeting last evening, all the members were present with the exception of His Worship Mayor Graham.

In the absence of the Mayor, Ald. Sinclair was voted to preside over the meeting, and thanked the members for the honor conferred upon him.

After the reading and confirming of the minutes of last meeting, the following communications were presented:

From the Secretary of the Board of Trade, submitting to the Council the various resolutions which had been passed by that body and ordered to be forwarded to the Council.

From Maclennan, Cline & Maclennan, of Cornwall, asking the Belleville City Council to co-operate with the Cornwall Electric Street Railway Co. in applying to the Legislature for an amendment to section 18 of the Street Railway Act. This section provides that motor cars shall be run by two men, and the company ask that the Act be amended so that cars can be run by one man. This to apply to cities of 10,000 population.—Referred.

An account of $14 from the Downey Company was laid on the table. Other accounts were as follows:

Miss McRae	$ 1.25
B. Sanford	4.00
Bell Telephone Co.	12.50

A petition was presented from a number of ratepayers residing on Dundas street, asking the Council to clean that thoroughfare so as to abate the dust nuisance.

Reports.

Reports were presented from the various civic committees, which have already been published.

The special committee appointed in connection with the proposed new Assessment Act, introduced in the Legislature, reported, asking that the Council pass a resolution and forward same to Hon. G. W. Ross, asking that the Act be not passed this session.

On motion the Council went into Committee of the Whole on reports, Ald. Sulman in the chair.

The Executive Committee's report was first taken up and considered. The various items of expenditure were passed without discussion.

The recommendation of the committee re Mr. Kirkwood's proposition for the refunding of the $2,500 was discussed briefly.

Ald. Panter thought the Council should not pledge itself to refund the money.

Ald. Galbraith said that the communication of Mr. Kirkwood should be answered and the answer framed, he thought, did not bind the Council to refund the money.

The recommendation prevailed.

The report of the special committee re the new Assessment Act was adopted, after Ald. Chown had spoken in reference to the measure, which, he thought, was unfair.

Ald. Sinclair—"I will leave town right away if the Act is passed."

The Public Works Committee's report was next considered. The various recommendations were passed without discussion.

A by-law was ordered to be prepared for the watering of Mill street.

The Waterworks Committee recommended that a four-inch main be placed on Cedar street, and that the work be done by tender.

Ald. Marsh asked if the City Surveyor could not put in a tender. This was done in other places.

Ald. Sinclair said this would perhaps place the city in a position that would not be advantageous.

Ald. Galbraith said it was intended to ask the Surveyor to make an estimate for this work.

Ald. Marsh moved an amendment to the effect that the report be amended so as to allow the City Surveyor to make an estimate.

Ald. McFee thought that tenders need not be asked for this work, as it was not a large contract. It was the duty of the Surveyor to do this work.

Ald. Pope thought the work should be done as cheaply as possible, therefore the committee had decided to ask for tenders.

Ald. Green was of the opinion that an estimate of the cost of the work should be made before the tenders were in.

Ald. McFee stated that the work would be well done by the Surveyor and the street would be properly levelled off after the work was done, which in the past has not always been the case when such work was done by contract.

The amendment of Ald. Marsh prevailed.

It was decided that the increase of pay to Engineer McCrudden at the pump-house should commence on June 1st.

The petition for the use of a portion of the roadway on the park for the starting and finishing of a bicycle race on May 25th, was granted.

Lights on Park.

Ald. Pope moved that three additional incandescent lights be placed on the roadway leading to the park. The mover spoke strongly in support of his motion. It would only mean an additional expenditure of $5.

Ald. Panter said that there was not a light on the park on the west side of the river and he asked that one light be placed near the lower bridge.

Ald. Cooper was not opposed to having the roadway on the park well lighted, but he thought that two were sufficient.

Ald. Pope's motion prevailed.

The matter of band concerts on the park was left in the hands of Ald. Pope, the expenditure not to exceed $200.

The Light Committee recommended that an electric light be placed on Victoria avenue, near Judge Lazier's residence.

Ald. Pope called attention to an account of $4 presented by B. Sanford for gathering up and carting away dead fish, dead dogs, cats, etc., which were gathered in the water on the western side of the park. He did not like the idea of this being charged to the park. Last year it cost over $12 to cart away stuff. Mr. Sanford offered to do this work for the remainder of the year for $10.

Ald. Galbraith—"Why should not the Harbor Commissioners pay for this?"

Ald. Sinclair thought the boom across the mouth o fthe river caused the trouble, and the Harbor Commissioners' attention should be called to this matter.

The account was ordered to be paid and charged to the contingent account.

The petition in reference to removing the dust on Dundas street was brought up.

Ald. Panter said that dust was prevalent on a number of streets in the city.

The Street Surveyor stated that it would probably cost $30 to clean up Dundas street.

On motion the matter was referred to the Public Works Committee.

The Committee rose and reported. The report was received and adopted.

Mr. W. R. Scott, representing the Good Roads Machinery Company, addressed the Council in reference to the purchasing of a crusher.

The matter was on motion left in the hands of the special Committee which was appointed on Friday evening.

Enquiries.

Under this head Ald. Cooper called attention to the dangerous condition of the spring on Pinnacle street north of Victoria avenue. It was dangerous and should be filled up, as it was not properly protected.

It was decided to bring the matter up under the head of motions.

Dominion Day Celebration.

Ald. Sinclair asked Ald. Pope what about the 1st of July celebration.

Ald. Pope stated that he had heard from Col. Halliwell, and that he had received no satisfactory information in reference to the Highlanders' band. The Fifty-seventh Regiment could not be secured, as they had decided to go to Picton. Under all circumstances it did not seem desirable for the Fifteenth Regiment to take hold of any celebration for that day. He (the speaker) thought that the Sons of Scotland might take hold of the matter.

Introduction of By-laws.

Ald. Chown introduced a by-law in reference to watering Mill street and a by-law for the management and regulating of the waterworks.

On motion the Council went into Committee of the Whole on By-laws, Ald. Galbraith in the chair.

The Waterworks By-law caused considerable discussion as to the schedule which was eventually adopted. The following changes distinguish it from the old schedule:

Sprinklers and tap for a street or lawn of 2,000 square feet or less	$ 3.00
For 2,000 to 4,000 square feet,	6.00
Each additional 1,000 feet ...	.50

In private stables the fee for one horse is $3, and each additional horse $1. Water closets in barber shops will be charged $4 instead of $3 as formerly.

The Committee rose and reported. The report was received and adopted.

On motion the by-laws were passed through their various stages and numbered 1031 and 1032.

Motions.

Ald. Chown moved, seconded by Ald. Pope, That the Council of the corporation of the City of Belleville request the Government to withdraw Bill No. 112, known as an Act respecting municipal taxation, this session, as the changes proposed are no numerous and of such a radical nature that the electors ought to have a longer opportunity to consider their import and merit, and that copies of this resolution be sent to Hon. G. W. Ross and the member for this Riding.—Carried.

Ald. Chown moved, seconded by Ald. Pope, That the Secretary of the Ontario Municipal Association be sent a copy of the resolution passed at this meeting of the Council urging the Government to withdraw Bill No. 112, known as an Act respecting Municipal Taxation, and be informed that in the event of the said Bill not being withdrawn this municipality approves of the suggestion contained in their communication of the 13th of May, 1903.—Carried.

Moved by Ald. Panter, seconded by Ald. Pope, that one incandescent light be placed on the approach to the western park, and that the Clerk be instructed to notify the Great Northwestern Telegraph Company to move their pole off said park, and that the C.P.R. Company be asked to remove a steel wire from said park, and the Water Committee be requested to lay down a pipe as in former years.—Carried.

Proposed Public Baths.

Moved by Ald. Panter, seconded by Ald. Pope, That a committee composed of Ald. Pope, Sinclair and the mover procure plans and estimates for public baths and report upon same.—Carried.

Ald. Marsh moved, seconded by Ald. Cooper, That the Surveyor be authorized to interview the petitioners re the Pinnacle street tank and instruct them to have the same filled with proper material and also to fulfil their agreement to remove the tank in front of Mr. McMahon's livery and replace it with a goose-neck.—Carried.

Council adjourned at 11.20.

"Pure soap!" You've heard the words. In Sunlight Soap you have the fact.

SUNLIGHT SOAP REDUCES EXPENSE

Ask for the Octagon Bar. 838

The doctor orders the medicine, the medicine aids nature, and nature makes the cure. Ask your own doctor about it. He has our formula. He knows why Ayer's Sarsaparilla makes the blood pure and rich, why it tones up weak nerves, and why it overcomes all debility.

Ayer's Pills aid the Sarsaparilla. They keep the liver active, cure constipation, biliousness, sick-headache, nausea. J. C. AYER CO., Lowell, Mass.

HOW TO GET UP AN APPETITE.

Distaste for food often follows grippe and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease and by removing the cause cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. All druggists and medicine dealers sell Ferrozone.

Won't Get the Camp

During the Council proceedings last evening Ald. Pope stated that a communication had been received from the Minister of Militia in reference to the brigade camp. It was to the effect that the camp would be at Barriefield, adjoining Kingston, and not at Belleville.

TENDENCY OF CATARRH IS TO SPREAD.

Just a slight matter at first, and because slight, neglected; but the seed sown brings forth a dangerous harvest, consumption, which is the harvest of death. Better spend a few moments each day inhaling Catarrhozone, an aromatic antiseptic that relieves at once, clears the nasal passages, and restores lost sense of taste and smell. The immediate effect of Catarrhozone is magical, so prompt and efficient. Cure is certain and permanent if you use Catarrhozone. Price $1. Small sizes 25c, at druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

THIS WARM WEATHER

a nice brick of our Neapolitan Ice Cream, or a brick of Maple Moose would make a delicious dessert for your lunch or six o'clock dinner.

Try one and see.

Maple Moose is a new thing and has a great run in New York. You will be sure to like it. Price 50c per qt brick.

ED. F. DICKENS.

Fifty great principal and menage riders are with Ringling Brothers' immense circus, which will exhibit soon in this city. Among the most famous are the Hobsons, the Walletts, direct from Australia, John and Michael Rooney, Rhoda Royal, Madame Royal. Miss Daisy St. Leon, Gus St. Leon, Miss May Davenport, John Agee, Frank Schadel, Reno McCree, Albert Thompson, John Slater and Miss Ida Miaco.

PERSONAL ...AND... SOCIAL.

The Intelligencer invites all its readers to contribute to this column all items of a personal nature, such as the arrival or departure of guests, the movements of well-known people, business men, etc. All that is required is to send a post card to or telephone The Intelligencer.

Mr. H. C Hunt is in Montreal.

Col. Halliwell, of Stirling, was in the city to-day.

His Worship Mayor Graham was in Brockville yesterday.

Mr. Wm. Garrett, of Napanee, is the guest of Mrs. Keith, Mill street.

Mr. James Falconer, of Tweed, was in the city to-day.

Mr. Will Hamlin left yesterday for Toronto, where he has secured a position.

Mrs. S. E. Haight and daughter, Miss Grace, are visiting relatives at Buffalo, N.Y.

Mrs. Geo. Dafoe, of West Huntingdon, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Wm. Ketcheson, Lewis street.

Mrs. Meudell and Miss Marjorie Corlett leave in a couple of weeks for a visit to the Old Country.

Allan Scryver, who has been attending the College of Pharmacy in Toronto, has passed his final examinations with honors, and has secured a situation in Toronto.

Arrivals at Quinte: N. R. Jennings, R. Turner, F. Jones, C. Pack, A. E. Johnston, H. Bethune, W. Hopwood, J. Hopwood, T. Caldwell, H. Bail, E. A. Batzell, S Sharp, Toronto; W. McK. Barlow, L. Abrahams, G. A. Armstrong, A. A. Vickers, L. F. Moore, F. W. Hackett, S. Parker, Montreal; T. P. Thompson, Kingston; L. Harry, Hamilton; J. S. Wallace, St. Stephens, N.B.; A. W. Howell, Ingersoll; F. H. Sweetman, Quebec; G. R. German, Campbellford; W. A. Potter, Mountain View. F. A. Burlingham, Wellington; A. C. Macdonald, Madoc.

Mr. W. A. Huffman, Benjamin St., has returned home from a visit to relatives at Ottawa.

SALE OF BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

We are selling a lot of boys' shirt waists at the Oak Hall. It is not often you get a chance of getting a good waist for 50 cents. The best of all is that they fit so well. You had better come soon, as the sizes will be broken badly in a few more days.

THE VICTORIA DAY RACES, in Picton, will be interesting. SIDNEY POINTER, the fastest stallion ever raised in Canada, will start on Victoria Day. Other classes well filled. fm19,3td

In the Justice Shop

Vagrancy.

Under this charge Fred Peak was sent to jail for a period of 30 days.

Drunks.

Henry Clarke and Wm. Irvin, two men aged respectively 68 and 51, were charged with being intoxicated. As both were strangers and desired to get out of the city, their requests were granted.

An amazing feature of Ringling Brothers' wonderful circus is a company of forty clowns, who keep the audience in a constant whirl of laughter by their odd conceits and grotesque actions.

Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

Light Weight Hats

COLORED FELTS AND STRAWS

Latest New York Styles.

No trouble to show them.

S. A. HYMAN & CO.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

HOSIERY

FOR SATURDAY NIGHT.

We have just made a very fortunate purchase in

Ladies' Fancy French Lace Lisle Hosiery.

348 pairs of as good hose as was ever retailed at 50c a pair.

Every pair stamped Pure Lisle Thread.

OUR PRICE

Saturday Evening for these goods will be

15c a pair.

On Sale 7.30 Saturday Evening

Laidlaw & Ketcheson

DIRECT IMPORTE

Daily Intelligencer.

THE INTELLIGENCER IS SOLD AT J. W. London's and S. Wardhaugh's.

Local Reading Advertisements, [illegible] words 50 cents; 2 cents per word first insertion, [illegible] per word subsequent consecutive insertions. Headlines count as 12 words; contracts for [illegible] periods made at office

OUR STRAWBERRY ICE CREAM

"is flavored with the fresh crushed fruit.
We have it to-day."

CHAS. S. CLAPP

RUBBER GOODS.

Our Line of Rubber Goods is Very Complete.

They are one of the lines that have special attention here, and there are few lines that need it more. When you need Syringes, Water Bottles, Ice Bags, Air Cushions, Atomizers, Elastic Stockings, Bandages or any item of Sick-Room Supplies, remember this is the Store that always has it—and the quality and price is right.

McKeown's DRUG STORE

NEW SPRING GOODS

LATEST DESIGNS IN SPRING TROUSERING.

Spring Overcoating. A nice Line of Waterproof Overcoating, Tweeds and Serges at reasonable prices by the yard.

Call and inspect my stock before ordering your Spring Clothing.

ARTHUR McGIE,
Merchant Tailor.
Front Street.

A long portage makes a heavy canoe.

Sterling Silver and Cut Glass.

Particular attention is directed to my stock of the above goods, which at present is most attractive. I handle the renowned Gorham Silver and Hawkes Cut Glass Ware, being sole agent for this city. These are the best and prices are moderate.

T. BLACKBURN.

WRAPPERS & BLOUSES

This week we will devote our entire time and energy in disposing of the finest lot of Ladies' Print Wrappers and Black Sateen Blouses ever seen in this or any other city.

Ladies Print Wrappers, flounced and beautifully trimmed at $1.75, $1.50 $1.25, $1.00.

Ladies' Wrappers........................ 83 & 75c

Black Sateen Blouses

Ladies' Black Sateen Blouses at $2.25, $2.00, $1.50, $1.00, 75c.

We would call special attention to our $1 Blouses.

McINTOSH BROS.

A Dickens Relic.

Of the Dickens exhibition, recently held in London, The Daily Graphic says in part:—"The remainder of the relics are associated more directly with characters in Dickens' novels. The 'Little Midshipman' is that immortalized in 'Dombey and Son,' as standing at the doorway of Sol. Gill's shop. It was originally in Leadenhall street, but was taken thence to the new premises of its proprietors, Messrs. Norie and Wilson, in the Minories, where it was to be seen outside their shop until a few years ago, when it was taken inside for greater safety."

The sign of The Little Midshipman. (Daily Graphic.)

Advice at the Right Time.

When W. S. Gilbert in his early days as a playwright had completed a short play, entitled "Dulcamara," for T. W. Robertson, says The London Tit-Bits, he took his manuscript to Mr. Emden, Mr. Robertson's manager, for approval.

"This will do," Mr. Emden said, after glancing through the play. "How much do you want for it?"

"Thirty guineas," the young dramatist diffidently suggested.

"Make it pounds and I will take it," answered Emden, a proposal to which Mr. Gilbert eagerly assented.

"Now," said Mr. Emden as he handed over the check, "let me give you a piece of advice. Never sell such good stuff for thirty pounds again."

"And," continued Mr. Gilbert, when telling the story, "I never did."

Expensive.

It was a beautiful evening in the Spring of 2001. The moon shone pale and transcendent in the clouds above, and as the two lovers sat close together, no sound was heard save the stealthy tread of the one spectator to their tryst.

The young man pressed the maiden to his heart, and turning her face to his, was about to kiss her, when she drew back.

"Darling," she asked anxiously, "what is the tax on kisses?"

"One dollar each," he observed grimly, "but I don't care if my salary is mortgaged up to next Christmas. I'm desperate for a kiss."

"Don't!" she said pleadingly. "The tax assessor is watching our every movement and is ready to chalk it down. You know, even now, it is costing you fifty cents an hour to be with me."

"I know it!" exclaimed her lover, "but, my darling, aside from our own cramped finances, you know the trusts must live. The head of the Lovers' Trust is only worth eight trillions, and suppose we should go out of business! Why, his dividends might be cut down. No, no. Let us love, even if the tax is raised to a dollar an hour and there is no bread in the house. I must be true to my country's best interests."

"You are right," she said, yielding to his superior mind.

And as their lips met in a long, lingering dollar kiss, the registering machine, planted twenty feet back of them, clicked out its ominous sound, showing that John Jones, American citizen, had been locked for one kiss by the United States Amalgamated Lovers' Trust.—

A MAIL CARRIER'S EXPERIENCE.

CURED OF KIDNEY TROUBLE AND PAIN IN THE BACK, FROM WHICH HE SUFFERED MANY YEARS, BY

DR. PITCHER'S BACKACHE-KIDNEY TABLETS.

MR. JAMES TAGGART, mail carrier for the past eighteen years, Palmerston, Ont., gives the history of his case as follows: "For a good many years I have had kidney trouble and pain in the back. It is so many years ago that I can hardly say what it came from, but think it came from a heavy lift; after that the back grew weaker and weaker. I tried everything, and never got a bit of relief until I got a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets. They cleared up the pain, soreness and kidney trouble, and strengthened the back."

The action of Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets is rapid and positive, curing backache, eruptions, blood humors, dropsical swellings, gravel, smarting and scalding of the urine, frequent rising at night, rheumatic pains, and all kidney troubles of young and old. Price 50c. a bottle at druggist or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto.

HONEST LETTERS

Still Tell the Joyful News That

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

Cures When Physicians Fail

A TARA, ONT., GENTLEMAN SAYS "AFTER I HAD FINISHED THE THIRD BOTTLE OF THE COMPOUND I CONSIDERED MYSELF A NEW MAN."

For years men and women in every rank and walk of life have been sounding the praises of Paine's Celery Compound, and telling of its victories over disease and death. Those who were most heavily burdened with disease, victims of suffering pronounced incurable by doctors, and who stood on the brink of the grave, are the people who most gratefully remember Prof. Phelps, of Dartmouth College, the eminent physician and scientist who discovered Paine's Celery Compound, the medicine that never fails to conquer blood diseases, dyspepsia, rheumatism, neuralgia, liver and kidney troubles. Mr. T. Young, of Tara, Ont., happily rescued from a complication of dangerous ailments, writes as follows:

"After suffering for years with dyspepsia, sleeplessness, nervous prostration, loss of appetite and a weak and tired feeling, and after consulting the best physicians in my locality, and having tried a great many so-called cures advertised in the papers, and receiving no benefit from any of them, I was persuaded to try a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound. I noticed an improvement before the first bottle was finished; and after I had finished the third bottle I considered myself a new man; all this was done by Paine's Celery Compound. I can now go about my work with my old-time life and vigor; my sleep is sweet and sound, and my appetite good."

If you are in need of free medical advice, write to Consulting Physician's Department, The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, Que. All correspondence is sacredly confidential.

Death of a Correspondent.

The last seven months of the adventurous life of Mr. Edward H. Vizetelly, author, translator, war correspondent and one-time Colonel of Bashi-Bazouks, were spent in a common lodging-house, and he died in the Whitechapel infirmary, says The London Daily Express of April 15. It was stated at an inquest held yesterday that Mr. Vizetelly, who was 56, had lodged at the Rowton House, Fieldgate street, Whitechapel, since August. The manager said he never complained, but always had a very sickly look. He became ill on Saturday, was taken to the infirmary, and there he asked whether he was dying. The doctor answered that he was afraid there was no hope, whereupon Mr. Vizetelly rejoined that he was "quite prepared." He died the same evening from heart failure, following pneumonia. His brother, Mr. Arthur Vizetelly, journalist, gave evidence that he last saw the ex-war correspondent alive a fortnight ago at the British Museum. He had been in straitened circumstances, but not in actual want, and he was generally of sober habits. "It is very sad," remarked the Coroner, "that such a man should have drifted down to live in a common lodging-house." "I think," said the brother, "he was living there to gain information for the purpose of writing articles on east end life. There are several manuscripts in possession of the publishers now." The Coroner observed that it was hardly likely Mr. E. H. Vizetelly would there for so many months for literary purposes, and the inquiry ended with a verdict of "Natural death." It may be recalled that Mr. Edward H. Vizetelly was the first man to interview Stanley on the explorer's return to East Africa with Emin Pasha. He send off £1,500 worth of telegrams in two days to The New York Herald, and received £2,000 for the interview.

Wireless Telegraphy With Gourds.

Marconi's system of wireless telegraphy has a rival. It is a rival which is already centuries old, and it was in operation long before Franklin drew the electric spark from the clouds down a kite string or before Morse devised his system of dots and dashes over the electric wires. Rev. C. A. Rideout, a missionary of the African Methodist Episcopal Church of America, who returned to this country lately on furlough, after four years' labor among the native tribes of South Africa in the territory lying west of Natal, thus describes this remarkable system:—

"A large gourd, such as those grown in many parts of the United States, is hollowed out and thoroughly dried. Then kid's skin, stretched and dried by a native process, which makes it as hard and as thin as parchment, is stretched across the hollow of the gourd. It is beaten with a padded drumstick, and gives forth a sound which can be heard distinctly at a distance of from five to eight miles. The Basuto country is mountainous and the villages lie along the mountain sides and in little valleys or glens, seldom being at a high elevation.

"The guard who has been trained to the use of the signal code—which is practically an African Morse alphabet—beats the message on his drum in the open air, and the sound is carried across the valleys and glens to the next village, where it is interpreted by another guard. There is always a guard on duty ready to receive these messages. He can tell at once whether the message is for his chief or the head man of his village, in which case he goes to the head man's hut and makes the communication verbally. If, however, the message is for a distant part, he repeats it on his gourd, and so it is carried from village to village with very little loss of time, until it reaches the person for whom it is intended.

"During the war between the British and the Boers we who were hundreds of miles distant from the scene of hostilities got all the news with surprising rapidity. We knew of every victory and every reverse which took place in the Orange Free State and the Transvaal, and I have known of several instances where the news came by the gourd air line hours ahead of the message by field telegraph. You can readily understand how this surprised the military officers.

"The same system is common to many of the African tribes, and the secret is always confined to the few trained men in each village, who are chosen for their fidelity to the head man or chief. Who first devised this system nobody seems to know. It has been used for centuries."

"What ales the porter?" "His young daughter wines all the time, and he is going home to liquor."—Princeton "Tiger."

Waggish Bounder.—I've just spent a week at Lord and Lady Blank's place. His Friend.—You have? Why, which of them invited you? "Neither. Fact is, I knew that Lord and Lady B. were not on speaking terms just now, so I went and stayed. Each thinks the other invited me."

BASEBALL MONDAY.

The Eastern League.

Providence ....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0

Toronto ....1 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 *—2

Two-base hit—White. Sacrifice hits—Miller, Kuhns, Connor. Double plays—Armbruster to Shannon, Shannon to Connor to Crisham. Wild pitch—Viau. Stolen base—White. Bases on balls—Off Viau, White, off Kissinger, Crisham. Hit by pitcher—Toft. Struck out—By Kissinger 11 (Wagner, Shannon, Armbruster, Connor 2, Stafford, Cogan 2, Diggins, Viau 2), by Viau 2 (Golden 2). Left on bases—Toronto 7, Providence 5. Time—1.15. Umpire—Kelly.

R.H.E.

Buffalo ....1 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 *—3 9 0

Worcester ....0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0—2 6 1

Batteries—McGee and Shaw; Winhaut and Steelman. Umpire—Shannon. Attendance (paid)—2793.

R.H.E.

Rochester ....0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0—2 5 2

Jersey City .....0 0 0 4 0 0 0 0 3—7 13 4

Batteries—Becker and Lilly; Pfanmiller and McManus. Umpire—Brown. Attendance—675.

R.H.E.

Baltimore ......1 2 1 0 0 0 0 1 *—5 8 2

Newark ....0 0 0 1 1 0 0 1 0—3 11 4

Batteries—Gettig and Fuller; Pardee and Shea. Umpire—Swartwood. Attendance—807.

National League Result.

At Brooklyn— R.H.E.

Brooklyn ....0 1 1 0 1 0 0 0 0—3 7 1

Cincinnati ....2 1 1 0 0 0 0 1 2—7 15 0

Batteries—Jones and Jacklitsch; Harper, Phillips and Bergen. Umpire—Moran. Attendance—2500.

At Boston— R.H.E.

Boston ....1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—2 6 3

Chicago ....1 0 0 2 0 1 0 0 0—4 10 1

Batteries—Piatt, Malarkey and Kittredge; Weimer and Kling. Umpire—Johnstone. Attendance—2922.

At New York— R.H.E.

Pittsburg ....0 2 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—3 9 3

New York ....0 0 1 1 0 0 0 0 0—2 6 4

Batteries—Doheny and Smith; McGinnity and Bowerman. Umpire—Emslie. Attendance—7320.

At Philadelphia— R.H.E.

St. Louis ....2 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0—3 7 1

Philadelphia ....0 1 0 0 0 2 1 1 *—5 10 1

Batteries—Brown, McFarland and Ryan; Frazer and Zimmer. Umpire—O'Day. Attendance—2270.

American League Results.

At Detroit— R.H.E.

Boston ....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1 4 6

Detroit ....5 0 0 0 0 7 0 0 *—12 14 0

Batteries—Gibson and Smith; Donovan and Buelow. Umpire—O'Loughlin. Attendance—3230.

At Cleveland— D.H.E.

Cleveland ....2 0 1 1 2 0 0 1 *—7 6 3

New York ....0 0 1 0 0 0 0 2 0—3 3 3

Batteries—Moore and Bemis; Wiltse, Howell and Beville. Umpire—Connolly. Attendance—2557.

At Chicago— R.H.E.

Chicago ....0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 7 2

Washington .....0 0 3 0 0 0 2 0 2—7 10 1

Batteries—White and McFarland; Lee and Clark. Umpires—Carruthers and Hassett. Attendance—750.

Justice Nesbitt Sworn In.

Ottawa, May 19.—Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., was sworn in and took his seat on the Supreme Court bench yesterday morning.

Railway Bridge to Canada.

Niagara Falls, May 19.—A new bridge is to connect Canada and the States at Niagara Falls. It is to be a 66-foot right of way, and the concession, in so far as the States are concerned, has been granted. The right to enter Canada at this point is considered very valuable by railway men, and in this case operations began in 1900 and have been conducted with the utmost secrecy.

Mr. Barr Deposed.

Winnipeg, May 19.—At a meeting of the Barr Colonists at Battleford a resolution was passed deposing him from the leadership and later he handed in his resignation in writing. The colonists will ask the Government for a commissioner.

Killed by a Wagon.

Aylmer, May 19.—Teddy Shepherd, the five-year-old son of Frank Shepherd of Aylmer, was run over by a wagon on Saturday afternoon in front of his father's house. He suffered severe internal injuries, and died within a few hours.

Shot on the Street.

Thibodeaux, La., May 19. — A shooting affray, which resulted in the death of Former Lieut.-Governor Clay Knoblock, occurred yesterday. The shooting was done by James Garault, a barber.

Accept Government's Terms.

Melbourne, Victoria, May 19.—The railroad strikers by ballot yesterday decided by an overwhelming majority to resume work on the Government's terms.

Russia, China and Manchuria.

Pekin, May 19.—China, in reply to further representations of the United States and Japanese Ministers, has again pointed out the impossibility of including in the commercial treaties the opening to trade of Manchuria towns on account of Russian opposition.

Horror at a Bull Fight.

London, May 19.—A special despatch from Madrid announces that during a bull fight Sunday at Algeciras, the amphitheatre collapsed and twelve persons were killed and fifty were injured. Several women and children were gored by the bulls.

WHEN PEOPLE SAY

blood they should often say bowels. Impure blood means irregular bowels. Blood purifier means bowel regulator. Constipation means bad blood. Bad blood means bad health.

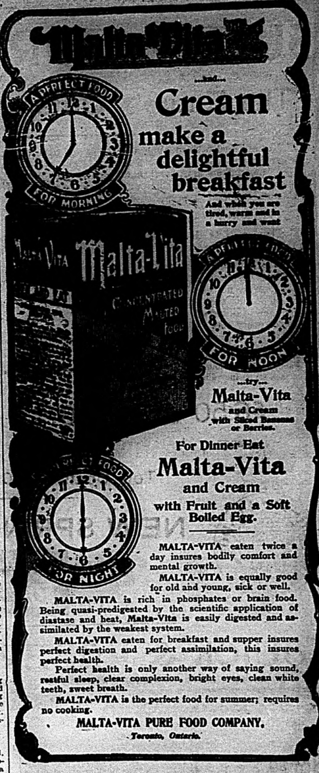
Iron-Ox Means the Cure

IRON-OX

TABLETS

are a gentle laxative and a splendid tonic. They are not a cathartic. Cathartics do not cure.

Fifty Tablets
25 Cents



...and...

Cream make a delightful breakfast

And when you are tired, warm and in a hurry and want

...try...

Malta-Vita and Cream with Sliced Bananas or Berries.

For Dinner Eat

Malta-Vita and Cream with Fruit and a Soft Boiled Egg.

MALTA-VITA eaten twice a day insures bodily comfort and mental growth.

MALTA-VITA is equally good for old and young, sick or well.

MALTA-VITA is rich in phosphates or brain food. Being quasi-predigested by the scientific application of diastase and heat, Malta-Vita is easily digested and assimilated by the weakest system.

MALTA-VITA eaten for breakfast and supper insures perfect digestion and perfect assimilation, this insures perfect health.

Perfect health is only another way of saying sound, restful sleep, clear complexion, bright eyes, clean white teeth, sweet breath.

MALTA-VITA is the perfect food for summer; requires no cooking.

MALTA-VITA PURE FOOD COMPANY,
Toronto, Ontario.

White Blouses

Now is the time for Summer Blouses. Just received another large shipment of Fancy White and Black Blouses. These have been delayed on account of getting the latest styles.

SEE OUR PRICES

Our Plain Waists with Insertion fronts................. 75c

Also Valenciennes and Embroidery Insertion fronts at .. .. $1.00, $1.25 and $1 50

Our special line of Embroidered fronts, very stylish, prices .... $2 00 and $2.25

Medallions and Drop Ornaments

A fine assortment of these for trimming, in cream and black. Prices 10, 15 and 20c.

White Gloves

Gloves for summer at attractive prices. See our Fancy Taffeta Silk Gloves, two dome fasteners. Prices 25c, 40c and 50c.

NATHAN JONES.

Are you Bilious?

Do you have Sick Headaches? You can be quickly and easily relieved by taking

Beecham's Pills

Sold Everywhere. In boxes, 25 cents.

SAVE MONEY By JOINING The MUTUAL LITERARY-MUSIC CLUB OF AMERICA

25 Cents pays for three months' membership. Each member receives the official club organ every month, including 4 pieces of high-class vocal and instrumental new music each month, 12 pieces in all; also a Certificate of Membership which gives the privilege of Club Room in New York City, and of buying literature, music or musical instruments of any description at wholesale prices, saving you from 20% to 60% on your purchases. Don't fail to join at once. You will get much more than your money's worth. MUTUAL LITERARY-MUSIC CLUB, Dept. , 150 Nassau St., N.Y.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL — LIBERALITY IN THINGS NON ESSENTIAL — CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 37. BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO. WEDNESDAY. MAY 20, 1903 NO. 17

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Hamilton.—During a severe storm Monday, John Oliphant, a Glanford farmer, and his son, were stunned by lightning.

Charleston, W. Va.—Two lumbermen were cremated and five seriously burned at Champus in the destruction of a log cabin. The fire imprisoned the men, who could be seen vainly trying to make their escape.

Toronto.—The body of a man supposed to be that of Tobias Prince, who left Hamilton despondent on the 21st March, 1902, on account of a quarrel with his family, was found in the bay here Tuesday morning. On May 25 last year Prince told his mother-in-law that he had been robbed of $50, but that he had $300 left. She was the last person who reports having seen him.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE TO STAY

Premier Ross Has No Intention of Buying New Residence.

Ontario Legislature's Chief Work Tuesday Was on the Estimates—Big Increases For Surveys in New Ontario — Col. Matheson's Severe Criticism—Provincial Secretary Announced Purchase of New Farm For Mimico Asylum.

Toronto, May 20.—Premier Ross disposed of the rumors that the Government intended to vacate the present Government House and build or buy a better home for the Lieutenant-Governor, closer to the Parliament Buildings. The matter was brought up in the House by Mr. Duff, who asked the Premier for a statement regarding the rumor.

Mr. Ross replied that the Government had not the remotest intention of doing away with Government House.

Mr. Duff pursued the subject by informing the House that he had heard that the Lieutenant-Governor did not intend to occupy the present building.

Mr. Ross—He'll be there in August.

Mr. Duff said he was not sufficiently radical to believe that the time had come when the official residence of the Lieutenant-Governor should be done away with. But at any rate a new site should be purchased somewhere in the vicinity of Queen's Park.

Mr. Eilber said some of the appropriation for repairs to the old building should be utilized to construct sidewalks around the building.

Municipal Trading Committee.

Hon. J. M. Gibson brought down the names of the committee which will collect information on the success or failure of municipal ownership and municipal trading. The committee will be composed of Messrs. Gibson, Pattullo, Graham, Crawford, Hendrie and Murphy.

They will have power to engage the services of a secretary and to incur any expenditure that may be necessary in procuring material for publication.

The motion passed without discussion.

To Amend Temiskaming Act.

Mr. Latchford introduced a bill to amend the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Act, which seeks power to set apart lands to meet the cost of construction of extensions of the Government railway. The bill also provides that bonds shall be issued instead of debentures for the construction of the road.

Mr. Lucas introduced a bill to amend the Judicature Act.

Bills introduced: To amend the Municipal Waterworks Act—(Morrison). Respecting the Lambton Central Railway — (Pettypiece). To amend Judicature Act.—(Lucas).

A number of bills were read a third time.

Mr. Harcourt's bill, to amend the High Schools Act, and Mr. Gibson's bill, to amend the Children's Protection Act, passed the committee stage.

Improvement of Niagara's Bank.

Mr. Ross moved the second reading of his bill, providing for the construction of works of improvement along the bank of the Upper Niagara River. The bill was read and sent to the committee.

Mr. Ross briefly explained his bill respecting circuses and traveling shows.

Another bill of the Premier extends the time till 1906 in which municipalities may avail themselves of the provisions of the act for the improvement of public highways. A long discussion ensued, in which all the road building experts in the House took part. The second reading was carried.

Length of the Session.

Just before the Legislature rose for recess, Mr. Whitney desired to know from the Premier if it was the intention of the Government to get through business and adjourn before the report of the Gamey commissioners shall have been received. There was a rumor to the effect.

The Premier answered that he had not heard it.

"But it is so reported," said Mr. Whitney.

"You musn't listen to gossip," was the Premier's reply.

The Speaker left the chair at 5.10.

The House in Supply.

On the House going into supply after recess last night, Hon. Mr. Gibson moved that an item of $800 for salary of the registrar of Algoma be struck out, the fees of the office being sufficient to recompense the officer. The motion was carried.

The accoustics of the Legislative chamber were discussed after the recess last night when the House got into supply.

The Premier thought it might be well to have architects look the chamber over and see what could be done.

Addition to Asylum Grounds.

While on the estimates of the public institutions, the Provincial Secretary informed the House that the Government had concluded the purchase on Saturday last of 71 acres west of the Mimico Asylum, the price being $7,100. Twenty-one acres of the land was available for the Industrial School farm.

Mr. Stratton also said that the Government proposed to purchase the Hatch farm, one mile from Woodstock, for the new hospital for epileptics.

Mr. Hoyle asked if it was the intention of the Government to place the Deaf and Dumb Institute and the Institution for the Blind under the control of the Education Department.

Mr. Stratton had no objection if the Premier saw fit.

Dr. Reaume brought up the question of the large number of insane committed to the jails of the country.

Mr. Stratton replied that before the next session of the House he expected to have accommodation for 500 more insane patients.

Will Survey 53 Townships.

The estimates of the Crown Lands Department showed a large increase over last year, the amount required for surveying new townships being $100,000, as against $20,000 last year. Mr. Davis said it was the intention to obtain 53 new townships for settlers.

Mr. Matheson said that a great deal of the money voted for surveys was wasted. There was gross mismanagement when lands worth thousands of dollars were practically given away. He objected to the item, and charged that the department did not keep informed.

The Commissioner of Crown Lands replied that it was not in order to refer to a matter which was being investigated by a committee. For the present, he would refrain from discussing the matter, but he promised to be able to defend himself at the proper time.

Mr. Matheson said the vote for surveys was out of proportion to the amount asked for colonization roads, and the two should go together. There was a lack of business capacity in the management of the department.

The Estimates Voted.

The estimates voted were: Hospitals and charities, $223,647.88; maintenance and repairs of Government buildings, $52,750; public buildings, $463,201; expenditure on account of outside service and surveys, $224,175; mining development, $23,400; parks, $10,600; refund account, $40,105.19.

"Cap" Got All the Money.

Toronto, May 20.—The Public Accounts Committee of the Legislature had to go on yesterday without Capt. Sullivan. The Crown timber agent at Parry Sound will be instructed to have him here on Thursday.

Thomas Charlton stated that he purchased the limit from Capt. John Sullivan for $9,000, and had nothing whatever to do with Patrick Shannon. He had deemed it a good investment, but the cut had been a disappointment, as he expected to get two million feet. To Col. Matheson he said he would be satisfied if he came out even.

Patrick Shannon was called, but did not respond.

Railway Taxation Approved.

A large deputation of farmers appeared before the special committee of the Legislature on the new assessment bill on Tuesday and supported Mr. Pettypiece's bill to tax the railway corporations.

BRITISH EMPIRE LEAGUE.

Sir William Mulock Deprecates Any Action Tending to Promote Militarism in the Dominion of Canada.

Ottawa, May 20.—The attendance at the annual meeting of the British Empire League meeting held here yesterday was disappointingly small, but this was perhaps due to the fact that a number of committees of the House were in session at the same time. The address of the President, Lieut.-Col. George T. Denison, dealt largely with the question of Imperial defence. The meeting was also favored with speeches by Hon. J. Israel Tarte, Sir William Mulock and Sir Sanford Fleming. Mr. Tarte caused applause by dwelling upon the success with which King Edward played the role of a peacemaker among the nations. Sir William Mulock's attitude was rather one of protest against any union of the Empire for military purposes. He laid stress on the fact that Canada should spend its available resources in populating its lands and developing the country. He moved a resolution hoping it might be possible to find a basis for reciprocal trade throughout the Empire, which was unanimously carried. Sir Sanford Fleming proposed the appointment of a Government Commissioner to go out to Australia and endeavor to clear up the misunderstanding on the Pacific cable question.

Accidentally Drowned.

Fergus, May 20.—The body of Leonard Hueston, an inmate of the Wellington House of Industry, who disappeared last Thursday was discovered in the Grand River. The coroner's jury returned a verdict of accidental death. Deceased had been an inmate of the Home for 26 years.

THE RUSSIAN ATROCITIES.

Facts Have Not Been Mis-Stated—The Governor of Kishineff Dismissed by the Czar.

London, May 20.—The Under Foreign Secretary, Lord Cranborne, was asked in the House of Commons for information on the massacre of Jews at Kishineff, Bessarabia, a month ago. The Secretary, in reply, placed the total of killed at about double the number given in the official Russian report. Otherwise the facts did not differ from those already published.

Lord Cranborne added: "According to the Government's information the disturbances arose from the murder of a Christian lad, which was wrongly attributed to the Jews. The latter retaliated on their assailants, and the result was an attack on the Jews by a mob on Easter Sunday and Easter Monday, in which it is believed, about a hundred Jews lost their lives and many more were injured."

Governor of Kishineff Dismissed.

St. Petersburg, May 20.—The report that Lieutenant-General Raeben, Governor of Kishineff, Bessarabia, where the massacre of Jews occurred a month ago, had been dismissed by the Czar, is confirmed. The Imperial Ukase dismissing the general is dated May 17.

No Official Protests Received.

The Russian Government has received no representations from the Government of the United States in regard to the Kishineff massacres. To Ambassador McCormick's question if relief would be accepted, the Foreign Office has replied that, while it greatly appreciated the American generosity, there was no need for relief, as the wants of the inhabitants of Kishineff were being looked after.

MONTREAL MAY WALK.

Street Railway Employes Send Ultimatum Returnable in Two Days.

Montreal, May 20.—It was a great surprise all round yesterday when the rumors of another street railway strike were found to be well founded. In spite of the fact that an agreement was signed a few months ago, the men presented what may be called an ultimatum to the Montreal Street Railway Company, giving them 48 hours to decide. It is understood that the company are willing to accept a local union, and that they will fight the International to a finish. The company will also contribute 25 per cent. to the local union fund. They are also ready to start a third of the service if the men should go out.

Toronto Uneasy, Too.

Toronto, May 20.—It was stated last night, in apparently well-informed circles, that if the street railway employes did not get their demands they would go out Thursday. There is much uneasiness.

FOUGHT MULLAH'S HORDES.

British Abyssinians Had Hand-to-Hand Conflict With Dervishes.

London, May 20.—An official War Office despatch from Aden, Arabia, under yesterday's date, gives details of the desperate encounter which took place at Burrilli, Somaliland, May 4, between an Abyssinian force, operating in conjunction with the British against the Mad Mullah, and a large force of the latter's dervishes. After a hand-to-hand fight lasting 45 minutes, the dervishes were driven off, with the loss of 300 men killed and 2 wounded. The Abyssinians had 21 men killed and 10 wounded. Subsequently, the Abyssinians raided the wells northwest of Burrilli, and captured several prisoners.

The latter said the Mullah was at Ubertake.

NO PRO-AMERICAN FEELING.

Hon. Clifford Sifton Refutes Idea of Absorption of Canada.

London, May 20.—The London Chamber of Commerce last night gave a complimentary banquet to the Canadian Minister of the Interior, the Hon. Clifford Sifton, the guests including the High Commissioner for Canada, Lord Strathcona. Mr. Sifton devoted his speech mainly to refuting the idea that Canada was likely to be absorbed by the United States. He declared that Canada had successfully waged a fight against geography for fifty years, and it would continue in the same course. There was more pro-American feeling, he said, in London, than in Canada.

HEAD BLOWN OFF.

Nitro-Glycerine Explodes in Petrolea and Causes Death.

Petrolea, May 20.—William Hair was instantly killed yesterday by an explosion of nitro-glycerine, his head being blown to pieces.

William Bedal, a workman, who was some feet away, and was walking towards the place of the accident, was blown some distance back, and through the door of a stable beyond, but was unhurt.

The deceased leaves a wife and three children. Dr. Calder holds an inquest to-day.

Chatham, Ont., May 20.—The body of Miss Annie Orr, who had been missing from her home since Sunday night, was found floating in the Thames yesterday afternoon by a Dover farmer, about a mile west of the city limits. Life had evidently been extinct for some considerable time. As Miss Orr was in ill-health and subject to fits of low spirits, it is supposed that she committed suicide.

BOOSTED UP TO $500,000

Dredge W. S. Fielding to Cost $200,000 More Than Stated.

Hon. Mr. Sutherland Couldn't Explain Why to the House of Commons in Committee of Supply—Government to Appoint a Commission to Investigate Treadgold Water Concession—Railway Labor Disputes Bill Passed.

Ottawa, May 20.—Monday saw the quietus given to the bill, which was to prohibit absolutely the manufacture, importation and sale of cigarettes in Canada. Next week, however, a less drastic measure, but one which will equally meet the expressed views of the promoters of that measure, will be introduced by the Minister of Justice. The bill will be brought in as an amendment to the Criminal Code, and will make it an offence throughout Canada to sell cigarettes to boys or girls under sixteen years of age. This is already the law in Ontario and Nova Scotia.

Railway Labor Bill Passed.

In the House yesterday Mr. Prefontaine introduced a bill to amend the act respecting the safety of ships, the object of which is to assimilate the Canadian deck load law with the British law.

The bill of Sir William Mulock to aid in the settlement of railway labor disputes was read a third time and passed.

Mr. Marcil (Bonaventure) said the Atlantic and Lake Superior Railway Co., which has taken over the Baie Des Chaleur Railway, had received $96,000 subsidy for 50 miles of road, and was asking as much more. The Baie Des Chaleur Co., he said, still owes $226,276 for material, labor, etc., and for payment of their debts, about $10,000 was available. He asked that laborers having their time checks should be paid first, also that if further subsidy is granted, the amount to be given to these preferred creditors be distributed directly by the Crown.

The Minister of Railways promised to give these representations earnest consideration.

Mr. Kemp (East Toronto) asked whether the latest classification of railway freight rates had been authorized by order in Council.

Mr. Blair could not say whether the classification was authorized, but promised to look into the matter.

To Investigate Treadgold Concession.

Mr. Borden read a telegram from Dawson, saying: "Official organ here says Commission has been appointed to investigate Treadgold." The Opposition leader asked what foundation there was for the report.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied: "The statement is premature, but the committee will be known in a very few days."

Mr. Borden asked whether the terms of the Commission would be submitted to the House, and whether the interests of the public would be represented by counsel. In other words, would it be a mere departmental inquiry or a thorough investigation.

Sir William Mulock was unable to answer in detail. He could say, however, that the investigation would be thorough; it would deal not only with all existing concessions, but also with the hydraulic needs of the district with respect to mining. As to producing the instructions so that they could be discussed in the House before the Commission was sent out, the point had not been considered, but he would make it known to the Government.

The Dredge W. S. Fielding.

The House went into Committee of Supply on the item of $515,800 for the River St. Lawrence ship canal.

Mr. Sutherland said that there were sixty miles of dredging on the route, of which about half had been completed. It would cost one and a half million dollars to complete the channel, upon which $6,000,000 had been spent to date. There were thirty-two million cubic yards to be excavated, and one-fourth of it ought to be done this year, or about eight or nine miles.

Mr. Tarte thought 13 or 14 miles ought to be done this year with the fine fleet of dredges now working. The channel would be completed throughout to a width of 250 feet and a depth of 30 feet. The dredge J. I. Tarte had last year dredged about two million yards, or as much as the other six dredges together.

During discussion of the same item the startling fact developed that there is under construction in the Government shipyard at Sorel a dredge to be called W. S. Fielding, which is to cost a round half million of dollars, although Mr. Earle showed the estimate of the cost last year was $300,000, with possibly $25,000 for extras. Moreover, she was to have been finished in June next. Mr. Sutherland had no explanation to offer as to how the cost of this dredge came to be boosted by another $200,000.

The committee voted $100,000 for Quebec harbor improvements.

VERY PLEASANT.

Because it makes the digestion of good, nourishing food easy, Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is prescribed by physicians for wasting diseases. It cleanses the blood and system of impurities and creates firm flesh. Pleasant to take, and agreeable to weak stomachs.

You can try it. FREE.

Every mother who sends us her address on a post card will receive a generous free sample—enough for eight meals—of

Nestlé's Food

LEEMING, MILES & CO.,
MONTREAL.

The sum of $50,000 was voted for the improvement of Port Arthur, the plan being to deepen the waterfront to twenty-one feet.

An appropriation of $30,000 was taken for dredging the mouth of the Kaministiqua River, the plan being to render the stream available for shipping for ten miles from its mouth, the total cost to be $100,000.

After considerable discussion the item of $5,000 for St. Joseph wharf on Lake Huron was allowed to pass on the understanding that there would be an engineer's report before a dollar was spent.

Cricketer Commits Suicide.

London, May 20.—Arthur Shrewsbury, one of the best known English cricketers, committed suicide yesterday at Gedling, near Nottingham. He had been a victim of despondency as a result of protracted ill health.

BASEBALL TUESDAY.

The Eastern League.

Providence ...... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 3—4
Toronto .... 1 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—3

Three-base hit—Shannon. Two-base hits—Yerkes, Cogan. Sacrifice hits—Kuhns, Downey 2, Wolfe. Stolen bases—Shannon, Miller, White, Carr. Hit by pitcher—Connor. Struck out—By Wolfe 6 (Wagner, Shannon, Crisham, Stafford 2, Cogan), by Yerkes 3 (Massey, Toft, Wolfe). Bases on balls—Off Yerkes 1 (Massey), off Wolfe 3 (Wagner, Yerkes 2). Double-play—Downey to Massey. Left on bases—Toronto 8, Providence 7. Time—1.25. Umpire—Kelly.

R.H.E.
Baltimore ....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—1 4 3
Newark ....1 0 0 0 0 3 0 0 0—4 9 1

Batteries—Flater, Souders and Fuller; Moriarity and Shea. Umpires—Swartwood and Latham. Attendance—750.

R.H.E.
Buffalo ....1 0 3 0 1 0 1 0 *—6 7 2
Worcester .. ....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 1—3 5 4

Batteries—Hooker and Shaw; Applegate and McAuley. Umpire—Shannon. Attendance—2482.

R.H.E.
Rochester ....0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0—2 10 4
Jersey City ......0 3 0 0 1 0 0 0 1—5 4 1

Batteries—McAleese and Evers; Barnett and McManus. Umpire—Brown. Attendance—407.

National League Scores.

At Philadelphia— R.H.E.
St. Louis ....0 0 0 1 0 1 1 0 1—4 7 2
Philadelphia .....0 0 0 4 0 0 0 2 *—6 10 0

Batteries—McFarland and Ryan; Mitchell and Dooln. Umpire—O'Day. Attendance—2175.

At Brooklyn— R.H.E.
Brooklyn ....0 0 1 0 0 0 1 1 *—3 10 2
Cincinnati .... ..0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 0—2 7 6

Batteries—Evans and Ritter; Poole and Bergen. Umpire—Moran. Attendance—2200.

At New York— R.H.E.
New York ....0 1 1 0 0 0 1 1 *—4 10 0
Pittsburg ....0 1 0 2 0 0 0 0 0—3 14 0

Batteries—Phillippi and Smith; Taylor, Mathewson, Warner. Umpire—Emslie. Attendance—7252.

American League Results.

At St. Louis— R.H.E.
St. Louis ....0 0 1 0 0 0 0 3 0—4 9 5
Philadelphia .....0 2 2 0 0 2 0 1 0—7 11 1

Batteries—Powell and Sugden; Waddell and Schreck. Umpire—Sheridan. Attendance—5100.

At Detroit— R.H.E.
Boston ....3 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—3 6 3
Detroit ....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2—2 6 2

Batteries—Dineen and Criger; Mullin and McAllister. Umpire—O'Loughlin. Attendance—2840.

At Cleveland— R.H.E.
Cleveland ....1 0 2 0 0 0 0 6 *—9 12 3
Washington .....1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 3 2

Batteries—Wright and Bemis; Orth and Clarke. Umpire—Connolly. Attendance—2080.

250 PERSONS HOMELESS.

Fire Has Devastated the Town of Little Bay, Newfoundland — Lumbering Section of Appleton Destroyed.

St. John's, Nfld., May 20.—Fire has devastated the town of Little Bay, where a large copper mine is being worked, three churches, with the clergymen's residences; the mining companies' stores, the Government buildings, and forty dwellings were destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $50,000.

Two hundred and fifty persons are homeless, and relief is being forwarded by the authorities.

Another fire destroyed the lumbering section of Appleton. The mills, much sawn timber and other property were consumed.

AN EMPIRE TARIFF.

Lord Rosebery Speaks of Mr. Chamberlain's Latest Plan.

London, May 20.—In a speech at Burnley, Lancashire, last night, Lord Rosebery, referring to Mr. Chamberlain's speech at Birmingham, on May 15, in which the Colonial Secretary made an appeal for trade reciprocity within the British Empire, said that, before the tariffs were changed, the colonies ought to be represented in the Government of the country, and he did not think that that idea was so impracticable as it was sometimes considered.

He did not regard free trade as a part of the "sermon on the mount," but the question arose, whether it would be wise, without long and deep consideration, to change the fiscal system under which Great Britain had achieved her commercial success.

Lord Rosebery dealt with Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's scheme in a very judicial manner, being careful neither to approve nor condemn it, but, on the whole, showing that he had no great sympathy with it.

SINCLAIR'S AD SINCLAIR'S AD.

Ladies' Fancy Neck Ruffs

We have just received a German maker's set of samples in Ladies' Fancy Silk Neck Ruffs. These include Forty-one different styles of Ruffs in Blacks, Black and White, White and Black, White, Cream and Champagne. We mark these samples ⅓ less than regular prices from $2.00 to $12.50 each.

Dress Linen Batistes

These are among the most popular Wash Goods for Ladies' Summer Dresses and are shown in very handsome embroidered effects from 25c to 65c yd.

LINEN WASH WAISTS

Beautifully made in styles that cannot be imitated by home made Waists are now being shown at prices from $1.00 to $4.00 each.

BLACK UNDERSKIRTS

We have just received another lot of our popular priced Ladies' Black Sateen Underskirts to sell at $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, and $2.00.

FANCY PARASOLS

This season's Fancy Parasols are decidedly pretty and are shown in a great variety of styles from $1.00 to $5.00 each.

SEE OUR STYLES IN

Ladies' Silk Waists,

at $3.00, $4.00, and $5.00 each.

D. V. SINCLAIR & CO.

Non-Jury Sittings.

On Monday next the non-jury sittings of the High Court of Justice will commence here, presided over by Justice Britten. There will be a number of cases to be adjudicated upon.

ALL DRUGGISTS WARRANT EVERY BOTTLE.

If troubled with rheumatism, give Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. It will not cost you a cent if it does no good. One application will relieve the pain. It also cures sprains and bruises in one-third the time required by any other treatment. Cuts, burns, frostbites, quinsy, pains in the side and chest, glandular and other swellings are quickly cured by applying it. Every bottle warranted. Price 25 and 50 cents. For sale by all druggists.

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

A New Church at Foxboro.

Foxboro is making great improvements within its borders this spring. Besides several new houses, a new Presbyterian church is being erected, which promises to be an attractive building and a credit to the village. The foundations are now completed. The Presbyterians are entering upon the task with great enthusiasm. We wish them every success in their undertaking.

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

We have just received a big lot of Empire Shirt Waists for boys 6 to 12 years of age that we are selling at 39 cents each. These garments have stiff collars and cuffs, and are in the regular way worth almost double the price asked. We have also a lot of boys' blouses as low as 25 cents each. Quick & Robertson, Belleville's Best Clothiers.

GORMAN'S

THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE

Our large, bright, new stock of reliable Foot wear is daily making many new friends for THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE.

Just step in some time, when out shopping, you will also say that our shoes are deserving of THEIR GREAT POPULARITY.

Come in any time we will be pleased to serve you.

You will find here excellet lines of Ladies' Lace Boots selling at $4.00, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Our men's department is well stocked with stylish, comfortable, durable boots, in various leathers, selling at $5.00, $3.75, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Daily Intelligencer.

TIMELY TOPICS.

Still the rain keeps off.

• • •

Weather talk is dry stuff these days.

• • •

Picton people think they can coax the Fifteenth to their little town on Dominion Day. The boys might better stay and do a few stunts at home.

• • •

Things have got to such a pass in France that, in order to stop "race suicide" the Government is seriously considering the giving of decorations to mothers of families. They beat that in French Canada. There the father of twelve living children can claim 100 acres of land from the Government.

• • •

Two Colorado editors fired thirteen shots at each other, and the only damage was a slight scratch on one fellow's leg. They ought to fall back on bricks.

• • •

Bad weather, this, for stand-up collars and starched goods.

• • •

They say that was a warm entertainment in the local theatre last night.

• • •

Now is the time to kill your burdocks. All you have to do is to pull them from the ground and hit them with an axe.

• • •

Before they come back, the Minstrels should have a swim in the Picton public bath. Then they'll be able to give our Council some tips.

• • •

The weary, hunted look on many a man's face these days is not caused altogether by a bad conscience. It's a case of

HOUSE CLEANING.

Sing a song of cleaning house,
  Pocketful of nails;
Four and twenty dust-pans,
  Scrubbing-brooms and pails;
When the door is opened,
  Wife begins to sing:

"Just help me move this wordrobe
    here,
And hang this picture won't you,
    dear?
And tack this carpet by the door,
And stretch this one a little more.
And drive this nail and screw this screw;
And here's a job I have for you—
The cupboard door will never catch,
I think you'll have to fix the latch;
And, oh, while you're about it, John,
I wish you'd put the cornice on;
And hang this curtain; when you're done
I'll hand you up the other one;
This box has got to have a hinge
Before I can put on the fringe;
And won't you mend that broken chair?
I'd like a hook put right up there;
The wardrobe door must have a knob;
And there's another little job—
I really hate to ask you, dear;
But could you fix a bracket here?"
And on it goes when these are through,
And this and that and those to do,
Ad infinitum and more, too,
  All in a merry jingle,
And isn't that enough to make
  A man wish he was single? (Almost)

• • •

Carnegie has been talking again, criticizing Britain, and, as usual, newspapers and individuals are throwing heavy chunks of bad language at him. And the little man, himself, of course, is vastly pleased. Why don't they leave the ugly little galvanized Yankee alone. If it were not for the advertising he gets he would soon be as big a back number as ex-President Cleveland. He has nothing but ill-gotten money and impertinence to keep him from sinking into oblivion. But he probably pays the correspondents to cable his speeches to America, and so long as he does that Yankee papers will contain the jaundiced views. But Canadian papers should leave them out.

• • •

The SULLIVAN TIMBER DEAL.
(London Free Press.)

A more damning statement regarding the administration of the public domain by the Ross Government than that wrung from the Deputy Commissioner of Crown Lands of Ontario, on the public accounts committee, has seldom been made in Ontario. It was made in reference to the Sullivan-Shannon timber deal, and showed that the transaction was put through not only without public competition, but without an order-in-council, and merely on the personal authority of the Minister, Hon. E. J. Davis.

• • •

The Free Press should remember that Stratton, who was left in charge of the protesting of Opposition seats, swore he knew nothing of an election fund, or who subscribed to it, though some $18,000 or $20,000 was deposited in protesting some 18 or 20 elections; hence the question has been pertinently put: "Where did the money come from?" Does not such deals as the Sullivan-Shannon timber limits furnish an answer? But they won't tell.

• • •

A sensible man. The Rev. Dr. Robt. S. McArthurs preached a sermon in the Calvary Baptist Church on the 18th inst., in which he denounced in unmeasured terms the "Savagery in Russia and in the United States." Russia, in her treatment of the Jews, and the United States in the lynching of negroes. He drew this distinction, however, that in the case of Russia the Greek Church approved and sanctioned the persecution of the Jews, while in the United States respectable people abhorred the burning and lynching of negroes. In winding up his discourse he declared "that he had himself been born under a corner of the British flag and that while he loved the American flag with every drop of blood in his body, there was no flag in the world so fair to men of all colors and all faiths as the British flag."

• • •

The Marcil Club in Montreal have notified the Hon. Israel Tarte that a motion will be made to strike his name off the list of honorary Presidents. Tarte replied that he will second the motion. The breach widens.

• • •

We are informed that a mistake crept into our report of the conference which took place last Friday night between certain members of the Gas Company and the City Council. Mr. Dolan is there quoted as saying that the price of fuel gas, in case he takes over the works, will be $1.35 per 1000 feet. That, Mr. Dolan tells us, is incorrect. He will agree to guarantee that the maximum price of fuel gas shall be not more than $1.25 per 1000 feet. At present $1.50 is the figure. The present price of illuminating gas is $1.80. Mr. Dolan will guarantee to fix the maximum price at $1.75. It does not necessarily follow, of course, that the prices quoted will be always charged. They are simply the limit, past which the Company would not be allowed to go.

• • •

In case the Council submits a by-law to the people, looking to the guaranteeing of the interests on the Gas Company's mortgages by the city, and the ratepayers ratify the said by-law, the new lessees of the Gas works will, we are informed, take steps to at once extend the fuel gas system, so that those who want it, and can show that there is a reasonable prospect of its paying the company, will be served. This will, we feel sure, be hailed as a welcome thing by many people in this city.

• • •

Sir Gilbert Parker seems to have tackled a live question in the Imperial House of Commons on May 1st, when he presented a petition from the women of Birmingham, numbering 75,000 signatures, in favor of the passage of the Bill legalizing marriage with a deceased wife's sister. Sir Gilbert's speech in support of the Bill, as reported in The Times, is a masterly effort, replete with facts and figures. The colonies, he said, which represented 12,000,000 of honest-living, well-thinking people in the Empire, had affirmed the principle. In concluding he said: "The Bill asked for relief from disability; it asked for freedom from stigma. He believed it was in the interests of the poor. He believed it was in the interests of the children. It was Imperial in its significance. He believed it was in keeping with the modern spirit of Christianity, which broadened its sympathies and narrowed its phylacteries every day. (Hear, hear.) He believed it would conduce to domestic integrity and tend to widen the virtues of humanity. He moved the second reading. (Cheers.)

• • •

By many people in this country the matter is looked at in this way:—Suppose a man is left a widower with a family of young children. Would not he, by marrying his dead wife's sister, be reasonably sure of better care and more affection for his children from their aunt than from a total stranger? How does it strike you?

• • •

Before that eminent man, Sir William Mulock, throws a fit, somebody ought to relieve his mind in regard to militarism in Canada. He seems to be afraid that we're looking for a chance to order out the reserves and precipitate a war with Russia or some other first-class power. Be aisy, Bill; this is a case of defence, not offence.

A Cooling Drink . . .

That is what so many people are wanting these warm days.

And that is what you will get if you will try one of our ICE CREAM SODAS.

J. ARTHUR MARSH.

Special Great Mid=Season Sale

Beginning Saturday, May 16th, 1903.

Just a Moment, Don't Fail to Read.

The dollar rules the commercial world—to a very great extent. Prompt dollars bring us merchandise that enable us to sell to you at extraordinary prices. To prepare for a further new stock of Summer goods, we find we can clear off a quantity of spring materials, new ideas and fresh goods are continually being introduced. We must have them. We therefore invite you to this Great Sale where you will find that facts speak with greater force than elongated statements. So come and see for yourself. The goods and prices do the talking.

A Few of the Lines

Men's English Blue Serge Suits, all sizes 34 to 40 at -	$3.50
Men's Spring Suits, Dark Grey Halifax Tweed, made single breasted with French Facings, worth $7.00, our price -	$4.00
Men's spring Suits, Black or Blue twill serge suits, made single breasted with French facings, worth $8.00 our price -	$4.50

The finest and nobbiest assortment of Boys' two and three piece suits in the city. All sizes and at low prices.

The Globe Clothing House

Up-to-date Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers.

390 FRONT STREET. LOOK FOR THE GLOBE OVER THE DOOR.

COULD NOT WALK,

A YOUNG LADY TELLS THE TORTURES SHE SUFFERED FROM RHEUMATISM.

Miss Myrtle Major, Hartland, N. B., is one of the thousands who have proved that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cure rheumatism. Miss Major says: "I suffered from the trouble for nearly a year. I had the advice of a doctor and took his medicine, but it did not help me. The trouble was located chiefly in my ankles, and the pain I suffered at times was intense. As a matter of fact at times I was quite unable to walk across the room, and for some six months I was confined to the house. I used liniments and other medicines prescribed for rheumatism, but they did me no good. Then some of my friends urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I acted on their advice and before I had used three boxes I began to feel better. I took nine boxes of the pills altogether, and before I finished the last box not a trace of the trouble remained. It is now nearly two years since I took the pills and as there has not been a symptom of the trouble since it proves that the pills make permanent cures."

Rheumatism is a disease of the blood and can only be cured by treating it through the blood. That is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills always cure this trouble. Good blood makes every organ in the body strong and healthy, and as every dose of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make pure, rich blood, it follows that they cure such troubles as anaemia, neuralgia, indigestion, heart trouble, kidney ailments, erysipelas, the after effects of la grippe and fevers, etc. They also relieve and cure the ailments from which so many women constantly suffer. See that you get the genuine pills with the full name, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all medicine dealers or sent post-paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by writing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CHEAP LIGHT COATS.

You can get a nice light coat to suit you at the Oak Hall. Why do you go around with that heavy coat when you can buy a nice light one for $1.50 to $3.00? Warm weather is here early, but it is here and you may as well prepare for it at once.

The rarest of all wild beasts is the rhinoceros, and the only one in captivity is in the menagerie of Ringling Bros.' World's Greatest Shows. Naturalists estimate this specimen as beyond price, and scientists, explorers and students have come from all parts of the world to inspect the curious beast. The educational value of a visit to this menagerie cannot be overstated.

Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

Young courage and old caution make a strong pair.

Max O'Rell on "Discontent."

MAX O'RELL never neglects to say a good word for the ladies whenever opportunity serves. At the same time, he does not shut his eyes to their faults, but is only "a little blind," as witness what he says about "The Discontented Woman":

"We all know that woman, not unkind, not exactly sour, but sad, depressed and depressing, who is well off and might enjoy life, but who looks as if there was not one pleasure left in the world to make it worth living in.

"She may feel ever so well, she will never confess it. She hates to be told that she looks well. She thinks you are wanting in sympathy. She loves to be pitied, and has no objection to being called 'Poor Mrs. A.!' Yet she is very susceptible, and resents any attentions that are paid to other people in her presence. She was jealous of her sisters when a girl; now she is jealous of her children, jealous of the ladies who call, jealous of her husband's secretary or typewriter. She has no reason for being jealous, she knows it, but it is a habit, and she likes to keep her hand at it.

"She is fond of calling on sick people, and, as she has had every mortal disease or indisposition you care to name, she gives the people whom she visits her own experience of their disease, and they have to listen to all the minute details of the sufferings she had to go through. She hopes that you will get better.

"Meanwhile she tells you of all the people she knows who have died of the disease with which you are afflicted, but reassures you by stating that some people have been known to recover.

"She is the town-crier of bad news. If there is a sad event of which she hears early, she immediately orders a carriage and goes on a round of visits to announce it. When her friends see her arrive unexpectedly they look at each other and say, 'We shall hear some bad news.'

"She is a prophet of ill-omen. She loves the sad, and revels in it. It is her life. She has not a cheerful feature about her. She is a hair in your soup, a crumb in your bed, an unmitigated bore.

"She never enjoys what she has, but spends her life regretting what she does not or cannot have. If she lose a £4 bill and her husband says to her, 'Never mind; here's another,' she goes on sighing and whining, for she thinks that if she had not lost that £4 she would now have £8.

"There is no cheering her up, and when a real misfortune befalls her you feel inclined to exclaim: 'Good, serves her right, now she has something worth crying over.' But this seldom happens, if ever, for it is a remarkable fact that this kind of woman is the very one who never has real troubles—except those of her own manufacture."

Alleged Canadian Jests.

A WRITER in the "Pall Mall Gazette," who claims to have had much to do with colonial newspapers and colonial letters, has collected therefrom a number of what he chooses to call "Sea-borne Jests." Canada seems to supply him with the most material, but either he has evolved most of his Canadian jokes out of his own inner consciousness or else they have been curiously refracted in passing through the prism of an English mind. In any event some of them would never be looked upon as jokes in this country. For example: "Why does Dicky Ducky want to be M. P.?" asks the jester of a far Western paper. "Because he now has one P too many," is the answer, which, as the "Pall Mall" writer says, it is tolerably certain made dozens of big men in miners' boots laugh till they bent like jack-knives when that inscrutable conundrum was first let loose in British Columbia. Here are some better attempts—the alleged sayings of a ten-year-old boy, who is credited to Toronto:

I.—Teacher's question: "What is grass?" Boy's answer: "What you keep off."

II.—Question: "Who was the first man?" Answer: "Wolfe!" Reply: "Great Sakes! It was Adam!" Repartee: "Oh, well, if you count in foreigners!"

III.—Question: "What were the Greek marriage customs?" Answer: Ev'ry man had one wife, which they called monotony!"

Another story told by the "Pall Mall" writer is that of a little doctor's from a reserve in the North-West Territories. The doctor in question was a moonias (Anglice, "green") graduate from the East, and had just been appointed to look after the health of the Indians dwelling there or thereabouts. On his first visit to the reserve he found that everybody was suffering from a mysterious disease, the symptoms of which were very obscure. All the patients got a box of bread pills or a bottle of colored water—it is best to be on the safe side, and faith has cured many a mysterious epidemic among Indians—with the exception of the last comer. "This Indian," said he, laying his hand on his stomach, which was a chief's, "when he drink cold water feel cold pain here." Then the agent remembered that the doctor's predecessor had prescribed a bottle of good port in the hard case of an old squaw suffering from "the grippe," complicated with no-flour-for-six-months. We confess we fail to see much of a joke lurking in this story.

Too Bad.

"YES, I have watched her career with a great deal of interest."

"She is a brilliant woman, isn't she?"

"She has been. I can't say that she is. As a girl she developed remarkable precocity. It was not so much in her literary proficiency that she displayed her qualities, as in that wide sense of her ultimate mission, in the broad conceptions she so early entertained of the crying needs of our social system. When only eleven, she had written a striking paper on sex relationships. At thirteen, her monograph of "The True Prerogatives of Woman" had attracted wide attention. At fifteen, her essay on "The Silent Vote" marked an epoch, and when, at twenty-two, she delivered her "Motherhood of Man," it became evident that a new force had risen. What a pity that now, after all, her life should be a failure."

"But how can it be a failure? What has she done?"

"Why, the miserable thing has gone and got married!"

Sunlight Soap will not injure your blankets or harden them. It will make them soft, white and fleecy.

THE WEATHER.

To-day's Probs—

Moderate to fresh south winds, fine and continued warm to-day and on Thursday.

To-day's Temperature

As Registered by The Intelligencer's Guaranteed Thermometer:

8 a.m.	72
12 m.	82
2 p.m.	86
3 p.m.	88

REIGN OF The Leather Bag

The Leather Bag in its many forms of varied attractiveness is everywhere in evidence this year and promises to hold its popularity for some time to come.

THE BAG IS THE RAGE

There are SOUND REASONS for this; it is not a mere fad. Our goods are right in line with the spirit of the times.

Angus McFee.
Jeweler & Optician
310 Front St.

P.S.—In the matter of the new Blouse Pin Sets we show everything that is "taking" in the larger centers.

There is not a foreign water that one of the MAGI Caledonia Waters does not advantageously replace for either as a medicinal or table use. J. J. McLaughlin, sole Agent, Toronto. Sold everywhere.

Specials in Millinery

Sale of Sailor Hats.

We bought too many.
15 doz. cleared at
HALF PRICE.
White and Colored.
ALL NEW.
Also some very choice Dress Hats just received.
GET FIRST CHOICE.

MISS IRWIN
Millinery and Corset Specialist

Curse —OF— DRINK

CURED BY

COLONIAL REMEDY

No taste. No Odor. Can be given in a glass of water, tea, or coffee, without patient's knowledge.

Colonial Remedy will cure or destroy the diseased appetite for alcoholic stimulants, whether the patient is a confirmed inebriate, "tippler," social drinker or drunkard. Impossible for anyone to have an appetite for alcoholic liquors after using Colonial Remedy.

Indorsed by Members of the W.C.T.U.

Mrs. Moore, Superintendent of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Ventura, Cal., writes: "I have tested Colonial Remedy on very obstinate drunkards, and the cures have been many. In many cases the Remedy was given secretly. I cheerfully recommend and endorse Colonial Remedy. Members of our Union are delighted to find a practical and economical treatment to aid us in our temperance work."

Sold by druggists everywhere and by mail.

Price $1. Trial package free by writing or calling on Mrs. M. A. Cowan (for years member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union), 2204 St. Catherine St., Montreal.

Sold in Belleville by F. Chas. Clarke, Front St. and D. M. Waters, Bridge St.

Those who live in yesterday's wigwam are always a day behind.

Month after Month a cold sticks, and seems to tear holes in your throat. Are you aware that even a stubborn and long-neglected cold is cured with Allen's Lung Balsam? Cough and worry no longer.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M.D., C.M., M.R.C.S., England.

Office and Residence — Corner of Bridge and George streets — three streets East of Post Office.

DR. J. F. MATHER

Has removed his office to Pinnacle St., three doors north of Hotel Quinte. my29-6mw

LEGAL.

WILLS & WRIGHT,

Barristers, Solicitors, Notary Public, &c., Belleville.
Office—8 Campbell Street.

MALCOLM WRIGHT.
J. FRANKLIN WILLS.

Money to Loan at Lowest Rates.

W. C. MIKEL, B. C. L.,
Barrister, &c.

Solicitor for the City of Belleville.
Office—Metropolitan Block, Corner Front and Campbell Streets.

PORTER & CARNEW,

Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc.
Offices — Robertson Block, East Front St., Belleville, Ont.
'Phone 87.
E. G. PORTER. WM. CARNEW.

WILLIAM N. PONTON,

Barrister-at-law, Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge Street, Belleville.
Money to Loan — Private Funds. Solicitor Sun and Hastings Savings and Loan Company of Ontario.

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE,
Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.

Barrister, Solicitor, Conveyancer, Etc. Office, McAnnany Building, corner Front and Bridge Sts., Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security.
Charges moderate.

INSURANCE.

Fire Insurance.

Guardian	Est'd 1821
The North America,	Est'd 1792
Quebec,	Est'd 1818

City, Town and Village Property insure at lowest rates.

R. W. ADAMS. Agent.
Office opposite Post Office.

PERSONS desiring Life assurance cannot do better than consult

W. J. THOMSON,

who is the Agent for the following well-known and old established Assurance Companies:
ROYAL. ALLIANCE.
OCEAN ACCIDENT STANDARD LIFE
Office at Rathbun Co., Bridge St. oce-d&w

THOS. STEWART,
Insurance and Commission Agent.

Agent for the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Scottish Union Nations Ins. Co.
BRIDGE ST.

FIRE, LIFE & ACCIDENT INSURANCE

At Lowest Rates The Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Perth Mutual on farm and city property. Also money to loan at 4½ per cent. upwards.
JAMES A. CHISHOLM,
Office Ashley Block, - Front st., Belleville

Money Saved is Money Earned

can earn you money by saving ⅓ for you in your Fire Insurance.
The Anglo-American Fire Ins. Co
The Merchants Fire Ins. Co.
The Equity Fire Ins. Co.
Are all strong Canadian stock companies and insure Farm and City Property at lower rate than other stock companies Call and see me before placing your fire insurance.
Office—Bridge St., same entrance Quinte Laundry, Belleville.
H. FREEMAN KETCHESON.

Fire, Life & Plate Glass Insurance.

Liverpool & London & Globe of England.
Waterloo Mutual, of Waterloo, Ont.
Lloyd's, Plate Glass.
Home Life Association, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile.

Farm and City Property insured in First-class Reliable Companies and at lowest current rates. Losses promptly settled. Land valuation, and transact general Real Estate business and sale or purchase and renting of property. Appraiser for the Hastings Loan & Investment Society. Money to Loan.
W. P. HUDSON, Office above Rathbun's office, cor. Bridge and Pinnacle Sts., opposite Postoffice and Hotel Quinte, Belleville,
'Phone 168.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. G. NORTHROP,
Issuer of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville, Ont.

CHAUNCEY ASHLEY,
Issuer of Marriage Licenses.
Private Office, Bridge St., Belleville, opposite the Post Office.
Residence, first house east of W. W. Chown's Mfg. Co., Station St.
Appointments made.

The wildcat's teeth are close to its purr.

Lost chances never leave any trail.

FERROL

Reinforced Cod Liver Oil

Analysis shows that Cod Liver Oil contains traces of Iron and Phosphorus, but not in sufficient quantity to be of any practical value.

In FERROL the Oil is reinforced by the addition of sufficient Iron and a modicum of Phosphorus. The result is a well-balanced medicinal food absolutely unequalled for the treatment and cure of all Lung Troubles, Bronchitis, Nervous Prostration, Anæmia, Scrofula, General Debility and wasting diseases generally.

A Perfect Emulsion of Iron, Cod Liver Oil and Phosphorus.

Sample and literature free.

75c. a Bottle. At all Druggists, or from

THE FERROL COMPANY, Limited
Toronto, Ont.

Laboratory and Offices: 124 King Street West

"Come, Little Chick! Come!"

The new Parisian cry or catchword, "Viens, Poupoule! Viens!"—"Come, little chick! Come!"—has taken Paris by storm, and resounds day and night from the heights of Montmartre to the plains of Montparnasse. It came with the first day of spring, and bids fair to flourish until the fall of leaves in October. Like the cake-walk, it has become an obsession. It is nonsensical, idiotic and infantile, but, as uttered and sung by concert hall artists and by the garroches of the boulevards, it has swing and rhythm, and has caught the fancy of the populace. This poultry-like refrain is usually pronounced with loving tenderness, and the last invocation, "Viens!"—"Come!" is chanted with languishing emphasis and passion. Thousands of tourists will before long be on their way to Paris, and this irrepressible refrain will be the first note to strike their ears as they emerge from the railway station. From time beyond memory there has always been some dominating popular street cry in the French capital.

Visitors during the last twenty years will recollect the famous couplets invented and sung by Paulus during the Boulanger fever, when "Revenant de la Revue," sung by students and agitators, nearly led to a coup d'etat. It was the phrase "Oh! Quel malheur que d'avoir un gendre!"—"What a misfortune to have a son-in-law!"—that ruined President Grevy when he connived at the agency for corrupt transactions directed by his son-in-law, Mr. Wilson. The present street cry, is, however, neither political nor revolutionary. It is simply a cry of joviality and pleasure, and as such is an excellent exponent of the wholesome state of the public mind.

The genesis and development of the prevailing catchword are significant. "Viens Pou-poule!" occurs as a form of endearment in the novels of Paul de Kock and in the comedies of Scribe. It is the return to the patriarchal sentimentalities and fads of 1830. The song first made its appearance at the music halls of the boulevards during the reviews of last January. On Mardi Gras and on Mi-Careme it burst forth spontaneously in the streets as a national refrain. The author of the new song is M. Trebitsch, a young sentimental poet of Montmartre and disciple of M. Gustave Charpentier, the composer of the popular Parisian opera, "Louise." M. Trebitsch has also written some bright and witty military songs, such as "Ous'qu'est Saint-Nazaire?" which are the delight of the barracks. With his "Viens, Poupoule," however, M. Trebitsch suddenly became famous. When questioned as to how he managed to hit so palpably the popular fancy, M. Trebitsch said: "One day an artist friend of mine returned from London and told me that he had heard there one of the most catching songs imaginable. It was a German ditty by Herr Adolf Spanh, called "Komme, Caroline!" It occurred to me to adapt the song to the French ear, and after reading Paul de Kock I decided to give it the Parisian title 'Viens, Poupoule! Viens.' Then, together with M. Christine, who shared my enthusiasm, a new song was constructed with over fifty variations, and this is what caught the Parisian taste with such unexpected success."

The new song admits of all sorts of "gags" and interpolations, very much as was the case with the once popular refrain of "Tara-ra-ra-boom-de-ay," that equally nonsensical ditty that a dozen years ago caught the public fancy in New York and London. Some of the couplets of "Viens, Pou-poule!" are addressed by a young lover to his sweetheart. Others are put in mouths of Deputies after a stormy sitting of the Chamber. Deputies turn to their wives and say, "Come along, my little chicken ("pou-poule")—let's come away!" Other couplets refer to Cabinet Ministers, others are purely local skits at popular actors, actresses, authors, writers, professors, and men or women prominently before the public. A couplet that has just been cut by the censorship referred to President Loubet, who after the tedious ceremonial of a State reception at the Elysees Palace, was made to say to Mme. Loubet, "Viens, Pou-poule! Let's get out of this and be off to bed!" As may readily be imagined, Parisian vivacity has applied this phrase of "Viens, Poupoule!" to every imaginable situation. Students and frequenters of boulevard cafes have taken up the theme with a vengeance. In the underground railway, at the race courses, on tops of omnibuses, at the theaters, at the restaurants, and, indeed, everywhere in Paris, one is hailed with this irrepressible cry of the hour, "Viens, Pou-poule! Viens!"

His Sense of Humor.

The board of school supervisors for the Walnut Ridge district was examining an applicant who desired the position of instructor. The young man had satisfied them of his knowledge of geography, arithmetic and grammar. At this point the chairman of the board drew a magazine from his pocket, peered intently into it, and remarked:

"Well, young feller, now we'll see whether you're up in the English language. What's the meanin' o' incomprehensubble?"

"Incomprehensubble?" faltered the applicant. "Why, incomprehensubble means the proximity of the corollary to the molecular ingenuity."

"Uh, huh! An' what does disintegrate mean?"

"Disintegrate means the general consanguinity of the hyperbole when affiliated with the zodiac."

"Jest so," commented the chairman, nodding sagely at the other members. "Now, what is the definin' o' subliminal?"

"Subliminal is when the overplus goes into perihelion with the deductiveness of the instability and produces transfixity of the frangible protoplasms."

"You'll do," announced the chairman.

The candidate, overjoyed, shook hands all round, and left to gather his belongings and arrange to move into the neighborhood.

"Purty smart feller, that," observed one member of the board.—"Judge."

Wife—I am going down town this morning to try and match a piece of silk. Husband—Very well, my dear; I'll tell the cook to save some dinner for you, and I'll put the children to bed myself.—"Tit-Bits."

The Signature Free.

A Genoa paper tells this delightful story of the enterprise of the Duke of Veragua:—While the descendant of Christopher Columbus visited Chicago he inquired at a telegraph office the charge for a telegram of ten words to the City of Columbus.

"Fifteen cents," answered the official, "not including the signature, which is wired free."

Whereupon the Duke wired: "Mayor, Columbus: Shall visit your city next Monday or Tuesday." And he signed it: "Christobay Colon de Toledo y Larreategui de la Cerda Ramirez de Baquedanoy, Gante Almirante y Adelantodo, Mayor de las Judias, Marques de Jamaica, Ducque de Veragua y de la Vega, Grande de Espana, Senator del Reine, Caballero de la insigne orden del Toison d'Oro, Gran Cruz de la Conception de Villaviciosa, Gentil Hombre de Camara del Rey de Espana."

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE'S

English Breakfast Tea

FRAGRANT AND DELICIOUS.

IN HAF-POUND LEAD PACKETS —FULL WEIGHT

20, 25 & 30 cts
per packet—
40, 50 & 60 cts
per lb.

The choicest growths of India and Ceylon. A sample free for the asking.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

BRIDGE ST. BRANCH STORE, FRONT ST.

A Cheerful Prophecy.

THE animal that cannot be trained to keep its wits about it on the approach of a motor car must disappear. Its stupidity, filth, sloth, fear of everything and useless size prove to the most conservative that it must go. The horse that will not stand a motor car may be the delight of its owner, but it is a public nuisance and a public danger, and ought to be shot like a mad dog. Horsemen have no right to bring unmanageable brutes into the public highways, to the public danger, and it is time this elementary justice should be recognized. The motor is going to become the means of locomotion for all light transit, and by the ordinary roads as they exist to-day. It is the pedestrian and the horse that have got to give way. The horse in traffic, if he chooses to bolt, is uncontrollable. The motor, from the lightest bicycle to the heaviest car, is perfectly controllable, occupies half the space, and travels now through the congested streets at double and treble the speed of any horse-drawn vehicle. The only thing the two have in common is that at times they both refuse to go.

The unobservant talk of the accidents that would happen. The accidents will be a great deal fewer in number. A conclusive proof of this, to any one with any sense, is the fact that in the thousand miles tour no one, I believe, was hurt, though the roads were lined with spectators. In the race from Paris to Berlin, three days, and the tour around Italy, ten days, but two children were killed, the result entirely of their own carelessness or that of their parents. Suppose, for a moment, that in France a hundred and ten teams, or, rather, droves, of horses—there were a hundred and ten motors—ranging from fifty in a bunch down to two—this was the horse-power of the machines—had been let loose and driven at top speed for three days on the public roads. Will anyone tell me that thousands of people would not have been killed, that hundreds of drivers would not have lost their lives as well? But that would have been described as sport. . . . The only danger to be feared from the motor car is to its own driver, the only drawback is its own imperfection. Read the reports of automobile accidents: proportionately, these are far fewer than from any other form of locomotion, and in nine cases out of ten the accident occurs to the driver or the occupant of the car; in the tenth case it is owing to the stupidity or the carelessness of the person who gets in front. The average pedestrian has simply got to learn to keep out of the way, and that is the end of it.—Joseph Pennell in "Contemporary Review."

Bees as Fertilizers.

The bee as a fructifier has long been associated with successful fruit culture, but definite experiments to prove how far the apiary and the fruit farm would go altogether have only lately been undertaken. A very interesting test has been conducted by Mr. Cardell Williams, St. Erth, England, who lectures on bees and bee-keeping for the Cornwall Educational Council, conjointly with Mr. Mallge, head gardener to Mr. Hain, M.P., St. Erth. The relationship of bees to flowers has been tested and confirmed by another experiment, carried out at Messrs. Craze's nursing gardens, Polgrain, St. Erth. Peach houses, 300 feet long, with four tiers of peaches, served for the purpose of experiment. There was no outlet to enable the bees to have access to the outside fruit or flowers, as was the case in Mr. Hain's gardens. Water was placed in the house, and gardeners pursued their ordinary vocation without suffering any inconvenience. The bees were as energetic as if pursuing their calling out of doors. The result has been that the abundance of fruit set this year is quite abnormal—the best crop yet obtained. In former years there has been no lack of blossom, but a much smaller percentage of set fruit. Messrs. Craze, as a result of the experiment, have dispensed with camel-hair brushes and other methods of mixing pollen, and the bees are now allowed to do the work solely. In the strawberry, cucumber and other houses equally satisfactory results have been obtained. It is the opinion of those who have experimented that the increased yield of fruit obtained is sufficient compensation alone for the cost and trouble of bee-keeping, not to mention the honey yield which is obtained. The results of these experiments have been watched with interest in the southwest, and other gardeners and fruit-growers are adopting this method of fertilization.—English paper.

Some people read th' probabil'ties every day so's they'll be able to say "I just thought as much," in case th' weather don't agree with th' probabil'ties, which is of'en th' case.—Reflections of Uncle Ike.

Spoiled the Scene.

Romeo De Ranter was crossing a bridge when his attention was attracted by the shrieking of someone in the murky depths below him. It being quite dark, he could not see the person who was evidently in danger; but, guided by the calls for help, he rushed to the side of the bridge, poised for a moment on the railing, and leaped into the river, shouting:

"Keep up your courage, gir-rl! I will save yuh!"

Once in the water, he swam with steady strokes to her side and seized her in his strong clasp. There was but little current, and he called:

"Tell the stage-hands to shake her up a little! This scene will go bad from the front."

But the water remained calm, and he slowly dragged the dripping form of the young woman to land. With strenuous efforts he lifted her to the shore and clambered after her.

"That calcium man is rotten!" he growled. "I should have had the spotlight from the time I jumped."

Even when the people who had witnessed his feat rushed up to congratulate him on his bravery he would not listen to them, but strode off, muttering:

"And they didn't have anyone back of the set to throw up a bucket of water to make a good splash. Miserable stage-management! What is the drammer coming to, anyhow?"—"Judge."

FAITH AND SERVICE.

Rev. Louis Albert Banks, Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, New York.

Trust in the Lord and do good.—Psalms xxxvii., 3.

Trust and service go together. The man who believes nothing, who has no faith and confidence, is bankrupt of good cheer and courage in efforts to help others. No man is well fitted to do good until he trusts in the strength of an arm greater than his own, in the goodness of a heart upon which he may rest with perfect peace.

An elderly merchant in a western city was in sore trouble. He had one of those living sorrows which are infinitely harder to bear than the grief which death brings. He had a son who had been caught in the toils of strong drink. One Saturday night the father had been trying to help him and had failed. It seemed as though his heart would break.

At midnight he was still staying on in his office on the brink of despair. For two years he had been working and praying, and it seemed to him that he was to lose everything at last. Almost unconsciously he took up from his desk a paper lying there and his sad eyes fell upon Katrina Trask's little poem, and he read these words:—

> Lie down and sleep.
> Leave it with God to keep
> This sorrow which is part
> Now of thy heart.
> When thou dost wake,
> If still 'tis thine to take,
> Utter no wild complaint.
> Work waits thy hands,
> If thou shouldst faint
> God understands.

The words of the poet so met his desperate need that they aroused the merchant from the lethargy of despair that was settling down upon him, and he said out loud, "I will."

He went home and slept in peace. He arose the next morning, refreshed and full of power. It was the Sabbath, and setting himself to work with new devotion, his boy was brought to trust in the Saviour, and was redeemed from his sin that very day.

There are two thoughts suggested by our text, and by this story which I have told to illustrate it. The first I have already indicated; that is, that useful service most always has its foundation in personal faith in God. The man who trusts God is at peace; the man who is worried and fretted and desperately anxious cannot serve you much. He is too worried about his own affairs. It is the man whose heart is stayed on God, whose faith is sure and steadfast, who has an inexhaustible fountain of good cheer in his own soul, who can give you comfort and inspire your confidence in God when you are in trouble.

It is also true that only the man who trusts God has a proper appreciation of the desirability of serving others. The man who loves and trusts the Heavenly Father, by that very fact has his love and sympathy for his fellow-men deepened and made more sacred. He feels that he is not only helping his fellow-men, but is pleasing God, and is, in the only way he can, making some return for the infinite blessings and mercies of God to him.

The other thought suggested by our theme is that service is necessary in order that we may keep our faith and trust. We will not continue to get the joy and gladness which come from a living faith in God unless we do good. Trust is not given to us to fold up in a napkin and put away for a keepsake.

It was Paul's great joy as he neared the end of his life that he had "kept the faith." But he did not keep it by putting it away in the safe deposit vault of his own inner consciousness. He kept it by telling it to everybody he met on the street, by carrying it from land to land, and preaching it under every conceivable circumstance unto all sorts and conditions of men. And so the only way we can keep that kind of faith and trust in God that will be a fountain of good cheer and song in our hearts is by serving our fellow-men with unselfish love.

Mr. Justice Mathew of England is a man of such mild and kindly exterior, with such gentle voice and manner, that almost invariably he gives the impression of being a simple country gentleman rather than a profound lawyer. This was evidently the idea of a professional seller of painted birds, who some years ago met him in the neighborhood of the law courts, and, exhibiting one of his birds, asked him if he could tell to what species it belonged. The judge stopped, examined the bird with great care, pretended to admire the gaudy plumage, examined it again, and then remarked: "I do not think I have ever seen a bird exactly like this, but, judging from the old proverb that 'Birds of a feather flock together,' I should say it was a jailbird."

Far Reaching Influence.

"OLD-FASHIONED Indian stories, the dime novels of years back which were within the reach of all the boys, were an important factor in building up the great West," said a typical Westerner. "These novels used to circulate in a neighborhood till they had been read by every boy and had fallen to pieces through handling. They fired the ambition of the youngsters, set them to practising shooting and riding, and sent many of them to the West in search of adventures. Some soon returned to their homes, others became bad men and were killed in time, but the great mass of them, too proud to return home, created the vigorous, wideawake population of our Western States. I have talked to hundreds of our Western pioneers about the causes which brought them west, and a majority of them admit that dime novels had more to do with it than anything else."

ADVERTISING RATES

Measurement Nonpareil—12 lines to the inch.

Display advertisements, 10c per line.
Subsequent consecutive insertions, 5c.
Reading advertisements, 15c per line.
Preferred position, 20 per cent. advance upon ordinary or contract rates.
Minimum space, 10 lines.
Marriages and deaths, 50c each insertion
Births, 25c each insertion.
Rates for Condensed Advertisement will be found in 1st column of 2nd page.
All advertisements are subject to the approval of the Publisher of the Intelligencer.
Address all communications to the Intelligencer Printing & Publishing House Limited, or to Charles J. Bowell, Managing Director and Treasurer.
Canadians in London will find The Intelligencer on file at E. & J. Hardy & Co.'s Office, 30 Fleet Street, London, E. C.

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS

SITUATIONS WANTED, HELP WANTED, LOST OR FOUND, FOR SALE OR TO RENT, &c.
(Auction Sales not included in this list)

TERMS.—Twenty-five words or less, 25c first insertion; two insertions, 50c; four insertions, 75c; one week $1.00, two weeks, $1.75, three weeks, $2.25; one month, $2.50. Strictly cash in advance.

WANTED.

A smart boy of good education, to learn the printing trade. Apply at The Intelligencer Office.

A boy about 18 years old, at Finnegan's Carriage Shop. 1t

At once, Cook and general servant for Massassaga Park Hotel. Highest wages. Apply to J. C. Lake, or W. A. Taylor. 20,23

A girl to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. S. A. Hyman, 264 George St. 19-5t

Not fakes nor fads but household necessities. Used everyday by everybody. Can't you sell them? Others do and make fortunes. Still room. Write at once to G. Marshall & Co., London, Ont.

A few men and women to work for us at home during spare time. Pleasant work. Liberal pay. No canvassing. Imperial Company, London, Ontario. m12-1m

By S. Langbort—Scrap iron, metal, old rubber, etc. Will pay the following prices: Old iron, 50c, 60c and 70c. per 100; mixed rags 50c per 100; copper 9c lb.; heavy brass 9c lb.; old rubber boots and shoes 6c lb.; lead and zinc 2c lb. Remember the place, Powell's Old Stand, Mill St., corner Brown. ap21-1m

Young men ambitious to learn lucrative trades, of which there are eight in connection with the business. Apply The Belleville Hardware Company, Belleville, Ont. a7dtf

Competent men to appoint agents, whole or spare time. Commission paid. Apply JOHN DOYLE, Drawer 531, London. a27-1yr

FOR SALE OR TO-LET.

House on Dundas street (north side). For particulars apply to Miss McCrudden, at Foster's restaurant, Front street, after 6 p.m. 18-6td

FOR SALE,

Comfortable, well built, seven room frame house and lot, situated on North Front St., in vicinity of Albert College. Apply to Mrs. Wm. McCreery, Belleville. my15-d1mem&iw

Stone house, 11 rooms, coal furnace, stable, barn. Large grounds. Cor. Frank and Moira Sts. north. Terms reasonable. H. Bull, on premises or Fred Bull, 21-2 Queen St., Toronto. ap18-dtf

Contractors and masons, any any person requiring lime may procure it from E. G. STAPLEY, Canifton Road, Belleville. New lime always on hand. a9-d&w6m

Dressed and Matched Lumber of all kinds, at ALFORD'S factory, Market Square. j12-tf

REMOVAL.

Dr. Clarke will shortly remove to the offices formerly occupied by the late Dr. Ward, over Burrows', and opposite Scantlebury's Book Store. a27dtf

Relieving Muscular Strain

Of the eyes that rob the vigor of the rest of the body, is our profession. Glasses are intended for more than the aiding of vision. Some of the most distressing diseases have been relieved by glasses after doctors and surgeons had doctored and cut to their heart's content. Do not procrastinate in the matter of having your eyes examined.

ALEX. RAY

A man should be getting on well in life when he is getting well on in life. Coin Pay Envelopes at The Intelligencer Job Office. Cheapest and best in the city.

If the rattlesnake did not stop to talk he would be ten times more dangerous.

The wise are polite all the world over; fools are polite only at home.—Bacon.

A Sure Cure for Headaches. — Bilious headache, to which women are more subject than men, becomes so acute in some subjects that they are utterly prostrated. The stomach refuses food, and there is a constant and distressing effort to free the stomach from bile which has become unduly secreted there. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are a speedy alterative, and in neutralizing the effects of the intruding bile relieves the pressure on the nerves which cause the headache. Try them.

The best wheel of fortune is honest labor.

Will be Found an Excellent Remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

Wedding rings in St. Kilda used to be made of worsted.

The Well Known Strengthening Properties of IRON, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

Coral is a talisman against thunder and evils by flood and field.

There is nothing equal to Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator for destroying worms. No article of its kind has given such satisfaction.

A woman never knows where the match box is.

Some persons have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhoea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change of water, cooking, and green fruit, is sure to bring on the attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed no further trouble will be experienced.

When one gets hopping mad his reason goes on a crutch.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which causes difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of "Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup," and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

The average watch represents but 12 hours of human labor.

Will positively cure sick headache and prevent its return. Carter's Little Liver Pills. This is not talk, but truth. One pill a dose. See advertisement. Small pill. Small dose. Small price.

If thy friend is honey, do not lick him up altogether.

Holloway's Corn Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

Attend no auctions if thou hast no money.

To Those of Sedentary Occupation. —Men who follow sedentary occupations, which deprive them of fresh air and exercise, are more prone to disorders of the liver and kidneys than those who lead active, outdoor lives. The former will find in Parmelee's Vegetable Pills a restorative without question the most efficacious on the market. They are easily procurable, easily taken, act expeditiously, and they are surprisingly cheap considering their excellence.

Many a man's self-conceit is due to his ignorance.

UNTOLD MISERY — WHAT A WELL-KNOWN COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER SUFFERED, AND HOW HE WAS CURED.—Gentlemen, About five years ago I began to be troubled with Dyspepsia, and for three years suffered untold misery, from this terrible complaint. I was at that time travelling for Messrs. Walter Woods & Co., Hamilton, and was treated by some of the best physicians in the country, but to no purpose. I continued to grow worse, one day I was induced to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and to my great surprise and joy, I soon began to improve. I continued using this medicine and when the third bottle was finished I found I was entirely cured; and as a year has elapsed since then, I feel confident that the cure is complete and permanent. To all afflicted with this distressing complaint I heartily recommend Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery believing that the persistent use of it will cure any case of Dyspepsia. (Signed),
T. S. McINTEE.

Over 350,000 copies of Charles Dickens' novels are sold annually.

He Has Tried It.—Mr. John Anderson, Kinloss, writes: "I venture to say few, if any, have received greater benefit from the use of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, than I have. I have used it regularly for over ten years and have recommended it to all sufferers I know of, and they also found it of great virtue in cases of severe bronchitis and incipient consumption."

The Sun & Hastings Savings and Loan Co. of Ontario.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL
$5,000,000.

3 1-2 per cent. allowed on Deposits payable on Call.

4 per cent. on Deposits for one year or over.

Money to Loan upon favorable terms.

OFFICE, No. 46 Bridge St., Belleville.

J. P. C. PHILLIPS,
Manager Belleville Branch.

A SHIRT SALE

We have just received from the manufacturers, 50 dozen Madras Shirts in sizes 14½ to 16½, soft bosoms, with separate cuffs. They should sell at $1.00, but we got a big snap and are going to clear them quick for 50c each.

You need not wait till you go on your holiday trip before getting some of these cool and pretty patterns. They take half the discomfort out of a hot day.

Not More Than One half Dozen Sold to each Customer.

OAK HALL

Sole Agents for Sanford's Celebrated Clothing.

That Boy Needs Boots Again!

CAN'T HELP IT!

Boys rush into all sorts of games and sports and play havoc with their boots. Just received large shipment of

Our Special for Boys

Made of Cordovan. Some call it mule-hide, some call it horse-hide—we call it Cordovan. There is

One Trouble With This Boot.

The trouble is we can't get enough of them. Only one tanner tans the leather, only one firm makes the shoes, and neither can begin to supply the demand. So we are out of them half the time. They stand the strain better than any boot we know of.

Boys' sizes 1 to 5	$1.50
Youth's sizes 11 to 13	$1.25
Small Boys 8 to 10½	$1.00
Girls' sizes 11 to 2	$1.25

If you have not used this line we shall be pleased to show them to you.

The J. J. Haines

SHOE HOUSES at Belleville, Napanee and Trenton

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE

FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

Daily Intelligencer.

TIMELY TOPICS

A public meeting has been held in Ottawa, at which the piling of lumber within the city limits was somewhat excitedly discussed, resulting in a motion being unanimously passed in favor of immediate removal of all such lumber, with a promise that no piling of lumber within the city limits should be permitted in future.

* * *

Sir Louis Davies, though now on the Bench, in discussing the question would not help exhibiting his old demagogic character, by prating about capitalists controlling and dominating the city. This is a question that should be treated without such appeals being made to popular prejudice. The lumber piles should without doubt go, but such men as Sir Louis Davies should not forget that it was these capitalists whom he condemns that, to a great extent, in conjunction with the Government of the country, made Ottawa what it is to-day.

* * *

Now, what about our own city? There are dry piles of lumber in the very heart of the city, which, if an incipient blaze should once get started in their vicinity during weather like the present, would induce the most serious consequences. Had not our City Fathers better look to it? It is foreign to our desire to interfere with or impede any of our industries, but inflammable material should not be allowed to endanger the whole Front street.

* * *

Kingston Whig: When newspaper men are put into the witness box they tell what they know, and with a marked degree of accuracy.

There is an unconscious Grit tribute to young Mr. Hammond, the Globe reporter, whose evidence put Hon. Mr. Stratton "very much to the bad," as the boys would say.

* * *

If His Majesty the King had been in Dublin on Monday he would have easily detected the fact that he will get a warm welcome in Ireland.

* * *

The poor Cigarette bill was unceremoniously thrown out. It was not properly introduced. Perhaps it was not meant to be.

* * *

Another attempt at suicide in Hamilton, making five in two weeks. That looks ominous, especially as this is the house-cleaning season.

* * *

It looks as though Mr. Miscampbell will be missed from the House for some time. But he'll get there again. You can't keep a good man down.

* * *

Shannon and Cap. Sullivan failed to appear before the public accounts committee to explain that lumber deal—the most scandalous on record; and not a single Grit newspaper has a word to say in condemnation of these absentee gents. No, not even the Rev. Globe!

* * *

Chamberlain is the man of the hour, and his hour seems to extend from morn to dewy eve. He has the centre of the stage and means to keep it. Canadians will heartily say, "Amen!" to the sentiments expressed by the Hon. Joe.

* * *

Hamilton has a Spinning Wheel club, where a lot of wheely people get together and spin yarns. As though the editors couldn't supply the demand.

PAINFUL CORNS RELIEVED

THE MAGIC TOUCH OF FOOT ELM DOES THE WORK.

There is no need to hobble round suffering agony with corns. Sprinkle Foot Elm in your shoes, and you'll be surprised how quickly relief will come, and bye and bye the corns will disappear. It is the simplest, surest method of preventing corns you ever tried. Price, 25 cents a box of 18 powders, at druggists or by mail. B. & Stott & Jury, Bowmanville. Be sure you get "Foot Elm."

SHOT DEAD IN ATTIC ROOM

Allan Gilmour Found Lying in a Pool of Blood.

Wealthy Ottawa Resident Must Have Met Instantaneous Death—Magazine Rifle Lying Beside Him—Coroner Baptie Scouts the Idea of Suicide—Banker Gill Says His Stock Losses Would not Impair Income More Than $500.

Ottawa, May 20.—Allan Gilmour, 270 Cooper street, a man of considerable wealth, accidentally shot himself yesterday afternoon while handling a rifle. The theory of suicide is scouted by Coroner Baptie, and no inquest will be held.

Mrs. Gilmour had gone out driving after lunch with her niece, Miss Hendry. They left the house about 3 o'clock and returned shortly after 4. Their attention was attracted by the strange actions of a collie dog, a pet of Mr. Gilmour. The animal was running up and down stairs in a frantic manner, and trying to attract their notice. Mrs. Gilmour followed the dog which led her to the door of a room in the attic used by her husband as a store room for guns, rifles, fishing tackle and other sporting paraphernalia. Entering the room Mrs. Gilmour found her husband lying on his back on the floor, his head in a pool of blood, and a magazine rifle lying near him. Death must have been instantaneous.

There was a rumor that Mr. Gilmour had lost heavily in stock speculations recently, but Mr. Gill of the Bank of Commerce says it would not impair his annual income more than $500. Mr. Gilmour was a man in very comfortable circumstances, and had retired from active business life. He dabbled in stocks to some extent, but did not speak as one who was at all worried about them.

Mr. Gilmour was a man of independent means, who had been for some years retired from active business life, although he retained an interest in Gilmour & Co., Limited, at Trenton, of which company he was formerly president. He was a childless man, but leaves two brothers, John Gilmour, Ottawa, and David Gilmour, Trenton, and one sister, Mrs. F. Fellows of Montreal. Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed yet, but interment will be in Quebec, the early home of the Gilmour family.

SIR THOMAS TESTIFIES.

Tells What He Knows of Land Grants in British Columbia.

Victoria, B.C., May 20.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy gave evidence yesterday afternoon before the Parliamentary Committee re the land grants scandal. He said certain lands were granted to the C.P.R. and afterwards cancelled. He was cross-examined by Mr. Duff as to the agreement entered into with shareholders who bought out the B.C.S. Nothing startling was adduced.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by all Druggists.

Queen Victoria's Visit to Paris.

In connection with King Edward's visit to Paris, it is interesting to read from Sir Theodore Martin's life of the Prince Consort, King Edward's father, an account of Queen Victoria's visit to Paris in August, 1855. The author quotes extensively from her Majesty's diary of the events. He notes that "No English Sovereign had set foot within Paris since Henry VI., and he had come there claiming to be its King." Internal politics made the advisability of the English Sovereign's visit a matter of doubt. Her Majesty's note that the clothing of the French soldiers were better made and, too—brass ones—much finer, tempts a smile. One wonders how much of those events is recalled to "Bertae" on his present visit.

Starting from Osborne at 5 in the morning of the 18th, the Victoria and Albert, which had just been completed, reached Boulogne about half-past 1, and advanced slowly up the harbor, amidst the cheers of the crowd upon the long pier, which was lined throughout with troops. On the quay stood the Emperor, surrounded by a brilliant retinue, under a broiling sun, while the tedious process of warping the huge vessel to the shore was carried out. "At length the bridge was adjusted. The Emperor stepped across, and I met him half way, and embraced him twice, after which he led me on shore, amidst acclamations, salutes and every sound of joy and respect. We four (the Queen, Prince, Prince of Wales and Princess Royal) entered a landau carriage and drove through the crowded and decorated streets. . . .

"The view from our rooms and balcony of Paris, lit up by the evening light, with the Arc de Triomphe rising conspicuously in the distance, had a marvellous effect. I sat drawing on the balcony, and took a little sketch of the very pretty avenue which leads down into the town. Found afterwards Canrobert with Albert, who told us much that was very interesting, in fact, quite touching, about his own position and his feeling towards Lord Raglan. I gave him the Order of the Bath, and with real pleasure. . . ." A great review of the troops in the Champs de Mars was appointed for the afternoon. "At half-past 4," her Majesty writes, "we got into the carriages (at the Tuileries). The Empress and the two children—Bertie in his full Highland dress—were in the carriage with me. . . . The coup d'oeil was truly magnificent—from 30,000 to 40,000 men, several rows deep, each regiment with its good, powerful band, and their fine, commanding tambour-majors, their stalwart, bearded sapeurs (those of the voltigeurs de la garde have yellow tabliers), and the very picturesque and smartly-dressed cantinieres, all cheering, and the bands playing 'God Save the Queen.' . . . Then the troops began to march past in quick time, which took three-quarters of an hour; a beautiful spectacle, such fine troops! . . . The clothes of all the men are infinitely better made and cut than those of our soldiers, which provokes me much. The drums, too—brass ones—are much finer. . . .

"We drove straight to the Hotel des Invalides, under the dome of which Napoleon lies. . . . Into this the Emperor led me, and there I stood, at the arm of Napoleon III., his nephew, before the coffin of England's bitterest foe; I, the granddaughter of that King who hated him most and who most vigorously opposed him, and this very nephew who bears his name being my nearest and dearest ally! The organ of the church was playing 'God Save the Queen' at the time, and this solemn scene took place by torchlight and during a thunderstorm. Strange and wonderful, indeed! It seems as if in this tribute of respect to a departed and dead foe old enmities and rivalries were wiped out, and the seal of Heaven placed upon that bond of unity which is now so happily established between two great and powerful nations. May Heaven bless and prosper it!"

Of a "nice cosy little dinner," her Majesty wrote that the Emperor, speaking of the Crimean campaign, "lamented bitterly the want of invention and energy in both our commanders. He then spoke very openly and frankly of the defects of our Generals, and we told him equally frankly what was objected to in his; and nothing could be more satisfactory than the conversation, or more straightforward or honest than the Emperor's observations and propositions. It was just as if we had one and the same army; and so, in fact, it is, but it is very pleasant to find this so in another Sovereign."

Of the farewell at Boulogne, where her Majesty reviewed 36,000 troops, and the British squadron saluted the Emperor, her Majesty wrote:—"Indeed, it was one of the not least remarkable of the many striking events and contrasts with former times which took place during this visit, that at this very place, on these very sands, Napoleon I. reviewed his army which was to invade England, Nelson's fleet lying where our squadron lay, watching that very army. Now our squadron saluted Napoleon III., while his army was filing past the Queen of England, several of the bands playing 'Rule Britannia!'"

Women and Wages.

Discussing the cause of the low wages paid to women, Mrs. John Van Vorst, in "The Woman Who Toils," says:—"In the factory where I worked men and women were employed for ten-hour days. The women's highest wages were lower than the men's lowest. Both were working as hard as they possibly could. The women were doing menial work, such as scrubbing, which the men refused to do. The men were properly fed at noon; the women satisfied themselves with cake and pickles. Why was this? It is of course impossible to generalize on a single factory. I can only relate the conclusions I drew from what I saw myself. The wages paid by employers, economists tell us, are fixed at the level of bare subsistence. This level and its accompanying conditions are determined by competition, by the nature and number of laborers taking part in the competition. In the masculine category I met but one class of competitor: the bread-winner. In the feminine category I found a variety of classes: the bread-winner, the semi-bread winner, the woman who works for luxuries. This inevitably drags the wage level. The self-supporting girl is in competition with the child, with the girl who lives at home and makes a small contribution to the household expenses, and with the girl who is supported and who spends all her money on her clothes. It is this division of purpose which takes the 'spirit' out of them as a class. There will be no strikes among them so long as the question of wages is not equally vital to them all."

Conceit of the Somalis.

Perhaps the most remarkable characteristic of these people (the Somalis) is their unbounded, preposterous conceit. Englishmen who know their language have been appalled by it. When watering his camel or his horse, the Somali encourages the animal to drink by chanting to it in a monotone. It is at such moments of extemporary effusion that the man shines in all his glory. The subject matter may be the experience of the day's march, the virtues of the animal beside him, the charms of his latest wife, or his own prowess in some bloodless tribal raid. By great good fortune the following little translation of one of these chants or songs came into my possession, and I insert it without any comment:—"Will you see a man? Then behold me! I am a Somali, as perfect in size and form as Adam was after God had breathed into him his immortal soul. Look how beautiful my curly hair is, and how majestic I look when wrapped from head to foot in my snow-white or jungle-colored tobe, although there be sometimes only one pie" (a small piece of money) "tied in it. My house is the desert, and I am born a free man. Free as the wind. I know neither King nor master. I am as Adam was, my own master and king. In the jungle I tend my camels and sheep; my only labor is to watch them feed. In my kerrier my wife, my dear slave, does all the manual work, while tending my offspring, and woe to her if she forgets to prepare my evening meal. The jedal" (whip) "shall then have its turn to make her remember for next day. In such a state is any man happier than I?"—The Daily Graphic's correspondent with the Somaliland expeditionary force.

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat Co.,

(LIMITED)

"The Bay of Quinte Route."

Str. "ALETHA"

Leaves Belleville on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 a.m. for Bay of Quinte ports and Kingston. Returning will arrive at Belleville on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10 30 p.m.

Belleville-Rochester Route

Str. "North King"

Commencing 31st May will leave Belleville on Sundays at 11.38 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. Returning arrives at Belleville on Sundays at 3.25 a.m. and leaves for Bay Ports, Kingston and 1000 Islands.

During July and August service will be daily except Monday.

Right reserved to change time with or without notice.

For passage and freight rates and other information, apply to

THE RATHBUN CO., } Agents.
U. E. THOMPSON, }
E. E. HORSEY, G. P. & F. Agent, Kingston.

Montreal, Rochester & Quebec Transit Co'y.

Str. "Alexandria"

Service in effect 25th April.

Leaves Rathbun Co.'s wharf, Belleville, every Saturday at 11.00 a.m. for Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Every Monday at 7.00 a.m. for Montreal and all River Ports.

Thousand Islands by daylight.

Runs all St. Lawrence River Rapids.

Quebec excursions commence July 5th.

LOW FREIGHT RATES.

A. W. HEPBURN, General Manager, Picton, Ont.
THE RATHBUN CO. Agents, Belleville.

The Deseronto Navigation Co

TIME TABLE

Taking effect April 13, 1903.

Belleville, Trenton, Picton & Napanee

Str. "ELLA ROSS"

Leaves Belleville for Trenton at 10 a. m., daily, Sundays Excepted, returning leaves Trenton at 1 p. m., leaving Belleville at 3 p.m. for Deseronto, Napanee and Picton.

Quick and Superior Service to NEW YORK CITY

Steamers RESOLUTE and RELIANCE will leave Deseronto for Oswego after arrival of Str. Ella Ross connecting at Oswego with the New York, Ontario Western Ry.

Fare to New York, Single, $3.40
Return, $13.25

For further particulars apply to THE RATHBUN CO., Local Agents

J. F. CHAPMAN, Asst. Gen. Frt. & Pass. Agt., Deseronto.
A. C. CARTER General Manager Deseronto.

Just What You Want

Paint Brushes 7, 10, 15, 20, 25c.
Whitewash Brushes 10, 13, 15, 20, 25, 35, 45c.
1,000 Parlor Matches for 5c.
600 pairs Ladies' Bl'k Hose 5c pair.
500 printed Platters and Bakers, regular 25, clearing at 10c.
300 pairs Men's Sox, special, 4 pr. for 25c.
D. K. Blue Cups and Saucers, 35c 1-2 dozen.
1200 Dinner Setts for $8.00.
Curtain Poles, complete, for 20c.
Carpet Tacks, 2 for 5c.
Carpet Whips 10c each.
Kitchen Mirrors 12, 15, 20, 25, 30c.
Best Oil Blinds 30c.
6 Cakes Moss Rose Toilet Soap 15c.
3 Cakes Cold Cream Toilet Soap 5c.
6 Bars Eclipse Soap 25c.
Large variety of odd Wallpaper der, clearing at 1c yard.
50 varieties of Wallpaper, clearing at 5c Roll.
Large varieties 5, 7, 8, 10c Ceiling Papers, clearing at 3c Roll.

Be sure and visit our Wallpaper Department; it is the most complete, and has the best selected stock to choose from in the City.

Our Prices are 1-2 what other stores ask for same quality.

AT THE BEE HIVE

Chas. N. Sulman

Only 24 per cent. of doctors reach 70 years, but 42 per cent. of clergymen do so.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

VICTORIA DAY

MAY 24th, 1903.

Return Tickets will be issued at—

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE,

Between all stations in Canada; also to Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, N.Y., Detroit, Pt. Huron, Mich., etc.

GOOD GOING MAY 23rd, 24th, or 25th, Valid returning from destination on or before May 26th, 1903.

COLONIST EXCURSIONS.

One way tickets at low rates on sale until June 15th, to points in Montana, Colorado, Utah, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and California.

Tickets sold in accordance with above will not be good on train No. 1 or train No. 4.

For tickets, and all information apply to

U. E. THOMPSON, City Agent, Bridge Street,
T. H. COPPIN, Depot Agent.
J. D. McDONALD, Dist. Pass Agt., Toronto.

NEW YORK CENTRAL & HUDSON RIVER R. R.

THE FOUR-TRACK TRUNK LINE.

SHORTEST Route to the United States via Cape Vincent, N.Y.

GOING EAST AND WEST.		After 1st May
Lv. Belleville (G.T.R.)	12.22 p.m.	1.30 a.m
Arr. Kingston "	1.47 p.m.	3.12 a.m
Lv. Kingston (stage)..	2.30 p.m.	5.00 a.m
Arr. Cape Vincent (stage)	4.30 p.m.	7.00 a.m
Lv. Cape Vincent N.Y.C.	5.05 p.m.	7.25 a.m
Arr. Watertown "	5.55 p.m.	8.25 a.m
Arr. Oswego "	9.05 p.m.	11.55 a.m
Arr. Syracuse "	9.25 p.m.	12.07 p.m
Arr. Rochester "	1.05 a.m.	2.20 a.m
Arr. Utica "	9.45 p.m.	12.35 p.m
Arr. New York "	7.25 a.m.	6.00 p.m

Convenient train service in opposite direction.

Pullman Sleeping and Parlor Cars.

2c a Mile.

Books for 500 miles of travel on New York Central and leased lines within State of New York, cost only $10 while books for 1000 miles over New York Central, Boston & Albany, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, Philadelphia & Reading and C. R. R. of New Jersey cost $20. Secure further information and purchase tickets from F. A. Folger, N.Y.C. Agent, Kingston, Ont.

GEORGE H. DANIELS, Gen'l Pass'r Agent, New York.
A. H. SMITH, Gen'l Supt., New York.
G. C. GRIDLEY, Gen'l Agent, Watertown, N.Y.

The New Wall Paper Store

sells borders by the roll, same price as the papers.

THE BEST TALENT in the world is employed to design the paper we sell.

We select only the beautiful and harmonious designs because those are the kind that please our patrons.

New Spring designs, delicate flower-like tints, all conceivable patterns, many exclusive designs, scrolls, ingrains, etc., ceiling and border to match. Prices to suit all pocketbooks.

JOHN CORNELIUS,

Decorator, Painter, Grainer, and Paper Hanger, all work guaranteed first class.

Flowers & Vegetables

Of all kinds in season.

...AT...

J. D. COLLIP'S.

'Phone 205.

Airmit
"THEY BREATHE WHILE YOU WALK"
CONTROLLED AND MANUFACTURED BY GEO. A. SLATER
PATENT

FOR TIRED, SWEATY, BLISTERING FEET

See our large assortment of the INVICTUS SHOE, made by GEO. A. SLATER.

VERMILYEA & SON.

DAISY GORDON'S FOLLY

—OR—

THE WORLD LOST FOR LOVE'S SAKE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY,

Author of "The Crime of Hallow-E'en," "The Flirtations of a Beauty," "Willful Gaynell," "Little Leafy," "Only a Mechanic's Daughter," etc.

"In what way?" he answered, surprised and puzzled at the question.

"Suppose that one of them failed to keep that sacred promise to love and honor the other?— suppose that one of them found life so intolerable as to fly from the other— go to the further end of the world, breaking that vow to cleave to that other until death parted them? Oh, Aleck, my love! tell me what would happen to the one who found life so hard as to break away."

The question amused him vastly.

"You ask such curious questions, my dear, that I can scarcely answer them. In the first place, true love never wearies of its object; where weariness exists, there is no true love; and one who would break those sacred bonds has no honor."

"But when one soul is created, tell me, Aleck, is not another created to go with it?"

"Yes," he said thoughtfully, "I am sure there is."

"But what happens, Aleck, if the wrong souls go together?" she asked. "I am not speaking lightly, Aleck. What happens, what do people do if the wrong souls go together? I know," she went on before he had time to answer, "the wrong souls part and each goes to the right one, Aleck."

The very oddness of their conversation struck him forcibly.

"How does it happen that you have such strange thoughts, my darling?" he asked. "Have you been reading some newspaper scandal, or have you been thinking of leaving me?" he added, with an uneasy laugh.

There was something infinitely piteous in the way she threw her white arms around his neck, and laid her soft, warm cheek against his, murmuring brokenly:

"Leave you, Aleck, my heart's love, oh, never—never, it would be death to me—you are the other half of my soul, my thoughts, my very being are bound up in you! If you should be taken from me, Aleck, in that moment my heart would break!

"Oh, Aleck, my love, we will not talk about it any more, we will never speak about such things again."

His handsome face flushed happily under her tender caresses.

Aleck was young —only four-and-twenty —and of course his heart beat with a responsive thrill as the lovely rose-bud mouth of his little bride was pressed to his in love's sweet kisses.

At thirty a man's heart is hardened; the romance and tenderness of youth is, by contact with the world, brushed off like the down of a peach.

He is suspicious, and weighs every act, word and glance. As Aleck had not reached the age of suspicion, he naturally believed that Daisy meant if death should ever take him from her, she, too, would die then and there.

"And now," said he, removing the clinging clasp of the white arms, "why that solemn face?"

"I had something to ask of you, Aleck," she answered wistfully.

"To settle some milliner's bill, I presume?" he said amusedly. "I supposed all this love-making was the forerunner of something of the kind."

"Yes; I do want some money, Aleck," she said, "and you must not ask me what I want it for."

He took out his pocket book at once and handed out two fifty-dollar bills.

"I want more than this, Aleck," said Daisy, faintly. "I want a thousand dollars."

He looked at her aghast.

"A thousand dollars, my darling," he said. "Why, what could you possibly want it for? I had an idea that all your wants were filled."

"So they are, Aleck; all but this one."

"I hope you are not contemplating starting a charity society, or sending it off to the heathen," he said, curiously; "especially as I am a little short just now; but you shall have it, my dear, how could I refuse you anything? You shall have it in the course of a day or so."

"I must have it now, Aleck," she persisted, her face paling to a dead white.

"But I have not that amount by me, darling," he declared. "You shall have it in the course of a day or two."

"But that will not do, Aleck," she said. "I must have it now; you must raise it somehow."

"If I thought it was for anything imperative I would get it at once, dear," he said; "if you can advance one valid reason for being in such a hurry; surely two or three days will not matter; I have drawn on the new York bank; you shall have the money by Tuesday at latest."

"That will not do Aleck," she whispered, her voice quivering with fright, "I must have it today."

"If you could advance one valid reason for such haste I would not have one word to say. I could get it, of course, but a man of my standing does not like to borrow money when it is not an absolute necessity."

"Then you refuse me, Aleck?" she said.

"You shall have it Tuesday, my darling," he answered —"even our journey must necessarily be delayed on account of the money not reaching here yet."

When Daisy found herself alone, she pondered long and earnestly how she should obtain the money.

Then she thought of her diamonds —surely she could raise money on them —but Aleck would miss them —then a startling idea came to her —she could substitute the diamonds for brilliant paste for a day or two, and raise the money in that way.

It was a matter easily accomplished—the diamond- broker's eyes sparkled as the beautiful gems were spread out before him.

"Certainly, he could accommodate madame," he said. "such a request was often made of him —ladies in high life were often in need of money, and turned their diamonds to good advantage for a few days."

He noticed the terrible agitation on the beautiful young face, and smiled, muttering to himself: "No doubt this is some lady's companion —who has made free with her mistress' jewels, and before it is discovered that she has substituted paste for the real stones, she will be far away. Ah, well, that is none of my business, the stones are worth ten times the thousand dollars I gave her — of course she will never take them up again, I would not give them up to her."

Daisy hurried quickly back to her room, touching the bell nervously for her maid.

The interview which she must necessarily have with her might as well be gotten over at once — she would never know another hour's safety until she held the charred letter in her hands which the maid held as a sword over her head.

She had barely laid aside her wraps ere Aleck entered her boudoir.

"Have you been on the street, my darling?" he asked, noting the wraps and hat which she had not had time to lay away at once.

"Yes," she answered, trying to speak without a tremor in her voice.

"I would have gladly accompanied you had I known you were going out," he said. "I hope, darling, you are not angry with me for what I have said."

Before she could answer, there was a light tap at the door. It was by the merest chance that Daisy, who was standing near the door, opened it.

A small lad was standing there.

"A note for Mrs. Hamilton— if you be she," whispered the boy. "I was requested to put it into her own hands without any one seeing me—the gentleman who gave it to me waits for an answer."

CHAPTER XVII.

On the Track.

A deathly faintness stole over Daisy; by an almost superhuman effort she kept from fainting outright.

"Come back in an hour and you shall have the answer," she whispered, in a low voice, but, low as it was, Aleck had caught part of the sentence from within, and, chancing to glance into the mirror which reflected the door opposite and the corridor beyond, he had distinctly seen Daisy take the letter from the boy's hand, and thrust it into her bosom.

The action puzzled him.

"Why should she do that?" he asked himself.

Of course she would tell him about it when she came back into the room; but, much to his intense surprise, she did not mention it, and he noticed that her face was white as death.

What could it mean?

He was too proud to ask, believing that Daisy should tell him.

It was the first secret that had ever come between them, and he felt it keenly.

He noticed, with pain, that Daisy soon made an excuse to break away from him, and of course he knew that it was for an opportunity to read the letter.

He arose, taking up his hat and gloves at once.

"I am going down to the piazza to smoke a cigar; remember we are to hear Patti tonight; but first we are going out driving; be ready when I return, my dear."

It struck him how cold the lips were that met his in a parting kiss.

"Daisy is growing to be more of a puzzle to me as each day advances," he thought; "now who could that note have been from, and why did she not show it to me?"

Suddenly a solution of the mystery came to him.

No doubt it was a bill from some creditor which she did not wish him to see.

Daisy was young and thoughtless. She might have run in debt for something which pleased her fancy.

He remembered how earnestly she had pleaded for that thousand dollars, saying that she must have it at once; his Daisy must never know one care; it was bad enough for his own head to be worried over money matters.

Yes; he would get the money for her at once.

Left to herself, Daisy hurriedly opened the note, recognising at once the cramped, peculiar chirography of her maid.

"Mrs. Hamilton,"— it ran— "Being called suddenly away, I have been obliged to place the matter in the hands of my brother, telling him all. You need not fear that he will divulge it, madame; he will be as silent as the grave. He will be at the corner of O and H avenues at three o'clock, prompt, this afternoon; do not fail to come; to him you will pay the thousand dollars, and he will give you in return the charred bit of paper. Yours in great haste, Janet."

Daisy leaned heavily against the window, her breath coming thick and fast.

Another knew her terrible secret. Great heaven! where would it end?

"It will drive me mad!" she groaned— "yes, mad! Ah, how deeply I have sinned to keep Aleck's love!"

She tore the letter into a thousand fragments, and ground them into the lilies of the velvet carpet beneath her heel.

But they must not be found there; they would bear witness against her.

She would place them in the grate, and make sure this letter was safely burned.

She had not noticed that a passing breeze caught up one of the fragments and bore it far beyond her reach; the rest she burned carefully this time.

In half an hour Aleck returned to her.

"What! not ready yet, my darling!" he said, caressing the lovely curly, golden hair. "Why, what is coming over my little Daisy? She used to be the soul of punctuality."

"I am not going, Aleck," she said. "You must go without me. I have a headache. I am going to lie down and rest."

"Then all pleasure in the drive is lost for me, dear," he said. "I will sit here with you."

"No, no, Aleck!" she cried. "You must not— indeed you must not! I want to be left alone— alone!"

She insisted so strongly that he should go that finally Aleck submitted.

"You must not hurry back, Aleck," she whispered— "indeed you must not!"

Aleck had been gone quite half an hour before he remembered that he had not given her the money he had in his breast pocket for her, and gave orders to return home at once.

She should not grieve one unnecessary moment, his beautiful, tender little Daisy, he thought, hurrying up the broad stairway two steps at a time.

He knocked gently, but there was no response; Daisy had evidently lain down to rest.

One of the maids passing opened the door for him.

He intended laying the packet beside her, and quitting the boudoir without awakening her.

His amazement was great to find that she was not there.

What, gone! after telling him so emphatically she would not leave her room, she was too tired. Aleck was puzzled.

Had the letter she had received anything to do with her strange behavior?

Whom could it have been from?

He was just about turning away when a crumpled bit of paper on the floor caught his eye, and mechanically he stooped and picked it up, and as he smoothed it out he saw that there was writing on it.

As his eyes ran over the written scrap every vestige of color left his face.

Once, twice, thrice he read it through, leaning heavily against the marble mantel, every word seemed to dance in letters of fire before his mental vision. The bit of paper contained but these words.

"Will be at the corner of O and H avenues at three, prompt, this afternoon; do not fail to come."

The chirography was decidedly masculine. Who was it that dared write thus to Daisy?

Had she gone to keep the appointment? A thousand slumbering demons of jealousy awoke in his heart at the thought.

He sprung from his chair, his face white as death, his features working convulsively.

"I must— I will know the meaning of this!" he cried, smiting his forehead, on which the veins stood out like whip-cords, with his clinched hand. A moment more and he was in his carriage.

"Drive as quickly as you can to the corner of O and H avenues. You shall have double fare if you reach there in five minutes."

The man touched his whip to the horses, and the vehicle flew over the road to their destination, which was but a few blocks off.

"There is quite a crush of carriages ahead. I can get no nearer for a few moments yet, sir," said the driver, touching his hat respectfully, as he appeared for a moment at the door.

Aleck sprung from the coupe and hurriedly approached the corner on foot, and was just in time to see a flashily- dressed young fellow, who had been pacing restlessly up and down the pavement, hastily enter a coupe in response to the beckoning of a hand that was thrust through the window.

To be Continued.

RAILWAY TIME TABLES.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

Time of departure from Belleville Station:

Going East.

o. 16—Local, for Brockville, 7 a.m., arrives back from Brockville 9.30 p.m.

o. 2—1.30 a.m., Mail and Express, (Flyer), Daily.

o. 6—11.40 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

o. 4—12.22 p.m., International Limited, Daily.

o. 12—5.55 p.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

Going West.

o. 5—3 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily except Monday.

o. 3—4.10 a.m., Limited Express, Daily.

o. 9—5.50 a.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

o. 11—11.22 a.m., Passenger, Daily except Sunday.

o. 1—1.50 p.m., International Limited Daily.

o. 7—5.10 p.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

Taking effect 12.01 o'clock, Sunday, une 15, 1902.

MIDLAND RAILWAY.

Belleville and Peterboro.

Going West.	Leave.	Arr. Peterboro
Mail	5.40 a.m.	8.10 a.m.
Mixed	5.55 p.m.	9.05 p.m.
Going East.	Arr.	L've Peterboro
Mixed	11.20 a.m.	8.20 a.m.
Mail	4.25 p.m.	2.05 p.m.

Belleville and Madoc.

Going North.	L've	Arr. Madoc
Mixed	12.20 p.m.	1.20 p.m.
Mixed	6.30 p.m.	7.40 p.m.
Going South.	Arr.	L've Madoc
Mixed	9.10 a.m.	7.30 a.m.
Mixed	5.06 p.m.	3.45 p.m.

None of the above trains run on Sunday.

Steer a Safe Course

The safest course for delicate skins is to use

BABY'S OWN SOAP.

No Other Soap is as Good.

ALBERT TOILET SOAP CO., Mfrs. Montreal.

You May Need

Pain-Killer

For Cuts, Burns, Bruises, Cramps, Diarrhoea, All Bowel Complaints

It is a sure, safe and quick remedy.

There's only one PAIN-KILLER. Perry Davis'.

Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.

ank of Montreal

ESTABLISHED 1817

apital and Rest, All Paid Up.

$20,000,000

(Twenty Millions.)

avings Bank Department

Interest on sums of $4.00 and upwards allowed at current rates.

A. G. PARKER,

Manager Belleville Branch

xercise

POND'S EXTRACT

oothes tired muscles, removes soreness and stiffness and gives the body a feeling of comfort and trength.

Don't take the weak, watery witch hazel reparations represented to be "the same as" Pond's Extract, which easily sour and enerally contain "wood alcohol," a deadly oison.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM

will positively cure deep-seated COUGHS, COLDS, CROUP.

A 25c. Bottle for a Simple Cold.
A 50c. Bottle for a Heavy Cold.
A $1.00 Bottle for a Deep-seated Cough.
Sold by all Druggists.

Western Beef.

Prime Western Beef together with all kinds of choice meats, supplied by the district, at

C. GREEN'S

267 Front St., 'Phone 109.

As a Spring Medicine

THERE ARE TWO REASONS WHY THERE IS NO TREATMENT SO THOROUGHLY SATISFACTORY AND LASTINGLY BENEFICIAL AS

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The body of man can be influenced in health or disease only through two channels—the blood and the nerves.

During the winter the blood becomes thin and watery because of the artificial life we are compelled to lead indoors—the artificial food, the breathing of impure air, the lack of exercise, and this is why most people find it necessary to use a blood builder and nerve restorative in the spring.

For two reasons Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the most satisfactory spring medicine that you can possibly obtain. In the first place, it is gently laxative. Just enough so that when taken regularly it ensures proper action of the bowels. Secondly, it forms new red corpuscles in the blood or in other words makes the blood rich, red, and life-sustaining.

Through the medium of the blood and nerves, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food influences every nook and corner of the system, giving new vigor to the vital organs, such as the heart, lungs, stomach, liver and kidneys, and ensuring their regular and healthful action.

This great food cure sharpens up the appetite, makes the digestion good and actually adds new firm flesh and tissue to the body as you can prove by weighing yourself while using it.

Liquid medicines always have a stimulating effect due to the presence of alcohol. There is none of this in connection with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and for this reason any benefit you feel is lasting and you can be certain that with each dose your blood is getting richer and your system is being built up.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates and Company, Toronto. To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box.

Fresh Roll Butter

20 cents per lb.

J. C. Hanley & Co

GROCERS

Telephone 214

New Hats

READY-TO-WEAR HATS
DRESS HATS.

New Veilings

Latest styles—Best work.
We will surely please you.
Come and see them.

MISS M. CAMPBELL.

P.D. Corsets. 'Phone 117

FOR MANSION OR MODEST COTTAGE

S.W.P. is safest, best, and most economical and not without reason.

It's best because made from best materials—pure lead, pure zinc, and pure linseed oil.

It's safest because the materials it is made from are all carefully tested both chemically and practically before being used to insure their being right and best for the purpose.

It's most economical because it covers most surface to the gallon and wears longest.

WATERS DRUG STORE

A long portage makes a heavy canoe.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN and be sure that when you ask for Perry Davis' Painkiller you get just that and nothing else. Use it promptly to cure cramps, diarrhoea and all other bowel complaints in summer.

A System that Will not keep You waiting

Whether you want Painting, Paper Hanging, Decorating, Graining, or anything in our line, we will not keep you waiting. WE WILL NAME THE DAY, and that very day you will find us at your work, with an excellent staff of workmen—the very best mechanics that can be secured—workmen that we can rely on and that please our customers every time.

OUR WALL PAPER TRADE this year is so far the largest in the history of this house, and there are reasons behind the increased trade, and here they are—

FIRSTLY—Times are good, people have money and know where to spend it to advantage.

SECONDLY—By comparison with other lines our customers find our prices much lower and our styles of Wall Paper much higher than the ordinary.

THIRDLY—We give free two yards of bordering with each double roll of the Wall Paper it matches.

We hang our paper at very reasonable prices and always please our customers whether in papering, painting or anything else.

C. B. Scantlebury

Belleville's Decorator

Outside Painting. Inside Painting,
Paperhanging.

Wall Paper, Wholesale and Retail.

CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY

CAPITAL

10,000 Shares 7 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 each, $1,000,000
50,000 Shares Common Stock, par value $100, issued and fully paid 5,000,000
TOTAL CAPITALIZATION $6,000,000

Issues of $1,000,000.00 7 p.c. Preferred Stock in 10,000 Shares of $100 each at par.

This stock is preferred both as to Assets and Dividends.

The shares are entitled to cumulative preferred dividends from the net earnings of the Company, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the first days of April and October. They may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged for common shares. They are subject to be called in, in whole or in part, by the Company, at $115.00 per share, at any time after 1st January, 1909.

The total issue of Preferred Stock is only $1,000,000.00, the whole of which is now offered.

Subscriptions for 10,000 Shares of $100 each of the 7 per cent. Preferred Stock of the CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY will now be received at par, that is $100 Share, as follows

per cent on application,
25 " " on allotment,
35 " " 30 days thereafter.
35 " " 60 days thereafter.

One share of Common, par value $100, given with each share of preferred.

The whole of instalments remaining unpaid at any time may be prepaid in full. A discount of one per cent will be allowed upon the par of each share if prepaid at time of allotment.

Notice of allotment will be sent promptly by ordinary letter.

COAL

PROPERTY IN FULL OPERATION

Company owns 9,600 acres of coal property known throughout the coal trade as the New Campbellton Colliery, located on Bras D'Or Bay, County of Victoria, Cape Breton, Novia Scotia. Mine is fully equipped, producing and marketing tons of coal a day at a net profit of $1.00 a ton. Improvements are now being made that will increase the output to over 1,000 tons a day. On present output, figuring 300 working days in year, the net result will more than pay interest on entire issue of preferred, with output of 1,000 tons a day net result will be $300,000 per annum.

IRON

RICHEST ORE IN THE WORLD

Company owns in fee simple, free and clear of all incumbrances, 4000 acres of iron ore deposit, located Natashquan (tidewater) situated on North shore of Gulf of St. Lawrence, in the County of Saguney, province of Quebec.

Deposits contain 20,000,000 tons of ore ABOVE SEA LEVEL ALONE.

Quality of ore is highet ever discovered, running from 69 per cent to 72 per cent in metallic iron.

More orders for the sale of this ore has been received by the Campany than can possibly be accepted, and at a price netting the Company a profit of $2 a ton F. O. B. vessels at Company's docks.

Send for prospectus giving full information as to earnings, reports, etc., etc.

Address all communications and send subscriptions to

COLONIAL SECURITIES CO.,
62 Wall Street, New York City

OR

W. L. MARSTON & COMPANY
110 State Street, Boston

The SAWYER COMPANY.

351 Temple Building, Montreal, Canada.

LATEST NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS

As Furnished to the Intelligencer by H. R. Beattie, Stock Broker.

New York, May. 20

Stock	Op'g	High	Low	Close
Atchison	77¼	77½	74½	74¼
do pref	96⅜	96½	95	95
St. Paul	156¼	156⅝	153½	153¼
Mo. P.	102½	100¼	107¼	107¼
Union Pac.	87⅜	87⅜	86	85⅜
C.P.R.	131	131	128¾	129
South Pac.	52	52	49⅞	50⅛
Sou. Ry.	30¼	30⅛	27⅞	27⅞
Texas	34⅛	33⅛	31	31⅛
B & O.	90⅛	90⅛	87⅜	87⅜
N. Y. C.	126½	126½	124¾	124¾
Penna	127⅞	127⅞	126⅛	126¾
Reading	50¾	51	49	49
Tis.	137	137	135⅛	135⅝
Erie	33¾	34	32¾	32⅞
do pref	67	67	65¾	65⅜
O. & W.	27⅝	27¾	27	27
C. O.	40½	40⅝	40	40
Manhattan	138⅝	138⅛	137⅞	137¾
W. C.	22⅞	22⅞	22	22⅛
L. & N.	114½	115¾	113½	113¾
Nor.	69¾	69¾	68½	68⅜
C. G. W.	21¼	21¼	20¾	20¾
W.U.	84	84	83½	83½
T.C.I.	58¾	58¾	55⅝	55⅝
U.S. Steel	33⅞	33⅞	32¾	32¾
do pref.	82¾	83¾	82	82¾
Sugar	123⅞	124	122½	122¾
A. C. P.	64⅞	64⅞	61¾	61⅞
Pe.	100¼	100¼	99¾	99¾
B. R. T.	64¼	64¼	62⅞	62⅞
Met.	129½	129¾	129½	129½
Wab.	26¼	26½	26	26
do pref.	46¾	47	45½	45½
Soo	62	62	58	58
R. I.	40½	40½	39⅜	39⅜
A. F.	38	38	37¾	37¾
Al.	24	24	23½	23½

July wheat opened at 74 1-8, closed at 74 1-2.

July corn opened at 44 7-8, closed at 45.

SAVE MONEY By JOINING The MUTUAL LITERARY-MUSIC CLUB OF AMERICA.

25 Cents pays for three months' membership. Each member receives the official club organ every month, including 8 pieces of high-class vocal and instrumental new music each month, 16 pieces in all; also a Certificate of Membership which gives the privilege of Club Room in New York City, and of buying literature, music or musical instruments of any description at wholesale prices, saving you from 20% to 60% on your purchases. Don't fail to join at once. You will get much more than your money's worth. MUTUAL LITERARY-MUSIC CLUB, Dept. , 150 Nassau St., N.Y.

The best way to get even is to forget.

The "Freak" Objections.

The Dog-faced Man, the Missing Link, the Hairless One, the Human Pincushion, the Rubber Neck Expansionist, the Armless Prodigy, the Fat Lady, the Living Skeleton, et al., in solemn session assembled, do humbly protest that they do not come within the meaning of the word "freak" ethnologically or idiomatically. Having by four years of strenuous effort infused broadcast into the minds of Britishers and continentals the substitution of the nomen "prodigy" for "freak" in designating the members of their august profession, they have decided to start the reform movement in the United States of America. The wave was started on Sunday last, the New York papers say, in the "Prodigy Department" at the Madison Square Garden, when, the Human Pincushion presiding, it was decided that their patience had been stretched too far, and that Mr. James A. Bailey, the public, bouncers, pullers-in, hawkers, et al., be memorialized, through the facile pen of the Armless One, and the humble request made that the more dignified name hereafter be extended to their honorable calling.

Here is the letter sent to Mr. Bailey, by which it is hoped the reform will be brought about:—

"Madison Square Garden,
"April 5, 1903.

"Mr. James A. Bailey, Manager, Barnum & Bailey, Greatest Show on Earth:

"Dear Sir,—We, the undersigned, members of the Prodigy Department, at an informal meeting held on April 5, were selected as a committee to draft you a letter expressing our respectful though emphatic protest against the action of some person in your employ in placing in our hall a sign bearing the, to us, objectionable word "freak," and permitting another person to call aloud, 'This way to the freaks,' and beg you to remedy both these matters as soon as possible.

"We are disposed to consider both these actions as oversights, or, because the person or persons complained of were unaware of how deeply we feel the application of the word 'freak' to us, and not to attribute either action to a violation of what you were pleased to abide by at our meeting of protest in London, Eng., three years ago! At that time, you will remember, Rev. Canon Wilberforce of Westminster Abbey, suggested the word 'prodigy' as a substitute for the obnoxious word 'freak,' and which it is but fair to you to say has been faithfully carried out while we were abroad in Europe. The reappearance of the objectionable sign here, it is needless to add, is equally offensive as it was in London, and the calling of "This way to the freaks' even more so, and we feel sure that we have only to direct your attention to these facts, inform you of our protest, and appeal to your sense of justice to have them immediately abolished. The committee: Young Herman, Expansionist; Chas. B. Tripp, Armless Prodigy; Frank Howard, Tattooed Man; H. C. Maxe, Needle King; Sig. Geo. Tomasso, Human Pincushion."

It is probable that their petition will be granted.

What He Came For.

A learned judge who was one of the guests at a dinner was unexpectedly called upon to reply to a toast. Recovering somewhat from his surprise, he said that his situation reminded him of the story of a man who fell into the water while he was fishing.

With no little difficulty he was rescued, and after he had regained his breath and was in a fairly comfortable condition, his rescuer asked him how he came to fall into the water.

"I did not come to fall into the water," replied the unfortunate fisherman. "I came to fish."

Piles To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles, the manufacturers have guaranteed it. See testimonials in the daily press and ask your neighbors what they think of it. You can use it and get your money back if not cured. 60c a box, at all dealers or EDMANSON, BATES & CO., Toronto. Dr. Chase's Ointment

CHILD WEAKNESS.

You can worry for months about your weak child and not succeed in doing it a fraction of the good that comes from little daily doses of Scott's Emulsion.

The cure of child weakness is not the matter of a day but of steady common-sense treatment.

Children like Scott's Emulsion and thrive on it.

Perfectly harmless yet powerful for good.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto.

Curious Bits of News.

In London on New Year's Day, a burglar, having carried off five thousand pounds' worth of jewelry, all the silver, and a large sum in ready money, pinned a note on the hearth-rug wishing its rightful owners "Many happy returns of the day."

The London "Chronicle" quotes a naval officer as saying that during the War of 1812 the British Admiralty sent out to Kingston (Ont.), where the British fleet was then stationed, a large number of water-casks, in the belief that Lake Ontario was a salt water lake.

A coal-hod in the window of a New York clothier is filled with bills and coin, in which is thrust a coal shovel. Beside it is a small stove, so arranged with a red incandescent light that it appears to contain a brisk fire. Near them is the legend: "We are just burning money on these $12 suits, but we need the room, and they must be moved by February 1."

In an article on "Life in Labrador" in "Blackwood's Magazine," Mr. W. T. Grenfell vouches for the following: "A friend who had a young live black bear as a pet buried it in November in a barrel under the snow. Twice he dug it up in the winter, but it showed no signs of wishing to move, so he permitted it to sleep on till May."

Odors as an assistance to diagnosis is a new branch of medical science. The "Medical Record" is authority for the statement that the odor of new mown hay is an indication of pyaemia, typhus is indicated by an ammoniac smell, jaundice by a musky one, yellow fever by the odor of a gun-barrel, hysteria by a suggestion of violets or pineapples, intermittent fever by the smell of fresh-baked brown bread, and measles by one like fresh-picked feathers. It seems somewhat incongruous that the smell of the plague resembles honey.

The newest of queer religious sects is the "Association of Christian Brethren," which, according to the New York "Sun," is "sailing down the Mississippi in a modern imitation of the Ark to tell people that the millennium is surely coming in 1941." "Megiddo" is the name of the boat, and nearly one hundred persons, men, women and children, are aboard of her. The president of the sect is L. T. Nichols of Minneapolis, and he launched his craft at the end of November. He holds himself mainly responsible for the support of his followers, who are planning to live on the "Megiddo" until the day of the millennium.

Men sometimes dream of enormous wealth stored deep in the earth, below the reach of miners, but according to the statements of Professor C. R. Van Hise at the Denver meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, there is little or no ground to believe that valuable metallic deposits lie very deep in the earth's crust. Such deposits, he said, are made by underground waters, and owing to the pressure on the rocks at great depths, the waters are confined to a shell near the surface. With few exceptions, ore deposits become too lean to repay working below 3,000 feet. Nine mines in ten, taking the world as a whole, are poorer in the second thousand feet than in the first thousand, and poorer yet in the third thousand than in the second.

An article in "Ainslee's Magazine" contains this passage: "The world has never seen, and in no other part of the world is there now to be seen anything like America's jewel-madness as shown by the conditions of to-day, when more than three hundred New York establishments are engaged solely in the importation of precious stones, when agents of American dealers are searching Europe for the white gem and hopelessly endeavoring to supply American appeals for rubies and emeralds, and when six thousand men in South Africa are toiling to obtain diamonds more than half of which are to add to the beauty and happiness of the American woman. It is she that has caused the United States to become the greatest diamond market in the world. For her we have imported in a single year $20,000,000 worth of precious stones; for her, at one period we smuggled them in at the rate of $7,000,000 a year; for her we annually buy something like $12,000,000 worth of diamonds, and thus, for her sake, heartlessly leave, of the world's total output of diamonds, only some $3,000,000 worth to satisfy the vanity of all the rest of the women on earth."

When Crispi Was Lucky in Being Penniless.

THE late Francesco Crispi, the great Italian statesman, once escaped arrest as a revolutionist because he did not have a sou wherewith to buy a candle. The story is told in the "Courrier des Etats-Unis" (New York):

"On January 14, 1858, Francesco Crispi, the recently deceased Italian statesman, then a political refugee in Paris, received from an Italian friend connected with the Paris opera two gallery tickets for the performance of that evening, which the Emperor and Empress were expected to attend. Crispi and his wife were on the point of starting for the theater when the latter exclaimed: 'Francesco, where shall we get a candle?' They were in such destitution that they had neither candles nor matches, nor yet the wherewithal to buy them. Going to the opera would involve groping for their room at midnight and going to bed in total darkness. Too proud to confess their condition and to borrow a few sous they regretfully denied themselves the promised treat, remained in their room, and retired before the twilight had faded.

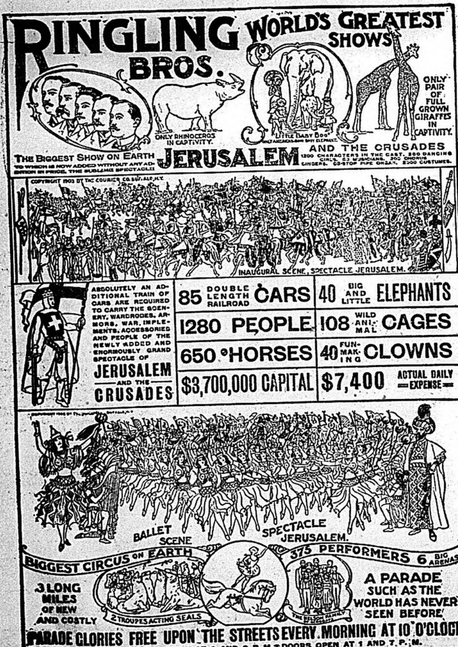
"On the following morning they learned of Orsini's attack on the Emperor, the police raids, and the arrest of all Italian revolutionists found in or near the theater. If Crispi had been in the house he would certainly have been among the first arrested, for he was known as an ardent disciple of Mazzini.

"The possession of a tallow candle and a match might have altered completely not only his own destiny, but also that of Italy!"

Good For Burns.

Tourist (after his first drink of Bloody Gulch whisky)—Thunder and lightning! Gimme a chaser, quick! Bartender (disdainfully)—Wot d' yer [illegible]—water? Tourist—No; linseed oil!

COMING TO BELLEVILLE Saturday, June 6, Second Tour of Canada



RINGLING BROS. WORLD'S GREATEST SHOWS

ONLY RHINOCEROS IN CAPTIVITY. "LITTLE BABY BOO" ONLY PAIR OF FULL GROWN GIRAFFES IN CAPTIVITY.

THE BIGGEST SHOW ON EARTH TO WHICH IS NOW ADDED WITHOUT ANY ADDITION IN PRICE, THE SUBLIME SPECTACLE JERUSALEM AND THE CRUSADES 1200 CHARACTERS IN THE CAST. 300 DANCING GIRLS. 63 MUSICIANS. 200 CHORUS SINGERS. 63-STOP PIPE ORGAN. 2000 COSTUMES.

COPYRIGHT 1903 BY THE COURIER CO. BUFFALO, N.Y.

INAUGURAL SCENE, SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.

ABSOLUTELY AN ADDITIONAL TRAIN OF CARS ARE REQUIRED TO CARRY THE SCENERY, WARDROBES, ARMORS, WAR IMPLEMENTS, ACCESSORIES AND PEOPLE OF THE NEWLY ADDED AND ENORMOUSLY GRAND SPECTACLE OF JERUSALEM AND THE CRUSADES

85 DOUBLE LENGTH RAILROAD CARS — 40 BIG AND LITTLE ELEPHANTS — 1280 PEOPLE — 108 WILD ANIMAL CAGES — 650 HORSES — 40 FUN-MAKING CLOWNS — $3,700,000 CAPITAL — $7,400 ACTUAL DAILY EXPENSE

BALLET SCENE SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.

BIGGEST CIRCUS ON EARTH 375 PERFORMERS 6 BIG ARENAS

3 LONG MILES OF NEW AND COSTLY 2 TROUPES ACTING SEALS THE NELSON FAMILY A PARADE SUCH AS THE WORLD HAS NEVER SEEN BEFORE

PARADE GLORIES FREE UPON THE STREETS EVERY MORNING AT 10 O'CLOCK

TWO PERFORMANCES DAILY AT 2 AND 8 P. M. DOORS OPEN AT 1 AND 7 P. M.

ONE 50-CENT TICKET ADMITS TO EVERYTHING. CHILDREN UNDER 12, HALF PRICE

Admission and numbered [illegible] Seat Tickets sold on show day at Riggs' music store at same prices as charged at ticket waggons on show grounds. Belleville, Saturday, June 6

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

CASH AND QUANTITY

Here is an example of one of the many advantages gained by us—the big store—in cash and quantity buying.

By the extent of our purchase we have been enabled to close a deal with a large manufacturer of superior grade boy's clothing making it possible for us to sell these extra fine goods at prices no greater than the usual—less desirable grades.

Made from finest Black and Navy Worsted Serge they have a finish of lining and trimming and a style surpassing anything we have ever seen in boy's clothing.

Comparing them with others at the same prices you will easily see dollars difference in value.

These dollars you can save if you come here for your boys clothing—it is at least worth investigation.

—Boy's Fine Grade 3 piece suit of Navy or Black Worsted Cloth, extra finished—silk stitched, sizes 27 to 34, ... $5.00, $6.50, $8.00

WASH SILKS

Nothing will make a prettier or cooler waist than one of our Summer Wash Silks.

You will be agreeably surprised—as many others have—at the range of dainty patterns in expensive yet durable qualities.

A Waist of this will cost but little more than a Gingham. In appearance—that is where they excel.

—Cream, Pink, Grey, Blue, Mauve, fancy striped wash silk, per yard 35c

—Plain colored Japan Taffeta Silk, ... 50c

WAISTINGS

An assortment of pretty new Spring Chally and flannel designs at our Dress Goods counter.

These follow fashions latest—many having medallion figures of Persian work.

The Challies are extra fine and light weight and will be found just the thing for slightly cool days and evenings.

—New designs in fine all wool Challies, 30" wide assorted patterns and colors, .. 45c & 50c

—Grey—Blue fancy waisting with small white dot and large Persian medallion pattern, 36" wide, ... 60c

LACES

Laces play—if possible—a more important part than ever—in the summer Wash Goods make up.

We take as much care in the purchasing of these small items as in the larger—getting all our Valenciennes and other laces direct from the looms—assuring best possible values.

A fine line of embroidery Appliques will be found at our Wash Goods Counter—these are the seasons newest.

—Fine Valenciennes Laces in assorted widths and patterns, from .... 2c yd.

Good Quality--Low Prices

These are the two cardinal points on which our Shirt Waist assortment rests.

Here again you will see what excellent values we are able to attain for our customers by buying large quantities for cash.

Every desirable style in material and make which fashion has decreed for this season is here—as near perfect in workmanship and fit as has yet been attained.

We are always glad to hear your opinion of our goods—We will be pleased to hear it on these.

—Waist of good quality colored Print—made in latest style large sleeves—plenty of material, ... 39c

—Waist of Fine Blue or Pink Print, trimmed back and front with narrow tucks piped with white, very pretty, ... 59c

—Waist of fancy fine Print, trimmed with bias, self strapping, inverted box plait front—collar to match, ... 75c

—Waist of fine White Inia Linen, front trimmed with narrow tucks and hemstitching—box plait 60c

—Fine White Muslin Waist trimmed with wide Valenciennes, lace strapping and narrow tucks, ... 75c

—Waist of Fine White India Linen trimmed front and back with wide hemstitched tucks—box plait, full front, ... $1.00

LADIES' UMBRELLAS

Did the last rain storm find you unprepared?

No reason when you can get a real good Umbrella at the price we are asking.

New—desirable additions to our assortment bring it up to the "easy choosing" point.

All kinds—some built for heavy use—others finer for real best.

—Fine Umbrella with fast black cover—steel rod—strong ribs. $1.00

—Fine black mixed silk and wool Umbrella with natural wool handle—complete with silk cover $2.25

Agents for Standard Patterns.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

CLOTHING BOUGHT HERE PRESSED FREE OF CHARGE

SUITS FOR MEN

The Entirely Different Sorts.

Not satisfied with equaling in style, fit and excellence of workmanship the made-to-measure garments the best tailors produce, our makers are now fashioning their suits from the same fabrics which have heretofore been exclusive with the Custom Tailors.

Our showing of these suits is very extensive.

They are suits that the average man wants—they give him the style and exclusiveness he seeks without the extra cost of the tailors.

Even the most expert criticism will fail to discover that these suits were not custom made.

The trood showing we make including as it does every size for men of different propostions practically assurs a perfect fit for every man.

But in some cases an exact fit cannot be secured immediately and then we do as the tailors would do at a try on—make the necessary alterations that would secure perfection of fit.

Fancy mixed cashmeres—neat effects in Cheviots—three and four button sack styles including the new straight front.

$6.50 to $15.00

And by the way you can better judge the unassailable quality of these suits if you'll do a little comparing.

Top Coats $5.00 to $12.00

NEW SPRING HATS

All the latest American and English styles, see our celebrated Christys' Hats at $1.00

Christy's Hats

QUICK & ROBERTSON

Exclusive Agents for Johnston's Famous Clothing for Men and Boys.

SUMMER COOKING

made easy by using one of our

Auto
Valvo
Blue
Flame
Oil
Stoves

These stoves combine all the latest improvements and are constructed so as to give perfect satisfaction.

The W. W. CHOWN Company, Limited

Orders for bookbinding should be left at this office. It is surprising how nice a volume can be made of these magazines, even though they are somewhat soiled from much handling. Books, magazines, or periodicals bound or rebound in any style at very reasonable prices. Blank books, such as journals, ledgers, day books, with any kind of ruling, made to order. All work warranted first-class. THE INTELLIGENCER, Belleville.

WORLD'S FAMOUS ACROBATS.

Aerialists and Equestrians to be Seen in Ringling Brothers' Wonderful Circus.

Ringling Brothers have gathered together the flower of the acrobatic, aerial and equestrian world—375 men of brawn and muscle and agility, who are seen in wonderful physical culture conceptions, and women of beauty, grace and skill in acts of daring that seem beyond the possible. Their exhibitions of strength and dexterity on the numerous stages, in the rings, upon the backs of mettlesome horses, and far up in the aerial conclave midst a network of trapeze and horizontal bars, justly brings them the title of "the physical marvels of two hemispheres." Always alert to secure the newest and greatest, the Ringling Brothers, whose immense circus will exhibit in Belleville, Saturday, June 6, present this year a thrilling European acrobatic novelty in the famous Dollard Troupe, now appearing for the first time in America. Their marvellous exploits are astonishing and delighting Ringling Brothers' patrons daily. Their accomplishments and distinctly unique and original work cause them to stand out pre-eminently in the unexcelled company, which includes the eight St. Leons, direct from Australia, in ground acrobats and graceful postures, and the ever-popular Nelson Family of eleven, who, in the greatest degree, demonstrate the possibilities of physical culture. Their act this season is new in conception—one that wins salvos of applause wherever it is seen. Three generations are represented in this marvellous family of acrobats. The incomparable Brothers Rio, new to America, are another recently acquired interesting feature, presenting a novel conceit in the gymnic field. Genero and Theol, the peers of all contortionists, also command special attention, as do the Fortuns Brothers in a very amusing bar act. Among the thrilling aerial sensations displayed in the biggest of all shows, the five Flying Fishers are particularly prominent. They are past masters in the art of long-distance vaulting, somersaulting and catching, at dizzy heights. No less important is the celebrated Potters, five in number, in a simpler act, and the marvellous "upside-down man," Frank Smith, whose skill in balancing head downward on the frail bar of a swinging trapeze is one of the most thrilling numbers in the circus. The artistic and the beautiful are predominant in the many new equestrian acts presented this season. While bareback riding has been so important a part in the past that it at once suggests a glowing picture of the ever nerve-quickening sawdust arena and its enchantments. So many innovations have been introduced—so much that is unusual has been provided—that equestrianism comes before us in a different form. In the greatest company of famous male and female riders ever controlled by the Ringling Brothers are the renowned Walletts, now riding for the first time in America; the champion trick and somersault riders, Michael and John Rooney; Miss Daisy St. Leon and Miss May Davenport, respectively the premier artists in their line from Australia and England; the famous Hobsons; Reno McCree, England's champion; Albert Crandall, Frank Schadle and John Slater, in burlesque mule equestrianism, together with the following superb menage riders: Madame Royal, Miss Ida Miaco, Miss Leone Bell, Miss Carrie Leon, John O'Brien, Rhoda Royal, Albert Thompson, John Agee and Alfred Seamon. In this remarkable company of finished artists are 60 acrobats, 60 aerialists, 40 riders, equestrian and menage, 35 vaulters and leapers, 40 clowns, 50 equilibrists and 30 ground tumblers. These famous men and women will positively be seen in this city on the day of the exhibition, together with the glittering street parade, three miles in length; the sublime spectacle of Jerusalem and the Crusades, and the wonderful menagerie, with its host of new and novel features, including the only baby elephant successfully born and reared in America, a pair of full grown giraffes, the last of their race, and the only rhinoceros in captivity.

On show day admission tickets and numbered reserved seats will be on sale at Riggs' Music Store at same prices as charged on show grounds.

Trenton Notes.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The work on the new Central Ontario station, which is being erected by Mr. Walter Alford, of Belleville, is progressing favorably. When completed the structure will be a substantial one, and a credit to the town.

Mrs. Cooley was on trial on Monday before Magistrate O'Rourke on the charge of selling liquor during prohibited hours. After some evidence had been taken the case was enlarged for a week. Mr. Anderson, County Attorney, appeared for the Crown.

The prospects are that the summer will be an active one in this town. A number of workmen are working at Gilmour's mill and a larger force will be at work as soon as the logs arrive.

TENDENCY OF CATARRH IS TO SPREAD.

Just a slight matter at first, and because slight, neglected; but the seed sown brings forth a dangerous harvest, consumption, which is the harvest of death. Better spend a few moments each day inhaling Catarrhozone, an aromatic antiseptic that relieves at once, clears the nasal passages, and restores lost sense of taste and smell. The immediate effect of Catarrhozone is magical, so prompt and efficient. Cure is certain and permanent if you use Catarrhozone. Price $1. Small sizes 25c, at druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

PERSONAL ...AND... SOCIAL.

The Intelligencer invites all its readers to contribute to this column all items of a personal nature, such as the arrival or departure of guests, the movements of well-known people, business men, etc. All that is required is to send a post card to or telephone The Intelligencer.

Rev. J. J. Rice, of Toronto, spent yesterday in the city.

Mr. Charles Frost returned from Toronto yesterday, where he was on business.

Mr. Thos. Ritchie has returned home from a successful fishing sojourn at Salmon Lake.

Master Roger Porter yesterday afternoon entertained a number of his playmates in honor of his fifth birthday.

Mr. J. C. Holden, of Montreal, was in the city yesterday. Whilst here he purchased a handsome team of horses for his private use.

Col. Hendrick, who has been spending a few days fishing in the northern portion of the County, returned to the city last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Binniger, Ridley street, last evening entertained a few relatives in commemoration of their twenty-ninth wedding anniversary.

There is a rumor that Lord Northcote, Governor of Bombay, is to succeed Lord Minto at Ottawa. Lord Northcote is a son of Baron Iddesleigh (Sir Stafford Northcote), and Lady Northcote is a daughter of Lord Mount-Stephen.

Port Hope Guide: Rev. W. J. Crothers, M.A., D.D., Belleville, was in town to-day calling on old friends. The Doctor was invited by a unanimous standing vote to remain the fourth year at Bridge St. Church. He is as popular in Belleville as he was in Port Hope, and that is saying a great deal.

At the Quinte:—J. E. Halliwell, Stirling; W. H. Morrow, C. Runk, E. J. Terry, J. E. Neville, B. Mendels, F. X. Lizotte, A. Bernstein, Montreal; L. B. Floyd, A. S. King, J. B. Hutchins, W. A. Shaw, W. J. Cluff, J. W. Wilkinson, W. C. Meredith, A. H. Bevis, J. E. Anderson, D. Morrison, J. F. Maclaren, J. C. Heaton, H. Powell, J. McNeil, J. McLellan, J. D. Hunter, A. C. McMaster, Toronto; H. A. Young, New York; G. Mann, Kingston; J. Smith, Guelph; C. Hutchison, Waterloo; J. H. Dickie and wife, Trenton; W. J. Moore, W. Cross, Madoc; J. G. Probert, Kidderminster, Eng.; J. A. Loucks, C. L. Owen, Campbellford.

HOW TO GET UP AN APPETITE.

Distaste for food often follows grippe and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease and by removing the cause cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. All druggists and medicine dealers sell Ferrozone.

A Timely Act.

A boy this morning was exploding torpedoes upon the sidewalk on Front street when Chief Newton appeared upon the scene. The boy was compelled to give up the torpedoes and his name was also obtained.

A BIG QUARTER'S WORTH is always found in a bottle of Polson's Nerviline, the best household liniment known. It cures rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, headache, sick stomach, in fact is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for. Mothers find it the safest thing to rub on their children for sore throat, cold on the chest, sprains and bruises. Never be without Polson's Nerviline. It will cure the pains and aches of the entire family and relieve a vast amount of suffering every year.

In the Justice Shop.

A Horse Case.

Thomas Sweener, who resides in Tyendinaga, was charged with obtaining, through fraudulent means, a horse belonging to Mr. A. Graham, of this city. The case was enlarged for a week, as the defendant was unable to appear.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

All books of the Public Library must be returned on or before Saturday next, May 23rd, for cataloguing. The Library is open the usual hours for the receipt of the same.

G. T. LUTON,
President.
20-22

THE VICTORIA DAY RACES, in Picton, will be interesting. SIDNEY POINTER, the fastest stallion ever raised in Canada, will start on Victoria Day. Other classes well filled. m19,3td

The more you speak of yourself the more you are likely to lie.—Zimmerman.

A NAGGING COUGH drives sleep and comfort away. You can conquer it with Allen's Lung Balsam, which relieves hard breathing, pain in the chest and irritation of the throat. Give it freely to the children. 2

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Advertisements under this heading TWO CENTS A WORD; subsequent consecutive insertions ONE CENT A WORD. No local charged at less than twenty-five words.

The Amateur Minstrels went to Picton this afternoon, where they give a performance to-night. The Annie Lake took them.

The footbridge is badly in need of repairs. A portion of the planking is loose, and pieces are broken off the sides.

A smart boy of good education to learn the printing trade. Apply to The Intelligencer Office. 2t

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

A lawn mower was found by the police last night outside of a business place, after the establishment had been closed.

Friday of this week is Empire Day and it will be fittingly observed in the various schools of the city.

After May 25th postage on letters from Canada to Australia will be at the rate of 2 cents per one-half ounce.

During their rounds last night the police discovered an open window in rear of a business establishment. An examination of the premises was made, but everything appeared to be all right.

The Boys Brigade of St. Thomas' church gave an entertainment in the opera house last night to a fair house.

No. 1 Company, 49th Regiment, will go in camp on June 16th. Capt. C. K. Graham has openings for 25 men, and those desiring to go should apply to the captain at the Mayor's office.

The Fax-Chambers Concert Monday, June 1st, will probably mark the close of the concert season. Subscription lists point to a great success. 35 cents for reserved seats. 20-2td

When the fire bells rang to-day, between 12 and 1 o'clock, one of the firemen was getting shaved in a barber shop, the job being just half completed. When the bell sounded he wiped off the lather and broke for the door, with one clean cheek and the other decidedly "scrubby."

The Flying Fishers, who are engaged with Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows this season, were the reigning sensation of London last winter. These great artists perform feats in mid-air that many clever acrobats hesitate to attempt on the ground. There is no other act like this in the world.

Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

The dust to-day was a great trial to pedestrians and bicyclists.

Many regrets are expressed in this city at the shocking death of Mr. Allan Gilmour, of Ottawa, once of Trenton.

Coin Pay Envelopes at The Intelligencer Job Office. Cheapest and best in the city.

A Small Fire.

Shortly before 1 o'clock to-day the Fire Brigade were called out. The roof of a double brick house on Mill street became ignited but the blaze was soon extinguished. Mr. S. J. Bull owns the building, and the damage sustained is covered by insurance.

ONTARIO JOCKEY CLUB SPRING MEET, Toronto May 23rd to June 6th. The Grand Trunk service from this city is unexcelled for those attending the races at Toronto. Trains leave Belleville daily at 4.10 a.m., 1.48 p.m. Daily except Sunday, 3.00 a.m., 5.50 a.m., 11.22 a.m., 5.10 p.m. Returning leave Toronto daily 10.00 p.m. Daily except Sunday 8.00 a.m., 2.00 p.m., 5.10 p.m. Up-to-date coaches, Cafe Parlor and Dining cars, serving meals "A la Carte." Passengers desiring to see King's Plate race and races on 25th and 26th, can take advantage of reduced rates in effect for Victoria Day. For full information and tickets apply to U. E. Thompson, C.P. & T. A. 20-4t

The aerial features of Ringling Brothers' monster shows by far surpass anything of a similar nature ever exhibited in the United States. The civilized countries of the world have been thoroughly searched for the newest and most thrilling acts. Among the most important of these features is the marvellous European sensation, introduced by the famous Dollard Troupe, the renowned Potters and Fishers, the Nelson Family, the Alvo Troupe, and the Fortuns Brothers, direct from Paris.

Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

It takes money to voice the opinion of a lawyer.

HEAD-ACHES and HAND SHAKES

Some imagine that because the head-aches or the hand shakes that the head or hand is the seat of the trouble. Ninety-nine times in a hundred you could trace them as unmistakable symptoms that the kidneys are in revolt.

South American Kidney Cure cleans the system of all impurities in nature's way—eradicates all the disturbing symptoms—quiets the head and steadies the hand—it puts the kidneys to rights. As a kidney cure it's next to infallible. Relieves in six hours. 78

Sold by D. M. Waters.

PEN PICTURES OF PEOPLE YOU MEET ON A BELLEVILLE STREET.

REV. M. W. MACLEAN.

Seeing Rev. Mr. Maclean on the street, even a stranger would know he was a minister; if the stranger was anything of a good guesser he would know that he was a Presbyterian minister. There is something about the firm jaws and steady gaze of the eyes which bespeaks the man brought up in the school which numbers Calvin and John Knox among its honored names. And when he speaks the assurance is made doubly sure. Scotch by birth? Oh, of course. Such a rich accent as that could never have been acquired anywhere but in the Land o' Cakes. And the expression on his face! Surely the old Covenanters, who worshipped on the hills and sang Psalms while they kept a keen eye open for their Cavalier persecutors, must have used the same measured tones and gazed out of just such deep-set eyes as those with which the pastor of St. Andrew's surveys his flock when on Sundays he exhorts them to stand fast and fight the demon of unrighteousness. Rev. Mr. Maclean has such an impressive manner that he could say commonplace things and make people think they were something out of the ordinary. Mind, we said he COULD. As a matter of fact he does not, for it is a well-known fact that no minister in this city puts more real "meat" into his sermons than the subject of this little sketch. The writer has been privileged to hear Rev. Mr. Maclean several times, and he never yet heard him say anything uninteresting, and that's more than—but that's another story. Do you remember the morning the "boys" went away to fight for Queen and country in South Africa? Of course you do, unless you've got a precious short memory. Well, the last address the lads heard in the late lamented drill shed, before they marched away, was one from the Fifteenth's chaplain, Rev. Mr. Maclean, and really, the writer thought at the time he never heard a finer little effort. "Oh, Lord God of Battles," he said, "we implore thee to watch over these, our young men, who are going forth to fight for thy chosen servant, Victoria. Be with them on land and on the sea; be with them sleeping, be with them waking; be unto them a very present help in time of trouble, and finally bring them safe home again to their dear ones and to us. Amen!" What a hush came o'er the crowd as the deep voice rose and fell! (Rev. Matthew Witherspoon Maclean was born in Glasgow, Scotland, in June, 1842. He was educated at the Church of Scotland Normal School, afterwards taking a full course in Arts in Glasgow University, and at Queen's College, Kingston. He studied divinity at Glasgow University and at Princeton, N. J., graduating at the latter place, in 1866, in which year he was ordained. His first charge was at Paisley, Ont. From there he went to Perth, and in 1873, thirty years ago, came to his present pastorate in St. Andrew's Church, this city. Many changes have taken place in Belleville since Rev. Mr. Maclean and his estimable wife came among us. The latter has gone to her reward, but her memory is, and will ever be, dear to all who were privileged to know her. Thirty years is a long time to hold down one pulpit, but people of all classes in this city, whether brought up on the Shorter Catechism or not, will sincerely hope that the time may be far distant when Rev. Mr. Maclean will feel called on to turn over to other hands the pastorate of St. Andrew's.

Pills and Sarsaparilla

The best vegetable pills you can buy are Ayer's Pills. And the best Sarsaparilla is Ayer's. Two grand family medicines.

J. C. Ayer Co.,
Lowell, Mass.

Sports and Pastimes

SPORTING COMMENT.

There was a good turn-out of the lacrosse players last night, and Field Captain N. Patterson gave the boys a good work-out. There is every probability that the team will be in good shape when the flag falls on June 3, for the first heat of the championship race. Some of the boys feel rather aggrieved because the old-timers in town fail to take more interest in the practices. Even if they don't play themselves they should turn out to practice and give the youngsters the benefit of their experience. Get in the game, gentlemen. It's all for the honor of the town, you know.

Our mutual friend, Mr. Harry Burrell, was at Monte Carlo when he wrote his last letter, hobnobbing with people from all over the world and having the time of his life. When he hears that the lacrosse season has started in Belleville he will be booking a passage on the first ocean liner.

A crowd numbering 31,500 people saw a baseball match in New York last Saturday. That means nearly $20,000 at the gate. Easy money!

Don't forget that all entries for next Monday's road race must be in by Friday night. It promises to be a good thing.

Buffalo Courier: And while Baltimore filtered through and the two leaders fattened, little, old, scrappy Toronto came bravely through the heap and laid in third place. Toronto did not sail out in the lead in its pennant chase last year in the first half season, and may be counted on for a spanking fast finish again this year. They have a way of strengthening over there in the Canadian metropolis that is effective.

JUST WHAT YOU NEED.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are just what you need when constipated; when you have no appetite, feel dull after eating and wake up with a bad taste in your mouth. They will improve your appetite, cleanse and invigorate your stomach and give you a relish for your food. For sale by all druggists.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT TO A YOUNG LADY.

MISS GRACE MARTIN FALLS FROM A VERANDAH SEVENTEEN FEET TO THE GROUND.

A painful accident happened this morning at the residence of Rev. A. Martin, Charlotte St., by which Miss Grace, his adopted daughter, received a badly broken ankle, but how it happened is somewhat of a mystery, as the recollection of the injured young lady is rather confused. The probability is that she became dizzy and fell from the balcony, a distance of seventeen feet, to the yard below.

Shortly after breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Martin, who were in the garden on the opposite side of the house, heard a shriek and hastening to the spot, found Miss Gracie in terrible agony.

Medical aid was at once summoned and it was found that both bones of the right ankle were badly broken. Two doctors set the broken limb. The patient is resting as comfortably as can be expected. It was feared that she had received internal injuries, but after careful examination the doctors can find no evidence of it.

Bad as is the accident, it might have been worse. The wonder is that she was not killed outright, considering the distance and place she fell.

A FARMER CURED OF RHEUMATISM.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time, for it cured me.'" For sale by all druggists.

Surrogate Court.

Letters of guardianship have been granted to Mr. Patrick Murphy, of Tweed, for the infant children of the late Hannah Murphy, of Hungerford. Estate $1,000. Mr. C. W. Craig, solicitor.

A CHOIR CONCERT.

Keep in mind the choice concert in Bridge St. Church on Thursday evening next, May 28th. A splendid programme, including Mr. Ross, the celebrated baritone, of Toronto. One admission, 25 cents.

ESTABLISHED 1870

Light Weight Hats

COLORED FELTS AND STRAWS

Latest New York Styles.

No trouble to show them.

S. A. HYMAN & CO.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

HOSIERY
FOR SATURDAY NIGHT.

We have just made a very fortunate purchase in

'Ladies' Fancy French
Lace Lisle Hosiery.

348 pairs of as good hose as was ever retailed at 50c a pair.
Every pair stamped Pure Lisle Thread.

OUR PRICE

Saturday Evening for these goods will be

15c a pair.

On Sale 7.30 Saturday Evening

Laidlaw & Ketcheson
DIRECT IMPORTE

Daily Intelligencer.

THE INTELLIGENCER IS SOLD AT
J. W. London's and S. Wardhaugh's.

Local Reading Advertisements.
words 50 cents; 2 cents per word first insertion, per word subsequent consecutive insertions. Headlines count as 12 words; contracts for long periods made at office

More Vim

Spring debility arises from impure blood and a clogged condition of the system. Our Sarsaparilla Extract with Iodide of Potassium gives just the aid needed. It enriches the blood and gives new vitality. Price 75c a bottle.

McKeown's DRUG STORE

NEW SPRING GOODS

LATEST DESIGNS IN
SPRING TROUSERING.

Spring Overcoating. A nice Line of Waterproof Overcoating, Tweeds and Serges at reasonable prices by the yard.

Call and inspect my stock before ordering your Spring Clothing.

ARTHUR McGIE,
Merchant Tailor.
Front Street.

It takes a long time to tell of what you have not done.

Peppermint
and Wintergreen
Cream Wafers just fresh made.
30c a lb.

Crystallized
Ginger
Our own. Sweet and juicy.
50c a lb.

CHAS. S. CLAPP

Sterling Silver
and Cut Glass.

Particular attention is directed to my stock of the above goods, which at present is most attractive. I handle the renowned Gorham Silver and Hawkes Cut Glass Ware, being sole agent for this city. These are the best and prices are moderate.

T. BLACKBURN.

WRAPPERS & BLOUSES

This week we will devote our entire time and energy in disposing of the finest lot of Ladies' Print Wrappers and Black Sateen Blouses ever seen in this or any other city.

Ladies Print Wrappers, flounced and beautifully trimmed at $1.75, $1.50 $1.25, $1.00.

Ladies' Wrappers.. 85 & 75c

Black Sateen Blouses

Ladies' Black Sateen Blouses at $2.25, $2.00, $1.50, $1.60, 75c.

We would call special attention to our $1 Blouses.

McINTOSH BROS.

The Mother-in-Law.

Very little is known of the origin of this species, writes Dorothy Dix in her "Studies in Natural History." Many people who have had opportunity of studying it at close range believe that the first one was the original Serpent in Eden that put Eve up to making trouble for Adam, and that its descendants are still at work breaking up Domestic Paradises. In confirmation of this theory, which is held by many men of experience, it is pointed out that the Mother-in-Law is generally the First Aid to the Divorced, and that in families where none is kept the wife generally lives and dies without eating of the apple of knowledge, and finding out that she is married to a Brute and is a Poor, Persecuted Angel.

Generally speaking, the Mother-in-Law is indigenous to Europe and America, only a few scattering ones, and those of a feeble character, being found in Asia, and none at all in Africa, which accounts for the large immigration of recent years to the latter country.

Naturalists have no trouble in placing the Mother-in-Law among the predatory and man-devouring animals, but much difficulty has arisen in setting the exact class to which it belongs, some students contending that because of its mania for putting its finger in everybody's pie it pertains to the genus feminis intermedlis, while others hold that its arbitrary temper and determination to rule the roost indicate that it is a species of the genus feminis henpeckus. An eminent authority, however, advances the opinion that while both of these theories are true, they do not go far enough, and that the Mother-in-Law is, perhaps, the finest specimen extant of the genus feminis stirup troublibus.

In appearance this strange animal is what is described as hard-featured, being particularly noticeable for the set of its jaw and the fact that it presents, from every aspect, an unyielding appearance. It is generally of a black color, and it bristles with bundles as a porcupine does with quills. Its voice is also of a peculiarly grating and harsh quality, and has the extraordinary power of affecting men's nerves to the extent of driving them to drink.

The chief characteristic of the Mother-in-Law is its inability to let people alone. It can no more see a man and his wife happily going their own way in peace without wanting to throw a bomb in between them, than a dog can see a horse grazing in a meadow without snapping at its heels. This is not intentional mischief. It is just the nature of the beast, and it can't help it. It is built that way, with an insatiable mania for butting into affairs where it is not wanted. No man can hope to run his house, or play anything but second fiddle, who keeps a Mother-in-Law on the premises.

As may be supposed, knowing the danger to which they will be exposed, and seeing the fell fate that has befallen their friends, no man desires to have such a household pet, but so crafty and foxy is the Mother-in-Law that it comes upon him unawares, and the first thing he knows one of these creatures is inalienably attached to his establishment. A great many men are able by strenuous labor to keep the wolf from the door, but comparatively few are ever able to fight off a Mother-in-Law.

Let it not be thought, however, that this bloodthirsty animal has been made in vain. Not without reason is it well called the Watch Dog of Monogamy, for no man has such a horror of polygamy as one who has a Mother-in-Law.

Napoleon's Housekeeping Book.

"The discredit that the tiara of Saitapharnes has brought on historical relics spoiled the sale of the account-book of Perron, 'maitre d'hotel' of Napolean at St. Helena. This very suggestive and, I believe, authentic volume was put up to auction at 400 fr., and with difficulty worked up to 480 fr.," writes a Paris correspondent. "Napoleon went over it once a week, signed it, and made any observations that occurred to him on the margin. His hand always illegible, became a fearful scrawl at Longwood. Montholon, his treasurer, however, re-wrote the observations in a legible hand, for Perron's direction. He often dined on kid or lamb or mutton in the early days of his captivity. He rejected fish on his doctor's advice. From the middle of 1820 he lived almost entirely on chicken and fruits, and occasionally had veal broth, with rice. The price of everything seems exorbitant. . . . Perron's accounts began in January, 1819, and ended on May 2, 1821. He lived to an old age. After his death all his personal property was sold by his grandchildren. A M. Dablin, a well-known collector, who began by collecting letters of Queen Victoria to Louis Philippe, which an 1848 mob cast out of the windows of the Tuileries, bought the Perron account-book. It enables those who have a little imagination to picture faithfully 'Napoleon at home, at St. Helena.'

"This account-book confirms me in an impression I have long had as to the jerkiness of Napoleon's mind. The more I learn of that mind the more wanting in balance it seems to me. It runs in a childish way from subject to subject, shows a childish impatience of contradiction, and of all that stands in the way of his desires. One sees this disposition in slave-owners and in persons who have, without long preparation, won great situations. Their caprices become their masters. Napoleon had for his agents in ministering to his behests the most brainy people in Europe, and in his time the least groovy and most spontaneous. The handwriting throughout his life may be taken as a sincere exponent of his defects of character and intellect. It looks like a drunkard's scrawl. Could his forebears have been deep drinkers of heady wines? Perhaps. But, whether or not, the handwriting is jerky, unconnected, utterly deficient in composure and mental dignity. I may even add that it betrays utter selfishness. The writer is entirely led by impulse and never studies the convenience of anyone else. Had he been considerate, he would have tried to write legibly, and his efforts would have been attended with some success."

* * *

He—Miss Workman, I'm going to propose to you—— She—Really, Mr. Phoxy, I'm sorry, but— He—That we have some ice cream— She—O! I shall be delighted to— He—Some evening when the weather gets warmer.—Philadelphia "Press."

Proud Father—My baby girl has been learning to talk for six months now. Experienced Father—Well, it will take her longer than that to learn not to.

"THERE was a poor woman, whose son was dreadfully ill, and she wanted to get him a doctor; but somehow, instead of going for the doctor, she fell asleep, and dreamt that her son was ill, and that she was going for the doctor. She went first (in her dream) to the house of the first physician in the town, but, when she arrived, the door was crowded with a number of pale beings, who were congregating around it and calling out to those within. So the woman asked them what they were, and they said, 'We are the spirits of those who have been killed by the treatment of this doctor, and we are come to make him our reproaches.' So the woman was horrified, and hurried away to the house of another doctor, but there she found even more souls than before; and at each house she went to there were more and more souls who complained of the doctors who had killed them. At last she came to the house of a very poor little doctor, who lived in a cottage in a very narrow, dirty street, and these were only two souls lamenting. 'Ah!' she said, 'this is the doctor for me; for, while the others have killed so many, this good man in all the course of his experience has only sent two souls out of the world.' So she went in and said, 'Sir, I have come to you because of your experience, because of your great and just reputation, to ask you to heal my son.' As she talked of his great reputation the doctor looked rather surprised, and at last he said, 'Well, madam, it is very flattering, but it is odd that you should have heard so much of me, for I have only been a doctor a week.' Ah! then you may imagine what the horror of the woman was—he had only been a doctor a week, and yet he had killed two persons! . . . So she awoke, and she did not go for a doctor at all, and her son got perfectly well."—From "The Story of My Life," by Augustus J. C. Hare.

Building for The Ages.

TO illustrate the slow and painful evolution of social progress, Olive Schreiner, in a recent article, uses the figure of cathedral-building. She says:

"He who to-day looks at some great Gothic cathedral in its final form seems to be looking at that which might have been the dream of some single soul of genius, who, waking in the morning, found the dream a reality. But in truth its origin was far otherwise. Ages elapsed from the time the first rough stone was laid as a foundation till the last spire and pinnacle were shaped, and the hand which laid the foundation-stone was never the same as that which set the last stone upon the coping. Generations succeeded one another, laboring at gargoyle, rose-window and shaft, and died, leaving the work to others; the first master-builder who drew up the first rough outline passed away and was succeeded by others, and the details of the work as completed bore but faint resemblance to the work as he devised it; no man fully understood all that others had done or were doing, but each labored in his place, and the work as completed had unity; it expressed not the desire and necessity of one mind, but of the unknown human spirit. And not less essential to the existence of the building was the labor of the humble workman who passed his life in carving gargoyles and shaping a few rose-windows, than that of the loftiest master-builder who drew the general outlines. And it was heroic; for the master-builder who, though it were but vaguely, had some image of what the whole work would be when the last stone was laid upon the coping and the last spire raised, it was easy to labor with devotion and zeal—though well he might know that the placing of that last stone and the raising of that last spire would not be his, and that the building in its full beauty and strength he should never see. But for the journeyman laborer who carried on his stones, and month by month toiled, carving at his own little gargoyle or shaping the traceries in his little oriel window, without any vision of what the whole would be when completed, it was not so easy; nevertheless, it was through the conscientious labors of such alone, through their heaps of chipped and spoiled stones, their half failures and almost blind successes, that at the last the pile could be reared in its strength and beauty."

Vaccination de Rigueur.

THE epidemic of smallpox in London, England, has, it seems, given rise to a curious innovation. Invitations are sent out for tea, on which it is stated there will be—not dancing, but vaccination. The sterner sex is represented by a doctor; tea is served at four o'clock, and at five vaccination begins. Whether this be true or not, they went one better in France a few years ago. There was an outbreak of smallpox in Paris, and a leader of fashion was struck with the idea of getting all her friends vaccinated. She issued invitations to a ball, which ended in a superb cotillion. She informed her guests that the latter would contain an entirely new figure. It did. The men had to submit to vaccination on the arm; the women on the calf of the leg. This is how it was carried out: After a "tour-de-valse," each man brought his partner to the doctor. She gracefully raised her skirt; there was a little cry on the part of the patient, another "tour-de-valse," and she was re-conducted to her place. The men had to take off their coats and display a corner of their biceps. From this it will be seen that England has not the monopoly of eccentric ideas.

An Embarrassing Honor.

The obsequiousness of those who hope to advance themselves by being exceedingly polite to their superiors in office sometimes assumes an amusing aspect.

A certain head of a government department was invited, says a daily paper, to dine with others at a table with a cabinet minister. During the dinner the former, who happened to be placed between a door and a window, and had said nothing at all, began to sneeze.

"Are you taking cold, Mr. Brown?" asked the cabinet minister.

"I believe I have that honor and pleasure," answered Mr. Brown, bowing very respectfully.

THE MARKETS.

Wheat Declined Fractionally at Liverpool and Rose a Cent at Chicago—Live Stock—The Latest Quotations.

Tuesday Evening, May 19.

Liverpool wheat futures closed ⅜d lower to-day than yesterday, and corn futures ⅛d to ¼d lower.

At Chicago July wheat advanced 1c from yesterday, July corn ⅝c and July oats ⅜c.

LEADING WHEAT MARKETS.

Following are the closing quotations at important wheat centres to-day:

	Cash.	May.	July.	Sept.
New York	....	....	79¼	76½
Chicago	....	80	74⅛	71⅜
Toledo	78	78	74½	72⅜
Duluth, No. 1 N.	79⅜	79⅜	79	71⅜

TORONTO ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Grain—

Wheat, red, bush.	$0 71 to	$0 74½
Wheat, white, bush	0 74	0 74½
Wheat, spring, bush......	0 72	....
Wheat, goose, bush......	0 67	....
Barley, bush.	0 44	0 45½
Beans, bush.	1 30	1 50
Beans, hand-picked	1 75	....
Peas, bush.	0 78½	....
Rye, bush.	0 42	....
Oats, bush.	0 36	0 36½
Buckwheat, per bush.....	0 43	....

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—Hogs Active and Steady at Buffalo.

London, May 19.—Live cattle steady at 12c to 12½c per lb. for American steers, dressed weight; Canadian steers, 11½c to 12c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9c to 9½c per lb. Sheep, 12½c to 13½c, dressed weight.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock were the largest this year, 125 carloads, composed of 2425 cattle, 347 hogs, 320 sheep and lambs, with 175 calves.

Exporters—Best loads of exporters sold at $5 to $5.20 per cwt., medium to good at about $4.80 to $4.90.

Export Bulls—Choice quality bulls sold at $4 to $4.25 per cwt.; good bulls sold at $3.50 to $3.85 per cwt.

Export Cows—Export cows sold at $4.00 to $4.25 per cwt.

Butchers' Cattle—Choice picked lots of butchers, weighing from 1125 to 1200 lbs. each, equal in quality to best exporters, sold at $4.65 to $4.87½; picked lots for local use sold at $4.40 to $4.60; loads of good sold at $4.50 to $4.65; fair to medium, $4.25 to $4.45; common, $3.65 to $3.75; rough to inferior, $3.40 to $3.60 per cwt.

Short-keep Feeders—Good steers, 1100 to 1300 lbs. each, are worth $4.80 to $5.00 per cwt.

Feeders—Steers of good quality, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, are worth $4.00 to $4.50 per cwt.

Stockers—One year to two-year-old steers, 400 to 700 lbs. each, are worth $3.60 to $4 per cwt.; off-colors and of poor breeding quality of same weights are worth $3 to $3.25 per cwt.

Milch Cows—Milch cows and springers are worth $35 to $53 each.

Calves—Calves sold at $2 to $10 each, or from $4.50 to $5.25 per cwt.

Yearling Lambs—Lambs sold at $5 to $5.50 per cwt.

Sheep—Prices, $4.25 to $5 per cwt. for ewes, and bucks at $3.25 to 4.

Hogs—Best select bacon hogs, not less than 160 lbs., nor more than 200 lbs. each, off cars, sold at $5.90 per cwt.; lights and fats at $5.65; sows, $4 to $4.50 per cwt., and stags, $2 to $3 per cwt.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, N.Y., May 19.—Cattle—Receipts, 250 head; steady; veals, steady; tops, $6.25 to $6.50; common to good, $4.50 to $6.15. Hogs, receipts, 8500 head; fairly active and steady; heavy, $6.40 to $6.55, a few $6.60; mixed, $6.30 to $6.40; yorkers and pigs, $6.15 to $6.25; roughs, $5.40 to $5.60; stags, $4 to $4.50. Sheep and lambs, receipts, 3000 head; steady; top lambs, $6.90 to $7; culls to good, $4.50 to $6.85; yearlings, $5 to $5.75; ewes, $4.25 to $4.50; sheep, top mixed, $4.50 to $4.75; culls to good, $2 to $4.40.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.

New York, May 19.—Beeves—Receipts, 272; exports, 1110 beeves, 1200 sheep and 4600 quarters of beef. Calves, receipts, 251; steady; veals, $5 to $6; buttermilk calves, $4. Sheep and lambs, receipts, 1265; sheep slow, ½c to ¼c lower; spring lambs, steady for good, dull for other grades; sheep, $3 to $5 per 100 pounds; tops, $5.50 to $5.75; yearling lambs, $6.50 to $7; southern spring lambs, $7.75 to $8.75. Hogs, receipts, 3313, consigned direct.

RIOTERS SEVERELY DEALT WITH.

For Obstructing Car, One Gets 90 Days in Jail.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 20.—The company operated 26 cars on five lines without experiencing any trouble from rioters yesterday. Several lines are still closed.

In the City Court yesterday, Michael Kelly, charged with throwing missiles in the rioting of Sunday, was held under $1,000 bail for trial, and Edward Handley, charged with obstructing a street car by stopping his team on the track, and with resisting arrest, was sentenced to 90 days in jail. Four others were fined from $5 to $10 apiece for shouting offensive names at car crews.

Calgary Man's Rich Find.

Calgary, N.W.T., May 20.—A. M. Parken, clerk in a furniture store here, was made $6,000 richer by a decision in the Supreme Court yesterday. Some years ago, Parken received from a dying man named Solten a savings bank account, with instructions to pay the funeral expenses, and keep the balance, but the Bank of Montreal refused to give up the money. The court gave Parken an order for the money.

Guilty of Horse Stealing.

Sarnia, May 20.—Thomas Wannameker, who was brought here from Owen Sound on a charge of stealing a horse from a farmer near Wyoming, pleaded guilty to the charge before County Judge MacWatt yesterday morning: Owing to the prisoner's ill health, the Judge allowed him to go on suspended sentence.

To Fight Street Railway.

London, May 20.—City Solicitor Meredith has received instructions to apply for an injunction to restrain the London Street Railway from operating their large Springbank cars on the city lines. The Council is anxious to bring several matters in dispute with the Railway Company to an issue.

Timber Limits Sold For $100,000.

Quebec, May 20.—The Pentecost timber limits, consisting of 187 square miles, together with the harbor of Pentecost, have been sold to John McLennan, of Syracuse, N. Y., and his associates for $100,000 cash.

Sentenced to Death.

Vienna, May 20.—A despatch from Salonica announces that a court-martial has sentenced to death the instigator of the destruction by dynamite April 30 of the Ottoman Bank at Salonica.

LONG DISTANCE SINGLE BARREL SHOTGUN $6.50

Send us $1.00 deposit, state if the $6.50 or $7.50 gun is wanted. State guage desired. And we will send this guaranteed long distance single barrel shotgun C.O.D., by express, subject to examination, you to pay the express agent the balance and express charges, after you find it perfectly satisfactory.

This Fine Gun is made by expert gun makers, every part and piece fitted perfectly and reinforced so it cannot shoot loose or shaky, strong rigid steel frame built extra solid to withstand the use of any NITRO POWDER, latest improved top snap and rebounding hammer, best quality steel works, extra strong spring, fine walnut stock, heavy rubber butt plate, full pistol grip, thoroughly tested for pattern, penetration and strength.

For $7.50 In all we will furnish the same gun with latest improved automatic shell ejector which throws shell out automatically, making it possible to reload and fire in rapid succession. Order to-day or write for our Special Gun Catalogue which contains single barrel shotguns at $3.75 up, and everything in rifles, revolvers, ammunition and sportsman's goods at factory prices.

Breech loading, made with finest blued crucible rolled steel barrel, taper choked bored to size from the solid bar and bored for any nitro powder. Choice of 12 or 16 guage, [illegible] barrel.

T. W. BOYD & SON, 1683 NOTRE DAME ST., MONTREAL.

For Torpid Liver, Flatulence,
Constipation, Biliousness and Sick Headache, TAKE

BRISTOL'S Pills

Safe, Mild, Quick-acting,
Painless, do not weaken,
and always give satisfaction.

A [illegible] reliable Household Medicine, can be taken at any season, by Adults or Children.

Druggists sell "BRISTOL'S."

White Blouses

Now is the time for Summer Blouses. Just received another large shipment of Fancy White and Black Blouses. These have been delayed on account of getting the latest styles.

SEE OUR PRICES

Our Plain Waists with Insertion fronts.................. 75c

Also Valenciennes and Embroidery Insertion fronts at .. .. $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50

Our special line of Embroidered fronts, very stylish, prices .... $2 00 and $2.25

Medallions and Drop Ornaments

A fine assortment of these for trimming, in cream and black. Prices 10, 15 and 20c.

White Gloves

Gloves for summer at attractive prices. See our Fancy Taffeta Silk Gloves, two dome fasteners. Prices 25c, 40c and 50c.

NATHAN JONES.

BIG CLEARING SALE
—OF—
Carpets, Curtains and Wall Paper.

Our Wall Paper is the Cheapest in Belleville.

WE GIVE 2 Yards of Border FREE with every roll of Wall Paper.

See our New Lace Curtains—nothing to compare with them in the city.

T. P. BROWN.

The Finnegan Carriage & Wagon Co.
—FOR—
Stylish and Durable Turnouts.

- —Surreys
- —Corning Buggies
- —Piano Box Buggies
- —Rubber Tire Buggies
- —Micadoes
- —Phaetons
- —Bike Buggies
- —Democrats
- —Grocer Wagons
- —Butcher Wagons

Cheese Factory Milk Wagons.
Steel Tubular Axle Lumber Wagons.

Rubber Tires put on your old wheels at reasonable prices.

Mill St., - - Belleville.

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE
FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL — LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL — CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 37. BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1903 NO. 18

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine
Carter's
Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Price 25 Cents. Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

Philadelphia.—The British barque Scoda reports that on April 20, 250 miles from Cape Charles, Jamaica, she passed through water covered for miles with oil. This confirms the supposed loss of the Luckenback, with a crew of 32 men.

Tangier, May 21.—Tetuan is still threatened by hostile tribes. A thousand men belonging to the powerful Berber tribes of the Zimmuri, who were summoned to Fez to join the expedition against the pretender, and whose assistance as cavalry was very important to the Sultan, have mutinied.

Attleboro, Mass.—An attempt to wreck the Colonial Express, from Washington for Boston, at a point between Skinner's Crossing and Mansfield Station, Wednesday, failed, and Michole Vinchto said to be responsible is under arrest. He piled railway ties on the track.

WITH CORRUPT INTENTION

Government Sent $180 to a Conservative to Spend on Round.

So Said Dr. Nesbitt in the Legislature on Wednesday—Minister of Public Works Admits Appointment Was Irregular and That His Secretary Sent the Money Without Waiting For the Bond—Premier Ross Pecksniffianly Angry.

Toronto, May 21.—In the Legislature yesterday afternoon, Dr. Nesbitt moved for a return of correspondence relative to the appointment of John McMaster as road overseer.

Dr. Nesbitt, in speaking to his motion, said that McMaster was a Conservative who received a notification from the Department of Public Works about May 20, 1902, that he had been recommended for appointment as overseer, and he was asked to execute a bond and return it to the department before the appointment would be made. McMaster, however, did not execute the bond, but in a few days, May 26, he was told by Mr. Cockburn, a Crown Lands agent, that if he would go to the postoffice he would receive $180 for expenditure on the Markstay and Warren road. McMaster had been canvassed for his vote by Cockburn, but had said that he would not support the Government. McMaster says that the money was sent to him purely to influence his vote in the elections, which were only three days off.

"We charge," said the doctor, "that this money was used to influence the electors of the district."

Violated Rule of Department.

Mr. Latchford said a recommendation for the appointment of Mr. McMaster reached the department from the candidate in West Nipissing about the 20th of May. The Minister was absent at the time, but his secretary asked the Superintendent of Colonization Roads to appoint McMaster as overseer. The rule of the department was not to send money until a bond had been returned to the department, but McMaster was well recommended. There was no charge that the money was not well spent.

Mr. Matheson said that McMaster, being a Conservative, probably spent the money very well, but the point was that, three days before the election, without any application from McMaster, he received the appointment. Mr. Cockburn, a colonization road inspector, sent his son to canvass him. The Public Works Department was using road money to try and corrupt the electors, and McMaster had been asked for his vote. He refused. He was then told to go to the postoffice and the money for the road would be there. Money was used in this way in many ridings, and this was only a sample.

Mr. Ross—What's the objection to appointing a Conservative?

Mr. Matheson—Three days before the election?

Mr. Ross—That's when the road was wanted. (Conservative laughter and applause.) Is it a mortal sin to build a road three days before an election? You can't prove that there was any corrupt bargain.

Mr. Foy said that the letter of Mr. Smith, superintendent of colonization roads, was posted to Cockburn, and handed to Mr. McMaster. Why this haste and violation of the rules? Could anyone draw any other conclusion than that the money was for the purpose of influencing the vote of the riding? Mr. Foy claimed that the return on the subject showed that various sums were sent out about the time, and none after May 27.

Mr. Whitney's Criticism.

Mr. Whitney said the Minister of Public Works had been frank enough to say that the rule of the department had been violated in this case. Fancy the private secretary having the power to appoint an inspector of roads, and to send money from the treasury to spend on the roads! The speaker referred to the attitude of the Premier, who rushed in to say: "You can't prove it." It was not the first time that the Premier had taken such a position.

Mr. Ross—What I said was that you can't prove that there was a corrupt bargain.

The Premier objected to this mode of conducting political warfare, which was inimical to the best interests of the province. It was dragging politics down to the mire, and he pitied the drivelling soul of a man, whose own hands may not be clean, who was continually casting suspicion on the acts of the Government.

Mr. Whitney observed that the member for North Toronto had said that there was a corrupt intention.

Corrupt Intention Shown.

Dr. Nesbitt said it was perfectly fair to presume that there was a corrupt intention. He hurled back the insinuation of the Premier as to his hands not being clean, and it remained for him (Mr. Ross) to say the same, in view of the fact that the letter sent to Mr. Gamey passed through his hands.

Mr. Conmee contended that it was the rule in the new country to employ Conservatives as well as Liberals on colonization roads. This was purely a matter of suspicion.

Mr. Smyth defied anyone to say where there was a Conservative in the whole District of Algoma employed as a road boss.

'Twas Not Always So.

Mr. Carr (Parry Sound) said for the past 27 years the road grants had been made about May 29, but Mr. Carnegie mentioned a case of road money being sent out in the fall of 1899, and not expended until the fall of the following year, just before the Dominion election.

Mr. Lucas concluded the debate. He said the Premier, not being successful in laughing the case out of court, had pumped himself up with indignation at the idea of anyone imputing wrong motives to the Government.

The motion for the return was passed.

Fishing Leases.

Mr. Hendrie moved for a return of correspondence between the department and any applicant for fishing rights for commercial purposes in Lakes Nepigon, Manitou and other lakes in Ontario since May 1, 1902. Before this order was reached, however, Mr. Hendrie asked: Has the Government entered into any agreement with any person, persons or corporations—other than those mentioned in the report of the department for the year 1902—granting fishing concessions in Lakes Nepigon, Manitou, or other Ontario lakes, and if so, are any such agreements and those named in said report, to be laid before the House at the present session, for ratification, or otherwise?

Hon. Mr. Latchford replied that the Government had not. The concessions were granted by an order-in-Council, which did not require ratification by the Legislature.

Keep Lakes For Anglers.

On moving for the return of correspondence, Mr. Hendrie urged that the Government should keep the chain of lakes from Ottawa to the Lake of the Woods for anglers who come to Ontario for the fishing and who spend a large amount of money here. He condemned the policy of leasing the most valuable lakes to an American fish company and suggested that a commission be appointed to look into the concession granted to the Canada Fish Company.

The Minister of Public Works defended the concession, and Mr. Beatty expressed dissatisfaction with the policy of the Government in respect to fishing on the inland lakes.

Mr. Gamey Took the Floor.

Mr. Gamey said he wanted to ask a few questions. This was as far as he got, however, Mr. Latchford rising to protest against questions being fired at him without previous notice having been given.

Mr. Whitney resented the action of the Minister, who, he said, did not know what the member for Manitoulin was going to say.

Mr. Conmee said the leasing of Lake Manitou to the company was really a good thing all round, as the company was required to distribute millions of spawn in the lakes every year and paid so much a ton for fish taken out.

"Perhaps the hon. gentleman will allow me to make a few remarks," began Mr. Gamey, who resumed the floor. The remarks he had to offer were to take objection to the Government granting a license to an American monopoly.

The motion for the papers was agreed to.

A number of bills were read a second time.

SNOW IN FAR WEST.

Blizzard Rages in Crow's Nest Pass and Stock Suffers.

Blairmore, N.W.T., May 21.—The worst storm experienced in this section of the Northwest in many years is raging in the Crow's Nest Pass and on the prairie to the east. Snow has been falling constantly for seventy-two hours, with no indication as yet of a break. Yesterday a blizzard as fierce as was ever known here has been raging.

The snow is eighteen inches deep on the level here, while reports from the prairie as far east as Lethbridge are to the effect that it is from two to three feet deep.

Stock which has been on green grass for two weeks is reported to be suffering terribly, especially young animals, which are reported to be dying off by hundreds. The temperature has not been low, but has been falling for several hours, and the weather is now extremely cold. It is feared the blow to the live stock interests within the radius of the storm will be almost paralyzing.

Loss of $5,000,000 by Snow.

Great Falls, Mont., May 21.—The heaviest cattle and sheep loss in the history of Montana, which will reach $5,000,000, has been caused by snowstorms, which have been raging for the past three days.

Made His First Speech.

London, May 21.—Charles R. Devlin, the new Irish-Canadian M.P. for Galway, made his maiden speech in the House of Commons Tuesday. It was brief, but was well received.

2,000 PEOPLE ARE HOMELESS

Fire Sweeps the Busiest Part of St. Hyacinthe, Que.

Three Quarters of a Mile of the Principal Part of the City Reduced to Ashes—250 Houses Were Burned—The Market Place, the St. Genevieve Hospital and Three Hotels Are Gone—One Man Injured.

Number of houses burned, 250.
People rendered homeless, 2,000.
Estimated loss, $250,000.
Seriously injured, one.
District laid waste, three-quarters of a mile.

St. Hyacinthe, Que., May 21.—A terrible fire raged in St. Hyacinthe yesterday afternoon. It was the most destructive that has ever occurred in the history of the town, or in any of the communities in the district. Fire broke out during lunch hour, and by 4 o'clock in the afternoon three-quarters of a mile of the business and busiest part was laid waste, and was a scene of devastation, desolation and ruin.

250 Houses Burned.

Two hundred and fifty houses have been reduced to shapeless heaps of ashes, which, with live embers, line the thoroughfares. Three hotels, two flour mills and several of the largest business houses have disappeared as completely as if they had never existed. The market place, the principal rendezvous of the country round, is no longer recognizable, and the St. Genevieve Hospital is destroyed.

Two Thousand Homeless.

Two thousand people are homeless. A quarter of a million is the computed damage, but the extent of the loss to such a community cannot be calculated by mere figures expressing dollars and cents.

What added vastly to the possible magnitude of the disaster is the fact that the river is low, and that the water supply practically gave out early. Water was being pumped from the wells, which did not hold out for any length of time.

Montreal Brigade There.

Conspicuous by their indomitable efforts to cope with circumstances was the Montreal brigade, which reached here at 2.45 p.m. Within a quarter of an hour of its arrival it had its reels playing upon the flames. The burned district extends along the river front south of St. Antoine street, from Cote Bros. boot and shoe factory on the west to where the river turns at the east.

Three Hotels Gone.

Included in the 250 buildings burned are three hotels, the Frontenac, the Union and the Ottawa. Among the business places in ruins are Cote Bros. factory, the establishment of J. Bourgeers, Hudon & Co., and Dusseau & Lamoureux. The loss thus far is estimated to exceed $250,000. It will, of course, be much larger before the flames are finally subdued.

The gale carried huge flaming embers hundreds of yards, and where they found lodgement a fire started, and in a few minutes was burning fiercely.

One man was seriously injured. His name has not been learned. It is not known whether any lives have been lost.

Explosion of Powder.

At 4 o'clock a loud explosion of powder occurred in Bourgeois' hardware establishment. The flames soon afterwards shot high into the air and the structure was quickly razed. Huge clouds of smoke rose from the burning district, and spread all over the surrounding country for a distance of four miles. The fire was got under control about 7 o'clock.

Crackers Proved Their Merit.

Galt May 21.—The contents of a store on Main street, known as Graham's Fair, suffered damage by fire yesterday afternoon to the extent of probably $500, caused by fire crackers. Mr. Graham was attempting to show a possible customer the merits of a bunch of lady firecrackers by lighting them, when one fell into a table of giant crackers, which exploded in all directions. The damage to stock from water is also considerable.

IMPERIAL PENNY STAMP.

New Postage Rate For Whole Empire on Victoria Day.

Ottawa, May 20.—To-day Sir William Mulock received a communication from Premier Barton of Australia consenting, on behalf of the Commonwealth to the penny rate per half ounce applying to all letters posted in Canada for Australia, that is, the six Australian States of Queensland, New South Wales, Victoria, South Australia, West Australia and Tasmania. This arrangement will accordingly go into effect on Victoria Day, Monday, the 25th, and that historic day will see the completion, so far as Canada is concerned of the penny rate system, one penny per half ounce prepaying letters from Canada to all parts of the British empire. This even marks the completion of Sir William's efforts, commencing in 1897, to establish a penny letter rate between Canada and every part of the British empire.

Lord Minto's Term Extended.

Toronto, May 21.—Lord Minto's term as Governor-General of Canada, in accordance to accepted custom, expires in November of this year, but he has been asked by the Imperial authorities to remain in office till November, 1904, and has consented.

THE LADIES DIDN'T APPEAR

Hackdriver's Story of 11th September Stands Undisputed.

Mr. Johnston Notified the Commission Wednesday That Defence Evidence Was All In, and the Judges Did Not Sit—Mr. Gamey Willing to Put in the $1,200 Loan From Sullivan If Court Releases Him From Obligation to the Latter—Argument Begins To-Day.

Toronto, May 21.—Mr. E. F. B. Johnston, counsel for the defence in the Gamey investigation, yesterday forenoon notified the commissioners and the prosecuting counsel that he had closed his case.

"The prosecution have closed their case and so have we. We didn't think the evidence of Cabman Green called by the prosecution worth bringing a witness from Winnipeg here to contradict, so we have no more witnesses to call, no more evidence to offer."

That was Lawyer McEvoy's explanation why the Royal Commission in the Gamey-Stratton case did not sit yesterday afternoon.

Were Eager on Saturday.

The failure of the defence to bring the three feminine witnesses to the stand was a general surprise, in view of the importance of Green's testimony as affecting Mr. Stratton's story of his movements on the morning of September 11, and in view of Mr. Johnston's apparent eagerness on Saturday to have them brought before the commission. "The evidence is new," said Mr. Johnston, "but it is not at all surprising. We can clear it up. If my learned friends insist on relying upon the testimony of Green as a factor in the case at all, then it will be necessary to produce the three witnesses."

Weston Green, the hack driver, swore that on the morning of September 11 he drove Mr. Stratton and two ladies around the city, from about 9.30 until after 11, when he drove his passengers to the Parliament Buildings.

Mr. Stratton, to disprove Gamey's narrative of having been with and received the money from him on September 11, swore that he left the Parliament Buildings with Mr. Boland about 10.30, arrived at the Trust and Guarantee Company's office about 11, and remained there until 1. Mr. Boland testified likewise. The defence said that the cabman was mistaken, and that his three passengers were all ladies.

Mr. Gamey's $1,200 Loan.

So the investigation into the sensational charges made against Hon. Mr. Stratton and the Ross Government is now closed, with the exception of the final argument by counsel, which will commence this morning at 10 o'clock. Prior to Mr. Blake being heard, in his summing up of the case, as made out by the prosecution, the question of Mr. Gamey having to put in the hands of the Commission the sum of $1,200 said to have been borrowed by him from Frank Sullivan, will be finally decided. Mr. Gamey affirms his willingness to do so if released from the obligations he assumed when he borrowed the money. His counsel, Mr. Du Vernet, will appear for him this morning.

All Over This Week.

After Mr. Blake has spoken for the prosecution, Mr. Johnston will argue the case for the defence, and then Mr. Blake will be given an opportunity to reply. It is not thought that the whole matter will be in the hands of the Commissioners for their final consideration until Saturday afternoon.

WILL HUNT FOR FUEL.

Itinerary of the Summer Mining Class of Bureau of Mines.

Toronto, May 21.—The summer mining classes of the Bureau of Mines will this year be directed by Dr. W. L. Goodwin, Director of the School of Mining at Kingston, and J. G. McMillan, B.A.Sc., Toronto, and this program is arranged: Black Donald Graphite Mine, Brougham Township, May 26; Olden Zinc Mine, Long Lake P.O., June 3; Belmont Gold Mine, Cordova P.O., June 11; Copper Cliff, June 20; Massey Copper Mine, Massey Station, June 29; Big Master Gold Mine, Gold Rock, July 9; Elizabeth Gold Mine, Port Arthur, July 20; Tip Top Copper Mine, July 28; Helen Iron Mine, Aug. 8; Rock Lake Copper Mine, Aug. 19. Prof. Coleman has gone to Sudbury district to continue his nickel investigations, and Prof. Miller will resume his investigations into limestone in Ontario. Special investigation into the possibilities of peat, lignite and other fuel in Northern Ontario will be a feature of the work.

Steamer Pfohl Burned.

Goderich, May 21.—The steamer Pfohl, Capt. Symes, bound for Owen Sound, loaded with coal, was burned and sunk off this port yesterday: fire originated in the lower engine room by the explosion of a lamp about 11 in the morning. The crew worked until 8 last evening, when the boat was abandoned. The tug Seeking picked up boats with the crew all safe.

Queen's Away From Church.

Kingston, May 21.—Early yesterday morning Queen's College trustees approved the draft bill for the reconstruction of the Constitution separating from the Presbyterian Church in all departments save theology. The theological faculty is given $150,000 of the endowment.

SUFFERED TEN YEARS.

"I suffered for ten years with bronchitis and was unable to work for months at a time, then I used Angier's Petroleum Emulsion and it made me feel like a new man."—Robert Weir, Toronto, Canada.

Sir Thomas on the Stand.

Victoria, B.C., May 21.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, president of the C.P.R., was cross-examined before the legislative committee yesterday in respect to the grants of land to the B. C. Southern and the C. and W. Railways, but nothing startling was developed.

GET AWAY FOR HOLIDAYS.

Government Business Substantially Advanced in the Commons Wednesday—Adjourned Over King's Birthday.

Ottawa, May 21.—The Government business was substantially advanced at yesterday's sitting of the Commons, although the house adjourned early to allow members to take the night trains home for the holidays. Supply was the chief order of the day, the Justice Department estimates being under discussion.

Mr. German (Welland) introduced a bill to compel railways to provide perfect appliances for the prevention of sparks from locomotives.

Mr. Fitzpatrick presented an amendment to the statutes providing that printing for the Intercolonial Railway be done in the Maritime Provinces at a cost not exceeding fair commercial rates.

The Minister of Customs announced an extension of time for bringing in goods from Germany exempt from the new surtax from June 30 to September 30.

Col. Sam Hughes renewed his protest against practice of transporting prisoners in the Northwest in first-class cars. Mr. Fitzpatrick promised to see that the practice was stopped.

Mr. Borden objected to the condition of the Supreme Court library, and Mr. Fitzpatrick said the remedy was to erect an entirely new building for the Supreme Court. Mr. Sutherland promised to have the matter looked into and make a recommendation at an early date. Mr. Marcle advocated erecting a new building for Parliament, and using the present structure for departmental business only.

The Opposition criticized the expense of justice in the Yukon, and the Government speakers pointed out that living was very high there and quoted prices.

Service of Provincial Judges.

Ottawa, May 21.—The Minister of Justice has given notice of a new resolution respecting judges of provincial courts. It provides that a judge of 75 years, who has served on the bench for twenty years, or a judge 70 years of age who has served for twenty-five years, or a judge of 65 years of age who has served for thirty years, may retire on a pension equal to his full salary. Retirement is made compulsory at the age of 75.

Powerful Deputation.

Ottawa, May 21.—A very large and powerful delegation from the counties of Wellington, Perth and Grey, the townships and the towns and villages therein, was presented to the Minister of Railways yesterday morning by John Charlton, M.P., the object of the visit being to urge the granting of a Government subsidy to the extension of the Tilsonburg, Lake Erie and Pacific Railway from Ingersoll to Collingwood. Many speeches were made and the usual promise of consideration was given.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC.

Premier Apparently Favors Bond Interest Guarantee to the Line.

Toronto, May 21.—(Globe Special).—Ottawa, May 20.—The Government's supporters from Ontario and Quebec had conferences with the Prime Minister to-day on the subject of the aid to be granted the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. They did not go collectively, but in two separate groups. In both instances the discussion was frank and free. The Government have not decided upon their policy, but Sir Wilfrid enlightened his supporters as to his own personal views. Apparently the Prime Minister favors guaranteeing the interest on the bonds of the proposed transcontinental line.

Land subsidies are out of the question, and it would appear that there will be no Government-built line. Sir Wilfrid Laurier's statement as to his own views met with hearty approval, and a sagacious solution of the question is likely at an early date.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

New York.—Two school children died on the street in Brooklyn Wednesday from the effect of the heat.

Alliston, Ont.—Thomas Connell, blacksmith of this town, while engaged shoeing a horse Wednesday evening, dropped dead.

Richmond, Mich.—Rev. Henry Storey was burned to death and his wife severely burned in the destruction of their home Wednesday.

Toronto.—The street cars are still running, and it looks as if the employes will get recognition of their union and drop other demands at present.

SINCLAIR'S AD SINCLAIR'S AD.

SINCLAIR'S
10c Wash 10c
GOODS SALE

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

On these Two Days we will hold our first Wash Goods Sale for the season and will place on tables about Three Thousand Five Hundred (3,500) yards of Wash Goods, to clear at ... 10c per yd.

This lot will include:

Crum's best 12½c light and dark Prints for .... 10c yd.
Navy and White 12½c Dress Ducks for .... 10c yd.
15c to 20c Dress Sateens for .... 10c yd.
15 to 20c Dress Ginghams for .... 10c yd.
12½c to 20c White Check Muslins for .... 10c yd.
5 pieces 45 inch Victoria Dress Lawn for .... 10c yd.
15c to 20c Dress Linens for .... 10c yd.
15c to 30c Fancy Dress Muslins for .... 10c yd.

These Goods are particularly suited for Ladies' and Children's summer Wash Dresses and we put the lot on sale, your choice for 10c per yd.

D. V. SINCLAIR & CO.

"PURE, HEALTHY, TASTY"
Their sale proves their worth.

"SALADA"

Ceylon GREEN Tea is displacing Japans just as the "SALADA" blacks are displacing all other black teas. Sold only in sealed lead packets. 25c & 40c per lb. By all grocers.

GORMAN'S
THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE

Our large, bright, new stock of reliable Foot wear is daily making many new friends for THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE.

Just step in some time, when out shopping, you will also say that our shoes are deserving of THEIR GREAT POPULARITY.

Come in any time we will be pleased to serve you.

You will find here excellet lines of Ladies' Lace Boots selling at $4.00, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Our men's department is well stocked with stylish, comfortable, durable boots, in various leathers, selling at $5.00, $3.75, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Daily Intelligencer.

A SECOND MACKENZIE & MANN DEAL.

An interesting discussion has just taken place in the House of Commons, on what is known as "The Treadgold Concession," in the Yukon mining territory.

This concession is upon the line of that of the Mackenzie & Mann deal, which fortunately for the country, the Senate defeated. A contemporary summarizes the case as follows:

"The concession covers an area stated by those who should be able to speak with authority at 350 miles. Within it the holders are given the sole right to divert and take water from the Klondike River between the Yukon and Flat Creek, for the purpose of generating power with which to pump water to work the gold deposits in the district comprising the beds, banks, valleys, slopes and hills of the Klondike river, and Bear, Bonanza, and Hunker creeks, and their tributaries. They are to have the prior right to take water from the Klondike up to 5,000 miner's inches, and with numerous other powers, the prior right to purchase locations which their operations may show to bear mineral lodes or deposits of any kind. And they are to be freed from paying miners' license fees, and all dues except the royalty, on the gold taken out.

"These will seem very extensive privileges to those who know nothing of the local situation. By the people whom they affect they are denounced as monopolistic; it is alleged they were obtained by "fraud"; that they should be annulled by the Government which granted them, and that an investigation should be made into the circumstances under which they were granted. Not one of the denunciations which were referred to in Parliament, and whose effect is thus summarized, was made by those hostile to the Laurier Government, though the Liberal Club, of Dawson, and the Liberal convention which nominated Mr. Ross, the present Liberal member for the Yukon, were as pronounced as the Dawson Board of Trade or the elected members of the Yukon Council in condemning the policy behind the concession. In the Yukon country, indeed, public opinion appears to be a unit in favor of cancelling the grant."

So strong was the case made, that the Order-in-Council should be repealed, that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was compelled to promise that before the Order-in-Council in regard to the concession was proclaimed, and the arrangement put beyond the possibility of being abolished, all the matters connected with it should be investigated. Such an enquiry would be worth going far to hear. Will the inquisitors begin with Mr. Sifton, whose department is directly concerned; or with Mr. Blair, who spoke in Parliament as if he knew a deal about the business; or with Mr. Sutherland, some of whose friends are said to have concerned themselves in putting the case in a proper light before those most concerned? And will the investigating ministers promise not to wink at the investigated ones? nor ask the witnesses "to "forget some things?"

Boiled Ham

Just the thing for a Cold Supper these warm days.

Some of our Customers tell us that our Cold Boiled Ham is the best they ever ate.

J. ARTHUR MARSH.

TIMELY TOPICS.

As might have been expected, the idea of a public bath for this city has been greeted with much satisfaction by many people. Ex-Mayor Johnson, as an experienced and practical swimmer, has been giving the subject much thought, and this morning gave the writer the benefit of his cogitations in the matter. All this, of course, with no intention of interfering with the gentlemen who are deputed by the City Council to look into the question. They, we presume, will not object to receiving suggestions.

To begin with, then, Mr. Johnson thinks the idea of a public bath in the vicinity of Queen Victoria Park is out of the question. The water is bad, it being impregnated with all the sewerage carried down by the river; the bottom is mud and slime, and it would tend to spoil the park as a breathing spot for ladies and children. The ideal spot for a public bath in this city, Mr. Johnson thinks, is at the west end of Zwick's island. The City has just completed a solid road from the main road to the island. At the southwest end of the island is a place which has recently been dredged to a depth of twenty feet, while just north of that is a beach which gradually deepens inch by inch as one goes out. The water at that spot is constantly changing, and is as pure, if not purer, than any in the Bay of Quinte. There is a rocky bottom at present, but very little labor would remove the large stones, and the bottom might easily be covered with fine sand or gravel. Thus, were a bathing house built at the place in question, there would be deep water for experienced swimmers and a proper place for beginners to learn in. The only possible objection which could be raised is the distance, but at the outside it is only fifteen minutes walk, certainly not a killing matter. And now, with the best intentions in the world, the above suggestions are respectfully tendered to the three City Fathers who have this laudable project under their special care.

• • •

We haven't noticed any of the horses with straw hats on yet. Perhaps they won't wear anything but Panamas this year.

• • •

HARD ON ANDREW.

(London News.)

Andrew Carnegie says that to him the grave of Shakespeare is greater than the Holy Sepulchre itself. And to him Shakespeare's works are greater than the Bible! Profane, blasphemous, money-sunken old man! Labor grinder in youth, he is a faith destroyer in old age.

• • •

THE OLD COUNTRY VIEW.

(Kingston Times.)

Two of the Scotch machinists have severed their connection with the Locomotive Works, and left for Toronto. They claim that the social side of life in this city is not to their liking. After leaving work there is no place to go to except their boarding houses, as no amusements are afforded.

• • •

An old New Jersey man was to have married a girl of 20, but died of heart disease just before the ceremony. Affairs of the heart are dangerous after a man passes threescore.

Minto and Maude will remain with us for another year. Sam Hughes may frown, but most Canadians will be pleased to hear the news.

• • •

Snow and a blizzard in the Northwest and a drought in Ontario! What's this blooming country coming to?

It would appear from the proceedings of a meeting of the shareholders of the Central Ontario Railway, held in Toronto on the 20th inst., that our old friend S. J. Ritchie has his hand at the helm again. The Directors elected being S. J. Ritchie, C. E. Ritchie, both of Akron, Ohio, and Messrs. Kirkwood, Fraser, Stewart, Jacques and Collins.

• • •

For the benefit of consumers in this city we would state that the price of coal in Belleville is now $6.75 per ton. Nothing like printers' ink.

Sports and Pastimes

SPORTING COMMENT.

Speaking of its two town clubs, the Peterboro Review says: Both the Athletics and the T.A.S. should be in fine shape when the C.L.A. lacrosse season opens, and should cut a big figure in their district. Both have a bunch of husky players and it will be a fast team that defeats either of them. It is a long time ahead to figure on the result of this district but it would not be surprising if the final game should take place between the two local clubs. It is hoped that the boys on both teams will continue to practice steadily and make a creditable showing when the league games commence.

By the death of John P. Roche, sporting editor of the Montreal Gazette, Canada loses one of its ablest sporting writers, in whom fairness was inherent. He was a marvellous descriptive writer and an all-round good fellow.

ENGLISH STAMPS ON YANKEE MAIL.

PASS NEW YORK POST OFFICE WITHOUT DETECTION.

New York, May 20.—Attention has been drawn to the similarity between the United States' new two-cent postage stamp, with Washington's likeness on it, and the English one-penny stamp bearing the likeness of King Edward VII. One citizen is in possession of four English stamps which had been passed through the New York post office on letters without being detected and without the least delay. Three of the stamps went through the office on Wednesday within a few hours of each other. The man who tried the experiment did so to convince some of his friends that the stamps were too much alike. Both are of light red and look, in fact, in this respect as though they might have come from the same press. They are of the same size.

Assistant Postmaster Morgan, when told yesterday that the English stamps were passing the New York post office, made a memorandum of the fact, and had the different departments notified. The striking sameness in the color, he said, could be accounted for partly at least by the fact that at the last postal congress in Washington in 1897 a rule was adopted that postage stamps representing the typical Union rates or their equivalents in the money of each country should be prepared as far as possible in the same colors—stamps of a value of 25 centimes, or five cents, in dark blue; those of ten centimes, or two cents, in red, and those of five centimes, or one cent, in green.

A Breakfast Relish for the Strong and Weak.

In thousands of homes there are fathers, mothers and children, who cannot use oatmeal in any form, as they find it has a tendency to irritate the stomach, excite heat and redness of the skin, and produce eruptions. Then again, cracked wheat, hominy and other cereals contain too much insoluble starch, which hampers digestion. Malt Breakfast Food comes to the rescue of weak and strong stomachs. It does not contain a particle of insoluble starch; it is partially predigested, therefore requires little effort to digest it. Malt Breakfast Food is the most delicious of all cereal foods. It pleases every palate and becomes a fast favorite wherever it is tried. Ask your Grocer for Malt Breakfast Food and take no other make of food.

CHATTERTON.

The people of Marsh Hill are pleased to see the Rev. Mr. Pope out again at his circuit work.

Mr. E. Foster, one of our neighbors, has sold his farm and intends going to Prince Edward County to live. His many friends will be sorry to lose so valuable a neighbor.

Miss Morden, one of Sidney's oldest ladies, is very ill.

CURES PILES IN 5 DAYS

Dr. Agnew's Ointment might have a thousand testifying to its merits as an absolute cure for Piles only, but it cures permanently all manner of skin diseases too.

Adam Brydon, of Deleware Ave., Chatham, Ont., is a well known man in the west, and what he says of Dr. Agnew's Ointment can easily be verified. "I was troubled for a long time with piles. On the recommendation of our leading druggist I tried a box of this remarkable ointment, and after applying for four or five nights, it completely cured me of this troublesome ailment, and I heartily recommend it to all like sufferers." 35 cts. 79

Sold by D. M. Waters.

Her Ideal Man.

SHE was a lovely chocolate-cream-box sort of a girl, with a gushing tenderness suggestive of butter on a hot day, and she was confiding in her "ownliest own" girl friend:

"The man that aspires to the privilege of pressing his moustache upon my rosebud lips," she began, firmly, "must be tall and stalwart as a pine tree in its prime."

"There is a slump in pine trees just at present," murmured her friend, inaudibly, but the rapturous girl swept on.

"I can see him now with the perfect Greek features of the Belvedere Apollo, surmounting a frame that is suggestive of the Farnese Hercules in repose."

"I fancy that Ouida has been there before," murmured the friend once more, "but there is no additional charge for heroics; so proceed."

"His mouth must be firm but kind, and his soft hazel eyes will twinkle with a smile that is at once sweetly serious and saucily sedate."

"I fancied that I was rather a connoisseur in smiles myself," remarked her friend, "but I do not recall at this moment seeing one of the precise nature you describe. But I will endeavor to imagine it. Fill in your hero, please."

"He must be strong and resolute, yet generous and tender to a fault; his face will light up with the fire of a strenuous passion when his feelings are aroused, and yet he will have his whole nature in such perfect control that he will never lose that grip of himself which is the leading characteristic of the true aristocrat."

"True aristocrats have been a falling market for some time past," remarked the friend in another aside; "but there is nothing like putting one's trust in Providence."

"He must be both truly religious and honestly manly, with the creed of the man of the world elevated to the standard of the highest religious principle."

"Right, oh!" said her friend relapsing into slang. "Muscular Christianity, ritualism and rowing, golf and godliness, are all the go. There may be a chance for you yet."

And then a dreamy far-away look came into the melting maiden's eyes as she concluded:

"He must have no eyes for any other girl in the world, but must feel the god of love spring into birth in his heroic soul as his glance meets mine, and we realize that we were predestined for each other from the beginning of the world."

At this moment the door opened, and the neatly-attired parlormaid announced "Mr. Jimkins is waiting to see you downstairs in the drawing-room, miss."

"What! that little red-haired bounder with a squint," enquired the dear friend, "who used to be always spooning round after Maud and Blanche, until they at last succeeded in getting it into his wooden little copper-topped cocoanut that his room was decidedly preferable to his company! Why, he's the mangiest little toad that ever—"

But the whole of her remark was lost upon the chocolate-cream girl, whose dainty feet were tripping downstairs three steps at a time, and before the drawing-room door closed the dear friend heard her begin "Dear Mr. Jimkins, how sweet of you to come on a day like this!" And then the door closed, and the dear friend was left to her own cogitations on the eternal feminine.

Back at the Old Home.

IRVING BACHELLER, the author, tells a story of having gone back, after many years' absence, to his old country home in the New England States. On the ruined doorstep of the old house stood the seedy remnant of a once noble race. He wore, amongst other things, one suspender and a seedy pair of trousers. The conversation ran like this:

"Glad to see ye," sez he. "Thanks," says I. "We've heerd about you," sez he, "and they say you done noble." "Well, and how are you?" says I. "Porely," sez he. "How's that?" says I. "Jest makin' a bare livin'," sez he. "Why don't you go away?" says I. "Can't," sez he. "Why not?" says I. "Mortgaged," sez he. "That's too bad," says I. "'Tis," sez he. "You don't seem to have much to live for," says I. "Don't want to live," sez he. "You might die," says I. "Can't," sez he. "Why not?" says I. "Mortgaged," sez he.

At this point they were joined by another old acquaintance of Mr. Bacheller's—a man who for years had held a mortgage on every acre of the country-side. "So you're Paul Bacheller's boy?" he said, after scrutinizing the visitor closely. "The same," said Mr. Bacheller. "Well," said Mr. Wallace, reflectively, "if your father had kept you on the farm it would not have looked as it does now." Up to this point the unfortunate farmer who was mortgaged had taken no part in the conversation. Now, however, a strange grin came across his face.

"That's right, Mr. Wallace," sez he. "If he had been kept on the farm the farm would hev looked better, but he'd hev looked a damn sight worse."

Cause For Madness.

"By George," said a man who was riding to the city in an early train, "I detest people who are so positive about everything."

"It is a disagreeable habit," the passenger who sat next to him admitted, "and it always pleases me to see such people confronted with proofs that they are in the wrong."

"Yes, it does me, too. My wife's cousin has been visiting us for several days, and he's one of those know-it-all fellows. You can't tell him anything. Yesterday morning he was reading, and I gave him a hint on how to pronounce a French word that he used. But do you suppose he was willing to admit that I knew more about it than he did?"

"I suppose not."

"No; he sat there, right at my own table, and argued with me for twenty minutes trying to show that I didn't know what I was talking about. Such people make me weary."

"Why didn't you get a French dictionary and prove to him that he was wrong?"

"Oh, I looked it up yesterday and found that I was mistaken myself; but what makes me mad is the fact that he was so positive about it."

The dinner party consisted of fourteen stomachs and two very interesting brains.—N. Y. "Life."

What frayed your linen?
Not Sunlight Soap—
No, indeed!

SUNLIGHT SOAP REDUCES EXPENSE
Ask for the Octagon Bar 823

THE WEATHER.

To-day's Probs—

To-day and Friday, moderate winds, mostly southwest to southeast, fine and warm; a few scattered thunder storms.

To-day's Temperature

As Registered by The Intelligencer's Guaranteed Thermometer:

8 a.m.	67
12 m.	82
2 p.m.	84
3 p.m.	83

REIGN OF
The Leather Bag

The Leather Bag in its many forms of varied attractiveness is everywhere in evidence this year and promises to hold its popularity for some time to come.

THE BAG IS THE RAGE

There are SOUND REASONS for this; it is not a mere fad. Our goods are right in line with the spirit of the times.

Angus McFee.
Jeweler & Optician
310 Front St.

P.S.—In the matter of the new Blouse Pin Sets we show everything that is "taking" in the larger centers.

There is not a foreign water that one of the MAGI Caledonia Waters does not advantageously replace for either as a medicinal or table use. J. J. McLaughlin, sole Agent, Toronto. Sold everywhere.

Curse
—OF—DRINK
CURED BY
COLONIAL REMEDY

No taste. No Odor. Can be given in a glass of water, tea, or coffee, without patient's knowledge.

Colonial Remedy will cure or destroy the diseased appetite for alcoholic stimulants, whether the patient is a confirmed inebriate, "tippler," social drinker or drunkard. Impossible for anyone to have an appetite for alcoholic liquors after using Colonial Remedy.

Indorsed by Members of the W.C.T.U.

Mrs. Moore, Superintendent of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Ventura, Cal., writes: "I have tested Colonial Remedy on very obstinate drunkards, and the cures have been many. In many cases the Remedy was given secretly. I cheerfully recommend and endorse Colonial Remedy. Members of our Union are delighted to find a practical and economical treatment to aid us in our temperance work."

Sold by druggists everywhere and by mail.

Price $1. Trial package free by writing or calling on Mrs. M. A. Cowan (for years member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union), 2204 St. Catherine St., Montreal.

Sold in Belleville by F. Chas. Clarke, Front St. and D. M. Waters, Bridge St.

Specials in Millinery

Sale of Sailor Hats.

We bought too many. 15 doz. cleared at HALF PRICE.

White and Colored.

ALL NEW.

Also some very choice Dress Hats just received.

GET FIRST CHOICE.

MISS IRWIN
Millinery and Corset Specialist

The Flying Fishers, who are engaged with Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows this season, were the reigning sensation of London last winter. These great artists perform feats in mid-air that many clever acrobats hesitate to attempt on the ground. There is no other act like this in the world.

Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

Special Great Mid=Season Sale

Beginning Saturday, May 16th, 1903.

Just a Moment, Don't Fail to Read.

The dollar rules the commercial world—to a very great extent. Prompt dollars bring us merchandise that, enable us to sell to you at extraordinary prices. To prepare for a further new stock of Summer goods, we find we can clear off a quantity of spring materials, new ideas and fresh goods are continually being introduced. We must have them. We therefore invite you to this Great Sale where you will find that facts speak with greater force than elongated statements. So come and see for yourself. The goods and prices do the talking.

A Few of the Lines

Men's English Blue Serge Suits, all sizes 34 to 40 at $3.50

Men's Spring Suits, Dark Grey Halifax Tweed, made single breasted with French Facings, worth $7.00, our price $4.00

Men's spring Suits, Black or Blue twill serge suits, made single breasted with French facings, worth $8.00 our price $4.50

The finest and nobbiest assortment of Boys' two and three piece suits in the city. All sizes and at low prices.

The Globe Clothing House
Up-to-date Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers.
390 FRONT STREET, LOOK FOR THE GLOBE OVER THE DOOR.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M.D., C.M., M.R., C.S., England.

Office and Residence — Corner of Bridge and George streets — three streets East of Post Office.

DR. J. F. MATHER

Has removed his office to Pinnacle St., three doors north of Hotel Quinte. my29-6mw

LEGAL.

WILLS & WRIGHT,

Barristers, Solicitors, Notary Public, &c., Belleville.

Office—2 Campbell Street.

MALCOLM WRIGHT.
J. FRANKLIN WILLS.

Money to Loan at Lowest Rates.

W. C. MIKEL, B. C. L.,

Barrister, &c.

Solicitor for the City of Belleville.

Office—Metropolitan Block, Corner Front and Campbell Streets.

PORTER & CARNEW,

Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc.

Offices — Robertson Block, East Front St., Belleville, Ont.

'Phone 87.

E. G. PORTER. WM. CARNEW.

WILLIAM N. PONTON,

Barrister-at-law, Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge Street, Belleville.

Money to Loan — Private Funds. Solicitor Sun and Hastings Savings and Loan Company of Ontario.

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE,

Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.

Barrister, Solicitor, Conveyancer, Etc. Office, McAnnany Building, corner Front and Bridge Sts., Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security.

Charges moderate.

INSURANCE.

Fire Insurance.

Guardian	Est'd 182
The North America,	Est'd 179
Quebec,	Est'd 181

City, Town and Village Property insure at lowest rates.

R. W. ADAMS. Agent.

Office opposite Post Office.

PERSONS desiring Life assurance cannot do better than consult

W. J. THOMSON,

who is the Agent for the following well-known and old established Assurance Companies:

ROYAL. ALLIANCE.
OCEAN ACCIDENT STANDARD LIFE

Office at Rathbun Co., Bridge St. ocs-d&w

THOS. STEWART,

Insurance and Commission Agent

Agent for the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Scottish Union National Ins. Co.

BRIDGE ST.

FIRE, LIFE & ACCIDENT INSURANCE

At Lowest Rates The Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Perth Mutual on farm and city property. Also money to loan at 4½ per cent. upwards.

JAMES A. CHISHOLM,
Office Ashley Block, Front st., Belleville

Money Saved is Money Earned

I can earn you money by saving ⅓ for you in your Fire Insurance.

The Anglo-American Fire Ins. Co.
The Merchants Fire Ins. Co.
The Equity Fire Ins. Co.

Are all strong Canadian stock companies and insure Farm and City Property at lower rate than other stock companies. Call and see me before placing your fire insurance.

Office—Bridge St., same entrance Quinte Laundry, Belleville.

H. FREEMAN KETCHESON

Fire, Life & Plate Glass Insurance.

Liverpool & London & Globe of England.

Waterloo Mutual, of Waterloo, Ont.
Lloyd's Plate Glass.
Home Life Association, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile.

Farm and City Property insured in First-class Reliable Companies and at lowest current rates. Losses promptly settled. Land valuation, and transact general Real Estate business and sale or purchase and renting of property. Appraiser for the Hastings Loan & Investment Society. Money to Loan.

W. F. HUDSON, Office above Rathbun's office, cor. Bridge and Pinnacle Sts., opposite Postoffice and Hotel Quinte, Belleville,

'Phone 162.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. G. NORTHRUP,

Issuer of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville, Ont.

CHAUNCEY ASHLEY,

Issuer of Marriage Licenses.

Private Office, Bridge St., Belleville, opposite the Post Office.

Residence, first house east of W. W. Chown's Mfg. Co., Station St.

Appointments made.

He who foresees calamities suffers them twice over.

Those who live in yesterday's wigwam are always a day behind.

The best way to get even is to forget.

Jim Dumps' good dame, on wisdom bent,
To frequent cooking lectures went.
"For scalloped oysters don't use bread,"
She there was taught. "Take 'Force' instead."
When Oyster-Force was served to him,
"Fit for a king!" cried "Sunny Jim."
"Force"
The Ready-to-Serve Cereal
adds new enjoyment to an old dish.
Sweet, crisp flakes of wheat and malt.
A Regular Breakfast Food.
"'Force' is a regular breakfast food in my family to the exclusion of steaks or chops, the old standard.
"A. CHANGER."

COMING TO BELLEVILLE Saturday, June 6, Second Tour of Canada

RINGLING BROS.
WORLD'S GREATEST SHOWS
ONLY RHINOCEROS IN CAPTIVITY.
LITTLE BABY Bee
ONLY PAIR OF FULL GROWN GIRAFFES IN CAPTIVITY.
THE BIGGEST SHOW ON EARTH TO WHICH IS NOW ADDED WITHOUT ANY ADDITION IN PRICE, THE SUBLIME SPECTACLE
JERUSALEM AND THE CRUSADES
1200 CHARACTERS IN THE CAST. 300 DANCING GIRLS. 50 MUSICIANS. 200 CHORUS SINGERS. 50-STOP PIPE ORGAN. 2000 COSTUMES.
INAUGURAL SCENE, SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.
ABSOLUTELY AN ADDITIONAL TRAIN OF CARS ARE REQUIRED TO CARRY THE SCENERY, WARDROBES, ARMORS, WAR IMPLEMENTS, ACCESSORIES AND PEOPLE OF THE NEWLY ADDED AND ENORMOUSLY GRAND SPECTACLE OF JERUSALEM AND THE CRUSADES
85 DOUBLE LENGTH RAILROAD CARS
40 BIG AND LITTLE ELEPHANTS
1280 PEOPLE
108 WILD ANIMAL CAGES
650 HORSES
40 FUN-MAKING CLOWNS
$3,700,000 CAPITAL
$7,400 ACTUAL DAILY EXPENSE
BALLET SCENE
SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.
BIGGEST CIRCUS ON EARTH
375 PERFORMERS 16 BIG ARENAS
3 LONG MILES OF NEW AND COSTLY
2 TROUPES ACTING SEALS
A PARADE SUCH AS THE WORLD HAS NEVER SEEN BEFORE
PARADE GLORIES FREE UPON THE STREETS EVERY MORNING AT 10 O'CLOCK
TWO PERFORMANCES DAILY AT 2 AND 8 P. M. DOORS OPEN AT 1 AND 7 P. M.
ONE 50-CENT TICKET ADMITS TO EVERYTHING. CHILDREN UNDER 12, HALF PRICE

Admission and numbered Reserved Seat Tickets sold on show day at Riggs' music store at same prices as charged at ticket waggons on show grounds.

Belleville, Saturday, June 6

Address and Presentation

A very pleasing event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Brintnell, Plainfield, on the evening of May 12th, before their departure to their new home in Belleville, when the people of the village and vicinity took advantage of the opportunity to show the high esteem in which they were held. Mrs. Brintnell was presented with a beautiful parlor lamp and a number of other presents, and the following address:

Plainfield; May 12, 1903.

To Mr. and Mrs. Brintnell,—

Dear Friends,—We, your neighbors, have deemed it a duty on our part to meet here to-night in this your home, to give expression of our respect and esteem for you. You are about to leave us and we are sorry indeed to lose your genial companionship and kind neighborly associations. Nearly all your life-time you have lived among us, and to-day your reputations for good, honest, upright and conscientious Christian citizens stand out clear and spotless. These characteristics reveal to us the true womanhood and manhood within, and therefore it is right as people loving the good, the noble and the true of life, that we should embody in some small way our appreciation of you both. We have sought that end by our presence and ask you to accept this lamp as a token of our love and esteem for you. Look upon it as coming from your friends and neighbors who thought not only enough of you to say good-bye, but who wants you to remember and to cherish the many happy days of good-will we had together. In your future home we wish you every happiness and prosperity, and we are sure you will earn the respect and esteem of your new acquaintances. May the Giver of all good go with you and may you both be spared to many days of usefulness is our earnest wish: we shall often think of you and shall always extend you the hearty welcome to our homes that you have been so ever ready to do. Signed on behalf of the people of Plainfield. E. O. PLATT.

Piles To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles, the manufacturers have guaranteed it. See testimonials in the daily press and ask your neighbors what they think of it. You can use it and get your money back if not cured. 60c a box, at all dealers or EDMANSON, BATES & CO., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

An amazing feature of Ringling Brothers' wonderful circus is a company of forty clowns, who keep the audience in a constant whirl of laughter by their odd conceits and grotesque actions.

Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

An Appeal to Honor.

Treat a man as if he were a gentleman and he will rarely disappoint you. In illustration of this truth Mr. Crosse, author of "Round About the Carpathians," tells a good story of a robber chief in Hungary. A few years ago the Carpathian Mountains were infested with organized bands of robbers, and neither life nor property was safe. At this time a lady of great wealth, the Countess Z., who lived not far from the main highway between Budapest and Vienna, received a polite note one morning, informing her that twelve gentlemen would dine with her at midnight. She understood what it meant.

It was impossible to summon help, and well she knew that every approach to the castle would be guarded, to prevent communication. In this dilemma she made ready for her uninvited guests.

At midnight up rode an armed band, twelve men in all. Immediately the gate of the outer court and the entrance door were thrown wide, as if for the most honored and welcome guests. The countess stood at the entrance to receive them, richly dressed. She bade the chief and his men a gracious welcome, gave orders that their horses be cared for, and then, taking the arm of her guest, led the way to the dining-hall. Here a goodly feast was spread, and all the gold and silver plate of the castle was lavishly displayed.

The leader of the robber band started back in surprise; but, recovering his self-possession, he seated himself beside his charming hostess, who engaged him in merry talk of the gay world at Vienna, with which they were both familiar. At length, when the feast was nearly ended, the chief took out his watch and said:

"Countess, the happiest moments of my life have always been the shortest. I have another engagement this night. Bad as I am, none ever appealed to my honor in vain. You have received me as a gentleman, and I shall take my departure as one. As for you, my men," he said, looking sternly round with hand on his pistol, "I charge you to take nothing from this house. He who disobeys me dies that instant."

The chief then asked for pen and paper, and wrote some words upon a sheet, which he handed to his hostess. "This, madam, will serve to protect you in future. You have but to show it, and it will save you from any molestation or loss."

The name of the robber chief was afterward known. He was an impoverished cadet of one of the noblest families in Hungary. His fate was sad enough; he was captured a few months after the incident which has been related here, and ended his life at the hands of the common hangman.

A Mystery Explained.

Tommy—Papa, what makes you so bald?

Papa—Oh, that's because my mother used to pat me so much on the head for being a good boy.—"Ally Sloper's Half-Holiday."

The Fear of Being Thought Prim.

Commenting on the subject "Is Society Worse Than It Was in England," Gwendolen Ramsden says in the "Nineteenth Century:" "If there be reason to think that society is deteriorating rather than improving, it is not owing to the bad influence of a few among the aristocracy, who, by their conduct, have extinguished the respect hitherto accorded to their old family names, but rather to the apathy of some, and the timidity amounting to cowardice of others, belonging to that vast majority of respectable people who condone conduct which in their hearts of hearts they condemn. They ought to be the example, but they have never realized their responsibilities. With some the dread of being considered strait-laced or prim is far greater than the fear of evil. Virtuous themselves, they yet know and believe all the evil gossip about others from whom they readily accept invitations and benefits. They allow gambling to go on in their houses, for they have not the pluck to forbid games of cards being played for money. Idle people are encouraged by them to play 'bridge,' not merely as a recreation in the evening, but as the business of the day, beginning after luncheon and continuing throughout the night. In entertaining their friends and acquaintances, so anxious are they to be popular and please those who are the fashion of the day, that they encourage flirtations among married people, and would sooner think of leaving out the husbands than of not including in their invitations the well-known admirers of their guests."

Why it is 8.18 o'Clock.

Probably few persons who go up or down Broadway or any other important thoroughfare of New York have ever stopped to ask why the hands on the faces of nearly all the big wooden clocks that swing as signs over jewellery stores indicate that it is eighteen minutes past 8 o'clock. These clock hands, The New York Tribune says, indicate the exact time in the evening when Lincoln, accompanied by his wife, left the White House on April 14, 1865, to go to Ford's Theatre, Washington, where John Wilkes Booth, the actor, shot him. The man who first originated the wooden clock sign idea had a workshop in a downtown street in 1865, and shortly after the assassination he conceived the idea of painting the hands on all his signs to point out this special time. His successors in the business continued the practice, as did other men. There is probably not a great street in New York to-day that has not one or more of these reminders.

One of the largest orders for North Country coal ever given was reported on the Newcastle Exchange on April 1, the Russian Admiralty requiring 110,000 tons of Northumberland steam coal for naval purposes.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Measurement Nonpareil—12 lines to the inch.

Display advertisements, 10c per line.

Subsequent consecutive insertions, 5c.

Reading advertisements, 15c per line.

Preferred position, 20 per cent. advance upon usual or contract rates.

Minimum space, 10 lines.

Marriages and deaths, 50c each insertion. Births, 25c each insertion.

Rates for Condensed Advertisement will be found in 1st column of 2nd page.

All advertisements are subject to the approval of the Publisher of the Intelligencer.

Address all communications to the Intelligencer Printing & Publishing House Limited, or to Charles J. Bowell, Managing Director and Treasurer.

Canadians in London will find The Intelligencer on file at E. & J. Hardy & Co.'s Office, 30 Fleet Street, London, E. C.

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS

SITUATIONS WANTED, HELP WANTED, LOST OR FOUND, FOR SALE OR TO RENT, &c.

(Auction Sales not included in this list)

TERMS.—Twenty-five words or less, 25c first insertion; two insertions, 50c; four insertions, 75c; one week $1.00, two weeks, $1.75, three weeks, $2.25; one month, $2.50. Strictly cash in advance.

WANTED.

General servant. Apply to Mrs. (Dr.) Boyce. 21-4t

A smart boy of good education, to learn the printing trade. Apply at The Intelligencer Office.

At once, Cook and general servant for Massassaga Park Hotel. Highest wages. Apply to J. O. Lake, or W. A. Taylor. 20,23

A girl to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. S. A. Hyman, 264 George St. 19-5t

A few men and women to work for us at home during spare time. Pleasant work. Liberal pay. No canvassing. Imperial Company, London, Ontario. m12-1m

Not fakes nor fads but household needs. Used everyday by everybody. Can't you sell them? Others do and make fortunes. Still room. Write at once to G. Marshall & Co., London, Ont.

By S. Langbort—Scrap iron, metal, old rubber, etc. Will pay the following prices: Old iron, 50c, 60c and 70c. per 100; mixed rags 50c per 100; copper 9c lb.; heavy brass 9c lb.; old rubber boots and shoes 6c lb.; lead and zinc 2c lb. Remember the place, Powell's Old Stand, Mill St., corner Brown. ap21-1m

Young men ambitious to learn lucrative trades, of which there are eight in connection with the business. Apply The Belleville Hardware Company, Belleville, Ont. a7dtf

Competent men to appoint agents, whole or spare time. Commission paid. Apply JOHN DOYLE, Drawer 531, London. a27-1yr

WANTED Reliable Men in every locality throughout Canada to introduce our goods, tacking up show cards on trees, fences, along roads and all conspicuous places, also distributing small advertising matter. Commission or salary $60.00 per month and expenses, not to exceed $2.50 per day. Steady employment to good, honest, reliable men. No experience needful. Write for full particulars. THE EMPIRE MEDICINE CO., London, Ont.

FOR SALE OR TO-LET.

House on Dundas Street (north side). For particulars apply to Miss McCrudden, at Foster's restaurant, Front street, after 6 p.m. 18-6td

FOR SALE.

BICYCLE—Cleveland, 1903, hygienic cushion frame, coaster brake, 22 inch frame, Dunlop tires. Will be sold cheap. Original cost $65.00. tf

Comfortable, well built, seven room frame house and lot, situated on North Front St., in vicinity of Albert College. Apply to Mrs. Wm. McCreery, Belleville. my15-d1mem&iw

Stone house, 11 rooms, coal furnace, stable, barn. Large grounds. Cor. Frank and Moira Sts. north. Terms reasonable. H. Bull, on premises or Fred Bull, 21-2 Queen St., Toronto. ap18-dtf

Contractors and masons, any any person requiring lime may procure it from E. G. STAPLEY, Canifton Road, Belleville. New lime always on hand. a9-d&w6m

Dressed and Matched Lumber of all kinds, at ALFORD'S factory, Market Square. j12-tf

REMOVAL.

Dr. Clarke will shortly remove to the offices formerly occupied by the late Dr. Ward, over Burrows', and opposite Scantlebury's Book Store. a27dtf

Relieving Muscular Strain

Of the eyes that rob the vigor of the rest of the body, is our profession. Glasses are intended for more than the aiding of vision. Some of the most distressing diseases have been relieved by glasses after doctors and surgeons had doctored and cut to their heart's content. Do not procrastinate in the matter of having your eyes examined.

ALEX. RAY

A Sure Cure for Headaches. — Bilious headache, to which women are more subject than men, becomes so acute in some subjects that they are utterly prostrated. The stomach refuses food, and there is a constant and distressing effort to free the stomach from bile which has become unduly secreted there. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are a speedy alterative, and in neutralizing the effects of the intruding bile relieves the pressure on the nerves which cause the headache. Try them.

The best wheel of fortune is honest labor.

Will be Found an Excellent Remedy for sick Headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

Wedding rings in St. Kilda used to be made of worsted.

The Well Known Strengthening Properties of IRON, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

Coral is a talisman against thunder and evils by flood and field.

There is nothing equal to Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator for destroying worms. No article of its kind has given such satisfaction.

A woman never knows where the match box is.

Some persons have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhoea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change of water, cooking, and green fruit, is sure to bring on the attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer Complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed no further trouble will be experienced.

When one gets hopping mad his reason goes on a crutch.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which causes difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of "Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup," and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

The average watch represents but 12 hours of human labor.

Will positively cure sick headache and prevent its return. Carter's Little Liver Pills. This is not talk, but truth. One pill a dose. See advertisement. Small pill, Small dose. Small price.

If thy friend is honey, do not lick him up altogether.

Holloway's Corn Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

Attend no auctions if thou hast no money.

To Those of Sedentary Occupation. —Men who follow sedentary occupations, which deprive them of fresh air and exercise, are more prone to disorders of the liver and kidneys than those who lead active, outdoor lives. The former will find in Parmelee's Vegetable Pills a restorative without question the most efficacious on the market. They are easily procurable, easily taken, act expeditiously, and they are surprisingly cheap considering their excellence.

Many a man's self-conceit is due to his ignorance.

UNTOLD MISERY — WHAT A WELL-KNOWN COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER SUFFERED, AND HOW HE WAS CURED.—Gentlemen, About five years ago I began to be troubled with Dyspepsia, and for three years suffered untold misery, from this terrible complaint. I was at that time travelling for Messrs. Walter Woods & Co., Hamilton, and was treated by some of the best physicians in the country, but to no purpose. I continued to grow worse, one day I was induced to try a bottle of Northrup & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and to my great surprise and joy, I soon began to improve. I continued using this medicine and when the third bottle was finished, I found I was entirely cured; and as a year has elapsed since then, I feel confident that the cure is complete and permanent. To all afflicted with this distressing complaint I heartily recommend Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery believing that the persistent use of it will cure any case of Dyspepsia. (Signed),

T. S. McINTEE.

Over 250,000 copies of Charles Dickens' novels are sold annually.

He Has Tried It.—Mr. John Anderson, Kimloss, writes: "I venture to say few, if any, have received greater benefit from the use of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, than I have. I have used it regularly for over ten years and have recommended it to all sufferers I knew of, and they also found it of great virtue in cases of severe bronchitis and incipient consumption.

The Sun & Hastings Savings and Loan Co. of Ontario.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL

$5,000,000.

3 1-2 per cent. allowed on Deposits, payable on Call.

4 per cent. on Deposits for one year or over.

Money to Loan upon favorable terms.

OFFICE, No. 46 Bridge St., Belleville.

J. P. C. PHILLIPS,
Manager Belleville Branch.

A SHIRT SALE

We have just received from the manufacturers, 50 dozen Madras Shirts in sizes 14½ to 16½, soft bosoms, with separate cuffs. They should sell at $1.00, but we got a big snap and are going to clear them quick for 50c each.

You need not wait till you go on your holiday trip before getting some of these cool and pretty patterns. They take half the discomfort out of a hot day.

Not More Than one half Dozen sold to each Customer.

OAK HALL

Sole Agents for Sanford's Celebrated Clothing.

That Boy Needs Boots Again!

CAN'T HELP IT!

Boys rush into all sorts of games and sports and play havoc with their boots. Just received large shipment of

Our Special for Boys

Made of Cordovan. Some call it mule-hide, some call it horse-hide—we call it Cordovan. There is

One Trouble With This Boot.

The trouble is we can't get enough of them. Only one tanner tans the leather, only one firm makes the shoes, and neither can begin to supply the demand. So we are out of them half the time. They stand the strain better than any boot we know of.

Boys' sizes 1 to 5	$1.50
Youth's sizes 11 to 13	$1.25
Small Boys 8 to 10½	$1.00
Girls' sizes 11 to 2	$1.25

If you have not used this line we shall be pleased to show them to you.

The J. J. Haines SHOE HOUSES at Belleville, Napanee and Trenton

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE
FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

Daily Intelligencer.

TIMELY TOPICS

It is comforting to think that, with big street railway strikes threatened all around us, Belleville street railway matters are as calm as a May morning.

• • •

Considering that we've had precious little rain for a month, and other places round us are getting plenty of it, it would appear that Jupiter Pluvius is paying more attention to the unjust than the just these days.

• • •

It turns out now that most of the lumber piled in Ottawa is the property of U.S. firms, who are leaving it there till the time is opportune to sell it. If that be so those Ottawaites must be gilt-edged, 24-carat chumps if they don't order the piles out of the city limits in jig time. In the meantime, what about the lumber piles which are a menace to property in Belleville?

• • •

Perhaps, with the Hon. Clifford Sifton in England, it was only natural that Canada should have carried off first prize in the windmill competition.

• • •

A young doctor in Baltimore tested the mucilage on the letters sent to him by his sweetheart and found that she had consumption. He broke off the match, and in the matter of precaution certainly broke all records.

• • •

It does not follow, because the students of Albert will gambol on the green to-morrow, that they are all lambs.

• • •

"When are you going to give us a pen picture of Mr. Dooley?" said an inquisitive fellow to-day. When he can be induced to stand for it.

• • •

This kind of weather ought to precipitate the picnic season.

• • •

It is related that when the mother of thirty-two children was presented to President Roosevelt in San Jose, Cal., the other day, he said "she should be made the president of some association, but he didn't exactly know what." Perhaps her husband might, at some time or other, have been induced to accept the presidency of the Suicide Club, if somebody had asked him.

• • •

Everybody is wondering what will be done with the bribery money in the Gamey case. Send it here to build a public bath with.

• • •

Amateurism in lacrosse has got so pronounced in Canada that nowadays managers of lacrosse clubs visit other cities in the dead of night and induce players to desert their own club and play with another. At least that's what Brantford people are alleged to have done in Montreal, the coveted prize being one "Tack" Hendry. What a farce and humbug this Canadian amateurism is!

• • •

After being entertained in Hamilton, Lord Minto sent them his "best" thanks. His Excellency's gratitude must be graded.

• • •

A LOT OF DIS-HONORABLES.

(Ottawa Citizen.)

They are a choice lot of "honorables" in the Ross Cabinet. Ross breaks his public promise to the guileless temperance people; Harcourt breaks his pledge in the Centre Bruce protest; Davis gives hand-outs from the public timber limits to his friends without any authority—(when the a-p without any authority—(when the apan "honorable" they call this sort of thing by a nasty name); and Stratton tries to induce a young reporter on the Toronto Globe to "forget" information on oath, alias to perjure himself.

FRANK STILL ENDANGERED.

Dominion Surveyors Report Great Mass of Rock Overhangs Town.

Blairmore, Alberta, May 21.—R. McConnell and R. W. Brock of the Geological Survey, who have been at Frank for the past 10 days, making an investigation of the recent disaster, for the Dominion Government, have completed their work. By observations made, they ascertained that the most western peak of Turtle Mountain had moved about six inches during the period of their observations. This peak is a massive block of rock, as great in extent as, if not greater than, that which originally fell away. It directly overhangs the town, and in falling would destroy a part, if not the whole, of what remains of the town. Frank has been re-occupied and business generally resumed during the last nine days, but, as a result of the geologists' report, Premier Haultain posted a warning Tuesday, notifying all of the danger to life in remaining, and the town is again depopulated.

Near to Death by Dynamite.

St. Hyacinthe, Que., May 21.—When Proprietor Gauthier of the Yamaska, the best hotel in the city, went down to open the sample room yesterday morning, he found four boxes of dynamite cartridges under a step ladder which was so arranged that the slightest pressure would discharge the explosive. No doubt it was an attempt to destroy the hotel. An investigation is being made by the police.

Tons of Ice Lost.

Woodstock, May 21.—The Woodstock cold storage warehouse collapsed at 7 o'clock yesterday morning. Several hundred tons of ice were lost, while the structure, valued at $5,000, is a complete loss.

One Legislature Closed.

St. John's, Nfld., May 21.—The colonial Legislature closed yesterday. It is understood in official circles that the Bond-Hay treaty negotiations will be revived next fall.

Montreal.—The representative of the International Union was present at the meeting of street car men Wednesday night, and as he would not sanction a strike, it was practically decided that there would be no strike.

Tampa, Florida.—Amos Randall, white, and Dan Kennedy and Henry Golden, negroes, were lynched at Mulberry, Polk County, 30 miles from here, early Wednesday morning, for the murder of Barney Brown, a white man.

The Nerves control the most important functions of the human system. Among the symptoms of nervous exhaustion are "Brain Fag," Mental Depression, Irritability, Insomnia, Prostration, Hysteria, Headache, Flushed Face, Cold Hands and Feet.

IRON-OX TABLETS

ACT AS A TONIC

increasing nerve energy and force; they also supply nourishment to the nervous system.

Fifty Tablets For 25 Cents

You will drink dirty water if you roil your neighbor's spring.

The man who thinks his wife is blind to his faults is entitled to another think.

The Harmonies of Worship.

Jenkins Lloyd Jones, Minister of All Souls' Church, Chicago.

Worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness.—Psalms, xxix., 2.

Reverence is the crowning grace of life. Worship is the universal solvent that everywhere disintegrates the rock of bigotry. Reverence makes melodious the iron bars of creed. On the horizon line of human ignorance, on the mountain peaks of human aspiration, in the deep valleys of humiliation, in the lonely desires of the heart, there are no sects, partisans, denominational antagonisms or race prejudices, and these are the places where worship becomes inevitable and prayer spontaneous.

Whatever we may think of prayers, however we may regard the formal words of ritual, we must all believe in prayer, for adoration in the presence of the Adorable is inevitable to spirit. Gratitude, admiration, the hunger for communion with the pure, the thirst for companionship with the divine, represent the soul at its maximum everywhere. These constitute the prayer which exalts the heart that yields to its law.

Prayer is the hunger of the conscience for righteousness, the thirst of the heart for love. When by thinking we reach a sense of the Ineffable; when thought lands us at the feet of the Unthinkable; when the Known is conscious of the measureless rim of the Unknowable that surrounds it, this is prayer, and in this realm we are all brothers.

"Worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness." Holiness is wholeness. This is one element in the pentecostal language. The life of the individual is fractional. It comes to its wholeness only in the community. There is moving power, culture, helpfulness in the pure notes of the soloist whose voice gives adequate expression to the heart; but mighty deeds are inspired, communities acquire added momentum, the city is defended and the nation is saved under the mighty inspiration of the great chorus that rolls from the throats of the unnumbered multitudes. Witness the power of the old chorals of the Reformation, the battle hymn of Luther and the Marseillaise. These represent not only the mighty harmonies of the state, but the great harmonizing power of Religion.

The main universal element in literature is represented by the prayers of the ages. If the selection be high enough, Catholic saint, ostracized heretic, persecuted infidel, Protestant believer and Pagan confessor all join in one chorus.

Theodore Parker's great work was entitled "A Discourse of Religion." This book shows that the primal verities of religion, the thought of God, of duty and of the immortal life were present and primal in all the great religions of the world. In the great Parliament of Religion, held in Chicago in 1903, it was demonstrated that the "Our Father" was indeed a universal prayer. Over and over again did Catholic and Jew, Buddhist, Brahmin and Parsee join in this great ethical anthem. They were all ready to pray for the coming of the kingdom of good. "Deliver us from evil" were words consonant and precious to the hearts and lips of Hindu and Chinaman, European and American, black and white, rich and poor, learned and ignorant.

The Mohammedan calls his sacred book, the Koran, "the cry." The very title gives it a place in the breviary of mankind. All religion is but a cry of the finite toward the infinite; a cry from the seen to the unseen; a cry of the erring for virtue; a cry of the sinning for grace; a cry of the selfish for love.

This cry, enforced by science, literature and travel, is bringing in a new catholicism. The age of schism is gone or going. The sects in religion are doomed. The provincial appeal of the denominationalist falls upon unresponsive ears, aye, fails of clear utterance on the part of him who leads in the task of sect building.

We talk much of the combination of trade and the trusts of capital. But they are only the reverse side of the shield—the worldly and oftentimes wicked perversion of the great law of brotherhood. A great catholicism, a church of humanity, of which the Church of Rome in its mighty achievements is a feeble prophecy, is the obverse side of this shield. The word in religion, as in statesmanship, to-day is not clannishness, nor partisanship, nor patriotism, but cosmopolitanism. Universalism of some kind or other, in time and eternity, is the demand of the heart and the head, the necessity of science, the dream of the sage, the promise of the bard, the inspiration of the prophet, the gospel of the living God, as revealed in the slowly unfolding pages of history and reflected in the ever clearing and climbing life of the soul of man.

Feeding of Pet Dogs.

Discussing the feeding of toy spaniels, in the January issue of Outing, Lillian C. Moeran says: Most people overfeed toy dogs, and the result is a fat, unhealthy-looking specimen, with a foul breath and rough, staring coat. Some food is supposed to be better than others in the growing of coats. My experience has been that there is nothing so good for toy dogs as a judicious mixture of finely cut-up boiled meat—beef or lamb necks are the cheapest, and answer the purpose admirably—soaked bread, from which the yeast has been squeezed out; boiled vegetables, such as potatoes, carrots, spinach, beans, etc., and, occasionally, rice, barley and oatmeal. To this should be added the soup in which the meat has been boiled, the mixture when finished being sufficiently firm to take out in a spoon without spilling. Once a day is sufficient for the average toy dog; but for this there is no cut-and-dried rule, an active dog of a nervous temperament needing more food than the ordinary specimen.

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat Co.,
(LIMITED)
"The Bay of Quinte Route."

Str. "ALETHA"

Leaves Belleville on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 a.m. for Bay of Quinte ports and Kingston. Returning will arrive at Belleville on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10 30 p.m.

Belleville-Rochester Route

Str. "North King"

Commencing 31st May will leave Belleville on Sundays at 11.38 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. Returning arrives at Belleville on Sundays at 3.25 a.m. and leaves for Bay Ports, Kingston and 1000 Islands.

During July and August service will be daily except Monday.

Right reserved to change time with or without notice.

For passage and freight rates and other information, apply to
THE RATHBUN CO., } Agents.
U. E. THOMPSON, }
E. F. HORSEY, G. P. & F. Agent,
Kingston.

Montreal, Rochester & Quebec Transit Co'y.

Str. "Alexandria"

Service in effect 25th April.

Leaves Rathbun Co.'s wharf, Belleville, every Saturday at 11.00 a.m. for Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Every Monday at 7.00 a.m. for Montreal and all River Ports.

Thousand Islands by daylight.
Runs all St. Lawrence River Rapids.
Quebec excursions commence July 5th.

LOW FREIGHT RATES.

A. W. HEPBURN, General Manager, Picton, Ont.
THE RATHBUN CO. Agents. Belleville.

The Deseronto Navigation Co
TIME TABLE.
Taking effect April 13, 1903.

Belleville, Trenton, Picton & Napanee

Str. "ELLA ROSS"

Leaves Belleville for Trenton at 10 a.m., daily, Sundays Excepted, returning leaves Trenton at 1 p.m., leaving Belleville at 3 p.m. for Deseronto, Napanee and Picton.

Quick and Superior Service to NEW YORK CITY

Steamers RESOLUTE and RELIANCE will leave Deseronto for Oswego after arrival of Str. Ella Ross connecting at Oswego with the New York, Ontario Western Ry.

Fare to New York, Single, $3.40
Return, $13.25

For further particulars apply to THE RATHBUN CO., Local Agents

J. F. CHAPMAN, Asst. Gen. Frt. & Pass. Agt., Deseronto.
A. C. CARTER General Manager Deseronto.

Just What You Want

Paint Brushes 7, 10, 15, 20, 25c.
Whitewash Brushes 10, 13, 15, 20, 25, 35, 45c.
1,000 Parlor Matches for 5c.
600 pairs Ladies' Bl'k Hose 5c pair.
500 printed Platters and Bakers, regular 25, clearing at 10c.
300 pairs Men's Sox, special, 4 pr. for 25c.
D. K. Blue Cups and Saucers, 35c 1-2 dozen.
1200 Dinner Setts for $8.00.
Curtain Poles, complete, for 20c.
Carpet Tacks, 2 for 5c.
Carpet Whips 10c each.
Kitchen Mirrors 12, 15, 20, 25, 30c.
Best Oil Blinds 30c.
6 Cakes Moss Rose Toilet Soap 15c.
3 Cakes Cold Cream Toilet Soap 5c.
6 Bars Eclipse Soap 25c.
Large variety of odd Wallpaper der, clearing at 1c yard.
50 varieties of Wallpaper, clearing at 5c Roll.
Large varieties 5, 7, 8, 10c Ceiling Papers, clearing at 3c Roll.

Be sure and visit our Wallpaper Department; it is the most complete, and has the best selected stock to choose from in the City.

Our Prices are 1-2 what other stores ask for same quality.

AT THE BEE HIVE
Chas. N. Sulman

Only 24 per cent. of doctors reach 70 years, but 42 per cent. of clergymen do so.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

VICTORIA DAY
MAY 24th, 1903.

Return Tickets will be issued at—
SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE.
Between all stations in Canada; also to Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, N.Y., Detroit, Pt. Huron, Mich., etc.
GOOD GOING MAY 23rd, 24th, or 25th, Valid returning from destination on or before May 26th, 1903.

COLONIST EXCURSIONS.

One way tickets at low rates on sale until June 15th, to points in Montana, Colorado, Utah, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and California.

Tickets sold in accordance with above will not be good on train No. 1 or train No. 4.

For tickets, and all information apply to
C. E. THOMPSON, City Agent, Bridge Street,
T. H. COPPIN, Depot Agent.
J. D. McDONALD, Dist. Pass. Agt., Toronto.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN
Homeseekers' 60 DAY Excursions
To The Canadian North-West at Return Fares.

Winnipeg, Waskada, Estevan, Elgin, Arcola, Moosomin, Wawanesa, Miniota, Binscarth, Grand View, Swan River } $28
Regina, Moosejaw, Yorkton, } $30
Prince Albert, Macleod, Calgary, } $35
Red Deer, Strathcona } $40

Going JUNE 4th, returning until AUGUST 4th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going JUNE 18th, returning until AUGUST 18th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going July 4th, returning until SEPTEMBER 8th (all rail or S.S. Manitoba). Tickets are not good on "Imperial Limited." For tickets and pamphlet giving full particulars, apply to your nearest Canadian Pacific agent, or to

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Genl. Passr. Agent, 1 King St. East, Toronto.
S. BURROWS, C.P.R. and General Ticket Agent, Front St., Belleville.

NEW YORK CENTRAL & HUDSON RIVER R. R.
THE FOUR-TRACK TRUNK LINE.

SHORTEST Route to the United States via Cape Vincent, N.Y.

GOING EAST AND WEST.		After 1st May
Lv. Belleville (G.T.R.)	12.22 p.m.	1.30 a.m
Arr. Kingston "	1.47 p.m.	3.12 a.m
Lv. Kingston (stage)..	2.30 p.m.	5.00 a.m
Arr. Cape Vincent (stage)	4 30 p.m.	7.00 a.m
Lv. Cape Vincent N.Y.C.	5.05 p.m.	7.25 a.m
Arr. Watertown "	5.55 p.m.	8.25 a.m
Arr. Oswego "	9.05 p.m.	11.55 a.m
Arr. Syracuse "	9.25 p.m.	12.07 p.m
Arr. Rochester "	1.05 a.m.	2.20 a.m
Arr. Utica "	9.45 p.m.	12.35 p.m
Arr. New York "	7.25 a.m.	6.00 p.m

Convenient train service in opposite direction.
Pullman Sleeping and Parlor Cars.

2c a Mile.

Books for 500 miles of travel on New York Central and leased lines within State of New York, cost only $10 while books for 1000 miles over New York Central, Boston & Albany, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, Philadelphia & Reading and C. R. R. of New Jersey cost $20. Secure further information and purchase tickets from F. A. Folger, N.Y.C. Agent, Kingston, Ont.

GEORGE H. DANIELS, Gen'l Pass'r Agent, New York.
A. H. SMITH, Gen'l Supt., New York.
G. C. GRIDLEY, Gen'l Agent, Watertown, N.Y.

Flowers & Vegetables
Of all kinds in season.
...AT...
J. D. COLLIP'S.
'Phone 205.

Airmit
"THEY BREATHE WHILE YOU WALK"
CONTROLLED AND MANUFACTURED BY GEO. A. SLATER

FOR TIRED, SWEATY, BLISTERING FEET
See our large assortment of the INVICTUS SHOE, made by GEO. A. SLATER.

VERMILYEA & SON.

One Dollar

What $1.00 will purchase from Diamond Hall

A Beautiful Bohemian Glass and Sterling Silver Vase

No. 101 $1.00

We pay the express charges

This is but one of a large number of extra value gift articles shown in our new Illustrated Folder, which we will send free of cost to any address

Write for a Copy

RYRIE BROS.
JEWELERS
118, 120, 122 and 124
Yonge St., Toronto

RAILWAY TIME TABLES.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

Time of departure from Belleville Station:

Going East.

No. 16—Local, for Brockville, 7 a.m., arrives back from Brockville 9.30 p.m.
No. 2—1.30 a.m., Mail and Express, (Flyer), Daily.
No. 6—11.40 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.
No. 4—12.22 p.m., International Limited, Daily.
No. 12—5.55 p.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

Going West.

No. 5—3 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily except Monday.
No. 3—4.10 a.m., Limited Express, Daily.
No. 9—5.50 a.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.
No. 11—11.22 a.m., Passenger, Daily except Sunday.
No. 1—1.50 p.m., International Limited Daily.
No. 7—5.10 p.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

Taking effect 12.01 o'clock, Sunday, June 15, 1902.

MIDLAND RAILWAY.

Belleville and Peterboro.

Going West.

	Leave.	Arr. Peterboro
Mail	5.40 a.m.	8.10 a.m.
Mixed	5.55 p.m.	9.05 p.m.

Going East.

	Arr.	L've Peterboro
Mixed	11.20 a.m.	8.20 a.m.
Mail	4.25 p.m.	2.05 p.m.

Belleville and Madoc.

Going North.

	L've	Arr. Madoc
Mixed	12.20 p.m.	1.20 p.m.
Mixed	6.30 p.m.	7.40 p.m.

Going South.

	Arr.	L've Madoc
Mixed	9.10 a.m.	7.30 a.m.
Mixed	5.08 p.m.	3.45 p.m.

None of the above trains run on Sunday.

Western Beef.

Prime Western Beef together with all kinds of choice meats, supplied by the district, at

C. GREEN'S
267 Front St., 'Phone 109.

Bank of Montreal
ESTABLISHED 1817.
Capital and Rest, All Paid Up.
$20,000,000
(Twenty Millions.)

Savings Bank Department
Interest on sums of $4.00 and upwards allowed at current rates.
A. G. PARKER,
Manager Belleville Branch

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM
will positively cure deep-seated
COUGHS, COLDS,
CROUP.
A 25c. Bottle for a Simple Cold.
A 50c. Bottle for a Heavy Cold.
A $1.00 Bottle for a Deep-seated Cough.
Sold by all Druggists.

DAISY GORDON'S FOLLY

—OR—

THE WORLD LOST FOR LOVE'S SAKE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY,

Author of "The Crime of Hallow-E'en," "The Flirtations of a Beauty," "Willful Gaynell," "Little Leafy," "Only a Mechanic's Daughter," etc.

Aleck could almost have sworn, excited though he was, that the white hand was Daisy's; but all in a moment the coach door closed upon the man, and amidst the crush of vehicles he lost sight of the carriage.

For one moment Aleck stood like a man stricken dumb upon the pavement. Great God! what could it mean?

He would as soon think the angels up in heaven could be false, as little Daisy.

Had he not chosen her from the whole world of women for her simple purity?

Had he not loved her because she was as free from guile as a little child?

What could it mean?

He staggered back to his carriage, the fiery jealousy of the Hamiltons beating like burning lava through his veins.

"Do you see that coach ahead?" he cried hoarsely to his driver. "The one just ahead with the black horses attached to it?"

"Yes, sir," replied the man, rather startled at the white face and flashing eyes raised to his own.

"Overtake it— drive alongside of it."

The carriage, which indeed contained poor, hapless Daisy, and the man she had been forced, as it were, into an interview with, had moved quickly on toward the park.

It was no easy matter to drive alongside of it owing to the crush of vehicles.

"There is little use trying it, sir," declared the driver, at last, "unless you are willing that I should signal the driver of that other cab. Then it will stop and we can drive up."

"Loose no time in stopping it!" commanded Aleck, sharply.

What if it were Daisy within? He told himself, if it were, there would be bloodshed; there was nothing which could excuse it.

The cab ahead was signaled, and stoped, the carriage containing Aleck driving rapidly up. Another instant and they would be side by side.

CHAPTER XVIII.

"You are in my Power."

When Daisy entered her carriage, with the intention of keeping that strange appointment, her heart beat so fiercely she thought it would break with its weight of woe.

She drove directly to the place indicated, and standing on the pavement, evidently watching for her, she saw a graceful, handsome stranger.

The resemblance was so strongly marked, she knew he must be Janet's brother.

She raised her white, jeweled hand, and in an instant he was standing beside the carriage.

"Have you brought that letter that was intrusted to you?" asked Daisy, in a faint voice. "Here is the money —give me the letter."

"I shall be most happy to comply with madame's wishes if she will allow me but a few moments' conversation first," declared the handsome Frenchman, with a low bow. "I am going uptown; if you could take me in your carriage as far as the park —dropping me down there— I should be much obliged; besides, I have something to say to madame which she must hear."

Although his tone was smooth and respectful enough, Daisy could detect determination in it; she was in this man's power —she dared not refuse his request.

With a haughty gesture she moved the folds of her dress aside, and he seated himself in the coupe.

"I am sorry to know that such a beautiful lady as yourself is placed in the predicament this letter in my breast pocket shows you to be in," he said, and a merciful smile stirred beneath his heavy mustache, showing a set of dazzling white teeth, "but since it is so, and madame is so wealthy," he continued, "it is but right that you should share with those who keep your strange secret."

Daisy drew a little, quivering breath.

"You torture me," she cried. "Give me the letter —take the money and go. Leave me before I go mad!"

She snatched the roll of bills from her pocket book, and thrust them into his hand.

She saw him bow coolly, smilingly, as he counted the money over rapidly, then transferred it to his breast pocket; but to her consternation he did not hand her the letter, although she held one hand appealingly out to him, clutching her fair white throat with the other, as if for breath.

"I cannot part with so valuable a paper, even for the sake of so lovely a lady as yourself, for a meager sum like this," he said, tauntingly. "It is worth five times that amount to me. No matter what arrangements you made with Janet, you must make different ones with me. She did not realize what a veritable gold mine she had stumbled across. Yes, this paper goes to the one who will pay me five thousand dollars for it!"

Daisy threw up her cold, white hands in a gesture of despair that was heart-breaking to see.

"Don't —don't —I cannot bear it!" she gasped. "Oh, my God! my God! be merciful, and show me some way —any way—of escape from the meshes of the terrible net which is closing around me. I couldn't get five thousand dollars if my life depended upon it," she moaned, wildly.

"Your handsome young husband is very rich and indulgent, I understand," he answered, insinuatingly, adding:

"'When lovely women stoop to folly' They must stand the consequences, you know."

Daisy's eyes flashed fire.

"I would not ask my husband for money. I would die first," she said.

"Suit yourself, fair lady," responded the Frenchman, with a shrug of his shoulders. "I will merely say I would take it in sums to meet your convenience —say five hundred a week. Of course, in the style you are living, you must have that much pin money.

"I have still further demands to make upon your good nature, fair lady. I have a secret ambition, and you must gratify it. It is this: I long to enter the social world— to be on equality with the aristocrats who dare snub me now, if I may use that phrase —and you must introduce me into society; under these conditions, and these alone, is your secret safe."

The very boldness of the proposition staggered Daisy.

"It is easily accomplished," he went on. "Give a series of luncheons, a party or two, and receptions, and introduce me as the lion of the occasion— a French count, a marquis, or something of that sort. I tell you madame, it must be managed in some way."

"Impossible!" cried Daisy, aghast at the daring of the proposition.

"A word to the wise is sufficient, madame. You must begin by introducing me to your husband as an old friend of the family; the rest will be plain sailing. Refuse —well, you know what to expect then," he said, with darkening brow.

"Have you no pity, no mercy, no heart?" moaned Daisy, distractedly, as she sank back in her seat with a bitter cry.

"I have a heart, and a very susceptible one," he declared; "especially where a young and lovely woman is concerned.

"There is to be a grand ball at Mrs. Colonel Dillingham's on the tenth instant. I have often seen you with her, so it is safe to presume that you are friends. You must secure an invitation for me to this ball and while there you will present me to your friends."

"If I cannot, what then?" cried Daisy, desperately.

"It will be quite as well for you to supply the 'what then.' It is not polite to threaten a lady."

"Will this be the first and last time you will make a request of this kind to me?" cried Daisy, bitterly.

"If you introduce me about among your friends, I may safely answer 'Yes,'" he replied, "for I——"

The sentence never was finished, for, glancing back, he chanced to behold the coachman behind signal their driver, and he saw too, Alexander Hamilton, white as death, leaning excitedly from the coach window.

In a single instant he had determined on the course he must pursue. Mr. Hamilton must not find him there, as no explanations could be given by Daisy taken in such momentary disadvantage.

"Here is my address," he said, thrusting a card into her hand, "the invitation to the ball will find me there," and before Daisy could utter a reply he had flung open the door and sprung from the vehicle, but not an instant too soon, for at that very moment Alexander Hamilton's coach stopped abreast of the coupe.

White as death Aleck leaned forward and saw Daisy sitting among the velvet cushions, and to his intense joy— alone.

"I was a madman to be suspicious of my darling," he muttered. "What would she say if she knew it?"

At that instant she raised her eyes and saw him.

"Aleck!" she murmured in horror too great almost for words.

How long had he been sitting in that coach opposite watching her? Dear heaven! how long?

He joined her at once.

"My darling," he said, taking his seat by her side, "I am so glad to see that you have changed your mind about going driving. I am beginning to think now your refusal to go with me was because you preferred your own thoughts to my company, not very complimentary— that."

"I am never so happy as when I am with you, Aleck," she whispered, and he wondered why her voice quivered so piteously, and the big pearly tear drops started in those bluebell eyes.

"It was a sudden whim of mine to go riding, even after refusing you; but I am full of whims, Aleck— you must not think strange of anything I may do, will you, dear?"

It was only natural, loving her as well as he did, he should readily acquiesce in anything she might say.

Daisy readily surmised the true state of affairs; her tormentor must have seen Aleck approaching and that was how he happened to make such a quick exit from the coupe.

But about the ball he had set his heart upon attending, how should she secure him an invitation when her friend Mrs. Dillingham was one of the most particular of women as to her acquaintances?

Daisy called upon her friend the next day and the subject was broached with great tact.

"A friend of yours you are anxious to introduce to me? I shall be most pleased to see him," remarked Mrs. Dillingham. "He is a stranger here, you say; that is unpleasant. If I were to meet him previously I should be pleased to send him an invitation to my ball, any friend of yours must be a valuable acquisition to society, I feel sure."

She wondered why her pretty young friend flushed so pitifully to the very roots of her curly golden hair, then turned so deadly pale.

"Your sister Olive will be here in time for my ball she writes me," Mrs. Dillingham went on, "so we will have two agreeable strangers at least— the graceful French count and pretty Olive."

And again Mrs. Dillingham wondered why her friend shuddered as with sudden chill. Daisy could not bear the name of Monsieur Devereaux— as he had chosen to call himself— mentioned in the same breath with that of her sister Olive.

CHAPTER XIX.

Under a Mask.

The count had been presented to Mrs. Dillingham, and his handsome face, ready wit, and polished manners made him a prime favorite with the lady at once.

"Where will it all end?" Daisy wondered, as she stood dressing for the ball— even Olive noticed how preoccupied she was.

"Of course it will be a grand affair," said Olive, glancing complacently at her lovely figure in the long mirror, "and I intend to make many conquests— among them the noble French count whom every one is raving over. By the way, Daisy, where did you first meet the count? —it is strange you never spoke of it —he is not one to forget, I should imagine, judging from Mrs. Dillingham's description of him."

"I have forgotten where I first met him— at Saratoga, I think," faltered Daisy.

"But Aleck did not meet him," persisted Olive, "he said so. That was strange. Why, Daisy, how awkward you are!"

The lovely pearl fan her sister was holding had fallen to the floor from her nerveless hands with a crash — Daisy felt that she should surely die if she were obliged to bear another word concerning her tormentor.

"You must present me to the handsome count at once," pursued Olive. "Who knows what may come of it— I may yet be a countess. I shall do my best to attract him."

"You must not do it, Olive," Daisy gasped. "Shun him— remember my words— shun him."

Olive Gordon looked at her curiously. "Why do you speak like that?" she asked frowningly. "I am sure if he were not very nice you would never have taken so much pains to introduce him to Mrs. Dillingham. I understand just what is the matter with you, Daisy, it's pure, simple jealousy— you're afraid pure, simple jealousy— you're afraid only plain Mrs. Hamilton."

"I'd rather be Aleck's wife than have the whole world," said Daisy huskily— bravely keeping back the hot tears that would start to her eyes.

It was like death to her to go to the ball and face the fiery eyes of the man who had it in his power to blast her life or to spare her— and more bitter than death to present him to Aleck and her sister, Olive. She never remembered afterward how she got through it. She noticed with horror, how admiringly the count's eyes rested on Olive's pretty, piquant face, and a glance full of fire and passion seemed to flash from his eyes to hers.

"A half a million in her own right," the count was thinking to himself as he bowed low over Olive Gordon's pretty white hand. "That isn't bad— besides the girl is beautiful. Why shouldn't I win her? her sister must use her influence in my behalf."

"This count is a very good fellow, I suppose," said Aleck to Daisy when they found themselves for a few moments alone together; "but there is something about him which puzzles me— upon my honor, he does not seem accustomed to good society, and there is a sort of flashiness about his dress. He seems rather attentive to Olive, don't you think so? How did you come to know him, Daisy?" he inquired, abruptly.

The lights and the flowers of the conservatory in which they stood seemed to whirl around her; by a violent effort she controled her voice to speak.

"It was at Saratoga, Aleck, I think," she faltered disconnectedly.

"How strange that you did not mention it at the time," he said curiously; "who presented him to you?"

He saw her put out her hands gropingly, and reel forward; she would have fallen in a faint at his feet if he had not stretched out his hand quickly and caught her.

"You are ill, my darling," he said, in great fright; "your face is perfectly ghastly. I will order the carriage at once, and you shall be taken home."

To be Continued.

Ills That Come With Constipation

EMPHASIZE THE NECESSITY OF KEEPING THE KIDNEYS, LIVER AND BOWELS REGULAR AND ACTIVE BY USING

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

Did you ever ask a person who has had appendicitis what was the cause of their ailment? Did you ever question a person recovering from typhoid fever as to what brought on the disease?

If you have we venture to say that in each case you will find constipation to be at the beginning of the trouble.

And yet you neglect to keep the bowels regular. It may be you have not resorted to proper treatment. This is why we suggest the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

It is well known that bile is nature's cathartic, and hence it is necessary to keep the liver actively engaged in filtering the bile from the blood and pouring it into the intestines. When the bowels become constipated the kidneys and liver become clogged as well, and no mere purgative will afford lasting relief.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills not only regulate the bowels, but also strengthen and invigorate the action of the liver and kidneys, and so ensure a cleansing of the whole system. It is undoubtedly this direct and combined action of this great medicine on the filtering and excretory organs of the body that makes it so successful where other remedies fail.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills positively cure kidney disease, liver complaint, biliousness and constipation. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

Fresh Roll Butter

20 cents per lb.

J. C. Hanley & Co
GROCERS
Telephone 214

FOR MANSION OR MODEST COTTAGE

S.W.P. is safest, best, and most economical and not without reason.

It's best because made from best materials—pure lead, pure zinc, and pure linseed oil.

It's safest because the materials it is made from are all carefully tested both chemically and practically before being used to insure their being right and best for the purpose.

It's most economical because it covers most surface to the gallon and wears longest.

WATERS DRUG STORE

New Hats
READY-TO-WEAR HATS
DRESS HATS.

New Veilings
Latest styles—Best work.
We will surely please you.
Come and see them.

MISS M. CAMPBELL.
P.D. Corsets. 'Phone 117

A long portage makes a heavy canoe.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN and be sure that when you ask for Perry Davis' Painkiller you get just that and nothing else. Use it promptly to cure cramps, diarrhoea and all other bowel complaints in summer.

A System that Will not keep You waiting

Whether you want Painting, Paper Hanging, Decorating, Graining, or anything in our line, we will not keep you waiting. WE WILL NAME THE DAY, and that very day you will find us at your work, with an excellent staff of workmen—the very best mechanics that can be secured—workmen that we can rely on and that please our customers every time.

OUR WALL PAPER TRADE this year is so far the largest in the history of this house, and there are reasons behind the increased trade, and here they are—

FIRSTLY—Times are good, people have money and know where to spend it to advantage.

SECONDLY—By comparison with other lines our customers find our prices much lower and our styles of Wall Paper much higher than the ordinary.

THIRDLY—We give free two yards of bordering with each double roll of the Wall Paper it matches.

We hang our paper at very reasonable prices and always please our customers whether in papering, painting or anything else.

C. B. Scantlebury
Belleville's Decorator

Outside Painting. Inside Painting,
Paperhanging.

Wall Paper, Wholesale and Retail.

CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY

CAPITAL

10,000 Shares 7 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 each, $1,000,000.
50,000 Shares Common Stock, par value $100, issued and fully paid 5,000,000
TOTAL CAPITALIZATION $6,000,000

Issues of $1,000,000 00 7 p.c. Preferred Stock in 10,000 Shares of $100 each at par.

This stock is preferred both as to Assets and Dividends.
The shares are entitled to cumulative preferred dividends from the net earnings of the Company, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the first days of April and October. They may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged for common shares. They are subject to be called in, in whole or in part, by the Company, at $115,00 per share, at any time after 1st January, 1909.
The total issue of Preferred Stock is only $1,000,000.00, the whole of which is now offered.

Subscriptions for 10,000 Shares of $100 each of the 7 per cent. Preferred Stock of the CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY will now be received at par, that is $100 Share, as follows

per cent on application,
25 " " on allotment,
35 " " 30 days thereafter.
35 " " 60 days thereafter.

One share of Common, par value $100, given with each share of preferred.

The whole of instalments remaining unpaid at any time may be prepaid in full. A discount of one per cent will be allowed upon the par of each share if prepaid at time of allotment
Notice of allotment will be sent promptly by ordinary letter.

COAL
PROPERTY IN FULL OPERATION

Company owns 9,600 acres of coal property known throughout the coal trade as the New Campbellton Colliery, located on Bras D'Or Bay, County of Victoria, Cape Breton, Novia Scotia. Mine is fully equipped, producing and marketing tons of coal a day at a net profit of $1.00 a ton. Improvements are now being made that will increase the output to over 1,000 tons a day. On present output, figuring 300 working days in year, the net result will more than pay interest on entire issue of preferred, with output of 1,000 tons a day net result will be $300,000 per annum.

IRON
RICHEST ORE IN THE WORLD

Company owns in fee simple, free and clear of all incumbrances, 4000 acres of iron ore deposit, located Natashquan (tidewater) situated on North shore of Gulf of St. Lawrence, in the County of Saguenay, province of Quebec.
Deposits contain 20,000,000 tons of ore ABOVE SEA LEVEL ALONE.
Quality of ore is highet ever discovered, running from 69 per cent to 72 per cent in metallic iron.
More orders for the sale of this ore has been received by the Campany than can possibly be accepted, and at a price netting the Company a profit of $2 a ton F. O. B. vessels at Company's docks.
Send for prospectus giving full information as to earnings, reports, etc., etc.
Address all communications and send subscriptions to

COLONIAL SECURITIES CO.,
62 Wall Street, New York City
OR
W. L. MARSTON & COMPANY
110 State Street, Boston

The SAWYER COMPANY.
351 Temple Building, Montreal, Canada

THE

Intelligencer

Bindery

MAKES A SPECIALTY OF

Ledgers,
Journals,
Cash Books,

And all descriptions of

Blank
Account
Books

Mailing
Tubes

Gold Lettering on Leather
Goods, &c.

MAGAZINES,
ART WORKS,
PERIODICALS,
SERIAL NUMBERS

NEATLY BOUND

Map Mounting & Varnishing

☞Estimates cheerfully furnished for every class of work.

ADDRESS—

The Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONT.

Salt as a Fertilizer.

All soils capable of producing crops contain all the soda and chlorine that ordinary plants require, so that salt cannot be considered a true and direct fertilizer. It belongs to the class of substances which benefit the crops by the work they do in the soil rather than by directly supplying plant food.

Several years ago we used to hear a great deal as to the favorable results obtained by the use of salt on grass and grain crops. Nowadays we seldom hear of them. One reason for this is that the potash salts—kainit and muriate—now largely used, contain a considerable amount of salt; as they also supply potash they are more economical than salt. On very rich land, where grain crops frequently "lodge" or fall down, salt frequently prevents this trouble, giving a shorter and harder stem, delaying the ripening for a time.

It was first thought that the salt set free certain minerals in the soil, like silica and potash, which thus gave a harder and stiffer straw. To some extent this is probably true, but the chief effect of the salt now appears to be the retarding or checking of the nitrification processes. We know well from observation the tendency of plants when grown in a very rich soil is to make a very rapid and tender growth. When we speak of a rich soil we refer to one containing a large quantity of soluble nitrogen. Salt delays the formation of this soluble form of nitrogen, so that the plant will make a slower but more uniform and solid growth. Salt also retards the formation of starch, and thus has a bad influence on the flavor of fruits. For this reason it is likely to make watery potatoes. Some plants, like asparagus, can utilize far more salt than others. Salt attracts and absorbs moisture.—American Cultivator.

Charcoal for Poultry.

Pure charcoal or the charred wood from the stove, when fresh, is an excellent aid in arresting bowel complaints, and is both simple and harmless. Where the hens have not had a variety, parched grain partly burnt affords an agreeable change and serves nearly the same purpose as charcoal. Oats, corn, wheat or even bran will be readily eaten by hens when they have been regularly fed on a sameness of diet, and such food will greatly aid in arresting diarrhoea or other bowel disorders. In experiments made to determine the benefits of charcoal in feeding, if any, four turkeys were confined in a pen and fed on meal, boiled potatoes and oats, and four others of the same brood were at the same time confined in another pen and fed daily on the same articles, but with one pint of finely pulverized charcoal mixed with their food. These had also a plentiful supply of broken charcoal in their pen. The eight were killed, and there was a difference of one and one-half pounds in favor of those supplied with charcoal. They were the fattest, and the meat was superior in point of tenderness and flavor.—Country World.

A Very Impolite Dog.

A man in New York State, writes a correspondent, is the owner of a small but pure-blooded Skye terrier, named Rex, whose intelligence is remarkable. Some of Rex's bright performances certainly are the result of reasoning power, which used to be regarded as the gift of the human family only.

Rex sleeps at the foot of his master's bed, upon a soft rug of his own. He is a dog of good habits, better behaved than many children, in fact; but, like a child, he insists upon his rights: his own spot before the fire, his own corner of the sofa, his own bed and, what is most interesting, his own bedtime.

Often in the evening when visitors remain beyond ten o'clock, Rex enters the parlor, walks anxiously about, and lies down in the very midst of the circle with a wearied air that cannot be mistaken. If the visitors still remain, he will rise and yawn, then mildly whine, and with rapidly wagging tail seek his master's side and look expectantly up into his face, as if to say, "Why don't they go, so that we may retire?"

If all these tactics fail, he will drop his ears and tail and walk to the door, sometimes giving a sharp, cross bark, his whole manner indicating deep disapproval of such late hours.

Twice in his life he has done more than to hint at his wishes on occasions of this kind.

One wet evening a stranger, who was calling upon Rex's mistress, left his rubbers near the hall door. With the privilege of an old friend, his call was extended beyond the hour for Rex's retirement. As usual, the dog displayed his sleepiness and evident opinion that the gentleman was outstaying his welcome, but no notice was taken of him until, with an air of desperation, he marched into the parlor with one of the caller's rubbers, laid it at his feet, and then quickly returned with the other, which he placed beside it. Then, with a triumphant gleam in his eyes, he backed off and stood looking at the stranger as if to say, "There! Do you understand that hint?"

His second exploit was even more remarkable. On this occasion a half-dozen people had been playing whist with his master and mistress. When the game was over, between ten and eleven o'clock, they still stood or sat about the room, engaged in conversation.

Rex was tired, and thoroughly out of humor. No one seemed to give a thought to him, and nothing that he could do attracted any attention. There were too many visitors to urge them all to depart by producing their overshoes, even if they wore them, but a brilliant idea came to him. He dashed upstairs to the sleeping-rooms, seized his master's nightgown, which lay ready for use upon the bed, and, dragging it behind him, spread it at his master's feet in the parlor below, in full view of the assembled guests.

This stratagem was a brilliant success, for, amid shouts of laughter and the consternation of the master, the callers said good-night.

A Practical View.

Struggling pastor—The collections have fallen off terribly. Practical wife—It's that new vestryman who passes the plate; he never watches what people put in.—"New York Weekly."

LATEST NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS

AS FURNISHED TO THE INTELLIGENCER BY H. R. BEATTIE, STOCK BROKER.

New York, May. 21

STOCK	Op'g	H'st	L'st	Close.
Atchison	74⅞	76⅛	74⅜	76⅛
do. pref ..	95	96	95	96
St. Paul.. ..	154⅛	154¾	152¾	154⅜
Mo. P.	107⅛	108⅛	107¼	108
Union. Pac. .	86½	88	86⅛	88
C.P.R.	129½	130	127¾	130
South Pac. ..	50⅛	51¼	50	51¼
Sou. Ry.....	27¾	28⅛	27⅛	28¼
Texas.... ...	31¼	32¼	31	32⅛
B & O.	88	89¼	87⅛	89¼
N. Y.C.	125¼	126¼	124¾	126¼
Penna	126½	127½	125¾	127½
Reading	49⅛	50¼	49⅛	50¼
Ills.	135¾	136½	135⅞	136⅛
Erie	33¼	35	33⅛	34⅞
do. pref. ...	66⅛	68⅛	66⅛	68⅛
O. & W.	27⅛	28	27	27⅞
C. O.	40¼	41¼	40	41¼
Manhattan ..	138	138⅞	137¾	138⅞
W. C.	21¾	22¼	21¾	22¼
L. & N	114⅛	115	113⅛	114¾
Ncr.........	68½	69¼	68⅛	69¼
C. G. W. ..	20⅛	21¼	20⅛	21⅛
W.U.......	83½	84½	83½	84½
T.C.I.	55⅞	57½	55¾	57½
U.S. Steel ..	32⅛	33	31¾	33
do pref. ..	82⅛	82¼	81¼	82¼
Sugar.... .	122⅜	124⅛	122⅜	124
A. C. P. ..	62¼	63¼	61	63⅛
Po..........	100	100⅛	99⅞	100
B. R. T......	61⅞	64	62½	64
Met..........	130	130¼	129⅛	130½
Wab........	26¼	26¾	26¼	26¾
do pref. ..	45¾	46⅞	45¼	46¾
Soo	58	60	56¼	60
R. I.	40	40¾	39¾	40⅞
A. F.	38	38	37¾	38
Ak.	23¾	24	23¾	24

July wheat opened at 74 1-8, closed at 73 3-8.

July corn opened at 44 7-8, closed at 44 1-2.

DO YOU KNOW THOMAS HUNTLEY?

PEOPLE WHO KNEW HIM A YEAR AGO, AND SEE HIM NOW, HARDLY RECOGNIZE HIM —HE LOOKS SO WELL AND STRONG.

This is what he says:—

Belleville, Ont., May 7th, 1903.

The O. R. Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont:

Dear Sirs,—For a number of years I was troubled with rheumatism; my hands were swollen and enlarged so that I could hardly use them. I suffered with pains in my back and hips, and up between my shoulders. I tried a great many remedies without getting relief or benefit. I had almost given up hope when a friend induced me to try the O. R. KIDNEY CURE. I had not taken one bottle before I began to feel better, and have now only used three bottles, and think that I am permanently cured. The pains have all left me, and I now feel a different man.

Sincerely yours,
THOMAS HUNTLEY.

Ask your druggist for these:—

O. R. Kidney Cure........50c
O. R. Liver Pills........25c
O. R. Dyspepsia Tablets........25c

The New Wall Paper Store

sells borders by the roll, same price as the papers.

THE BEST TALENT in the world is employed to design the paper we sell.

We select only the beautiful and harmonious designs because those are the kind that please our patrons.

New Spring designs, delicate flower-like tints, all conceivable patterns, many exclusive designs, scrolls, ingrains, etc., ceiling and border to match. Prices to suit all pocketbooks.

JOHN CORNELIUS,

Decorator, Painter, Grainer, and Paper Hanger, all work guaranteed first class.

A Wonderful Medicine.

Beecham's Pills

FOR ALL

Bilious and Nervous Disorders,

Sick Headache, Constipation,

Wind and Pains in Stomach,

Impaired Digestion,

Disordered Liver and Female Ailments.

PREPARED ONLY BY THE PROPRIETOR,

Thomas Beecham, St. Helens, Eng.,

Sold by all Druggists
in Canada and U. S. America.
In boxes, 25 cents.

The Ritchie Co'y.
Limited

CASH AND QUANTITY

Here is an example of one of the many advantages gained by us—the big store—in cash and quantity buying.

By the extent of our purchase we have been enabled to close a deal with a large manufacturer of superior grade boy's clothing making it possible for us to sell these extra fine goods at prices no greater than the usual—less desirable grades.

Made from finest Black and Navy Worsted Serge they have a finish of lining and trimming and a style surpassing anything we have ever seen in boy's clothing.

Comparing them with others at the same prices you will easily see dollars difference in value.

These dollars you can save if you come here for your boys clothing—it is at least worth investigation.

—Boy's Fine Grade 3 piece suit of Navy or Black Worsted Cloth, extra finished—silk stitched, sizes 27 to 34, ... $5.00, $6.50, $8.00

WASH SILKS

Nothing will make a prettier or cooler waist than one of our Summer Wash Silks.

You will be agreeably surprised—as many others have—at the range of dainty patterns in expensive yet durable qualities.

A Waist of this will cost but little more than a Gingham. In appearance—that is where they excel.

—Cream, Pink, Grey, Blue, Mauve, fancy striped wash silk, per yard 35c

—Plain colored Japan Taffeta Silk, ... 50c

WAISTINGS

An assortment of pretty new Spring Chally and flannel designs at our Dress Goods counter.

These follow fashions latest — many having medallion figures of Persian work.

The Challies are extra fine and light weight and will be found just the thing for slightly cool days and evenings.

—New designs in fine all wool Challies, 30" wide assorted patterns and colors, .. 45c & 50c

—Grey—Blue fancy waisting with small white dot and large Persian medallion pattern, 36" wide, ... 60c

LACES

Laces play—if possible—a more important part than ever—in the summer Wash Goods make up.

We take as much care in the purchasing of these small items as in the larger—getting all our Valenciennes and other laces direct from the looms—assuring best possible values.

A fine line of embroidery Appliques will be found at our Wash Goods Counter—these are the seasons newest.

—Fine Valenciennes Laces in assorted widths and patterns, from .... 2c yd.

Good Quality--Low Prices

These are the two cardinal points on which our Shirt Waist assortment rests.

Here again you will see what excellent values we are able to attain for our customers by buying large quantities for cash.

Every desirable style in material and make which fashion has decreed for this season is here—as near perfect in workmanship and fit as has yet been attained.

We are always glad to hear your opinion of our goods—We will be pleased to hear it on these.

—Waist of good quality colored Print—made in latest style large sleeves—plenty of material, ... 39c

—Waist of Fine Blue or Pink Print, trimmed back and front with narrow tucks piped with white, very pretty, ... 59c

—Waist of fancy fine Print, trimmed with bias, self strapping, inverted box plait front—collar to match, ... 75c

—Waist of fine White Inia Linen, front trimmed with narrow tucks and hemstitching—box plait 60c

—Fine White Muslin Waist trimmed with wide Valenciennes, lace strapping and narrow tucks, ... 75c

—Waist of Fine White India Linen trimmed front and back with wide hemstitched tucks—box plait, full front, ... $1.00

LADIES' UMBRELLAS

Did the last rain storm find you unprepared?

No reason when you can get a real good Umbrella at the price we are asking.

New—desirable additions to our assortment bring it up to the "easy choosing" point.

All kinds—some built for heavy use—others finer for real best.

—Fine Umbrella with fast black cover—steel rod—strong ribs. $1.00

—Fine black mixed silk and wool Umbrella with natural wool handle—complete with silk cover $2.25

Agents for Standard Patterns.

The Ritchie Co'y.
Limited

CLOTHING BOUGHT HERE PRESSED FREE OF CHARGE

SUITS FOR MEN

The Entirely Different Sorts.

Not satisfied with equaling in style, fit and excellence of workmanship the made-to-measure garments the best tailors produce, our makers are now fashioning their suits from the same fabrics which have heretofore been exclusive with the Custom Tailors.

Our showing of these suits is very extensive.

They are suits that the average man wants—they give him the style and exclusiveness he seeks without the extra cost of the tailors.

Even the most expert criticism will fail to discover that these suits were not custom made.

The broad showing we make including as it does every size for men of different propostions practically assurs a perfect fit for every man.

But in some cases an exact fit cannot be secured immediately and then we do as the tailors would do at a try on—make the necessary alterations that would secure perfection of fit.

Fancy mixed cashmeres—neat effects in Cheviots—three and four button sack styles including the new straight front.

$6.50 to $15.00

And by the way you can better judge the unassailable quality of these suits if you'll do a little comparing.

Top Coats $5.00 to $12.00

CHRISTYS' LONDON

NEW SPRING HATS

All the latest American and English styles, see our celebrated Christys' Hats at $1.00

Christys' Hats

QUICK & ROBERTSON

Exclusive Agents for Johnston's Famous Clothing for Men and Boys.

SUMMER COOKING

made easy by using one of our

Auto
Valvo
Blue
Flame
Oil
Stoves

These stoves combine all the latest improvements and are constructed so as to give perfect satisfaction.

The W. W. CHOWN Company Limited

Orders for bookbinding should be left at this office. It is surprising how nice a volume can be made of these magazines, even though they are somewhat soiled from much handling. Books, magazines, or periodicals bound or rebound in any style at very reasonable prices. Blank books, such as journals, ledgers, day books, with any kind of ruling, made to order. All work warranted first-class. THE INTELLIGENCER, Belleville.

AN OLD TRAGEDY RECALLED.

WIDOW OF THE LATE FRANK SMITH LOSES A BROTHER.

On Tuesday the body of a man was found floating in Toronto Bay, and, as his identity could not be established, it was taken to the morgue. The same evening Mrs. John Van Vleet, who resides on McFarren's lane, identified the remains as those of her brother, Tobias Prince, of Hamilton. Mrs. Van Vleet was at one time a resident of this city, having been the wife of Frank Smith who was drowned through the wreck of a schooner which was on its way to this city from Oswego. Other Bellevillians lost their lives at the same time.

Stolen Horses.

The police last evening received a message from Central Ontario Junction, stating that a team of horses and a set of double harness had been stolen from a man named Henry Brown, and it was thought had been brought this way. The animals were described as young and valuable, whilst the harness was nearly new.

A BIG QUARTER'S WORTH is always found in a bottle of Polson's Nerviline, the best household liniment known. It cures rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, headache, sick stomach, in fact is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for. Mothers find it the safest thing to rub on their children for sore throat, cold on the chest, sprains and bruises. Never be without Polson's Nerviline. It will cure the pains and aches of the entire family and relieve a vast amount of suffering every year.

Equine Kicked Eli.

Eli Johnson was yesterday driving a horse attached to Hitchon Bros.' delivery rig, down Murney's Hill when the animal became fractious and kicked. The hind feet of the animal went over the dashboard and struck Johnson just below the left knee, inflicting serious and painful injuries. Although suffering much pain the driver was able to keep the horse under control, stopping him at the foot of the hill.

HOW TO GET UP AN APPETITE. Distaste for food often follows grippe and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease and by removing the cause cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. All druggists and medicine dealers sell Ferrozone.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Advertisements under this heading TWO CENTS A WORD; subsequent consecutive insertions ONE CENT A WORD. No local charged as less than twenty-five words.

Police Court business was a blank again to-day.

The police at a late hour last night found a Remington bicycle on Front street.

The police cells have not had a tenant for three nights.

The Amateur Minstrels had a fair house in Picton last night, and their show gave satisfaction. The boys returned at 4 o'clock this morning, tired, but happy.

A meeting of the School Management Committee in connection with the Board of Education will be held this evening.

Granolithic walks have been built on the two approaches to Christ Church.

The Kingston News notes the fact that Monday last was the second anniversary of the announcement of the relief of Mafeking, in which many Kingstonians took part, and adds: "Larry" Watson, T. H. Price, and Robt. Bellamy, of Brockville, Miller and Gillespie, of Belleville, Minger, of Gananoque, were also fighting with the Kingston soldiers and are still remembered by them.

A young son of Dr. Boyce was yesterday afternoon struck upon the head with a stone thrown by another boy. As a result a nasty scalp wound was sustained.

A smart boy of good education to learn the printing trade. Apply to The Intelligencer Office. 2t

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

The Fax-Chambers Concert Monday, June 1st, will probably mark the close of the concert season. Subscription lists point to a great success. 35 cents for reserved seats. 20-2td

Coin Pay Envelopes at The Intelligencer Job Office. Cheapest and best in the city.

An Incipient Blaze.

At a few minutes before 2 o'clock this afternoon the fire brigade were called out. Some straw and shavings at Mr. Deacon's shirt factory in course of erection became ignited, causing the trouble. The blaze was soon extinguished.

Coin Pay Envelopes at The Intelligencer Job Office. Cheapest and best in the city.

TORONTO METHODISTS ARE PROGRESSING.

WESTERN DELEGATES HAND OUT A ROAST FOR ROSS.

Toronto, May 21.—At the annual meeting of the lay and ministerial delegates of the Toronto Methodist Western district, a resolution was passed condemning the Ontario Government for their neglect in introducing immediate temperance legislation, and demanding that an appeal be made to those members of the Legislature who had pledged themselves to support the cause of temperance to bring on a vote in the House on the question to see how things stood. The various reports submitted showed the membership of the churches to have increased by over 400; the missionary receipts by over $1,200, and the general receipts of the district amounted to $16,653.87.

BIGGEST PARADE ON EARTH.

Ringling Brothers Display Three Miles Of Opulent Splendors And Marvellous Novelties.

The Ringling Brothers, five of them, who have made a name in the amusement field that stands for all that is new, novel, strictly modern and far-reaching in magnitude, present this season the most attractive and colossal free street parade ever attempted in the history of circuses. There are actually three miles of parade glories and every detail that characterized the initial pageant in Chicago in April will be reproduced when the World's Greatest Shows exhibit in Belleville, Saturday, June 6. Since last season the parade has been enlarged and improved upon by master hands in the art of producing circus attractions with all the care and pride that is evident in the numerous other departments of Ringling Brothers' enormous tented amusement enterprise. There is something in this pageant to interest and hold the attention of every spectator. The student of natural history is furnished the grandest object lesson that the human mind could possibly conceive of, for the wonders of the animal world are brought together in living, breathing reality. The lover of fine stock has here 650 magnificent thoroughbred horses upon which to feast his eyes; the admirer of physical perfection is regaled with the sight of hundreds of the world's greatest acrobats, equilibrists, gymnasts and riders; the artistic interest is gratified in the opulent splendor of massive, beautifully carved floats representing the known countries of the globe. Men and women, in the picturesque garb of the various nations, form regal allegorical tableaux. Each float is accompanied by a detachment of the soldiery of the country represented and the picture is further enlivened and made more realistic by bands composed of German, Russian, French, Scottish, India and Persian musicians. The representative float of the United States is superb in red, white and blue effects, surrounded by an escort of Rough Riders and preceded by Ringling Brothers' famous cavalry band, mounted on handsome white horses. The parade is in thirty sections, and each one is a superb attraction in itself, with its hundreds of proudly stepping horses with waving plumes and trappings of gold and silver; its gorgeously costumed knights and ladies, heralds and courtiers; its brilliantly uniformed soldiers; its numerous bands of music and its 68-stop triple strength pipe organ, builded on a monster van and drawn by ten horses; its great herds of 40 elephants and 20 camels; its children's section, in which miniature Shetland ponies draw pretty little Mother Goose wagons, and its scores of beautiful carved and ornamented dens and cages of openly exhibited rare wild beasts, form a picture that in wealth of display and beauty of coloring is a perfect sunburst of brilliancy. The opening performance in the big tent begins at 2 o'clock and the evening at 8, but the doors will be open an hour earlier, in order that visitors may have ample time to inspect the immense menagerie which contains numerous rare and costly animal attractions, including a pair of stately giraffes, the only living survivors of their kind in existence; "Baby Boo," the first baby elephant successfully bred and reared in America, and the only rhinoceros in captivity. The performance includes hundreds of new and novel acts, enlisting the services of 375 high class artists, 40 clowns, and hundreds of auxiliaries, and the regal spectacular production of Jerusalem and the Crusades, in which 1,200 characters are shown.

On show day admission tickets and numbered reserved seats will be on sale at Riggs' Music Store at same prices as charged on show grounds.

To Repair Old Crusher.

The special committee of the City Council, to whom was referred the matter of the crusher have decided not to purchase a new one, but to repair the old one. The cost will probably be from $250 to $300.

Stocking the Lakes.

During the past few days Moira Lake and some other lakes in the northern portion of the county, also the Lake on the Mountain, have been stocked with black bass fry.

TENDENCY OF CATARRH IS TO SPREAD. Just a slight matter at first, and because slight, neglected; but the seed sown brings forth a dangerous harvest, consumption, which is the harvest of death. Better spend a few moments each day inhaling Catarrhozone, an aromatic antiseptic that relieves at once, clears the nasal passages, and restores lost sense of taste and smell. The immediate effect of Catarrhozone is magical, so prompt and efficient. Cure is certain and permanent if you use Catarrhozone. Price $1. Small sizes 25c, at druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

WAS FATALLY INJURED.

HUSBAND OF FORMER BELLEVILLE LADY MEETS WITH SAD ACCIDENT.

A message was received in the city yesterday afternoon conveying the intelligence that Mr. McLaren, who married Miss Forin, of this city, and who resided in British Columbia, had been injured. Later a message was received that his injuries would probably result fatally. How the accident occurred is not known here.

SALE OF BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS. We are having a great run on our boys' shirt waists at the Oak Hall. You never saw such value before at 50 cents. Just the thing for the boys these hot days. Sizes for boys 5 to 13 years of age.

THE PROPOSED CADET CORPS.

COL. PONTON RECEIVES MANY LETTERS IN SUPPORT OF SUCH A SCHEME.

Col. Ponton, some days ago, wrote to leading citizens of various places which have Cadet Corps already established, in order to find out how they impress the people in those localities. The colonel's request for information was classified in the following list of questions:

1. How long organized?
2. Has the Corps proved successful?
3. Have its effects been beneficial?
4. Has it been, on organization or since, a source of much expense to the Board?
5. What grant, if any, did you receive?
6. Have you a qualified teacher who acts as instructor?

Replies were received from St. Catharines, Lindsay, Brantford and Peterboro.

Brantford.

Mr. John Buskard, Sec. B. C. I. Board replies:

1. Five years.
2. Very successful.
3. Effects on boys beneficial.
4. Expense, less Government grant of $50, $75 per year. Corps is very popular with citizens of Brantford.

Lindsay.

Mr. Robert Speirs replies:

1. Five years.
2. Yes.
3. Yes.
4. No.
5. $50 per annum from Government.
6. One of our teachers is required to hold a drill certificate.

St. Catharines.

Mr. J. Henderson replies:

1. Three years.
2. Most successful.
3. Beneficial in many ways.
4. Except about $50, have kept up corps on Government grant of $50 per annum.
5. One of the regular masters is the instructor.

Peterboro.

Col. Edwards writes a most enthusiastic letter. The corps in Peterboro has been a great success, at little or no expense to the Board of Trustees. It tends to develop fine, manly boys. They drill usually in their school clothes, but have for special occasions uniforms made out of the old scarlet uniforms of the 57th. No citizen who takes any interest in the welfare of the boys would wish to do away with the Peterboro Cadet Corps.

More Leaks in Mains.

Dr. Galbraith, chairman of the Water Committee, informs us that two more leaks have been discovered in water mains in this city. One, on Mary street, it is said, has been running for 12 or 13 years at a loss of probably 1000 gallons daily. The other leak found was on Coleman St., which also involved great loss of water. The Water committee is to be congratulated on stopping such serious drains on power and fuel.

ICE CREAM AND ICE CREAM SODA served in the most up-to-date New York style, with a much larger range to choose from than you can get in larger cities than our own. Try Maple Moose; it is delicious. List for to-night; Maple Moose, Vanilla, Strawberry, Neapolitan, Pine Apple, Sundy's, David Harem's, and Sodas with crushed fruits.

ED. F. DICKENS.

Died in Toronto.

News was received in this city today of the death of Frank Taylor, a former resident of Belleville, which occurred in the Queen City yesterday. He had been for some time an inmate of the Home for Incurables, his disease being consumption of the bowels. While living in this city deceased resided on Murney St. He was about fifty years of age. A former Bellevillian, Mr. Charles Good, did much to make pleasant the last hours of the unfortunate man.

ALBERT COLLEGE FIELD DAY. Friday, May 22nd. Interesting programme of sports on the fine new college campus, beginning at 1.30. Concert and distribution of prizes in the evening. Concert will be given principally by young ladies' Physical Culture Class, and will include an extremely pretty march, statue posing, etc. Admission to concert 10c and upwards. Sports free to all.

THE VICTORIA DAY RACES, in Picton, will be interesting. SIDNEY POINTER, the fastest stallion ever raised in Canada, will start on Victoria Day. Other classes well filled. m19,3td

PEN PICTURES OF PEOPLE YOU MEET

ON A BELLEVILLE STREET.

MR. S. BURROWS.

Just about the jolliest-looking man you meet on a Belleville street, is that typical son of Old England, Mr. Stephen Burrows. And that's no idle warm weather joke, either. Always ready with a hearty greeting for everybody, with a breezy manner about him that is as refreshing as a glass of iced lemonade on an August day, no wonder that his friends are many. It is touching to see the subject of our sketch shake hands, with tender solicitude, with an acquaintance. "Good morning, Mr. Blank," he will say. "Do you know, I was just saying to myself, 'Now, there's Mr. Blank, I'm afraid he'll think I've been neglecting him, because I haven't been to see him lately.' Now, sir, have you thought that little matter over? Now, which of those policies shall I write for you to-day?" To use a colloquial term, Mr. Burrows is rather smooth goods, but he is the goods just the same, don't forget that. Being a whole-hearted man, Mr. Burrows is prominent in church work, and his rich baritone voice is heard twice every Sunday in the choir at Bridge St. Church. His aid is never refused to any concert or entertainment gotten up for patriotic, charitable or church purposes. And as a singer of good wholesome, patriotic songs, Mr. Burrows is the Real Thing. And when he learns a good song he has sense enough to stick to it. Not like some benighted people, who think they must keep on learning new songs all the time. Bless their hearts, they have not yet awakened to the fact that good things never grow old. There was quite a flutter in local musical circles a few years ago when it was whispered around that Mr. Burrows was learning a new song. "Impossible!" said one. But it was true, though, so far as is known, he has never offended in the same way since. And just here may be interjected one little anecdote, as showing the hold Mr. Burrows and his singing has on the people of Belleville. A small group of music-lovers were airing their views regarding local musicians. "Well," said one lady, who by the way has herself musical ability of no mean order, "You can talk about Mockridge and Watkin Mills and Harold Jarvis and all the rest of the professionals who have come this way, but for my part, I'd rather hear Mr. Burrows sing 'The Union Jack of Old England' than anything I ever heard in my life." And that, we take it, was no small compliment. Mr. Burrows first saw the light of day in Staffordshire, England, in 1852, and dropped into Belleville some twenty-six years ago. He was married, shortly before coming to this city, to a Collingwood lady. He is a Mason, Oddfellow, Conservative and a Methodist, and that, we take it, is a pretty hard combination to beat. He is also interested in local industrial matters, being a director of the Belleville Hardware Company and W. W. Chown Company, and was for many years a director of the Hastings Loan and Investment Society.

Tired Out Tired when you go to bed, tired when you get up, tired all the time. Why? Your blood is impure. Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and be quickly cured. If the bowels are constipated, take Ayer's Pills. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

THE PORT HOPE DITCH.

THE IGNORANCE OF ITS ADVOCATES ONCE MORE ON EXHIBITION.

Peterboro Review: There is only one thing that mitigates in some degree the selfish dishonesty of the Port Hopers in their plot to obstruct the completion of the Trent Canal, which is the ignorance and stupidity which they display whenever they touch on the subject. The Port Hope Guide says: "Travellers by Lake Ontario steamers and Grand Trunk main line would be attracted by a sail of a few hours through a most picturesque country. Private yachts and launches would enter the canal at Port Hope, where they could make Rice Lake in two or three hours, but would shun a tedious all-day's run through the canal as would be the case via Trenton—with little to see save drowned land and dead timber. Steamers would establish regular tourist trips through the Kawartha Lakes via the canal connecting at Port Hope with Lake steamers, or rail. The travel through the lakes would be doubled the first year. Farmers who have produce to dispose of and merchants with goods to sell, would all be benefitted by this traffic, and the good thus secured would be shared by all. With a shorter route, lower cost of building, permanent saving in cost of management and operation, better opportunities for securing coal and other west-bound freight, quicker delivery of grain at tidewater, the certainty that the canal can be built deep enough to carry large vessels, and that the work can be completed in probably one-half the time, and the many attractions of this route for passenger traffic—are matters of fact that should have an influence in securing the canal-outlet at Port Hope."

The difference of level between Rice Lake and Lake Ontario is over 360 feet, and this has to be overcome by lockage on any route. The Port Hopers cannot get rid of it by means of fancy figures as they do in regard to their misrepresentations as to construction cost, shortness of route, saving of time, etc. Imagine private yachts and tourists steamers entering the canal at Port Hope for the "sail of a few hours through picturesque country" described by the Guide. Every half mile they would find themselves shut up in a lock which on a summer day would neither be cool nor picturesque. More time would be spent in the lock chambers than in the open ditch. There would be a greater length of canal by the Port Hope than the Trent route and more of the fine stretches of open water.

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

PERSONAL ...AND... SOCIAL.

The Intelligencer invites all its readers to contribute to this column all items of a personal nature, such as the arrival or departure of guests, the movements of well-known people, business men, etc. All that is required is to send a post card to or telephone The Intelligencer.

Mr. James Orr, residing on Yeomans street, is seriously ill.

Miss Annie E. Miller, Charlotte St., is confined to the house through illness.

Miss Evelyn Twining will leave in a few days for New York, where she intends to reside.

Mrs. Samuel Leavitt, 167 Albert St., leaves to-day for a month's visit to friends in Toronto and London.

Arrivals at Hotel Quinte: W. R. H. Leader, M. Macpherson, W. A. Haight, W. Johnson, E. Powell, T. A. Armstrong, Toronto; P. Robinovitch, W. Cumming, W. McRae, C. Woodburn, T. Goynn, F. L. Bond, C. Tompkins, Montreal; W. Flemming, city; C. F. DeCue, Hamilton; J. Ritchie, W. H. Gibson, Beamsville; R. A. Downey, Oswego, N.Y.; F. C. Lalonde, Brockville; H. V. Clemens, Berlin; J. McCoun, Campbellford.

ONTARIO JOCKEY CLUB SPRING MEET, Toronto May 23rd to June 6th. The Grand Trunk service from this city is unexcelled for those attending the races at Toronto. Trains leave Belleville daily at 4.10 a.m., 1.48 p.m. Daily except Sunday, 3.00 a.m., 5.50 a.m., 11.22 a.m., 5.10 p.m. Returning, leave Toronto daily 10.00 p.m. Daily, except Sunday 8.00 a.m., 2.00 p.m., 5.10 p.m. Up-to-date coaches, Cafe Parlor and Dining cars, serving meals "A la Carte." Passengers desiring to see King's Plate race and races on 25th and 26th, can take advantage of reduced rates in effect for Victoria Day. For full information and tickets apply to U. E. Thompson, C.P. & T. A. 20-4t

Invited to Remain.

The Rev. M. J. Bates, pastor of the Bleecker Ave. Methodist Church in this city for two years, has been invited to return for the third year. A resolution will be forwarded to Conference to have the request granted.

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

We have just received a big lot of Empire Shirt Waists for boys 6 to 12 years of age that we are selling at 39 cents each. These garments have stiff collars and cuffs, and are in the regular way worth almost double the price asked. We have also a lot of boys' blouses as low as 25 cents each. Quick & Robertson, Belleville's Best Clothiers.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

Light Weight Hats

COLORED FELTS AND STRAWS

Latest New York Styles.

No trouble to show them.

S. A. HYMAN & CO.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

SOMETHING ABOUT

The Hosiery You Should Wear.

The buying of a pair of Ladies' or Children's Hose may seem a trifling affair. So it is if you are getting a thoroughly reliable article. But how many do not get what they expect, the sizes are not accurate, the tops are tight and most important of all the color is not fast. We have made a study of the Hosiery question for several years, and claim to have the very best value procurable at the prices we quote.

Here are just a few of our everyday sellers.

IN LADIES'

—Fine Macco Thread Hose in Black at	15 and 20c a pr.
—Fine Black Thread Hose in Cashmere and Lisle, feet in Red, Natural and Grey at	25c a pr.
—Fine Macco Ribbed Hose at	25c a pr.
—Lisle and Lace Hose from	25c to 50c a pr.

IN BOYS'

—Fine Ribbed Heavy Cotton Hose, Double Knees, Heels and Toes, sizes 5 to 10, price	15 to 25c a pr.
—Heavy Ribbed Hose, Fast Black, small sizes from	15c to 25c a pr.

IN GIRLS'

—Fine Cotton and Lisle Hose all sizes from	10c up.

"All goods stamped Hermsdorf Dye."

Laidlaw & Ketcheson

DIRECT IMPORTERS

Daily Intelligencer.

THE INTELLIGENCER IS SOLD AT J. W. London's and G. Wardhaugh's.

Local Reading Advertisements, words 50 cents; 2 cents per word first insertion, per word subsequent consecutive insertions. Headlines count as 12 words; contracts for long periods made at office

Peppermint and Wintergreen

Cream Wafers just fresh made. 30c a lb.

Crystallized Ginger

Our own. Sweet and juicy. 50c a lb.

CHAS. S. CLAPP

More Vim

Spring debility arises from impure blood and a clogged condition of the system. Our Sarsaparilla Extract with Iodide of Potassium gives just the aid needed. It enriches the blood and gives new vitality. Price 75c a bottle.

McKeown's DRUG STORE

NEW SPRING GOODS

LATEST DESIGNS IN SPRING TROUSERING.

Spring Overcoating. A nice Line of Waterproof Overcoating, Tweeds and Serges at reasonable prices by the yard.

Call and inspect my stock before ordering your Spring Clothing.

ARTHUR McGIE,
Merchant Tailor.
Front Street.

It takes a long time to tell of what you have not done.

Sterling Silver and Cut Glass.

Particular attention is directed to my stock of the above goods, which at present is most attractive. I handle the renowned Gorham Silver and Hawkes Cut Glass Ware, being sole agent for this city. These are the best and prices are moderate.

T. BLACKBURN.

WRAPPERS & BLOUSES

This week we will devote our entire time and energy in disposing of the finest lot of Ladies' Print Wrappers and Black Sateen Blouses ever seen in this or any other city.

Ladies Print Wrappers, flounced and beautifully trimmed at $1.75, $1.50 $1.25, $1.00.

Ladies' Wrappers .... 85 & 75c

Black Sateen Blouses

Ladies' Black Sateen Blouses at $2.25, $2.00, $1.50, $1.00, 75c.

We would call special attention to our $1 Blouses.

McINTOSH BROS.

Infallible Guidance

RUSSELL H. CONWELL, Pastor Philadelphia, Baptist Temple.

He will guide you into all truth.—John xvi., 13.

The bounding life of a ship is dependent upon the breeze which fills its sails, and which no man can see or understand or command to his aid. For this reason the sailor prays for favoring winds, and favoring winds are needed for every man's sails, that his progress may be swift and sure.

A man entering an engine room found the engineer lying senseless on the floor. The fires were hot, the steam was hissing, an explosion seemed inevitable. The man knew nothing of that engine, but under an uncontrollable impulse he sprang forward, pulled a lever, not knowing what effect it would have, and the pent-up steam rushed forth like the explosion of a gun. The peril was averted, lives were saved, ruin was escaped. That impulse was a favoring wind.

A company of men fell among savages and were about to be slain. Instinctively they got down on their knees, looked upward and prayed. The savages also looked up to see to whom those men were speaking, but seeing no one a superstitious dread seized them and they fled panic-stricken to the woods. That impulse to pray was a favoring breeze.

A wreck had gone ashore at Martha's Vineyard, and one man in the icy waters clung to a plank, which sufficed to float him. Presently a rope swept by him, but it seemed to have no support. The question flashed upon him, "Shall I catch the rope or hold to the plank?" That was for him a fearful moment, but, moved by a resistless impulse, he seized the rope and soon found himself drawn through the darkness out of danger into safety. That impulse was his favoring breeze.

How different life would be if we constantly had this power to decide infallibly what to do and what not to do! That power is largely developed in woman, but far less in man. He depends more on judgment, she on instinct. But there is a Spirit that giveth this instinct, this ability to decide unerringly. It is like the magnetic current to the needle in the compass, compelling it evermore to point to the north, and so to guide the mariner over every sea.

Often in business men have to decide between two evils. They say: "If I tell the exact truth about this trade I shall ruin the firm. Not only that, but I shall throw the workmen out of employment and do their families great harm." Which is the greater wrong? Again, if we only knew when to do good. Winter approaches. The wind blows cold over the hills. Suffering will come to the poor. Oh! for the ability to decide who are deserving and who are not, who should be helped and who would be better off if left alone.

Oh! for the ability to judge when and how to speak to the wrongdoer. We often speak to such at the wrong time, or let the opportunity to speak pass altogether and then regret the failure when it is too late to mend it. And, oh! for the power to keep silent at the right time. Many a word has done immeasurable harm to ourselves and to others. Bitter words are spoken against dearest friends, and then we wish we could only recall those words. But they are spoken, they are borne forth on the wings of ravens and vultures that delight to carry infection and lodge it where it will beget sorrow evermore.

And how important is the power to decide instinctively what is true! One affirms that a certain article cost so much money; another says he saw it bought, and that it did not cost half the price reported. One of these men is false. You wonder which to trust. Oh! for the instinctive power to decide between them. Or, one friend tells something against another, and you have full faith in both. You say you cannot believe it, and yet you must decide between the two. Oh! for the power that unerringly guides, saying promptly and absolutely: "This is false and that is true."

We need guidance to know when to speak, when to smile, when to frown, when to direct, when to enter upon public or private enterprises, to whom to trust our hand, our heart, our property, to know what to believe where there is conflict or doubt. But there is a power that can decide in all these cases. The impulse that so often guides in the common affairs of life is like the higher impulse that comes direct from God. The more we have of His Spirit the more habitual becomes this instinctive guidance. This will enable us to decide between right and wrong, to tell the true from the false, to tell where to go and where not to go, when to speak and when not to speak, when to preach and when to pray, when to lead others and when to hold back. There is such a power. Jesus Christ revealed it to us as the Spirit of God, and "He will guide you into all truth."

Toil and the Designer of Things.

A gray mist scudded in front of the patch of blue sky that all afternoon had been peering between the tall buildings into the studio window, and carried away most of the light with it.

The Boy was glad of this, for his faith in himself was about gone. He gathered up his brushes, throwing a few curses at the weather as he did so in a bravado sort of fashion. He was determined not to be a fool this time and seek unsatisfactory sympathy from people who could not understand. Instead, he would go down to the "Vesuvio" and allow its liquid flame to consume his mood.

"Better be drunk than foolish," he said to the Girl as he started for the door. "I'm tired of this breathless pursuit of the Ideal. After all, if I did overtake her, I don't suppose she'd be worth while. This torture of self-denial, of looking forever over the roof in vain desire for the things that may never be, while the hot blood of youth in your veins commands you to drink deep of the things that are, is insanity. To the devil with work and the dreams of doing."

"It is discouraging, isn't it?" said the Girl. "I felt that way myself until you spoke. I looked at your work this afternoon and envied you."

"Envied me? Don't laugh at a fellow because you've happened to find the way to success. Suppose you do manage to paint good canvases and win plaudits. Ten million people have had the same little reward for the same mighty struggle. Already the wear and worry is showing on you. In ten years youth will be gone from you and all you'll have for it will be the memory of heart's blood painted into canvas for trivial 'mention,' and tragic realization of your limitations. The wise man is he who refuses to do what he is able to do; our ability always seems so much greater to us until we put it to the test. Never give yourself a chance. That's the only way to escape heart-break."

The Girl was fragile in the gray light. She stood at the window looking into the twilight that fell in hopelessness among the crowding walls of unsightly buildings. The Boy took a step toward the door. Then the Girl turned.

"I wish you would not talk like that," she said. "It hurts. Have I ever said I expected to do great things? You know I haven't. I was mean to-day and half envied you for your gift. But I don't want to envy anybody. I try not to think of future or fame, for it is thinking of self-glory that brings pain and disappointment. I try to do my work as best I can because it is my work and because I must do it. I know it is delightful to win success. We can't help feeling that our effort has won approval. But I don't work for success. I put my heart into my pictures because I have to, and if by so doing I can soften, if only for an instant, some other heart; bring a look of wistfulness into a careless eye; waken a longing in a dreamless soul, I have the greatest of rewards. Work for work's sake demands no sacrifice. On the contrary, it leads our feet into the ways where perfect happiness may be gathered.

"I know how weak I am and how discouraged I grow even yet. But discouragement never lingers long. All I need do is remind myself that I am not an isolated toiler wearing out my own destiny in unsympathetic solitude, but one of many who are working to carry to completion the wonderful plan of the great Designer of things beautiful.

"There are no failures. Your discouragement helps me to catch the shadows my portion of the picture needs to-day; my rebellion shows you the glorious light of patience and sympathy your brush must depict."

"It's easy to talk hopefully when you're already in the sunlight of success," replied the Boy as he grasped the door-knob. "I'm tired of the shadows and am determined to get out of them. I'll enjoy myself in idleness for a while. I'll be on hand to help hang the Picture Beautiful when it is finished. I'm done with brushes."

The Girl laid her hand lightly on the Boy's shoulder. "What great work you are going to do," she said. "Some of the wonderful touches in the picture have been reserved for you. You are not 'tired of the pursuit of the Ideal.' You are only impatient that your hand has not yet the wonderful skill your soul demands of it. Be patient; there's not only Time but Eternity for our work."

They stepped into the corridor and paused in silence. From a room opposite some divine melody drifted to them. The Boy was glad of the darkness, for his eyes were wet. He grasped the Girl's hand.

"I thank you," he said. "I guess I was only impatient."—Leavenworth MacNab.

KIDNEY TROUBLE EIGHT YEARS

LUMBAGO AND TIRED, WORN-OUT FEELINGS WERE THE PORTION OF A TORONTO MACHINIST.

HE IS WELL NOW—DR. PITCHER'S BACKACHE KIDNEY TABLETS HAVE CURED HIM.

Mr. Jas. J. Walsh, a machinist in the employ of the Kemp Mfg Co., and whose home is 391 Adelaide St. W., Toronto, told the story of his cure as follows:

"For eight or nine years I have been troubled with my kidneys. I first had a severe attack of lumbago, then was troubled with intermittent pains in my back, and felt tired and worn out all the time. I used a number of remedies, but did not get much benefit from them. I heard of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets and decided to try them. I have taken in all three boxes, and can positively state the Tablets have completely cured me. I recommended them to my brother and they have cured him already. They are certainly splendid."

Every form of kidney trouble, from backache to Bright's disease, is cured by Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets and the cure is permanent. Price 50 cents a bottle, or three for $1.25, at druggists. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto.

THE MARKETS.

Wheat Continues Active, and Futures Raised in Both Liverpool and Chicago—Live Stock—Quotations.

Wednesday Evening, May 20.

Liverpool wheat futures closed ⅜d to ⅝d higher to-day than yesterday and corn ⅛d higher.

At Chicago July wheat advanced ¼c from yesterday, July corn ⅛c and July oats ⅜c.

LEADING WHEAT MARKETS.

Following are the closing quotations at important wheat centres to-day:

	Cash.	May.	July.	Sept.
New York	....	....	79½	76⅛
Chicago	....	80¼	74¼	71⅝
Toledo	76¼	76¼	74¼	72⅝
Duluth, No. 1 N.	79⅜	79⅜	79¼	71⅛

TORONTO ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Grain—

Wheat, red, bush.	$0 74 to	$0 74½
Wheat, white, bush	0 74	0 74½
Wheat, spring, bush.	0 72	....
Wheat, goose, bush.	0 67	....
Barley, bush.	0 44	0 45½
Beans, bush.	1 30	1 50
Beans, hand-picked	1 75	....
Peas, bush.	0 78½	....
Rye, bush.	0 42	....
Oats, bush.	0 35½	0 36½
Buckwheat, per bush.	0 43	....

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—Buffalo and Chicago Send Lower Prices.

London, May 20.—Live cattle steady at 12c to 12½c per lb. for American steers, dressed weight; Canadian steers, 11½c to 12c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9c to 9½c per lb. Sheep, 12½c to 13½c, dressed weight.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, N.Y., May 20.—Cattle, receipts, light. Veals, receipts, 120 head; 50c lower; tops, $5.75 to $6; common to good, $4.50 to $5.65. Hogs, receipts, 6000 head; slow; 5c to 10c lower; heavy, $6.35 to $6.50; mixed, $6.25 to $6.35; yorkers and pigs, $6.10 to $6.15; roughs, $5 to $5.50; stags, $4 to $4.50. Sheep and lambs, receipts, 3300 head; sheep steady, lambs 10c lower; top lambs, $6.75 to $6.90; culls to good, $4 to $6.65; yearlings, $5 to $5.75; ewes, $4.25 to $4.50; sheep, top mixed, $4.50 to $4.75; culls to good, $2 to $4.40.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.

New York, May 20.—Beeves—Receipts, 2130; lower; steers, $4.55 to $5.35; bulls, $2 to $4.50; cows, $1.75 to $3.75. Exports, 30 cattle, 3000 quarters of beef. Calves, receipts, 3620; lower; veals, $3 to $5.65; extra, $6.50; buttermilks, $3 to $3.50. Sheep and lambs, receipts, 10,728; lower; common to choice sheep, $2.75 to $5; selected wethers, $5.25 to $5.50; culls, $2; lambs, $4 to $6.37½; spring lambs, $6.50 to $8.50; by the head, $4 each. Hogs, receipts, 3300; lower; State and Pennsylvania hogs, $6.30 to $6.40.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, May 20.—Cattle—Receipts, 17,000; slow, steady to 10c lower; good to prime steers, $4.90 to $5.50; poor to medium, $4 to $4.80; stockers and feeders, $3 to $3.70; cows, $1.60 to $4.50; heifers, $2 to $4.80; canners, $1.50 to $2.75; bulls, $2.50 to $4.25; calves, $2.20 to $5.35; Texas fed steers, $4 to $4.60.

Hogs—Receipts to-day, 32,000; market 10c lower; mixed and butchers', $6.20 to $6.45; good to choice heavy, $6.50 to $6.75; rough heavy, $6.25 to $6.50; light, $6 to $6.25; bulk of sales, $6.30 to $6.50.

Sheep—Receipts, 8000; sheep, steady to 10c higher; lambs, steady; good to choice wethers, $4.75 to $5.50; fair to choice mixed, $2.75 to $4.75; native lambs, $4.50 to $7.

BASEBALL WEDNESDAY.

The Eastern League.

Toronto .... 0 0 3 1 1 0 0 0 *—5
Providence ..... 0 0 0 0 0 1 2 0 0 0—3

Three-base hits—Miller, Kuhns, Crisham. Two-base hit—Crisham. Sacrifice hit—Downey. Bases on balls—By Briggs 1 (Connor). Double-play—Shannon to Connor to Crisham. Struck out—By Briggs 9 (Shannon 3, Clements 2, Crisham, Armbruster, Stafford, Cogan); by Clements 1 (White). Wild pitch—Clements. Stolen base—Wagner. Left on bases—Toronto 4, Providence 6. Time—1.30. Umpire—Kelly. Attendance—1000.

		R.	H.	E.
Buffalo	0 3 0 0 1 1 2 0 *	7	9	1
Worcester	0 0 0 0 2 0 0 0 0	2	6	1

Batteries—Ferry and Shaw; McFall and McAuley. Umpire—Shannon. Attendance—2202.

		R.	H.	E.
Rochester	0 0 0 1 0 1 5 1 0	8	9	5
Jersey City	1 0 4 0 0 0 0 0 5	10	10	6

Batteries—McFarlan and Lilly; McCann and McManus. Umpire—Brown. Attendance—453.

		R.	H.	E.
Baltimore	0 0 0 0 2 1 0 0 1	4	10	3
Newark	2 0 0 0 0 1 1 0 2	6	12	1

Batteries—Voorhees and Robinson; Hesterfer and Shea. Umpire—Swartwood. Attendance—312.

National League Scores.

At Boston—

		R.	H.	E.
Boston	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0	0	4	3
Chicago	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2	2	6	1

Batteries—Willis and Kittredge; Taylor and Kling. Umpire—Johnstone. Attendance—3284.

At Philadelphia—

		R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0	1	6	2
Philadelphia	0 2 1 1 0 0 0 0 *	4	8	4

Batteries—M. O'Neill and J. O'Neill; Sparks and Dooin. Umpire—O'Day. Attendance—2058.

At New York—

		R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0	0	6	0
New York	1 0 0 1 0 9 6 0 *	3	6	3

Batteries—Leever and Smith; Matthewson and Bowerman. Umpire—Emslie. Attendance—7253.

At Brooklyn—

		R.	H.	E.
Brooklyn	1 1 1 0 3 0 0 4 *	10	12	0
Cincinnati	1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0	2	7	3

Batteries—Garvin and Ritter; Hahn and Bergen. Umpire—Moran. Attendance—1850.

American League Results.

At St. Louis—

		R.	H.	E.
St. Louis	0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1	4	11	2
Boston	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 0	3	8	1

Batteries—Sudhoff and Sugden; Young and Criger. Umpire—Sheridan. Attendance—2800.

At Detroit—

		R.	H.	E.
Detroit	0 2 0 0 0 0 0 1 *	3	6	1
Philadelphia	0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0	1	8	1

Batteries—Eason and McAllister; Plank and Powers. Umpire—O'Loughlin. Attendance—3266.

At Cleveland—

		R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	4 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 *	5	10	1
Washington	3 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0	4	9	2

Batteries—Joss and Abbott; Wilson and Clarke. Umpire—Connolly. Attendance—2588.

At Chicago—

		R.	H.	E.
Chicago	0 0 0 1 1 0 0 0 0	2	6	2
New York	1 0 0 0 0 1 3 0 0	5	9	2

Batteries—Flaherty and Sullivan; J. Tannehill and O'Connor. Umpires—Hassett and Carruthers.

BRITISH TRANSVAAL PARLIAMENT.

Opened For First Time Wednesday By Sir Arthur Lawley.

Pretoria, May 21.—The First British Transvaal Parliament was opened in the Raadsaal yesterday by Sir Arthur Lawley, the Lieutenant-Governor of the Transvaal. The chamber was filled, those present including the military officials, the judges, the clergy and the civil authorities. After the members had been sworn in, the Lieutenant-Governor delivered his inaugural address

Missing Since Good Friday.

Sarnia, May 21.—Last night a body identified by Chief Sarvis as that of Hope Webster, an insurance agent, who left here about Good Friday, leaving no trace behind, was found floating in the river at Courtright. A gold watch he was known to have had when he left Sarnia is missing, but some money and his bank book were found in his pocket. His wife lives in London.

First in Point of Fit.
First in durability.
First in graceful model.
First in genuine comfort.

It fits you, but does not squeeze you. It supports you, but does not burden you. It lends perfect grace to your figure, but does not weary you. You are sure to like it, sure to buy it, sure to enjoy it.

Drab, White, Black.

D & A Corsets

Are the Correct thing.

White Blouses

Now is the time for Summer Blouses. Just received another large shipment of Fancy White and Black Blouses. These have been delayed on account of getting the latest styles.

SEE OUR PRICES

Our Plain Waists with Insertion fronts	75c
Also Valenciennes and Embroidery Insertion fronts at	$1 00, $1.25 and $1 50
Our special line of Embroidered fronts, very stylish, prices	$2 00 and $2.25

Medallions and Drop Ornaments

A fine assortment of these for trimming, in cream and black. Prices 10, 15 and 20c.

White Gloves

Gloves for summer at attractive prices. See our Fancy Taffeta Silk Gloves, two dome fasteners. Prices 25c, 40c and 50c.

NATHAN JONES.

The Finnegan Carriage & Wagon Co.

—FOR—

Stylish and Durable Turnouts.

- —Surreys
- —Corning Buggies
- —Piano Box Buggies
- —Rubber Tire Buggies
- —Micadoes
- —Phaetons
- —Bike Buggies
- —Democrats
- —Grocer Wagons
- —Butcher Wagons

Cheese Factory Milk Wagons.
Steel Tubular Axle Lumber Wagons.

Rubber Tires put on your old wheels at reasonable prices.

Mill St., - - Belleville

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE'S

English Breakfast Tea

FRAGRANT AND DELICIOUS.

IN HALF-POUND LEAD PACKETS —FULL WEIGHT

20, 25 & 30 cts. per packet—40, 50 & 60 cts. per lb.

The choicest growths of India and Ceylon. A sample free for the asking.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

BRIDGE ST. BRANCH STORE, FRONT ST.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL — LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL — CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 37. BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, MAY 22, 1903 NO. 19

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

THE MARKETS.

Thursday Evening, May 21.

At Liverpool wheat futures closed ¼d to ⅛d lower to-day than yesterday, and corn futures ¼d to ⅜d higher.

At Chicago July wheat closed 1c lower than yesterday, July corn ⅜c lower and July oats 1¼c lower.

LEADING WHEAT MARKETS.

Following are the closing quotations at important wheat centres to-day:

	Cash.	May.	July.	Sept.
New York	....	....	78⅝	75¼
Chicago	....	78¾	73½	70⅝
Toledo	73½	76¾	73½	71¼
Duluth, No. 1 N.	78⅞	78⅝	78	70⅝

TORONTO ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Grain—

Wheat, red, bush.	$0 74 to	$....
Wheat, white, bush.	0 74	....
Wheat, spring, bush.	0 71	....
Wheat, goose, bush......	0 67	....
Barley, bush.	0 44	0 45½
Beans, bush.	1 30	1 50
Beans, hand-picked	1 75	....
Peas, bush.	0 78½	....
Rye, bush.	0 42	....
Oats, bush.	0 35	0 35½
Buckwheat, per bush....	0 43	....

ALL THE CABINET KNEW

Argument of the Hon. S. H. Blake Before Royal Commission.

MINISTRY CONSPIRED. TO CORRUPT GAMEY.

Hon. Mr. Stratton Terribly Slated—Minister Sought to Teach One Forgery and Perjury—Likened to Philip II. of Spain—Powerful Arraignment of the Accused Ministers—Mr. Gamey and the $1,200 Loan From Sullivan.

Toronto, May 22.—The Gamey Bribery Commission opened promptly at ten o'clock yesterday morning.

The Chancellor—Now, Mr. Blake, will you proceed.

Mr. Blake—Mr. Du Vernet wishes to say something.

Mr. Du Vernet, on behalf of Mr. Gamey, stated that his client was willing to pay the money into court if the commissioners would order that Frank Sullivan produce the I. O. U. given therefor. The commissioners said they could not do so, as Mr. Sullivan denied its existence. The matter then dropped.

Mr. Blake Commences.

Mr. Blake opened his address by remarking that no time could have been better spent than that spent in conducting the investigation, if, as a result, public opinion became roused to a determination that a higher standard of morality must be lived up to by public men, and that uprighteousness and honesty should be the main requisites of those who made the laws.

He felt it had been of great satisfaction to those he represented—the people of Ontario—that so wide scope had been given, and that all the tendered evidence, virtually, had been received. In this course the Commission had been fully justified.

An important question was whether the Commission was competent to report a finding on the facts, or whether it was simply to present the evidence with explanatory or implementary evidence, without an absolute finding. Reference to the acts governing the Commission, he submitted, particularly chap. 19, Revised Statutes of Ontario, 1897, showed that the Commission could only take evidence on oath, compel the attendance of witnesses, and report to the Legislature for it to take such action as it deemed proper.

"Then we are simply an examining board?" enquired the Chancellor.

"That is my position."

"There's a strong temptation on us to give effect to it," the Chancellor observed.

"Yes, but of course, the Court never gives way to temptation."

What the Court Could Do.

Mr. Blake continued to say that the Court could make something in the nature of a charge to the jury, but not a charge on the evidence. But, in case the Commission decided to report its findings, he would suggest certain conclusions that could reasonably be arrived at. He would first present that portion of the case as to which there appeared no reasonable doubt. He would then deal with the matters that he conceived to be open to question.

All through the statement he would like it to be borne in mind that he was not treating the matter as a political question, but as an inquest by the people generally, who desired that the truth should be ascertained in connection with the charges against the good Government of the Province.

The Preceding Circumstances.

The first thought that struck him was: "What were the circumstances that preceded the main matter in issue?" An election had been fought so close that a coalition had been looked to as a solution of the difficulties. From July 8 to October 22, according to Mr. Stratton himself, the Government had a majority of but one. Each vote was of importance to the members, and there was a common danger, interest, desire and motive, and means suggested in which one of those interested was the chief actor, but which were known according to the evidence of Mr. Stratton to every one of the members of the Government, for he stated that on September 10 he told them what he was doing. Where there was a common motive, a common interest, a common danger, and a common desire, and one means to carry it out then very slight evidence, indeed, if it did not follow as a matter of course, would suffice to show that these people were interested in that which they were desirous of accomplishing, and in respect of which a means of accomplishing was present. There is no doubt that, according to their notions, the means were successful. That Gamey agreed to sell himself and his constituency was no question, nor that the price was to be paid was, to a certain extent, actually paid, and that the balance was in the process of liquidation, so to speak.

Bargain Made and Carried Out.

He was not at this moment dealing with the question of money. He was leaving that to the other branch of the case. He was dealing with that written so plainly that he who ran might read, that Gamey was elected as an opponent of the Ross Government after a long and bitter fight, and that, as a result, the seat was protested. There was no use trying to minimize that now. Any talk of independence came at a later date.

"What's Your Price?"

It was utterly immaterial who made the first approaches. But was the answer to Gamey: "We spurn power at the price of wrong-doing; we spurn it on any bargain; we spurn to buy not only yourself but the constituency at Manitoulin. We spurn it"? No: the only question was: "What's your price?"

He would deal first with the letter sent to the Premier's office, dated Sept. 10, 1902. He would deal with how it came there later on, and would for the present deal with as it stood, written by Mr. Stratton, signed by Mr. Gamey, and addressed for some reason to Mr. Ross. He would point out the line: "I have decided to give you my support." That was what the Government wanted. Then, further down was the piece: "I wish to be treated as if I had been elected to support your Government." Here was an absolute bargain of purchase and sale, made on the 10th day of September. Obviously he had not been elected to support the Government. The bargain was stated concisely. Mr. Blake then referred to the letter of Oct. 27, which virtually reiterated the same statements.

A Misleading Interview.

Then came the document of Jan. 2[illegible], 1903, the newspaper interview. There were two bye-elections, Centre Bruce and North York, and it was stated that it would be of advantage to get a public declaration. Why not publish the letters? Because they were prima facie evidence of a bargain, of a transfer of support for value received. Therefore, they had to get it toned down to something which they could publish. What could be more misleading than that interview? The deed of bargain and sale was in the Premier's private drawer, the goods to be delivered in March. "There is a rumor that you are inclined to be friendly to the Government," ran the interview.

"The Government is now safe," said the interview, when it was in reality on the ragged edge, with a starvation allowance of support.

On those three documents and the facts undisputed, he thought that the branch of the case relating to patronage was proven.

Gamey Alarmed.

On Oct. 4th the petition was dropped. Previous to that date the patronage was applied for and every letter after that date was in pursuance of the carrying out of the bargain entered into. There was no doubt that Gamey was alarmed about the protest against him. He had been alarmed as early as August 7, the date of the meeting with Capt. John Sullivan at Allandale. They would pardon him for naming him "the old man of the sea," and likening him unto "Sinbad the Sailor." Mark how insinuating the old gentleman had been; they were going to unseat Mr. Gamey and disqualify him also. Then after all the pipes were laid, there was the Captain's journey, all the way to Manitoulin and his midnight visit to Mr. Gamey's home. In the May previous there had been the Shannon deal, whereby the Captain had profited to the amount of over $8,000. Men who could obtain such large concessions from the Government were willing to work for it. And he further wished to draw the attention of the court to the fact that the same man had been reported for bribery. There had been the threats and the fear aroused in Mr. Gamey.

Mr. Stratton Aware of It.

It was quite clear that Mr. Stratton was aware of all this by his consultation with Mr. Aylesworth as to how Mr. Gamey could be bound. Mr. Aylesworth's suggestion was a letter, and he told Mr. Stratton to prepare it himself. There was no question as to Mr. Stratton's interest in the matter and his desire to get such a letter. He hunts up Mr. Aylesworth in Osgoode Hall and waits an opportunity to speak to him. He hands him the letter and arranges an appointment for Mr. Gamey. Mr. Aylesworth very soon saw what every one else saw, what any man would have been blind not to see, that the transaction was an improper one. He adopted the course of an honest man and threw back his letter, telling him to go elsewhere. Mr. Aylesworth couldn't give Gamey what he wanted; he had to go direct to the Minister for that.

Petition the Drawing Card.

Their Lordships would note that, according to Mr. Aylesworth, the suggestion of a letter had come not from Mr. Gamey, not from Mr. Stratton, but from him (Aylesworth). "How can we hold him?" Stratton had asked, and the suggestion was made. Then Mr. Stratton had said practically, "I'll send him down about the petition—(that was the drawing card)—but you get the letter." The visit to Mr. Aylesworth would also reassure Gamey from the lips of the counsel for the Government that if he was to support them the petition would not be pressed. The evidence threw light, moreover, of the relations with the Government of the persons pretending to act for Mr. Fraser, the petitioner. The matter was wholly in the Government's hands to dispose of as it saw fit.

The letter turns up in the Premier's private drawer. It was put in that place and remained there for use when the Government saw fit.

Letter Was Government Title.

Mr. Stratton had testified that the dealings between Mr. Gamey and himself were told to four members of the Government on the same day and to the others on the next. The letter had been kept as what he might style as one of the muniments of the Government's title on Mr. Gamey. There had been the jocular discussion among the Ministers of the Crown at the breakfast table on Sept. 11 which Mr. Stratton described. He could not understand why Ministers of the Crown should mock at a public sin, unless they had for years been dragged down into the pit of political exigency so as to lose their sense of right and wrong. It was remarkable how quickly Mr. Gamey and the Government understood each other; the strangers up to Sept. 10 became bosom friends. On Sept. 29 it is, "My dear Stratton," and "My dear Gamey," and there is a request for the appointment of Mr. Flesher. Why does he write to Mr. Stratton when the appointment is in another Department? Was not a recognition that the bargain of which Gamey was asking a part of the price was made through Mr. Stratton?

Documents Analyzed.

Mr. Blake continued his analysis of the documents. On November 4th Mr. Gamey proceeded to make further use of his friends and asked for a loan of $2,000. Mr. Stratton was out of town at the time, but his secretary said the matter would be attended to. No other answer was ever made, but the fact that Mr. Stratton did not express his surprise tended, in counsel's mind, to confirm the suspicion that there had been some previous monetary arrangement. On November 10th Gamey recommended the appointment of Jackson. On December 18th he urged the Swanson appointment. The Attorney-General did not repudiate his endorsation, but Mr. Gibson, writing to Mr. Flesher, said he would make the appointment, unless there was very strong objections.

From the 10th of September there was no break in the demands for patronage and no unfavorable replies. On December 24th Mr. Gamey wrote to Hon. Mr. Latchford, asking him to push through the road grants he was sending. On January 3rd Road Inspector Boyd wrote Mr. Latchford that, unless there was some decided advantage to the party, the grants should not be allowed. Like master, like man, observed Mr. Blake. On January 15th Gamey suggested the name of Pratt as marriage license issuer. On January 22nd McEachren's appointment was recommended.

Sullivan's Telegram.

The telegram of Sullivan to Gamey on January 27th, that it was most important that he should come to Toronto immediately was most important here because on the next day Hammond, The Globe reporter, was told that Gamey would be in town and would give an interview.

On January 31st Mr. Gamey wrote to Mr. Latchford, asking that all the grants be allowed, so as to satisy his constituents—a word of warning that the price must be paid. On February 25th Mr. Latchford wrote that the grants were a "pretty large order," but he would endeavor to get them placed in the estimates.

Gamey wrote to Mr. Stratton on February 7th that there was certainly a row on, and that a meeting of the Conservative Executive would be held. The answer was the X. Y. Z. letter, which Mr. Blake wanted the court to find was inspired by and emanated from Mr. Stratton. In every particular it specifically answered Mr. Gamey's letter. "A matter of plain common sense that letter, X. Y. Z., with the enclosure that so aptly answered the letter of February 7th, could not have come into existence unless with knowledge of the February 7th letter, to which it was a complete reply. My own idea is that it was a concoction of both Stratton and Sullivan, but it must be taken to be a reply through the instrumentality of the person securing the letter, because no other answer was sent, and because it was a crucial moment and Gamey was there expecting advice.

Stratton and Sullivan.

Taking up all the other letters sent by Frank Sullivan, counsel said they showed a perfect understanding between the writer and Mr. Stratton, since they dealt with details only ordinarily known to the Minister, and his Private Secretary. On Feb. 27 there was such a letter. The information contained therein could not have been obtained unless there were confidences between Mr. Stratton and Sullivan.

It had been testified by Mr. Conmee that he had told Mr. Stratton and Mr. Grant about Mr. Gamey's petition and his resolve to support the Government. This sawing off of petitions appeared to Mr. Blake to be very disreputable; but it was more disreputable to saw off the petition of a Government supporter against that of a man who is was secretly understood was pledged to become a Government supporter."

The Chancellor said he quite agreed that this practice was disreputable, but, unfortunately, both parties indulged in it, and the Commissioners could not change the law.

Mr. Blake pointed out that Mr. Grant, Mr. Stratton and Mr. Aylesworth had every reason to believe that Gamey was to support the Government.

His Strong Position.

The Chancellor thought that Mr. Blake's position would be a very strong one if it were clear that Mr. Gamey had not informed the leaders of his party of the course he was pursuing. Mr. J. M. Might and Mr. J. R. McGregor were said to have been told. It was not certain that Mr. Bristol, the Conservative lawyer, had not been told.

Mr. Blake said they simply had to deal with the facts as sworn to. Even if there had been no consideration but the withdrawal of the petition given for Mr. Gamey's support, their Lordships would still, he submitted, be compelled to find it a corrupt act.

The Globe Interview.

Taking up The Globe interview, Mr. Blake pointed out that, when Mr. Stratton spoke to Mr. Hammond first as to the interview he was going to get from Mr. Gamey, the latter was not even in town, and did not arrive until the evening of that day. It was true that he was on the train, but why had the telegram, summoning him, been sent by Frank Sullivan?

Reviewing Mr. Hammond's evidence at some length, Mr. Blake suggested that one of the motives was to get a statement that would prevent Gamey from going into Centre Bruce and North York as he had into North Grey. Hammond was to get Gamey's signature for that purpose.

Speaking of Hammond's testimony that Mr. Stratton had asked him to strike out the words Mr. Gamey had added to the interview when he signed it, Mr. Blake asked: "Would it have been forgery to alter that document signed by a man's own hand? Was this the first lesson in forgery that Mr. Stratton had given, taking hold of a lad who had had in interview signed in good faith, and asking him to change it?"

"Can't You Forget?"

Taking up the later testimony of Hammond, Mr. Blake solemnly repeated two or three times: "He asked me if I wouldn't forget some things!"

"I wonder whether that was the first lesson in perjury which Mr. Stratton had given?" he added. "Subordination of perjury! A man who would ask another to do it would commit perjury himself; a man who would ask another to alter a statement, signed by someone else, would swear falsely that he never paid any money."

"A Minister of the Crown, forsooth! We'd better send that statement to the King and let him know what kind of Ministers bear that name."

"He dare not deny it," he added, and continuing, asked if it were the practice to debauch the young men who entered the Parliament Buildings. Philip II. had been charged with educating men in assassination. "Was that very much worse than to educate them to kill truth and honesty?"

A Corrupt Bargain.

To summarize, it was surely established that the Government did make a bargain with a Conservative member, elected to oppose them, whom they were desirous of unseating, a bargain assuring him his seat, and that he would be given all the privileges of a Government supporter. Could anything be more corrupt, even if no money was paid? One man is to sell himself, his friends and his constituency that he remain the dishonored member for Manitoulin, and the other pay a consideration that they may remain the dishonored members of the Government. The documents and the acts done leave no doubt as to the correctness of the above conclusion.

Every member of the Government was as much culpable as the member put forward to bear the brunt of the exposure. They all knew about it, and deliberately left it to their colleague to carry out the details. The fact that they blinded their eyes or deadened their ears did not alter their responsibility. It was remarkable that not one of them had made denial of their knowledge of the facts.

Mr. Gamey's Motives.

Mr. Blake then entered upon the subject of the motives of Mr. Gamey. The latter had said that he was not in the market to be bought, but he had heard that the Government was prepared to make corrupt advances, and he had determined to sacrifice himself to see how far the Government was prepared to go. It was for the Commission to consider what Mr. Gamey's motive was, whether it was corrupt, or whether it was an attempt to put an end to corrupt practices. In pursuit of this he had been called a spy and an informer, and, indeed, a little lower than Judas himself. It was a most disagreeable position to be placed in but what would occasion great odium in one case would fail to do so in another.

A Justifiable Lie.

In Mr. Gamey's mind if ever there was a case which justified his action it was the present. From his view a great evil was sapping honest government. It required heroic treatment, and he was willing to do and to suffer to accomplish his purpose.

It was easy to sit after the event and discuss the points which it would have been well to avoid. But they must consider what large sums were spent by the Governments of the world for this very purpose of investigation. What an example was set by the learned doctors of sophistry. Take Machiavelli's advice as to the conduct of a Prince towards his people. Dr. Paley himself had given instances where it was justifiable to tell a lie.

Right to Take Gamey's Story.

Mr. Blake thought it only right to show the case as it was given by Mr. Gamey himself. Mr. Gamey was a novice at this sort of thing. As to the money his statement is corroborated by Mr. Strathy that he deposited the $1,500 and the $500 produced were the actual bills. If he were going to make up a story it would not be such a one as he tells. It was to be remembered that it was Frank Sullivan who brought Gamey and Stratton together. He was also in at the death, for the day before the House met he was in a position to say to Stratton, "I don't think that man Gamey is going to support you." Regarding the money he admitted that there was great difficulty in settling whether the payment was made on the 9th, 10th or 11th Sept.

A Hardened Sinner.

He called the attention of the court to Frank Sullivan's extraordinary evidence that if anyone kept his eyes and ears open he could pick up in the departments information which by means of some of the legislators he could turn into money. It is evidence of a man absolutely reckless of truth. His absolute shamelessness in giving testimony was an outrage on decency. A bold, hardened sinner. He would not give the evidence as he did if the matter were only his own. Sullivan went into the box to protect his master, Stratton, to shield, to make a case to shield his master. In all his statements this witness was utterly and absolutely untruthful. He made statements out of the whole cloth.

After referring to the Wilson episode, Mr. Gamey's politics, he passed on to submit to the Commissioners that Jones of Beeton, Frank Sullivan and Cap. Sullivan were agents of the Govern Sullivan were agents of the Government, and that Mr. Gamey was justified from their words and letters in believing that they were the representatives of the Government as they represented themselves to him to be.

A Minister's Trust.

Mr. Blake dwelt at great length upon the sacred trust of a Minister of the Crown. In conclusion he paid a brilliant tribute to the splendid character of those composing the Commission and expressed the hope that posterity would profit as a result of the investigation just completed.

Mr. Johnston will begin the argument for the defence this morning.

Victoria, B.C., May 22.—At the session of the Legislative Committee inquiry yesterday, C. McL. Brown was examined, but little information than that already published was elicited.

Winnipeg, May 22.—Two Icelandic fishermen, named Johnson and Thorkenson, in the employ of H. Armstrong, M.P.P., were drowned in Lake Manitoba yesterday, while off St. Laurent mission. A squall capsized their sailboat.

It takes money to voice the opinion of a lawyer.

Doing good is the only certainly happy action of a man's life.

PHYSICIANS AND HOSPITALS.

During the past twenty years, millions of bottles of Angier's Petroleum Emulsion have been sold, and nearly all upon doctors' prescriptions. It is also extensively used in hospitals, especially for consumption, and wasting diseases of children. A good reason why you should use it.

NESTLÉ'S FOOD.

NESTLÉ'S FOOD.

The selection of a proper food for the baby is of vital importance. It must be nourishing, easily assimilated, readily digested, and must never vary in quality.

Nestlé's Food has all these requisites. It is made from cow's milk—the most nourishing of all substances—and requires only the addition of water to be ready for use.

Samples (sufficient for eight meals) free.

LEEMING MILES & CO. MONTREAL.

SINCLAIR'S AD SINCLAIR'S AD.

SINCLAIR'S

10c Wash 10c GOODS SALE

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

On these Two Days we will hold our first Wash Goods Sale for the season and will place on tables about Three Thousand Five Hundred (3,500) yards of Wash Goods, to clear at ... 10c per yd.

This lot will include:

Crum's best 12½c light and dark Prints for	10c yd.
Navy and White 12½c Dress Ducks for	10c yd.
15c to 20c Dress Sateens for	10c yd.
15 to 20c Dress Ginghams for	10c yd.
12½c to 20c White Check Muslins for	10c yd.
5 pieces 45 inch Victoria Dress Lawn for	10c yd.
15c to 20c Dress Linens for	10c yd.
15c to 30c Fancy Dress Muslins for	10c yd.

These Goods are particularly suited for Ladies' and Children's summer Wash Dresses and we put the lot on sale, your choice for 10c per yd.

D. V. SINCLAIR & CO.

GORMAN'S
THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE

Our large, bright, new stock of reliable Foot wear is daily making many new friends for THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE.

Just step in some time, when out shopping, you will also say that our shoes are deserving of THEIR GREAT POPULARITY.

Come in any time we will be pleased to serve you.

You will find here excellet lines of Ladies' Lace Boots selling at $4.00, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Our men's department is well stocked with stylish, comfortable, durable boots, in various leathers, selling at $5.00, $3.75, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Big Receipts from Trapping.

Lindsay Post: It would appear that the name of the king of local trappers is Thomas Henderson, who lives in Omemee and operates on Pigeon Creek. We have it on good authority that in less than three weeks this spring he trapped 406 muskrats, 8 mink, and 3 raccoons. In addition to this fine catch, he secured 36 mink between fall and spring. He sold the mink pelts at $3 a piece, the raccoon at $1.25, and the rats at 29 cents each, making a total of $277.49 for his catch. In this connection it would be interesting to know the value of the small fur secured in this county every year—it must amount to a very considerable sum. That there is need of better protection every trapper is ready to admit. Take muskrats for instance; it is an open secret that kittens are slaughtered in the fall, when only 5 or 6 cents can be obtained for the pelts. The fishery overseers should be empowered to act as game wardens.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

All books of the Public Library must be returned on or before Saturday next, May 23rd, for cataloguing. The Library is open the usual hours for the receipt of the same.

G. T. LUTON,
President.
20-22

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

We have just received a big lot of Empire Shirt Waists for boys 6 to 12 years of age that we are selling at 39 cents each. These garments have stiff collars and cuffs, and are in the regular way worth almost double the price asked. We have also a lot of boys' blouses as low as 25 cents each. Quick & Robertson, Belleville's Best Clothiers.

Special Great Mid=Season Sale

Beginning Saturday, May 16th, 1903.

Just a Moment, Don't Fail to Read.

The dollar rules the commercial world—to a very great extent. Prompt dollars bring us merchandise that, enable us to sell to you at extraordinary prices. To prepare for a further new stock of Summer goods, we find we can clear off a quantity of spring materials, new ideas and fresh goods are continually being introduced. We must have them. We therefore invite you to this Great Sale where you will find that facts speak with greater force than elongated statements. So come and see for yourself. The goods and prices do the talking.

A Few of the Lines

Men's English Blue Serge Suits, all sizes 34 to 40 at - $3.50

Men's Spring Suits, Dark Grey Halifax Tweed, made single breasted with French Facings, worth $7 00, our price - $4.00

Men's spring Suits, Black or Blue twill serge suits, made single breasted with French facings, worth $8.00 our price - $4.50

The finest and nobbiest assortment of Boys' two and three piece suits in the city. All sizes and at low prices.

The Globe Clothing House
Up-to-date Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers.
390 FRONT STREET,
LOOK FOR THE GLOBE OVER THE DOOR.

Daily Intelligencer.

MULOCK AND THE 'LONGSHORE STRIKERS.

At one of the meetings held in Montreal the Minister of Labor, Sir William Mulock, was present, and is reported by the Montreal Herald, a Government organ, to have delivered himself of the following speech when addressing the strikers:

"You have borne yourselves like men. Continue to act with dignity, and you will help the great cause of labor in Canada immeasurably. To-night I go back to Ottawa. I will tell the Premier, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, of the creditable way in which you have acted."

For the uttering of such untruths and demagogical appeals the Huntingdon Gleaner administers to the Labor Minister a just rebuke. It, after quoting the speech, says:

"All this said when Sir William, by looking out at a window of the hall, could see the wharves lined by red-coated sentries, but for whom not a box or a bale could be unloaded from the ships waiting to discharge their cargoes. The men whom he was complimenting on their conduct, had driven non-union laborers into cover, had mercilessly pounded those who fell into their hands, and, when they could with safety, had been filling the air with alternate volleys of stones and curses. Why were 500 young men summoned from desk and counter to shoulder the rifle and why have the taxpayers to foot a bill of $18,000? Was it not to put an end to a reign of terror by these very men whom two ministers of the Crown praise for "the creditable way in which you have acted?" Is not such encouragement of lawlessness, such patronage of brutal expression, an undermining of public security, a menace to the future peace of the country? In this free Canada the shameful spectacle was seen, that men willing to work could only do so under the protection of the bayonet. Aside from all questions as to the merits of the late strike, rises the paramount duty of obeying the law, and that the law was defied and trampled upon with fierce brutality by the strikers, and that they were only withheld from hourly deeds of violence by platoons of soldiers, is undeniable. Men have a right to refuse work, but they have no right to prevent others from working by intimidation and brute force. This great truth has to be vindicated in Canada; it will not be by Mulocks and Prefontaines, who flatter and encourage when they should rebuke and condemn."

The Montreal Gazette is not less outspoken in its denunciation of Mulock's conduct in inciting and justifying the strikers in their unlawful acts, adding:

"In the light of this evidence of the sympathetic attitude of Sir William Mulock towards the damnable and abominable doctrine which denies the right of free labor, can he be regarded as anything but what he is—a dangerous man in a dangerous place. Any employer of labor who spurns his offer of mediation or arbitration—as the Canada Atlantic Railway has done—is merely exercising an ordinary and commendable precaution."

With Ministers like Mulock and Fitzpatrick governing a country; the one inciting and commending the ringleaders in their riotous conduct, and the other pardoning a criminal who had been sentenced to jail for bribing men to commit perjury, and partizans justifying them in their acts, is it any wonder that the country is becoming demoralized?

Salted Peanuts

Fresh roasted, buttered, and salted to-day.

J. ARTHUR MARSH.

SOME GAMEY TID-BITS.

(Toronto World.)

The Globe reporter is putting Hon. J. R. Stratton in the hole as fast as The Globe editor can pull him out.

• • •

R. R. Gamey having been asked to produce the $1200, common politeness demands that Frank Sullivan be invited to produce the I. O. U.

• • •

Cap. Sullivan is a lake sailor, who never knew what it was to encounter a genuine landlubber till he made that timber deal with Hon. E. J. Davis.

Hon. J. R. Stratton laying the corner stone of Centreville Church will be a feast for the gods, and the Gamey charges will duly preside as the ghost at the feast.

• • •

Mr. M. O. Hammond, The Globe reporter, was asked if he couldn't forget some things, and, unlike most of the other witnesses for the defence, Mr. Hammond couldn't.

• • •

If the Royal Commission show the same faith in the other statements of R. R. Gamey that they display in the latter's assertion that he borrowed $1200 from Frank Sullivan, their verdict will not be altogether colorless, like printers' ink.

• • •

British justice was on the eve of making a heartrending shriek, when the Royal Commission saved the situation by commanding R. R. Gamey to hand into court the $1200 he borrowed from Frank Sullivan.

• • •

Where did the money come from? asks the Globe. And the witnesses answer with one accord: "We forget. It is our duty, and we do it."

• • •

Why was "Cap." Sullivan given $8,750 that ought to have gone to the province? Where did this money go to?

• • •

"Cap." Sullivan has "forgotten that he is wanted at the Legislature to give evidence."

• • •

To be a smooth skater in Ontario politics it is necessary to master the art of "forgetting."

• • •

None are so forgetful as those who are asked to forget and who don't want to remember.

TIMELY TOPICS.

There really seems to be no hope for a good steady rain 'till the circus comes.

• • •

The special committee having reported in favor of it, there seems reason to believe that a High School Cadet Corps will be formed in this city. And many a worse move might be made.

• • •

After that scorching address of Mr. Blake's, Stratton must feel as though he had been sand-papered.

• • •

As a specimen of vigorous English, the Minister of Education should have Mr. Blake's address put into one of the Public School books, but he won't.

• • •

Being a moral leper, the best thing Stratton can do is to "lep" out of the Cabinet.

• • •

All the Cabinet knew, said Mr. Blake. They are as deep in the mud as Stratton is in the mire. In the whole bunch, from beginning to end, there is not one of them morally fitted to lay a corner stone.

• • •

We have heard My Dear Foy, My Dear Stratton and My Dear Gamey, but none of 'em are as dear as old Cap. Sullivan, whose election work for the Grits cost the people of this province about $9,000 worth of timber limits, for which he paid $250.

• • •

The special committee appointed to look into the public bath matter are looking over the grounds this afternoon. In conversation with one of the Aldermen he said that, while admitting the force of ex-Mayor Johnson's remarks, it must not be forgotten that Zwick's Island is a long way off. A public bath, our Aldermanic friend thought, should be in close proximity to a public place. Then again, where children go in bathing, there must be somebody to look after their safety. If the bath was in the proximity of Queen Victoria Park, the caretaker of the park, with his gondola-like punt, could look after the bath in addition to his present duties, whereas, were the bath on Zwick's Island, a new man might have to be hired. Our Aldermanic friend's impression is that a bottom could be made, and a bath built at a point about 60 feet to the southwest of the park, and a walk built out to it. However, the committee will carefully consider everything before coming to any conclusion.

• • •

Many people in this city wondered what the police were doing between 12 and 1 o'clock to-day, that they did not make some effort to stop the explosion of fireworks on Front St. It is more than time that this illegal practice was stopped. Merchants are complaining and everybody condemns the practice as an unmitigated nuisance. Why don't the police bestir themselves and make examples of some of the offenders? Do they mean to wait till there are a few runaways, and somebody gets his neck broken? It looks like it.

Lace Curtains and delicate fabrics are best washed with Sunlight Soap. No injury from scrubbing or impurities. 33

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Advertisements under this heading TWO CENTS A WORD; subsequent consecutive insertions ONE CENT A WORD. No los charged as less than twenty-five words.

No police court to-day.

The Easterbrook mill, in Tweed, including the residence adjoining, was sold to the Deseronto Milling Co., for $16,000. Experts consider the price paid a good one.

Mr. Robert Wilson, of this city, who had the misfortune to injure his right eye a few days ago, yesterday afternoon had to have the injured optic removed. The operation was successfully performed at the hospital.

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

A number of prominent Masons from the city, to-day accompanied Mr. R. E. O'Flynn, D.D.G.M., to the village of Wooler, to take part in laying the cornerstone of a church.

The Annual Convention of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Belleville District will be held in White's Church, Bayside Circuit, on Wednesday, May 27th, commencing at 10 a.m., with afternoon session at 1.30.

Coin Pay Envelopes at The Intelligencer Job Office. Cheapest and best in the city.

A meeting of the Historical Society will be held, to-morrow evening, May 23rd, at 8 o'clock, in the Officers' Quarters, when a delegate will be appointed to attend the annual meeting in St. Thomas; and other business of importance will be transacted. It Deseronto ratepayers will vote on a by-law creating a debenture debt of $20,000 for granolithic sidewalks.

The Cheese Board of Tweed sent a resolution of condolence to the family of the late Richard Porter.

The Madoc Driving Park track is to be fixed up and put in condition for speeding horses.

Mr. C. A. Jones, Tamworth, is suffering from pneumonia and slight hopes for his recovery are entertained.

Up to date about 100 fairs in the Province have placed themselves on the "converted" list. These will put a ban on horse racing, and will have expert judges.

The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.—Napoleon.

The wise are polite all the world over; fools are polite only at home.—Bacon.

Slater Shoe Advertising

Foot Comfort

Short talks by the Slater Shoe ad. man, No. 3.

For years the "Slater Shoe" has been advertised as the shoe of comfort—of foot ease.

Thousands of pairs of "Slater Shoes" have been bought because of this claim.

Now imagine a man or woman buying a second pair of "Slater Shoes" after a course in foot agony in a pair of ill-fitting "Slaters."

If the "Slater Shoe" had not proven to wearers its claims to comfort how long could it have remained on the market, no matter how loudly or skillfully it might have been advertised?

How long could the makers have continued to expend large sums in advertising had the "Slater Shoe" fallen short in any of its advertised claims to comfort, wear and appearance?

The Slater Shoe

Goodyear welted. Made in Canada 40 years.
$3.50 and $5.00—for men and women.

Sole Agent
J. J. HAINES, BELLEVILLE.

SATURDAY, JUNE 6, IS CIRCUS DAY.

Ringling Brothers Are Coming With the Biggest Show on Earth.

Saturday, June 6, is Ringling Bros.' circus day. The greatest show on the world will bring its wonders to us at last. For weeks circus has been in the air and now the dream of day and night is to be realized. The eighty cars used to carry the immense aggregation will draw in here early Saturday morning, and it needs no prophet to foretell the crowds that will greet the splendid caravans. This year the Ringling Brothers' great shows are almost twice as big as ever before, and that fact makes comparison with any other show impossible, and indicates tremendous size. The great tent will seat comfortably 18,000 people, and the menagerie canvas is the largest ever made, furnishing commodious room for the arranging of 108 cages, lairs, dens and tanks. There are 650 horses, with the huge shows, more than 200 of which are bred in the purple and highly educated. The zoological collection is incomparably the rarest in existence. It exhibits two giraffes, the last of their tribe; the only rhinoceros in captivity; a genuine baby elephant, Baby Boo, born January 8, 1903, and only 30 inches high, unweaned and as playful as a kitten; and the greatest herd of elephants in the world, forty in number. Twenty of these bulky beasts perform amazing tricks in the rings. Two groups of acting seals are another exclusive feature. They are shown on separate stages, and act in unison at the direction of their owner and trainer, Capt. Webb. This is the most instructive exhibition of animal training ever accomplished. The pick and flower of the circus profession in Europe and America appear in the extraordinary ring programme. Many of the acrobats, gymnasts, equestrians, riders, equilibrists, jugglers, athletes, contortionists, dancers, wire artists and myriad other feature performers are introduced by the Ringling Bros. in this country for the first time. The progressive policy of this famous amusement firm is illustrated this year in the production of a massively ornate and magnificently costumed spectacle, Jerusalem and the Crusades. 1,200 characters, more than twice the number ever used in a spectacle before, are in the cast, and a ballet of 300 beauties and singing chorus of 200 add to the delightful charm of the enchanting scenes. More than 200 daintily fashioned and classically correct costumes are worn in the varied and thrilling action, and the stage is larger than the combined stage room of 100 theatres. A huge grand pipe organ, the only portable one ever made, accompanied by a selected band of 50 soloists, render the specially composed music.

This production is beyond comparison the most colossal, artistically pictured in costume and scenic display, instructive and exhilaratingly pleasing ever presented to the American public.

Show day will begin with the grand free street parade, which with Ringling Brothers is a unique and delightful treat. It is twice longer than the procession of any other show, and every man, woman and child with the immense organization takes some part. Two performances will be given here Saturday, June 6, in the afternoon at 2 o'clock and at night at 8 o'clock. Reserved seat checks and general admission tickets will be on sale at Riggs' music store at same prices as charged on show grounds.

Coin Pay Envelopes at The Intelligencer Job Office. Cheapest and best in the city.

Lost chances never leave any trail.

The wildcat's teeth are close to its purr.

THE WEATHER.

To-day's Probs—

Moderate to fresh northerly to easterly winds, fine and slightly cooler. Saturday, easterly winds, fair until evening.

To-day's Temperature

As Registered by The Intelligencer's Guaranteed Thermometer:

8 a.m.	63
12 m.	73
2 p.m.	78
3 p.m.	80

REIGN OF
The Leather Bag

The Leather Bag in its many forms of varied attractiveness is everywhere in evidence this year and promises to hold its popularity for some time to come.

THE BAG IS THE RAGE

There are SOUND REASONS for this; it is not a mere fad. Our goods are right in line with the spirit of the times.

Angus McFee.
Jeweler & Optician
310 Front St.

P.S.—In the matter of the new Blouse Pin Sets we show everything that is "taking" in the larger centers.

There is not a foreign water that one of the MAGI Caledonia Waters does not advantageously replace for either as a medicinal or table use. J. J. McLaughlin, sole Agent, Toronto. Sold everywhere.

Specials in Millinery
Sale of Sailor Hats.
We bought too many.
15 doz. cleared at
HALF PRICE.
White and Colored.
ALL NEW.
Also some very choice Dress Hats just received.
GET FIRST CHOICE.
MISS IRWIN
Millinery and Corset Specialist

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M.D., C.M., M.R., C.S., England.
Office and Residence — Corner of Bridge and George streets — three streets East of Post Office.

DR. J. F. MATHER
Has removed his office to Pinnacle St., three doors north of Hotel Quinte. my29-6mw

LEGAL.

WILLS & WRIGHT.
Barristers, Solicitors, Notary Public, &c., Belleville.
Office—2 Campbell Street.
MALCOLM WRIGHT. J. FRANKLIN WILLS.
Money to Loan at Lowest Rates.

W. C. MIKEL, B. C. L.
Barrister, &c.
Solicitor for the City of Belleville.
Office—Metropolitan Block, Corner Front and Campbell Streets.

PORTER & CARNEW.
Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc.
Offices — Robertson Block, East Front St., Belleville, Ont.
'Phone 87.
E. G. PORTER. WM. CARNEW.

WILLIAM N. PONTON.
Barrister-at-law, Solicitor. Notary Public, Conveyancer. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge Street, Belleville.
Money to Loan — Private Funds, Solicitor Sun and Hastings Savings and Loan Company of Ontario.

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE.
Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.
Barrister, Solicitor, Conveyancer, Etc. Office, McAnnany Building, corner Front and Bridge Sts., Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security.
Charges moderate.

INSURANCE.

Fire Insurance.
Guardian - - - Est'd 1821
The North America, - Est'd 1792
Quebec, - - - Est'd 1818
City, Town and Village Property insured at lowest rates.
R. W. ADAMS. Agent.
Office opposite Post Office.

PERSONS desiring Life insurance cannot do better than consult
W. J. THOMSON,
who is the Agent for the following well-known and old established Assurance Companies:
ROYAL. ALLIANCE.
OCEAN ACCIDENT STANDARD LIFE
Office at Rathbun Co., Bridge St. oc8-d&w

THOS. STEWART,
Insurance and Commission Agent.
Agent for the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Scottish Union National Ins. Co.
BRIDGE ST.

FIRE, LIFE & ACCIDENT INSURANCE
At Lowest Rates. The Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Perth Mutual on farm and city property. Also money to loan at 5 per cent. upwards.
JAMES A. CHISHOLM.
Office Ashley Block, - Front st., Belleville.

Money Saved is Money Earned
can earn you money by saving it for you in your Fire Insurance.
The Anglo-American Fire Ins. Co.
The Merchants Fire Ins. Co.
The Equity Fire Ins. Co.
Are all strong Canadian stock companies and insure Farm and City Property at lower rate than other stock companies. Call and see me before placing your fire insurance.
Office—Bridge St., same entrance Quinte Laundry, Belleville.
H. FREEMAN KETCHESON

Fire, Life & Plate Glass Insurance.
Liverpool & London & Globe of England.
Waterloo Mutual, of Waterloo, Ont.
Lloyd's Plate Glass.
Home Life Association, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile.
Farm and City Property insured in First-class Reliable Companies and at lowest current rates. Losses promptly settled. Land valuation, and transact general Real Estate business and sale or purchase and renting of property. Appraiser for the Hastings Loan & Investment Society. Money to Loan.
W. P. HUDSON, Office above Rathbun's office, cor. Bridge and Pinnacle Sts., opposite Postoffice and Hotel Quinte, Belleville.
'Phone 168.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. G. NORTHROP.
Issuer of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville, Ont.

CHAUNCEY ASHLEY.
Issuer of Marriage Licenses.
Private Office, Bridge St., Belleville, opposite the Post Office.
Residence, first house east of W. W. Chown's Mfg. Co., Station St.
Appointments made.

He who foresees calamities suffers them twice over.

Those who live in yesterday's wigwam are always a day behind.

The best way to get even is to forget.

Style and Comfort

A wheel that's made for style and comfort—that is comfortable, sells at a comfortable price. Such a wheel is this. It is made by experts, finished thoroughly—being made right, it will outwear a less superior wheel, and it dosen't cost any more.

BRANTFORD

is a bicycle that heads the list in bicycledom. With the HYGIENIC CUSHION FRAME it is comfort, solid and simple—it is the wheel that did a mighty big lot towards regingering wheeling. What the Pullman is to railroading, the cushion frame is to wheeling.

John Lewis & Son.
BELLEVILLE.

Canada Cycle & Motor Co., Limited,
TORONTO JUNCTION.

COMING TO BELLEVILLE Saturday, June 6, Second Tour of Canada

RINGLING BROS. WORLD'S GREATEST SHOWS
ONLY RHINOCEROS IN CAPTIVITY.
LITTLE BABY BOO ONLY AMERICAN-BORN BABY ELEPHANT.
ONLY PAIR OF FULL GROWN GIRAFFES IN CAPTIVITY.
THE BIGGEST SHOW ON EARTH TO WHICH IS NOW ADDED WITHOUT ANY ADDITION IN PRICE, THE SUBLIME SPECTACLE JERUSALEM AND THE CRUSADES 1200 CHARACTERS IN THE CAST. 300 DANCING GIRLS. 60 MUSICIANS. 200 CHORUS SINGERS. 68-STOP PIPE ORGAN. 2000 COSTUMES.
COPYRIGHT 1903 BY THE COURIER CO. BUFFALO, N.Y.
INAUGURAL SCENE, SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.
ABSOLUTELY AN ADDITIONAL TRAIN OF CARS ARE REQUIRED TO CARRY THE SCENERY, WARDROBES, ARMORS, WAR IMPLEMENTS, ACCESSORIES AND PEOPLE OF THE NEWLY ADDED AND ENORMOUSLY GRAND SPECTACLE OF JERUSALEM AND THE CRUSADES
85 DOUBLE LENGTH RAILROAD CARS
40 BIG AND LITTLE ELEPHANTS
1280 PEOPLE
108 WILD ANIMAL CAGES
650 HORSES
40 FUN-MAKING CLOWNS
$3,700,000 CAPITAL
$7,400 ACTUAL DAILY EXPENSE
BALLET SCENE
SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.
BIGGEST CIRCUS ON EARTH
375 PERFORMERS & 6 BIG ARENAS
3 LONG MILES OF NEW AND COSTLY
2 TROUPES ACTING SEALS
THE NELSON FAMILY
A PARADE SUCH AS THE WORLD HAS NEVER SEEN BEFORE
PARADE GLORIES FREE UPON THE STREETS EVERY MORNING AT 10 O'CLOCK
TWO PERFORMANCES DAILY AT 2 AND 8 P. M. DOORS OPEN AT 1 AND 7 P. M.
ONE 50-CENT TICKET ADMITS TO EVERYTHING. CHILDREN UNDER 12, HALF PRICE

Admission and numbered Reserved Seat Tickets sold on show day at Riggs' music store at same prices as charged at ticket waggons on show grounds.

Belleville, Saturday, June 6

HAMILTON CHURCH SEVERE ON ROSS.

METHODISTS' DISTRICT MEETING PASS STRONG RESOLUTION.

Hamilton, Ont., May 21.—At the annual district meeting of the Methodist Church, held this afternoon in Gore Street Church, the following resolution was moved by Rev. C. J. Dobson, of Caledonia, a life-long Liberal, and Rev. C. R. Morrow:

"That this annual meeting of the district deeply regrets the decision of Hon. G. W. Ross and his Cabinet not to grant advanced temperance legislation this session; that we do not consider the reason assigned as sufficient reason, and we do most earnestly protest against the way in which he treats the sober conviction of nearly 200,000 voters of this fair Province of Ontario, who said with no uncertain voice on December 4 last 'the bar must go.'"

The mover and seconder of the resolution made strong speeches condemning the Ross Government for its unfair treatment of the temperance people, while Rev. G. F. Salton protested that the Methodist Church was continually nagging at the Government. He thought the Church should leave politics alone, and devote its undivided attention to ecclesiastical work. J. J. Horning, of Ancaster, was also opposed to the resolution. He said the Methodist Church was doing the temperance cause more harm than good. This statement called forth cries of "Shame! Shame! and other protests. The resolution was finally referred to a sub-committee of four Liberals and an independent named by Rev. T. Albert Moore, the president, himself a staunch supporter of the Ross Government. The statistical report showed the membership of the district to be 7,020, an increase of 205, and the amount collected for missions to be $7,460, an increase of $452. Rev. J. H. Hazelwood was appointed to represent the district on the Conference Stationing Committee, with Rev. Mr. Sellery alternate representative.

Piles To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles, the manufacturers have guaranteed it. See testimonials in the daily press and ask your neighbors what they think of it. You can use it and get your money back if not cured. 60c a box, at all dealers or EDMANSON, BATES & Co., Toronto.
Dr. Chase's Ointment

Curious Bits of News.

Denmark has a system of insurance against the possibility of spinsterhood. If a sum of about $225 is deposited on behalf of a girl at birth, she becomes entitled, if unmarried at the age of thirty, to receive an annuity of $25, which is increased by $25 every ten years. If, however, she marries before she is thirty, $225 is returned to her, or if she dies before she is that age, there is a contribution of some $30 or $35 toward her funeral.

The experiments carried on during the past six months by the Department of Agriculture at Washington to test whether the preservatives used in packing food products for export are injurious, have shown that they are harmless. Twelve officials of the department's bureau of chemistry volunteered to diet themselves consistently for six months on food which had been adulterated with boracic or salicylic acid as a preservative, and, having fulfilled their undertaking, they find their health entirely unaffected.

The most frantic appeal for a servant ever put into type has just appeared in a Chicago newspaper. It took 500 words and $20 to express the would-be employer's feelings. After describing the favorable location of his home, and his "small family," he appeals for "a medium-sized girl," because "a small girl might not have strength to draw the salary we are willing to pay," and adds: "If you don't want to wash your own clothes we will send them with my laundry and pay for them. If you don't like to wait at table we will turn the kitchen into a cafe, and all walk out and wait on ourselves. The nurse and you have separate rooms on the third floor. She is very lady-like, but if she is objectionable to you in any way we will let her go. My wife will try very hard to please you, but if you don't like her I will let her—well, anyway, come to our rescue."

To be arrested on a charge of holding one's skirts too high on a rainy day suggests, of course, the United States. Joplin, Missouri, was the precise scene of the incident, and Miss Flo Russell its victim or heroine. It was charged against her, quite in the Addisonian style, that the height at which she held them created enough commotion to amount to a disturbance of traffic. Her youth and prettiness, if they did not aggravate the offence, did aggravate the commotion; and a policeman arrested her. Miss Russell, in her defence, said that she was wearing a new and particularly handsome silk petticoat, and other "things" equally new and equally handsome, and that she held her skirt just high enough to prevent them from being muddied, but not an inch higher. To clinch the matter, she had come dressed in the identical clothes, and was ready, if the judge desired, to give a demonstration in court. The judge, of course, jumped at it; a space was cleared, and the court became so unjudicially fascinated with the performance that it took him fifteen minutes to discharge her, with apologies. And so progress continues, even in America.

Birds and Commerce.

The fact that the Government of India has just decided that no more bird skins and plumage shall be exported gives satisfaction to bird-lovers everywhere. The reason given for the Government's decision is that, owing to the wholesale destruction of birds, destructive insects have it all their own way, and crops in India have suffered alarmingly from this cause.

The feather trade is an important part of the commerce of London, as anyone who has seen the London and India docks warehouse during a feather sale can realize. The supply from India alone is enormous.

Picture veritable mountains of the feathers of the green parrot, which is a favorite with the plumassier on account of its adaptability. Green, shimmering hills of millions of feathers that not long ago were the proud possession of the gleaming denizens of the Indian woodlands, and through the glorious green a shimmer of scarlet, that beautiful red which, for brilliance, is not surpassed anywhere in nature.

The effect of stopping this trade means greater prosperity for the ostrich farmers in South Africa, and possible legislative action as to the destruction of birds in the south of Europe.

Fascination of Bridge Whist.

Horace C. Du Val, the author of the popular little book, "Bridge Rules in Rhyme," in speaking of the fascinations of the game the other day, told the following story:

"One morning last summer we arrived at Geneva from Paris, with plans for a three days' visit. On reaching the hotel we met a friend, who suggested 'just a couple of rubbers before dinner.' Well we agreed and played right through until late that night, with short intermissions for meals. The next day we repeated the programme, and the day after that also, so that when we started for Aix-les-Bains we had seen nothing of Geneva but the hotel. I know that there is a beautiful lake there; I hear that Chillon, with its 'dungeon cell,' is worth visiting, and that Geneva and its surroundings are chock full of 'sights,' but we saw nothing, and didn't care much, for we had a great time at bridge."

A Pleasant Prospect.

Miss Kitty Candour (who has just accepted dear Reggie, and is now taking him fully into her confidence)—I must tell you, Reggie, dear, that the great fault of my character is that after I have taken any resolution—it doesn't matter what it may be—I always bitterly repent it!

The Man and the Moment.

Miss Gushing—Oh, Mr. Priestly, to me you are the very personification of religion. Rev. Mr. Priestly—I hope, Miss Gushing, that you will not lose this opportunity of embracing religion. Miss Gushing—Oh, Mr. Priestly, this is so sudden!—"Harper's Bazar."

Sure Enough.

"John," said a frightened wife in the middle of the night, "there's something moving downstairs, I'm sure!"

John listened intently.

"Oh, it's nothing but the gas meter pegging away," he said with a sigh of re-

ADVERTISING RATES.

Measurement Nonpareil—12 lines to an inch.
Display advertisements, 10c per line.
Subsequent consecutive insertions, 5c.
Reading advertisements, 15c per line.
Preferred position, 20 per cent. advance upon casual or contract rates.
Minimum space, 10 lines.
Marriages and deaths, 50c each insertion.
Births, 25c each insertion.
Rates for Condensed Advertisement will be found in 1st column of 2nd page.
All advertisements are subject to the approval of the Publisher of the Intelligencer.
Address all communications to the Intelligencer Printing & Publishing House Limited, or to Charles J. Bowell, Managing Director and Treasurer.
Canadians in London will find The Intelligencer on file at E. & J. Hardy & Co.'s Office, 30 Fleet Street, London, E. C.

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS

SITUATIONS WANTED, HELP WANTED, LOST OR FOUND, FOR SALE OR TO RENT, &c.
(Auction Sales not included in this list)
TERMS.—Twenty-five words or less, 25c first insertion; two insertions, 50c; four insertions, 75c; one week $1.00, two weeks, $1.75, three weeks, $2.25; one month, $2.50. Strictly cash in advance.

WANTED.

Junior Law Clerk (male). PORTER & CARNEW. m22dtf

General servant. Apply to Mrs. (Dr.) Boyce. 21-4t

A girl to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. S. A. Hyman, 264 George St. 19-5t

A few men and women to work for us at home during spare time. Pleasant work. Liberal pay. No canvassing. Imperial Company, London, Ontario. m12-1m

Not fakes nor fads but household needs. Used everyday by everybody. Can't you sell them? Others do and make fortunes. Still room. Write at once to G. Marshall & Co., London, Ont.

By S. Langbort—Scrap iron, metal, old rubber, etc. Will pay the following prices: Old iron, 50c, 60c and 70c. per 100; mixed rags 50c per 100; copper 9c lb.; heavy brass 9c lb.; old rubber boots and shoes 6c lb.; lead and zinc 2c lb. Remember the place, Powell's Old Stand, Mill St., corner Brown. ap21-1m

Young men ambitious to learn lucrative trades, of which there are eight in connection with the business. Apply The Belleville Hardware Company, Belleville, Ont. a7dtf

Competent men to appoint agents, whole or spare time. Commission paid. Apply JOHN DOYLE, Drawer 531, London, a27-1yr

FOR SALE OR TO-LET.

House on Dundas street (north side). For particulars apply to Miss McCrudden, at Foster's restaurant, Front street, after 6 p.m. 18-6td

FOR SALE.

BICYCLE—Cleveland, 1903, hygienic cushion frame, coaster brake, 22 inch frame, Dunlop tires. Will be sold cheap. Original cost $65.00. tf

Comfortable, well built, seven room frame house and lot, situated on North Front St., in vicinity of Albert College. Apply to Mrs. Wm. McCreery, Belleville. my15-d1mem&iw

Stone house, 11 rooms, coal furnace, stable, barn. Large grounds. Cor. Frank and Moira Sts. north. Terms reasonable. H. Bull, on premises or Fred Bull, 21-2 Queen St., Toronto. ap18-dtf

Contractors and masons, any any person requiring lime may procure it from E. G. STAPLEY, Canifton Road, Belleville. New lime always on hand. a9-d&w6m

Dressed and Matched Lumber of all kinds, at ALFORD'S factory, Market Square. j12-tf

REMOVAL.

Dr. Clarke will shortly remove to the offices formerly occupied by the late Dr. Ward, over Burrows', and opposite Scantlebury's Book Store. a27dtf

Eye Troubles Are Hereditary

They are handed down from parent to child, and if there is a defect in a parent's eyes it is more than likely to be found in the eyes of the child also.
Red lids, styes, or itching, burning pains, are

Indications

of muscular troubles that can be overcome by using proper glasses.

ALEX. RAY

If the rattlesnake did not stop to talk he would be ten times more dangerous.

A NAGGING COUGH drives sleep and comfort away. You can conquer it with Allen's Lung Balsam, which relieves hard breathing, pain in the chest and irritation of the throat. Give it freely to the children. 2

A Sure Cure for Headaches.—Bilious headache, to which women are more subject than men, becomes so acute in some subjects that they are utterly prostrated. The stomach refuses food, and there is a constant and distressing effort to free the stomach from bile which has become unduly secreted there. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are a speedy alterative, and in neutralising the effects of the intruding bile relieves the pressure on the nerves which cause the headache. Try them.

The best wheel of fortune is honest labor.

Will be Found an Excellent Remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

Wedding rings in St. Kilda used to be made of worsted.

The Well Known Strengthening Properties of IRON, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

Coral is a talisman against thunder and evils by flood and field.

There is nothing equal to Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator for destroying worms. No article of its kind has given such satisfaction.

A woman never knows where the match box is.

Some persons have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhoea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change of water, cooking, and green fruit, is sure to bring on the attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed no further trouble will be experienced.

When one gets hopping mad his reason goes on a crutch.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which causes difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of "Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup," and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

The average watch represents but 12 hours of human labor.

Will positively cure sick headache and prevent its return. Carter's Little Liver Pills. This is not talk, but truth. One pill a dose. See advertisement. Small pill. Small dose. Small price.

If thy friend is honey, do not lick him up altogether.

Holloway's Corn Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

Attend no auctions if thou hast no money.

To Those of Sedentary Occupation.—Men who follow sedentary occupations, which deprive them of fresh air and exercise, are more prone to disorders of the liver and kidneys than those who lead active, outdoor lives. The former will find in Parmelee's Vegetable Pills a restorative without question the most efficacious on the market. They are easily procurable, easily taken, act expeditiously, and they are surprisingly cheap considering their excellence.

Many a man's self-conceit is due to his ignorance.

UNTOLD MISERY — WHAT A WELL-KNOWN COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER SUFFERED, AND HOW HE WAS CURED.—Gentlemen, About five years ago I began to be troubled with Dyspepsia, and for three years suffered untold misery, from this terrible complaint. I was at that time travelling for Messrs. Walter Woods & Co., Hamilton, and was treated by some of the best physicians in the country, but to no purpose. I continued to grow worse, one day I was induced to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and to my great surprise and joy, I soon began to improve. I continued using this medicine and when the third bottle was finished, I found I was entirely cured; and as a year has elapsed since then, I feel confident that the cure is complete and permanent. To all afflicted with this distressing complaint I heartily recommend Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery believing that the persistent use of it will cure any case of Dyspepsia.
(Signed),
T. S. McINTEE.

Over 250,000 copies of Charles Dickens' novels are sold annually.

He Has Tried It.—Mr. John Anderson, Kinloss, writes: "I venture to say few, if any, have received greater benefit from the use of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, than I have. I have used it regularly for over ten years and have recommended it to all sufferers I knew of, and they also found it of great virtue in cases of severe bronchitis and incipient consumption.

SAVE MONEY By JOINING The MUTUAL LITERARY-MUSIC CLUB OF AMERICA

25 Cents pays for three months' membership. Each member receives the official club organ every month, including 6 pieces of high-class vocal and instrumental new music each month, 18 pieces in all; also a Certificate of Membership which gives the privilege of Club Room in New York City, and of buying literature, music or musical instruments of any description at wholesale prices, saving you from 20% to 60% on your purchases. Don't fail to join at once. You [illegible] more than your money's worth. [illegible] ARY-MUSIC CLUB, Dept. , 150 [illegible]

A SHIRT SALE

We have just received from the manufacturers, 50 dozen Madras Shirts in sizes 14½ to 16½, soft bosoms, with separate cuffs. They should sell at $1.00, but we got a big snap and are going to clear them quick for 50c each.

You need not wait till you go on your holiday trip before getting some of these cool and pretty patterns. They take half the discomfort out of a hot day.

Not More Than one half Dozen sold to each Customer.

OAK HALL

Sole Agents for Sanford's Celebrated Clothing.

That Boy Needs Boots Again!

CAN'T HELP IT!

Boys rush into all sorts of games and sports and play havoc with their boots. Just received large shipment of

Our Special for Boys

Made of Cordovan. Some call it mule-hide, some call it horse-hide—we call it Cordovan. There is

One Trouble With This Boot.

The trouble is we can't get enough of them. Only one tanner tans the leather, only one firm makes the shoes, and neither can begin to supply the demand. So we are out of them half the time. They stand the strain better than any boot we know of.

Boys' sizes 1 to 5	$1.50
Youth's sizes 11 to 13	$1.25
Small Boys 8 to 10	$1.00
Girls' sizes 11 to 2	$1.25

If you have not used this line we shall be pleased to show them to you.

The J. J. Haines SHO HOUSES at Belleville, Napanee and Trenton

LLIGENCER JOB OFFICE
FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

rink dirt your neighbor's

Daily Intelligencer.

TIMELY TOP.CS

The women temperance workers in Kingston are acting upon the suggestion often made in this journal. That if the present liquor law were put in force there would be less need for prohibition. They had nine hotel-keepers in court on the 21st inst. for violation of the Liquor License Act. Hearing was postponed. "More power to their elbows."

• • •

One of the coal dealers in this city shows us figures to prove that, taking into consideration the charges for duty, freight, cartage, etc., the coal merchants of Oswego make 35 cents per ton more profit on their coal, retail, than do the coal dealers of this city. There are two pretty good newspapers in Oswego. Perhaps, when they see this item, they may do a few stunts in the way of getting prices reduced.

• • •

The miserable wretch, Kent, the slayer of poor, good-looking Ethel Dingle, is demanding a new trial. The prosecuting attorney says that, if Kent does get a new trial, he will ask the grand jury to indict him for murder in the first degree, instead of manslaughter, and he has not the slightest doubt that there is evidence enough to convict. So it would appear that, by obtaining a new trial, Mr. Leland Dorr Kent may jump out of the frying pan into the electric chair.

• • •

A serious thought presents itself—If this drought keeps on there may not be enough onions to keep the evaporator going next winter! Rain at once, please.

• • •

King Edward now wears his trousers creased on the side. Loyal people will at once tear for the tailor's shop.

• • •

A Kansas undertaker advertises a beautiful new hearse, guaranteed to please all who use it. He's had no complaints, so far.

• • •

The latest iniquity is a Bible trust, and it is said that, in the States, the price of Bibles will be raised 40 per cent. After that it can hardly be said that salvation is free.

The new cup defender Reliance may be a good boat, but so far as usefulness is concerned she is not in the same class with the boat of the same name which carries freight for the Rathbun Company, of Deseronto.

• • •

A gas tank, used for generating soda water, burst in New York the other day, killing a woman. The demon alcohol was not to blame for that, anyway.

• • •

ANOTHER CARNEGIE CRITICISM.

(Oswego Palladium.)

Mr. Carnegie does not meet with much success in giving away his money in Canada. He has made some insulting remarks about Canadians and Canadian industries. His latest was: "The best thing I know about Canada is that it is mostly Scotch." This was a bold assertion, especially when it is asserted that there is not a public scratching-post erected in the whole Dominion, and no one there has an opportunity of saying: "God bless the Duke of Argyle."

• • •

The Gamey case collapsed suddenly, the defence declining to put witnesses in the box to contradict the cabman's evidence that he drove Stratton and three ladies about Toronto, on the 11th of the month, during the hours that a lawyer had sworn he was with Stratton doing business in an office. In all probability the three ladies refused to "forget things." It is sad to think that a common cabman could drive a coach and two horses through Hon. Mr. Stratton's alibi.

• • •

The consensus of opinion seems to be that Hon. Mr. Stratton should be given a hint to call that corner stone engagement off. They must have a queer idea of the fitness of things up in Addington County when a man under a cloud such as he is is allowed to prostitute what has always been considered a solemn, sacred and honorable office. Presbyterians generally, throughout Ontario, should protest against the proposed mockery.

• • •

A certain minister's wife in this city is relating, with considerable mirth, an incident which happened on Sunday last. While in church the lady in question noticed a couple of ladies behind her, evidently strangers. At the conclusion of the service the clergyman's better half spoke to the young couple, welcoming them to the church. "Did you like the service?" she asked. "Very much," was the reply. "And what did you think of the minister?" was the next question. "Oh!" said the strangers, in chorus, "we liked him SO much. Isn't he a dear old man?" Inasmuch as the reverend gentleman in question is nearer 40 than 50, the point of the joke can easily be seen. It was his aureole of white hair that misled the visitors.

• • •

The little village of Wooler will certainly feel excited this afternoon, when all those distinguished visitors from Belleville reach there.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady — Holiday Brings Easier Prices at Montreal.

London, May 21.—Live cattle steady at 12c to 12½c per lb. for American steers, dressed weight; Canadian steers, 11¼c to 12c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9c to 9½c per lb. Sheep, 12½c to 13½c, dressed weight.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock were large, 109 carloads, composed of 1648 cattle, 901 hogs, 655 sheep and lambs and 175 calves. Besides the above there were 10 carloads of Chicago cattle on the market, being fed and watered.

Exporters—Best loads of exporters sold at $5 per cwt., medium to good at about $4.75 to $4.90.

Export Bulls—Choice quality bulls sold at $4 to $4.25 per cwt.; good bulls sold at $3.50 to $3.85 per cwt.

Export Cows—Export cows sold at $4.00 to $4.25 per cwt.

Butchers' Cattle—Choice picked lots of butchers, weighing from 1125 to 1200 lbs. each, equal in quality to best exporters, sold at $4.65 to $4.80; picked lots for local use sold at $4.40 to $4.60; loads of good sold at $4.50 to $4.65; fair to medium, $4.25 to $4.45; common, $3.65 to $3.75; rough to inferior, $3.40 to $3.60 per cwt.

Short-keep Feeders—Good steers, 1100 to 1300 lbs. each, are worth $4.60 to $4.80 per cwt.

Feeders—Steers of good quality, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, are worth $3.75 to $4.25 per cwt.

Stockers—One year to two-year-old steers, 400 to 700 lbs. each, are worth $3.30 to $3.60 per cwt.; off-colors and of poor breeding quality of same weights are worth $3 per cwt.

Milch Cows—Milch cows and springers are worth $35 to $53 each.

Calves—Calves sold at $2 to $10 each, or from $4.50 to $5.25 per cwt.

Yearling Lambs—Lambs sold at $5 to $5.50 per cwt.

Sheep—Prices, $3.75 to $4.25 per cwt. for ewes, and bucks at $3 to $3.25.

Hogs—Best select bacon hogs, not less than 160 lbs., nor more than 200 lbs. each, off cars, sold at $5.90 per cwt.; lights and fats at $5.65; sows, $4 to $4.50 per cwt., and stags, $2 to $3 per cwt.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, May 21.—To-day being a Roman Catholic holiday, the butchers were slow in coming out, and, having bought freely here yesterday, they did not need much to-day. About 250 head of cattle were offered at the East End Abattoir to-day, and none of the sales exceeded 5c per lb., but some choice beeves were sold yesterday at from 5¼c to 5½c per lb., with medium animals at from 3½c to 4¾c and the common stock at from 2½c to 3½c per lb. The calves offered to-day were chiefly the culls from yesterday's market, and sold at from $1 to $3 each. Shippers paid 4c per lb. for good large sheep, and the butchers paid from 3¼c to 4¼c per lb. for the others. Lambs sold at from $2.50 to $4.50 each. Fat hogs sold at from 6c to 6½c per lb., weighed off the cars.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, May 21.—Cattle—Light, quiet. Veals, receipts, 110 head; steady; tops, $5.75 to $6; common to good, $4.50 to $5.65. Hogs, receipts, 5100 head; fairly active; 5c to 10c lower; heavy, $6.35 to $6.50; fancy, $6.55; mixed, $6.20

Anecdotal.

A country convert, full of zeal, offered himself for service in his first prayer-meeting remarks. "I'm ready to do anything the Lord asks of me," he said, "so long as it's honorable."

Some years ago at a Mardi Gras ball at the Hopkins Institute in San Francisco, a man, masked, approached a woman, masked, and asked her for a dance, as is considered right and proper at Mardi Gras. "But I don't know you, sir," said the lady in her most icy tone. "Well, I'm taking as big a risk as you are," retorted the man.

A tender-hearted youth was once present at an Oxford supper, where the fathers of those assembled were being roundly abused for their parsimony in supplying the demands of their sons. At last, after having long kept silence, he lifted up his voice in mild protest. "After all, gentlemen," he said, "let us remember that they are our fellow-creatures."

The Chatsworth (Ont.) "News" says: "A good joke is told on a Chatsworth young man who went to Owen Sound one day last week and dropped into Dr. Lang's office to be vaccinated. The doctor asked him if he had ever been vaccinated before and he replied: 'I've been vaccinated twice and baptized three times and neither one of them took.' The doctor hesitated, but finally concluded to vaccinate him, and judging from the way he holds his arm the third vaccination 'took,' even if the third baptism didn't."

Jacob A. Riis tells of an Irish teamster who went to the priest in a fright; he had seen a ghost on the church wall as he passed it in the night. "And what was it like?" asked the priest. "It was like nothing so much as a big ass," said Patrick, wild-eyed. "Go home, Pat! and be easy," replied the priest, soothingly; "you've only seen your own shadow."

Thomas Bailey Aldrich once received a pathetic letter in a feminine hand announcing the death of a little daughter and asking if he would not send in his own handwriting a verse or two from "Babie Bell" to assuage the grief of the household. Aldrich sent the whole poem, and not long after saw it displayed in the shop of an autograph dealer, with a good, round price attached thereto.

Senator Cullom of Illinois was asked by a correspondent why the Committee on Foreign Relations had enjoined secrecy on the text of the new treaty with Great Britain, when the text of the treaty was printed in all the morning papers. "Just so, just so," said the senator; "that's the reason the injunction of secrecy was placed upon the treaty. We knew that if we made it public at once not a paper in the country would print its full text."

During his visit to New York Thackeray was very much attracted by the beauty and brilliancy of a Miss B., and, in accordance with foreign custom, made a morning call, when she did not expect anyone. Hearing some talking in the lower hall, she leaned over the banisters and asked the servant who it was. "It's Mr. Thackeray, ma'am." "Oh, damn Thackeray!" replied Miss B. "No," said Thackeray, who could not but hear the remark, "it's not Misther O'Dam Thackeray, but Mr. Makepeace Thackeray." And, with a laugh, Miss B. came down.

The venerable Mr. —— believed unqualifiedly in Boston, as not the hub only, but the forward wheels also, of the universe. The excellent old gentleman, having confessed to L. G. that he had never found time, during his busy life, to read Shakespeare, was advised to do so during the winter then approaching. In the spring G. called on the estimable citizen, and casually asked if he had read any of the plays during the season just passed. "Yes," he replied, "he had read them all." "Do you like them?" ventured G., feeling his way cautiously to an opinion. "Like them!" replied the old man, with effusive ardor; "that is not the word, sir! They are glorious, sir; far beyond my expectation, sir! There are not twenty men in Boston, sir, who could have written those plays!"

Lord John (Russell) with a curious artlessness of disposition which made it impossible for him to feign a cordiality he did not feel, united an astonishing want of tact. Once, at a concert at Buckingham Palace, he was seen to get up suddenly, turn his back on the Duchess of Sutherland, by whom he had been sitting, walk to the remotest part of the room, and sit down by the Duchess of Inverness. When questioned afterwards as to the cause of his unceremonious move, which had the look of a quarrel, he said: "I could not have sat any longer by that great fire; I should have fainted." "Oh, that was a very good reason for moving; but I hope you told the Duchess of Sutherland why you left her." "Well—no. I don't think I did that. But I told the Duchess of Inverness why I came and sat by her."

The Use of the Word "Lady."

It is said that it is coming to be the fashion again to use the word "lady," and that the word "party" is also in better favor. For some years modish persons have called ladies "women," and parties "functions." There was some excuse for the former substitution because "lady" was worked to death, and so misused as to make it ridiculous. But vague as its meaning is, it has a meaning (or meanings), to the conveyance of which it is indispensable, and the folks who have dismissed it from their vocabularies have not been persons of much philological discernment.

The use of "function" for "party" has been a mere fad that must have started as a pleasantry and gradually became a habit. It makes it possible to speak of a row at a ball as a "functional disorder"; but even that doesn't warrant its vogue. It is a poor, borrowed, anglicized word, which the British-American language doesn't need.

Quite Too Romantic.

"I say, is this here the novel you advised me to read?" said the cabman to the librarian. "Yes," replied the librarian; "that's the one." "Well," said the cabman, "you can just take it back. There's nine people in the first four chapters who hired cabs, and each of 'em, when he got out, 'flung his purse to the driver.' Now, when I want that sort of literature, I'll go to Jules Verne and get it pure."

"No," said the landlady, "we cannot accommodate you. We only take in single gentlemen." "Goodness," replied Mr. Marryatt; "what makes you think I'm twins?"—Philadelphia "Record."

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat Co.,
(LIMITED)
"The Bay of Quinte Route."

Str. "ALETHA"

Leaves Belleville on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 a.m. for Bay of Quinte ports and Kingston. Returning will arrive at Belleville on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10 30 p.m.

Belleville-Rochester Route

Str. "North King"

Commencing 31st May will leave Belleville on Sundays at 11.38 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. Returning arrives at Belleville on Sundays at 3.25 a.m. and leaves for Bay Ports, Kingston and 1000 Islands.

During July and August service will be daily except Monday.

Right reserved to change time with or without notice.

For passage and freight rates and other information, apply to
THE RATHBUN CO., } Agents.
U. E. THOMPSON. }
E. E. HORSEY, G. P. & F. Agent,
Kingston.

Montreal, Rochester & Quebec Transit Co'y.

Str. "Alexandria"

Service in effect 25th April.

Leaves Rathbun Co.'s wharf, Belleville, every Saturday at 11.00 a.m. for Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Every Monday at 7.00 a.m. for Montreal and all River Ports.

Thousand Islands by daylight.
Runs all St. Lawrence River Rapids.
Quebec excursions commence July 5th.

LOW FREIGHT RATES.

A. W. HEPBURN, General Manager, Picton, Ont.
THE RATHBUN CO. Agents. Belleville.

The Deseronto Navigation Co
TIME TABLE
Taking effect April 13, 1903.
Belleville, Trenton, Picton & Napanee

Str. "ELLA ROSS"

Leaves Belleville for Trenton at 10 a. m., daily, Sundays Excepted, returning leaves Trenton at 1 p. m., leaving Belleville at 3 p.m. for Deseronto, Napanee and Picton.

Quick and Superior Service to NEW YORK CITY

Steamers RESOLUTE and RELIANCE will leave Deseronto for Oswego after arrival of Str. Ella Ross connecting at Oswego with the New York, Ontario Western Ry.

Fare to New York, Single, $8.40
Return, $13.25

For further particulars apply to THE RATHBUN CO., Local Agents

J. F. CHAPMAN, Asst. Gen. Frt. & Pass. Agt., Deseronto.
A. C. CARTER General Manager Deseronto.

Just What You Want

Paint Brushes 7, 10, 15, 20, 25c.
Whitewash Brushes 10, 13, 15, 20, 25, 35, 45c.
1,000 Parlor Matches for 5c.
500 pairs Ladies' Bl'k Hose 5c pair.
500 printed Platters and Bakers, regular 25, clearing at 10c.
300 pairs Men's Sox, special, 4 pr. for 25c.
D. K. Blue Cups and Saucers, 35c 1-2 dozen.
1200 Dinner Setts for $8.00.
Curtain Poles, complete, for 20c.
Carpet Tacks, 2 for 5c.
Carpet Whips 10c each.
Kitchen Mirrors 12, 15, 20, 25, 30c.
Best Oil Blinds 30c.
6 Cakes Moss Rose Toilet Soap 15c.
3 Cakes Cold Cream Toilet Soap 5c.
6 Bars Eclipse Soap 25c.
Large variety of odd Wallpaper border, clearing at 1c yard.
50 varieties of Wallpaper, clearing at 5c Roll.
Large varieties 5, 7, 8, 10c Ceiling Papers, clearing at 3c Roll.

Be sure and visit our Wallpaper Department; it is the most complete, and has the best selected stock to choose from in the City.

Our Prices are 1-2 what other stores ask for same quality.

AT THE BEE HIVE
Chas. N. Sulman

Only 24 per cent. of doctors reach 70 years, but 42 per cent. of clergymen do so.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
VICTORIA DAY
MAY 24th, 1903.

Return Tickets will be issued at—
SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE,
Between all stations in Canada; also to Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, N.Y., Detroit, Pt. Huron, Mich., etc.
GOOD GOING MAY 23rd, 24th, or 25th, Valid returning from destination on or before May 26th, 1903.

COLONIST EXCURSIONS.

One way tickets at low rates on sale until June 15th, to points in Montana, Colorado, Utah, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and California.

Tickets sold in accordance with above will not be good on train No. 1 or train No. 4.

For tickets, and all information apply to
U. E. THOMPSON, City Agent, Bridge Street,
T. H. COPPIN, Depot Agent.
J. D. McDONALD, Dist. Pass Agt., Toronto.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.
WILL RUN
Homeseekers' 60 DAY Excursions
To The Canadian North-West at Return Fares.

Winnipeg, Waskada, Estevan, Elgin, Arcola, Moosomin, Wawanesa, Miniota, Binscarth, Grand View, Swan River } $28
Regina, Moosejaw, Yorkton, } $30
Prince Albert, Macleod, Calgary, } $35
Red Deer, Strathcona } $40

Going JUNE 4th, returning until AUGUST 4th (all rail) or S.S. Athabasca). Going JUNE 18th, returning until AUGUST 18th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going July 4th, returning until SEPTEMBER 8th (all rail or S.S. Manitoba). Tickets are not good on "Imperial Limited." For tickets and pamphlet giving full particulars, apply to your nearest Canadian Pacific agent, or to

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Genl. Passr. Agent, 1 King St. East, Toronto.
S. BURROWS, C.P.R. and General Ticket Agent, Front St., Belleville.

NEW YORK CENTRAL & HUDSON RIVER R. R.
THE FOUR-TRACK TRUNK LINE.
SHORTEST Route to the United States via Cape Vincent, N.Y.

GOING EAST AND WEST.		After 1st May
Lv. Belleville (G.T.R.)	12.22 p.m.	1.30 a.m
Arr. Kingston "	1.47 p.m.	3.12 a.m
Lv. Kingston (stage)..	2.30 p.m.	5.00 a.m
Arr. Cape Vincent (stage)	4.30 p.m.	7.00 a.m
Lv. Cape Vincent N.Y.C.	5.05 p.m.	7.25 a.m
Arr. Watertown "	5.55 p.m.	8.25 a.m
Arr. Oswego "	9.05 p.m.	11.55 a.m
Arr. Syracuse "	9.25 p.m.	12.07 p.m
Arr. Rochester "	1.05 a.m.	2.20 a.m
Arr. Utica "	9.45 p.m.	12.35 p.m
Arr. New York "	7.25 a.m.	6.00 p.m

Convenient train service in opposite direction.

Pullman Sleeping and Parlor Cars.

2c a Mile.

Books for 500 miles of travel on New York Central and leased lines within State of New York, cost only $10 while books for 1000 miles over New York Central, Boston & Albany, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, Philadelphia & Reading and C. R. R. of New Jersey cost $20. Secure further information and purchase tickets from F. A. Folger, N.Y.C. Agent, Kingston, Ont.

GEORGE H. DANIELS, Gen'l Pass'r Agent. New York.
A. H. SMITH, Gen'l Supt., New York.
G. C. GRIDLEY, Gen'l Agent, Watertown, N.Y.

Flowers & Vegetables
Of all kinds in season.
. . . AT . . .
J. D. COLLIP'S.
'Phone 205.

Airinit
"THEY BREATHE WHILE YOU WALK"
CONTROLLED AND MANUFACTURED BY GEO. A. SLATER

FOR TIRED, SWEATY, BLISTERING FEET
See our large assortment of the INVICTUS SHOE, made by GEO. A. SLATER.

VERMILYEA & SON.

This winsome lass of doleful mien,
Though thirty-five looks sweet sixteen,
She owes it too, t'would really seem,
To Abbey's Salt and not Cold Cream.

PERFECT HEALTH is beauty's chief attribute, and nothing contributes so much to health as Abbey's Salt taken regularly.

A DISEASED STOMACH will soon turn beauty to ugliness. BAD BREATH at once dispells the charm of a pretty face. Abbey's Salt is a gentle yet insistent laxative pleasant to take, always effective, never harsh.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt

Relieves headache—Cures indigestion

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE'S

English Breakfast Tea

FRAGRANT AND DELICIOUS.

IN HAF-POUND LEAD PACKETS —FULL WEIGHT

20, 25 & 30 cts. per packet—40, 50 & 60 cts. per lb.

The choicest growths of India and Ceylon. A sample free for the asking.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

BRIDGE ST. BRANCH STORE, FRONT ST.

RAILWAY TIME TABLES.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

Time of departure from Belleville Station:

Going East.

No. 16—Local for Brockville, 7 a.m., arrives back from Brockville 9.30 p.m.
No. 2—1.30 a.m., Mail and Express, (Flyer), Daily.
No. 6—11.40 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.
No. 4—12.22 p.m., International Limited, Daily.
No. 12—5.55 p.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

Going West.

No. 5—3 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily except Monday.
No. 3—4.10 a.m., Limited Express, Daily.
No. 9—5.50 a.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.
No. 11—11.22 a.m., Passenger, Daily except Sunday.
No. 1—1.50 p.m., International Limited Daily.
No. 7—5.10 p.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

Taking effect 12.01 o'clock, Sunday, June 15, 1902.

MIDLAND RAILWAY.

Belleville and Peterboro.

Going West.

	Leave.	Arr. Peterboro
Mail	5.40 a.m.	8.10 a.m.
Mixed	5.55 p.m.	9.05 p.m.

Going East.

	Arr.	L've Peterboro
Mixed	11.20 a.m.	8.20 a.m.
Mail	4.25 p.m.	2.05 p.m.

Belleville and Madoc.

Going North.

	L've	Arr. Madoc
Mixed	12.20 p.m.	1.20 p.m.
Mixed	6.30 p.m.	7.40 p.m.

Going South.

	Arr.	L've Madoc
Mixed	9.10 a.m.	7.30 a.m.
Mixed	5.00 p.m.	3.45 p.m.

None of the above trains run on Sunday.

Western Beef.

Prime Western Beef together with all kinds of choice meats, supplied by the district, at

C. GREEN'S

267 Front St., 'Phone 109.

You will drink dirty water if you roil your neighbor's spring.

The New Wall Paper Store

sells borders by the roll, same price as the papers.

THE BEST TALENT in the world is employed to design the paper we sell.

We select only the beautiful an harmonious designs because thos are the kind that please our patrons.

New Spring designs, delicate flower-like tints, all conceivable patterns, many exclusive designs, scrolls, ingrains, etc., ceiling nd border to match. Prices to suit all pocketbooks.

JOHN CORNELIUS,

Decorator, Painter, Grainer, and Paper Hanger, all work guaranteed first class.

Bank of Montreal

ESTABLISHED 1817.

Capital and Rest, All Paid Up.
$20,000,000
(Twenty Millions.)

Savings Bank Department

Interest on sums of $4.00 and upwards allowed at current rates.

A. G. PARKER,
Manager Belleville Branch

The Sun & Hastings Savings and Loan Co. of Ontario.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL
$5,000,000.

3 1-2 per cent. allowed on Deposits payable on Call.

4 per cent. on Deposits for one year or over.

Money to Loan upon favorable terms.

OFFICE, No. 46 Bridge St., Belleville.

J. P. C. PHILLIPS,
Manager Belleville Branch.

DAISY GORDON'S FOLLY

—OR—

THE WORLD LOST FOR LOVE'S SAKE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY,

Author of "The Crime of Hallow-E'en," "The Flirtations of a Beauty," "Willful Gaynell," "Little Leafy," "Only a Mechanic's Daughter," etc.

"No, no," moaned Daisy; "I must brave it out. This is but the beginning of the end."

"What are you saying about braving it out, dear?" said Aleck, anxiously. "You must not think of doing anything of the kind— you shall go home at once."

"I will go to Mrs. Dillingham's room and rest a little," she replied; "indeed, Aleck, I shall be all right then."

The hostess took Daisy to her boudoir.

"Rest here a good hour, my dear," she said, placing her on a velvet divan, "and then I shall come for you— you will feel greatly refreshed. I will dismiss my maid from the adjoining room that you may enjoy perfect quiet, and leave to your care in her place the family jewels. I hold to the good old plan that no hostess should outshine her guests in the way of gems, so I have laid them all aside for tonight. Good-bye for a short time, my dear," she said, kissing the lovely face.

Then turning the gas-jet low she quitted the room, bidding Daisy fasten the door after her.

"Alone with my own thoughts," moaned Daisy, as she turned the key in the lock. "I cannot live through it— the torture of it will drive me mad— yes, mad."

She closed her eyes, but all attempt to sleep was useless.

Ah, what a grave sea of trouble that one thoughtless act of folly had caused her— never more was she to know one hour of peace such as other women enjoyed, ah, never more.

A new difficulty was staring her in the face— Olive, her sister, seemed to be deeply infatuated with the French count, despite her warning; she could not look on calmly and see it, yet she dared not expose her enemy, for that would mean ruin to herself— Aleck's love turned to hatred, and deepest scorn— and death.

No, no; she could not betray her enemy, yet she must save Olive. But how?

She had been lying back on the velvet divan— her eyes closed — her hands pressed in agony over them. Suddenly she became dimly conscious of another's presence in the room.

She raised her head, and glanced furtively about her in the dim, uncertain light, and beyond through the open doorway into the inner apartment.

One glance, then a wild cry of horror broke from Daisy's lips.

In the inner room, bending over the open safe in which Mrs. Dillingham kept her diamonds, she beheld the figure of a man.

With a terrible oath he sprung toward her, and Daisy saw that he wore a heavy black-crepe mask over his face.

In an instant he had caught Daisy by the arm as she was flying headlong toward the door.

"Cry out again at your peril!" he hissed. "Make no noise, and you are safe. I am a desperate man; you must do as I say."

"I saw you put those diamonds in your pocket," panted Daisy. "Give them up, or I will cry out for help until some one comes— even though you should kill me for it."

A muttered curse fell from the man's lips.

Daisy was about to put her threat into execution, when he forced her back into a chair.

A desperate struggle ensued, and, in that struggle, Daisy caught at the mask and tore it from his face.

A moment of awful intense silence ensued.

"You would know me, it seems, my dear lady," he said mockingly. "I had no very good reputation in your eyes before; your discovery of what I am before the world makes no material difference, I fancy. I am a French count, a poet, a gentleman, a robber — anything you like; anything to suit the time.

"Make no outcry; I am going through that window with the diamonds in my pocket."

Before he had time to reach it, Mrs. Dillingham and a party of ladies came hurrying into the boudoir through another door, which Daisy had forgotten to lock, and, quick as a flash, with a daring coolness worthy of a better cause, the French count darted behind the heavy draperies of the window.

"Did you cry out, my dear?" asked Mrs. DDillingham, anxiously. "These ladies were passing through the corridor, and heard distinctly a loud piercing cry from this room, they say. Did you cry out?"

It almost killed poor Daisy to shield the wretch who stood so near her that she could have put out her hand and touched him — with the s-l- diamonds in his pocket her friend valued so highly.

She was tempted to denounce him— to drag him forth. To point to him, crying out:

"Call help— there is a robber behind those velvet hangings! Capture him— let justice be done!"

I—ng through the small space between the hangings, the count saw her face, and knew the struggle that was going on in her mind.

Would she dare denounce him?

"If she does, it will be my turn next," he muttered, grimly.

CHAPTER XX.

Suspected.

The struggle in Daisy's heart lasted but an instant.

"No, come what may I must shield this villain for my own sake," she told herself bitterly.

White as death she turned to Mrs. Dillingham.

"It was only your fancy," she said in a very steady voice. "I did not cry out, indeed I did not."

The ladies all looked exceedingly puzzled; they had been so sure they had heard a piercing scream in Daisy's voice, and from that room. Of course they must have been mistaken.

With many apologies for disturbing her, they took their leave, advising her to rest quite an hour before venturing down to the ballroom again, she was looking so pale.

Trembling in every limb, Daisy sunk into the nearest chair as the door closed behind them; and at that instant the count stepped forth from his place of concealment.

"Are we alone?" he whispered, glancing furtively about him.

Alone! Yes, she was alone with him, heaven help her. She realized that fact all too bitterly, but she dared make no outcry.

"I am glad of the opportunity to speak with you upon a very important subject," he went on with a little mellow laugh. "I hope I have your full attention, madam.!"

"Say what you have to say quickly," cried Daisy, springing to her feet, fairly trembling with scorn and loathing. "You pollute the air I breathe, I—— Oh, I could kill you, I hate you so!"

"It is not the first sin that would be laid at madame's door," he declared with another laugh, for which Daisy could have annihilated him.

"Time is valuable. It is necessary that I should humor madame by speaking quickly, and I will do so. I am much in love with madame's charming sister, Miss Olive. In love for the first time in my life, and for the first time in life the thought of marriage has entered my heart. Olive must be mine, and I shall depend upon madame to use her influence in my behalf."

White with passion, Daisy sprung to her feet.

"How dare you insult me so!" she cried. "How dare you mention my beautiful sister in the same breath with yourself? You aspire to her hand— you, a villain, a scoundrel, a robber!"

"I do indeed do myself that honor," returned the count, complacently.

"I would rather see her lying dead in her coffin, declared Daisy. "No, ver dare to speak to her again!"

He shrugged his shoulders.

"Madame does not frighten me by her anger," he said. "I expected it. If you would be happy in your love, you must help me to be happy with mine. Olive must be my wife, and that, too, within a month; for I shall be a hasty wooer, or—— Ah, well, you can imagine what would happen if she should refuse me. I would cut her pride down, level to the very dust through you."

"Are you human, or are you a monster?" gasped Daisy, in agony too deep for words. "Ah, heaven, you must be a fiend incarnate to torture me so."

"I am only very human, I assure madame; giving myself up to a love dream after seeing as much of the world as I have seen, proves it," he replied. "It is quite unnecessary to argue the point with you; we understand each other, I hope."

No answer fell from Daisy's stiff, cold lips —she had endured so much she quite believed no more trouble could come to her.

(To be continued.)

The Broken Health of School Life

CLOSE CONFINEMENT, OVER-EXERTION AT STUDY AND WORRY OVER EXAMINATIONS TOO GREAT A STRAIN FOR THE NERVES.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

So many school girls and school boys, too, are pale, languid and run-down in health, subject to weak spells and nervous headache, and victims of sleeplessness, that we no longer realize the folly of developing the mind at the expense of the body.

It is on the mothers and fathers that falls the responsibility of looking after the health of their children, and to them we suggest the wisdom of having the health of their children kept at the high water mark by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

This great food cure is so gentle and natural in action as to be admirably suited to the requirements of children. The benefits to be derived from its use are certain and lasting, as it goes to form new, red corpuscles in the blood, and create new nerve force.

MRS. R. WAREHAM, 267 SHERBROOKE ST., PETERBORO, ONT., STATES:

"One of my children has suffered a great deal with nervous headaches, dizziness and sleeplessness, and, in fact, was all run down, pale and languid. These troubles we attributed to over-study and confinement at school. She began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I can say that we have found this treatment exceedingly helpful. It has relieved her of headache, steadied her nerves, and built up her system wonderfully. We can see a great change in her, and she is gaining in flesh and weight."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Fresh Roll Butter

20 cents per lb.

J. C. Hanley & Co
GROCERS
Telephone 214

FOR MANSION OR MODEST COTTAGE

S.W.P. is safest, best, and most economical and not without reason.

It's best because made from best materials—pure lead, pure zinc, and pure linseed oil.

It's safest because the materials it is made from are all carefully tested both chemically and practically before being used to insure their being right and best for the purpose.

It's most economical because it covers most surface to the gallon and wears longest.

WATERS DRUG STORE

New Hats

READY-TO-WEAR HATS
DRESS HATS.

New Veilings

Latest styles—Best work.
We will surely please you.
Come and see them.

MISS M. CAMPBELL.
P.D. Corsets. 'Phone 117

A long portage makes a heavy canoe.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN and be sure that when you ask for Perry Davis' Painkiller you get just that and nothing else. Use it promptly to cure cramps, diarrhoea and all other bowel complaints in summer.

A System that Will not keep You waiting

Whether you want Painting, Paper Hanging, Decorating, Graining, or anything in our line, we will not keep you waiting. WE WILL NAME THE DAY, and that very day you will find us at your work, with an excellent staff of workmen—the very best mechanics that can be secured—workmen that we can rely on and that please our customers every time.

OUR WALL PAPER TRADE this year is so far the largest in the history of this house, and there are reasons behind the increased trade, and here they are—

FIRSTLY—Times are good, people have money and know where to spend it to advantage.

SECONDLY—By comparison with other lines our customers find our prices much lower and our styles of Wall Paper much higher than the ordinary.

THIRDLY—We give free two yards of bordering with each double roll of the Wall Paper it matches.

We hang our paper at very reasonable prices and always please our customers whether in papering, painting or anything else.

C. B. Scantlebury

Belleville's Decorator

Outside Painting. Inside Painting,
Paperhanging.

Wall Paper, Wholesale and Retail.

CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY

CAPITAL

10,000 Shares 7 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 each,	$1,000,000.
50,000 Shares Common Stock, par value $100, issued and fully paid	5,000,000
TOTAL CAPITALIZATION	$6,000,000

Issues of $1,000,000 00 7 p.c. Preferred Stock in 10,000 Shares of $100 each at par.

This stock is preferred both as to Assets and Dividends.

The shares are entitled to cumulative preferred dividends from the net earnings of the Company, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the first days of April and October. They may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged for common shares. They are subject to be called in, in whole or in part, by the Company, at $115.00 per share, at any time after 1st January, 1909.

The total issue of Preferred Stock is only $1,000,000.00, the whole of which is now offered.

Subsriptions for 10,000 Shares of $100 each of the 7 per cent. Preferred Stock of the CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY will now be received at par, that is $100 Share, as follows

per cent on application,
25 " " on allotment,
35 " " 30 days thereafter.
35 " " 60 days thereafter.

One share of Common, par value $100, given with each share of preferred.

The whole of instalments remaining unpaid at any time may be prepaid in full. A discount of one per cent will be allowed upon the par of each share if prepaid at time of allotment

Notice of allotment will be sent promptly by ordinary letter.

COAL

PROPERTY IN FULL OPERATION

Company owns 9,600 acres of coal property known throughout the coal trade as the New Campbellton Colliery, located on Bras D'Or Bay, County of Victoria, Cape Breton, Novia Scotia. Mine is fully equipped, producing and marketing tons of coal a day at a net profit of $1.00 a ton. Improvements are now being made that will increase the output to over 1,000 tons a day. On present output, figuring 300 working days in year, the net result will more than pay interest on entire issue of preferred, with output of 1,000 tons a day net result will be $300,000 per annum.

IRON

RICHEST ORE IN THE WORLD

Company owns in fee simple, free and clear of all incumbrances, 4000 acres of iron ore deposit, located Natashquan (tidewater) situated on North shore of Gulf of St. Lawrence, in the County of Saguenay, province of Quebec.

Deposits contain 20,000,000 tons of ore ABOVE SEA LEVEL ALONE.

Quality of ore is highest ever discovered, running from 69 per cent to 72 per cent in metallic iron.

More orders for the sale of this ore has been received by the Campany than can possibly be accepted, and at a price netting the Company a profit of $2 a ton F. O. B. vessels at Company's docks.

Send for prospectus giving full information as to earnings, reports, etc., etc.

Address all communications and send subscriptions to

COLONIAL SECURITIES CO.,
62 Wall Street, New York City

OR

W. L. MARSTON & COMPANY
110 State Street, Boston

The SAWYER COMPAN o.
351 Temple Building, Montreal, Can

THE

Intelligencer

Bindery

MAKES A SPECIALTY OF

Ledgers,

Journals,

Cash Books,

And all descriptions of

Blank

Account

Books

Mailing Tubes

Gold Lettering on Leather Goods, &c.

MAGAZINES,
ART WORKS,
PERIODICALS,
SERIAL NUMBERS

NEATLY BOUND

Map Mounting & Varnishing

☞ Estimates cheerfully furnished for every class of work.

ADDRESS—

The Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONT.

tho from magaz or rebo reasonabl such as books, with made to orde ranted first-cla
LIGENCER, Belle

SMOTHER A COUGH.

You can smother a cough with your hand but you can't cure it that way. Some medicines only smother coughs.

Scott's Emulsion cures them. Old coughs and deep-rooted coughs can't be cured until the inflammation which causes them has been replaced by healthy tissue.

That is exactly the kind of thorough work Scott's Emulsion does. It changes the entire nature of the throat and lungs so that there is nothing to cough about.

Send for Free Sample.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto

PERSONAL ...AND... SOCIAL.

The Intelligencer invites all its readers to contribute to this column all items of a personal nature, such as the arrival or departure of guests, the movements of well-known people, business men, etc. All that is required is to send a post card to or telephone The Intelligencer.

Mrs. Wm. Bennett, residing on Grier street, left to-day for a trip to New York.

Mr. William Orr, of Saginaw, Mich., has been called to the city owing to the death of his brother, the late Mr. James Orr.

Mr. E. C. Pascoe, a son of Mr. L. C. Pascoe, has become a member of the Twenty-Eighth Regiment band at Stratford. He was a former member of the I.O.O.F. band, this city.

Many people will regret to hear that Miss Maud Galey, librarian of Bridge St. Church reading-room, is indisposed and will be compelled to resign her position, such being the dictum of her medical adviser.

At the Quinte:—J. A. MacDougall, H. G. Shaver, W. N. Webster, W. L. Hess, A. Kirkpatrick, W. J. Cluff, J. M. Hamilton, A. E. Wertheim, A. H. Bevis, Toronto; W. R. Hemming, Kingston; J. Wheatley, W. Kutner, J. Rose, Montreal; J. McNab, City.

Mr. A. W. White, of the Bank of Commerce, this city, will be removed to the branch at Truro, N.S., next week. Mr. Henderson, of the Halifax Banking Co., takes Mr. White's place here in the Bank of Commerce.

Mr. B. G. Ostrom, formerly of this city, has become a resident of Buffalo, where he has secured a good position.

TENDENCY OF CATARRH IS TO SPREAD.

Just a slight matter at first, and because slight, neglected; but the seed sown brings forth a dangerous harvest, consumption, which is the harvest of death. Better spend a few moments each day inhaling Catarrhozone, an aromatic antiseptic that relieves at once, clears the nasal passages, and restores lost sense of taste and smell. The immediate effect of Catarrhozone is magical, so prompt and efficient. Cure is certain and permanent if you use Catarrhozone. Price $1. Small sizes 25c, at druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

BIG LUMBER DEAL IN NOVA SCOTIA.

AMERICAN CAPITALISTS BUY BUSINESS FOR $1,250,000.

Halifax, May 21.—The biggest money ever paid for a timber property in Nova Scotia was agreed upon to-day, when a syndicate of Americans, headed by J. M. Hastings, of Pittsburg, and M. W. Teufet, of the same city, together with New York and Philadelphia capitalists took over the timber mills of E. D. Davison and Company, on the Lahave River, Lunenburg, and their immense lumber areas in four of the western counties of Nova Scotia for a consideration of $1,250,000. The Davisons' business has been one of the best in this province, their timber finding a market chiefly in South America. The new owners propose to extend that market and also to develop other markets consuming a cheaper description of timber. They expect to be able to cut 50,000,000 feet yearly. The Americans also propose to erect pulp and paper mills and to create a gigantic enterprise at Bridgewater. The properties have been bonded for four months.

A FARMER CURED OF RHEUMATISM.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time, for it cured me.'" For sale by all druggists.

A man should be getting on well in life when he is getting well on in life.

Month after Month a cold sticks, and seems to tear holes in your throat. Are you aware that even a stubborn and long-neglected cold is cured with Allen's Lung Balsam? Cough and worry no longer.

LATEST NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS

AS FURNISHED TO THE INTELLIGENCER BY H. R. BEATTIE, STOCK BROKER.

New York, May. 22

STOCK	Op'g	H'st	L'st	Close.
Atchison	76⅛	76¾	76	76⅛
do. pref	96⅛	....	....	....
St. Paul	155	155⅛	153¾	154½
Mo. P.	109¾	109⅛	108⅛	109⅛
Union. Pac.	88	88½	87⅞	88
C.P.R.	130⅞	130⅞	129¼	129⅞
South Pac.	52	52⅛	51½	51⅞
Sou. Ry.	28½	28¾	28⅛	28½
Texas	32¼	32⅝	32	32⅜
B & O.	89¼	90⅛	89½	89⅜
N. Y. C.	126¾	127¼	126¼	127⅛
Penna	128	129⅜	127⅝	128⅜
Reading	51	51¼	50¾	50¾
Ill's.	136¼	137¾	136⅞	137⅝
Erie	34⅞	35¼	34⅜	34¾
do. pref.	68¼	68⅞	68¼	68¼
O. & W.	28	28	27¾	27⅞
C. O.	42	42½	41⅞	42
Manhattan	138⅞	139½	138½	139
W. C.	22¾	22¾	22½	22⅝
L. & N.	115	115¾	114¾	115
Nor.	70	70	69¼	70
C. G. W.	21¼	21⅛	20¾	21
W.U.	84	84¼	83	84¼
T.C.I.	57¾	58⅞	57¾	58½
U.S. Steel	33½	33⅜	32½	32¾
do pref.	82¼	82⅜	81¾	82½
Sugar	124¼	126	124	126
A. C. P.	64	64¼	63¼	63⅞
B. R. T.	64	64⅝	63⅞	64
Met.	130¼	130¼	130	130
Wab.	26½	27¼	26⅛	27⅛
do pref.	47	47¾	46⅞	47⅛
R. I.	40¾	41⅛	40⅜	40⅞
A. F.	33¼	....	....	....

July wheat opened at 73 1-8; closed at 74.

July corn opened at 44 1-4; closed at 44 5-8.

A BIG QUARTER'S WORTH

is always found in a bottle of Polson's Nerviline, the best household liniment known. It cures rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, headache, sick stomach, in fact is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for. Mothers find it the safest thing to rub on their children for sore throat, cold on the chest, sprains and bruises. Never be without Polson's Nerviline. It will cure the pains and aches of the entire family and relieve a vast amount of suffering every year.

The Language of Her Belt.

ONE of the oddest of recent fads in the line of personal adornment which seems to have been unanimously adopted by every young woman with any pretensions to "style," says a Washington paper, is the wearing of the Chinese letter belt. It is quite two years since Mrs. Seton-Thompson—now Mrs. Thompson-Seton—astonished her admirers by wearing a ribbon belt fastened with Chinese characters on silver. After a time somebody improved on her idea by ordering a whole belt made of silver letters, held together by tiny chains and lined with colored velvet. They cost about $50 apiece and at once became "the rage" in Washington as an inexpensive article could never hope to do. It makes little difference what the letters signify, since few people in the country can read Chinese, and you pick up silver characters wherever you can and have them strung together regardless of context. A young lady of my acquaintance possesses one which is the pride of her heart, and she wears it on all occasions. Recently she met an educated Chinese gentleman, who observed her odd belt with kindling eyes and expressed his admiration of the sentiment set forth in its lettering. "It is beautiful," he said, "and I congratulate you on the excellence of your wishes, which I think are unusual in America."

"Oh! the sentiments," replied the owner of the glorified laundry bill. "Do tell me what the characters mean. They look all alike to me."

"There are but two wishes expressed," said the Chinaman, "but as they are repeated several times over, I know they must be your true heart feelings. One is 'May all my enemies die by torture,' and the other is 'May I have fifty sons.'"

HOW TO GET UP AN APPETITE.

Distaste for food often follows grippe and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease and by removing the cause cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. All druggists and medicine dealers sell Ferrozone.

Urbs Devoratrix.

All the sorrow in the world,
All the blighted souls,
All who strive in the dark,
I, the green of the fields,
I, the freshness of the God-given winds,
I, the stretch of upland, the dip of valley,
Call, call to mine own.
My robbed breast cries,
My dry, hot eyes stare afar
To the dark city-gulf.
She, the scarlet wolf,
Has my beloved,
And lone I mourn through the whispering pines,
"May God restore."

In Desperation.

The European king sighed and stirred uneasily. "My subjects," he exclaimed, "are getting so enlightened, so imbued with the ideas of democracy, that they no longer fawn upon me, toady to me. There's only one thing for me to do to relieve this monotony. I must visit America."—"Town Topics."

ALL DRUGGISTS WARRANT EVERY BOTTLE.

If troubled with rheumatism, give Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. It will not cost you a cent if it does no good. One application will relieve the pain. It also cures sprains and bruises in one-third the time required by any other treatment. Cuts, burns, frostbites, quinsy, pains in the side and chest, glandular and other swellings are quickly cured by applying it. Every bottle warranted. Price, 25 and 50 cents. For sale by all druggists.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

Colored Dress Fabrics

These are busy days at our Dress Goods Counter.

The assortment of stylish light weight Fabrics are commanding much attention.

Fashion has specially desirable materials this season—combining both serviceability and style.

Paris, London and New York have all done their utmost to make this assortment what it is—OUR BEST—best in value and extent of choice.

Many Ladies have acheived considerable saving by purchasing one of our pretty Ettamine or Voile Dresses—equally useful as summer or evening gown.

These await your inspection—no obigation to buy.

—Grey or Fawn Ettamine Cloth, 44" wide 50c
—Fine quality Cream Lustre—suitable for Waists and Dresses, 40" wide 40c
—All Wool fine Cream Serge 42" wide 55c
—Green, Grey, Fawn, Champagne, Blue Ettamine Cloth, 42" wide 90c $1.00

SHANTUNG SILK

Nothing makes more handsome — durable and stylish Shirt Waists and Shirt Waist Suits than this unfinished silk.

Made with firm round thread it will not crack or crease—its wearing qualities alone place it among the seasons most worthy materials.

—Green, Fawn, Grey, Black, Blue, Grey Shantung silk 27" wide, ... 75c

—Fawn Tussore Silk 36" wide, ... 75c

CHAMBRAY

A new assortment of fine colored Chambrays at our Wash Goods Counter.

Nothing at the price makes prettier or more durable Waist or Dresses than this material.

Also a number of new Blue Green and Pink Chambrays with fancy stripes--very pretty.

—Fine Blue, Grey, Pink, Linen, Green Chambray, 28" wide, .. 15c

—New stripes in Blue and White, Green and White, Pink and White, 27" wide, .. 15c

—Finest quality White Tussore matting with bright finish 28" wide 40c

WHITE DRESS HATS

The style of our new White Dress Hats combined with the moderate prices make them particularly pleasing to the ladies.

A number of pretty shapes just in stock—to see these an early visit will be neccessary as they are among the seasons scarce and desirable goods.

—Babys' Bonnet of fine open work Muslin edged with Valenciennes laces with lawn rosette and ties 15c

—Our flower sale still continues—only a few bunches left—all good—regular $1.25 for .. 25c

A DISTINCT ADVANTAGE

Many men who have heretofore been unable to find "perfect fit" in Ready-to-Wear Clothing have found our Made-to-Order Department a distinct advantage—a saving advantage.

The assortment of samples of light weight flannels and tweeds for summer suits is here and every desirable pattern is represented.

As to the style of these—if you are not thoroughly satisfied you are under no obligation to take the suit even after it is made.

Come in and get prices on these goods for a Made-to-Measure suit—you will be pleased with the moderate cost.

—Men's Grey and Navy ready-to-wear flannel suits with neat stripes –desireable in every way, ... $5.00 to $7.00

BED SPREADS

Many Ladies have already taken advantage of the saving offering, our third floor is making, in fine White Spreads.

Not damaged or soiled in any way—just another evidence of what IDEAL BUYING CONDITIONS can do to regulate prices.

For the summer weather you could get nothing better.

—Fine white spread – full size 2½ yards long by 2 wide, regular $1.35 for $1.00

—Fine extra heavy Honeycomb Spread, 2 yds wide by 2½ yds. long, regular $1.65 for $1.35

STRAW MATTINGS

The designs in China Matting have steadily improved until at present nothing makes neater or more durable inexpensive floor covering.

A few moments of inspection on our top floor should contain pleasurable surprises as our assortment this season would do credit to many larger stores. So several ladies have told us.

—Fine grade in China Matting assorted patterns and colors, 36' wide, ... 20 to 60c yd.

Healthy--Easily Cleaned

Two things that are partly responsible for the great increase in our rug sales.

Partly only—the new patterns have also much to do with our advance—they are certainly the handsomest we have ever exhibited.

To prospective buyers they should be very interesting—the price alone should do that.

—Handsome Afghan Rug, 9' 10" x 13' 11", assorted colorings, ... $27.50

Agents for Standard Patterns.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

CLOTHING BOUGHT HERE PRESSED FREE OF CHARGE

SUITS FOR MEN

The Entirely Different Sorts.

Not satisfied with equaling in style, fit and excellence of workmanship the made-to-measure garments the best tailors produce, our makers are now fashioning their suits from the same fabrics which have heretofore been exclusive with the Custom Tailors.

Our showing of these suits is very extensive.

They are suits that the average man wants—they give him the style and exclusiveness he seeks without the extra cost of the tailors.

Even the most expert criticism will fail to discover that these suits were not custom made.

The broad showing we make including as it does every size for men of different propostions practically assurs a perfect fit for every man.

But in some cases an exact fit cannot be secured immediately and then we do as the tailors would do at a try on—make the necessary alterations that would secure perfection of fit.

Fancy mixed cashmeres—neat effects in Cheviots—three and four button sack styles including the new straight front.

$6.50 to $15.00

And by the way you can better judge the unassailable quality of these suits if you'll do a little comparing.

Top Coats $5.00 to $12.00

CHRISTYS LONDON

NEW SPRING HATS

All the latest American and English styles, see our celebrated Christys' Hats at $1.00

Christys' Hats

QUICK & ROBERTSON

Exclusive Agents for Johnston's Famous Clothing for Men and Boys.

Roger's Stainfloor Finish

Is something new and it will fill a long felt want, as it works equally as well on either hard or soft wood. It is a combined floor stain and varnish at one application and it is practically indestructable, it is sure to please you.

The W. W. CHOWN Company, Limited

Orders for bookbinding should be left at this office. It is surprising how nice a volume can be made of these magazines, even though they are somewhat soiled from much handling. Books, magazines, or periodicals bound or rebound in any style at very reasonable prices. Blank books, journals, ledgers, day books, with any kind of ruling, made to order. All work warranted first-class. THE INTELLIGENCER, Belleville.

SOME GOOD SENTIMENTS FOR EMPIRE DAY.

COL. PONTON WRITES TO THE PUPILS OF MISS URQUHART'S CLASS.

Col. Ponton was to have delivered an address to-day—Empire Day to—the pupils of Miss Urquhart's class. Another engagement compelled his absence from the city, but he sent the following letter of regret, which contains sentiments worthy of the day and of the Empire:

Belleville, May 21st, 1903.

Miss Urquhart, Queen Victoria School,
Belleville.

Dear Miss Urquhart,—I regret that I will be necessarily absent from the city to-morrow, having to take part in the ceremony of laying a foundation stone in the village of Wooler, with other Belleville citizens. Otherwise it would have given me great pleasure to have had the privilege of addressing your class of loyal boys and girls on the subject of Empire Day. I hope they will celebrate it both with enthusiasm and thought. Sometimes we cheer without realizing what we cheer about, but I hope your boys and girls will have a sure foundation for their patriotism, and having faith in the future of their country, they will be able, both to give a reason for the faith that is in them, and to prove themselves in the hereafter factors in the creation of that future. It may not be inappropriate at the present time to ask them, each and all, not to be led away by any popular cries or false ideas, but let them determine to maintain the right as individuals, and not allow themselves to give up their personal liberty as so many are doing, and becoming socialists under leaderships which are really more tyrannical than any of the Governments, that we have read about in history, ever were.

I hope the boys and girls of the present will remember the past in connection with the pioneers of Canada, who laid the foundation of our present safety and advancement; but at the same time they will remember that they have to build the superstructure, and that (while the old principles remain) they cannot stand still, but they must utilize that knowledge, which is power, for the benefit of themselves, their families, their city and their Empire. The British Empire grows day by day in breadth of mileage and of influence, just in proportion as the young citizens of the Empire grow in physical stature, in mental development and in high aspirations. Good Imperial individual mottoes are "Be just; rule well; hold strong; look your own height."

I hope, on some future occasion, not far distant, to deliver a verbal message, if you will permit me.

Yours sincerely,
W. N. PONTON.

The POCKET CURE

Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets are as certain to cure indigestion and Dyspepsia as they are convenient to carry. Keep them in your pocket—take one when your stomach gives you trouble—immediate relief.

They're soothing to the stomach—they're restful to the digestive organs—they restore lost power and vigor—they act as a gentle tonic—they increase the flow of gastric juices and regulate the bowels—let you eat most anything your fancy would like and prevent any distress after doing so—make good blood—brain and brawn. All druggists sell them. 35c. for 60 tablets. 80

SOLD BY D. M. WATERS.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by all Druggists.

ANOTHER PARALYTIC STROKE.

MR. ROBERT CASKEY, REEVE OF HUNGERFORD, IS SERIOUSLY ILL.

Tweed News: It will be learned with much regret throughout the township of Hungerford and the County of Hastings that Mr. Robert Caskey has suffered a second partial stroke of paralysis and is in a rather precarious condition. The stroke came upon him on Sunday evening while doing some chores in the stable, his whole body being affected. His previous stroke was in January, 1902, when only his right side was affected. Although he had not entirely recovered from its effect he was able to do light work and was apparently enjoying fair health.

Mr. Caskey is Reeve of the Township of Hungerford, this being the seventh successive year he has held that position. He is universally esteemed throughout the township and the surrounding country and has the best wishes of all for his complete recovery.

JUST WHAT YOU NEED.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are just what you need when constipated; when you have no appetite, feel dull after eating and wake up with a bad taste in your mouth. They will improve your appetite, cleanse and invigorate your stomach and give you a relish for your food. For sale by all druggists.

MR. JOHN McLAREN'S HORSE FELL ON HIM

Accidentally Killed in British Columbia While on a Sporting Trip.

Was a Prominent Citizen of Brockville and Very Much Respected.

(Brockville Times.)

John MacLaren, one of Brockville's leading citizens, died last night at 9 o'clock at Kamloops, B.C., from injuries sustained on Monday last while on a hunting and fishing trip up the Thompson River, fifty miles from Kamloops. From the meagre information received by telegrams it would appear that Mr. MacLaren was hunting among the Rockies on horseback and in climbing a steep incline the horse stumbled and fell backwards on Mr. MacLaren, who received internal injuries. The section where the accident occurred was an out-of-the-way place, making it impossible to procure medical attendance. He was hurried into a boat for a fifty-mile trip down the Thompson River to Kamloops and after two days that place was reached yesterday. Then everything possible was done to effect the patient's recovery, but it was found the injuries were of such a serious nature as to be able to afford little, if any, relief. The fact that he was two whole days without surgical attendance also militated against his recovery. Mr. MacLaren was evidently accompanied on the fatal trip by one G. D. Scott, who is not known here. Mr. Scott on reaching civilization promptly communicated with Mr. MacLaren's relatives and notified them at intervals by telegraph as to his condition. To be cut off in such a tragic manner, far away from home and friends is sad, indeed, and makes the bereavement doubly hard to those who have been called upon to mourn his loss.

Three weeks ago Mrs. MacLaren and family went to Belleville to remain with her mother, Mrs. Forin, during a period of her husband's absence. She was advised of the accident to her husband through her brother, Peter Forin. Realizing the worst, Rev. Robt. Laird, the family's pastor, proceeded to Belleville on the midnight train to console Mrs. MacLaren and be with her when the announcement of her husband's death came.

The sudden demise of Mr. MacLaren has caused a profound shock in Brockville, because of the prominent place he occupied in business, social and religious circles. During the past winter his health was more or less impaired by an attack of bronchial pneumonia. Towards spring, however, he had recovered, and being elected a delegate of the Brockville Presbytery to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, which meets at Vancouver, B.C., in June, he decided to spend a few months prior to that date in British Columbia in pursuit of pleasure, and also, to attend to some matters of business there in which he is largely interested. He accordingly left for the west in March, in company with his brother Alex. MacLaren, of Buckingham, who has since returned. Letters were received from him from time to time, indicating that he had thoroughly regained his health, and was enjoying his vacation immensely. He was likely on a fishing trip among the wilds of the Rockies when the fatal accident befel him.

John MacLaren was born in Buckingham, Que., about 50 years ago, being a son of the late James MacLaren, a prominent lumber merchant and former president of the Bank of Ottawa. He was brought up there and as a young man was associated with his father in the lumber trade. He spent several years at New Westminster, B.C., in connection with his father's interests, and for a time lived at Windsor, Ont. Coming to Brockville in April, 1892, he purchased the James Hall Glove Works, which he has considerably enlarged, making it one of the best factories in Ontario and giving employment to a large number of hands. Mr. MacLaren associated with capital much executive ability in conducting the manufactory until it is now in a flourishing condition. He was associated with the Canadian Oak Belting company, another of Brockville's fine industries, having the honor of being president of the company. He also owned a large lumber mill at East Templeton and was largely interested in mines in Ontario, British Columbia and Quebec.

He was married the same summer in which he settled in Brockville to Miss Emma, daughter of the late John Forin, Esq., of Belleville and purchased the fine property of Thomas Gilmour, King street east, known as "Riverside," where he has since resided. After his marriage in company with Mrs. MacLaren he took a trip abroad visiting Great Britain and points on the continent. Mr. MacLaren's family consists of four children, John Hugh, 8 years; James, 5 years; Jean, 3 years, and Gordon Forin, 1 year. He is also survived by three brothers and one sister, Alexander and Albert, of Buckingham; David, Vice-President of the Bank of Ottawa, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Wm. Alloway, of Winnipeg, Man.

In every sense of the word Mr. MacLaren was a public spirited citizen, always ready to give a helping hand to anything that tended to the prosperity of the town. His purse was ever open to charitable demands. He was of a very quiet, retiring disposition, devoted to his home and family, and fond of sport and out-door life. He was a most enthusiastic fisherman, owning private fishing preserves in the northern part of Quebec where he entertained his friends most hospitably. Among his many virtues his devotion to his home and church stood out prominently.

Mrs. MacLaren's sudden and terrible bereavement, by which her partner in life is torn from her, will be shared in by a host of Brockville friends. They were fondly attached to each other in a manner that makes the bereavement very hard to bear.

It is expected the body will reach Brockville early next week.

Sports and Pastimes

SPORTING COMMENT.

So far as we know, there was only one entry from this city in the Montreal Dog Show, but that entry did very well. Mr. J. C. Panter entered his collie bitch pup, Newlight Loma, she getting fourth place in a field of thirteen. That is not to be sneezed at, considering that aristocratic canines from all over Canada were entered.

The annual field sports in connection with Albert College are being held this afternoon. A report will appear to-morrow. It is not likely that any of the inter-collegiate records will be cracked, but we are told that most of the athletes are in good form and, all in all, will make a creditable showing.

The handicap bicycle road race, on May 25th, gives promise of being a grand success. There will be at least ten entries, all of them fast, and some of them real scorchers. Entries close to-night at ten o'clock, and there will positively be no post entries. No pacemaking will be allowed. There will be eight prizes, not including the time prize. Many of the prizes are quite valuable, and all of them are worth winning, and well worth it. The start will be at 9.30, from a point on the roadway opposite the band stand on Victoria Park, and the racers will go to a point five miles up the Kingston road and return. Following is the list of officials selected:

Handicappers—Ald. Marsh, W. J. Wilkie and J. Lally.

Clerks of Course—J. S. Winchester and Mr. Carr.

Starters—Irvine Wallace, H. Greenleaf and W. Hitchon.

Judges—W. S. Macdiarmid, F. D. Ford and J. D. Ford.

Judges at turn—Roy Chown and J. Dyer.

Time-keepers—Ald. Cooper and J. H. Borbridge.

Lacrosse enthusiasts are quite cheerful these days, over the fact that they have several "dark horses" in reserve who will open people's eyes when the championship season opens. There was a fair crowd out to practise last night, and all players are asked to turn out on Monday afternoon next, when a practise match will be played.

FOOTBALL.

A Game on Monday.

On Monday afternoon a football match will take place on the grounds of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, between a mute team from Toronto and a team picked from the Institute.

BASEBALL THURSDAY.

The Eastern League.

Toronto ....0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 *—1
Newark ....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0

Two-base hits—O'Brien, Massey. Stolen base—Wagner. Bases on balls—Off Hardy 3 (O'Hagan, Dillard, Lawlor), off Pardee 1 (Carr). Struck out—By Hardy 5 (O'Hagan, O'Brien, Devlin, Pardee 2), by Pardee 1 (Downey). Left on bases—Toronto 4, Newark 6. Time—1.40. Umpire—Shannon. Attendance—900.

R.H.E.
Buffalo ....1 2 1 1 0 0 0 0 x—5 11 1
Jersey City ......0 0 3 0 0 0 0 1 0—4 11 2

Batteries—Amole and Shaw; Pfanmiller and McManus. Umpires—Kelly and Brown. Time—2.10. Attendance—13,337.

R.H.E.
Rochester .....0 2 0 2 1 0 0 0 1 0— 6 9 2
Providence ....0 0 1 0 0 0 1 2 2 4—10 10 5

Batteries—McNeil, Leith, McAleese and Lilly; Conn and Diggins. Umpire—Latham. Attendance—322.

R.H.E.
Baltimore ....0 0 3 0 0 1 1 0 x—5 10 1
Worcester ....1 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—2 4 1

Batteries—Mills and Robinson; Pappalau and McCauley. Umpire—Swartwood. Attendance—610.

National League Scores.

At Brooklyn— R.H.E.
Brooklyn ....0 0 2 0 0 0 0 4 0— 6 11 0
Pittsburg ....1 1 1 1 2 0 2 1 2—11 19 3

Batteries—Schmidt and Ahearn; Kennedy, Phillippi and Phelps. Umpire—O'Day. Attendance—3217.

At Boston— R.H.E.
Boston ....0 1 1 0 0 1 0 0 x—3 10 1
Cincinnati ....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 4 0

Batteries—Pittinger and Moran; Suthoff, Poole and Bergen. Umpire—Emslie. Attendance—2208.

At Philadelphia— R.H.E.
Philadelphia ....0 1 0 0 0 4 0 1 0— 6 11 3
Chicago ....0 1 3 2 0 3 2 0 0—11 19 3

Batteries—Duggleby, McLaughlin and Dooin; Lundgren and Kling. Umpire—Moran. Attendance—3035.

At New York— R.H.E.
St. Louis ....2 0 0 1 0 1 0 0 0—4 9 4
New York ......2 1 1 0 0 1 3 1 x—9 13 1

Batteries—Murphy, McFarland, Ryan and Weaver; Cronin, McGinnity and Warner. Umpire—Johnstone. Attendance—5467.

American League Results.

At Detroit— R.H.E.
Philadelphia .....0 0 0 3 0 0 0 0 0—3 11 0
Detroit ....5 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 x—5 14 0

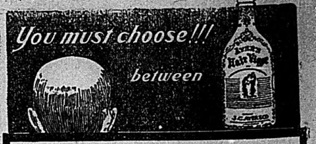
Batteries—Bender and Powers; Kitson and McGuire. Umpire—O'Loughlin. Attendance—3291.

At Cleveland— R.H.E.
Cleveland ....0 2 0 0 3 0 0 0 x—5 12 3
Washington .....0 0 2 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 7 6

Batteries—Bernhard and Bemis; Patten and Clark. Umpire—Connolly. Attendance—2291.

At Chicago: Chicago-New York game postponed; rain.

At St. Louis: St. Louis-Boston postponed; rain.



The beginning of baldness is dandruff. Dandruff is a disease and can be cured.

Cure the disease that causes dandruff, And the dandruff will disappear for good.

Use only some old established remedy. We know one tested for more than 50 years—

Ayer's Hair Vigor

It cures dandruff, checks falling, makes the hair grow, always restores color to gray hair.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor has cured my scalp of a bad case of dandruff. It is a delightful preparation to use."
Mrs. L. H. Budd, Lebanon Springs, N. Y.

J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

COMMITTEE REPORTS IN FAVOR OF CADET CORPS.

WILL ADVISE BOARD OF EDUCATION THAT SCHEME SEEMS A GOOD ONE.

A meeting of the special committee of the Board of Education, to which was referred the matter of establishing a Cadet Corps in connection with the High School, met last evening. The members present were: Rev. A. L. Geen, Chairman; Messrs. Wm. Johnson, W. P. Hudson, F. E. O'Flynn, W. S. Morden, H. Walker and Col. Ponton. The subject was discussed at some length with the result that a resolution prevailed in favor of the forming of a Corps. The matter will be finally disposed of at the next meeting of the Board.

The School Management Committee also met, and received the reports of the Inspector of the High School and the annual report of the local Inspector, Mr. John Johnston. These reports were considered and adopted.

FOR SATURDAY'S TRADE.

Fresh Baltimore Strawberries, this fruit is very find. Large Pineapples, Bananas, Oranges and Lemons.

A full line of Cakes, Rolls and Buns. Why bother trying to bake this hot weather, when you can get a nice Cake for your table for so little money.

Orders for Ice Cream wanted Sunday will be sent, well packed, Saturday night.

ED. F. DICKENS, Caterer.

Literary Notes

The Wesley Souvenir (June) number of the Methodist Magazine and Review is enlarged by sixteen pages, and is offered at a reduced price of 15 cents as a memorial of the great man the bicentenary of whose birth the world this year celebrates. It contains over a score of articles, with over sixty illustrations, of John Wesley and his work. Among the contributors are Drs. Carman, Burwash, Reynar, and Allison; H. H. Fudger, J. W. L. Forster, Miss S. E. Springer, and the editor. Dr. Bryce and John Charlton, M.P., representing the Presbyterian Church; Dr. Thomas, of the Baptist Church; John Cameron, of London, a representative Congregationalist, and Augustine Birrell, of the Anglican Church, discuss varied aspects of Wesley's character. Some of the engravings are from quaint contemporary documents. Toronto, William Briggs; Montreal, C. W. Coates; Halifax, S. F. Huestis. $2.00 a year; $1.00 for six months.

The Wesley Bi-Centenary.

All the world over preparations are being made by the Methodists to fittingly commemorate the bi-centennial of the birth of the Rev. John Wesley. On Monday evening next, at Bridge St. Church, the various Methodist Leagues of this city will assemble, when addresses will be given by a number of delegates in attendance at the district meeting, and the hymns sang will be those composed by the great founder of Methodism.

ALL PATHS SEEM SMOOTH

WHEN YOU HAVE FOOT ELM IN YOUR SHOES.

It is wonderful how easy walking becomes when you have Foot Elm in your shoes. It relieves all tiredness, soreness and aching of the feet, prevents blistering or chafing, and gives perfect comfort. Price 25 cents a box of 18 powders, at druggists or by mail. I. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont.

ANOTHER OLD RESIDENT DEAD.

MR. JAMES ORR PASSED TO HIS LONG REST LAST NIGHT.

Mr. James Orr, a well known resident of this city, residing on Yeomans street, died last night after a brief illness. A week ago he complained of not feeling well, but did not take to his bed until Sunday last, since which time he sank rapidly. In the year 1833 Mr. Orr was born in the County of Tyrone, Ireland. At the age of 25 years he came out to this country, and settled in Belleville where he has since made his home. Deceased had always been an industrious and hard working man and of late years had been teaming for the city. He was a whole-souled Irishman and made many friends. Deceased was a member of Emmanuel Reformed Episcopal Church, and in politics was a Conservative.

The surviving members of the family are a widow and two sons, Robert and William, of this city; and four daughters, Mrs. Geo. Anderson, Misses Maggie, Maude, and Edith, all of this city. To them will be extended the sympathy of a large circle of friends. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon.

SALE OF SHIRTS AT 39c.

See the shirts in the north window at the Oak Hall that are being offered at 39 cents. We have over one hundred dozen of the lines represented. Silk front shirts in the lot worth 75 cents.

A Bit of Steamboat History.

The steamboat Chicora, of Toronto, Capt. Robt. Clapp, has started out on her trip between Toronto and Niagara, for the season, and on the occasion one of the Toronto papers has the following: "Spick and span, painted and thoroughly overhauled, the Chicora never looked better "in her life." And that life, by the way, has been one of no little romance. The Chicora was built at Birkenhead, opposite Liverpool, in 1864, and was originally intended as a blockade runner, but when she was ready for service the Confederacy was no more, and so her occupation was gone. She crossed the salt water however, and was taken up to the Great Lakes, though she had to be cut in two to get through the canals. In 1878 she was brought down to become a rival on the Niagara route to the old City of Toronto, and Southern Belle. While on the Upper Lakes, the Chicora was used as a transport for conveying under Col. (now Field Marshal) Wolseley, which formed the first Red River expedition. The name Chicora has the Indian meaning of "pretty flower."

ONTARIO JOCKEY CLUB SPRING MEET, Toronto May 23rd to June 6th. The Grand Trunk service from this city is unexcelled for those attending the races at Toronto. Trains leave Belleville daily at 4.10 a.m., 1.48 p.m. Daily except Sunday, 3.00 a.m., 5.50 a.m., 11.22 a.m., 5.10 p.m. Returning leave Toronto daily 10.00 p.m. Daily, except Sunday 8.00 a.m., 2.00 p.m., 5.10 p.m. Up-to-date coaches, Cafe Parlor and Dining cars, serving meals "A la Carte." Passengers desiring to see King's Plate race and races on 25th and 26th, can take advantage of reduced rates in effect for Victoria Day. For full information and tickets apply to U. E. Thompson, C.P. & T. A. 20-4t.

ESTABLISHED 1870

Light Weight Hats

COLORED FELTS AND STRAWS

Latest New York Styles.

No trouble to show them.

S. A. HYMAN & CO.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

SOMETHING ABOUT

The Hosiery You Should Wear.

The buying of a pair of Ladies' or Children's Hose may seem a trifling affair. So it is if you are getting a thoroughly reliable article. But how many do not get what they expect, the sizes are not accurate, the tops are tight and most important of all the color is not fast. We have made a study of the Hosiery question for several years, and claim to have the very best value procurable at the prices we quote.

Here are just a few of our everyday sellers.

IN LADIES'

—Fine Macco Thread Hose in Black at ..... 15 and 20c a pr.
—Fine Black Thread Hose in Cashmere and Lisle, feet in Red, Natural and Grey at .... 25c a pr.
—Fine Macco Ribbed Hose at .... 25c a pr.
—Lisle and Lace Hose frcm .... 25c to 50c a pr.

IN BOYS'

—Fine Ribbed Heavy Cotton Hose, Double Knees, Heels and Toes, sizes 5 to 10, price .... 15 to 25c a pr.
—Heavy Ribbed Hose, Fast Black, small sizes from .... 15c to 25c a pr.

IN GIRLS'

—Fine Cotton and Lisle Hose all sizes from .... 10c up.

"All goods stamped Hermsdorf Dye."

Laidlaw & Ketcheson.
DIRECT IMPORTERS

Daily Intelligencer.

THE INTELLIGENCER IS SOLD AT
J. W. London's and G. Wardhaugh's.

Local Reading Advertisements.
words 50 cents; 2 cents per word first insertion, per word subsequent consecutive insertions. Headlines count as 12 words; contracts for long periods made at office

Peppermint and Wintergreen

Cream Wafers just fresh made.
30c a lb.

Crystallized Ginger

Our own. Sweet and juicy.
50c a lb.

CHAS. S. CLAPP

More Vim

Spring debility arises from impure blood and a clogged condition of the system. Our Sarsaparilla Extract with Iodide of Potassium gives just the aid needed. It enriches the blood and gives new vitality. Price 75c a bottle.

McKeown's DRUG STORE

NEW SPRING GOODS

LATEST DESIGNS IN
SPRING TROUSERING.

Spring Overcoating. A nice Line of Waterproof Overcoating, Tweeds and Serges at reasonable prices by the yard.

Call and inspect my stock before ordering your Spring Clothing.

ARTHUR McGIE,
Merchant Tailor.
Front Street.

It takes a long time to tell of what you have not done.

Sterling Silver and Cut Glass.

Particular attention is directed to my stock of the above goods, which at present is most attractive. I handle the renowned Gorham Silver and Hawkes Cut Glass Ware, being sole agent for this city. These are the best and prices are moderate.

T. BLACKBURN.

WRAPPERS & BLOUSES

This week we will devote our entire time and energy in disposing of the finest lot of Ladies' Print Wrappers and Black Sateen Blouses ever seen in this or any other city.

Ladies Print Wrappers, flounced and beautifully trimmed at $1.75, $1.50 $1.25, $1.00.

Ladies' Wrappers .... 85 & 75c

Black Sateen Blouses

Ladies' Black Sateen Blouses at $2.25, $2.00, $1.50, $1.00, 75c.

We would call special attention to our $1 Blouses.

McINTOSH BROS.

Sleeping Beauties.

"I've heard tell of some pretty hard sleepers in my day," said my landlord the other day, "but I never met anything to come up to the performance of a servant gal we had here some years back. She was a mighty good worker, and in my opinion used to get that thired afore turnin' in that she could ha' slept for a week if we hadn't changed her mind for her in the mornin'. If it hadn't been for the muscle she spread over her work we wouldn't ha' kept her a day; but decent gals is hard to get these times, and we put up with her for a good while on that account. After she'd been with us about a week, and had got into the habit of droppin' down to breakfast about eleven, we thought we'd settle the matter by buyin' her one of them alarum clocks that'll generally ring the inside of your head dry in half a minute if you're a plain, ordinary sleeper. But that didn't answer anyhow. The first mornin' the machine went off we heard it so plain downstairs that I had to get up and run out into the garden to dodge the ringing; but Sairey she comes down about eleven o'clock as usual, merely remarkin' that she was afraid she'd overslept herself and had a lovely dream about the old home, where the church bells was a-ringin', which was a sign of a weddin', she said. This sort of discouraged us a little, but, as I said, we didn't like to part with the gal on that account, through her bein' that industrious when she were awake. For a little while the wife she took to goin' up and handlin' the gal personally about seven o'clock in the morning. She used to have to haul the gal out o' bed, hand over hand, as you might say, and stand her up agin the wall till she come to gradually. But after a while the wife she got tired o' that, so we had to invent something less troublesome. By and by I got an idea. I sawed off the leg of the gal's bedstead, which were a little wooden one, and then fixed the leg on again, so that by pullin' a piece of cord I could bring the leg away and let the whole thing down pretty rapid like. We passed the cord under her door down to our bedroom, and in the morning, when it was time to get her up, all I had to do was to pull the rope and the gal 'ud bounce off on to the floor. The girl herself was most anxious to do the square thing by us, and it upset her more'n anything to think she couldn't wake up like an ordinary person; and for a week or so she rather enjoyed the excitement. But they say custom 'll harden you to pretty well anything, and by and by the girl got so that she could be jumped out o' bed and rolled under the wardrobe without so much as even movin' in her sleep of her own accord; and it was only when she happened to hit a chair or something going along that she'd lose the thread of a dream, as it were, and start a fresh chapter.

"Soon after that I had occasion to go up in the city on business, when a feller showed me a patent bed he'd invented that was calculated to wake up anything short of a corpse. All you had to do was to wind all the wheels up at night and fix a little clockwork arrangement at the hour you wanted the machinery to begin, and the bed did the rest. It was really a wonderful bit of machinery, and, you might say, almost human. As soon as you woke up you had to press a little button and the works 'ud calm down. It wouldn't ha' done for anybody who wasn't conscientious, 'cause they could stop the show and drop off again; but I knew our gal was all right, and 'ud be only too glad of a chance to get up in fairish time. So I ordered one of those beds to be sent home, and the next day I went back myself to set it in working order. I didn't get home till late and the wife was asleep, so I just turned in myself, and reckoned it 'ud do to attend to the bed the followin' mornin'.

"I don't suppose I'd been asleep more'n an hour or so when the wife wakes me up hurriedly like and says, 'Jim!' she says, 'hark, there's burglars in mother's room!'

"'Whose mother's room?' I says, thinkin' she must be talkin' in her sleep.

"'I didn't tell you,' says she, gaspin' for breath. 'Mother come down on a visit last night, and I gave her the new bed you sent down, which I'd had put in the spare room. What's that? Hark, Jim! They're murderin' of her!'

"I see how it was at once. The bed hadn't been fixed for any particular time, and the works had just been allowed to drop into line promiscuous-like. It were about two o'clock in the morning, and, to judge by the sounds from the spare room, the old lady was havin' rather a lively time. She warn't no particular friend of mine, the old lady warn't, so I thought perhaps the experience might be a bit healthy for her anyhow, and it 'ud give us a chance to test the apparatus. However, I explained the whole thing to the wife, and told her to run in and tell her mother to press the button and stop the works. When she opened the door we could hear the old lady shriekin' for the police about as hard as she could go, and as soon as the wife could get a light she see the bed waltzing round the room on its hind legs, with her mother hangin' on to it, pretty well crazed. I thought then it was about time to dispense with ceremony and go stop the thing myself. I slips on my dressing-gown, and had just got to the door when the bed charges across the landin' and as near as anything missed runnin' me down. Of course, I was after it in a minute, but it had a couple of seconds start, and I'm a poor sprinter anyhow. When it got to the top of the stairs I see there was a couple of wheels on it, and on them wheels it rolls smoothly down the whole flight, through the kitchen at the end, and brings up close agin the pump in the wash'us. Then a kind of claw arrangement shot out, gripped the pump-handle, and started workin' it. I got there just in time to press the button and stop the performance. If I'd been a half a minute later I reckon the old lady would have pretty well had the skin washed off of her. Thinking the matter over afterwards, I reckoned that the bed supplied us with too much for the money, and I sent it back, and gave the girl a month's notice instead. Still, there was one thing about it: when mother-in-law comes to see us now, she's pretty careful not to sleep in the house."—"Pick-Me-Up."

So many Gods, so many Creeds,
So many paths that wind and wind,
When just the Art of being kind
Is what the sad world needs.

SEVERAL FATAL ACCIDENTS

Boy Killed by an Elevator in Eaton's Store in Toronto.

St. Thomas Opens Doors to Talbot Celebration—Strike of C.N.R. Dockmen at Port Arthur—The Ottawa Lumber Piles Must Go—A Battle Scarred Nova Scotia Vessel Arrives in New York—Foot and Mouth Disease in Durban.

Port Arthur, May 22.— The dock employes of the C. N. R. went out on strike here yesterday.

Ottawa, May 22.—Russel Parker, a lad 12 years of age, was caught on a live wire on Somerset street and killed instantly.

Toronto, May 22.—Crushed in an elevator at Eaton's yesterday afternoon, five-year-old Arthur Buchler lies dead at St. Michael's Hospital.

New York, May 22.—The Liverpool correspondent of The Post says: Among the London clubs it is again reported that King Edward's health is far from satisfactory.

Ottawa, May 22.—John White, charged with setting fire to the lumber piles on Sunday, May 10, was committed for trial by Magistrate O'Keefe yesterday. The evidence is purely circumstantial.

Durban, Natal, May 22.—The British steamers Abbey Holme, Captain Brown, and Anglo Chilian, Captain Johnson, have arrived here from Buenos Ayres with foot and mouth disease prevailing among the cattle on board of them.

St. Thomas, May 22.—The much heralded Talbot Centennial celebration began yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, with the clanging of all the bells in the city, the blowing of whistles and a spirit of good-will towards everybody. A good many Old Boys and Old Girls have arrived.

Windsor, May 22.—Harry E. Little, a spare fireman in the employ of the street railway here, lay down on the wide belt of an engine to rest, and fell asleep. The engineer, unaware of his presence, started the ponderous machine. Little yelled, but it was too late, and he was terribly crushed. He cannot live.

New York, May 22.—The Nova Scotian schooner Britannia arrived in port yesterday from San Domingo City, showing many battle scars, having been caught April 1 between the fire of the Government and insurgent troops in the river near the custom house at San Domingo City. The mizzen mast and a number of blocks were perforated.

Ottawa, May 22.—In an accident in the lumber yards at Braeside yesterday Jerry Lebanc, an employe of Gillies Bros., lost his life. He was putting the brake on a box car when another car struck the one he was on, the sudden jolt throwing him on the track where the wheels of the car passed over his body. He leaves a widow and two children.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Mr. Whitney Asks That Railway Resolutions Be Brought Down Early.

Toronto, May 22.—In the Legislature yesterday afternoon, Mr. Whitney urged that the railway resolution on the Government program be brought down at the earliest possible moment. Members should not be asked to vote on propositions the meaning of which they did not understand.

The Premier informed the House that the Lieutenant-Governor would attend at 3 o'clock this afternoon, to assent to the bills that have been passed this session.

When Hon. Mr. Harcourt's bill to amend the Public Schools Act was taken up in Committee of the Whole, Mr. Whitney favored an increase in the remuneration of Public School inspectors.

Mr. Harcourt agreed, and, as other members talked in the same strain, the Minister of Education agreed to postpone the third reading until the desired changes were made in the bill.

Mr. Ross' bill to increase the tax on circuses and traveling shows was amended in committee.

In committee, consideration of the bill to extend the time in which municipalities may avail themselves of the Government road grants was taken up, and the bill reported with some amendments.

The Attorney-General's bill to amend the Loan Corporations Act, was read a second time.

The bill of Mr. Cameron (Fort William), to incorporate the Fort Frances, Manitou and Northern Railway Company, was read a third time.

Mr. Gibson's bill, to amend the Land Titles Act, was read a second time. A number of private bills also passed that stage.

IN NATURE'S GARB.

Twenty-Six Stark Naked Doukhobors Locked Up in Yorkton.

Winnipeg, May 22.—Yorkton has another Doukhobor invasion on its hands. Word reached town yesterday afternoon that a number of lunatics were marching again.

Corp. Junget of the Northwest Mounted Police, accompanied by his assistants here and a crowd of curious town people, went north to meet them. The corporal met the pilgrims, twenty-six in number, about half a mile from town and arrayed in nature's garb only. They had called a halt and discarded every vestige of clothing.

Corporal Junget at once ordered the Doukhobors to put on their clothing and submit to immediate arrest. After these orders were complied with, they marched into town in silence, winding up finally at the immigration hall. The pilgrims were hustled into a room and locked up.

The police have not arrested the band yet, but will await further instructions from headquarters. There are no women with this crowd, which comes mainly from Stoney Creek, where the trouble originated last fall.

Breakfast is Always Ready in Camp when there is a package of Malta-Vita in the hamper.

Half the pleasure of Camping, Fishing, Hunting or any Outing Expedition is in having the very best things to eat with the least trouble of carrying and cooking.

A package of MALTA-VITA "the Perfect Food" contains more nourishment in less space than you can get in any other form, and is ready to be eaten as soon as the package is opened. One saucer full of the rich brown wheat flakes is sufficient for any meal of the day, without any other food, and is so delicious and wholesome that you never get tired of it.

MALTA-VITA is the whole wheat malted, flaked and toasted ready to serve.

No Work—No Heat—Just Cream—Then Eat.

The Troubles of Holland.

In view of recent developments in Holland the following from The London Times several weeks before the strike is of interest:—It has been pointed out by our Paris correspondent that the newest question in international politics—one of far graver interest than those arising in Siam or Macedonia or Morocco—is the situation in Holland, where the labor troubles have assumed an almost revolutionary aspect. Here British interests do not come in any way into conflict or competition with French interests, while both France and England would be equally unwilling to see the growth of any force that threatened the break-up of the Dutch monarchy and the possibility, in the result, of the extinction of the independence of the Netherlands. Germany, too, is perfectly entitled to have regard to her commercial interests in Holland, which might be imperilled if the labor troubles were to come to a serious crisis. Our Paris correspondent, however, calls attention to the accumulated evidence that "Germany is pursuing something more than a commercial policy toward the Netherlands." The rumor that the German Government, in view of the threat of a general strike, has "made representations" to the Dutch Government has not been confirmed, but it is not improbable. Among other points to be considered is the repugnance shown in Germany to the strengthening of the international tribunal at The Hague. Some well-informed observers of international affairs believe that one of the main causes of this antipathy is that the permanence and prestige of the tribunal would tend to promote the neutralization of the Netherlands—perhaps under a republican form of government, with an international guarantee—in case Queen Wilhelmina should die without issue. Such a solution would put an end to the ambitious schemes that have been vowed by the leaders of the Pan-German agitation, and have not been disavowed—at any rate, with sufficient distinctness—by the more responsible exponents of German policy.

PARISIAN SPRING HATS.

White Blouses

Now is the time for Summer Blouses. Just received another large shipment of Fancy White and Black Blouses. These have been delayed on account of getting the latest styles.

SEE OUR PRICES

Our Plain Waists with Insertion fronts.................. 75c

Also Valenciennes and Embroidery Insertion fronts at .. .. $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50

Our special line of Embroidered fronts, very stylish, prices .... $2.00 and $2.25

Medallions and Drop Ornaments

A fine assortment of these for trimming, in cream and black. Prices 10, 15 and 20c.

White Gloves

Gloves for summer at attractive prices. See our Fancy Taffeta Silk Gloves, two dome fasteners. Prices 25c, 40c and 50c.

NATHAN JONES.

The Finnegan Carriage & Wagon Co.

FOR

Stylish and Durable Turnouts.

—Surreys
—Corning Buggies
—Piano Box Buggies
—Rubber Tire Buggies
—Micadoes
—Phaetons
—Bike Buggies
—Democrats
—Grocer Wagons
—Butcher Wagons

Cheese Factory Milk Wagons
Steel Tubular Axle Lumber Wagons.

Rubber Tires put on your old wheels at reasonable prices.

Mill St., - - Belleville.

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE
FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL — LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL — CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 37. BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, MAY 23, 1903 NO. 20

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine
Carter's
Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of
Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Price 25 Cents. Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

According to the "Pall Mall Gazette," Gandersheim, a German village, has recently been en fete. The occasion was the honoring of a hen which had laid its thousandth egg. Many of the houses were decorated with flags, while in the evening the proprietor of the hen entertained his friends at a supper at which the principal dish was a gigantic omelet. The function was a splendid success, and the health of the hen was drunk with great enthusiasm.

There seems no limit to the variety of uses to which a man-of-war can be put when past her work. Here is the latest. A syndicate of sporting men is said to be considering a scheme for purchasing the old American ship "Vermont," should the bill for her preservation fail to pass. The idea is to fit her up as a floating boxing-ring, which can be moved out to sea, so that the merry mills of the fancy may be brought off without police interference.—"United Service Gazette."

MR. GAMEY WAS NOT BOUGHT

So Argued Lawyer Johnston Before the Royal Commission.

PURCHASE NOT NECESSARY

Member For Manitoulin Was Already Pledged to Support the Government—Manitoulin Was His Politics, and He Consistently Acted With That Idea—It Was Not Corrupt to Give Patronage to An Avowed Government Supporter, Said Mr. Johnston—Chancellor Wants to Know Where Money Came From—Mr. Johnston's Criticism of Mr. Blake's Speech.

Toronto, May 23. — The Gamey Bribery Commission began promptly at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Mr. Johnston's opening words were:

"Assassin, corrupter of morals, unblushing liar, perjury, suborner of perjury, forger, and teacher of forgery, such were the remarks addressed to your Lordships yesterday by my learned friend to secure a finding that a Minister of the Crown was guilty of a great crime, and on behalf of those I represent, Hon. J. R. Stratton and the members of the Government of Ontario, I ask your Lordships'indulgence to say a word as to the personal character of the remarks made.

Repudiated Such Language.

"For five long hours my learned friend, for whom I entertain the greatest respect, and he assumes in this investigation the role of the people's protector, made a strong partisan speech, not to the Court, but a speech which was manifestly made to form the basis on which to build a great political campaign, more akin to the utterances of a political extremist than in accordance with the performance of the high duties which my learned friend has assumed, a speech beginning with imprecations, continued through torrents of abuse, and ending in prayer. With such an address. I have no concern, but if have the right, and I am sure it will be granted, to repudiate such language being applied to men in high places unless fully warranted by evidence. For thirty long years the Government of this Province, whom I represent, has had the confidence of the people, rightly or wrongly. Charges along the line my learned friend made have been made again and again for thirty years, and these charges have not been proven."

Mr. Johnston considered he had spoken mildly. He could do a great deal more, but personal respect for his learned friend, his ability and his position at the bar, would prevent him from expressing all that was in his mind. He could not reasonably have said less.

Wants Calm Judicial Decision.

The Commission was assured by Mr. Johnston that he took up his duties with no political feeling whatever, but with a simple desire to aid them to a right conclusion. He wanted a calm, judicial decision, and if it was against him he would not cherish the slightest uncharitable feeling, or make a single ungenerous remark towards his opponents.

The matter before them was very grave and important, because a crime was charged against a Minister of the Crown, and the State as administered. It was not to be expected that we would ever have the ideal Minister, but he should approach as near to the ideal as was possible, and be absolutely clean. The existing political standards should be borne in mind. It was a recognized rule that a Government was justified in using patronage for party purposes, and anyone who supported the Government was entitled to his share of it, thus constituting an inducement to support the Government from the inception of the election. Men voted according to party exigencies, and not by the measure, on all votes on want of confidence.

The Question of Patronage.

There were three conditions in which a member can be placed in regard to patronage. First, in which nothing has been said between him and the Ministers; second, where he has been told he will get his share if he supports the Government; third, where there is a corrupt bargain made based on an act of corruption. Only in the last case did the getting of the patronage prove anything.

Mr. Gamey, if honest on August 7th in his intentions to support the Government, could not be corrupted by even a promise, because he knew if he supported the Government he would get the patronage. If dishonest, intending to support them for personal reasons, he took advantage of Parliamentary usage. It may have influenced his course, but that was no fault of the Government. It was only where a corrupt act of the past affected the mind of a member that the exercise of patronage became in the slightest degree tainted.

The scope of the Commission enabled it to make a finding. The instructions specifically directed the investigation of three distinct charges that Mr. Stratton, by payment of money, by offer of patronage, and by the withdrawal of the protest, corrupted Gamey.

A Charge of Conspiracy.

Then there was a fourth charge, said Mr. Johnston, a charge of conspiracy against the Ministers read by Mr. Gamey in the House, and which, if he might be permitted to say so, read very like some portions of Mr. Blake's address on the previous day.

"Thank you," said Mr. Blake.

When Gamey made the charges in the House, said Mr. Johnston, he knew that he was making a political charge, but alleging an offence under the Criminal Code: that being so, guilt could not be presumed, but must be proved. He would not mince words. His clients were charged here as criminals, and could only rely on and demand justice of the Commissioners. Surely his learned friend had not read the Commission. He produced a copy of the notes and proceedings of the House in which Mr. Carscallen, of Hamilton, moved that the Commission be instructed to report the evidence, but to make no finding. That proposal had been voted down in the House on a division.

Chief Justice Falconbridge said he thought he had read in some newspaper that the Attorney-General had said that any finding made by the Commissioners would be gratuitous.

Attorney-General's Wish.

Mr. Johnston said that the Attorney-General had made no such utterance, and had repeatedly instructed him to conduct the case in such a way as to censure a definite finding one way or the other. The Government desired to get rid of this troublous question by the finding of an impartial tribunal in which the public had confidence instead of by that of the committee of a partizan House.

The Chancellor said that according to the terms of the Commission it was optional with them whether they made a finding or not: This matter would go to the House anyway. The ultimate court, he said, was the Legislature; by which any report they might make could be quashed. He further pointed out that in the Commission the word "report" was used, there was no mention of a "finding."

Definite Finding Wanted.

Mr. Johnston reiterated that it was the desire of the Government that a definite finding be made by the Commission.

Incidentally the Chancellor asked that solicitors from each side come to a definite agreement as to the figures of the relative strength of the parties at the time the Manitoulin petition was entered.

Mr. Johnston continuing, said that there was nothing in all the correspondence that might not have passed between the Government and the leader of the Opposition. He then dealt with the peculiar position of Manitoulin. In a city like Toronto it was not necessary to elect a man to support the Government: Manitoulin was in an entirely different position. The prosecution argued that Mr. Gamey's position should be: "Party first, country second, Manitoulin last and lost." Was it not more rational to suppose that the attitude of a member for a new riding would be "First my own home, then my country generally, then my party."

Socialist Not an Independent.

He further wished to point out that all the exhibits showed that Gamey had never promised to give anything more than an independent support to the Government. To do that he would not be required to depart from the platform on which he had run, since he owed his election to Liberal votes, although nominally a Conservative candidate. There had been a Socialist, whatever that might mean in politics. He took it to mean an iconoclast, a man who wanted some special kind of Government and to change the established order of things for some special fad of his own. The evidence of Scott made Gamey's position clear; he was going to do something for Manitoulin; he was going to sit on the Government side of the House. Of course, he was willing to defeat the Ross Government, because a Government of his own political sympathizers would be more congenial to him. But the real test was that he was to support the Government in power; that Manitoulin was his politics. He proposed to lay before their Lordships citations from the testimony as to Gamey's attitude before the general elections. Of his attitude afterward they had abundant evidence. Gamey's cry had been that he was paying his own way, and that he was not obliged to do anything except for his own riding. This was uncontradicted.

Conmee and Gamey.

Dealing with the interview between Mr. Conmee and Gamey, on June 12, Mr. Johnston said that the important part it was that in which Gamey was stated to have criticized Mr. Whitney's mining policy, and, on Conmee's explaining the Government's policy on the same subject, said he would give it an independent support. It was before Gamey had had any conversation with any member of the Government. Mr. Conmee had been interested personally, politically, and in every other way in finding out just where Mr. Gamey stood. Mr. Conmee had superintended the redistribution of New Ontario, had carved out the ridings, and was at that time a disappointed man, since three of the five new ridings had gone Conservative when he had expected to carry them all for the Government. Shrewd politician as Mr. Conmee was, he had Gamey sized up. While he believed Gamey sincere for the time in his statement that he intended to support the Government, he did not know what might take place should he get into the hands of some of his ultra-Conservative friends.

Gamey's Talkativeness.

Mr. Johnston dealt at length with the evidence of Dr. Arthur of Sudbury, that Gamey had told him at the end of June that he was going to vote with Mr. Whitney on the first or test division, and afterwards would support the Government. He had said he owed his election to Liberal voters, and instanced his own polling sub-division, which had gone Conservative for the first time. Gamey had reiterated again and again in the witness box, "Part of my scheme!" "Part of my plan," "I wanted to keep my friends quiet!" and so on. This was reasonable enough under certain circumstances, but under what obligation was he to tell Government supporters these stories? The reason he had given in the witness box was on its face an utterly false reason. He would not undertake to say that Gamey was swearing false, in fact, but he was giving an utterly false reason. Still more remarkable was his saying the same thing to two utter strangers at the Walker House, men from Eastern Ontario, whom he had never seen before. What earthly reason was his for having made such a statement to Martin and Bowen before the poison had found its sensitive culture bed, before the alleged approaches had been made.

New Ontario Witnesses.

Dealing with the Manitoulin and New Ontario witnesses, called in Gamey's behalf, Mr. Johnston pointed out that Mr. Hearst, the barrister of Sault Ste. Marie, said the interests of Manitoulin were a factor in the riding, and that he would expect Mr. Gamey to support measures of that class, irrespective of party. What more had Mr. Gamey promised in any of the letters signed by him? Dr. Fell said that at the convention that no pledge was taken from Mr. Gamey as to who he would support, and that he was free to follow the dictates of his own conscience.

Reference to the letter of September 10, signed in Mr. Aylesworth's office, showed that it corresponded closely with the position Mr. Gamey took during the election campaign, and in the interregnum. Mr. Johnston observed that Gamey read the letter over twice before he signed it, but when Chancellor Boyd observed he did not think the evidence warranted the statement, he said the chances were Gamey read it over.

Where the Money Came From.

If Gamey really got the bribe one would have expected strong and vigorous support of the Government until the time came for the explanation in the House, but instead, on September 10 he attended the Conservative caucus.

"Where did the money come from?" the Chancellor pertinently enquired.

"I don't think it devolves upon us to prove where it came from, unless they prove it came from us," said Mr. Johnston. "It may have come from the 10th day of September,—(laughter)—or it may have come from the Conservative funds."

"Both parties had an opportunity to go into that, but they have not done so," observed the Chancellor.

"It is just as sensible to say the money came from the Conservative fund as from the Liberals," Mr. Johnston argued.

"Except this," replied the Chancellot, "that it is said the Conservatives' was exhausted, and this man had nothing to fight the protest."

"So it was on the other side."

"There is no evidence one way or the other," concluded the court.

A Marvellous Condition.

Not only did Gamey go to the Conservative caucus after receiving the bribe as alleged, but he went into North Perth in January as an Opposition orator.

Commenting on the evidence he had reviewed, Mr. Johnston exclaimed: "Yet on that my learned friend would have J. R. Stratton pronounced a criminal! No wonder my learned friend had to resort to invocation, as well as to imprecations."

Counsel asked the question how Gamey's letter to The Expositor in February could help along his scheme. The Chancellor answered him by saying that Gamey explained that he was trying to tide over the trouble with his Conservative friends. Counsel drew attention to the fact that the letter was a private one, and to a Liberal.

Absolute Contradiction.

The statement the editor of The Manitoulin Conservator, said Mr. Johnston, absolutely contradicted Mr. Gamey's evidence in the box. Why did he allude to the Oxford election trial, and the absurdity of the rumor that he was going to support the Government? Gamey had said that he spoke to the editor, but had not said it was given for explanation.

The Chancellor thought the solution was that Gamey wanted to pacify the people.

Mr. Johnston argued that it showed the same fact as all his other statements, that he was going to give the Government an independent support.

Manitoulin-Gamey's Politics.

"Then you argue that Manitoulin was his politics, and that he was going to stick to that through thick and thin!" said the Chancellor.

Mr. Johnston said all the evidence was consistent with this theory, and inconsistent with his story that it was a plot on his part. The documentary evidence all went to show that the former theory was correct. It it were not the Aylesworth letter which he had signed was misleading and a lie. On this letter he built the entire superstructure of his story. If he fails to prove that this was not false and misleading, his story absolutely fell to the ground. He was not arguing on so harsh a rule that if a witness lied on one important point that his whole story was unworthy of credence, but this was a matter about which no man could be mistaken.

"If—Wholly Discredited."

If he was lying about this he was wholly discredited. Every judge or lawyer who had served on nisi prius cases knew that frequently letters, wholly innocent when written, were manipulated by the touch of wrong into evidence of crime. It was the last and the first letter which passed between Mr. Gamey and the Government on that particular point. It then was evidence of the crime to be committed; the evidence on which his story depended, and yet it was relinquished by Mr. Gamey. He submitted that on this point Mr. Gamey's evidence was absolutely false, that it was a wholly innocent letter; that if it were not Mr. Stratton, Mr. Boland, Mr. Myers, Mr. Chase and Mr. Sullivan were perjurers. This was the only instance in writing in which Mr. Gamey had stipulated for a single thing, and he stipulated for some thing which would come to him by right if he supported the Government. The giving of patronage to Mr. Gamey as representative of the riding was an honest, fair and legitimate act.

The Letter to the Premier.

The Chancellor asked Mr. Johnston if he intended to deal with what induced him to part with the letter after taking it away from Mr. Aylesworth's office. That phase of the case had been very strongly impressed on the court yesterday.

Mr. Johnston said he intended to deal with this phase of the matter later. Continuing on the subject of patronage, he said, it was well to know what he would get from Mr. Stratton. He swore that he got what was more difficult to get, money; and did not get from Mr. Stratton what was easier to give, patronage; no single appointment was made for his nominees by Mr. Stratton the man who was charged with doing the buying: he wouldn't even appoint an issuer of marriage licenses, or a lock-up keeper to oblige Mr. Gamey. The appointment of Flesher as a justice of the peace was made by the Attorney-General. It was not shown that Mr. Stratton had done more than forward the application in the usual course to Hon. J. M. Gibson. There was no pretence that the appointment was not a proper one; and one could only look for guilt or evidence of guilt when an appointment was made without the proper qualifications. The other appointment was the returning officer on the referendum, that was a Cabinet appointment and Jackson was already sheriff. Jackson came here himself and apparently on his own request received the appointment.

The Patriot in Politics.

On Jan. 13, with that peculiar sensitiveness that distinguishes the patriot in politics, Gamey had asked for a Crown Lands appointment for his brother, and further requests that he be shipped off to the wilds of Algoma so that people would not know about it. A man in his position with bribe money in his pocket, he could have had his father and his mother and his mother-in-law and the whole family appointed. It would have been the easiest thing in the world had there been a corrupt bargain.

Moreover, he had not got a dollar for roads. To his applications, he got an evasive answer from Hon. Mr. Latchford, putting him off. He was a man who, if his story were true, was a bomb, a piece of dynamite, who could destroy the party anytime, and yet there had been no handling of him with gloves. He had been ignored; Mr. Stratton had only taken the trouble to answer one of his letters.

Mr. Stratton's Indifference.

Mr. Johnston said he could not conceive of a man bought, a man not trusted by Mr. Stratton, a man distrusted by him, a man in whom he could not place confidence, being bribed by him with $3,000 and then ignored by him for six months; treated as a person to whom he owed nothing, toward whom his position was "I have nothing to give you; do your worst."

Continuing, Mr. Johnston said that of all the singular features in the case, perhaps the most singular was that Mr. Stratton had never written Gamey but one letter, the non-committal communication of Oct. 2. This was the first and only letter, and it was singular that the Minister declined to get railway passes for him. The letter was wholly inconsistent with the theory of bribery; no man would write in such a careless, indifferent manner to a member of the House whom he had bought, and whom it was his interest to conciliate in every way.

The court then adjourned until two o'clock.

YOUNG AND OLD FOLKS.

U. Pleasant to take, agreeable to the stomach, soothing and healing, Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is prescribed by physicians instead of cod-liver oil. It does all, and more, than cod-liver oil. The ideal medicine for children and enfeebled persons.

THE WEATHER.

To-day's Probs—

Moderate to fresh easterly winds, fair and cool. Sunday—Fresh east to south winds, some scattered showers, or thunderstorms, but mostly fair with a little higher temperature.

To-day's Temperature

As Registered by The Intelligencer's Guaranteed Thermometer:

8 a.m.	52
12 m.	65
2 p.m.	69

Took Up the Protest.

When the Commission resumed in the afternoon, Mr. Johnston took up the question of the protest. He contended that the letter was simply a guide to Mr. Aylesworth, and it was far-fetched to think that if the Government had been criminal that it would have kept that letter and produced it after seven months as an evidence of their crime. It was to be remembered, too, that after early in June Mr. Stratton had withdrawn altogether from any action in respect of protests, and that matter was left entirely in solicitor's hands. It was Mr. Bristol who had suggested the saw-off of Manitoulin against South Wentworth. He held that it was not fair comment on the evidence to hold, as Mr. Blake had done, that it was through the Government that the protest had been withdrawn.

The Whole Gamey Case.

The alterations made in the letter of Oct. 27, copy of Sept. 10, mailed by Gamey to the Premier from Gore Bay, were with respect to the point on which the whole Gamey case lay. "If you have a reasonable majority," was what he had been saying all along, and meant that he would support any Government in power for the benefit of Manitoulin. Stronger evidence could not be found of the care, honesty and truthfulness of the administration and of the depth of lying and deception to which Gamey had sunk.

No Bribe Suggested.

In all the correspondence there was no bribe suggested: If the Government had wished to influence the bye-elections they could have made it known that Mr. Gamey had come over to their side, but they could not do it because he was a man they could not trust. Mr. Stratton's language to Gamey in the presence of Mr. Chamberlain was not that of a man to one whom he had bought but rather suitable to a man who could not be trusted. The Globe interview was not worth 1,000 cents, a weak, puny thing that any member of the Opposition might sign if he had been talking along the lines talked by Gamey for six or seven mobths previously. If that interview was evidence of a plot why did Mr. Stratton permit Mr. Gamey to consult his friends; if it was a plot why did Gamey hesitate to sign the interview? The interview was drawn up by Mr. Stratton to represent what he thought were Mr. Gamey's ideas, but the changes were the latter's real ideas. "Manitoulin is my politics." His letter to Mr. Whitney was of the same line.

The Sullivan Telegram.

The telegram from Sullivan to Gamey was from one who was interested with him in a timber limit, and having got a man he wanted Gamey in town in connection with it. He contended that here again, in connecting Mr. Stratton with the matter, Mr. Blake had switched the evidence, although he exonerated Mr. Blake and laid the blame upon whoever prepared the evidence for him.

The Money Payment.

Coming to the question of the payment of $3,000 and $1,000 Mr. Johnston said it involved a criminal charge and it must be proved beyond any reasonable doubt, but on the payment Mr. Gamey stood alone uncorroborated. If it took place it was deliberately planned, but it was not reasonable. Gamey was an utter stranger to Mr. Stratton and the Ministers and Mr. Stratton had been warned against him as a man not to be trusted. Yet at practically their first meeting he says the bribery took place with a money payment. Then the money was taken to pay his promisory note. Neither were without means, so where then was the motive?

The Howling of a Cur.

Gamey's motive for supporting the Government was the stronger one—infinitely stronger than the monetary one, the benefit of Manitoulin if he had ambition for a political future. Nor was there a particle of of proof that Mr. Stratton guided the Jones correspondence, and Sullivan was unknown to the latter. The charge of conspiracy against the Government utterly fails. His learned friend had asked why they had not come before the Commission and purged themselves? Purge themselves of what? His insinuations; the reckless statements of Gamey on the floor of the House. They might as well call the Premier of this Province into the box to answer the howlings of some cur as he passed the gateway. They subpoenaed all the Ministers and could have called them if they chose.

The court then adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning.

SINCLAIR'S AD SINCLAIR'S AD.

SINCLAIR'S
10c Wash 10c
GOODS SALE
On Saturday, May 23

We will hold our first Wash Goods Sale for the season and will place on tables about Three Thousand Five Hundred (3,500) yards of Wash Goods, to clear at ... 10c per yd.

This lot will include:

Crum's best 12½c light and dark Prints for	10c yd.
Navy and White 12½c Dress Ducks for	10c yd.
15c to 20c Dress Sateens for	10c yd.
15 to 20c Dress Ginghams for	10c yd.
12½c to 20c White Check Muslins for	10c yd.
5 pieces 45 inch Victoria Dress Lawn for	10c yd.
15c to 20c Dress Linens for	10c yd.
15c to 30c Fancy Dress Muslins for	10c yd.

These Goods are particularly suited for Ladies' and Children's summer Wash Dresses and we put the lot on sale, your choice for 10c per yd.

D. V. SINCLAIR & CO.

"PURE, HEALTHY, TASTY"

Their sale proves their worth.

"SALADA"

Ceylon GREEN Tea is displacing Japans just as the "SALADA" Blacks are displacing all other black teas. Sold only in sealed lead packets. 25c & 40c per lb. By all grocers.

GORMAN'S

THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE

Our large, bright, new stock of reliable Foot wear is daily making many new friends for THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE.

Just step in some time, when out shopping, you will also say that our shoes are deserving of THEIR GREAT POPULARITY.

Come in any time we will be pleased to serve you.

You will find here excellet lines of Ladies' Lace Boots selling at $4.00, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Our men's department is well stocked with stylish, comfortable, durable boots, in various leathers, selling at $5.00, $3.75, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Daily Intelligencer.

MUNICIPAL TINKERING — COUNTY COUNCILS.

People will no longer wonder at the difficulty which judges have in deciding what the law is, when they reflect upon the changes, alterations, amendments, and tinkering with the Municipal School laws which take place every session of the Ontario Legislature. Every member seems to have some special hobby, or some particular case to meet in his constituency; as an evidence of this there are some score of bills now before the Ontario Legislature, containing propositions to change and add to the Municipal and School laws.

Among the not unimportant changes proposed is one to return to the old system of constituting County Councils, on the ground that the present system of electing Council Councillors has not proved satisfactory, keeping, as the promoter of the bill says it does, the best men from seeking the position of Reeve in the townships. His proposition is, to have the County Council composed of the Reeves of the different township municipalities, as formerly. He proposes, however, to leave the change optional with each County.

Mr. Ross, the premier, is evidently not enamored of the present state of affairs, as he neither opposes nor approves the present proposition. Mr. Whitney rallies the Government with having no policy upon the subject, leaving as it does such important legislation to drift into the hands of private members. The probabilities of such a proposition becoming law is problematical.

Salted Peanuts

Fresh roasted, buttered, and salted to-day.

J. ARTHUR MARSH.

Special Great Mid=Season Sale

Beginning Saturday, May 16th, 1903.

Just a Moment, Don't Fail to Read.

The dollar rules the commercial world—to a very great extent. Prompt dollars bring us merchandise that, enable us to sell to you at extraordinary prices. To prepare for a further new stock of Summer goods, we find we can clear off a quantity of spring materials, new ideas and fresh goods are continually being introduced. We must have them. We therefore invite you to this Great Sale where you will find that facts speak with greater force than elongated statements. So come and see for yourself. The goods and prices do the talking.

A Few of the Lines

Men's English Blue Serge Suits, all sizes 34 to 40 at $3.50

Men's Spring Suits, Dark Grey Halifax Tweed, made single breasted with French Facings, worth $7 00, our price $4.00

Men's spring Suits, Black or Blue twill serge suits, made single breasted with French facings, worth $8.00 our price $4.50

The finest and nobbiest assortment of Boys' two and three piece suits in the city. All sizes and at low prices.

The Globe Clothing House

Up-to-date Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers.

390 FRONT STREET. LOOK FOR THE GLOBE OVER THE DOOR

MACHINE VOTING.

A Grit member of the Ontario Legislature has introduced a bill intituled, "An Act to permit Municipalities to use Voting Machines." One would have thought that Ontario had had enough machine voting in the past. The bill provides that the Machine is to be locked thirty days before an election. This would be no security in the hands of Grit machinists. Locks of ballot boxes have been tampered with in the past and would be again in the hands of such men as manipulated matters in Elgin, Huron, Waterloo, Oxford, Brockville, St. James Division, Montreal, and other constituencies. The only remedy for ballot-box iniquities is a few years in the penitentiary at hard labor, and a Minister of Justice who will not pardon the criminals.

Thousands of Nursing Mothers Sound the Praises of

Malt Breakfast Food

Malt Breakfast Food has brought more health and comfort to the homes of Canada than any other food preparation. Mothers find it an invaluable food during the period of nursing, as it provides the most ample nutrition for keeping up health and strength; it promotes to a marvellous degree the secretion of milk. Malt Breakfast Food is recommended every day by physicians to nursing mothers, because of its many advantages as a concentrated nourishment. No other food is so easily and so rapidly digested and assimilated, and no other contributes so much to general health-building. If the mother's stomach is weak and capricious, let her try Malt Breakfast Food for a week; it will soon establish perfect digestion, healthful circulation and a well-regulated nervous system. Ask your Grocer for Malt Breakfast Food.

ENTIRE TRAINS ADDED.

Phenomenal Enlargement of Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Shows.

Ringling Brothers' World's Greatest Show, which will exhibit in Belleville, Saturday, June 6, has been enlarged upon such a broad scale of liberality as to almost preclude the depiction of its real magnitude on paper. The Ringling Brothers, always modern and progressive, had had for years the biggest and best show on earth, yet this season they have more than trebled their immense amusement enterprise by the addition of complete new trains, hundreds of horses and people, and by entire new shows. The crowning feature of these almost unlimited additions is the grand spectacular and pantomimic production of Jerusalem and the Crusades, in which are shown twelve hundred characters, magnificent costumes, fifteen carloads of special scenery, and an enormous triple strength cathedral pipe organ of rare volume, power and sweetness of tine. This spectacular is shown in the largest tent ever made for a circus—a vast canvas theatre, arena and aerial enclave, brilliantly lighted by electricity. Jerusalem and the Crusades is but one of hundreds of marvelous attractions the Ringling Brothers have gathered from all points of the compass. The monster free street parade—a glittering pageant fully three miles in length—is alone worth the amount charged for the circus proper. It is replete with new and novel processional attractions, displaying beautifully carved and decorative floats representative of every country on the globe, richly attired horsemen from every known nation, and monster herds of elephants and camels, with a division for the children, and a full hundred cages of the rarest wild animals known to zoologists. In the arenic performance the Ringling Brothers introduce 375 performers, each one a premier artist. Among them are superb aerial feats by the renowned Potters and the Flying Fishers, the famous Nelson Family in an entirely new act, the Dollard troupe, direct from European triumphs in a sensational acrobatic act; the Fortune Brothers, comedy acrobats; Genaro and Theol, unrivalled contortionists; the Rios Brothers, Frank Smith, known the world over as the upside-down man, and many other incomparable aerialists, acrobats and equilibrists. The riders this season include John and Michael Rooney, who have long held the championship of the world; Reno McCree, Miss May Davenport, the Walletts, recently imported from Australia; the Hobsons, the St. Leons, Rhoda Royal, Jno. O'Brien, John Agee, Albert Thompson, Madame Royal, Miss Ida Miaco, John Slater, and a host of others. In the trained animal display the Ringling Brothers present three herds of huge elephant actors, under the direction of Pearl Souder, troops of cute little ponies in acts that never fail to please the children, Capt. Webb's wonderful performing seals, cake-walking and high school horses in exhibitions of the highest type of equine intelligence and a marvellous new conception—sixty-one beautiful specimens of horseflesh performing at one time in an ordinary circus ring. The circus performance is given on four stages, in three rings, and on a wide quarter mile hippodrome track.

On show day admission tickets and numbered reserved seats will be on sale at Riggs' Music Store at same prices as charged on show grounds.

DEATHS

ORR.—At Belleville, on Thursday, May 21st, 1903, James Orr, in his 70th year.

The funeral will take place from his late residence, Yeomans street, to-morrow (Sunday), 24th inst., at 3 p.m. Service at the house at 2.30 p.m.

The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.—Napoleon.

Anecdotal.

Nat Goodwin receives many letters in the course of a dramatic season. While playing in Brooklyn recently he and his dog inspired the following, which is probably the most original in his collection: "Dear Mr. Goodwin—Me and my Bro. Teddy want to trade a jackknife . . . a six-blader and our new sister for your bulldog, which we saw at the matinee in Act II, the other day. We've used the jackknife six times and the baby four weeks."

Horace Greeley was one of the most profane men that ever lived, and when he realized that he was dying he is quoted as having said aloud: "Well, the devil got you at last, you d—d old ——." A week after the funeral his daughter, Miss Gabrielle Greeley, wrote to Whitelaw Reid, the young editor of the New York "Tribune," to know what were the last words of her father. Reid, so the story goes, wrote: "Your dear father's last words were: 'I know that my Redeemer liveth.'"

A school teacher in Kentucky had some trouble in teaching a little fellow to say "double l," "double e," "double s," et cetera. But after a while his efforts were fruitful, and he was gratified by an extraordinary appearance of interest on the pupil's part. In fact, the boy became a double letter hunter, and ceased altogether to require attention at that point. About that time they reached a lesson concerning the early riser, beginning "Up! Up! and see the sun!" He read it "Double up! and see the sun!"

One day three tailors, an Englishman, a Scotchman and an Irishman, were bragging about what each one could do in the way of making clothes. The Englishman said: "If I saw a man walking down the street I could make a suit of clothes for him." The Scotchman thought he would go the Englishman one better, so he said: "If I only caught a glimpse of a man going around a corner I could make a suit of clothes for him." The Irishman said: "Shure, if Oi could only see th' corner th' mon wint 'round I could make a suit of clothes fur him."

A very small girl was observed by a friend of the family eating a certain cereal preparation. She seemed to eat, as the English are said to take their pleasures, sadly. "Don't you like that, my dear?" enquired the friend. "Not pertick'ly," replied the little maid. "Why do you eat it, then?" persisted the enquirer. The daughter of the house paused with spoon on edge of bowl. "It's got to be eaten," she answered gravely. "The grocery man gives mamma a rag doll for every two packages she buys, and it's got to be eaten every morning." And she continued to eat cereal.

Some young girls at a summer resort were giving a vaudeville performance for a local charity. A young man who thought himself facetious tossed upon the stage after one of the "turns" a bouquet whose chief ingredient was a head of cabbage. The girl who received this offering of appreciation read the card that accompanied it, and advanced to the footlights. "It gives me great pleasure," she said, "to know that Mr. Edward Morgan has enjoyed my performance. I hoped that the audience might like it, but I never expected for a moment that Mr. Morgan would so far lose his head as to throw it upon the stage!"

Stories of Bishop Williams of Connecticut continue to crop out. One just told relates to his first sermon in the parish to which he was called just after he was ordained. He was rather nervous when he began to preach, but as he progressed he noticed an old man in the front pew who seemed intensely interested in the sermon. Whenever the preacher made a point the old gentleman nodded vigorously in approval. This was very encouraging to the not overconfident parson, and after the services he enquired who the man was. "The old man in the front pew?" queried a vestryman. "Oh, he is one of the harmless inmates of the insane asylum around the corner."

A lawyer who has charge of the collection of a large number of rents was recently visited by an old Irishwoman, who, after much persuasion, had been induced to come down town and pay her rent. The lawyer's office was on one of the upper floors of a large office building. After the rent had been paid and the receipt given, the old woman was shown out into the hallway by the office boy. The lawyer found her in the hallway a few minutes later, when he had occasion to go out. She was wandering about opening doors and otherwise acting in a strange manner. "What are you looking for?" asked the lawyer. "Shure, I'm lookin' for the little closet I came up in."

"Doctor," said a fashionably dressed woman to her new physician, "I want you to give me a prescription which will cure me of a most irritating trouble." The doctor bowed, and waited for her to go on. "About eleven o'clock every evening," said the patient, "I am overcome by a feeling of sleepiness, no matter where I am—at the opera, at a dinner party, wherever I may be, this dreadful sensation comes over me. I have suffered from it now for five weeks, and no remedy has seemed to do any good." "Oh, I can give you a prescription that will prevent it from overcoming you ever again," said the doctor. His new patient was radiant, but when she looked at the slip of paper the doctor gave her her face clouded. He had written: "Bed from ten at night till seven the next morning. Repeat dose once in twenty-four hours, whenever symptoms recur."

Judge Greene of San Francisco was once trying a case in which one of the attorneys was a bright, although not well-educated, Irishman. The court ruled against the lawyer on several points in a manner which the lawyer regarded as arbitrary, and finally, just as another decision was to be made, he rose and said: "I hope your honor will not decide against me on this point until he has read the following section from 'Browney on Frauds.'" "What did you say was the name of the authority?" enquired the judge. "Browney, your honor—B-r-o-w-n-e, Browney." "My name," said the judge, with a smile, "is spelled G-r-e-e-n-e. How would you pronounce that—Greene, or Greeney?" "I shall reserve my judgment on that, your honor," replied the attorney, "until the court has rendered a decision on the point now before it."

A Division.

"Boo-hoo! We got them skates together, an'——" "And he won't share them?" "Yes; but I gits 'em durin' July

PEN PICTURES OF PEOPLE YOU MEET

ON A BELLEVILLE STREET.

REV. DR. CROTHERS.

Did you ever, in a newspaper, see the term, as applied to a barometer, "steadily rising?" Yes, of course. Well, that is the expression which can properly be used concerning Rev. Dr. Crothers' popularity in this city, where, come next month, he will have been stationed three years. Look at him there, across the street. Quiet, self-contained, looks like a man of business. Between ourselves, that's what he is, a man of business, tactful, earnest, practical, with a habit of calling a spade a spade. A man who doesn't go up among the clouds for his illustrations, but draws them from everyday life, with no oratorical fireworks, either; nothing but good, plain, common sense, epigrammatic English; but he says things which people talk about on their way home from church, and which tend to make better men and women of those who listen to him every Sunday. Rather a striking face, has the Doctor. Merry grey eyes, which might almost indicate Irish ancestry; a flowing beard, with more grey in it than it had twenty years ago, and a resonant voice which is easily heard in every corner of Bridge Street's big auditorium. You would hardly think, to see him in church on Sunday, that he had such a fund of wit and humor, but if you heard him once at a banquet, as we did (a cold water banquet, of course), you would wonder how he manages to preach sometimes for three-quarters of an hour or so, and not indulge in a few "rib-ticklers" which would make his congregation smile audibly. It was at the last Mayor's banquet that Dr. Crothers made his local reputation as a raconteur, when, for an hour or so, he fairly bubbled over with anecdote and—and—chestnuts. That isn't exactly the words, but you know what we mean. Some of the stories were doing duty before the Doctor had cut his theological eye teeth, but most of them were new and all of them were apropos. As to the way in which they were told—well, ask anybody who was there. The Doctor is always ready to lend his aid to the furtherance of any great scheme as witness the fact that he has done yeoman work in the righteous agitation towards the repair of that celebrated spot, the old d.s.b.g. Another of the Doctor's strong points is his patriotism. When it comes to loving the Union Jack he doesn't doff his chapeau to anybody. He is never at a loss to tell you stories of Britain's glory, and for treason, whether open or veiled, he has the contempt which becomes every honest man who lives in this, the fairest and freest country under the sun. Naturally, with all these good qualities, the Doctor's views run to Conservatism? you say. Well, we couldn't swear to it. We don't think that, being a sky pilot, he is a politician—but if he were a layman—ah! that's another story. To return to his personal appearance, did you ever hear the funny mistake the local Grits made one time? They had a convention out at Canifton, and, of course, had badges printed for the occasion, which they wore on their manly breasts. On the badges was a picture of Hon. Geo. W. Ross—as they supposed. In some funny way the printer had gotten hold of a cut of Rev. Dr. Crothers in mistake, and those Grits went out to Canifton wearing a picture of Bridge Street's pastor. Considerable amusement was created when the fact became known. Rev. William John Crothers, M.A., D.D., was born at Philipsburg, P.Q., and was educated at the local school and at McGill University, Montreal, where he took honors in Logic and Mental and Moral Philosophy. He entered the ministry in 1872 and was ordained in 1876. He was, till 1892, a member of the Montreal Conference. Since then he has served in Port Hope, Napanee and this city.

When General Sheridan was camping on the lower Mississippi, his negro boy, Harry, was one day asked by a friend whether the general was not terribly annoyed by the mosquitoes. "No, sah," said Harry; "in the evenin' Marsa's so 'toxicated he don't mind the skeeters an' in the mornin' the skeeters is so 'toxicated they don't mind Marsa."

When Sidney Smith was rector of a parish in Yorkshire he found his vestry were discussing the propriety of paving the approach to the church with wooden blocks. There was a good deal of perturbation over ways and means, however. "Gentlemen," said the witty rector, "I think if you will all put your heads together, as the saying is, the thing can be accomplished without much difficulty."

A Scottish member of Parliament, in an address to his constituents, assured his hearers that he was not an idle member of the House, and that during the last two years he had put no less than one hundred and eighty-two questions to the speaker and the members of the government. "What an ignorant auld beggar ye must be!" cried a voice from the crowd.

The revivalist, "Sam" Jones, was once taking women to task for spending more time in prinking than in praying. "If there's a woman here," he screamed, finally, "who prays more than she prinks, let her stand up." One poor old, faded specimen of femininity, in the sorriest, shabbiest of clothes, arose. "You spend more time praying than prinking?" asked the preacher, taking her all in. The poor old creature said she did—prayed all the time, prinked not at all. "You go straight home," admonished Jones, "and put a little time on your prinking."

While passing Cherbourg, en route from South Africa to London, Cecil Rhodes observed several vessels of the French Channel Squadron drawn up in line to salute the ex-Empress Eugenie's yacht. The Frenchmen, who were spread out on the yards of their vessels, shouted "Vive l'Imperatrice!" The captain of the vessel on which Rhodes was a passenger, wishing to show his respect to the empress, got his men ready to salute, but in the short time at his disposal he could not school his crew to repeat the French words. "Tell them to say 'beef, lemons and cheese,'" suggested Rhodes, playfully, and, to his utter amazement, the yacht was greeted with a deafening yell of "beef, lemons and cheese!" which entirely drowned the voices of the French sailors. The ex-empress is stated to have expressed great pleasure at the compliment afterward.

A New Treatment For Cancer

A CONSTITUTIONAL REMEDY WHICH HAS SUPERSEDED OPERATIONS.

The old methods of treating cancer by means of the knife or by pasts and plasters, while cruel and painful in the extreme, by no means effected a cure, as they only removed the surface indications of the disease and did not reach the cancer germs in the blood.

The new constitutional treatment does away with the pain and danger of operations, and while pleasant to take and harmless to the most delicate system, it is most prompt and effectual in destroying every cancer germ and clearing away every trace of cancer poison from the system. Send two stamps to B. I. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont., for full particulars.

REIGN OF The Leather Bag

The Leather Bag in its many forms of varied attractiveness is everywhere in evidence this year and promises to hold its popularity for some time to come.

THE BAG IS THE RAGE

There are SOUND REASONS for this; it is not a mere fad. Our goods are right in line with the spirit of the times.

Angus McFee.

Jeweler & Optician

310 Front St.

P.S.—In the matter of the new Blouse Pin Sets we show everything that is "taking" in the larger centers.

Specials in Millinery

Sale of Sailor Hats.

We bought too many. 15 doz. cleared at HALF PRICE.

White and Colored.

ALL NEW.

Also some very choice Dress Hats just received.

GET FIRST CHOICE.

MISS IRWIN

Millinery and Corset Specialist

There is not a foreign water that one of the MAGI Caledonia Waters does not advantageously replace for either as a medicinal or table use. J. J. McLaughlin, sole Agent, Toronto. Sold everywhere.

The wise are polite all the world over; fools are polite only at home.—Bacon.

LIKE OTHER EVILS cramps and diarrhœa come suddenly. Promptly give a dose of Perry Davis' Painkiller and the pains will go immediately. A bottle at hand will save hours of suffering—be prepared.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M.D., C.M., M.R.C.S., England.
Office and Residence — Corner of Bridge and George streets — three streets East of Post Office.

DR. J. F. MATHER
Has removed his office to Pinnacle St. three doors north of Hotel Quinte. my29-6mw

LEGAL.

WILLS & WRIGHT,
Barristers, Solicitors, Notary Public, &c., Belleville.
Office—3 Campbell Street.

MALCOLM WRIGHT.
J. FRANKLIN WILLS.
Money to Loan at Lowest Rates.

W. C. MIKEL, B. C. L.,
Barrister, &c.
Solicitor for the City of Belleville.
Office—Metropolitan Block, Corner Front and Campbell Streets.

PORTER & CARNEW,
Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc.
Offices — Robertson Block, East Front St., Belleville, Ont.
'Phone 87.
E. G. PORTER. WM. CARNEW.

WILLIAM N. PONTON,
Barrister-at-law, Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge Street, Belleville.
Money to Loan — Private Funds. Solicitor Sun and Hastings Savings and Loan Company of Ontario.

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE,
Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.
Barrister, Solicitor, Conveyancer, Etc. Office, McAnnany Building, corner Front and Bridge Sts., Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security.
Charges moderate.

INSURANCE.

Fire Insurance.

Guardian	Est'd 1821
The North America,	Est'd 1792
Quebec,	Est'd 1818

City, Town and Village Property insured at lowest rates.
R. W. ADAMS. Agent.
Office opposite Post Office.

PERSONS desiring Life insurance cannot do better than consult
W. J. THOMSON,
who is the Agent for the following well-known and old established Assurance Companies:
ROYAL. ALLIANCE.
OCEAN ACCIDENT STANDARD LIFE
Office at Rathbun Co., Bridge St. oc8-d&w

THOS. STEWART,
Insurance and Commission Agent
Agent for the Norwich Union Society and Scottish Union Fire in National Ins. Co.
BRIDGE ST.

FIRE, LIFE & ACCIDENT INSURANCE

At Lowest Rates The Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Perth Mutual on farm and city property. Also money to loan at 4½ per cent. upwards.
JAMES A. CHISHOLM,
Office Ashley Block, Front st., Belleville

Money Saved is Money Earned

can earn you money by saving it for you in your Fire Insurance.
The Anglo-American Fire Ins. Co
The Merchants Fire Ins. Co.
The Equity Fire Ins. Co.
Are all strong Canadian stock companies and insure Farm and City Property at lower rate than other stock companies Call and see me before placing your fire insurance.
Office—Bridge St., same entrance Quinte Laundry, Belleville.
H. FREEMAN KETCHESON.

Fire, Life & Plate Glass Insurance.

Liverpool & London & Globe of England.
Waterloo Mutual, of Waterloo, Ont,
Lloyd's Plate Glass.
Home Life Association, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile.
Farm and City Property insured in First-class Reliable Companies and at lowest current rates. Losses promptly settled. Land valuation, and transact general Real Estate business and sale or purchase and renting of property. Appraiser for the Hastings Loan & Investment Society. Money to Loan.
W. P. HUDSON, Office above Rathbun's office, cor. Bridge and Pinnacle Sts., opposite Postoffice and Hotel Quinte, Belleville.
'Phone 168.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. G. NORTHRUP,
Issuer of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville, Ont.

CHAUNCEY ASHLEY,
Issuer of Marriage Licenses.
Private Office, Bridge St., Belleville, opposite the Post Office.
Residence, first house east of W. W. Chown's Mfg. Co., Station St.
Appointments made.

He who foresees calamities suffers them twice over.

Those who live in yesterday's wigwam are always a day behind.

The best way to get even is to forget.

DAISY GORDON'S FOLLY

—OR—

THE WORLD LOST FOR LOVE'S SAKE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY,

Author of "The Crime of Hallow-E'en," "The Flirtations of a Beauty," "Willful Gaynell," "Little Leafy," "Only a Mechanic's Daughter," etc.

It was over an hour after the grand ball broke up that Mrs. Dillingham discovered the loss of her diamonds, then in a single instant the mansion was in a state of the greatest confusion.

Messengers were dispatched to police headquarters without delay, asking that the most expert detectives that could be procured be sent them at once.

This was done. Mr. Lane listened attentively to every minute detail which might have the least bearing on the case, even to the hostess describing how she had left her friend, young Mrs. Hamilton, alone in her boudoir, dismissing her maid that her friend might be induced to rest—she looked so strangely pale — and how she had laughingly told her she would leave her to guard her diamonds, which were in an adjoining room.

Mr. Lane made note of this point particularly, examined the premises minutely, took a list of the guests who had been at the ball, then left the mansion.

"Well," said the chief, when Mr. Lane walked into his private office, "you've been carefully over the ground, I suppose; what luck! Did you find any clew?"

"The best kind of a clew," returned Mr. Lane.

"Is it a man or a woman whom you suspect?" inquired the chief.

"A woman," returned Mr. Lane, "and a young and beautiful one, who moves in the best society."

"I hope you are on the right track," remarked the chief; "mistakes are unpleasant in such cases."

"It is not this little beauty's first attempt," continued Mr. Lane, "she was brought to my notice a few days since, and in a peculiar manner. I was strolling down the avenue one afternoon when a coupe, drawn by a pair of prancing horses, dashed suddenly up the street, halting within a few feet of me, and from the vehicle descended a woman heavily veiled and all alone.

"'Wait here for me until I return,' she said to the driver, and hurried rapidly around the nearest corner. Of course I followed, believing there was something wrong.

"After glancing furtively about I saw her enter Levy's pawnshop.

"Here is something to trail, I said to myself, quickening my pace and hurrying after her. Well, the result was, the beauty— for she was beautiful as a poet's dream — my keen eyes discerned that even through the thickness of the dark veil— left with the pawnbroker a quantity of valuable diamonds on which she raised a thousand dollars, and she had the real stones replaced with pastes. I followed her home and found out who she was. The knowledge shocked me a little I must confess. I have been quietly watching to hear from that affair, but nothing has come to light."

"This woman's name?" said the chief.

Mr. Lane leaned forward and whispered a name in his ear that startled him —shocked him.

"You must be mistaken, Lane!" he cried. "The thing is impossible. Why she is as innocent a creature as the sun ever shone on. She couldn't do such a thing."

"With all due respect to your opinion, chief, I insist that the clew is the right one. You know as well as I do myself it is always these young, innocent- appearing ones that are the greatest sinners. Why, look closely in her face and you will see a story written there. The hurried sound of a strange footstep startles her. Peer keenly in her face, and her eyes will fall before your gaze, and you can read terror and guilt there."

The chief looked really distressed

"It will be the most painful duty I have ever performed to prosecute this case if your suspicions are indeed well founded," he said, slowly, "for her father was, in my earlier life, my best friend, and a more honest man the sun never shone on. Why, I could almost as soon think of suspecting my own fair young daughter of taking Mrs. Dillingham's diamonds, as to suspect her!"

At that moment a carriage drove up to the chief's office in all haste, and Alexander Hamilton sprang out.

The chief and Mr. Lane exchanged strange glances when his card was sent in. He was accorded an interview at once.

"I will state briefly as I can the object of my visit," said Mr. Hamilton, unfastening a handsome stud from his bosom and placing it upon the desk.

"I called at a leading jewelry store with a gentleman friend to look at studs. My friend remarked casually that he wished to purchase one exactly like mine if he could. As it happened, I had purchased mine there.

"The jeweler looked at it steadily a moment; then requested me to let him examine it. I did so.

"'There has been a terrible fraud perpetrated here, Mr. Hamilton,' he said excitedly. 'This is not the gem I sold you! This is a clever paste put in that same setting.'

"You can imagine, my dear sir, my intense amazement upon hearing that.

"Now, I come to you to see if you can trace my lost diamond."

"Have you spoken to anyone concerning the matter?" asked the chief.

"No," said Aleck. "Not even to my wife. I did not want to distress her."

"That is right," returned the chief; "do not speak of it—not even to her just now. If I should summon you hastily, come quickly."

Those words and the strange look that accompanied them, haunted Aleck for hours afterward.

CHAPTER XXI.

"The Curse That Hangs on Your Proud Head."

Three weeks had passed since the eventful night of the ball — weeks fraught with the keenest pain to Daisy for the French count was a daily caller at the beautiful villa where they were now located, and he made no secret of the fact that Olive Gordon was the magnet that drew him thither.

It was torture to Daisy, and all the more bitter because Olive was learning to care for the fellow.

"It must not be," she moaned, "and yet, how dare I tell her all! It would wreck my life, and lose me Aleck's love forever."

Either Olive or herself must be sacrificed— which was it to be! Only heaven could have foretold.

The count had been most pressing in his demands for money, too. She had exhausted every available means of obtaining it, and he was driving her to madness.

One evening a note was slipped into her hand, which culminated all her woes.

"My Dear Madame"— it ran — "I have done myself the honor today of proposing for mademoiselle's hand. She reserves her decision in order to consult with you. You dare not refuse to aid me. She must be mine."

She had scarcely finished reading the note when she heard a light tap at the door, and had barely time to crush it into her bosom ere Olive entered.

"Oh, Daisy!" she cried, fluttering to the room and flinging herself breathlessly down on the velvet hassock at her sister's feet, "guess the great news! No, I shall not tease you by making you guess. I will tell you. The count has proposed at last! Just think of it—I am to be a countess! I haven't accepted him yet, but of course I will.

"He has been telling me of his vast possessions, and, Daisy, I will be so rich and grand —and what is best of all—I—I care for him."

No answer fell from Daisy's white lips. Ah, how cruel of heaven to send this double punishment upon her.

"You do not congratulate me," pouted Olive. "Say something, Daisy. There is a look on your face which puzzles me."

Daisy slipped on her knees at her sister's feet wringing her white hands and sobbing bitterly.

"I cannot bear the thought of you marrying the count, Olive," she gasped. "You must not— I do not like him— indeed I do not."

"I like him," flashed Olive, "and after all I am the one to be suited in an affair of this kind."

"If he were a poor adventurer — a man with neither money, position, nor brains, would you like him?" she asked, piteously.

"Of course not," assented Olive; but what's the use of talking like that? his wealth is enormous, and as for brains —he has any amount of it, and his position is assured. I am determined to marry the count with-

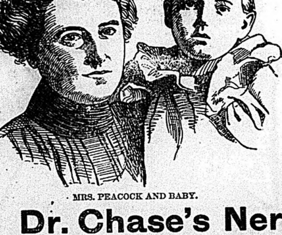
(To be continued.)

The Mothers Need a Spring Restorative.

To Tone Up the System After the Trying Indoor Life of Winter—To Enrich and Purify the Blood—To Revitalize the Nerves and to Give Strength to the Body.

Many mothers find themselves in a run-down condition in the spring, and it is little wonder when you think of how they are usually confined to indoor life during the winter, and not infrequently have children or grown persons to nurse through long spells of sickness.

Irritability, sleeplessness, nervousness, tired, languid feelings, headaches, backaches, dizzy spells, discouragement and despondency are among the annoying symptoms. Later developments are nervous prostration, paralysis or some form of weakness or irregularities which bring endless troubles.



MRS. PEACOCK AND BABY.

Mrs. Thomas Peacock, 23 Hiawatha street, St. Thomas, Ont., and whose husband is conductor on the Wabash Railway, states :—

"I was quite run down in health, was very nervous, did not sleep well and had frequent dizzy spells. Believing this to be the result of an exhausted nervous system, I began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and can say that this medicine did me a world of good. It entirely freed me of the symptoms stated above, built up my health generally so that to-day I feel that I am quite well again."

Mrs. Symons, 42 St. Clair street, Belleville, Ont., states :—

"Some weeks ago I began a course of treatment with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and found it a very satisfactory medicine. I was formerly troubled with nervous exhaustion and a weak, fluttering heart. Whenever my heart bothered me I would have spells of weakness and dizziness, which were very distressing. By means of this treatment my nerves have become strong and healthy, and the action of my heart seems to be regular. I can recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food as an excellent medicine."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Because of its marvellous blood-building qualities and excellent revitalizing influence on the nervous system this great food cure is the most satisfactory treatment for a run-down condition of the system that science has ever devised. By noting your increase in weight while using it you can prove for a certainty that new, firm flesh and tissue are being added to the body.

50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50; at all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.
To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box of his remedies.

We will forfeit $500.00 if these testimonials are not genuine.

THOUSANDS OF MOTHERS.

Recommend Baby's Own Tablets. "I would not be without them," is a very familiar sentence in their letters to us. The Tablets get this praise simply because no other medicine has ever done so much in relieving and curing the minor ills of infants and young children.

Mrs. Levi Perry Roseway, N. S., says: "I take great pleasure in recommending Baby's Own Tablets for colic and constipation. I have never found anything to equal them for these troubles." Besides curing colic, constipation and indigestion, Baby's Own Tablets prevent croup, break up colds, expel worms, allay the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth, sweeten the stomach and promote health-giving sleep. Guaranteed to contain neither opiates nor other harmful drugs. Sold at 25 cents a box by all druggists or may be had by writing the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Might be Worse.

One day, Mackintosh, having vexed him by calling O'Coigly "a rascal," Parr immediately rejoined, "Yes, Jamie, he was a bad man, but he might have been worse; he was an Irishman, but he might have been a Scotchman; he was a priest, but he might have been a lawyer; he was a republican, but he might have been an apostate."

This plan is slow and not very sure.

Wilson's Fly Pads

Will kill millions and do it quickly.
10 Cents

Illustrated Want Ad.

BOARD WANTED.

Curious Bits of News.

Recently an American cyclist wheeled through La Mancha, in Spain, and in all that bleak region found no one who had ever heard of "Don Quixote," much less of Cervantes.

Dogs are to be used as river police on the Seine. At Gibraltar, curiously enough, dogs are mainly used for smuggling across the frontier, while on the St. Bernard they have once more been established as "first aids" to the frozen. Burnham, the famous scout, found that on the Klondike trail every kind of dog could be taught to draw sledges. The decoy dog and the blind man's dog share with the sheepdog the honor of earning their own living in recognized walks of industry.

Goubet, the French inventor of submarine boats, has devised a model of a boat intended to run under water and to convey passengers between France and England by means of a cable stretched across the Channel. Perhaps his strongest argument for an underwater passage is that the steadiness of motion would prevent seasickness, the traditional terror of the English Channel. The submarine boat "Fulton" lately lay undisturbed on the bottom off the Long Island coast while a tempest overhead sent many vessels to destruction

The keepers of the big cobras in the Central Park Menagerie and the New York Zoological Garden do not find it easy to supply their venomous charges with the kind of food that they specially prefer. In their native land cobras live chiefly on smaller and less dangerous and objectionable snakes, but although every effort is made to collect harmless snakes to satisfy the appetite of the imprisoned cobras, at some seasons they have to be content with rats and mice, which they do not particularly like. Other varieties of captive snakes are fed mainly on toads, mice, rabbits and English sparrows.

Smoking in church is a Dutch custom. Dutchmen are such inveterate smokers that one of them is rarely seen without his pipe. He finds himself unable to deprive himself of the indulgence, even for the short period of a church service. A similar practice exists in several churches in South America. Smoking in churches in Great Britain is said to have been prevalent at the end of the sixteenth and the beginning of the seventeenth century. At one time smoking was carried to such an excess in Seville Cathedral that the chapter applied to the Pope for power to repress the abuse. Urban VIII., yielding to their wish, issued a bull, which was promulgated January 30, 1642. In Wales smoking in church was indulged in as late as 1850. In one church the communion-table stood in the aisle, and the farmers were in the habit of putting their hats upon it, and when the service began they lighted their pipes and smoked, without any thought of irreverence in the act.

Mark Twain tells a story of a man who received a telegram telling him that his mother-in-law had died, and asking: "Shall we embalm, bury, or cremate her?" Twain says he wired back: "Yes, and if these fail, try dissection."

MORTGAGE SALE OF WILLIAM STREET PROPERTY.

Under and by virtue of the Power of Sale contained in a certain Mortgage made by Jason S. Tice, and assigned to the Vendors, which will be produced at the time of sale, default having been made in payment, there will be offered for sale by PUBLIC AUCTION, on SATURDAY, the THIRTIETH DAY OF MAY, 1903, at two o'clock in the afternoon, at the ALBION HOTEL, in the City of BELLEVILLE, the following property, viz.:

All that certain parcel or tract of land and premises situate, lying and being in the said City of Belleville in the County of Hastings, containing one-eighth of an acre, be the same more or less, and being composed of the North half of Lot number Twenty-seven, on the west side of William street, in the said City of Belleville, and which said lot may be better known by reference to a plan of lots laid out upon the south half of lot number Five, in the First Concession of the Township of Thurlow, and now in the City of Belleville, registered in the Registry Office of the County of Hastings, on the twenty-eighth day of June, in the year of our Lord One thousand eight hundred and fifty, together with a right of way twenty-one feet five inches wide, extending from the west side of William street and along the Southern boundary of the said land above described and thence westerly to the depth of fifty-one feet four inches, forming a continuous way from William street westerly to the depth of fifty-one feet four inches, the said way to be used in common by the owners and occupants for the time being (their servants, agents and workmen) of the lands on either side thereof forever, a plan whereof is endorsed on the deed from A. B. Falkiner to one Moody, and the same was registered in the Registry Office for the County of Hastings, on the 16th day of August, 1875, as number 3143 Book (M) and was agreed thereby to be construed and accepted as incorporated in and as part of that conveyance.

On the said premises (conveniently situated near and north of Victoria avenue), is erected a comfortable roughcast house with outbuildings.

Ten per cent. of the purchase money to be paid in cash at the time of sale, when easy terms for the balance can be arranged.

For further particulars and conditions of sale, Apply to
W. N. PONTON,
Bridge St., Belleville,
Vendors' Solicitor.
Belleville, May 1st, 1903. 2,9,16,23

BABY'S DEFENCE

For Soft, White, Fragrant Skin, Use BABY'S OWN SOAP

No other Soap is just as good. 031
ALBERT TOILET SOAP CO., Mfrs. MONTREAL.

THE MASTER MECHANIC'S PURE TAR SOAP heals and softens the skin, while promptly cleansing it of grease, oil, rust, etc. Invaluable for mechanics, farmers, sportsmen. Free Sample on receipt of 2c for postage. Albert Toilet Soap Co., Mfrs. Montreal.

The Surest Remedy Is

Allen's Lung Balsam

It never fails to cure a SIMPLE COLD, HEAVY COLD, and all BRONCHIAL TROUBLES.

Large Bottles $1.00. Medium Size 50c. Small or Trial Size 25c.

Endorsed by all who have tried it.

Eye Troubles Are Hereditary

They are handed down from parent to child, and if there is a defect in a parent's eyes it is more than likely to be found in the eyes of the child also.

Red lids, styes, or itching, burning pains, are

Indications

of muscular troubles that can be overcome by using proper glasses.

ALEX. RAY

The TOILET IS INCOMPLETE WITHOUT POND'S EXTRACT.

RELIEVES CHAFING, ITCHING OR IRRITATION. COOLS, COMFORTS AND HEALS THE SKIN, AFTER SHAVING.

Avoid dangerous, irritating Witch Hazel preparations represented to be "the same as" Pond's Extract, which easily sour and often contain "wood alcohol," a deadly poison.

A Sure Cure for Headaches. — Bilious headache, to which women are more subject than men, becomes so acute in some subjects that they are utterly prostrated. The stomach refuses food, and there is a constant and distressing effort to free the stomach from bile which has become unduly secreted there. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are a speedy alterative, and in neutralizing the effects of the intruding bile relieves the pressure on the nerves which cause the headache. Try them.

The best wheel of fortune is honest labor.

Will be Found an Excellent Remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them.

Wedding rings in St. Kilda used to be made of worsted.

The Well Known Strengthening Properties of IRON, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion.

Coral is a talisman against thunder and evils by flood and field.

There is nothing equal to Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator for destroying worms. No article of its kind has given such satisfaction.

A woman never knows where the match box is.

Some persons have periodical attacks of Canadian cholera, dysentery or diarrhoea, and have to use great precautions to avoid the disease. Change of water, cooking, and green fruit, is sure to bring on the attacks. To such persons we would recommend Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial as being the best medicine in the market for all summer Complaints. If a few drops are taken in water when the symptoms are noticed no further trouble will be experienced.

When one gets hopping mad his reason goes on a crutch.

For coughs, colds, bronchitis and all lung and throat troubles, there is no preparation of medicine can compare with Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup. It never fails to afford prompt and permanent relief. It removes all soreness, and heals the diseased parts. It immediately soothes the most troublesome cough, and by promoting expectoration, removes the mucus which stops up the air tubes which causes difficulty in breathing, thereby gives relief to that depressing tightness experienced in the chest. Public speakers and singers will find Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup of inestimable value, as it speedily and effectually allays all irritation, and huskiness in the throat and bronchial tubes, and gives power to the vocal cords, rendering the voice clear and sonorous. If parents wish to save the lives of their children, and themselves from much anxiety, trouble and expense, let them procure a bottle of "Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup," and whenever a child has taken cold, has a cough or hoarseness, give the Syrup according to directions.

The average watch represents but 12 hours of human labor.

Will positively cure sick headache and prevent its return. Carter's Little Liver Pills. This is not talk, but truth. One pill a dose. See advertisement. Small pill, Small dose. Small price.

If thy friend is honey, do not lick him up altogether.

Holloway's Corn Cure is the medicine to remove all kinds of corns and warts, and only costs the small sum of twenty-five cents.

Attend no auctions if thou hast no money.

To Those of Sedentary Occupation. —Men who follow sedentary occupations, which deprive them of fresh air and exercise, are more prone to disorders of the liver and kidneys than those who lead active, outdoor lives. The former will find in Parmelee's Vegetable Pills a restorative without question the most efficacious on the market. They are easily procurable, easily taken, act expeditiously, and they are surprisingly cheap considering their excellence.

Many a man's self-conceit is due to his ignorance.

UNTOLD MISERY — WHAT A WELL-KNOWN COMMERCIAL TRAVELLER SUFFERED, AND HOW HE WAS CURED.—Gentlemen, About five years ago I began to be troubled with Dyspepsia, and for three years suffered untold misery, from this terrible complaint. I was at that time travelling for Messrs. Walter Woods & Co., Hamilton, and was treated by some of the best physicians in the country, but to no purpose. I continued to grow worse, one day I was induced to try a bottle of Northrup & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery, and to my great surprise and joy, I soon began to improve. I continued using this medicine and when the third bottle was finished, I found I was entirely cured; and as a year has elapsed since then, I feel confident that the cure is complete and permanent. To all afflicted with this distressing complaint I heartily recommend Northrup & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery believing that the persistent use of it will cure any case of Dyspepsia.
(Signed),
T. S. McINTEE.

Over 250,000 copies of Charles Dickens' novels are sold annually.

He Has Tried It.—Mr. John Anderson, Kinloss, writes: "I venture to say few, if any, have received greater benefit from the use of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, than I have. I have used it regularly for over ten years and have recommended it to all sufferers I knew of, and they also found it of great virtue in cases of severe bronchitis and incipient consumption."

SAVE MONEY By JOINING The MUTUAL LITERARY-MUSIC CLUB OF AMERICA

25 Cents pays for three months' membership. Each member receives the official club organ every month, including 6 pieces of high-class vocal and instrumental new music each month, 18 pieces in all; also a Certificate of Membership which gives the privilege of Club Room in New York City, and of buying literature, music or musical instruments of any description at wholesale prices, saving you from 20% to 60% on your purchases. Don't fail to join at once. You will get much more than your money's worth. MUTUAL LITERARY-MUSIC CLUB, Dept. , 150 Nassau St., N.Y.

A SHIRT SALE

We have just received from the manufacturers, 50 dozen Madras Shirts in sizes 14½ to 16½, soft bosoms, with separate cuffs. They should sell at $1.00, but we got a big snap and are going to clear them quick for 50c each.

You need not wait till you go on your holiday trip before getting some of these cool and pretty patterns. They take half the discomfort out of a hot day.

Not More Than one half Dozen sold to each Customer.

OAK HALL

Sole Agents for Sanford's Celebrated Clothing.

Worn thin?
No! Washed thin! That's so when common soap is used.

SUNLIGHT SOAP REDUCES EXPENSE

Ask for the Octagon Bar. 833

Isn't it perfectly awful the horror some people have of water, whether in the form of a bath or a beverage!

* * *

I think if I were a farmer and a boy threw a fire cracker under my horse I'd get out and wear out the whip on him.

* * *

Between the pretty nurses and the elegantly gowned ladies and the handsome doctors, the hospital, yesterday afternoon, didn't look a bit like the place where they saw people's legs off and do things to them for appendicitis.

* * *

We hope, before Mr. Kirkwood starts for Paris, he will get a letter of introduction from Hon. J. Israel Tarte. That little man's name goes a long way with the Sans Culottes.

* * *

The Sons of England will go to church to-morrow, and it's up to the Sons of Scotland, Ireland and Canada to follow their good example.

* * *

It's worth your while to walk up Dundas St. and see the nice wire fence, with white posts, that has been built round three sides of the old d.s.b.g. It looks quite neat and creditable. Now if Mr. O'Flynn and his noble band will just up-end the fallen tombstones, remove the fragments and cut some of the grass which is growing wild they will deserve and receive the heartfelt thanks of everybody in this city whose bump of reverence is at all developed. However, the boys have done exceedingly well so far, and we have no doubt they'll finish the work in the proper style.

* * *

What this climate seems to need is a balance wheel to keep it steady. It always is running from one extreme to another.

* * *

Mr. Blake in describing the defence in the Gamey bribery case denounced it as that of the "assassin, corrupter of morals, unblushing liar, perjury, suborner or perjury, forger and teacher of forgery." Plain Anglo-Saxon to say the least of it, and unfortunately for the moral state of Grit politics, too true.

CONFIRMATION SUITS.

If your boy is to be confirmed this year he will, of course, need a new suit. The Oak Hall have anticipated your wants, and in our boys' department will be found clay worsteds, fine serges and Thibets. These suits are of superior quality, but reasonable in price.

ONTARIO JOCKEY CLUB SPRING MEET, Toronto May 23rd to June 6th. The Grand Trunk service from this city is unexcelled for those attending the races at Toronto. Trains leave Belleville daily at 4.10 a.m., 1.48 p.m. Daily except Sunday, 3.00 a.m., 5.50 a.m., 11.22 a.m., 5.10 p.m. Returning leave Toronto daily 10.00 p.m. Daily except Sunday 8.00 a.m., 2.00 p.m., 5.10 p.m. Up-to-date coaches, Cafe Parlor and Dining cars, serving meals "A la Carte." Passengers desiring to see King's Plate race and races on 25th and 26th, can take advantage of reduced rates in effect for Victoria Day. For full information and tickets apply to U. E. Thompson, C.P. & T. A. 20-4t

PERSONAL ...AND... SOCIAL.

The Intelligencer invites all its readers to contribute to this column all items of a personal nature, such as the arrival or departure of guests, the movements of well-known people, business men, etc. All that is required is to send a post card to or telephone The Intelligencer.

Master "Lou" Landers went to Toronto this morning.

Mr. W. H. Campbell left this morning for a week's visit to friends in Rochester, N. Y.

Miss L. M. Emerson, of this office, is spending Victoria Day with friends at Gananoque.

Miss S. A. McNinch, professional nurse, has gone to her home at Gananoque over Sunday and Monday.

Miss Stella Curtis, niece of Dr. Jas. Caldwell, left to-day for California, accompanied by her father.

Mrs. T. G. Lewis will receive on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week, May 26th, 27th and 28th.

Miss Ethel Ostrom, of Montreal, who has been visiting her father, Mr. Geo. F. Ostrom, Coleman St., has returned home.

Master James Booth has many friends, both young and old, who will be pleased to know that he is progressing favorably at the Children's Hospital in Toronto. He is a prime favorite with both the staff and the little patients.

Street Car Strike On in Montreal

NOT A WHEEL TURNED THIS MORNING, BUT A FEW CARS ARE NOW RUNNING.

(Special to The Intelligencer).

Montreal, Que., May 23.—Not a street car is running this morning, the motormen and conductors having decided, at an early hour this morning, to go on strike.

The company has made no effort to operate the system yet, but will do so in the course of the morning.

Everything is reported quiet, nothing having arisen as yet to cause a conflict.

Later.

About a dozen of the old motormen and conductors reported for duty at the different car stations this morning, and are now running cars, guarded by police.

The strike of electrical workers has not so far caused much inconvenience, a sufficient number of men remaining at work to enable the company to continue operations.

Mrs. M. J. Dion.

"I have had Rheumatism for thirty years. My joints were swollen three or four times their natural size. Usually in the winter, in spite of the doctor's care, I have suffered terrible pain, and the physicians sometimes thought I was going to die. I took two vials of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure and I have no more pain."—Mrs. M. J. Dion, 40 Cumberland street, Ottawa.

Your druggist will recommend Munyon's Rheumatism Cure; ask him about it. Only 25c a vial.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Advertisements under this heading TWO CENTS A WORD; subsequent consecutive insertions ONE CENT A WORD. No local charged as less than twenty-five words

No police court to-day.

A team of horses belonging to Mr. Tufts, of Halloway, ran away on Front street this morning. Some damage was done to the vehicle.

The police have a bicycle which was found on Front street at an early hour this morning.

To-day's market was well attended, and prices were fair for all products offered for sale.

The members of Oxford and Lydford Lodges, Sons of England, will attend divine service at the Baptist Church to-morrow morning.

Monday being Victoria Day, and a statutory holiday, The Intelligencer will not be issued.

Mr. and Mrs. Chambers sing a duet at St. Thomas Church to-morrow evening, "Forever with the Lord."

The Fax-Chambers Concert in the Carman Opera House, Monday, June 1st, will be the musical event of the season. James Fax, the popular humorist, is better than ever.

Grand Choir Concert, Bridge Street Church, Thursday, May 28th. The first appearance in Belleville of David Ross, the leading baritone of Canada, also Mrs. A. G. Parker, Miss Marie Wheler, Miss Mabel Vermilyea, Miss Agnes St. Charles, Miss Vera Riggs, Mr. Walter Hungerford, Mr. V. P. Hunt and Bridge Street Church Choir. One price, 25 cents.

A great many people think one Life Company is as profitable as another to insure in, but that is a great mistake. The biggest dividend payer is the one that does a progressive business on the lowest expense ratio. The Mutual Life of Canada holds that proud position, so you will act wisely by giving it the preference.—S. BURROWS, General Agent.

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

Arrangements have been made by the Chairman of the Parks Committee with the I. O. O. F. Band to give weekly concerts throughout the summer, commencing Thursday, May 28th, weather permitting.

NOTE the excursion to Picton races, Victoria Day, May 25th, leaving Belleville at 8.30 a.m., per remodelled and enlarged Str. Varuna. Fare, 50c., round trip. 1t

Field's Minstrels gave a creditable performance last night at the local theatre.

Picton Gazette—The Belleville Minstrel Troupe came down on the Str. Annie Lake on Wednesday afternoon, and early in the evening paraded the streets with an excellent band. The entertainment given in the Bijou Opera House later, did not draw a very large audience. The programme was carried out in full, to the satisfaction of those who were present.

Mr. Horace A. Ayers, Physical Director of the Peterboro Y. M. C. A., has accepted a call to be physical director of the Boys' Department of the East Side Y. M. C. A., New York City.

Coin Pay Envelopes at The Intelligencer Job Office. Cheapest and best in the city.

SANTAL-MIDY

Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

MIDY

Daily Intelligencer.

TIMELY TOPICS

Seeing His Worship the Mayor at the Hospital function yesterday afternoon, the Topics man asked him if he had heard from Mr. Kirkwood lately.

"Oh, yes," said our Chief Magistrate.

"Anything new?" queried the scribe.

"Well, yes," replied the Mayor, Mr. Kirkwood leaves for Paris on Monday, to form a stock company to run the Rolling Mills."

"Good gracious," said the writer; "do you think he will be successful?"

"Don't know," said His Worship, with a shrug of his ample shoulders; "I hope so."

A wish in which we can all agree.

* * *

Put out your flags on Monday, in honor of the best Queen Britain ever had. As the King's birthday will be celebrated on Monday, too, there is another reason for jubilating. So be sure you do it up in style.

IRON-OX TABLETS

are an effective, but gentle, laxative; therefore an immediately perceptible effect upon the bowels must not be expected from them. Therein lies their great merit.

QUICK ACTION MEANS VIOLENT ACTION

A violent medicine is sometimes necessary, but it is a necessary evil.

Never Forget that

IRON-OX TABLETS

ARE NOT A CATHARTIC

50 Tablets, 25 Cents

That Boy Needs Boots Again!

CAN'T HELP IT!

Boys rush into all sorts of games and sports and play havoc with heir boots. Just received large shipment of

Our Special for Boys

Made of Cordovan. Some call it mule-hide, some call it horse-hide—we call it Cordovan. There is

One Trouble With This Boot.

The trouble is we can't get enough of them. Only one tanner tans the leather, only one firm makes the shoes, and neither can begin to supply the demand. So we are out of them half the time. They stand the strain better than any boot we know of.

Boys' sizes 1 to 5	$1.50
Youth's sizes 11 to 13	$1.25
Small Boys 8 to 10½	$1.00
Girls' sizes 11 to 2	$1.25

If you have not used this line we shall be pleased to show them to you.

The J. J. Haines

SHOE HOUSES at Belleville, Napanee and Trenton

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE
FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat Co.,
(LIMITED)
"The Bay of Quinte Route."

Str. "ALETHA"

Leaves Belleville on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 a.m. for Bay of Quinte ports and Kingston. Returning will arrive at Belleville on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10 30 p.m.

Belleville-Rochester Route

Str. "North King"

Commencing 31st May will leave Belleville on Sundays at 11.38 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. Returning arrives at Belleville on Sundays at 3.25 a.m. and leaves for Bay Ports, Kingston and 1000 Islands.

During July and August service will be daily except Monday.

Right reserved to change time with or without notice.

For passage and freight rates and other information, apply to

THE RATHBUN CO., } Agents.
U. E. THOMPSON, }
E. E. HORSEY, G. P. & F. Agent,
Kingston.

Montreal, Rochester & Quebec Transit Co'y.

Str. "Alexandria"

Service in effect 25th April.

Leaves Rathbun Co.'s wharf, Belleville, every Saturday at 11.00 a.m. for Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Every Monday at 7.00 a.m. for Montreal and all River Ports.

Thousand Islands by daylight.

Runs all St. Lawrence River Rapids.

Quebec excursions commence July 5th.

LOW FREIGHT RATES.

A. W. HEPBURN, General Manager, Picton, Ont.
THE RATHBUN CO. Agents, Belleville.

The Deseronto Navigation Co
TIME TABLE
Taking effect April 13, 1903.
Belleville, Trenton, Picton & Napanee

Str. "ELLA ROSS"

Leaves Belleville for Trenton at 10 a. m., daily, Sundays Excepted, returning leaves Trenton at 1 p. m., leaving Belleville at 3 p.m. for Deseronto, Napanee and Picton.

Quick and Superior Service to NEW YORK CITY

Steamers RESOLUTE and RELIANCE will leave Deseronto for Oswego after arrival of Str. Ella Ross connecting at Oswego with the New York, Ontario Western Ry.

Fare to New York, Single, $3.40
Return, $7.25

For further particulars apply to THE RATHBUN CO., Local Agents

J. F. CHAPMAN, Asst. Gen. Frt. & Pass. Agt., Deseronto.
A. C. CARTER General Manager Deseronto.

Just What You Want

Paint Brushes 7, 10, 15, 20, 25c.
Whitewash Brushes 10, 13, 15, 20, 25, 35, 45c.
1,000 Parlor Matches for 5c.
600 pairs Ladies' Bl'k Hose 5c pair.
500 printed Platters and Bakers, regular 25, clearing at 10c.
300 pairs Men's Sox, special, 4 pr. for 25c.
D. K. Blue Cups and Saucers, 35c 1-2 dozen.
1200 Dinner Setts for $8.00.
Curtain Poles, complete, for 20c.
Carpet Tacks, 2 for 5c.
Carpet Whips 10c each.
Kitchen Mirrors 12, 15, 20, 25, 30c.
Best Oil Blinds 30c.
6 Cakes Moss Rose Toilet Soap 15c.
3 Cakes Cold Cream Toilet Soap 5c.
6 Bars Eclipse Soap 25c.
Large variety of odd Wallpaper der, clearing at 1c yard.
50 varieties of Wallpaper, clearing at 5c Roll.
Large varieties 5, 7, 8, 10c Ceiling Papers, clearing at 3c Roll.

Be sure and visit our Wallpaper Department; it is the most complete, and has the best selected stock to choose from in the City.

Our Prices are 1-2 what other stores ask for same quality.

AT THE BEE HIVE
Chas. N. Sulman

Only 24 per cent. of doctors reach 70 years, but 42 per cent. of clergymen do so.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

VICTORIA DAY

MAY 24th, 1903.

Return Tickets will be issued at—

SINGLE FIRST CLASS FARE,

Between all stations in Canada; also to Buffalo, Suspension Bridge, N.Y., Detroit, Pt. Huron, Mich., etc.

GOOD GOING MAY 23rd, 24th, or 25th, Valid returning from destination on or before May 26th, 1903.

COLONIST EXCURSIONS.

One way tickets at low rates on sale until June 15th, to points in Montana, Colorado, Utah, Oregon, Washington, British Columbia and California.

Tickets sold in accordance with above will not be good on train No. 1 or train No. 4.

For tickets and all information apply to

C. E. THOMPSON, City Agent, Bridge Street,
T. H. COPPIN, Depot Agent.
J. D. McDONALD, Dist. Pass Agt., Toronto.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN

Homeseekers' 60 DAY Excursions

To The Canadian North-West at Return Fares.

Winnipeg, Waskada Estevan, Elgin Arcola Moosomin, Wawanesa Miniota, Binscarth, Grand View Swan River	$28
Regina, Moosejaw, Yorkton,	$30
Prince Albert, Macleod, Calgary,	$35
Red Deer, Strathcona	$40

Going JUNE 4th, returning until AUGUST 4th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going JUNE 18th, returning until AUGUST 18th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going July 4th, returning until SEPTEMBER 8th (all rail or S.S. Manitoba). Tickets are not good on "Imperial Limited." For tickets and pamphlet giving full particulars, apply to your nearest Canadian Pacific agent, or to

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Genl. Passr. Agent, 1 King St. East, Toronto.
S. BURROWS, C.P.R. and General Ticket Agent, Front St., Belleville.

NEW YORK CENTRAL
& HUDSON RIVER R. R.
THE FOUR-TRACK TRUNK LINE.

SHORTEST Route to the United States via Cape Vincent, N.Y.

GOING EAST AND WEST.		After 1st May
Lv. Belleville (G.T.R.)	12.22 p.m.	1.30 a.m
Arr. Kingston "	1.47 p.m.	3.12 a.m
Lv. Kingston (stage)..	2.30 p.m.	5.00 a.m
Arr. Cape Vincent (stage)	4.30 p.m.	7.00 a.m
Lv. Cape Vincent N.Y.C.	5.05 p.m.	7.25 a.m
Arr. Watertown "	5.55 p.m.	8.25 a.m
Arr. Oswego "	9.05 p.m.	11.55 a.m
Arr. Syracuse "	9.25 p.m.	12.07 p.m
Arr. Rochester "	1.05 a.m.	2.20 a.m
Arr. Utica "	9.45 p.m.	12.35 p.m
Arr. New York "	7.25 a.m.	6.00 p.m

Convenient train service in opposite direction.

Pullman Sleeping and Parlor Cars.

2c a Mile.

Books for 500 miles of travel on New York Central and leased lines within State of New York, cost only $10 while books for 1000 miles over New York Central, Boston & Albany, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, Philadelphia & Reading and C. R. R. of New Jersey cost $20. Secure further information and purchase tickets from F. A. Folger, N.Y.C. Agent, Kingston, Ont.

GEORGE H. DANIELS, Gen'l Pass'r Agent., New York.
A. H. SMITH, Gen'l Supt., New York.
G. C. GRIDLEY, Gen'l Agent, Watertown, N.Y.

Flowers & Vegetables

Of all kinds in season.

...AT...

J. D. COLLIP'S.

'Phone 205.

Airinit
"THEY BREATHE WHILE YOU WALK"
CONTROLLED AND MANUFACTURED BY GEO. A. SLATER

FOR TIRED, SWEATY, BLISTERING FEET

See our large assortment of the INVICTUS SHOE, made by GEO. A. SLATER.

VERMILYEA & SON.

ADVERTISING RATES.

surement Nonpareil—12 lines to th inch.

isplay advertisements, 10c per line. ubsequent consecutive insertions, ne.

eading advertisements, 15c per line. eferred position, 20 per cent. advanc arly or contract rates.

Minimum space, 10 lines.

Marriages and deaths, 50c each insertio

Births, 25c each insertion.

Rates for Condensed Advertisement ll be found in 1st column of 2nd page.

All advertisements are subject to th proval of the Publisher of the Intell encer.

Address all communications to the In lligencer Printing & Publishing House ited, or to Charles J. Bowell, Manag Director and Treasurer.

Canadians in London will find The telligencer on file at E. & J. Hardy Co.'s Office, 30 Fleet Street, London, C.

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS

TUATIONS WANTED, HELP WANTED, LOST OR FOUND, FOR SALE OR TO RENT, &c.

(Auction Sales not included in this list)

ERMS.—Twenty-five words or less, 25c first insertion; two insertions, 50c; four insertions, 75c; one week $1.00, two weeks, $1.75, three weeks, $2.25; one month, $2.50. Strictly cash in advance.

WANTED,

Junior Law Clerk (male). PORTER CARNEW. m22dtf

At once, Cook and general servant or Massassaga Park Hotel. Highest wages. Apply to J. C. Lake, or V. A. Taylor. 20,23

General servant. Apply to Mrs. Dr.) Boyce. 21-4t

A girl to do general housework. Apply to Mrs. S. A. Hyman, 264 George st. 19-5t

A few men and women to work for us at home during spare time. Pleasant work. Liberal pay. No canvassing. Imperial Company, London, Ontario. m12-1m

Agents wanted who are willing to work. Good goods and good pay. Men earn $6.00 a day winter and summer. Never out of season. Write G. Marshall & Co., Teas, London, Ont.

By S. Langbort—Scrap iron, metal, old rubber, etc. Will pay the following prices: Old iron, 50c, 60c and 70c. per 100; mixed rags 50c per 100; copper 9c lb.; heavy brass 9c lb.; old rubber boots and shoes 6c lb.; lead and zinc 2c lb. Remember the place, Powell's Old Stand, Mill St., corner Brown. ap21-1m

Young men ambitious to learn lucrative trades, of which there are eight in connection with the business. Apply The Belleville Hardware Company, Belleville, Ont. a7dtf

Competent men to appoint agents, whole or spare time. Commission paid. Apply JOHN DOYLE, Drawer 531, London. a27-1yr

WANTED Reliable Men in every locality throughout Canada to introduce our goods, tacking up show cards on trees, fences, along roads and all conspicuous places, also distributing small advertising matter. Commission or salary $60.00 per month and expenses, not to exceed $2.50 per day. Steady employment to good, honest reliable men. No experience needful. Write for full particulars, THE EMPIRE MEDICINE CO., London, Ont.

FOR SALE OR TO-LET.

House on Dundas street (north side). For particulars apply to Miss McCrudden, at Foster's restaurant, Front street, after 6 p.m. 18-6td

FOR SALE.

That splendid property on the south east corner of Dunbar and Catharine Sts. City water and sewer connertion. m28-4w

BICYCLE—Cleveland, 1903, hygienic cushion frame, coaster brake, 22 inch frame, Dunlop tires. Will be sold cheap. Original cost $65.00. Apply at Intelligencer Office. tf

Comfortable, well built, seven room frame house and lot, situated on North Front St., in vicinity of Albert College. Apply to Mrs. Wm. McCreery, Belleville. my15-d1mem&iw

Stone house, 11 rooms, coal furnace, stable, barn. Large grounds. Cor. Frank and Moira Sts. north. Terms reasonable. H. Bull, on premises or Fred Bull, 2 1-2, Queen St., Toronto. ap18-dtf

Contractors and masons, any any person requiring lime may procure it from E. G. STAPLEY, Canifton Road, Belleville. New lime always on hand. a9-d&w6m

Dressed and Matched Lumber of all kinds, at ALFORD'S factory, Market Square. j12-tf

REMOVAL.

Dr. Clarke will shortly remove to the offices formerly occupied by the late Dr. Ward, over Burrows', and opposite Scantlebury's Book Store. a27dtf

The Sun & Hastings Savings and Loan Co. of Ontario.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL

$5,000,000.

3 1-2 per cent. allowed on Deposits, payable on Call.

4 per cent. on Deposits for one year or over.

Money to Loan upon favorable terms.

OFFICE, No. 46 Bridge St., Belleville,

J. P. C. PHILLIPS,
Manager Belleville Branch.

If the rattlesnake did not stop to talk he would be ten times more dangerous.

Greenleaf & Son

Would like to show you one of the finest lines of

Bicycles

shown here in some time.

PRICES ARE RIGHT.

We are catching up gradually with our work, so will be better able to give your job prompt attention.

GOOD VARIETY OF FISHING TACKLE ON HAND.

RAILWAY TIME TABLES.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

Time of departure from Belleville Station:

Going East.

No. 16—Local, for Brockville, 7 a.m., arrives back from Brockville 9.30 p.m.

No. 2—1.30 a.m., Mail and Express, (Flyer), Daily.

No. 6—11.40 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

No. 4—12.22 p.m., International Limited, Daily.

No. 12—5.55 p.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

Going West.

No. 5—3 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily except Monday.

No. 3—4.10 a.m., Limited Express, Daily.

No. 9—5.50 a.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

No. 11—11.22 a.m., Passenger, Daily except Sunday.

No. 1—1.50 p.m., International Limited Daily.

No. 7—5.10 p.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

Taking effect 12.01 o'clock, Sunday, June 15, 1902.

MIDLAND RAILWAY.

Belleville and Peterboro.

Going West.

	Leave.	Arr. Peterboro
Mail	5.40 a.m.	8.10 a.m.
Mixed	5.55 p.m.	9.05 p.m.

Going East.

	Arr.	L've Peterboro
Mixed	11.20 a.m.	8.20 a.m.
Mail	4.25 p.m.	2.05 p.m.

Belleville and Madoc.

Going North.

	L've	Arr. Madoc
Mixed	12.20 p.m.	1.20 p.m.
Mixed	8.30 p.m.	7.40 p.m.

Going South.

	Arr.	L've Madoc
Mixed	9.10 a.m.	7.30 a.m.
Mixed	5.06 p.m.	3.45 p.m.

None of the above trains run on Sunday.

Western Beef.

Prime Western Beef together with all kinds of choice meats, supplied by the district, at

C. GREEN'S

267 Front St., 'Phone 109.

Bank of Montreal

ESTABLISHED 1817.

Capital and Rest, All Paid Up.

$20,000,000

(Twenty Millions.)

Savings Bank Department

Interest on sums of $4.00 and upwards allowed at current rates.

A. G. PARKER,
Manager Belleville Branch

A Small Fire.

A small frame barn belonging to Mr. V. Sills, situated on Frank street, was destroyed by fire this morning. The loss sustained will not be serious.

A BIG QUARTER'S WORTH

is always found in a bottle of Polson's Nerviline, the best household liniment known. It cures rheumatism, neuralgia, toothache, headache, sick stomach, in fact is good for everything a liniment ought to be good for. Mothers find it the safest thing to rub on their children for sore throat, cold on the chest, sprains and bruises. Never be without Polson's Nerviline. It will cure the pains and aches of the entire family and relieve a vast amount of suffering every year.

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

THIS WILL REMIND YOU that the pain of strains, bruises and sprains, common incidents of active out-door life is drawn from aching bodies by Perry Davis' Painkiller as a magnet draws bits of iron from sand.

The wildcat's teeth are close to its purr.

Coin Pay Envelopes at The Intelligencer Job Office. Cheapest and best in the city.

FERROL
(The Iron-Oil Food)

Combines IRON and PHOSPHORUS with COD LIVER OIL in a perfect emulsion, scientifically prepared. For several years FERROL has been sold principally on physicians' prescriptions. It is now being offered to the public.

Sample and literature will be sent FREE on application.

75c. a Bottle. At all Druggists, or, from

THE FERROL COMPANY, Limited
Toronto, Ont.

Laboratory and Offices: 124 King Street West

FIELD DAY CONCERT.

A PHYSICAL CULTURE ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN AT ALBERT COLLEGE LAST EVENING.

“One of the most successful Field Days we have ever had,” said Principal Dyer at the concert at Albert College last evening. The Doctor prefaced the programme by a few words, telling of the success of the day, of the fine new campus, and congratulating the committees on the completeness of their organization for the day's competition. After such an optimistic speech, a good programme, of course, was expected.

This year, as a parallel with the day's sports, the concert took the form of a physical culture entertainment, given by the young ladies of the college physical culture class. Under the direction of Miss G. Trotter, with a programme almost entirely of marches, drills, etc., an unique and unusual entertainment was given.

First came a number, “Wand Thrusts,” by eight young ladies, a peculiar and taxing exercise, which must be seen to be appreciated. Then some neat club swinging was done by three class members. Following this was a “Scarf Fantasy,” a very pretty number, which has been before commented on. Miss Mabel Free then sang Mattei's “Dear Heart” in a manner which would rank her among the professionals. Next came a number comparatively new here, a pantomine by two young ladies, with words recited to music, by Miss Trotter. This blending of action, words and music was quite interesting and was well received. Another drill, “Bar Bell Thrusts,” followed. Although pretty, this one was not so well executed as the others, there being a noticeable lack of promptness in changing positions, possibly attributable to the difficult movements used throughout. The next number was a fancy march, given by sixteen members of the class, and, indeed, it was fancifully intricate, and again matter-of-fact, in movement. The young ladies made seemingly impossible formations and combinations, and went into circles, squares, wheels, single file, body, forward, backward, alternately or regularly, with machine-like accuracy, gaining hearty applause. The natty gymnasium suits of the class were perhaps a feature of attraction.

Mr. T. Holgate sang Blumenthal's “Sunshine and Rain” in his well-known way.

Then came a fine number, statue posing, by five of the class members. This included ten classical subjects, each of which was nicely shown in regard to pose, expression particularly and general effect. The programme closed with a dialogue, “A Pair of Fanatics,” a humorous scene in an asylum, given by Miss Nita Badgley and Mr. E. J. Bott. It was possibly better done than when presented a short time previously.

Miss Trotter, teacher of Elocution and Physical Culture, has made her influence felt in her department, and is now reaping the fruit of her labor from the pleasant things said of her pupils. The results of the work in her department were shown in the programme presented last evening.

The accompanists of the evening were Miss Elliott and Miss Devlin who rendered appreciated aid.

After the programme the prizes and medals won in the afternoon events were presented by Dr. Dyer and a committee. The Doctor was in a happy vein last night, and had a humorous application for every prize-winner. The prizes were kindly contributed by business men of the city, and were generally valued, though sometimes a rather laughable allotment was made, for instance, when a seemingly artistic and aesthetic statue was handed out for a “donkey race,” and again, where a notedly substantial young man received a can of salmon. The students, too, were lively, made free use of college songs and the “yell,” and, it must be confessed, filled up a couple of embarrassing delays in the programme. Indeed, at one time it seemed as if a menagerie and barn-yard, also including the bag pipes, were let loose in an out of the way corner.

Belleville citizens seem to appreciate the college concerts, as there is an ever-increasing attendance at the entertainments of the year.

LATEST NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS

AS FURNISHED TO THE INTELLIGENCER BY H. R. BEATTIE, STOCK BROKER.

New York, May. 23

STOCK	Op'g	H'st	L'st	Close.
Twin City	107	107	105¾	105¾
Atchison	76¼	76¼	74⅛	74½
do. pref	96	....	....	....
St. Paul	154¼	154¼	151⅛	151¼
Mo. P.	109	109	106¼	106⅜
Union Pac.	85¼	88¼	85	86
C.P.R.	129⅛	129¼	128¼	128¾
South Pac.	51⅛	51⅛	50⅞	50⅛
Sou. Ry.	28½	28½	27¾	27¾
Texas	32¼	32⅛	31	31¾
B & O.	89⅜	89⅜	88⅜	88¼
N. Y. C.	126⅜	127¼	125⅞	125½
Penna	128	128⅛	126¼	126⅜
Reading	50⅝	50⅞	48⅞	48½
Ills.	137	137	135⅞	136
Erie	34¼	34¼	33⅜	33⅜
do. pref.	67⅜	67⅜	67	67
O. & W.	27¼	27¼	27	27⅜
C. O.	42	42	41	41
Manhattan	139	139	137¼	137¼
W. C.	22¼	22½	21½	21½
L. & N.	114½	114½	113½	113½
Nor.	68½	....	....	....
C. G. W.	20¼	20¼	20⅛	20⅛
W.U.	83⅜	83⅜	83⅛	83⅛
T.C.I.	58	58	56⅛	56¼
U.S. Steel	32½	32½	31⅜	31½
do pref.	81⅜	81⅜	80½	80½
Sugar	125	125	123¾	124¼
A. C. P.	64¼	64¼	61⅞	61⅜
B. R. T.	63¼	63¼	62½	62½
Met.	130	130	129	129
Wab.	27	27	26½	26½
do pref.	47⅛	47⅜	46	46
Soo	60	60½	59½	59½
R. I.	41	41	39⅛	39⅜
A. F.	38½	38½	38	38
Alc	23¼	....	....	....

A GUARANTEED CURE For All Forms of Kidney Disease

We, the undersigned Druggists are fully prepared to give the following guarantee with every 50 cent bottle of Dr. Pettingill's Kidney-Wort Tablets, the only remedy in the world that positively cures all troubles arising from weak or diseased kidneys:

“Money cheerfully returned if the sufferer is not relieved and improved after use of one bottle. Three to six bottles effect astonishing and permanent cures. If not relieved and cured, you waste no money.”

J. S. McKeown, Druggist, Belleville, Ont.

R. Templeton, Druggist, Belleville, Ont.

Drowned at Toronto.

In our telegraphic columns appears an account of a double drowning accident at Toronto last night. One of the victims, Mrs. Mary A. Beckett, was for some years a resident of this city, being the wife of Mr. John Beckett, miller. A daughter, Mrs. Thos. Mills, lives in this city.

Took the Advice of a Lady Friend When Death Seemed so Near.

A MARVELLOUS VICTORY FOR

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Women who dearly love husband, children and home life are those who desire to be vigorous, active and full of health. When the wife and mother is suffering and unable to attend to the wants and comforts of those dear to her, the home is sad and despondent: there is family discomfort, and aching hearts long for the safety of the home guardian angel.

Thank heaven, thousands of our women are now fully prepared for any of the ills prevalent in spring time. They have made Paine's Celery Compound their family medicine, and by it they are enabled to ward off serious illness and physical breakdown. The happy experience of Mrs. Fred L. Lamson, of Halifax, N. S., should cheer all women who suffer from nervousness, sleeplessness, troubles arising from impure and stagnant blood, liver and kidney complaints, rheumatism and neuralgia. Mrs. Lamson says:

“For five years I was a sufferer from nervousness, sleeplessness, headache and female troubles, and got but little relief from doctors and their medicines. Six months ago I was so weak and brokendown that my husband became alarmed: indeed I thought I was fast nearing the grave. A lady friend in this city who visited me strongly advised me to give Paine's Celery Compound a trial, as it had done wonders for her. My husband procured a bottle without delay and I began its use. In a week I found I was getting stronger, and I continued with the medicine until I had used seven bottles and was completely cured. I am now able to work with comfort, sleep well, appetite is good, and I am increasing in weight. Paine's Celery Compound is, I think, a wonderful woman's medicine: it saved my life and I shall always praise it.”

If you are in need of free medical advice, write to Consulting Physician's Department, The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, Que. All correspondence is sacredly confidential.

EMPIRE DAY AT THE JOHN ST. KINDERGARTEN

CHILDREN DID THINGS UP TO HIS MAJESTY'S TASTE.

No prettier procession has been seen on the streets of Belleville than that of the John st. Kindergarteners yesterday morning. They, too, were celebrating Empire Day, and they did it up in style, and with an ingenuous enthusiasm that might well serve as an object lesson to many “grown-ups.” The way Ensign Harry Parker carried our Empire's glorious flag was a sight for sore eyes, and Pat Yeomans' handling of the drumsticks would make a 12th of July drummer turn green with envy. Happy! Well, that doesn't begin to express it. The youngsters were just bubbling over with expressed and suppressed excitement—especially the former. On the Court House grounds they sang patriotic songs and waved flags—everyone was adorned with several flags, some home made, some “store” flags—and then at the noon hour they fired a feu-de-joie of fireworks. The final cheers proved that their lungs were strictly all right. They cheered for the King and Queen “and all that are in authority,” winding up with “tigers” for their teachers, Misses Mary Yeomans and Helen M. Lynch.

Piles To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles, the manufacturers have guaranteed it. See testimonials in the daily press and ask your neighbors what they think of it. You can use it and get your money back if not cured. 60c a box, at all dealers or EDMANSON, BATES & CO., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

VICTORIA DAY

BRIDGE ST. METHODIST CHURCH

11 a.m., Sermon—The Pastor, Rev. W. J. Crothers, M.A., D.D. Subject “An honest review of life.”

2.30 p.m.—Sunday School — Mr. J. Frith Jeffers class in church at 3.

7 p.m., Sermon—Rev. Dr. Crothers, subject “The Imperialism of Christianity.” Patriotic music by large choir.

Strangers in the City, students at Albert College, Ontario Business College, Belleville Business College, and all other visitors welcomed.

JOHN ST. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Corner of Victoria Avenue and John Street.
REV. A. H. DRUMM, Pastor.

Sunday services at 11 a.m., and 7 p.m.

Sunday School at 3 p.m.

Pastor's Class for Bible Study—Sunday at 3 p.m.

Young People's Guild—Monday at 8 p.m. Prayer meeting—Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Service at 11 a.m., and 7 p.m.

THE TABERNACLE METHODIST CHURCH.
Church St.
Joseph H. Locke, Pastor.

“Empire Day” Service at 11 a.m. Rev. Charles Hackett, of Newfoundland conference. A Patriotic platform service at 7 p.m. Address by W. W. Chown—subject “Our Duty as patriots.” Address by F. E. O'Flynn — subject “Our Country, the relation of Methodism to it” Appropriate music.

Sunday School and Bible Classes at 2.30.

Strangers and visitors conducted to seats by obliging ushers.

VICTORIA AVE BAPTIST CHURCH,
Cor. Victoria Ave. and Pinnacle St
REV. O. C. ELLIOTT,
Pastor.

Sunday, May 24th.

Prayer meeting—10.30 a.m
Services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.
Sunday School at three o'clock.

The local lodges of The Sons of England will be present at the morning service, and occupy the centre seats.

The Pastor will conduct both services.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the above services. All seats are free.

BELLEVILLE NORTH (BLEECKER AVE) METHODIST CHURCH.

11. Rev. Mr. Robinson will preach
7. Rev. Mr. Budd will preach.
2.30 Sunday School.
Monday night League at 8.
Wednesday night—Praise and Prayer at 8.
Kingston Road 2.30, a student.
Thursday night social night at Mr. Cornell's house.
Centre St. 2, Rev. M. J. Bates.
3, Sunday School, Mr. Chas. Elvins superintendent.

BETHEL HALL, Front St.

11 a.m.—Lord's Supper.
3 p.m.—Sunday School.
7 p.m.—Gospel meeting.
ALL WELCOME.

May 24th, 1903.
Sunday after Ascension.

EMMANUEL REFORMED EPISCOPAL CHURCH.
(Free Church of England).
Victoria Avenue, between Church and Pinnacle Streets.
Rev. William J. Gilliland, Rector.

SUNDAY SERVICES—Morning at 11. Evening at 7.

Sunday School and Bible Classes at 3 p.m.

Young People's Meeting Sunday 8 p.m.

Midweek prayer meeting, Wednesday 8 p.m.

Strangers and visitors in the city welcome.

All seats free.

“AN EXCELLENT FOOD, admirably adapted to the Wants of Infants.”
SIR CHAS. A. CAMERON, C.B., M.D.,
Professor of Chemistry, R.C.S.I., Ex-President of the Royal College of Surgeons, Ireland.

Neave's Food

For Infants, Invalids, And The Aged.

GOLD MEDAL, WOMAN'S EXHIBITION, London, 1900.

DR. BARNARDO says:—

“We have already used Neave's Food in two of our Homes (Babies' Castle and the Village Home), and I have no hesitation in saying it has proved very satisfactory.”—July 27th, 1901.

USED IN THE Russian Imperial Nursery.

Manufacturers:—JOSIAH R. NEAVE & CO., Fordingbridge, England.

Wholesale Agents:—THE LYMAN BROS. & Co., Ltd., Toronto and Montreal.

Good Healthy Action is easy to have by taking this famous old remedy—To look well and keep well, use

Beecham's Pills.

Sold Everywhere. In boxes, 25 cents.

The New Wall Paper Store

sells borders by the roll, same price as the papers.

THE BEST TALENT in the world is employed to design the paper we sell.

We select only the beautiful and harmonious designs because those are the kind that please our patrons.

New Spring designs, delicate flower-like tints, all conceivable patterns, many exclusive designs, scrolls, ingrains, etc., ceiling and border to match. Prices to suit all pocketbooks.

JOHN CORNELIUS,

Decorator, Painter, Grainer, and Paper Hanger, all work guaranteed first class.

Lost chances never leave any trail.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE'S

English Breakfast Tea

FRAGRANT AND DELICIOUS.

IN HALF-POUND LEAD PACKETS —FULL WEIGHT

20, 25 & 30 cts. per packet—40, 50 & 60 cts. per lb.

The choicest growths of India and Ceylon. A sample free for the asking.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

BRIDGE ST. BRANCH STORE, FRONT ST.

Style AND Comfort

A wheel that's made for style and comfort—that is comfortable, sells at a comfortable price. Such a wheel is this. It is made by experts, finished thoroughly—being made right, it will outwear a less superior wheel, and it doesn't cost any more.

BRANTFORD

is a bicycle that heads the list in bicycledom. With the HYGIENIC CUSHION FRAME it is comfort, solid and simple—it is the wheel that did a mighty big lot towards regingering wheeling. What the Pullman is to railroading, the cushion frame is to wheeling.

John Lewis & Son.
BELLEVILLE.

Canada Cycle & Motor Co., Limited,
TORONTO JUNCTION.

Fresh Roll Butter

20 cents per lb.

J. C. Hanley & Co
GROCERS
Telephone 214

FOR MANSION OR MODEST COTTAGE

S.W.P. is safest, best, and most economical and not without reason.

It's best because made from best materials—pure lead, pure zinc, and pure linseed oil.

It's safest because the materials it is made from are all carefully tested both chemically and practically before being used to insure their being right and best for the purpose.

It's most economical because it covers most surface to the gallon and wears longest.

WATERS DRUG STORE

New Hats

READY-TO-WEAR HATS
DRESS HATS.

New Veilings

Latest styles—Best work.
We will surely please you.
Come and see them.

MISS M. CAMPBELL.
P. D. Corsets. 'Phone 117

A long portage makes a heavy canoe.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN and be sure that when you ask for Perry Davis' Painkiller you get just that and nothing else. Use it promptly to cure cramps, diarrhoea and all other bowel complaints in summer.

A System that Will not keep You waiting

Whether you want Painting, Paper Hanging, Decorating, Graining, or anything in our line, we will not keep you waiting. WE WILL NAME THE DAY, and that very day you will find us at your work, with an excellent staff of workmen—the very best mechanics that can be secured—workmen that we can rely on and that please our customers every time.

OUR WALL PAPER TRADE this year is so far the largest in the history of this house, and there are reasons behind the increased trade, and here they are—

FIRSTLY—Times are good, people have money and know where to spend it to advantage.

SECONDLY—By comparison with other lines our customers find our prices much lower and our styles of Wall Paper much higher than the ordinary.

THIRDLY—We give free two yards of bordering with each double roll of the Wall Paper it matches.

We hang our paper at very reasonable prices and always please our customers whether in papering, painting or anything else.

C. B. Scantlebury
Belleville's Decorator

Outside Painting. Inside Painting,
Paperhanging.

Wall Paper, Wholesale and Retail.

CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY

CAPITAL

10,000 Shares 7 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 each,	$1,000,000
50,000 Shares Common Stock, par value $100, issued and fully paid	5,000,000
TOTAL CAPITALIZATION	$6,000,000

Issues of $1,000,000 00 7 p.c. Preferred Stock in 10,000 Shares of $100 each at par.

This stock is preferred both as to Assets and Dividends.

The shares are entitled to cumulative preferred dividends from the net earnings of the Company, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the first days of April and October. They may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged for common shares. They are subject to be called in, in whole or in part, by the Company, at $115.00 per share, at any time after 1st January, 1909.

The total issue of Preferred Stock is only $1,000,000.00, the whole of which is now offered.

Subscriptions for 10,000 Shares of $100 each of the 7 per cent. Preferred Stock of the CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY will now be received at par, that is $100 Share, as follows

per cent on application,
25 " " on allotment,
35 " " 30 days thereafter.
35 " " 60 days thereafter.

One share of Common, par value $100, given with each share of preferred.

The whole of instalments remaining unpaid at any time may be prepaid in full. A discount of one per cent will be allowed upon the par of each share if prepaid at time of allotment

Notice of allotment will be sent promptly by ordinary letter.

COAL

PROPERTY IN FULL OPERATION

Company owns 9,600 acres of coal property known throughout the coal trade as the New Campbellton Colliery, located on Bras D'Or Bay, County of Victoria, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia. Mine is fully equipped, producing and marketing tons of coal a day at a net profit of $1 00 a ton. Improvements are now being made that will increase the output to over 1,000 tons a day. On present output, figuring 300 working days in year, the net result will more than pay interest on entire issue of preferred, with output of 1,000 tons a day net result will be $300,000 per annum.

IRON

RICHEST ORE IN THE WORLD

Company owns in fee simple, free and clear of all incumbrances, 4000 acres of iron ore deposit, located Natashquan (tidewater) situated on North shore of Gulf of St. Lawrence, in the County of Saguenay, province of Quebec.

Deposits contain 20,000,000 tons of ore ABOVE SEA LEVEL ALONE.

Quality of ore is highest ever discovered, running from 69 per cent to 72 per cent in metallic iron.

More orders for the sale of this ore has been received by the Company than can possibly be accepted, and at a price netting the Company a profit of $2 a ton F. O. B. vessels at Company's docks.

Send for prospectus giving full information as to earnings, reports, etc., etc.

Address all communications and send subscriptions to

COLONIAL SECURITIES CO.,
62 Wall Street, New York City

OR

W. L. MARSTON & COMPANY
110 State Street, Boston

The SAWYER COMPANY.
351 Temple Building, Montreal, Canada.

Postals from a Home-made Son to a Self-made Father.

Dear Father—I arrived on the college green this morning. Something is wrong with my clothes, as I was made considerable fun of. Am going to get a new suit. Will send you bill. Yours,
Jim.

Dear Pa—Cut chapel this morning. All the boys do it. I am keeping away from whiskey as you suggest. Have you ever tasted creme de menthe? It settles your dinner. Yours, Jim.

Dear Pop—You are way off on temperance question. Beer is the great leveler. If we all drank beer there would be no drunkards. I got away with ten bottles last night. Dead easy. Yours,
Jim.

Dear Dad—Would you care if I got married? I was introduced to a lovely girl last night. She is older than I, but a few years don't matter. What allowance can we count on from you? Wire answer. Jim.

Dear Father—If you have not yet answered my last postal, don't bother. Affair all off. She went back on me in most shameful manner. After all, she was only a college widow. I send bill for new waistcoats. Had to have 'em.
Yours, Jim.

Dear Governor—Can you let me have my next month's allowance? By the way, have you ever played poker? Great game, isn't it? Jim.

Dear Dad—How is everything around the old homestead? How's Dobbin, and are the calves taking notice yet? I love the old place dearly. Send me a hundred, will you? I'm raising a crop of peaches myself. Jim.

Dear Pop—I've just got an invite from a chum to spend the vacation with him, so don't expect me. Say, can't you get a second mortgage on the farm, and send me enough to buy an automobile?
Yours, Jim.

Dear Old Boy—It was handsome of you to stand by me. I send you a registered package by this mail containing ten thousand dollars, being part of the royalties on my new book, "Seeing Life." More to come. This week I marry a millionairess. But don't you mind. She's respectable. Yours, Jim.

Tom Masson in New York "Life."

Experientia Docet.

There was once a curious and energetic youth who wished to see something of the world, so he went to his father and said:

"Father, my experience hitherto has been somewhat limited, and I wish to enlarge it. What would you advise?"

His father gave him one hundred dollars.

"Here, my boy," he said. "Go out and learn something."

By and by the boy came back and said:

"Father, I got as much experience as I could with that hundred, but I find that I need more to carry out certain investigations I am becoming interested in."

This time his father gave him two hundred dollars, and the youth went away rejoicing. After a while, however, he came back again and said:

"Father, I find that experience is somewhat expensive. Now could you——?"

This time his father gave him five hundred.

It was not long, however, before he was back again.

"Once more, father," he said, "I have come to ask your kind assistance."

This time, however, the father shook his head.

"You have had some of the experience that can be bought with cash," he observed, "and now, my son, suppose you go out and try some of the experience that money cannot buy. This, you will find, is fully as valuable as the other, if not more so."

So the son went away, exceedingly sorrowful.

In the course of time, however, he came back. There was a bright smile on his face.

"Well," said his father, "how did you make out?"

"First-rate, father," said the now experienced youth. "You see, with the first payments you made to me, I established a line of credit, so this last time I had everything charged. Here are the bills."

Moral.—It's a wise father who knows his own son.—"Life."

English Pertinacity.

The scene was a compartment on the Paris express coming from Nice, and the time one afternoon last week. Sitting by the window, and opposite each other, were an Englishman and a Frenchman. Soon the Englishman arose and let down the window. A moment later the Frenchman rose, and with a "Pardon, Monsieur," he said, with a bow, and let the glass fall a second time. He had no sooner taken his seat than the Frenchman again stood up. "Pardon, Monsieur," he repeated, and again closed the window. The Englishman stood up, and took down a heavy travelling bag from the rack overhead. Then he drew his purse from his pocket. Raising his bag, he hurled it against the upper part of the door, knocking the window out. The Frenchman expostulated, but the Englishman shook his purse. "Pardon, Monsieur," he said; "je paye a la prochaine gare" ("I pay at the next station"), and calmly took his seat.

A Definition.

"Now that ye are one of thim, tell me what a politician is."

"A politician is a feller that promises something that he can't do to git elected, and does something he promised not to do to hold his job."—N. Y. "Life."

A Change Coming.

Reporter—You are your own manager, are you not?

Actor—I am, just at present, but my wife is coming back from Europe next week.—March "Smart Set."

Blackmail.

"Did you drop this ten dollar bill, mister?" "Why, yes; thank you." "Well, it's er counterfeit, an' if youse don't gib me er dollar I'll squeal on youse. See?"

Explained.

Local Manager—Your letter stated that you carried your own orchestra.

Company Manager—We do—when he's too full to walk.—"Dramatic Mirror."

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

Colored Dress Fabrics

These are busy days at our Dress Goods Counter.

The assortment of stylish light weight Fabrics are commanding much attention.

Fashion has specially desirable materials this season—combining both serviceability and style.

Paris, London and New York have all done their utmost to make this assortment what it is—OUR BEST—best in value and extent of choice.

Many Ladies have acheived considerable saving by purchasing one of our pretty Ettamine or Voile Dresses—equally useful as summer or evening gown.

These await your inspection—no obigation to buy.

—Grey or Fawn Ettamine Cloth, 44" wide	50c
—Fine quality Cream Lustre—suitable for Waists and Dresses, 40" wide	40c
—All Wool fine Cream Serge 42" wide	55c
—Green, Grey, Fawn, Champagne, Blue Ettamine Cloth, 42" wide	90c $1.00

SHANTUNG SILK

Nothing makes more handsome — durable, and stylish Shirt Waists and Shirt Waist Suits than this unfinished silk.

Made with firm round thread it will not crack or crease—its wearing qualities alone place it among the seasons most worthy materials.

—Green, Fawn, Grey, Black, Blue, Grey Shantung silk 27" wide, ...	75c
—Fawn Tussore Silk 36" wide, ...	75c

CHAMBRAY

A new assortment of fine colored Chambrays at our Wash Goods Counter.

Nothing at the price makes prettier or more durable Waist or Dresses than this material.

Also a number of new Blue Green and Pink Chambrays with fancy stripes—very pretty.

—Fine Blue, Grey, Pink, Linen, Green Chambray, 28" wide, ..	15c
—New stripes in Blue and White, Green and White, Pink and White, 27" wide, ..	15c
—Finest quality White Tussore matting with bright finish 28" wide	40c

WHITE DRESS HATS

The style of our new White Dress Hats combined with the moderate prices make them particularly pleasing to the ladies.

A number of pretty shapes just in stock—to see these an early visit will be neccessary as they are among the seasons scarce and desirable goods.

—Babys' Bonnet of fine open work Muslin edged with Valenciennes laces with lawn rosette and ties	15c
—Our flower sale still continues—only a few bunches left—all good—regular $1.25 for ..	25c

A DISTINCT ADVANTAGE

Many men who have heretofore been unable to find perfect fitting Ready-to-Wear Clothing have found our Made-to-Order Department a distinct advantage—a saving advantage.

The assortment of samples of light weight flannels and tweeds for summer suits is here and every desirable pattern is represented.

As to the style of these—if you are not thoroughly satisfied you are under no obligation to take the suit even after it is made.

Come in and get prices on these goods for a Made-to Measure suit—you will be pleased with the moderate cost.

—Men's Grey and Navy ready-to-wear flannel suits with neat stripes -desireable in every way, ... $5.00 to $7.00

BED SPREADS

Many Ladies have already taken advantage of the saving offering, our third floor is making, in fine White Spreads.

Not damaged or soiled in any way—just another evidence of what IDEAL BUYING CONDITIONS can do to regulate prices.

For the summer weather you could get nothing better.

—Fine white spread—full size $2\frac{1}{2}$ yards long by 2 wide, regular $1.35 for	$1.00
—Fine extra heavy Honey-comb Spread, 2 yds wide by $2\frac{1}{2}$ yds. long, regular $1.65 for	$1.35

STRAW MATTINGS

The designs in China Matting have steadily improved until at present nothing makes neater or more durable inexpensive floor covering.

A few moments of inspection on our top floor should contain pleasurable surprises as our assortment this season would do credit to many larger stores. So several ladies have told us.

—Fine grade in China Matting assorted patterns and colors, 36' wide, ...	20 to 60c yd.

Healthy—Easily Cleaned

Two things that are partly responsible for the great increase in our rug sales.

Partly only—the new patterns have also much to do with our advance—they are certainly the handsomest we have ever exhibited.

To prospective buyers they should be very interesting—the price alone should do that.

—Handsome Afghan Rug, 9' 10" x 13' 11", assorted colorings, ...	$27.50

Agents for Standard Patterns.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

CLOTHING BOUGHT HERE PRESSED FREE OF CHARGE

SUITS FOR MEN

The Entirely Different Sorts.

Not satisfied with equaling in style, fit and excellence of workmanship the made-to-measure garments the best tailors produce, our makers are now fashioning their suits from the same fabrics which have heretofore been exclusive with the Custom Tailors.

Our showing of these suits is very extensive.

They are suits that the average man wants—they give him the style and exclusiveness he seeks without the extra cost of the tailors.

Even the most expert criticism will fail to discover that these suits were not custom made.

The broad showing we make including as it does every size for men of different propostions practically assurs a perfect fit for every man.

But in some cases an exact fit cannot be secured immediately and then we do as the tailors would do at a try on—make the necessary alterations that would secure perfection of fit.

Fancy mixed cashmeres—neat effects in Cheviots—three and four button sack styles including the new straight front.

$6.50 to $15.00

And by the way you can better judge the unassailable quality of these suits if you'll do a little comparing.

Top Coats $5.00 to $12.00

NEW SPRING HATS

All the latest American and English styles, see our celebrated Christys' Hats at $1.00

Christys' Hats

CHRISTYS LONDON

QUICK & ROBERTSON

Exclusive Agents for Johnston's Famous Clothing for Men and Boys.

Roger's Stainfloor Finish

Is something new and it will fill a long felt want, as it works equally as well on either hard or soft wood. It is a combined floor stain and varnish at one application and it is practically indestructable, it is sure to please you.

The W. W. CHOWN Company. Limited

Orders for bookbinding should be left at this office. It is surprising how nice a volume can be made of these magazines, even though they are somewhat soiled from much handling. Books, magazines, or periodicals bound or rebound in any style at very reasonable prices. Blank books, such as journals, ledgers, day books, with any kind of ruling, made to order. All work warranted first-class. THE INTELLIGENCER, Belleville,

CARMAM OPERA HOUSE

Monday, June 1st

GRAND POPULAR ENTERTAINMENT

THE

FAX - CHAMBERS CONCERT

JAMES FAX (the Prince of Humorists) (in costume).

Mrs. FRANCIS T. CHAMBERS (Contralto)

Mr. FRANCIS T. CHAMBERS (Tenor)

Best seats 35c.

DO YOU KNOW THOMAS HUNTLEY?

PEOPLE WHO KNEW HIM A YEAR AGO, AND SEE HIM NOW, HARDLY RECOGNIZE HIM —HE LOOKS SO WELL AND STRONG.

This is what he says:—

Belleville, Ont., May 7th, 1903.

The O. R. Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont:

Dear Sirs,—For a number of years I was troubled with rheumatism; my hands were swollen and enlarged so that I could hardly use them. I suffered with pains in my back and hips, and up between my shoulders. I tried a great many remedies without getting relief or benefit. I had almost given up hope when a friend induced me to try the O. R. KIDNEY CURE. I had not taken one bottle before I began to feel better, and have now only used three bottles, and think that I am permanently cured. The pains have all left me, and I now feel a different man.

Sincerely yours,
THOMAS HUNTLEY.

Ask your druggist for these:—

O. R. Kidney Cure.....50c
O. R. Liver Pills.....25c
O. R. Dyspepsia Tablets.....25c

The Whole Story in a letter:

Pain-Killer

(PERRY DAVIS'.)

From Capt. F. Loye, Police Station No. 5, Montreal:—"We frequently use PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER for pains in the stomach, rheumatism, stiffness, frost bites, chilblains, cramps, and all afflictions which befall men in our position. I have no hesitation in saying that PAIN-KILLER is the best remedy to have near at hand."

Used Internally and Externally.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c. bottles.

Why not own a copy of our 400 page "Guide to Investors." We mail it free, also send for our "Daily Market Letter." Correspondence solicited.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Cotton.

Butterfield Block, Bridge St., Belleville, Ont.

"Determining the character and financial responsibility of your Broker, is as important as selection of right stocks"

Curious Bits of News.

Tubes of glass made by lightning are often found in sand. The electricity passes into the ground and melts the silicious material, forming little pipes, the inside diameter of which represents the "bore" of the "thunderbolt." Such tubes measuring as much as twenty-seven feet in length have been discovered.

The beauties of the New York custom house regulations were again illustrated the other day when an English Freemason, who arrived with his jeweled regalia, was charged full duty on it, and fined for omitting to declare that he had his regalia with him. He had come to take part in a celebration of the order in the United States.

One of the most curious lawsuits ever tried in France has been occupying the attention of the courts. At the last election M. le Provost de Launay, a Royalist senator, desired to have an organ. He went to the editor of a local newspaper, and hired the front page for two months for a given sum. His Republican opponent thought the idea a good one, and hired the second page, so that the readers of the "Journal de Ferguler" were treated on the first page to a eulogy of monarchy and on the second page to praise of the republic. M. de Launay lost the election, and is now suing its editor for breach of contract in leasing the second page to his opponent.

President John I. Sabin of the Chicago Telephone Company has made a popular hit by installing movable phones in fashionable restaurants. You do not have to leave the table to enjoy this luxury. "Waiter, bring me a telephone," is the only order necessary to have a fully equipped long-distance 'phone at your elbow. By simply ordering a telephone a guest may be placed in communication with New York or Denver, or any other city served by the Chicago Telephone Company, without moving from the table at which dinner or luncheon is being served. The new service is very simple. What is termed a "telephone spring-jack" is adjusted to the wall near the table, and when the telephone is ordered the waiter brings the instrument, inserting a plug in the "spring-jack," perfecting direct connection with the main telephone exchange.

A clergyman, visiting a house where an infant was dying in convulsions, remarked to the aged nurse that it was too bad to see a baby in such pain. "Ah, sir," replied the pious woman, "it says in the Good Book, 'Suffer little children to come unto me,' and I tell you they do suffer."

HOW TO GET UP AN APPETITE.

Distaste for food often follows grippe and fevers, and is associated with a general weakness of the system. To impart a real zest for food and give power to the stomach to digest and assimilate, no remedy can equal Ferrozone. This is a new and startling discovery. It strikes at the root of disease, and by removing the cause cures quickly and permanently. Ferrozone will quickly enable you to eat and digest anything. All druggists and medicine dealers sell Ferrozone.

Sports and Pastimes

ATHLETICS.

Field Day at Albert.

Field Day at Albert is an event eagerly looked forward to by the students of that temple of learning. The annual sports were held yesterday afternoon upon the new campus, which is admirably adapted for the purpose. The grounds are situated just east of the College, and comprise about five acres. They have been well laid out for various athletic games, such as baseball and football, and a fairly good bicycle track is partially made. Not only were the students out in full force to witness the various events, but many visitors from the city were present. All appeared to take great interest in the sports, which were well contested and ably managed. During the carrying out of the programme nothing occurred to mar the proceedings. In the various events there were a goodly number of contestants, and the finishes in some cases were close and exciting. Summary:

100 yards dash, open—E. J. Moore won, W. W. Jones 2, J. Crowe 3.

Slow bicycle race—B. Bower won, J. Dyer 2.

Hurdle race, junior—G. Oakley won, J. Dyer 2, G. E. Mallory 3.

Hurdle race, senior—A. B. Astle won, W. Chapman 2, W. W. Jones 3.

Tossing caber, senior—I. Wallace won, 30 ft. 7 in.; N. Shaver 2, 29 ft. 1 in.; W. W. Jones 3, 28 ft. 5 in.

Tossing caber, junior—G. G. Mallory won, 24 ft. 9 in.

Wheelbarrow race, 40 yards, contestants blindfolded—G. Buckingham won, Archie Wilson 2.

Pole vaulting, junior—G. Mallory won, 6 ft. 9 in.; G. B. Wilson 2, 6 ft. 7 in.

Pole vaulting, senior—N. Caswell won, 8 ft.; W. W. Jones 2 W. Shepherd 3.

Donkey race, 40 yards and return—D. J. Bott and W. W. Jones won, J. Colley and E. J. Moore 2, G Buckingham and H. E. Plewman 3.

Broad jump, standing—N. Shaver won, 8 ft. 6 1-2 in.; I. Wallace, 2, W. W. Jones 3.

Broad jump, standing, junior—G. Oakley won, 8 ft. 10 in.; G. Mallory 2, 7 ft. 6 in.; J. Dyer 3, 6 ft. 7in.

Sack race, 30 yards—H. E. Plewman won, K. Manning 2, A. Wilson 3.

100 yards dash, senior students—I. Wallace won, E. J. Moore 2, B. J. Bott 3.

Potato race—J. W. Miller won, F. J. Ledford 2, G. Purchase 3, H. E. Plewman 4.

Hop, step and jump, running, senior—I. Wallace, 37 ft. 2 in.; J. Colley, 36 ft. 11 in.; N. Shaver, 35 ft. 7 in.

Hop, step and jump, running, junior—G. Mallory, 35 ft. 10 in; G. Oakley, 35 ft. 8 in.; J. Dyer, 3 ft. 10 in.

Three-legged race, 100 yards—B. J. Bott and W. W. Jones; M. Sexsmith and E. H. Frost; J. W. Miller and J. A. Crowe.

Putting shot, senior—J. C Shaver, 35 ft. 9 in.; I. Wallace, 32 ft. 9 in.; B. J. Bott, 30 ft. 10 in.

Putting shot, junior—G. Mallory, 28 ft. 2 in.; G. Oakley, 25 ft. 9 in., C. Brereton, 23 ft. 4 in.

Egg race—G. Buckingham, H. E. Plewman, K. Manning.

Throwing cricket ball, senior—A. B Astle, I. Wallace, J. Huston.

Throwing cricket ball, junior — G. Mallory, G. Oakley.

High jump, running, junior—G. E. Mallory, 4 ft. 10 1-2 in; G. Oakley, 4 ft. 8 in.; L. Doxsee, 4 ft. 6 in.

High jump, running, senior—A. B. Astle, 5 ft. 1-2 in.; J. Colley, K. Manning.

100 yards dash, junior students—G. Oakley, G. Mallory, J. Dyer.

Consolation race, 50 yards, on all fours—J. Crowe, W. W. Jones C. Applegrath.

One mile run—J. W. Miller, B. McLearn; time 5 min. 12 sec.

Kicking moving football (one special prize)—C. Bedford.

This concluded the programme, which was not completed until after 6 o'clock.

Mr. Irwin Wallace, who is popular amongst the students, made himself even more so by securing the senior Championship and gold medal. He had 24 points to his credit, the next highest competitor having but 17. Mr. George Mallory won the junior championship and silver medal.

The Officials.

The various officials of the day were as follows:

Referee—Dr. W. P. Dyer.

Judges—Wm. Johnson, J. T. Luton, M.A., H. McGuire, Prof. E. R. Doxsee.

Announcers—T. Holgate J. Hunt.

Clerks of the Course—G. Purchase, A. Black, W. Vance, E. J. Moore.

Scorers—Prof. J. Doolittle, R. W. Street, J. Robeson.

Starters—H. A. Dangerfield, J. O. Totten.

Committee of Management— Prof. S. J. Courtice, Chairman; Prof. E. R. Doxsee, Prof. J. Doolittle, A. E. Black, H. A. Dangerfield, J. Hunt, G. Purchase, J. O. Totten, W. Chapman, J. Robeson, W. Vance, E. J. Moore.

Notes.

The young ladies of the college occupied a prominent position on the campus, and the college colors were well displayed by them. They also took a great interest in the sports.

Two of the male students were dressed as clowns, and during the afternoon caused much merriment by their antics.

The ministerial brethren from the city and surrounding county were well represented.

COMING TO BELLEVILLE Saturday, June 6, Second Tour of Canada

RINGLING BROS.
WORLD'S GREATEST SHOWS
ONLY RHINOCEROS IN CAPTIVITY
LITTLE BABY BEE
ONLY PAIR OF FULL GROWN GIRAFFES IN CAPTIVITY
THE BIGGEST SHOW ON EARTH
JERUSALEM
AND THE CRUSADES
INAUGURAL SCENE, SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.
ABSOLUTELY AN ADDITIONAL TRAIN OF CARS ARE REQUIRED TO CARRY THE SCENERY, WARDROBES, ARMORS, WAR IMPLEMENTS, ACCESSORIES AND PEOPLE OF THE NEWLY ADDED AND ENORMOUSLY GRAND SPECTACLE OF JERUSALEM AND THE CRUSADES
85 DOUBLE LENGTH RAILROAD CARS
40 BIG AND LITTLE ELEPHANTS
1280 PEOPLE
108 WILD ANIMAL CAGES
650 HORSES
40 FUN-MAKING CLOWNS
$3,700,000 CAPITAL
$7,400 ACTUAL DAILY EXPENSE
BALLET SCENE
SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.
BIGGEST CIRCUS ON EARTH
375 PERFORMERS 6 BIG ARENAS
3 LONG MILES OF NEW AND COSTLY
2 TROUPES ACTING SEALS
A PARADE SUCH AS THE WORLD HAS NEVER SEEN BEFORE
PARADE GLORIES FREE UPON THE STREETS EVERY MORNING AT 10 O'CLOCK
TWO PERFORMANCES DAILY AT 2 AND 8 P. M. DOORS OPEN AT 1 AND 7 P. M.
ONE 50-CENT TICKET ADMITS TO EVERYTHING. CHILDREN UNDER 12, HALF PRICE

Admission and numbered Reserved Seat Tickets sold on show day at | Riggs' music store at same prices as charged at ticket waggons on show grounds. | Belleville, Saturday, June 6

SPORTING NOTE AND COMMENT.

The Hastings Star says: "Well, we are in the league, and now it's up to us to practise hard and, with our home-grown bunch, win the championship." That's the correct spirit to tackle the job with.

Owing to the fact that the handicappers were too busy to meet this morning, the fixing of handicaps for the bicycle road race has been postponed till to-night, and entries, instead of closing at 10 last night, can be made upto 6 o'clock this evening.

Congratulations to our friend "Irsty" Wallace, of hockey fame who yesterday afternoon galloped away with the gold medal indicating of athletic supremacy at Albert College.

Port Hope Times: Mika and Kennedy, of Belleville, will join Cobourg to play ball just as soon as Kennedy recovers from a broken rib.

Nothing doing, Willie. Somebody's been handing you hot air.

Peterboro Examiner: Belleville is credited with having a pretty husky line-up. In the Athletics they will find an aggregation that will keep them thinking.

Let's see. Don't we remember reading some remarks of that kind about a hockey team they had in Peterboro last winter?

Weather permitting, there will be a game of base ball on the Hospital lot next Monday morning, commencing at 10.30. The teams will be Canning Factory vs. a picked nine.

TENDENCY OF CATARRH IS TO SPREAD.

Just a slight matter at first, and because slight, neglected; but the seed sown brings forth a dangerous harvest, consumption, which is the harvest of death. Better spend a few moments each day inhaling Catarrhozone, an aromatic antiseptic that relieves at once, clears the nasal passages, and restores lost sense of taste and smell. The immediate effect of Catarrhozone is magical, so prompt and efficient. Cure is certain and permanent if you use Catarrhozone. Price $1. Small sizes 25c, at druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

GRADUATION EXERCISES AT THE HOSPITAL

YESTERDAY AFTERNOON — AN INTERESTING AND IMPRESSIVE FUNCTION.

The annual graduation exercises of the Nurses' class at the Belleville Hospital took place yesterday afternoon. Having received an invitation, a representative of The Intelligencer was on the spot a few minutes before 4 o'clock. The fronts of the buildings were decorated with flags, while inside the main building decorations of flags and flowers made things look very bright and cheerful, indeed. It has previously been the custom to have the graduating exercises held in the City Hall, and to invite the general public, but this year it was deemed advisable to hold the ceremony at the hospital. Of course, lack of space prevented an invitation to everybody being extended, so the only ones invited were the members of the Advisory Board, members who compose the Interior Regulation Committee; the Hospital Board; the doctors of the city and their wives, and, of course, the immediate relatives of the graduating nurses.

The graduating class was only two in number, namely, Miss Edna Stella Thompson, of this city; and Miss Florence Mabel Shewell, of Napanee.

The "doings" were held in the centre of the main corridor. His Worship the Mayor presided in his customary graceful style, and the following programme was gone through with:

Opening prayer—Rev. Mr. Maclean.

Address, congratulatory and practical, Mayor Graham.

Address, dealing with the interior economy of the Hospital, by the Lady Superintendent, Miss de Pencier.

Presentation of Diplomas, Dr. Dolan.

Address to the graduating nurses, Dr. MacColl.

Presentation of Hospital badges, Mrs. (Dr.) Clarke.

Presentation of Lecturers' gold medal, Dr. Yeomans. Miss Thompson was the lucky recipient.

Some impromptu remarks were made by different parties, and God Save the King brought the function to an end, after which dainty refreshments were served by the nurses, assisted by a charming bevy of young ladies, whose names follow: Misses Edna Bird, Helen Rathbun, Susie O'Flynn and Hattie Pringle.

Miss Thompson, one of the graduates, leaves to-morrow for California.

A MINISTER'S DUTY

A Glowing Tribute to the Sterling Worth of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder.

"When I know anything worthy of recommendation I consider it my duty to tell it," says Rev. James Murdock, of Hamburg, Pa. "Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder has cured me of catarrh of five years' standing. It is certainly magical in its effect. The first application benefited me in five minutes. 81

SOLD BY D. M. WATERS.

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

We have just received a big lot of Empire Shirt Waists for boys 6 to 12 years of age that we are selling at 39 cents each. These garments have stiff collars and cuffs, and are in the regular way worth almost double the price asked. We have also a lot of boys' blouses as low as 25 cents each. Quick & Robertson, Belleville's Best Clothiers.

ESTABLISHED 1870

Light Weight Hats

COLORED FELTS AND STRAWS

Latest New York Styles.

No trouble to show them.

S. A. HYMAN & CO.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

SOMETHING ABOUT

The Hosiery You Should Wear.

The buying of a pair of Ladies' or Children's Hose may seem a trifling affair. So it is if you are getting a thoroughly reliable article. But how many do not get what they expect, the sizes are not accurate, the tops are tight and most important of all the color is not fast. We have made a study of the Hosiery question for several years, and claim to have the very best value procurable at the prices we quote.

Here are just a few of our everyday sellers.

IN LADIES'

—Fine Macco Thread Hose in Black at ..... 15 and 20c a pr.
—Fine Black Thread Hose in Cashmere and Lisle, feet in Red, Natural and Grey at .... 25c a pr.
—Fine Macco Ribbed Hose at .... 25c a pr.
—Lisle and Lace Hose from .... 25c to 50c a pr.

IN BOYS'

—Fine Ribbed Heavy Cotton Hose, Double Knees, Heels and Toes, sizes 5 to 10, price .... 15 to 25c a pr.
—Heavy Ribbed Hose, Fast Black, small sizes from .... 15c to 25c a pr.

IN GIRLS'

—Fine Cotton and Lisle Hose all sizes from ....10c up.

"All goods stamped Hermsdorf Dye."

Laidlaw & Ketcheson
DIRECT IMPORTERS

Daily Intelligencer.

THE INTELLIGENCER IS SOLD AT J. W. London's and G. Wardhaugh's.

Local Reading Advertisements, each 50 cents; 2 cents per word first insertion, per word subsequent consecutive insertions. Headlines count as 12 words; contracts for long periods made at office

Ice Cream
For this Evening
Chocolate,
Vanillia,
Banana Fruit.
Crushed Strawberry and Neapolitan

CHAS. S. CLAPP

More Vim

Spring debility arises from impure blood and a clogged condition of the system. Our Sarsaparilla Extract with Iodide of Potassium gives just the aid needed. It enriches the blood and gives new vitality. Price 75c a bottle.

McKeown's DRUG STORE

NEW SPRING GOODS

LATEST DESIGNS IN SPRING TROUSERING.

Spring Overcoating. A nice Line of Waterproof Overcoating, Tweeds and Serges at reasonable prices by the yard.

Call and inspect my stock before ordering your Spring Clothing.

ARTHUR McGIE,
Merchant Tailor.
Front Street.

It takes a long time to tell of what you have not done.

Sterling Silver and Cut Glass.

Particular attention is directed to my stock of the above goods, which at present is most attractive. I handle the renowned Gorham Silver and Hawkes Cut Glass Ware, being sole agent for this city. These are the best and prices are moderate.

T. BLACKBURN.

WRAPPERS & BLOUSES

This week we will devote our entire time and energy in disposing of the finest lot of Ladies' Print Wrappers and Black Sateen Blouses ever seen in this or any other city.

Ladies Print Wrappers, flounced and beautifully trimmed at $1.75, $1.50 $1.25, $1.00.

Ladies' Wrappers.............................. 85 & 75c

Black Sateen Blouses

Ladies' Black Sateen Blouses at $2.25, $2.00, $1.50, $1.00, 75c.

We would call special attention to our $1 Blouses.

McINTOSH BROS.

DROWN IN INKY DARKNESS

Two Women Go Down to Death in Toronto Bay.

Mrs. Mary A. Beckett and Miss Libby McKenzie Are the Victims—They Were Two Out of a Party of Six, Three of Whom Were Men, Who Were Capsized From a Mackinaw—Heroic Attempts at Rescue.

Toronto, May 23.—Two women drowned, the body of one still missing, is the latest tragedy enacted on the Bay. Eighteen-year-old Libby McKenzie of 39 Wood street, and Mrs. Mary A. Beckett of 149 Seaton street, were, with four others, thrown into the Bay by the capsizing of a mackinaw and drowned. The body of Miss McKenzie has not yet been recovered. Cries for help attracted another sailing party to the scene of the distressed, and a struggle to rescue one women from a watery grave ensued.

In the capsized boat were Ed. Apted, a printer on Yonge street; T. Richards, William Shantz, Libbie McKenzie, Jean McKenzie and Mrs. Beckett.

At 9.45 last night, L. E. Marsh, sailing the mackinaw "Toinui," accompanied by Charles Miller and H. M. Lamont, heard screams for help. Righting about in the direction of the cries for assistance, they bore down on the spot, but it went past the mark.

Charles Miller jumped into the passing mackinaws' dinghy and returned. The three men were still afloat, two holding a woman each, but the third woman had gone down. In the inky darkness a struggle for life went on for a quarter of an hour. Then the boat manned by L. Marsh returned picking up three men and one woman who were still afloat.

The cause of the sad accident was the neglect of the two men, who had hold of the jib and fore sail, not letting them go when the boat was being turned to the wind.

THE MARKETS.

Grain Markets Erratic—Chicago Higher But Liverpool Lower—Live Stock Markets—Latest Quotations.

Friday Evening, May 22.

Liverpool wheat futures closed ⅜d to ¼d lower to-day than yesterday, and corn futures ¼d lower.

LEADING WHEAT MARKETS.

Following are the closing quotations at important wheat centres to-day:

	Cash.	May.	July.	Sept.
New York	....	....	79	75⅝
Chicago	....	78	73⅞	71
Toledo	75⅞	75½	73⅞	72
Duluth, No. 1 N.	78⅞	78⅞	78⅞	71¼

TORONTO ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Grain—

Wheat, red, bush.	$0 74 to	$0 74½
Wheat, white, bush.	0 74	0 74½
Wheat, spring, bush.	0 71	....
Wheat, goose, bush......	0 67	....
Barley, bush.	0 44	0 45½
Beans, bush.	1 30	1 50
Beans, hand-picked	1 75	....
Peas, bush.	0 78½	....
Rye, bush.	0 42	....
Oats, bush.	0 34½	0 35½

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Steady—Steers Easier at New York—Other Market Quotations.

London, May 22.—Live cattle steady at 12c to 12¼c per lb. for American steers, dressed weight; Canadian steers, 11¼c to 12c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9c to 9¼c per lb. Sheep, 12½c to 13½c, dressed weight.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock were light, 48 carloads, composed of 638 cattle, 200 hogs, 357 sheep and lambs, with about 00 calves. Besides the above there were 45 cars of Chicago cattle received on the market, being fed and rested prior to shipment.

Exporters—Best loads of exporters sold at $5 per cwt., medium to good at about $4.75 to $4.90.

Export Bulls—Choice quality bulls sold at $4 to $4.25 per cwt.; good bulls sold at $3.50 to $3.85 per cwt.

Export Cows—Export cows sold at $4.00 to $4.25 per cwt.

Butchers' Cattle—Choice picked lots of butchers, weighing from 1125 to 1200 lbs. each, equal in quality to best exporters, sold at $4.65 to $4.75; picked lots for local use sold at $4.40 to $4.60; loads of good sold at $4.50 to $4.60; fair to medium, $4.25 to $4.45; common, $3.65 to $3.75; rough to inferior, $3.40 to $3.60 per cwt.

Feeders—Steers of good quality, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, are worth $4 to $4.40 per cwt.

Stockers—One year to two-year-old steers, 400 to 700 lbs. each, are worth $3.30 to $3.00 per cwt.; off-colors and of poor breeding quality of same weights are worth $3 per cwt.

Milch Cows—Milch cows and springers are worth $35 to $55 each.

Calves—Calves sold at $2 to $10 each, or from $4.50 to $5.50 per cwt.

Yearling Lambs—Lambs sold at $5 to $5.50 per cwt.

Sheep—Prices $3.75 to $4.25 per cwt. for ewes, and bucks at $3 to $3.25.

Hogs—Best select bacon hogs, not less than 160 lbs., or more than 200 lbs. each, off cars, sold at $5.90 per cwt.; lights and fats at $5.65; sows, $4 to $4.50 per cwt., and stags, $2 to $3 per cwt.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, May 22.—Cattle—Receipts, 125 head; fair demand; steady. Veals, receipts, 870 head; steady; tops, 5.75 to $6; common to good, $4.50 to $5.65. Hogs, receipts, 6300 head; yorkers 5c higher; others steady; heavy, $6.35 to $6.45, a few $6.50; mixed $6.25 to $6.30; yorkers, $6.05 to $6.15; pigs $6 to $6.05; roughs, $5.25 to $5.60; stags $4.25 to $4.50. Sheep and lambs, receipts, 6100 head; lambs steady; others 25c lower; top lambs, $6.75 to $6.90; culls to good, $4 to $6.65; yearlings, $4.75 to $5.25; ewes, $4 to $4.25; sheep, top mixed, $4.25 to $4.50; culls to good, $2 to $4.15.

THE STRIKE ON.

At 3.30 O'Clock This Morning the Montreal Street Car Employees Decided to Go Out by Big Majority.

Montreal, May 23.—At 3.30 o'clock this morning the Montreal street railway employes and electrical workers decided to go out on strike to-day. The vote to go out on strike was 1,294 for and only 6 against. The rock on which the negotiations between the employes and the company split was the recognition of the principle of arbitration. The company refused to listen to this proposition. Now Montreal is tied up.

It is settled that no strike will occur among Toronto street railway employes. The principal thing the men gain is the right of their grievance committee, which practically means union domination, and the right of arbitration is also conceded by the company.

ASSENTED TO MANY BILLS.

First Parliamentary Act of Lieutenant-Governor Clark.

Toronto, May 23.—Very few of the members of the Legislature remained in the city yesterday, being attracted to their homes for the Victoria Day celebration. Not much business was transacted. Shortly after 3 o'clock Lieutenant-Governor Clark, attended by Commander Law, reached the House and was escorted to the Speaker's chair by the Premier. The ceremony of assenting to the bills already passed was brief and divested of pomp. "Gentlemen will you please be seated," was the only official remark of the new Executive, and as soon as the injunction was carried out the assistant clerk read the bills, which required only the signature of the Lieutenant-Governor to become law. Then the Clerk of the House announced that "In His Majesty's name, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor doth assent to these bills." Mr. Speaker immediately proceeded with the ordinary routine as soon as the Lieutenant-Governor had left the chamber.

Most of the afternoon was taken up with a discussion of Mr. Downey's bill to repeal the Connee sections of the Municipal Act. The bill was read a second time and sent to the Municipal Committee.

In reply to Mr. Preston of Brant, the Minister of Public Works said the services of the secretary of the Labor Bureau had been invoked as conciliator in 22 industrial disputes since April 1, 1902, and in 17 he was successful in promoting a settlement.

The House adjourned till Tuesday.

BASEBALL FRIDAY.

The Eastern League.

Toronto .... 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1
Newark .... 2 0 0 0 0 0 2 1 0—5

Three base hits—Hemming, Shea. Sacrifice hits—Golden, O'Brien, Lawlor. Stolen bases—Golden, O'Hagan, Lawlor. Hit by pitcher—Taft, Devlin. Bases on balls—Off Moriarity 4 (Miller, Kuhns, Golden, Downey). Double plays—Massey to Downey to Massey; Dillard to O'Hagan. Struck out—By Hemming 4 (Bannon 2, Dillard, Moriarity), by Moriarity 3 (Downey 2, Taft). Left on bases—Toronto 10, Newark 5. Time—1.50. Umpire—Shannon. Attendance—3500.

R.H.E.
Rochester .... 0 2 0 1 0 0 0 0 *—3 7 2
Providence ...... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 6 1

Batteries—Becker and Lilly; Gray and Diggins. Umpire—Latham. Attendance—415.

R.H.E.
Buffalo .... 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1—2 10 4
Jersey City.. 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 2 2

Batteries—Milligan and Shaw; Barnett and McManus and Dillon. Umpires—Kelly and Brown. Attendance—8112.

R.H.E.
Baltimore .... 0 0 1 3 0 0 0 0 x—4 3 1
Worcester...... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2—2 5 3

Batteries—Gettig and Robinson; Winham and Streeian. Umpire—Swartwood. Attendance—47.

National League Scores.

At Philadelphia— R.H.E.
Chicago ...... 0 0 0 0 7 0 0 0 1— 8 13 1
Philadelphia .. 0 0 0 0 0 0 3 1 0— 4 10 1

Batteries—Wicker and Kling; Fraser and Zimmer. Umpire—Moran. Attendance—1834.

At New York— R.H.E.
St. Louis .... 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0— 1 3 4
New York.... 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 6 x— 8 5 4

Batteries—Levett, Sanders and O'Neill; Taylor and Warner. Umpire—Johnstone. Attendance—3530.

At Boston— R.H.E.
Boston .... 0 0 3 0 0 0 1 0 0— 4 8 3
Cincinnati .... 0 0 2 0 2 0 0 0 4— 8 10 2

Batteries—Malarkey, Piatt and Moran; Ewing and Bergen. Umpire—Emslie. Attendance—238.

At Brooklyn— R.H.E.
Brooklyn ...... 3 0 1 0 0 1 0 0 0— 5 7 4
Pittsburg .... 2 0 2 1 1 0 4 1 1—12 10 1

Batteries—Jones, Ritter and Ahearn; Doheny and Phelps. Umpire—O'Day. Attendance—2245.

American League Results.

At Chicago— R.H.E.
Chicago ..... 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—2 4 0
New York .... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1 4 2

Batteries—Patterson and McFarland; Chesbro and O'Connor. Umpires—Carruthers and Hassett. Attendance—3350.

At St. Louis— R.H.E.
St. Louis ....1 0 0 4 1 0 0 0 *—6 12 2
Boston ....0 0 0 0 0 0 2 2 0—4 4 3

Batteries—Kelevers and Sugden; Winters and Smith. Umpire—Sheridan. Attendance—3100.

At Detroit—Detroit-Philadelphia game postponed: wet grounds.

At Cleveland—Cleveland-Washington game postponed: wet grounds.

Topeka, Kans., May 23.—A tornado at Clay Centre last night killed two girls and injured others. Half the town is reported blown away.

A well-dressed young woman entered a Boston car the other day and took a seat next to a man. Presently she leaned forward and began to tie up her shoe-lacing. It proved rather difficult to do with her gloves on, but after a while the passengers witnessing the performance saw the feat accomplished and the lady sit back calmly gazing out of the window as if "she was always tying her shoe" in electric cars. At the next stop the man beside her rose to get off, but lo! there came a struggle and then horror, mutual and general. The two were fastened, not exactly hand and foot, but shoe and shoe! So diligently had the lady tied the knots that the lacing had to be cut by a ready pocket-knife before the embarrassed couple could be separated.

Solid Sterling Silver
Tea Spoons
Full Size, New Imperial Pattern

No. 124
$2.50
per half dozen

No. 124
$2.50
per half dozen

Express prepaid to any address.
If not perfectly satisfied your money will be refunded in full without question.
Write for our new illustrated Folder of extra value offerings.

RYRIE BROS.
JEWELERS
118, 120, 122 and 124
Yonge St., Toronto

A Chicago playwright advertises that he has written and invented a melodrama in five acts, called "In Death's Shadow," "introducing the most absolutely startling and realistic scene in existence, the eruption of Mount Pelee and the destruction of St. Pierre. Fully protected. Western and southern rights for sale."

Perhaps we are coming to railways without rails. Several automobile owners in New York are planning to construct on Long Island fifty miles of road, to cross other roads above or below grade so that they may have a free course on which to speed their machines. From running a single motor car on such a road to attaching one or more "trailers" is a short step, and the next leads to passenger and freight service. Even if special roads are not built for their accommodation, it is probable that automobile coach lines will be run as feeders to the steam or electric lines in districts where it would not pay to lay a track.

A petition to the President and Congress of the United States asking an appropriation of $500,000,000 to assist negroes to leave the United States has been prepared by the International Immigration and Commercial Association, an organization of negroes, who were in session in Chattanooga, Tenn., a fortnight ago. The petition recites a long train of abuses to which it is asserted the negro is subjected, among which are the denial of all social and political recognition and the violation of his constitutional rights. The leading spirits in the convention are Bishop Turner of Georgia and Mr Heard, former minister to Liberia.

Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets.

THERE is no remedy equal to these Tablets for removing all poisons and impurities from the blood, and giving health, strength and vitality.

They cure blood humors, skin eruptions, headache, backache, side-ache, dragging pain in the loins, feeling of weariness and depression, torpid liver and all dangerous and distressing kidney troubles.

They are small, chocolate coated and easily taken.

MRS. L. J. SHAVER, Chalmers Street, Galt, Ont., says: "I think I have always had backache more or less ever since I was a child, until I used Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets. They have cured me, not only of that constant pain in the small of my back, but of that depressing weariness that the slightest exertion seemed to produce. I sleep well nights, the languor has disappeared, and I am not easily fatigued as formerly. These Tablets have given me the greatest relief. I have not had headaches or backache since I used them. I feel buoyant and vigorous, and consider these tablets a truly valuable remedy."

The price of the Tablets is 50c. a bottle, at druggist or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto.

Just What You Need

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets

When you feel dull after eating.
When you have no appetite.
When you have a bad taste in the mouth.
When your liver is torpid.
When your bowels are constipated.
When you have a headache.
When you feel bilious.

They will improve your appetite, cleanse and invigorate your stomach and regulate your liver and bowels. 25c.; all druggists.

White Blouses

Now is the time for Summer Blouses. Just received another large shipment of Fancy White and Black Blouses. These have been delayed on account of getting the latest styles.

SEE OUR PRICES

Our Plain Waists with Insertion fronts................ 75c

Also Valenciennes and Embroidery Insertion fronts at .. .. $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50

Our special line of Embroidered fronts, very stylish, prices .... $2.00 and $2.25

Medallions and Drop Ornaments

A fine assortment of these for trimming, in cream and black. Prices 10, 15 and 20c.

White Gloves

Gloves for summer at attractive prices. See our Fancy Taffeta Silk Gloves, two dome fasteners. Prices 25c, 40c and 50c.

NATHAN JONES.

A Monopoly.

We have the Monopoly of this Corset, because it is a patented Corset, and nobody else can make it.

Every woman knows that a "CREST" Corset cannot break at the waist, and is therefore especially adapted to every active woman, and invaluable to those with rather full figures.

Do not fail to try one. If you do you will buy no other style of Corsets.

D&A
CREST 400

WEAR 'CREST" CORSETS

MADE IN THREE STYLES

REGULAR SHAPES STRAIGHT FRONT DIP HIP

D

For pure blood, a bright eye, a clear complexion, a keen appetite, a good digestion and refreshing sleep, TAKE

BRISTOL'S Sarsaparilla

It arouses the Liver, quickens the circulation, brightens the spirits and generally improves the health.

Sixty-eight years trial have proved it to be, the most reliable BLOOD purifier known.

All druggists sell "BRISTOL'S."

The Finnegan Carriage & Wagon Co.

—FOR—

Stylish and Durable Turnouts.

—Surreys
—Corning Buggies
—Piano Box Buggies
—Rubber Tire Buggies
—Micadoes

—Phaetons
—Bike Buggies
—Democrats
—Grocer Wagons
—Butcher Wagons

Cheese Factory Milk Wagons.
Steel Tubular Axle Lumber Wagons.

Rubber Tires put on your old wheels at reasonable prices.

Mill St., - - Belleville.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL — LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL — CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 37. BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, MAY 26, 1903 NO. 21

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.

Price 25 Cents. Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

oston, May 26.—John B. Moran, a lawyer, announces that he has in his possession a written confession of a wholesale bribery scheme, mapped out by Massachussetts men, which involves seven prominent legislators who are in the combine. The confession was made by a Boston merchant, a member of the Legislature, in 1901, who disappeared from Boston after placing the confession in Mr. Moran's hands. Mr. Moran will at once lay his evidence before the grand jury.

Suicided in Church.

London, Ont., May 26.—William Uglow, for years township collector of North Dorchester, well-known throughout the county and in the city, was found dead yesterday in the Methodist Church at Putnam. A revolver that lay by his side showed that he had committed suicide.

ROYAL COMMISSION ENDED

Judges Say They Will Report Early in June.

THE CLOSING ARGUMENTS.

Mr. Johnston's Statement That Sullivan Summoned Gamey From Manitoulin to Meet a Mythical Kagawong Lake Deal Man, Who Did Not Appear, Is Characterized by Mr. Blake as an Insult to the Commissioners—Mr. Blake's Reply Was on Material Points, With Which He Dealt Concisely.

Toronto, May 26.—The Gamey Bribery Commission opened promptly at 10 o'clock on Saturday.

Mr. Johnston, in resuming his argument, said that Gamey's support of the Government was voluntary, and the motive that prompted him to concoct his story was that his life was unbearable from the mistrust which met him on all sides and he had therefore to satisfy his constituents. Gamey and Sullivan were in it together and if they could not hold up the Government something would have to be done to put the other party in power. Then came in the significance of his ambition to be Minister of Mines. He could not get that position in the Ross Government, so these men, contended Mr. Johnston, concluded to concoct a story that might upset the Government and get him the coveted position and with it the opportunity to perfect their deals. Boyd, in his letter to Mr. Latchford, had said Gamey was a man ambitious for power. His whole conduct is that of a man determined to hold up one party or demand recognition from the other. Gamey thought that he had Sullivan so tied up that their stories would agree when placed in the box, but from beginning to end Sullivan had given Gamey the lie, because their stories were founded on falsehood.

Where Gamey Failed.

Mr. Johnston then took up the "probabilities" of the case. His receiving $3,000 as bribe money was the most important of his life, and yet he failed to note the time. The letter binding Frank Sullivan was destroyed on the most flimsy pretext. He didn't know whether he got the money the day before the Conservative caucus or the day following. If he got it the day before he attended the Conservative meeting with a $1,500 bribe in his pocket; if on the following day he was asking the Commission to believe that a Minister of the Crown, knowing him but slightly and knowing him to have been present at the caucus, had handed over $3,000 without questioning his sincerity.

Not a Probability.

Mr. Johnston said Gamey had refrained from confiding to Mr. Whitney, his leader, his intentions and actions.

The Chancellor said the probability was not much in Mr. Johnston's favor, as Gamey had given a reason for his action.

Mr. Johnston held that pages 8 and 14 of his statement in the House had been palpably changed after his interview in the Crossin factory, to suit the subject matter to the circumstances.

Where the Money Came From.

Coming to the tinkering by Gamey with the bank deposit slips, Mr. Johnston said that, in going back late in the day with a crumpled-up substitute and affirming it to be the original, Gamey had done so "with a lie upon his lips and falsehood in his heart." Then, the important pages of the Crossin books had gone, "together with his (Gamey's) credibility." "Find me the deposit slip of the $900 and of the $1,500 and those missing pages, and it would be only a short step to ascertain where the money came from."

Attacks Hammond's Evidence.

Taking the evidence of Mr. Hammond, Mr. Johnston said that, if it were true, then Mr. Hammond was as great a moral delinquent as the Hon. Mr. Stratton. The position of Mr. Hammond, as viewed by the prosecution, was that if the request by Mr. Stratton to forget some things was an improper question, then Mr. Hammond's answer that he might if he was not asked was also improper. If an immoral suggestion was made, then Mr. Hammond accepted it. If the purpose was dishonest, the answer was dishonest, for Mr. Hammond had no right to forget anything. However, if the question was honest, if it related to matters that were not relevant to the enquiry, such as a reference to the Niagara power question, but which were still private, then Mr. Hammond's answer was perfectly proper. As to Mr. Stratton asking Hammond to strike out part of the interview, that was because it was not the original interview at all. And the prosecution, moreover, had neglected to point out that Mr. Stratton desired to call Mr. Gamey back to get him to strike out the portion objected to.

Other Men Who Have Switched.

In concluding, Mr. Johnston referred to the changing of politics indulged in in the past by certain men, among them the reversal of allegiance by Hon. E. B. Wood, in the Cabinet of Hon. Sandfield Macdonald; Dalton McCarthy, who had changed from Conservative to independent; Beatty of Parry Sound, Hon. R. W. Scott, Sir William P. Howland, Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. Jos. Howe and Hon. D'Arcy McGee. In most instances, there had been talk of corruption and wrongdoing having influenced the decision. Mr. Johnston closed by reminding the Commissioners of the power that was theirs, and the serious result that a decision, when once made, and could not be recalled, would have. He hoped they would clear away what tarnish had been cast upon the fair name of the Province by "a man of the character and conduct of Mr. Gamey;" that such finding would declare that no Minister of the Crown had violated his trust; that the Premier of this Province, the Old Man Eloquent, the man who has no legacy to leave his children, or his children's children, excepting the good name of himself and his colleagues, a man who has grown poor in the service of his country, that that man may not go down hiding his face in sorrow to his grave.

Mr. Blake's Reply.

Mr. Blake, in his reply, said Mr. Johnston had referred both at the beginning and end of his speech to the purity and high character of the Government. He did not think that such a claim was well founded, and their Lordships would conclude whether or not Gamey was of the same opinion, and was determined to test the truth of many rumors, and the many facts which must lead one to the conclusion that all was not as fair as the counsel would lead one to think.

Mr. Blake in dealing with Todd's statement about patronage, that preference was given to a Government supporter, said that in Ontario practice all the patronage was given to the supporter, not merely a preference.

The only right conferred upon the commissioners, contended Mr. Blake, was that of taking the evidence and returning it to the Legislature, together with such remarks as fitted the tone of a judicial finding. The House was to be the ultimate forum.

The Gravamen of the Charge.

Mr. Johnston had contended that Mr. Gamey was elected as an Independent. He entirely overlooked, if that were true that under the conditions of the letter of the 10th Sept. Mr. Gamey was to abandon his independent stand and give his support to the Government on all votes of want of confidence. The letter could mean nothing else. The evidence of the Government's own witnesses had shown that Gamey was anxious about his protest, and that he had not money to fight the trial. Might not that have been accepted by the Government as a token that Gamey would prove likely material to work upon. Did they spurn the opportunity or did they accept it?

The whole of the Manitoulin evidence, whether given by prosecution or be defence witnesses, showed that Gamey had been elected to oppose the Ross Government, but to support good measures which would benefit his constituency.

An Explanation Needed.

The evidence of Mr. Aylesworth showed that Mr. Gamey wanted money before he gave up the letter. Why was the letter given up if no money was forthcoming? How did the letter get into the hands of the Premier? Money had been deposited by Gamey, and the only man who had an interest in giving him that money was the man who wanted his support for the Government. The uncertainty as to the date of the payment was immaterial. The defence's witnesses had themselves shown that there had been plenty of times and places when the money could have been paid on either September 9, 10, or 11.

Gamey's story had not been told after a dozen other witnesses had been put in to pave the way for him. He had gone in first, and told his story, and it had been corroborated to a surprising degree by the witnesses who followed him.

Ministers Should Have Explained.

There had been nothing to prevent the Premier and the Ministers from going in the box, and throwing what light they could on the question. Mr. Stratton had admitted that he told them all of the negotiations in progress. Where did the Premier get the letter of September 10? If anything needed an explanation, it was that. Perhaps the only explanation was a confession that the Government had trafficked with Gamey. Why did the Premier keep the letter? Why had his answer not been, "Take the letter away, and never write another one. I will not touch pitch! I am not buying seats!"?

Insult to Commissioners.

The interview had not been demanded earlier, because there had been no reason for it until Mr. Gamey, by appearing on Conservative platforms, showed that he considered he owed the Liberals no allegiance outside of the House. He considered it an insult to the intelligence of the Commission to argue that Frank Sullivan had summoned Gamey all the way from Manitoulin to see a mythical man, who had never turned up, about a Kagawong Lake deal.

He thought it strange that Liberal workers — Conmee, Grant, Alex. Smith, Jones, Frank Sullivan—were all clustered around the man known to be anxious about his seat. "Surely," he said, "it was not necessary to prove that these men had met around a table and entered into a formal agreement to prove a conspiracy." If so, such crimes would never be brought home.

An Absolute Negation.

Mr. Blake considered the evidence of the piano factory witnesses an absolute negation of Frank Sullivan's evidence. So far as the Minister of Mines reference was concerned, Gamey might have desired to secure the office either in a Reform, a Tory, or a coalition Government. The agreement with Sullivan did not incriminate the Government so that it was not necessary to preserve it. If the statement in the House had been concocted, pages 8 and 14 would not be left in a shape to arouse suspicion; the document would have been copperplate. The very inconsistencies alleged showed the truth of the tale. In reply to Mr. Johnston's statement that the "X.Y.Z." letter was a reply to a letter sent by Gamey to Sullivan, he said there was no evidence aside from Sullivan's to show that such a letter had been sent. Mr. Gamey's trip to Buffalo and the deposit slip incident could be explained from the great strain Mr. Gamey had undergone.

Mr. Johnston's Peculiar Argument

The arguments of Mr. Johnston to minimize the force of Hammond's evidence caused Mr. Blake to ask why Hammond's written statement was not produced in court. "Where is it," said he, "that they dare not produce it to the court?" Omnia presumuntur contra spoliatores. Besides, Stratton was more anxious about these charges than anything else. When he said: "Can't you forget" he was not referring to the Carnegie library or to Niagara power. Mr. Blake said that Hammond's answer was not exactly that quoted by Mr. Johnston. Hammond said "I might forget some of the things." "I 'might' if I were as wicked, I 'might' if I were as wicked as you." This might easily have been his mental attitude at the time.

Political Switching.

As to Mr. Johnston's statement that the changing of politics had been done again and again in Parliamentary history. Mr. Blake begged to differ. He remembered that in one incident touched upon, the paper with the words "Speak now" was picked out of a spittoon. There was no talk then of a corrupt bargain, of a protest, or of patronage. Mr. Blake said he had no objection to either a Conservative or a Liberal changing his politics, if he received more light, and honestly was convinced that he must change his course. This, however, was not the position in this case.

Mr. Blake agreed that the crisis was a grave one, and would have farreaching consequences, but he said that the honorable gentlemen should have thought of that before.

Statement by the Chancellor.

Chancellor Boyd said that in bringing the sitting of the Commission to a close, he would announce that the finding would appear in the form of a report, "This report," he said, "we hope to lay before the chief executive of this province during the present session of the House, hardly during the present month, but early next month.

"My brother and myself have had but little opportunity to confer on this controversy during the sittings of the Commission, and some days will be needed for this purpose, but our earnest desire and efforts have been from the outset to ensure a full, fair and unhampered enquiry such a one as will be satisfactory to every thoughtful and honest man. A fair inquest has been kept in view as to the object to be attained, although we may not have gone far into the inviting fields of ethics open to us.

"The final words used by a great judge at the close of a great inquiry may be fittingly applied to us: 'Conscious that throughout this great inquest we have sought only the truth, we trust we shall be guided to find it, and set it forth plainly in the sight of all men.' More apt, more terse, more striking words could not be used to express this thought and aspiration, and, thus inspired, we hope to make complete discharge of our duty."

A DESPERATE STRUGGLE.

Turks Killed 150 Macedonian Insurgents in 30 Hour's Battle.

Vienna, May 26.—About 150 Macedonian insurgents were killed at the village of Smerdesh, south of the Lake of Presba, May 21. The insurgents, who had possession of quantities of dynamite, sought refuge in the village and were attacked by Turkish troops. The fighting lasted for thirty hours, and ultimately all the houses were burned or blown up by dynamite by the Turks. One hundred and fifty bodies were found in the ruins.

Bulgaria and Turkey.

London, May 26.—The Sofia correspondent of The Times says negotiations between Bulgaria and Turkey have opened favorably in that city. It is evident, he adds, that there is a slackening in the struggle in Macedonia, but fighting is reported from the districts of Kitchevo and Nevrekop, where several villages are blockaded.

VICTORIA DAY IN CANADA

Brave Lads Who Fell Fighting For the Empire Remembered.

Three Monuments Were Unveiled in Their Honor in Ontario—One to Lieut. Osborne, Lieut. Builder and Corp. Sherritt in Brantford; One to Capt. Milligan in Newtonville and One to R. J. Stobo at Bendale, Scarboro Township.

Brantford, May 26.—Amid the cheers of throngs of people, the playing of three massed bands, and in the presence of 1,500 militia and 5,000 people, Sir Frederick Borden yesterday afternoon unveiled the Soldiers' Monument at Jubilee Park in this city. In doing so, he delivered an eloquent oration, touching on the deeds of valor and bravery of the young Brantfordites, who had laid down their lives while fighting for the Empire in one of the most distant parts, and, in referring to militarism within the Dominion, declared that it was the object of the Government to maintain a force sufficient only to guard the country's interests and preserve law and order throughout its length and breadth.

Sir Frederick recounted the manner of death of the three in whose memory the monument was erected. Lieut. Osborne fell in the disastrous engagement at Spion Kop. Lieut. Builder fell while defending the guns at Belfast, and Corp. Alfred Sherritt after passing through two campaigns fell at the Harts River engagement, fighting to the last. Great deeds made a nation great, and the greatest of all deeds were those that had taken place on the field of battle. He was glad Brantford recognized its heroes, and hoped other cities would follow in its footsteps.

Sir Frederick then released the ropes which held the covering of the monument in place, and amid the cheers of citizens the drapery fell disclosing the statue surmounted by a soldier with fixed bayonet. Mayor Halloran, on behalf of the city, accepted the gift, at the conclusion of which the massed bands played "God Save the King."

Later in the afternoon, the regiments marched to Agricultural Park, where the celebration was continued by the militia, who participated in numerous manoeuvres of a pleasing character.

Newtonville, May 26.—The unveiling of a monument to the late Capt. W. P. K. Milligan of the 46th Durham Regiment took place yesterday afternoon before many citizens from Durham, Northumberland, Peterboro and Victoria Counties who assembled here to participate in the ceremony of unveiling a magnificent obelisk to the memory of the late Cpt. Milligan, who fell at Kleinhart's River in South Africa.

A Monument Unveiled.

Toronto, May 26.—The people of Scarboro have erected a monument to one of the young men of that township, who died in South Africa. The monument which is in memory of Trooper Robert James Stobo of Scarboro, stands in the Presbyterian Churchyard, at Bendale, the centre and beginning of the township, and was unveiled yesterday afternoon with appropriate ceremonies.

KING'S MINISTER STRATTON.

Tells Victoria Day Picnicers That He Does Not Fear Finding.

Lakefield, May 26.—At Father Phelan's picnic here yesterday among the speakers were Hon. F. R. Latchford and Hon. J. R. Stratton. The latter, in the course of his speech, said:

He said he would be brief in his remarks, as there were other speakers to follow, and his hearers would take opportunities of listening to him again; they had had the opportunity several times of late of seeing his name in the newspapers, and he had noticed it there, also, at times. Such events as those which had been engrossing the attention of the public during the past few weeks were to be regretted, but when such things occurred, the only course to follow was to face them manfully. Mr. Stratton claimed he had done this and had no fear whatever of the result of the report from two of Ontario's most learned judges. He felt assured that not only in the County of Peterboro, but thoughout the Province the people had their minds made up from the evidence given as to what the result would be, and he could not but feel that the people had not lost confidence in him.

SUNDAY RIOTS.

Five Hurt and Two Cars Demolished by Montreal Strike Sympathizers.

Montreal, May 26.—Forty-five cars running; two cars smashed; three men and two women in the hospitals; the cars on the line up to 7 o'clock; over 300 lights put out, and ten or twelve men under arrest for intimidation, were some of the features of Sunday's strike record. There was a conflict on St. Denis street at 6 o'clock and another at East St. Catharine street a little earlier, with the results as given above.

Firemen Awed the Rioters.

The serious riots which took place Sunday seem to have cleared the air, and the order of the Attorney-General to allow none of those arrested for intimidation out on bail has had the effect of quieting down things to their normal state. Some 45 cars were run yesterday, and while they were crowded most of the time there were no attempts to interfere with the employes in the discharge of their duty; consequently, the last car entered the shops last evening at 7 o'clock, without a single accident being reported.

The turning out of the fire brigade by the Mayor with orders to duck the leaders of any parade or procession that might be formed prevented all proposed demonstrations.

ALMOST FROM BIRTH.

"Almost from birth my little girl was troubled with bronchitis and a harsh, hacking cough. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion was prescribed. It cured her cough, and she almost immediately gained in flesh and color. To-day she is strong and robust."—Al. Padsey, Toronto, Canada.

Breakfast is Ready

No waiting for the long process of cooking required by raw meal foods.

Malta-Vita

The Perfect Food

is the full flakes of whole wheat delicately impregnated with Barley Malt, scientifically cooked, toasted and ready to serve.

No work—no heat—
Just cream—then eat.

THE KING'S PLATE.

The Dyment Stable Gives Public a Surprise and Wins First and Second —The Second Day.

Toronto, May 26.—The Ontario Jockey Club's spring race meeting began on Saturday. The greatest interest centred in the King's Plate race. Of the fifty horses whose names were on the 1st day of March inscribed on the entry list for the King's Plate of 1903, fifteen survived the trials of training with such a showing as justified their owners in sending them to the post. As is generally the case, Mr. Seagram had the largest representation, three out of his nine entries, and in the judgment of the average visitor he had the strongest as well as the largest hand. Mr. Dyment sent two, and Mr. Hendrie two out of an original entry of five. These were the only owners to have more than a single starter. The other owners and their horses were: H. C. Osborne's Golden Crest, Adam Beck's Hawkins, E. B. Clancey's Picktime, D. Higgins' Cardigan, C. B. Simpson's Jack Canuck, Robt. Davies' Farmers' Foe, G. W. Cook's Marston Moor, and Mrs. J. A. McCulloch's Whiteward.

Mr. Dyment had for many years entered his candidates for the Guineas, but up to this year the fickle goddess had vouchsafed her smile elsewhere. She doubly atoned on Saturday for her neglect, for not first place alone, but second also, fell to Mr. Dyment. One of the first to congratulate him was the Governor-General, while his rivals for the coveted purse were not backward in conveying to him their felicitations.

There was other racing on Saturday, good racing and plenty of it, but for the average man and woman the other events do not count for much on Plate Day. The weather was cool, but bright and pleasant, and everything that could be done to provide a fine day's sport was arranged. Only one cloud passed over the brightness of it all—the tragic end of the King's Plate favorite, Mr. Seagram's Fly-in-Amber. She broke her leg when racing the first furlong of the distance, and the fracture was so serious that she had to be destroyed.

Second Day's Races.

Woodbine Track—Monday — First race, 3-year-olds, Invasion 1, Plantagenet 2, Cobourg 3.

Second Race—Woodbine Steeplechase, about 2½ miles, Ilgbie 1, Imperialist 2, Woolgatherer 3.

Third Race — Four-year-olds, ¾ miles, Port Royal 1, Fanny Blazes 2, Hie Away 3.

Fourth Race—3-year-olds, 1¼ miles, Claude 1, Andy Williams 2, Brush By 3.

Fifth Race—2-year-olds, ½ mile, Spring 1, Blue Tarter 2, Rowland M. 3.

Sixth Race—3-year-olds, 1 mile; Scortle 1, Springbrook 2, Rapidus 3.

Seventh Race—3-year-olds, 1 mile, Butter Scotch 1, Benckart 2, Wheeler B. 3.

ARSENAL UP, GUNBOAT DOWN.

Gen. Frias Killed and Twenty-One Mortally Wounded.

Santo Domingo, May 26.—The arsenal at Santiago was blown up yesterday by enemies of the present Government. Gen. Frias was killed and twenty-one persons mortally wounded. The troops are pursuing Gen. Jose Alvarez, who is said to be the author of the explosion.

The gunboat Colon, which conveyed Gen. Deschamps to Senchez, has been lost off Cape Espada. Deschamps and four others saved th selves in a boat, but the rem of the crew was lost.

SINCLAIR'S AD SINCLAIR'S AD.

Special Wash Goods Values

All This Week.

Thousands of Goods to Select From.

See Our New Shirt Waists

Kabo Corsets have won a world-wide reputation for excellence. They

Fit Well
Feel Well
Wear Well
Look Well

We have a great variety of styles comprising the latest designs and exclusive novelties and can fit you perfectly

Call and see our new spring style Kabos.

See Our Ladies' Dress Skirts

D. V. SINCLAIR & CO.

More delicious than Japan.
More healthful than Japan.
Cheaper to use than Japan.

"SALADA"

Ceylon Natural GREEN tea is absolutely free from coloring matter and has a most delicious flavor and is as far ahead of Japan tea as "SALADA" black is ahead of all other black teas. Sold only in sealed lead packets. 25c, and 40c per lb. By all grocers.

GORMAN'S

THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE

Our large, bright, new stock of reliable Foot wear is daily making many new friends for THE CORNER SHOE HOUSE.

Just step in some time, when out shopping, you will also say that our shoes are deserving of THEIR GREAT POPULARITY.

Come in any time we will be pleased to serve you.

You will find here excellet lines of Ladies' Lace Boots selling at $4.00, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Our men's department is well stocked with stylish, comfortable, durable boots, in various leathers, selling at $5.00, $3.75, $3.50, $3.00, $2.50, $2.00, $1.50 and $1.25.

Daily Intelligencer.

TIMELY TOPICS.

"Terry" McGovern, the pugilist, saved a woman from being burned to death at a fire recently, and earned more glory in five minutes than he did in ten years' prize-fighting. Here's the glad hand to Terry, just the same.

• • •

Here is the description of one settler's way of farming on the prairie: "He plows and sows seed at the same time, and averages fifty acres in a day. A steam plow turning eight furrows is used to break the ground, a roller follows the plow and a disc seeder completes the work. A powerful electric light is attached, and the work goes merrily on for twenty-four hours in the day." What would have been thought of a suggestion of farming on such a gigantic scale 50 years ago?

• • •

Far called, the swearers melt away;
Into oblivion sinks the liar;
The judges' pomp of yesterday
Is one with Nineveh and Tyre;
But Stratton's words are with us yet—
Can't you forget? Can't you forget?

• • •

The Philippine islands, says the New York World, have cost the United States in "blood and treasure," 5000 lives of soldiers and not less than $300,000,000, without reckoning the wounded, the hopeless invalids and the pensions. The Government and the "maintenance of order" are costing now fully $40,000,000 a year. And then it adds: What have we to show for this except a dishonored Declaration of Independence, and a Constitution rent and frayed in the effort to stretch it over distant "possessions?"

• • •

Max O'Rell is dead, and the world has lost a bright man who knew how to tell the truth in a humorous way which made it more palatable and none the less wholesome.

• • •

Isn't it a pity Victoria day doesn't come in Lent? Some of the youngsters might then deny themselves fire crackers.

• • •

If old Paro had been alive he would have opened that Halifax Bank's safe in a good deal less than four days, you can gamble on that.

• • •

The Royal Scots of Montreal spend Sunday and Monday in Kingston. Poor fellows, how glad they must have been to get back home!

• • •

That was not a bad record for one day's automobile racing—six killed, two fatally injured and ten seriously injured. Automobiling ought to be popular—with the undertakers.

• • •

Those Montreal strikers objected to having the hose turned on them.

• • •

The rain has commenced, and about three days of it would be worth many millions of dollars to the farmers of Ontario.

• • •

It must have made the judges smile to hear Mr. Johnston talking about the "probabilities" in the Gamey investigation, and they called him very neatly by saying that the probs. were all in Gamey's favor. It does not appear that Judges Boyd and Falconbridge are going to forget anything.

ICE CREAM
SUNDYS
5 cts.
Fifteen Flavors.
J. ARTHUR MARSH.

Special Great Mid-Season Sale

Beginning Saturday, May 16th, 1903.

Just a Moment, Don't Fail to Read.

The dollar rules the commercial world—to a very great extent. Prompt dollars bring us merchandise that enable us to sell to you at extraordinary prices. To prepare for a further new stock of Summer goods, we find we can clear off a quantity of spring materials, new ideas and fresh goods are continually being introduced. We must have them. We therefore invite you to this Great Sale where you will find that facts speak with greater force than elongated statements. So come and see for yourself. The goods and prices do the talking.

A Few of the Lines

Men's English Blue Serge Suits, all sizes 34 to 40 at -	$3.50
Men's Spring Suits, Dark Grey Halifax Tweed, made single breasted with French Facings, worth $7 00, our price -	$4.00
Men's spring Suits, Black or Blue twill serge suits, made single breasted with French facings, worth $8.00 our price -	$4.50

The finest and nobbiest assortment of Boys' two and three piece suits in the city. All sizes and at low prices.

The Globe Clothing House

Up-to-date Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers.

390 FRONT STREET, LOOK FOR THE GLOBE OVER THE DOOR.

Non Jury Court.

The non-jury sittings of the High Court of Justice opened at 1.30 this afternoon, before Justice Britton. There are a number of cases to be disposed of.

When the court opened the following address was read by Mr. J. Parker Thomas, one of the senior members of the local Bar:

Belleville, May 26th, 1903.

To the Honorable Mr. Justice Britton.

Upon the occasion of this your first official visit to Belleville since your elevation to the Bench, the members of the Bar of the City of Belleville and County of Hastings, through their Law Association, desire to congratulate Your Lordship upon your well-merited appointment.

We have noted that the confidence reposed in your judicial qualifications (founded on your mature experience as a lawyer), have been amply justified by the assiduity and earnestness which Your Lordship has evinced in performing the onerous and responsible duties of your office.

We welcome you not merely as a Judge who will uphold the dignity of the Judiciary of Canada, but also in [illegible] personal sense, as one who a special[illegible] so many years identified has been [illegible] public, with this Bay in private and [illegible] of Quinte district.

W. N. PONTON, President County Hastings Law Association.
W. JEFFERS DIAMOND, Secretary County Hastings Law Association.

WHERE MEDICAL SCIENCE FAILS to cure rheumatism and all the time you suffer dreadfully, why don't you get a bottle of Polson's Nerviline and try that? Rub it into your stiff joints, sore arms, lame back, bent shoulders—wherever the pain is. Nerviline has cured plenty of people in this way, and that ought to be proof enough that it will cure you too. It is an unusually strong liniment that cures rheumatism in unusually quick time. Best household liniment known. 25 cents.

A Lad's Mishap.

A boy named James Foley met with a painful accident yesterday afternoon. The boy was watching some others at play when he was run into by a boy and thrown violently to the ground. The result was that his shoulder was dislocated and he also received some severe bruises.

PERSONAL ...AND... SOCIAL.

The Intelligencer invites all its readers to contribute to this column all items of a personal nature, such as the arrival or departure of guests, and the movements of business men, etc. Send a post card to or telephone The Intelligencer.

Mr. J. Loyst spent the holiday at his home in Adolphustown.

Mr. James Huggins, of Toronto, is visiting friends in Belleville.

Mr. Francis Bruce, of Toronto, is spending a few days in the city.

Mr. Charles Finkle, of Toronto, is spending a few days in the city.

Police Magistrate Flint has been visiting in the Queen City since Saturday.

Mr. Wm. Hudson, of Deseronto, was home with his parents for the holiday.

Messrs. Percy and Harry Finkle, of Toronto, are visiting relatives in the city.

Miss Annie Medland, of Bowmanville, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Lockwood.

Mrs. C. C. Leavens will receive Thursday and Friday, May 28th and 29th. 170 George St.

Mr. F. W. Duckworth, of The World staff, Toronto, is spending a few days in the city.

Mrs. Corham, George St., left this morning to visit her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Ridley, in Midland.

Mr. H. A. Ackerman returned to the city to-day, after spending a few days at his home near Picton.

Mr. John Taylor, who has been residing at North Saanich, B.C., for the last eight months, has returned to the city.

Mr. James Wilder, an old Belleville boy, once of The Intelligencer staff, now on The Toronto Telegram, spent the holiday in the city.

W. D. Robb, Superintendent Motive Power G.T.R., Montreal, spent Sunday and yesterday with his family in the city.

Messrs. A. B. Aylesworth, K.C., and E. Douglas Armour, K.C., of Toronto, are in the city attending the Spring Sittings of the High Court of Justice.

Misses Phoebe Wilder, Annie Large and Gertie Thompson were the guests of Mrs. Wesley Way, Mountain View, from Saturday night to Monday night.

J. M. Robb, of Winnipeg, Superintendent Motive Power Canadian Northern, and G. W. Robb, of Ottawa, General Foreman Motive Power Department Canada Atlantic, and their wives were visiting at their brother's, Mr. W. D. Robb's, Alexander St., on Sunday and yesterday.

At the Quinte;—F. Metcalf, H. C. Farnham, N. Woods, W. Gerhouser, S. Bart, S. Fallon, Detroit; T. E. Nepham, Boston; R. C. Carpenter, Ithica, N.Y.; W. J. Moore, D. E. K. Stewart, Madoc; S. Meyers, Ottawa; H. L. Boldrick, Bancroft; J. A. Cameron, London; J. E. Halliwell, Stirling; D. M. Spencer, H. D. Spencer, Kingston; J. W. McNab, City; N. W. Gray, Marquette, Mich.; W. Pinkerton, H. B. Morley, A. B. Aylsworth, F. W. Shaw, [illegible] H. Dubois, J. Agnew, J. H. Moss, J. Bicknell, G. J. Webster, J. W. Bain, A. G. Penchen, E. D. Armour, C. A. Maston, C. R. Cherry, Toronto; E. B. Shoemaker, New York; Z. P. Benoit, M. Kutner, F. L. Smith, J. M. Dougall, Montreal; F. W. Rolland, Mrs. F. W. Rolland, F. B. Gayland, R. W. Lloyd, C. A. Milliner, E. W. Rathbun, Deseronto.

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

Stole From a Preacher.

Rev. Mr. Marsh, who resides at Lindsay, is minus a horse, buggy and harness, which was stolen from off his premises some time between Sunday night and Monday morning. The police here have been notified of the theft.

Heaven-Directed

A WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN OF EVERTON, ONT., USES

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Brought Back to Perfect Health From What Promised to be a Fatal Termination.

Thousands of estimable and prominent people uninfluenced by newspaper notices or even the advice of friends, have, in some Heaven-directed way used Paine's Celery Compound and saved themselves from sufferings and death.

Would to Heaven that the thousands burdened and oppressed with physical agonies, wearied, despondent, sleepless and weak in this month of May, could hear that mysterious whisper, "Man! Woman! Paine's Celery Compound will banish thy disease and give unto thee that perfect health and life which lead to happiness and contentment."

Take courage afflicted one; though physicians have pronounced you incurable, let us assure you of positive aid and cure. The virtues of Paine's Celery Compound will give you, in as large a measure, the same blessed results that were experienced by Mr. T. Simons, of Everton, Ont., who gratefully writes as follows:

"I have suffered from nervousness, run-down system and heart weakness for a long time. Very often, spells of unconsciousness would come over me, and last for an hour or more each time. When consciousness returned, I would find myself exhausted and quite sick at my stomach. I doctored long without any good results. I then happily commenced with Paine's Celery Compound, and soon became a new man. I am feeling splendid just now and as strong as ever before in my life, thanks to your great medicine. I advise all sick people to use the great compound that did such a grand work for me."

If you are in need of free medical advice, write to Consulting Physician's Department, The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, Que. All correspondence is sacredly confidential.

THE CORPSE WAS ALIVE.

STRANGE TALE OF A TORONTO CHINAMAN, WHO WAS TAKEN ALIVE IN A COFFIN TO THE UNDERTAKER'S.

Toronto, May 25.—"You takee him to your shop. He die there. We no wantee." These were the words that greeted a startled undertaker at 465 College street on Friday night, when a Chinese corpse in its coffin gave an audible snort, and the friends of the alleged deceased wanted to be relieved of his presence. The man was alive, and the undertaker summoned Dr. F. N. G. Starr, who felt his pulse, and decided that the erstwhile corpse must get up and go to bed. Chong King Told was the sick man's name, and his friends protested against his removal in the above manner. The doctor gave instructions to the undertaker, and commenced to prepare some medicine, but presently the undertaker saw a change, and Chong was dead.

The strange circumstances were related to Coroner Young on Saturday morning, and he decided to hold an inquest. Several Chinamen who swore that they believed in the Bible gave evidence, and Dr. J. F. Uren, who had previously attended Chong, was called. The testimony of these witnesses and of Drs. A. J. G. McDougall and J. J. Cassidy proved that Chong succumbed to liver troubles and an abscess on one of his lungs. The circumstances at first seemed quite suspicious in view of the recent disturbances in the Chinese colony, and it was thought both necessary and advisable to hold an inquest.

HOW TO REPAIR
Out-of-Gear Digestive Machinery.

Malt Breakfast Food

Malt Breakfast Food is the only cereal food in the world that can truly promise full digestive vigor, normal appetite and good health. Malt Breakfast Food is of such delicate flavor that it soothes the weary and inflamed stomach, and is retained as nourishment when all other forms of food are rejected. After the stomach is toned, Malt Breakfast Food proceeds to build up flesh, bone and muscle. All dyspeptics should make Malt Breakfast Food their diet for morning and night for the next month or two in order to repair and fortify the broken-down digestive machinery. All Grocers sell Malt Breakfast Food.

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

We have just received a big lot of Empire Shirt Waists for boys 6 to 12 years of age that we are selling at 39 cents each. These garments have stiff collars and cuffs, and are in the regular way worth almost double the price asked. We have also a lot of boys' blouses as low as 25 cents each. Quick & Robertson, Belleville's Best Clothiers.

Early Summer in Belleville.

Who of all life's varied crowd,
Poor or rich or grave or gay,
Will not accord glad welcome all
To Flora's herald—charming May!

Then comes laughing June,
Gaily decked with roses,
Filling many a bright parterre
With the choicest posies.

How sweet and spirit-cheering
To earth's sad and weary throng
Sounds the thrilling melody
Of the summer birds of song.

What volumes of rich song
Pour from a tiny throat,
While all fair nature seems
In harmony afloat.

Ye whose earthly destiny
Seems aye dark and full o' care,
Come, lave your wearied spirits
In the fragrant, balmy air.

—MARIE PARKINSON.

Small Fires in the Country.

On Saturday fire did about $25 damage to a grist mill at Melrose, belonging to Mr. James A. Collins.

On Sunday morning the residence of Mr. Frank Ashley, situated in West Huntingdon, was damaged by fire. It caught from a chimney, but was extinguished before it had spread far.

DEATHS

GILLEN.—In this city, on Sunday, May 24, of rheumatism of the heart, Erastus Gillen, M.D., aged 38 years.

Funeral on Tuesday afternoon, May 26, from the family residence, George street.

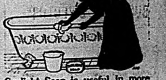
Mount Morris, N.Y., papers please copy.

MacLAREN—At Kamloops, B.C., on Wednesday, May 22, John MacLaren, late of Brockville.

The funeral will take place at Brockville, on Thursday, May 28, at 3 p.m.

A great many people think one Life Company is as profitable as another to insure in, but that is a great mistake. The biggest dividend payer is the one that does a progressive business on the lowest expense ratio. The Mutual Life of Canada holds that proud position, so you will act wisely by giving it the preference.—S. BURROWS, General Agent.

The scenery, painted and built especially for Ringling Bros. magnificent and inspiring spectacular production of "Jerusalem and the Crusades," depicts churches and palaces, magnificent in architectural design, and the sumptuous inner courts of the fabulously rich Emirs of Egypt.



Sunlight Soap is useful in more ways than one. It will demonstrate its wonderful cleansing power in every cleansing operation. 88

THE WEATHER.

To-day's Probs—

Moderate to fresh southeast to south winds, showers and thunderstorms to-day and on Wednesday, with fair intervals.

To-day's Temperature

As Registered by The Intelligencer's Guaranteed Thermometer:

8 a.m.	63
12 m.	67
2 p.m.	66
3 p.m.	67

REIGN OF

The Leather Bag

The Leather Bag in its many forms of varied attractiveness is everywhere in evidence this year and promises to hold its popularity for some time to come.

THE BAG IS THE RAGE

There are SOUND REASONS for this; it is not a mere fad. Our goods are right in line with the spirit of the times.

Angus McFee.
Jeweler & Optician
310 Front St.

P.S.—In the matter of the new Blouse Pin Sets we show everything that is "taking" in the larger centers.

Specials in Millinery

Sale of Sailor Hats.

We bought too many.
15 doz. cleared at
HALF PRICE.
White and Colored.
ALL NEW.
Also some very choice Dress Hats just received.
GET FIRST CHOICE.

MISS IRWIN
Millinery and Corset Specialist

When the Liver, Kidneys or Urinary organs require toning the MAGI Caledonia Waters have proven ther efficacy. J.J. McLaughlin, sole agent, Toronto. Sold by best dealers everywhere.

A Fireworks Story.

All the firework shops did a roaring trade yesterday, most of them being sold out. One store-keeper tells us a good story. A man went in and asked the price of firecrackers.

"Two packages for five cents," was the reply.

"Oh," said the man, "I can buy them down street three packages for five."

"Why don't you go there and get them, then," said the store-keeper.

"The man is sold out," said the prospective customer.

"Oh, well," said the store-keeper, "when we're sold out we'll offer you six packages for five cents."

57—62. THE CRITICAL AGE.

Height of vigor past—nature's power slowing down, vitality less, recuperative power less, endurance less. Stop the progress of decay, tone up the weakened nerve centres, impart vigor to the tiring brain, prepare for the crisis. A means of remarkable potency in the renewal of decreasing vigor is found in Ferrozone. It brightens up the whole being, imparts a sense of power and strength. By the use of Ferrozone old age is pushed back twenty years. Ferrozone gives strength, vigor, endurance, vim. Your druggist has it. Get a box to-day.

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M.D., C.M., M.R., C.S., England.
Office and Residence — Corner of Bridge and George streets — three streets East of Post Office.

DR. J. F. MATHER
Has removed his office to Pinnacle St., three doors north of Hotel Quinte. my29-6mw

LEGAL.

WILLS & WRIGHT,
Barristers, Solicitors, Notary Pub-lic, &c., Belleville.
Office—8 Campbell St.
MALCOLM WRIGHT. J. FRANKLIN WILLS.
Money to Loan at Lowest Rates.

W. C. MIKEL, B. C. L.,
Barrister, &c.
Solicitor for the City of Belleville.
Office—Metropolitan Block, Corner Front and Campbell Streets.

PORTER & CARNEW,
Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Pub-lic, etc.
Offices — Robertson Block, East Front St., Belleville, Ont.
'Phone 87.
E. G. PORTER. WM. CARNEW.

WILLIAM N. PONTON,
Barrister-at-law, Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge Street, Belleville.
Money to Loan — Private Funds. Solicitor Sun and Hastings Savings and Loan Company of Ontario.

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE,
Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.
Barrister, Solicitor, Conveyancer, Etc. Office, McAnnany Building, corner Front and Bridge Sts., Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security.
Charges moderate.

INSURANCE.

Fire Insurance.

Guardian	Est'd 1821
The North America,	Est'd 1792
Quebec,	Est'd 1818

City, Town and Village Property insured at lowest rates.

R. W. ADAMS. Agent.
Office opposite Post Office.

PERSONS desiring Life assurance cannot do better than consult

W. J. THOMSON,
who is the Agent for the following well-known and old established Assurance Companies:
ROYAL. ALLIANCE.
OCEAN ACCIDENT STANDARD LIFE
Office at Rathbun Co., Bridge St. oca-ddw

THOS. STEWART,
Insurance and Commission Agent
Agent for the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Scottish Union and National Ins. Co.
Bridge St.

FIRE, LIFE & ACCIDENT INSURANCE

At Lowest Rates The Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Perth Mutual on farm and city property. Also money to loan at 4½ per cent. upwards.
JAMES A. CHISHOLM,
Office Ashley Block, Front st., Belleville

Money Saved is Money Earned

I can earn you money by saving it for you in your Fire Insurance.
The Anglo-American Fire Ins. Co
The Merchants Fire Ins. Co.
The Equity Fire Ins. Co.
Are all strong Canadian stock companies and insure Farm and City Property at lower rates than other stock companies. Call and see me before placing your fire insurance.
Office—Bridge St., same entrance Quinte Laundry, Belleville.
H. FREEMAN KETCHESON

Fire, Life & Plate Glass Insurance.

Liverpool & London & Globe of England.
Waterloo Mutual, of Waterloo, Ont.
Lloyd's Plate Glass.
Home Life Association, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile.
Farm and City Property insured in First-class Reliable Companies and at lowest current rates. Losses promptly settled. Land valuation, and transact general Real Estate business and sale or purchase and renting of property. Appraiser for the Hastings Loan & Investment Society. Money to Loan.
W. P. HUDSON, Office above Rathbun's office, cor. Bridge and Pinnacle Sts., opposite Postoffice and Hotel Quinte, Belleville.
'Phone 169.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. G. NORTHROP,
Issuer of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville, Ont.

CHAUNCEY ASHLEY,
Issuer of Marriage Licenses.
Private Office, Bridge St., Belleville, opposite the Post Office.
Residence, first house east of W. W. Chown's Mfg. Co., Station St.
Appointments made.

He who foresees calamities suffers them twice over.

Those who live in yesterday's wigwam are always a day behind.

The best way to get even is to forget.

AMERICAN SAILORS.

REV. DR. TALMAGE PREACHES A EULOGISTIC SERMON

HISTORY OF THE U.S. NAVY.

Praise For the Heroic Deeds of American Bluejackets From Time of Captain Hull of the Constitution to Admiral Dewey of the Olympia—In the Good Time to Come, However, "Gallant Ships" Shall Pass No More Out to Take Life.

Entered according to Act of Parliament of Canada, in the year 1903, by William Baily, of Toronto, at the Dep't of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Chicago, May 24.—In view of the approaching celebration of Memorial day and the decoration of soldiers' graves Dr. Talmage recalled in his sermon this morning the services rendered to the nation by American sailors and pleaded that they, too, be remembered in the patriotic tribute. His text was Isa. xxxiii, 21, "Neither shall gallant ship pass thereby."

The old Brooklyn navy yard used to have many interesting sights. There were its museum and its antiquated cannon mounted in the yards and its piles of empty shells. There were its famous dry dock and the great sheds under which lay the keels and the skeleton ribs of those massive frames that were laid and knit together toward the close of the civil war, but never finished. There were also its uniformed sailors and marines and its buildings, filled with food and clothing soon to be sent to the different naval stations of the world. There often lay the training ships and the great men-of-war just in from foreign ports. But to me the most interesting place of all in the Brooklyn navy yard, where I used to play as a boy, was "Rotten row." Alongside of its wharfs were tied some of the decaying vessels that had helped to make America's valor respected and admired around the world. These ships were too old to voyage the sea and too weak to defy the enemy's shells. They were also too sacred to be split up for kindling.

Isaiah has been walking in imagination along the "Rotten Row" of a millennial dawn. With prophetic vision, he has been looking ahead to the time when all the navies of the world shall go out of commission; when every quarter deck of every man-of-war shall be a playground for the pattering feet of the little children; when the war ships' decks shall no longer be slippery with human blood. "Neither shall gallant ship pass thereby," translated into the language of ordinary life, means "Neither shall gallant men-of-war ever again sail to destroy life." And yet Isaiah, speaking of this gladsome day, cannot refrain from paying a well earned compliment to those patriotic sailors who have always been willing to fight and, if necessary, to die for their country's cause. He speaks of the man-of-war in words of martial praise. He calls the naval vessel a "gallant ship."

Ought the jack tars of old to be more honored than those of the present time? Cannot we afford, on this Memorial Sunday, to praise the heroic deeds of American bluejackets who fought under Captain Hull in the Constitution, under James Lawrence in the Chesapeake, under Decatur in the United States, under Farragut in the Hartford, under Dewey in the Olympia? If the most conspicuous monument in all London was reared in Trafalgar square to the memory of Admiral Nelson, surely we, on this last Sabbath preceding our annual Memorial day should dedicate at least one sermon to the noble tars who, in the American wars, won immortal fame upon the high seas. "Gallant ships" is a term we can well apply to the great number of man-of-war vessels which have composed the American navy from 1776 down to the present time.

Are you and I ready to do the duties that arise before us, day by day, promptly and unquestioningly as the American navy, as a whole, did its duty? Are we ready to go forth bravely and cheerfully, no matter how weak may seem to be our mental, physical and spiritual equipment? Do you not know that your very confidence in yourselves and your willingness to go ahead mean already the battle half won? When Lieutenant Dupont was commanded to do a certain thing, at first he failed to carry out his orders. Returning to Admiral Farragut, he began to make many excuses for his failure. But the great admiral turned and said: "Ah, Dupont, you have not given me the chief excuse for your failure. You did not accomplish what I told you to do chiefly because, deep down in your heart, you did not think you could do it." "Then, if that be true," said the young sailor, "I will go ahead and carry out your orders." And go he did. Are not our failures, my hearers, due to a like cause? If we had the faith in God that we ought to have should we not accomplish more? "I can do all things," said the intrepid apostle, "through Christ who strengtheneth me." Sure of that strength, he went into the conflict with undaunted courage, and his enemies declared that he turned the world upside down. So it has ever been with missionaries and reformers. They who dared, confident of divine support, returned as victors. That strength is still given to all who depend upon it. You and I have it, and it will enable us to perform any task allotted to us if he will only, like the American sailor, go forth to fulfill it strong in faith and with a good heart.

But the American navy has also been willing at all times to do its routine work as well as to unlimber its batteries and clear its decks in time of conflict. There is something inspiring, something terrific and overwhelming, in the thought of two great naval monsters coming closer and closer together to grapple in mortal combat. What man is there whose cheek does not flush when he hears about the duel of the Constitution and the Guerriere? What American's eye does not flash when he sees Commodore Hull commanding his flag officer, Lieutenant Morris, to withhold the fire of his gunners until the two vessels were within speaking distance, then, with cannon double shotted, to send forth their messengers of death? But the greatest work of a navy is not always in fighting, but may be in patrolling a blockade. The victories of U. S. Grant would never have been won had he not had the assistance of the American sailor as well as of the soldier in blue. The value of the services the sailors rendered in that awful conflict cannot be exaggerated. It was they who intercepted the supplies that the southern armies so sorely needed. It was their vigilance that produced the destitution which not even the sublime self sacrifice of the southern people could relieve. Day in and day out, yera in and year out, the northern ships blockaded the southern ports. The southern armies were more starved to death than they were shot to pieces by Federal guns. The southern soldiers could not buy shoes for their feet, or clothing for their backs, or blankets for their camps, or medicines for their sick. The patriotic women of the south had to tear up their linen dresses, that the surgeons might have bandages for the bleeding wounds. Tea and coffee were banished from the southern tables during those sad years.

Let us ask ourselves if we are ready to do the necessary routine work of our lives as the sailors in the past have been ready to do theirs. Are we sulking in our homes and refusing to faithfully perform the vital daily tasks of an inconspicuous life merely because the newspapers do not report the orders we give to the cook or tell about how many yards of cloth we week by week sell over the counter? David Farragut had to wait until he was over sixty years of age before he had an opportunity to distinguish himself in battle. If the great American naval officer could patiently, uncomplainingly and faithfully perform the humbler duties of daily life until he was an old man, near to the grave, surely we can afford to be brave and true in the inconspicuous duties God has given us to do.

The American navy should be honored. Upon its glorious muster roll are to be found the names of international statesmen as well as heroic fighters—men who have brilliantly served our country with brain and pen as well as with the sword. Many of our Presidents have been elected to the White House on account of their military records. Washington and Taylor and Jackson and William H. Harrison and Grant and Hayes and Garfield are among the number. But the American soldier rarely has the opportunity to study statescraft as has the sailor. It was only comparatively a few years ago that foreign lands were brought into cable touch with our national capital. Thus every naval ship which touched a foreign port not only had to have a captain who could sail the seas, but also a naval diplomat, who, independent of the home government, had to decide many questions which, wrongly decided, might involve his country in bloody international strife.

Our national indebtedness to our navy is not confined to its prowess in battle. We owe much to the tact and statesmanship of our naval commanders. They have not only to uphold the honor of our flag in distant seas, but to display the courtesy and consideration to the navies of other nations which are necessary to the maintenance of friendly relations. It would have been possible for Admiral Dewey by an indiscreet act while he lay in Manila Bay to have involved us in an international quarrel. Thousands of miles away from home, there he lay, surrounded by the cannon of foreign ships. By one false move he could have made Germany an enemy and involved us in war with Emperor William. Had he been careless there might have ensued a scramble on the part of other nations to gain possession of some of the Philippine Islands for themselves. What honor is too great for the memory of Commodore Matthew C. Perry, who in March, 1852, negotiated the famous treaty with Japan which for the first time opened the port of the Mikado to the ships from other lands? Incident after incident could be cited where the American sailor has won imperishable laurels in preventing war rather than in winning prizes after a war has been started.

Our American navy has defied the severity of the elements as well as the storm of shot and shell. I am not now speaking of the hurricanes which blow over the Atlantic or the Pacific. I have in mind the frigid terrors of the far north, which Captain D. L. Braine defied when he tried to find the Arctic pole in 1873, and Lieutenant Commander George Washington De Long defied when he led the fatal Jeannette expedition in 1879. Ah, those were brave men, yet no braver than General Greely and Rear-Admiral Melville and the many gallant fellows who went after the De Long party, and faced icy dangers to bring back the survivors and the frozen bodies of the dead. They were no braver men than Lieutenant Peary, who has again and again tried to reach the North Pole. On returning home from his latest journey he had to have part of his feet amputated because they had been frozen among the northern snows. In spite of all the past dangers and sufferings, he is again chafing and fretting to go back to his old search.

Does any one say that all this sacrifice of heroic naval lives to the northern elements is a useless sacrifice? I do not think so. As a young boy I saw the long procession of hearses that carried many of the dead of the ill fated De Long expedition out to their last resting place. I heard the sad story told by a surviving lieutenant, who afterward, while suffering from injuries received in that rescue expedition, took his own life. I said then what I say now: Any plan conceived in the interest of science or the search after truth, any expedition which is born with the hope of learning something not known before, is worthy of sacrifice. This was the desire that drove Columbus across the seas. This was the desire which made Galilei defy the hierarchy of Rome and stick to the truth that the earth moves round the sun. And this is the purpose which has made many a noble naval hero lay down his life upon the spotless white altar of the northern snows, overtopped by the towering memorial shafts of the Arctic icebergs. All honor to these brave men!

The American navy is to be honored to-day. The genius of its constructors and the sure marksmanship of its gunners are to be the great preventers of future wars. The President of the United States a short time ago, when speaking in the city of Chicago, said practically these words: "Do not boast in reference to our national prowess. Let us obey the old adage which says, 'Speak softly, but carry a big club, and go ahead.'" The big club to-day for national offense and defence is the American navy. More and more has the law of national development increased the responsibility of the navy. With a coast so extended as ours on east and west and south we are at the mercy of a foreign enemy. A hostile fleet lying outside New York, Boston, Charleston or San Francisco could by a few hours' bombardment exact a ransom of fabulous amount unless we had a fleet to defend our ports. For our national safety, for the very preservation of our national existence, we need strong ships and brave men to man them. Let us then by the honors that we pay to the naval heroes of the past encourage their successors.

But now the genius of American naval construction has been at work. We see the glittering uniforms of the American naval officers standing upon the decks of the New York, Chicago, Iowa, Brooklyn, Texas, Oregon, Olympia, Massachusetts, Illinois, New Maine and Philadelphia, and the great fleets of other war ships which now compose our navy, and all the many other war ships soon to be built and put into commission. And as we see the new white ships steam past in review they do not come as demons of war, but as white angels of peace. Never fail to honor the United States sailor. Never declare that all the money appropriated by Congress for ironclads is uselessly spent. Under present conditions the only way to prevent war is to be strong for national defence. It is only for a time. The gospel is eventually to permeate all nations and bring every Government into subjection to the Prince of Peace. When that glorious day comes, our battle ships may be dismantled and instead of guns and armaments of war they may sail forth bearing Bibles and missionaries or food for some famine stricken people.

But there is another reason for honoring the American navy. We honor it for the lives of its Christian men, both in sailors' bunk and officers' cabin, whose influence has permeated the whole service. Some people are apt to think of the American sailors as a cursing, lying, drinking, carousing lot. That is not true. Some of the noblest of Christians have worn the naval uniform. Did ever a Christian write a more beautiful letter than this, which Admiral Farragut wrote to his wife the night before the battle of Mobile Bay: "My Dearest Wife—I write and leave this letter to you. I am going into Mobile Bay in the morning if God is my leader, and I hope he is, and in him I place my trust. If he thinks it is the proper place for me to die I am ready to submit to his will in that as in all other things. God bless and preserve you, my darling, and my dear boy, if anything should happen to me. May his blessing rest upon you and your dear mother." Was there ever a sweeter Christian character than Commodore Philip, who was once Captain Philip of the Texas? He was brave enough before Santiago when Cervera's fleet was going down to call out to his victorious men: "Don't cheer, boys. Those poor fellows over there are dying." And he was brave enough after the battle was ended to call his men together and have the ship's chaplain return thanks to that God who had preserved the American ships in the battle.

Thus I have two purposes in preaching this sermon. The one is, to show what our naval heroes have done. While the flowers of this Memorial day are being placed upon the soldiers' graves, I would have you remember the heroes whose bodies lie in unknown sepulchers beneath the blue waters of the deep. We can lay no flowers on their resting place, but in our hearts we can do them honor, and by our gratitude keep their memory green. My second purpose is to remind you of the duties we owe to God and our country. This land, in defence of which the naval heroes laid down their lives, is a sacred heritage. Its honor, its principles, its best interests, are in our keeping. Their self sacrifice will go for naught if we allow our country to drift into infidelity and sin. Only by righteousness can we hope for the Divine protection. Let us every one do our part in our several positions to make our beloved country, which is consecrated by the lives and deaths of these heroes, a God fearing, God serving nation.

In Doubt Himself.

An Englishman used to meet the great philosopher, Arthur Schopenhauer, every morning walking with his ugly poodle along the promenade in Frankfort-on-the-Main. Schopenhauer's eccentric appearance, deeply immersed in thought, excited the Englishman's curiosity to such an extent that one day he could contain himself no longer and, walking up to the philosopher, addressed him abruptly thus: "Tell me, sir, who in the name of fate are you?" "Ah," Schopenhauer replied, "I only wish I knew that myself."

DO YOU KNOW THOMAS HUNTLEY?

PEOPLE WHO KNEW HIM A YEAR AGO, AND SEE HIM NOW, HARDLY RECOGNIZE HIM —HE LOOKS SO WELL AND STRONG.

This is what he says:—

Belleville, Ont., May 7th, 1903.
The O. R. Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.:

Dear Sirs,—For a number of years I was troubled with rheumatism; my hands were swollen and enlarged so that I could hardly use them. I suffered with pains in my back and hips, and up between my shoulders. I tried a great many remedies without getting relief or benefit. I had almost given up hope when a friend induced me to try the O. R. KIDNEY CURE. I had not taken one bottle before I began to feel better, and have now only used three bottles, and think that I am permanently cured. The pains have all left me, and I now feel a different man.

Sincerely yours,
THOMAS HUNTLEY.

Ask your druggist for these:—

O. R. Kidney Cure	50c
O. R. Liver Pills	25c
O. R. Dyspepsia Tablets	25c

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

TOURIST RESORTS

The Famous Muskoka Lakes, Georgian Bay, Kawartha Lakes, Lake of Bays, etc., are noted for their excellent and healthy climate. Up-to-date hotels. Grand Trunk trains make connection at Muskoka Wharf for all ports on Muskoka Lakes, at Huntsville for all ports on Lake of Bays; also direct connection to ports on Georgian Bay and Kawartha Lakes.

EXCURSIONS TO CANADIAN NORTH-WEST.

Good going June 4th, and June 18th, valid returning within 60 days from date of issue. Good going July 4th, valid returning until Sept. 8th,

For tickets, information and descriptive literature, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON, City Agent, Bridge Street,
T. H. COPPIN, Depot Agent,
J. D. McDONALD, Dist. Pass Agt., Toronto.

Eye Troubles Are Hereditary

They are handed down from parent to child, and if there is a defect in a parent's eyes it is more than likely to be found in the eyes of the child also.
Red lids, styes, or itching, burning pains, are

Indications

of muscular troubles that can be overcome by using proper glasses.

ALEX. RAY

Greenleaf & Son

Would like to show you one of the finest lines of

Bicycles

shown here in some time.

PRICES ARE RIGHT.

We are catching up gradually with our work, so will be better able to give your job prompt attention.

GOOD VARIETY OF FISHING TACKLE ON HAND.

Why not own a copy of our 400 page "Guide to Investors." We mail it free, also send for our "Daily Market Letter." Correspondence solicited.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Cotton.
Butterfield Block, Bridge St., Belleville, Ont.
"Determining the character and financial responsibility of your Broker, is as important as selection of right stocks"

Flowers & Vegetables

Of all kinds in season.
. . . AT . . .
J. D. COLLIP'S.
'Phone 205.

REMOVAL.

Dr. Clarke will shortly remove to the offices formerly occupied by the late Dr. Ward, over Burrows', and opposite Scantlebury's Book Store.
a27dtf

ADVERTISING RATES

Measurement Nonpareil—12 lines to an inch.

Display advertisements, 10c per line.
Subsequent consecutive insertions, 5c.
Reading advertisements, 15c per line.
Preferred position, 20 per cent. advance upon casual or contract rates.
Minimum space, 10 lines.
Marriages and deaths, 50c each insertion.
Births, 25c each insertion.
Rates for Condensed Advertisement will be found in 1st column of 2nd page.
All advertisements are subject to the approval of the Publisher of the Intelligencer.
Address all communications to the Intelligencer Printing & Publishing House Limited, or to Charles J. Bowell, Managing Director and Treasurer.
Canadians in London will find The Intelligencer on file at E. & J. Hardy & Co.'s Office, 30 Fleet Street, London, E. C.

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS

SITUATIONS WANTED, HELP WANTED, LOST OR FOUND, FOR SALE OR TO RENT, &c.

(Auction Sales not included in this list)

TERMS.—Twenty-five words or less, 25c first insertion; two insertions, 50c; four insertions, 75c; one week $1.00, two weeks, $1.75, three weeks, $2.25; one month, $2.50. Strictly cash in advance.

WANTED.

Baker wanted at once; good on both bread and cakes. Apply to Box "M," Intel. Office. 1t

Boy to learn printing trade. Apply to "The Intelligencer" at once.

Junior Law Clerk (male). PORTER & CARNEW. m22dtf

General servant. Apply to Mrs. (Dr.) Boyce. 21-4t

Wanted at once—Printer who can run Typograph, or one who is good compositor and willing to learn machine.

A few men and women to work for us at home during spare time. Pleasant work. Liberal pay. No canvassing. Imperial Company, London, Ontario. m12-1m

Agents wanted who are willing to work. Good goods and good pay. Men earn $6.00 a day winter and summer. Never out of season. Write G. Marshall & Co., Teas, London, Ont.

By S. Langbort—Scrap iron, metal, old rubber, etc. Will pay the following prices: Old iron, 50c, 60c and 70c. per 100; mixed rags 50c per 100; copper 9c lb.; heavy brass 9c lb.; old rubber boots and shoes 6c lb.; lead and zinc 2c lb. Remember the place, Powell's Old Stand, Mill St., corner Brown. ap21-lm

Young men ambitious to learn lucrative trades, of which there are eight in connection with the business. Apply The Belleville Hardware Company, Belleville, Ont. a7dtf

Competent men to appoint agents, whole or spare time. Commission paid. Apply JOHN DOYLE, Drawer 531, London. a27-1yr

WANTED Reliable Men in every locality throughout Canada to introduce our goods, tacking up show cards on trees, fences, along roads and all conspicuous places, also distributing small advertising matter. Commission or salary $60.00 per month and expenses, not to exceed $2.50 per day. Steady employment to good, honest reliable men. No experience needful. Write for full particulars. THE EMPIRE MEDICINE CO., London, Ont.

LOST.

A light spring overcoat, dark material, gloves in pocket, between Anglo Hotel and Post office, May 25th. leave at this office. Reward. 26-2t

Somewhere on Mill St., a valise with owner's name, F. Dolan, on tag. Finder please leave at Walter Lambert's livery office. 1t

FOR SALE.

That splendid property on the south east corner of Dunbar and Catharine Sts. City water and sewer connection. m28-4w

BICYCLE—Cleveland, 1903, hygienic cushion frame, coaster brake, 22 inch frame, Dunlop tires. Will be sold cheap. Original cost $65.00. Apply at Intelligencer Office. tf

Comfortable, well built, seven room frame house and lot, situated on North Front St., in vicinity of Albert College. Apply to Mrs. Wm. McCreery, Belleville. my15-d1mem&iw

Stone house, 11 rooms, coal furnace, stable, barn. Large grounds. Cor. Frank and Moira Sts. north. Terms reasonable. H. Bull, on premises or Fred Bull, 2 1-2 Queen St., Toronto. ap18-dtf

Contractors and masons, any any person requiring lime may procure it from E. G. STAPLEY, Canifton Road, Belleville. New lime always on hand. a9-d&w6m

Dressed and Matched Lumber of all kinds, at ALFORD'S factory, Market Square. j12-tf

Valuable Farm Properties for Sale

TERMS TO SUIT PURCHASERS.

Lot 4, and part of lots 44, 45, 153, on Big Island, Co. of Prince Edward.

Part lots 32 and 33, on Big Island, County of Prince Edward; 74 acres.

East half lot 19, 2nd Con. Township of Ameliasburgh, 100 acres, County of Prince Edward.

West 1-2 lot B, 2nd Con. Township of Sidney, County of Hastings, 100 acres.

Lots 30 and 31, 3rd Concession, township of Faraday, County of Hastings, 200 acres.

Apply to
W. N. PONTON,
Belleville.
Belleville, May, 1903. 18-1md&4w

THEY DROVE PIMPLES AWAY.—A face covered with pimples is unsightly. It tells of internal irregularities which should long since have been corrected. The liver and the kidneys are not performing their functions in the healthy way they should, and these pimples are to let you know that the blood protests. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will drive them all away, and will leave the skin clear and clean. Try them, and there will be another witness to their excellence.

Life has no blessing like a prudent friend.

HAD LA GRIPPE.—Mr. A. Nickerson, farmer, Dutton, writes: "Last winter I had La Grippe and it left me with a severe pain in the small of my back and hip that used to catch me whenever I tried to climb a fence. This lasted for about two months, when I bought a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil and used it both internally and externally, morning and evening, for three days, at the expiration of which time I was completely cured."

If thy friend is honey, do not lick him up altogether.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection."

Many a man's self-conceit is due to his ignorance.

AT DEATH'S DOOR.—DYSPEPSIA CONQUERED.—A GREAT MEDICAL TRIUMPH.—Gentlemen,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the Vegetable Discovery consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen Vegetable Discovery since it cured me, as I am well-known and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed, JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P.Q. General Merchant

The best wheel of fortune is honest labor.

Very many persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer complaints, who might have been saved if proper remedies had been used. If attacked do not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, the medicine that never fails to effect a cure. Those who have used it say it acts promptly, and thoroughly subdues the pain and disease.

Wedding rings in St. Kilda used to be made of worsted.

Use the safe, pleasant, and effectual worm killer, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator; nothing equals it. Procure a bottle and take it home.

Coral is a talisman against thunder and evils by flood and field.

Have you tried Holloway's Corn Cure? It has no equal for removing these troublesome excrescences, as many have testified who have tried it.

A woman never knows where the match box is.

FOR INFLAMMATION OF THE EYES.—Among the many good qualities which Parmelee's Vegetable Pills possess, besides regulating the digestive organs, is their efficacy in reducing inflammation of the eyes. It has called forth many letters of recommendation from those who were afflicted with this complaint and found a cure in the pills. They affect the nerve centres and the blood in a surprisingly active way, and the result is almost immediately seen.

When one gets hopping mad his reason goes on a crutch.

If you have a cough or cold do not neglect it; many without a trace of that hereditary disease have drifted into a consumptive's grave by neglecting what was only a slight cold. Had they used Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup before it was too late, their lives would have been saved. Mr. A. W. Levy, Mitchell, writes: "I think Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup the best preparation on the market for coughs and severe colds. About six years ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs, and for three months I had a cough. I had a physician attending me, but gradually grew worse until I was on the verge of Consumption, and had given up hopes of being cured, when I was induced to try Bickle's Syrup. Before I had taken one bottle I found myself greatly relieved, and by the time I had finished the second bottle I was completely cured. I always recommend it for severe colds and consumption."

The average watch represents but 12 hours of human labor.

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, and disordered stomach.

The wildcat's teeth are close to its purr.

Do not despair of curing your sick headache when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

SAVE MONEY

By JOINING The MUTUAL LITERARY-MUSIC CLUB OF AMERICA

25 Cents pays for three months' membership. Each member receives the official club organ every month, including 6 pieces of high-class vocal and instrumental new music each month, 18 pieces in all; also a Certificate of Membership which gives the privilege of Club Rooms in New York City, and of buying literature, music or musical instruments of any description at wholesale prices, saving you from 20% to 50% on your purchases. Don't fail to join at once. You will get much more than your money's worth. MUTUAL LITERARY-MUSIC CLUB, Dept. . 150 Nassau St., N.Y.

A SHIRT SALE

We have just received from the manufacturers, 50 dozen Madras Shirts in sizes 14½ to 16½, soft bosoms, with separate cuffs. They should sell at $1.00, but we got a big snap and are going to clear them quick for 50c each.

You need not wait till you go on your holiday trip before getting some of these cool and pretty patterns. They take half the discomfort out of a hot day.

Not More Than one half Dozen sold to each Customer.

OAK HALL

Sole Agents for Sanford's Celebrated Clothing.

That Boy Needs Boots Again!

CAN'T HELP IT!

Boys rush into all sorts of games and sports and play havoc with heir boots. Just received large shipment of

Our Special for Boys

Made of Cordovan. Some call it mule-hide, some call it horse-hide—we call it Cordovan. There is

One Trouble With This Boot.

The trouble is we can't get enough of them. Only one tanner tans the leather, only one firm makes the shoes, and neither can begin to supply the demand. So we are out of them half the time. They stand the strain better than any boot we know of.

Boys' sizes 1 to 5	$1.50
Youth's sizes 11 to 13	$1.25
Small Boys 8 to 10½	$1.00
Girls' sizes 11 to 2	$1.25

If you have not used this line we shall be pleased to show them to you.

The J. J. Haines

SHOE HOUSES at Belleville, Napanee and Trenton

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE

FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

Daily Intelligencer.

TIMELY TOPICS

Where did the money come from—for all those fireworks last night?

* * *

Nearly everybody seemed to have the fireworks fever, and they had it bad.

* * *

There may be considerable fun in it, but most people will feel pity and contempt for anyone who throws a cannon cracker under an inoffensive farmer's horse. This was done many times, and several runaways were narrowly averted.

* * *

Barring the fireworks, it was a quiet Victoria Day. Some people went fishing, and caught stories weighing anywhere from half a pound up to six; some went to neighboring places, and spent money which should have stayed in Belleville; some watched the athletes at play, and swapped stories of the great baseball teams and bicycle riders this city had in days gone by; some went in for athletics on their own account, and to-day they feel as though they may possibly get over their stiffness by next Victoria Day. So runs the world away.

* * *

The King's Plate appears to have been a soup plate for many estimable people in this locality, who "got down on the wrong horse." Splendid game, that horse racing! The surest way to beat it is to leave it alone.

* * *

A certain bicyclist in this city is firmly convinced that there is something radically wrong with the rails on Front St. He was going down Front St. on Saturday when a farmer crowded him suddenly on to the rails. Then there was something doing. The exhibition given would have put Diavolo, the fellow who loops the loop, out of business. After throwing a few parabolas and somersaults our friend picked himself up and found that he was intact with the exception of a sprained wrist, a twisted ankle, a strained back, a badly skinned leg and a set of nerves which have been very much to the bad ever since. He is now firmly convinced that the City Council should either take up those rails or repair the roadway, and there are a good many like him.

The Vital Difference between Laxatives and Purgatives cannot be too clearly understood. The former are GENTLE, the latter VIOLENT. A LAXATIVE assists the organs; a PURGATIVE takes the work out of nature's hands.

And every time that nature fails to perform its proper functions it is less disposed to perform them.

Purgatives, therefore, are at best a necessary evil, like an emetic to relieve the Stomach of undigested food.

IRON-OX TABLETS

are an ideal Laxative, strengthening instead of debilitating.

50 Tablets, 25 Cents

A GUARANTEED CURE

For All Forms of Kidney Disease.

We, the undersigned Druggists are fully prepared to give the following guarantee with every 50 cent bottle of Dr. Pettingill's Kidney-Wort Tablets, the only remedy in the world that positively cures all troubles arising from weak or diseased kidneys: "Money cheerfully returned if the sufferer is not relieved and improved after use of one bottle. Three to six bottles effect astonishing and permanent cures. If not relieved and cured, you waste no money."

J. S. McKeown, Druggist, Belleville, Ont.

R. Templeton, Druggist, Belleville, Ont.

A NEBRASKA TORNADO.

From Latest Reports the Deaths Numbered Twenty-Four.

Lincoln, Neb., May 26.—A tornado that passed near Norman, and later struck Pauline and the intervening county early yesterday, caused heavy damage, and many lives are reported lost. From Norman the storm went east to Pauline and then to Fairfield, which had about thirty-five houses, is reported wrecked, and it is said that three persons were killed there and others injured.

Total Dead Twenty-Four.

Lincoln, Neb., May 26.—A correspondent, who returned from the storm district yesterday afternoon, reports three persons were killed at Cowles, and one person killed and three injured at Hartwell, which points, it appears, were also in the line of the tornado. This makes the total dead twenty-four.

Another at Rolfe.

Des Moines, May 26.—A tornado struck Rolfe, seventy miles west of here, late Sunday, killing one person, fatally injuring a child and wrecking the State Bank and several other buildings.

MARKET REPORTS.

Grain Futures Are Firm—Liverpool Easier But Chicago Keeps Wheat Up—The Latest Quotations.

Monday Evening, May 25.

Liverpool wheat futures closed ⅛d to ¼d lower to-day than Saturday and corn futures ¼d higher.

At Chicago July wheat closed ⅜c higher than on Saturday; July corn ½c higher and July oats unchanged.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.

New York, May 25.—Beeves—Receipts, 3300, firm; steers, $4.00 to $5.20; stags, $3.50 to $4.30; bulls, $3.25 to $4.90; cows, $1.80 to $4.05. Calves—Receipts, 5767; active and 5c to 15c higher. Veals, $4 to $6.75; buttermilks, $2.80 to $4.50; mixed calves, $4.87½ to $5.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 11,238, steady. Sheep, $2.50 to $4.30; choice, $4.75; culls, $2 to $2.90; yearlings, $4.50 to $6.25; lambs, $6 to $8.75; culls, $5.

Hogs—Receipts, 7530, steady; state and Pennsylvania, $6.15 to $6.30.

Anecdotal.

A British Columbia lawyer was passing along the street, carrying under his arm a law-book in circuit binding, when he was accosted by a self-righteous individual. "Ha! Mr. Blank, and where are you going to preach to-day?" "I don't preach, I practice," replied the lawyer.

A Sunday school examination was in progress, and the examining visitor put this question: "What did Moses do for a living while he was with Jethro?" Following a long silence a little voice piped up from the back of the room: "Please, sir, he married one of Jethro's daughters."

Once a distinguished Russian grand duke found himself charged twenty francs apiece for hothouse peaches at the old Cafe de Paris, in the French metropolis. "Are hothouse peaches so scarce, then, even in midwinter?" he asked. "No," replied the maitre d'hotel "but grand dukes are."

When the late Li Hung Chang visited Germany a few years ago the Kaiser asked him: "How do our women compare with those of China?" "I really cannot tell," said Li, slyly, fastening his eyes on the corsage of a lady who was present; "we never see half as much of our women as you do of yours."

Of the many stories told of the late Ameer of Afghanistan, who was one of the really strong characters among monarchs of recent years, none is better than the one about the subject who ran to court in great alarm, crying that the Russians were coming. "Are they really coming?" said the Ameer. "Then you shall be taken to the top of yonder tower and you shall have no food till you see them arrive."

Curious Bits of News.

A young Kentucky girl of amazing beauty, who had been forced into marriage with an aged speculator whom she heartily disliked, vowed that after marriage she would never look upon her face in a mirror, seeing that it was her facial charms which had brought about the loathed union. For six years she faithfully observed the vow, until the recent death of her husband cancelled the extraordinary oath.

The common notion that Germans are the heaviest beer-drinkers is refuted by statistics published by the British Board of Trade. Last year every German, on the average, drank twenty-seven gallons, while the average Englishman drank thirty-two gallons. The consumption in the United States was less than half as much, per capita, as in Germany. With the exception of the Belgians, the British are the largest beer-drinkers in the world, and the consumption has grown rapidly during the last fifteen years.

A card-shuffling machine has been invented by R. F. Bellows of Cleveland. It should make business poor for crooked card-players. The device is complicated, yet simple in its action. "Card-players who want a fair and honest game are enthusiastic in their praise of my machine," says Bellows. "It shuffles cards more thoroughly than can possibly be done by hand, and it is impossible for the dealer to put up a hand to suit himself."

A funny story comes from New Jersey about an auction sale of furs which had been preserved in red pepper. About a hundred ladies and other eager bargain-hunters with a keen scent for their quarry were impatiently waiting, but as soon as the furs were opened they were all seized with a violent fit of sneezing, which was so irrepressible that, in spite of heroic struggles to continue the bidding, the sale had perforce to be stopped, and would-be purchasers were sent sneezing away.

A watchmaker at Zurich is exhibiting in his shop window a wonderful piece of Swiss workmanship, in the shape of the smallest watch that has ever been manufactured, writes a Geneva correspondent. The watch, which is in the shape of a rose, is so minute that a strong magnifying glass is necessary to read the hands, and when winding up the tiny article it is necessary to use a specially prepared contrivance for this purpose. The manufacturer refuses to sell the watch, which keeps excellent time. One rich customer offered two hundred pounds for the curiosity, but this sum was refused.

There are probably not many men living who had a brother that died one hundred and forty years ago. This, however, appears to be the case with an old man who was called as a witness in a small town of Styria. His father was married the first time in 1760, at the age of nineteen. The following year he had a son, who died after a few months. His father married again in 1811, at the age of seventy, and witness was born the next year, which made him eighty-nine. "Mark Twain dropped a tear upon the grave of Adam, so perhaps this old man still grieves for his brother," comments the London "Chronicle."

In the Steam-Heated Flat.

"How do you suppose Santa Claus will get in?"

"Perhaps he can make himself small and come through the steam-pipes."

"Oh dear, no. He'd freeze."—"Harper's Bazar."

Obscure Couplet in a Famous Hymn.

The hymn, "Lead Kindly Light," which was sung so generally in connection with the funeral services of the late President, has in its last two lines a reference which has aroused considerable speculation. The lines are:

"And with the morn those angel faces smile
Which I save loved long since and lost a while."

In 1880, according to the Chicago "Inter-Ocean," Dr. Greenhill, of Hastings, wrote to the author, Cardinal Newman, concerning the apparent allusion in these lines to some personal experience, and received the following reply:

"The Oratory, January 18, 1880.

"My Dear Dr. Greenhill: You flatter me by your question, but I think it was Keble, who, when asked in his own case, answered that poets were not bound to be critics, or to give a sense to what they had written, and though I am not, like him, a poet, at least I may plead that I am not bound to remember my own meaning, whatever it was, at the end of fifty years. Anyhow, there must be a statute of limitations for writers of verse, or it would be quite a tyranny if, in an art which is the expression not of truth, but of imagination and sentiment, one were obliged to be ready for examination on the transient state of mind which came upon one when homesick or seasick, or in any other way sensitive or excited.

"Yours most truly,
"John H. Newman."

Just Like Doctors.

The doctor examined his patient carefully, and, with a grave face, told him that he was very ill, and asked if he had consulted anyone else. "Oh," said the man, "I went to see a druggist and asked his advice, and he——" "Druggist!" the doctor broke in, angrily; "what was the good of that? The best thing you can do when a druggist gives you a bit of advice is to do exactly the opposite." "And he," the patient continued, "advised me to come to you."—Ex.

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat Co.,

(LIMITED)

"The Bay of Quinte Route."

Str. "ALETHA"

Leaves Belleville on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 a.m. for Bay of Quinte ports and Kingston. Returning will arrive at Belleville on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10 30 p.m.

Belleville-Rochester Route

Str. "North King"

Commencing 31st May will leave Belleville on Sundays at 11.38 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. Returning arrives at Belleville on Sundays at 3 25 a.m. and leaves for Bay Ports, Kingston and 1000 Islands.

During July and August service will be daily except Monday.

Right reserved to change time with or without notice.

For passage and freight rates and other information, apply to

THE RATHBUN CO.,
U. E. THOMPSON, } Agents.
E. E. HORSEY, G. P. & F. Agent, Kingston.

Montreal, Rochester & Quebec Transit Co'y.

Str. "Alexandria"

Service in effect 25th April.

Leaves Rathbun Co.'s wharf, Belleville, every Saturday at 11.00 a.m. for Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Every Monday at 7.00 a.m. for Montreal and all River Ports.

Thousand Islands by daylight.
Runs all St. Lawrence River Rapids.
Quebec excursions commence July 5th.

LOW FREIGHT RATES.

A. W. HEPBURN, General Manager, Picton, Ont.
THE RATHBUN CO. Agents, Belleville.

The Deseronto Navigation Co

TIME TABLE.

Taking effect April 13, 1903.

Belleville, Trenton, Picton & Napanee

Str. "ELLA ROSS"

Leaves Belleville for Trenton at 10 a. m., daily, Sundays Excepted, returning leaves Trenton at 1 p. m., leaving Belleville at 3 p.m. for Deseronto, Napanee and Picton.

Quick and Superior Service to NEW YORK CITY

Steamers RESOLUTE and RELIANCE will leave Deseronto for Oswego after arrival of Str. Ella Ross connecting at Oswego with the New York, Ontario Western Ry.

Fare to New York, Single, $7.40
Return, $13.25

For further particulars apply to THE RATHBUN CO., Local Agents.

J. F. CHAPMAN, Asst. Gen. Frt. & Pass. Agt., Deseronto.

A. C. CASYER General Manager Deseronto.

Just What You Want

Paint Brushes 7, 10, 15, 20, 25c.
Whitewash Brushes 10, 13, 15, 20, 25, 35, 45c.
1,000 Parlor Matches for 5c.
600 pairs Ladies' Bl'k Hose 5c pair.
500 printed Platters and Bakers, regular 25, clearing at 10c.
300 pairs Men's Sox, special, 4 pr. for 25c.
D. K. Blue Cups and Saucers, 35c 1-2 dozen.
1200 Dinner Setts for $8.00.
Curtain Poles, complete, for 20c.
Carpet Tacks, 2 for 5c.
Carpet Whips 10c each.
Kitchen Mirrors 12, 15, 20, 25, 30c.
Best Oil Blinds 30c.
6 Cakes Moss Rose Toilet Soap 15c.
3 Cakes Cold Cream Toilet Soap 5c.
6 Bars Eclipse Soap 25c.
Large variety of odd Wallpaper der, clearing at 1c yard.
50 varieties of Wallpaper, clearing at 5c Roll.
Large varieties 5, 7, 8, 10c Ceiling Papers, clearing at 3c Roll.

Be sure and visit our Wallpaper Department; it is the most complete, and has the best selected stock to choose from in the City.

Our Prices are 1-2 what other stores ask for same quality.

AT THE BEE HIVE

Chas. N. Sulman

The various countries of the world use 13,400 different kinds of postage

The New Wall Paper Store

sells borders by the roll, same price as the papers.

THE BEST TALENT in the world is employed to design the paper we sell.

We select only the beautiful an harmonious designs because thos are the kind that please our patrons.

New Spring designs, delicate flower-like tints, all conceivable patterns, many exclusive designs, scrolls, ingrains, etc., ceiling nd border to match. Prices to suit all [illegible]

JOH[illegible]ORNELIUS,

Decorator, Painter, Grainer, and Paper Hanger, all work guaranteed first class.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN

Homeseekers' 60 DAY Excursions

To The Canadian North-West at Return Fares.

Winnipeg, Waskada Estevan, Elgin Arcola Moosomin, Wawanesa Miniota, Binscarth, Grand View Swan River	$28
Regina, Moosejaw, Yorkton,	$30
Prince Albert, Macleod, Calgary	$35
Red Deer, Strathcona	$40

Going JUNE 4th, returning until AUGUST 4th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going JUNE 18th, returning until AUGUST 18th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going July 4th, returning until SEPTEMBER 8th (all rail or S.S. Manitoba). Tickets are not good on "Imperial Limited." For tickets and pamphlet giving full particulars, apply to your nearest Canadian Pacific agent, or to

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Genl. Passr. Agent, 1 King St. East, Toronto.

S. BURROWS, C.P.R. and General Ticket Agent, Front St., Belleville.

NEW YORK CENTRAL & HUDSON RIVER R. R.

THE FOUR-TRACK-TRUNK LINE.

SHORTEST Route to the United States via Cape Vincent, N.Y.

GOING EAST AND WEST.		After 1st May
Lv. Belleville (G.T.R.)	12.22 p.m.	1.30 a.m
Arr. Kingston "	1.47 p.m.	3.12 a.m
Lv. Kingston (stage)..	2.30 p.m.	5.00 a.m
Arr. Cape Vincent (stage)	4.30 p.m.	7.00 a.m
Lv. Cape Vincent N.Y.C.	5.05 p.m.	7.25 a.m
Arr. Watertown "	5.55 p.m.	8.25 a.m
Arr. Oswego "	9.05 p.m.	11.55 a.m
Arr. Syracuse "	9.25 p.m.	12.07 p.m
Arr. Rochester "	1.05 a.m.	2.20 a.m
Arr. Utica "	9.45 p.m.	12.35 p.m
Arr. New York "	7.25 a.m.	6.00 p.m

Convenient train service in opposite direction.

Pullman Sleeping and Parlor Cars.

2c a Mile.

Books for 500 miles of travel on New York Central and leased lines within State of New York, cost only $10 while books for 1000 miles over New York Central, Boston & Albany, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, Philadelphia & Reading and C. R. R. of New Jersey cost $20. Secure further information and purchase tickets from F. A. Folger, N.Y.C. Agent, Kingston, Ont.

GEORGE H. DANIELS, Gen'l Pass'r Agent, New York.

A. H. SMITH, Gen'l Supt., New York.

G. C. GRIDLEY, Gen'l Agent, Watertown, N.Y.

The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.—Napoleon.

Lost chances never leave any trail.

Airinit
"THEY BREATHE WHILE YOU WALK"
CONTROLLED AND MANUFACTURED BY GEO.A.SLATER

FOR TIRED, SWEATY, BLISTERING FEET

See our large assortment of the INVICTUS SHOE, made by GEO. A. SLATER.

VERMILYEA & SON.

DAISY GORDON'S FOLLY

—OR—

THE WORLD LOST FOR LOVE'S SAKE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY,

Author of "The Crime of Hallow-E'en," "The Flirtations of a Beauty," "Willful Gaynell," "Little Leafy," "Only a Mechanic's Daughter," etc.

in the coming month. It will be sudden, of course, but he declares he cannot bear the thought of going back to Europe without me."

A month — a long month — what might not happen in that time?

She could surely devise some means of saving her sister from rushing headlong into the pit that had been dug for her unwary feet.

Long after midnight Daisy pondered over the matter. If she were to save Olive, it meant ruin and disgrace for herself.

Was there no way out of this labyrinth of folly but ruin and death?

She grew so pale and wan during the week which followed that Aleck was alarmed over her.

She had such strange notions, too. He thought it a pitiful hallucination— the fancy that someone was dogging her footsteps night and day.

"But it is quite true, Aleck," she persisted, "wherever I go I see a tall man with a dark beard watching me intently. When he finds himself observed by me, he disappears immediately."

"You need change of scene, my darling," said Aleck, soothingly. "You are not well. That reminds me, my dear, to tell you I have urgent business which requires my presence in New York. We must return at once; of course Olive goes with us; that will put a stop to her little flirtation with the handsome count," he added, laughingly.

"Aleck," whispered Daisy, creeping close to him, and stealing two white, cold arms round his neck "she says she intend marrying the French count, and it must not be, Aleck — do you hear? It must not be."

He knit his brows into a quizzical frown, asking quietly:

"Did you ever hear the old lines:

"'If a woman will, she will, you may depend on't,
If a woman won't, she won't, so
there's an end on't.'"

"But I repeat it must not be!" cried Daisy, wildly. "I would as soon see her lying in her coffin!"

"How vehement you are, my darling," laughed Aleck; "but why do you dislike the count so much and all at once? You declared, only a little while since, that we must take him into society, and make quite a lion of him, and now——"

"Now he has lost my good will by falling in love with Olive," she faltered.

"If you think there is the least doubt as to his social standing, we can investigate at once."

"No— no!" cried Daisy, in a spasm of guilty terror; "do not do that, Aleck— anything but that!"

"Then, if you have nothing in particular against him, why interfere, my darling? Every heart should choose its own mate. Think how badly you and I should have felt if any one had tried to separate us."

She crept closer up to him, her breath coming in short gasps.

"It would have killed me, Aleck," she whispered; and you— oh, Aleck! what would you have done if any one had come between us?"

"I would have gone through fire and water to have won you, my wild flower," he replied, earnestly.

"I have thanked heaven," he went on slowly, "that I am your first and only love, Daisy. I am a very jealous fellow, my darling. I should never have allowed myself to love you, if you had ever cared for any one else."

"I have never loved any one but you, Aleck," she whispered. "I should solemnly say that if I were dying."

"You must not say such grave things, Daisy," said Aleck. "Gloomy thoughts are depressing.

"That reminds me of Olive's message. There is a party of gypsies encamped back of the grove. The young folks are going to take a stroll down that way, and want you to go with them. You had better go, dear; it will take up your time and attention."

"I am not going, dear," said Daisy to her sister, when Olive made her appearance half an hour later. "You must go with our guests — my head aches."

"The gypsy tents and their campfires are very picturesque when viewed by moonlight. You had better come, Daisy, especially as they are to be ordered from the grove tomorrow."

But Daisy declined.

"I shall not leave my room," she declared. "My head aches."

Aleck was loath to leave her by herself; but she insisted he should accompany their guests.

It was a merry party which set out for the grove a little later.

Daisy watched them out of sight with restless eyes.

"I couldn't have a better opportunity," she murmured, catching her breath with a hard sob.

Hurrying to the wardrobe, she took from it a long, dark cloak lined with scarlet, drew the hood over her face and stole noiselessly by a rear entrance from the house, and by cutting across lots, gained the grove fully half an hour in advance of the party that had gone round by the main road.

Once in the grove, Daisy turned her cloak crimson side out and waited patiently by a fallen log for their approach.

She had not long to wait. She soon heard voices, Olive's the gayest and brightest of them all.

They passed the little shrinking figure in the crimson cloak, who drew furtively back among the shadows, laughing and chattering as they passed on toward the white tents.

It happened that Olive fell back a few paces. This was Daisy's chance.

Darting quickly forward, she touched her on the arm.

"If you would have your fortune told, bonny lady," she said, in a hoarse constrained voice that could never have been recognized, "come apart a little way to where the nightingale is singing, and I will tell you of the strangest fortune the fates have in store for you that ever was heard."

Olive glanced down curiously at the small, misshapen figure in the bright, crimson cloak standing amid the shadows of the trees.

"I know my fortune," she said impatiently. "I have had my love-dream, met my lover, and am engaged, and soon to be married; so there, what more of a fortune could you tell me, my good gypsy."

"I could tell you of the curse that hangs over your proud head!" was the startling answer.

CHAPTER XXII.

Only a Dash of the Pen.

Olive Gordon's face grew strangely white.

"A curse!" she repeated, with a gasp. "Why, what can you mean!"

"You have a lover," replied her companion; "handsome, gay, debonair, whom you would wed; but hark you, lady, listen to the gypsy's warning— turn from him— love him not — his life is accursed— he is not for love— not for marriage with such as you. If you married him the greatest curse that ever fell on a woman's head would fall upon yours."

"I do not believe it!" cried Olive. "I will marry him in defiance of every curse. I will hear no more; who are you who dares defame my betrothed?"

She stretched out her hand to grasp the little red- cloaked figure beside her and drag her out into the clearer light that she might see her face, but the little figure was too quick for her— like a shadow she had glided amongst the pines and was lost in the darkness.

"I have failed," muttered Daisy, hurrying back to the house. "I might have known— heaven help me, what shall I do now— which way shall I turn?"

"There is but one thing to do," she murmured, sinking on her knees when she reached her own room, "and that is, to live through the coming month as best I can, and on the day of the wedding end it all by a full confession of everything— and while they read what I have written, I shall be lying cold in death — then perhaps they will forgive me my terrible sin— when they see that I have paid the penalty of my folly with my young life.

"I will live from day to day— forgetting if I can — then the month wanes all will be over."

It was hard to face death so calmly, and she so young and fair.

How long she remained crouching on her knees— giving herself up to the abandonment of her terrible woe —she never knew.

A slight noise startled her; she turned round just in time to see a tall, slender man leap lightly from the balcony through the open window directly into the room, holding up his hand with a menacing gesture indicating silence. It was the French count.

"Hush!" he cried. "Surely you recognize me."

He had sprung forward, stifling with a muttered imprecation the cry of horror on her red lips.

"What are you doing here? How dared you come?" she gasped, recoiling from him in terror.

A merciless smile stirred beneath his heavy mustache, showing his dazzling white teeth.

"Two very good reasons brought me here, my dear madame; the first," with a very low bow, "to pay my respects to your dear self; the other a pressing need of glittering gold which I told you must be forthcoming.

"Your servants refused to take up my card, on the ground that you were in your boudoir ill with a sick headache, and had given positive orders that you were not to be disturbed. I was not to be balked in that way —I knew the location of your room—and leaped without difficulty from one balcony to the other, and here I am."

Daisy fell back into the nearest seat trembling in every limb, gazing at the bold, handsome face that fascinated her with such awful terror. He glanced toward the inner rooms.

"You are entirely alone but for me?" he asked questioningly. "Tell me, is it safe to speak? Are we alone?"

Daisy drew a little quivering breath, nodding a silent "yes," realizing that she was so awfully, awfully alone with him, yet she dared not, if she would, have aroused the occupants of the house.

He drew his chair close up beside her, despite the fact that she waved him back with a gesture of her white hands pitiful to see.

"In the first place, I must tell you of my wooing," he said. "Fair Olive is to be mine; we are to be married within the coming month. You do not congratulate me, my dear madame; evidently you do not look upon your future brother- in- law with much favor; but be that as it may, the fact remains the same.

"I shall expect you to arrange for a grand banquet, for we must be married in style. And that reminds me to mention that it takes money for a wedding trip, and the amount which you were to hand me last week has not been forthcoming. I will take it now, if you please, dear madame."

"You have goaded me to madness," moaned Daisy. "I have given you every dollar I could raise; you have my diamonds and every article of value I possess. I can do no more.

"There is still another way to raise the amount, since it is a matter of necessity. Your husband has a bank account, and what is the husband's should belong to the wife. You can give your husband's check for five thousand, and he will never miss the amount. I have noticed you are a very clever imitator with the pen; it is a gift, my dear madame, which one should profit by. A few dashes of the pen and we would have such an admirable imitation of Mr. Hamilton's signature that it would puzzle even that gentleman himself as to whether he ever wrote it or not."

"Do I comprehend the full import of your words? You— you ask me— me, Alexander Hamilton's wife, who loves him better than life itself, to forge his name to a check? You dare ask this?"

"I am indeed so brave," he retorted with a smile, for which she could could have struck him dead at her feet; "and not only ask but expect you to comply with so reasonable a request. I assure you no one would think of tracing the matter to you."

She shivered like a poor leaf in an icy blast, or a tortured bird in the sportsman's trap, and he saw it and exulted over his power over the lovely, unfortunate lady.

"And what is to be done, must be done quickly," he observed, drawing a folded paper from his pocket, continuing: "Not anticipating a refusal, I have the check all filled out. It requires but the signature. I see pen and ink on the desk yonder; you will oblige me by signing it."

"I would cut off my right hand sooner than do it!" cried Daisy. "You have made me subservient to your will long enough. Even the timid doe will stand and fight for her life when driven at bay. I repeat, I will never sign it. You have driven me to madness— do your worst!"

"If I were to make it an object to you would you sign it?" he asked. "If I promised to give up Olive— take the money and go quietly away, swearing by all the saints in the calendar never to cross your path again —would you sign it then?"

She drew her breath with a sharp cry— on one side she beheld the two pictures, a respite of life, with Aleck's love still hers; on the other, disgrace, ruin, and death. No wonder the poor child wavered.

"I make no secret of it— wealth is the ruling passion with me— I have met one more beautiful than Olive whom I might love more, and she is an heiress— she left the city — if I had money I would follow her, for I am sure I could win her."

Daisy staggered blindly to the window, and raised her death- white face to the night sky.

"Give me a little time to think," she murmured faintly.

"Consider well," said the count.

She was considering well— only a dash of the pen, and she could avert a fate more cruel than death from the sister who was rushing so blindfold to her ruin— only a dash of the pen— it did not seem much compared to the blasting of a young girl's life. And in saving Olive—she could save herself— Aleck's love would be hers for yet a little while, and she loved him so well— with all the passionate strength of her untutored, simple, childish heart— she loved him better than her own life.

Up and down the luxurious boudoir Daisy paced, wringing her little hands in the bitterest woe. The chiming of the ebony clock on the mantel warned her that time was flying swift- winged from her.

Only a dash of the pen— true, it would be a crime the world called by a hard name— but it would save Olive from this dreadful marriage— ought she to hesitate on that score?

Quietly she turned at length to the count:

"Take a solemn oath, if I sign that check, you will never see Olive again, and never cross my path."

"I have said I would not, and I will keep my word," he replied.

Another moment and the check lay in his hand, with the forged signature of Alexander Hamilton upon it.

"Good- bye, most charming of all charming women," he said; "you have looked your last upon the French count," and, with a low bow, he leaped lightly from the window through which he had gained an entrance, swung himself coolly from the balcony

(To be continued.)

Business
vs.
Biliousness.

The man who is subject to biliousness cannot attend to business—biliousness demands all his attention. Biliousness arises from the retention of waste and foreign matter in the system, natures drainage being clogged.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt

goes to the root of the trouble and eradicates the cause— persuades the stomach and bowels, in a gentle but insistent manner, into healthy action, Abbey's clears the bile from the system in nature's own way, bringing health, a clear head, a clean stomach and energy for work.

Flies Everywhere

in your food—in your bedroom—making life miserable.

Wilson's Fly Pads

will clear your house of flies in a few hours.

Carving Set

We send, express prepaid, to any address this fine three-piece Carving Set for $2.50.

No. 109—Price $2.50
Knife, full length, 10½ inches
Joseph Rodgers & Sons Sheffield Steel Knife and Fork with Steel
Write for our new Illustrated Folder of extra value gift articles

RYRIE BROS.
JEWELERS
118, 120, 122 and 124
Yonge St., Toronto

The Sun & Hastings Savings and Loan Co. of Ontario.
AUTHORIZED CAPITAL
$5,000,000.

3 1-2 per cent. allowed on Deposits, payable on Call.

4 per cent. on Deposits for one year or over.

Money to Loan upon favorable terms.

OFFICE, No. 46 Bridge St., Belleville.

J. P. C. PHILLIPS,
Manager Belleville Branch.

Bank of Montreal
ESTABLISHED 1817.
Capital and Rest, All Paid Up.
$20,000,000
(Twenty Millions.)

Savings Bank Department
Interest on sums of $4.00 and upwards allowed at current rates.

A. G. PARKER,
Manager Belleville Branch

Western Beef.

Prime Western Beef together with all kinds of choice meats, supplied by the district, at

C. GREEN'S
267 Front St., 'Phone 109.

Coin Pay Envelopes at The Intelligencer Job Office. Cheapest and best in the city.

The wise are polite all the world over; fools are polite only at home.—Bacon.

Disease Lurks on Every Hand

AND FINDS LODGMENT IN THE WEAK RUNDOWN AND EXHAUSTED SYSTEM — PROTECT YOURSELF BY USING

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

The spring air is often laden with disease germs. The waste and decayed matter of winter is thawed out, and forms a regular hotbed of disease, from which arise poisonous gases and germs of disease.

People with rich blood throbbing through their arteries need have little fear, for disease seeks out the weak and exhausted for its easy victims. For such there is no season more to be dreaded than spring.

The artificial life of winter is such as to leave the blood thin and watery, and as a result the action of the vital organs, such as the heart, stomach, kidneys and liver is weak, sluggish and torpid, appetite becomes poor and digestion is impaired.

All depends on the state of the blood, and because Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is, above all else, a builder and enricher of the blood, it is the best spring medicine that can possibly be obtained. Once the blood is made rich and pure the benefit is felt in every nook and corner of the human body. The vital organs perform their work, the nervous system is nourished and rekindled new, firm flesh and tissue is added, and new vigor and vitality permeate the whole system.

Instead of purging the system with salts and sarsaparillas this spring, enrich and purify the blood by a month's treatment with Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and see how differently you will feel. As this food cure is composed of nature's greatest restoratives, it is bound to be of benefit to you. 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

Fresh Roll Butter

20 cents per lb.

J. C. Hanley & Co
GROCERS
Telephone 214

FOR MANSION OR MODEST COTTAGE

S.W.P. is safest, best, and most economical and not without reason.

It's best because made from best materials—pure lead, pure zinc, and pure linseed oil.

It's safest because the materials it is made from are all carefully tested both chemically and practically before being used to insure their being right and best for the purpose.

It's most economical because it covers most surface to the gallon and wears longest.

WATERS DRUG STORE

New Hats

READY-TO-WEAR HATS
DRESS HATS.

New Veilings

Latest styles—Best work.
We will surely please you.
Come and see them.

MISS M. CAMPBELL.
P.D. Corsets. 'Phone 117

A long portage makes a heavy canoe.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN and be sure that when you ask for Perry Davis' Painkiller you get just that and nothing else. Use it promptly to cure cramps, diarrhoea and all other bowel complaints in summer.

A System that Will not keep You waiting

Whether you want Painting, Paper Hanging, Decorating, Graining, or anything in our line, we will not keep you waiting. WE WILL NAME THE DAY, and that very day you will find us at your work, with an excellent staff of workmen—the very best mechanics that can be secured—workmen that we can rely on and that please our customers every time.

OUR WALL PAPER TRADE this year is so far the largest in the history of this house, and there are reasons behind the increased trade, and here they are—

FIRSTLY—Times are good, people have money and know where to spend it to advantage.

SECONDLY—By comparison with other lines our customers find our prices much lower and our styles of Wall Paper much higher than the ordinary.

THIRDLY—We give free two yards of bordering with each double roll of the Wall Paper it matches.

We hang our paper at very reasonable prices and always please our customers whether in papering, painting or anything else.

C. B. Scantlebury
Belleville's Decorator

Outside Painting. Inside Painting,
Paperhanging.

Wall Paper, Wholesale and Retail.

CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY

CAPITAL

10,000 Shares 7 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 each, $1,000,000
50,000 Shares Common Stock, par value $100, issued and fully paid 5,000,000
TOTAL CAPITALIZATION $6,000,000

Issues of $1,000,000 00 7 p.c. Preferred Stock in 10,000 Shares of $100 each at par.

This stock is preferred both as to Assets and Dividends.

The shares are entitled to cumulative preferred dividends from the net earnings of the Company, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the first days of April and October. They may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged for common shares. They are subject to be called in, in whole or in part, by the Company, at $115.00 per share, at any time after 1st January, 1909.

The total issue of Preferred Stock is only $1,000,000.00, the whole of which is now offered.

Subsriptions for 10,000 Shares of $100 each of the 7 per cent. Preferred Stock of the CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY will now be received at par, that is $100 Share, as follows

per cent on application,
25 " " on allotment,
35 " " 30 days thereafter.
35 " " 60 days thereafter.

One share of Common, par value $100, given with each share of preferred.

The whole of instalments remaining unpaid at any time may be prepaid in full. A discount of one per cent will be allowed upon the par of each share if prepaid at time of allotment

Notice of allotment will be sent promptly by ordinary letter.

COAL

PROPERTY IN FULL OPERATION

Company owns 9,600 acres of coal property known throughout the coal trade as the New Campbellton Colliery, located on Bras D'Or Bay, County of Victoria, Cape Breton, Novia Scotia. Mine is fully equipped, producing and marketing tons of coal a day at a net profit of $1 00 a ton. Improvements are now being made that will increase the output to over 1,000 tons a day. On present output, figuring 300 working days in year, the net result will more than pay interest on entire issue of preferred, with output of 1,000 tons a day net result will be $300,000 per annum.

IRON

RICHEST ORE IN THE WORLD

Company owns in fee simple, free and clear of all incumbrances, 4000 acres of iron ore deposit, located Natashquan (tidewater) situated on North shore of Gulf of St. Lawrence, in the County of Saguenay, province of Quebec.

Deposits contain 20,000,000 tons of ore ABOVE SEA LEVEL ALONE.

Quality of ore is highest ever discovered, running from 69 per cent to 72 per cent in metallic iron.

More orders for the sale of this ore has been received by the Company than can possibly be accepted, and at a price netting the Company a profit of $2 a ton F. O. B. vessels at Company's docks.

Send for prospectus giving full information as to earnings, reports, etc., etc.

Address all communications and send subscriptions to

COLONIAL SECURITIES CO.,
62 Wall Street, New York City

OR

W. L. MARSTON & COMPANY
110 State Street, Boston

The SAWYER COMPANY.
351 Temple Building, Montreal, Canada.

Jim Dumps provided for his heirs
That "Force" might be forever theirs.
"I can't do better with my wealth,"
He said, "than to insure them health,
Clear brain, good muscle, nerve and vim!
And 'Force' gives these," quoth "Sunny Jim."

"Force"
The Ready-to-Serve Cereal makes good health an heirloom.

Sweet, crisp flakes of wheat and malt.

A Dyspeptic No Longer.

"A gentleman living in this village, I. A. Watson, was a great sufferer from indigestion. He purchased from me a package of 'Force' two or three months ago and has continued using 'Force' ever since, and has not had the slightest symptom of the disease since.
JOSEPH HOOD."

—THE—

INTELLIGENCER
JOB
PRINTING
DEPARTMENT

WE have every facility for doing the best and cheapest Job Printing in the country. Our presses and stock of printing materials are up-to-date.

Half Tone Catalogue Printing

ARTISTIC FOLDERS, PAMPHLETS, MAILING CARDS, ETC.

To Business Men :

We have 100,000 ENVELOPES of all kinds to select from

Statement and Bill Heads, Letter and Note Heads, Gummed Paper, Poster Paper, Butter Paper, etc.

Cover Paper—a full line of popular makes.

Book and Printing Paper—all sizes, weights and prices.

Card Board, Visiting Cards, Tickets, etc.

The Intelligencer Printing &
Publishing House, Limited.
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

FOR
Bilious and Nervous Disorders
Sick Headache and Constipation, TAKE BEECHAM'S PILLS.

They cure Giddiness, Fullness and Swelling after meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Blotches on the Skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, etc. The First Dose will give relief in twenty minutes. This is no fiction. For a Weak Stomach, Disordered Liver and Impaired Digestion they act like "Magic". Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try a Box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be WITHOUT A RIVAL.

BEECHAM'S PILLS taken as directed, will quickly restore females to complete health. They promptly remove any obstruction or irregularity of the system.

Sold by all Druggists in Canada and U. S. America. In boxes, 25 cents.

LATEST NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS

AS FURNISHED TO THE INTELLIGENCER BY H. R BEATTIE, STOCK BROKER.

New York, May. 26

STOCK	Op'g	H'st	L'st	Close
Twin City	105	105	104	103¾
Atchison	73⅝	75¼	73⅞	75¼
do. pref	93⅝	....	....	....
St. Paul	148¼	150⅛	148¼	150⅛
Mo. P.	104	106¾	104	106
Union Pac.	84¾	85⅞	84½	85⅞
C.P.R.	127¼	128	126¾	128
South Pac.	50½	50	51¾	51⅞
Sou. Ry.	26¾	27¼	26¾	27¼
Texas	30½	31½	30¼	31½
B & O.	87¼	89	87¼	89
N. Y. C.	126½	127⅛	126	127⅛
Penna	126	127⅜	126	127¼
Reading	48½	49¼	48½	49⅛
Il's.	135	135⅜	135	135⅜
Erie	31⅛	34⅛	33⅞	34⅛
do. pref.	68	68½	67¾	68⅛
O. & W.	26⅜	27⅛	26¾	27⅛
C. O.	40¼	40⅜	40	40⅜
Manhattan	137¾	137⅞	137¾	137⅞
W. C.	21⅛	21⅛	20½	20⅞
L. & N.	113	113¾	113	113¾
Nor.	67⅞	69	67⅞	69
C. G. W.	20¼	20⅜	20¼	20⅜
W.U.	82⅛	82½	82	82½
T.C.I.	55	56	55	56
U S. Steel	30⅞	31⅜	30⅞	31⅜
do pref.	80½	81	80½	81
Sugar	124	124⅝	124	124½
A. C. P.	61	62¼	60¼	62⅛
Po.	100	101	99⅞	101
B. R. T.	60¼	61¾	60¾	61¾
Met.	129¼	130	129¼	130
Wab.	25¼	25⅜	25	25¼
do pref.	44¾	45½	43¾	45½
Soo	58⅛	58⅛	58	58
R. I.	37⅜	38⅛	35⅝	37¼
A. F.	30	37¼	30	37¼
Alc	23¼	23⅞	23⅛	23¾

July wheat opened at 73 1-2, closed at 73 1-8.

July corn opened at 45 1-8, closed at 45 3-8.

Ringling Bros. World's Greatest Shows employ 1,280 men, women and children; have 650 horses, use eighty-five double length cars, exhibit monster herd of forty elephants, in the largest menagerie on earth, and have a spread of canvas that covers fifteen acres of ground.

Literary Notes

JUNE CANADIAN MAGAZINE.

The ceaseless hunt after good reading matter is a problem for both editors and readers. The editor of the Canadian Magazine has secured a very fair collection of it for his June number. The short stories are all by Canadian writers and not less bright for that reason. The illustrations, some of which are in color, show great care in their production and indicate a continual improvement in the work of Canadian illustrators.

There are 50 great soloists in Ringling Brothers' famous military concert band, and their selections, accompanied by a mammoth 68-stop cathedral pipe organ, have never been equalled.

Attend no auctions if thou hast no money.

THREE MONTHS AND NO SLEEP

In ninety-nine cases out of a hundred this would mean the lunatic asylum for the patient, but South American Nervine was the "stitch in time."

Mrs. White, of Beaverton, was dangerously ill from nervous trouble; had not slept a night for three months; so low, friends had given up hope of recovery. She began using South American Nervine and from the night she took the first dose slept soundly. She put on flesh rapidly and in a short while every symptom of her trouble had left her, and although it is five years ago, she has never had a sign of a return. 8a

SOLD BY D. M. WATERS.

It takes money to voice the opinion of a lawyer.

Doing good is the only certainly happy action of a man's life.

If the rattlesnake did not stop to talk he would be ten times more dangerous.

All trails are long to the lazy.

Much talk, many lies.

Over 250,000 copies of Charles Dickens' novels are sold annually.

EVERYONE is familiar with General Sherman's famous definition of war. The great Italian actress, Eleanora Duse, now applies the same harsh epithet to stage life. She says it is "hell—downright hell."

Duse has confessed to an interviewer that she is "tired of the theater, but not of art, tired of the theatrical part of stage life, tired of the necessary co-operation of artists, managers, scene-shifters and lamp-lighters."

"Yes," she continued, "I am tired of all and everything liable to obstruct my artistic endeavors and to interfere with my plans, executed or intended. I am dreaming of entering the lecture platform, but will do things in quite a different way from the ordinary.

"I mean to enliven the lecture platform and broaden its scope by retaining some of the stage's features. My American tour will be my swan's song as far as stageland is concerned.

"After that I will endeavor to realise this dream of making the world acquainted with the great masterpieces of literature without detracting their attention by undue scenic effects and the awkwardness or stupidity of actors playing incidental parts.

"One or two ladies or gentlemen will be engaged as my assistants, merely to look their parts and give me the cue. As for myself, I couldn't think of assuming several roles as some do at dramatic recitals.

"I needn't repeat," she continued, "that I leave the stage without regret, yet at the same time I am almost forced to do something of the kind. I can't be for ever playing Dumas and Sardou, Ibsen and Sudermann. No one of account is writing new plays for me, and those that are written might as well remain unacted.

"I tell you la Duse is threatened by literary famine. Shall I wait until the public tires of my repertoire? Besides, I must rid myself of the slavery of stage life. That's no life at all. I assure you it is hell, downright hell."

Curious Whims.

Eccentricity is often nothing but the exaggeration of individuality, as with a scholar of some distinction who died towards the end of the last century. His peculiarity expressed itself in the way in which he tried to carry his scholarship, or the symbolism of it, into the grave. By the terms of his will he left six thousand guineas to his sister on condition that his funeral was carried out on curiously-prescribed lines. His coffin was painted green, and was followed by only six gentlemen—no relatives being invited—who were to receive ten guineas each provided they did not dress in black. The body was fully dressed. Under the head was placed a copy of Horace, and at the feet Bentley's Milton. In one hand was a pocket edition of Horace, and in the other a small Greek Testament; and another copy of Horace was laid underneath. The hired mourners sang over the closed grave the last stanza of the twentieth ode of the second book of Horace; and subsequently, after a generous supper, another ode was sung. "Which done," ran the final injunction of the will, "I would have them take a cheerful glass, and think no more of me." A French historian had a whimsical fancy for reading and writing by candlelight. At full noonday, in the brightest summer weather, he would have his candle by his side, and he would carry it in his hand when showing his visitors to the door.

Appearances Deceived Him.

The Bather—I like this mixed bathing idea. It's worth dressing for.

Her Friend—I had an idea from your appearance that you thought the reverse.—"Pick-Me-Up."

Wit and Wisdom From New Books.

"When the lights are out," he said; "when forever and a night the actor bids the stage farewell; when stripped of mask and tinsel, he goes home to that Auditor who set him his part; then perhaps he will be told what manner of man he is. The glass that now he dresses before tells him not; but he thinks a truer glass would show a shrunken figure."—"Audrey."

It is a miserable thing to linger on the threshold. The daring spirits pass across and close the door.—"Sister Teresa."

The devil possesses no one who does not desire him.—"Sister Teresa."

Men are born to hardship. It is the alloy which gives firmness to their metal.—"When the Land Was Young."

The over-exercise of a critical faculty is always dangerous, and by too much judging of port Benjamin ruined his career.—"The Seal of Silence."

Professional saints are very tiresome people. Amateur sinners are much more interesting.—"Casting of Nets."

To learn the worth of a man's religion, do business with him.—"Aphorisms and Reflections."

Rules of grammar cannot give us a mastery of language, rules of rhetoric cannot make us eloquent, rules of conduct cannot make us good.—"Aphorisms and Reflections."

A poet may be a good companion, but, so far as I know, he is even the worst of fathers.—"D'ri and I."

Altruism is a privilege rather than a duty.—"The Symphony of Life."

Heaven and hell are very real, but they are states of mind.—"The Symphony of Life."

When the law sets out to punish, it doesn't stop with the guilty only.—"The Manager of the B. and A."

They took his humor for flippancy because their own flippancy was devoid of humor.—"Men and Books."

The Up-to-Date Undertaker.

A Yankee undertaker advertises: "Why live and be miserable, when you can be comfortably buried for twenty dollars?" We shall expect something of the kind over here soon. Don't be surprised when you take up your morning paper if you read this sort of thing: "Billy Morgan looked down the barrel of his daddy's gun to see where the bullet went to when it went off. The funeral was handsomely conducted by Smith & Co., who have always a large staff on hand, and are open to bury the whole neighborhood at twenty-four hours notice. A pound of tea given away with every coffin. Order early and avoid disappointment."

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

THEY HAVE ARRIVED

The extra fine grade of boy's 3 piece suits of which we spoke some time ago.

They open fully up to our expectation. We have no hesitancy in saying, "better goods in value or quality were never seen in Belleville"—probably never as good.

The rush of orders have kept these a little late at the factory. We could have had others but we are glad we waited—so will you be when you see the unusually HIGH CLASS APPEARANCE of every suit.

Many ladies have requested something, little better than the usual boy's clothing. We are confident these will fill that want.

Of course the cost is a little more, but you will not consider that when you see their extra value.

They are in every way [except price] a marked advance and worthy of attention from every mother who has a son.

—Boy's fine grade 3 piece suits in rich plaids and stripes—single or double breasted, superior throughout, ... $5.00 to $10.00

BELTS

Belts are now as neccessary to the stylish outfit as the tie or shirt—not specially to hold up the trousers but to give the finish.

To get just the "correct" finish you should examine our new assortment—every desirable style is represented.

—Fine leather belt with nickle buckle and side links, alligator finish 25c

—Fine leather belt with Ooze lining and new Patent Cavanagh, tongueless buckle—will not slip—best nickle fittings, ... 50c

—Fine real alligator belt with best buckle and fittings—very stylish $1.50

FANCY VESTS

The STYLISH and COOL man is the one that wears a light vest.

Every man likes to be among this class—not hard either or costly if our assortment is examined.

Different styles are arriving nearly everyday—just opened some very neat ones in plain white pique—white pique with colored stripes—fancy linen colored etc. All are well cut and made and will do up well.

—Men's fancy vests with fine detatchable buttons—all sizes 35 to 46, $1.25 & $1.50

MORE WAISTS

Another lot of stylish white waists have just come to hand.

These are in fine grades and are made in the most advance style with new Doucet sleeves.

There is an appearance about these goods that cannot be obtained even by the best dressmakers, and the prices are much below what their charges would be.

—Fine white India Linen—waist, front trimmed with groups of narrow tucks and Embroidery insertion—wide doucet sleeves tucked $1.25

—Fine India Linen waist front of allover embroidery—newest tucked sleeves hemstitched collar and cuffs $2.25

—Fine allover embroidery waist with plain hemstitched and tucked yoke edged with wide embroidery insertion coming to point in front—tucked sleeves $4.00

LADIES' VESTS

These are busy days in our mantle room. With the warm weather comes garment changes of all kinds.

Our underwear section is specially well prepared for this occasion—abundance of styles qualities and prices.

We have never had a better representation of "right prices" than these. Value considered we have done everything else possible to bring these to you at lowest prices.

If you buy here you will realize the saving our efforts have made possible.

—Fine cotton vest with all lengths in sleeves .... 5c to 25c

—Fine white cotton vest with light fleece 30c

—Fine natural wool vests, light weight with trimmed neck and satin facings $1.00

WASH SKIRTS

Summer is here—the washable skirt problem now commads attention.

Whether you desire Linen—Crash—Pique or Duck you will appreciate the easy choosing point at which our assortment is.

No lady can afford to be without one of these pretty and serviceable garments.

The saving alone to your better skirts will more than pay for it. This combined with the neat styles and patterns which can be seen here make them most worthy summer clothing.

—Skirt of fine Navy Duck trimmed with three narrow plaited flounces headed with narrow white braid $2.95

—Skirt of fine Navy Duck with white spots—wide flounce trimmed with self strapping $1.75

—Fine shirt of white pique trimmed with fine embroidery strapping—a good plain skirt $3.00

Agents for Standard Patterns.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

CLOTHING BOUGHT HERE PRESSED FREE OF CHARGE

SUITS FOR MEN

The Entirely Different Sorts.

Not satisfied with equaling in style, fit and excellence of workmanship the made-to-measure garments the best tailors produce, our makers are now fashioning their suits from the same fabrics which have heretofore been exclusive with the Custom Tailors.

Our showing of these suits is very extensive.

They are suits that the average man wants—they give him the style and exclusiveness he seeks without the extra cost of the tailors.

Even the most expert criticism will fail to discover that these suits were not custom made.

The brood showing we make including as it does every size for men of different propostions practically assurs a perfect fit for every man.

But in some cases an exact fit cannot be secured immediately and then we do as the tailors would do at a try on—make the necessary alterations that would secure perfection of fit.

Fancy mixed cashmeres—neat effects in Cheviots—three and four button sack styles including the new straight front.

$6.50 to $15.00

And by the way you can better judge the unassailable quality of these suits if you'll do a little comparing.

Top Coats $5.00 to $12.00

CHRISTYS LONDON

NEW SPRING HATS

All the latest American and English styles, see our celebrated Christys' Hats at $1.00

Christys' Hats

QUICK & ROBERTSON

Exclusive Agents for Johnston's Famous Clothing for Men and Boys.

The Finnegan Carriage & Wagon Co.

—FOR—

Stylish and Durable Turnouts.

—Surreys
—Corning Buggies
—Piano Box Buggies
—Rubber Tire Buggies
—Micadoes
—Phaetons
—Bike Buggies
—Democrats
—Grocer Wagons
—Butcher Wagons

Cheese Factory Milk Wagons.
Steel Tubular Axle Lumber Wagons.

Rubber Tires put on your old wheels at reasonable prices.

Mill St., - - Belleville.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE'S

English Breakfast Tea

FRAGRANT AND DELICIOUS.

IN HAF-POUND LEAD PACKETS —FULL WEIGHT

20, 25 & 30 cts. per packet— 40, 50 & 60 cts. per lb.

The choicest growths of India and Ceylon. A sample free for the asking.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE

BRIDGE ST. BRANCH STORE, FRONT ST.

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE

FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

Roger's Stainfloor Finish

Is something new and it will fill a long felt want, as it works equally as well on either hard or soft wood. It is a combined floor stain and varnish at one application and it is practically indestructable, it is sure to please you.

The W. W. CHOWN Company Limited

Nearly Drowned.

A young lad named Leavens fell off the boom in the harbor on Saturday afternoon, and but for Mr. William Orr, of Saginaw, Mich., would have been drowned. Mr. Orr jumped in and pulled him out.

Only 24 per cent. of doctors reach 70 years, but 42 per cent. of clergymen do so.

Terrible Accident To a Young Girl

DAUGHTER OF JOHN RALSTON, OF MOUNTAIN VIEW, PROBABLY FATALLY INJURED.

A terrible and probably fatal accident happened at Mountain View, nine miles from this city, on Saturday last. It appears that Mr. John Ralston was coming down the big hill, near the village, on his way to this city, with him in the conveyance being his wife and little daughter, the latter about 14 years old. When about half-way down the hill the belly-band of the horse broke, and the shafts dropped to the ground. This frightened the horse and he started to kick viciously, the little girl being kicked in the centre of the forehead. All this time the horse and conveyance were proceeding down the hill. When the child was kicked she fell over the side and was caught in the wheel, being whirled round three or four times before rescued. Medical aid was secured, but the doctors do not give much hope. The little one, at last accounts, had not recovered consciousness, and it is not believed that she ever will.

Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Ralston, who has had more than his share of bad luck lately, his barns and crop having been destroyed by fire last fall.

S. O. E. AT CHURCH.

EARNEST AND PRACTICAL SERMON BY REV. O. C. ELLIOTT ON SUNDAY MORNING.

The members of Oxford and Lydford Lodges, Sons of England, on Sunday morning attended divine service at the Baptist Church. There were a goodly number of the brethren out, also a number of boys who are members of the juvenile branch of the Society.

The Pastor of the church, Rev. O. C. Elliott, preached and his sermon was an able and practical exposition of gospel truth. In prefacing his discourse the Rev. gentleman extended to the Society a hearty welcome to the church, and referred to the work of the Society in glowing and commendatory terms. He also referred to the day, namely the anniversary of the birth of the late noble Queen of England, whose virtues he extolled. The text was from St. Matthew, 6th chapter and 33rd verse.

"But seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you."

The subject discussed was religious liberty and the freedom which all enjoyed in this respect under the British flag. There were at present great problems to be solved, chief amongst which were the relations of capital and labor. Many were, however, losing sight of the greater problem, that of the life hereafter. This should have our utmost attention. We were tempted to sell our eternal birthright for the pleasures of the world. The text enjoins upon all to seek first the Kingdom of God and temporal things will be provided. In making God's interests our care we may be sure that God will not forsake us. In conclusion the preacher made an earnest appeal to all to live a Christian life so as to receive at last the "well done." During the offertory the choir sang an anthem entitled "Make a Joyful Noise Unto the Lord."

PERFECT CURE FOR BRONCHITIS.

This disease can be treated only by a remedy carried to the affected parts along with the air breathed, for nature intended these organs for the passage of air alone, and sprays, atomizers and internal medicines utterly fail. But Catarrhozone doesn't fail, for it goes wherever the air breathed goes, and its healing antiseptic vapor is sure to reach every affected part. Catarrhozone is inhaled at the mouth and after passing through every air cell of the breathing organs is slowly exhaled through the nostrils. Catarrhozone protects and heals the inflammation and perfectly cures all bronchial affections. Price $1. Small size 25c. Druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Criminal Recklessness

Some reckless individual, on Front St. last night, shortly after 8 o'clock, set off a sky rocket and then threw it down on the street. The rocket went whizzing along and struck a boy, who was on the Campbell street crossing, on the forehead just over the right eye, cutting him to the bone and making a bad wound. Had the rocket struck him an inch lower he would surely have lost an eye and possibly his life. Mr. G. B. Scantlebury, who witnessed the affair, very kindly took the youngster to a drug store and had the wound dressed. To-day he looks as though he had been after the lightweight championship. It is surprising that people who lay claim to intelligence enough to keep them out of the lunatic asylum would play such dangerous pranks as the one recorded above.

Piles To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles, the manufacturers have guaranteed it. See testimonials in the daily press and ask your neighbors what they think of it. You can use it and get your money back if not cured. 60c a box, at all dealers or EDMANSON, BATES & Co., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Sports and Pastimes

BASEBALL.

Good Game Yesterday Morning.

Yesterday morning an interesting game of baseball was played on the Hospital Lot between the Canning Factory team and a picked nine from the city. The result was a win for the picked nine, the score being 14 to 11 in their favor. W. Bawden and J. Hanley were the battery for the victors, and T. Hyland and C. Cornell for the losers. The umpire was Robert Simpson, whose decisions were fair. A large number of spectators witnessed the game.

A Game at the College.

A nine picked from Albert College on Saturday afternoon played a picked nine of this city, on the College campus. The picked nine won by a score of 10 to 7. The College battery was Houston and Marks; Hanley and Bawden officiated for the "Pickaninies."

THE WHEEL.

Road Race Furnished Good Sport.

A large number of spectators turned out yesterday morning to see the bicycle road race, which furnished good sport to lovers of that kind of thing. The only thing to mar the affair was the way some of the spectators crowded on to the track at the finish and made the task of the time-keepers and judges a very difficult one. There was a strong wind blowing directly from the east, which undoubtedly helped to make the time slow. The handicappers had made a very good attempt at equalizing the men, considering that nearly every one of the racers was an unknown quality. The start was made at 9.05 and nine men faced the starters, following being their names and handicaps: J. Dorion, 4 minutes; A. Davis, 3 minutes; E. Geen and E. Henthorne, 2 minutes each; A. Finkle and F. Barrett, 1 1-2 minutes each; H. Weller and F. Butterfield, 1 minute each; A. B. Astle, scratch.

A time limit of 32 minutes had been set on the time prize, a handsome cup donated by the Canada Cycle Motor Company, and many speculations were made as to whether it would be captured or not. The time-keepers' watches showed 10.21 and none of the riders were in sight, so it was evident the time prize was forbidden fruit for any of them. Another minute and somebody said "There's one fellow." It was Weller, and he was coming fast. He went flying over the tape winner of first prize, a set of tires. Davis was next; he got a mandolin. Next came Geen, and he took a wringer for his share. Henthorne was next, and a fishpole was what fell to his lot. The fifth man was Astle, and he was made happy by a Y.M.C.A. membership ticket. Dorion was sixth, and a local photographer will take half a dozen photos for him. Finkle was seventh, and he secured a rocking chair, in which he can take things easy.

Barrett and Butterfield did not make the turn.

The order of finish and elapsed time of each rider was as follows:

1. H. Weller, 34.10.
2. A. Davis, 36.42.
3. E. Geen, 35.45.
4. E. Henthorne, 35.48.
5. A. B. Astle, 33.54.
6. J. Dorion, 40.42.
7. A. Finkle, 38.15.

The list of officials has already appeared in these columns.

FOOTBALL.

Local Boys Won Yesterday.

Considerable interest was manifested in a game of Association football which took place yesterday afternoon on the Institute grounds. The contestants were a team of mute players from Toronto and a team picked from present residents at the Institute. The game was keenly contested, resulting in a victory for the local lads by a score of 2 to 1.

LACROSSE.

Results on Saturday.

Torontos 5, Capitals 2.
Brantford 6, Oshawa 0.
Montreal 5, Cornwall 4.

Results on Monday.

Tecumsehs 1, Oshawa 1.
Brantford 4, Capitals 1.
Shamrocks of Montreal 6, Nationals of Montreal 3.

SADDLE AND SULKY.

Good Races at Kingston Yesterday Afternoon.

Kingston, May 25.—To-day's races were well attended, the results being as follows:

Running race, 5-8 mile—

C. Monton, Johnston, Belleville	3	1	1
Innominatum, Nicholson, Kingston	1	3	2
Lovina, Conley, Kingston	2	2	3

Time, 1.07, 1.03, 1.05.

2.30 class, trotting—

Lord Russell, Bell, Kingston	1	1	1
Maew	2	2	2
Billy M., Metcalfe, Kingston	3	3	3
Sydenham Boy	4	4	4

Time, 2.29 1-4, 2.30, 2.29 1-4.

2.20 class—

Sir Knight, Lyon, Harrowsmith	2	1	2	1	1
Thorne L., Brannigan, Kingston	1	2	1	2	2

Time, 2.30, 2.30, 2.27 3-4, 2.31, 2.29.

"THOUSAND ISLAND RAMBLES."

Str. "North King" will commence her popular Thousand Island rambles on 31st May, leaving Belleville at 3.25 a.m. Sundays. Fare $1.00. Steamer leaves at 11.30 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. m26d&w3m

BadCoughs Neglected colds always lead to something serious. They run into chronic bronchitis, pneumonia, asthma, or consumption. Don't wait. Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and stop your cough. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

To-day's Death List Is a Lengthy One.

MANY HAVE CROSSED THE GREAT DIVIDE SINCE OUR LAST ISSUE.

ERASTUS GILLEN, M. D.

In the death of Dr. Erastus Gillen, which occurred on Sunday afternoon, there passed away a bright man, barely in the prime of life. Deceased, who was a brother of Mr. Alf. Gillen, of the Post office staff, was born in this city 38 years ago, and practised the profession of an architect before he studied medicine. Becoming enamored of the science of healing, he took the medical course in Queen's University, and about ten years ago began practise in Mount Morris, N.Y. Deceased was a widower, his wife being Dr. Livingston, one of the medical faculty of Queen's University. Mrs. Gillen died some three years ago. She was a very estimable and lovable lady. No children survive. The disease which proved fatal to Dr. Gillen was rheumatism, it having reached his heart. Many people in this city, and in fact everywhere where he was known, will regret to hear of his untimely death. Had he not suffered from the fell disease which marked him for its own, there is no doubt that he would have ranked high in his chosen profession. He was a prominent society man, being a Royal Arch Mason, an Oddfellow and a Knight of the Maccabees. The funeral took place this afternoon from the family residence, George St., the bearers being all medical men, namely, Drs. Farley, Gibson, Yeomans, Clinton, MacColl and Mather. Services were conducted at the house by Rev. M. W. Maclean, pastor of St. Andrew's church. The floral tributes were very numerous and strikingly beautiful.

S. CLARK EDWARDS.

Mr. Sterling Clark Edwards, second son of the late Mr. Clark Edwards, died this morning at the residence of his mother on Cedar street. For a year the deceased had been a sufferer from lung trouble and his demise had been anticipated for some time. Mr. Edwards was born in this city 27 years ago and spent the greater portion of his life here as a clerk. He was not only well known but made many friends through the amiable qualities he possessed. He was a member of St. Andrew's church. Deceased was married a few years ago to a Miss Rankin, of Ogdensburg, N. Y., who alone survives, there being no children. The other members of the family, in addition to the mother, are two brothers, Lemuel and Robert; two sisters, Lottie and Clara, all of whom reside in New York. Mr. Edwards, when in Detroit, became a member of the Loyal Guards, retaining a membership until his death.

MRS. FRANK A. SULLIVAN.

Mrs. Frank A. Sullivan died yesterday morning at the family residence, 8th concession of Tyendinaga. The deceased was ill but a few days, with congestion of the brain. Mrs. Sullivan was a daughter of the late Mr. George Latta, of Thurlow, and was born in that township 36 years ago. She was an estimable lady and had a host of friends. Deceased was a member of the Methodist church. A husband and three small children are left to mourn the loss of a devoted wife and loving mother. The remains were this afternoon interred in the burying ground at Plainfield.

MRS. MARY KENNEY.

Mrs. Mary Kenney died at the hospital yesterday afternoon, aged 85 years. For many years the deceased had been a resident of this city and was known to many of our citizens. She had been for some time in ill health. The remains were interred this afternoon, after services had been held at St. Thomas' church, conducted by the Rector, Rev. G. R. Beamish.

FOR A RAINY DAY.

Nothing comes so handy on a rainy day as a good Umbrella. The Oak Hall have a full stock in all the latest novelties. Prices run 50 cts. to $5.00. Our $1 line in fast black and waterproof is as good as the best you ever saw at $1.25. When you want an umbrella, you want it bad, don't you?

ABOUT RATHBUN HEIRS.

DESERONTO FAMILY AFFAIRS AIRED BEFORE THE PRIVATE BILLS COMMITTEE AT OTTAWA.

Ottawa, May 23.—Consideration of the Rathbun company's bill developed into a narration of family affairs before the private bills committee of the House of Commons Tuesday morning. The bill by the first clause sought to increase the borrowing powers of the company indefinitely, the limit being 75 per cent.; also to issue bonds at par. Other sections aimed at relieving the company from the application of the companies' clauses act, giving power to issue preference stock and enabling the company to embark in mining and other business.

Mr. Carter, of the company, was not able to give the committee a satisfactory explanation of the first clause and as to the release from the limitations of the companies act the Minister of Justice wouldn't hear of it.

Opposition to the bill came from counsel representing the heirs of Mr. H. B. Rathbun, Mr. Joseph McDougall appeared for Mrs. F. W. Powell, daughter of the late H. B. Rathbun, and her son. Guy M. French; Mr. Hal McGiverin representing the interests of the Misses Hindhaugh, two nieces of the testator, who own $60,000 of stock.

Mr. McDougall explained that Mrs. Powell had been willed $135,000 in shares, which she had transferred to the present head of the company for $74,000, and received something over $10,000 on account, there being some $50,000 still due her.

Mr. Carter represented that this was being paid off and wanted to have the bill passed with a clause which he submitted would protect the heirs in the issue of preference shares.

But on the suggestion of Chairman Belcourt the bill was allowed to stand to give the Minister of Justice an opportunity of looking into it. Had it been passed, the temper of the committee indicated its certain defeat.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Advertisements under this heading TWO CENTS A WORD; subsequent consecutive insertions ONE CENT A WORD. No insertion charged as less than twenty-five words.

At the Baptist Church on Sunday evening five scholars of the Deaf and Dumb Institution were immersed.

On Sunday afternoon fire broke out among a quantity of rubbish thrown on the vacant property on the corner of Station road and Cannifton road. It was put out before any damage was done.

Wanted at once—Printer who can run Typograph, or one who is good compositor and willing to learn machine.

In police circles everything has been exceptionally quiet since Saturday, not an arrest being made.

The police at an early hour this morning discovered a window broken in Mr. Hy. Taylor's store, near the G.T.R. station. It was broken last night by some boys who were discharging fireworks.

The Perth Expositor says: Mr. Fax fairly captivated his audience. He may come back any time and command the best audience Perth can turn out. The Fax-Chambers Concert, Carman Opera House, Monday, June 15.

The Winnipeg Telegram, in its account of the first march-out of the Ninetieth Regiment, pays a compliment to Bugle Major Pringle, formerly of this city, for the way in which he has trained the Ninetieth's Bugle and Drum Band.

Messrs. Connors Brothers, of Toronto and Niagara Falls, have purchased the stock of S. R. Gorman and will open on Saturday. Please wait for bargains. The largest assortment and lowest prices will be offered to the public on that day. We have come to stay and will do business on business principles. Our terms strictly cash and one price. It

CARMAM OPERA HOUSE
Monday, June 1st
GRAND POPULAR ENTERTAINMENT
THE
FAX - CHAMBERS CONCERT

JAMES FAX (the Prince of Humorists) (in costume).
Mrs. FRANCIS T. CHAMBERS (Contralto)
Mr. FRANCIS T. CHAMBERS (Tenor)
and Chaiaupka Orchestra.
Best seats 35c.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

Light Weight Hats

COLORED FELTS AND STRAWS

Latest New York Styles.

No trouble to show them.

S. A. HYMAN & CO.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

SOMETHING ABOUT

The Hosiery You Should Wear.

The buying of a pair of Ladies' or Children's Hose may seem a trifling affair. So it is if you are getting a thoroughly reliable article. But how many do not get what they expect, the sizes are not accurate, the tops are tight and most important of all the color is not fast. We have made a study of the Hosiery question for several years, and claim to have the very best value procurable at the prices we quote.

Here are just a few of our everyday sellers.

IN LADIES'

—Fine Macco Thread Hose in Black at	15 and 20c a pr.
—Fine Black Thread Hose in Cashmere and Lisle, feet in Red, Natural and Grey at	25c a pr.
—Fine Macco Ribbed Hose at	25c a pr.
—Lisle and Lace Hose from	25c to 50c a pr.

IN BOYS'

—Fine Ribbed Heavy Cotton Hose, Double Knees, Heels and Toes, sizes 5 to 10, price	15 to 25c a pr.
—Heavy Ribbed Hose, Fast Black, small sizes from	15c to 25c a pr.

IN GIRLS'

—Fine Cotton and Lisle Hose all sizes from	10c up.

"All goods stamped Hermsdorf Dye."

Laidlaw & Ketcheson

DIRECT IMPORTERS

Daily Intelligencer.

THE INTELLIGENCER IS SOLD AT
J. W. London's and G. Wardhaugh's.

Local Reading Advertisements,
made 50 cents; 2 cents per word first insertion, per word subsequent consecutive insertions. Headlines count as 12 words; contracts for any periods made at office

Snappy
Ginger Snaps

Just fresh made—10c a lb.

Sweet Cream

Just received—40c a quart

CHAS. S. CLAPP

More Vim

Spring debility arises from impure blood and a clogged condition of the system. Our Sarsaparilla Extract with Iodide of Potassium gives just the aid needed. It enriches the blood and gives new vitality. Price 75c a bottle.

McKeown's DRUG STORE

NEW SPRING GOODS

LATEST DESIGNS IN
SPRING TROUSERING.

Spring Overcoating. A nice Line of Waterproof Overcoating, Tweeds and Serges at reasonable prices by the yard.

Call and inspect my stock before ordering your Spring Clothing.

ARTHUR McGIE,
Merchant Tailor.
Front Street.

It takes a long time to tell of what you have not done.

Sterling Silver
and Cut Glass.

Particular attention is directed to my stock of the above goods, which at present is most attractive. I handle the renowned Gorham Silver and Hawkes Cut Glass Ware, being sole agent for this city. These are the best and prices are moderate.

T. BLACKBURN.

The After
Effect

After celebrating Victoria Day we will now get down to business. Watch for close prices in tomorrow's paper.

McINTOSH BROS.

Do Plants Reason?

Do plants think and reason? Mr. Francis Darwin, the distinguished son of a world-famous father, would almost make us believe they do by the lecture he delivered recently in connection with the British Association meeting at Glasgow. Through a long course of experiments and observations, conducted on his father's principle of gathering facts instead of pursuing theories, Mr. Darwin is able to show, by what seems conclusive proof, that plants control to a certain extent their own growth. They adapt themselves to the influence of gravity by means analogous to the instinctive actions of animals. Man does not walk by a reasoned theory of the adaptation of his limbs to the operation of gravity. He walks by instinct, and keeps himself from falling by instinctive motions of his limbs, tutored by organs of sensation. Plants, says Mr. Darwin, grow upwards by similar interaction of organs of sensation and motion. Moreover, each plant interprets correctly the conditions in which it can best grow and thrive. If you turn the tip of a stem downwards, the plant will bend it upwards. Have we here any indication of qualities which in man are called mental? asks Mr. Darwin. Have plants memory and desire? To that tremendous question Mr. Darwin is not yet prepared with a full answer. But he inclines to the belief that mind and life are ever implicated the one with the other. What life is we are no nearer knowing than before. Nor what death is. Nor what is the purpose of change of individuals from so-called life to so-called death, allied with constant reproduction of the type. But if plants have mind and desire, it is a strange thought that the garden rose-tree tortured by prunings, cuttings, and tyings may be sighing with envy of the free dog-rose in the hedgerows.

Garfield's Last Tears.

A pathetic incident is related apropos of the day of fasting and prayer which was appointed by all the governors of the United States at the time President Garfield was removed from Washington, D.C., to Long Branch, in the hope that the change might help him to recover from the bullet wounds inflicted by Guiteau. "Crete," said the President to his brave little wife, about eleven on that Thursday morning, as the ringing strokes from the belfry of the Episcopal Church, almost across from the cottage, reached his ears, "what are they ringing that bell for?" "That?" said Mrs. Garfield, who had been waiting for the surprise—"that's the church where we were when you first came down. They're all going to pray for you to get well;" and, falling on her knees, she said, "and I'm going to pray, too, James, that it may be soon; for I know already that the other prayer has been heard." From where he lay Garfield could see the carriages draw up, and group after group go in. He could even hear the subdued refrain of "Jesus, lover of my soul," as it was borne by on its heavenward way. Thrilled with emotion, a tear trickled down the President's face. Then he closed his eyes and turned his face as a sweet woman's voice arose, singing from one of Sir Michael Costa's oratorios. "Turn Thou unto me, and have mercy upon me," sang the voice, "for I am desolate; I am desolate and afflicted; the troubles of my heart are enlarged. Oh, bring Thou me out of my distresses, out of my distresses, my God!" The people in the church sat almost spellbound under the voice, for the singer was affected deeply, and made it seem to all, what it must have been to her, a prayer in music.

Yankee Advertising in Germany.

"One coming into New York or any other American city must perforce be impressed with the virtues of somebody's soap or pain-killer, painted in letters that seem to fill the landscape, and in London the trams and 'buses are one mass of travelling advertisements," remarks Ray Stannard Baker in the "Outlook." "This disfigurement is unknown in Germany, and yet the Germans have their own effective methods of proclaiming the excellence of their wares. Like everything else, advertising is limited by law; the cities provide certain large wooden columns at street intersections upon which placards may be pasted, and the streets are not disfigured by dead walls bearing patent medicine advertisements. Then, again, look at the gimcrack toy which your boy is playing with, and you will find upon it the words, 'Made in Germany,' and, if you travel in Germany, you will find that you are very persistently plied with circulars and pamphlets by post and otherwise. Last summer Barnum & Bailey's circus visited Germany for the first time, and brought with it American methods of advertising. I am not exaggerating when I say that they paralyzed the Germans—both paralyzed and scandalized them. They didn't think it possible for any business enterprise to make so much noise; it was positively undignified. For the circus managers bought up store windows and store fronts by the hundreds, and their enormous colored prints, such as had never before been seen in Germany, told the wonders of the show to gaping multitudes. They disapproved of all this, but they went to the show."

Summer Knocking.

Sister—Maisy received a box of lovely silk stockings from London yesterday.

Brother—I guess you'll see her on the street every rainy day after this.

Book Postponed.

"How's your new book coming along?" "Oh, I haven't begun it yet." "What's the matter?" "I am busy supplying my publishers with press notices explaining how I came to think of its title."—"Judge."

Bright Boy!

Teacher—What led Columbus to conclude that the world was round?

Bright Boy—Well, his experience with it proved that it was anything but square.—Boston "Transcript."

Marie Corelli at Home.

A correspondent who has been visiting Shakespeare's town, writes that Miss Marie Corelli figures by no means among the least of the local attractions at Stratford-on-Avon. She has quite a large establishment, and her carriage and coachmen are much observed when she drives about. The townspeople do not seem to take her very seriously. She is talked of as being "queer;" a literary person whose ways are naturally a little unconventional. During the early summer it appears that a strolling company of comedians settled down at Stratford for several weeks. Their theater was a big tent, and their repertory was a medley of tragedy, comedy, and vaudeville. Prices varied from sixpence to a shilling, though after nine o'clock a sixpence gave you a choice of seats. To the right of the main entrance a place had been fenced in and hung with draperies and set apart as Miss Corelli's box. She was a regular patron, and seemed to enjoy the performances very much, frequently showing her approval by applause. It was not surprising to find that her books were little known locally, although fabulous stories of their sales and her great profits were current. When Miss Corelli made her home in Stratford-on-Avon, she was then at work on The Master Christian, published last year. To her vexation, she found that the house next to hers was occupied as a private school. It appears that at a certain hour in the day, when she was most engrossed in her work, the classes would be up for calisthenics, and the disturbance became very annoying to Miss Corelli. She wrote to the schoolmistress, and informing her that she was at work on a masterpiece of literature, which she hoped to give to the world in a few months, requested her to change the distracting hour of noisy exercise to one that would be more convenient for her. Miss Corelli received in effect the following reply by return: "Dear Madam,—I beg to remind you that my school was here before you made your home in this town, and that I cannot change the hour of the exercises as you suggest, not even to further the important work upon which you are engaged. Indeed, I may say that if your masterpiece is to be at all like the works which you have already written, anything I can do to prevent its publication will be regarded by me as a blessing to the world."

Like an Employee.

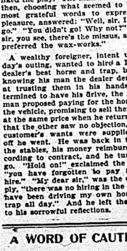
When the night-watchman found a strange man stealing funds from the vault of the bank his indignation knew no bounds. "You've got your nerve!" exclaimed the watchman. "Anybody'd think you was employed here, actually!"—"Puck."

Speaking of sympathetic strikes the other day, Chief Arthur of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers told of one that he conducted when only a boy working on a farm: "The force of hands had dwindled to two, a fellow named Joe and me. The farmer decided to discharge the other fellow, whereupon Joe suggested that I should stop work also, leaving the farmer in a fix. This I did. I went out on a sympathetic strike; but the result was that the farmer hired Joe back again, and I was left out in the cold."

Sir Henry Irving has no special cabby on his nightly transit from the London Lyceum Theater to his home, and when he leaves the theater the first man within call gets the job, and, it may be, a ticket for the pit on some future occasion. One of these occasional cabbies to whom a pass had been given was asked by Sir Henry how he liked the play. The man hesitated, and then, choosing what seemed to be the most grateful words to express his pleasure, answered: "Well, sir, I didn't go." "You didn't go! Why not?" "Well sir, you see, there's the missus, and she preferred the wax-works."

A wealthy foreigner, intent upon a day's outing, wanted to hire a London dealer's best horse and trap, but not knowing his man the dealer demurred at trusting them in his hands. Determined to have his drive, the gentleman proposed paying for the horse and the vehicle, promising to sell them back at the same price when he returned. To that the other saw no objection, so his customer's wants were supplied and off he went. He was back in time at the stables, his money reimbursed according to contract, and he turned to go. "Hold on!" exclaimed the dealer, "you have forgotten to pay for the hire." "My dear sir," was the cool reply, "there was no hiring in the case. I have been driving my own horse and trap all day." And he left the dealer to his sorrowful reflections.

A WORD OF CAUTION.



Dr. PITCHER'S BACKACHE KIDNEY TABLETS

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are prepared from the prescription of Dr. Zina Pitcher (formerly Professor of Materia Medica and Genito Urinary Diseases, Michigan College of Medicine, Detroit, Mich., U.S.A.), which he used with wonderful success for over twelve years in private practice in the Western Hospital, Detroit.

They contain specific ingredients not found in any other kidney remedy, and it is not surprising, therefore, that they make cures in very many cases where other remedies had proved altogether ineffectual.

We would caution you in purchasing the Tablets to see that the accompanying cut, printed in green ink, and Dr. Pitcher's portrait and signature, are printed on the package. Refuse substitutes and imitations, as these are sure to disappoint.

The price of the Tablets is 50c. a box, or three boxes for $1.25, at all druggists, or sent by mail by addressing the Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto, Ont.

AUTO RACERS KILLED SIX

Many Other Persons Maimed by the Flyers in France.

The Spanish Government, Following the Lead of Premier Combes of France, Forbade the Races on Spanish Soil, Thus Compelling Their Complete Abandonment—Serious Blow to the Sport.

Paris, May 26.—It is now possible to assemble from the many reports along the route of the first stage of the Paris-Madrid auto race a complete list of casualties. This shows six persons killed, two so dangerously injured that they may die, and ten seriously injured. During the day it was asserted here that 17 persons had been killed, and that 17 were injured; but this was not warranted.

Bordeaux reports that many of the competitors, including William Charron, Thellier, and Passy desired to abandon the race, but others insisted that their honor required them to resume it at the Spanish frontier, if possible, but the Spanish Government later forbade the races, thus compelling its complete abandonment. The manufacturers have agreed that, as a road race is impossible, the meeting will be resumed within a closed course.

A late despatch from Bordeaux adds another shocking accident to the long list of casualties. Mme. Chaysdeas, accompanied by her husband, both riding bicycles, were watching the passing automobiles 12 miles from Bordeaux, when a horse, frightened by the noise, bolted and overturned the lady, who fell under a racing auto. Both her legs were cut off and the hopes of saving her life are slight.

ASSAULT AND SHOOTING.

James Fram of Otonabee Township Alleged to Have Assaulted Lizzie Stewart and Then Shot Her.

Peterboro', May 25.—Joseph Fram, aged 17 years, in the employ of James Matchett, a farmer, in Otonabee district, it is alleged, attempted to murder Lizzie Stewart, aged 23 years, an adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matchett. On Saturday afternoon the farmer and his wife came to town, leaving young Fram and Miss Stewart the sole occupants of the house. The young woman had been washing her hair, and was drying it before the fire, when, it is alleged, Fram came behind her and attempted to commit an assault. Miss Stewart finally broke loose from his grasp and fled screaming from the house. When Miss Stewart was about ten yards away Fram picked up a gun and fired, hitting her in both legs. The gun was loaded with fine shot. The attending physician extracted several grains of shot and reports that the young woman's condition may become serious should blood-poisoning set in. The shooting occurred about 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Eastern League.

Jersey City.	1	0	1	0	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	—4
Toronto ...	0	0	0	3	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	1	—5

Two-base hit—Massey. Sacrifice hits—Halligan, Massey 2, Downey, Devlin. Bases on balls—Off Briggs 4 (Clement 2, Dillon, Devlin). Hit by pitcher—Golden, Carr. Struck out—By Briggs 1 (Woods). Stolen bases—Golden 2. Left on bases—Toronto 5, Jersey City 7. Time—2.00. Umpire—Shannon. Attendance—0000.

Toronto	0	0	0	0	1	0	1	0	1	—3
Jersey City	0	0	0	0	0	7	0	2	0	—9

Two-base hits—Massey, Halligan, Devlin, Woods, Dillon, Barnett, Cassidy, Kuhns. Sacrifice hits—Hardy, Dillon. Stolen bases—Miller, Devlin. Double-play—Devlin to Cassidy. Struck out—By Hardy 6 (Clement 2, Woods, Dillon, Halligan, Bean), by Barnett 3 (Kuhns, Carr 2). Bases on balls—By Hardy 3 (Halligan, Devlin, Cassidy), by Barnett 4 (Massey, Miller 2, Toft). Hit by pitcher—Miller, Toft. Passed ball—Toft. Left on bases—Toronto 10, Jersey City 6. Time—2.00. Umpire—Shannon.

										R.	H.	E.
Baltimore	1	1	1	0	1	0	0	0	*	—4	9	1
Providence	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	—2	6	1

Batteries—Wiltse and Robinson; Yerkes and Diggins. Umpire—Swartwood. Attendance—000.

Buffalo	3	0	0	0	2	0	0	3	x	—8	10	1
Newark	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	—3	8	1

Hooker and Leroy and Shaw; Pardee and Shea. Umpires—Kelly and Brown. Attendance—3530.

American League Results.

At Detroit—

										R.	H.	E.
Washington	1	0	2	0	2	0	0	0	0	—5	7	2
Detroit	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	—1	9	2

Batteries—Patten and Clarke; Mullin and McAllister. Umpire—O'Loughlin. Attendance—3001.

At Cleveland—

										R.	H.	E.
Cleveland	0	2	0	0	0	0	0	0	*	—2	5	2
Philadelphia	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	—1	4	0

Batteries—Moore and Abbott; Plank and Powers. Umpires—Connolly and Hassett. Attendance—2338.

At St. Louis—

St. Louis	1	1	0	0	2	2	0	0	x	—6	9	1
New York	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	—1	7	1

Sudhoff and Sugden; Chesbro and O'Connor. Umpire—Sheridan. Attendance—1100.

National League Scores.

At Brooklyn—

										R.	H.	E.
Pittsburg	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	—0	3	2
Brooklyn	0	0	0	0	0	1	4	0	*	—5	10	1

Batteries—Leever and Phelps; Garvin and Ritter. Umpire—O'Day. Attendance—2100.

At Philadelphia—

										R.	H.	E.
Chicago	0	3	0	0	2	0	1	2	0	—8	12	5
Philadelphia	0	1	1	2	0	0	0	0	0	—4	9	1

Batteries—Lundgren and Kling; McFetridge and Zimmer. Umpire—Moran. Attendance—2001.

At Boston—

										R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	0	1	0	0	0	0	0	2	0	—3	7	2
Boston	0	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	0	—2	9	1

Batteries—Hahn and Bergen; Platt and Kittredge. Umpire—Emslie. Attendance—2210.

At New York—

New York	1	3	2	0	1	4	0	2	x	—13	13	3
St. Louis	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	0	1	—4	11	10

Taylor, Miller; Bowerman, Brown, Lovett, Weaver. Umpire—Johnstone. Attendance—3573.

East Buffalo Live Stock.

East Buffalo, May 25.—Cattle—Receipts, 4800 head; prime and shipping steers, dull and lower; handy light butchers and female grades, steady; stockers and feeders, light supply and light demand; prime steers, $5.10 to $5.25; shipping, do., $4.70 to $5; butchers' do., $4.25 to $4.85; heifers, $3.50 to $4.75; cows, $3 to $4.25; bulls, $3.25 to $4.25; feeders, $4 to $4.50; stockers, $3.50 to $4.40; stock heifers, $2.75 to $3.50; good fresh cows and springers, steady; others, lower; good to choice, $45 to $50; medium to good, $30 to $43; common, $18 to $25. Veals—Receipts, 960 head; 25c higher; tops, $6 to $6.25; common to good, $4.50 to $5.75.

Weight-distributing.

❧ ❧ ❧

Shoe soles are level and unyeilding.

Foot soles bear upon them at four spots only, viz: at ball and heel, great toe and outer edge.

These are the calloused places, the tired, painy, overworked surfaces.

Nature intended that the whole area of the foot sole should support the body, as a child's foot on sand, an Indian's in a moccasin.

The RESILIA is the only shoe which distributes pressure evenly over the foot sole.

It supports the arch, eases the tired spots, and reduces greatly the labor in walking, as well as minimizing the strain on upper leather and sole of the shoe.

Observe foot sole, lower shoe.

"The Slater Shoe"

For Men and Women, $5.00 a pair.

Sole Agent

J. J. HAINES, BELLEVILLE.

White Blouses

Now is the time for Summer Blouses. Just received another large shipment of Fancy White and Black Blouses. These have been delayed on account of getting the latest styles.

SEE OUR PRICES

Our Plain Waists with Insertion fronts..................	75c
Also Valenciennes and Embroidery Insertion fronts at	$1.00, $1.25 and $1.50
Our special line of Embroidered fronts, very stylish, prices	$2.00 and $2.25

Medallions and Drop Ornaments

A fine assortment of these for trimming, in cream and black. Prices 10, 15 and 20c.

White Gloves

Gloves for summer at attractive prices. See our Fancy Taffeta Silk Gloves, two dome fasteners. Prices 25c, 40c and 50c.

NATHAN JONES.

This Long Hip
Straight Front

Is the very latest Corset. The extra pieces at the side, cover and fit the hips with perfect smoothness, rounding off the lines into an exquisite curve. In no other makes of Corsets will you find this very latest Paris model. The new tight skirts demand that you wear it.

These are the numbers and prices:

D&A

330 LONG HIP,	$1.25
425 DIP HIP,	1.00
110 DIP HIP,	1.00
208 DIP HIP,	1.00
CREST	1.25

For sale by all leading Dry Goods Houses.

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE
FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL — LIBERALITY IN THINGS NOT ESSENTIAL — CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 37. BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, MAY 27, 1903 NO. 22

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Price 25 Cents. Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

O.J.C. Spring Races.

Toronto, May 27.—Third Day.—Yesterday the weather was fine and the track fast.

First Race—3-year-olds and up, ¾ mile, Birch Broom 1, Shrine 2, Healing Salve 3.

Second Race—Athol Steeplechase, green hunters, Major Gilroy 1, Ten Below Zero 2, Dalliance 3.

Third Race—3-year-olds and up, 1 1-16 miles, Benckart 1, Wheeler B. 2, Lou Rey 3.

Fourth Race—Coronation Stakes, Dominion bred, 2-year-olds, ½ mile, Lonpanza 1, Strange Device 2, Conamore 3.

Fifth Race—Breeders' Stakes, Dominion bred, 3-year-olds, 1½ miles, Ayrshire Lad 1, Hawkins 2, War Medal 3.

Sixth Race—3-year-olds and up, ¾ mile, Golden Cottage 1, Decoration 2, Earl of Norfolk 3.

IN THE TWINKLING OF AN EYE

More Death-Dealing Tornadoes in the Western States.

Other Deaths That Were Sudden by the Electric Fluid, by the Explosion of Gas, by the Upsetting of a Coal Oil Lamp at a Wedding Party, by Suicide With Strychnine—Lightning Strikes Hospital.

Lincoln, Neb., May 27. — A despatch from Hastings, Neb., says: A tornado struck Hastings early yesterday, wrecking many residences and damaging several business blocks. No deaths are reported.

Nine persons were killed at Davey and heavy damage is said to have been done at Valparaiso and Saymond. No one was killed at the two last-named towns.

Glenwood, Iowa.—The State Hospital for Feeble-Minded was struck by lightning and two children and eleven persons injured, none fatally. In Munro County two lives were lost, seven were fatally hurt, and many others injured.

Sioux City, Ia.—The St. Paul flyer on the Chicago and Northwestern was wrecked at Whiting, Ia., last night. A tornado had hurled a box car on to the main track and the passenger train crashed into it. The engineer was killed, and four other members of the crew seriously injured.

Pittsburg.—An explosion of gas at the Federal Mine of the Chartier's Coal and Coke Company instantly killed four men. Many others were injured.

Arras, France.—A wedding party at the Citadel Barracks here last night ended tragically with the burning to death of three women and the injuring of twenty-seven persons, eight seriously. A lamp was overturned and set fire to the curtains and decorative hangings.

Buffalo.—Thomas Tannehill, 43, after receiving a letter from his sister, upbraiding him for drinking, took a fatal dose of strychnine. His parents are said to be well-to-do and live at Kamloops, B.C.

350 RENDERED HOMELESS.

Big Fire in New Hampshire Destroys $400,000 Worth of Property.

Laconia, N.H., May 27.—A city in darkness last night, nearly 100 buildings burned, 350 persons made homeless, and a loss of between $350,000 and $400,000, is the story in short of the greatest fire this city ever experienced, if not the state of New Hampshire. The burned district in the Lakeport section covers about 150 acres. The fire caught from an insignificant blaze in the boiler room of the H. H. Wood hosiery mill. In 15 minutes the flames were beyond control.

These Policemen Are Heroes.

New York, May 27.—When police and firemen reached a burning tenement on Fulton street, Brooklyn, early yesterday morning, women and children were at the windows calling for help. Policeman James Haven entered the building, and on the top floor found a woman unconscious. He carried her to a window and then collapsed, having been badly burned about the face and hands. The pain from his injuries crazed him and he had to be placed in a straight jacket at the hospital. He cannot recover. Policemen McAuley and Cook were also seriously burned and will probably be disfigured for life.

Two Will Die.

Columbus, O., May 27.—A Big Four work train, with a gang of Italian laborers on board, collided with several box cars in the local yards yesterday. Two Italians will die and sixteen others were less seriously injured as a result.

Killed by Lightning.

Toronto, May 27.—W. R. Smyth, M.P.P. for Algoma, has received particulars of a sad fatality which occurred in his branch store, at Rock Lake, one day last week. A son of Frank Clark of Ophir Mine was standing in the store during an electrical storm, when a bolt entered the building and killed him instantly, and knocked insensible Mrs. John S. McKay. The boy was standing in a group or seven or eight persons, none of whom was injured, except Mrs. McKay. No damage was done to the store.

Peterboro Man May Be Drowned.

Peterboro, May 27.—Word has been received in town of the supposed drowning yesterday of W. A. Sanderson, who was spending the holiday at his cottage at Stony Lake. Mr. Sanderson went out in his canoe during the afternoon, and, as he did not return in the evening, a search was made, but no trace of him was found until daybreak yesterday morning, when his empty canoe was picked up. Mr. Sanderson was one of Peterboro's most successful business men.

Disfigured For Life.

Kingston, May 27.—The little girl of Sergt. Fowler, "B" Battery, received burns which will probably disfigure her for life. Her dress caught fire from a match, and her face, shoulder and neck were terribly burned. The doctor in attendance hopes to save her life.

Struck by a Trolley.

Toronto, May 27. — It is feared that the trolley claimed another victim last night, when Mrs. Sullivan living at 262 Chestnut street, was struck by a Bathurst street car, and received serious injuries. At midnight, she had not recovered consciousness, and the authorities at Grace Hospital considered her condition as very grave.

Killed His Friend.

Victoria, B. C., May 27. — While shooting at Parksville Monday, Richard Christmas was accidentally shot and killed by W. J. Walker mistaking him for a panther. The men were the best of friends, and he was horror stricken upon investigation to find he had shot Christmas just above the heart.

Fell Dead on Street.

Sarnia, May 27.—William Mitchell, an old resident of this town, dropped dead on the street Monday afternoon, on his way back from the park, where the holiday attractions had been in progress.

12 Lost in Driving Storm.

St. John's, Nfld., May 27.—A severe gale, which swept the coast last Sunday, did much damage to the fishing vessels on the Grand Banks. Peerless of Lunenburg, N.S., has run into this port, and reports having lost 12 men during the storm. Other fishing boats report smaller losses. It is feared that the fatalities will reach a large total.

Will Lose Both Eyes.

Detroit, May 27.—A pitiable accident occurred Monday in Windsor, when Gordon Boug, the 7-year-old son of William Boug, lost the sight of both eyes, by the explosion of a firecracker.

Disabled at Sea.

Halifax, May 27.—Word was received here last night by William Roche, agent of the Hamburg-American line, that the steamer Bulgarian had been passed disabled at sea, on May 20. The steamer is from Hamburg, from Halifax, and has nearly 3,000 passengers on board.

FOR CAMP NIAGARA.

List of Officers on Divisional and Brigade Staffs.

Ottawa, May 27.—It has been decided that a militia camp for training will be held at both London and Niagara-on-the-Lake, lasting in each case from the 9th to the 20th of June. A camp will also be held at Kingston from the 23rd of June to the 4th of July. The army service corps, bearer and hospital companies, engineers, artillery and cavalry will turn out in full strength. The attendance from rural infantry regiments will be limited to the officers, non-commissioned officers and 21 men from each company.

The following units will take part in the Niagara Camp: Divisional troops—No. 2 Co., R.C.R.; No. 2 Co., C.A.S.C., Nos. 4 and 7 bearer companies, Nos. 4 and 77 field hospital companies; 1st Cavalry Brigade, R.C.D.; G.G.B.G. and Dragoons, Toronto Light Horse, 3rd Infantry Brigade, 37th, 39th and 44th Regiments, 4th Infantry Brigade, 12th, 21st., 24th and 36th Regiments.

The following will be the divisional and brigade staffs; Divisional staff—Divisional commander, Col. W. D. Otter, D.A.A.G.; Lieut.-Col. J. Galloway; D. A. Q. M. G.; Capt. and Brevet-Major Gunther; supply officer, Captain Langeon; instructor of musketry. Capt. R. K. Barker, 2nd regiment; P.A.O., Lieut.-Col. W. Nattress; paymaster, Brevet-Lieut.-Col. J. V. Gravely; orderly officer, Capt. C. C. Harbottle, 48th Regiment.

Brigade staffs: 1st Cavalry Brigade—Brigade commander, Col. F. L. Lessard; brigade major, Capt. and Brevet-Major C. M. Nelles, 3rd Infantry Brigade—Brigade commander, Lieut.-Col. Delamere; R.O., Major P. L. Mason, 2nd Regiment, 4th Infantry Brigade—Brigade commander, Lieut.-Col. J. Mason, R.O.; brigade-major, Capt. B. H. Ardagh, 35th Regiment.

TWO MINISTERS DISMISSED.

Signs of a Break-Up of the British Columbia Cabinet.

Victoria, B. C., May 27.—Premier Prior has anticipated the report of the special committee appointed to investigate the C. & W. land scandal, and yesterday afternoon he asked for the resignation of two of the Ministers most intimately associated with that deal, namely, Messrs. Eberts and Wells. This step is believed to be but the prelude to the stirring events which will mark the opening of the House to-day, for the two Ministers concerned are not disposed to accept their degradation meekly, and are preparing counter statements with which to meet the announcement of the First Minister when the House opens.

B.C. Legislature Re-Assembles.

Victoria, B.C., May 27.—The British Columbia Legislature, which has been adjourned three weeks, to investigate the Columbia and Western subsidy, will resume its session today, when a report is expected to be made by the special committee.

TO KEEP GOVERNMENT ROAD

Premier Will Not Hand Over Temiskaming Ry. to G.T. Pacific.

Must Provide For the Poor—Mr. Stratton's Bill Respecting Houses of Refuge Approved—Attorney-General Gibson Moved Quickly at Mr. Downey's Prodding—Certain Loan Companies Have Had to Patch Up Contracts.

Toronto, May 27.—Mr. Ross announced in the House last night that it was no part of the Government railway program to hand over to the Grand Trunk Pacific the railway into the Temiskaming country, which the people are building for the opening up of that immense tract of sparsely settled territory.

The Premier's intention that the Temiskaming Railway shall remain a Government road was given to the House on the discussion of the bill to amend the Temiskaming and Northern Railway Act. The Government might consider the advisability of leasing the road for a sum sufficient to pay the bonds issued for its construction, but the Government was not going to give the road away. Nor did he deem it wise to pay for the road out of the present resources of the province. There was money in the bank, but the province had not got through with works of importance.

Mr. Latchford offered a brief explanation of the bill, which provides for the issue of bonds, instead of debentures, to the amount of about $2,700,000 for the construction of the road and its extensions. It was proposed to dispose of timber limits for the payment of the bonds.

Col. Matheson argued that the road would pass through the most valuable pine lands in the province, and the sale of the pine would pay for the construction. The Colonel had been told that there were lumbermen who would build the road for the pine.

Mr. Latchford—Quite so.

Mr. Ross—The pine is worth more than the road.

Col. Matheson argued that the pine was being frittered away.

Mr. St. John objected that the Government, by order-in-Council, should give away 20,000 acres a mile for 110 miles of road. The time was coming when these lands would not be disposed of by order-in-Council.

The second reading of the bill was carried without further objection.

Poor House Bill.

In moving the second reading of the bill respecting municipal houses of refuge in the Legislature, Hon. Mr. Stratton said the bill provided that every county or union of counties shall before Jan. 1, 1904, erect for such county or union of counties a house of refuge for the reception of indigent persons. There were twenty-two counties which have established institutions of this nature and twenty-one counties which have not. There were at the present time in the county jails a large number of persons whose only crime was that they were poor. Fifty-four persons were confined in twelve cells in the jail at Cobourg, and the statistics of several other counties were quoted in this connection.

The bill passed its second reading.

Loan Corporations Act.

On the House going into committee to consider the Attorney-General's bill to amend the Loan Corporations Act, Mr. Downey rose and held up an agreement of a loan company which collects money from children on savings bank deposits, and read a clause providing that the depositor may withdraw after payments have been made for five full years, and that was the method of doing business which he objected to. The Government ought to see that corporations doing this class of business return the amount deposited if for some reason the deposits may cease at a period under five years.

A Contract Outrage.

When he called the attention of the Attorney-General a few days ago to this feature of the contract, Mr. Gibson had declared that no such contract existed, and if his attention was called to it he would strike the company off the list.

Mr. Downey declared that he had endeavored to secure a copy of the contract referred to from the office of the Inspector of Friendly Societies, and it was not there, but on Monday he was able to secure one from that source, and found that a change in the contract, had been made providing that depositors may withdraw at any time, but no interest is allowed if money is taken out short of five years. It was nothing short of an outrage that a circular like the one he read should have been in existence for two years without some action being taken by the proper authorities, and only changed after the attention of the Government had been called to the matter by a member of the House.

Questioned Mr. Downey's Motives.

Mr. Gibson said Mr. Downey was trying to make political capital out of the affair rather than to rectify an abuse. There was a method of dealing with these companies, which was to call their attention to the abuses, and it was within the power of the Government to refuse registration to companies which did not fulfil the law.

Mr. Downey said that if, after he had served as long as the Attorney-General, and his conduct had been no less open to censure than the speaker's, he would be slow to upbraid a new member for calling attention to what he considered a dereliction of duty.

Mr. Carscallen (Hamilton) said that provisions should be inserted in the bill compelling loan companies to publish a list of unclaimed balances, and taking away the privilege afforded by the statute of limitations. He cited a Buffalo company, which erected a $2,000,000 building out of funds that had been deposited with it and forgotten. He knew a man who forgot he had $300 in a bank in Ontario.

The bill was reported, with amendments.

The House also went into committee to consider two resolutions of the Attorney-General to amend the "Loan Corporations Act" and "The Land Titles Act."

Power Bill Suggestions.

The House went into committee on Premier Ross' power bill.

Mr. Whitney objected to the passage of the clause which will prevent municipalities from collecting a higher rate of taxation than that fixed by the Municipal Act, and held that such clause would practically debar municipalities from going into power development.

Mr. Carscallen and Dr. Nesbitt also thought this clause would render nugatory the provisions of the bill.

The Premier said one good effect of the bill would be the prevention of extortionate prices by the three companies, as in the event of a combine the municipalities could by union prevent high prices. There was nothing in the clause to prevent a number of municipalities joining and asking for special legislation to override it.

Mr. Whitney thought the latter was a vicious principle; the bonus system was a sample of that kind of legislation whereby municipalities were given privileges denied them by the Act. He also objected to centralizing the affairs of the municipality in the Chief Justice, who could not do the work as well as the municipalities.

Public Not Protected.

The discussion was continued after recess.

Mr. Foy found fault with the agreements made with the power companies. There ought to have been something inserted to protect the public from excessive rates. Agreements of the importance of these should be submitted to the legislature, so that the people might hear of them. The power at Niagara Falls belonged to the public, and the public should receive the benefit of it.

Dr. Nebitt said that the municipalities should have the privilege of saying how many commissioners should be appointed by the Chief Justice.

Various objections to the bill were noted by the Premier, and he promised to consider them before the bill was again taken up in committee.

Windsor School Property.

Mr. Harcourt's bill, respecting the property of Public and Separate Schools in Windsor, was discussed in committee, and an amendment inserted, that the report of the arbitrators who are to be appointed to fix the proportionate ownership of the Windsor school buildings between the Protestants and Roman Catholics shall be subject to an appeal to the Court of Appeal.

NO MERCY FOR STRIKERS.

Seventeen of the Striking Car Men at Montreal Were Fined.

Montreal, May 27.— The Montreal Street Railway Company operated about 70 cars yesterday. There was no opposition.

The men arrested on Sunday for lawlessness are not receiving mercy in the courts. Yesterday seventeen were fined from $3 to $10 each for such offences as shouting "Scab!" and unlawful assembly, and Joseph Limoges, a striker, who was once a policeman, got six months at hard labor for hitting an officer with a sign which he tore from a passing car. Ten others were remanded for investigation, and warrants were issued for further arrests.

ONTARIO FARMERS HAPPY.

One Inch of Rain Fell to Gladden Their Hearts.

Toronto, May 27.—According to Mr. Stupart, of the Observatory, about one inch of rain fell over this part of the province. General rains extending as far east as Montreal are expected to follow this opening up of the rain clouds.

In the Niagara fruit gardens the rain has done inestimable good.

The weather officials state that there is every probability of general rains and unsettled weather for the next ten days. It will affect the greater part of Ontario, and will gradually extend westward.

To Navigate the Assiniboine.

Winnipeg, May 27.—A boat will start this week to sound the Assiniboine River, from Winnipeg, as far west as Brandon. It is believed that the river bed can be put in excellent condition for freight steamers at little cost.

NOTHING GOES RIGHT.

Nothing goes right while the stomach and bowels are wrong. Angier's Petroleum Emulsion is the ideal remedy for all forms of stomach and bowel disorders. It aids digestion, improves nutrition, creates rich, red blood, firm flesh, and makes life well worth living. Pleasant to take.

Good for Baby

Any baby will thrive on Nestlé's Food. It is wholesome, nourishing and easily digested. Twenty five years of use has proved its value.

Nestlé's Food

Sample (sufficient for eight meals) Free.

LEEMING, MILES & CO., MONTREAL.

THE. MARKETS.

Wheat Markets Are Steady—Coarse Grains Firmer at Chicago — Live Stock Markets—The Quotations.

Tuesday Evening, May 26.

Liverpool.—Wheat—Futures closed unchanged at Liverpool to-day from yesterday, and corn futures ⅛d to ¼d higher.

At Chicago July wheat closed ⅛c lower than yesterday; July corn ⅛c higher, and July oats, ⅛c higher.

LEADING WHEAT MARKETS.

Following are the closing quotations at important wheat centres to-day:

	Cash.	May.	July.	Sept.
New York	....	....	78¾	75¾
Chicago	....	75¾	73¾	70¾
Toledo	74¾	74¾	73¾	72
Duluth, No. 1 N.	78¾	75¾	78¾	71¾

TORONTO ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Grain—

Wheat, red, bush	$0 74½ to	$....
Wheat, white, bush	0 74	0 74½
Wheat, spring, bush	0 71	....
Wheat, goose, bush	0 67	....
Barley, bush.	0 46	....
Beans, bush.	1 30	1 50
Beans, hand-picked	1 75	....
Peas, bush.	0 78½	....
Rye, bush.	0 42	....
Oats, bush.	0 34	0 34½
Buckwheat, bush.	0 43	....

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Unchanged—New York, Chicago and Other Quotations.

London, May 26.—Live cattle steady at 11½c to 12c per lb. for American steers, dressed weight; Canadian steers, 10½c to 11½c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9c to 9¼c per lb. Sheep, 12½c to 13½c, dressed weight.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock were: 55 carloads composed of 882 cattle, 300 hogs, 219 sheep and lambs, 100 calves.

Exporters—Best loads of exporters sold at $5.00 to $5.15 per cwt., medium to good at about $4.75 to $4.90.

Export Bulls—Choice quality bulls sold at $4 to $4.15 per cwt.; good bulls sold at $3.50 to $3.85 per cwt.

Export Cows—Export cows sold at $4.00 to $4.25 per cwt.

Butchers' Cattle—Choice picked lots of butchers', weighing from 1025 to 1150 lbs. each, equal in quality to best exporters, sold at $4.75 to $4.85; loads of good sold at $4.00 to $4.70; fair to medium, $4.35 to $4.50; common, $3.65 to $3.75; rough to inferior, $3.55 to $4.00 per cwt.

Short-keep Feeders—Good steers, 1100 to 1200 lbs. each, are worth $4.50 to $4.75 per cwt.

Feeders—Steers of good quality, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, are worth $4 to $4.40 per cwt.

Stockers—One year to two-year-old steers, 400 to 700 lbs. each, are worth $3.30 to $3.75 per cwt.; off-colors and of poor breeding quality of same weights are worth $3 per cwt.

Milch Cows—Milch cows and springers are worth $26 to $50 each.

Calves—Calves sold at $2 to $10 each, or from $4.50 to $5.50 per cwt.

Sheep—Prices, $3.75 to $4.25 per cwt. for ewes, and bucks at $3 to $3.25.

Spring Lambs—Prices steady at $3.50 to $4.50 each.

Hogs—Best select bacon hogs, not less than 160 lbs., nor more than 200 lbs. each, off cars, sold at $5.00 per cwt.; lights and fats at $5.65; sows, $4 to $4.50 per cwt., and stags, $2 to $3 per cwt.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, N. Y., May 26.—Cattle—Light supply, quiet; veals, steady; tops $6.00 to $6.25; common to good, $4.50 to $5.90. Hogs—Receipts, 700; heavy, 5c to 10c lower; heavy, $6.35 to $6.40; mixed, $6.25 to $6.30; Yorkers and light Yorkers and pigs, $6.25 to $6.30; roughs, $5.35 to $5.50; stags, $4.00 to $4.50. Sheep and lambs—Receipts, 800 head; steady; top lambs, $7.00 to $7.15; culls to good, $4.00 to $6.90; yearlings, $4.50 to $5.00; ewes $3.75 to $4.00; sheep, top mixed, $4.00 to $4.25; culls to good, $2.00 to $3.75.

BASEBALL TUESDAY.

The Eastern League.

R.H.E.
Rochester ....0 0 2 0 1 1 0 0 1—5 15
Worcester ....0 0 0 1 0 0 2 3 3—10 16

Batteries—Becker and Steelman; Pappalau and McCauley. Umpire—Latham. Attendance—205.

R.H.E.
Buffalo ....3 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 x—4 9
Newark ....1 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—3 8

Batteries—Ferry, Milligan and Shaw; Moriarity and Shea. Umpires—Kelly and Brown.

R.H.E.
Baltimore ....1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 2—3 7
Providence ....0 1 0 0 0 4 3 0 0—8 14

Batteries—Wiltse, Gettig, Souders and Fuller; Coan and Diggins. Umpire—Swartwood. Attendance—642.

National League Scores.

At Philadelphia— R.H.E.
Cincinnati .. ....0 0 0 0 5 0 4 1 0—10 13
Philadelphia ....0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—1 7

Batteries—Suthoff and Bergen; Fraser and Zimmer. Umpire—O'Day. Attendance—1551.

At Boston— R.H.E.
Boston ....0 0 1 1 1 1 0 0 0—4 10
Pittsburg .... ..0 1 2 0 0 5 0 2 0—10 15

Batteries—Malarkey and Moran; Kennedy, Doheny, Smith and Phelps. Umpire—Johnstone. Attendance—2750.

At New York— R.H.E.
New York ....2 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1—4 8
Chicago ....0 0 2 0 0 1 0 0 1—3 6

Batteries—Matthewson, Bowerman and Warner; Taylor and Kling. Umpire—Emslie. Attendance—12,327.

At Brooklyn— R.H.E.
Brooklyn .. ....2 0 0 3 6 0 1 1 *—13 10
St. Louis ....0 0 0 0 0 0 1 3 2—6 8

Batteries—Schmidt and Ahearn; M. O'Neill, Lovett and J. O'Neill. Umpire—Moran and Holliday. Attendance—2100.

American League Results.

At Chicago— R.H.E.
Chicago ....0 0 0 0 2 0 0 1 *—3 7
Boston ....0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 1—2 5

Batteries—Dunkle and Sullivan; Hughes and Criger. Umpire—Carruthers. Attendance—2100.

At Detroit— R.H.E.
St. Louis ....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 4
Detroit ....0 0 3 0 0 0 0 0 *—3 8

Batteries—Powell and Sugden; Kitson and McGuire. Umpires—O'Loughlin and Hassett. Attendance—1703.

At Cleveland— R.H.E.
Cleveland ....0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 1—2 6
Philadelphia .....2 3 0 0 1 0 2 0 0—8 11

Batteries—Wright, Dorner and Bemis; Waddell and Schreck. Umpire—Connolly. Attendance—3157.

SINCLAIR'S AD SINCLAIR'S AD.

Special Wash Goods Values

All This Week.

Thousands of Goods to Select From.

See Our New Shirt Waists

See Our Ladies' Dress Skirts

Kabo Corsets have won a world-wide reputation for excellence. They

Fit Well
Feel Well
Wear Well
Look Well

We have a great variety of styles comprising the latest designs and exclusive novelties and can fit you perfectly

Call and see our new spring style Kabos.

D. V. SINCLAIR & CO.

Daily Intelligencer.

BALLOT BOX STUFFING IN THE YUKON!

WILL THE GOVERNMENT INVESTIGATE? NO!

The work of the electoral machine is not confined to Ontario and Quebec, but extends to the Yukon.

On the 2nd of December, 1902, the first Dominion election was held in the Yukon Territory, which resulted in the election of Mr. Ross, the Government candidate, the vote as returned standing Ross 2971; Clarke, Oppositionist 2079; with spoiled ballots 100.

On the 17th of January, 1903, Territorial Council elections were held, and on that occasion Clarke was triumphantly elected. Singularly enough, although the interest in the latter contest was as keen as in the first, the aggregate vote fell off very materially.

The explanation is now found in the election returns, which, upon investigation, show that at Miller's Creek, with a population of only 46, Ross polled 161 votes; and that at Cariboo Crossing, with a population of only 20, Ross had recorded in his favor no less than 109 votes. What occurred at other poles may be inferred from the two quoted. With these facts before them, people in other parts of the Dominion will no longer wonder that Mr. Ross' majority was 892.

Well may it be said that no "more glaring case of wholesale ballot box stuffing has ever been brought to light in this country. The Federal Government has made it plain that the methods of the Ontario machine are to play a prominent part in Dominion elections. The honest voter is thus placed at the mercy of men who should be in the penitentiaries, while they are at large, anything like proper parliamentary representation is placed beyond the bounds of possibility. It is a curse to Canada that such crimes should be condoned by men at whose hands the country should look for pure government. The day of reckoning is coming and those responsible for the degradation of the franchise will receive the punishment which they deserve." If they do not, it will be evidence of the total political demoralization of a majority of the electors of the Dominion.

ICE CREAM SUNDYS
5 cts.
Fifteen Flavors.
J. ARTHUR MARSH.

TIMELY TOPICS.

The swearing has all been done in the Gamey case, and now the judges are doing some hard thinking. If they think as hard as some of the defence witnesses swore, it will be hard thinking, indeed!

• • •

Only four more days, and the month of weddings will be upon us. Gracious, doesn't it make you excited to think of all the lovely June brides.

• • •

There's the very mischief to pay over that street car strike in Montreal. And some people would actually like to see the cars running again in Belleville!

• • •

"Undoubtedly," says the Stony Lonesome philosopher, "if ever a man wants a couple of days rest it is just after he's had a day's holiday."

• • •

We forgot, yesterday, to express our regret at the fact that the S.O.E. Fife and Drum Band was conspicuous by its absence at the head of the S.O.E. procession on Sunday last.

• • •

How would you like to live in New Zealand, where you would have the privilege of placing your own valuation on your property for the purpose of taxation, the Government reserving the right to buy it of you at an advance of 20 per cent. over the valuation you have made.

• • •

WE ALL KNOW 'EM.
(Ottawa Citizen.)

This great family journal is just in love with those so-called prominent Conservative workers who get prominently to work about four weeks before election day and who spend the intervening four years doing their little best to wreck the party's chances.

• • •

That was rather a queer appeal Mr. Johnston made in the closing words of his speech to the judges in the Gamey investigation, in which he expressed a hope that as a result of the finding, the Premier of the province would not have to go down hiding his face in sorrow to his grave. The spectacle of the great bulldozer asking for pity, rather than justice, is not an edifying one. He must have felt that his clients were hard hit, indeed!

• • •

That resolution passed yesterday by the Methodists of this district was a body blow for Ross and his fellow-dodgers. It is worthy of note that the resolution was moved and seconded by two life-long Liberals. The mover said he had always had esteem for Ross, in fact they had been bosom friends since attending the same grammar school, but after the Premier's treatment of the temperance people they had come to the parting of the ways.

• • •

The Hon. G. Washington Ross will see by and by that, in the words of the immortal Lincoln, "You can fool part of the people all the time and all of the people part of the time," but he can't fool all the temperance people all the time.

• • •

Mr. T. C. Robinette, the eminent Toronto lawyer, talking to a reporter, said: "I am living at Center Island now, and have already seen enough to make me believe that swimming lessons should form part of every well educated child's life. Take last night's fatality, for instance."

• • •

Toronto had twelve fires on Monday, caused by fireworks. Seems to be a moral concealed about that story somewhere.

• • •

"The presumed immorality of Mr. Gamey," says the Montreal Gazette, "pleased all those who were most to profit by it, and was given the stamp of official approval. Dishonor joyed over dishonor, and showed it. But this was not all. There is before the court $1,500 in cash, and evidence that another $1,200 was handed over, to show that control of patronage was not all that Mr. Gamey received. The money did not come out of the pockets of the tools who figured in the negotiations. Their interest in the present administration is not large enough to suggest that to retain it in power they would spend their own funds in such reckless way. If the money had belonged to the Sullivans there would have been no need of witnesses forgetting or asking others to forget what they knew of the transactions connected with the case in which they had figured."

• • •

There is nothing to equal the liberality of professed Liberals. In the House of Commons the other day, while the estimates were being discussed, it transpired that the sheriff of a certain territory had been paid two salaries, one by the Department of Justice and another by the Department of the Interior. Of course this sheriff is a pet of Sifton's.

• • •

The Government, as a result of strong condemnation from the Opposition in Parliament, has promised to investigate the jobs arising out of the concessions granted to favorites in the Yukon.

• • •

Hon. J. R. Stratton, speaking at a church picnic, said he was sure the people of Ontario had not lost confidence in him. Perhaps this is another case of "Take nothing from nothing, and nothing remains."

• • •

The weather man in Toronto has turned over a new leaf. He now says the dryness is over, and for some time now we may expect general showers, rising temperature and a good growing time. That will cause rising spirits and good nature.

• • •

It will interest the ladies to know that, on one day next month, there will be three weddings from one city church, and another church will furnish two on another day. Vive la Cupid!

• • •

Perhaps it's none of our affair, but some of those straw hats do look dreadfully familiar.

• • •

The only way to suppress slander is for everybody to quit listening.

HEAR DAVID ROSS SING.

Do not fail to hear Canada's leading baritone, David Ross, sing in Bridge St. Methodist Church to-morrow (Thursday) evening at the concert given by the choir. Admission 25 cents.

Special Great Mid=Season Sale

Beginning Saturday, May 16th, 1903.

Just a Moment, Don't Fail to Read.

The dollar rules the commercial world—to a very great extent. Prompt dollars bring us merchandise that, enable us to sell to you at extraordinary prices. To prepare for a further new stock of Summer goods, we find we can clear off a quantity of spring materials, new ideas and fresh goods are continually being introduced. We must have them. We therefore invite you to this Great Sale where you will find that facts speak with greater force than elongated statements. So come and see for yourself. The goods and prices do the talking.

A Few of the Lines

Men's English Blue Serge Suits, all sizes 34 to 40 at - $3.50

Men's Spring Suits, Dark Grey Halifax Tweed, made single breasted with French Facings, worth $7.00, our price - $4.00

Men's spring Suits, Black or Blue twill serge suits, made single breasted with French facings, worth $8.00 our price - $4.50

The finest and nobbiest assortment of Boys' two and three piece suits in the city. All sizes and at low prices.

The Globe Clothing House
Up-to-date Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers.
390 FRONT STREET, LOOK FOR THE GLOBE OVER THE DOOR

ELECTED BY ACCLAMATION.

MR. JOHN FLEMING WILL FILL THE UNEXPIRED TERM OF THE LATE RICHARD PORTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Tweed, May 26.

At the nomination meeting in the Town Hall here to-day, to choose a representative to fill the unexpired term in the County Council of the late R. T. Porter, John Fleming, ex-Reeve of Huntingdon, was elected by acclamation.

The only other nominees were John Stokes, of Tweed and Gilbert Foster, of Moira.

The former resigned in favor of Mr. Fleming and Mr. Foster withdrew his nomination after the meeting was over.

King Philip's farewell tournament to the Princes, Knights and Nobles immediately preceding their memorable pilgrimage from France to the Holy City, as depicted in Ringling Brothers' pantomimic and spectacular production of Jerusalem and the Crusades, is a panoramic scene of thrilling tilting and jousting contests and furious broadsword battles, together with wonderful exhibitions of superb horsemanship.

Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

FINE OLD LADY DEAD.

PASSED AWAY THIS MORNING AFTER A LONG AND USEFUL LIFE.

Mrs. Lovica Collins, wife of the late Mr. Edward Collins, died this morning at the residence of her son, Mr. Archie Collins, 7th concession of Tyendinaga. Deceased was in her 82nd year and had resided all her life in this vicinity. She was an estimable woman, beloved by all who knew her. For a great many years Mrs. Collins had been a consistent member of the Methodist church. She had been ill for about three months, and her demise had been anticipated for some days. A family of six sons and three daughters survive. The sons are: John, George and Edward, of Thurlow; Archie and James, of Tyendinaga, and Hugh, of this city. The daughters are: Mrs. Jas. Parks, of Thurlow; Mrs. Thos. Sullivan, of Deloro, and Mrs. L. Cole, of Mount Pleasant, Mich.

ALL DRUGGISTS WARRANT EVERY BOTTLE.

If troubled with rheumatism, give Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. It will not cost you a cent if it does no good. One application will relieve the pain. It also cures sprains and bruises in one-third the time required by any other treatment. Cuts, burns, frostbites, quinsy, pains in the side and chest, glandular and other swellings are quickly cured by applying it. Every bottle warranted. Price, 25 and 50 cents. For sale by all druggists.

"THOUSAND ISLAND RAMBLES."

Str. "North King" will commence her popular Thousand Island rambles on 31st May, leaving Belleville at 3.25 a.m. Sundays. Fare $1.00. Steamer leaves at 11.88 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. fm26d&w3m

AFTERMATH OF AN OLD TRAGEDY

Man Who Committed a Murder in This City Just Dead at Seattle

Escaped from Kingston, After Being Sentenced to Imprisonment for Life

Crime Took Place at an old Race Track, Down on the Kingston Road

A despatch from Seattle, Wash., says that a man died there on Monday evening last, who, prior to his demise, confessed that his right name was John Jose, and that he had escaped from Kingston, Ont., penitentiary twenty years ago, after serving nine years for the murder of a man named A. Adams, at this city.

Many people in this vicinity will recollect the affair. Jose and Adams were rivals for the affections of a girl, and the former followed his victim to the old race track, down on the Kingston road, where he shot him with a revolver. It is said that he tried to kill the girl afterwards, but she escaped him.

Jose was tried in this city on a charge of murder, and was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged, his sentence being commuted to imprisonment for life. He was sent to Kingston and, after serving nine years, escaped. He was known to have taken a boat in which to cross to the U. S. shore. Some time afterwards the boat was found, adrift, and it was surmised that the fugitive was drowned. Now, if the story from Seattle is true, the mystery has been cleared up.

BOYS' SHIRT WAIST SALE.

Last announcement of our sale of boys' shirt waists at the Oak Hall. We have had wonderful success with this sale and the sizes are now becoming broken. Mothers of boys who have not secured any of these waists should come quick. While they last for 50 cents each.

FIRE NEAR ALBERT COLLEGE.

GAVE THE BRIGADE A RUN THIS AFTERNOON—BARN BURNED—HORSE DROPPED DEAD.

An alarm from College Hill gave the brigade a run at a few minutes to 3 o'clock this afternoon. It is alleged that children playing with matches set fire to a large barn on Donald St., near Albert College, owned by Mrs. Margaret Bronk. Some household goods were stored in the barn, which was burned to the ground. Near the barn is a large double house, occupied by Mrs. Bronk and another family. The house caught fire two or three times, but by good work the firemen succeeded in saving it. The barn was insured in the Queen's, but for what amount is not known at present.

While en route to the fire the horse attached to No. 1 hose cart dropped dead near the upper bridge, where it now lies.

Delegates to Grand Lodge.

At the regular meeting of Mizpah Lodge, I.O.O.F., held on Monday evening, Bros. John Thompson and W. A. Lazier were selected as representatives to the Grand Lodge. The gathering will take place at Hamilton in August.

JUST WHAT YOU NEED.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are just what you need when constipated; when you have no appetite, feel dull after eating and wake up with a bad taste in your mouth. They will improve your appetite, cleanse and invigorate your stomach and give you a relish for your food. For sale by all druggists.

Military Notes.

The Forty-ninth Regiment will go into camp at Barriefield, near Kingston, on June 23, the camp breaking up on July 4.

The following officers of the Forty-ninth have been awarded the Colonial Auxiliary Forces' officers' decorations: Major A. H. Smith and Capt. J. W. Arnott.

The artillery camp will open at Deseronto on June 23.

In order to correctly round out the picture, the characters, costumes, accoutrements and scenery portrayed in Ringling Brothers' unequalled production of Jerusalem and the Crusades, the costliest pipe organ ever constructed is shown in the church settings. This organ is one of extraordinary volume and richness of tone, and excels instruments of a similar kind found in the famous old cathedrals of Europe. Accompanied by the instrument, a grand chorus of 200 specially selected voices rise and blend in classical selections, filling with wonderfully sweet harmony the vast canvas amphitheatre, capable of comfortably seating twenty thousand people.

Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

WHAT A BELLEVILLE BOY THINKS OF INDIA.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM A FORMER MARCHMONT LAD.

It will be remembered that, at the time of the recent unpleasantness in South Africa, The Intelligencer published some letters from a young fellow who, after residing some time in Sidney, had gone back to England and enlisted in the regular service, being sent to South Africa, and, at the conclusion of the war, to India. He was a Marchmont boy, and while in this vicinity, worked for Mrs. C. W. Young, of the 1st Con. Sidney, who lately received a letter from him, from which the following extracts are taken:

14th Howitzer Battery,
Cawnpore, India,
April 16, 1903.

Dear friend,—It has been my luck ever since leaving Canada to go to warmer climates. Africa was warm enough, when driving on the veldt day in and day out. This country beats them all for heat and I do not wish to go to any warmer climate. You might remember that we sent Boer prisoners of war over here, and when one of them was asked what he thought of India he replied, "If there is any hotter climate than India it must be hell." For my part I am just beginning to think the same. Naturally enough you will wonder how a white person stands the heat on the plains, so I shall the heat on the palins, so I shall try and explain to you as far as possible. If you are rich you can go and reside in the hills during the hot weather, which is much cooler, or equal to your summer. A soldier must stay at the different stations no matter how warm it is, so Government helps to provide for their comfort. In our bungalows, or sleeping rooms, and over our dining tables and in our offices are large frames of wood hung on wire, fixed so as to swing when pulled by ropes. On these frames are canvas cloth between every two beds, and the same over your tables or any place you rest or work. These things are called Punkahs. They are pulled night and day by natives employed for that purpose, and when pulled they act just like a fan. Over every door we have lattice work of bamboo covered with mosquito curtain. These things answer two purposes. The first is they keep out, or help to, flies and those pretty little things you know, the mosquito. Then water is thrown upon these curtains during the heat of the day, and that makes the air cooler when passing through. When we retire for the night we lie with a mosquito net of very fine muslin (or whatever you may call it) over us to keep cool and have peace from those awful things mosquitoes. Our parades commence at five o'clock in the morning and we are finished at nine until five at night, when we again turn out to do one hour's stable work. This way of working keeps us from being out in the midday heat and we can sleep, read, write or knit socks or shawls during the day in our rooms. I might also mention that our church parades on Sundays for all religions commences at six o'clock in the morning, so you see by this everything is fixed for our comfort as much as possible. No matter where you go around here amongst the white people and upper class of natives these comforts are to be seen in their houses and churches and workshops. You will say what a queer country to live in, but the more one travels the funnier sights you see, and I almost think I could write a book on things I have noticed on my travels since last I saw you. Since coming here I have put in an application for a course of scientific farming on the Government farms, but am not certain of being accepted, but I hope so. The papers you spoke of sending have not arrived yet, so they may come next mail day. You know I like to read the Belleville papers to see how things are going on. I notice Mr. R. J. Graham is now Mayor of Belleville; he ought to be a very good man for that office. Hope to hear of you getting the cement works at Point Ann. Oh, will you tell me how the oil boring turned out about four years ago, was it a failure or what become of it? You have no electric cars now, I believe. I remember well the first day they commenced, for Pawnee Bill's circus was in town and they had a very good day. I am still working in the pay office, and it is very tiresome work out here. You will please remember me to all the folks and hope you will write again at your earliest opportunity and oblige

Your sincere friend,
WILL K. WARD.

57—62. THE CRITICAL AGE.

Height of vigor past—nature's power slowing down, vitality less, recuperative power less, endurance less. Stop the progress of decay, tone up the weakened nerve centres, impart vigor to the tiring brain, prepare for the crisis. A means of remarkable potency in the renewal of decreasing vigor is found in Ferrozone. It brightens up the whole being, imparts a sense of power and strength. By the use of Ferrozone old age is pushed back twenty years. Ferrozone gives strength, vigor, endurance, vim. Your druggist has it. Get a box to-day.

DEATHS

EDWARDS—On May 26th, Sterling Clark Edwards, aged 27 years.

The funeral will take place from the residence of his mother, Cedar street, on Thursday afternoon, May 28th, at 2.30. Service at the house at 2 o'clock.

Results from common soaps: eczema, coarse hands, ragged clothes, shrunken flannels.
SUNLIGHT SOAP REDUCES EXPENSE
Ask for the Octagon Bar

THE WEATHER.

To-day's Probs.—

Fresh to strong southeasterly to southwesterly winds, showers and thunderstorms to-day and on Thursday; fair at intervals.

To-day's Temperature

As Registered by The Intelligencer's Guaranteed Thermometer:

8 a.m.	60
12 m.	76
2 p.m.	83
3 p.m.	83

REIGN OF The Leather Bag

The Leather Bag in its many forms of varied attractiveness is everywhere in evidence this year and promises to hold its popularity for some time to come.

THE BAG IS THE RAGE

There are SOUND REASONS for this; it is not a mere fad. Our goods are right in line with the spirit of the times.

Angus McFee.
Jeweler & Optician
310 Front St.

P.S.—In the matter of the new Blouse Pin Sets we show everything that is "taking" in the larger centers.

Specials in Millinery
Sale of Sailor Hats.
We bought too many.
15 doz. cleared at
HALF PRICE.
White and Colored.
ALL NEW.
Also some very choice Dress Hats just received.
GET FIRST CHOICE.
MISS IRWIN
Millinery and Corset Specialist

When the Liver, Kidneys or Urinary organs require toning the MAGI Caledonia Waters have proven ther efficacy. J.J. McLaughlin, sole agent, Toronto. Sold by best dealers everywhere.

At Wallbridge & Clarke's
OLIVES

Wallbridge & Clarke offer a large assortment of fancy Olives of the finest quality in bottles at 10 to 50c per bottle.

SPANISH QUEEN OLIVES—
Crosse & Blackwell's
at 20 and 40 cts.

SPANISH QUEEN OLIVES—Club House Brand
at 20 and 40 cts.

SPANISH QUEEN OLIVES—
Selected
at 20, 35 and 50 cts.

MANZANILLA OLIVES—
at 10 and 20 cts.

STUFFED OLIVES—
Manzanilla Olives pitted and stuffed with pimentos (Spanish Sweet Pepper).
at 15, 25 and 40 cts.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE
Est. 1871
BRIDGE STREET
Branch store Front St.

Coin Pay Envelopes at The Intelligencer Job Office. Cheapest and best in the city.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M.D., C.M., M.R. C.S., England.
Office and Residence — Corner of Bridge and George streets — three streets East of Post Office.

DR. J. F. MATHER
Has removed his office to Pinnacle St., three doors north of Hotel Quinte. my29-6mw

LEGAL.

WILLS & WRIGHT,
Barristers, Solicitors, Notary Public, &c., Belleville.
Office—8 Campbell Street.
MALCOLM WRIGHT. J. FRANKLIN WILLS.
Money to Loan at Lowest Rates.

W. C. MIKEL, B. C. L.,
Barrister, &c.
Solicitor for the City of Belleville.
Office—Metropolitan Block, Corner Front and Campbell Streets.

PORTER & CARNEW,
Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc.
Offices — Robertson Block, East Front St., Belleville, Ont.
'Phone 87.
E. G. PORTER. WM. CARNEW.

WILLIAM N. PONTON,
Barrister-at-law, Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge Street, Belleville.
Money to Loan — Private Funds. Solicitor Sun and Hastings Savings and Loan Company of Ontario.

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE,
Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.
Barrister, Solicitor, Conveyancer, Etc. Office, McAnnany Building, corner Front and Bridge Sts., Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 5 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security.
Charges moderate.

INSURANCE.

Fire Insurance.

Guardian	Est'd 1821
The North America,	Est'd 1792
Quebec,	Est'd 1818

City, Town and Village Property insure at lowest rates.
R. W. ADAMS. Agent.
Office opposite Post Office.

PERSONS desiring Life assurance cannot do better than consult
W. J. THOMSON,
who is the Agent for the following well-known and old established Assurance Companies:
ROYAL. ALLIANCE.
OCEAN ACCIDENT STANDARD LIFE
Office at Rathbun Co., Bridge St. ocs-d&w

THOS. STEWART,
Insurance and Commission Agent.
Agent for the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Scottish Union and Nationa[l] Ins. Co.
BRIDGE ST.

FIRE, LIFE & ACCIDENT INSURANCE
At Lowest Rates The Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Perth Mutual on farm and city property. Also money to loan at 4½ per cent. upwards.
JAMES A. CHISHOLM,
Office Ashley Block, Front st., Belleville.

Money Saved is Money Earned
can earn you money by saving it for you in your Fire Insurance.
The Anglo-American Fire Ins. Co
The Merchants Fire Ins. Co.
The Equity Fire Ins. Co.
Are all strong Canadian stock companies and insure Farm and City Property at lower rate than other stock companies. Call and see me before placing your fire insurance.
Office—Bridge St., same entrance Quinte Laundry, Belleville.
H. FREEMAN KETCHESON.

Fire, Life & Plate Glass Insurance.
Liverpool & London & Globe of England.
Waterloo Mutual, of Waterloo, Ont.
Lloyd's Plate Glass.
Home Life Association, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile.
Farm and City Property insured in First-class Reliable Companies and at lowest current rates. Losses promptly settled. Land valuation, and transact general Real Estate business and sale or purchase and renting of property. Appraiser for the Hastings Loan & Investment Society. Money to Loan.
W. P. HUDSON, Office above Rathbun's office, cor. Bridge and Pinnacle Sts., opposite Postoffice and Hotel Quinte, Belleville.
'Phone 162.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. G. NORTHROP.
Issuer of Marriage Licenses. Shire Hall, Belleville, Ont.

CHAUNCEY ASHLEY,
Issuer of Marriage Licenses.
Private Office, Bridge St., Belleville, opposite the Post Office.
Residence, first house east of W. W. Chown's Mfg. Co., Station St.
Appointments made.

He who foresees calamities suffers them twice over.

Those who live in yesterday's wigwam are always a day behind.

The best way to get even is to forget.

THE Intelligencer Bindery
MAKES A SPECIALTY OF
Ledgers, Journals, Cash Books,
And all descriptions of
Blank Account Books

Mailing Tubes
Gold Lettering on Leather Goods, &c.

MAGAZINES,
ART WORKS,
PERIODICALS,
SERIAL NUMBERS
NEATLY BOUND

Map Mounting & Varnishing

☞Estimates cheerfully furnished for every class of work.

ADDRESS--
The Intelligencer
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

RICKETY CHILDREN.

Loose joints, bow legs, big head, and soft bones—mean rickets. It is a typical disease for the best workings of Scott's Emulsion.

For the weak bones Scott's Emulsion supplies those powerful tonics the hypophosphites. For the loss of flesh Scott's Emulsion provides the nourishing cod-liver oil.

Scott's Emulsion corrects the effects of imperfect nourishment and brings rapid improvement in every way to rickety children.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto.

LATEST NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS

AS FURNISHED TO THE INTELLIGENCER BY H. R BEATTIE, STOCK BROKER.

New York, May. 27

STOCK	Op'g	H st	L.	Close.
Twin City	105⅜	105⅝	105	105¼
Atchison	75⅜	75⅞	74⅞	74⅞
do. pref	95¼	95¾	95½	95⅝
St. Paul	150⅜	151½	150	150
Mo. P.	105⅝	106¼	105¼	105¼
Union Pac.	86	86⅛	85	85
C.P.R.	128⅛	128⅜	127	127
South Pac.	51⅜	51⅞	50⅞	51½
Sou. Ry.	27½	28	27½	27½
Texas	31⅞	32	31½	31½
B & O	89	89⅛	88	88
N. Y.C.	127½	127¼	126¼	127⅛
Penna	127¼	128¼	127¾	127⅞
Reading	49½	50¼	49¾	49½
Ills.	136½	136½	1_6	135½
Erie	31½	34⅛	34	34⅛
do. pref.	68½	68¼	65	68
O. & W.	27	27¼	26¾	25¼
C. O.	40¼	40½	40	40
Manhattan	138¼	138¾	137⅜	137⅜
W. C.	21	21½	21	21⅛
L. & N	114¼	114¼	111	114
Nor.	69	69⅛	69	69
C. G. W.	20⅛	21	20⅛	20⅛
W.U.	84	84½	84	84
T.C.I.	56¼	57	56¼	56¼
U.S. steel	31¾	32¼	31⅜	31⅜
do pref.	81¾	82⅛	81½	81⅜
Sugar	124½	124⅜	123½	123½
A. C. P.	62¼	62⅜	61⅜	61½
Po	101	101	100½	100⅜
B. R. T.	61¼	62¼	61¼	61¼
Met.	130	130½	129¾	129¾
Wab.	25⅜	26⅛	25⅜	26⅛
do pref.	45¾	46¼	45⅜	45½
Soo	59	59½	59	59½
R. I.	37⅜	38¾	35	36⅛
A. F.	37½	38	36¼	36¼
Al.	23⅜	-1	23⅜	23⅜

July wheat opened at 73 5-8; closed at 74.

July corn opened at 45 3-8; closed at 45 3-8.

FOXBORO.

Mr. Robt. Fenn, who has been ill, is convalescent.

The rain here on Tuesday received a hearty welcome from everybody, farmers especially.

A large number from this place attended the baptism at Oak Hill pond on Sunday.

The roof of Mr. Dafoe's house caught fire on Saturday, but owing to the timely assistance of neighbors, the fire was put out before much damage was done.

Miss Mary Van Allen is visiting friends in Rochester, N.Y.

The costumes worn by the twelve hundred characters in the beautiful spectacular production of "Jerusalem and the Crusades," one of the many startling features in Ringling Bros.' World's Greatest Shows, are builded in correct designs from the most costly fabrics, silks, satins, velvets and cloth of mail, which, with the gorgeous horse trappings, armor and accoutrements, cost a fortune alone. Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

TUFTSVILLE.

Mrs. A. W. Andrews and Bertie, spent a few days last week at Marmora.

Mr. Tufts and H. S. Ashley attended Divine services in Belleville on Sunday.

Mr. C. W. LaRoy from Huntsville, paid a flying visit here.

Miss Pearl Bennett has gone to Foxboro to learn dressmaking.

Miss Eagan, from Albert College, spent Sunday with Mrs. Andrews.

Miss Mary Juby went to Campbellford on the 24th.

Several from our village went to Somerset Lake to witness the baptism.

CHATTERTON.

The dry weather has made meadows look bad in this locality.

Mr. E. Foster has sold his farm and intends moving to P.E. Co. His many friends will regret to lose so valuable a neighbor.

Mrs. J. Bird is on the sick list.

Mrs. Morden, one of Sidney's oldest ladies, is very sick. Her daughter, Mrs. Carr, is visiting her.

Mr. Thos. Sine has bought a fine team of carriage horses.

Mr. Sarls, who has been so sick, we are pleased to say is out again.

The aerial features of Ringling Brothers' monster shows, by far surpass anything of a similar nature ever exhibited in the United States. The civilized countries of the world have been thoroughly searched for the newest and most thrilling acts. Among the most important of these features is the marvellous European sensation, introduced by the famous Dollard Troupe, the renowned Potters and Fishers, the Nelson Family, the Alvo Troupe, and the Fortuns Brothers, direct from Paris. Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

Curious Bits of News.

That the German authorities in Samoa are determined to thoroughly Germanise that country is shown by the fact that the English missionaries in the islands have now been ordered to instruct their pupils and adherents in the Teuton tongue. American and Chilian dollars, as well as British coins, are also to make way for German money, and apparently Samoa will presently become as purely a German colony as New Caledonia is French.

"The latest in 'yells,'" says the Kansas City "Journal," "is that of the convicts on their way from the jail in the county in which they were sentenced to the penitentiary. A gang of fifteen of them from Buchanan County, the sheriff's 'guests' on a special car, gave vent to this yell at each railway station they passed between St. Joseph and Jefferson City a few days ago: 'Two years—five years—we will stay; didn't like St. Joe anyway!'"

The subject of a tunnel connecting Ireland and Scotland has been brought before the British Government, and the project will be pushed if the requisite financial support can be obtained. The estimated cost is $50,000,000. The route provisionally selected is from Stranraer in Scotland to Belfast in Ireland. The total distance is 51 1-2 miles, of which 34 1-2 miles would be tunnel, and 25 miles of the tunnel would be under the sea, along a line where the maximum depth is 480 feet. Electric motors would be used to drive the trains at an average speed of 60 to 70 miles per hour.

Susie E. Jenkins, twenty years old, of Philadelphia, says: "I have seen nearly all the funny shows that have come to Philadelphia in recent years, and not one of them could make me laugh. My mother has often tried to make me laugh by tickling me, but even that won't work. Ever since I can remember people have been telling me funny stories and cutting up all sorts of capers in the hope that I could be induced to smile; but all their efforts have been in vain. No; I have never consulted a doctor about it, for I have always enjoyed perfect health. I want to exhibit myself in public, and offer a prize to anyone who can make me laugh. It must be a queer sensation."

It has been recently asserted that mosquitoes are strongly attracted by certain sounds. This is confirmed by Sir Hiram Maxim, who in a letter to the London "Times" states that one of the electric lamps which he put up at Saratoga Springs, N.Y., in 1878, emitted a musical note; or rather the note proceeded from the box containing the dynamo-machine under the lamp. "One evening while examining the lamp he found that everything in the immediate vicinity was covered with small insects. They did not appear to be attempting to get into the globe, but into the box that was giving out the musical note. A close examination of these insects showed that they were all male mosquitoes. Although there were certainly two hundred times as many female mosquitoes on the ground as males, not a single female mosquito was found to have been attracted in the least by the sound."

An Uncollected Poem by Whittier.

There are hundreds of Whittier's early poems which were never placed by him in any collection of his works. They are to be found in the papers he edited and to which he contributed in the days before he consecrated all his powers to humanitarian work. They gave him a measure of literary reputation which must have gratified him at the time; but when he was baptized into the new spirit which informed all his later work he took pains to prevent the collection of the verses written in the vein of an outgrown ambition. His wish in this matter should be respected. And yet, while studying his early work, I find some poems which I fancy he would have preserved if they had not been overlooked when making his selections, writes S. T. Packard in the New York "Independent." Among these is this paraphrase from the German, which I find in "The Liberator" of August 10, 1838:

LINES FROM THE GERMAN OF LAMITER.

Thought after thought ye thronging rise,
Like spring doves from the startled wood,
Bearing like them your sacrifice
Of music unto God!
And shall those thoughts of joy and love
Come back again no more to me—
Returning like the patriarch's dove,
Wing-weary from the eternal sea—
To bear within my longing arms
The promise-bough of kindlier skies,
Plucked from the green immortal palms
Which shade the bowers of Paradise?

Child of the sea, the mountain stream
From its dark cavern hurries on,
Ceaseless by night and morning's beam,
By evening's star and noontide's sun—
Until at last it sinks to rest
O'erwearied in the waiting sea,
And moans upon its mother's breast—
So turns my soul to Thee.

Breaking it Gently.

"What do you want, little boy?"

"Is this where Mr. Upjohn lives, ma'am?"

"Yes."

"The Mr. Upjohn that runs the bank?"

"He is an officer in the bank."

"The Mr. Upjohn that went down town on a trolley car this morning?"

"I presume he went on a trolley car. What——"

"Is he the Mr. Upjohn that was in that horrible street car accident?"

"I haven't heard of his being in any street car accident."

"Didn't you hear 'at h'd sprained his ankle jumpin' out o' the car when the train run into it?"

"No, my little boy, you frighten me. What has——"

"Didn't you hear how he run into a drug store for a piece o' court-plaster to stick on a little cut he'd got over the eye?"

"Not at all. For mercy's sake—"

"He isn't in, is he, ma'am?"

"No, he's—"

"Name's John U. Upjohn, isn't it?"

"Yes, that's his name."

"Then he's the same man. He won't be here for an hour or two, I guess, 'cause he's stoppin' to have one of his teeth tightened that got knocked a little bit loose when he was jumpin' out o' danger, y' know."

"Little boy, tell me the whole story. I think I can bear it now."

"Well, ma'am, he's in the hospittle with four ribs broke an' one leg's in a sling an' his nose is knocked kind o' sideways, but he's getting along all right, an' he'll be out again in about a month, an' here's a letter f'm the doctor tellin' ye all about it, ma'am."

ADVERTISING RATES

Measurement Nonpareil—12 lines to an inch.

Display advertisements, 10c per line.
Subsequent consecutive insertions, 5c.
Reading advertisements, 15c per line.
Preferred position, 20 per cent. advance upon casual or contract rates.
Minimum space, 10 lines.
Marriages and deaths, 50c each insertion.
Births, 25c each insertion.
Rates for Condensed Advertisement will be found in 1st column of 2nd page.
All advertisements are subject to the approval of the Publisher of the Intelligencer.
Address all communications to the Intelligencer Printing & Publishing House Limited, or to Charles J. Bowell, Managing Director and Treasurer.
Canadians in London will find The Intelligencer on file at E. & J. Hardy & Co.'s Office, 30 Fleet Street, London, E. C.

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS

SITUATIONS WANTED, HELP WANTED, LOST OR FOUND, FOR SALE OR TO RENT, &c.

(Auction Sales not included in this list)

TERMS.—Twenty-five words or less, 25c first insertion; two insertions, 50c; four insertions, 75c; one week $1.00, two weeks $1.75, three weeks, $2.25; one month, $2.50. Strictly cash in advance.

WANTED.

Boy to learn printing trade. Apply to "The Intelligencer" at once.

Junior Law Clerk (male). PORTER & CARNEW. m22dtf

A few men and women to work for us at home during spare time. Pleasant work. Liberal pay. No canvassing. Imperial Company, London, Ontario. m12-1m

Agents wanted who are willing to work. Good goods and good pay. Men earn $6.00 a day winter and summer. Never out of season. Write G. Marshall & Co., Teas, London, Ont.

Young men ambitious to learn lucrative trades, of which there are eight in connection with the business. Apply The Belleville Hardware Company, Belleville, Ont. a7dtf

Competent men to appoint agents, whole or spare time. Commission paid. Apply JOHN DOYLE, Drawer 531, London. a27-1yr

LOST.

From Rossmore, on May 25, brown horse. Finder please notify J. THOMPSON, Rossmore. 27,28,30d&1tw

A light spring overcoat, dark material, gloves in pocket, between Anglo Hotel and Post office, May 25th. leave at this office. Reward. 26-2t

FOR SALE.

That splendid property on the south east corner of Dunbar and Catharine Sts. City water and sewer connection. m28-4w

BICYCLE—Cleveland, 1903, hygienic cushion frame, coaster brake, 22 inch frame, Dunlop tires. Will be sold cheap. Original cost $65.00. Apply at Intelligencer Office. tf

Comfortable, well built, seven room frame house and lot, situated on North Front St., in vicinity of Albert College. Apply to Mrs. Wm. McCreery, Belleville. my15-d1mem&iw

Stone house, 11 rooms, coal furnace, stable, barn. Large grounds. Cor. Frank and Moira Sts. north. Terms reasonable. H. Bull, on premises or Fred Bull, 2 1-2 Queen St., Toronto. ap18-dtf

Contractors and masons, any any person requiring lime may procure it from E. G. STAPLEY, Canifton Road, Belleville. New lime always on hand. a9-d&w6m

Dressed and Matched Lumber of all kinds, at ALFORD'S factory, Market Square. j12-tf

REMOVAL.

Dr. Clarke will shortly remove to the offices formerly occupied by the late Dr. Ward, over Burrows', and opposite Scantlebury's Book Store. a27dtf

Eye Troubles Are Hereditary
They are handed down from parent to child, and if there is a defect in a parent's eyes it is more than likely to be found in the eyes of the child also.
Red lids, styes, or itching, burning pains, are Indications of muscular troubles that can be overcome by using proper glasses.
ALEX. RAY

Over 250,000 copies of Charles Dickens' novels are sold annually.

Never is time more precious than when some member of the family is attacked by colic, dysentery or any bowel trouble. The doctor is distant, but if Perry Davis' Painkiller is near all danger is soon ended.

If the rattlesnake did not stop to talk he would be ten times more dangerous.

THEY DROVE PIMPLES AWAY.—A face covered with pimples is unsightly. It tells of internal irregularities which should long since have been corrected. The liver and the kidneys are not performing their functions in the healthy way they should, and these pimples are to let you know that the blood protests. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will drive them all away, and will leave the skin clear and clean. Try them, and there will be another witness to their excellence.

Life has no blessing like a prudent friend.

HAD LA GRIPPE.—Mr. A. Nickerson, farmer, Dutton, writes: "Last winter I had La Grippe and it left me with a severe pain in the small of my back and hip that used to catch me whenever I tried to climb a fence. This lasted for about two months, when I bought a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil and used it both internally and externally, morning and evening, for three days, at the expiration of which time I was completely cured."

If thy friend is honey, do not lick him up altogether.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed 'Perfection.'

Many a man's self-conceit is due to his ignorance.

AT DEATH'S DOOR.—DYSPEPSIA CONQUERED.—A GREAT MEDICAL TRIUMPH.—Gentlemen,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the Vegetable Discovery, consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen Vegetable Discovery since it cured me, as I am well-known and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed, JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P.Q., General Merchant

The best wheel of fortune is honest labor.

Very many persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer complaints, who might have been saved if proper remedies had been used. If attacked do not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, the medicine that never fails to effect a cure. Those who have used it say it acts promptly, and thoroughly, subdues the pain and disease.

Wedding rings in St. Kilda used to be made of worsted.

Use the safe, pleasant, and effectual worm killer, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator; nothing equals it. Procure a bottle and take it home.

Coral is a talisman against thunder and evils by flood and field.

Have you tried Holloway's Corn Cure? It has no equal for removing these troublesome excrescences, as many have testified who have tried it.

A woman never knows where the match box is.

FOR INFLAMMATION OF THE EYES.—Among the many good qualities which Parmelee's Vegetable Pills possess, besides regulating the digestive organs, is their efficacy in reducing inflammation of the eyes. It has called forth many letters of recommendation from those who were afflicted with this complaint and found a cure in the pills. They affect the nerve centres and the blood in a surprisingly active way, and the result is almost immediately seen.

When one gets hopping mad his reason goes on a crutch.

If you have a cough or cold do not neglect it; many without a trace of that hereditary disease have drifted into a consumptive's grave by neglecting what was only a slight cold. Had they used Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup before it was too late, their lives would have been saved. Mr. A. W. Levy, Mitchell, writes: "I think Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup the best preparation on the market for coughs and severe colds. About six years ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs, and for three months I had a cough. I had a physician attending me, but gradually grew worse until I was on the verge of Consumption, and had given up hopes of being cured, when I was induced to try Bickle's Syrup. Before I had taken one bottle I found myself greatly relieved, and by the time I had finished the second bottle I was completely cured. I always recommend it for severe colds and consumption."

The average watch represents but 12 hours of human labor.

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, and disordered stomach.

The wildcat's teeth are close to its purr.

Do not despair of curing your sick headache when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

SAVE MONEY
By JOINING The MUTUAL LITERARY-MUSIC CLUB
OF AMERICA

25 Cents pays for three months' membership. Each member receives the official club organ every month, including 6 pieces of high-class vocal and instrumental new music each month, 72 pieces in all; also a Certificate of Membership which gives the privilege of Club Room in New York City, and of buying literature, music or musical instruments of any description at wholesale prices, saving you from 20% to 60% on your purchases. Don't fail to join at once. You will get much more than your money's worth. MUTUAL LITERARY-MUSIC CLUB, Dept. , 150 Nassau St., N.Y.

A SHIRT SALE

We have just received from the manufacturers, 50 dozen Madras Shirts in sizes 14½ to 16½, soft bosoms, with separate cuffs. They should sell at $1.00, but we got a big snap and are going to clear them quick for 50c each.

You need not wait till you go on your holiday trip before getting some of these cool and pretty patterns. They take half the discomfort out of a hot day.

Not More Than one half Dozen sold to each Customer.

OAK HALL

Sole Agents for Sanford's Celebrated Clothing.

The J. J. HAINES Shoe Houses.

For Low Shoes

We have had Low Shoe weather lately and the result has been a boom in the sale of Low Shoes. In Ladies', Girls' and Children's, it has been most marked and a month in advance for such goods—Our stock is immense. Styles and prices to suit everyone.

LADIES' OXFORDS AND STRAP SHOES at 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00 up.

OUR BARGAIN TABLES ALSO present unusual values in Women's Misses' and Children's Low Shoes.

SWELL lines in MEN'S Patent and Box Calf Low Shoes—also Fine Kid Oxfords at $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00.

With pleasure and pride we direct your attention to our fine showing of above shoes.

The J. J. Haines

SHOE HOUSES at Belleville, Napanee and Trenton

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE

FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK

Daily Intelligencer.

TIMELY TOPICS

Oh! the rain, the beautiful rain
It takes away the farmer's pain
And makes him smile, again and again

• • •

Now, for a day or two, our country cousins will kindly stop singing that beautiful ballad, "Nobody knows how dry we are."

• • •

The farmers lay in bed last night, listening to the rain, knowing that it was, to them, just like ready money.

• • •

You see, if the farmer doesn't get rain he fails to secure any dust to spend with the merchants, and then the name of the latter would be mud.

• • •

Now that the holiday is over, and the echo of the last cannon cracker has died away, perhaps it might be in order to enquire when the Street Surveyor is going to build those granolithic crossings which he was ordered by the Council, about six weeks ago, to construct.

• • •

If this should meet the eye of the man or woman who stole a minister's umbrella at a recent funeral he or she are urgently requested to leave their address and receive the case. The initials on the handle will also be changed, if desired.

• • •

The dry spell and the Gamey investigation came to an end together. Let us hope the investigation may clear the political situation as much as the rain has purified the atmosphere.

• • •

Isn't it about time the Public Works department took steps to repair some of those old relics which pass for wooden sidewalks on the west side?

• • •

Perhaps, if the Marconi system is in use on the ship Mr. Kirkwood is on, he may send us back a message about his intentions in regard to the rolling mills.

AFTER SHAVING POND'S EXTRACT

COOLS, COMFORTS AND HEALS THE SKIN, ENABLING THE MOST TENDER FACE TO ENJOY A CLOSE SHAVE WITHOUT UNPLEASANT RESULTS. Avoid dangerous, irritating Witch Hazel preparations represented to be "the same as" Pond's Extract, which easily sour and generally contain "wood alcohol," a deadly poison.

A FARMER CURED OF RHEUMATISM.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time, for it cured me.'" For sale by all druggists.

THE AUTO RACES BARRED.

Hereafter Automobilists Must Have Private Track For Speed Trials.

Paris, May 27.—The second stretch of the Paris-Madrid automobile race was not started yesterday morning owing to the interdiction of the French and Spanish Governments.

Premier Combes, replying in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday to an interpellation on the automobile race said permission to race had been granted, owing to solicitations in behalf of the interests of French industry. The accidents were not due to lack of precaution. The Government was not disposed to grant further permission. If automobilists want more speed trials, they must make a private track.

U.S. AFRAID OF CANADA.

Will Establish Alaskan Coaling Station as Precautionary Measure.

Washington, May 27.—Admiral Dewey, as President of the General Board, has recommended the immediate establishment of a coaling station at Dutch Harbor, Alaska, and the erection there of a coal depot with an initial capacity of 5,000 tons. The estimated cost of the work is about $51,000. The President has approved the plan and preliminary steps in the work have been taken already.

Another Ottawa Fire.

Ottawa, May 27.—Fire in J. R. Booth's lumber piles yesterday did $3,000 damage.

IF YOUR FEET

ITCH.
ACHE.
TIRE.
BURN.
BLISTER.
CHAFE.
SWELL.
SWEAT.
SMART.
Use
FOOT ELM.

Peice, 25 cents a box of 18 powders, at druggists or by mail. B. I. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont. Be sure you get Foot Elm.

Elected Their Officers.

Toronto, May 27.—At yesterday morning's meeting of the National Council of Women the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. Robert Thomson, St. John, N.B., re-elected; vice-presidents, Lady Laurier and Lady Taylor, re-elected, and Mrs. Sanford, Hamilton; recording secretary, Miss Derrick, Montreal; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. Cummings, Toronto; treasurer, Mrs. Frost, Smith's Falls; provincial vice-presidents (re-elected), Nova Scotia, Mrs. R. L. Borden; New Brunswick, Lady Tilley; Prince Edward Island, Lady Davies; Quebec, Mme. Thibideau; Montreal, Ont., Mrs. Boomer; London, Man., Mrs. N. F. Davin; Regina, Mrs. Lougheed; Calgary, B.C., Miss Perrin, Victoria, resigned and Mrs. McLagan, Vancouver was elected.

PERFECT CURE FOR BRONCHITIS.

This disease can be treated only by a remedy carried to the affected parts along with the air breathed, for nature intended these organs for the passage of air alone, and sprays, atomizers and internal medicines utterly fail. But Catarrhozone doesn't fail, for it goes wherever the air breathed goes, and its healing antiseptic vapor is sure to reach every affected part. Catarrhozone is inhaled at the mouth and after passing through every air cell of the breathing organs is slowly exhaled through the nostrils. Catarrhozone protects and heals the inflammation and perfectly cures all bronchial affections. Price $1. Small size 25c. Druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Chinese Labor in Africa.

London, May 27.—Replying to a question on Chinese labor in South Africa in the House of Commons yesterday, the Colonial Secretary, Mr. Chamberlain, said the Government had not sanctioned and was not supporting the movement of the mine owners to import Chinese and other Asiatic labor into the Transvaal.

Will Expel the Jews.

St. Petersburg, May 27.—The chief of police of Kieff has ordered the police commissaries within his jurisdiction to institute a fresh inquiry into the legal status of the Jews and to forcefully expel those who have no legal right of residence, and who refuse to leave.

The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.—Napoleon.

The wise are polite all the world over; fools are polite only at home.—Bacon.

Coin Pay Envelopes at The Intelligencer Job Office. Cheapest and best in the city.

Anecdotal.

Mark Twain tells a story of a man who received a telegram telling him that his mother-in-law had died, and asking: "Shall we embalm, bury, or cremate her?" Twain says he wired back: "Yes, and if these fail, try dissection."

A clergyman, visiting a house where an infant was dying in convulsions, remarked to the aged nurse that it was too bad to see a baby in such pain. "Ah, sir," replied the pious woman, "it says in the Good Book, 'Suffer little children to come unto me,' and I tell you they do suffer."

When General Sheridan was camping on the lower Mississippi, his negro boy, Harry, was one day asked by a friend whether the general was not terribly annoyed by the mosquitoes. "No, sah," said Harry; "in the evenin' Marsa's so 'toxicated he don't mind the skeeters an' in the mornin' the skeeters is so 'toxicated they don't mind Marsa."

When Sidney Smith was rector of a parish in Yorkshire he found his vestry were discussing the propriety of paving the approach to the church with wooden blocks. There was a good deal of perturbation over ways and means, however. "Gentlemen," said the witty rector, "I think if you will all put your heads together, as the saying is, the thing can be accomplished without much difficulty."

A Scottish member of Parliament, in an address to his constituents, assured his hearers that he was not an idle member of the House, and that during the last two years he had put no less than one hundred and eighty-two questions to the speaker and the members of the government. "What an ignorant auld beggar ye must be!" cried a voice from the crowd.

The revivalist, "Sam" Jones, was once taking women to task for spending more time in prinking than in praying. "If there's a woman here," he screamed, finally, "who prays more than she prinks, let her stand up." One poor old, faded specimen of femininity, in the sorriest, shabbiest of clothes, arose. "You spend more time praying than prinking?" asked the preacher, taking her all in. The poor old creature said she did—prayed all the time, prinked not at all. "You go straight home," admonished Jones, "and put a little time on your prinking."

While passing Cherbourg, en route from South Africa to London, Cecil Rhodes observed several vessels of the French Channel Squadron drawn up in line to salute the ex-Empress Eugenie's yacht. The Frenchmen, who were spread out on the yards of their vessels, shouted "Vive l'Imperatrice!" The captain of the vessel on which Rhodes was a passenger, wishing to show his respect to the empress, got his men ready to salute, but in the short time at his disposal he could not school his crew to repeat the French words. "Tell them to say 'beef, lemons and cheese,'" suggested Rhodes, playfully, and, to his utter amazement, the yacht was greeted with a deafening yell of "beef, lemons and cheese!" which entirely drowned the voices of the French sailors. The ex-empress is stated to have expressed great pleasure at the compliment afterward.

Curious Bits of News.

Tubes of glass made by lightning are often found in sand. The electricity passes into the ground and melts the silicious material, forming little pipes, the inside diameter of which represents the "bore" of the "thunderbolt." Such tubes measuring as much as twenty-seven feet in length have been discovered.

The beauties of the New York custom house regulations were again illustrated the other day when an English Freemason, who arrived with his jeweled regalia, was charged full duty on it, and fined for omitting to declare that he had his regalia with him. He had come to take part in a celebration of the order in the United States.

One of the most curious lawsuits ever tried in France has been occupying the attention of the courts. At the last election M. le Provost de Launay, a Royalist senator, desired to have an organ. He went to the editor of a local newspaper, and hired the front page for two months for a given sum. His Republican opponent thought the idea a good one, and hired the second page, so that the readers of the "Journal de Ferguier" were treated on the first page to a eulogy of monarchy and on the second page to praise of the republic. M. de Launay lost the election, and is now suing its editor for breach of contract in leasing the second page to his opponent.

President John I. Sabin of the Chicago Telephone Company has made a popular hit by installing movable phones in fashionable restaurants. You do not have to leave the table to enjoy this luxury. "Waiter, bring me a telephone," is the only order necessary to have a fully equipped long-distance 'phone at your elbow. By simply ordering a telephone a guest may be placed in communication with New York or Denver, or any other city served by the Chicago Telephone Company, without moving from the table at which dinner or luncheon is being served. The new service is very simple. What is termed a "telephone spring-jack" is adjusted to the wall near the table, and when the telephone is ordered the waiter brings the instrument, inserting a plug in the "spring-jack," perfecting direct connection with the main telephone exchange.

As tamers and keepers of animals dark men never succeed, states the Philadelphia "Record." Visits to zoos and to menageries show them to be invariably fair fellows, with yellow or brown hair and with blue eyes. "Thus, at the Zoological Garden, in this city, there is not a keeper who is dark. John McMullen of the lion house has light hair, a yellow moustache and violet orbs. Lover, of the wolves and foxes, is still more markedly blond, and in the antelope house, the snake house and the small mammal house light colors still prevail. One of the most pronounced blonds at the Zoo was John Thompson, who is now in Honolulu making casts of fishes for a museum there. Thompson was one of the most successful keepers the Zoo has ever had. Not only snakes and turtles (his specialty), but lions, foxes, wolves, deer and many other animals took to him naturally, and he was never scratched or bitten."

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat Co.,
(LIMITED)
"The Bay of Quinte Route."

Str. "ALETHA"

Leaves Belleville on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 a.m. for Bay of Quinte ports and Kingston. Returning will arrive at Belleville on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10 30 p.m.

Belleville-Rochester Route

Str. "North King"

Commencing 31st May will leave Belleville on Sundays at 11.38 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. Returning arrives at Belleville on Sundays at 3.25 a.m. and leaves for Bay Ports, Kingston and 1000 Islands.

During July and August service will be daily except Monday.

Right reserved to change time with or without notice.

For passage and freight rates and other information, apply to

THE RATHBUN CO., } Agents.
U. E. THOMPSON, }
E. E. HORSEY, G. P. & F. Agent,
Kingston.

Montreal, Rochester & Quebec Transit Co'y.

Str. "Alexandria"

Service in effect 25th April.

Leaves Rathbun Co.'s wharf, Belleville, every Saturday at 11.00 a.m. for Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Every Monday at 7.00 a.m. for Montreal and all River Ports.

Thousand Islands by daylight.
Runs all St. Lawrence River Rapids.
Quebec excursions commence July 5th.

LOW FREIGHT RATES.

A. W. HEPBURN, General Manager, Picton, Ont.
THE RATHBUN CO. Agents, Belleville.

The Deseronto Navigation Co
TIME TABLE.
Taking effect April 13, 1903.
Belleville, Trenton, Picton & Napanee

Str. "ELLA ROSS"

Leaves Belleville for Trenton at 10 a. m., daily, Sundays Excepted, returning leaves Trenton at 1 p. m., leaving Belleville at 3 p.m. for Deseronto, Napanee and Picton.

Quick and Superior Service to NEW YORK CITY

Steamers RESOLUTE and RELIANCE will leave Deseronto for Oswego after arrival of Str. Ella Ross connecting at Oswego with the New York, Ontario Western Ry.

Fare to New York, Single [illegible] Return, $13.25

For further particulars apply to THE RATHBUN CO., Local Agents

J. F. CHAPMAN, Asst. Gen. Frt. & Pass. Agt., Deseronto.
A. C. CARTER General Manager Deseronto.

Just What You Want

Paint Brushes 7, 10, 15, 20, 25c.
Whitewash Brushes 10, 13, 15, 20, 25, 35, 45c.
1,000 Parlor Matches for 5c.
600 pairs Ladies' Bl'k Hose 5c pair.
500 printed Platters and Bakers, regular 25, clearing at 10c.
300 pairs Men's Sox, special, 4 pr. for 25c.
D. K. Blue Cups and Saucers, 35c 1-2 dozen.
1200 Dinner Setts for $8.00.
Curtain Poles, complete, for 20c.
Carpet Tacks, 2 for 5c.
Carpet Whips 10c each.
Kitchen Mirrors 12, 15, 20, 25, 30c.
Best Oil Blinds 30c.
6 Cakes Moss Rose Toilet Soap 15c.
3 Cakes Cold Cream Toilet Soap 5c.
6 Bars Eclipse Soap 25c.
Large variety of odd Wallpaper der, clearing at 1c yard.
50 varieties of Wallpaper, clearing at 5c Roll.
Large varieties 5, 7, 8, 10c Ceiling Papers, clearing at 3c Roll.

Be sure and visit our Wallpaper Department; it is the most complete, and has the best selected stock to choose from in the City.

Our Prices are 1-2 what other stores ask for same quality.

AT THE BEE HIVE
Chas. N. Sulman

The various countries of the world use 13,400 different kinds of postage

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

TOURIST RESORTS

The Famous Muskoka Lakes, Georgian Bay, Kawartha Lakes, Lake of Bays, etc., are noted for their excellent and healthy climate. Up-to-date hotels. Grand Trunk trains make connection at Muskoka Wharf for all ports on Muskoka Lakes, at Huntsville for all ports on Lake of Bays; also direct connection to ports on Georgian Bay and Kawartha Lakes.

EXCURSIONS TO CANADIAN NORTH-WEST.

Good going June 4th, and June 18th, valid returning within 60 days from date of issue. Good going July 4th, valid returning until Sept. 8th.

For tickets, information and descriptive literature, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON, City Agent, Bridge Street.
T. H. COPPIN, Depot Agent.
J. D. McDONALD, Dist. Pass Agt., Toronto.

NEW YORK CENTRAL & HUDSON RIVER R. R.

THE FOUR-TRACK TRUNK LINE.

SHORTEST Route to the United States via Cape Vincent, N.Y.

GOING EAST AND WEST.		After 1st May
Lv. Belleville (G.T.R.)	12.22 p.m.	[illegible].30 a.m
Arr. Kingston "	1.47 p.m.	3.12 a.m
Lv. Kingston (stage)..	2.30 p.m.	5.00 a.m
Arr. Cape Vincent (stage)	4.30 p.m.	7.00 a.m
Lv. Cape Vincent N.Y.C.	5.05 p.m.	7.25 a.m
Arr. Watertown "	5.55 p.m.	8.25 a.m
Arr. Oswego "	9.05 p.m.	11.55 a.m
Arr. Syracuse "	9.25 p.m.	12.07 p.m
Arr. Rochester "	1.05 a.m.	2.20 a.m
Arr. Utica "	9.45 p.m.	12.35 p.m
Arr. New York "	7.25 a.m.	6.00 p.m

Convenient train service in opposite direction.

Pullman Sleeping and Parlor Cars.

2c a Mile.

Books for 500 miles of travel on New York Central and leased lines within State of New York, cost only $10 while books for 1000 miles over New York Central, Boston & Albany, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, Philadelphia & Reading and C. R. R. of New Jersey cost $20. Secure further information and purchase tickets from F. A. Folger, N.Y.C. Agent, Kingston, Ont.

GEORGE H. DANIELS, Gen'l Pass'r Agent. New York.
A. H. SMITH, Gen'l Supt., New York.
G. C. GRIDLEY, Gen'l Agent, Watertown, N.Y.

The New Wall Paper Store

sells borders by the roll, same price as the papers.

THE BEST TALENT in the world is employed to design the paper we sell.

We select only the beautiful and harmonious designs because those are the kind that please our patrons.

New Spring designs, delicate flower-like tints, all conceivable patterns, many exclusive designs, scrolls, ingrains, etc., ceiling and border to match. Prices to suit all pocketbooks.

JOHN CORNELIUS,

Decorator, Painter, Grainer, and Paper Hanger, all work guaranteed first class.

Western Beef.

Prime Western Beef together with all kinds of choice meats, supplied by the district, at

C. GREEN'S
267 Front St., 'Phone 109.

Lost chances never leave any trail.

LACROSSE SHOES

For Men, Boys and Children.

Tennis Balmorals

In sizes for Men, Ladies and Boys.

VERMILYEA & SON.

Worth its Weight in Gold

BABY'S OWN SOAP
keeps the most tender skin, soft, smooth, and free from chaps.
No Other is just as Good.
ALBERT TOILET SOAP CO., Mfrs. Montreal.

You May Need
Pain-Killer
For Cuts
Burns
Bruises
Cramps
Diarrhoea
All Bowel
Complaints
It is a sure, safe and quick remedy.
There's only one PAIN-KILLER.
PERRY DAVIS'.
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.

e Sun & Hastings Savings and Loan Co. of Ontario.
AUTHORIZED CAPITAL
$5,000,000.
-2 per cent. allowed on Deposits,
yable on Call.
per cent. on Deposits for one
ar or over.
Money to Loan upon favorable
rms.
OFFICE, No. 46 Bridge St., Belle-le,
J. P. C. PHILLIPS,
Manager Belleville Branch.

Allen's
Lung Balsam
The best Cough Medicine.
ABSOLUTE SAFETY
should be the first thought and must be rigorously insisted upon when buying medicine, or upon its safety depends one's life. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM contains no opium in any form and is safe, sure, and prompt in cases of Croup, Colds, deep-seated Coughs.
Try it now, and be convinced.

RAILWAY TIME TABLES.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

Time of departure from Belleville ation:

Going East.

o. 16—Local, for Brockville, 7 a.m., arrives back from Brockville 9.30 p.m.
o. 2—1.30 a.m., Mail and Express, (Flyer), Daily.
o. 6—11.40 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.
o. 4—12.22 p.m., International Limited, Daily.
o. 12—5.55 p.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

Going West.

o. 5—3 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily except Monday.
o. 3—4.10 a.m., Limited Express, Daily.
o. 9—5.50 a.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.
o. 11—11.22 a.m., Passenger, Daily except Sunday.
o. 1—1.50 p.m., International Limited Daily.
o. 7—5.10 p.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.
Taking effect 12.01 o'clock, Sunday, ne 15, 1902.

MIDLAND RAILWAY.

Belleville and Peterboro.

Going West.

	Leave.	Arr. Peterboro
ail	5.40 a.m.	8.10 a.m.
ixed	5.55 p.m.	9.05 p.m.

Going East.

	Arr.	L've Peterboro
ixed	11.20 a.m.	8.20 a.m.
ail	4.25 p.m.	2.05 p.m.

Belleville and Madoc.

Going North.

	L've	Arr. Madoc
ixed	12.20 p.m.	1.20 p.m.
ixed	6.30 p.m.	7.40 p.m.

Going South.

	Arr.	L've Madoc
ixed	9.10 a.m.	7.30 a.m.
ixed	5.00 p.m.	3.45 p.m.

None of the above trains run on unday.

Bank of Montreal
ESTABLISHED 1817.
Capital and Rest, All Paid Up.
$20,000,000
(Twenty Millions.)
Savings Bank Department
Interest on sums of $4.00 and upwards allowed at current rates.
A. G. PARKER,
Manager Belleville Branch

Flowers & Vegetables
Of all kinds in season.
. . . AT . . .
J. D. COLLIP'S.
'Phone 205.

DAISY GORDON'S FOLLY

—OR—

THE WORLD LOST FOR LOVE'S SAKE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY,

Author of "The Crime of Hallow-E'en," "The Flirtations of a Beauty," "Willful Gaynell," "Little Leafy," "Only a Mechanic's Daughter," etc.

cony down to the rose garden below, walking jauntily away, little dreaming that a pair of astonished eyes were watching him— watching with amazement and horror too deep for words.

CHAPTER XXIII.

"My Love Turns to Bitterest Hate."

It so happened that Alexander Hamilton, by some impulse he could scarcely understand himself, had placed the ladies in care of friends whom he met in the grove, and had returned at once to the house to keep Daisy company.

Crossing the glade, he saw distinctly in the clear, bright light the man leap lightly from Daisy's window.

His first thought was that he was a burglar, but a second glance had shown him the utter absence of any appearance of ruffianism in the well-dressed, handsome fellow who wore a boutonneire in his coat.

Aleck was just about to spring forward and confront him, when he saw a sight that made the blood turn to ice in his veins.

The man had paused for a moment and glanced back at the window from which he had but just emerged, and at that instant the heavy lace curtains were parted by a white jeweled hand and Daisy glanced fearfully out.

The man raised his hat to her with an elaborate bow, and as he bared his head in the white, clear light, Aleck recognized distinctly the face of the handsome count, but as he recognized him the count vanished.

A numb, hideous nightmare seemed to paralyze every nerve in Alexander Hamilton's body; he leaned back heavily against a tree and tried to think.

He remembered how anxious Daisy had been to send him off with their guests, pleading illness as an excuse for not accompanying them; and now returning home suddenly and unexpectedly, he found the count taking leave of her in this extraordinary fashion. What could it mean? He could find no answer for it.

A sudden, swift storm of sickening despair, jealousy and rage swept over him.

All argument with himself ended where it began, in keen, terrible dismay.

If he had not witnessed this parting with his own eyes he would never have believed it.

A grayish pallor swept over his splendid face. He must know what it meant— yes, he would know.

A laugh, horrible to hear, fell from his lips as he remembered how vehemently Daisy had cried out that her sister Olive should not marry the count.

Great heaven! was it because she herself cared for him? The thought goaded him to madness.

Hurriedly entering the house, he went quickly up the broad stairway that led to her suit of rooms, noiselessly turned the knob and entered, standing motionless in the middle of the boudoir.

Daisy lay face downward on a velvet divan, her face half revealed, hald concealed by a veil of golden hair that hung in curling masses around it.

He stopped short and looked at her —so wondrously, fatally fair.

"Great God! how can I think ill of her?" he muttered, great drops starting to his forehead, his hands clinching themselves together like bands of steel. "I will not— no, I will not— and yet——"

He crossed the room swiftly and stood before her in all his dignity of noble manhood and outraged pride — his arms crossed over his breast.

Still she was unaware of his presence.

Thinking herself alone, she clasped her little hands together with a low moan.

"Olive must never marry the count," she murmured, "oh, never, never. Oh, how I tremble lest Aleck should come and find him here—he is to never come again, it would never do," she sobbed, pushing back her golden hair with a bitter sigh.

"Daisy!"

The name was uttered in a harsh stern voice, fairly ringing with repressed rage.

Daisy started from the divan like a fluttering, frightened bird.

Was it Aleck speaking to her in that harsh, terrible voice? Aleck, who had parted from her within the hour, his splendid face radiant with love— tender kisses upon his lips.

"Daisy!" he cried again, "do you hear?"

She sprung forward with a little quivering cry, and would have flung her white arms around him, but he sternly repulsed her.

Had some one revealed to him the dark past— or had he met the count, and had he betrayed her terrible secret?

She sunk down on the nearest chair prostrate and pale. Her heart was beating in great, awful throbs that seemed wrenching it asunder as she sat before him, stricken dumb with terror waiting for him to speak.

"Do not pretend that you are pleased to see me, for you are not. I am back unexpectedly, as you observe, and you are terrified lest I have met the man from whom you have just parted. I did see him; not in time, however, to intercept him and demand from him an explanation, as to what he was doing here, and I am here to learn that from you —I, your husband, command you to speak."

His voice was sharp with repressed, terrible anger that cut poor Daisy to the very soul. She shrunk still further back into the seat in which she had fallen, and he saw the deadly pallor deepen on the lovely, girlish face, and the agonized flutter of her hands at his words.

The sharp agony of his suspicion was like death to her pride, she knew what he must think.

She lifted her piteous face and sorrowful, beautiful eyes in a gaze that despite his anger, went thrilling hotly to his very soul.

"Aleck, you look as though you thought— as though you thought I—I—had——" The sentence was finished by a torrent of tears.

"Tell me what brought the count to this room?" he repeated, in a terrible voice.

Heaven help her! There was no way of evading the direct question, yet she could not answer it.

Again she was like a timid doe driven at bay. She rose to her feet, swaying to and fro like a lily in a harsh, cold wind.

"I cannot tell you, Aleck," she said desperately, knowing that her love, her peace of mind, her happiness, all that made life worth living for was at stake.

His handsome face darkened with terrible wrath.

"I demand your answer, Daisy!" he cried. "Do not tamper with me, I am not the kind of a man to stand it."

"I must positively refuse to answer you, Aleck," she said; "I cannot tell you why he was here."

Again a horrible laugh — terrible to hear— fell from his lips.

"I wonder that you have not attempted to deny that he was here," he said.

"How can I deny it when — you —you saw him?" she sobbed, piteously.

Their eyes met in a look such as had never occurred before, and the anger and icy sternness in his face frightened her into dumb terror, and yet she would suffer everything to keep the terrible truth from him whom she loved better than life.

"Daisy!" this time his voice thrilled with passion and mighty love, "in heaven's name tell me what this means! What am I to think? I ask you plainly. What in heaven's name am I to think?"

"If I had had my revolver with me I should have shot the fellow dead. Do you know?— can you realize what construction the world would put upon what I have witnessed?"

The lovely girlish face did not flush under his stern gaze and cold eyes, but a heart- breaking quiver trembled on her red lips as she looked pleadingly, sorrowfully at him.

"Oh, I know what you must think, Aleck," she said in a pleading, touching way, "but, oh, Aleck, although I cannot tell you what brought him here, you must trust me. I cannot explain myself, I cannot defend myself; but as you love me trust me— believe in me."

She knelt before him in all her fair young beauty, her golden hair falling about her white shoulders like a veil of burnished gold, her blue eyes full of tears, her voice full of anguish.

Aleck turned on his heel with a terrible imprecation.

"If you will not tell what the count was doing here, by heaven! I shall follow him to the end of the world to force it from his lips. This is the end of our love— our happiness, Daisy —in this hour you and I part forever, and my love turns to bitterest hate."

CHAPTER XXIV.

Estranged.

In all the after years of sorrow and pain Alexander Hamilton never forgot the scene which followed.

On the threshold he paused and turned back.

Daisy had flung herself on the velvet carpet, her long golden hair floating about her, half revealing, half concealing a face so deathly white it startled him. His heart ached to see her terrible anguish, but the thought rose up darkly in his heart— was she innocent or was she terribly guilty?

"I give you one more chance," he said hoarsely. "Will you tell me all —clear up this horrible mystery—or must we part?"

She stretched out her trembling arms to him and caught his hand in hers.

"Do not turn from me, Aleck!" she moaned. "Better kill me instead. I cannot live without you!"

She raised her eyes with a piteous pathos in them that would have touched a heart of stone.

There was no relenting in those proud eyes, no softening of the haughty lips; he was as stern as a judge who unwillingly administers justice.

Many women have knelt upon the gibbet, and have suffered less with the bright knife suspended over their heads than she endured in that hour.

"You must not leave me, Aleck!" she prayed. "Spare me the shame and disgrace of that. Spare me because I am so young, and the disgrace would kill me!" she repeated with dry, burning lips. "Before you were out of the sound of my voice I should fall down dead. For God's sake, save me!"

He was only human, this stern, proud man, and her anguish touched him keenly.

A sudden thought came to him; he paced hastily up and down the room a few moments, then turned to her abruptly.

"There is but one alternative," he said, slowly. "To save appearances, I will spare you the shame of desertion and the publicity of the divorce court, but on one condition."

"And that?" faltered Daisy, piteously.

"Is that we are to live as far apart —although under the same roof— as though the whole wide world separated us," he repeated. "Never more shall you be wife of mine until this galling and infamous mystery is cleared up. I can never again touch your hand, look upon your face without thinking of it." "

"Aleck, my love!" she moaned, but did not appear to hear.

"This villa will still be your home and mine if you prefer having it so, and the terms on which we reside here are these; You can choose any suit of rooms that you prefer for your own use. I have mine. Unless we have visitors, it would be painful for us to meet at lunch or dinner. You can have what you want, at what hour you want, and I shall do the same. Our friends need never know of our estrangement. Before them we will be as we have been in the past to each other. When the door closes upon them we will go back to our new mode of life. I shall consider myself at perfect liberty to go and come when I like, staying away as long as I will. You have the same freedom."

He paused and looked at her.

"It is a most miserable compromise, Aleck," she sobbed, "but I accept it. The sentence you have passed is heavier than death, but I submit because I cannot live apart from you. You may repent, Aleck, and take me back to your heart again. You cannot mean all that you have said. Look into my face that you have found so fair, and tell me that your love is still mine, in spite of all."

"Your beauty took me by storm," he answered slowly, "but mortal beauty pales before nobility of soul. I gave you the deepest, truest love man ever gave to woman, but it died when I found that you were false as you are fair. The soul has gone from my love, there is but the corpse of it left, nothing can reanimate it. Do not think me harsh— do not think that I judge you from a pinnacle of self-complacent goodness; I humble myself before heaven for my many faults and sins while I speak to you of yours. You have transgressed beyond all forgiveness. I will not turn from you, I will spare you from disgrace, but my love for you is dead."

He was deaf to her entreaties to be more merciful, he turned and left her— left her lying prone on her face on the velvet carpet more dead than alive.

"And this is the end of it all," she moaned, in a terrible voice, "the whirlpool has drawn me down and ingulfed me, Aleck's love is dead. What is there left to live for.

All the long night through she paced the floor, and the young moon in all its rounds never looked upon a sadder sight than the death- white face that paused ever and anon before the window and was raised to the night sky.

The stars died out, a faint, gray line in the eastern horizon heralded the approach of another day; still Daisy lingered by the window, her thoughts in pitiful chaos.

Her maid came to her at the usual hour but she sent her away again. The girl was greatly startled to see the bed had not been slept in, but she made no comments.

An hour later there was a hurried tap on the door, and before Daisy could say "Come in," Olive burst like a whirlwind into the room with the morning paper in her hand.

"Oh, Daisy!" she cried breathlessly, "you could never guess what has happened; oh, it's something perfectly horrible."

Daisy stood quite still; she had believed she had reached the depths of human misery. What new sorrow could come to her now?

"It is about the count," continued Olive; "just think what a fearful escape I have had. He was coming this very morning to arrange with me about our approaching marriage; now, the first thing that meets my eye as I open the paper is that he is under arrest charged with the robery of Mrs. Dillingham's diamonds. You remember about that, don't you? How on the night of the ball they were taken from the safe by some one who had smuggled himself in at the ball?

"It seems that the detectives had been watching him long before he was suspected, and when he attempted to dispose of them early this morning— after keeping them in his possession all this while until the excitement had blown over — well, they pounced upon him at once, and the consequence is he is in the tombs, and there in searching through his pockets, guess what was brought to light, Daisy!"

(To be continued.)

Why Impure Blood In the Spring?

THE NECESSITY OF LOOKING TO THE HEALTH OF THE LIVER AND KIDNEYS—THE NATURAL FILTERS OF THE BLOOD.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

If the liver and kidneys were always kept in perfect health and activity, ready at all times to thoroughly filter the impurities from the blood, there would be no necessity of making special effort to purify the blood.

During the summer season, when the diet is composed largely of natural foods, such as fresh fruit and vegetables, there is little trouble from impure blood, because the filtering organs are kept healthy and active. It is the artificial life of winter that brings on constipation of the bowels, clogging of the kidneys and a congested condition of the liver.

For this reason spring finds the blood loaded with impurities, and it becomes absolutely necessary to use some means of making the filtering organ active in order that the blood may be purified and the poisons driven from the system.

Nature has only provided one way of purifying the blood, and that is through the liver and kidneys. Because Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills act promptly, directly and thoroughly on these filtering organs, making them healthy and vigorous in action, they are unsurpassed as a medicine for purifying the blood.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have come to be considered a necessity in thousands of Canadian homes. As a cure for kidney disease, liver complaint, constipation, biliousness and impurities of the blood there is no treatment so eminently satisfactory as this great prescription of Dr. A. W. Chase. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

Fresh Roll Butter
20 cents per lb.
J. C. Hanley & Co
GROCERS
Telephone 214

The Sherwin-Williams
...BARN RED...
Saves money for the barn owner. It does it by covering most surface to the gallon, spreading easy and wearing the longest time.
Price $1.00 per gallon.
Last year we sold over a hundred gallons, and every can gave satisfaction. Its made to satisfy. Use it and you'll save money.
WATERS DRUG STORE

New Hats
READY-TO-WEAR HATS
DRESS HATS.
New Veilings
Latest styles—Best work.
We will surely please you.
Come and see them.
MISS M. CAMPBELL.
P.D. Corsets. 'Phone 117

A long portage makes a heavy canoe.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN and be sure that when you ask for Perry Davis' Painkiller you get just that and nothing else. Use it promptly to cure cramps, diarrhoea and all other bowel complaints in summer.

A System that Will not keep You waiting

Whether you want Painting, Paper Hanging, Decorating, Graining, or anything in our line, we will not keep you waiting. WE WILL NAME THE DAY, and that very day you will find us at your work, with an excellent staff of workmen—the very best mechanics that can be secured—workmen that we can rely on and that please our customers every time.

OUR WALL PAPER TRADE this year is so far the largest in the history of this house, and there are reasons behind the increased trade, and here they are—

FIRSTLY—Times are good, people have money and know where to spend it to advantage.

SECONDLY—By comparison with other lines our customers find our prices much lower and our styles of Wall Paper much higher than the ordinary.

THIRDLY—We give free two yards of bordering with each double roll of the Wall Paper it matches.

We hang our paper at very reasonable prices and always please our customers whether in papering, painting or anything else.

C. B. Scantlebury
Belleville's Decorator
Outside Painting. Inside Painting,
Paperhanging.
Wall Paper, Wholesale and Retail.

CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY

CAPITAL

10,000 Shares 7 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 each,	$1,000,000
50,000 Shares Common Stock, par value $100, issued and fully paid	5,000,000
TOTAL CAPITALIZATION	$6,000,000

Issues of $1,000,000 00 7 p.c. Preferred Stock in 10,000 Shares of $100 each at par.

This stock is preferred both as to Assets and Dividends.

The shares are entitled to cumulative preferred dividends from the net earnings of the Company, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the first days of April and October. They may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged for common shares. They are subject to be called in, in whole or in part, by the Company, at $115,00 per share, at any time after 1st January, 1909.

The total issue of Preferred Stock is only $1,000,000.00, the whole of which is now offered.

Subsriptions for 10,000 Shares of $100 each of the 7 per cent. Preferred Stock of the CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY will now be received at par, that is $100 Share, as follows

per cent on application,
25 " " on allotment,
35 " " 30 days thereafter.
35 " " 60 days thereafter.

One share of Common, par value $100, given with each share of preferred.

The whole of instalments remaining unpaid at any time may be prepaid in full. A discount of one per cent will be allowed upon the par of each share if prepaid at time of allotment

Notice of allotment will be sent promptly by ordinary letter.

COAL
PROPERTY IN FULL OPERATION

Company owns 9,600 acres of coal property known throughout the coal trade as the New Campbellton Colliery, located on Bras D'Or Bay, County of Victoria, Cape Breton, Novia Scotia. Mine is fully equipped, producing and marketing tons of coal a day at a net profit of $1.00 a ton. Improvements are now being made that will increase the output to over 1,000 tons a day. On present output, figuring 300 working days in year, the net result will more than pay interest on entire issue of preferred, with output of 1,000 tons a day net result will be $300,000 per annum.

IRON
RICHEST ORE IN THE WORLD

Company owns in fee simple, free and clear of all incumbrances, 4000 acres of iron ore deposits, located Natashquan (tidewater) situated on North shore of Gulf of St. Lawrence, in the County of Saguenay, province of Quebec.

Deposits contain 20,000,000 tons of ore ABOVE SEA LEVEL ALONE.

Quality of ore is highet ever discovered, running from 69 per cent to 72 per cent in metallic iron.

More orders for the sale of this ore has been received by the Campany than can possibly be accepted, and at a price netting the Company a profit of $2 a ton F. O. B. vessels at Company's docks.

Send for prospectus giving full information as to earnings, reports, etc., etc.

Address all communications and send subscriptions to

COLONIAL SECURITIES CO.,
62 Wall Street, New York City
OR
W. L. MARSTON & COMPANY
110 State Street, Boston

The SAWYER COMPANY.
351 Temple Building, Montreal, Canada.

Weak? No matter how long you have been ill, nor how poorly you may be today, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine you can take for purifying and enriching the blood. Take Ayer's Pills for constipation.

J. C. Ayer Co.,
Lowell, Mass.

OBITUARY.

JOSEPH F. McDOUGALL.

In the Township of Thurlow, there passed away in the person of Joseph F. McDougall, one who for many years had been an exemplary illustration of fortitude and patience, under prolonged feebleness of health, and gradual decline, till the margin of earth life was reached, and the spirit embarked for the felicities of the better country on May 6th, 1903.

He was born in Belleville in 1845, but while he was young his father's family removed to the 2nd con. of the township of Thurlow, in which neighborhood he grew to manhood. Here also he secured a farm, married and spent the remainder of his life; meanwhile his integrity and obliging disposition as a neighbor won for him the good will and confidence of the entire community.

He was a respected member of the C. O. O. F., being one of the Charter members of the Shannonville Lodge, and worthily maintained his fidelity to the Order, and its fraternal observances to the last. As he drew near the end, his relish for spiritual things seemed to increase, and he took great comfort from spiritual conversation and devout exercise with those who called upon him.

Though physically enfeebled, his judgment still guided the affairs of the farm, while in the home all that could be thought of to restore health, or relieve any symptoms of distress was cheerfully done. His solicitude for his children was evinced when on the last night of his sojourn on earth he called them around him, and delivered to them his parting counsel—words so solemn that they can never fade from the memory of those who heard them.

His affliction, which from its incipiency lasted nearly fourteen years, drew much sympathy, which was amply demonstrated by the large concourse that assembled at the funeral on May 10th. A goodly contingent of the C.O.O.F. officially attended, and in addition to the regular burial service, the appropriate ritual of their Order was solemnly conducted.

He was twice married; the second time to Miss Williams, of Sidney township, who, with his four children, now survive him.—Com.

Piles To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles, the manufacturers have guaranteed it. See testimonials in the daily press and ask your neighbors what they think of it. You can use it and get your money back if not cured. 60c a box, at all dealers or EDMANSON, BATES & CO., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Delicious Coffee

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE'S.

Ground daily by electric power.

30 & 40 cts. per lb.

—THE—

INTELLIGENCER JOB PRINTING DEPARTMENT

WE have every facility for doing the best and cheapest Job Printing in the country. Our presses and stock of printing materials are up-to-date.

Half Tone
Catalogue Printing

ARTISTIC FOLDERS, PAMPHLETS, MAILING CARDS, ETC.

To Business Men :

We have 100,000 ENVELOPES of all kinds to select from

Statement and Bill Heads, Letter and Note Heads, Gummed Paper, Poster Paper, Butter Paper, etc.

Cover Paper—a full line of popular makes.

Book and Printing Paper—all sizes, weights and prices.

Card Board Visiting Cards, Tickets, etc.

The Intelligencer Printing & Publishing House, Limited.
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

Anecdotal

Once, when passing through a cemetery, Eliot Gregory was surprised to see that the members of one old New England family had been buried in a circle, with their feet toward its center. He asked the reason for this arrangement, and a wit of that day, daughter of Mrs. Stowe, replied: "So that when they rise at the Last Day, only members of their own family may face them!"

Prof. Syle (pronounced Sill), of the State University of California, must be either a boor or a smart Aleck, if the following story told by the "Argonaut" is true, and the general verdict will be "Served him right." The other day, says the "Argonaut," while calling the roll of one of his classes, Professor Sill came to the name of a Miss Greene. He paused and expressed his disapproval of the final e in her name by saying: "G-r-e-e-n-e, does that spell Green or Greenie?" Miss Greene promptly replied: "S-y-l-e, does that spell Syle or Sillie?"

"It is a shame," John Randolph once said in the United States Senate, "that the bull-dogs of the administration should waste their time in worrying the rats of the Opposition." The members constituting "the Opposition" groaned, hissed, and called him to order. The presiding officer ruled that he was in order, and Randolph, springing to his feet, pointed at his antagonists and screamed: "Did I say rats? I meant mice, mice, Mr. President."

James McNeill Whistler was recently dining with a friend in London. Suddenly, when all had dined and were back in the drawing-room, Whistler said that he had almost forgotten it, but he absolutely must write a letter and get it off by the night's post. He was told that in a room at the head of the first flight of stairs he would find the lights burning and pens, paper and ink at his disposal. He went up, and presently there was heard a series of bumps, ending in a heavy thud at the foot of the stairs. The master had tripped, lost his balance, and come near having a bad fall. The host ran to him and asked if he was hurt. "I am not killed, if that's what you mean!" Whistler replied; "but, tell me, who built those stairs?" The host mentioned the name of a builder unknown either to Whistler or to fame. "Humph, he did, eh? The d—d teetotaler," said Whistler.

Booker T. Washington tells an amusing story of an old colored preacher who was endeavoring to explain to his congregation how it was that the Children of Israel passed over the Red Sea safely, while the Egyptians, who came after them, were drowned. The old man said: "My brethren, it was this way: When the Israelites passed over, it was early in the morning, while it was cold, and the ice was strong enough so that they went over all right; but when the Egyptians came along it was in the middle of the day, and the sun had thawed the ice so that it gave way under them, and they were drowned." At this, a young man in the congregation, who had been away to school and had come home, rose and said: "I don't see how that explanation can be right, parson. The geography that I've been studying tells us that ice never forms under the equator, and the Red Sea is nearly under the equator." "There, now," said the old preacher, "that's all right. I's been 'spectin' some of you smart Alecks would be askin' jest some such fool question. The time I was talkin' about was before they had any jogafries or 'quators either."

All flower-lovers who read Elizabeth and her German Garden and who sympathized deeply with the heroine in her hopes and fears over her ventures, will be interested in this letter from the writer herself, who is the Countess Von Arnim, an Englishwoman married to a titled German, though not, one will hope for her sake, "The Man of Wrath" in verity. The letter was sent in answer to one written by a gentleman in Ottawa who owns a beautiful rose-garden; it will be seen that she understood the meaning of the "N'Importe Qui," which he pretended to hide, and her gay humor is shown in her own signature, which she would veil under a similar play upon words. This is the way she writes on paper with an odd red crest, and with envelope postmarked with some illegible German words:

"Dear M. Namport Key:

"Your charming letter has so puffed me up with pride that far from being modest, I am unbearable. Your rose fills me with envy—how lovely it is. If I had one here it would not grow, the climate is so changeable. We have frost sometimes in August. All my tea roses that I wrote about are dead and frozen, in spite of more tender attention and covering than the babies get even. This autumn, greatly daring, I start fresh ones.

"I think I must make an expedition to America, the letters I get from there are so delightful, and I should so much enjoy seeing my unknown friends' gardens. It was so kind of you to send me a photograph of a bit of yours.

"Believe me,
"Yours very gratefully,
"Elizabeth—Namport Kwa."

A Whimsical Fable.

One of the most whimsical fables about the Knickerbocker settlement in New Amsterdam, to which the descent of President Roosevelt gives interest, concerns the acquisition of Manhattan Island. The Dutchmen wanted to buy; the Red Indian was not indisposed to sell. So a "deal" was arranged. For a specified amount of cash as much of the island was to become the property of the Hollander as he could cover with his nether garments. His name was Ten Broeck (scottice, "ten breeks," anglice, "ten pairs of breeches"). But of this the too confiding savage was unaware. When Ten Broeck calmly proceeded to disrobe himself, and to spread his voluminous clothing on the island—which he succeeded in covering entirely—the look of mingled chagrin and amazement on the chief's usually impassive face must have baffled description. However, the noble Red Man buried his hatchet, puffed away at his calumet, and stood by his bargain, while all the time realizing the force of Canning's epigram that "in matters of commerce the fault of the Dutch is giving too little and asking too much." And that—again to fall back on legend—is why expansive garments of Dutch cut are called "knickerbockers" even unto this day.

MARY STUART'S champions have been well to the front lately, and quite a library might now be formed of histories of her reign, volumes written to defend her character, and novels founded on her life. In the eighteenth century John Wesley, a man of just judgment, investigated her case in one of his rare intervals of leisure, and declared his belief that most of the charges brought against her were false, and only supported by forged documents. As the years have rolled on many men have become of the same opinion as the great preacher, and have refused to take the Elizabethan view of Mary Stuart's conduct.

In a work recently issued by Mr. Samuel Cowan there is a fresh interest for admirers of the Queen of Scots, by reason of the portraits of Mary (no less than sixteen) given with the two volumes. Some of these have never been published before, and in more than one she appears as a really beautiful woman, who might well charm all beholders. In fact, these portraits quite justify the price asked for "Mary Queen of Scots, and who wrote the Casket Letter?"

Many portraits supposed to represent Mary Stuart differ so remarkably that doubt is often expressed as to her having been so beautiful as her contemporaries alleged she was; yet out of twenty-four a good dozen will give the idea that this famous Queen was indeed a handsome woman, and as for the remaining twelve likenesses, as contradictory as they are unflattering, allowance must be made for incompetent artists and for the possibility that these dissimilar portraits represent other women.

Catherine de Medicis had three daughters, Claude, Duchess of Lorraine; Elizabeth, Queen of Spain, and Margaret, Queen of Navarre; and three daughters-in-law, Mary Stuart, wife of Francis II.; Elizabeth of Austria, wife of Charles IX., and Louise of Lorraine, wife of Henry III. The queen-mother had a passion for portraits, especially for those of her own relatives, and occupied artists constantly. Besides her own collection—in the contemplation of which she passed many an hour—she kept a stock for presents to royal kindred and great people. Catherine was a generous giver, from motives of policy, even when dealing with persons she distrusted or disliked.

It is quite possible that the portraits of these Valois queens and princesses have become rather mixed in course of time, and some without names have been passed off as likenesses of Mary Stuart, when really representing the odd-looking Claude, Duchess of Lorraine, who had a curiously long nose, or her better-featured sisters, Elizabeth and Margaret. They would all appear richly dressed, some wearing crowns as queens, and this would help considerably in the mistake. Mary Stuart used to be sumptuously attired when Dauphiness and Queen of France, and when, as Queen of Scotland, she was Darnley's wife. Her later portraits, of course, represent her in widow's dress.

Redmond and Parnell.

THOSE who have sought to trace a parliamentary likeness between Mr. John Redmond and Mr. Parnell have surely insisted overmuch on the "Saxon" side of their characters, says the London "Outlook." Many opportunities of carefully observing "the Uncrowned King's" House of Commons career failed to discover in him a single one of those attributes which by common consent are assigned to Irishmen, either on or off the stage. This is not so in the case of Mr. Redmond. Mr. Parnell, admittedly, was a consummate master of strategy, a man of unflinching will, and one who kept his unruly pack in order by the sheer force, as it seemed, of a superior mind dominating an inferior. He may have been respected, unquestionably he was feared, but no one can make even a pretense of saying that he was liked. His was the Anglo-Saxon nature in its iciest and least alluring form; and in him there was also a considerable dash of the mystic. Mr. Redmond is not a conscious plagiarist; but it can hardly be doubted that he has modeled himself—largely, perhaps, by force of long association — upon that remarkable man, his former chief. At the same time, and looking a little below the surface, there are sharp points of contrast between the two. Mr. Redmond, though an Anglicized Irishman, remains an Irishman still; Mr. Parnell never was an Irishman at all, save in regard to his national aspirations.

Mr. Redmond's "mysticism," too, is rather the natural shield of a cautious politician who has learnt reticence by long practice of the game than an endowment of Nature. He has taught himself how to school and keep curbed the impulses of an essentially Irish temperament; and that he generally succeeds says much for his self-restraint. But when he does burst out—which is seldom—you know that in scratching the Parliamentarian you have found the Milesian. Mr. Parnell, on the other hand, never generated aught but white heat. In his latest platform speech Mr. Redmond has allowed himself a license which he studiously eschews when addressing the House. Nevertheless, even before an Irish audience he never entirely forgets that he is playing a "costume part," while the rougher, though equally congenial, role of "principal villain" is left to Mr. Dillon, and no attempt is made to interfere with the masterly stage-management of Mr. O'Brien. There is a good deal to be said for this sort of division of labor, since it leaves Mr. Redmond free to accept, without any sense of incongruity, the compliments which Mr. Balfour and other Front Bench leaders are wont from time to time to pay to his statesmanlike qualities. It would also—but this possibly is trenching too nearly on prophecy—make easier at some dim and distant date a "deal" between Mr Redmond, on behalf of his compatriots, and a "Saxon" Government for the settlement of the Irish question, because you can always negotiate better with one with whom you are on terms of outward and ceremonial politeness.

Ephraim—He dun held foh aces. Rastus—Wot did you hold? Ephraim—Mah breff!—Baltimore "World."

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

THEY HAVE ARRIVED

The extra fine grade of boy's 3 piece suits of which we spoke some time ago.

They open fully up to our expectation. We have no hesitancy in saying, "better goods in value or quality were never seen in Belleville"—probably never as good.

The rush of orders have kept these a little late at the factory. We could have had others but we are glad we waited—so will you be when you see the unusually HIGH CLASS APPEARANCE of every suit.

Many ladies have requested something, little better than the usual boy's clothing. We are confident these will fill that want.

Of course the cost is a little more, but, you will not consider that when you see their extra value.

They are in every way [except price] a marked advance and worthy of attention from every mother who has a son.

—Boy's fine grade 3 piece suits in rich plaids and stripes—single or double breasted, superior throughout, ... $5.00 to $10.00

BELTS

Belts are now as neccessary to the stylish outfit as the tie or shirt—not specially to hold up the trousers but to give the finish.

To get just the "correct" finish you should examine our new assortment—every desirable style is represented.

—Fine leather belt with nickle buckle and side links, alligator finish 25c

—Fine leather belt with Ooze lining and new Patent Cavanagh, tongueless buckle—will not slip—best nickle fittings, ... 50c

—Fine real alligator belt with best buckle and fittings—very stylish $1.50

FANCY VESTS

The STYLISH and COOL man is the one that wears a light vest.

Every man likes to be among this class—not hard either or costly if our assortment is examined.

Different styles are arriving nearly everyday—just opened some very neat ones in plain white pique—white pique with colored stripes—fancy linen colored etc. All are well cut and made and will do up well.

—Men's fancy vests with fine detatchable buttons—all sizes 35 to 46, $1.25 & $1.50

MORE WAISTS

Another lot of stylish white waists have just come to hand.

These are in fine grades and are made in the most advance style with new Doucet sleeves.

There is an appearance about these goods that cannot be obtained even by the best dressmakers, and the prices are much below what their charges would be.

—Fine white India Linen—waist, front trimmed with groups of narrow tucks and Embroidery insertion—wide doucet sleeves tucked $1.25

—Fine India Linen waist front of allover embroidery—newest tucked sleeves hemstitched collar and cuffs $2.25

—Fine allover embroidery waist with plain hemstitched and tucked yoke edged with wide embroidery insertion coming to point in front—tucked sleeves $4.00

LADIES' VESTS

These are busy days in our mantle room. With the warm weather comes garment changes of all kinds.

Our underwear section is specially well prepared for this occasion—abundance of styles qualities and prices.

We have never had a better representation of "right prices" than these. Value considered we have done everything else possible to bring these to you at lowest prices.

If you buy here you will realize the saving our efforts have made possible.

—Fine cotton vest with all lengths in sleeves .... 5c to 25c

—Fine white cotton vest with light fleece 30c

—Fine natural wool vests, light weight with trimmed neck and satin facings $1.00

WASH SKIRTS

Summer is here—the washable skirt problem now commads attention.

Whether you desire Linen— Crash— Pique or Duck you will appreciate the easy choosing point at which our assortment is.

No lady can afford to be without one of these pretty and serviceable garments.

The saving alone to your better skirts will more than pay for it. This combined with the neat styles and patterns which can be seen here make them most worthy summer clothing.

—Skirt of fine Navy Duck trimmed with three narrow plaited flounces headed with narrow white braid $2.95

—Skirt of fine Navy Duck with white spots—wide flounce trimmed with self strapping $1.75

—Fine shirt of white pique trimmed with fine embroidery strapping—a good plain skirt $3.00

Agents for Standard Patterns.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

CLOTHING BOUGHT HERE PRESSED FREE OF CHARGE

JUST CHOOSE FROM

Liberal Selections.

That's all any man has to do when he comes to Quick & Robertson's for his clothes, and as far as fitting him and pleasing him, why, that will take no time at all, because he knows we do things a little different at this store—put more worth in prices and have our clothing built perfect. He knows they are the very best, so all he has to do is to make his choice; and best of all, he can't go wrong, buy what he will—the Quick & Robertson guarantee assures perfect satisfaction.

How about your Spring Suit? Bought it yet? If you haven't we'd like your inspection of our assortment—the $6 50, $8. $10 and $12 lines in particular—attractive singe and double breasted sacks in latest effects, Cheviots, Cassimeres, Worsteds and Serges—a greater range of patterns than any tailor can show you, made as good as his garments, too, $6.50, $8, $10, $12. Yes, we can give you finer material up to $15, but can't improve on the make very much.

Summer Underwear at Half Price

Hundreds of customers have taken advantage of our great offering in Summer Underwear, but as our purchase from the manufrcturer was over 300 dozens we still have a good assortment left. Regular 50c Balbriggan Shirts for .... 25c each.

Belleville's Best Clothing and Furnishing Store.

QUICK & ROBERTSON

Exclusive Agents in this City for Johnston's Famous Clothing.

Other People's Money

We are in business to exchange our different lines of reliable merchandise for other people's money. The buying public seem to appreciate our efforts in this direction as is evidenced by our greatly increased trade. Just at present we would like to show you our

Garden Hose
Lawn Mowers
Refrigerators
Oil Stoves
Screen Doors
Screen Windows

The W. W. CHOWN Company, Limited

Orders for bookbinding should be left at this office. It is surprising how nice a volume can be made of these magazines, even though they are somewhat soiled from much handling. Books, magazines, or periodicals bound or rebound in any style at very reasonable prices. Blank books, such as journals, ledgers, day books, with any kind of ruling, made to order. All work warranted first-class. THE INTELLIGENCER, Belleville.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Advertisements under this heading TWO CENTS A WORD; subsequent consecutive insertions ONE CENT A WORD. No locs charged as less than twenty-five words.

The police last night found two business places insecure.

A drunk was gathered in by the police last night.

The Fax-Chambers Concert to be in the opera house Monday, June 1st, is the talk of the town.

A number of ladies representing the various Missionary Societies of the Methodist churches in the city went to Bayside to-day to attend a convention.

Charles Thompson, a sailor hailing from Oswego, was this morning allowed to go by the P.M. on the charge of drunkenness.

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

The plan to subscribers for the Fax-Chambers Concert, Monday, June 1st, will open at Riggs' Saturday, May 30th.

Harold Beale, an 8-months-old child, died last evening at the residence of a relative, Mr. Thomas Haslip, Canifton Road.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by all Druggists.

Fifteenth to Visit Picton

Mayor Boulter, of Picton, was in the city to-day, and conferred with Col. Halliwell in reference to making arrangements for the Fifteenth Regiment to visit that town on Dominion day.

WHERE MEDICAL SCIENCE FAILS to cure rheumatism and all the time you suffer dreadfully, why don't you get a bottle of Polson's Nerviline and try that? Rub it into your stiff joints, sore arms, lame back, bent shoulders—wherever the pain is. Nerviline has cured plenty of people in this way, and that ought to be proof enough that it will cure you too. It is an unusually strong liniment that cures rheumatism in unusually quick time. Best household liniment known. 25 cents.

Sports and Pastimes

YACHTING.

Reliance a Good One.

Glen Cove, L.I., May 26. — For the third time the swift Reliance won over the Glen Cove course, but it was only after the Constitution had given her a game struggle. At the finish the new boat led the Constitution by 2 minutes and 51 seconds.

The Columbia was miles away to the leeward and outclassed. The manner in which the Constitution outsailed the old cup defender of two years ago was the surprise of the day, as was also her ability to keep close to the Reliance. During the first three legs of the course, which was sailed twice over, the Constitution lost 3 minutes and 8 seconds, while on the two legs the second time around the triangle she gained 1 minute and 49 seconds. On the last leg, however, which was a beat to windward, the Reliance gained more than a minute.

Thinks Reliance is the Whole Tip.

New York, May 26.—Not a possible chance for the America's Cup is conceded to the Shamrock III. by a yacht owner and a member of the New York Yacht Club, who has wagered $1,500 to $1,000 that the Reliance will win in one, two, three order in the series. David Barrie, Sir Thomas Lipton's commercial manager in this country, took the short end of the bet.

The transaction came about through a discussion of the possibilities that the challenger has for "lifting" the cup at his third trial. The New Yorker expressed his assurance that defeat would again be the portion of Sir Thomas.

Mr. Barrie was somewhat astonished when the American made the bold statement that Shamrock III. would not take one of the series of races, but when the offer was made to back the opinion at the odds quoted, promptly covered the money.

Mr. Barrie acknowledged that the wager had been made, but refuses to name the member of the New York Yacht Club whose money he hopes to win.

CARMAN OPERA HOUSE
Monday, June 1st
THE
Fax-Chambers Concert
JAMES FAX (the Prince of Humorists) (in costume).
Mrs. FRANCIS T. CHAMBERS (Contralto)
Mr. FRANCIS T. CHAMBERS (Tenor)
and Chataupka Orchestra.
Best seats 35c. Plan at Riggs' Saturday.

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

Many Methodists Meet in Convention.

ANNUAL MEETING OF BELLEVILLE DISTRICT IN SESSION MONDAY AND YESTERDAY—THE ROSS GOVERNMENT CONDEMNED.

The annual meeting of the Belleville Methodist District commenced on Monday morning in Bridge St. Methodist Church. The first day the meeting is confined to the ministers of the district only, and the business was chiefly of a routine character. The Rev. F. B. Stratton and Rev. S. A. Duprau, who had been superannuated for a year, it was recommended should be restored to the active work of the ministry. Conversations took place as to the observance of family worship, the teaching of the catechism in the Sunday Schools and a better observance of the Lord's Day.

The second day the delegates met with the clergy. Rev. Dr. Crothers presided over the deliberations, Rev. E. A. Tonkin was the financial secretary, Rev. Henry Thomas minute secretary and Rev. Wm. Coombe assistant secretary.

The Representatives.

The representatives from the different churches or circuits in the district were:

Bridge St., Rev. W. J. Crothers, M. A. D.D., Rev. Professor Doxsee, B.A., Rev. A. Doxsee, Rev. Dr. Galbraith, Rev. Dr. Lambly, Mr. Wm. Johnson, Mr. W. W. Chown.

Tabernacle, Rev. J. H. Locke, Rev. Dr. Dyer, Rev. Dr. Gardiner, Rev. E. Woodcock, Rev. A. C. Maybee, Rev. T. Myers, Rev. A. Campbell, Rev. F. B. Stratton, Dr. Goldsmith, Mr. J. Boldrick.

Holloway St., Rev. J. R. Real, Rev. Wm. Tomblin, Rev. S. A. Duprau, Rev. A. Martin, Mr. J. G. Vandusen.

Belleville North, Rev. M. J. Bates, Mr. C. F. Draycott.

Sidney, Rev. E. A. Tonkin, Mr. L. Massey.

Bayside, Rev. W. V. Sexsmith, Mr. J. M. Finkle.

Foxboro, Rev. R. M. Pope, Mr. Jno. A. Holgate.

Plainfield, Rev. Henry Thomas, Mr. I. Denyes.

Canifton, Rev. W. D. P. Wilson, Mr. Ira C. Badgley.

Shannonville, Rev. Wm. Coombe, Mr. L. E. Mills.

Melrose, Rev. C. H. Fusee, Mr. Samuel Osborne.

Contributions for Past Year.

Total contributed for all purposes:

Bridge St	$8485.84
Tabernacle	2690.15
Holloway St.	2073.34
Belleville North	806.05
Sidney	1851.21
Bayside	930.70
Foxboro	1899.54
Plainfield	1769.83
Canifton	2219.48
Shannonville	1315.75
Melrose	1043.72
Total	$25,085.21

Mr. E. Wesley Morgan was recommended to be continued as a probationer for the Ministry.

Delegates Elected.

The delegates elected to the annual conference which meets at Oshawa are:

Wm. Johnson, W. W. Chown, W. R. Aylsworth, C. P. Holton, N. Vermilyea, F. E. O'Flynn, J. Frith Jeffers, W. H. Gordon, J. Boldrick, Dr. P. D. Goldsmith, J. G. Vandusen, Philip Cauniff, W. J. Magrath, C. F. Draycott, Belleville; Levi Massey, Charles Chisholm, Wallbridge; Chas. Treverton, Belleville P.O.; C. M. Finkle, Bayside; L. B. Faulkner, J. A. Holgate, Foxboro; R. N. Bird, Chatterton; J. Denyes, H. K. Denyes, Foxboro; Ira Badgley, Corbyville; L. E. Mills, T. Morden, Shannonville; A. Winters, Lonsdale; S. Mowat, Halston.

The Wesley Bi-Centenary.

A strong resolution in reference to the celebration of the Bi-centenary of the birth of the Rev. John Wesley, M. A., commencing with the 28th of June, was unanimously passed.

Appointments to Conference Committees.

Stationing Committee—Rev. W. P. Wilson; alternate, Rev. J. H. Locke.

Sunday School Committee—Rev. J. R. Real and Mr. Wm. Johnson.

Epworth League Committee — Rev. E. A. Tonkin and Mr. John Holgate.

Conference Contingent Fund — Rev. M. J. Bates and Mr. J. Denyes.

Conference Sustentation Fund—Rev. H. Fusee and Mr. L. E. Wills.

Conference Temperance and Moral Reform Committee—Rev. R. M. Pope and Mr. Chas. Chisholm.

Memorial and Miscellaneous Committee—Rev. M. E. Sexsmith and Mr. J. G. Vandusen.

Sabbath Observance Committee — Rev. S. A. Duprau and Mr. C. P. Holton.

Church Property Committee—Rev. J. H. Locke and Mr. W. R. Aylsworth.

State of the Work—Rev. Professor Doxsee and Mr. J. Boldrick.

Nominating Committee—Rev. Dr. Crothers and Mr. L. Massey.

The Commons Commended.

A resolution was submitted commending very strongly the passing by the House of Commons of a resolution prohibiting the sale of cigarettes to minors.

Ross Government Condemned.

It was moved by Rev. E. A. Tonkin, seconded by Mr. Levi Massey, and resolved, That this District Meeting desires to place on record an expression of its thankfulness to Almighty God for the glorious victory achieved by the friends of temperance and moral reform in the referendum contest last December, when 200,000 votes were cast for the prohibition of the liquor traffic. But while we rejoice over this victory at the polls, we are also constrained to express our unqualified disapproval of the action of the Government in postponing temperance legislation until the next session of the Legislature. We deplore the fact that the Government has failed to fulfil its promise, and thereby merits the censure of all honest temperance men in both political parties.

We heartily endorse the strong words of the "Christian Guardian" in its last issue, when it says: "It is painful to have to come to the conclusion that the Government does not want to touch this question and is glad to avail itself of any plausable excuse to delay the inevitable but dreaded day when the matter will have to be brought before the Legislature for discussion and decision. It is impossible to get rid of the conviction that this excuse for delay is a subterfuge unworthy of the Government and insulting to the people." Further, we are confident that the proposed legislation is not in harmony with the wishes of the two hundred thousand citizens of this province who voted on the 4th of last December in favor of the "Liquor Act of 1902." Nothing less than the abolition of the open bar, as well as the prohibition of the treating system, will satisfy the views and claims of the temperance people of Ontario. It is more apparent than ever that temperance legislation can only be obtained by putting men in the Legislature who are well-known and avowed prohibitionists. And as Christian temperance voters, we will use our franchise as a sacred trust for the purpose of placing in our Legislative Halls men who are loyal to the temperance cause, and who, by voice and vote, will do all they can to "banish the bar," stop the treating customs, and thus help to save our boys and men from "the curse of rum."

Other Matters.

It was decided to hold a Sunday School convention in connection with the Financial District meeting.

Bridge St. Church was selected as the place for holding the next annual meeting.

A NAGGING COUGH drives sleep and comfort away. You can conquer it with Allen's Lung Balsam, which relieves hard breathing, pain in the chest and irritation of the throat. Give it freely to the children. 2

COMING TO BELLEVILLE Saturday, June 6, Second Tour of Canada

RINGLING BROS.
WORLD'S GREATEST SHOWS
ONLY RHINOCEROS IN CAPTIVITY
LITTLE BABY Bee
ONLY PAIR OF FULL GROWN GIRAFFES IN CAPTIVITY
THE BIGGEST SHOW ON EARTH
TO WHICH IS NOW ADDED WITHOUT ANY ADDITION IN PRICE, THE SUBLIME SPECTACLE
JERUSALEM
AND THE CRUSADES
COPYRIGHT 1903 BY THE COURIER CO. BUFFALO, N.Y.
INAUGURAL SCENE, SPECTACLE JERUSALEM
ABSOLUTELY AN ADDITIONAL TRAIN OF CARS ARE REQUIRED TO CARRY THE SCENERY, WARDROBES, ARMORS, WAR IMPLEMENTS, ACCESSORIES AND PEOPLE OF THE NEWLY ADDED AND ENORMOUSLY GRAND SPECTACLE, OF JERUSALEM AND THE CRUSADES
85 DOUBLE LENGTH RAILROAD CARS
40 BIG AND LITTLE ELEPHANTS
1280 PEOPLE
108 WILD ANIMAL CAGES
650 HORSES
40 FUN-MAKING CLOWNS
$3,700,000 CAPITAL
$7,400 ACTUAL DAILY EXPENSE
BALLET SCENE
SPECTACLE JERUSALEM
BIGGEST CIRCUS ON EARTH
375 PERFORMERS 16 BIG ARENAS
3 LONG MILES OF NEW AND COSTLY
2 TROUPES ACTING SEALS
A PARADE SUCH AS THE WORLD HAS NEVER SEEN BEFORE
PARADE GLORIES FREE UPON THE STREETS EVERY MORNING AT 10 O'CLOCK
TWO PERFORMANCES DAILY AT 2 AND 8 P. M. DOORS OPEN AT 1 AND 7 P. M.
ONE 50-CENT TICKET ADMITS TO EVERYTHING. CHILDREN UNDER 12, HALF PRICE

Admission and numbered Reserved Seat Tickets sold on show day at Riggs' music store at same prices as charged at ticket waggons on show grounds.

Belleville, Saturday, June 6

PERSONAL ...AND... SOCIAL.

The Intelligencer invites all its readers to contribute to this column all items of a personal nature, such as the arrival or departure of guests, and the movements of business men, etc. Send a post card to or telephone The Intelligencer.

Dr. McKeown is in Stirling on business.

Miss Hazel Steele is visiting Miss Day, at Guelph.

Police Magistrate Flint has returned home from Toronto.

Mr. Frank Caron, of the Bell Telephone staff, spent Sunday in Montreal.

Mr. Charles Stewart has returned home, after spending a few days in Toronto.

Messrs. A. A. McDonald and W. J. Moore, barristers, of Madoc, are attending the High Court.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Dande, of Sault Ste. Marie, arrived here on Saturday to visit Mrs. Dando's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Mills.

Masters Frank and Fred Nancarrow, of Campbellford, have returned home after spending a few days with Mr. S. Symons, Octavia street.

Mr. C. B. English, resident engineer of the cement works, leaves to-day, accompanied by his wife, for a ten days' visit to Ithaca, Pittsburg, Buffalo and New York.

Mr. John Cordon, of this city, left on the early train for Pensacola, Florida, where he will go on a ship laden with cattle for Mr. F. R. Lingham, en route to South Africa.

Mr. James Holmes, who has been employed at Hotel Quinte for some time left to-day for Toronto. He has secured a position upon the steamer Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Mills were in Toronto yesterday attending the obsequies of Mrs. Mills' mother, Mrs. M. A. Beckett, who was drowned on Friday night last.

Toronto Globe: Mrs. R. P. Roblin, wife of Premier Roblin, of Manitoba, was in the city last week. On Friday she called on some old friends, Mrs. (Rev.) C. Barltrop and Mrs. Hartney, of Markham street, and was accompanied by her two younger sons. They were en route for Belleville and Prince Edward County, where Mrs. Roblin's parents and other relatives reside.

Arrivals at Quinte: J. A. Ham, E. W. Verner, E. S. Wadsworth, D. Mendels, G. W. Parsons, Montreal; W. Holmes, A. Miller, F. Watson, N. R. Turner, G. Hambly, R. McGill Hood, H. Hunter, F. B. Beemer, T. Allen, R. L. Crawford, J. M. Hamilton, J. Ross, Toronto; M. Brainard, Warner, Ohio; E. L. Brown, London; G. A. Hutchison, Brockville; A. Hogg, New York; Mrs. A. Throe, Syracuse; Miss E. Green, Boston; W. S. Miller, Frankford; C. L. Farnworth, Ottawa; F. W. Rowland, D. R. Jones, H. Hatch, Deseronto; W. Boulter, Picton; S. C. MacGowan, Saratoga, N.Y.

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

We have just received a big lot of Empire Shirt Waists for boys 6 to 12 years of age that we are selling at 39 cents each. These garments have stiff collars and cuffs, and are in the regular way worth almost double the price asked. We have also a lot of boys' blouses as low as 25 cents each. Quick & Robertson, Belleville's Best Clothiers.

ESTABLISHED 1870

Light Weight Hats

COLORED FELTS AND STRAWS
Latest New York Styles.
No trouble to show them.

S. A. HYMAN & CO.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

SUMMER GLOVES

We are showing New Summer Gloves in all the seasonable shades and fabrics. These goods are the products of the best mills in Germany, every pair being well made, of the finest Silk, Lisle and Cotton yarns.

The styles are the most fashionable worn this season.

Plain Lisle Gloves, 2 clasps	25c pair
Lace Lisle Gloves, 2 clasps	25c pair
Net Gloves, 2 clasps	35c pair
Elbow Length Lace Gloves	50, 75, 85c
Silk Taffeta Gloves	25 to 40c
Pure Silk Gloves	40, 50, 60c
Washable Lisle Gloves	25 to 40c

All in Black, White, Cream and Colors.

Misses' Summer Gloves

In Lisle, Silk and Taffeta, from 15c pair up.

Laidlaw & Ketcheson

DIRECT IMPORTERS

Daily Intelligencer.

THE INTELLIGENCER IS SOLD AT
J. W. London's and G. Wardhaugh's.

Local Reading Advertisements, words 50 cents; 2 cents per word first insertion, per word subsequent consecutive insertions. Headlines count as 12 words; contracts for [illegible] periods made at office

Snappy Ginger Snaps

Just fresh made—10c a lb.

Sweet Cream

Just received—40c a quart

CHAS. S. CLAPP

RUBBER GOODS

Our stock of Rubber Goods is up-to-date in every particular and the quality of everything is as good as the assortment is complete. Some Rubber Goods are made to sell only. None of those come here. We carry the kind that are made to give long and satisfactory service. We also see to it that you get right prices.

Hot Water Bottles
Bulb and Fountain Syringes
Sick Room Supplies.

McKeown's DRUG STORE

NEW SPRING GOODS

LATEST DESIGNS IN SPRING TROUSERING.

Spring Overcoating. A nice Line of Waterproof Overcoating, Tweeds and Serges at reasonable prices by the yard.

Call and inspect my stock before ordering your Spring Clothing.

ARTHUR McGIE,
Merchant Tailor.
Front Street.

It takes a long time to tell of what you have not done.

Sterling Silver and Cut Glass.

Particular attention is directed to my stock of the above goods, which at present is most attractive. I handle the renowned Gorham Silver and Hawkes Cut Glass Ware, being sole agent for this city. These are the best and prices are moderate.

T. BLACKBURN.

The After Effect

After celebrating Victoria Day we will now get down to business. Watch for close prices in to-morrow's paper.

McINTOSH BROS.

Some of Roosevelt's Views.

In expressing his political views and experiences Colonel Roosevelt's pen is a trenchant one. Here are some extracts from his political essays and lectures which demonstrate the truth of that statement, are fair samples of his style and also show the trend of the man's mind pretty clearly:

"I wish to preach, not the doctrine of ignoble ease, but the doctrine of the strenuous life; the life of toil and effort, of labor and strife; to preach that highest form of success which comes, not to the man who desires mere easy peace, but to the man who does not shrink from hardship, or from bitter toil, and who, out of these, wins the splendid, ultimate triumph."—Speech at the Hamilton Club, Chicago, April, 1899.

"The successful man, whether in business or politics, who has risen by a conscienceless swindling of his neighbors, by deceit and chicanery, by unscrupulous boldness and unscrupulous cunning, stands toward society as a dangerous wild beast. The mean and cringing admiration which such a career commands among those who think crookedly or not at all makes this kind of success perhaps the most dangerous of all the influences that threaten our national life. Our standard of public and private conduct will never be raised to the proper level until we make the scoundrel who succeeds feel the weight of a hostile public opinion even more strongly than the scoundrel who fails."—"Latitude and Longitude Among Reformers."

"Money is a good thing. It is a foolish affectation to deny it. But it is not the only good thing, and after a certain amount has been amassed it ceases to be the chief even of material good things. It is far better, for instance, to do well a bit of work which is well worth doing."—Speech to Young Men, December 31st, 1900.

"Practical politics must not be construed to mean dirty politics. In the long run the politics of fraud and treachery and foulness are unpractical politics, and the most practical of all politicians is the politician who is clean and decent and upright. But a man who goes into the actual battles of the political world must prepare himself much as he would for the struggle in any other branch of our life. He must be prepared to meet men of far lower ideals than his own, and to face things, not as he would wish them, but as they are. He must not lose his own high ideal, and yet he must face the fact that the majority of the men with whom he must work have lower ideals. He must stand firmly for what he believes, and yet he must realise that political action, to be effective, must be the joint action of many men, and that he must sacrifice somewhat of his own opinions to those of his associates if he ever hopes to see his desires take practical shape.

"The prime thing that every man who takes an interest in politics should remember is that he must act and not merely criticize the actions of others. It is not the man who sits by his fireside reading his evening paper and saying how bad our politics and our politicians are who will ever do anything to save us; it is the man who goes out into the rough hurly-burly of the caucus, the primary and political meeting, and there faces his fellows on equal terms."

"Of all the forces that tend for evil in a great city like New York probably none are so potent as the sensational papers. Until one has had experience with them it is difficult to realize the reckless indifference to truth or decency displayed by papers such as the two that have the largest circulation in New York city. Scandal forms the breath of the nostrils of such papers and they are quite as ready to create as to describe it. To sustain law and order is humdrum, and does not really lend itself to flaunting woodcuts; but if the editor will stoop, and make his subordinates stoop, to raking the gutters of human depravity, to upholding the wrongdoer and furiously assailing what is upright and honest, he can make money, just as other types of pander make it. The man who is to do honorable work in any form of civic politics must make up his mind (and if he is a man of properly robust character he will make it up without difficulty) to treat the assaults of papers like these with absolute indifference and to go his way unheeding. Indeed, he will have to make up his mind to be criticized, sometimes justly and more often unjustly, even by decent people, and he must not be so thin-skinned as to mind such criticism overmuch."

Public Peculation in Latin Countries.

A well-known Italian diplomatist, who has only recently left London to exchange his post for a more important one, told me a couple of years ago that, with very few exceptions, Italian ministers—as distinct from diplomatists—all "feather their nests," or at least endeavor to do so. Consequently, when a Disraeli, a Guizot, or a Jules Simon dies poor, his poverty is not only accounted a wonder, but a virtue, by almost every French, Italian and Spanish journalist. To the very small number of statesmen of the so-called Latin nations thus distinguished must be added the name of Francesco Crispi. The fact of his demise in peculiarly straitened circumstances has been so prominently brought forward in France, Italy and Spain as to tempt English scribes still further to emphasize this rare, not to say extraordinary, evidence of the honesty of a great—or reputedly great—statesman of quasi-Latin origin.

The Small Boy's Poser.

Charles derived little good from his visit to Sunday school yesterday. After dinner mamma missed a small pot of jam, and as she noticed some telltale evidences about Charles's mouth and hands, she asked him if he had seen or eaten the jam. Charles insisted that he had not even seen the jam. Papa thereupon was called in, and Charles was punished severely. Drawing Charles close to her, and wiping the tears from his eyes, mamma said: "When I was your age, my boy, I never told a falsehood." "How old were you before you began?" asked Charles, between sobs.

THE WAY TO BE WELL.

THE BLOOD MUST BE KEPT RICH AND PURE AND THE NERVES STRONG.

Good health is the most precious treasure any man or woman can have. But good health can only be had by keeping the blood rich and pure and the nerves strong. If the blood is allowed to become weak and watery the whole system is weakened and falls an easy prey to disease. There is no medicine can equal Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in keeping the blood rich and pure and the nerves vigorous and strong. Every dose helps to create new blood, and by a fair use of the pills pale, sickly people are made bright, active and strong. Here is proof. Mr. Robert Lee, New Westminster, B. C., says:—"Before I began using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills my blood was in a very impure state, and as a result pimples that were very itchy broke out all over my body. My appetite was fickle and I was easily tired. My wife urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got half a dozen boxes. By the time I had used them I was completely restored to health, my skin was smooth and clear, and my appetite good."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do not purge—they simply make pure, rich blood. That is why they cure such troubles as indigestion, neuralgia, rheumatism, anaemia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, scrofula, erysipelas and the ailments so common to women, young and old. Sold by all dealers or sent, post paid, at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by writing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Kaiser as He Is.

Ray Stannard Baker, in his volume, "Seen in Germany," gives this picture of the Emperor William:

"He is a brown-faced man, the brown of wind and weather, of fierce riding on land and of a glaring sun on the sea. His face is thinner than one has pictured, and there is a hint of weariness about the eyes. His hair gives the impression of being thin, and his famous moustache is not so long nor so jauntily fierce as one has imagined. There is many a dry-goods clerk in Berlin who has out-Kaisered the Kaiser in growing a moustache. But, owing to the sin of retouching, there is one thing that few of William's photographs show to advantage, and it is the most impressive characteristic of his face. And that is its singular sternness in repose. Square, iron jaws, thin, firm lips, a certain sharpness and leanness of visage, a penetrating eye, all speak of invincible determination, pride, dignity. Indeed, herein lies the force of personal majesty—for William, however much one may smile at his passion for royal display, has many of those splendid attributes of character which would make a man great in any sphere of life. It would be a large company of Germans, indeed, among whom one would fail to select him instinctively as the leader. A first impression, therefore, may thus be summed up: The Kaiser is less a great king than one has imagined, and more a great man. The longer one remains in Germany, and the more he learns of William and his extraordinary activities, the deeper grows this impression. We Americans have never quite overcome our first prejudices against the Kaiser, bred during the early days of his reign, when the mantle of royalty—and the Hohenzollern mantle at that—was new to his shoulders, and he said and did strange things; but in Europe—where they have grown accustomed to his vagaries, now, indeed, much less pronounced in their manifestations, and have set them down as the expressions of a strong and original individuality—the Kaiser occupies a place of high and genuine esteem. An American who remains long in Germany feels this change in sentiment strongly, and, when the Kaiser passes, he raises his hat with all the others, not merely because this is royalty, but because it is character and strength of purpose."

As might be expected, the Kaiser is most popular in his capital:

"One, hearing a commotion on Unter den Linden, with a flash of white plumes in the distance, and the swift clatter of hoofs, may well crowd up to see. A pair of splendid horses, traveling like the wind, two richly uniformed men on the box, and the Kaiser, the Kaiserin, and another lady in the open carriage behind. You observe that the Kaiser sits with his back to the horses, giving the place of honor to his wife, for William has set the highest ideals in courtesy to women—the Anglo-Saxon ideals, which often form a strong contrast to the rougher Teutonic customs. He wears a glistening silver helmet, which he touches with military precision as the people on the streets shout and lift their hats. No cavalcade of guards accompany the carriage, and there is apparently no effort to guard the lives of its occupants, except in so far as they are protected by the terrific speed at which the horses are always driven. It is one of William's pleasures to show himself and his family frequently to his people, and the royal carriage may be seen at all hours in the streets of Berlin. The Kaiser's departure from the palace is always signaled by the fall of a flag, which serves as a notification to the people to prepare for his appearance among them. Nearly every afternoon he rides out, usually in uniform, with some of his staff-officers, galloping down the Linden and into the Thiergarten, where he often spends an hour in exercise."

FIVE DOCTORS CRIED "HOPELESS"

But Jacob DeWitta wasn't going to cry quits without a fight for his life. He pinned his faith to Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, and it saved him.

Jacob DeWitta, of Hay Island, had been under treatment with five doctors. Each in turn giving up his case as a hopeless case of Heart trouble, said he might drop dead any minute. He fell in weight from 214 to 143 pounds, but he "pinned his faith" to Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart, and he declares he owes his life to it. From the first dose he found benefit. To-day says he never felt better in his life. 83

Sold by D. M. Waters.

THEIR THINKING CAP IS ON

But 11 Weeks Sees No Railway Policy to Announce.

Beyond the Decision Announced by the Premier in the House That Whatever Trans-Continental Line Is Aided It Will Not Be by a Land Grant—Five Hours Debate on the Transportation Question.

Ottawa, May 27.—On motion to go into supply, in the House yesterday, Mr. Borden brought to the attention of the Government a matter, on which he thought there should be an announcement of policy, viz., the reference in the speech from the throne to the Transportation Commission. The speech was delivered 11 weeks ago, and yet no commission had been appointed, although, about six weeks ago, Mr. Prefontaine announced a set of names in Montreal. Since then he had been told the draft of the commission was before the Justice Department. The settlement of the Northwest and the output of grain was increasing, and more than one scheme was before Parliament for supplying the facilities desired. One of the companies, the Grand Trunk Pacific, was before the Railway Committee of the House. It had been announced by the press and by Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson that the Government intended to give aid to one of the companies. In fact, this was the most important subject since the C.P.R. bill was introduced. Sir William Mulock had announced his policy to be to extend the Intercolonial to Winnipeg, while Mr. Blair had declared for a through transcontinental Government railway. Throughout Canada, the feeling was strong in favor of a road built through Canada and using Canadian ports. He would like to know when the Government would be ready to bring down its policy on this question.

Sir Wilfrid's Reply.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier expressed regret that Mr. Borden had not given notice of his enquiry. He would, in that event, have been able to give more information. However, on the spur of the moment, he would say there were three principal points to be considered. First, there was communication by water, which the Government had in mind when the commission was first promised. To-morrow the terms of the commission would be laid on the table, but he could inform the House that the commissioners chosen were Sir William Van Horne, John Bertram, Toronto, and Harold Kennedy of Montreal. Mr. Kennedy, not being able to act, E. C. Fry, Lloyd's agent at Quebec had been chosen in his place. Another feature of the problem was that of providing railway facilities for the growing settlements of the Saskatchewan Valley. Probably this week it would be the Government's duty to lay on the table certain information in regard to that railway. Still another feature was that there must be another trunk line, to connect the prairie settlements with the seaboard. The Government was not connected with any scheme that had been put forward in that direction. The Government was prepared to lay down the salient ideas that should be kept in view in carrying out that scheme.

In the first place, the road must be built through Canadian territory exclusively, from the Pacific to the Atlantic. (Hear, hear.)

Secondly, the tide water terminals must be in Canada, Quebec in summer and St. John and Halifax in winter.

There were now three companies in the field, the Trans-Canada, the Canadian Northern, and the Grand Trunk Pacific. But the Government had not made up its mind to any one of these three schemes. The question was now under consideration. This, however, was settled, that if the Government decided to give assistance it would certainly not be in the nature of a land subsidy. (Cheers.)

"But no conclusion will be come to," added Sir Wilfrid, "until we have had an opportunity of discussing the subject with those who do the Government the honor of giving it their support."

The debate was continued by Dr. Sproule, Hon. John Haggart, Hon. Israel Tarte, Lt.-Col. Hughes, Messrs. Charlton, Osler, Talbot, Casgrain, Frank Oliver, Kemp, Pringle, Bell of Pictou and Hon. Mr. Blair until 10.15, when the House got into Committee, and $219,480 departmental justice items were passed. The House rose at 12.40.

New Senator Introduced.

Ottawa, May 27.—The Senate had its first sitting yesterday, after a four weeks' holiday, and opened proceedings by the introduction of a new member, Hon. James T. McGregor, who takes the place of the late Senator Carmichael of Pictou, N. S.

Bridge Co. Bill Passes.

Ottawa, May 27.—At the Railway Committee of the Commons, a bill was passed, empowering the Pere Marquette International Bridge Company to bridge the Detroit River, at Amherstburg.

North Grey Appeal.

Toronto, May 27.—The appeal of G. M. Boyd, the defeated candidate in the North Grey local election, against the order of Mr. Justice MacLennan, striking off his election petition, will be argued at 11 o'clock to-day. The order was made on the technical ground that a copy of the petition has not been left with the local Registrar.

Stricken with paralysis whilst conducting devotional exercises of the National Council of Women at Victoria College yesterday morning, Mrs. Frank Gibbs lies at Grace Hospital in a very serious condition. Mrs. Gibbs is a resident of Port Arthur.

FERROL
(The Iron-Oil Food)
Combining Iron and Phosphorus with Cod Liver Oil

FERROL represents the first and only successful attempt to combine these three unparalleled remedial agents.

For building up the run down system FERROL is absolutely unequalled. Send for FREE sample and literature.

75c. a Bottle. At all Druggists, or from

THE FERROL COMPANY, Limited
Toronto, Ont.

Laboratory and Offices: 124 King Street West

Henley's Attack on Stevenson.

The literary sensation in London is William E. Henley's onslaught, in the Christmas number of the "Pall Mall" magazine, upon the Stevenson worshippers. In tone it is not dissimilar from that of his attack on indiscriminate eulogists of Burns. As Stevenson's closest friend, he strips Stevenson's personality of the fantastic romance woven about it, and shows him to have been at times a vain, ungrateful, self-righteous, anxious egotist, possessed of abundant but imitative gifts. Even those who attempt to defend the justice of the criticism find that it lays Henley open to charges of disloyalty and bad taste. The London "Daily News" is emphatic in its protest. It says:

"We are not surprised that the literary world is scandalized. It is astonishing that any man of ordinary feeling should have written in such terms or a dead friend. One thing is made quite clear by the article. Stevenson has a genuine hold upon the affections of his countrymen, and that affection will last long after Mr. Henley's ill-judged screed is forgotten."

This view, however, is not shared by some who cannot be charged with jealousy of Stevenson. Just as Mr. Henley knew Stevenson best in his middle and Mr. Balfour in his later life, so Miss Eve Blantyre Simpson, the authoress of "Robert Louis Stevenson's Edinburgh Days," can speak of him as boy and youth. Miss Simpson states her view as follows:

"Mr. Henley has done a brave deed in his trenchant article on his friend 'Lewis.' He depicts him as he was before he began to pose as a famed man and was by preference the thoroughbred Bohemian. Mr. Henley recalls him to Edinburgh folk as he was and as the true Stevenson would have wished to be known."

$30.00 EAGLE BICYCLE

Cut this ad. out and send to us with $1.00

State whether you wish Men's or Ladies' Bicycle, height of frame and gear wanted, and we will send you this High Grade 1903 Model Eagle Bicycle by express C.O.D. subject to examination. You can examine it throughly at your Express Office and if found perfectly satisfactory, exactly as represented A GENUINE EAGLE BICYCLE, HIGH GRADE, 1903 MODEL—pay to the Express Agent the balance due—$29.00—and Express Charges. The express charges are only 50 to 75 cents for each 500 miles. No extra charge for Ladies' Bicycles. EVERYONE KNOWS THE EAGLE BICYCLE. They are the Highest Grade wheels made; big favourites with best Bicycle Clubs; the leading wheel with professional riders. Built on honor, flush joints, finest hanger, hubs and bearings, highest grade equipment. Fitted with Dunlop double Tube Tires. Heights of frame—Men's 20, 22 and 24 in.—Ladies' 20 and 22 in.—enamelled Black. WE OFFER splendid chance to a good agent in each town. Send for catalogue and ask for Agents' Discount. Wheels slightly used, $8.00 to $25.00. Secure Agency at once.

T. W. BOYD & SON, 1683 Notre Dame St., MONTREAL.

For Torpid Liver, Flatulence, Constipation, Billiousness and Sick Headache, TAKE

BRISTOL'S Pills

Safe, Mild, Quick-acting, Painless, do not weaken, and always give satisfaction.

[illegible] reliable Household Medicine, can be taken at any season, by Adults or Children.

[illegible] "BRISTOL'S."

DAINTY MUSLINS AT HALF PRICE

Here is a chance to secure a Fancy Muslin Dress at less than half price. Come in and see them. Remember any Muslin in our south window for

10c a yard

Ladies' Ties and Collars

Just received a fine line of Ladies' Ties and Collars, the very latest styles. Prices from 25 to 50c.

TURNOVERS

Our assortment in embroidered turnovers is complete, prices from 8c to 25c.

Also fancy turnovers with cuffs to match at 45 & 50c.

NATHAN JONES.

The Finnegan Carriage & Wagon Co.

FOR

Stylish and Durable Turnouts.

—Surreys
—Corning Buggies
—Piano Box Buggies
—Rubber Tire Buggies
—Micadoes
—Phaetons
—Bike Buggies
—Democrats
—Grocer Wagons
—Butcher Wagons

Cheese Factory Milk Wagons.
Steel Tubular Axle Lumber Wagons.

Rubber Tires put on your old wheels at reasonable prices.

Mill St., - - Belleville.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL — LIBERALITY IN THINGS NON ESSENTIAL — CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 37. BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, MAY 28, 1903 NO. 23

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

BRITISH STEAMER SUNK.

Huddersfield Foundered After Collision With Uto—Many Lives Lost.

Antwerp, Belgium, May 28.— The British steamer Huddersfield, which sailed from this port Tuesday evening for Grimsby, England, collided with the Norwegian steamer Uto. The Huddersfield is reported to have foundered. From fifteen to twenty of her passengers are said to have been drowned. The crew were saved. The passengers were mostly seamen returning to England. It is believed they were crushed in the collision. The bows of the Uto were damaged.

A telegram from Grimsby says the Huddersfield carried 29 emigrants and five other steerage passengers. It was ascertained here later that 22 Austrian and Italian emigrants perished when the Huddersfield sank.

GAMEY ENQUIRY SCAPEGOAT

Premier Makes Excuse For Tardy Liquor Bill.

Government Charged by Dr. Barr With Trifling With the Wishes of a Large Body of Electors—Plea For Peat Industry—Mr. Hoyle Asks Government to Allow Pig Iron Bounty to Lapse and Apply It to Peat Fuel.

Toronto, May 28.—In the Legislature yesterday two very important subjects were debated, namely the question of dealing with the liquor traffic and the proposed bounty to the peat fuel industry.

Missing "Cap." Sullivan.

Public Accounts Committee reported that Capt. Sullivan could not be got before the committee.

Col. Matheson moved that he be summoned to attend on Tuesday next.

Premier Ross was not seized of the facts and the motion stood.

The Tardy Liquor Bill.

Dr. Barr moved for copies of all correspondence between the Government, any member, or department thereof, and any person or persons respecting any temperance legislation promised by the Government in the speech from the throne.

Dr. Barr, in speaking to his motion, said he moved it to ascertain the position of the Government on this question. The Liberal party in Ontario had trifled with the prohibitionists. Sir Oliver Mowat's Government, of which present Premier was a member, had stated that he was ready to go as far as the ascertained powers of the province would permit. Premier Ross had assured the deputation to which the promise had been made that he had always been in favor of prohibition, and the delegation might be sure that he and his colleagues would go as far as they could. The Manitoba bill decision by the Privy Council elated the prohibitionists and, waiting again on Premier Ross, that gentleman had given a promise that a bill would be brought down. He believed the Government had made a bargain with the licensed victuallers and the result was the loaded referendum bill. Both these opposing interests went to the polls to return the Government to power. To the deputation of prohibitionists which called upon him a few days ago, the Premier had announced that there would not be any legislation this session because of the Gamey investigation. He did not accept this as a valid reason. The legislation was promised in the speech from the throne, and he believed the bill would be found in the Premier's pigeon holes. The real trouble was that he had to choose between displeasing his friends, the liquor interest, or his friends, the prohibition people. If the Premier could not control the House in legislation of this kind he should resign. Had he brought down a good bill he, the speaker, would have supported him. The people were well prepared for legislation on this subject, as it had been a live question for twenty-five years.

Premier Ross Replies.

The Premier agreed that the question was an important one and should be considered calmly and dispassionately. He did not know that anyone questioned the bona fides of the Government in promising to bring down legislation of an advanced character, and he thought the course of the Government last session in submitting the referendum merited the approval and not the condemnation of the temperance people. The Government had given the people the opportunity to express their opinion on the measure on the ground that they were the final judges.

The promise of temperance legislation this session was made in perfect good faith. A bill had been drafted for the purpose of improving the license laws, and it had been the intention to submit it to the House, but when charges of a serious nature were made against the member of the Government who has control of the license department it was deemed proper to withhold the bill for this year. The bill was drafted under the supervision of the Provincial Secretary, but his attendance was required at the investigation, and he was, therefore, prevented from giving advice to his colleagues on the measure. Under the circumstances it was the reasonable and proper thing to delay bringing down the bill.

The original intention was to bring the bill down early in the session, and defer its third reading until the latter end, in order that the people might have a full opportunity to acquaint themselves with its provision.

No good could be accomplished by bringing down the bill at this late season, as another license year had been entered upon, and, in all probability, the House would assemble in January next year, affording ample time to put the measure through before the end of the license year. Would the country expect them to bring down a measure so important at so late a season? The Government had merely postponed the fulfilment of the promise made to the temperance people. He would deal with the question rationally and patiently, and was willing to trust himself to the good sense of the people. While the motives of the temperance advocates were good, they were not giving the question the same consideration as the men who are responsible for legislation. He would be very sorry if any hasty action would prejudice such an important question.

The Premier said he was not at all disappointed in the result of the referendum. It must have done a great deal of good, and the expression of the people given at the polls would assist any Government in promoting advanced legislation.

Messrs. Crawford and Clark continued the debate, and the order was passed.

Plea For Peat Fuel Bounty.

Mr. Hoyle moved for a return of the amount paid by the Government for the encouragement of the pig iron industry. He said the province was committed to the bounty system. There were seven iron furnaces in Ontario, and he found that in 1900-1 there was given by the Dominion Government to these furnaces no less a sum than $259,158.60, and by the Province of Ontario $25,000, making a total exceeding the amount paid for labor by these industries by $10,000. Yet pig iron could be bought in New York for $19 to $21 a ton, to $20 to $23 a ton in Ontario. Mr. Hoyle said he was a protectionist, but he doubted if it would be wise to continue the bounty after it expired next year. The bounty on pig iron was protection run mad. The industry has been overfed.

He suggested that the bounty be applied to fostering the peat fuel industry. In Beaverton there was a peat fuel industry which was no longer an experiment. This year it was expected the Beaverton enterprise would produce 3,000 tons of peat fuel and the proprietor had perfected machinery which made it possible to operate in all seasons.

Not Intended to Be Permanent.

The Minister of Crown Lands said that when the Government set aside $125,000 for the encouragement of the iron industry. It was not intended that the bounty should be permanent. He believed the Government adopted a wise policy in respect to the industry and he quoted figures to show the growth that had been brought about by the encouragement held out.

The Bureau of Mines had taken an interest in the peat enterprise. Large sums of money had been expended on the industry, but the results had not been as successful as the promoters had expected. He assured Mr. Hoyle that anything that could be done to develop the peat industry would be considered by the Government. It was for the Government to consider whether the bounty on pig iron should be continued after the amount voted had been exhausted.

Mr. Russell said the amount expended for wages at the furnaces was but a small proportion of the total wages paid in connection with the industry.

Mr. Conmee would regret very much if the Government should discontinue the bounty to this industry. It was one of the best pieces of legislation the Government had enacted.

There was no objection to the order, and it was declared carried.

Government Should Keep Road.

Mr. Powell (Ottawa) moved for a return of copies of all correspondence, papers and documents which have passed between the Government, or any member, or official thereof and the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Commission, in any way relating to the act governing the same, or to any amendments, or proposed amendments thereto.

Mr. Powell said the Government should not lease road to the Grand Trunk as had been rumored, but should operate the road to show that state controlled railroads in Ontario would be a success. The expenses of construction had been unnecessarily heavy. The original estimate was $21,000 a mile, but the expenses, exclusive of rolling stock, had been about $27,000. Other roads should get running powers, but the railway should remain in control of the people.

Mr. Latchford said the question of leasing the road to the Grand Trunk had not been under consideration, but under the act the commissioners were empowered to allow any road running powers. It was not correct to say that the cost of the construction would be as much as $30,000 a mile. Mr. Latchford made an explanation of the working of the act, which satisfied the mover, and the motion was withdrawn.

Other Matters.

Col. Matheson's motion that all papers concerning the defalcations of Alfred Macdougall be referred to the Public Accounts committee for investigation was allowed to stand until there is a full House when the Premier will demand a division.

The Premier announced that he would ask the House to consider on Thursday the resolutions adopted by conference of Provincial Premiers at Quebec.

A number of bills were considered in committee and others were read a second and third time.

A number of questions of local import to members asking them were answered, and the House adjourned at 6.45.

SINCLAIR'S AD SINCLAIR'S AD.

Special Wash Goods Values

All This Week.

Thousands of Goods to Select From.

See Our New Shirt Waists

Kabo Corsets have won a world-wide reputation for excellence. They

Fit Well
Feel Well
Wear Well
Look Well

We have a great variety of styles

comprising the latest designs and exclusive novelties and can fit you perfectly

Call and see our new spring style Kabos.

See Our Ladies Dress Skirts

D. V. SINCLAIR & CO.

DISASTROUS WIND STORM

Cyclone Swept Area Four Miles Long in Perth.

Destruction Follows in Path of Black Funnel-Shaped Cloud—Essex County Also Visited by a Tornado—Houses, Barns and Orchards Levelled to the Ground—Lightning Strikes Houses and Barns and Destroys Stock.

Listowel, May 28.—A funnel-shaped cloud swept over the northern section of the Township of Mornington, between 4 and 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, levelling everything in its path. It was the most destructive cyclone ever known in this country, and before it had spent itself, nearly every structure within an area 200 yards wide and four miles long, was partly or completely demolished. A schoolhouse, two farm houses, and five barns were demolished by the wind, and the wife of John Gamble was seriously injured. by being struck by a flying piece of debris.

The storm struck a point about eight miles south of Listowel. The barns of Arthur Dowd and Levi Watson were completely destroyed, and scattered in all directions.

The most satisfactory feature of the affair is that the storm struck after school hours.

Telegraph communication with Carthage and other villages in the vicinity of the storm area is cut off, and the full extent of the damage cannot be ascertained.

Damage Near Elora.

Elora, May 28.—Between 5 and 6 o'clock Tuesday afternoon a cyclone passed over a section of the country about three miles northwest of this town. It seemed to take a narrow strip, and, in its course, unroofed part of the barn of Charles Hays, carrying it a distance of sixty yards, and depositing it by the house.

South Essex Swept.

Amherstburg, May 28.—About 4 o'clock yesterday a small tornado sweeping everything before it for a width of about 60 rods, passed through the district about half a mile south of here, going in a northeasterly direction.

Wm. Lepain's drive sheds and implements' shed, containing his farm implements, including buggy, binder and many other things, are in a mass of ruins, levelled to the ground. The loss is about $1,000.

The next in the path was the large new barn of John Gould, containing his buggy, farm implements, hay and grain, and the residence of David Hall. Both were completely destroyed. John Gould and his brother, George, miraculously escaped with their lives.

David Hall's residence was two-storeys. The upper storey now lies scattered here and there through the fields.

The speed and force of the tornado was terrible, everything went instantly when struck.

Stopped the Cars.

London, May 28.—During the storm Tuesday afternoon, eight cars used on the regular lines of the street railway in the city and two of the Springbank cars were damaged by lightning and are now under repairs. The storm was so severe that the plant of the London Electric Company had to be closed down for a time.

Another Barn Burned.

Woodstock, May 28.—A fine barn, on the Robert Thomas farm, in the third concession of Burford Township, was struck by lightning and totally destroyed Tuesday evening. Several hogs and cattle were lost in the flames.

Lightning Causes Fire.

Guelph, May 28.—The barn of Mrs. K. Boyle of Puslinch was struck by lightning and burned to the ground Tuesday night. The stock was saved.

B.C. GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

Col. Prior Will Ask the Lieutenant-Governor to Dissolve the House.

Victoria, B. C., May 28.—The dismissal of two Ministers, the resignation of Mr. McInnes as a third, and the defeat of Col. Prior, Premier, on a motion to adjourn by 17 to 14 was the record of the Legislature yesterday. Col. Prior then rose, and said it having been demonstrated that he had lost control of the House he would ask the Governor to come down to-day and dissolve the House.

Every Limb Was Broken.

Winnipeg, May 28.—At Brandon yesterday afternoon a shocking accident occurred in the Brandon Brewery Company's works. A wholesale liquor man named Angus Munroe, fell into the machinery, and every limb in his body was broken before he could be extricated. He died several hours afterwards.

Simcoe Statue Unveiled.

Toronto, May 28.—The statue which has been erected in Queen's Park in memory of the first Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, Col. John Graves Simcoe, was unveiled yesterday afternoon by the Hon. W. Mortimer Clark, K.C., present incumbent of the office. Lord Minto and Hon. G. W. Ross spoke.

RAILWA COMMISSION BILL

Debate on the Transportation Question Resumed.

Centre of Discussion Was Over an Amendment Moved by Mr. W. F. Maclean to Give Commission Control of Express Companies — Classification Schedule No. 12 Put Into Force by Railways Without Knowledge of the Minister.

Ottawa, May 28.—Hon. Mr. Blair's bill to create a railway commission came up in the House yesterday afternoon.

After some discussion on the first clause, Mr. W. F. Maclean moved that the express companies be subject to the authority of the commission as in the case of the railways.

The Minister of Railways said he had considered the matter carefully and it was quite impracticable to incorporate such conditions. If desirable express companies could be taken up in a special private bill, but he would not burden his railway commission bill with provisions affecting express companies.

Mr. Maclean said many deputations had urged the bringing of express companies under the commission, and it would be almost useless if it did not include them. The railway companies owned the express companies and the two interests were nearly related.

Mr. Kent urged the Minister to reconsider his determination. The fruit growers had made out a strong case in this direction.

Mr. McCreary (Selkirk) said the proposed amendment was an effort to defeat the bill. Why attempt to cure every ill at once?

Mr. Maclean said he was anxious to see the bill put through and he had no such intention in moving his amendment. If it carried the dairy and fruit interests would be encouraged.

Would Get General Powers.

Mr. Blair said that the Commission would have general powers over the express companies. This would cover all general complaints. Any further provisions must be dealt with in a separate bill. What the deputation of fruit men had objected to was the classification which made it possible for railways to affect their interests.

Dr. Sproule claimed that the railways could evade the powers of the Commission through the express companies.

Mr. Haggart failed to see why the Commission should not be given power over freight carried by express, as well as by other means of carriage.

Mr. Monk said it was very essential to include express companies in the bill. The value of the bill would be lost if express companies were exempt. The railways would take out of the public in express charges what they might lose in freight rates.

Mr. Smith of Wentworth said it cost the fruit growers of the Niagara district $200,000 annually to ship their fruit, and this seemed to him a very large sum. With lower rates the fruit men could capture new markets.

Had Never Been Approved.

Mr. Kemp asked if the Canadian freight classification No. 12, taking effect May 1, had been approved by the Governor-General-in-Council.

To this the Minister of Railways replied that the classification had not been approved. There had been no such approval since October, 1899.

Mr. Kemp said this showed how completely the railways controlled the situation. The classification had never been submitted to the Governor-in-Council, as required, though the classification had been purely in the interests of the railways, and every pound of freight between the Atlantic and Pacific had been subject to these rates.

Mr. Blair said his department was not at fault in the matter referred to by Mr. Kemp, but he severely criticized the railways.

"It was a high-handed proceeding," he said. "It was an indefensible action. Without a word of communication to any officer of the department, this classification was made. It will be the exclusive duty of the Railway Commission to see that the law is not violated."

A long discussion ensued over the limitations of the commission, inasmuch as several railways are excluded or partially excluded from its operation. Several members urged putting I.C.R. and C.P.R. roads under the authority of the commission.

Militia estimates were taken up after recess and some progress was made before adjournment.

Ottawa, Ont., May 28.—There was a large attendance at the Railway Committee yesterday, when the Grand Trunk Pacific Bill again came up for consideration.

The first speaker was Mr. Bell (of Pictou) who spoke from a Maritime Province standpoint. He dwelt upon the necessity of an all-Canadian route with an ocean port on the Atlantic coast in winter, so that the produce of the west might find an outlet at a Canadian port. The G.T.R. was tied up to its Portland terminus. In his opinion there was no urgent necessity for the road. The Grand Trunk Company was not going to give a dollar to this Company, and the people of Canada would have to build the road. The Government had not said what assistance was to be given to the road. The bill should not be adopted until they heard what aid was to be given the company.

An Exploitation Scheme.

Mr. Maclean (East York) said that he was opposed to the bill entirely. It was an exploitation scheme. Private individuals were applying for a franchise which would be sold to the G.T.R. If they were to deal with any one let it be the G.T.R. Company. He was opposed to the bill on principle, but if any one were to have it let it be the G.T.R.

Dr. Sproule wanted to know what the Government was to do in the way of assistance. Mr. Blair said that the position of the Government in regard to the bill was announced in the House yesterday. He refused to be held up by Dr. Sproule or any one else on the matter. The applicants for the legislation were before the committee in the same way as any other company. As for the Government they were as free as the air to assist this company or any other company or to give no assistance at all for building this road.

Trans-Canada Opposes the Bill.

Mr. J. G. Scott, of Trans-Canada, appeared before the committee in opposition to the bill. He represented a company that had subscribed some $260,000. They had surveyors in the field. The route was a better one than the G.T.R. as it ran north of Lake Winnipeg and the wheat of the west would be carried cheaper by this route than any other. It was not likely that the Government would aid two transcontinental lines and he wanted his to get that assistance.

Mr. Cowan—"Is your company properly organized?"

Mr. Scott admitted that the company was not properly organized. The charter only fell into the hands of the present company a year ago. The charter was granted in 1895.

In reply to Mr. Tarte, Mr. Scott said that the company did not want to begin construction until the surveys were made. It would cost $83,000,000 to build the road to Port Simpson. The route of his road north of Abittibi Lake would open up a rich region which would not be touched by the G.T.R.

Mr. Thomas Davidson, of Quebec, was also heard in the interest of Trans-Canada and in opposition to the bill.

Would Vote Unreasonable Assistance.

Col. Tisdale said he was surprised to hear Mr. Bell say that no route of the kind suggested was needed to the west. Any one who traveled in the west could not come to this conclusion. He would be willing to vote almost an unreasonable assistance to the undertaking to hold the people coming into the country. As to the subsidy question, he was a believer in the constitution and would leave the matter to the Government, who were responsible to Parliament and the country.

Favored Government Road.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson said that it was impossible to consider the question without also considering the question of subsidy. There were three lines asking for subsidies. The Government would have to consider whether one, two or three were to get aid. In his opinion the Government would not be justified in subsidizing another line south of Lake Winnipeg. The people would not support them in doing so. If it were for a line north of Lake Abittibi, north of Lake Nepigon and north of Lake Winnipeg that would be a different matter. The committee was justified in providing facilities for the west. This could only be done so as to carry the products of the wheat fields of the West over an all-Canadian route to the seaboard, with a port on Canadian territory summer and winter by the Government building by the shortest route. This would secure a minimum rate. National sentiment demanded that the traffic of the West should be carried over an all-Canadian route to a seaport on Canadian territory all the year round. Millions would be expended by bonusing a company and the people would have nothing for it. If the Government built, the people would have an asset. By giving aid to a company you had no leverage on the rates. Government ownership would settle that. No legislation would secure in this bill, the carrying of the traffic to a Canadian seaport over an all-Canadian road.

Room For Five Roads.

Mr. Oliver (Alberta) spoke of the needs of railway in the west. There was room for five roads in the west. The west did not require so much a trans-continental line as the east did. What the west was most interested in was getting its wheat to Lake Superior, but they did expect that the through line would carry grain in winter to a Canadian port. He advocated a Government constructed line from Winnipeg to Quebec and St. John.

Mr. McCarthy moved that the bill be taken up to-morrow and have precedence until disposed of.

Mr. Maclean moved that it have only precedence to-morrow. Mr. McCarthy's amendment carried.

NECESSARY ELEMENTS.

Strengthen your throat and lungs with Angier's Petroleum Emulsion. It cures chronic coughs, makes breathing easy, cleanses the system of impurities, creates healthy blood, firm flesh, and supplies all the elements necessary for the successful treatment of consumption. Pleasant to take.

Daily Intelligencer.

CAN'T YOU FORGET SOME THINGS?

A PERFIDIOUS SUGGESTION!

Had it not the effect of demoralizing the whole political atmosphere of the country, the defence of Stratton by the Rev. editor of the Globe, for suggesting to a witness who was to give evidence in a case in which he (Stratton) was deeply interested, to "forget some things," would create a smile upon the face of every man having the slighest regard for truth and honesty.

The defence of this suggestion is, that there was nothing in the statement which the newspaper reporter had prepared, which was of any consequence, and consequently there was no harm or wickedness in asking the reporter "if he could not forget some things."

If this were the case, the questions naturally suggested are:

Why ask him to forget some things which were of no importance in the case?

And what is of equal importance.

Why was the written statement prepared by the reporter, and handed to Stratton's lawyer, at the suggestion of Stratton, destroyed?

If of no importance, and containing nothing to incriminate Stratton, why was it destroyed? Was it not to prevent its being produced in court?

After the damning evidence given by Hammond, the Globe reporter, that Stratton had, after reading the statement prepared by Hammond, asked him "if he could not forget some things," the production of the document in court was demanded, when Johnston, Stratton's lawyer, informed the judges that that could not be done as it had been destroyed!

It is a puzzle to most people who read this confession of Johnston's, why he was not put into the box and compelled to inform the court when this important document was destroyed.

Most people believe it was destroyed for fear its production in court would be demanded. The whole proceeding carries with it an air of criminality.

The Toronto Telegram deals with the defence of the Globe in a truthful and scathing manner. It says:—

> "The 'poor, lisping, stammering tongues of human reason' are powerless to do justice to the Globe's editorial excuses for Hon. J. R. Stratton's suggestion that its reporter should 'forget some of the things,' or, in other words, commit perjury.
>
> "The evidence of the most worthless witness whom the exigencies of this appalling trial have brought into the box is entitled to more respect than the editorial in which the organ, which is prophet and priest to Ontario Liberalism, tries to quibble away and laugh down the uncontradicted evidence of Mr. Stratton's awful suggestion.
>
> "If an editorial could be at once infantile and infamous, the Globe would be branded on both counts by its own weak, childish and wicked quibbling.
>
> "There is scarcely an Ontario Liberal who in private conversation will pretend to feel otherwise than ashamed of Hon. J. R. Stratton's suggestion to M. O. Hammond. They feel that Mr. Stratton has brought disgrace upon their party. The silence of the Ontario Liberal press is a still deeper disgrace, and a great party's degradation reaches its climax in the whining hypocrisy and cant phrases of the Globe's plea for Mr. Stratton.'"

TIMELY TOPICS.

Ottawa had another lumber pile fire. The wind was in the wrong direction to make a really good item out of it.

• • •

Let us be thankful. It now appears that, if the rain had held off a week longer, the strawberry crop would have been ruined!

• • •

The late Max O'Rell (Paul Blouet) spent eight years in England as a teacher in St. Paul's School. Before that he was a London correspondent of Paris papers. His experiences gave him an insight into English life and a fund of anecdotes, which he utilized cleverly in his book, "John Bull and His Island," published in 1883. The success which this playful characterization of national traits obtained in England led him to follow it up with other books, and lectures which were popular.

• • •

Toronto's building trade is paralyzed because the laborers won't work. What a great place Toronto would be, if it wasn't for those labor troubles!

• • •

John D. Rockefeller and his brother William, who have been waging financial war against each other for some time, have made peace and will in future devote their energies to "soaking" the public.

• • •

A Windsor minister resigned his charge because he had to celebrate so many marriages that his studies were seriously interrupted. Poor man! He should be given a good long vacation and then be sent to China as a missionary.

• • •

Five Kingston hotelkeepers were fined sums ranging from $5 and costs to $25 and costs at the police court for not showing a clear view of their bars to the streets on Sunday last.

• • •

Eight thousand Chicago barbers have decided to strike if their bosses will not give them better terms. This strike will not be a serious matter. At the worst it will only mean a generous crop of whiskers.

• • •

An American admiral wants a coaling station established at Dutch Harbor in view of possible trouble over the Alaskan boundary question. It would appear that the gentleman has chosen an extremely weak peg on which to hang a demand for the expenditure of a very large sum of money. There is about as much probability of a fight over the Alaskan boundary as there is over the Bacon-Shakespeare controversy.

• • •

There has been a strike in the Lowell cotton mills, and Mr. Samuel Gompers, labor agitator, paid a visit to Lowell the other day, and delivered a speech in which he stated: "The operatives want to go back to work self-respecting and with eyes bright and with ambition to perform their old duties to the best of their ability. If you cannot go back with self-respect, by the God who made you I advise you to leave Lowell and make your living where you may." The people to whom this twaddle was addressed struck for a 10 per cent. advance in wages, which the mill-owners declared they could not pay. The State Board of Arbitration, after investigation, corroborated this statement. Any man who sees a loss of self-respect in returning to work under these conditions at the old wage rates, is an enemy of the cause of labor. Laborers can never hope to prosper by bleeding their employers.

• • •

Three years ago to-day the Orange Free State was formally annexed to Great Britain under the name of the Orange River Colony. How time flies!

• • •

Old Boreas seems to be paying too frequent visits to Canada lately. Less wind and more water is what we need just now.

• • •

You would think poor Armenia had trouble enough, without being hit by an earthquake.

LATEST NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS

As Furnished to The Intelligencer by H. R. Beattie, Stock Broker.

New York, May 28.

Stock	Op'g.	H'st	L'st	Close.
Twin City	105	105½	103⅛	103⅛
Atchison	74¾	74¾	73¾	74⅛
do. pref	95⅝	....	....	....
St. Paul	149⅝	150⅛	148⅝	149⅝
Mo. P.	105¾	106	104⅝	105½
Union. Pac.	84⅝	84¾	82⅞	83
C.P.R.	126¾	127	123⅝	124⅝
South Pac.	50⅝	50¾	49¾	50⅛
Sou. Ry.	27⅛	27½	26½	26⅞
Texas	31	31	30⅛	30⅛
B & O.	87⅝	88⅛	87	87¾
N. Y. C.	126½	126¾	125¾	126½
Penna	127½	127½	126⅛	126⅞
Reading	49	49½	48¾	48⅞
Ills.	135	135½	134½	135½
Erie	33⅞	34⅛	33⅛	33⅞
do. pref.	67½	67¾	67¾	67¾
O. & W.	26½	26⅛	26	26⅛
C. O.	39¾	39¾	38⅞	39
Manhattan	137⅞	137⅞	136⅞	137
W. C.	21¾	21¼	20⅛	20⅛
L. & N.	112¾	113½	112⅝	113
Nor.	68⅛	68½	68	68
C. G. W.	20⅛	20½	20	20½
W.U.	84	84	83½	83½
T.C.I.	55⅝	56	54¾	55
U.S. Steel	31⅝	31¾	31	31⅛
do pref.	81¾	81⅝	80⅝	80¾
Sugar	123	123½	121¾	122
A. C. P.	61	61	57⅛	....
Po.	100⅛	100⅛	100	100¼
B. R. T.	61	61	59	59¾
Met.	129⅛	129¼	128½	129
Wab.	25⅛	25½	25⅜	25½
do pref.	45⅛	45½	44⅛	45⅛
Soo	58⅞	59	58	58
R. I.	35⅛	35⅛	33⅜	35⅛
A. F.	36½	35⅞	36½	36¾
Ak.	23½	-3½	23	23½

July wheat opened at 73 3-4c, closed at 73 3-4c.

July corn opened at 45 3-8c, closed at 45 1-2c.

SATURDAY, JUNE 6, IS CIRCUS DAY.

Ringling Brothers Are Coming With the Biggest Show on Earth.

Saturday, June 6, is Ringling Bros.' circus day. The greatest show on the world will bring its wonders to us at last. For weeks circus has been in the air and now, the dream of day and night is to be realized. The eighty cars used to carry the immense aggregation will draw in here early Saturday morning, and it needs no prophet to foretell the crowds that will greet the splendid caravans. This year the Ringling Brothers' great shows are almost twice as big as ever before, and that fact makes comparison with any other show impossible, and indicates tremendous size. The great tent will seat comfortably 18,000 people, and the menagerie canvas is the largest ever made, furnishing commodious room for the arranging of 108 cages, lairs, dens and tanks. There are 650 horses, with the huge shows, more than 200 of which are bred in the purple and highly educated. The zoological collection is incomparably the rarest in existence. It exhibits two giraffes, the last of their tribe; the only rhinoceros in captivity; a genuine baby elephant, Baby Boo, born January 8, 1903, and only 30 inches high, unweaned and as playful as a kitten; and the greatest herd of elephants in the world, forty in number. Twenty of these bulky beasts perform amazing tricks in the rings. Two groups of acting seals are another exclusive feature. They are shown on separate stages, and act in unison at the direction of their owner and trainer, Capt. Webb. This is the most instructive exhibition of animal training ever accomplished. The pick and flower of the circus profession in Europe and America appear in the extraordinary ring programme. Many of the acrobats, gymnasts, equestrians, riders, equilibrists, jugglers, athletes, contortionists, dancers, wire artists and myriad other feature performers are introduced by the Ringling Bros. in this country for the first time. The progressive policy of this famous amusement firm is illustrated this year in the production of a massively ornate and magnificently costumed spectacle, Jerusalem and the Crusades. 1,200 characters, more than twice the number ever used in a spectacle before, are in the cast, and a ballet of 300 beauties and singing chorus of 200 add to the delightful charm of the enchanting scenes. More than 200 daintily fashioned and classically correct costumes are worn in the varied and thrilling action, and the stage is larger than the combined stage room of 100 theatres. A huge grand pipe organ, the only portable one ever made, accompanied by a selected band of 50 soloists, render the specially composed music.

This production is beyond comparison the most colossal, artistically pictured in costume and scenic display, instructive and exhilaratingly pleasing ever presented to the American public.

Show day will begin with the grand free street parade, which with Ringling Brothers is a unique and delightful treat. It is twice longer than the procession of any other show, and every man, woman and child with the immense organization takes some part. Two performances will be given here Saturday, June 6, in the afternoon at 2 o'clock and at night at 8 o'clock. Reserved seat checks and general admission tickets will be on sale at Riggs' music store at same prices as charged on show grounds.

WALLBRIDGE.

The late John Yateman, who died a few weeks ago at Amsterdam, N.Y., was at one time a resident of our village. He was in his 85th year, and had the honor of being one of Queen Victoria's bodyguard at her coronation.

Capt. Graham raised a fine team of black colts for which he received the handsome sum of $400.

We are glad to report Mr. F. B. Prior quite improved in health.

Several of our residents are making improvements this spring which will add greatly to the appearance of the village.

BLESSINGTON.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cole are spending a few days visiting friends near Wellman's.

Miss Lizzie Robertson is some better, although still confined to her bed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones have gone to Warkworth for a few days.

Miss Grace Brown, Belleville, has returned home, after spending two weeks with her cousin, Mrs. C. W. Cole.

Mr. and Mrs. Murney Grills, of Chapman, spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Sherman.

Mr. Baleanquel, president of the Bronk cheese factory, informs us that, on account of the vast flow of milk, a larger vat has been ordered.

"BED-RIDDEN FOR YEARS"

Such cases are not hopeless when the right treatment is resorted to. South American Rheumatic Cure has cured hundreds of so-called "incurables." Relieves in six hours.

The marvellous curative power and effectiveness of South American Rheumatic Cure is in the quickness with which it acts and the almost "lightning change" for the better in the Rheumatic Victim after taking a few doses. It seems next to incredible—but there is no deception—it's work is apparent, and every step taken toward recovery is a permanent one. History repeats itself daily in this wonderful treatment—it never fails. 84

Sold by D. M. Waters.

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

PEN PICTURES OF PEOPLE YOU MEET

ON A BELLEVILLE STREET.

EX-MAYOR JOHNSON.

A very sturdy, well-set-up figure is that of the gentleman who is the subject of our little sketch to-day. Rather an aggressive face, if you come to study it closely. Heavy eyebrows, beard neatly trimmed, keen eyes which very little escape, a man who possesses originality and a natural talent for criticism. Looks like a man who would never back out of a quarrel or sidestep the chance for an argument if one came his way. Optimistic and argumentative, with an array of facts on nearly any useful subject at his fingers' ends. Added to these characteristics may be mentioned an excellent command of language, a trenchant style of oratory which his opponents have respect for, even if they don't esteem it, and a faculty of being not only able, but willing, to speak interestingly on almost any topic which comes up. A thorough-going man, who believes that any thing worth doing is worth doing well; a practical man, who has received many honors from his fellow-citizens, who has won more than local fame as an orator and political warrior, and who, perhaps, considers these baubles as nothing beside the fact that to him belongs the credit of discovering Queen Victoria park! This honor may be disputed—even Columbus' claim to discovering America is disputed—but the fact remains that though, perhaps, others proposed the scheme, it is solely to the energy and aggressiveness of Mr. Johnson that the citizens owe the lovely little breathing spot at the mouth of the river. It is still the apple of his eye, and he may be seen, almost any summer evening, seated on one of the benches there, drinking in the fresh, balmy air and descanting on the beauties of the Bay of Quinte, of which occupation he never tires. Having been named after the famous John Wesley, Mr. Johnson, of course, is a Methodist, and worships every Sunday in Bridge St. Church. His predilection for Methodism does not, however, prevent his occasionally criticizing, mildly, people who belong to the same religious family, but, as we remarked once or twice before, that's another story. Being a veteran of the Fenian raid of '65 and '66, Mr. Johnson, of course, has a warm spot in his heart for the King's uniform and all who wear it, and no military banquets or reunions are complete without he is present. Having been, at one time, Adjutant of the Forty-ninth Regiment, he is well versed in the technical work of Canadian military life. You would never tell, judging by his faultless English, that Mr. Johnson was an Irishman, but he is, and positively glories in the fact. He was born in historic County Antrim in 1845, and, after receiving his education there, came to Canada in 1864, being connected with steamboating for some time. Eventually he found his proper sphere in educational work, having, since that time, become widely known as a public accountant and one of the principals of a well-known business college. He was admitted a fellow of the Institute of Chartered Accountants in 1885, and, even without that distinction, would have been known far and wide as a fellow who revelled in figures and knew as much about them as anybody you would be liable to meet between Halifax and Vancouver. Mr. Johnson is an author, his "Canadian Accountant" and other publications having a continental reputation. He is a graceful and vigorous writer, and has the faculty of expressing himself clearly and forcibly, without unnecessary verbiage. He has been an Alderman and for four years in succession was Mayor of this city. He is a Conservative, a Free Mason, and a man who would probably have made his mark in whatever profession he had adopted.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Advertisements under this heading TWO CENTS A WORD; subsequent consecutive insertions ONE CENT A WORD. No locs charged as less than twenty-five words.

There was no police court to-day.

There were very few in attendance upon the market to-day.

The last, but not least. The Fax-Chambers Concert, opera house, Monday, June 15th.

The police here have been notified to be on the lookout for a man named McMullen, who has several aliases. He is wanted in Cobourg for horse stealing.

The plan to subscribers for the Fax-Chambers Concert will be open at Riggs' Saturday morning, May 30th, from 10 to 1 p.m.

HAROLD.

A large concourse of people attended the funeral of the late Wm. Hogle, who died of pneumonia, after an illness of three days, at the age of 65 years. Deceased was a member of L.O.L. No. 172, Wellman's, under whose auspices he was buried, with the very impressive service of that order. The family have the sympathy of the community in their sudden affliction. The funeral was one of the largest ever seen in Wellman's Corners.

A public nuisance in the shape of a furious bull has been a source of great annoyance to the travelling public on the eighth concession, having attacked several teams and made itself complete master of each occasion. A heavy fine should be imposed on any one turning animals on the highway to menace the lives of the public.

Mr. Richard Bailey is making rapid progress with his new house.

WHERE MEDICAL SCIENCE FAILS to cure rheumatism and all the time you suffer dreadfully, why don't you get a bottle of Polson's Nerviline and try that? Rub it into your stiff joints, sore arms, lame back, bent shoulders—wherever the pain is. Nerviline has cured plenty of people in this way, and that ought to be proof enough that it will cure you too. It is an unusually strong liniment that cures rheumatism in unusually quick time. Best household liniment known. 25 cents.

A Sweet Stomach

comes only by having a perfect acting liver and good digestion—both can easily be had by using

Beecham's Pills

Sold Everywhere. In boxes, 25 cents.

The wise are polite all the world over; fools are polite only at home.—Bacon.

The satisfaction of having the washing done early in the day, and well done, belongs to every user of Sunlight Soap. 103

THE WEATHER.

To-day's Probs—

Fresh to strong west to northwest winds, a few scattered showers, but mostly fair and slightly cooler.

To-day's Temperature

As Registered by The Intelligencer's Guaranteed Thermometer:

8 a.m.	63
12 m.	75
2 p.m.	78
3 p.m.	79

REIGN OF The Leather Bag

The Leather Bag in its many forms of varied attractiveness is everywhere in evidence this year and promises to hold its popularity for some time to come.

THE BAG IS THE RAGE

There are SOUND REASONS for this; it is not a mere fad. Our goods are right in line with the spirit of the times.

Angus McFee.
Jeweler & Optician
310 Front St.

P.S.—In the matter of the new Blouse Pin Sets we show everything that is "taking" in the larger centers.

When the Liver, Kidneys or Urinary organs require toning the MAGI Caledonia Waters have proven their efficacy. J.J. McLaughlin, sole agent, Toronto. Sold by best dealers everywhere.

At Wallbridge & Clarke's

OLIVES

(Wallbridge & Clarke offer a large assortment of fancy Olives of the finest quality in bottles at 10 to 50c per bottle.

SPANISH QUEEN OLIVES—Crosse & Blackwell's at 20 and 40 cts.

SPANISH QUEEN OLIVES—Club House Brand at 20 and 40 cts.

SPANISH QUEEN OLIVES—Selected at 20, 35 and 50 cts.

MANZANILLA OLIVES—at 10 and 20 cts.

STUFFED OLIVES—Manzanilla Olives pitted and stuffed with pimentos (Spanish Sweet Pepper). at 15, 25 and 40 cts.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE
Est. 1871
BRIDGE STREET
Branch store Front St.

Specials in Millinery

Sale of Sailor Hats.

We bought too many. 15 doz. cleared at HALF PRICE.

White and Colored.

ALL NEW.

Also some very choice Dress Hats just received.

GET FIRST CHOICE.

MISS IRWIN
Millinery and Corset Specialist

Coin Pay Envelopes at The Intelligencer Job Office. Cheapest and best in the city.

ICE CREAM SUNDYS 5 cts.

Fifteen Flavors.

J. ARTHUR MARSH.

Special Great Mid-Season Sale

Beginning Saturday, May 16th, 1903.

Just a Moment, Don't Fail to Read.

The dollar rules the commercial world—to a very great extent. Prompt dollars bring us merchandise that, enable us to sell to you at extraordinary prices. To prepare for a further new stock of Summer goods, we find we can clear off a quantity of spring materials, new ideas and fresh goods are continually being introduced. We must have them. We therefore invite you to this Great Sale where you will find that facts speak with greater force than elongated statements. So come and see for yourself. The goods and prices do the talking.

A Few of the Lines

Men's English Blue Serge Suits, all sizes 34 to 40 at $3.50

Men's Spring Suits, Dark Grey Halifax Tweed, made single breasted with French Facings, worth $7.00, our price $4.00

Men's spring Suits, Black or Blue twill serge suits, made single breasted with French facings, worth $8.00 our price $4.50

The finest and nobbiest assortment of Boys' two and three piece suit in the city. All sizes and at low prices.

The Globe Clothing House
Up-to-date Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers.
390 FRONT STREET. LOOK FOR THE GLOBE OVER THE DOOR.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M.D., C.M., M.R., C.S., England.
Office and Residence — Corner of Bridge and George streets — three Streets East of Post Office.

DR. J. F. MATHER
Has removed his office to Pinnacle St., three doors north of Hotel Quinte. my29-3mw

LEGAL.

WILLS & WRIGHT,
Barristers, Solicitors, Notary Public, &c., Belleville.
Office—8 Campbell Street.
MALCOLM WRIGHT. J. FRANKLIN WILLS.
Money to Loan at Lowest Rates.

W. C. MIKEL, B. C. L.,
Barrister, &c.
Solicitor for the City of Belleville.
Office—Metropolitan Block, Corner Front and Campbell Streets.

PORTER & CARNEW,
Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc.
Offices — Robertson Block, East Front St., Belleville, Ont.
'Phone 87.
E. G. PORTER. WM. CARNEW.

WILLIAM N. PONTON,
Barrister-at-law, Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge Street, Belleville.
Money to Loan — Private Funds. Solicitor Sun and Hastings Savings and Loan Company of Ontario.

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE,
Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.
Barrister, Solicitor, Conveyancer, Etc. Office, McAnnany Building, corner Front and Bridge Sts., Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security.
Charges moderate.

INSURANCE.

Fire Insurance.

Guardian . . . Est'd 1821
The North America, . Est'd 1792
Quebec, . . . Est'd 1818
City, Town and Village Property insure at lowest rates.
R. W. ADAMS, Agent.
Office opposite Post Office.

PERSONS desiring Life assurance cannot do better than consult
W. J. THOMSON,
who is the Agent for the following well-known and old established Assurance Companies:
ROYAL. ALLIANCE.
OCEAN ACCIDENT STANDARD LIFE
Office at Rathbun Co., Bridge St. eod-d&w

THOS. STEWART,
Insurance and Commission Agent.
Agent for the Norwich Un- Fire Inociety and Scottish Union Nationa n-. Co.
BRIDGE ST.

FIRE, LIFE & ACCIDENT INSURANCE
At Lowest Rates The Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Perth Mutual on farm and city property. Also mone to loan at 4½ per cent. upwards.
JAMES A. CHISHOLM,
Office Ashley Block, - Front st., Belleville.

Money Saved is Money Earned
can earn you money by saving it for you in your Fire Insurance.
The Anglo-American Fire Ins. Co
The Merchants Fire Ins. Co.
The Equity Fire Ins. Co.
Are all strong Canadian stock companies and insure Farm and City Property at lower rate than other stock companies Call and see me before placing your fire insurance.
Office—Bridge St., same entrance Quinte Laundry, Belleville.
H. FREEMAN KETCHESON.

Fire, Life & Plate Glass Insurance.
Liverpool & London & Globe of England.
Waterloo Mutual, of Waterloo, Ont.
Lloyd's Plate Glass.
Home Life Association, Toronto,
North British & Mercantile,
Farm and City Property insured in First-class Reliable Companies and at lowest current rates. Losses promptly settled. Land valuation, and transact general Real Estate business and sale or purchase and renting of property. Appraiser for the Hastings Loan & Investment Society. Money to Loan.
W. P. HUDSON, Office above Rathbun's office, cor. Bridge and Pinnacle Sts., opposite Postoffice and Hotel Quinte, Belleville.
'Phone 168.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. G. NORTHROP,
Issuer of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville, Ont.

CHAUNCEY ASHLEY,
Issuer of Marriage Licenses.
Private Office, Bridge St., Belleville, opposite the Post Office.
Residence, first house east of W. W. Chown's Mfg. Co., Station St.
Appointments made.

The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.—Napoleon.

Those who live in yesterday's wigwam are always a day behind.

The best way to get even is to forget.

THE

Intelligencer Bindery

MAKES A SPECIALTY OF

Ledgers,
Journals,
Cash Books,
And all descriptions of Blank
Account
Books

Mailing Tubes

Gold Lettering on Leather Goods, &c.

MAGAZINES,
ART WORKS,
PERIODICALS,
SERIAL NUMBERS

NEATLY BOUND

Map Mounting & Varnishing

Estimates cheerfully furnished for every class of work.

ADDRESS—
The Intelligencer
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

Stevenson's Advice to Writers.

IN the December number of "Harper's Magazine" there are some letters by R. L. Stevenson which have not previously been published. They contain, as lengthy letters written by R. L. S. always did contain, sundry excellent remarks. We append a few excerpts:

"Beware of realism; it is the devil; it is one of the means of art, and now they make it the end! And such is the farce of the age in which a man lives that we all, even those of us who most detest it, sin by realism."

"In your art bow your head over technique. Think of technique when you rise and when you go to bed. Forget purposes in the meanwhile; get to love technical processes, to glory in technical successes; get to see the world entirely through technical spectacles, to see it entirely in terms of what you can. Then, when you have anything to say, the language will be apt and copious."

"Cling to your youth. It is an artist's stock-in-trade. Don't give in that you are ageing, and you won't age. See the good in other people's work; it will never be yours. See the bad in your own, and don't cry about it; it will be there always. Try to use your faults; at any rate, use your knowledge of them."

"The sins of the most innocent, if they were exactly visited, would ruin them to the door. And if you know any man who believes himself to be worthy of a wife's love, a friend's affection, you may rest assured he is worthy of nothing but a kicking. We are not meant to be good in this world, but try to be, and fail, and keep on trying, and when we get a kick, to say 'Thank God!' and when we get a buffet, to say 'Just so: well hit!'"

Two Furniss Stories.

THE poor Saxon "towrist"—what he may suffer in the Emerald Isle! There is a story on record of three Irishmen rushing away from the race meeting at Punchestown to catch a train back to Dublin. At the moment a train from a long distance pulled up at the station, and the three men scrambled in. In the carriage was seated one other passenger. As soon as they had regained their breath one said:

"Pat, have you got th' tickets?"

"What tickets? I've got me loife; I thought I'd lost that gettin' in th' thrain. Have you got 'em, Moike?"

"Oi! Begorrah, I haven't."

"Oh, we're all done for, thin," said the third. "They'll charge us roight from the other side of Oireland."

The old gentleman looked over his newspaper and said:

"You are quite safe, gintlemen; wait till we get to the next station."

They all three looked at each other. "Bedad, he's a directhor—we're done for now entoirely."

But as soon as the train pulled up the little gentleman jumped out and came back with three first-class tickets. Handing them to the astonished strangers, he said: "Whist, I'll tell ye how I did it. I wint along the thrain—'Tickets, plaze; tickets, plaze,' I called, and these belong to three Saxon towrists in another carriage."

A stoutly made little fellow of eight, to his mother, who happened to be extremely thin:

"Oh, mother, I do believe you must be the very sweetest woman in the world!"

"Thanks, very much, Lawrence. But why so affectionate? What do you want?"

"I don't want anything. I only know you must be the very sweetest woman in the world."

"Really, you are too flattering. Why this sudden outburst of affection?"

"Well, you know, I've been thinking over the old, old saying, 'The nearer the bone the sweeter the meat.'"—Harry Furniss, in "The Strand."

The Minnow—Can you tell me the story of Jonah and the whale?

The Cod—Can I tell you that story? Why, boy, I'm the whale!—"Life."

Omar at Golf.

Not only devotees of the game, but all admirers of Omar's quatrains will find pleasure in "The Golfer's Rubaiyat," by H. W. Boynton. There is philosophy, satire and wit in the verses, and the imitations in form have a worth of their own. These are stanzas chosen at random from the little book:

Wake! for the sun has driven in equal flight
The stars before him from the Tee of Night,
And holed them every one without a Miss,
Swinging at ease his gold-shod Shaft of Light.

Lately, agape beside the door of Fame,
Sudden a Touch upon my shoulder came,
And thro' the Dusk an Angel Shape held out
The greater Guerdon; and it was—the Game!

A bag of Clubs, a Silver-Town or two,
A Flask of Scotch, a Pipe of Shag—and Thou
Beside me caddying in the Wilderness—
Ah, Wilderness were Paradise enow.

And some we loved, the feeblest with a Club,
Ordain'd to sclaff, to foozle, and to flub,
Have turned in Cards a Round or two before,
And played that final Green without a Rub.

There are many grotesque and humorous illustrations in the margins and as borders, and the make-up of the volume is unique throughout.

Adam—I say, Eve. Eve—Well? Adam—Do you think there is anything in that saying that clothes make the man?

Anecdotal.

At North Berwick, near Edinburgh, the other day, a golfer whose ardor is greatly in advance of his skill got into difficulties at the second hole. Repeated "foozles" left his ball badly "cupped" on the brink of a bunker. He turned to his caddie in despair. Said he: "I've tried my brassie, and my cleek, and my mashie, and none of them will lift out that ball. What should you say I should take now?" "Sir," was the perfectly respectful and sympathetic response, "I wad mysel' be taking, were it just me mysel', the four-twenty train back to Edinburgh." And he did.

The English papers are full of apocryphal incidents, alleged to have taken place in Canada during the recent Royal visit. It is related, for instance, that a proud and touchy resident in the neighborhood of Perth declined to go to Ottawa to see the Duchess because, although he went to see the Prince of Wales in 1860, the Royal family had never returned his call. Less ceremonious was the Western alderman who, grasping the Duke's hand with firmness and effusion, exclaimed, "I met your old man here forty years ago."

A recently published story of the late Lord Morris, Chief Justice of Ireland, illustrates his scorn of red tape and petty details. A question had arisen as to the cost of heating the Irish law courts, and a consequential treasury official was sent over from London to Dublin on purpose to investigate the matter. When he introduced himself and explained his errand, Lord Morris smiled with suspicious blandness and said: "Certainly, I will put you in communication with the person immediately in charge of that department." Then he sent out a messenger, and presently there entered an old charwoman. Lord Morris arose and left the room, saying as he did so: "Mary, here is the young man to see about the coal."

Father Taylor, the sailors' friend, was a man who at all times spoke with an engaging frankness, which sometimes became more brusque than was desirable. A banker from the West End of Boston once visited Father Taylor's church during a fervid revival, and varied the usual character of the meeting by a rather pompous address. Its purport was that the merchant princes of Boston were a very beneficent set of men, whose wealth and enterprise gave employment to thousands of sailors, and that it was, above all, the duty of seamen to show their gratitude to the merchants. At the close of his speech the banker was somewhat taken aback when Father Taylor rose and asked, simply: "Is there any other sinner from up-town who would like to say a word?"

Not long ago a Western Kansas politician was asked by his wife to lay aside politics long enough one day to dig the potatoes in the garden. He consented, and, after digging for a few minutes, went into the house and said he had found a coin. He washed it off, and it proved to be a silver quarter. He put it in his jeans and went back to work. Presently he went to the house again and said he had found another coin. He washed the dirt off of it, and this time it was a silver half-dollar. He put it in his jeans. "I have worked pretty hard," said he to his wife; "I guess I'll take a short nap." When he awoke, he found that his wife had dug all the rest of the potatoes. But she found no coins. It then dawned upon her that she had been "worked."

At the Lotus Club dinner to Ambassador Choate, Senator Chauncey M. Depew told a story on Mr. Choate which caused the assemblage to roar with laughter. The occasion he referred to was a dinner given in New York some years ago to the Earl of Aberdeen, Governor-General of Canada, and head of the Clan Gordon. The earl attended in full regalia, "the wearing of which," said the senator, "consists in leaving off some articles of dress we deem quite essential." He continued: "At the dinner I sat on the earl's right. Choate was next me. Just after the earl seated himself, Choate whispered to me: 'Chauncey, are Aberdeen's legs really bare?' I raised the table-cloth cautiously, and gave that scratch that all Scotchmen appreciate, and said: 'Yes, Joe, they are.' When Choate got up to speak, he said: 'Gentlemen, my invitation did not convey to me the information that the Earl of Aberdeen was to be here to-night in full regalia. If I had known it I would have left my trousers at home.' Well, you never saw a madder crowd of Scotchmen. They thought it a reflection on the national costume of the earl, who had done the diners honor to appear in it. Well, four years have passed since then, and now the earl regards that as a joke, and tells it at least once a day, three hundred and sixty-five days in the year."

Smoking-Cars For Women.

SMOKING seems to be growing in favor among the fair sex, especially on the Continent. So apparent has this become of late that the railroad authorities of Belgium have been seriously considering the advisability of introducing cars in which only women shall be allowed to travel. What has particularly served to bring the matter before the officials' notice is an incident that happened a few weeks since, when a young woman entered one of the carriages on the Southern Railroad reserved for ladies, and in a few minutes after the train had started from Brussels lit a cigarette and began to smoke it. Whereupon the other women in the compartment became very indignant, threatening to complain to the guard as soon as the train stopped. "I am in a carriage reserved for ladies," observed the smoker, blandly, "and I am not aware of any law which prohibits ladies from smoking." When the train stopped, the guard was informed of the proceedings, but was loath to interfere, and the result was that when the woman smoker arrived at her destination, she consulted a lawyer, who has now by an action in court raised the interesting question: Should railroad companies be compelled to provide separate smoking cars for women who wish to smoke while they are traveling? Some of the companies, however, appear to have taken time by the forelock, for it is understood that arrangements have already been made on some of the Belgian railroads to provide smoking compartments exclusively for women addicted to the use of tobacco.

City Assessment, 1903.

The Court of Revision will meet to hear the appeals against the Assessment for 1903 in the Council Chamber, City Hall, on each of the days following, at 7.30 o'clock p.m., for the several wards, to wit:

Foster—Tuesday, 16th June, 1903.
Samson—Wednesday, 17th June, 1903.
Ketcheson—Thursday, 18th June, 1903.
Baldwin—Friday, 19th June, 1903.
Bleecker—Monday, 22nd June, 1903.
Coleman—Tuesday, 23rd June, 1903.
Murney—Wednesday, 24th June, 1903.

GEORGE F. HOPE, Chairman.
D. B. ROBERTSON, Clerk.
Belleville, 28th May, 1903.

DO YOU KNOW THOMAS HUNTLEY?

PEOPLE WHO KNEW HIM A YEAR AGO, AND SEE HIM NOW, HARDLY RECOGNIZE HIM—HE LOOKS SO WELL AND STRONG.

This is what he says:—

Belleville, Ont., May 7th, 1903.
The O. R. Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont:

Dear Sirs,—For a number of years I was troubled with rheumatism; my hands were swollen and enlarged so that I could hardly use them. I suffered with pains in my back and hips, and up between my shoulders. I tried a great many remedies without getting relief or benefit. I had almost given up hope when a friend induced me to try the O. R. KIDNEY CURE. I had not taken one bottle before I began to feel better, and have now only used three bottles, and think that I am permanently cured. The pains have all left me, and I now feel a different man.

Sincerely yours,
THOMAS HUNTLEY.

Ask your druggist for these:—
O. R. Kidney Cure....................50c
O. R. Liver Pills....................25c
O. R. Dyspepsia Tablets..............25c

Bank of Montreal
ESTABLISHED 1817.
Capital and Rest, All Paid Up.
$20,000,000
(Twenty Millions.)
Savings Bank Department
Interest on sums of $4.00 and upwards allowed at current rates.
A. G. PARKER,
Manager Belleville Branch

Successful Traders, Keep well informed. To do so, read our 400 page "Guide to Investors" and "Daily Market Letter." Issued Gratis—Mailed free.
HAIGHT & FREESE CO.
Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Cotton.
Butterfield Block, Bridge St., Belleville, Ont.
"Determining the character and financial responsibility of your Broker, is as important as selection of right stocks"

AFTER SHAVING
POND'S EXTRACT
COOLS, COMFORTS AND HEALS THE SKIN, ENABLING THE MOST TENDER FACE TO ENJOY A CLOSE SHAVE WITHOUT UNPLEASANT RESULTS.
Avoid dangerous, irritating Witch Hazel preparations represented to be "the same as" Pond's Extract, which easily sour and generally contain "wood alcohol," a deadly poison.

Worth it's Weight in Gold
BABY'S OWN SOAP
keeps the most tender skin, soft, smooth, and free from chaps.
No Other is just as Good.
ALBERT TOILET SOAP CO., Mfrs. Montreal.

You May Need
Pain-Killer
For Cuts
Burns
Bruises
Cramps
Diarrhoea
All Bowel Complaints
It is a sure, safe and quick remedy.
There's only one PAIN-KILLER.
PERRY DAVIS'.
Two sizes, 25c. and 50c.

Lost chances never leave any trail.

A NAGGING COUGH drives sleep and comfort away. You can conquer it with Allen's Lung Balsam, which relieves hard breathing, pain in the chest and irritation of the throat. Give it freely to the children. 2

ADVERTISING RATES.

Measurement Nonpareil—12 lines to the inch.
Display advertisements, 10c per line. Subsequent consecutive insertions, 5c.
Reading advertisements, 15c per line.
Preferred position, 20 per cent. advance upon usual or contract rates.
Minimum space, 10 lines.
Marriages and deaths, 50c each insertion.
Births, 25c each insertion.
Rates for Condensed Advertisements will be found in 1st column of 2nd page.
All advertisements are subject to the approval of the Publisher of the Intelligencer.
Address all communications to the Intelligencer Printing & Publishing House Limited, or to Charles J. Bowell, Managing Director and Treasurer.
Canadians in London will find The Intelligencer on file at E. & J. Hardy & Co.'s Office, 30 Fleet Street, London, E. C.

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS
SITUATIONS WANTED, HELP WANTED, LOST OR FOUND, FOR SALE OR TO RENT, &c.
(Auction Sales not included in this list)
TERMS.—Twenty-five words or less, 25c first insertion; two insertions, 50c; four insertions, 75c; one week $1.00, two weeks, $1.75, three weeks, $2.25; one month, $2.50. Strictly cash in advance.

WANTED.

Boy to learn printing trade. Apply, to "The Intelligencer" at once.

Junior Law Clerk (male). PORTER & CARNEW. m22dtf

A few men and women to work for us at home during spare time. Pleasant work. Liberal pay. No canvassing. Imperial Company, London, Ontario. m12-1mw

Agents wanted who are willing to work. Good goods and good pay. Men earn $6.00 a day winter and summer. Never out of season. Write G. Marshall & Co., Teas, London, Ont.

Young men ambitious to learn lucrative trades, of which there are eight in connection with the business. Apply The Belleville Hardware Company, Belleville, Ont. a7dtf

Competent men to appoint agents, whole or spare time. Commission paid. Apply JOHN DOYLE, Drawer 531, London. a27-1yr

WANTED Reliable Men in every locality throughout Canada to introduce our goods, tacking up show cards on trees, fences, along roads and all conspicuous places, also distributing small advertising matter. Commission or salary $60.00 per month and expenses, not to exceed $2.50 per day. Steady employment to good, honest reliable men. No experience needful. Write for full particulars, THE EMPIRE MEDICINE CO., London, Ont.

FOR SALE.

That splendid property on the south east corner of Dunbar and Catharine Sts. City water and sewer connection. m28-1w

BICYCLE—Cleveland, 1903, hygienic cushion frame, coaster brake, 22 inch frame, Dunlop tires. Will be sold cheap. Original cost $65.00. Apply at Intelligencer Office. tf

Stone house, 11 rooms, coal furnace, stable, barn. Large grounds. Cor. Frank and Moira Sts. north. Terms reasonable. H. Bull, on premises or Fred Bull, 2 1-2 Queen St., Toronto. ap18-dtf

Comfortable, well built, seven room frame house and lot, situated on North Front St., in vicinity of Albert College. Apply to Mrs. Wm. McCreery, Belleville. my15-d1mem&iw

Contractors and masons any any person requiring lime may procure it from E. G. STAPLEY, Canifton Road, Belleville. New lime always on hand. a9-d&wfm

LOST.

From Rossmore, on May 25, brown horse. Finder please notify J. E. THOMPSON, Rossmore. 27,28,30d&1tw

Dressed and Matched Lumber of all kinds, at ALFORD'S factory, Market Square. j12-tf

REMOVAL.

Dr. Clarke will shortly remove to the offices formerly occupied by the late Dr. Ward, over Burrows', and opposite Scantlebury's Book Store. a27dtf

Bad Teeth
make the breath bad and the mouth bad, and the stomach bad, and make your temper bad when you notice your friends drawing away from you. Care of the teeth is the only remedy. Have a dentist fix them if you can, but brush them anyway, night and morning, with our
CREME DENTIFRICE IN TUBES.
It cleans off the tartar, makes the teeth white, retards decay, sweetens the mouth and breath, hardens the gums and makes your whole mouth healthier. 25c a bottle (a large bottle).
We also have some splendid Tooth Brushes at 25c each, guaranteed.
ALEX. RAY

If the rattlesnake did not stop to talk he would be ten times more dangerous.

Never is time more precious than when some member of the family is attacked by colic, dysentery or any bowel trouble. The doctor is distant, but if Perry Davis' Painkiller is near all danger is soon ended.

A SHIRT SALE

We have just received from the manufacturers, 50 dozen Madras Shirts in sizes 14½ to 16½, soft bosoms, with separate cuffs. They should sell at $1.00, but we got a big snap and are going to clear them quick for 50c each.

You need not wait till you go on your holiday trip before getting some of these cool and pretty patterns. They take half the discomfort out of a hot day.

Not More Than one half Dozen sold to each Customer.

OAK HALL

Sole Agents for Sanford's Celebrated Clothing.

The J. J. HAINES Shoe Houses.

For Low —Shoes

We have had Low Shoe weather lately and the result has been a boom in the sale of Low Shoes. In Ladies', Girls' and Children's, it has been most marked and a month in advance for such goods—Our stock is immense. Styles and prices to suit everyone.

LADIES' OXFORDS AND STRAP SHOES at 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00 up.

OUR BARGAIN TABLES ALSO present unusual values in Women's Misses' and Children's Low Shoes.

SWELL lines in MEN'S Patent and Box Calf Low Shoes—also Fine Kid Oxfords at $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00.

With pleasure and pride we direct your attention to our fine showing of above shoes.

The J. J. Haines

SHOE HOUSES at Belleville, Napanee and Trenton

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE
FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

Daily Intelligencer.

TIMELY TOPICS

The weather man is doing very nicely.

* * *

Considerable disappointment is expressed over the fact that there will evidently be no celebration of any kind in Belleville this year. Which means that a lot of good money, which ought to stay in this city, will go to line the pockets of people in other places.

* * *

The inhabitants of this beautiful summer resort evidently live up to the traditions of the old adage, "Once bit, twice shy."

* * *

A City in Illinois is to be heated with hot air, supplied on the municipal ownership plan by the City Council. What a cinch that would be for some City Councils!

* * *

The man behind the lawn mower wears a gloomy expression these days. He knows what his evening exercise will be now the rain has come to make the grass grow.

* * *

The Historical Society should bestir themselves and get a snap shot of some of those old wooden sidewalks on the west side, before they are torn up. Some people say the walks in question antedate the Fenian raid.

* * *

A movement is on foot to stop the "saw-off" system in election protests. The only way to stop it is to pass a law making it illegal, and that is what should be done, but it never will be, by the Grits. "Cap." Sullivan would never agree to it.

* * *

READ THIS, "HON." MR. GIBSON.

(Montreal Gazette.)

It will be a distinct shock to those people of the good province of Ontario, who delight in having mud thrown in their faces to learn that it will be necessary to postpone the prize fight with which the pugs and thugs of Buffalo hoped to celebrate a United States holiday on Canadian soil. One of the prize fighters is unable to get into condition. The disappointment will be a severe one, but possibly a new scandal may be ventilated in the Legislature.

TWO MEN KILLED.

Workman Tapped Dynamite and an Explosion Occurred.

Montreal, May 28.—J. Lawrence Sutherland, a well-known Nova Scotia railway contractor, was instantly killed at River Rouge, seven miles from Labelle, last night.

Frederick Migneron, a boarding house keeper, was blown into the air, and came down at his wife's feet, a corpse.

Telsphore Michaud, one of Sutherland's foremen, was so horribly mutilated that his death at Notre Dame Hospital, in this city, is hourly expected.

The disaster was the result of the carelessness of Michaud, who, in placing the dynamite in a cut in the rocks, now being torn asunder, and through which the Northern Colonization Railway extension is to pass, failed to notice that a quantity of rock crumbs had fallen in upon the sticks of dynamite. In order to dislodge the dynamite, he struck it with a "tapping rod," and the next moment a fearful explosion took place.

Piles To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles, the manufacturers have guaranteed it. See testimonials in the daily press and ask your neighbors what they think of it. You can use it and get your money back if not cured. 60c a box, at all dealers or EDMANSON, BATES & Co., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

RAILWAY TIME TABLES.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

Time of departure from Belleville Station:

Going East.

No. 16—Local, for Brockville, 7 a.m., arrives back from Brockville 9.30 p.m.

No. 2—1.30 a.m., Mail and Express, (Flyer), Daily.

No. 6—11.40 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

No. 4—12.22 p.m., International Limited, Daily.

No. 12—5.55 p.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

Going West.

No. 5—3 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily except Monday.

No. 3—4.10 a.m., Limited Express, Daily.

No. 9—5.50 a.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

No. 11—11.22 a.m., Passenger, Daily except Sunday.

No. 1—1.50 p.m., International Limited Daily.

No. 7—5.10 p.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

Taking effect 12.01 o'clock, Sunday, June 15, 1902.

MIDLAND RAILWAY.

Belleville and Peterboro.

Going West.

	Leave.	Arr. Peterboro
Mail	5.40 a.m.	8.10 a.m.
Mixed	6.55 p.m.	9.05 p.m.

Going East.

	Arr.	L've Peterboro
Mixed	11.20 a.m.	6.20 a.m.
Mail	4.25 p.m.	2.05 p.m.

Belleville and Madoc.

Going North.

	L've	Arr. Madoc
Mixed	12.20 p.m.	1.20 p.m.
Mixed	6.20 p.m.	7.40 p.m.

Going South.

	Arr.	L've Madoc
Mixed	9.10 a.m.	7.30 a.m.
Mixed	5.00 p.m.	3.45 p.m.

None of the above trains run on Sunday.

O.J.C. Spring Races.

Toronto, May 28.—Fourth Day, Wednesday, the weather was cloudy and the track muddy.

First Race—3-year-olds and over, ¾ mile, Cobourg 1, Gaviota 2, Faronlass 3.

Second Race—2-year-olds, 3½ furlongs, Termagent 1, Outfield 2, Curmudgeon 3.

Third Race—4-year-olds and up, ¾ mile, Nuptial 1, Hie Away 2, Jingler 3.

Fourth Race—Liverpool cup, 3-year-olds and over, 1 1-16 miles, Merriment 1, Easy Street 2, Malden 3.

Fifth Race—Helter-skelter chase, 4-year-olds and over, about two miles, Bob Alone 1, Daryl 2, King Top 3.

Sixth Race—Dominion bred 3-year-olds, ¾ mile, La Montague 1, Gold Cockade 2, Lady Berkeley 3.

Arthur's Broken Jaw.

Ingersoll, May 28.—Little Arthur Ensign, the seventeen-year-old son of Mr. Isaac Ensign, is a patient at the Sanitarium here. On Sunday Arthur slipped from the seat of a buggy and the wheels of the rig passed over his face, breaking his jaw in two places.

IRON-OX

"Iron-Ox Tablets seem to "attain an immediate popularity. I have sold easily, "in the few months I have "had them, at least double as "many boxes as I ever did of "any other Patent Medicine "in the same length of time. "Nearly every box sold seems "to be the means of selling "another."—S. E. HICK, Druggist, Goderich, Ont.

A Superior Blood Remedy
An Invaluable Tonic
50 Tablets 25c

Anecdotal.

Frederic Villiers, the well-known war artist and correspondent, declares he saw the following sign in a prominent hotel in an Australian town where water was scarce: "Please don't use soap when washing, as the water is required for tea."

"Do you mind me calling you May?" once said a very fashionable and gushing society lady to the young Duchess of York; "I love your name so much!" "Not at all," said the Duchess in a dangerously quiet tone of voice; "if you do not mind me not answering you!"

Douglas Jerrold, the English wit, was once sitting with George Henry Lewes and a poet named Heraud, who was something of a bore and a good deal laughed at. Lewes asked Jerrold: "Have you ever seen Heraud's Descent Into Hell?" "No; but I should like to," tersely replied the wit.

At dinner at Balliol the Master's guests were discussing the careers of two Balliol men, one of whom had just been made a judge and the other a bishop. "Oh," said Henry Smith, "I think the bishop is the greater man. A judge at the most can only say 'You be hanged,' but a bishop can say 'You be damned.'" "Yes," characteristically twittered the Master, "but if the judge says 'You be hanged,' you are hanged."

In a high school one day last week a teacher desired to refresh a boy's memory and help him to answer a question. Acting on the supposition that a mental review would lead him to a correct conclusion, she said: "Now, go away back"— Unconsciously from the entire class there came a responsive murmur: "And sit down." The teacher was compelled to join in the audible smile, and hardly knows yet whether the boy's answer was right.

The story is told of Ambassador Choate that returning from a college boat race he was once approached by a fresh young undergraduate, who introduced himself as the son of one of Mr. Choate's old friends. The youth was smoking a pipe, and constantly blew great clouds of smoke into Mr. Choate's face. Observing that the ambassador was looking rather steadily at his pipe, the student said, proudly: "A birthday present." "Ah," replied the lawyer, without taking his eyes from the loud-smelling bowl, "I should never have thought you were so old!"

A bailiff having long tried in vain to arrest a Quaker at last resolved to adopt the disguise of being a Quaker himself and so get access to the interior of the house. He knocked accordingly at the door, enquired if Friend Aminadab was at home and if he could see him. The housekeeper said: "Walk in, friend, and he shall see thee." The bailiff, delighted to have got this success, was directed to wait. But after waiting an hour he became impatient, rang the bell and said to the servant: "Thou promised me I should see Friend Aminadab." "No, friend," answered she; "I promised he should see thee. He hath seen thee, but he doth not like thee."

A curate, it is said, on applying to His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury when Bishop of London, to be licensed, was ordered to read some verses of Scripture, as a test of his capacity for conducting public worship. When he had done so, in fear and trembling, the Bishop declared that he was "Not loud enough." "But," pleaded the poor curate, "a lady in church only yesterday told me I could be heard most plainly all over it." "Ah!" exclaimed the Bishop, "you are engaged." The curate blushingly owned the soft impeachment. His Grace darkly smiled and then solemnly said, "Now listen to me, young man. While you are engaged don't believe everything the lady tells you, but after you are married believe every word she says."

Robert G. Ingersoll used to be fond of telling how, when he first came to Washington from the West, he once encountered in one of the corridors of the Capitol an old negro woman vigorously scrubbing the floor when she heard anyone coming, and, when the footsteps died away, busily reading her Bible. He slipped up on her very quietly one morning, and, taking her by surprise with her precious book, said: "Mary, do you believe all you read there?" "I sutanly do," she replied; "ebery word, Colonel Ingersoll." "Do you believe that God made man out of dust?" "In coase I does." "Say, it happened to rain hard about that time and the dust was gone and there was nothing but mud?" To which old mammy retorted: "Den de good Lawd knowed enough to know dat it was time to make dem lawyers and infidels, Colonel Ingersoll."

Ocular Demonstration.

"Mrs. Decollete, over there, puts every cent her husband makes on her back." "He's making very little, then." —Philadelphia "Press."

Not the Fashion in Natal.

There was a young lady of Durban,
Who imported a Paris-made turban.
  It was blue, green, and red,
  But the natives all said
That the style was remote and suburban.
—"Punch."

Reciprocity Limited.

In May and June steamers laden with green peas and strawberries leave Brittany daily for England. These are the spoils of the rich lands about Brest. After Fashoda and the Dreyfus affair, when an anti-English feeling was rampant, a grocer of this district, distinguished in his abuse of the British, denounced the whole race as "despicable preserve-merchants." "Why 'despicable preserve-merchants?'" someone asked. "Because they make the jams they sell to us. They have no sugar and no fruit. Despicable? Why, they take our sugar and our fruit, and they make us buy their jams!"

A Substitute.

"Don't you miss your husband very much now that he is away?" "Oh, no! At breakfast I just stand his newspaper up in front of a plate, and half the time I really forget he isn't there." —Exchange.

The Human Brute.

The saddest words of tongue or pen,
  Likewise the gladdest words, we know.
The saddest are "It might have been,"
  The gladdest are "I told you so."

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat Co.,
(LIMITED)
"The Bay of Quinte Route."

Str. "ALETHA"

Leaves Belleville on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 a.m. for Bay of Quinte ports and Kingston. Returning will arrive at Belleville on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10.30 p.m.

Belleville-Rochester Route

Str. "North King"

Commencing 31st May will leave Belleville on Sundays at 11.38 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. Returning arrives at Belleville on Sundays at 3.25 a.m. and leaves for Bay Ports, Kingston and 1000 Islands.

During July and August service will be daily except Monday.

Right reserved to change time with or without notice.

For passage and freight rates and other information, apply to

THE RATHBUN CO., } Agents.
U. E. THOMPSON,
E. E. HORSEY, G. P. & F. Agent, Kingston.

Montreal, Rochester & Quebec Transit Co'y.

Str. "Alexandria"

Service in effect 25th April.

Leaves Rathbun Co.'s wharf, Belleville, every Saturday at 11.00 a.m. for Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Every Monday at 7.00 a.m. for Montreal and all River Ports.

Thousand Islands by daylight.
Runs all St. Lawrence River Rapids.
Quebec excursions commence July 5th.

LOW FREIGHT RATES.

A. W. HEPBURN, General Manager, Picton, Ont.
THE RATHBUN CO. Agents. Belleville.

The Deseronto Navigation Co
TIME TABLE.
Taking effect April 13, 1903.
Belleville, Trenton, Picton & Napanee

Str. "ELLA ROSS"

Leaves Belleville for Trenton at 10 a.m., daily, Sundays Excepted, returning leaves Trenton at 1 p.m., leaving Belleville at 3 p.m. for Deseronto, Napanee and Picton.

Quick and Superior Service to NEW YORK CITY

Steamers RESOLUTE and RELIANCE will leave Deseronto for Oswego after arrival of Str. Ella Ross connecting at Oswego with the New York, Ontario Western Ry.

Fare to New York, Single, $8.40
Return, $13.25

For further particulars apply to THE RATHBUN CO., Local Agents

J. F. CHAPMAN, Asst. Gen. Frt. & Pass. Agt., Deseronto.
A. C. CARTER General Manager Deseronto.

Just What You Want

Paint Brushes 7, 10, 15, 20, 25c.
Whitewash Brushes 10, 13, 15, 20, 25, 35, 45c.
1,000 Parlor Matches for 5c.
600 pairs Ladies' Bl'k Hose 5c pair.
500 printed Platters and Bakers, regular 25, clearing at 10c.
300 pairs Men's Sox, special, 4 pr. for 25c.
D. K. Blue Cups and Saucers, 35c 1-2 dozen.
1200 Dinner Setts for $8.00.
Curtain Poles, complete, for 20c.
Carpet Tacks, 2 for 5c.
Carpet Whips 10c each.
Kitchen Mirrors 12, 15, 20, 25, 30c.
Best Oil Blinds 30c.
6 Cakes Moss Rose Toilet Soap 15c.
3 Cakes Cold Cream Toilet Soap 5c.
6 Bars Eclipse Soap 25c.
Large variety of odd Wallpaper der, clearing at 1c yard.
50 varieties of Wallpaper, clearing at 5c Roll.
Large varieties 5, 7, 8, 10c Ceiling Papers, clearing at 3c Roll.

Be sure and visit our Wallpaper Department; it is the most complete, and has the best selected stock to choose from in the City.

Our Prices are 1-2 what other stores ask for same quality.

AT THE BEE HIVE
Chas. N. Sulman

The various countries of the world use 13,400 different kinds of postage

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

TOURIST RESORTS

The Famous Muskoka Lakes, Georgian Bay, Kawartha Lakes, Lake of Bays, etc., are noted for their excellent and healthy climate. Up-to-date hotels. Grand Trunk trains make connection at Muskoka Wharf for all ports on Muskoka Lakes, at Huntsville for all ports on Lake of Bays; also direct connection to ports on Georgian Bay and Kawartha Lakes.

EXCURSIONS TO CANADIAN NORTH-WEST.

Good going June 4th, and June 18th, valid returning within 60 days from date of issue. Good going July 4th, valid returning until Sept. 8th.

For tickets, information and descriptive literature, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON, City Agent, Bridge Street,
T. H. COPPIN, Depot Agent,
J. D. McDONALD, Dist. Pass. Agt., Toronto.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN

Homeseekers' 60 DAY Excursions

To The Canadian North-West at Return Fares.

Winnipeg, Waskada, Estevan, Elgin, Arcola, Moosomin, Wawanesa, Miniota, Binscarth, Grand View, Swan River } $28
Regina, Moosejaw, Yorkton, } $30
Prince Albert, Macleod, Calgary } $35
Red Deer, Strathcona } $40

Going JUNE 4th, returning until AUGUST 4th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going JUNE 18th, returning until AUGUST 18th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going July 4th, returning until SEPTEMBER 8th (all rail or S.S. Manitoba). Tickets are not good on "Imperial Limited." For tickets and pamphlet giving full particulars, apply to your nearest Canadian Pacific agent, or to

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Genl. Passr. Agent, 1 King St. East, Toronto.
S. BURROWS, C.P.R. and General Ticket Agent, Front St., Belleville.

NEW YORK CENTRAL & HUDSON RIVER R. R.

THE FOUR-TRACK TRUNK LINE.

SHORTEST Route to the United States via Cape Vincent, N.Y.

GOING EAST AND WEST.			After 1st May
Lv. Belleville (G.T.R.)		12.22 p.m.	1.30 a.m.
Arr. Kingston	"	1.47 p.m.	3.12 a.m.
Lv. Kingston (stage)		2.30 p.m.	5.00 a.m.
Arr. Cape Vincent (stage)		4.30 p.m.	7.00 a.m.
Lv. Cape Vincent N.Y.C.		5.05 p.m.	7.25 a.m.
Arr. Watertown	"	5.55 p.m.	8.25 a.m.
Arr. Oswego	"	9.05 p.m.	11.55 a.m.
Arr. Syracuse	"	9.25 p.m.	12.07 p.m.
Arr. Rochester	"	1.05 a.m.	2.20 a.m.
Arr. Utica	"	9.45 p.m.	12.35 p.m.
Arr. New York	"	7.25 a.m.	6.00 p.m.

Convenient train service in opposite direction.

Pullman Sleeping and Parlor Cars.

2c a Mile.

Books for 500 miles of travel on New York Central and leased lines within State of New York, cost only $10 while books for 1000 miles over New York Central, Boston & Albany, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, Philadelphia & Reading and C. R. R. of New Jersey cost $20. Secure further information and purchase tickets from F. A. Folger, N.Y.C. Agent, Kingston, Ont.

GEORGE H. DANIELS, Gen'l Pass'r Agent, New York.
A. H. SMITH, Gen'l Supt., New York.
G. C. GRIDLEY, Gen'l Agent, Watertown, N.Y.

Western Beef.

Prime Western Beef together with all kinds of choice meats, supplied by the district, at

C. GREEN'S
267 Front St., 'Phone 109.

LACROSSE SHOES

For Men, Boys and Children.

Tennis Balmorals

In sizes for Men, Ladies and Boys.

VERMILYEA & SON.

THEY DROVE PIMPLES AWAY.—A face covered with pimples is unsightly. It tells of internal irregularities which should long since have been corrected. The liver and the kidneys are not performing their functions in the healthy way they should, and these pimples are to let you know that the blood protests. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will drive them all away, and will leave the skin clear and clean. Try them, and there will be another witness to their excellence.

Life has no blessing like a prudent friend.

HAD LA GRIPPE.—Mr. A. Nickerson, farmer, Dutton, writes: "Last winter I had La Grippe and it left me with a severe pain in the small of my back and hip that used to catch me whenever I tried to climb a fence. This lasted for about two months, when I bought a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil and used it both internally and externally, morning and evening, for three days, at the expiration of which time I was completely cured."

If thy friend is honey, do not lick him up altogether.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed 'Perfection.'

Many a man's self-conceit is due to his ignorance.

AT DEATH'S DOOR.—DYSPEPSIA CONQUERED.—A GREAT MEDICAL TRIUMPH.—Gentlemen,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the Vegetable Discovery consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen Vegetable Discovery since it cured me, as I am well-known and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed, JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P.Q. General Merchant

The best wheel of fortune is honest labor.

Very many persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer complaints, who might have been saved if proper remedies had been used. If attacked do not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, the medicine that never fails to effect a cure. Those who have used it say it acts promptly, and thoroughly subdues the pain and disease.

Wedding rings in St. Kilda used to be made of worsted.

Use the safe, pleasant, and effectual worm killer, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator; nothing equals it. Procure a bottle and take it home.

Coral is a talisman against thunder and evils by flood and field.

Have you tried Holloway's Corn Cure? It has no equal for removing these troublesome excrescences, as many have testified who have tried it.

A woman never knows where the match box is.

FOR INFLAMMATION OF THE EYES.—Among the many good qualities which Parmelee's Vegetable Pills possess, besides regulating the digestive organs, is their efficacy in reducing inflammation of the eyes. It has called forth many letters of recommendation from those who were afflicted with this complaint and found a cure in the pills. They affect the nerve centres and the blood in a surprisingly active way, and the result is almost immediately seen.

When one gets hopping mad his reason goes on a crutch.

If you have a cough or cold do not neglect it; many without a trace of that hereditary disease have drifted into a consumptive's grave by neglecting what was only a slight cold. Had they used Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup before it was too late, their lives would have been saved. Mr. A. W. Levy, Mitchell, writes: "I think Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup the best preparation on the market for coughs and severe colds. About six years ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs, and for three months I had a cough. I had a physician attending me, but gradually grew worse until I was on the verge of Consumption, and had given up hopes of being cured, when I was induced to try Bickle's Syrup. Before I had taken one bottle I found myself greatly relieved, and by the time I had finished the second bottle I was completely cured. I always recommend it for severe colds and consumption."

The average watch represents but 12 hours of human labor.

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, and disordered stomach.

The wildcat's teeth are close to its ears.

Do not despair of curing your sick headache when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

The Sun & Hastings Savings and Loan Co. of Ontario.
AUTHORIZED CAPITAL
$5,000,000.

3 1-2 per cent. allowed on Deposits, payable on Call.

4 per cent. on Deposits for one year or over.

Money to loan upon favorable terms.

OFFICE, No. 46 Bridge St., Belleville.

J. P. C. PHILLIPS,
Manager Belleville Branch.

DAISY GORDON'S FOLLY

—OR—

THE WORLD LOST FOR LOVE'S SAKE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY,

Author of "The Crime of Hallow-E'en," "The Flirtations of a Beauty," "Willful Gaynell," "Little Leafy," "Only a Mechanic's Daughter," etc.

A terrible gasp broke from Daisy's lips. Of course it was the half-burned letter revealing that terrible past. She could have uttered no word.

"It was a forged note bearing Alexander Hamilton's signature for a large amount.

"Aleck was sent for in great haste a few minutes ago, and went up there post-haste. I suppose he did not tell you of all this for fear of frightening you. Didn't I have a narrow escape, Daisy? I shall never dare to look at a so-called titled foreigner again. I have had a lesson that will do me for life. Thus fades my roseate dreams of becoming a countess."

As she spoke she raised her eyes to Daisy's face; then a terrible piercing cry rang through the room.

"Oh, my God, Daisy is dying!"

Servants were quickly summoned.

She had not fainted, though her face was the hue of death. They carried her to her couch, and in a voice that sounded like nothing human, she begged them to leave her.

It was the only kindness they could do her, she said; leave her quite alone with her face turned toward the wall.

At that opportune moment there was the sound of an arrival.

It was Farmer Gordon. He had just arrived in the city. Wishing to surprise them, he had not apprised them of his coming. He had taken a coupe to the villa, and here he was, he explained to Olive, who had hurried down the corridor to meet him hearing the welcome sound of his cheery voice.

"And where is my little Daisy?" he exclaimed eagerly. "Why is she not here to welcome me?"

In a few brief words Olive told him how strangely Daisy had been taken ill—how she had begged them all, as the greatest kindness they could do her, to leave her by herself with her face turned toward the wall.

"I will go to her at once!" declared Farmer Gordon, hoarsely. "She will always be pleased to see her poor old father."

Olive led him to the door of her boudoir, and he entered alone.

With faltering steps he approached the slim figure, lying on the couch, her face buried in the pillows, and laid his hand heavily on the golden head just as he used to do when she was a little dreaming child.

"Daisy, little one," he called softly.

She sprung up with the most piteous cry that ever was heard, and the next moment two soft white arms were around his neck, and the golden head was pillowed on his breast.

Her old father's love had never failed her no matter what she had done. Here was the heart that would always find pity and forgiveness for her no matter what her sin had been.

"Papa," she wailed out sharply, "I——"

The sentence never was finished. She fell back in his arms in a dead faint.

CHAPTER XXV.

A Painful Discovery.

It was quite an hour afterward that Aleck, returning to the villa, learned from Farmer Gordon, who came out to meet him, what had happened—Daisy was lying ill, sick unto death.

But much to Farmer Gordon's dismay, Aleck did not spring past him and hurry up to his young wife's boudoir. He turned away with a face pale with emotion.

"Do all you can for her," he said. "Let nothing that will add to her comfort be spared."

The farmer's brow darkened. He laid a heavy hand like a grasp of steel on the young man's shoulder.

"What is the meaning of this change in you, Aleck?" he said sternly, "and who is responsible for this change in Daisy? I gave a beautiful, tender flower into your keeping, and charged you to guard it carefully. I find it crushed and broken. What does it mean?"

And the voice that asked the question trembled with mighty passion.

Alexander Hamilton looked calmly and unflinchingly into the wrathful face before him.

"I must refer you to your daughter, sir, for an answer," he said slowly.

"Then there is a reason for this bitter and awful change in my child!" thundered the farmer. "Hark you, Alexander Hamilton," he added, "if there is anything wrong for which you are accountable, you shall answer to me, her father, for it."

"I am perfectly willing," answered Aleck, wearily.

Farmer Gordon went directly to his daughter's room again, vowing to himself that he would find out what this meant. If there was a quarrel between Alexander and his young wife, he would probe the affair to the very botton, and find out which was in the wrong.

But he must not speak of this matter yet to Daisy; she was too ill to bear it.

During the fortnight which followed Alexander Hamilton carried out strictly his compromise. He never went near that portion of the house in which Daisy's suit of rooms were situated, but he was careful to send every morning to her room to see if she were better.

All Farmer Gordon's attempts to get at the bottom of the mystery which separated these two who seemed to have loved each other so well were futile.

On the day the farmer had come so near having an altercation with Aleck Daisy had received a short note from Aleck, telling her of the count's arrest. He had gone to the tombs on being sent for to certify to genuineness of the note found in the count's pocket; and how upon arriving there he had found the count dead.

"This ends all," Aleck wrote. "In all probability he took the secret which is between you unrevealed to the grave."

Only heaven knew what a relief it was to Daisy to hear this, aside from her natural regret for the sudden taking off of a human life. But her terrible secret was safe now—safe.

The papers spoke afterwards of the strange note—and still stranger leaf torn from some book which they found pinned on the count's breast—it appeared to have related to the last sad rites over the grave of some eccentric genius.

The words seemed to have struck the count's fancy, making a deep impression on his mind.

"My life has not been blameless," he wrote in his note—"my sins are many and my virtues few. No woman's white hand has pointed out to me the path that leads toward heaven. No women's gentle voice has urged me to a better life, or perhaps my fate would have been different. It is useless to repine now. Be kind enough to grant my last request. Let those gather around me at the last who have known me at my best—and at my worst; and let these words be uttered over my grave: 'We here place in the bosom of the great mother earth, the remains of a true child of nature; a man of brilliant attainments, notwithstanding his misdirection and waste of splendid talents. He laid aside as a worthless bauble the most beautiful of poet's dreams—the doctrine of immortality—believing, as the perfume of the rose is wafted away on a passing zephyr, never more to unite with the decayed petals, so is the spirit or soul extinguished in the dead; and here lies all there is.'"

His wishes were strictly carried out, and with his death Daisy realized she had lost her greatest foe.

Ah, if heaven would but give her Aleck's love again, that was the great hope that had sprung up in her heart.

She would make one great effort toward reconciliation. She had gone so far in deceiving Aleck—"one more deception could not matter much," she told herself piteously.

"I am going to send for Aleck this afternoon, papa," she told Farmer Gordon one afternoon. "I can endure this estrangement no longer."

"Of course it is best known to you two what this bitter quarrel has been about; but I say, if you are in the right, Daisy, you must not humble yourself to Aleck—show the true Gordon spirit, and the Gordon pride."

"Pride should not stand in the way of love, papa!" she sighed, "it must not—it is too cruel."

When the moon was shining on the trees, and the flowers and birds were asleep, she sent for Aleck.

He was out in the grounds smoking a cigar, one of the servants told her, but he would call him at once.

"Stay," said Daisy, "I will go to him there."

Throwing a light veil over her golden hair, she stole out into the grounds—she knew his usual haunt—the rose arbor near the fountain; but tonight he was not there.

A great desolation fell over her heart. Had he gone? Would days, perhaps weeks, drag wearily by before she should see him again? A kind of terror came over her at the thought. Just then she heard his familiar step on the gravel path.

How lonely he looked and desolate—what a sad, far-away look there was in the dark, gloomy eyes. How her heart ached for him. Was he thinking of her, she wondered.

She took a few steps forward, whispering, timidly, "Aleck;" but the low, faint, fluttering voice died away over the nodding roses—he did not hear.

"Aleck," she murmured again, a little louder than before.

This time he turned impatiently.

"How foolish I am," he muttered, setting his white teeth hard together. "In every sigh of the wind as it mourns among the trees I fancy I hear Daisy's voice."

"You do hear Daisy's voice," she whispered, close to his elbow. "I—I have something to say to you, Aleck."

The impulse was strong upon him to turn quickly and clasp her in his arms.

Only heaven knew how his heart yearned toward her—and how great an effort it was to restrain his great, passionate love.

He tossed his cigar aside and stood quite still, folding his arms calmly over his broad chest.

"I am at your service as long as you live," he said gently.

"Let me come nearer to you, Aleck," she said timidly, but, oh, so wistfully and piteously. "I—I cannot talk to you so far away."

He led her to a garden bench and placed himself by her side.

"Now, Daisy," he said—still in that cold, courteous voice—"what is it?"

"I have come to make peace with you, Aleck," she sobbed, "and tell you—all."

He clasped the little hands that fluttered out toward him in such an uncertain way. Ah, how wondrously fair the lovely girlish face looked in the soft, white light of the moon.

"It was all a cruel mistake, Aleck," she began incoherently. "Now that the—the count is dead, I may tell you why he was there—where—you—saw—him. I had come upon him suddenly, taking our jewels, but for Olive's sake—because she loved him, I would not give him up to shame and disgrace. I would have shielded him, Aleck, even though you thought—you thought——"

He had caught her in his strong arms, covering the quivering mouth with kisses.

Oh, what a world of doubt was removed from his mind—fool that he had been—why had not such a possibility as this occurred to him before, he wondered.

It was such a happy reconciliation, quite worth the price of their estrangement, Aleck laughingly declared.

He could not understand the strange shadow that still lingered on Daisy's face.

At first he quite imagined this must be only his fancy, until all doubt was set at rest in a very casual manner.

He had been down to Highgate to look over a tract of land he thought of purchasing, when on his way back to the villa, he had encountered Dr. Thompson—the old family physician.

"I was just thinking of driving over to see you, Aleck, my dear boy," he said, shaking the young man heartily by the hand, "I am glad I ran across you."

After a few casual remarks the doctor turned a serious face to Aleck.

"I have something to tell you, my dear boy," he said, "but you must promise me first not to be startled—I—have made a grave and painful discovery, and I feel that I would be guilty of a sin if I did not warn you."

"Warn me," repeated Aleck—"about what, my dear sir?"

"About your young wife," was the startling answer that nearly took his breath away.

CHAPTER XXVI.

How the Tragedy Began.

"I must warn you about your wife," repeated the doctor gravely. "Do you remember some little time ago you called me professionally to attend your wife? I told you then that there was something on her mind which was troubling her, and unless the cause was removed, it would end in madness. I am grieved to tell you I observe the malady gaining steadily day by day."

"There could be nothing on her mind—no secret thought which I do not share," declared Aleck, emphatically.

"Watch patiently, and see for yourself," said the doctor, sagely. "I have had a life-time of experience. I know whereof I speak."

Aleck did watch Daisy closely, and he saw for himself there was still something she was keeping back from him.

She was recklessly gay. How was he to know that it was the feverish gayety born of despair? She was clinging to Aleck's love from day to day—as a drowning man clings to a drifting straw.

This state of affairs culminated in a strange manner. Cards had been out for a grand garden party at a neighboring villa, and Aleck and Daisy had decided to go.

It was a great crush, but amidst all that throng of fashion and beauty Daisy reigned queen of them all by right of her royal loveliness.

As they saw her then they remembered her for long years afterward.

She had chosen one of Worth's marvels—an evening dress of silver and blue, that suited her fair beauty as nothing else could have done. She held a superb bouquet of white rosebuds and forget-me-nots half hidden by silver leaves in her hand, and a white rose nestled in the meshes of her shining, golden hair.

(To be continued.)

WEAK STOMACH IN THE SPRING.

INDIGESTION AND DYSPEPSIA THE NATURAL RESULT OF EXHAUSTED NERVES AND WEAK, WATERY BLOOD.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

Most people suffer more or less from stomach weakness, indigestion and loss of appetite in the spring, but many do not realize that this condition of affairs is due to low vitality, poorness of the blood, and exhausted nerves.

The digestive organs, like the other vital organs of the body, are entirely dependent on the nervous system for the energy or power which enables them to properly perform their functions. Without this the digestive fluids do not flow, the muscular contraction and motion of the stomach is weak and irregular, and consequently arise indigestion, headaches, dizzy spells, sleeplessness and other distressing symptoms.

Digestive tablets, pepsin and such treatments can never do more than afford temporary relief. By their continued use to effect digestion the muscles of the stomach waste away for want of exercise, the natural digestive fluids cease to flow, and the ailment becomes chronic and serious.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cures indigestion and dyspepsia just as it cures other ailments, by making the blood rich and creating new nerve force—the vital power which runs the machinery of the body.

By noting your increase in weight while using this great food cure you can prove that new, firm flesh and tissue is being added to the body. The appetite is sharpened, digestion and assimilation are improved, the form rounds out, the ruddy glow returns to the cheeks, and in every way there is evidence that the system is being restored and built up.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food 50 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. To protect you against imitations, the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous recipe book author, are on every box.

The Best of all
FLY Killers is Wilson's
Fly Pads
Sold Everywhere.
10 CENTS

Fresh
Roll
Butter
20 cents per lb.

J. C. Hanley & Co
GROCERS
Telephone 214

New Hats
READY-TO-WEAR HATS
DRESS HATS.
New Veilings
Latest styles—Best work.
We will surely please you.
Come and see them.
MISS M. CAMPBELL.
P.D. Corsets. 'Phone 117

The Sherwin-Williams
...BARN RED...
Saves money for the barn owner. It does it by covering most surface to the gallon, spreading easy and wearing the longest time.
Price $1.00 per gallon.
Last year we sold over a hundred gallons, and every can gave satisfaction. Its made to satisfy. Use it and you'll save money.
WATERS DRUG STORE

A long portage makes a heavy canoe.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN and be sure that when you ask for Perry Davis' Painkiller you get just that and nothing else. Use it promptly to cure cramps, diarrhoea and all other bowel complaints in summer.

A System that Will not keep You waiting

Whether you want Painting, Paper Hanging, Decorating, Graining, or anything in our line, we will not keep you waiting. WE WILL NAME THE DAY, and that very day you will find us at your work, with an excellent staff of workmen—the very best mechanics that can be secured—workmen that we can rely on and that please our customers every time.

OUR WALL PAPER TRADE this year is so far the largest in the history of this house, and there are reasons behind the increased trade, and here they are—

FIRSTLY—Times are good, people have money and know where to spend it to advantage.

SECONDLY—By comparison with other lines our customers find our prices much lower and our styles of Wall Paper much higher than the ordinary.

THIRDLY—We give free two yards of bordering with each double roll of the Wall Paper it matches.

We hang our paper at very reasonable prices and always please our customers whether in papering, painting or anything else.

C. B. Scantlebury
Belleville's Decorator
Outside Painting. Inside Painting,
Paperhanging.
Wall Paper, Wholesale and Retail.

CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY

CAPITAL

10,000 Shares 7 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 each, $1,000,000
50,000 Shares Common Stock, par value $100, issued and fully paid 5,000,000
TOTAL CAPITALIZATION $6,000,000

Issues of $1,000,000.00 7 p.c. Preferred Stock in 10,000 Shares of $100 each at par.

This stock is preferred both as to Assets and Dividends.
The shares are entitled to cumulative preferred dividends from the net earnings of the Company, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the first days of April and October. They may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged for common shares. They are subject to be called in, in whole or in part, by the Company, at $115.00 per share, at any time after 1st January, 1909.
The total issue of Preferred Stock is only $1,000,000.00, the whole of which is now offered.

Subscriptions for 10,000 Shares of $100 each of the 7 per cent. Preferred Stock of the CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY will now be received at par, that is $100 Share, as follows

per cent on application,
25 " " on allotment,
35 " " 30 days thereafter.
35 " " 60 days thereafter.

One share of Common, par value $100, given with each share of preferred.

The whole of instalments remaining unpaid at any time may be prepaid in full. A discount of one per cent will be allowed upon the par of each share if prepaid at time of allotment
Notice of allotment will be sent promptly by ordinary letter.

COAL
PROPERTY IN FULL OPERATION
Company owns 9,600 acres of coal property known throughout the coal trade as the New Campbellton Colliery, located on Bras D'Or Bay, County of Victoria, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia. Mine is fully equipped, producing and marketing tons of coal a day at a net profit of $1.00 a ton. Improvements are now being made that will increase the output to over 1,000 tons a day. On present output, figuring 300 working days in year, the net result will more than pay interest on entire issue of preferred, with output of 1,000 tons a day net result will be $300,000 per annum.

IRON
RICHEST ORE IN THE WORLD
Company owns in fee simple, free and clear of all incumbrances, 4000 acres of iron ore deposits, located Natashquan (tidewater) situated on North shore of Gulf of St. Lawrence, in the County of Saguenay, province of Quebec.
Deposits contain 20,000,000 tons of ore ABOVE SEA LEVEL ALONE.
Quality of ore is highest ever discovered, running from 69 per cent to 72 per cent in metallic iron.
More orders for the sale of this ore has been received by the Company than can possibly be accepted, and at a price netting the Company a profit of $2 a ton F. O. B. vessels at Company's docks.
Send for prospectus giving full information as to earnings, reports, etc., etc.
Address all communications and send subscriptions to

COLONIAL SECURITIES CO., 62 Wall Street, New York City
OR
W. L. MARSTON & COMPANY 110 State Street, Boston

The SAWYER COMPANY,
351 Temple Building, Montreal, Canada.

Jim Dumps' first born, a bright young man,
Desired to box like Sullivan.
"Take first, my son—'tis wisdom's course—"
His father said, "a box of 'Force!'
There's no box like it for the vim
It gives," asserted "Sunny Jim."

"Force"
The Ready-to-Serve Cereal is health and strength in a box.

Sweet, crisp flakes of wheat and malt.

None As Satisfactory.
"After having tried almost every known breakfast food, it seems that none of them have been as satisfactory as 'Force.' H. H. Benson."

Delicious Coffee

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE'S.

Ground daily by electric power.
30 & 40 cts. per lb.

—THE—INTELLIGENCER
JOB
PRINTING
DEPARTMENT

WE have every facility for doing the best and cheapest Job Printing in the country. Our presses and stock of printing materials are up-to-date.

Half Tone Catalogue Printing

ARTISTIC FOLDERS, PAMPHLETS, MAILING CARDS, ETC.

To Business Men :

We have 100,000 ENVELOPES of all kinds to select from.

Statement and Bill Heads, Letter and Note Heads, Gummed Paper, Poster Paper, Butter Paper, etc.

Cover Paper—a full line of popular makes.

Book and Printing Paper—all sizes, weights and prices.

Card Board Visiting Cards, Tickets, etc.

The Intelligencer Printing & Publishing House, Limited.
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

The Pair
$5.00
Beautifully Finished
Finest Silver Plate Sugar
Bowl and Cream Pitcher

Set No. 113 Set No. 113

Express prepaid to any address on receipt of special price . . $5.00

On receipt of your name and address we will forward free of cost our new handsomely illustrated folder of extra value gift articles. Write for it now.

RYRIE BROS.
JEWELERS
118, 120, 122 and 124
Yonge St., Toronto

Curse
—OF—DRINK CURED BY
COLONIAL REMEDY

No taste. No Odor. Can be given in a glass of water, tea, or coffee, without patient's knowledge.

Colonial Remedy will cure or destroy the diseased appetite for alcoholic stimulants, whether the patient is a confirmed inebriate, "tippler," social drinker or drunkard. Impossible for anyone to have an appetite or alcoholic liquors after using Colonial Remedy.

Indorsed by Members of the W.C.T.U

Mrs. Moore, Superintendent of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Ventura, Cal., writes: "I have tested Colonial Remedy on very obstinate drunkards, and the cures have been many. In many cases the Remedy was given secretly. I cheerfully recommend and endorse Colonial Remedy. Members of our Union are delighted to find a practical and economical treatment to aid us in our temperance work."

Sold by druggists everywhere and by mail. Price $1. Trial package free by writing or calling on Mrs. M. A. Cowan (for years member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union), 2204 St. Catherine St., Montreal.

Sold in Belleville by F. Chas. Clarke Front St. and F. M. Waters, Bridge St.

The New Wall Paper Store

sells borders by the roll, same price as the papers.

THE BEST TALENT in the world is employed to design the paper we sell.

We select only the beautiful and harmonious designs because these are the kind that please our patrons.

New Spring designs, delicate flower-like tints, all conceivable patterns, many exclusive designs, scrolls, ingrains, etc., ceiling and border to match. Prices to suit all pocketbooks.

JOHN CORNELIUS,

Decorator, Painter, Grainer, and Paper Hanger, all work guaranteed first class.

Flowers & Vegetables
Of all kinds in season.
...AT...
J. D. COLLIP'S.
'Phone 205.

German Etiquette.

THE visitor in Germany is often embarrassed by the superfluity of titles, which seem to be showered indiscriminately. The Germans are great sticklers for the dignity of station, and William H. Dawson, in "German Life in Town and Country," shows how actions of law have been instituted because of the withholding of titles rightfully acquired.

Mr. A. must be spoken of as Mr. Court Councillor A., Doctor B. as Mr. Privy Councillor Professor Doctor B. And wives must share their husbands' privileges, and be addressed as Mrs. Court Councillor A. and Mrs. Privy Councillor B.

The English "reverend" has no equivalent, but the clergyman becomes Mr. Pastor So and So. Mr. Brown, the editor, is addressed as Mr. Editor Brown, and on the same principle we have Mr. Stamp-Collector Jones, Mr. Postmaster Robinson, Mr. Road-Inspector Smith, and so on.

You address a lady whom you know but slightly as "Gracious lady" or "Gracious mademoiselle," as she may be married or single. "Obedient servant" is still a gallant greeting where the acquaintance is slight or where a lady is saluted; and it should be remembered that to salute first in public is not the prerogative of the German lady.

The superficial side of courtesy as seen in letter-writing is simply allowed to run riot. Here is the beginning of an official letter which a person of educated rank may any day receive, to his lasting edification:

"To his highly well-born Herr Doctor (for the doctor may be taken for granted). The undersigned permits himself devotedly to inform your highly well-born self that your honored writing has received, and so forth." And the writer may in conclusion assure the highly well-born recipient of his "most excellent high esteem," and subscribe himself as "highly respectful and most obedient."

Most people insist on receiving the exact degree of respect which they deem to be due to their position, as the pronouncement of a Berlin jury indicates. A lady accused a tradesman of an intended insult in that he had only signed himself in a letter "Most humbly" and not "Respectfully and most humbly," and the court took the complainant's view and fined the offender.

Farewell to Housewifery.

IS the housewife becoming extinct? Madame Henri Schmall declares that she is. She gives reasons for her belief, which is a hope as well as a belief. Madame Schmall is an Englishwoman, the wife of a Frenchman, and has devoted herself largely to the interest of "woman's rights" in France.

According to this independent lady, the extinction of the housewife is greatly to be desired. Woman has progressed beyond the state of servitude to the home, and in the near future the wife "will have nothing whatever to do with her husband's dinner except to partake of it."

Of course husbands will continue to eat and to have dinners as formerly, but Madame Schmall expects the cook and the kitchen to disappear from the household, and the dinner to be served by a "universal provider."

The idea is neither strictly original nor even novel, thinks the "Youth's Companion." It has been tried in several instances in this country, and has not been encouragingly successful. But perhaps the conditions were not favorable, and Madame Schmall may be justified in assuming that when she has the direction of the enterprise it will result in a perfection satisfactory to the most advanced woman.

Whether the world will be better or humanity the happier when madam, the housewife, has disappeared, and whether the "universal provider" will fill the bill of "home cooking," are questions which must be answered by experiment and not by pure reasoning. There is every disposition to gratify the ladies, even the most progressive and most thoroughly emancipated ladies; but when home cooking and industries have been turned over to restaurant-keepers and servants jobbing by the hour, shall we still feel a thrill of emotion when we sing "There's no place like home?"

A Naval Battle on Horseback.

GENERAL PAEZ was the first president of the republic of Venezuela, and to him perhaps, more than to any other man, with the exception of Simon Bolivar, Venezuela owes her independence. Paez was a llanero—cowboy—on the llanos or plains of the Orinoco, and at the age of eighteen was superintendent of a large cattle estate. One of the most remarkable incidents of modern warfare, in which Paez played the principal part, is chronicled in Mr. W. E. Curtis's book on Venezuela.

General Paez is the only man who ever fought a naval battle on horseback. With his cavalry he actually attacked and captured a fleet of ships.

While Bolivar was trying to cross the Apure River with his army, during the struggle for independence, he was prevented by a half-dozen or more of Spanish gunboats, which anchored in the stream and moved up and down as he did.

"I would give the world to have possession of that flotilla," exclaimed he to Paez, who had then risen to be second in command, "for I can never cross the river as long as it is there! If it belonged to us, instead of to the enemy, the crossing would be an easy matter."

"I will have those flecheras (ships) or die!" exclaimed Paez; and, calling upon his llaneros—his regiment of cowboys—he said: "Let those follow Tio who dare!"

"Tio" was the pet name by which Paez was known among his reckless followers, but he never used it himself except in an emergency.

He spurred his stallion into the stream, followed by three thousand llaneros, and their horses, which are taught to swim as well as to gallop, carried them directly to the gunboats.

It was night. The Spanish fleet was taken entirely unawares. The llaneros clambered from their saddles to the decks of the vessels, and then let their horses swim back to shore. Thus, after cutting off their own retreat, it was a question of win or die. They fought desperately, and every vessel was captured.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

ABOUT CARPETS

Most housekeepers are just now, more or less interested in the carpet question.

Here are a few reasons why they should be specially interested in our assortment.

OUR BUYING facilities are the best—we purchase large quantities direct from the mills for cash.

OUR SELLING—only for cash saving allowances neccessary for bad accounts.

LESS EXPENSE—Being connected with our main store, the cost of running this department is reduced to a minimum.

All mean some little saving on each yard of carpet—considerable on a whole floor.

Our assortment is the most complete in this section of Ontario—if it is a desireable kind or make, it's well represented here—many only here.

It will be a pleasure missed to those who do not see the new spring designs—we will not ask you to buy unless you are entirely satisfied.

We mention a few prices—each one represents, HIGHEST OBTAINABLE VALUE—what all WANT and we HAVE.

—Fine Tapestries, new designs	45 to 85c
—Crossley's Brussel Capets	95c to $1.35
—Wilton's and Axminsters	$1.35
—Wool and Union Carpets, 36" wide	25c to $1.00
—Best 3 ply All Wool Carpets, 36" wide, per yard	$1.00

PARASOLS

Style and usefulness both unite to make the parasol a neccessary adjunct with every lady's summer outfit.

You will be pleased not only with the sytle but the prices at which direct buying from headquaters—London, Paris, New York—has enabled us to mark these—you would pay much more for the same values in larger cities.

—Pretty white washable Parasols trimmed with hemstitching and fancy colored flowers—natural wood handle	$1.25
—Plain Navy Silk Parasol—natural wood handle—steel rod—good for rain or shine	$2 50
—Fine White Silk Parasol trimmed with groups of narrow tucks and hemstitching—natural wood handle	$4.75

NECK RUFFS

The summer costume is hardly complete without the finish of a neck ornament.

Need not neccessarily be an expansive one—we have many pretty new styles which are quite "correct" at very moderate prices.

—Fine White Chiffon Ruff with long ties all edged with fine valenciennes lace very pretty	$1.75
—Fine Black Chiffon Ruff with fancy edging and long ribbon trimmed ties - plenty of material	$3.00
—Fine Black Stole Shaped Ruff of spotted net with silk applique shoulder cape—long ties—all edged with fancy chiffon ribbon	$7·50

TO THE YOUNG MAN

The purchase of a new suit is quite an item—must be stylish—perfect fitting—yet withall not too expensive.

The ability of our assortment to meet just such demands is evinced by the number of young men who have found here clothing to please them in every way.

Every dollar you invest here in a suit represents one hundred cents of value—no charge for the superior appearance of our goods.

Summer clothing is now the main feature—of course ours are "up to the minute".

We will be pleased to show you fashions newest—come in.

—A complete range of young men's suits in all newest Tweeds and Worsteds—fancy stripes and overplaids and plain designs—double and single breasted from	$5.00 to $15.00

FINE WAISTINGS

Just opened—some very fine with colored silk stripes.

These are exceptionally nice and the very best material obtainable for fine shirts or waists—colors are perfectly fast.

—Fine waist flannels, cream and grey grounds with light silk stripes, 34 inches wide,	75c
—Fine French flannels and delaines,	45 & 50c

VEILINGS

Finest qualities and newest styles in Veiling always found at our centre counter.

Latest novelities as well as staple qualities—some very pretty pattern Veils just received. These are the most recent New York creations.

—Fine quality veiling in plain and spot net, per yd.	25c
—New pattern veils with embroidered edges, 45" long	60c

NECK WEAR

There are many reasons why the young men come here for there neckwear.

Probably the chief of these is the "newness" and moderate price we ask.

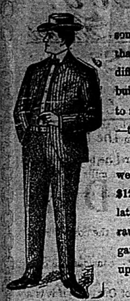
A number of new and pretty patterns have just come to hand for summer wear—some silk some cotton.

—New washable string ties, 12½, 15 and	25c
—Newest four-in-hand ties	50c

Agents for Standard Patterns.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

CLOTHING BOUGHT HERE PRESSED FREE OF CHARGE



JUST CHOOSE FROM

Liberal Selections.

That's all any man has to do when he comes to Quick & Robertson's for his clothes, and as far as fitting him and pleasing him, why, that will take no time at all, because he knows we do things a little different at this store—put more worth in prices and have our clothing built perfect. He knows they are the very best, so all he has to do is to make his choice; and best of all, he can't go wrong, buy what he will —the Quick & Robertson guarantee assures perfect satisfaction.

How about your Spring Suit? Bought it yet? If you haven't we'd like your inspection of our assortment—the $6.50, $8. $10 and $12 lines in particular—attractive singe and double-breasted sacks in latest effects, Cheviots, Cassimeres, Worsteds and Serges—a greater range of patterns than any tailor can show you, made as good as his garments, too, $6.50, $8, $10, $12. Yes, we can give you finer material up to $15, but can't improve on the make very much.

Summer Underwear at Half Price

Hundreds of customers have taken advantage of our great offering in Summer Underwear, but as our purchase from the manufacturer was over 300 dozens we still have a good assortment left. Regular 50c Balbriggan Shirts for .... 25c each.

Belleville's Best Clothing and Furnishing Store.

QUICK & ROBERTSON

Exclusive Agents in this City for Johnston's Famous Clothing.

Other People's Money

We are in business to exchange our different lines of reliable merchandise for other people's money. The buying public seem to appreciate our efforts in this direction as is evidenced by our greatly increased trade. Just at present we would like to show you our

- Garde Hose
- Lawn Mowers
- Refrigerators
- Oil Stoves
- Screen Doors
- Screen Windows

The W. W. CHOWN Company. Limited

Orders for bookbinding should be left at this office. It is surprising how nice a volume can be made of these magazines, even though they are somewhat soiled from much handling. Books, magazines, or periodicals bound or rebound in any style at very reasonable prices. Blank books, such as journals, ledgers, day books, with any kind of ruling, made to order. All work warranted first-class. THE INTELLIGENCER, Belleville.

HOW MR. MacLAREN WAS FATALLY INJURED.

HORSE REARED AND POMMEL OF SADDLE STRUCK HIM IN ABDOMEN.

Particulars have been received of the deplorable accident which happened to the late Mr. John MacLaren, of Brockville. The following account of the affair is given by Mr. Scott, a Vancouver broker, who accompanied Mr. MacLaren on his trip:

"Mr. Scott and Mr. MacLaren had driven from Kamloops by team to Lewis Creek, an Indian reservation situated fifty miles from Kamloops on the Thompson river. They decided to cover the remaining fifty miles on horseback and accordingly engaged horses and a guide. Mr. MacLaren had just mounted a spirited black pony on the level and the animal had not gone more than ten feet when it suddenly reared up and danced around on its hind legs, standing almost perpendicular. Mr. MacLaren had been accustomed to horses all his life and did not feel disturbed over the action of the horse. He therefore made no effort to dismount. Suddenly the horse slipped falling backwards the pommel of the saddle striking Mr. MacLaren in the abdomen as he came into contact with the ground. It was seen at once that he was seriously injured. Besides the injuries mentioned it was thought his ribs were fractured by the horse falling on him.

"There were several pathetic incidents in connection with the tragedy. On the way down from Lewis Creek to Kamloops Mr. MacLaren is said to have made his will and a few minutes before his death dictated to the nurse attending him a letter containing the last and fond farewell to his devoted wife."

The funeral took place in Brockville this afternoon.

As Summer Advances Make Malt Breakfast Food The First Dish at the Morning Meal.

As summer advances, avoid meats at the morning meal. They conduce to heaviness, drowsiness and defective digestion. Summer dieting that does not contribute to health, vigor and heartiness, should be stopped at once. If the stomach is weak and irritable and digestion impaired, use Malt Breakfast Food instead of a meat diet, and carefully avoid oatmeal and other blood-heating foods. Malt Breakfast Food is delicious in taste, light and refreshing to the stomach, easy to digest, and keeps the user in good condition physically. All Grocers heartily recommend Malt Breakfast Food.

RESPECTED YEOMAN DEAD.

DEMISE OF MR. WILLIAM KELLY YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

After an illness of four weeks duration, Mr. Wm. Kelly, one of the best known and most respected yeomen of the Front of Sidney, died yesterday afternoon. Deceased was born in Sidney in the year 1844 and had always resided in that township. Mr. Kelly was for some years an active member of the Methodist Church and had taken a prominent part in church work, having been an official of White's Church and Superintendent of the Sunday School. His demise was fittingly referred to at the Woman's Missionary convention which was in session at White's Church last evening. In this connection he will be much missed. Deceased was of a quiet disposition, a kindly and generous neighbor, and his demise is universally regretted in the neighborhood. A widow and one son, Mr. John Kelly, survive. Other members of the family are one brother, Mr. Marcus Kelly, of Rockport, N.Y., and three sisters, Mrs. Warring, of Picton; Mrs. Fairman, of Trenton; Mrs. Bryant, of Sidney. To them will be extended the sincere sympathy of a large circle of relatives and friends. The funeral will be at White's Church, Bayside, to-morrow morning.

CONCERT TO-NIGHT.

Don't forget the fine concert in Bridge St. Church to-night at 8 o'clock. The choir will be in good form and you will have the opportunity of hearing David Ross, of Toronto, upon his first appearance in Belleville. Tickets 25 cents.

The Last Sad Rites.

A large number of citizens were in attendance at the obsequies of the late Mr. Sterling Clark Edwards, which took place this afternoon. Services were conducted at his mother's residence on Cedar street by the Rev. M. W. Maclean, pastor of St. Andrew's Church. Upon the casket were placed a number of beautiful floral tributes from relatives and friends. The interment took place at the cemetery. The bearers were: Messrs. J. S. McKeown, W. J. Brown, A. Symons, J. Truiasch, P. Gill and H. McIninch.

BOYS' SHIRT WAISTS.

We have just received a big lot of Empire Shirt Waists for boys 6 to 12 years of age that we are selling at 39 cents each. These garments have stiff collars and cuffs, and are in the regular way worth almost double the price asked. We have also a lot of boys' blouses as low as 25 cents each. Quick & Robertson, Belleville's Best Clothiers.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT CORDOVA MINES.

ELEEZER YEOMANS, A WORKMAN FELL DOWN A SHAFT.

(Peterboro Review.)

A fatal accident occurred this morning at Cordova Gold Mines, the victim being a workman named Eleezer Yeomans. Slight details as to how the accident happened were 'phoned to Coroner Gray from Cordova. There are, it seems, two skips or buckets operated in a 400-foot shaft, and by these men are frequently lowered into and raised from the mine. One is on the west and the other on the east of the shaft. Just before the accident happened the signal was given to raise the west skip to the 200-foot level. It was boarded by four men and stopped at the desired point. At the same time the signal was given the east skip to come up to the 300-foot level. While this was being done something went wrong and the west skip suddenly dropped 140 feet, and the men were thrown out and fell a distance of 60 feet. All were seriously injured, Yeomans fatally.

Coroner Gray has decided to hold an inquest, and High Constable Cochrane left for Cordova to-day to empanel a jury. The inquest will open to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

MEN'S FANCY SHIRTS.

The Oak Hall are showing a splendid assortment of men's fancy shirts at prices from 39 cents to $1. We wish to draw your special attention to our better shirts. Those that we offer at $1 are as good value as can be found in other stores at $1.25 to $1.50. Investigate.

GALA DAY AT WOOLER.

CORNER STONE OF A NEW CHURCH LAID ON FRIDAY LAST.

Wooler, May 26.

Friday last was a gala day in this village, when the corner stone of a new Methodist Church was laid, under the auspices of Trent Lodge, No. 38, A.F. & A.M., by His Honor Judge Harding, the most Worshipful the Grand Master of Canada, assisted by F. E. O'Flynn, District Deputy Grand Master of Prince Edward District, and a number of brethren from neighboring lodges. About two hundred Masons were in the procession, including Sir Mackenzie Bowell, Col. Ponton, J. P. Thompson, J. W. Johnson and W. J. Diamond, of Belleville; Lieut.-Col. J. Earl Halliwell, of Stirling; Rev. Dr. Saunders, of Campbellford; and brethren from Trenton, Campbellford, Stirling, Frankford, Brighton and Colborne. Dinner was served by the ladies of the congregation in the Agricultural grounds at noon, after which the procession was formed in the Town Hall and headed by the Wooler Brass Band, marched to the church, where the ceremony was performed. The people of Wooler deserve much credit for their very successful effort. The grounds were decorated and the sumptuous dinner was deserving of praise. About eight hundred people were present and the pastor, the Rev. S. F. Dixon, announced the receipts and donation to be about five hundred dollars.

Died in Thurlow.

Mrs. Abigail J. Ruttan died yesterday at her late residence, 6th concession of Thurlow, being in her 79th year. Deceased had resided in the township for many years and was well and favorably known. Mrs. Ruttan had been a member of the Methodist church for a long period.

"THOUSAND ISLAND RAMBLES."

Str. "North King" will commence her popular Thousand Island rambles on 31st May, leaving Belleville at 3.25 a.m. Sundays. Fare $1.00. Steamer leaves at 11.38 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. m26d&w3m

Non-Jury Court.

The attention of the non-jury sittings of the High Court of Justice was occupied for two days in the case of McDonald vs. McDonald. It appears that Mr. W. H. McDonald, who resided at Point Ann, died some months ago and it is alleged that he left a will whereby forty-five acres of land was to go to his daughters during life. A son of the deceased, named William, seeks to set aside the will alleging that the land had been deeded to him by his father some time prior to his demise. There were a number of witnesses examined. His Lordship reserved judgment. Mr. Aylsworth, K.C., appeared for the plaintiff, and Mr. E. G. Porter for the defendant.

PERFECT CURE FOR BRONCHITIS.

This disease can be treated only by a remedy carried to the affected parts along with the air breathed, for nature intended these organs for the passage of air alone, and sprays, atomizers and internal medicines utterly fail. But Catarrhozone doesn't fail, for it goes wherever the air breathed goes, and its healing antiseptic vapor is sure to reach every affected part. Catarrhozone is inhaled at the mouth and after passing through every air cell of the breathing organs is slowly exhaled through the nostrils. Catarrhozone protects and heals the inflammation and perfectly cures all bronchial affections. Price $1. Small size 25c. Druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

Earthquake Kills Over 2000 People.

ARMENIAN TOWN DESTROYED—SHOCK FELT AT CONSTANTINOPLE.

(Special to The Intelligencer.)

Constantinople, May 28.—The town of Malazguierd, Armenia, has been destroyed by an earthquake and over 2000 persons were killed, including 700 Armenians and 400 soldiers in the garrison.

A number of houses in neighboring villages also collapsed.

Hundreds of cattle were killed.

The shock was felt in Constantinople, but no damage was done there.

Sports and Pastimes

SPORTING NOTE AND COMMENT.

The lacrosse boys are putting in hard and faithful practice, and will undoubtedly be in good trim for the opening game with Hastings on June 3.

We are informed that Mr. "Jack" Marks has gone to Toronto, where he will play baseball with one of the numerous clubs in the Queen City.

Sullivan, of Kingston, formerly of the Eastern League, pitched for a Kingston nine on Monday, and was beaten 35-3. Of course he got rotten support, but how have the mighty fallen!

Sir Thomas Lipton's fleet is booked to sail for America to-day, and Sir Thomas, as usual, is ballasted with confidence. He says if he don't win this time he'll quit trying, and really, you know, he ought to. Here's luck to him, anyhow, for a game sportsman.

Bicycle racing is picking up in favor, though it is hardly likely to attain the degree of popularity it enjoyed once upon a time. By the way, there is some talk of matching young Weller and Astle for a ten-mile race, the prize to be the Canada Cycle Motor Company's Cup, which the contestants raced for and failed to win at the recent road race. The event, if arranged, should create a lot of interest. There was only 16 seconds difference between the boys last Monday morning, and they ought to make a close and exciting finish.

Jersey City has struck the toboggan in the Eastern League, and nobody knows where they will stop. It looks, at present, like a fight between Buffalo and Toronto for the top next fall.

The Summer School.

The programme is out for the Summer School, for the study of the Bible and Missions, which is to be held at Twelve O'clock Point from June 10 to 17, and promises to be a great success. Friday, June 12, will be the chief day. In the evening a "Historical Mass Meeting" will be held, at which there will be a song service and addresses by Rev. Dr. Crothers, Rev. H. B. Kenny and Mr. William Johnson.

Dead People's Money.

Mr. John Finnegan, late of Belleville, probate of will granted to Mr. Wm. E. Finnegan. Estate not given. Mr. W. N. Ponton, solicitor.

Marguerite N. Wadsworth, late of Belleville, letters of administration granted to Wm. Wadsworth. Estate $6,050. Mr. G. W. Ostrom, solicitor.

Samuel White, late of Belleville, probate of will granted to Mrs. Elizabeth White. Mr. J. J. B. Flint, solicitor.

Who Owns the Boat?

During the high wind which prevailed to-day an overturned sailboat was carried down the bay and drifted towards the north shore near Lingham's mill where it was pulled out of the water. The craft came from above the bay bridge but to whom it belonged or whether any person was in it at the time it upset could not be ascertained.

57—63. THE CRITICAL AGE.

Height of vigor past—nature's power slowing down, vitality less, recuperative power less, endurance less. Stop the progress of decay, tone up the weakened nerve centres, impart vigor to the tiring brain, prepare for the crisis. A means of remarkable potency in the renewal of decreasing vigor is found in Ferrozone. It brightens up the whole being, imparts a sense of power and strength. By the use of Ferrozone old age is pushed back twenty years. Ferrozone gives strength, vigor, endurance, vim. Your druggist has it. Get a box to-day.

Marine Notes.

The barge John S. Parsons is discharging a load of coal at the dock.

The steamer Caspian, of the O. & R. line, called here yesterday afternoon, westward bound.

The steamer Ella Ross brought a number of passengers to the city to-day from various bay ports.

Gray Hair Ayer's Hair Vigor does not suddenly turn your gray hair black; but gradually the old color comes back,—all the rich, dark color it used to have. The hair stops falling, too. Better try it. $1. All druggists. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

FOUR BULLET WOUNDS IN THIS MAN'S BODY.

WENT AFTER ANOTHER MAN'S WIFE, WITH ABOVE RESULT.

Brockville, Ont., May 27.—There was a fight for blood in the village of Cardinal a few nights ago, and as a result Michael Monett, an Italian, is in Brockville jail to await trial on a charge of attempted murder, and his victim, Alex. Drake, is a patient in the hospital with four 38-calibre bullet wounds in his body. It is stated that Drake has for some time been an unwelcome visitor at Monett's home, and has been warned a number of times to keep away and cease having anything to do with the prisoner's wife. Despite these warnings Drake made another visit, and his appearance was the signal for a fight. Both men were armed with revolvers, and a number of shots were exchanged at short range. When the smoke cleared away it was found that Drake, who is a one-armed man, had been shot four times, once in the stump of his amputated arm, once in the other arm, plowing five or six inches before coming out at the shoulder, and a third time in the neck, just below the ear. The fourth bullet was a glancing shot across the breast, inflicting a nasty flesh wound. Monett suffered from a bullet wound on the head, which glanced without penetrating the skull, and another grazing wound a few inches above the hip. He is under the care of the jail surgeon. The bullets in Drake's body were all successfully removed.

Drake is about 50 years of age. Some years ago he was employed on the Cardinal canal works in the capacity of an assistant clerk or timekeeper. Towards the end of 1900 he was committed to the Brockville jail, charged with living with the wife of an Italian laborer at Cardinal. He was discharged from custody, the evidence not being sufficient to warrant a conviction under the section of the criminal law upon which prosecution was based.

SERGEANTS XVTH REGIMENT.

Important meeting will be held Friday evening, 29th inst., at 8.30 o'clock. —W. Aris, Sergeant Major. 1t

PERSONAL ...AND... SOCIAL.

The Intelligencer invites all its readers to contribute to this column all items of a personal nature, such as the arrival or departure of guests, and the movements of business men, etc. Send a post card to or telephone The Intelligencer.

Mr. E. L. Palen went to Almonte to-day on business.

Mayor Boulter, of Picton, was in the city to-day.

Mr. Cameron Brown was in the city last evening.

Mr. Harry McCrudden, who has for some time had charge of Wallace's grocery, on Bridge street, has secured a position on the steamer Toronto.

Arrivals at Quinte: E. Pitt, A. Blue, Ottawa; J. W. Shouldice, J. E. Ross, C. A. McHenry, H. Mackie, W. Riley, L. R. Robertson, D. Ross, S. Hutton, A. Smith, R. Wright, Toronto; W. E. Williams, Manchester, Eng.; J. Parker, J. C. McNeal, Deseronto; W. J. Shaver, Chicago; C. Brown, city; H. Butteray, C. H. Henderson, London; C. M. Loomis, New York; A. E. Rosenberg, Cincinnati; W. Turner, H. J. Alexander, Montreal; P. H. Nacarrow, Kingston; J. Roberts, Port Hope; W. Armstrong and wife, Newcastle; A. P. MacLean, Peterboro.

Band Concert To-night.

Weather permitting, the I. O. O. F. Band, under the leadership of Prof Denmark, will render the following programme on Queen Victoria Park to-night:

March—"To Action" ....J. C. Heed
Overture—"The Enchantress"...Dalbey
Waltz—"When Knighthood Was in Flower.......................L. V. Gustin
Selection—"Ernani" .... Verdi
Two Step—"The Bachelor Maids" ....F. J. St. Clair
March—"My Maryland" .... Panella
Medley—"Something Doing"...F. Beyer
Waltz—"Sueno De Maria" ....Fetras, Op. 63
Japanese Dance ....F. F. Baker
God Save the King.

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

AGAINST CHINESE POLL TAX.

300 RESIDENTS OF VICTORIA SEND 13 PETITIONS TO THE SENATE.

Ottawa, May 27.—Sir Mackenzie Bowell presented thirteen petitions to the Senate to-day, signed by some 300 residents of the City of Victoria, against the bill to increase the poll tax on the Chinese, one of which he read.

PREMIER ROBLIN AND G.T.R.

WOULD AID THE ROAD IN MANITOBA BY BOND GUARANTEE.

Winnipeg, May 27.—Speaking at a political picnic at Rosebank, Premier Roblin said he was willing to do all in his power to further the introduction of the G.T.R. interests in Manitoba. He said: "We are in need of all the railways we can get, and I will, in my official and private capacity, help it to come in to any extent possible, having due regard to the interests of the Province." He was not in favor, he continued, of giving to the Grand Trunk Pacific any of the public domain in this country. He thought it best also to give them no cash subsidies, but to extend to them the same measure of aid the present Government had extended to the Canadian Northern Railway in this country—that is, guaranteeing bonds to the extent of $8,000 or $10,000 per mile, secured on mortgage. Anything beyond that would meet with his opposition.

The Home Comers.

Miss Helen Merill, of Picton, captured second prize in the poetry competition for the old home gathering at Toronto. Miss Merrill's prize was $50, and this was her poem:

Across the dawn the Whitethroat calls—
Thrice happy the impassioned song
That from the leafy thicket falls
To greet the homeward-coming throng;
"Sweet, sweet Canada, Canada, Canada."
Oft he repeats each perfect note,
A-tremble from his shining throat,
A-down the land where maples rise,
And elms to arch the sapphire skies;
"Sweet, sweet Canada, Canada, Canada."

The homeland sea is broad and blue,
The homeland shores are fair to view—
Along the sunlit summer ways
Visions of half-forgotten days,
Like dim mirages, in the soul
Their holy images unroll.
For him, home-coming, as of old
Afar the twinkling roof-tree gleams;
And brightly haloed he beholds
The splendid city of his dreams—
Toronto, of the golden north.
Whence, harking back, have ventured forth
A thousand fearless hearts to fight
Life's battles by the alien light
Of other lands; and after years
Of silent longing, smiles and fears,
Strange winds, and stars, and creeds come home
To view once more their native land,
And in the shadow of its domes,
Clasp one another by the hand.

The Whitethroat calls across the dusk
From woodland sweet with pine and musk,
What time the purple twilights rest
Upon the city's glimmering breast;
"Sweet, sweet Canada, Canada, Canada."
The night wind hushes, and more near
The sound of revelry I hear;
And by the starlight's opal beams
My woodbird whispers in its dreams;
"Sweet, sweet Canada, Canada, Canada."

Helen M. Merrill,
"Coureur-de-Bois."

Killed in Whitby.

A G.T.R. brakesman named Miles, whose home is at Little York, was killed at Whitby yesterday afternoon. The unfortunate man was run over by an engine and death was instantaneous. Mr. Miles was known to many of the local railway employees, as his run was from Toronto to Belleville.

CARMAN OPERA HOUSE
Monday, June 1st
THE
Fax-Chambers Concert
JAMES FAX (the Prince of Humorists) (in costume).
Mrs. FRANCIS T. CHAMBERS (Contralto)
Mr. FRANCIS T. CHAMBERS (Tenor)
and Chaiuzpka Orchestra.
Best seats 35c. Plan at Riggs' Saturday.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

Light Weight Hats

COLORED FELTS AND STRAWS
Latest New York Styles.
No trouble to show them.

S. A. HYMAN & CO.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

SUMMER GLOVES

We are showing New Summer Gloves in all the seasonable shades and fabrics. These goods are the products of the best mills in Germany, every pair being well made, of the finest Silk, Lisle and Cotton yarns.

The styles are the most fashionable worn this season.

Plain Lisle Gloves, 2 clasps .... 25c pair
Lace Lisle Gloves, 2 clasps........ 25c pair
Net Gloves, 2 clasps........ 35c pair
Elbow Length Lace Gloves 50, 75. 85c
Silk Taffeta Gloves .... 25 to 40c
Pure Silk Gloves........ 40, 50, 60c
Washable Lisle Gloves .... 25 to 40c

All in Black, White, Cream and Colors.

Misses' Summer Gloves

In Lisle, Silk and Taffeta, from 15c pair up.

Laidlaw & Ketcheson
DIRECT IMPORTERS

Daily Intelligencer.

THE INTELLIGENCER IS SOLD AT
J. W. London's and S. Wardhaugh's.

Local Reading Advertisements,
words 50 cents; 2 cents per word first insertion, per word subsequent consecutive insertions. Headlines count as 12 words; contracts for long periods made at office.

Happy
Ginger Snaps
Just fresh made—10c a lb.

Sweet Cream
Just received—40c a quart

CHAS. S. CLAPP

RUBBER GOODS

Our stock of Rubber Goods is up-to-date in every particular and the quality of everything is as good as the assortment is complete. Some Rubber Goods are made to sell only. None of those come here. We carry the kind that are made to give long and satisfactory service. We also see to it that you get right prices.
Hot Water Bottles
Bulb and Fountain Syringes
Sick Room Supplies.

McKeown's DRUG STORE

NEW SPRING GOODS

LATEST DESIGNS IN
SPRING TROUSERING.

Spring Overcoating. A nice Line of Waterproof Overcoating, Tweeds and Serges at reasonable prices by the yard.

Call and inspect my stock before ordering your Spring Clothing.

ARTHUR McGIE,
Merchant Tailor.
Front Street.

He who foresees calamities suffers them twice over.

Sterling Silver
and Cut Glass.

Particular attention is directed to my stock of the above goods, which at present is most attractive. I handle the renowned Gorham Silver and Hawkes Cut Glass Ware, being sole agent for this city. These are the best and prices are moderate.

T. BLACKBURN.

The After Effect

After celebrating Victoria Day we will now get down to business. Watch for close prices in to-morrow's paper.

McINTOSH BROS.

A Story of Charles Frederic Goss.

RECENTLY a Chicago newspaper man paused before a bookstore window which was heaped high with copies of The Redemption of David Corson, and he said to his companion:

"There is one instance, at least, in which lightning struck in the right place. If the size of an author's heart determined the measure of his success every book written by Charles Frederic Goss would sell a million copies.

"'When I struck Chicago I had neither job nor prospect of one. There was not a man in the whole big city who knew me, and it didn't take many days of knocking about from one newspaper office to another to convince me that not a human being here cared to know me. But that was where I made my mistake. One night I happened to step inside Mr. Moody's Chicago Avenue Church. Mr. Charles Frederic Goss was in charge of the work, and at the close of the services I met him. He passed over the conventional revivalistic questions regarding my spiritual condition, but quickly found out where I was stopping, and that I was looking for work and had met with disappointment in my applications. From that hour I felt that I certainly had one friend in Chicago—and he a very cheerful one.

"Week after week passed, and finally a month and a half, before I secured my first position. In the latter part of that probationary period I was in constant terror of the day of reckoning that was to come with my landlady, to whom I had not paid a dollar. Strangely enough, however, she never mentioned the matter or suggested that I find some other place. My credit appeared to be as firm as that of the bank cashier at my right, who paid his board every Saturday night, before the whole company, handing out crisp bills as he took his seat at the table.

"Finally, when I was able to pay her I spoke of the unaccountable forbearance she had shown me as a stranger. "'Oh, I knew you were all right,' she replied. 'Mr. Goss came here to the house and talked with me about you. Any boarder who has him for a friend can let his bills run with me as long as he needs.'

"All this time the author of David Corson had been keeping my courage up by assuring me there was a place for every honest man who had a desire to work; but he had never so much as hinted that he had personally established my credit at the boarding-house where I was in arrears.

"He always gave away a large share of his salary, and was never so happy as when helping some person in desperate circumstances. In his college course he had a great battle to retain his grasp on the faith which had been taught him in boyhood. This struggle can be traced very distinctly in the pages of his novel."

A Heated Discussion.

"At this point," said the narrator, "she broke down and wept scalding tears." "My goodness!" exclaimed the listener, "she must have been boiling over with rage."—Chicago "News."

Man's Self-Conceit.

IF the wonders of the exhibition, which Glasgow has made so successful, have begot any general sense of pride in the achievements of mankind, and particularly of those pushing and ingenious folk who dwell in the City by the Clyde, a perusal of Professor Rucker's speech at the meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science in the Scottish metropolis, will prove a wholesome corrective, says the "Outlook." He wound up his remarks with the confession that, "with all our searchings, we have not torn the veil of mystery from the world around us." There is nothing so true, and nothing so salutary to remember. Mankind tends evermore to self-conceit; that tendency is encouraged by the daily newspaper. Perhaps some physicist in his researches blunders on some simple property of matter, or condition of the forces about us, and the Roentgen rays are the result. Immediately arises in the press a shriek of exultation. One would think at such times that Nature was about to open out her heart and reveal all her mysteries. But the only fact in the matter appears to be that the human intellect is not fit to comprehend the nature of things. The nature of things is all about us; it only remains mysterious to us because of our incapacity to grasp it. As Professor Rucker reminds us, the span of human life is a very short time in which to study the manifestations of Nature. If we lived longer the problems would appear different. Nor can we transmit our individual knowledge. Each person has to begin at the beginning; he is the slave of his faculties, which, very evidently, were not intended to grasp all at once the character of the universe. The most profound thinkers and investigators know best how ignorant man is. Professor Rucker follows a long line of presidents in reminding us that we know practically nothing.

The Arts of Childhood.

"We hear a good deal these days about the lost arts," said the man who, though old in years, is still young at heart. "I wonder if the world realizes that some of the most precious arts of childhood are in danger of becoming extinct? How many boys today can make a kite, properly hung and with a tail sufficient to balance, the ends nicely bent and worked down with a bit of broken glass? I interviewed my young nephew the other day, and was thunderstruck to discover that he knew nothing about it. Could he make a water-wheel, a windmill, an elder pop-gun, a jack-lantern, a buzz-wheel, an air-gun from a goose-quill, with a sliced potato for ammunition; a willow whistle, a squirt-gun? No; he knew nothing about them. 'But surely,' said I, almost pathetically, 'you can make a cornstalk fiddle?' 'Do you mean a violin, unk?' said he, yawning. Then I gave it up. I don't believe the youths of to-day know enough to stick a feather in a corncob and throw it into the air. I am going to write a book some day upon the arts of childhood to save them from utter annihilation."

Protection of Words.

IN the November "Era" William S. Walsh pleads for much-abused words and phrases:

"In these days when everybody is writing and everybody seems to succeed, would it not be well to start a Society for the Protection of Words and Phrases? Many of these are so brutally overworked by the amateur! The winged words, the words that burn, the thoughts that breathe, the telling phrases, do they not clamor loudly for a rest? That very sentence affords an illuminating example of what I mean. How apt, how vivid, how expressive it would be if all its epithets had not lost their vitality through overwork. To the sated reader the whole sentence is but the echo of an echo, it not merely means nothing, but it is robbed even of its sound and fury. The greenhorn who complained of Hamlet that it was too full of quotations unconsciously expressed a great fact through the medium of a bull. In a wrongheaded way he pointed out that constant reiteration has reduced the grandest passages in the language to mere commonplaces. Give our familiar quotations a rest. Lay to sleep our household words. Let fortune for a while cease to favor the brave. Let us feign that the poet is made. Let a man who would steal another's thunder be arrested for felony. Let us win no more golden opinions. Let the favored few withdraw to some select seclusion, and the countless thousands to some dry-eyed privacy. Thus may nouns, adjectives and phrases, after a long rest, reawaken with the freshness of the morning upon them, their original meanings recreated, energetic, effective, brilliant, as on the day when they were first conceived and brought forth."

A Dream Story.

From time to time I have been so interested and amused by reading in the "Spectator" accounts of vivid and realistic dreams that I feel tempted to narrate one that happened to me, leaving it to your judgment as to whether it is worthy of notice in your paper. In November, 1893, I awoke one morning fully impressed with the idea that I was receiving as a gift an unusually large gypsy ring, set with a single sapphire with a brilliant on each side. The dream was a pleasant one to the female mind, and I soon fell asleep again, but only to awake with a still stronger impression that the jewel was actually in my hands. So curious were my sensations that on my maid entering my room at 8 o'clock I told her of the two dreams, most minutely describing the ring, and I also asked my husband to bear witness to the statement should anything follow to confirm the dream. Two hours later the postman arrived, and so great was my excitement and astonishment at seeing a small, neatly done up packet (evidently a ring case) that I dare scarcely open it, and decided to ask my maid to do so. Before breaking the seal I asked her to repeat the description of the ring that I had previously given her, and then the little packet was opened, and the joyful exclamation followed: "Why, my lady, here it is!" The ring was sent to me by a friend in memory of his wife, who had died some months before; but I had absolutely no idea that I should be the recipient of any souvenir of her, nor did I ever see her wearing the ring in question. The same maid is still in my service, and can (as well as Sir Astley) substantiate my story.—Letter in the London "Spectator."

Stevenson's Grave.

A visit to the grave of R. L. Stevenson would disappoint many people. While some time back visits to this famous hill were most frequent, the limit must now be six persons yearly. And no wonder! The place is quite overgrown with weeds, and perhaps will some day be hard to discover.—New Zealand "Times."

Explained Too Much.

The caller explained his mission.

"It's a worthy cause," he said.

"It is, indeed," admitted the up-to-date merchant. "You may put our firm down for five hundred dollars."

"Good!" exclaimed the caller. "It's to be done very quietly and unostentatiously, of course. The money will be given in a lump sum from 'a few friends,' without any names whatever."

"No one will know who gives?" asked the merchant.

"No one," answered the caller.

"No list published?"

"None."

"Cross the name of our firm off."—Chicago "Post."

Children's Kidneys.

DR. PITCHER'S BACKACHE KIDNEY TABLETS ARE THE MOST SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT FOR THE KIDNEY WEAKNESS OF CHILDREN.

Mothers know what distress and anxiety they have when the little ones cannot retain their water properly or have any trouble with their kidneys.

For the weakness of the kidneys, bladder or urinary organs of children Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, which are the prescription of the eminent specialist, Dr. Zina Pitcher, are the most effectual remedy known to science.

Mrs. W. M. Glover, Pearl Street, Brockville, Ont., says: "One of my children that had been suffering from sluggish kidneys read about Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets, and procured a bottle. They removed the whole difficulty promptly. That depressing pain over the kidneys stopped, dizziness and headaches ceased, and there was a general invigorating of the system. There is no question regarding the merits of those tablets for the back and kidneys. We have great confidence in them and recommend them highly."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50 cents a box at all druggists. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Company, Toronto.

THE MARKETS.

Grain Markets Are Quiet—Tendency Is to Firmer Prices — Live Stock—The Latest Quotations.

Wednesday Evening, May 27.

Liverpool wheat futures closed unchanged to ½d lower to-day and corn futures unchanged to ½d higher.

At Chicago to-day July wheat closed ⅝d higher than yesterday; July corn closed unchanged and July oats unchanged.

LEADING WHEAT MARKETS.

Following are the closing quotations at important wheat centres to-day:

	Cash.	May.	July.	Sept.
New York	....	....	78⅝	75⅜
Chicago	....	76⅜	74	71
Toledo	74⅝	74⅝	73¼	72
Duluth, No. 1 N.	78⅝	73⅞	78⅝	71⅛

TORONTO ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Grain—

Wheat, red, bush........	$0 74½ to	$....
Wheat, white, bush	0 75	....
Wheat, spring, bush.....	0 71	....
Wheat, goose, bush.......	0 67	....
Barley, bush.	0 46	....
Beans, bush.	1 30	1 50
Beans, hand-picked	1 75	....
Peas, bush.	0 78½	....
Rye, bush.	0 42	....
Oats, bush	0 35½	....
Buckwheat, bush.	0 43	....

CATTLE MARKETS.

London, May 27.—Live cattle easier at 11½c to 12c per lb. for American steers, dressed weight; Canadian steers, 10½c to 11½c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 9c per lb. Sheep, 12½c to 13½c, dressed weight.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, May 27.—Cattle—Receipts, 75 head; steady. Veals—Receipts, 55 head; 25c higher; tops, $6.25 to $6.50; common to good, $4.50 to $6.15.

Hogs—Receipts, 2000 head; active and about steady; heavy, $6.30 to $6.35; mixed, $6.37½; medium, $6.30 to $6.35; Yorkers and pigs, $6.25 to $6.30; roughs, $5.30 to $5.50; stags, $4 to $4.25.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 2800 head; lambs, steady; sheep, slow; top lambs, $7 to $7.15; culls to good, $4 to $6.90; yearlings, $4.50 to $5; ewes, $3.75 to $4; sheep, top mixed, $4 to $4.25; culls to good, $3 to $3.90.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.

New York, May 27.—Beeves—Receipts, 2510; steers, $4.65 to $5.60; tops, $5.50; stags and oxen, $2 to $5.05; bulls, $3 to $4.05; cows, $1.75 to $4.05. Exports, 150 beeves and 6300 quarters of beef. Calves—Receipts, 5887; active; veals, $4 to $6.75; extras, $7; buttermilks, $3.75 to $4.25; mixed calves, $4.50 to $5.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4571; firm and higher; sheep, $2.50 to $4.75; yearlings, $4.50 to $7.12½; lambs, $7 to $9.

Hogs—Receipts, 4575, higher; state hogs, $6.30 to $6.50; top price, $6.35.

BASEBALL WEDNESDAY.

The Eastern League.

Toronto .... 0 1 2 0 0 0 1 0 x— 4
Jersey City .... 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0— 2

Three base hits—Golden, Cassidy, Doolin. Two base hits—Kuhns, Halligan, McCormick. Stolen bases—White, Carr. Bases on balls—Off McCann 4 (Miller, Carr 2, Kissinger), off Kissinger 1 (Bean). Hit by pitcher—Carr. Wild pitch—McCann. Double plays—Toft to Miller; Downey to Massey. Struck out—By Kissinger 8 (Clement 2, Halligan 2, McCormick 2, Bean, Dillon); by McCann 2 (Downey, Kissinger). Left on bases—Toronto 7, Jersey City 6. Time—2.30. Umpire—Brown. Attendance—1800.

R.H.E.
Rochester ..... 1 1 0 0 0 2 4 2 x—10 14 5
Worcester ..... 1 0 0 2 0 0 1 0 3— 7 10 4

Batteries—McNeil, Lilly and Steelman; Winham and McCauley. Umpire—Latham. Attendance—274.

R.H.E.
Baltimore .... 0 2 3 0 2 0 0 0 *—7 13 0
Providence ...... 0 0 0 0 1 1 0 0 0—2 5 1

Batteries—Voorhees and Robinson; Gray and Diggins. Umpire—Swartwood.

R.H.E.
Buffalo .... 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 *—1 10 0
Newark .... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 3 0

Batteries—Ferry and Shaw; Hesterfer and Shea. Umpire—Kelly. Attendance 2165.

National League Scores.

At Boston— R.H.E.
Boston .... 4 0 0 2 1 0 0 0 x— 7 7 0
Pittsburg ..... 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0 0— 1 8 4

Batteries—Willis and Kittredge; Wilhelm and Phelps. Umpire—Johnston. Attendance—2425.

At New York— R.H.E.
New York ..... 1 0 2 0 0 0 1 0 1— 5 6 7
Chicago .... 0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 2— 4 8 7

Batteries—McGinnity and Warner; Weimer, Wicker and Kling. Umpire—Emslie. Attendance—9723.

At Philadelphia— R.H.E.
Cincinnati .. 1 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0— 2 6 2
Phila ...... 1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0— 2 5 4

Called at the end of 11th, darkness.

Batteries—Ewing and Bergen; Sparks and Dooin. Umpire—O'Day. Attendance—1020.

At Brooklyn— R.H.E.
Brooklyn ..... 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0— 1 4 2
St. Louis ..... 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1— 3 10 0

Batteries—Jones and Garvin; Ritter, McFarland and Weaver. Umpire—Moran. Attendance—1800.

American League Results.

At Detroit—Detroit-St. Louis postponed, rain.

At Cleveland— R.H.E.
Cleveland ..... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0— 0 6 4
Chicago .... 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1— 1 4 0

Batteries—Bernhard and Abbott; Flaherty and McFarland. Umpire—Connolly. Attendance—2381.

HANGED HIMSELF BY STRAP.

Collingwood Contractor Takes His Life Because of Domestic Worry.

Collingwood, May 28.—The dead body of Eli Holmes, the well-known contractor, was found yesterday at 1.30 hanging by a strap to one of the rafters in a stable on the east side of Hurontario street. The deed had evidently been carefully planned, as his hat was placed on a shelf and a frame had been carried from the other end of the stable and used to support him while preparing the noose, which was a common halter strap.

The body presented a shocking appearance, as death had been from slow strangulation. The cause of Holmes' rash act is supposed to be from worry over family troubles, as he and his wife had not lived together for some time. A letter from his wife and a business letter were found in his pocket and taken charge of by Dr. Stephen, coroner.

Eli Holmes came to Collingwood about a year ago to build a residence for Dr. McFaul, and was afterwards awarded the contract for building the new library building. Upon this work he was engaged at the time of his death. He was a man of great energy. The coroner decided that no inquest was necessary. It was a case of deliberate suicide.

MONTREAL STRIKE OVER.

Street Railway Men Give International Union the Coup de Grace.

Montreal, Que., May 28.—The coup de grace was given to the strike at midnight, when the men broke away from the International Union, formed a local benefit association under the protection of the company and deposed President Maloche. The strike is declared off by the new regime, and all cars will be run today.

More delicious than Japan.
More healthful than Japan.
Cheaper to use than Japan.

"SALADA"

Ceylon Natural GREEN tea is absolutely free from coloring matter and has a most delicious flavor and is as far ahead of Japan tea as "SALADA" black is ahead of all other black teas. Sold only in sealed lead packets. 25c, and 40c per lb. By all grocers.

The New Long Hip Model
D&A
425 Long Hip

A graceful figure may be spoiled by a rigid Corset.

A poor figure may be made graceful by the proper Corset. D. & A. Corsets beautify, aid and correct according to individual needs, developing in each figure that indefinable personal grace that is the keynote of style.

The New Long Hip model comfortably encompasses the entire hip, showing no ridge or line even through an unlined skirt.

D. & A. Corsets are the BEST

DAINTY MUSLINS AT HALF PRICE

Here is a chance to secure a Fancy Muslin Dress at less than half price. Come in and see them. Remember any Muslin in our south window for

10c a yard

Ladies' Ties and Collars

Just received a fine line of Ladies' Ties and Collars, the very latest styles. Prices from 25 to 50c.

TURNOVERS

Our assortment in embroidered turnovers is complete, prices from 8c to 25c.

Also fancy turnovers with cuffs to match at 45 & 50c.

NATHAN JONES.

The Finnegan Carriage & Wagon Co.

FOR

Stylish and Durable Turnouts.

—Surreys
—Corning Buggies
—Piano Box Buggies
—Rubber Tire Buggies
—Micadoes
—Phaetons
—Bike Buggies
—Democrats
—Grocer Wagons
—Butcher Wagons

Cheese Factory Milk Wagons.
Steel Tubular Axle Lumber Wagons.

Rubber Tires put on your old wheels at reasonable prices.

Mill St, - - Belleville.

For Torpid Liver, Flatulence, Constipation, Biliousness and Sick Headache, TAKE

BRISTOL'S Pills

Safe, Mild, Quick-acting, Painless, do not weaken, and always give satisfaction.

A reliable Household Medicine, can be taken at any season, by Adults or Children.

Druggists sell "BRISTOL'S."

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL — LIBERALITY IN THINGS NON ESSENTIAL — CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 37. BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, FRIDAY, MAY 29, 1903 NO. 24

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's

Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Breut Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Price 25 Cents. Purely Vegetable.

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

Earthquake Kills 500.

Washington, May 28.—Vice-Consul Ojalvo, at Ezercum, Turkey, reports that an earthquake in the Canton of Malasgird district of Bitlis, on the 29th ult., caused the death of 500 people and left the city in ruins. The shock was strongly felt in Ezercum, a journey of 38 hours, and threw the people into a panic.

Lady Somerset Retires.

London, May 29.—Lady Henry Somerset has retired from the presidency of the National British Women's Temperance Association on account of her health.

James Sent to Jail.

Toronto, May 29.—Convicted of perjury in the courts of Copper Cliff, Ont., W. A. James, has been sentenced to six months in the district jail.

BLAIR DEFENDS THE I.C.R.

Minister of Railways' Annual Account of His Stewardship.

Business of Road Steadily Improves and Shows Gains Over Year 1901—State Ownership Success Proved in Canada—Increase Rates 50 Per Cent. and the Road Would Show a Profit of $2,046,000.

Ottawa, May 29.—Hon. A. G. Blair's defence of the management of the I.C.R., which has come to be an annual affair, began early yesterday afternoon, as the House was about to go into Committee of Supply. He used many figures to show that the business of the road has steadily improved during the year, and showed satisfactory gains over 1901.

The natural increase, he estimated at $760,000. The passenger receipts in 1896 were $971,400. In 1902, they were $1,788,000.

The earnings of the road for the year ending June 30, 1902, were: Passengers, $1,788,000; freight, $3,644,513; mail and express, $25,593; total, $5,671,385.

For the year 1901, the passenger receipts were $1,607,166; freight, $3,121,006; mail and express, $244,063; total, $4,972,235, an increase of $699,150. In both years there were under operation 1,314 miles of road.

The earnings per mile in 1902 were $4,313, and in 1901 they were $3,782, an increase of $531. The gross earnings per train mile in 1902 were $93.46 as against $79.39 in 1901.

Mr. Blair said the increased earnings for 1902 were $633,822, on passengers, and $1,587,379 on freight, after allowing for an increase of 15 per cent. on train mileage. Last year the working expenses were $5,574,563, and the surplus is $96,822.

Improving the Road.

Mr. Blair spoke of his efforts to modernize the road's larger engines and cars and improve the roadbed. These improvements meant increased business without any corresponding increase in expenditure. The balance against the I.C.R. used to range from $60,000 to $72,000 a year. Last year this was changed to a credit of $16,800.

Mr. Blair claimed that, on the I. C. R. there is little room for political influence. Sweeping charges against its administration were untrue. He instituted a comparison with other roads, and claimed that Canada's state owned road was a success.

Rates Lower on I.C.R.

"It is also to be remembered," said Mr. Blair, "that rates on the C.P.R. and G.T.R. are from 50 to 100 per cent. higher than on the I. C.R." By this he did not mean that either the C.P.R. or the G.T.R. charged excessive rates. Put on 50 per cent. on I.C.R. freight rates and the revenue of the road would be increased one half without increasing the expenditure. On this basis the I.C.R. would show a ptofit of $2,046,000.

Hon. John Haggart said the comparison of the revenues of the road made by Mr. Blair was unfair, and that the present management of the road gave no encouragement to the plan of extending the line westward to Winnipeg or the coast. He said he seriously doubted whether the rates on the I.C.R. were much lower than those of the C.P.R. and G.T.R.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Barker, Clarke, Emmerson, Bell and Jabel Robinson. The Maritime Province members, Messrs. Emmerson and Bell, contended strongly against the theory that in the construction or running of the I. C. R. the Maritime Provinces were receiving any undue advantage at the expense of the rest of the Dominion. The House then went into Committee of Supply, and after passing items aggregating $171,000 adjourned at midnight.

O.J.C. Spring Races.

Toronto, May 29.—Fifth Day, Thursday, the weather was fine and the track slow.

First Race—3-year-olds and up, ¾ mile, Cobourg 1, Chamblee 2, Jane Collins 3.

Second Race—2-year-olds, maiden, ¾ mile, Ericola 1, Amelia Richardson 2, Blue Darter 3.

Third Race—3-year-old fillies, Maple Leaf Stakes, 1 1-16 mile, Prodigality 1, Mary L. 2, War Medal 3.

Fourth Race—Hunters' flat handicap, 1¼ miles, Maple Sugar 1, Tweed 2, Billy Ray 3.

Fifth Race—Queen's Hotel Handicap, 1 mile, Port Royal 1, Shrine 2, Dubious 3.

Sixth Race—3-year-olds and up, 1 mile, Springbrook 1, Fiara 2, On the Quiet 3.

Seventh Race—3-year-olds, ¾ mile, Invasion 1, Delagoa 2, Mrs. F. Foster 3.

SINCLAIR'S AD SINCLAIR'S AD.

SINCLAIR'S

Saturday Night Sale.

Here's six special lines we offer for Saturday Night Shopping.

45 Ladies' Dress Skirts from $4.50 to $6.50, made of All Wool goods, this season's styles, will sell your choice for $2.75

2 dozen $1.50 Black Mercerized Underskirts, made with a 15 inch Flounce and Narrow Roffle will sell for .... 95c ea.

15 dozen 25c to 35c Fine Ribbed Cashmere Hose, sizes 6½ to 8½ inches, will sell for .... 17c a pr.

300 yards of 45 inch Victoria Lawn, will sell for .... 8c per yd.

200 yards of 45 inch India Linen, our regular 20c quality will sell for .... 14c per yd.

Your Choice of One Table of Muslins

Prints, Ginghams, Ducks and Drills form 12½ to 25c per yard, about 1500 yards to choose from for 10c yard.

D. V. Sinclair & Co.

GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC BILL

Committee Makes Considerable Progress With the Measure.

Route Again Changed—Mr. Frank Oliver Stood For Government Railway First, or For Absolute Control of Rates of Any Subsidized Road—Mr. Blair Reiterates That There Will Be No Dominion Land Grant.

Ottawa, May 29.—At the opening of the Railway Committee yesterday morning, on resumption of the discussion of the Grand Trunk Pacific Bill, Mr. McCarthy, the father of the bill, announced that Mr. Wainwright had assured him that the company had written to Mr. Logan, M.P., a letter specifically agreeing to an amendment empowering the company to build to Moncton, N.B.

Advocates Government Road.

Mr. Oliver renewed his discussion of the Western aspect of the case. He declared that the Canadian Pacific Railway, in spite of railway legislation, would control rates based, as he put it, on what the traffic would bear. Government ownership alone would control rates. The Canadian Pacific Railway from ocean to ocean had not cost the company a cent. The Canadian Northern had not cost that company a cent. But both these roads charged three times as much for transport from Winnipeg to Lake Superior as did the New York Central from Buffalo to New York. Mr. Oliver said he stood first for a Government railway. In any other case a subsidized railway should be subject to absolute control of rates by the Government.

Progress With the Bill.

The committee proceeded to pass the bill. The first three clauses as to incorporation, head office and provisional directors were approved.

The clause dealing with capital stock followed without dissent.

The clause empowering the company to issue preference stock was opposed by Mr. Blair, but the clause was adopted in face of Mr. Blair's protest.

The promoters relinquished the clause for the issue of guaranteed or preferred stock.

The clauses providing for the election of directors were approved with some verbal amendments.

Charges in the Route.

The committee reached the clause dealing with the route, and Mr. McCarthy offered the company's amendments to the route.

The company proposes now to run from Moncton through Central New Brunswick to Quebec, thence north of Lake Nepigon to Winnipeg. There will be branch lines to North Bay, Port Arthur, Brandon, Prince Albert, Regina, and Calgary.

The clause stood over to be reprinted.

Regulating Bond Issues.

The bond issue asked is $30,000 per mile for the Quebec and Woodland section, $20,000 for the prairie section, and $30,000 per mile for the mountain sections.

The bond issue clause was passed after slight opposition to the amount of the bonding privilege for the prairie section.

The next clause, empowering the company to own and operate vessels, was approved.

The provision for the improvement of navigation, wherever the company saw fit, was struck out. In respect of the company's steamship business, Mr. Blair secured the insertion of a provision that it must be subject to the Railway Commission.

Power to hold lands, wharves, warehouses, and shares in other companies, and to own hotels, restaurants, and parks, was granted.

No Federal Land Grant.

On the clause authorizing the issue of "land grant bonds," Mr. Blair made an emphatic declaration against the alienation of public lands, and was loudly applauded.

His colleague, Mr. Fitzpatrick, the Minister of Justice, differed with him on the point as to the right of the company to mortgage lands that might be granted by Provincial Legislatures.

Mr. Fraser moved in amendment that the provision for the issue of land grant bonds upon any land granted in aid of the undertaking be amended to read: "Upon any land owned by the company for other than railway purposes."

The committee divided on the clause as amended. Mr. Blair voted to strike the clause out; Mr. Fitzpatrick to retain it as amended. Sir Frederick Borden voted to pass the clause, as did Mr. Prefontaine.

The clause passed by 56 yeas to 32 nays, the Government supporters voting generally to pass the clause.

The telegraph and telephone provisions were passed.

The clause as to the development of lands and water powers stands as the committee objected to the scope of the provision.

The Irrigation Clauses.

The provision for the construction of irrigation works, was opposed by Mr. Oliver.

Mr. Fitzpatrick supported the clause.

Mr. Blair supported Mr. Oliver, and the clause was struck out.

The provision for mining powers, lumbering, iron and steel manufactures, was also struck out.

The provision for the construction of branch tramways stands.

Proposed Advances to Settlers.

The next clause would enable the company to make advances to settlers for the purpose of developing the country served by the railway. It was opposed by the committee on the ground that it would give the company the power to secure mortgages on the settlers' lands.

Mr. Blair opposed the clause, while Mr. Fitzpatrick agreed with Mr. McCreary that such powers should be granted any transcontinental railway project. It would promote immigration and assist settlement. The differences of opinion between the two Ministers as to the details of the bill were strongly marked and clearly expressed. The clause stands.

It was the 32nd clause of the 38th in the bill. The only clause of great importance remaining for discussion now is that covering the route of the road.

The committee adjourned until Tuesday morning.

TARIFF WAR POSSIBLE.

Mr. Balfour Replies to Sir Charles Dilke and Mr. Chamberlain Says Pertinent Things.

London, May 29.—On the motion being made for the Whitsuntide adjournment of the House of Commons, Sir Charles Dilke (Advanced Liberal) yesterday raised a discussion on the fiscal views recently enunciated by Colonial Secretary Chamberlain.

Premier Balfour said Sir Charles Dilke had attempted to make mischief between the Colonial Secretary and himself, but any such attempt would fail. The Premier argued that the tendency was to raise a tariff wall against British goods.

With respect to tariff negotiations, continued the Premier, if foreign countries were to be allowed to treat the British colonies as foreign nations, Great Britain would be forced by patriotic interests and regard for her colonies to retaliate.

Mr. Chamberlain expressed surprise that his Birmingham speech has aroused such attention. There was absolutely no difference of opinion between himself and Mr. Balfour.

Mr. Chamberlain said he would do his utmost to bring this question in all its bearings before the people. Thus far he had only raised a principle and had not formulated a plan. If there was no change in the fiscal system the country would have to give up all hope of closer fiscal relations with the colonies, and must abandon all idea of securing at any time closer political relations with them.

Mr. Chamberlain concluded with an emphatic assertion that he intended to press the matter on public attention, and said he was prepared to justify the taxing of food before the working classes of this country.

After some further discussion, the motion for the Whitsuntide adjournment was adopted and the House adjourned until June 8.

PREMIER PRIOR CHARGED.

A Legislative Committee Appointed to Make an Investigation.

Victoria, B.C., May 29.—In the Legislature yesterday afternoon, Mr. Prior's motion for supply was defeated by 19 to 16. The Opposition pressed for a statement of the circumstances regarding the promise of the Lieutenant-Governor to grant a dissolution, and the House adjourned.

Then Smith Curtis of Rossland moved that a special committee of five be appointed to investigate the charges preferred against the Premier by The News Advertiser of Vancouver, to the effect that Col. Prior, while acting as chief commissioner, opened tenders for the supply of a cable for the Chimney Creek Bridge, and that with the knowledge thus secured his firm tendered lower and secured the contract.

Mr. Prior denied the charges. He willingly acquiesced in an investigation. Four of the members named refused to act, and a secret ballot chose others.

There is a struggle on between Martin and McInnes for the Liberal leadership, as the election pending will be held on party lines.

The Ontario Alliance.

Toronto, May 29.—There was no fiery denunciation of the Government at the meeting of the Ontario Alliance here yesterday, for its delay in bringing down liquor legislation, but the Premier's name was quietly dropped from the list of vice-presidents.

The new list of officers shows Mr. G. F. Marter, ex-M.P.P., President. The finances were reported satisfactory, the deficit after the referendum fight being only $45. The province contributed $4,808 to help carry the referendum vote. F. S. Spence, secretary, was presented with an illuminated address and $1,000. One resolution condemned the Premier for violating his pledges re. the Liquor Act.

Ottawa Firemen Hurt.

Ottawa, May 29.—Two tenement and two detached buildings destroyed; $6,000 damage, and four firemen injured was the record of a fire on Concession street yesterday afternoon. A tall brick chimney fell, causing a wall, on which the men from No. 2 Station were working, to fall out, burying Firemen Green, Thompson, Starr and Mackay. Starr and Mackay were the only ones seriously hurt.

May Have Been Shot.

Peterboro, May 29.—The belief is growing that Mr. Sanderson was shot by a stray bullet while in his canoe and fell overboard.

A FIEND S CRIME.

Thirteen-Year-Old Daughter of Henry Whalen, Near Collingwood, Found Dead in the Bush by Searchers.

Collingwood, May 29.—Information has just been received here of what promises to be one of the most horrible atrocities in the annals of Canadian crime.

It appears that a 13-year-old daughter of Mr. Henry Whalen, living three miles from Collingwood, left her home Wednesday morning at 7.30 for school, which was some two miles distant. Nothing had been seen of her since until her dead body was found yesterday morning in the woods by a searching party which had hunted all through the night.

The child was blind-folded when found, and whether she had been maltreated or not is not yet known. As to who committed the crime remains also a mystery, but three small children who had preceded the child along the railroad track state that they saw a colored man hiding in the bush beside the track. There have also been several Syrians peddling in this locality for a week past.

Lawyer A. A. Bond, Coroner Stephens, and Chief of Police James Wilde have left for the scene of the murder.

A late report says that death resulted from a bullet in the brain. It had been fired from the rear. She had been dealt a savage blow on the head, and a three-foot cedar club, apparently freshly cut, has been found by the searching party. The child had not been ravished. The coarse white handkerchief blindfolding the victim is the only known clue to the author of the crime. The search is still being prosecuted with the greatest resolution, though still without result.

FIND WATERY GRAVES.

Two College Lads Go Down With Foundered Yacht in Lake Erie.

Port Colborne, May 29.—A two-sparred yacht foundered Wednesday night outside of the breakwater. The boat is supposed to be the yacht Emma Detric of Cleveland, recently purchased by E. S. Pettit of Lockport, N. Y., from Mr. Detric, pastor of the Congregational Church, at Cleveland.

Mr. Pettit's son Stanley, and his friend Clarence Baylis, both college lads of Lockport, aged 17 and 18 years, were on board, sailing the yacht from Cleveland to Olcott Beach, on Lake Ontario, via the Welland Canal.

A boy's navy blue cap with Greek letters on the peak, part of the yacht's stern with name "Emma," an oar, and some cards were picked up at noon yesterday. Mr. Pettit is here searching the shore for the bodies.

COW BLOWN THROUGH FENCE.

Late Storm Reports Indicate Great Damage in Perth County.

Stratford, May 29.—Later reports of the great windstorms of Tuesday and Wednesday indicated great damage in a large section of Perth County. In the city large limbs of trees were torn off and hurled long distances. The Roman Catholic church at Kinkora, Ellice Township, was badly damaged. Many orchards in that neighborhood are ruined, Mitchell suffered greatly, and Mr. Larkworthy's cow was picked up bodily by the wind and hurled through the fence, being badly bruised. In Mornington township the damage is greater than at first reported. Johnston Barr was badly injured.

KILLED 17 BULGARIANS.

Result of Encounter With Turks Near Smerdesh.

Salonica, May 29.—In an encounter between Turks and Bulgarians on May 26, in the forest near Smerdesh, south of Lake Presba (where, May 21, 150 insurgents were killed, after a fight lasting 30 hours), seventeen Bulgarians and three Turks were killed.

At Ploshka, the Bulgarians destroyed a Turkish tower with dynamite, after which a detachment of Turkish troops arrived on the scene, and routed the insurgents, killing four of them.

Railroad Laborer Instantly Killed.

Oshawa, May 29.—Arthur Dourgious, employed by the G.T.R. and working on the new double track construction, was instantly killed by Grand Trunk train No. 9 from Brockville yesterday morning. He stepped from one track to the other to avoid a freight train, not being aware of the approach of the passenger. His body was horribly mangled.

Drowned While Swimming.

Woodstock, May 29.—Word was received in the city yesterday afternoon of a drowning accident at Hawtrey, near Otterville, Wednesday in which Thomas Clark, blacksmith, of the village, lost his life. He was bathing in the millpond at the time, and got beyond his depth. He was 45 and leaves a widow and five children.

COUGHED FOR YEARS.

"For four years I had a severe cough. I was so weak and exhausted from coughing that I was unable to attend to my business. Two bottles of Angier's Petroleum Emulsion cured my cough and benefited me in every way."—A. Milligan, Toronto, Canada.

Don't experiment on the Baby. Give it Nestlé's Food upon which the third generation is now thriving.

Samples (sufficient for eight meals) free.

LEEMING MILES & CO., MONTREAL.

THE MARKETS.

Wheat Closed Higher at Liverpool and Lower at Chicago—Live Stock—The Latest Quotations.

Thursday Evening, May 28.

Liverpool wheat futures closed ¼d higher to ¼d lower to-day than yesterday, and corn futures unchanged to ¼d lower.

At Chicago July Wheat closed ⅛c lower than yesterday; July corn ⅛c lower, and July oats ⅛c lower.

LEADING WHEAT MARKETS.

Following are the closing quotations at important wheat centres to-day:

	Cash.	May.	July.	Sept.
New York	....	....	78¾	75⅞
Chicago	....	77	73⅝	70⅝
Toledo	75¾	75¾	73¾	71⅜
Duluth, No. 1 N.	78½	78½	78⅝	72

TORONTO ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Grain—

Wheat, red, bush.........	$0 74½	to $....
Wheat, white, bush	0 74	....
Wheat, spring, bush	0 72½	....
Wheat, goose, bush........	0 67	....
Barley, bush.	0 46	....
Beans, bush.	1 30	1 50
Beans, hand-picked	1 75	....
Peas, bush.	0 78½	....
Rye, bush.	0 42	....
Oats, bush	0 34½	0 35½
Buckwheat, bush.	0 43	....

CATTLE MARKETS.

U.S. Markets Steady—Montreal Dull at Lower Prices.

London, May 28.—Live cattle easier at 11¼c to 12c per lb. for American steers, dressed weight; Canadian steers, 10½c to 11½c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 8c per lb. Sheep, 12½c to 13½c, dressed weight.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock were fairly large, 88 cars, composed of 1140 cattle, 2000 hogs, 501 sheep and lambs, with about 125 calves.

Exporters—Best loads of exporters sold at $4.90 per cwt., medium to good at about $4.75.

Export Bulls—Choice quality bulls sold at $4 to $4.15 per cwt.; good bulls sold at $3.50 to $3.85 per cwt.

Export Cows—Export cows sold at $4.00 to $4.25 per cwt.

Butchers' Cattle—Choice picked lots of butchers', weighing from 1025 to 1150 lbs. each, equal in quality to best exporters, sold at $4.75 to $4.85; loads of good sold at $4.60 to $4.70; fair to medium, $4.35 to $4.50; common, $3.65 to $3.75; rough to inferior, $3.55 to $4.00 per cwt.

Short-keep Feeders—Good steers, 1100 to 1300 lbs. each, are worth $4.60 to $4.90 per cwt.

Feeders—Steers of good quality, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, are worth $4 to $4.40 per cwt.

Stockers—One year to two-year-old steers, 400 to 700 lbs. each, are worth $3.30 to $4.75 per cwt.; off-colors and of poor breeding quality of same weights are worth $3 per cwt.

Milch Cows—Milch cows and springers are worth $30 to $48 each.

Calves—Calves sold at $2 to $10 each, or from $4.50 to $5.50 per cwt.

Sheep—Prices, $3.75 to $4.25 per cwt. for ewes, and bucks at $3 to $3.25.

Spring Lambs—Prices steady at $3.50 to $4.50 each.

Hogs—Best select bacon hogs, not less than 160 lbs., nor more than 200 lbs. each, off cars, sold at $6 per cwt.; lights and fats at $5.75; sows, $4 to $4.50 per cwt., and stags, $2 to $3 per cwt.

MONTREAL LIVE STOCK.

Montreal, May 28.—About 900 head of butchers' cattle, 1000 calves and 300 sheep and lambs were brought to the East End Abattoir for sale since yesterday morning. Most of the live stock were sold yesterday and trade was rather dull to-day with lower prices prevailing for all kinds of cattle. Prime beeves sold at from 4¾c to 5¼c per lb. Medium cattle at from 3¼c to 4½c and the common stock at from 2½c to 3¼c per lb. Calves sold at from $1 to $7 each. Shippers paid 4c per lb. for good large sheep and the butchers paid from 3¼c to 4½c per lb. for the others. Good lambs have advanced in price and sales were made at from $2.75 to $5 each. Fat hogs sold at from 6c to 6½c per lb., weighed off the cars.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, May 28.—Cattle—Receipts, light, lower; heavy, dull. Butchers', steady to strong. Veals—Receipts, 100 head; steady; tops, $6.25 to $6.50; common to good, $4.50 to $6.15.

Hogs—Receipts, 3500 head; fairly active, strong, 10c lower; heavy, $6.20 to $6.30; mixed, $6.17½ to $6.22½; Yorkers and pigs, $6.15 to $6.20; roughs, $5.25 to $5.50; stags, $4 to $4.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 2800 head; sheep, slow, lambs, active, 15c to 20c higher; top lambs, $7.25 to $7.35; culls to good, $4 to $7.15; yearlings, $4 to $5; ewes, $4 to $4.25; sheep, top mixed, $4 to $4.25; culls to good, $2 to $3.90.

This is the maid of beautiful face,
With wealth of hair and a matchless grace,
Complexion fair and without a fault,—
She's a regular user of Abbey's Salt.

HANDSOME FEATURES are inherited, but true beauty, a clear complexion, may be acquired. It is merely a question of healthy digestion and pure blood.

ABBEY'S SALT is a sure and thorough tonic laxative. It evacuates the bowels in a gentle manner without griping or discomfort, clears the complexion and imparts the glow of health to the cheeks. Powder and Cosmetics only imitate beauty.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt gives the true beauty of health.

Delicious Coffee

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE'S.

Ground daily by electric power.
30 & 40 cts. per lb.

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE
FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

Daily Intelligencer.

THE HON. GEORGE WASHINGTON ROSS AND HIS PROHIBITION FRIENDS.

It is surprising that it has taken the prohibition advocates so long to appreciate the true inwardness of the Hon. George Washington Ross' policy upon the question of temperance and prohibition. They have, after many years, learned what was known to all, except those hide-bound political professed prohibitionists, who openly declared that while they favored that great moral reform, prohibition, they are Grits first, that Ross' policy was and is prohibition when at prohibition conventions, and secretly leaguing with the liquor interests whenever an election was and is being held. No better evidence of this could be given than the conduct of the License Commissioners throughout the whole province.

"The Temperance Liberator," a journal published in the interests of temperance and reform, has plucked up courage to speak out plainly. It deals with the Ontario Premier in the following style:

> The long-delayed legislation on the temperance question is again postponed. No reasonable excuse is given and this adds one more broken pledge to the already long list. This time it was a solemn promise made in the Address from the Throne. The Government of Ontario claimed that in all good faith, they submitted this question in order to remove it from party politics—that a referendum would be an expression of the public will free from party bias. The people's "yes" was an emphatic vote of 200,000 and a majority of nearly 100,000. What more emphatic vote could be expected? Now the Government say "No, you cannot have what you requested, and what it cost $100,000 to find out." Then postponement is not the only charge we must lay against the Government, but the fact is announced that the proposed bill is not to be the banishment of the bar, as the people demand, but another tinkering with the license law—a few reductions, and some attempt to discourage treating. Is this all the people of Ontario are to get after the years of petition, and the oft-repeated votes? Is this the answer of the Government, to Ontario's prayer for relief from the afflictions of the drink traffic? The answer is an insult to the 200,000 intelligent electors who voted "yes" on December 4th, and we are woefully misrepresented in legislative halls.

If the system of treating could be prevented much good would be accomplished, but the closing of bars and the shutting up of saloons, which are nothing but drinking houses, would do much more good. This, however, will never be done so long as the License Commissioners' whole object is, apparently, to utilize their position solely for party purposes; and so long as the properties used for saloon purposes are owned by Grits.

No better evidence is required of this fact than the manner in which the license law is administered in this county.

We can give you a

GOOD LUNCH
FOR TEN CENTS

J. ARTHUR MARSH.

That New Suit

You are thinking of getting—if it is on the Fashion Plate—is here, ready to wear the moment you put it on. You will admire yourself and feel as though others admire you—and they will, too. It don't take such an awful lot of money to dress well, when you know where to trade. You may have a corps of Tailors dancing at your attendance, but none of them can design for you prettier garments than these Spring Suits we are now showing from $3.50 to $15.00. Your Suit desire can easily be satisfied here. Come and see.

The Globe Clothiers

Up-to-date Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers.
ONE DOOR NORTH OF WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE'S, FRONT ST.

TIMELY TOPICS.

Sh-sh-ivery weather.

• • •

Beautifully equable climate, eh?

• • •

What did you say the price of coal was?

• • •

The Stony Lonesome philosopher is congratulating himself that he had presence of mind enough to tie cloths around his lilacs last night.

• • •

Complaints are made of people who throw paper on Front St. A runaway was nearly caused recently by paper blowing around and frightening a horse. Put your paper in the stove; it will help to keep you warm.

• • •

Ever since 1880 the City Council of Kingston has been wrestling with the question of a public bath for that city, and they haven't got their minds made up yet. Let's hope the Belleville City Fathers will be able to improve on that record.

• • •

There were plenty of popular airs at band concert last night, but the airs that blew off the bay, were not included in the number.

• • •

Police Magistrate Flint looked as though he enjoyed the Bridge St. concert last night. We like to see the P.M. enjoying himself, for goodness knows his life is full of trials.

• • •

The ice cream season got a severe set back last night.

• • •

Judging by the resolutions passed in Methodist district meetings, held all over Ontario, the followers of John Wesley, as a whole, mean to turn down, good and hard, the Hon. Geo. Washington Ross when that eminent prevaricator and procrastinator again appeals to the people.

• • •

Of course it was just like Ross to tell the prohibitionists that they were narrow-minded, but then, by dodgers like the Hon. G. Wash., everybody who has old-fashioned ideas about truth and honor is classified in that way.

• • •

It seems that, at the recent Methodist district meeting held in this city, the members were divided as to the advisability of sending the temperance resolution passed directly to the Premier of Ontario. Some of the delegates thought it should be sent, others thought that the meeting, after passing the resolution, had done its full duty, and could afford to take chances on the possibility of Hon. Mr. Ross' ever seeing in the newspapers, the motion condemning him. Send him the resolution, gentlemen. It will let him see what one honest body of conscientious men think of him, anyhow.

• • •

It was lucky for the Ottawa man who won first prize in that Toronto home-coming poetry competition, that Belleville's poet, Mr. Edgar Minter, did not unchain his muse.

• • •

The House of Commons discusses the inadequacy of Toronto's drill sheds, heedless of the fact that this city, the centre of the most beautiful garden spot of Ontario, has none at all!

• • •

These are the days when many a worm turns only to find itself on a fish hook.

• • •

King Alfonso has inherited $7,500,000. Maybe his mother will begin to regard him as a pretty likely lad after all.

• • •

Don't throw away your own or Other People's Money. If you want to hear something good save up and go to the Fax-Chambers concert on Monday night.

• • •

If "A Citizen" will send his name to the editor, as a guarantee of good faith, his letter on a local topic will be published.

• • •

What do you think of this, gentle reader? Now, don't get excited! Keep cool! His Worship the Mayor has received a letter from Major Maude, stating that the Viceregal party will stop for two hours at Belleville on Friday next. The matter will come up in the Committees to-night, and no doubt some action will be taken in regard to suitably receiving the distinguished visitors. It would not appear, taking into consideration the shortness of the stay, that much formality need be observed—but we forgot, there's Major Maude to reckon with. However, if the City Council presented an address to Lord Minto, and the W.C.T.U. another to Major Maude, that should pave the way to an enjoyable two hours. The Viceregal party might be driven around the city and shown the various points of interest, including Queen Victoria Park and the new fence round the old d.s.b.g., and things would pass off very pleasantly, we are sure.

• • •

Col. Matheson, M.P.P., is doing his best to answer that much-mooted question, "Where did the money come from?" and between ourselves, we think he has pretty nearly struck the solution of the conundrum.

• • •

That cow which was blown through a fence near Stratford must have been almost churned up enough to give buttermilk.

Ragged clothes quickly—that's what common soaps with "premiums" cost; but

SUNLIGHT SOAP REDUCES EXPENSE

Ask for the Octagon Bar

THE ACCIDENT AT CORDOVA MINES.

CORONER'S JURY EXONERATES COMPANY FROM ALL BLAME IN THE MATTER.

In consequence of the accident at Cordova gold mines on Tuesday 26th inst., whereby a workman named Eleazar Yeomans lost his life, an inquest was held yesterday afternoon. Dr. Gray, a coroner of Peterboro, presided over the inquest and Mr. W. E. Wood, County Attorney of Peterboro, was in attendance. A number of witnesses were examined in regard to the accident; the operating of the hoist and all the circumstances being minutely enquired into. The jury after deliberating upon the case rendered the following verdict:

"We find that the man, Eleazar Yeomans, came to his death by falling out of a skip at No. 3 shaft on the morning of May 26th inst., it being purely accidental, and the hoist man and the company are exonerated from all responsibility."

The evidence showed that the men had jumped upon the skip to ascend to the top of the mine, which is contrary to the Mines Act and contrary to the strict orders of the company. The skips are only used for the hoisting of the ore and tools used by the men. They are not fitted up to carry men and for this reason the employes are forbidden to ride upon them. From the evidence it was clearly proven that the men were aware that they were acting contrary to rules.

There are suitable ladders provided, according to the Mines Act, in each shaft for the men to ascend and descend when going from and to their work, and in this instance the ladders should have been used. Two other men, Cote and Lyman, were injured, but are doing nicely. The fourth man escaped injury.

The funeral of the unfortunate man Yeomans was held yesterday and was largely attended, the employes of the mines being present in a body.

"THOUSAND ISLAND RAMBLES."
Str. "North King" will commence her popular Thousand Island rambles on 31st May, leaving Belleville at 3.25 a.m. Sundays. Fare $1.00. Steamer leaves at 11.58 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. fm26d&w3m

Charged With Fraud.

High County Constable Duffin yesterday arrested a man at Trenton, named Robert McKeever, who is charged with fraud. It is alleged that the accused procured from a concern at Newburg a conveyance and did not pay for same, hence the charge. The accused will be brought up before Magistrate Flint to-morrow morning for a preliminary examination.

ANNUAL MEETING OF BELLEVILLE W. M. S.

HELD AT WHITE'S CHURCH ON WEDNESDAY LAST—A PROFITABLE SESSION.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Belleville District took place at White's Church, Front of Sidney on the 27th. A large number from the various Methodist Auxiliaries of the city drove to the church, where they were welcomed by the pastor and friends. The morning session opened at 10 o'clock, the District Organizer, Mrs. Massey, presiding.

After devotional exercises, the regular business of the convention proceeded, appointing press reporters and secretary. Mrs. W. W. Chown, secretary for the past six years, asked to be relieved, and Mrs. Young was appointed by the Organizer to fill the position. Mrs. Chown was given a standing vote of thanks for her very efficient service.

Reports from Auxiliaries and Missions were heard and considered, they being much in advance of last year.

A resolution of sympathy was sent from the convention to Mrs. Kelly, assuring her of the convention's sympathy and prayers in her great affliction.

The various helps for workers were a praise service, a workers' conference and question drawer.

The musical part was taken by Mesdames Ketcheson and Ketcheson, Mrs. Nicholson and Miss Holton. This part was a source of pleasure to all present. Recitations were given by Miss Sexsmith, of Wallbridge, and Miss May Hagar, of Albert College. These were especially pleasing and well rendered.

The ladies of Sidney entertained all present to a bountiful lunch and the day was voted to be a very profitable one to all interested in missionary work.

An invitation was extended to the convention to meet at Shannonville for the convention in May next year, which was accepted.

PERSONAL ...AND... SOCIAL.

The Intelligencer invites all its readers to contribute to this column all items of a personal nature, such as the arrival or departure of guests, and the movements of business men, etc. Send a post card to or telephone The Intelligencer.

Mr. Wm. Cross, of Madoc, was in town to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cockram, of Madoc, were in the city to-day.

Dr. McKeown has returned home, after spending a few days at Toronto.

Mr. Wm. Crawford returned to the city to-day, after spending a few days at his home in Lindsay.

Mrs. S. Armstrong, of Peterboro, is in the city, the guest of her sisters, the Misses Richards, Charles St.

E. L. Johnson, manager of Dainty May Sargent in "Other People's Money," called at The Intelligencer office to-day.

Mr. R. Mathison and Miss Mathison were in Brockville yesterday, attending the funeral of the late Mr. John MacLaren.

Mrs. Hattie Denyes, Napanee, is spending a few days with her brother, T. Bartlett, John St., who is seriously ill.

Arrivals at Quinte: J. H. Meade, Hamilton; J. Crandall, Elmira, N.Y.; W. Holdane, May Sargent, E. Johnson, C. Wicklane, New York; T. A. Dickens, A. Henderson, H. Oliver, R. Wickware, F. Goforth, G. Stafford, J. Armstrong, R. N. Biggs, W. Hallman, R. D. Wilkinson, M. Bell, A. Brady, Toronto; Miss E. McNeil, J. C. McNeil, Deseronto; Miss Badgley, Emerson, Man.; Miss F. Manning, Clinton; F. Allen, G. Moorehouse, D. H. Johnson, C. Fisher, Montreal; Wm. Cross, Madoc; H. Luke, Oshawa; J. H. Morrow, O. Morrow, Brighton.

Miss Mary Falkiner, who is home from Toronto, visiting her parents, returns to-morrow.

THE CEMENT WORKS.

STONEMASONS ARE HAVING A TEMPORARY HOLIDAY.

The fact that the stonemasons and their help on the cement works at Point Ann had been compelled to lay off for a few days give rise to a rumor that a large number of men had been laid off by the company. The reason the masons are taking a temporary holiday is that the foundations for the proposed buildings are not ready. It is expected that the work of construction will begin again on Monday next.

GREATLY ALARMED

By a Persistent Cough, but Permanently Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Mr. H. P. Burbage, a student at law in Greenville, S. C., had been troubled for four or five years with a continuous cough which he says, "greatly alarmed me, causing me to fear that I was in the first stage of consumption." Mr. Burbage, having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised concluded to try it. Now read what he says of it: "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the twenty-five cent size, was permanently cured." Sold by all Druggists.

FAT NERVES.

A whirl of excitement was recently caused among scientists by the discovery of "how nerves act".

Healthy nerves are fat nerves. It is fat in the core of a nerve that by hardening and softening creates nerve action.

Maybe this explains why Scott's Emulsion has always been such a remarkable remedy for nervousness.

Scott's Emulsion makes fat nerves. It feeds them with fat. Good for all forms of nervousness and for neuralgia.

Send for Free Sample.
SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto.

THE WEATHER.

To-day's Probs—

Moderate north to east winds, fair and cool. Saturday, fresh easterly winds, mostly fair and cool.

To-day's Temperature

As Registered by The Intelligencer's Guaranteed Thermometer:

8 a.m. 44
12 m. 62
2 p.m. 72
3 p.m. 76

REIGN OF
The Leather Bag

The Leather Bag in its many forms of varied attractiveness is everywhere in evidence this year and promises to hold its popularity for some time to come.

THE BAG IS THE RAGE

There are SOUND REASONS for this; it is not a mere fad. Our goods are right in line with the spirit of the times.

Angus McFee.
Jeweler & Optician
310 Front St.

P.S.—In the matter of the new Blouse Pin Sets we show everything that is "taking" in the larger centers.

When the Liver, Kidneys or Urinary organs require toning the MAGI Caledonia Waters have proven their efficacy. J.J. McLaughlin, sole agent, Toronto. Sold by best dealers everywhere.

Specials in Millinery

Sale of Sailor Hats.

We bought too many. 15 doz. cleared at HALF PRICE.

White and Colored.

ALL NEW.

Also some very choice Dress Hats just received.

GET FIRST CHOICE.

MISS IRWIN
Millinery and Corset Specialist

Wall Paper Bargains

THIS WEEK AND NEXT.

5 cent papers for 3 cents.
Border 1-2c yard.
Papers without borders half regular price.
7 cent papers 5 cents.
8 cent papers 6 cents.
10 cent papers 8 cents.
12 cent papers 10 cents.
15 cent papers 12 cents.
20 cent papers 18 cents.
25 cent papers 20 cents.
30 cent papers 25 cents.

Borders to match all the above sold by the roll same price as papers.

Floor paint 35 cents quart,

AT

JOHN CORNELIUS
3 Doors South of Intelligencer Office.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M.D., C.M., M.R., C.S., England.

Office and Residence — Corner of Bridge and George streets — three streets East of Post Office.

DR. J. F. MATHER

Has removed his office to Pinnacle St., three doors north of Hotel Quinte. my29-6mw

LEGAL.

WILLS & WRIGHT,

Barristers, Solicitors, Notary Public, &c., Belleville.

Office—8 Campbell Street.

MALCOLM WRIGHT.
J. FRANKLIN WILLS

Money to Loan at Lowest Rates.

W. C. MIKEL, B. C. L.,

Barrister, &c.

Solicitor for the City of Belleville.

Office—Metropolitan Block, Corner Front and Campbell Streets.

PORTER & CARNEW,

Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc.

Offices — Robertson Block, East Front St., Belleville, Ont.

'Phone 87.

E. G. PORTER. WM. CARNEW.

WILLIAM N. PONTON,

Barrister-at-law, Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge Street, Belleville.

Money to Loan — Private Funds, Solicitor Sun and Hastings Savings and Loan Company of Ontario.

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE,

Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.

Barrister, Solicitor, Conveyancer, Etc. Office, McAnnany Building, corner Front and Bridge Sts., Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security.

Charges moderate.

INSURANCE.

Fire Insurance.

Guardian . . . Est'd 1821
The North America, . Est'd 1792
Quebec, . . . Est'd 1818

City, Town and Village Property insured at lowest rates.

R. W. ADAMS. Agent.

Office opposite Post Office.

PERSONS desiring Life assurance cannot do better than consult

W. J. THOMSON,

who is the Agent for the following well-known and old established Assurance Companies:

ROYAL. ALLIANCE.
OCEAN ACCIDENT STANDARD LIFE

Office at Rathbun Co., Bridge St. oca-d&w

THOS. STEWART,

Insurance and Commission Agent.

Agent for the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Scottish Union National Ins. Co.

Bannon St.

FIRE, LIFE & ACCIDENT INSURANCE

At Lowest Rates The Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Perth Mutual on farm and city property. Also money to loan at 4½ per cent. upwards.

JAMES A. CHISHOLM,
Office Ashley Block, . Front st., Belleville.

Money Saved is Money Earned

can earn you money by saving it for you in your Fire Insurance.

The Anglo-American Fire Ins. Co.
The Merchants Fire Ins. Co.
The Equity Fire Ins. Co.

Are all strong Canadian stock companies and insure Farm and City Property at lower rate than other stock companies. Call and see me before placing your fire insurance.

Office—Bridge St., same entrance Quinte Laundry, Belleville.

H. FREEMAN KETCHESON.

Fire, Life & Plate Glass Insurance.

Liverpool & London & Globe of England.
Waterloo Mutual, of Waterloo, Ont.
Lloyd's Plate Glass.
Home Life Association, Toronto.
North British & Mercantile.

Farm and City Property insured in First-class Reliable Companies and at lowest current rates. Losses promptly settled. Land valuation, and transact general Real Estate business and sale or purchase and renting of property. Appraiser for the Hastings Loan & Investment Society. Money to Loan.

W. P. HUDSON, Office above Rathbun's office, cor. Bridge and Pinnacle Sts., opposite Postoffice and Hotel Quinte, Belleville.

'Phone 153.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. G. NORTHROP,

Issuer of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville, Ont.

CHAUNCEY ASHLEY,

Issuer of Marriage Licenses.

Private Office, Bridge St., Belleville, opposite the Post Office.

Residence, first house east of W. W. Chown's Mfg. Co., Station St. Appointments made.

The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.—Napoleon.

Those who live in yesterday's wigwam are always a day behind.

The best way to get even is to forget.

THE

Intelligencer Bindery

MAKES A SPECIALTY OF

Ledgers, Journals, Cash Books,

And all descriptions of

Blank Account Books

Mailing Tubes

Gold Lettering on Leather Goods, &c.

MAGAZINES,
ART WORKS,
PERIODICALS,
SERIAL NUMBERS

NEATLY BOUND

Map Mounting & Varnishing

☞ Estimates cheerfully furnished for every class of work.

ADDRESS—

The Intelligencer

BELLEVILLE, ONT.

Bicycle Weather

We're now at the heart of bicycle weather, and if you want to learn all the joy there is in living in this fair Canada of ours you should ride a wheel. It brings you into the sunshine and the breeze. It gives you the exercise you need.

CLEVELAND

Bicycles are the top-notchers with the HYGIENIC CUSHION FRAME. They lead all others. It is to wheeling what the "Pullman" is to railroading.

Greenleaf & Son, BELLEVILLE

AGENTS EVERYWHERE.

Canada Cycle & Motor Co., Limited,
Head Office and Works. TORONTO JUNCTION

Mining For Rubies.

ONE advantage gained by the victory of the British over King Thebaw of Burmah some years ago, was the acquisition of the famous ruby mines, from which had come the finest "pigeon-blood" stones in the world, and it was expected that an immense treasure of these gems would be found in the royal palace. But, although in the looting of the monarch's hastily-abandoned residence, jars filled with rubies were discovered, nearly all of them were of little value, being flawed and in other respects poor specimens.

It was a great disappointment. Nevertheless, confidence in the resources of the mines was unshaken, and capitalists in England were so eager to buy shares in a company organized to exploit the ruby fields that the police were obliged to defend, with drawn clubs, the officers of the concern against a swarm of half-crazed would-be investors.

Shares in the enterprise were boomed to astonishing figures, but tumbled alarmingly when news began to leak out that the ruby craze was likely to prove a bubble. Mining had been begun on an extensive scale, but somehow the gems did not materialize, and it looked as though the fields were much less valuable than had been supposed, or as if the deposits had been exhausted. After some years investors made up their minds that their money was as good as lost. Hence the great and delightful surprise conveyed by the recent intelligence that the mines have begun to pay dividends.

Experience has taught improved methods of mining, and an electrical power plant has been set up by the company for washing the ruby-bearing earth, called "byou." This byou is widely distributed throughout the Mogok Valley. Natives have worked the upper crust of it for centuries, says the "Saturday Evening Post," and the idea now in view is to get at the lower levels and dig down to bed-rock, where, because of their weight, the largest crystals are likely to be found. A fine stone of twenty-eight carats was picked up recently, and its value may be imagined from the fact that a ruby of one carat is worth four times as much as a diamond of the same size.

The British company (as reported by Mr. G. F. Kunz to the Geological Survey) is now producing fully one-half of the world's yield of rubies, and its leases are said to include practically all of the ruby-bearing territory of Burmah.

All in the Point of View.

MADAME WU TING-FANG, wife of China's representative at Washington, says it is becoming the custom in China for ladies to have feet no smaller than those of a five-year-old child, and so the feet of little girls are not confined or bound until they reach that age. By that time they are strong, and if the binding be properly done, there is no severe or agonizing pain. Really the suffering is slight, and by the time a girl attains her full growth the pains cease altogether. Foreigners, she says, have an exaggerated idea of the suffering incident to the making of small feet. But so important is it, from an aristocratic standpoint, for a girl to fulfil in this particular the Chinese idea of beauty that she is willing to endure a little pain to secure that end. According to our own ideas, the binding of children's feet is simply barbarous; but that it is largely a matter of point of view may be seen by what the Chinese lady has to say about the tight waist of women who represent the highest civilization: "I for one prefer having small feet to a little waist. My vital organs are not affected in any way or injured by the confinement of my feet in childhood, but the health of many a woman is ruined by the constriction of her waist."

COMING TO BELLEVILLE Saturday, June 6, Second Tour of Canada

RINGLING BROS
WORLD'S GREATEST SHOWS
ONLY RHINOCEROS IN CAPTIVITY.
LITTLE BABY BOO
ONLY PAIR OF FULL GROWN GIRAFFES IN CAPTIVITY.
THE BIGGEST SHOW ON EARTH
TO WHICH IS NOW ADDED WITHOUT ANY ADDITION IN PRICE, THE SUBLIME SPECTACLE
JERUSALEM
AND THE CRUSADES
1200 CHARACTERS IN THE CAST. 300 DANCING GIRLS. 60 MUSICIANS. 200 CHORUS SINGERS. 68-STOP PIPE ORGAN. 2000 COSTUMES.
COPYRIGHT 1903 BY THE COURIER CO. BUFFALO, N.Y.
INAUGURAL SCENE, SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.
ABSOLUTELY AN ADDITIONAL TRAIN OF CARS ARE REQUIRED TO CARRY THE SCENERY, WARDROBES, ARMORS, WAR IMPLEMENTS, ACCESSORIES AND PEOPLE OF THE NEWLY ADDED AND ENORMOUSLY GRAND SPECTACLE OF
JERUSALEM AND THE CRUSADES
85 DOUBLE LENGTH RAILROAD CARS
40 BIG AND LITTLE ELEPHANTS
1280 PEOPLE
108 WILD ANIMAL CAGES
650 HORSES
40 FUN-MAKING CLOWNS
$3,700,000 CAPITAL
$7,400 ACTUAL DAILY EXPENSE
BALLET SCENE
SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.
BIGGEST CIRCUS ON EARTH
375 PERFORMERS 6 BIG ARENAS
3 LONG MILES OF NEW AND COSTLY
2 TROUPES ACTING SEALS
THE NELSON FAMILY
A PARADE SUCH AS THE WORLD HAS NEVER SEEN BEFORE
PARADE GLORIES FREE UPON THE STREETS EVERY MORNING AT 10 O'CLOCK
TWO PERFORMANCES DAILY AT 2 AND 8 P. M. DOORS OPEN AT 1 AND 7 P. M.
ONE 50-CENT TICKET ADMITS TO EVERYTHING. CHILDREN UNDER 12, HALF PRICE

Admission and numbered Reserved Seat Tickets sold on show day at Riggs' music store at same prices as charged at ticket waggons on show grounds.

Belleville, Saturday, June 6

LESSEES MADE LIABLE FOR PLAYS OF BAD ODOR.

SENATE ADOPTS A BILL TO IMPROVE CHARACTER OF THEATRICAL ATTRACTIONS.

Ottawa, May 22.—The Senate went into Committee to-day on the bill to amend the Criminal Code regarding the presentation of immoral or obscene plays. Hon. Mr. Scott, in view of objection to the owner of a theatre being made liable, moved to amend the bill by striking out the words, "owner or lessee," and to make the clause "lessee, agent, manager, or anyone in charge," as the liable party in case of a prosecution. The amendment was agreed to. The word theatre was also extended to include a tent or enclosure.

A FARMER CURED OF RHEUMATISM.

"A man living on a farm near here came in a short time ago completely doubled up with rheumatism. I handed him a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm and told him to use it freely and if not satisfied after using it he need not pay a cent for it," says C. P. Rayder, of Pattens Mills, N. Y. "A few days later he walked into the store as straight as a string and handed me a dollar saying, 'give me another bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I want it in the house all the time, for it cured me.'" For sale by all druggists.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Measurement Nonpareil—12 lines to the inch.

Display advertisements, 10c per line. Subsequent consecutive insertions, [illegible]

Reading advertisements, 15c per line.

Preferred position, 20 per cent. advance upon regular or contract rates.

Minimum space, 10 lines.

Marriages and deaths, 50c each insertion.

Births, 25c each insertion.

Rates for Condensed Advertisements will be found in 1st column of 2nd page.

All advertisements are subject to the approval of the Publisher of the Intelligencer.

Address all communications to the Intelligencer Printing & Publishing House Limited, or to Charles J. Bowell, Managing Director and Treasurer.

Canadians in London will find The Intelligencer on file at E. & J. Hardy & Co.'s Office, 30 Fleet Street, London, E. C.

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS

SITUATIONS WANTED, HELP WANTED, LOST OR FOUND, FOR SALE OR TO RENT, &c.

(Auction Sales not included in this list)

TERMS.—Twenty-five words or less, 25c first insertion; two insertions, 50c; four insertions, 75c; one week $1.00, two weeks, $1.75, three weeks, $2.25; one month, $2.50. Strictly cash in advance.

WANTED.

General servant wanted; highest wages. Apply to MRS. A. R. WALLBRIDGE, 40 Queen St. 29-3t

Man to drive bread waggon. Apply to I. H. FOSTER, Front St., after 6 o'clock p.m.

Boy to learn printing trade. Apply to "The Intelligencer" at once.

Junior Law Clerk (male). PORTER & CARNEW. m22dtf

A few men and women to work for us at home during spare time. Pleasant work. Liberal pay. No canvassing. Imperial Company, London, Ontario. m12-1m

Agents wanted who are willing to work. Good goods and good pay. Men earn $6.00 a day winter and summer. Never out of season. Write G. Marshall & Co., Teas, London, Ont.

Young men ambitious to learn lucrative trades, of which there are eight in connection with the business. Apply The Belleville Hardware Company, Belleville, Ont. a7dtf

Competent men to appoint agents, whole or spare time. Commission paid. Apply JOHN DOYLE, Drawer 531, London. a27-1yr

FOR SALE.

That splendid property on the south east corner of Dunbar and Catharine Sts. City water and sewer connection. m28-4w

BICYCLE—Cleveland, 1903, hygienic cushion frame, coaster brake, 22 inch frame, Dunlop tires. Will be sold cheap. Original cost $65.00. Apply at Intelligencer Office. tf

Stone house, 11 rooms, coal furnace, stable, barn. Large grounds. Cor. Frank and Moira Sts. north. Terms reasonable. H. Bull, on premises or Fred Bull, 2 1-2 Queen St., Toronto. ap18-dtf

Comfortable, well built, seven room frame house and lot, situated on North Front St., in vicinity of Albert College. Apply to Mrs. Wm. McCreery, Belleville. my15-d1mem&iw

Contractors and masons, any any person requiring lime may procure it from E. G. STAPLEY, Canifton Road, Belleville. New lime always on hand. a9-d&w6m

Dressed and Matched Lumber of all kinds, at ALFORD'S factory, Market Square. j12-tf

REMOVAL.

Dr. Clarke will shortly remove to the offices formerly occupied by the late Dr. Ward, over Burrows', and opposite Scantlebury's Book Store. a27dtf

Lost chances never leave any trail.

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

A SHIRT SALE

We have just received from the manufacturers, 50 dozen Madras Shirts in sizes 14½ to 16½, soft bosoms, with separate cuffs. They should sell at $1.00, but we got a big snap and are going to clear them quick for 50c each.

You need not wait till you go on your holiday trip before getting some of these cool and pretty patterns. They take half the discomfort out of a hot day.

Not More Than one half Dozen sold to each Customer.

OAK HALL

Sole Agents for Sanford's Celebrated Clothing.

The J. J. HAINES Shoe Houses.

For Low Shoes

We have had Low Shoe weather lately and the result has been a boom in the sale of Low Shoes. In Ladies', Girls' and Children's, it has been most marked and a month in advance for such goods—Our stock is immense. Styles and prices to suit everyone.

LADIES' OXFORDS AND STRAP SHOES at 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00 up.

OUR BARGAIN TABLES ALSO present unusual values in Women's Misses' and Children's Low Shoes.

SWELL lines in MEN'S Patent and Box Calf Low Shoes—also Fine Kid Oxfords at $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00.

With pleasure and pride we direct your attention to our fine showing of above shoes.

The J. J. Haines

SHOE HOUSES at Belleville, Napanee and Trenton

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE
FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

Daily Intelligencer.

TIMELY TOPICS

AT THE BAND CONCERT.

Same old music in the air
Same old crowd of maidens fair
Same old zephyrs in the trees
Same old tunes so sure to please;
Same old babies—bless their hearts—
Same old daddies pushing carts,
Same old smell of cigarettes
Smoked by giddy "mamma's pets."
Same young couples walking round
Same old mark by Cupid found:
Same old crowd of boys to yell
Now, doesn't that the story tell?

* * *

Newspapers are the greatest moral agencies in the world, for the fear of notoriety is greater than the fear of the law.

* * *

Rich man Rockefeller was cured of chronic dyspepsia by playing golf. People who have the dreadful complaint should at once follow his example, buy a $300,000 golf links and secure robust health. Simple, isn't it?

* * *

The Stony Lonesome philosopher thinks the surest way to stop bicycle riding on the sidewalk would be to confiscate the offenders' wheels for a month. No doubt.

* * *

An esteemed contemporary thinks that by his attitude on the tariff Hon. J. Israel Tarte has placed himself above his party. Well, he doesn't need a step-ladder to do that.

* * *

Bryan calls Cleveland the Democratic Jonah. Bryan would like to be the Democratic whale, but he can't rise above the sardine standard.

* * *

How would you like to be a Jew in Russia? The Government will not allow them to become landowners, and the mob murdered a goodly number of the Jews because they won't turn farmers. The Jews who become merchants the mob kill for doing so and loot their property. It is hard lines all around for the Jews; and the civilized world ought to do something more than protest against such inhumanity.

* * *

The Minister of Militia, while in Brantford, was presented with a violin. Judging by his actions during the South African war, he's only a fiddler, anyhow.

NEW YORK LIVE STOCK.

New York, May 28.—Beeves—Receipts 18; no sales. Cables, steady. Exports, 42 cattle and 138 sheep. Calves—Receipts, 8; steady. Veals, $5 to $7.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 5031; active and steady; sheep, $3 to $4.75; yearlings, $6.62½; lambs, $7.50 to $9.

Hogs—Receipts, 1917; steady.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, May 28.—Cattle—Receipts, 8000; slow; steady; good to prime steers, $4.85 to $5.40; poor to medium, $4 to $4.80; stockers and feeders, $3 to $4.75; cows, $1.50 to $4.60; heifers, $2.25 to $4.80; canners, $1.50 to $2.75; bulls, $2.25 to $4.30; calves, $2.25 to $6.65; Texas-fed steers, $4 to $4.60.

Hogs—Receipts to-day, 20,000; to-morrow, 20,000; left over, 2900; steady to strong; mixed and butchers, $5.70 to $6; good to choice, heavy, $6.10 to $6.30; rough, heavy, $5.75 to $6.05; light, $5.45 to $5.80; bulk of sales, $5.85 to $6.10.

Sheep—Receipts, 6000; sheep, 15c to 25c lower; lambs steady; good to choice wethers, $4.50 to $5; fair to choice mixed, $3.50 to $4.25; native lambs, $4 to $7.

BASEBALL THURSDAY.

National League Scores.

At New York—		R.	H.	E.
Chicago	0 4 0 1 0 0 2 0 0	7	11	0
New York	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 0	1	6	2

Batteries—J. Taylor and Kling; Taylor, Miller, Warner. Umpire—Emslie. Attendance—8523.

At Philadelphia—		R.	H.	E.
Cincinnati	2 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0	3	9	1
Philadelphia	0 3 0 0 0 0 0 0 3	6	12	1

Batteries—Phillips, Poole and Bergen; Duggleby and Zimmer. Umpire—O'Day. Attendance—706.

American League Results.

At Detroit—		R.	H.	E.
Detroit	0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 0	2	9	3
St. Louis	2 0 0 0 0 1 1 0 3	7	8	1

Batteries—Eason and Buelow; Donahue and Sugden. Umpires—Carruthers and Hassett. Attendance—3654.

At Philadelphia—		R.	H.	E.
New York	1 0 3 1 0 0 0 0 0	5	11	1
Philadelphia	1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0	2	5	8

Batteries—Chesbro and Connor; Plank, Henley, Powers and Schreckengost. Umpire—Sheridan. Attendance—5372.

Toronto Honors Lord Minto.

Toronto, May 29.—The city banquetted the vice-regal party at the King Edward last night, and there was a large and fashionable attendance. Mayor Urquhart proposed Their Excellencies' health, and Lord Minto made appropriate reply. Hon. G. W. Ross, in speaking to the toast of "The Empire," said that Canada must contribute to Imperial defence.

Robbed Father of $11,000.

Halifax, N.S., May 29.—Guy M. McCallum, clerk in the Royal Bank here, induced his father to place $11,000 in the bank on deposit. The son drew the cash and has gone to the States. He is supposed to have "blown in" the money, as he was always flush of cash.

More "Red Spots" on the Map.

Tahiti, May 15, via San Francisco, May 29.—Information received on the best authority confirms the rumor that three small islands near Pitcairn were seized by England recently. It appears that they were regarded by British Consul Simons at Tahiti as valuable, anticipating the completion of the Panama Canal. The British Foreign Office approved of the seizure.

Revision Is Adopted.

Los Angeles, Cala., May 29.—In the Presbyterian General Assembly yesterday a motion by Dr. W. N. Page, for the adoption of the report of the Revision Committee as a whole, prevailed by unanimous vote.

Town Clerk Suspended.

Windsor, May 29.—C. H. Ashdown, Town Clerk of Sandwich, has been suspended by the Council of that town. He is 68 years of age. It is alleged that he has not been attending to his duties of late.

Fishing Crews Drowned.

Halifax, N. S., May 29. — Word comes from Bay of Islands, Nfld., of a drowning of four men of the crew of the fishing schooner Peerless, Capt. Zinck, Lunenberg. News also comes of the drowning of 14 of a crew of another Lunenberg vessel at the same place; name of vessel and men not given.

Was Crushed to Death.

Toronto, May 28.—William Victor Stewart was crushed to death at noon yesterday in the C.P.R. freight yards here while coupling cars. The accident occurred while he was endeavoring to couple a passenger coach and baggage car in the Simcoe street yards.

Killed by Lightning.

Chatham, May 29.—By the heavy rain and wind storms Wednesday evening, trees were uprooted and barn roofs torn off. A farmer named Purdy, driving a team, was killed by lightning, between Jeanette's Creek and Tilbury, his horses being unhurt.

$90 TO THE TON

WOULDN'T BE A RICHER FIND TO A MAN WITH A GOLD CLAIM

Than a Vial of Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills to the same man if his Nerves were all disordered through Over-work and Head Strain,

These things induce Constipation, Biliousness and Sick Headache. The easiest cure is the best cure. The purest cure is the most desirable cure. A vegetable compound is the safest cure. Dr. Agnew's are purely vegetable. You can take them any time without danger. The doses are small. The taste is palatable. 40 pills 10 cts.; 100 pills 25 cts. 85

SOLD BY D. M. WATERS.

A Smart Salesman.

Jeweler (to new boy)—Did you sell anything while I was out, Johnny?

"Yes, sir. I sold six plain gold rings."

"Good, my boy," said the jeweler, highly pleased. "We'll make a first-class salesman of you one of these days. You got the regular price, of course?"

"Oh, yes, sir. The price was marked on the inside, 18c., and the gentleman took all that was left, sir."—N.Y.

When You Know How.

"I WILL be beautiful," she said, as she turned away from the mirror. "Surely in this modern, progressive age it is possible for any girl to acquire beauty."

So she invested in all kinds of cosmetics, had them applied by an artist, and went to a big ball. The next morning she scanned the society columns of the papers eagerly, but there was not a word about "the beautiful Miss Brown." She merely figured among those who were "also present."

"Still," she added, "it is possible to be beautiful when you know how, and I will experiment until I discover the secret."

Thereupon she employed a beauty doctor, and was rubbed and massaged every day for a month or more, but it was no use. The gossip departments of the papers spoke of this girl and that girl as "beautiful," but never of "the beautiful Miss Brown."

"Possibly," she thought, "something is the matter with my gowns. Much depends upon proper harmony or contrast, which often makes the beauty. I will have one designed especially for me by the most gifted of costumers."

The papers said she was "beautifully gowned," but that was all.

"I will become engaged," she cried, in despair. "If necessary, I will marry. Brides are almost invariably beautiful."

But when her engagement was announced the papers merely referred to her as "the charming and gifted Miss Brown."

"Alas!" she exclaimed, "can I not be beautiful? Is that great boon possessed by so many girls, no more favored by nature than I am, to be always denied to me? What is life to me, if I am thus handicapped? A mockery, truly! I will have none of it."

In this humor she went boating, and, giving it the appearance of an accident, deliberately fell into the water, from which she was quickly rescued by an athletic young man.

"Why," she cried, the next day, as she thought it all over, "was I not allowed to die?"

Then her glance fell upon a daily paper, and her eyes instantly brightened.

"Gallant rescue of a beautiful girl," she read. "Pretty Adele Brown, the beauty of the season, saved from a watery grave."

"Why, of course," she commented, thoughtfully. "It's very simple when you know how. Now I think of it, a rescue or a scandal will make a girl beautiful any day."—N.Y. "Town Topics."

Funny Answers.

An English teacher, commenting on the "wonderfully funny" answers given by his pupils to questions, cites the following specimens:

A boy, aged ten, thus answers a question as to the cause of the Transvaal disturbances: "Krugger and Kannerbulism is one. He is a man of blud. Mr. Chamberling has wrote to him sayin' come out and fite or else give up the blud of the English you have took. he is a boardutchman and a wickid heethin. lord Kitchener has sent for his goary blud and to bring back his scanderius hed ded or alive."

An essay on Gladstone, by a boy of eleven, states: "Mr. Gladstone lovd everybody. he lovd publicans and cinners and Irishmen. he wanted the irish to come to England and have home rool, but Mr. Chamberlin says, no, no. so alars he got his blud up and killd Mr. Parnel. Mr. Gladstone died with great rispect and is burried in Westminster with pieceful ashes."

The Gospel of Happiness.

London "Outlook."

The true gospel of happiness, as we read between the lines of Lord Rosebery's playful address to the Royal Caledonian Horticultural Society on Wednesday, has its foundation in make-believe. It is foolish, as well as wrong, to covet your neighbor's orchids or be hurt by the superiority of his hot-houses, when you know that your own sweet-peas have been admired and that your luxuriant crop of groundsel will make things comfortable for the canary. Even if you have no garden of your own, you can more than supply the deficiency by reading a book on horticulture—for choice, Mr. John Reid's "The Scots Gardener," published in the reign of Charles I. On the principle of making books substitutes for the real thing, there is an infinitude of bustling travel to be got out of the "Continental Bradshaw," just in the same way that a sharp appetite may be appeased by a judicious perusal of cookery books. Carrying Lord Rosebery's theory a little further, we can picture the relief that study of a really sound work on dentistry would afford a man with a raging toothache, or how pleasantly a bankrupt could while away his valueless time over a volume on Currency and the Theory of Exchanges.

A Common Sort of Bore.

"If no better reason can be found, a decent consideration for the comfort of others should prevent one's talking of ailments," says Dr. John K. Mitchell in "Harper's Bazar." "Besides being bad manners, the subject is wholly without interest for any but the speaker; the hearer only listens more or less perfunctorily in hopes presently to seize the chance of telling her own melancholy condition. Besides, to talk of ills, mental or bodily, helps to fix them in the mind, to intensify them—and is all too apt to suggest the exaggeration of them in order to make a good round tale. Moreover, if you talk about them too much or too often, even the long-suffering physician may grow tired of being battered with symptoms whose catalogue he has heard recited a hundred times over, and thus the very means taken to impress them will bring about its own defeat. Still more determined, if you are nervous yourself, should be your stand against letting others talk of their ills to you. Even the healthy cannot stand the continual presentation of disease to them without liability to imaginary infection therefrom."

Preacher (after the marriage ceremony)—Why, you've given me $25. Isn't this too generous? Groom—No. I always pay that.

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat Co.,
(LIMITED)
"The Bay of Quinte Route."

Str. "ALETHA"

Leaves Belleville on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 a.m. for Bay of Quinte ports and Kingston. Returning will arrive at Belleville on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10.30 p.m.

Belleville-Rochester Route

Str. "North King"

Commencing 31st May will leave Belleville on Sundays at 11.38 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. Returning arrives at Belleville on Sundays at 3.25 a.m. and leaves for Bay Ports, Kingston and 1000 Islands.

During July and August service will be daily except Monday.

Right reserved to change time with or without notice.

For passage and freight rates and other information, apply to

THE RATHBUN CO., } Agents.
U. E. THOMPSON, }
E. E. HORSEY, G. P. & F. Agent, Kingston.

Montreal, Rochester & Quebec Transit Co'y.

Str. "Alexandria"

Service in effect 25th April.

Leaves Rathbun Co.'s wharf, Belleville, every Saturday at 11.00 a.m. for Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Every Monday at 7.00 a.m. for Montreal and all River Ports.

Thousand Islands by daylight.

Runs all St. Lawrence River Rapids.

Quebec excursions commence July 5th.

LOW FREIGHT RATES.

A. W. HEPBURN, General Manager, Picton, Ont.
THE RATHBUN CO. Agents, Belleville.

The Deseronto Navigation Co
TIME TABLE
Taking effect April 13, 1903,
Belleville, Trenton, Picton & Napanee

Str. "ELLA ROSS"

Leaves Belleville for Trenton at 10 a. m., daily, Sundays Excepted, returning leaves Trenton at 1 p. m., leaving Belleville at 3 p.m. for Deseronto, Napanee and Picton.

Quick and Superior Service to NEW YORK CITY

Steamers RESOLUTE and RELIANCE will leave Deseronto for Oswego after arrival of Str. Ella Ross connecting at Oswego with the New York, Ontario Western Ry.

Fare to New York, Single, $8.40
Return, $13.25

For further particulars apply to THE RATHBUN CO., Local Agents

J. F. CHAPMAN, Asst. Gen. Frt. & Pass. Agt., Deseronto.
A. C. CARTER General Manager Deseronto.

Just What You Want

Paint Brushes 7, 10, 15, 20, 25c.
Whitewash Brushes 10, 13, 15, 20, 25, 35, 45c.
1,000 Parlor Matches for 5c.
600 pairs Ladies' Bl'k Hose 5c pair.
500 printed Platters and Bakers, regular 25, clearing at 10c.
300 pairs Men's Sox, special, 4 pr. for 25c.
D. K. Blue Cups and Saucers, 35c 1-2 dozen.
1200 Dinner Setts for $8.00.
Curtain Poles, complete, for 20c.
Carpet Tacks, 2 for 5c.
Carpet Whips 10c each.
Kitchen Mirrors 12, 15, 20, 25, 30c.
Best Oil Blinds 30c.
6 Cakes Moss Rose Toilet Soap 15c.
3 Cakes Cold Cream Toilet Soap 5c.
6 Bars Eclipse Soap 25c.
Large variety of odd Wallpaper der, clearing at 1c yard.
50 varieties of Wallpaper, clearing at 5c Roll.
Large varieties 5, 7, 8, 10c Ceiling Papers, clearing at 3c Roll.

Be sure and visit our Wallpaper Department; it is the most complete, and has the best selected stock to choose from in the City.

Our Prices are 1-2 what other stores ask for same quality.

AT THE BEE HIVE
Chas. N. Sulman

The various countries of the world use 13,400 different kinds of postage

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

TOURIST RESORTS

The Famous Muskoka Lakes, Georgian Bay, Kawartha Lakes, Lake of Bays, etc., are noted for their excellent and healthy climate. Up-to-date hotels. Grand Trunk trains make connection at Muskoka Wharf for all ports on Muskoka Lakes, at Huntsville for all ports on Lake of Bays; also direct connection to ports on Georgian Bay and Kawartha Lakes.

EXCURSIONS TO CANADIAN NORTH-WEST.

Good going June 4th, and June 18th, valid returning within 60 days from date of issue. Good going July 4th, valid returning until Sept. 8th.

For tickets, information and descriptive literature, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON, City Agent, Bridge Street,
T. H. COPPIN, Depot Agent,
J. D. McDONALD, Dist. Pass Agt., Toronto.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN

Homeseekers' 60 DAY Excursions

To The Canadian North-West at Return Fares.

Winnipeg, Waskada, Estevan, Elgin, Arcola, Moosomin, Wawanesa, Miniota, Binscarth, Grand View, Swan River } $28
Regina, Moosejaw, Yorkton, } $30
Prince Albert, Macleod, Calgary } $35
Red Deer, Strathcona } $40

Going JUNE 4th, returning until AUGUST 4th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going JUNE 18th, returning until AUGUST 18th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going July 4th, returning until SEPTEMBER 8th (all rail or S.S. Manitoba). Tickets are not good on "Imperial Limited." For tickets and pamphlet giving full particulars, apply to your nearest Canadian Pacific agent, or to

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Genl. Passr. Agent, 1 King St. East, Toronto.
S. BURROWS, C.P.R. and General Ticket Agent, Front St., Belleville.

NEW YORK CENTRAL & HUDSON RIVER R. R.

THE FOUR-TRACK TRUNK LINE.

SHORTEST Route to the United States via Cape Vincent, N.Y.

GOING EAST AND WEST.			After 1st May
Lv. Belleville (G.T.R.)		12.22 p.m.	1.30 a.m
Arr. Kingston	"	1.47 p.m.	3.12 a.m
Lv. Kingston (stage)..		2.30 p.m.	5.00 a.m
Arr. Cape Vincent (stage)		4.30 p.m.	7.00 a.m
Lv. Cape Vincent N.Y.C.		5.05 p.m.	7.25 a.m
Arr. Watertown	"	5.55 p.m.	8.25 a.m
Arr. Oswego	"	9.05 p.m.	11.55 a.m
Arr. Syracuse	"	9.25 p.m.	12.07 p.m
Arr. Rochester	"	1.05 a.m.	2.20 a.m
Arr. Utica	"	9.45 p.m.	12.35 p.m
Arr. New York	"	7.25 a.m.	6.00 p.m

Convenient train service in opposite direction.

Pullman Sleeping and Parlor Cars.

2c a Mile.

Books for 500 miles of travel on New York Central and leased lines within State of New York, cost only $10 while books for 1000 miles over New York Central, Boston & Albany, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, Philadelphia & Reading and C. R. R. of New Jersey cost $20. Secure further information and purchase tickets from F. A. Folger, N.Y.C. Agent, Kingston, Ont.

GEORGE H. DANIELS, Gen'l Pass'r Agent, New York.
A. H. SMITH, Gen'l Supt., New York.
G. C. GRIDLEY, Gen'l Agent, Watertown, N.Y.

Western Beef.

Prime Western Beef together with all kinds of choice meats, supplied by the district, at

C. GREEN'S
267 Front St., 'Phone 109.

LACROSSE SHOES

For Men, Boys and Children.

Tennis Balmorals

In sizes for Men, Ladies and Boys.

VERMILYEA & SON.

THEY DROVE PIMPLES AWAY.—A face covered with pimples is unsightly. It tells of internal irregularities which should long since have been corrected. The liver and the kidneys are not performing their functions in the healthy way they should, and these pimples are to let you know that the blood protests. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will drive them all away, and will leave the skin clear and clean. Try them, and there will be another witness to their excellence.

Life has no blessing like a prudent friend.

HAD LA GRIPPE.—Mr. A. Nickerson, farmer, Dutton, writes: "Last winter I had La Grippe, and it left me with a severe pain in the small of my back and hip that used to catch me whenever I tried to climb a fence. This lasted for about two months, when I bought a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil and used it both internally and externally, morning and evening, for three days, at the expiration of which time I was completely cured."

If thy friend is honey, do not lick him up altogether.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed 'Perfection.'

Many a man's self-conceit is due to his ignorance.

AT DEATH'S DOOR.—DYSPEPSIA CONQUERED.—A GREAT MEDICAL TRIUMPH.—Gentlemen,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the Vegetable Discovery consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen Vegetable Discovery since it cured me, as I am well-known and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed, JEAN VALCOURT,
Wotton, P.Q. General Merchant

The best wheel of fortune is honest labor.

Very many persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer complaints, who might have been saved if proper remedies had been used, if attacked do not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, the medicine that never fails to effect a cure. Those who have used it say it acts promptly, and thoroughly, subdues the pain and disease.

Wedding rings in St. Kilda used to be made of worsted.

Use the safe, pleasant, and effectual worm killer, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator; nothing equals it. Procure a bottle and take it home.

Coral is a talisman against thunder and evils by flood and field.

Have you tried Holloway's Corn Cure? It has no equal for removing these troublesome excrescences, as many have testified who have tried it.

A woman never knows where the match box is.

FOR INFLAMMATION OF THE EYES.—Among the many good qualities which Parmelee's Vegetable Pills possess, besides regulating the digestive organs, is their efficacy in reducing inflammation of the eyes. It has called forth many letters of recommendation from those who were afflicted with this complaint and found a cure in the pills. They affect the nerve centres and the blood in a surprisingly active way, and the result is almost immediately seen.

When one gets hopping mad his reason goes on a crutch.

If you have a cough or cold do not neglect it; many without a trace of that hereditary disease have drifted into a consumptive's grave by neglecting what was only a slight cold. Had they used Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup before it was too late, their lives would have been saved. Mr. A. W. Levy, Mitchell, writes: "I think Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup the best preparation on the market for coughs and severe colds. About six years ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs, and for three months I had a cough. I had a physician attending me, but gradually grew worse until I was on the verge of Consumption, and had given up hopes of being cured, when I was induced to try Bickle's Syrup. Before I had taken one bottle I found myself greatly relieved, and by the time I had finished the second bottle I was completely cured. I always recommend it for severe colds and consumption."

The average watch represents but 12 hours of human labor.

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, and disordered stomach.

The wildcat's teeth are close to its purr.

Do not despair of curing your sick headache when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

The Sun & Hastings Savings and Loan Co. of Ontario.
AUTHORIZED CAPITAL
$5,000,000.

3 1-2 per cent. allowed on Deposits, payable on Call.

4 per cent. on Deposits for one year or over.

Money to loan upon favorable terms.

OFFICE, No. 46 Bridge St., Belleville.

J. P. C. PHILLIPS,
Manager Belleville Branch.

DAISY GORDON'S FOLLY

—OR—

THE WORLD LOST FOR LOVE'S SAKE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY,

Author of "The Crime of Hallow-E'en," "The Flirtations of a Beauty," "Willful Gaynell," "Little Leafy," "Only a Mechanic's Daughter," etc.

Aleck was proud and pleased at the attention she elicited.

When they had made the tour of the lawn he suddenly stopped short and touched her on the arm.

"Do you see who that is, Daisy?" he said, "that lovely women leaning against the railing of the fountain, looking with pensive eyes this way. She sees us and bows—she is coming this way—as I live it is Lillian Ruthven, the heiress. You remember her, don't you Daisy?"

Ah, God! could she ever forget Lillian Ruthven, the heiress, and how strangely her path had crossed her own!

The answer died away on her lips, and at that moment Lillian joined them.

"I am so glad to see you both!" she exclaimed, in the old, impulsive way. "A friend's face among strangers is always a welcome sight."

As they looked at Lillian they could not help observing how greatly changed she was.

The fair young face was seamed with lines that should never have been there, and the bright, clustering hair was heavily streaked with silver threads; even her eyes had lost their brightness.

It was strange she did not observe Daisy's terrible emotion as she stooped to kiss her white lips, but she did not.

It was not until they were alone together that Daisy dared trust herself to speak of the past and ask Lillian if she had ever seen or heard of Harold St. John since the night of that terrible midnight marriage.

A terrible shudder passed over Lillian's slender frame. Tears sprung to her blue eyes, but she dashed them away with an impatient hand.

"He has fairly haunted me ever since!" she replied, bitterly. "Haunted and hunted me down until sometimes I wonder if there is mercy on earth or justice in heaven.

"I solemnly swear to you, Daisy, I am not his bride!" she went on excitedly. "Some young girl who resembles me closely must have passed herself off for me. It is an infamous plot to gain possession of my fortune."

"Since the world began no young girl was ever called upon to face so bitter a trial. The shock—the torture of it would have killed anyone else. I have often wondered since that I did not go mad; but heaven is kind—I live in hopes that there is some brightness in store for me yet.

"He has written me that he is coming for me to claim me on the twenty-fifth. This is the fifteenth. If he does, remember my words, Daisy, I shall not be accountable for whatever may happen. There is such a thing as goading a person too far."

"Coming here? Do you say this man is coming here?" asked Daisy, and her voice sounded like nothing human.

"Yes! he is coming here!" repeated Lillian Ruthven, with the calm of despair; and I shall settle the future with him once and for all."

"Promise me, for the love of heaven, that you will do nothing rash," said Daisy, looking up into Lillian's face with terrified eyes. "If you do it would kill me!"

"I thank you for taking so much interest in me," said Lillian, gratefully. "I have grown cynical, I am afraid; but it touches my heart strangely when any one expresses such true deep sorrow as you seem to evince for me. You are indeed my true friend, Daisy."

Her true friend; ah, had Lillian Ruthven but known the truth!

"No wonder I have grown cynical, Daisy," she said, with a dry hard sob. "That cruel affair has blighted my life in more ways than one. The bitterest blow of all was, it parted me forever from the only man I ever cared for, and what is life without the one we love. Think how desolate your future would be if you were to be parted from Aleck, whom you love so much; by looking at it in this way you will understand.

"Ah, here is your sister Olive coming."

Daisy was glad indeed to see her sister approaching. She felt that she must die if she listened to Lillian Ruthven another moment.

Every word she uttered struck like a death-knell into her heart. She knew why—heaven help her.

She could not endure to hear Olive and Lillian discuss that terrible topic. She rose hurriedly from the garden chair.

"I will leave you with Olive for a little while, Miss Ruthven," she said. "The perfume of the roses overpowers me."

She walked steadily enough away from them. When she reached the lime grove out of the sound of their voices, she gave full vent to her grief.

"I am driven at bay in one way or another," she moaned. "How can I let this villain claim poor Lillian Ruthven and blast her life; and yet, how can I tell the world why he should not?" she moaned, bitterly.

She had often wondered how a criminal could see an innocent man hang for a crime which he himself had committed—stand quietly by uttering no word; now she could understand the terrible position.

Ah! how cruelly God had punished her for losing the world for love's sake; even Aleck's love could not compensate her, for in love's cup lay the bitterest of dregs.

Twice before the volcano had nearly burst beneath her feet—the sword which was suspended by a single thread had nearly fallen on that guilty, golden head.

If she could have but made a confidante of Olive; but these two sisters had never agreed. Olive would turn from her in horror in a moment of that kind.

She longed with all her soul for Hetty. Ah, if Hetty would but come to her; but she could not reach there by the twenty-fifth, and that was the day on which Harold St. John had told Lillian Ruthven he was coming to claim her.

If by some strategem she could but save Lillian, and at the same time keep her own terrible secret intact; but she saw no hope—whichever way she turned the precipice yawned beneath her feet.

There is but one way, she told herself desperately, for the last time, and that is to end it all before the twenty-fifth.

There would be ten days still, of life, of pleasure, and Aleck's love.

She rose slowly from her knees, pushing back the heavy masses of long, golden hair from her face; every moment was precious—the ten days would pass soon enough.

As she hurried back to the gay throng, she did not see the tall, motionless figure standing among the dense shadows of the trees.

As she stepped out into the broad clearing, the moonbeams fell full upon her face. He started back with a suppressed imprecation.

"By all that is wonderful, if it isn't—Daisy!"

For a moment he stood irresolute; should he, Harold St. John, stride after her, face her before all that gay company and claim her?

She was by far more beautiful than ever—or was Lillian Ruthven, the heiress, fairer game?

"I will ponder the matter over," he muttered, laughing softly beneath his dark, curling mustache.

"More beautiful than ever," he repeated, gazing after the slender, girlish form; "and she could be mine if I so willed it. I was greatly in love with her pretty face and childish ways in those days. It was a terrible blow to me to find out she was not Lillian Ruthven, the heiress, but only Daisy Gordon, a farmer's daughter. If Daisy had had any money we might have had a tolerably happy life of it.

"I wonder, by the way, what she is doing off here, and in such grand company.

"I must find out!" And that is how the tragedy began.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Who is That Beautiful Woman?

Harold St John's love for pretty Daisy had been little more than a passing fancy.

True, he had resented it bitterly in his own heart, when he had come to the farm and found she had gone—none knew whither.

He had sworn that he would find her, if he had to search the whole wide world for her, but as time passed his love cooled.

Another idea had occurred to his fertile brain. Why not make capital out of the strange mistake which had occurred, and claim Lillian Ruthven the heiress?

It was a bold and mighty stroke for a fortune, but he was just desperate enough to make it.

She was pretty enough to please any man, and then there was a certain piquancy in claiming an unwilling bride.

While his life lasted, he vowed to himself he should never forget his first interview with Miss Ruthven.

If anger and scorn, flashed from a pair of blue eyes, could have struck him dead, he would have died then and there.

Since the world began, she protested, she had never heard of a case like this.

She wondered how God could let a man live to blast a fair young life, and glory in it.

"You know as well as I do," she added, "that I am not your wife; and, up to the time you were brought before me, surrounded with officers, I had never even looked upon your face."

He had thrown back his dark, handsome head with a laugh not pleasant to hear.

"I can claim you," he said; "that settles the matter. You shall be mine by fair means or foul Lillian Ruthven. If I thought it possible that I could win your liking, I would go through a whole course of wooing. Should you like that?"

Lillian Ruthven was quick-witted. She saw here a chance of respite from the horrible doom that awaited her.

If she had time she might see some way out of the trap fate had set for her.

"Yes, give me time," she answered, with a piteous quiver in her voice.

The words choked her; she could say no more.

Feeling so sure of his beautiful, hapless victim, Harold St. John acquiesced very gallantly.

"You will not exclude me from your presence under this arrangement?" he said. "I will be a constant visitor.

It was gall and wormwood to the girl's sensitive soul to allow this man to clasp her white hand, and raise it to his lips, looking ardently in her eyes the while, as he bade her au revoir, but what could she do? Was ever a woman more completely in a man's power?

Her case was all the more deplorable, because she had a lover whom she loved with all the strength of her heart.

The startling news of her marriage to Harold St. John had been a fearful blow to him.

There was a terrible scene between them.

He accused her of playing with his heart and breaking it, tossing it away like a useless toy; still keeping him near her, even up to the very hour almost that she had wedded another.

He turned on his heel and left her, praying heaven he might never look upon her fair, false face again—left her standing before him like a statue carved in marble, and as cold as death.

On coming into the drawing room an hour later, her aunt found her lying on her face like one dead.

"Is this terrible thing true?—are you indeed the wife of the man who came here and claimed you?" asked Mrs. Colonel Ruthven, when the girl regained consciousness.

"On my honor, no," answered Lillian, frantically. "Oh, God! cannot you, who have known me all my life, believe me when I say it is all terribly false?"

Mrs. Ruthven took Lillian abroad, but with cruel pertinacity, Harold St. John followed them, declaring he had entered upon his privileges as an accepted suitor.

At length he became convinced of the fact Lillian hated him beyond all doubt. Then he came boldly forward, saying he should claim her on the twenty-fifth.

He had followed Lillian Ruthven to Sacramento, but it was not so easy to gain access to the exclusive society in which she moved.

She was visiting at the villa of Mrs. Elford, and in her honor the grand garden party was given.

Harold St. John had recourse to spying upon her actions through one of the pretty young serving-maids of the villa.

He made the acquaintance of pretty Katy, madame's maid, in a very romantic fashion. She had gone to one of the shops to purchase some few things for herself, and on leaving the place she passed on the threshold the handsomest young man she had ever beheld in all her life.

She saw the glance of admiration he gave her—Katy was always alive to that—and in her confusion she dropped one of the little parcels she carried.

He picked it up and give it to her with a bow such as Katy had never received in all her life before; her face flushed with delight.

The next time she came to do some shopping for her mistress she saw him again, and this time he spoke to her.

The third time he insisted on seeing her home or at least as far as the park gate.

He said it was neither right nor safe for a beautiful young lady like herself to be wandering about alone.

Katy was enchanted, for a new element had crept into her life.

She had made a conquest at last that she considered worthy of her charms; not one of the grooms or gardeners, but a gentleman—a perfect gentleman, who wore a suit of fine black clothes and glossy linen as white as snow and who wore a gold watch and a fine signet ring on his finger.

He learned from Katy all he wished to know concerning the movements of the guests of the house.

All the young gentlemen were in love with Miss Ruthven the heiress, but she was like an icicle to one and all.

She did not know why the slow smile crept up under the dark mustache when he heard that.

On the night of the garden party, after he had seen Daisy, he hurried to the rear entrance of the villa, and succeeded in getting one of the other maids to smuggle a note to Katy.

"Of course it is from Mr. Smith," she thought, with a blush, (that was the name Harold St. John had given her). "He wants to see me, of course," she murmured, "but he should know how busy I am on an evening like this."

She hid the note in the pocket of her coquettish little apron, intending to read it later on.

It was after the garden-party was over that Katy found time to slip down to the old oak tree on the lawn for a moment,—that was the request made in the note.

Charlie Smith was already there, pacing impatiently up and down with a quick, nervous tread.

(To be continued.)

The Sufferings of Women

MANY IRREGULARITIES AND WEAKNESSES, MUCH PAIN AND MISERY WHICH CAN BE PERMANENTLY OVERCOME BY USING

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food

No woman can expect to have good health unless the monthly uterine action is regular, and any breaking of this law of nature not only causes much pain and suffering, but may make her an invalid for the rest of life.

Nearly all derangements of the feminine organism are due to thin, watery blood, a poor circulation or lack of nerve force. Whether the menses are irregular, insufficient, profuse or painful the cause of trouble rests with the condition of the blood and nerves, and soon disappears when these are restored to health and vigor.

The dull, aching pain in the back and thighs, the cramps in the abdomen, the distressing headaches, the irritability and feelings of utter weariness will disappear when Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is used to put the blood and nerves in proper condition.

It is usually in girlhood that these irregularities have their beginning, and hence, mothers, the necessity of looking to the health of your daughters during the period of change. A few words of advice at this point may save them from a life of ill-health and misery.

From girlhood to the change in life, for the nursing mother, and at every trying time in woman's life Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is of inestimable value, because it forms new, red blood, insures good circulation, and revitalizes the wasted and depleted nerve cells. It gives health, strength, and buoyancy, rounds out the form, increases flesh and weight, and builds up the system.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is composed of nature's most powerful restoratives, and cannot fail to benefit you 50 cents a box at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto.

Fresh Roll Butter

20 cents per lb.

J. C. Hanley & Co
GROCERS
Telephone 214

New Hats
READY-TO-WEAR HATS
DRESS HATS.
New Veilings
Latest styles—Best work.
We will surely please you.
Come and see them.
MISS M. CAMPBELL.
P.D. Corsets. 'Phone 117

The Sherwin-Williams
...BARN RED...
Saves money for the barn owner. It does it by covering most surface to the gallon, spreading easy and wearing the longest time.
Price $1.00 per gallon.
Last year we sold over a hundred gallons, and every can gave satisfaction. Its made to satisfy. Use it and you'll save money.
WATERS DRUG STORE

A long portage makes a heavy canoe.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN and be sure that when you ask for Perry Davis' Painkiller you get just that and nothing else. Use it promptly to cure cramps, diarrhoea and all other bowel complaints in summer.

A System that Will not keep You waiting

Whether you want Painting, Paper Hanging, Decorating, Graining, or anything in our line, we will not keep you waiting. WE WILL NAME THE DAY, and that very day you will find us at your work, with an excellent staff of workmen—the very best mechanics that can be secured—workmen that we can rely on and that please our customers every time.

OUR WALL PAPER TRADE this year is so far the largest in the history of this house, and there are reasons behind the increased trade, and here they are—

FIRSTLY—Times are good, people have money and know where to spend it to advantage.

SECONDLY—By comparison with other lines our customers find our prices much lower and our styles of Wall Paper much higher than the ordinary.

THIRDLY—We give free two yards of bordering with each double roll of the Wall Paper it matches.

We hang our paper at very reasonable prices and always please our customers whether in papering, painting or anything else.

C. B. Scantlebury
Belleville's Decorator
Outside Painting. Inside Painting,
Paperhanging.
Wall Paper, Wholesale and Retail.

CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY

CAPITAL

10,000 Shares 7 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 each, $1,000,000.
50,000 Shares Common Stock, par value $100, issued and fully paid 5,000,000
TOTAL CAPITALIZATION $6,000,000

Issues of $1,000,000.00 7 p.c. Preferred Stock in 10,000 Shares of $100 each at par.

This stock is preferred both as to Assets and Dividends.

The shares are entitled to cumulative preferred dividends from the net earnings of the Company, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the first days of April and October. They may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged for common shares. They are subject to be called in, in whole or in part, by the Company, at $115.00 per share, at any time after 1st January, 1909.

The total issue of Preferred Stock is only $1,000,000.00, the whole of which is now offered.

Subsriptions for 10,000 Shares of $100 each of the 7 per cent. Preferred Stock of the CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY will now be received at par, that is $100 Share, as follows

per cent on application,
25 " " on allotment,
35 " " 30 days thereafter.
35 " " 60 days thereafter.

One share of Common, par value $100, given with each share of preferred.

The whole of instalments remaining unpaid at any time may be prepaid in full. A discount of one per cent will be allowed upon the par of each share if prepaid at time of allotment

Notice of allotment will be sent promptly by ordinary letter.

COAL
PROPERTY IN FULL OPERATION

Company owns 9,600 acres of coal property known throughout the coal trade as the New Campbellton Colliery, located on Bras D'Or Bay, County of Victoria, Cape Breton, Novia Scotia. Mine is fully equipped, producing and marketing tons of coal a day at a net profit of $1.00 a ton. Improvements are now being made that will increase the output to over 1,000 tons a day. On present output, figuring 300 working days in year, the net result will more than pay interest on entire issue of preferred, with output of 1,000 tons a day net result will be $300,000 per annum.

IRON
RICHEST ORE IN THE WORLD

Company owns in fee simple, free and clear of all incumbrances, 4000 acres of iron ore deposit, located Natashquan (tidewater) situated on North shore of Gulf of St. Lawrence, in the County of Saguney, province of Quebec.

Deposits contain 20,000,000 tons of ore ABOVE SEA LEVEL ALONE.

Quality of ore is highet ever discovered, running from 69 per cent to 72 per cent in metallic iron.

More orders for the sale of this ore has been received by the Campany than can possibly be accepted, and at a price netting the Company a profit of $2 a ton F. O. B. vessels at Company's docks.

Send for prospectus giving full information as to earnings, reports, etc., etc.

Address all communications and send subscriptions to

COLONIAL SECURITIES CO.,
62 Wall Street, New York City
OR
W. L. MARSTON & COMPANY
110 State Street, Boston

The SAWYER COMPANY.
351 Temple Building, Montreal, Canada.

Slater Shoe Advertising

Shoe Externals

Short talks by the Slater Shoe ad man, No. 5.

External Shoe beauty is simply a matter of perforation and polish—in most shoes.

Permanent beauty of form and finish are results of the same methods which secure to the shoe length of wear and shape retention viz:—invisible perfection of internal workmanship.

The "Slater Shoe" with the prestige of years of systematic advertising can afford to take no chances by skimping the internal economy of its make up—can not risk tampering with the fixed rules of standard workmanship.

The "Slater Shoe" has a name and the prestige of a valuable trade mark to maintain—they represent much cold cash in the assets of the makers—therefore both name and prestige are sustained by making the "Slater Shoe" in every particular equal or better than the claims its makers advertise for it.

Again proving the protection which "Slater Shoe" advertising gives to the wearers of

The Slater Shoe

Made in Canada 40 years. Goodyear Welted.
$3.50 and $5.00 for men and women.

Sole Agent
J. J. HAINES, BELLEVILLE.

—THE—INTELLIGENCER
JOB
PRINTING
DEPARTMENT

WE have every facility for doing the best and cheapest Job Printing in the country. Our presses and stock of printing materials are up-to-date.

Half Tone Catalogue Printing

ARTISTIC FOLDERS, PAMPHLETS, MAILING CARDS, ETC.

To Business Men :

We have 100,000 ENVELOPES of all kinds to select from.

Statement and Bill Heads, Letter and Note Heads, Gummed Paper, Poster Paper, Butter Paper, etc.

Cover Paper—a full line of popular makes.

Book and Printing Paper—all sizes, weights and prices.

Card Board Visiting Cards, Tickets, etc.

The Intelligencer Printing & Publishing House, Limited.
BELLEVILLE, ONT.

Mexican Girls.

MUCH has been written of the beauty of the senoritas of Mexico. Many a tourist goes there with exalted ideas of the charms of the high-caste young women with raven hair, soft olive complexions and bewitching eyes. Evidently the charms of that matchlessly balmy climate and the wonderful picturesqueness of scenes everywhere have blurred the critical vision of many of the writers, and as a result they dwell upon the beauty of the senoritas. However, according to one Mexican correspondent, the beauties are by no means plentiful. "A large part of the Mexican young women have prominent, heavy noses. This characteristic is more noticeable among the people in the rural pueblos in the valleys. From fourteen to twenty, most senoritas are in their prime so far as facial beauty is concerned. From twenty to thirty the dark pigment in their complexion develops rapidly, and nine out of ten of them ruin the softness of their complexions by inordinate use of the cosmetics and face washes which comprise a surprisingly large proportion of the national imports from Europe and the United States. There is no denying that the eyes of the average Mexican girl, except in the lowest classes, have a peculiar mildness. The long, heavy eyelashes over the dark eyes give an expression of seriousness and pathos that one never forgets. The hair of the senorita is seldom fine and flossy. All the women in the peon class dock their coarse hair squarely across the forehead, while the young women of the upper class deck their foreheads with an infinite lot of frizzes and intricate mazes of finely spun curls. A curious fact is that some of the old families in Mexico have followed a fashion in hair arrangement, characteristic of the particular family, for several generations. For instance, there is the rich and powerful Yorba family of Chihuahua. Every woman in the family for more than one hundred years has frizzed, curled and plastered her hair after the style Grandma Yorba (a famous belle in her day and an acquaintance of old Queen Mercedes) adopted in the last days of Spanish dominion over Mexico. The exquisite black-lace mantilla shading the eyes, the high comb, and the coral and pearl jewelry become a senorita more than they would any other woman in the world. Perhaps it is the oddness of these graceful charms that has won the general praise of so many visitors to Old Mexico. The senorita at the opera, with her coquettish fan, her berosed hat, and her gorgeously colored silken gowns, looks very attractive, but at close range only a few of the women have the freshness, the vigor and the clear-cut, refined expressions of American young women of like station."

A Fox's Revenge.

A gentleman out shooting one day came to a river, where he saw six geese beyond shot. He determined to wait for them to approach the shore. While sitting there he saw a fox come down to the shore and stand some time and observe the geese. At length he turned and went into the woods and came out with a very large bunch of moss in his mouth. He then entered the water very silently, sank himself, and then, keeping the moss above the water, himself concealed, he floated among the geese. Suddenly one of them was drawn under the water, and the fox soon appeared on the shore with the goose on his back. He ascended the bank, and found a hole made by the tearing up of a tree. This hole he cleared, placed in it the goose, and covered it with great care, strewing leaves over it. The fox then left; and while he was away the hunter unburied the goose, closed the hole and resolved to wait the issue. In about an hour the fox returned with another fox in company. They went directly to the place where the goose had been buried, and threw out the earth. The goose could not be found. They stood regarding each other for some time, when suddenly the second fox attacked the other most furiously, as if offended by the trick of his friend. During the battle the hunter shot them both.

Love's Omission.

I have whispered my love to the bright stars above,
To the mountains!
To the echoing hills, to the murmuring rills,
To the fountains!
In woodland and vale I've unfolded my tale
Of devotion;
Not a meadow or grove but's aware of my love—
My emotion!

I have spoken as well to each flower in the dell,
The bees ranging
My passion reveal as the honey they steal,
Sweets exchanging.
And the stream as it flows all my ecstasy knows,
Ah, sweet feeling!
To the air, to the sky, my love secrets am I
All revealing.

To the moon shining bright I have breathed my delight,
Ah, my passion!
All below, all above, I've informed of my love
In a fashion;
But though I have cried my desire far and wide,
I'm afraid I
Have yet to impart the true state of my heart—
To the lady!
—"Punch."

A Bad Guess.

A girl in a pale-pink kimona
Picked up a young fellow—a Jonah;
Said she, "Well, for lunch
I'll have reed bird and punch."
"Not much; you'll have beer and bologna."

Diplomacy.

First Boy—It's six o'clock. Let's go home. Second Boy—Nit! If we go home now we'll git licked fer stayin' so late. If we stay till eight we'll git hugged and kissed fer not bein' drowned.—"Puck."

His Ideal.

First Cat—If you had your choice of all the world, where had you rather live? Second Cat—China! They say there is a wall there 1,250 miles long! Just think of moonlight nights—and a wall like that!

Sports and Pastimes

SPORTING NOTE AND COMMENT.

Peterboro Review: The opening lacrosse game in this district will take place next Wednesday, when Belleville plays at Hastings. There seem to be some pretty strong teams in this district, and the winner of it should give any club in the junior C. L.A. a hard struggle for the honors. It is said that on Port Hope's line-up will be many of last season's intermediate twelve, and if so the other teams will have to hustle to beat them. Oshawa will likely have several of last year's bunch to strengthen the junior team, as their senior outfit is composed almost entirely of importations. The T.A.S. is grouped with these two clubs, and with the dozen they have together should make either team move at a fast pace. The Athletics, who have Belleville and Hastings to dispose of, are doing steady practice and may spring a few surprises on the lacrosse public when the championship season begins. Not much is known regarding the make-up of the Hastings or Belleville teams, but reports from these places are to the effect that they have plenty of good material and expect to have a look in when the time arrives.

YACHTING.

Shamrocks Are on the Way.

Gourock, Scotland, May 23. — Sir Thomas Lipton's flotilla, consisting of the Shamrock III., the Shamrock I., the steamyacht Erin and the ocean tug Cruiser, whose combined crews number 170 men, sailed from here for Sandy Hook at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Great crowds of people bade them farewell, flags were everywhere displayed and bands, whistles and sirens, combined with the cheering of the spectators, to give the cup challenger a great send-off.

There was a big gathering of yachts and excursion steamers in Gourock Bay. They all signalled greetings and cheered the fleet. Sir Thomas, on board the Shamrock III., led the cheers in response. A fleet of pleasure steamers accompanied the yachts so far as Arran Island. Before the latter were out of sight Sir Thomas signalled; "Everything possible will be done to uphold the honor of the old flag and carry it to victory. It is the determination of all to merit the signal, 'Well done, Shamrock'."

A reply signalled from the shore was as follows: "Pleasant voyage and speedy return with the Cup."

Sir Thomas is only going a short distance to see the yachts well started. He will sail for New York on the White Star Line steamer Oceanic June 11.

SWELLING OF THE FEET.

HOT, SWOLLEN, ACHING FEET RELIEVED BY FOOT ELM.

Many people suffer a great deal from feet that get hot and swollen, so that they can hardly remove their shoes at night. A free use of Foot Elm in the shoes for a few days will soon bring about a salutary change. The feet will feel cool and comfortable and the swelling gradually disappear. Foot Elm is 25 cents a box, at druggists or by mail. B. I. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont.

LATEST NEW YORK STOCK QUOTATIONS

AS FURNISHED TO THE INTELLIGENCER BY H. R. BEATTIE, STOCK BROKER.

New York, May 29.

Stock	Op'g	H'st	L'st	Close
Twin City	10,⅛	104⅛	103¾	103¾
Atchison	74⅛	74½	73⅝	73¾
do. pref	95¾	95¾	95	95
St. Paul	149⅞	150	148¾	148⅞
Mo. P.	105⅞	106	104¾	104⅞
Union. Pac.	83⅞	84	82⅛	82¾
C.P.R.	125⅝	125⅞	124	124¼
South Pac.	50⅛	50½	49⅛	49⅛
Sou. Ry.	26⅛	27	26⅛	26⅞
Texas	30¼	30¼	30⅛	30⅜
B & O.	88	88⅛	87⅜	87⅜
N. Y. C.	127⅛	127⅛	126	126¼
Penna	127⅛	127⅜	126½	126¾
Reading	48¾	48⅞	48¼	48⅞
Ills.	135⅛	135½	135	135½
Erie	34	34	33¼	33½
do. pref.	67¾	68	66⅛	67⅞
O. & W.	26⅛	26½	26	26
C. O.	39	...	...	....
Manhattan	137⅛	137⅛	137¼	137¼
W. C.	20¼	20⅜	20¼	20¼
L. & N.	112¾	112¾	112	112⅛
Nor.	68	68	67½	67½
C. G. W.	20⅛	20⅞	20⅛	20⅜
W.U.	83⅛	84	83⅛	84
T.C.I.	55	56	54¼	54½
U.S. Steel	31⅜	31⅜	30⅞	31⅛
do pref.	81½	81⅜	81	81⅛
Sugar	122⅜	123	121½	123
A. C. P.	58⅛	58⅛	56⅞	57⅛
Po	100⅞	100¼	100	100¼
B. R. T.	60	60¼	58¾	59⅞
Met.	128⅛	128⅛	128	128⅛
Wab.	25½	26⅛	25½	25⅞
do pref.	45⅛	45⅞	44½	45
Soo	58½	58½	57⅛	57½
R. I.	35	35⅛	33⅞	34⅜
A. F.	37	37¼	6⅛	36⅛

July wheat opened at 76 3-4c, closed at 75c.

July corn opened at 45 3-4c, closed at 45 1-2c.

JUST WHAT YOU NEED.

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets are just what you need when constipated; when you have no appetite, feel dull after eating and wake up with a bad taste in your mouth. They will improve your appetite, cleanse and invigorate your stomach and give you a relish for your food. For sale by all druggists.

BOYS' HOSIERY.

You may not be aware of the fact that Quick & Robertson carry a very large range of Stockings for boys, but such is the case. We have them at all prices from 10c to 50c per pair, and no better values are procurable anywhere. See our Black Cat brand of Hosiery.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

ABOUT CARPETS

Most housekeepers are just now, more or less interested in the carpet question.

Here are a few reasons why they should be specially interested in our assortment.

OUR BUYING facilities are the best—we purchase large quantities direct from the mills for cash.

OUR SELLING—only for cash saving allowances neccessary for bad accounts.

LESS EXPENSE—Being connected with our main store, the cost of running this department is reduced to a minimum.

All mean some little saving on each yard of carpet—considerable on a whole floor.

Our assortment is the most complete in this section of Ontario—if it is a desireable kind or make, it's well represented here—many only here.

It will be a pleasure missed to those who do not see the new spring designs —we will not ask you to buy unless you are entirely satisfied.

We mention a few prices—each one represents, HIGHEST OBTAINABLE VALUE—what all WANT and we HAVE.

—Fine Tapestries, new designs	45 to 85c
—Crossley's Brussel Capets	95c to $1.35
—Wilton's and Axministers	$1.35
—Wool and Union Carpets, 36" wide	25c to $1.00
—Best 3 ply All Wool Carpets, 36" wide, per yard	$1.00

PARASOLS

Style and usefulness both unite to make the parasol a neccessary adjunct with every lady's summer outfit.

You will be pleased not only with the sytle but the prices at which direct buying from headquaters —London, Paris, New York—has enabled us to mark these—you would pay much more for the same values in larger cities.

—Pretty white washable Parasols trimmed with hemstitching and fancy colored flowers—natural wood handle	$1.25
—Plain Navy Silk Parasol —natural wood handle — steel rod — good for rain or shine	$2.50
—Fine White Silk Parasol trimmed with groups of narrow tucks and hemstitching —natural wood handle	$4.75

NECK RUFFS

The summer costume is hardly complete without the finish of a neck ornament.

Need not neccessarily be an expansive one—we have many pretty new styles which are quite "correct" at very moderate prices.

—Fine White Chiffon Ruff with long ties all edged with fine valennciennes lace very pretty	$1.75
—Fine Black Chiffon Ruff with fancy edging and long ribbon trimmed ties - plenty of material	$3.00
—Fine Black Stole Shaped Ruff of spotted net with silk applique shoulder cape —long ties—all edged with fancy chiffon ribbon	$7.50

TO THE YOUNG MAN

The purchase of a new suit is quite an item—must be stylish—perfect fitting—yet withall not too expensive.

The ability of our assortment to meet just such demands is evinced by the number of young men who have found here clothing to please them in every way.

Every dollar you invest here in a suit represents one hundred cents of value—no charge for the superior appearance of our goods.

Summer clothing is now the main feature—of course ours are "up to the minute".

We will be pleased to show you fashions newest—come in.

—A complete range of young men's suits in all newest Tweeds and Worsteds —fancy stripes and overplaids and plain designs—double and single breasted from $5.00 to $15.00

FINE WAISTINGS

Just opened — some very fine with colored silk stripes.

These are exceptionally nice and the very best material obtainable for fine shirts or waists— colors are perfectly fast.

—Fine waist flannels, cream and grey grounds with light silk stripes, 34 inches wide	75c
—Fine French flannels and delaines	45 & 50c

VEILINGS

Finest qualities and newest styles in Veiling always found at our centre counter.

Latest novelities as well as staple qualities— some very pretty pattern Veils just received. These are the most recent New York creations.

—Fine quality veiling in plain and spot net, per yd.	25c
—New pattern veils with embroidered edges, 45" long	60c

NECK WEAR

There are many reasons why the young men come here for there neckwear.

Probably the chief of these is the "newness" and moderate price we ask.

A number of new and pretty patterns have just come to hand for summer wear—some silk some cotton.

—New washable string ties, 12½, 15 and	25c
—Newest four-in-hand ties	50c

Agents for Standard Patterns.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

CLOTHING BOUGHT HERE PRESSED FREE OF CHARGE

JUST CHOOSE FROM

Liberal Selections.

That's all any man has to do when he comes to Quick & Robertson's for his clothes, and as far as fitting him and pleasing him, why, that will take no time at all, because he knows we do things a little different at this store—put more worth in prices and have our clothing built perfect. He knows they are the very best, so all he has to do is to make his choice; and best of all, he can't go wrong, buy what he will—the Quick & Robertson guarantee assures perfect satisfaction.

How about your Spring Suit? Bought it yet? If you haven't we'd like your inspection of our assortment—the $6.50, $8. $10 and $12 lines in particular—attractive singe and double-breasted sacks in latest effects, Cheviots, Cassimeres, Worsteds and Serges—a greater range of patterns than any tailor can show you, made as good as his garments, too, $6.50, $8, $10, $12. Yes, we can give you finer material up to $15, but can't improve on the make very much.

Summer Underwear at Half Price

Hundreds of customers have taken advantage of our great offering in Summer Underwear, but as our purchase from the manufacturer was over 300 dozens we still have a good assortment left. Regular 50c Balbriggan Shirts for .... 25c each.

Belleville's Best Clothing and Furnishing Store.

QUICK & ROBERTSON

Exclusive Agents in this City for Johnston's Famous Clothing.

Other People's Money

We are in business to exchange our different lines of reliable merchandise for other people's money. The buying public seem to appreciate our efforts in this direction as is evidenced by our greatly increased trade. Just at present we would like to show you our

- Garden Hose
- Lawn Mowers
- Refrigerators
- Oil Stoves
- Screen Doors

THE W. W. CHOWN Company. Limited

Orders for bookbinding should be left at this office. It is surprising how nice a volume can be made of these magazines, even though they are somewhat soiled from much handling. Books, magazines, or periodicals bound or rebound in any style at very reasonable prices. Blank books, such as journals, ledgers, day books, with any kind of ruling, made to order. All work warranted first-class. THE INTELLIGENCER, Belleville.

RECENT EVENTS AT HOLLOWAY ST. CHURCH.

THE DEBT GREATLY REDUCED—PLEASING ENTERTAINMENT—ADDRESS TO A PARTING MEMBER.

To the Editor of The Intelligencer:

Dear Sir,—Events worthy of notice hvae lately taken place at Holloway St. Church. Built twenty-six years ago, at a very hopeful period, a debt was contracted, which has been a heavy burden to the congregation of that crowning ornament of West Belleville. It is said that $12,000 has been paid for interest. But by heroic effort and able management the debt has been from time to time reduced, and under the pastorate of the Rev. C. W. Watch it was brought down to $3,200. The returns just made to Conference, through the annual district meeting, show a degree of prosperity not hitherto surpassed. It was, therefore, deemed desirable to extinguish the debt within the next two years. The matter was broached in the Sunday School Committee by the energetic and popular pastor, the Rev. J. R. Real, and the no less energetic and efficient Sunday School superintendent, Mr. W. J. Magrath. They proposed that the Sunday School should raise $1,000, on condition that the Trustees raise the remainder. This plan, after prayerful deliberation, was accepted by both parties, and it was resolved that no part of the Sunday School allotment should be raised by entertainments.

On Victoria Day, after addresses by the Revs. Amos Campbell, Dr. Lambly and Samuel A. Duprau, subscriptions amounting to $1,050 were taken in the Sunday School, payable in two years. The notable feature of the list is the number of liberal subscriptions from the young people, the future officers and workers of this or some other church. The Trustees are at work and report some princely gifts from the east side of the river.

On Tuesday, 26th inst., the Ladies' Aid held a concert, conversazione and exhibition of curios in the Sunday School room. The curios were from Japan, China, Norway, South Africa, New Zealand and Mexico, with rare things from nearer home. Besides local talent, two little performers from Picton took part. Miss Clow gave us sweet songs, and Miss Lillian Mouck, in five delightful recitations, drew our laughter or our tears. Her graceful and touching elocution was marvellous for a child of six summers, who had to stand on a chair to be seen on the platform. But the most memorable event of the evening was the presentation of an address to Mrs. Thomas Lingham, who is leaving the city for Montreal, after a quarter of a century's connection with Holloway St. Church, of which, for many years, her late husband was a prominent official member. The address, with a cut of the church, was printed on a beautiful white satin banner and is given below. Mrs. Lingham made a brief, but feeling, and very appropriate reply.

Yours truly,
WILLIAM TOMBLIN.

THE ADDRESS.

To Mrs. Lydia Lingham,

Dear Sister,—On the eve of your departure from this city, we, the officials and other members of the Methodist Church, Holloway Street, Belleville, Ont., desire most sincerely that you will accept this assurance of the gratitude, esteem and affection with which we review the more than twenty years' connection of yourself and family with this congregation.

We remember gratefully the example and loving service of your honored husband, the faithful steward, who now rests from his labors. We have rejoiced to see your children walk in the truth.

And now, when called to part with you, our sorrow is relieved only by the hope that you may soon return, and that while absent the Almighty may guide and prosper you and yours. We shall not forget your godly example, your patient and hopeful spirit, your cheerful service and your generous liberality. May we all meet in our Father's house.

Signed on behalf of the congregation,

J. R. REAL,
Pastor.
P. F. CANNIFF,
Rec. Steward.

ALL DRUGGISTS WARRANT EVERY BOTTLE.

If troubled with rheumatism, give Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. It will not cost you a cent if it does no good. One application will relieve the pain. It also cures sprains and bruises in one-third the time required by any other treatment. Cuts, burns, frostbites, quinsy, pains in the side and chest, glandular and other swellings are quickly cured by applying it. Every bottle warranted. Price, 25 and 50 cents. For sale by all druggists.

Piles To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles, the manufacturers have guaranteed it. See testimonials in the daily press and ask your neighbors what they think of it. You can use it and get your money back if not cured. 60c a box, at all dealers or EDMANSON, BATES & Co., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Grand Lodge Representatives

At a regular meeting of Belleville Lodge, I.O.O.F., held last evening, Bros. L. C. Pascoe, J. Coon and H. Ransom were elected as representatives to the Grand Lodge, which meets at Hamilton.

The Bridge St. Sacred Concert.

MANY GOOD THINGS PROVIDED FOR A RATHER SMALL AUDIENCE LAST NIGHT.

The size of the audience at the sacred concert in Bridge St. church last night was not commensurate with the merits of the entertainment. Had it been, the big auditorium would have been filled. It was half-past eight when the choir, 30 strong, came filing out. The young ladies of the choir, with two exceptions, were dressed in plain white waists; they were all hatless, and the effect was pleasing, so far as uniformity was concerned. Of course they looked well; the young ladies of Bridge St. choir would look charming, no matter what they wore; beauty, unadorned, you know, is adorned the most. But though the choir were out in force, they certainly did not sing up to their usual form. Perhaps the empty seats acted as a wet blanket. Whatever was the reason, the fact remains that the organization did not do itself justice last night. Their usual striking unanimity of attack was not always in evidence, the tone color was not what it has been on former occasions, and the singers, somehow, did not seem to put their hearts into their work; as a consequence, the singing lacked the vim which usually characterizes Bridge Street's excellent musical organization. They sang three numbers, Sir Arthur Sullivan's "O, Gladsome Light," from the "Golden Legend," being the best. The concluding number was "Lift up your Heads, O ye Gates," from The Messiah, which was something of a disappointment, inasmuch as not long ago they sang the same number in a style which would not do discredit to any amateur choir in Canada. In "O, Gladsome Light" the choir came nearest to its true form, the harmony at times being strikingly beautiful.

The visiting soloist, Mr. David Ross, of Toronto, made a highly favorable impression. He has a good baritone voice, excellently cultivated and under perfect control. There is absolutely no nonsense about Mr. Ross; none of those florid effects which mar so many otherwise good singers. Good enunciation, pleasing and not too showy method, perfectly natural manner and an air of cultured refinement throughout all his numbers combine to make Mr. Ross a singer whose name should be a welcome one on any programme. He has not the robust magnetism of either Watkin Mills or Harold Jarvis, but in a mixed programme he might give one a totally different impression from that obtained last night. Mr. Ross' best number was undoubtedly "Fear ye not, O Israel," though the pretty song, "God's Slumberland," pleased some of the audience very much. In Handel's famous aria, "Why do the Nations Rage," he showed well-nigh perfect flexibility and control.

Mrs. A. G. Parker sang two numbers, the last "Ave Maria," with organ, violin and piano accompaniment, being highly pleasing. Mrs. Parker was in fine voice, and the instrumental accompaniment was tasteful.

Miss Marie Wheler, in "The Marv'lous Work," by Hayden, gave the audience a pleasing bit of vocalization, though Miss Wheler was hardly in her customary good voice. The duet and chorus, "I Waited for the Lord," by Misses Wheler and Vermilyea and the choir, was very good, the duet being especially pleasing.

Miss Vera Riggs played Chopin's Ballade in A flat in a tasteful and charming way.

Mr. Walter Hungerford, as piano accompanist for Mrs. Parker, showed himself to be the possessor of a brilliant touch. His organ solo, Boellman's "Suite Gothique," was was very well rendered, indeed. Mr. Hungerford is a musician.

Prof. Hunt at the organ, both in his solo and the various accompaniments, played with his usual good taste and power, particularly pleasing being the accompaniment to "Across the Sands o' Dee."

Miss Sidna Browne's violin obligato to Mrs. Parker's "Ave Maria" was rendered with the skill and taste which ever characterizes that young lady's playing.

Taken altogether, the concert was an artistic success, and should have been much better patronized.

A Wild Rumor.

A rumor became freely circulated upon the streets last evening and this morning that some one had been drowned from off the upturned sail boat which was picked up near the bay shore yesterday afternoon. Enquiry elicited the information that the report was not true. The boat in question, during the high wind which prevailed, broke away from its moorings near the bay bridge and was carried down the bay.

57—62. THE CRITICAL AGE.

Height of vigor past—nature's power slowing down, vitality less, recuperative power less, endurance less. Stop the progress of decay, tone up the weakened nerve centres, impart vigor to the tiring brain, prepare for the crisis. A means of remarkable potency in the renewal of decreasing vigor is found in Ferrozone. It brightens up the whole being, imparts a sense of power and strength. By the use of Ferrozone old age is pushed back twenty years. Ferrozone gives strength, vigor, endurance, vim. Your druggist has it. Get a box to-day.

COBOURG HAS REAL SOCIAL SENSATION.

HUSBAND OF SOCIETY BRIDE SAID TO BE A BIGAMIST — A TALE OF MAN'S ALLEGED PERFIDY.

(Port Hope Times.)

A scandal which, when it becomes known, will create an intense sensation in the aristocratic society of the drowsy village of Cobourg had its origin in Port Hope a couple of weeks ago. One of the best known young ladies of Cobourg, a leader in all social entertainments, was recently married here and now it is said that her "husband" is "wanted" on a charge of bigamy.

Two weeks ago last Saturday one of the proprietors of the Hotel St. Lawrence was sitting in his office enjoying a cool smoke from one of his best imported cigars, when he was approached by a stranger who made himself known and began a friendly conversation. After chatting for a time the stranger invited the proprietor to retire to the wine room. The talk went on and soon became very confidential. At last the stranger disclosed the fact that he was going to be married that afternoon and asked permission to have the matrimonial knot tied in the drawing room of the hotel. He also requested the handsome proprietor to grace the ceremony with his presence and to affix his signature to the documents as a witness.

This the proprietor was pleased to do and a bell-boy was immediately despatched for a leading divine while the groom procured a license. Everything being in readiness, the proprietor carefully waxed and curled his moustache and attired himself in a wedding garment. It is said that his reflection is still in the mirror, it having got stuck there from constant impression.

The divine arrived, also the prospective husband who brought the issuer of marriage licenses as an additional witness. After all hands had been introduced to the bride the ceremony began. The hotel proprietor was much surprised to behold in the bride a Cobourg young lady who moved in the highest society of that town. After the ceremony the happy couple left for Cobourg.

The story does not end at that. It is now said on good authority that the groom was a married man and that a warrant is out for his arrest on a charge of bigamy.

Chief Douglas when asked about the affair said that he had no official information about a warrant being issued, although he had heard unofficially that that was the case.

A Times reporter also interviewed the Rev. A. G. Sinclair, who is said to have performed the ceremony, but he said he would give nothing for publication, although he admitted that the marriage had taken place and that he was pledged not to say anything about it.

The father of the bride is a well-to-do Cobourg citizen and is said to be much distressed over the affair. He has placed the matter in the hands of a leading Toronto attorney. The groom is said to have a wife and family in Pittsburg and the attorney visited that city in search of evidence.

The marriage has not yet been registered in the Town Hall, but a month is allowed in which to register marriages. This will have to be done by the minister who performed the ceremony.

CHANGEABLE WEATHER.

You must have clothing to suit the different kinds of weather we are getting. Cold or warm, wet or dry, the Oak Hall has the garments to supply your needs. These cool days you want a light overcoat or rainproof coat. We have a splendid assortment.

High Court Proceedings.

Yesterday and to-day the time of the court was taken up in hearing the case of the Deseronto Iron Company vs. the Rathbun Company and the Standard Chemical Company of Toronto. The action is for damages for alleged non-fulfilment of contract to supply charcoal for the plaintiffs' blast furnace. It is alleged that the defendants did not supply a sufficient quantity of charcoal, and also that some was of an inferior quality. Messrs. A. R Aylsworth, K.C., and H. Moss for plaintiff; Messrs. E. D. Armour, K. C., and C. A. Masten for defendants.

WHERE MEDICAL SCIENCE FAILS

to cure rheumatism and all the time you suffer dreadfully, why don't you get a bottle of Polson's Nerviline and try that? Rub it into your stiff joints, sore arms, lame back, bent shoulders—wherever the pain is. Nerviline has cured plenty of people in this way, and that ought to be proof enough that it will cure you too. It is an unusually strong liniment that cures rheumatism in unusually quick time. Best household liniment known. 25 cents.

CARMAN OPERA HOUSE
Monday, June 1st
THE
Fax-Chambers Concert
JAMES FAX (the Prince of Humorists) (in costume).
Mrs. FRANCIS T. CHAMBERS (Contralto)
Mr. FRANCIS T. CHAMBERS (Tenor)
and Chaiaupka Orchestra.
Best seats 35c. Plan at Riggs' Saturday. Subscribers 10 to 1 o'clock

---

You certainly do not know how generally disagreeable you make yourself, or you would stop coughing. No one can read or rest in the same house with you. Can't stop it? Then we must tell you about

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

No medicine like it for stopping coughs, healing sore lungs, quieting inflammation in the bronchial tubes, and preventing serious lung troubles. Ask your doctor if he could give better advice.

J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

"Last fall I contracted a severe cold on my lungs which continued spite of all I could do. I then tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and was quickly relieved. I am now perfectly well."
Miss Emma Miller, Fort Snelling, Minn.

PARIS GREEN NEARLY FIXED THIS FELLOW.

AN INCIDENT WHICH MIGHT WELL BE NOTED BY AMATEUR PAINTERS.

A gentleman tells us an incident which came near having a tragic ending. It appears that a resident of this city was recently doing some painting on his house, and used a paint which was composed largely of paris green. In the morning a bucket full of drinking water had been brought and stood all day in the room the woodwork of which had been painted. Along in the afternoon the man became thirsty and drank freely of the water in the pail, shortly afterwards being taken with vomiting and developing symptoms of paris green poisoning. A doctor pulled him through, but he was a very sick man for some hours. People who have to use paris green in their business might well make a note of this incident.

CHARTERED ACCOUNTANTS' EXAMINATIONS ARE BEING HELD HERE.

The examinations of the Institute of Chartered Accountants are being held simultaneously in Toronto and at the Ontario Business College here. They began at nine o'clock Thursday morning and will be finished this evening. Mr. J. W. Johnson, F.C.A., is conducting the examinations in Belleville.

The Band Concert.

Despite the fact that the evening was exceptionally cool and the wind blowing freshly from off the bay, there were a goodly number at the park to listen to the first band concert of the season. The programme furnished gave general satisfaction. There is no doubt but these concerts will prove as attractive the coming season as ever.

MEN'S SUMMER UNDERWEAR.

May is well gone and its safe to buy your underwear now if you have not already done so. Many have, as our sales prove, this being the largest season we have ever had up to date. But our stock still holds out, have enough to go around. We invite your inspection. The Globe Clothing House. 29-3t

Fire in a School House.

On Tuesday the school house situated in the Village of Plainfield was damaged by fire. It is thought that fire crackers caused the blaze. The loss is covered by insurance in the Perth Mutual.

PERFECT CURE FOR BRONCHITIS.

This disease can be treated only by a remedy carried to the affected parts along with the air breathed, for nature intended these organs for the passage of air alone, and sprays, atomizers and internal medicines utterly fail. But Catarrhozone doesn't fail, for it goes wherever the air breathed goes, and its healing antiseptic vapor is sure to reach every affected part. Catarrhozone is inhaled at the mouth and after passing through every air cell of the breathing organs is slowly exhaled through the nostrils. Catarrhozone protects and heals the inflammation and perfectly cures all bronchial affections. Price $1. Small size 25c. Druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Advertisements under this heading TWO CENTS A WORD; subsequent consecutive insertions ONE CENT A WORD. No less charged as less than twenty-five words.

The various Civic Committees will meet this evening.

Fax-Chambers Concert Monday next, June first.

A drunk was picked up on the park last evening by the police.

Prof. J. H. DeSilberg, optician from Germany, will be at A. L. Geen's drug store on Monday, June 1st, and until noon of Thursday, June 4th. Eyes tested free of charge. Those having weak or imperfect eyes should not fail to consult the Professor. 8m29,30,j1,2&wm21,28

A large band of gypsies passed through the city this morning, travelling eastward.

There are 50 great soloists in Ringling Brothers' famous military concert band, and their selections, accompanied by a mammoth 68-stop cathedral pipe organ, have never been equalled.

Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

Wanted.—A boy at The Intelligencer Office to learn the printing trade. 29-3t

Next Monday evening, June first, in the Carman Opera House, James Fax and Mr. and Mrs. Chambers will present a superb programme.

Among the interesting animals in Ringling Brothers' zoological display this season is "Baby Boo," the only baby elephant born and successfully reared in America; two splendid specimens of the practically extinct giraffe, two horned horses, several Royal Bengal tigers, a bi-horned rhinoceros, the only one in captivity, and many other animals, including forty trained elephants.

Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

Music lovers should not miss the Fax-Chambers Concert, Monday, June first.

The rarest of all wild beasts is the rhinoceros, and the only one in captivity is in the menagerie of Ringling Bros.' World's Greatest Shows. Naturalists estimate this specimen as beyond price, and scientists, explorers and students have come from all parts of the world to inspect the curious beast. The educational value of a visit to this menagerie cannot be overstated.

Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

In yesterday's issue a local appeared, announcing the Fax-Chambers Concert for June 15th. It is a mistake. Monday, June 1st, is the date.

Bridge St. Methodist Sunday School will afford our citizens an opportunity of having an outing on Dominion Day at their annual excursion to 10 O'Clock Point Park.

June first, next Monday, is the date of the Fax-Chambers Concert.

In the Justice Shop.

Alleged Assault.

Wm. Stevenson was charged with assaulting and using abusive language to Mrs. Sarah Smith. The case was in progress this afternoon. Mr. Carnew appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. McMahon for the defendant.

ESTABLISHED 1870.

SUMMER HAT STYLES

See the latest braids in Gents' American Straws at - $1.00

S. A. HYMAN & CO.

GLASSGOW WAREHOUSE.

ON SALE SATURDAY NIGHT.

White India Linens

AT

13c yd.

NOTICE

To the numerous enquiries which we have had from parties who secured some of these goods at our previous sale—and from others who were unable to be waited upon—during the sale, that we have been fortunate in securing another small lot of 30 pieces of these FINE INDIA LINENS which we will place on sale Saturday Evening at 7.30 o'clock.

13 cts. a yd.

These goods are sold all over at 25c a yard.

Laidlaw & Ketcheson

DIRECT IMPORTERS

Daily Intelligencer.

THE INTELLIGENCER IS SOLD AT
J. W. London's and G. Wardhaugh's.

Local Reading Advertisements, words 50 cents; 2 cents per word first insertion, 1 c per word subsequent consecutive insertions. Headlines count as 12 words; contracts for long periods made at office.

Choice
Bakery
Goods

MADE FRESH EVERY DAY.
One of the many nice things we make is "Orange Sponge" 10c each. Have one.

CHAS. S. CLAPP

RUBBER GOODS

Our stock of Rubber Goods is up-to-date in every particular and the quality of everything is as good as the assortment is complete. Some Rubber Goods are made to sell only. None of those come here. We carry the kind that are made to give long and satisfactory service. We also see to it that you get right prices.

Hot Water Bottles
Bulb and Fountain Syringes
Sick Room Supplies.

McKeown's DRUG STORE

NEW SPRING GOODS

LATEST DESIGNS IN
SPRING TROUSERING.

Spring Overcoating. A nice Line of Waterproof Overcoating, Tweeds and Serges at reasonable prices by the yard.

Call and inspect my stock before ordering your Spring Clothing.

ARTHUR McGIE,
Merchant Tailor.
Front Street.

He who foresees calamities suffers them twice over.

Sterling Silver
and Cut Glass.

Particular attention is directed to my stock of the above goods, which at present is most attractive. I handle the renowned Gorham Silver and Hawkes Cut Glass Ware, being sole agent for this city. These are the best and prices are moderate.

T. BLACKBURN.

Specials for the Week

Ladies Print Wrappers, $1.50, $1.25, $1.00, 85c, 75c and 59c.
Ladies' Black Sateen Blouses, $1.25, $1.00, and 89.
Ladies' White and Cream Summer Vests, with and without sleeves, 15c, 10c and 5c.
Ladies' Cotton Hose, plain and ribbed, 10c.
Ladies' Black and White Silk, Lisle Thread and Cotton Gloves, 50c, 25c, 15c and 10c pair.
Black Ribbon Belts, 25c, 30c and 40c.
Black Ribbon Belting, by yard, 35c.
Window Screens, 25c, 20c and 17c each.
300 Men's and Boys' Caps, travellers' samples, 15c each.
Step Ladders from 4 to 8 ft, best make.
Children's Go-Carts and Waggons cheap.
1 lb. Corn Starch 6c.
1 lb. Laundry Starch, 6c.
40c bottles Violet Toilet Water 23c.
10c Big Champion Bar Soap, 3 for 25c.
Fish Poles, Fish Hooks, Lines, etc., at all prices.
Mrs. Potts' Sad Irons, per set 79c.
Hammocks, $3.50, $2.50, $2.00, $1.25, $1.00 and 75c.
Wash Tubs and Wash Boards cheap.
No. 9 Tin Tea Kettles, 49c.
No. 9 Copper Kettles, Nickle Plated, 99c.
See our special 6 piece Bedroom Set, $1.79.
Beef, Iron and Wine (Wyeth's) 59c.
Large Bottle Glycerine, 8c.

McINTOSH BROS.

What Became of the Pompeiians?

MAX NORDAU raises an interesting question concerning Pompeii. He writes as follows to the "Neue Freie Presse" (Vienna):

"One thing has always been a puzzle to me. Here was a flourishing city of about 30,000 inhabitants, most of whom evidently were well-to-do. A few hundreds, at most, lost their lives in the destruction of the city; the rest escaped. The eruption of Vesuvius continued only a few days, after which the district returned to its usual placid condition. In many places the deposit of ashes and lava was only a yard thick, and it was not more than three yards thick at any point yet excavated.

"How did it happen that these 30,000 homeless persons showed no desire to return to their beautiful houses, so well built that they are standing to this day, and which could have been restored, at the time, with very little labor? Why did they not make the slightest attempt to regain their valuable property in land and buildings, furniture, bronze, gold, silver and jewels? Did the men of that time have so little love of home that they could leave it without a backward glance at the first unpleasantness? Were the Pompeiians so rich that the loss of their perfectly appointed homes appeared trivial to them, so that they preferred settling elsewhere to restoring their city? Or did superstition prevent the attempt?

"This indifferent renunciation of their patrimony by a whole cityful is to me an insoluble enigma which forces itself the more strongly upon my attention now as I walk along the finely paved streets between houses which need only new roofs to make them again habitable."

For Sale—An Island Kingdom.

The chance is now open to any millionaire to own an island kingdom or to become a Highland lord and live in an historic castle. The advertisement offering these estates appeared in some United States newspapers, and was signed by the business agent of the Duke of Argyll.

"The Island Kingdom of Tiree," as the advertisement calls it, is one of the Inner Hebrides, an island about thirteen miles long and nowhere more than six miles wide. It is only twenty feet above the level of the sea, and there are hardly any trees on it; but the land is mostly fertile, and the tenants, who live by farming, cattle-raising and fishing, pay the duke rentals aggregating more than fifteen thousand dollars a year.

"Excellent winter bathing, good golf links, splendid beaches, safe bathing and good sea-fishing" are some of the island's attractions that might be expected to appeal to a purchaser.

Inverary Castle, Argyllshire, the ancestral abode of the Dukes of Argyll, is also advertised; but it is not an ancient building. The oldest part of it dates back to a period not earlier than 1750, and much of the castle has been rebuilt since 1877.

The scenes pictured by Scott in the "Legend of Montrose" were supposed to have taken place in what is known as the "old" castle, which stood near the sea and has been quite swept away. No such romantic interest attaches to the present castle.

But the man who buys the island kingdom of Tiree—or Tyree, as some of the books call it—will probably find in modern fiction a good many allusions to it. From the novels of William Black alone might be compiled a pretty good guide-book to the Hebrides, islands that, as another admirer has said, are "beautiful in calm, wonderful in storm."

President Loubet's Wardrobe.

A correspondent of the "Cri de Paris" has ascertained certain facts in regard to President Loubet's wardrobe which are being copied with extraordinary avidity by the Parisian and provincial press. It seems that M. Loubet has five Prince Albert coats—two for summer, two for winter, and one extra for grand occasions. This last one has been worn only three times—at the opening of the exposition of 1900, at the reception of the King of Sweden, and at the garden party in honor of the Shah of Persia. This "gala" coat differs from the others in that it has heavy silk lining and lapels. M. Loubet invariably wears a plain, black satin tie—not tied by hand, but sewn together and attached with a clasp. M. Loubet used formerly to wear false cuffs, but one day, while making a sudden gesture, the right-hand cuff slipped off and rolled on the floor. This happened at the Luxembourg Palace, when M. Loubet was president of the Senate. Since then, M. Loubet's shirts have been made with permanently attached wristbands. M. Loubet's trousers are very peculiar. They are black or gray in color, but their cut is of the old-fashioned pattern, with the top of the trousers coming up as high as the armpits. M. Loubet has always worn trousers of this quaint type, and is so accustomed to them that he has an inveterate dislike for evening clothes, which, with low-cut, open waistcoat, render the armpit trousers impossible. The president's wardrobe is, however, provided with several pairs of evening trousers suitable for low-cut, open waistcoats.

Australia's Governor-General.

It is feared in some quarters that the Earl of Hopetoun will not be able to complete his term as Governor-General of Australia. His Lordship has never entirely shaken off the effects of the illness which prostrated him in India on his way out to Australia, and though he was really prominent as the host of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall, he has since, owing to his unsatisfactory health, been unable to fulfill many of his public engagements.

Proof Adduced.

"Everybody says the baby is just like me."

"What nonsense. Why, it hasn't said a word since it was born."

A Hopeless Case.

"Are the Guggletons in such reduced circumstances?" "Oh, yes. Why, I understand they are obliged now to live within their income."—N.Y. "Life."

WHERE MONEY CAME FROM

Col. Matheson Says Gamey Bribe Came From Shannon Deal.

"Cap." Sullivan Complained to Friends That He Had to Give the Money Up to the Government—House Issues an Order to Produce Capt. Sullivan Before the Public Accounts Committee on Tuesday Next.

Toronto, May 29.—In the Public Accounts Committee of the Legislature yesterday morning, the Chairman, Mr. Graham, announced that he had received a message from Mr. Wood, manager of the Canada Central Loan and Savings Company, that he desired to consult his solicitor before producing the Sullivan papers asked for.

Where Gamey Money Came From.

Col. Matheson.—"I do not believe that Sullivan got that money for his own use. I believe this Government or members of it got the greater portion of that money, and I further believe, and I say I have a strong suspicion, that the three thousand paid to Gamey came out of that money. I am satisfied that the Government and their supporters are trying to balk this inquiry. I know that Sullivan has been complaining very bitterly among his own friends at not getting this money. It was taken from him by members of the Government."

Should Be Specific.

Mr. Latchford — Mr. Matheson should be more specific or not make the statement at all.

Col. Matheson—You get your bank manager here and I will show you.

Mr. Latchford—He will be here; he was only summoned yesterday.

Col. Matheson—In the last days of the session you are fighting for time.

Mr. Latchford—We are not fighting for time, and I do not think there is any disposition on the part of the manager to delay or defer action at all.

A motion by Mr. Hugh Clark that Mr. R. A. Grant be summoned to appear before the committee to-morrow and produce papers in connection with the Rutherford limit was objected to, and an amendment by Mr. A. G. Mackay changing the time till Tuesday was carried.

Col. Matheson moved to report Mr. Wood's absence to the House and recommending that the House issue an order to compel his attendance to-day (Friday).

Mr. A. G. Mackay moved in amendment that the committee adjourn till Tuesday next and that Mr. Wood then appear.

The amendment was carried by 15 to 8, a straight party vote.

IN THE LEGISLATURE.

House Orders the Appearance of Capt. John Sullivan on Tuesday Next.

Toronto, May 29.—In the Legislature yesterday afternoon Col. Matheson moved:

"That, inasmuch as it appears by the second report of the Committee on Public Accounts that Capt. John Sullivan of St. Catharines was summoned (notified) to appear before the said committee, and that he has neglected or refused to appear, that the House do order the said Capt. John Sullivan to appear before the said Committee on Public Accounts on Tuesday, the second day of June next at 10 o'clock in the forenoon for examination respecting the Shannon limit in Rutherford and to produce all papers in connection therewith, and that this order be served on John Sullivan."

Col. Gibson objected to the recital of the motion and after some discussion over the matter between the Attorney-General, the mover and Mr. Whitney it was struck out and the motion ordering Capt. Sullivan to appear was carried.

Some questions of local import to the members questioning were answered.

Mr. Smyth (Algoma) was granted an order for correspondence between the Government and James A. Browning of Bellingham, Ont., relating to the imprisonment of the latter on a charge of obtaining property under false pretences.

Power Bill Amended.

In committee, the House took up the Premier's power bill, when the Premier moved an amendment providing that when the production of electrical energy is undertaken the debentures shall be issued for forty years and when only transmission is undertaken the debentures shall run for twenty years. The bill was also amended to provide that when only municipalities are interested it shall have the power of saying how many commissioners shall be appointed to construct the works.

The Premier's bill, respecting taxation of patented lands in New Ontario, was also amended by adding a proviso that the owner of such lands may produce a certificate from the sheriff of the district that the lands are in actual occupation as farming land in order to claim exemption.

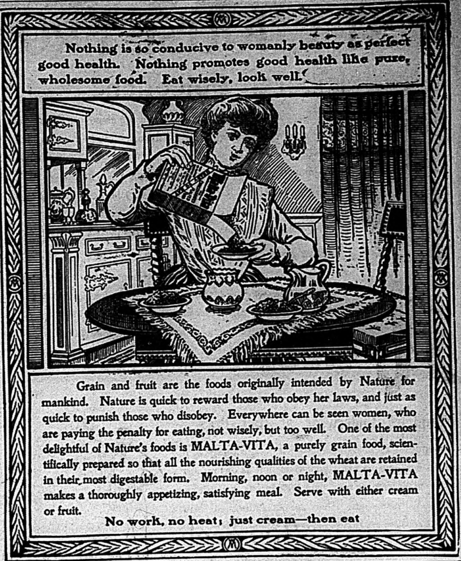
A number of bills passed the committee stage, and others were read a second and third time.

The House then went into supply. The sum of $88,597 was voted for public works. Other items passed were: To meet unforseen expenses, $50,000; to defray the expenses of legislation, public institutions, maintenance and the salaries of the officers of the Government and civil service for the month of January, 1904, $80,000.

Hon. Mr. Stratton introduced a bill to amend the Industrial Schools Act, and Hon. Mr. Gibson introduced one to amend the Judicature Act.

Edison Joins Marconi.

New York, May 29.—Thomas A. Edison has joined forces with Inventor Marconi in wireless telegraphy as a member of the company's board of technical directors.



Nothing is so conducive to womanly beauty as perfect good health. Nothing promotes good health like pure, wholesome food. Eat wisely, look well.

Grain and fruit are the foods originally intended by Nature for mankind. Nature is quick to reward those who obey her laws, and just as quick to punish those who disobey. Everywhere can be seen women, who are paying the penalty for eating, not wisely, but too well. One of the most delightful of Nature's foods is MALTA-VITA, a purely grain food, scientifically prepared so that all the nourishing qualities of the wheat are retained in their most digestable form. Morning, noon or night, MALTA-VITA makes a thoroughly appetizing, satisfying meal. Serve with either cream or fruit.

No work, no heat; just cream—then eat

Bad Teeth

make the breath bad and the mouth bad, and the stomach bad, and make your temper bad when you notice your friends drawing away from you. Care of the teeth is the only remedy. Have a dentist fix them if you can, but brush them anyway, night and morning, with our

CREME DENTIFRICE IN TUBES.

It cleans off the tartar, makes the teeth white, retards decay, sweetens the mouth and breath, hardens the gums and makes your whole mouth healthier. 25c a tube.

We also have some splendid Tooth Brushes at 25c each, guaranteed.

ALEX. RAY

Bank of Montreal

ESTABLISHED 1817

Capital and Rest, All Paid Up.
$20,000,000
(Twenty Millions.)

Savings Bank Department

Interest on sums of $4.00 and upwards allowed at current rates.

A. G. PARKER,
Manager Belleville Branch

At Wallbridge & Clarke's

OLIVES

Wallbridge & Clarke offer a large assortment of fancy Olives of the finest quality in bottles at 10 to 50c per bottle.

SPANISH QUEEN OLIVES—
Crosse & Blackwell's
at 20 and 40 cts.

SPANISH QUEEN OLIVES—Club House Brand
at 20 and 40 cts.

SPANISH QUEEN OLIVES—
Selected
at 20, 35 and 50 cts.

MANZANILLA OLIVES—
at 10 and 20 cts.

STUFFED OLIVES—
Manzanilla Olives pitted and stuffed with pimentos (Spanish Sweet Pepper).
at 15, 25 and 40 cts.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE
Est. 1871
BRIDGE STREET
Branch store Front St.

Flowers & Vegetables
Of all kinds in season.
...AT...
J. D. COLLIP'S.
Phone 205.

Bargains for Saturday Night

If you want a cheap article come in Saturday Night and see our three special lines we have on sale.

SILKS

A number of small ends of silk in stripes, checks and fancy patterns, to clear at - - - - 37c a yd.

ZEPHER GINGHAMS

A large assortment of these in stripes, suitable for ladies' and children's blouses, regular 15c and 18c, Saturday Night - - - - - - - - - - 11c.

CORSET COVERS

Any of our 25 and 35c Corset Covers, Lace and Embroidery trimmed for - - - - - 19c

NATHAN JONES.

The Finnegan Carriage & Wagon Co.

—FOR—

Stylish and Durable Turnouts.

—Surreys
—Corning Buggies
—Piano Box Buggies
—Rubber Tire Buggies
—Micadoes
—Phaetons
—Bike Buggies
—Democrats
—Grocer Wagons
—Butcher Wagons

Cheese Factory Milk Wagons.
Steel Tubular Axle Lumber Wagons.

Rubber Tires put on your old wheels at reasonable prices.

Mill St., - - Belleville.

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE
FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

The Daily Intelligencer.

LET THERE BE HARMONY IN THINGS ESSENTIAL — LIBERALITY IN THINGS NON ESSENTIAL — CHARITY IN ALL.

VOL. 37. BELLEVILLE, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, MAY 30, 1903 NO. 25

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine
Carter's
Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of
Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

Senator O'Brien Dead.

Montreal, May 30.—After an illness of eleven months, Hon. Joseph O'Brien died yesterday about 1 o'clock. Senator O'Brien was born at Aughnagar, Ireland, in 1836, and amassed a very large fortune as a wholesale clothier. In fact, his estate is valued at over a million dollars. He was called to the Senate in 1895 and was a very close friend of Sir Mackenzie Bowell.

Sailed in the Clouds.

Paris, May 30.—During play on the Polo Grounds in the Bois de Boulogne, Santos-Dumont on his balloon, No. 9, appeared unexpectedly over the players and descended in front of the clubhouse. He reascended later, and after executing a number of manoeuvres at a height of 500 feet, he returned to the balloon shed at Neuilly.

TOWN OF FRANK MUST MOVE

Geologists Report That Turtle Mountain Still Menaces.

Recent Disaster Due to a Combination of Causes—Ground Between Two Remaining Adjoining Peaks is Badly Fractured, But the Method of Its Falling Away Depends on Future Conditions That Cannot Be Foretold.

Ottawa, May 30.—The report of Messrs. McConnell and Brock, the geologists, who carefully explored Turtle Mountain, to Sir William Mulock, contains the following statements:

"The base of Turtle Mountain consists of beds of shales and sandstones of the cretaceous age, the upper precipitous portion of beds of carboniferous limestone. The line of separation between the two series is the plane of a thrustfault, along which the lower beds are highly contorted and shattered. In addition to dangerously steep slopes, the shattering due to faulting and the easy separation of rock slabs along bedding planes, Turtle Mountain is further weakened by several series of jointing plants which traverse it in various directions.

"The disaster was due to a combination of causes, cumulative in their effects. The chief of these was the structure and condition of the mountain, aided by exceptional atmospheric conditions, and in all probability by the weakening of the mountain as a result of mining operations.

"The ground between and adjoining the two remaining peaks is badly fractured. This fractured zone surrounding the old break is bound to fall away, but whether it falls gradually and in comparatively harmless blocks, or in large, destructive masses, depends upon future conditions which cannot be foretold. The fissures about the north peak render the tunnel and lower portion of the town unsafe. The safety of Frank depends upon the stability of the shoulder from the north peak. Apparently it is still secure, but the fissures some distance back from the north peak may extend far enough north to weaken this shoulder. If these fissures show any sign of movement, the town ought at once to be evacuated. A succession of seasons with unusually heavy precipitation and rapid changes of temperature, a slight earthquake shock, or creeping in the mine upon drawing the mined coal away might cause a jar that will dislodge this shoulder and start it on a career of destruction. Since this possibility must always overhang the town, it would seem advisable to move it a short distance up the valley beyond the reach of danger."

FIRE FIEND HOLDS CARNIVAL.

Another Quebec Village Devastated—Other Blazes.

Marieville, Que., May 30.—Fire wiped out over sixty dwellings and caused a loss of over $100,000 Thursday night. The blaze started in a hay barn at the south of the village, and, fanned by a very heavy wind, spread rapidly to the many wooden buildings nearby. The inhabitants were asleep and many of them had to make their escape clad only in their night attire. Within half an hour the houses on three streets were burning fiercely and Montreal was asked for assistance. As there is no water service in the village, however, it was useless to send engines. The villagers got together and organized bucket brigades, and after a hard and distracting battle with the flames, finally got them under control at 2.30 Friday morning.

Montreal.—A large hay storehouse owned by Crowe & Son, ten C.P.R. freight cars, several sheds and a dwelling house were destroyed early Friday morning at a loss of $50,000.

Gainsboro, N.W.T.—The Northern elevator, with 4,000 bushels of wheat, was burned Friday morning: cause unknown.

Against the Railway.

Ottawa, May 30.—The jury on the coroner's inquest into the cause of death of little Ferdinand Potvin, killed on the C.P.R. tracks last Saturday, returned a verdict describing the death and finding that "if proper fences were erected and maintained on the said track, the accident might have been avoided."

Escapes Murder Charge.

St. John, N.B., May 30.—Peter Devine was tried in County Court yesterday on the charge of killing John Mangan at Masquash on election day, last month. The men were fighting, and both went over a bank, Mangan's neck being broken. The jury acquitted Devine.

SINCLAIR'S AD SINCLAIR'S AD.

SINCLAIR'S

Saturday Night Sale.

Here's six special lines we offer for Saturday Night Shopping.

45 Ladies' Dress Skirts from $4.50 to $6.50, made of All Wool goods, this season's styles, will sell your choice for	$2.85
2 dozen $1 50 Black Mercerized Underskirts, made with a 15 inch Flounce and Narrow Ruffle will sell for	95c ea.
15 dozen 25c to 35c Fine Ribbed Cashmere Hose, sizes 6½ to 8½ inches, will sell for	17c a pr.
300 yards of 45 inch Victoria Lawn, will sell for	8c per yd.
200 yards of 45 inch India Linen, our regular 20c quality will sell for	14c per yd.

Your Choice of One Table of Muslins

Prints, Ginghams, Ducks and Drills form 12½c to 25c per yard, about 1500 yards to choose from for 10c yard.

D. V. Sinclair & Co.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

A Day of Routine in the Local Assembly—Bills Passed.

Toronto, May 30.—Mr. Harcourt's bill to amalgamate the educational boards of Toronto passed the committee stage of the Legislature yesterday and the principle of the bill was accepted without opposition.

The bill respecting the assessment of the property of James Playfair in the town of Midland was considered in committee, but it will come up again.

Col. Matheson moved the second reading of his bill respecting wages weekly instead of fortnightly or monthly, and applied only to companies. Lumbermen on the drive or in the woods are not included. There were cries of "lost" from both sides of the House and Col. Matheson did not press it.

Mr. Pense's bill to amend the General Road Companies' Act was read a second time.

Second readings were also given the following bills: The Statute Law Amendment Act, 1903 (Gibson); to amend the Municipal Act (Gibson).

The following bills were read a third time: To amend the High School Act (Harcourt); to amend the Children's Protection Act (Gibson); respecting the Hamilton and Caledonian Railway Company (Holmes); to incorporate the Stratford Radial Railway Company (Brown); respecting the International Transit Company (Conmee); providing for the construction of works of improvement along the bank of the Upper Niagara River (Ross); respecting the Township of Pelee (Auld).

Dr. Nesbitt was granted an order for correspondence, papers, etc., appertaining to road grants on Warren and Markstey roads.

The Commissioner of Crown Lands has decided on the names of 56 of the new townships to be surveyed this summer. The townships are named after prominent legislators, clergymen and business men.

The Bruce mines and Algoma Railway is applying for a land grant of 7,400 acres a mile for 100 miles of road.

Will Extend Water Works.

A deputation from Kingsmill waited on the Provincial Secretary, and asked for an order-in-council to enable the town to expend $10,000 in extending its water works system without submitting a bylaw to the people. The order-in-council will be passed.

Conmee Act Saved.

Toronto, May 30.—In the Municipal Committee yesterday, Mr. Joseph Downey's bill to repeal the Conmee sections of the Municipal Act was thrown out by a vote of 21 to 6. Nineteen members of the committee were absent. All who voted for the bill were Conservatives, and one Conservative only, Mr. Hoyle, voted against the bill. All the absentees were Conservatives. Mr. Downey made a strong fight for his bill.

DEATH OF ROBERT MANSON.

Sad End of Respected Career—Stock Markets the Cause.

Toronto, May 30.—The vagaries of the stock market are said to have been responsible for the untimely death of Robert Manson yesterday. Arising at an early hour, as was his habit, he was found in his garden later, dead. An ugly gash across the throat told the story of a tragedy.

Manson was a little over 50 years of age, and had been a resident of Toronto nearly all his life. Some years ago he retired from his business as a butcher. About a year ago, he commenced to play the stock market, and became a well known and respected figure in the downtown brokers' offices. But fate dealt hardly with him, and his acquaintances on the street say that his losses recently were very heavy, one estimating them at $40,000.

These financial reverses and the worry and strain consequent on the relentless downward trend of stock values in which he was interested, accentuated by ill-health of long standing, evidently preyed upon his mind, and caused him to destroy himself

Mr. Manson is survived by a widow and one son, in the Niagara district.

O.J.C. Spring Races.

Toronto, May 30.—Sixth Day, Friday, the weather was clear and the track fast.

First Race—3-year-olds and over, 5½ furlongs, Tax Man 1, Fitz Briller 2, Sly Boots 3.

Second Race—Tally Ho Steeplechase, 2 miles, Daryl 1, Billy Ray 2, Arius 3.

Third Race—3-year-olds and up, 1 1-16 miles, Bank Street 1, Scortic 2, Andy Williams 3.

Fourth Race—3-year-olds and over, May Handicap, ¾ mile, Cobourg 1, Basuto 2, Oil in the Can 3.

Fifth Race—2-year-olds, ⅝ mile, St. Juvenal 1, Nimble Dick 2, J. I. Mc. 3.

Sixth Race—3-year-olds and up, 1 mile, Wheeler B. 1, Frank McKee 2, Tommy Hill 3.

Palma Trophy on July 11.

London, May 30.—The international competition for the Palma trophy will be shot off July 11, the opening day of the Bisley meeting. Six teams have entered, including teams from the United States and France.

Sifton Coming Home.

Ottawa, May 30.—Hon. Clifford Sifton sails for home on the Celtic on June 12.

THE COLLINGWOOD MURDER.

Authorities Have Made Absolutely No Progress in Securing Fiend.

Collingwood, May 30.—The authorities have made no progress in the search for the man who slew little Glory Whalen Wednesday morning. The exciting clews of the first few hours proved of no consequence. Circumstantial evidence pointed in several directions. The process of elimination rapidly wiped out these suspicions.

An Assyrian peddler is under arrest here. He was caught near Duntroon yesterday afternoon. An unknown man is detained at Beeton, and another at Thornbury. The man secured at Thornbury is an Assyrian, who passed through Collingwood Tuesday, and during an altercation drew a revolver and threatened Paddy Burnes. The Beeton suspect got himself into trouble by assuming to give all the details of the murder, and coming from this vicinity, while the Duntroon man is the Assyrian peddler who appeared at the Kendall home about noon of the day of the tragedy, offering notions for sale.

Provincial Detective Greer arrived at noon yesterday, and is working on the case. He said last night that it looks like a stern case, and a long one, with absolutely nothing to guide the officers in their search for the guilty man, as the situation stands at present.

2,000 PEOPLE HOMELESS.

And 10,000 Likely to Be Early This Morning.

Topeka, Kan., May 30.—At 9.30 o'clock last night the water had surrounded the whole of North Topeka. More than 2,000 people are homeless. The river is rising fast, and it is estimated that by noon fully 10,000 will be homeless. The Union Pacific station is flooded.

Floods in the South.

Kansas City, Mo., May 30.—The rains and floods have caused enormous damage to railroads throughout this and neighboring states. The lowlands for miles around are submerged, and hundreds of families have been driven from their homes. The train service is in a deplorable condition. At Des Moines, Iowa, the river reached the highest point in the Government records, when it touched 21 feet and 3-10 above low water mark. In the city alone the flood loss will be fully $500,000. A break in the levee Friday morning inundated two hundred fine residences in North Des Moines. At Abilene, Kansas, the water swept through the streets Friday night, doing $100,000 damage.

DOWN TO THE SEA IN SHIPS.

Only Some of the Passengers and Crew of Oakland Saved.

Cooktown, Queensland, May 30.—The overdue German steamer Watjen has been towed into port at Hall Sound, New Guinea, with the loss of her foremast, mainmast and rudder. About 15,000 packages of her cargo were jettisoned. The Watjen saved eight of the crew of the barque Piric, Puget Sound to Port Pirie, which was totally wrecked on the Nereus shoals. The captain of the Edith and ten of the crew are missing.

Sydney, N. S. W.—The British steamer Oakland foundered yesterday. Some of the passengers and crew were saved.

Cherbourg, France.—The body of a sailor belonging to the coasting steamer Ville de Cherbourg has been washed ashore, and all hope of the vessel has been given up.

Houghton, Mich. — Capt. Patrick Gordon of the barge Maxwell was washed overboard and drowned. He was a lake sailor for 40 years.

JUST LIKE SLAVERY DAYS.

Negress Held in Servitude, Horribly Ill-Used, and Dies.

Chicago, May 30.—A despatch from Montgomery, Ala., says: Witnesses before the federal grand jury testified that death resulted from the punishment accorded a negro woman who was held in servitude on one of the farms. This woman, accused of being rebellious, and because she could not pile for burning the brush cut by a dozen men, was laid across a log and given 100 lashes. Still showing a rebellious spirit, her hands were tied and the rope thrown over a limb of a tree and pulled up so as to leave it barely possible for her toes to touch the ground. The woman died two days later.

F. M. Pruett, a liveryman of Good Water, was arrested, charged with conspiracy to sell Edward Moody, a negro, to J. W. Pace.

Ontario Man Robbed.

Montreal, May 30.—Ulrich Borgua, a telegraph operator at Exchange Hotel, is under arrest, charged with stealing one thousand dollars from John Tinkers, a well-known cattle dealer from Lunenburg, Ont. Borgua and Tinkers had been making merry, and the latter had gone to the former's house for the night. When he awoke Thursday morning his money was gone. Borgua is held for trial.

Woman Burned to Death.

Sydney, N. S., May 30.—Mrs. William Smith was burned to death yesterday at her home at Barachois on the north shore of Cape Breton. She wore light clothing, which ignited, and being alone, the flames enveloped her before assistance arrived.

MAY BE GENERAL ELECTION.

British Government May Go to Country This Year.

Chamberlain Believes in the Success of His Preferential Policy and is "Really Excited"—Sir Edward Grey Says Colonial Secretary Means Protection—Germany Seriously Thinks That Balfour-Chamberlain Move Means Business

London, May 29.—Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's protectionist policy is the all-prevailing topic of discussion here. His assertion that he would make reciprocal trade between the Mother Country and her colonies the question of the hour, has been sensationally fulfilled. Columns of comment fill the afternoon newspapers, and every one is asking, "Does it mean dissolution?" Some people maintain that the government contemplates appealing to the country on preferential trade and old age pensions immediately after the close of the present session of parliament, at the beginning of August, while others maintain that the government has not the slightest intention of giving up its unexpired term of office.

The Telegraph, generally semi-inspired, says: "The issue could not be voted on for at least eighteen months, but, in the meantime, the government will give the country and parliament every opportunity to discuss it."

A definite decision will probably be arrived at soon, and it will depend almost entirely on the result of the propaganda now undertaken by the press and the members of the House of Commons. If the indications show that Mr. Chamberlain is likely to have the country at his back, a general election at the end of this year is extremely probable.

The Colonial Secretary himself is doubtful if he could win out just at present, but he is enthusiastically positive that with political agitation the constituencies can be brought to see the wisdom of his policy. Those who have discussed the preferential scheme with its author say he never exhibited such keen interest in any topic.

"For the first time in my life," said a friend of the Colonial Secretary, "I can say Mr. Chamberlain is really excited."

Means Protection.

London, May 29.—Sir Edward Grey is the first of the Liberal leaders to take up Mr. Chamberlain's challenge regarding Imperial preferential tariffs. Addressing the Oxford University Liberal League to-night, Sir Edward denounced Mr. Chamberlain's proposals on the ground that they meant protection.

Germany Grows Serious.

Berlin, May 29.—The newspapers here treat the assent of Premier Balfour to Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's plan (for preferential tariff within the British empire), and Mr. Chamberlain's second speech on this subject as serious matters, saying that anything which might irritate British feeling should be carefully avoided.

ALL BUILDING TIED UP.

Toronto Will See 5,300 Workers Out on Monday Morning.

Toronto, May 30.—When the union painters go on strike next Monday the building trade in Toronto will be completely tied up. Monday will see over 5,000 men connected with the building trade idle. The building trades unions now on strike number 2,450, and with the 400 union painters the total will be swelled to 2,850. In addition there are 1,000 carpenters out, 700 builders' laborers, 600 bricklayers, and 150 structural iron workers.

The idleness of the carpenters, builders' laborers and structural iron workers since May 1 has affected a number of the other trades, making it impossible for them to proceed with their work.

Though the tie-up is about complete, the builders' exchange shows no signs of anxiety to get differences settled between the bosses and different trades.

After Fifty Years' Service.

Toronto, May 30.—The ceremonies attendant upon the fiftieth anniversary of the ordination of Rev. Dr. MacLaren of Knox College were begun in the Bloor street Presbyterian Church last evening. The ladies of the congregation provided a bountiful supper, after which Dr. MacLaren was presented with four illuminated addresses, the first from his first charge, the Amherstburg Presbyterian Church. Rev. R. C. Tibb, clerk of the Toronto Presbytery, read the congratulations of that body; Rev. J. McD. Duncan, president of the Knox Alumni Association, presented the regards of the men who had learned their theology at the professor's feet, and Prof. Ballantyne, on behalf of the Senate and College Board, read an address dwelling on their cordial relations with and high appreciation of their fellow-worker. The most affecting scene was the presentation by John L. Blakey, on behalf of the congregation, of a beautiful casket of silverware. Prof. MacLaren's reply was given in a husky tone, as the presentation was evidently an entire surprise. He modestly went over his connection with the church and the college and hoped he had earned a tithe of the good things that he had heard during the evening.

Canadian Tug Owner Fined.

Port Huron, Mich., May 30.—A fine of $1,000 was yesterday assessed on the Canadian tug Sarnia by the customs authorities for not taking out clearance papers, and it will cost the towboat $140 more for towing the American schooner Charlie Crawford from Lake Huron to this city in violation of American laws.

FOR THE CHILDREN.

When children are weak, sickly, don't eat or sleep well, Angier's Petroleum Emulsion after meals and at bedtime makes them strong, healthy and robust. Made of Petroleum, rendered tasteless and odorless, and combined with glycerine and hypophosphites. Pleasant to take, and agrees with the stomach.

THE WEATHER.

To-day's Probs—

Fresh northerly to easterly winds, fair and continued cool to-day and Sunday.

To-day's Temperature

As Registered by The Intelligencer's Guaranteed Thermometer:

8 a.m. 44
12 m. 58
2 p.m. 64

THE MARKETS.

Grain Markets Very Quiet, But Prices Remain Steady—Live Stock—The Latest Quotations.

Friday Evening, May 29.

Liverpool wheat futures closed ⅛d to ¼d lower to-day than yesterday and corn futures ⅛d lower.

At Chicago July wheat closed ⅛c lower than yesterday; July corn ⅛c higher and July oats ⅛c higher.

LEADING WHEAT MARKETS.

Following are the closing quotations at important wheat centres to-day:

	Cash.	May.	July.	Sept.
New York	....	....	78⅝	75⅝
Chicago	....	75	73½	70⅝
Toledo	75⅝	75⅝	73⅝	72
Dluth, No. 1 N.	78½	78½	78	71

TORONTO ST. LAWRENCE MARKET.

Grain—

Wheat, red, bush.	$0 74½ to	$....
Wheat, white, bush	0 74½	....
Wheat, spring, bush	0 72½	....
Wheat, goose, bush.......	0 67	....
Barley, bush.	0 46	....
Beans, bush.	1 30	1 50
Beans, hand-picked	1 75	....
Peas, bush.	0 78½	....
Rye, bush.	0 42	....
Oats, bush	0 35½	0 36
Buckwheat, bush.	0 43	....

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Easier—Receipts Light and Demand Fair at Buffalo.

London, May 29.—Live cattle easier at 11c to 12c per lb. for American steers, dressed weight; Canadian steers, 10½c to 11½c per lb.; refrigerator beef, 8½c to 8¾c per lb.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock were light, 33 car loads of Canadian stock, composed of 446 cattle, 1000 hogs, 306 sheep and lambs, with 150 calves. Besides the above there were 45 cars of Chicago cattle arrived on the market to feed and rest, all of which were consigned to local dealers.

Exporters—Best loads of exporters sold at $4.90 per cwt., medium to good at about $4.75.

Export Bulls—Choice quality bulls sold at $4 to $4.15 per cwt.; good bulls sold at $3.50 to $3.85 per cwt.

Export Cows—Export cows sold at $4.00 to $4.25 per cwt.

Butchers' Cattle—Choice picked lots of butchers', weighing from 1025 to 1150 lbs. each, equal in quality to best exporters, sold at $4.75 to $4.90; loads of good sold at $4.75 to $4.85; loads of good sold at $4.60 to $4.70; fair to medium, $4.30 to $4.50; common, $3.65 to $3.75; rough to inferior, $3.55 to $4.00 per cwt.

Feeders—Steers of good quality, 900 to 1000 lbs. each, are worth $4 to $4.40 per cwt.

Stockers—One year to two-year-old steers, 400 to 700 lbs. each, are worth $3.30 to $3.75 per cwt.; off-colors and of poor breeding quality of same weights are worth $3 per cwt.

Milch Cows—Milch cows and springers are worth $30 to $48 each.

Calves—Calves sold at $2 to $10 each, or from $4.50 to $5.50 per cwt.

Sheep—Prices, $4 to $4.35 per cwt. for ewes, and bucks at $3 to $3.50.

Spring Lambs—Prices steady at $3.50 to $4.50 each.

Hogs—Best select bacon hogs, not less than 160 lbs., nor more than 200 lbs. each, off cars, sold at $6 per cwt.; lights and fats at $5.75; sows, $4 to $4.50 per cwt., and stags, $2 to $3 per cwt.

EAST BUFFALO CATTLE MARKET.

East Buffalo, May 29.—Cattle—Receipts light; fair demand; steady. Veals—Receipts 950 head; 25c higher; tops, $6.50 to $6.75; common to good, $4.50 to $6.25.

Hogs—Receipts, 6000 head; fairly active, 5c to 15c higher, on good weights; others steady; heavy, $6.30 to $6.45; mixed, $6.20 to $6.30; Yorkers and pigs, $6.15 to $6.20; roughs, $5 to $5.50; stags, $4 to $4.50.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 3200 head; mixed sheep, 25c higher, others steady; top lambs, $7.25 to $7.35; culls to good, $4 to $7.15; yearlings, $4.50 to $5; ewes, $4 to $4.25; sheep, top mixed, $4.25 to $4.50; culls to good, $2 to $4.15.

THE swan is said to be excellent eating when young; but as it is one of the longest-lived of all creatures, it is well to learn if possible how old your bird is before you cook it.

A gentleman in Lincolnshire, England, sent a dead swan to the Athenaeum Club, addressed to the secretary. A special dinner was to occur that week, and the committee without question turned the bird over to the cook.

At the dinner the swan, resting on a great silver dish, was a delight to the eye; but when it came to carving and eating the bird, no knife seemed sharp enough to cut it, and of course eating it was out of the question.

A few days later the donor met the secretary and said, "I hope you got my swan all right."

"That was a nice joke you played on us," returned the secretary.

"Joke? What do you mean?"

"Why, we had the thing boiled for thirteen hours, and even then we might as well have tried to cut through the Rock of Gibraltar."

"You don't mean to say you had the swan cooked!"

"Why, of course."

"Man alive! I sent it to be stuffed and preserved as a curiosity in the club. That swan has been in my [illegible] ily for two hundred and eighty [illegible] It was one of the identical b[illegible] by the children of Charles [illegible] seen the picture of it. My [illegible] held the post of 'master of [illegible] and keeper of the king's cygnets.' I have no doubt it was a bit tough."

All trails are long to the [illegible]. Much talk, many lies.

More delicious than Japan.
More healthful than Japan.
Cheaper to use than Japan.

"SALADA"

Ceylon Natural GREEN tea is absolutely free from coloring matter and has a most delicious flavor and is as far ahead of Japan tea as "SALADA" black is ahead of all other black teas. Sold only in sealed lead packets. 25c. and 40c per lb. By all grocers.

GOLD MEDAL AWARDED, WOMAN'S EXHIBITION, LONDON, 1900.

Neave's Food

For Infants, Invalids, And The Aged.

Nearly 80 Years' Established Reputation.

DR. BARNARDO says :— "We have already used Neave's Food in two of our Homes (Babies' Castle and the Village Home), and I have no hesitation in saying it has proved very satisfactory."—July 27th, 1901.

Manufacturers: JOSIAH R. NEAVE & CO., FORDINGBRIDGE, ENGLAND.
Wholesale Agents:—THE LYMAN BROS. & Co., Ltd., Toronto & Montreal.

Good Paint not only beautifies but protects and preserves.

Ramsay's Paints have brilliancy and durability which make them the most economical to use. Ramsay's Paints are good Paints.

Write us, mentioning this paper, for booklet shewing how some beautiful homes are painted with our paints.

A. RAMSAY & SON, PAINT MAKERS, MONTREAL.
Estd. 1842.

THE RIGHT PAINT TO PAINT RIGHT.

Daily Intelligencer.

RUNNING UP THE COST OF LIVING.

FROM $41,702,385 TO $63,970,780 !

Since 1896, the Liberal government by its most extravagant system has caused the expenditure to go up by leaps and bounds. Reduced to a per capita basis it shows that in 1902 every man, woman and child in Canada was called upon to pay $3.60 more than in 1896. For the average family this means an additional living charge of $13. per annum. And what has resulted from this hold up of the people ? An investigation of the public accounts reveals nothing that suggests the need of this great increase. No great public works are being carried on, and the moneys are simply worked off in the form of a huge campaign fund. The increases under Liberal rule have been :

Year	Population.	Expenditure.	Per Capita:
1896	5,070,000	$41,702,383	$8.22
1897	5,120,000	42,972,756	8.39
1898	5,175,000	45,334,281	8.76
1899	5,230,000	51,242,635	9.85
1900	5,285,000	55,717,467	9.98
1901	5,340,000	57,982,866	10.88
1902	5,500,000	63,970,780	11.82

It is by this privilege of paying more taxes that the Liberal party profess to have enabled the farmer to pay off his mortgage.

Month after Month a cold sticks, and seems to tear holes in your throat. Are you aware that even a stubborn and long-neglected cold is cured with Allen's Lung Balsam ? Cough and worry no longer.

We can give you a

GOOD LUNCH
FOR TEN CENTS

J. ARTHUR MARSH.

TIMELY TOPICS.

The Montreal Herald says Yankee capitalists have purchased Glen Island, in the Bay of Minto. And still we wonder at crime!

• • •

An old rhyme has it: "A dry May and a wet June makes the farmer whistle a merry tune." So far as May is concerned the farmer can whistle merrily, but June is in the future yet.

• • •

Sir Gilbert Parker is reported as saying that, if Canada is depending upon the Munroe doctrine for protection in time of war, she is depending upon an enemy. Sir Gilbert may be right, but Canadians learned to depend upon themselves in days long gone by, and they are not likely to change their old habits.

• • •

The biggest trust on earth has been discovered at last. It is the country newspaper trust. It trusts everybody, gets cussed for trusting, mistrusted for cussing, and if it busts for trusting, gets cussed for busting.

• • •

Don't forget that, to be strictly "De rigueur" when Major Maude comes, you must have your trousers creased on the side, not in front.

• • •

If the Major only stays two hours he will barely have time to do more than come into the garden, turn round and tear for the depot again. Come and stay two days, Maude, and we'll give you a chance to catch some black bass, off the bay bridge, that will make your eyes stick out like door knobs.

• • •

It is particularly interesting to people in this locality to note that Canada is about to become the chief source of the world's supply of arsenic. The story of how, for years, the gold miners of this county were baffled in their efforts to extract gold from ore on account of the arsenic it contained is well known to everybody, almost, in this section. Now the arsenic has become the most profitable of the two minerals. This strange turn of the wheel of fortune has been caused by the virtual exhaustion of the former chief sources of supply of arsenic in Germany and England, together with the superior quality and purity of the Canadian product, which is a very good thing for Hastings County.

Sports and Pastimes

SPORTING NOTE AND COMMENT.

North Hastings Reporter: In conversation with His Honor Judge Fraleck a few days ago, we got at some ideas on the preservation of our local fisheries that are worth considering.

We all prize these provisions of nature, but at the gait our local and visiting sportsmen are plying the hook and line they will soon go the way of all the rest of the old-time fishing grounds of this locality. The sport will then have lost its attractiveness, when the mosquito bites are excessively out of proportion to the fish bites.

Some men will catch a nice meal of fish and go home. The most of sportsmen, however, are not stoical enough to resist the infatuation of the sport, when the conditions are favorable, and they go in for making records. The only way to cope with this difficulty is to form sporting clubs, get control of the best lakes and streams (by special enactment if necessary), then employ some convenient local man as warden, to collect a small fee to cover expenses, and to check the quantity taken, which should be restricted to some reasonable limit of weight.

By some such means the fisheries would be preserved at a mininum of cost.

Interest in lacrosse is getting properly worked up, and it should be, considering that the first league game will be played on Wednesday next, when the locals will stack up against Hastings. The following players, together with several other "dark horses," have been out to practice so far: Messrs. Allen, Cook, Burke, Hitchon, E. Ford, W. Ford, Patterson, McFee, Fish, Acton, Cook, Brown, Kennedy, McGuire, Whitty, Winchester, Geen, Sprague, Alford, Panter, Harrison. The above players, together with everybody else interested, are urgently requested to be out to practice on Monday night, as the team for Hastings will then be picked.

Everybody will be glad to hear that Mr. Winchester, the star goalkeeper, will stay in the city this summer and be on hand for next winter's hockey season, when, according to reports, Belleville will be represented by a team fully the equal of that which made such a brilliant record last winter.

A GUARANTEED CURE
For All Forms of Kidney Disease

We, the undersigned Druggists are fully prepared to give the following guarantee with every 50 cent bottle of Dr. Pettingill's Kidney-Wort Tablets, the only remedy in the world that positively cures all troubles arising from weak or diseased kidneys:

"Money cheerfully returned if the sufferer is not relieved and improved after use of one bottle. Three to six bottles effect astonishing and permanent cures. If not relieved and cured, you waste no money."

J. S. McKeown, Druggist, Belleville, Ont.
R. Templeton, Druggist, Belleville, Ont.

A Combination Needed.

Mr. Botts—I think, my dear, I have at last found the key to success. Mrs. Botts—Well, just as like as not you'll not be able to find the key-hole.—Yonkers "Statesman."

PERFECT CURE FOR BRONCHITIS.

This disease can be treated only by a remedy carried to the affected parts along with the air breathed, for nature intended these organs for the passage of air alone, and sprays, atomizers and internal medicines utterly fail. But Catarrhozone doesn't fail, for it goes wherever the air breathed goes, and its healing antiseptic vapor is sure to reach every affected part. Catarrhozone is inhaled at the mouth and after passing through every air cell of the breathing organs is slowly exhaled through the nostrils. Catarrhozone protects and heals the inflammation and perfectly cures all bronchial affections. Price $1. Small size 25c. Druggists or Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

It takes money to voice the opinion of a lawyer.

FIVE LITTLE MINUTES are all the time Perry Davis' Painkiller needs to stop a stomachache, even when it is sharp enough to make a strong man groan. Don't be fooled by imitations. 25c and 50c.

Doing good is the only certainly happy action of a man's life.

PEN PICTURES OF PEOPLE YOU MEET

ON A BELLEVILLE STREET.

SIR MACKENZIE BOWELL.

If you, gentle reader, when you are seventy-nine years and six months old, can stand up to the duties of life as sturdily, and carry yourself as jauntily as the subject of this sketch, well, you'll have no complaint to make of the constitution handed down to you by your pater and mater. You won't see him on a Belleville street to-day, because he's down in Ottawa, fighting the Grits, but the next time you see him on Front street just notice the alert, vigorous air he has, and then, if you can, deny that the climate of the Bay of Quinte district promotes longevity and mental and physical vigor. There is no exaggeration in saying that many a man twenty years his junior is not so active, mentally or physically, as the gentleman whose picture we are endeavoring to present to-day. Who says the game of politics is not good exercise? Whoever he is, let him eat his words, for Sir Mackenzie is a living proof of the contrary. Nothing but plenty of good exercise could have given him that straight back and deep chest. To be sure, he played the game of soldiering in the days gone by, and was out on active service twice, once in 1864 and again in 1865, and many merry stories he can tell of those stirring days. Naturally, in a long and eventful life, he has amassed an almost inexhaustible fund of anecdote; those who know him intimately don't need to be told of the unctuous tales he can tell of bygone days, when he rubbed shoulders with good old Sir John Macdonald and the other giants who laid the foundation for Canada's unprecedented prosperity. It is not the intention of the writer to attempt even a resume of Sir Mackenzie's political career—that has been done by abler pens—but a few incidents, picked here and there from his busy life, will prove of interest to people who, on most days of the year, see him on the streets of Belleville. He was born in Rickinghall, Suffolk, England, in December, 1823, coming to Canada with his parents ten years later. His father, John Bowell, was a carpenter and builder, so perhaps it was only natural that his son should, in 1894, take up the trade of cabinet-making. That's a joke, don't miss it. Shortly after coming to Belleville young Mackenzie Bowell became a printer's devil in the office of this great family journal, eventually working his way up to foreman, then to proprietor. Joining the Orange Order, he filled the highest offices in its gift. In 1857 he entered the militia, retiring in 1874 with the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel. Sir Mackenzie's political career began in 1863, when he was defeated for a seat in the Legislative Assembly. At the next general election for the House of Commons he was elected for North Hastings, and held the seat continuously for 25 years, when he entered the Senate, where he now is. He was for 18 years a Cabinet Minister, and was, in 1895, appointed a K.C.M.G. He is a Free Mason, Forester, Methodist, and admitted by even his enemies to be an honest man. He is a democrat of the democrats, thinks one man is just as good as another, if he behaves himself; would not wilfully wound the feelings of even a child, has an intense love for Belleville and thinks the first duty of every man is to be a politician and, of course, a Conservative. This article could not more fittingly conclude than with the words used by a writer in the Montreal Star, who, in an article published on Dec. 27, 1891, drew the following picture of Sir Mackenzie: Erect, hale and hearty, deferential to the ladies, who vote him the dearest old gentleman in the city, suave to the men, who defer to his opinions and look on him as "guide, philosopher and friend," Sir Mackenzie Bowell, as president of the Hastings Loan and Investment Society, and as the leading citizen of Belleville, still shows that there is no abatement to his powers, he is still the same able all-round man, gifted with acute sagacity, an infinite grasp of detail, urbanity of manner, and a large amount of personal magnetism. Any one who has ever come in contact with him can well understand the reason why his old constituents in North Hastings still say: "We first sent him to Parliament, sir, and we're proud of it. He's had his ups and downs, but no man can point a finger at Mack Bowell."

Half-Sick If you feel run down, are easily tired, if your nerves are weak and your blood is thin, then begin to take the good old standard family medicine, Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If constipated, use Ayer's Pills. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

That New Suit

You are thinking of getting—if it is on the Fashion Plate—is here, ready to wear the moment you put it on. You will admire yourself and feel as though others admire you—and they will, too. It don't take such an awful lot of money to dress well, when you know where to trade. You may have a corps of Tailors dancing at your attendance, but none of them can design for you prettier garments than these Spring Suits we are now showing from $3.50 to $15.00. Your Suit desire can easily be satisfied here. Come and see.

The Globe Clothiers

Up-to-date Clothiers and Gents' Furnishers.
ONE DOOR NORTH OF WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE'S, FRONT ST.

GLOBE CLOTHING HOUSE

alwa polem
Those wom are
The best get.

DR. PITCHER'S Backache-Kid TABLETS
CHOCOLATE COATED — SMALL & EASY TO TAKE

Purify the Blood and Help Women to Health

MOST of women's ailments, such as backaches, sideaches, headaches, worn, weary, depressed feelings, are the result of the failure of the kidneys to properly purify the blood. Dr. Pitcher's Tablets aid the kidneys in their work of blood purifying—banish every pain and ache—make women rejoice in health and strength restored.

Mrs. A. Craigie, Lighthouse Street, Goderich, Ont., relates her experience: For some time I suffered with a good deal of backache and kidney trouble, and with a severe headache which continued to grow worse. I heard of the many cures Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets were making, and determined to try them. They acted splendidly, stopping the backache and headache and curing the kidney complaint.

The price of the Tablets is 50c. a bottle, or 3 for $1.25, at druggists or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Co., Toronto.

The Monkey's Point of View.

A NATURALIST once came upon an Ourang-Outang while the latter was taking his siesta under a banyan tree in a forest. The Naturalist viewed him for a time in silence and then apostrophized him as he might had little Harold been present.

"Base brute, thou liest there with no thought beyond the gratification of thy instincts! And yet scientists tell us that man, the noblest work of God, has evolved from such as thee. Insensate animal! Thou hast never had the glorious privilege of eating of the fruit of the Tree of Knowledge of Good and Evil.".

"Pardon me!" said the Ourang-Outang, awakening suddenly from slumber, "I've had a few nibbles. Several years ago, a Scientist visited our wood, and he and I became quite chummy. He was always urging me to evolve and contended that it was quite an easy job. All I had to do, he said, was to strike fire with flint, make some stone implements and mud pottery, and haul off my neighbor's wife, thus establishing the sacred institution of the Family; but I have a strain of caution in my blood, and, as you see, I have rather a tidy berth here, so I demurred at the idea of exerting myself so tremendously for the doubtful good of obtaining something he called 'Progress.'

"Well, the more I hung back, the more the Scientist urged and coaxed; so we finally decided that if he would pay all the expenses, I would take a trip around the world with him and study various phases of civilization, and then, if I thought the game worth the candle, I would evolve for him while he waited.

"I assure you, I never was so fagged in my life. He hauled me over land and sea and showed me pleasures and palaces, steam yachts and automobiles, libraries and pictures, wine, women and song—in a word, the kingdoms of earth.

"When I had seen them all, I said, 'Get thee behind me, Satan.' This splendid civilization is a masterpiece, but a masterpiece of fools. Half of the civilized toil that the other half may play various silly games that they call Society, Power and Fame."

"What did he reply to this?" asked the Naturalist.

"He had no time to make reply," answered the Ourang-Outang. "Knowing him as well as I did, I was quite sure that he would convert the entire Bander-log people to his views and have all the monkeys in the country doing various stunts in their frantic efforts to evolve; so I simply cracked his head open with a cocoanut and disposed of the question without further argument."—Mrs. Wilson Woodrow in "Life."

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

When the Liver, Kidneys or Urinary organs require toning the MAGI Caledonia Waters have proven ther efficacy. J.J. McLaughlin, sole agent, Toronto. Sold by best dealers everywhere.

Dainty June Millinery

We have many new creations in White and dainty shades.

Also all Black Hats quite new, for summer wear.

MISS IRWIN
Millinery and Corset Specialist

Wall Paper Bargains

THIS WEEK AND NEXT.

5 cent papers for 3 cents.
Border 1-2c yard.
Papers without borders half regular price.
7 cent papers 5 cents.
8 cent papers 6 cents.
10 cent papers 8 cents.
12 cent papers 10 cents.
15 cent papers 12 cents.
20 cent papers 18 cents.
25 cent papers 20 cents.
30 cent papers 25 cents.

Borders to match all the above sold by the roll same price as papers.

Floor paint 35 cents quart.

AT

JOHN CORNELIUS.
3 Doors South of Intelligencer Office.

Coin Pay Envelopes at The Intelligencer Job Office. Cheapest and best in the city.

BUSINESS DIRECTORY

MEDICAL.

JOHN J. FARLEY, M.D., C.M., M.R., C.S., England.

Office and Residence — Corner of Bridge and George streets — three Streets East of Post Office.

DR. J. F. MATHER

Has removed his office to Pinnacle St., three doors north of Hotel Quinte. my29-3mw

LEGAL.

WILLS & WRIGHT.

Barristers, Solicitors, Notary Public, &c., Belleville.

Office—2 Campbell Street.

MALCOLM WRIGHT. J. FRANKLIN WILLS.

Money to Loan at Lowest Rates.

W. C. MIKEL, B. C. L.,

Barrister, &c.

Solicitor for the City of Belleville. Office—Metropolitan Block, Corner Front and Campbell Streets.

PORTER & CARNEW,

Barristers, Solicitors, Notaries Public, etc.

Offices — Robertson Block, East Front St., Belleville, Ont.

'Phone 87.

E. G. PORTER. WM. CARNEW.

WILLIAM N. PONTON,

Barrister-at-law, Solicitor, Notary Public, Conveyancer. Office over Express and Telegraph Office, Bridge Street, Belleville.

Money to Loan — Private Funds. Solicitor Sun and Hastings Savings and Loan Company of Ontario.

FRANCIS S. WALLBRIDGE,

Successor to Hon. Lewis Wallbridge, Q.C.

Barrister, Solicitor, Conveyancer, Etc. Office, McAnnany Building, corner Front and Bridge Sts., Belleville, Ont. Private and Company money to loan at 6 per cent., on easy terms upon good land security. Charges moderate.

INSURANCE.

Fire Insurance.

Guardian - - - Est'd 1821

The North America, - Est'd 1792

Quebec, - - - Est'd 1818

City, Town and Village Property insured at lowest rates.

R. W. ADAMS. Agent.

Office opposite Post Office.

PERSONS desiring Life assurance cannot do better than consult

W. J. THOMSON,

who is the Agent for the following well-known and old established Assurance Companies:

ROYAL. ALLIANCE.

OCEAN ACCIDENT STANDARD LIFE

Office at Rathbun Co., Bridge St. ocs-d&w

THOS. STEWART,

Insurance and Commission Agent.

Agent for the Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Scottish Union National Ins. Co.

BRIDGE ST.

FIRE, LIFE & ACCIDENT INSURANCE

At Lowest Rates The Norwich Union Fire Insurance Society and Perth Mutual on farm and city property. Also money to loan at 4½ per cent. upwards.

JAMES A. CHISHOLM,

Office Ashley Block, - Front st., Belleville

Money Saved is Money Earned

I can save you money by saving ⅓ for you in your Fire Insurance.

The Anglo-American Fire Ins. Co.

The Merchants Fire Ins. Co.

The Equity Fire Ins. Co.

Are all strong Canadian stock companies and insure Farm and City Property at lower rates than other stock companies. Call and see me before placing your fire insurance.

Office—Bridge St., same entrance Quinte Laundry, Belleville.

H. FREEMAN KETCHESON.

Fire, Life & Plate Glass Insurance.

Liverpool & London & Globe of England.

Waterloo Mutual, of Waterloo, Ont.

Lloyd's Plate Glass.

Home Life Association, Toronto.

North British & Mercantile.

Farm and City Property insured in First-class Reliable Companies and at lowest current rates. Losses promptly settled. Land valuation, and transact general Real Estate business and sale or purchase and renting of property. Appraiser for the Hastings Loan & Investment Society. Money to Loan.

W. P. HUDSON, Office above Rathbun's office, cor. Bridge and Pinnacle Sts., opposite Postoffice and Hotel Quinte, Belleville.

'Phone 168.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A. G. NORTHRUP,

Issuer of Marriage Licenses, Shire Hall, Belleville, Ont.

CHAUNCEY ASHLEY,

Issuer of Marriage Licenses.

Private Office, Bridge St., Belleville, opposite the Post Office.

Residence, first house east of W. W. Chown's Mfg. Co., Station St.

Appointments made.

The future destiny of the child is always the work of the mother.—Napoleon.

Those who live in yesterday's wigwam are always a day behind.

The best way to get even is to forget.

DAISY GORDON'S FOLLY

—OR—

THE WORLD LOST FOR LOVE'S SAKE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY,

Author of "The Crime of Hallow-E'en," "The Flirtations of a Beauty," "Willful Gaynell," "Little Leafy," "Only a Mechanic's Daughter," etc.

Katy stole up to him, placing a little white hand on his arm. He started back with a fierce oath, that made the girl recoil with a cry of terror.

"Oh, is it you, Katy?" he cried angry enough with himself for his awkward mistake. "I—I— thought it was one of your blue-coated police— come to arrest me for being found prowling about the grounds. I really beg your pardon."

Katy's anger was easily appeased.

Very adroitly he brought the conversation around to the subject uppermost in his mind —the grand guests at the garden party — commenting on the different styles of beauty, the elaborate costumes, and the jewels that would have purchased a king's ransom which were worn.

"You would look like a princess if you were dressed like one young girl I saw there, Katy," he said, eagerly; "she was fair —marvelously fair with curling hair like spun gold, and eyes like blue hyacinths; she wore a pale azure-blue silk dress dotted with silver stars, and over all was a cloud of tulle, caught here and there with diamond sprays. Diamonds glowed on her breast and ran like a river of fire around the firm white throat, and gleamed in the shell-like ears."

Katy interrupted him with a petulant little laugh, full of malice and jealousy, declaring he must have watched the lady very closely indeed to have noticed all that.

"She was so much like you I could not help it Katy," he said, humbly. "I was thinking how true it is that 'fine feathers make fine birds.'"

"I know who it is you mean," replied Katy, easily flattered; "pretty Mrs. Hamilton, they call her — she lives in that large villa on the corner of the avenue."

"Mrs.— she is married then?" said her companion, abruptly, his face darkening with wrath.

"Why, of course she is!" said Katy, thinking this a fine opportunity to spur this laggard lover on; "pretty women do not remain long in the market, I can tell you."

But his thoughts were elsewhere— he had not even heard this deft speech.

"Who is she married to, did you say?" he asked abruptly.

"They call her husband Mr. Alexander Hamilton," she replied. "She was only a poor girl when he married her—so he married her for love, for he was quite rich himself. Afterward a fortune was left to her by the death of an uncle, they say. So she is a great heiress now in her own right —worth nearly a million of money."

"Worth nearly a million of money in her own right!" he repeated, with a gasp; "are you quite sure of this, girl?"

"Why, one would think the subject of interest to you," pouted Katy.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

"An Heiress —What a mad Fool I was to Desert Her!"

Harold St. John's face whitened. Ah, how little the girl knew how vitally the subject interested him.

An heiress in her own right, and the knowledge that she had wedded Alexander Hamilton, his bitterest foe, nearly overpowered him.

"How dared she do it!" he asked himself, his wrath rising higher and higher at the very thought.

The idea came to him that no doubt she had heard of his claiming Miss Ruthven as the bride of that weird marriage, and had taken advantage of it; thinking, in the face of that, he would never dare claim her.

He bade Katy a hasty good night— he had found out all he cared to know —and had hurriedly taken his leave.

The girl watched him out of sight with tears of mortification in her eyes.

"What made him so cold to me?" she mused. "Is he tiring of me? I almost think he fell in love with that grand young lady at the garden party, young Mrs. Hamilton, and he is put out to find that she is married."

Her brows darkened and her eyes flashed fire.

"I will follow him about, myself unseen, and find out for myself," she muttered, with bitter jealousy. "He shall see that he cannot make love to Katy Barrett and whistle her down the wind like that."

Daisy had gone home from the garden party in a tremor of excitement. Harold St. John was in the city, she was liable to meet him at any moment; no wonder the coldness of death struck to her heart at the very thought.

But forewarned is forearmed— she would be on the lookout for him, and he would not cross her path if she saw him first.

"How abstracted you are, my darling," said Aleck, looking at her beautiful face flushing and paling so strangely in the bright white moonlight. "Did you enjoy yourself?"

"No," she answered, leaning wearily back among the velvet cushions, "the great crush was tiresome."

"Who would have thought of meeting Lillian Ruthven away out here— or rather 'Lillian St. John?'" mused Aleck, "and how terribly altered the girl is, yet no one can wonder at that. The only thing I can blame the girl for, is not standing by that fellow in the hour of his adversity. She married him for better or for worse —she should not have deserted him even when she found out his true character."

"But if she did not love him, Aleck? If she married him in a thoughtless moment— repenting it at the very altar after the horrible words were spoken!" she cried, piteously.

"Then that was not love— a sort of infatuation," he replied, adding, "we will not discuss the question, it seems to affect you so; we must not allow other people's troubles to cast a gloom over us. You must make the most of your time here, my dear, I am called away on the twenty-fourth of this month, and you are to accompany me."

She drew a long breath, faint with joy. Aleck would take her away on the twenty-fourth— ah, how good heaven was to her.

But should she go? That was the stern question that reverted to her mind in the dead watches of the night —should she, the only human being on the face of the earth who could set Lillian Ruthven free from the fatal web that had coiled itself around her, go and leave the girl to her doom?

Saving Lillian meant ruin to herself.

For three days and three nights she pondered over the matter; she scarcely ate, and when her eyes closed — if the truth must be told— she drugged herself to sleep with powerful narcotics— yes! it had come to that.

At last her nervousness grew so intense, if sleep for a few moments overtook her, she woke with a cry of alarm.

She had arisen early one morning— sleep was growing terrible to her, her dreams were so full of horrors—and had gone out into the garden.

It was a lovely summer's morning, the dew was shining on the long grass, on the hedges, on the leaves of the tall trees, and on the brilliant flowers.

Daisy thought to herself the flowers were never so fair as at this beautiful home of [illegible] which she must leave.

But Aleck, whom she loved so well, was going with her, there was great comfort for her in that.

"I used to wonder what people meant when they talked of the agony of death," she thought; "now I know."

How fair life was to her as she walked among the flowers.

Oh, the lovely, laughing summer, the golden sun, the fairy flowers, the sweet singing birds, the fragrant air! Daisy stood in the midst of this loveliness, wondering if heaven would be kind to her, or if her sin would ever find her out.

She was safe here in her husband's princely home. Her eyes wandered round; surely her foe could not enter here.

She looked at the green, waving woods, at the beautiful park, at the pleasure grounds.

The sun shone on the square towers and massive turrets, on the oriel windows and the grand old porch.

A fancy came to her that, if Harold St. John had ever found her here and tried to take her away, she could shut herself up in this stronghold, and hold it against him.

But they would never meet—Heaven would not be so cruel, even if she did send poor Lillian to her doom.

So she reasoned with herself as she walked through the leafy glade.

A broad, running brook sung its pretty song winding through one corner of the grounds.

She stooped down and laved her hot hands in it; it was so cool, this sweet water singing under the shade of the trees; she bathed her face in it.

Ah, Heaven! what a fever of fear and unrest she was in.

Should she save Miss Ruthven by confessing all—or should she brave Heaven's anger still further? Listen to the little birds singing such sweet, fleeting music; would Heaven be so good to a little bird—feed it, keep it, fill its little heart with so much gladness that it overflowed in song, yet be cruel to her?

Look at the flowers, they lived, laughed, loved in the sunshine; would there be more compassion for a violet or for a rose than for her?

She thought not.

It is yet more than a week to the twenty-fourth, she told herself —she must take more time to consider.

A step sounded on the green lawn; she turned with a guilty start, that ended in a sigh of relief, when she found it was her father.

She would have avoided him by taking another path back to the house, but he saw her and called to her.

He noticed how cold the little hands were he clasped in his own, and how deep the shadows were in the great violet eyes he loved so well.

"You are not looking well, my child," he said, with deep concern.

"She is trying to keep it from me," he thought. "I am quite sure she is not on good terms with Aleck yet. They give one side of life to the outside world—even to me; but there is quite another in private."

He drew the curly head on his shoulder and kissed the lovely, velvety lips.

"Something is troubling you, pet," he said; "I feel sure. Confide in your father."

"I was just trying to solve the great problem of life, papa," she said, "and was wondering why I was born. Do you believe that an evil destiny guides some lives, and pursues them until death breaks the poor victim's chains? I do!"

"I believe nothing of the kind," declared the honest old farmer. "People make or mar their own lives as the case may be. Your mother, God bless her! used to say, if people kept out of bad company, and walked the straight and narrow path heedless of the thorns that beset the way, they would find heaven at the end of the road. She set great store by you, little Daisy, and made heaps of plans for your future."

"Tell me one thing, are you happy with Aleck, or are you not, child?" he asked, anxiously. "I do not understand the look on your face."

"Believe me, Aleck is my world, papa," she sobbed. "He is to me what the sunshine is to the flowers. He is the other half of my soul. I love him with a love so intense, even the angels in heaven might tremble for me, it is so great and so pitiful. And Aleck, poor Aleck, loves me quite as well as I do him, papa, and trusts me."

"Then what in heaven's name do you wear that death- white face around for if your life is going on happily and well?" demanded her father, in astonishment. "You give people the impression that you are heart- broken— that you are nursing some secret sorrow.

"I would give every dollar I have in the world to see you like you were once, Daisy," he sighed. "Why, you were singing as happily as a lark in the clover meadow from morning till night. Now day and night your eyes are heavy with unshed tears which you try in vain to conceal. You have been a different being ever since the day your sisters, Olive and Hetty, started off on that frolic to Briarvale. Why, how you start, child. What is the matter?"

"It was only a quick, sudden pain at my heart, papa," she answered. "I —I am better now. You must not feel alarmed; indeed, you must not, it is nothing, I assure you."

CHAPTER XXIX.

"I am Anything but Pleased."

It had been decided that Mr. Gordon and Olive should accompany Aleck and Daisy east again on the twenty-fourth.

It wanted but two days to that time now, and still Daisy's courage failed her as to making the terrible sacrifice that would have saved Lillian Ruthven.

"If her life or mine must be wrecked, what matters it which one is sacrificed," she comforted herself by saying.

Her ardent love for Aleck had conquered all other feelings.

Two days more and she would be away from Sacramento en route for New York. Better there in the midst of bustling crowds than here, where any day she might meet Harold St. John face to face.

As for Harold St. John himself, he haunted the road which led to the villa, on the watch for Daisy, but he did not see her as the days passed; then he determined to go boldly to the house and call for her.

"Does Mrs. Hamilton live here?" he asked of the liveried footman who opened the door.

"Yes," was the laconic reply.

"Is she at home? I wish to see her."

"Not at home."

"Not at home," repeated Harold St. John. "Does that mean she is in the house, and unwilling to see any one, or that she is really not here?"

The man looked aghast.

What a question to ask the fashionable servant of a fashionable mistress.

The direct earnestness of it took him by surprise; he answered it honestly, before he had time to think what he was saying.

"My mistress is not at home to callers today, though she is in the house."

Then the footman recovered himself. He had certainly lost some of his dignity by being too affable. He looked at the stranger from head to foot and mentally decided that although well dressed, he looked too flashy to be a gentleman, no need therefore to waste civility.

"Can you tell me when she will be at home to callers?" St. John inquired, "what day I can see her."

"Sorry, I don't know," was the reply, rather impatiently.

Then Harold St. John bethought himself that perhaps a golden key was required. He placed a bill in the man's hand.

"Now try to remember," he said. "The fact is that I really wish to see your mistress on very important business."

Then seeing the servant hesitate, he added:

"The business is urgent, and relates to her own affairs."

The footman thought to himself there would be no harm in obliging this generous man. So he answered readily enough, his mistress was on the eve of a journey, the maids were packing the trunks, and she had said adieu to all her friends she cared to know.

(To be continued.)

Pains in the Back For Twenty Years

COULD NOT TURN OVER IN BED—KIDNEYS AND BLADDER AFFECTED — EXPERIENCED GREAT SUFFERING—CURED BY

Dr. Chase Kidney-Liver Pills

The old people especially appreciate the effectiveness of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, because the kidneys are usually the first of the bodily organs to give out, and the result is backache, lumbago, pains in the side and limbs, urinary disorders and constipation.

Old people learn to trust in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, for when all other treatments fail this great medicine seems to go directly to the diseased part, and promptly affords relief and cure.

Mr. David Misener, farmer, an old and respected resident of Port Robinson, Welland county, Ont., writes; "I wish to state to you that I had pain in my back and left side for over twenty years. At times I could not turn over in bed. I was so badly used up. I had cramps in my feet and legs, and my hands were so entirely useless that I could scarcely lift anything.

"Kidney disease was, no doubt, the cause of all my suffering, and sometimes the urinary trouble would be so bad that I would have to get up five or six times during the night. Fortunately, I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they cured me completely. I am 79 years old and quite well now, but still occasionally use these pills to keep my system in good order. Several persons to whom I have recommended Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have been equally benefitted."

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the comfort of old age, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates and Co., Toronto. 5

A LIFE SAVER.

BABY'S OWN TABLETS MAKE CHILDREN WELL AND KEEP THEM WELL.

Emergencies come quickly in the lives of little ones, and the wise mother will always keep at hand a reliable medicine to cope with them. Delay may mean the loss of a precious little life. There is no medicine can take the place of Baby's Own Tablets in relieving, curing and preventing the minor ailments of children. "If you could see my baby now," writes Mrs. James Boviah, of French River, Ont., "and compare him with his condition before I began giving him Baby's Own Tablets, you would not know it was the same child. From the age of four up to twenty-one months he was constantly ill and was wasted away, to a skeleton. I gave him a great many medicines, but always without result until I heard of Baby's Own Tablets and began giving them to him. Almost at once they helped him and he is now a fine, fat, healthy child. I now always keep the Tablets in the house."

The Tablets contain none of the poisonous drugs found in "soothing" medicines, and can be given with absolute safety to a new-born babe. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail at 25 cents a box by writing to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Unexpected Erudition.

An absent-minded professor of languages dropped into a restaurant one day for luncheon.

"What will you have, sir?" asked the waiter.

"Fried eggs," replied the professor.

"Over?" said the waiter, meaning, of course, to ask whether he wanted them cooked on both sides or only one.

"Ova?" echoed the professor, surprised at his apparent familiarity with Latin. "Certainly. That is what I ordered. Ova gallinae."

This the waiter interpreted as meaning "extra well done," and that is the way they came to the table.

None Left To Bother You After Using Wilson's Fly Pads
Sold Everywhere. 10 cents

DO YOU KNOW THOMAS HUNTLEY?

PEOPLE WHO KNEW HIM A YEAR AGO, AND SEE HIM NOW, HARDLY RECOGNIZE HIM —HE LOOKS SO WELL AND STRONG.

This is what he says:—

Belleville, Ont., May 7th, 1903.

The O. R. Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont:

Dear Sirs,—For a number of years I was troubled with rheumatism; my hands were swollen and enlarged so that I could hardly use them. I suffered with pains in my back and hips, and up between my shoulders. I tried a great many remedies without getting relief or benefit. I had almost given up hope when a friend induced me to try the O. R. KIDNEY CURE. I had not taken one bottle before I began to feel better, and have now only used three bottles, and think that I am permanently cured. The pains have all left me, and I now feel a different man.

Sincerely yours,

THOMAS HUNTLEY.

Ask your druggist for these:—

O. R. Kidney Cure	50c
O. R. Liver Pills	25c
O. R. Dyspepsia Tablets	25c

Steer a Safe Course
The safest course for delicate skins is to use
BABY'S OWN SOAP.
No Other Soap is as Good.
ALBERT TOILET SOAP CO., Mfrs. Montreal.

The Whole Story in a letter:

Pain-Killer

(PERRY DAVIS'.)

From Capt. F. Loye, Police Station No. 5, Montreal:—"We frequently use PERRY DAVIS' PAIN-KILLER for pains in the stomach, rheumatism, stiffness, frost bites, chilblains, cramps, and all afflictions which befall men in our position. I have no hesitation in saying that PAIN-KILLER is the best remedy to have near at hand."

Used Internally and Externally.

Two Sizes, 25c. and 50c. bottles.

A Tale of the Quick and the Dead.

AN old friend of Mr. Abell, proprietor of one of the Baltimore papers, asked to have his boy taken into that office and taught the business. He was added to the city staff as a special favor. The city editor sent the youngster out to Druid Hill Cemetery to describe that aristocratic burial place. He was instructed to prepare a list of the distinguished lot owners and to mention all the famous dead who rested under the velvety turf. The reporter was neither experienced nor careful. He went to the office of the cemetery company, and, being allowed access to the books, copied such names as seemed worthy of selection. In writing his notes the young man mixed his lists, gave to the distinguished dead the names of the living lot owners, and made up his list of the distinguished survivors from his catalogue of the dead.

The article was immediately put in type, and appeared the following morning.

When Mr. Abell reached his office that day he found a throng of citizens awaiting him.

"What can I do for you, sir?" he demanded in his brusque manner of the first man in broadcloth who pushed into his private office.

"Do? What haven't you done? I am G. Washington Smith and your paper says that I am buried at Druid Hill. It's shameful, sir; and I demand a correction."

"Does my paper say you are dead?" asked Mr. Abell gravely, looking at his visitor over the top of his glasses.

"It does, and——"

"Well, I want to say to you, Mr. G. Washington Smith, that if my paper says you're dead, you are dead. Good morning; this is no place for ghosts!"

Children's Unconscious Witticisms.

"Terra-cotta is stuff squeezed out of a little insect and used to turn puddings red."

"The zebra is like the horse, only striped, and is chiefly used to illustrate the letter Z." (Also "A donkey with a football jersey on.")

"Faith is that quality which enables us to believe what we know to be untrue."

"Parliament is the place where they go up to in London to talk about Birmingham."

"A Limited Monarchy is a government by a monarchy, who in case of bankruptcy would not be responsible for the entire national debt. In private life you have the same thing with a Limited Liability Company."—Quoted by Dr. Macnamara, M.P., in "New Liberal Review."

Equal to Three.

Public vehicles in Paris are allowed to carry only as many passengers as can find seats. After that number has been admitted no one is allowed to enter. The explanation will serve to introduce an incident reported by a correspondent of the Pittsburg "Dispatch."

A crowd of men and women, each with a numbered ticket, showing the order in which they were to enter the next street car, stood at the Place de l'Etoile station when the down-town car arrived.

Surveying the crowd, the conductor cried out: "Only three places in the car! Who has ticket No. 1?"

With that Mrs. Blank of Chicago, the stoutest woman in the American colony, approached, holding up the ticket called for.

"Step aboard, madam," said the conductor, ringing his go-ahead bell.

"Wait! Wait! I've No. 2!" called a little Frenchman.

"You're too late," replied the conductor. "Every place is taken."

The Vital Question.

He—You are truly the first girl I ever loved. She—That isn't the point. Are you sure I will be the last?

An Old Letter.

A WHOLESALE merchant of Philadelphia, in looking over old papers and records, recently came across an interesting document. It was a letter of instruction sent forty years ago by a merchant in St. Louis to his agent in San Francisco. He thus describes it in the Philadelphia "Times:"

"It related to the disposal of a lot of goods which had been shipped by way of Cape Horn, and although it contained over fifteen thousand words and a copy of a good-sized invoice, it was written on just two sheets of paper.

"The paper itself is a sort of tough, opaque tissue, very thin and light, and when folded the letter slips easily into an envelope three inches wide.

"Why it was gotten up in such a peculiar style is explained by the stamp on the corner, which is one of the old 'pony express' series, embellished with a picture of a man on horseback, spurring at a gallop across the plains.

"I knew, of course, that the Pacific mail of that period was carried by relay express riders, but I never before realized what great pains were taken to reduce the weight to the lowest possible point. I am told that the letters were stored in little flat pouches under the flaps of the saddle, and that they were usually written on a specially prepared tissue.

"The one I have described must have occupied an expert clerk several days, for the penmanship, while microscopic, is beautifully executed, and as clear and legible as print.

"The stamp is of the denomination of fifty cents, and, taken altogether, it would be hard to find a more striking reminder of the astonishing progress that has been made in this country in a trifle over one generation.

"Everything about the little brown letter speaks of dangers, difficulties, and rude, primitive conditions. It is difficult to realize that the route it traveled is now the great highway of a thousand rushing trains, bearing the transcontinental commerce of the nation."

In Germany.

A fat man who lived on the Rhine
Was asked: "At what hour do you dine?"
He answered: "Eleven,
Three, four, five, and seven,
Six, eight, and a quarter to nine!"

THEY DROVE PIMPLES AWAY.—A face covered with pimples is unsightly. It tells of internal irregularities which should long since have been corrected. The liver and the kidneys are not performing their functions in the healthy way they should, and these pimples are to let you know that the blood protests. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will drive them all away, and will leave the skin clear and clean. Try them, and there will be another witness to their excellence.

Life has no blessing like a prudent friend.

HAD LA GRIPPE.—Mr. A. Nickason, farmer, Dutton, writes; "Last winter I had La Grippe and it left me with a severe pain in the small of my back and hip that used to catch me whenever I tried to climb a fence. This lasted for about two months, when I bought a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil and used it both internally and externally, morning and evening, for three days, at the expiration of which time I was completely cured."

If thy friend is honey, do not lick him up altogether.

Their gentle action and good effect on the system really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed 'Perfection.'

Many a man's self-conceit is due to his ignorance.

AT DEATH'S DOOR.—DYSPEPSIA CONQUERED.—A GREAT MEDICAL TRIUMPH.—Gentlemen,—My medical adviser and others told me I could not possibly live when I commenced to use Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery for Dyspepsia. My case was one of the worst of its kind. For three years I could not eat meat and my weight decreased from 219 to 119 lbs. All the food I took for thirteen months previous to taking the Vegetable Discovery consisted of milk. I am now entirely cured and have regained my usual weight, can eat anything with a keen relish and feel like a new man. I have sold over thirty dozen Vegetable Discovery since it cured me, as I am well-known and people in this section know how low I was, and thought I could not possibly be cured. They are eager to try this grand medicine. It certainly saved my life as I never expected to recover when first I commenced using it. I am not exaggerating anything, but feel glad to be able to contribute this testimonial and trust it may be the means of convincing others of its merit as a certain cure for Dyspepsia.

Signed, JEAN VALCOURT,

Wotton, P.Q. General Merchant

The best wheel of fortune is honest labor.

Very many persons die annually from cholera and kindred summer complaints, who might have been saved if proper remedies had been used. If attacked do not delay in getting a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, the medicine that never fails to effect a cure. Those who have used it say it acts promptly, and thoroughly subdues the pain and disease.

Wedding rings in St. Kilda used to be made of worsted.

Use the safe, pleasant, and effectual worm killer, Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator; nothing equals it. Procure a bottle and take it home.

Coral is a talisman against thunder and evils by flood and field.

Have you tried Holloway's Corn Cure? It has no equal for removing these troublesome excrescences, as many have testified who have tried it.

A woman never knows where the match box is.

FOR INFLAMMATION OF THE EYES.—Among the many good qualities which Parmelee's Vegetable Pills possess, besides regulating the digestive organs, is their efficacy in reducing inflammation of the eyes. It has called forth many letters of recommendation from those who were afflicted with this complaint and found a cure in the pills. They affect the nerve centres and the blood in a surprisingly active way, and the result is almost immediately seen.

When one gets hopping mad his reason goes on a crutch.

If you have a cough or cold do not neglect it; many without a trace of that hereditary disease have drifted into a consumptive's grave by neglecting what was only a slight cold. Had they used Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup before it was too late, their lives would have been saved. Mr. A. W. Levy, Mitchell, writes: "I think Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup the best preparation on the market for coughs and severe colds. About six years ago I caught a severe cold which settled on my lungs, and for three months I had a cough. I had a physician attending me, but gradually grew worse until I was on the verge of Consumption, and had given up hopes of being cured, when I was induced to try Bickle's Syrup. Before I had taken one bottle I found myself greatly relieved, and by the time I had finished the second bottle I was completely cured. I always recommend it for severe colds and consumption."

The average watch represents but 12 hours of human labor.

No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, and disordered stomach.

The wildcat's teeth are close to its purr.

Do not despair of curing your sick headache when you can so easily obtain Carter's Little Liver Pills. They will effect a prompt and permanent cure. Their action is mild and natural.

The Sun & Hastings Savings and Loan Co. of Ontario.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL

$5,000,000.

3 1-2 per cent. allowed on Deposits, payable on Call.

4 per cent. on Deposits for one year or over.

Money to Loan upon favorable terms.

OFFICE, No. 46 Bridge St., Belleville.

J. P. C. PHILLIPS,

Manager Belleville Branch.

A SHIRT SALE

We have just received from the manufacturers, 50 dozen Madras Shirts in sizes 14½ to 16½, soft bosoms, with separate cuffs. They should sell at $1.00, but we got a big snap and are going to clear them quick for 50c each.

You need not wait till you go on your holiday trip before getting some of these cool and pretty patterns. They take half the discomfort out of a hot day.

Not More Than one half Dozen sold to each Customer.

OAK HALL

Sole Agents for Sanford's Celebrated Clothing.

The J. J. HAINES Shoe Houses.

For Low Shoes

We have had Low Shoe weather lately and the result has been a boom in the sale of Low Shoes. In Ladies', Girls' and Children's, it has been most marked and a month in advance for such goods—Our stock is immense. Styles and prices to suit everyone.

LADIES' OXFORDS AND STRAP SHOES at 75c, $1.00, $1.25, $1.50, $2.00 up.

OUR BARGAIN TABLES ALSO present unusual values in Women's Misses' and Children's Low Shoes.

SWELL lines in MEN'S Patent and Box Calf Low Shoes—also Fine Kid Oxfords at $1.25, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00.

With pleasure and pride we direct your attention to our fine showing of above shoes.

The J. J. Haines

SHOE HOUSES at Belleville, Napanee and Trenton

INTELLIGENCER JOB OFFICE

FOR CHEAP AND ARTISTIC WORK.

Daily Intelligencer.

TIMELY TOP.CS

Next week will surely end in a blaze of excitement, with Major Maude here on Friday and the circus on Saturday.

• • •

If, as stated by some of the Aldermen last night, the dockage fees in this harbor are exorbitant, they might well use their influence to have them reduced. It would not be a bad idea for the Board of Trade to take action in the same direction. Exorbitant dockage fees, of course, tend to keep up freight rates, and that militates against merchants, who, in turn, have to take it out of their customers. This is a matter which might well be looked into.

• • •

It is an undoubted fact that many people in this city hold to the idea that the Trust and Guarantee Company are still the owners of the rolling mills, though all signs point to the conclusion that Mr. Kirkwood has paid the price and the T. & G. Co. have delivered the goods, in legal and regular style. The fact that Mr. Kirkwood refused what Mr. Boland called a good offer for the mills would tend to show that he has confidence in them as a paying concern when properly managed and run. Here's hoping he may be successful in forming his company in La Belle Parce, and, on his return, make a barrel of money out of the rolling mills. He can't very well do that without benefitting this beautiful city.

Suffered Great Pain.

"I have had Rheumatism for two years and suffered great pain. At times I could not sleep, the agony was so distressing. My arms and legs were badly affected. I procured a test vial of Munyon's Rheumatism Cure at the free distribution, and I am absolutely and completely cured. It is a great remedy." Rocco d'Angelo, 136 Chestnut Street, Toronto.

Your druggist will recommend Munyon's Rheumatism Cure—ask him about it. Only 25c a vial. 326 is made of pure fats and oils and contains no dangerous ingredient. It is pure soap that gives absolute satisfaction. 118

SUNLIGHT SOAP

Three cheers for the energetic gentlemen who are pushing the public bath scheme. It does really appear that the city is going to be blessed with one at last, and at a very moderate cost, indeed. This will be good news to everybody interested in cleanliness, hygiene, and a proper regard for the welfare of the rising generation.

• • •

The following paragraph, from the Montreal Gazette, is respectfully submitted for the consideration of various Grit papers in Ontario, particularly the Hamilton Times:

"Some of the Government organs in Ontario are endeavoring to make it appear that there has been a general retraction of the remarks credited to Sir William Mulock in the speech he delivered to the striking 'longshoremen of Montreal. There has been nothing of the kind. There was no necessity for it. The report was correct."

• • •

Horse thieves are apparently very active in the Quinte district. Horses have been stolen at Bell View, Napanee, Marmora, Campbellford, Anson and Stirling. Look out for the horse thieves.

• • •

The Viceregal party will leave Peterboro for Belleville about 2 o'clock on Friday, May 5, so that we may look for them about 4 o'clock.

• • •

Having kicked out the Hon. G. W. Ross, the Dominion Alliance ought to feel very much better.

• • •

The London Times' correspondent has been ordered out of Russia, and, judging by some of the tales we have been hearing lately, he should be glad to go.

OUR BOYS.

It always seems that our boys are harder on clothes than other boys. Probably "our" boys are not wholly to blame. Where do you buy your clothes for your boy? At the Oak Hall? If so, you don't have much trouble. If not, why not? You know Oak Hall clothing is the best. Why not have the best?

In the Justice Shop.

Alleged Fraid.

Robert McKeever was charged with obtaining a buggy by fraud from a manufacturing concern in Newburg. The defendant resides at Trenton. It is alleged that in September, 1900, he procured a buggy from an agent and gave a lien note, which has not been paid. After some evidence had been taken the case was laid over for a week.

The rarest of all wild beasts is the rhinoceros, and the only one in captivity is in the menagerie of Ringling Bros.' World's Greatest Shows. Naturalists estimate this specimen as beyond price, and scientists, explorers and students have come from all parts of the world to inspect the curious beast. The educational value of a visit to this menagerie cannot be overstated.

Reserved seats at Riggs' on show day.

The Market

To-day's market was only fairly well attended. Prices were good, being as follows: Butter, 20c. to 23c., eggs 10c. to 12c. per dozen, chickens 60c. to $1.10 per pair, turkeys about 12c. per pound. Potatoes sold at $1.10 and $1.15 per bag.

Birthday Party.

Miss Eileen Jenkins to-day, in commemoration of her birthday, entertained a number of her little friends. The party was taken to Massassaga Park, where the day was spent.

The Melrose Oil Well.

The latest from the scene of the oil-boring operations at Melrose is that, on Thursday night, black muck and oil had been struck, and that the body of oil is expected at any time.

Piles To prove to you that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a certain and absolute cure for each and every form of itching, bleeding and protruding piles, the manufacturers have guaranteed it. See testimonials in the daily press and ask your neighbors what they think of it. You can use it and get your money back if not cured. 60c a box, at all dealers or EDMANSON, BATES & Co., Toronto.

Dr. Chase's Ointment

Laid Away in the Tomb.

The funeral of the late Mr. Wm. Kelly, which took place yesterday afternoon, was one of the largest ever seen in Sidney. The cortege proceeded from the family residence, Front of Sidney, to White's Church, where services were held, being conducted by the Rev. W. V. Sexsmith, who preached an appropriate sermon, referring to the deceased's many good qualities and his Christian life. The interment took place at the burying ground, near the church. Many beautiful floral tributes were upon the casket, including a pillow from the church officials. The bearers were: Messrs. N. Gilbert, J. Hunt, J. Waldron, W. Jones, J. M. and A. N. Finkle.

Protected.

IN recalling incidents of international courtesy, when British and Americans have supported each other, a writer in the Boston "Transcript" tells the following story which came from an American sailor who had landed at a port in Chile:

The men had gone ashore and become somewhat hilarious, and one of the police officers, instead of warning him not to make a noise in the street, drew his sword and knocked him down. The American got up, and promptly knocked the policeman down in return. He was arrested, tried, and condemned to be shot the next morning.

Mr. Loring, the American consul, expostulated with the authorities, saying that it would be monstrous to put a man to death for such an offence; but they paid no attention to him. On the day specified the sailor was brought out and pinioned, in readiness for execution.

The English consul, preparing to hoist the Union Jack, saw a crowd in the field opposite, and realized that the execution was about to take place. He rushed over to the American consul, and cried:

"Loring! You're not going to let them shoot that man?"

"What can I do?" was the answer. "I have protested against it. I can do no more."

"Give me your flag!" cried the Englishman.

With the two flags in his hand, he ran to the field, elbowed his way through the crowd and soldiery, and reached the prisoner. He folded the American flag about him, and laid the Union Jack over it. He stepped back, and faced the officers and soldiery.

"Shoot, if you dare," he shouted, "through the heart of England and America!"

The man was not shot.

The Old-Age Habit.

"FOR why would I look old, darling? Answer me that, now!" Mrs. Mullaly demanded. She had been Honora Costigan formerly, Mrs. Morris's loving and faithful house-girl; but that was twenty years earlier. Mistress and maid had been at opposite ends of the earth in the meantime, and [illegible] mistress, who had noticeably [illegible], felt almost a shock of resentment at sight of the plump and buxom Nora she used to know.

"Sure, I've had me bad times and me good times, like the rest of the world," Mrs. Mullaly went on, reflectively. "But, glory be! before the bad times quite finished me the good times always came again—me always leaving the door ajar to let them in, d'ye mind?

"I am older; I feel it sometimes in me poor back; but I'm not old. Whisper, darling, it ain't the years that go over; it's the heart that's inside that changes the faces of us.

"'Twas a cousin of mine that teached me the truth of it, this long ago. She begun to be old the day she was born, did Katie, and when she was fourteen, looking and acting twenty, 'twas a great help to her. But when she was twenty, 'I'm getting on!' says she. When she was twenty-five, 'No,' says she to Johnny Walsh, that came a-courting, 'I'm too old and settled in me habits to be marrying.' Then when she was thirty nothing would do her but to get wid the old women and talk of the time when she and they was young.

"So the heart of her went into the face of her. It did so! I mind when she was thirty about and me over twenty, we went together one day to a big new hotel to get work. A good worker was Katie. But the boss he looked us up and looked us down and asked his questions, and then says he, 'I'll give you a trial, my girl,' says he to me. 'But as for you,' he says to Katie, 'it's young, strong, lively women we want,' says he, 'and I'm thinking you're after mistaking this for the Old Ladies' Home, which,' says he, 'is in the next block.'

"'O-ho!' says I to meself at that. 'Am I going out to hunt for wrinkles and rheumatism before me own mother gets gray in her hair? No,' says I, and 'twas then I begun to toss me birthdays over me shoulder as fast as they came. They're all behind me, glory be! where I can't fall over thim.

"Whisper, darling," Mrs. Mullaly added, impressively, "old age is a bad habit, like drinking, and if ye give way to it ye won't so easy break it off. Sure, there's a new year every twelve months, but that can't make ye an old woman—never, darling, until ye're willin' to be!"

Team-work Among Squirrels.

A party of young people who were tenting in a grove near a glen at a Northfield Conference witnessed an incident which seems to show a friendly understanding among squirrels. The Deerfield Valley "Endeavorer" tells the pleasing story.

An out-of-doors dinner had just been finished, and the party were still sitting at the table, when a red squirrel, with glistening, eager eyes, came creeping down a tree which stood near the table. He crept nearer and nearer, and finally leaped upon the table.

The lady who was presiding said, "Yes, help yourself to anything you want!"

Upon this invitation the little fellow made bold to creep up to a loaf of bread from which only a slice or two had been cut. He seized it and dragged it to the side of the table, and somehow managed to scramble down the side with it to the ground. He then fixed his teeth in the crust, and dragged it away and down the steep sides of the glen.

But when he reached the bottom and confronted the steep rise on the other side it was too much for him. Then he gave a sort of call, which seemed to be understood, for soon squirrels were seen coming from several directions. They crowded round him, and after a little conference, all took hold, and with tug and strain they managed to bring the loaf to the top of the hill, and disappeared with it in the woods beyond.

Two Ways.

When a woman gets frightened at night she just pulls the bedclothes over her head, says she is terrified out of her wits, and goes to sleep. But with a man it is different. He says he is not afraid, pushes the clothes down and lies tremblingly wake for two hours, straining his ears at every sound.—

Lake Ontario & Bay of Quinte Steamboat Co.,
(LIMITED)
"The Bay of Quinte Route."

Str. "ALETHA"

Leaves Belleville on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 6 a.m. for Bay of Quinte ports and Kingston. Returning will arrive at Belleville on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays at 10.30 p.m.

Belleville-Rochester Route

Str. "North King"

Commencing 31st May will leave Belleville on Sundays at 11.38 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. Returning arrives at Belleville on Sundays at 3.25 a.m. and leaves for Bay Ports, Kingston and 1000 Islands.

During July and August service will be daily except Monday.

Right reserved to change time with or without notice.

For passage and freight rates and other information, apply to

THE RATHBUN CO., } Agents.
U. E. THOMPSON, }
E. E. HORSEY, G. P. & F. Agent,
Kingston.

Montreal, Rochester & Quebec Transit Co'y.

Str. "Alexandria"

Service in effect 25th April.

Leaves Rathbun Co.'s wharf, Belleville, every Saturday at 11.00 a.m. for Rochester, Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Every Monday at 7.00 a.m. for Montreal and all River Ports.

Thousand Islands by daylight.

Runs all St. Lawrence River Rapids.

Quebec excursions commence July 5th.

LOW FREIGHT RATES.

A. W. HEPBURN, General Manager, Picton, Ont.
THE RATHBUN CO. Agents. Belleville.

The Deseronto Navigation Co
TIME TABLE
Taking effect April 13, 1903.
Belleville, Trenton, Picton & Napanee

Str. "ELLA ROSS"

Leaves Belleville for Trenton at 10 a. m., daily, Sundays Excepted, returning leaves Trenton at 2 p. m., leaving Belleville at 3 p.m. for Deseronto, Napanee and Picton.

Quick and Superior Service to NEW YORK CITY

Steamers RESOLUTE and RELIANCE will leave Deseronto for Oswego after arrival of Str. Ella Ross connecting at Oswego with the New York, Ontario Western Ry.

Fare to New York, Single, $8.40
Return, $13.65

For further particulars apply to THE RATHBUN CO., Local Agents

J. F. CHAPMAN, Asst. Gen. Frt. & Pass. Agt., Deseronto.
A. C. CARTER General Manager Deseronto.

Just What You Want

Paint Brushes 7, 10, 15, 20, 25c.
Whitewash Brushes 10, 13, 15, 20, 25, 35, 45c.
1,000 Parlor Matches for 5c.
600 pairs Ladies' Bl'k Hose 5c pair.
500 printed Platters and Bakers, regular 25, clearing at 10c.
300 pairs Men's Sox, special, 4 pr. for 25c.
D. K. Blue Cups and Saucers, 35c 1-2 dozen.
1200 Dinner Setts for $8.00.
Curtain Poles, complete, for 20c.
Carpet Tacks, 2 for 5c.
Carpet Whips 10c each.
Kitchen Mirrors 12, 15, 20, 25, 30c.
Best Oil Blinds 30c.
6 Cakes Moss Rose Toilet Soap 15c.
3 Cakes Cold Cream Toilet Soap 5c.
6 Bars Eclipse Soap 25c.
Large variety of odd Wallpaper der, clearing at 1c yard.
50 varieties of Wallpaper, clearing at 5c Roll.
Large varieties 5, 7, 8, 10c Ceiling Papers, clearing at 3c Roll.

Be sure and visit our Wallpaper Department; it is the most complete, and has the best selected stock to choose from in the City.

Our Prices are 1-2 what other stores ask for same quality.

AT THE BEE HIVE

Chas. N. Sulman

The various countries of the world use 13,400 different kinds of postage

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

TOURIST RESORTS

The Famous Muskoka Lakes, Georgian Bay, Kawartha Lakes, Lake of Bays, etc., are noted for their excellent and healthy climate. Up-to-date hotels. Grand Trunk trains make connection at Muskoka Wharf for all ports on Muskoka Lakes, at Huntsville for all ports on Lake of Bays; also direct connection to ports on Georgian Bay and Kawartha Lakes.

EXCURSIONS TO CANADIAN NORTH-WEST.

Good going June 4th, and June 18th, valid returning within 60 days from date of issue. Good going July 4th, valid returning until Sept. 8th.

For tickets, information and descriptive literature, apply to

U. E. THOMPSON, City Agent, Bridge Street.
T. H. COPPIN, Depot Agent,
J. D. McDONALD, Dist. Pass Agt., Toronto.

CANADIAN PACIFIC RY.

WILL RUN

Homeseekers' 60 DAY Excursions

To The Canadian North-West at Return Fares.

Winnipeg, Waskada Estevan, Elgin Arcola Moosomin, Wawanesa Miniota, Binscarth, Grand View Swan River	$28	Regina, Moosejaw, Yorkton,	$30
		Prince Albert Macleod, Calgary	$35
		Red Deer, Strathcona	$40

Going JUNE 4th, returning until AUGUST 4th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going JUNE 18th, returning until AUGUST 18th (all rail or S.S. Athabasca). Going July 4th, returning until SEPTEMBER 8th (all rail or S.S. Manitoba). Tickets are not good on "Imperial Limited." For tickets and pamphlet giving full particulars, apply to your nearest Canadian Pacific agent, or to

A. H. NOTMAN, Asst. Genl. Pass. Agent, 1 King St. East, Toronto.
S. BURROWS, C.P.R. and General Ticket Agent, Front St., Belleville.

NEW YORK CENTRAL & HUDSON RIVER R. R.

THE FOUR-TRACK TRUNK LINE.

SHORTEST Route to the United States via Cape Vincent, N.Y.

GOING EAST AND WEST.			After 1st May
Lv. Belleville (G.T.R.)		12.22 p.m.	1.30 a.m
Arr. Kingston	"	1.47 p.m.	3.12 a.m
Lv. Kingston (stage)..		2.30 p.m.	5.00 a.m
Arr. Cape Vincent (stage)		4.30 p.m.	7.00 a.m
Lv. Cape Vincent N.Y.C.		5.05 p.m.	7.25 a.m
Arr. Watertown	"	5.55 p.m.	8.25 a.m
Arr. Oswego	"	9.05 p.m.	11.55 a.m
Arr. Syracuse	"	9.25 p.m.	12.07 p.m
Arr. Rochester	"	1.05 a.m.	2.20 a.m
Arr. Utica	"	9.45 p.m.	12.35 p.m
Arr. New York	"	7.25 a.m.	6.00 p.m

Convenient train service in opposite direction.

Pullman Sleeping and Parlor Cars.

2c a Mile.

Books for 500 miles of travel on New York Central and leased lines within State of New York, cost only $10 while books for 1000 miles over New York Central, Boston & Albany, Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg, Philadelphia & Reading and C. R. R. of New Jersey cost $20. Secure further information and purchase tickets from F. A. Folger, N.Y.C. Agent, Kingston, Ont.

GEORGE H. DANIELS, Gen'l Pass'r Agent, New York.
A. H. SMITH, Gen'l Supt., New York.
G. C. GRIDLEY, Gen'l Agent, Watertown, N.Y.

Western Beef.

Prime Western Beef together with all kinds of choice meats, supplied to the district, at

C. GREEN'S

257 Front St., 'Phone 109.

LACROSSE SHOES

For Men, Boys and Children.

Tennis Balmorals

In sizes for Men, Ladies and Boys.

VERMILYEA & SON.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Measurement Nonpareil—12 lines to the inch.

Display advertisements, 10c per line. Subsequent consecutive insertions, ...nc.

Reading advertisements, 15c per line. Preferred position, 20 per cent. advance ... or rual or contract rates.

Minimum space, 10 lines.

Marriages and deaths, 50c each insertion. Births, 25c each insertion.

Rates for Condensed Advertisement will be found in 1st column of 2nd page.

All advertisements are subject to the approval of the Publisher of the Intelligencer.

Address all communications to the Intelligencer Printing & Publishing House Limited, or to Charles J. Bowell, Managing Director and Treasurer.

Canadians in London will find The Intelligencer on file at E. & J. Hardy & Co.'s Office, 30 Fleet Street, London, E. C.

CONDENSED ADVERTISEMENTS

SITUATIONS WANTED, HELP WANTED, LOST OR FOUND, FOR SALE OR TO RENT, &c.

(Auction Sales not included in this list)

TERMS.—Twenty-five words or less, 25c first insertion; two insertions, 50c; four insertions, 75c; one week $1.00, two weeks, $1.75, three weeks, $2.25; one month, $2.50. Strictly cash in advance.

WANTED.

Girl for general housework; best wages. Apply evenings. Mrs. C. J. Bowell, 163 Albert St. 2t

General servant wanted; highest wages. Apply to MRS. A. R. WALLBRIDGE, 40 Queen St. 29-3t

Boy to learn printing trade. Apply to "The Intelligencer" at once.

Junior Law Clerk (male). PORTER & CARNEW. m22dtf

A few men and women to work for us at home during spare time. Pleasant work. Liberal pay. No canvassing. Imperial Company, London, Ontario. m12-1m

Agents wanted who are willing to work. Good goods and good pay. Men earn $6.00 a day winter and summer. Never out of season. Write G. Marshall & Co., Teas, London, Ont.

Young men ambitious to learn lucrative trades, of which there are eight in connection with the business. Apply The Belleville Hardware Company, Belleville, Ont. a7dtf

Competent men to appoint agents, whole or spare time. Commission paid. Apply JOHN DOYLE, Drawer 631, London. a27-1yr

WANTED Reliable Men in every locality throughout Canada to introduce our goods, tacking up show cards on trees, fences, along roads and all conspicuous places, also distributing small advertising matter. Commission or salary $60.00 per month and expenses, not to exceed $2.50 per day. Steady employment to good, honest reliable men. No experience needful. Write for full particulars. THE EMPIRE MEDICINE CO., London, Ont.

LOST.

From Rossmore, on May 25, brown horse. Finder please notify J. E. THOMPSON, Rossmore. 27,28,30d&1tw

FOR SALE OR TO-LET.

Stone house, 11 rooms, coal furnace, stable, barn. Large grounds. Cor. Frank and Moira Sts. north. Terms reasonable. H. Bull, on premises or Fred Bull, 2 1-2 Queen St., Toronto. Terms easy. ap18-dtf

FOR SALE.

That splendid property on the south east corner of Dunbar and Catharine Sts. City water and sewer connection. m29-4w

BICYCLE—Cleveland, 1903, hygienic cushion frame, coaster brake, 22 inch frame, Dunlop tires. Will be sold cheap. Original cost $65.00. Apply at Intelligencer Office. tf

Comfortable, well built, seven room frame house and lot, situated on North Front St., in vicinity of Albert College. Apply to Mrs. Wm. McCreery, Belleville. my15-d1mem&1w

Contractors and masons, any any person requiring lime may procure it from E. G. STAPLEY, Carlton Road, Belleville. New lime always on hand. a9-d&w6m

Dressed and Matched Lumber of all kinds, at ALFORD'S factory, Market Square. j12-tf

REMOVAL.

Dr. Clarke will shortly remove to the offices formerly occupied by the late Dr. Ward, over Burrows', and opposite Scantlebury's Book Store. a27dtf

Bad Teeth

make the breath bad and the mouth bad, and the stomach bad, and make your temper bad when you notice your friends drawing away from you. Care of the teeth is the only remedy. Have a dentist fix them if you can, but brush them anyway, night and morning, with our

CREME DENTIFRICE IN TUBES.

It cleans off the tartar, makes the teeth white, retards decay, sweetens the mouth and breath, hardens the gums and makes your whole mouth healthier. 25c a tube.

We also have some splendid Tooth Brushes at 25c each, guaranteed.

ALEX. RAY

RAILWAY TIME TABLES.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY.

Time of departure from Belleville Station:

Going East.

No. 18—Local, for Brockville, 7 a.m., arrives back from Brockville 9.30 p.m.

No. 2—1.30 a.m., Mail and Express, (Flyer), Daily.

No. 6—11.40 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

No. 4—12.22 p.m., International Limited, Daily.

No. 12—5.55 p.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

Going West.

No. 5—3 a.m., Mail and Express, Daily except Monday.

No. 3—4.10 a.m., Limited Express, Daily.

No. 9—5.50 a.m., Local Passenger, Daily, except Sunday.

No. 11—11.22 a.m., Passenger, Daily except Sunday.

No. 1—1.50 p.m., International Limited Daily.

No. 7—5.10 p.m., Mail and Express, Daily, except Sunday.

Taking effect 12.01 o'clock, Sunday, June 15, 1902.

MIDLAND RAILWAY.

Belleville and Peterboro.

Going West.

	Leave.	Arr. Peterboro
Mail	5.40 a.m.	8.10 a.m.
Mixed	5.55 p.m.	9.05 p.m.

Going East.

	Arr.	L've Peterboro
Mixed	11.20 a.m.	8.20 a.m.
Mail	4.25 p.m.	2.05 p.m.

Belleville and Madoc.

Going North.

	L've	Arr. Madoc
Mixed	12.20 p.m.	1.20 p.m.
Mixed	5.30 p.m.	7.40 p.m.

Going South.

	Arr.	L've Madoc
Mixed	9.10 a.m.	7.30 a.m.
Mixed	5.00 p.m.	3.45 p.m.

None of the above trains run on Sunday.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM

Cures Deep-seated Colds Coughs · Croup · Bronchitis · LARGE BOTTLES $1.00 MEDIUM 50¢ · TRIAL SIZE 25¢

A WONDERFUL MEDICINE.

BEECHAM'S PILLS

For Bilious and Nervous Disorders, such as Wind and Pain in the Stomach, Sick Headache, Giddiness, Fulness and Swelling after meals, Dizziness and Drowsiness, Cold Chills, Flushings of Heat, Loss of Appetite, Shortness of Breath, Costiveness, Blotches on the Skin, Disturbed Sleep, Frightful Dreams, and all Nervous and Trembling Sensations, &c. THE FIRST DOSE WILL GIVE RELIEF IN TWENTY MINUTES. This is no fiction. Every sufferer is earnestly invited to try one Box of these Pills, and they will be acknowledged to be WITHOUT A RIVAL.

BEECHAM'S PILLS taken as directed, will quickly restore Females to complete health. They promptly remove any obstruction or irregularity of the system. For a

Weak Stomach, Impaired Digestion, Disordered Liver,

they act like magic—a few doses will work wonders upon the Vital Organs; Strengthening the muscular System, restoring the long-lost Complexion, bringing back the keen edge of appetite, and arousing with the Rosebud of Health the whole physical energy of the human frame. These are "facts" admitted by thousands, in all classes of society, and one of the best guarantees to the Nervous and Debilitated is that BEECHAM'S PILLS have the Largest Sale of any Patent Medicines in the World.

Beecham's Pills have been before the public for half a century, and are the most popular family medicine. No testimonials are published, as Beecham's Pills

RECOMMEND THEMSELVES.

Prepared only by Thomas Beecham, St. Helens, England.

Sold everywhere in Canada and U. S. America. In boxes, 25 cents.

Relieve those Inflamed Eyes!

Pond's Extract

Reduced one-half with pure soft water, applied frequently with dropper or eye cup. the congestion will be removed and the pain and inflammation instantly relieved.

CAUTION!—Avoid dangerous, irritating Witch Hazel preparations represented to be "the same as" Pond's Extract which easily sour and generally contain "wood alcohol," a deadly poison.

Bank of Montreal

ESTABLISHED 1817

Capital and Rest, All Paid Up.

$20,000,000

(Twenty Millions.)

Savings Bank Department

Interest on sums of $4.00 and upwards allowed at current rates.

A. G. PARKER,

Manager Belleville Branch

Flowers & Vegetables

Of all kinds in season.

...AT...

J. D. COLLIP'S.

'Phone 205.

SANTAL-MIDY

Standard remedy for Gleet, Gonorrhoea and Runnings IN 48 HOURS. Cures Kidney and Bladder Troubles.

MIDY

Watch Your Friends and Neighbors Who Use PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

Why Continue in Suffering While Others are Banishing Their Ailments and Weaknesses?

Our heartfelt desire at this time is to impress upon the minds of our women and girls the folly of trusting to time and nature to secure freedom from the ailments and weaknesses, the symptoms and warnings of disease that wreck the lives of so many. The entire female organism at this season demands attention. The delicate and complicated machinery cannot work with regularity and precision when you suffer from female irregularities, nervous prostration, headaches, backaches, sideaches, liver complaint and the effects of impure blood.

To-day your friends and neighbors are using woman's friend, Paine's Celery Compound, and are getting rid of their burdens and troubles. If you are observant you will note that your women friends are putting on flesh, they are blessed with renewed vigor, elastic step, bright eyes and clear complexions, all of which are true indications of a new and better health. Why suffer when you can secure the same blessings? Why deny yourself the happiness of true womanly life when Paine's Celery Compound is able to make you as healthy and attractive as other women are? Mrs. George H. Griswold, Nanaimo, B.C., writing specially for women, says:

"The grand success of Paine's Celery Compound in my case, leads me to believe that it has no equal in the world for curing the ills of women. For three years female troubles, dyspepsia and nervousness made me a shadow of my former self. I was treated by competent doctors, and took a sea trip that lasted six weeks, but got home again feeling no better. After reading one of your books on Paine's Celery Compound, I bought a supply and used it faithfully. Three bottles were sufficient to convince me that I had found a friend and helper. Six bottles, thank God, banished all my complaints and made me a new woman. I am anxious that every suffering woman should know what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me."

If you are in need of free medical advice, write to Consulting Physician's Department, The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, Montreal, Que. All correspondence is sacredly confidential.

PERSONAL ...AND... SOCIAL.

The Intelligencer invites all its readers to contribute to this column all items of a personal nature, such as the arrival or departure of guests, and the movements of business men, etc. Send a post card to or telephone The Intelligencer.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholson and daughter, Mildred, are visiting Mrs. Wiggins.

Mrs. Simon Wiggins, of Queensboro, is at present visiting Mrs. Thomas Wiggins, of this city.

Miss Margaret Baker, of Woodstock, is visiting her grandfather, Mr. N. S. DeMill, Grier Street.

Mrs. R. P. Roblin, wife of Premier Roblin, of Manitoba, and two sons, are the guests of her father, Mr. N. S. DeMill, Grier Street.

CITY AND DISTRICT.

Advertisements under this heading TWO CENTS A WORD; subsequent consecutive insertions ONE CENT A WORD. No less charged as less than twenty-five words

A young man named Russel Carter, formerly of this city, was recently married to a Miss Katie Norris, of Parry Sound. They will reside in Toronto.

Bridge St. Church will to-morrow celebrate its 88th anniversary. Rev. Dr. Rose, of Ottawa, will preach.

There was a fair attendance of country people in town to-day.

The sides of the footbridge are in a sadly battered condition. There is plenty of room, in some places, for a little child to fall through.

The Fax-Chambers Concert, Monday, June 1st, is now an assured success.

Jaded theatre-goers will find a refreshing change in the Fax-Chambers Concert, Opera House, Monday, June 1st. 1t

Owing to this being Decoration Day in the United States, and a public holiday, there were no stock markets to-day.

The police last night found two business places insecure.

The case against Wm. Stevenson, charged with assaulting Mrs. Sarah Smith, tried yesterday afternoon before the P. M., resulted in the accused being acquitted.

The special price of dress skirts to be offered for sale at D. V. Sinclair & Co.'s store to-night appeared in yesterday's paper as $2.75. It should have read $2.85. 1t

Prof. J. H. DeSilberg, optician from Germany, will be at A. L. Geen's drug store on Monday, June 1st, and until noon of Thursday, June 4th. Eyes tested free of charge. Those having weak or imperfect eyes should not fail to consult the Professor. dm29,30,j1,2&wm21,28

Wanted.—A boy at The Intelligencer Office to learn the printing trade. 29-2t

A great many people think one Life Company is as profitable as another to insure in, but that is a great mistake. The biggest dividend payer is the one that does a progressive business on the lowest expense ratio. The Mutual Life of Canada holds that proud position, so you will act wisely by giving it the preference.—S. BURROWS, General Agent.

The Fire Horses.

To the Editor of The Intelligencer:

Dear Sir,—Will you kindly ask the citizens of Belleville through your valuable paper what they think of the proposition to take one horse from No. 2 Fire Department and place it on No. 1 hose cart?

Where is the Humane Society that they do not come forward and look into this cruel neglect of not having sufficient horses on the Fire Departments of Belleville?

A CITIZEN.

CHURCH DIRECTORY.

1815 1815

88th ANNIVERSARY.

BRIDGE ST. METHODIST CHURCH

10 a.m.—Praise and thanksgiving service in Sunday School rooms.

11 a.m. and 7 p.m. sermons by the Rev. S. P. Rose, D.D., of Ottawa.

2.30 p.m. Sunday School and welcome to Rev. Dr. Rose.

Special music, with solos by Miss Wheler, Miss Holton and Miss Vermilyea.

Strangers in the City, students at Albert College, Ontario Business College, Belleville Business College, and all other visitors welcomed.

JOHN ST. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Corner of Victoria Avenue and John Street.

REV. A. H. DRUMM, Pastor.

Sunday services at 11 a.m., and 7 p. m.

Sunday School at 3 p.m.

Pastor's Class for Bible Study—Sunday at 3 p.m.

Young People's Guild—Monday at 8 p.m. Prayer meeting—Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Service at 11 a.m., and 7 p.m.

THE TABERNACLE METHODIST CHURCH.

Church St.

Joseph H. Locke, Pastor.

Service at 11 a.m. by Rev. Dr. Gardiner, annual sermon.

Service at 7 p.m. by the Pastor.

Sunday School and Bible Classes at 2.30.

Strangers and visitors conducted to seats by obliging ushers.

VICTORIA AVE BAPTIST CHURCH,

Cor. Victoria Ave. and Pinnacle St

REV. O. C. ELLIOTT, Pastor.

Sunday, May 31th.

Prayer meeting—10.30 a.m.

Services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Sunday School at three o'clock.

The Pastor will conduct both services.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the above services. All seats are free.

BELLEVILLE NORTH (BLEECKER AVE) METHODIST CHURCH.

11 sermon by Rev. M. J. Bates.

7 sermon by Rev. Mr. Dangerfield, "For Town People."

2.30 Sunday School.

Monday night at 8 Sen. League. Students will help.

Wednesday night prayer meeting at 8 o'clock.

Friday, 4 p.m., Jr. League. All invited.

Kingston Road.—2.30 Rev. M. J. Bates will preach.

Thursday night League in Church.

Centre St.—2.30 Sunday School by Mr. Chas Elvins.

Preaching at 7 by Rev. Mr. Crowe.

Wednesday night—Praise and Prayer at 8.

BETHEL HALL, Front St.

11 a.m.—Lord's Supper.

3 p.m.—Sunday School.

7 p.m.—Gospel meeting.

ALL WELCOME.

May 31st, 1903.

WHIT SUNDAY.

EMMANUEL REFORMED EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

(Free Church of England).

Victoria Avenue, between Church and Pinnacle Streets.

Rev. William J. Gilliland, Rector.

SUNDAY SERVICES—Morning at 11. Evening at 7.

Subjects—morning, "Benefit of Afflictions." Evening, "The Gift of the Spirit."

Sunday School and Bible Classes at 3 p.m.

Young People's Meeting Sunday 8 p m.

Midweek prayer meeting, Wednesday 8 p.m.

Strangers and visitors in the city welcome.

All seats free.

Just received at The Intelligencer Job Office 50,000 new Envelopes for business purposes; printed or plain. Call and examine before buying.

Wet Moon and Dry Moon.

THERE are still some students of meteorology who believe that the moon may influence the weather, but the current popular beliefs on the subject are almost pure superstition. Witness the distinction between a "wet" and a "dry" moon, based on the position of the crescent, and still made by some presumably intelligent persons. The position of the crescent obviously depends on the relative positions of sun and moon, and is the same at the same season of the year. Mr. Arthur K. Bartlett has thought it worth while to devote a short magazine article to the detailed elucidation of all this. His explanation, which first appeared in the Battle Creek "Moon" (Battle Creek, Mich.), and is reprinted in "Popular Astronomy" (October), runs as follows:

"Owing to the changing position of the crescent seen upon the western sky after sunset, such expressions as these are frequently heard: 'If the moon lies so water can not run out, we shall have a drought;' 'A wet moon is one upon which the Indian can hang his powder-horn,' etc. Now, it is a fact not generally known that the crescent moon always appears 'upon its back' in spring, near the vernal equinox, and 'upon its end' in autumn, near the autumnal equinox, and these positions, which occur regularly each year, may be easily understood by a little consideration after the conditions have once been carefully explained.

"The change of direction in which the moon's 'horns' are turned is caused by the varying position of the moon, when at her 'new,' relatively to the sun and earth, and depends upon the difference in declination of the sun and moon. If the moon be further north than the sun soon after the 'new,' the sunlight strikes under her and she appears with her 'horns' upturned; but if she be further south the light reaches around her disk to the northward, and her 'horns' appear nearly vertical; as if the crescent moon was resting upon one of them. We see the moon in varying positions on the sky, and at first sight there appears to be no definite relation between her position and the position of her cusps or 'horns.' In fact, this feature of her aspect has seemed so changeful and capricious that it has even been regarded as a weather token. But in reality there is a simple relation always fulfilled by the moon's 'horns,' or points of the crescent. The line joining them is always at right angles or perpendicular to a line drawn from the sun to the moon, so that the 'horns' are always turned directly away from the sun. The exact position in which they will stand at any time is, therefore, easily predictable, and has nothing whatever to do with the weather. . . . As the late Professor Proctor well remarked, 'to assert that there will be such and such weather when the line joining the cusps is seen (for instance) nearly horizontal, the moon being new, is the same as asserting that there must be such and such weather at the time of new moon in February and March, if the moon is then nearly at her maximum distance from the ecliptic. And so with all such cases. If there were any value at all in such predictions, they would imply the strictly cyclic return of such and such weather.' The tradition that the crescent of the 'new' moon, when nearly horizontal, foretells a 'dry month,' or when nearly vertical a 'wet month,' is too absurd to be refuted, as it is without any foundation whatever. Like most other so-called 'signs,' those who accept them do so from coincidences observed. Cases which prove the 'signs' are noted, but those which do not are neglected, and we are convinced only because we wish to be convinced."

The Raw-Food Fad.

THE eaters of raw food are feebly encouraged by the editor of "Good Health," who remarks that whatever may be said of uncooked food, it is certainly preferable to food badly cooked. He says: "Just now the raw-food diet threatens to become a fad. Certainly many people are experimenting with this new dietetic idea. Fortunately it is not a very dangerous one. On the whole, much more mischief is done by bad cookery than could ever possibly result from the use of raw food, and there can be no doubt that it would be far better for the average man or woman to adopt an absolutely raw diet, and eat everything which he could possibly eat or relish, in a perfectly raw state than to swallow into his stomach the horrible messes which are concocted by the average cook. If the writer had to take his chances between raw food and the food found upon the average table, he would certainly dine with nature every time. Raw potatoes would be far less likely to do mischief in the alimentary canal than fried potatoes, Saratoga chips, or even ordinary baked potatoes well buttered while hot. Raw beefsteak, dripping and quivering, from the side of a freshly slaughtered animal, is probably one of the most digestible of all known foods, although certainly not the most esthetic or appetizing; while the same steak, dried and fried on the griddle along with burnt butter and salt, is only a little more digestible than a bit of sole-leather. Raw wheat would certainly digest after a lengthy peregrination, but the same wheat made into doughnuts, griddle-cakes, pie crust, or noodles, might tarry for a lengthy period in some nook along the digestive highway without undergoing that transmutation by which harmless food-stuffs are converted into live blood and vitalized tissues. It is safer on the whole for man to take his food as he finds it in its natural state than to take it as he finds it on the table of the average boarding-house or hotel. In other words, it is far safer for man to receive his food straight from the hands of his Maker, than from the hands of a French cook. The raw-food idea is not to be hastily condemned nor too much discouraged. It will open the eyes of a multitude of people to the evils of our present ways in diet, and certainly will serve a purpose in pointing toward the natural way in diet, from which the civilized portion of the race has wandered so far astray. Our natural-food friends only need to drop off a few coarse and comparatively innutritious as well as unpalatable food-stuffs to find themselves in the perfect way in diet which was marked out for man in the beginning, and in which our nearest relatives, the gorilla, chimpanzee and orang-outang, are still walking."

A Happy Combination

No need to say a word about the virtues of Cod Liver Oil, Iron and Phosphorus; they are universally known and recognized. It is not so well known, however, that combines these three great remedies in a beautiful emulsion, pleasant to take and easy to digest. If you require "building up," send at once for FREE sample and literature to

FERROL

(The Iron-Oil Food)

75c. a Bottle. At all Druggists, or from

THE FERROL COMPANY, Limited Toronto, Ont.

Laboratory and Offices: 124 King Street West

Tolstoy on Marriage and Woman.

AFTER an interval of nearly ten years Count Tolstoy reverts to the subject of his much-discussed "Kreutzer Sonata," and in a book on "The Sexual Question" elaborately expounds his theory of marriage and purity. A chapter from this book has been translated from the original for "La Revue" (Paris), and it sufficiently indicates the position defended in this volume. "Marriage," Tolstoy declares, "is a sin, not a duty," and the ideal of religious and moral men should be its abolition—at the cost of the gradual disappearance of the human race. The book appears to be exceptionally frank and outspoken, and the author does not shrink from the logical conclusion of his premises, but nothing could prove more completely that the so-called "great" Russian is simply a madman.

Here, for example, is one of his categorical statements:

"The whole question of sexual relationship is solved in one word—the God-fearing man, married or celibate, must always and under all circumstances be as chaste as possible.

"Marriage is not a Christian institution. Christ did not marry, nor did any one of His disciples, and He never authorized it. Addressing men among whom there were married people, He told them not to put away their wives—that is, not to divorce them, as had been allowable under the Mosaic law; to some He distinctly said that it were better they did not marry, and He told all that the greatest sin was to regard a woman as an object of desire."

But this is not all. Marriage is decidedly anti-Christian, Tolstoy asserts, for it turns men and women away from the only purpose of life, from their only duty—the realization of God's will. The love of man for woman or of woman for man conflicts with brotherly love, the only love that is pure, unselfish, essential to true happiness. For those who earnestly desire to follow Christ's teachings, Tolstoy draws the following moral and practical conclusions, after stating that Christianity in its ethical part holds up an ideal to be slowly approached, not a rigid set of rules to be obeyed once for all or disobeyed at one's peril:

1. "Those who are firm and strong enough to overcome temptation and weakness should not marry at all, but remain absolutely chaste."

2. "Those who cannot live up to this ideal of Christian conduct should marry and be as chaste as possible—have few children, live with their wives not as lovers, but as brothers with sisters; and they should educate their children properly, discouraging marriage and training them for celibacy."

3. "The married should regard themselves as sinners, but as sinners whose fall is not irremediable, and who are still able to promote the Christian ideal within their marriage relation."

The important thing, Tolstoy continues, is the point of view, and the chief trouble is that marriage has been regarded as a blessing, if not as an actual sacrament.

The prevailing conception, according to Tolstoy, is absurd as well as wrong. He illustrates this by citing the novelists. At present, he says, "novels end with the marriage of the hero and the heroine. They ought to begin with it, and end with the separation of the hero and heroine—that is, with their liberation. To write of the life of men and women and stop at the point of marriage is like telling of a voyage and suspending the recital when the traveler falls among brigands."

Men, Tolstoy admits, have tyrannised over women and held them in legal subjection, but the effect has been disastrous to the men. The women have exercised the subtle and effective power of passive resistance and have secured the real control of society. It is the women who rule, who determine the direction of our art, literature, politics and government. They mold public opinion, which is stronger than law and government. Their influence is based on their attraction, and is essentially immoral and irreligious. They must be resisted and converted into comrades and coworkers for Christ.

"My dear," said the careful mother to her sixteen-year-old daughter, "that is a book which I must absolutely forbid you to read." "That's all very well, mamma," replied the Twentieth-Century Girl, "but how am I to know what books to forbid my children to read unless I read them myself while I have the chance?" And she bore off the book in triumph to study it in the solitude of her own boudoir.

Bicycle Weather

We're now at the heart of bicycle weather, and if you want to learn all the joy there is in living in this fair Canada of ours you should ride a wheel. It brings you into the sunshine and the breeze. It gives you the exercise you need.

CLEVELAND

Bicycles are the top-notchers with the HYGIENIC CUSHION FRAME. They lead all others. It is to wheeling what the "Pullman" is to railroading.

Greenleaf & Son, BELLEVILLE

AGENTS EVERYWHERE.

Canada Cycle & Motor Co., Limited,

Head Office and Works, TORONTO JUNCTION

Delicious Coffee

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE'S.

Ground daily by electric power.

30 & 40 cts. per lb.

Fresh Roll Butter

20 cents per lb

J. C. Hanley & Co
GROCERS
Telephone 214

New Hats

READY-TO-WEAR HATS
DRESS HATS.

New Veilings

Latest styles—Best work.
We will surely please you.
Come and see them.

MISS M. CAMPBELL.
P. D. Corsets. 'Phone 117

The Sherwin-Williams

...BARN RED...

Saves money for the barn owner. It does it by covering most surface to the gallon, spreading easy and wearing the longest time.

Price $1.00 per gallon.

Last year we sold over a hundred gallons, and every can gave satisfaction. Its made to satisfy. Use it and you'll save money.

WATERS DRUG STORE

A long portage makes a heavy canoe.

KEEP YOUR EYES OPEN and be sure that when you ask for Perry Davis' Painkiller you get just that and nothing else. Use it promptly to cure cramps, diarrhoea and all other bowel complaints in summer.

A System that Will not keep You waiting

Whether you want Painting, Paper Hanging, Decorating, Graining, or anything in our line, we will not keep you waiting. WE WILL NAME THE DAY, and that very day you will find us at your work, with an excellent staff of workmen—the very best mechanics that can be secured—workmen that we can rely on and that please our customers every time.

OUR WALL PAPER TRADE this year is so far the largest in the history of this house, and there are reasons behind the increased trade, and here they are—

FIRSTLY—Times are good, people have money and know where to spend it to advantage.

SECONDLY—By comparison with other lines our customers find our prices much lower and our styles of Wall Paper much higher than the ordinary.

THIRDLY—We give free two yards of bordering with each double roll of the Wall Paper it matches.

We hang our paper at very reasonable price, and always please our customers whether in papering, painting or anything else.

C. B. Scantlebury
Belleville's Decorator

Outside Painting. Inside Painting,
Paperhanging.

Wall Paper, Wholesale and Retail.

CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY

CAPITAL

10,000 Shares 7 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock, par value $100 each, $1,000,000,
50,000 Shares Common Stock, par value $100, issued and fully paid 5,000,000
TOTAL CAPITALIZATION $6,000,000

Issues of $1,000,000.00 7 p.c. Preferred Stock in 10,000 Shares of $100 each at par.

This stock is preferred both as to Assets and Dividends.
The shares are entitled to cumulative preferred dividends from the net earnings of the Company, at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, payable half yearly on the first days of April and October. They may, at the option of the holder, be exchanged for common shares. They are subject to be called in, in whole or in part, by the Company, at $115.00 per share, at any time after 1st January, 1909.
The total issue of Preferred Stock is only $1,000,000.00, the whole of which is now offered.

Subscriptions for 10,000 Shares of $100 each of the 7 per cent. Preferred Stock of the CANADIAN STEEL & COAL COMPANY will now be received at par, that is $100 Share, as follows

per cent on application,
25 " " on allotment,
35 " " 30 days thereafter.
35 " " 60 days thereafter.

One share of Common, par value $100, given with each share of preferred.

The whole of instalments remaining unpaid at any time may be prepaid in full. A discount of one per cent will be allowed upon the par of each share if prepaid at time of allotment
Notice of allotment will be sent promptly by ordinary letter.

COAL

PROPERTY IN FULL OPERATION

Company owns 9,600 acres of coal property known throughout the coal trade as the New Campbellton Colliery, located on Bras D'Or Bay, County of Victoria, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia. Mine is fully equipped, producing and marketing tons of coal a day at a net profit of $1.00 a ton. Improvements are now being made that will increase the output to over 1,000 tons a day. On present output, figuring 300 working days in year, the net result will more than pay interest on entire issue of preferred, with output of 1,000 tons a day net result will be $300,000 per annum.

IRON

RICHEST ORE IN THE WORLD

Company owns in fee simple, free and clear of all incumbrances, 4000 acres of iron ore deposit, located Natashquan (tidewater) situated on North shore of Gulf of St. Lawrence, in the County of Saguay, province of Quebec.
Deposits contain 20,000,000 tons of ore ABOVE SEA LEVEL ALONE.
Quality of ore is highest ever discovered, running from 69 per cent to 72 per cent in metallic iron.
More orders for the sale of this ore has been received by the Company than can possibly be accepted, [illegible] and at a price netting the Company a profit of $2 a ton F. O. B. vessels at Company's docks. [illegible]
Send for prospectus giving full information as to earnings, reports, etc., etc.
Address all communications and send subscriptions to

COLONIAL SECURITIES CO.,
62 Wall Street, New York City
OR
W. L. MARSTON & COMPANY
110 State Street, Boston

The SAWYER COMPANY.
351 Temple Building, Montreal, Canada.

Keep to the Point.

It was once remarked by Professor Huxley, after falling into an indiscretion which annoyed him, that when a man says what he has no need to say he is sure to blunder. The truth of the observation will hardly be questioned unless by the very few, if there are any such, who never say more than there is necessity for saying. Most of us acknowledge, if we review our own experience in the matter, that we have frequently erred by saying what needed not to be said. But why is it that people so persistently commit this mistake? In the ordinary small talk of the household, or of society, it matters little whether it is committed or not. But when serious matters are in question, whether in conversation, in set speech, or in correspondence, a case is frequently spoiled by irrelevance or redundance. To say what you mean to say is comparatively easy; to leave off when you have said it is difficult, and for many people impossible. In Huxley's case the fault, which he probably did not often commit, was due neither to want of clear thinking, nor to want of facility in the use of words. One or the other or both of these causes will explain the inability to "keep to the point" which is usually apparent in the speech and writing of uneducated persons. But often, also, the speaker or writer forgets that extraneous considerations, interesting enough to himself, are of no interest to those whom he wishes to convince.

Anthony Hope and His Mother.

An American author who has recently returned from London, where he came much in contact with Mr. Anthony Hope Hawkins, tells this anecdote illustrating one of the most charming personal traits of the famous novelist.

Mr. Hawkins has private apartments in Buckingham street, next door to the house in which William Black lived for many years. This place is about a mile from the parish house occupied by the author's father, who is a rector of the Established Church. The constant coming and going of parishioners at the old home made it impossible for the novelist to enjoy the privacy and immunity from interruption necessary to the prosecution of his literary labors, and compelled him to find a working-place away from his parents' house.

He had just entered into the full enjoyment of this arrangement when he discovered that his absence from the family roof was a source of keen anxiety to his mother, who could not bring herself to relinquish her motherly solicitude for the comfort of her son. She was in constant fear that he was not properly cared for, and spent many wakeful hours at night worrying over him.

Immediately on learning of her anxiety the son asked permission to spend his nights in his old room under the family roof, using his apartments in Buckingham street simply as a place in which to do his work. Every night, and often at great inconvenience, he returns to the parish house, solely to insure the peace of mind of his mother, who is now well advanced in years.

Affection of a Beaver.

A beaver dying of a broken heart! That sounds incredible enough, to be sure, yet one famous beaver, owned by W. J. Broderip, the naturalist, actually pined away in homesickness for his absent keeper. Binney, as this tender-hearted little fellow was called, was a great pet in the household, Mr. Broderip tells us in his "Leaves from the Note Book of a Naturalist," and he had not been long in his London home when he set about building a dam for himself in the city house as cheerfully as if he had been in his native haunts.

Plenty of dainty titbits from the kitchen found their way to Binney through the hands of the housekeeper, who took great interest in him, and speedily won his affection. He showed his devotion to her in many pretty and amusing ways. At last, on the removal of his master from town he was taken to the Tower of London, and put in commodious quarters, under the care of a kind attendant. Everything was done to make Binney happy, but he lost all appetite and took no interest in his surroundings. Sweetmeats were brought, but he would not touch them, and only grew daily thinner and weaker. At last the attendant, in despair, took Binney back to the housekeeper with whom he had lived since the earliest days of his captivity. At sight of her the little creature gave a cry of delight, and dragged himself to her side. But it was too late to restore his former health and spirits. He died within a few days, much to the grief of all his friends.

No Occasion For Mirth.

General A. S. Burt, who recently returned from Manila, in an interview said:

"My observations and opinions of conditions in the Philippines differ somewhat from those held by a great many people. General Otis labored a long time and with splendid success, and after much fighting came home and announced that the war was practically over, and his tour of duty was pronounced very successful. General MacArthur took up the job and found that for one year there was as much fighting to be done as there was before General Otis left. When he left he pronounced the war to be practically over, and his tour was declared to be very successful. These generals are entitled to their country's gratitude for their successful work; but, as far as the war being over is concerned, that is another question. As a matter of fact, the Island of Sumar, one of the largest in the archipelago, is still unsubdued, and General Hughes is still fighting there. Many observing officers have committed themselves to the opinion, and I am one of them, that the troubles in the Philippines will not cease during our time."

If this is true, the people of the United States have no occasion to laugh at John Bull's plodding slowness in straightening out the South African tangle.

Little Ethel—Mamma, I know why it isn't safe to count your chickens before they're hatched. Mother—Why, dear? Little Ethel—Coz sum of 'em might be ducks.—Ohio "State Journal."

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

AN ENTIRELY NEW STOCK

You could shut your eyes and choose from our clothing assortment, being assured of latest styles—there is not an old or out-of-date garment in the place.

Every suit fresh from the manufacturer carries the unmistakable mark of PERFECT TAILORING. You may get this kind elsewhere—you are sure of it here—we have nothing else.

Not neccessary to dwell on the superior style and workmanship of these suits—every man and boy is as capable as we to judge of these. Our guarantee of perfect satisfaction or prompt money refund covers all the ground.

Daily increasing sales is the most convincing evidence that our efforts toward "BETTER CLOTHING" are appreciated.

If you want a perfect fitting—stylish—serviceable—well made suit at lowest quality considered price, our assortment awaits your visit.

—You will be pleased with the multitude of choice a ten dollar bill gives you—Plain Worsteds Navy or Black, Neat Tweeds all latest colorings—fancy worsteds and overplaids—all with a style and fit that will please the most exacting $10.00

LIGHT SUITS

Light in weight not neccessarily color—although we have them both—with their many advantages in comfort and economy are now worthy of attention.

There are many reasons why you should get one at once—you will have the best choice—you will be ready when the hot weather arrives—you will get most service by getting at the first of the season.

Compared with style and general appearance the prices we ask are very low. Can we show them to you?

—Men's Grey and Navy Flannel Suits—Norfolk and sack style $5.00 to $7.00

TROUSERS

Our assortment offers extensive and desirable choice to the seperate trouser man.

We have just received an assortment in newest Tweeds and Worsteds—very stylish goods—from a firm of first class Canadian tailors.

These were made from our order and are in every way superior to the usual Ready-to-Wear Trousers.

—New Tweeds and worsteds—all sizes with good trimmings, $1.75, $2.00, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $4.75

—Men's odd flannel trousers with or without roll bottom .... $1.75 to $2.50

ABOUT BETTER BOYS' CLOTHING

We are anxious that every mother and boy should know of this new line—it is sure to interest them.

A grade that will fill the long felt want for "something better" in boys 3 piece suits.

Better cloth—better linings—better tailoring—in fact much ahead of anything to be seen outside of the largest cities.

A little higher in price probably, but you will not consider that once you have seen the value,

Have you been wanting something of this kind? No matter—they are worthy of your inspection to say the least.

—Boys' fine 3 piece suit in Tweeds and Fancy Worsteds—the very latest patterns for summer—extra quality linings .... $5 to $10.

Agents for Standard Patterns.

The Ritchie Co'y. Limited

CLOTHING BOUGHT HERE PRESSED FREE OF CHARGE

JUST CHOOSE FROM

Liberal Selections.

That's all any man has to do when he comes to Quick & Robertson's for his clothes, and as far as fitting him and pleasing him, why, that will take no time at all, because he knows we do things a little different at this store—put more worth in prices and have our clothing built perfect. He knows they are the very best, so all he has to do is to make his choice; and best of all, he can't go wrong, buy what he will—the Quick & Robertson guarantee assures perfect satisfaction.

How about your Spring Suit? Bought it yet? If you haven't we'd like your inspection of our assortment—the $6 50, $8. $10 and $12 lines in particular—attractive singe and double-breasted sacks in latest effects, Cheviots, Cassimeres, Worsteds and Serges—a greater range of patterns than any tailor can show you, made as good as his garments, too, $6.50, $8, $10, $12. Yes, we can give you finer material up to $15, but can't improve on the make very much.

Summer Underwear at Half Price

Hundreds of customers have taken advantage of our great offering in Summer Underwear, but as our purchase from the manufacturer was over 300 dozens we still have a good assortment left. Regular 50c Balbriggan Shirts for .... 25c each.

Belleville's Best Clothing and Furnishing Store.

QUICK & ROBERTSON

Exclusive Agents in this City for Johnston's Famous Clothing.

CIVIC COMMITTEES IN REGULAR SESSION.

City Will Likely Get a Public Bath at Very Moderate Cost.

Mr. Kirkwood, it Appears, Has No Desire to Sell the Rolling Mills.

Question of Exorbitant Dockage Fees Up for Consideration—No Action Taken.

At the meeting of the civic committees last evening the absentees were Ald. Chown, Sulman, Green and Cooper. There was but little business for transaction and the session was brought to a close at an early hour.

PUBLIC WORKS.

Ald. Panter, Chairman, presided.

The following accounts were passed;

Pay Sheet No. 11	$93.26
W. P. Clarke	2.15
J. W. Walker	48.87
Walker Company	32.50

The Waterworks Committee presented an account of $3 against the Public Works Committee for water supplied in flushing a drain on Front street.

Ald. Panter thought this was a rather cool account and he would not sanction its payment.

Mr. Hulme said that he had to charge it to some department. It was for flushing a private drain emptying into the main sewer.

The account was laid over.

Ald. Panter presented a report recommending that Mill street, from the upper bridge to Ashley street, be macadamized, and that all holes on Front street and the roadway by the street rails be repaired.

Ald. Pope thought it was impossible to cover up the street rails without incurring a large expense.

The report was referred to the surveyor to give an estimate of the cost.

He promised to report at the Council meeting.

A motion prevailed that the Surveyor be instructed to put in proper shape the drain on the corner of Brassey and Bettes streets, at a cost not to exceed $15.

Ald. Sinclair thought that Bridge street should be placed in a proper state of repair.

The matter was left in the hands of the Surveyor to make an estimate of the cost.

FIRE.

Ald. McFee, Chairman, presided

The accounts passed were:

Gutta Percha Rubber Co.	$16.60
J. Lewis & Co.	7.57
Bell Telephone Co.	43.00

PARKS.

Ald. Pope presided.

The accounts passed were;

Pay Roll	$18.20
W. Clarke	16.40

Ald. Panter said there was an order passed to have the water turned on the park in West Belleville. The pipes had been taken away.

Ald. Galbraith said the order had not been carried out because the pipes had been allowed to remain on the ground and burst when the frost came. The committee had not been able to get other pipes yet. The pipes would be here in a few days.

MARKET.

Ald. Marsh, in the absence of Ald. Sulman, presided over this committee.

The following accounts were passed:

Bell Telephone Co.	$12 50
J. Malyea	2.00
J. W. Walker	1.15

WATER WORKS.

This Committee was presided over by Ald. Galbraith, chairman. The accounts passed were as follows;

Pay Sheet	$ 55.40
Downey Co., coal	134.85
H. Demarsh, tools	8.10
J. W. Walker	24.71
A. Kehoe	7.63

The Price of Coal.

In referring to the question of coal for use at the pump house and by the citizens, Ald. Sinclair referred to the fact that we were paying 25 cents per ton more than other places, which he understood was caused to a great extent by the high rate charged for dockage. He thought it might be in the interests of the city to have the old ferry slip, which was owned by the city, converted into a dock. This would prove a protection to the city's interests in regard to the coal question.

Ald. Galbraith said the dockage rate here was exorbitant.

The question was asked if a dock could not be built at the pump house, so that vessels might go direct there.

The Mayor stated that that matter had been gone into thoroughly by the Water Commissioners, but the expense was found to be too great, about $3,000. All it cost now was 25 cents a ton for cartage to the pump house, and the coal was received in much better shape from the cars than it would be if it were brought in by vessels. This ended the discussion and no action was taken.

A Public Bath.

Ald. Panter, as a member of a special committee appointed to look into the matter of providing a public bath, reported verbally. The committee had looked over the ground and had decided that the most suitable place would be on the south-west corner of the Park. Plans were expected to be prepared soon.

Ald. Sinclair said he had visited a bathing house at Picton, but it would not be suitable for here. Mr. Palen had prepared a plan for a building to cost about $350, but other plans would be here in a few days, and the committee would meet again to consider the matter and report.

EXECUTIVE.

Ald. Sinclair presided over this committee, in the absence of Ald. Chown. The only account presented was from A. Burgoyne for 50 cents, which was passed.

The Rolling Mills.

In answer to a question about the rolling mills, His Worship stated that Mr. Kirkwood was now en route to France, in connection with them.

Ald. Pope stated that Mr. Boland had informed him that he (Mr. Boland) had a reliable purchaser for the mills, and had so informed Mr. Kirkwood, but the latter would not hear of it, as he apparently did not wish to sell.

Ald. Sinclair said there were some who believed that the Trust Company still had an interest in the mill.

Ald. McFee—"I am of that opinion."

Ald. Pope had not the slightest doubt that Mr. Kirkwood owned the mills. There had been a transfer to him. He paid $20,000 in cash and had given bonds for the balance.

The Mayor stated that what Ald. Pope had said was absolutely true.

This ended the discussion and the business before the committee.

A motion to adjourn was unanimously adopted.

COMING TO BELLEVILLE Saturday, June 6, Second Tour of Canada

RINGLING BROS.
WORLD'S GREATEST SHOWS
ONLY RHINOCEROS IN CAPTIVITY.
LITTLE BABY BOO
ONLY PAIR OF FULL GROWN GIRAFFES IN CAPTIVITY.
THE BIGGEST SHOW ON EARTH
TO WHICH IS NOW ADDED WITHOUT ANY ADDITION IN PRICE, THE SUBLIME SPECTACLE
JERUSALEM
AND THE CRUSADES
1200 CHARACTERS IN THE CAST, 300 DANCING GIRLS, 50 MUSICIANS, 200 CHORUS SINGERS, 60-STOP PIPE ORGAN, 2000 COSTUMES.
COPYRIGHT 1903 BY THE COURIER CO. BUFFALO, N.Y.
INAUGURAL SCENE, SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.
ABSOLUTELY AN ADDITIONAL TRAIN OF CARS ARE REQUIRED TO CARRY THE SCENERY, WARDROBES, ARMORS, WAR IMPLEMENTS, ACCESSORIES AND PEOPLE OF THE NEWLY ADDED AND ENORMOUSLY GRAND SPECTACLE OF JERUSALEM AND THE CRUSADES
85 DOUBLE LENGTH RAILROAD CARS
40 BIG AND LITTLE ELEPHANTS
1280 PEOPLE
108 WILD ANIMAL CAGES
650 HORSES
40 FUN-MAKING CLOWNS
$3,700,000 CAPITAL
$7,400 ACTUAL DAILY EXPENSE
BALLET SCENE
SPECTACLE JERUSALEM.
BIGGEST CIRCUS ON EARTH
375 PERFORMERS 6 BIG ARENAS
3 LONG MILES OF NEW AND COSTLY
2 TROUPES ACTING SEALS
THE NELSON FAMILY
A PARADE SUCH AS THE WORLD HAS NEVER SEEN BEFORE
PARADE GLORIES FREE UPON THE STREETS EVERY MORNING AT 10 O'CLOCK
TWO PERFORMANCES DAILY AT 2 AND 8 P. M. DOORS OPEN AT 1 AND 7 P. M.
ONE 50-CENT TICKET ADMITS TO EVERYTHING. CHILDREN UNDER 12, HALF PRICE

Admission and numbered Reserved Seat Tickets sold on show day at Riggs' music store at same prices as charged at ticket waggons on show grounds.

Belleville, Saturday, June 6

Other People's Money

We are in business to exchange our different lines of reliable merchandise for other people's money. The buying public seem to appreciate our efforts in this direction as is evidenced by our greatly increased trade. Just at present we would like to show you our

- Garden Hose
- Lawn Mowers
- Refrigerators
- Oil Stoves
- Screen Doors
- Screen Windows

The W. W. CHOWN Company. Limited

Orders for bookbinding should be left at this office. It is surprising how nice a volume can be made of these magazines, even though they are somewhat soiled from much handling. Books, magazines, or periodicals bound or rebound in any style at very reasonable prices. Blank books, such as journals, ledgers, day books, with any kind of ruling, made to order. All work warranted first-class. THE INTELLIGENCER, Belleville.

REIGN OF

The Leather Bag

The Leather Bag in its many forms of varied attractiveness is everywhere in evidence this year and promises to hold its popularity for some time to come.

THE BAG IS THE RAGE

There are SOUND REASONS for this; it is not a mere fad Our goods are right in line with the spirit of the times.

Angus McFee.
Jeweler & Optician
310 Front St.

P.S.—In the matter of the new Blouse Pin Sets we show everything that is "taking" in the larger centers.

What [illegible] ter determine [illegible] "Guide to Invest— [illegible] Letter." Both yours free—for the asking. Correspondence solicited.

HAIGHT & FREESE CO.

Stocks, Bonds, Grain, Cotton.
Batterfield Block, Bridge St., Belleville, Ont.

"Determining the character and financial responsibility of your Broker, is as important as selection of right stocks"

It takes a long time to tell of what you have not done.

The wise are polite all the world over; fools are polite only at home.—Bacon.

PATIENCE AND PURSE GONE

And still suffered the untold sufferings that are a part of some of the more violent phases of Kidney disorder. Doctors couldn't cure—but South American Kidney Cure put him to rights.

Adam Soper, of Burk's Falls, Ont., was for five years a great sufferer from a most aggravated form of Kidney disease. To use his own words: "I decided to try some of the patent medicines. I was recommended to use South American Kidney Cure. I received great benefit from one bottle, and five bottles completely cured me—and there has never been a symptom of kidney disorder since that time." 86

SOLD BY D. M. WATERS.

Anecdotal.

An assistant judge had dropped asleep on the bench. The presiding judge, who was collecting the votes, asked him for his. Rubbing his eyes, the latter said, "Hang him!" "But it is a meadow we are dealing with." "Ah? Well, mow it, then."

A young minister of high-church tendencies was called to preside over a congregation that abhorred ritualism and was a stickler for the simplest of services. He asked Bishop Potter what would be the result if he went in for ritualism just a bit. "Suppose I should burn a pastille or two during the service; what do you think would happen, bishop, for I dearly wish to try the experiment?" "You congregation would be incensed, your vestrymen would fume, and you would go out in smoke," quickly replied the bishop.

An officer in one of the English volunteer regiments, who had made himself exceedingly unpopular with the men, was coming home one evening when he slipped and fell into deep water. He was rescued with great difficulty by a private in his own regiment. The officer was profuse in his expressions of gratitude, and asked his preserver how he could reward him. "The best way," said the soldier, "is to say nothing about it." "But why?" asked the officer, in amazement. "Because," was the blunt reply, "if the other fellows knew I'd pulled you out they'd chuck me in."

ALL FORMS OF CANCER

YIELD TO THE NEW CONSTITUTIONAL TREATMENT.

No matter where or what the cancer may be—whether internal or external, hard or soft, it makes no difference whether it has become chronic or of recent development, our new method of Constitutional Treatment is an effectual, thorough-going cure. It involves no pain or suffering and can be taken in the quiet of the home. Send two stamps for full particulars to B. I. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont.

Green, the English historian, one day asked a friend which of all the inventions of their day had done the most for the people as a whole. His friend guessed this and that, but the answer was: "Beyond doubt, sixpenny photographs." A reply involving quite as great an absurdity as that was made by Cecil Rhodes in answer to a lady who, seeking to draw him out, suggested that he owed his phenomenal rise to the impetus of noble sentiments. "Madam," returned Mr. Rhodes, "I owe my fortune simply and solely to cold mutton." "Cold mutton!" gasped the lady. "O Mr. Rhodes, what do you mean?" "When I was young," continued the South African millionaire, "I was so dosed with cold mutton, and I hated it so cordially, that I resolved to grow rich in order to put it on one side for the rest of my life. Yes, madam, cold mutton was at the root of my success; noble sentiments had nothing to do with it."

57—62. THE CRITICAL AGE.

Height of vigor past—nature's power slowing down, vitality less, recuperative power less, endurance less. Stop the progress of decay, tone up the weakened nerve centres, impart vigor to the tiring brain, prepare for the crisis. A means of remarkable potency in the renewal of decreasing vigor is found in Ferrozone. It brightens up the whole being, imparts a sense of power and strength. By the use of Ferrozone old age is pushed back twenty years. Ferrozone gives strength, vigor, endurance, vim. Your druggist has it. Get a box to-day.

MEN'S SUMMER UNDERWEAR.

May is well gone and its safe to buy your underwear now if you have not already done so. Many have, as our sales prove, this being the largest season we have ever had up to date. But our stock still holds out, have enough to go around. We invite your inspection. The Globe Clothing House. 29-3t

"THOUSAND ISLAND RAMBLES."

Str. "North King" will commence her popular Thousand Island rambles on 31st May, leaving Belleville at 3.25 a.m. Sundays. Fare $1.00. Steamer leaves at 11.88 p.m. for Rochester, N.Y. fm26d&w3m

BOYS' HOSIERY.

You may not be aware of the fact that Quick & Robertson carry a very large range of Stockings for boys, but such is the case. We have them at all prices from 10c to 50c per pair, and no better values are procurable anywhere. See our Black Cat brand of Hosiery.

The following conversation took place during a recent election in Cumberland, England, between two free and independent electors: "Wot's these 'er Socialists, Jack?" questioned one of the other. "Well," replied the other, "it's this way. If yer had two carriages and two horses, you'd give me one, wouldn't yer?" "Just think I would," replied Bill. "An' if you'd two fields, you'd give me one, wouldn't yer?" "You bet I would," said Bill. "You're a Socialist, Bill—a born Socialist. If you'd two pigs you'd give me one, wouldn't yer?" "Nay, I wouldn't," replied Bill. "Before I'd give yer one I'd fight yer for it!" Bill had two pigs.

A worthy Sunday school superintendent was also the village dry goods merchant, and it is only just to him to say that he was energetic and efficient both in secular and religious pursuits. He had told most eloquently the lesson of the day, and at the conclusion he looked about the room and enquired encouragingly: "Now has anyone a question to ask?" Slowly and timidly a little girl raised her hand. "Ah, I see that there is a question. Well, what is it, Martha? Don't be afraid. Speak out." The little girl cast down her eyes, fidgeted a minute, twisting her fingers, and then said desperately: "Mr. Brooks, how much are those little red parasols in your window?"

WHERE MEDICAL SCIENCE FAILS

to cure rheumatism and all the time you suffer dreadfully, why don't you get a bottle of Polson's Nerviline and try that? Rub it into your stiff joints, sore arms, lame back, bent shoulders—wherever the pain is. Nerviline has cured plenty of people in this way, and that ought to be proof enough that it will cure you too. It is an unusually strong liniment that cures rheumatism in unusually quick time. Best household liniment known. 25 cents.

CARMAN OPERA HOUSE
Monday, June 1st
THE
Fax-Chambers Concert

JAMES FAX (the Prince of Humorists)
(in costume).
Mr. FRANCIS T. CHAMBERS (Contralto)
Mr. FRANCIS T. CHAMBERS (Tenor)
and Chautauqua Orchestra.

Best seats 35c. Plan at Riggs' Saturday. Subscribers to 1 o'clock

ESTABLISHED 1870

SUMMER HAT STYLES

See the latest braids in Gents' American Straws at - $1.00

S. A. HYMAN & CO.

GLASGOW WAREHOUSE.

ON SALE SATURDAY NIGHT.

White India Linens
AT 13c yd.

NOTICE

To the numerous enquiries which we have had from parties who secured some of these goods at our previous sale—and from others who were unable to be waited upon—during the sale, that we have been fortunate in securing another small lot of 30 pieces of these FINE INDIA LINENS which we will place on sale Saturday Evening at 7.30 o'clock.

13 cts. a yd.

These goods are sold al over at 25c a yard.

Laidlaw & Ketcheson
DIRECT IMPORTERS

Daily Intelligencer.

THE INTELLIGENCER IS SOLD AT J. W. London's and R. Wardhaugh's.

Local Reading Advertisements, rends 50 cents; 2 cents per word first insertion, per word subsequent consecutive insertions. Headlines count as 12 words; contracts for long periods made at office.

RUBBER GOODS

Our stock of Rubber Goods is up-to-date in every particular and the quality of everything is as good as the assortment is complete. Some Rubber Goods are made to sell only. None of those come here. We carry the kind that are made to give long and satisfactory service. We also see to it that you get right prices.

Hot Water Bottles
Bulb and Fountain Syringes
Sick Room Supplies.

McKeown's DRUG STORE

Choice Bakery Goods

MADE FRESH EVERY DAY.

One of the many nice things we make is "Orange Sponge" 10c each. Have one.

CHAS. S. CLAPP

NEW SPRING GOODS

LATEST DESIGNS IN
SPRING TROUSERING.

Spring Overcoating. A nice Line of Waterproof Overcoating, Tweeds and Serges at reasonable prices by the yard.

Call and inspect my stock before ordering your Spring Clothing.

ARTHUR McGIE,
Merchant Tailor.
Front Street.

He who foresees calamities suffers them twice over.

Sterling Silver and Cut Glass.

Particular attention is directed to my stock of the above goods, which at present is most attractive. I handle the renowned Gorham Silver and Hawkes Cut Glass Ware, being sole agent for this city. These are the best and prices are moderate.

T. BLACKBURN.

Specials for the Week

Ladies Print Wrappers, $1.50, $1.25, $1.00, 85c, 75c and 59c.
Ladies' Black Sateen Blouses, $1.25, $1.00, and 89.
Ladies' White and Cream Summer Vests, with and without sleeves, 15c, 10c and 5c.
Ladies' Cotton Hose, plain and ribbed, 10c.
Ladies' Black and White Silk, Lisle Thread and Cotton Gloves, 50c, 25c, 15c and 10c pair.
Black Ribbon Belts, 25c, 30c and 40c.
Black Ribbon Belting, by yard, 85c.
Window Screens, 25c, 20c and 17c each.
300 Men's and Boys' Caps, travellers' samples, 15c each.
Step Ladders from 4 to 8 ft, best make.
Children's Go-Carts and Waggons cheap.
1 lb. Corn Starch 6c.
1 lb. Laundry Starch, 6c.
40c bottles Violet Toilet Water 23c.
10c Big Champion Bar Soap, 3 for 25c.
Fish Poles, Fish Hooks, Lines, etc., at all prices.
Mrs. Potts' Sad Irons, per set 79c.
Hammocks, $3.50, $2.50, $2.00, $1.25, $1.00 and 75c.
Wash Tubs and Wash Boards cheap.
No. 9 Tin Tea Kettles, 49c.
No. 9 Copper Kettles, Nickle Plated, 99c.
See our special 6 piece Bedroom Set, $1.79.
Beef, Iron and Wine (Wyeth's) 59c.
Large Bottle Glycerine, 8c.

McINTOSH BROS.

THE RAILWAY COMMISSION.

Hon. Mr. Blair's Bill Again Considered in Committee.

Attempt to Widen Scope by Bringing Express Companies Under Its Jurisdiction Defeated—Intercolonial Was Under Fire—Motion to Put It Under Control of Commission Brings on Sharp Discussion on Rates.

Ottawa, May 30.—A bill introduced in the House yesterday by Hon. Mr. Bernier amends the Weights and Measures Act so as to permit the use of postal scales up to four pounds without departmental inspection, and parties using them for other purposes will be subject to the penalties of the act.

Another bill introduced, proposed by the Minister of Inland Revenue, provides that inland revenue duties shall be payable hereafter on the first day of the month instead of the sixth day.

A bill to amend the Electric Light Inspection Act provides that in the case of an offence under the act by a corporation penalties may be recoverable. Penalties may be made on the major or chief officers of the corporation.

Railway Commission Bill.

The House went into committee on Hon. Mr. Blair's bill to appoint a railway commission.

Mr. Blair said that the commission would be in a position to regulate all merchandise carried by railways, whether by express or freight, but would not be in a position to regulate the charges for collection and delivery. The way to deal with the whole subject was by a separate act, and not to include it in this bill.

Mr. Maclean's amendment to include express companies was defeated.

Mr. Barker wanted the Intercolonial to come under the commission, and moved an amendment to that effect.

Mr. Blair said that the Intercolonial road was a Government road, and if all railways were controlled by the Government there would be no necessity for a commission, and if a necessity did arise, it would soon be remedied by the people who owned the railway.

Mr. Lancaster (Lincoln) contended that the commission should control the rates.

Mr. Borden said that people of the Maritime Provinces did not want any of the people of another province to pay any deficiency by reason of low rates.

Mr. Fraser said that confederation was made possible only by reason of the Intercolonial Railway. If the Railway Commission was composed of honest men it would raise the rates on the I. C. R. He would not entertain the suspicion that there is discrimination in rates on the Government road. The management of the I. C. R. should remember at all times that the road was designed to cement the provinces and that idea should never be lost sight of.

Mr. Hale of Carleton, N.B., argued that the I.C.R. should be brought under the control of the Railway Commission, then all parties would receive fair play.

Dr. Sproule said that it was never the intention that the Government railway should carry freight at less than cost.

Mr. Henderson of Halton said he could not see why the I.C.R. should not be brought under the authority.

Mr. Haggart said he was not anxious that the I. C. R. should be brought under the commission. He wanted the Minister of Railways to be responsible for the administration of the I. C. R., and he did not want to enable him to hedge behind a Railway Commission.

Mr. Clarke moved for the interim report of the commissioners appointed to investigate the recent appoint- at the Windsor Junction on the I.C.R.

Mr. Blair handed in the report as soon as the motion was carried.

At 6 o'clock the further discussion of the bill was postponed until a later date. In the evening the House went into Committee of Supply on the militia estimates.

The House sat until nearly midnight. The estimates of the Minister of Militia were completed, with the exception of one item which was allowed to stand in order to allow of a general discussion of the affairs of the department at a later date. Some progress was also made with the estimates of the Minister of Customs.

Got Nothing From Government.

Ottawa, May 30.—James A. Smart was examined before the Agriculture Committee yesterday in regard to the immigration of the Barr colonists. He said he thought nine-tenths of them would probably have come out through the efforts of the Government agents, and the commission which was paid to Barr by the immigration agents would have gone to the regular agents who booked them. Mr. Barr spent the $12,000 he thus received on his London office and in advertising. He received nothing from the Government.

Will Guarantee Bonds.

Ottawa, May 30.—The Canadian Northern is to receive a Government guarantee of bonds upon a total distance of 720 miles. Of this mileage 620 are from Grand View to Edmonton. The remaining 100 are for the Prince Albert branch of the company's line.

Chase Out Yankee Pirates.

Quebec, May 30. — Commander Spain has been instructed by the Dominion Government to despatch four cruisers and six patrol boats to the coast of the Maritime Provinces to protect the fishing interests there against the aggression of American schooners within the three-mile limit.

BASEBALL FRIDAY.

The Eastern League.

Buffalo ......1 0 1 0 1 0 2 0 *—5
Toronto ......0 0 3 0 0 0 1 0 0—4

Earned runs—Buffalo 0, Toronto 2. First base on balls—McGee 1, Wolfe 4. Struck out—By McGee 1, by Wolfe 2. Three-base hits—Atherton, Kuhns. Two-base hit—Massey. Sacrifice hits—Wolfe, Nattress, McIntyre. Left on bases—Buffalo 5, Toronto 7. Double-plays—Wolfe to Carr; Downey to Miller. Wild pitch—Wolfe. Umpires—Brown and Latham. Time—1.40. Attendance—2700.

R.H.E.
Worcester ......0 2 0 0 0 1 0 1 *—4 7 1
Providence ......0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1 6 3

Batteries—Lovett and McCauley; Jones and Diggins. Umpire—Shannon. Attendance—800.

R.H.E.
Jersey City ....0 0 0 0 1 1 1 0 x—3 8 1
Newark ......0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 3 1

Batteries—Pfanmiller and Dillon; Moriarity and Shea. Umpire—Swartwood. Attendance—4000.

Rochester ......1 1 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 10 3
Baltimore ......0 1 0 2 0 0 0 0 3—6 8 2

Batteries—McFarlan, McAleese and Steelman; Mills and Robinson. Attendance—313. Umpire—Kelly.

National League Scores.

At Brooklyn— R.H.E.
Brooklyn ......4 0 0 0 2 0 2 0 *—8 12 1
Philadelphia ....0 2 1 0 0 0 0 1 0—4 6 2

Batteries—Garvin and Jacklitsch; Mitchell and Dooin. Umpire—Holliday. Attendance—2400.

At New York— R.H.E.
New York ....1 0 0 1 0 0 0 1 *—3 6 1
Boston ....0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 8 4

Batteries—Mathewson and Bowerman; Pittinger and Moran. Umpire—Emslie. Attendance—5830.

American League Results.

At Cleveland— R.H.E.
Cleveland ......1 0 1 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 6 1
Chicago ....0 0 0 0 0 2 0 1 0—3 5 2

Batteries—Joss and Bemis; White and McFarland. Umpire—Connolly. Attendance—1823.

At Boston— R.H.E.
Boston ....0 2 0 0 0 3 0 2 x—7 10 1
Washington ....1 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—2 5 4

Batteries—Dineen and Criger; Lee and Clark. Umpire—O'Loughlin. Attendance—3378.

At Philadelphia— R.H.E.
New York ....0 0 3 0 0 0 0—3 5
Philadelphia ......2 0 0 0 0 0 0—2 8 1

Batteries—Tannehill and O'Connor; Bender and Schreckengost. Umpire—Sheridan. Attendance—4203. Game called, rain.

At Detroit— R.H.E.
St. Louis ......0 5 0 0 0 0 0 2 0—7 9 1
Detroit ....2 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0—3 6 2

Batteries—Siever and Sugden; Mullin and McGuire. Umpires—Hassett and Carruthers. Attendance—2578.

Sentence to Be Commuted.

Quebec, May 29.—News of a seemingly authentic nature reached Quebec yesterday afternoon to the effect that Jos. Gossilin, the murderer of Mrs. Trahan, who was sentenced to death on the 12th of June next, will have his sentence commuted to imprisonment for life.

Found Dead in Woods.

Montreal, May 30.—A man about 60 years of age was found dead in the woods yesterday at Black River. He had his throat cut and a razor in his hand. As there were $20 in his pocket, the unknown evidently committed suicide.

Private Kills Himself.

Fredericton, N.B., May 30.—Private Morash of the R.R.C.I., a Halifax soldier, who shot himself here Tuesday, died at 10.30 o'clock last night.

Killed by a Falling Tree.

Huntsville, May 30.—A man named George C. Porter, while working at bark-peeling in the bush near Huntsville, was killed by a falling tree yesterday. He came here from Toronto some years ago, and is a widower, leaving one son about 16 years of age.

Barges on the Rocks.

Oswego, N. Y., May 30.—Captain Alexander McDonald of the steamer Marshal, which arrived here yesterday, reports that the barges Argo, Carney and Buckley are on the rocks at Grenadier Island, at the entrance of the St. Lawrence River. The crews are safe.

Fatal G.T.R. Crossing Accident.

Glencoe, May 30.—A sad accident occurred at the G.T.R. crossing here last evening at 8.20, when Gladys, the 12-year-old daughter of George Reiley, was instantly killed. The eastbound local was shunting in the yard, and the little girl, notwithstanding the warning of her companions, attempted to cross. While her attention was fixed upon the shunting train, the westbound express struck her, throwing her across the road. She expired a few minutes after the accident.

Killed in Mexico.

Owen Sound, May 29.—Herbert Notter, a former Owen Sound boy, was killed early this week in New Mexico in a railway accident. He was 28 years of age.

Killed in an Explosion.

Sundridge, May 30.—Donald Henderson was killed here by the explosion of an acetylene gas machine.

FOR CONSTIPATION
IRON-OX TABLETS
FOR INDIGESTION

"I was run down very much, but I am thankful to say that Iron-Ox Tablets have put new life into me. My wife, also, is taking the Tablets. She finds great benefit from them."

E. STONE,
32 Brock Ave.
Parkdale, Ont.

Just What You Need

Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets

When you feel dull after eating.
When you have no appetite.
When you have a bad taste in the mouth.
When your liver is torpid.
When your bowels are constipated.
When you have a headache.
When you feel bilious.

They will improve your appetite, cleanse and invigorate your stomach and regulate your liver and bowels. 25c.; all druggists.

Marmalade Jar
$2.50

A substantial evidence of Diamond Hall's marvelous value offerings.

No. 106—Price $2.50
(Express prepaid to any address)

A large number other special value articles are handsomely illustrated in our new Wedding Gift Folder.

Write for a copy and it will be forwarded at once free of cost.

RYRIE BROS.
JEWELERS
118, 120, 122 and 124
Yonge St., Toronto

First in Point of Fit.
First in durability.
First in graceful model.
First in genuine comfort.

It fits you, but does not squeeze you. It supports you, but does not burden you. It lends perfect grace to your figure, but does not weary you. You are sure to like it, sure to buy it, sure to enjoy it.

Drab, White, Black.

D & A Corsets
Are the Correct thing.

Greenleaf & Son

Would like to show you one of the finest lines of

Bicycles

shown here in some time.

PRICES ARE RIGHT.

We are catching up gradually with our work, so will be better able to give your job prompt attention.

GOOD VARIETY OF FISHING TACKLE ON HAND.

Bargains for Saturday Night

If you want a cheap article come in Saturday Night and see our three special lines we have on sale.

SILKS

A number of small ends of silk in stripes, checks and fancy patterns, to clear at - - - - 37c a yd.

ZEPHER GINGHAMS

A large assortment of these in stripes, suitable for ladies' and children's blouses, regular 15c and 18c, Saturday Night - - - - - - - - - 11c.

CORSET COVERS

Any of our 25 and 35c Corset Covers, Lace and Embroidery trimmed for - - - - - 19c

NATHAN JONES.

At Wallbridge & Clarke's

OLIVES

Wallbridge & Clarke offer a large assortment of fancy Olives of the finest quality in bottles at 10 to 50c per bottle.

SPANISH QUEEN OLIVES—
Crosse & Blackwell's
at 20 and 40 cts.

SPANISH QUEEN OLIVES—Club House Brand
at 20 and 40 cts.

SPANISH QUEEN OLIVES—
Selected
at 20, 35 and 50 cts.

MANZANILLA OLIVES—
at 10 and 20 cts.

STUFFED OLIVES—
Manzanilla Olives pitted and stuffed with pimentos (Spanish Sweet Pepper).
at 15, 25 and 40 cts.

WALLBRIDGE & CLARKE
Est. 1871
BRIDGE STREET

Branch store Front St.

Polite, But—

Anxious Father (from top of stairs)—Say, Mary Jane! Mary Jane—Yes, papa. "Is it eleven o'clock yet?" "Yes, papa." "Well, give the young man my compliments, and ask him to kindly close the front door from the outside."—Chicago "Daily News."

A clergyman observed his little son attentively studying a map of the world. "What place are you looking for, Willie?" he enquired. The small boy knit his brows and traveled a circuitous route with his forefinger before he answered earnestly, "Twying to find Christendom."

The Finnegan Carriage & Wagon Co.

—FOR—

Stylish and Durable Turnouts.

—Surreys
—Corning Buggies
—Piano Box Buggies
—Rubber Tire Buggies
—Micadoes
—Phaetons
—Bike Buggies
—Democrats
—Grocer Wagons
—Butcher Wagons

Cheese Factory Milk Wagons.
Steel Tubular Axle Lumber Wagons.

Rubber Tires put on your old wheels at reasonable prices.

Mill St., - - Belleville.

For pure blood, a bright eye, a clear complexion, a keen appetite, a good digestion and refreshing sleep, TAKE

BRISTOL'S Sarsaparilla

It arouses the Liver, quickens the circulation, brightens the spirits and generally improves the health.

Sixty-eight years trial have proved it to be, the most reliable BLOOD purifier known.

All druggists sell "BRISTOL'S."